BOWERMAN IS SUSPENDED FOR THREE DAYS BY THE LEAGUE

President Fitzgerald Also Takes Action In Regard To Earle Powell.

As a result of yesterday's little picnie at Tecumseh Park, Manager Frank Bowerman, of the London team, has been suspended by President "Jimmy" Fitzgerald, for three days. Umpire "Chick" Johnson reported the doings to President Fitzgerald last evening over the 'phone, and the local club received a wire this morning notifying them of the suspension. Earle Powell, the big baseman, who was also banished from the game, was given a warning that it must not occur again,

Both Manager Bowerman and First Baseman Powell have been fined five dollars each for their conduct, President Fitzgerald making the rule some time ago that as soon as an umpire saw fit to put a player out of the game, fine of $5 was tacked on to that player automatically.

From the Stand. Manager Bowerman will manage the team from the stand in today's game, and the games on Monday, and will be back in the game again on Tuesday, First Baseman Powell will be back in the game today.

Art Reske, Tom Conynghamm and Eddie Rudolph were given their official releases this morning, owing to fact that this is the day upon which all clubs must be down to the salary limit. Reske states that it is his intention to rest up for a while, until his knee gets into good shape again. Rudolph and Conyngham may sign up with one of the offer teams in the

"Scot Tissue"

The Sanitary Towels

Ask About These at Toilet Counter

To have a good complexion you must not irritate the skin. When using a fabric towel, this is done by rubbing. By using a Scot-tissue Towel, made of soft, absorbent paper, like a blotter, you get into the pores by absorbing the moisture, not by rubbing. Every man should use them after shaving, and every woman after using cold cream.

150 Towels in a Roll for 50c. Fixtures 50c Each

Hospitals, hotels and public places in many large centres are adapting the use of Scottissue Towels, and health officers in many places have issued decrees against the germ-gathering roller towels in public places and institutions. "Sani-tissue" Toilet Paper, pure, snowy white, very soft in texture, and possesses extraordinary absorbent qualities. Each roll wrapped in parchment, keeping it dustproof. Ask to see

TO BUY CATTLE IN BRITAIN FOR ONTARIO

Hon. Mr. Duff Says That Over $12,000 Will Be Expended. Cookstown, May 31. - Hon. J. S. Duff announced today at the South Simcoe Conservative nomination convention that the provincial department of agriculture proposed to spend $12,500 of the federal agricultural grant in sending a commissioner to Britain to purchase a herd of cattle adapted for both milking and beefing purposes. He said the people of Ontario had peen specializing rather over-much cows were prone to go in for Holsteins and those who wanted beef raised, Durhams. He believed the introduction of species of milking Durhams would develop in this Province a tendency to raise general purpose cattle.

JOHN DOE SUICIDES

[Canadian Press.]

Concord, N. H., May 31 .- A mysterious life inmate of the New Hampshire State Prison, known as John Doe, no reliable information ever having been secured as to his full name or history, committed suicide during the night by hanging himself to a grating with a rope made from his mattress

On Feb. 10, 1906, Doe and an ac complice, Joseph Gouin, a French-Canadian, after robbing a safe in Dover boarded the St. John-Boston train at Rockingham Junction and killed an Italian passenger in the smoking car. Both were captured afalong two lines with regard to live ter an exciting chase, and on May 15 milch were sentenced to prison, Doe for life, and Gouin for 30 years. Gouln was transferred to the state hospital as an insane person, and on April 22 escaped from that institution, and is still at large. On Nov. 11, 1910, Doe secured a knife and seriously wounded the physician, Dr. Gallinger, and deputy warden. Since that time he had been in solitary confinement, being regarded WANTED TO LOAN ON CHURCH as the most dangerous man ever custody in the New Hampshire State

AMALGAMATED LAND AND MORTGAGE COMPANIES OF WINNIPEG, LIMITED Capital $5,000,000

AND HAVE IT EARN THIS AMOUNT GUARANTEED.

If you wish to invest in a safe and sound proposition, where your money will earn from ten to thirty per cent, and where you are guaranteed against any loss, write us today for full particulars about the above company.

This is one of the largest and strongest companies in Western Canada, and its directors are very prominent men both in Canada and Europe, where a large amount of stock is held.

We Are Operators, Not Speculators

And for that reason the element of chance is eliminated. Our plan is to buy acreage in large tracts from the original owners, then improve same, and when it is subdivided, either to dispose of it in blocks or to market it through our retail organization. Our company is non-speculative, inasmuch as there is behind it sufficient resources to enable it to carry out every undertaking independently of the sales which may be affected, thus avoiding any wildcat schemes or ventures.

The possibilities for profit in Western Canada Real Estate are so numerous that we are limited in our operations only by the amount of capital at our disposal, consequently we are always open to handle moneys for investors who are seeking substantial profits, coupled with an absence of risk.

We have a unique plan by which we will guarantee to any investor, if desired, the absolute safety of his money and a certain definite return in the way of profits.

We are thoroughly reliable, have been in business a good many years, and refer with great pleasure to Dun's, Bradstreet's, or any bank in Winnipeg. WRITE US TODAY FOR FULL PARTICULARS.

MISTS OF OBLIVION

"Where did the money come from?" was a grand question of Ontario politics a few years ago. "Where did. that letter of Travers to Col. Matheson go to?" is the question the Toronto Globe would like to have answered at present.

A wonderful mist rises in the minds of witnesses like Mr. Maclean when they try to recall the harrassing details of ways and means to make ends Those are things indeed that a man tries to forget. Mr. Maclean Fear of the Canadian West is the had almost forgotten the existence of cause. There will likely be an exhibit Mr Travers, it might appear, and yet once the banker was a friend in need. and the editor was faithfully his. Witness the following friendly letter:

"Dear, Mr. Travers-Help us out again by cashing the inclosed for balance wages. Send in Thursday.

"Yours faithfully. "(Signed) W. F. MACLEAN."

Short and sweet, very, as Mr. Jingle might have remarked on it with professional approval. From Mr. Maclean's evidence you would suppose that he had not lived in Mr. Travers' sphere, was not of his element, dealt with him in the most indirect, abstract, impersonal way. But this letter breathes cordiality. Its very grevity is rather familiar than formal Strange that such faithful intercourse should have been so rudely interrupted that, a few years elapsing, it has almost faded from Mr. Maclean's treacherous memory. For the Farmers' Bank is dead and Mr. Travers under a cloud, and "Oh, the difference to Another gentleman whose record stands somewhat wrapped in helpful mist is the Provincial Treasurer. Prominent Conservatives in Toronto were saying that the Farmers' Bank "unworthy" hands. Col. Matheson must have heard of such things, as Mr. Maclean curiously admits that he did. He must have recognized in the frantic efforts of the World office and Dr. Nesbitt #something more than altruistic interest in the Farmers' Bank. Of course he did. asking for a definition of hash." But still, he never got that letter from Travers. Perhaps it is a good thing for him that he did not. But where the conglomerate remnants of a predid the letter go? It's a mystery.

MAJORITY RULE

Some of the opponents of home rule attempt to turn against it a fundamental principle of Liberalism, that chief engineer, who at the time it octhe people, that is, the majority of the curred was an instructor in engineerpeople, shall rule. Ulster, they con- ing at West Point. tend, is opposed as a province to Irish home rule, by a small majority, but cadets: still a majority. Respect, therefore, should be had to the consent of the has fallen down. You are ordered by dan and R. Dillon, governed in the most prosperous and enterprising part of Ireland

It may be gratifying to Liberals hat an argument showing such regard by the enemy for Liberal principles is thus advanced. Of late, there has been a tendency on the part of Conservative parties to stickle more for the privileges of minorities, and always Conservatism has been no sincere champion of popular consent to legislation. In the same columns that advocate the rights of an Ulster "majority," you will generally find approval for not only a rising of Ulster Orangemen, but a general British rebellion against the passage of home rule by a British majority. This, of course discredits, in a measure, the sincerity of the plea for that Ulster 'majority," but still it is a plea of Liberal color. Like the cry for referendum, the zeal for social reforms and other flounders of "Tory democracy," contemptuously condemned by that old-fashioned, high-and-dry nobleman, Lord Hugh Cecil, in his much-discussed recent book on "Conservatism." such a plea shows at any rate an uneasy recognition of the gaining flood of Lib-

But when this appeal for an Ulster 'majority" is considered in the light of election statistics, it is seen to lack sociation meeting at Ridgetown was substantial basis. A careful compilareported as supporting the Reform tion of figures in all the Ulster constituencies, from the most recent elections in each, shows a slight Nationalist majority of something over 1,200, out of 206,000 votes cast. Clearly there is no majority argument against home abolition of the bar its central plank. rule to be drawn from Ulster election

> The next thing we may expect is that Unionists will be carving out districts of Ulster with large anti-Nationalist majorities, demanding that these at least be exempted from the operation of home rule. We should have a black and white checked Ulster map; needless to say which would be the black spots from the Orange viewpoint. Something-like this was tried with Huguenot districts in France three hundred years ago, A measure of separate rule was granted to certain cities, Belfasts or Londonderrys, as it were, but the result was dissension and finally a civil war.

It is interesting to note the respect of the Toronto News for majority rule. After observing that the Parliament Act has "suspended the British constitution." it goes on at once, apparently in that idea, to announce approvingly that "Unionists in Ireland will resist the new authority set over them (i. e., a Dublin legislature), with armed force if necessary, and they will be supported by a vast number of the plight of the aged sympathizers from the rest of Great Britain." The News presumably will be a sympathizer, waving its hat for rebellion. Rebels have before now used the argument for themselves that the constitution had already been suspended by somebody else; sometimes the argument was true, sometimes as ulous to argue that Britain is at present under no constitution, in order to justify an appeal to force against majority rule. How sincere is the Unionist advocacy either in Britain or in the Canadian Belfast of the majority's rights?

It is time, however, that physicians as well as ministers took this matter up. They will have to co-operate or the movement against improper marriages will fail. Steady Stream of Prison Literature [By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Since the days of the Apostle Paul, that brilliant letter writer of the first century, there has been a steady stream of prison was the only pleasant thing about going to jail in ye good old days. It was permissible to import any quality of paper and gray goose quills. In the Elizabethan age the madcaps of the time were often laid by the heels, and the prison may almost be said to have been their university. Take Thomas Dekker, for instance, the Goldsmith of his time, the good-natured genius who wrote the most lambent of all London comedies, "A Shoemaker's Holiday." Poor Dekker was an easy liver and a hard drinker; the bailiff was thought, my dear Mr. Jones, that constantly camping on his track, and ever and anon he went to the counter, players who as they called the debtors' prison in those days. Dekker, Green, Nash, Kyd, and a dozen other literary notables of the spacious age of great Elizabeth, found in the prison, where they freely mixed with the riff-raff and bob-tail of London, that experience of low life which served them in such good stead when they were casting about for characters and incidents for their plays and stories.

Although we cannot point in later English literature to such an ambitious prison work as Raleigh's "History of the World," which occupied his spare "I'm thinking of going on a tour of time many years before his death, while he languished in the tower, still there are numerous books which came from the house of darkness. Some of the most charming letters that were ever written were produced by James Howell, that amiable debtor who sent out his good things to the world through the kindness of the turnkey One of the first nev pers ever published was edited by Laniel Dafoe, who lay in Newgate under Queen Anne's displeasure. Bunyan is another name which will occur to my readers as and killed, perhaps the most distinguished literary prisoner after St. Paul himself. Utterly different from "The Pilgrim's Progress," but semi-religious in nature, is that wonderful prison book of the nineteenth century, Oscar Wilde's "De Profundis." Nothing so gloomy or terrible in its note of poignant regret for a sinful life has ever come from the house of bondage as Wilde's piercing lament for genius wasted and manhood given in vain. I should be inclined to call "De Profundis" the talking, not about a political question most distressing book every written; but only about a trade or business alongside of it Bunyan's allegory is situation. Another Aspect.

AThere is another aspect to the case. All insurance men know that there is a tax of 3 per cent. in all insurance rates for wire risks. That means that any man assessed for $10,000 would save $3 a year. This would more than cover the cost of the conduits in front of his place. "There would be a certain revenue.

The city has the power to compel all companies, the Bell Telephone Company, the London Electric Company, the two telegraph companies and others using wires and poles to place them underground in our conduits. The city would derive a revenue at once, as soon as the conduits were money would be returned to the property-owners, and the property-owners would have all the improvements at a slight cost. The scheme is purely a business proposition. Any wide-awake businessman can readily see the advantages. We are working for a larger and more beautiful city, and we are surprised that any aldermen or balloon. His young brother, while the are surprised that any aldermen or craft was 500 feet above the water, anybody else would endeavor to belittle it. #### Chinese Sewing-Woman

If it is a novelty, it must sometimes be a convenience to be able to have one's garments mended on the street while one waits. In nearly all the cities of China native sewing-women are to be seen seated on low stools, or perhaps on the sidewalk, mending articles of masculine wearing apparel The accomplishments of these street seamstresses are somewhat limited, as a rule, to "running." Other branches of needlework are practically unknown to them. As a consequence, their efforts are better appreciated by natives than by American or Eng-

TECUMSEHS WIN FROM SAINTS BY GREAT MINTH-INNING FINISH

Game Was Crammed With Excitement-Manager Bowerman and First Baseman Powell Were Both Banished By Umpire Johnson - Cocash Scores All Three of London's Runs.

Maybe it wasn't some frolic at Tecumseh Park yesterday, and maybe it wasn't brimming over with the excitement stuff. It had all the elements of a real game and then some. Of course, London won. This is getting to be such a habit with Bowerman's boys that the natives expect it long before the final sessions now. This time it was "Dad" Stewart's youngsters who were the ones to get spanked, just as a sort of return for what happened at the tocal sard a week or so ago (St. Thomas papers please copy.) The official count was 3 to 2

It was a bad day for Johnsons. It was a Mr. Johnson who tried to beat us of of all chance to grab this little affair, and it was another Mr. Johnson whosently handed it back to us in the ninth when it was badly needed.

MR. JOHNSON NO. 1.

The first Mr. Johnson happened to be the umpire. This spring he talked Mr. James Fitzcalled "Chick" for short. geald, who presidents this league, into appointing him as an ofumpire, and as a result Manager Bowerman and First Basenin Powell will contribute five hard-earned simoleons each into the Canadian Hague treasury, because the said Mr. Johnson did not relish a few of their pinted remarks about his ability as an umpire. Mr. Johnson made a few histakes, as umpires often do. His mistakes were costly to London and they vere so bad that one shudders to mention them. Johnson looks like a good umpire and he may have had an off day, but there was no doubt that Powell and Bowerman had plenty to kick about. WHERE POWELL HOWLED.

Powell's grouch started in the second inning when Johnson called Wilde safe after he was plainly out by yards. The big first baseman kicked at the decision as he had a right to do, but it got him nothing. Then came the final blow. It was in the fourth. Cocash was on third and Powell, who had singled to centre, had gone as far as second. Brant flied out to Stewart who threw to catch Cocash at the plate. The throw was wild and the ball went out to the north end bleachers. Powell rounded third and arrived home to two. Baker, the London recruit, safely. Johnson was watching Kiefel chase the ball and he did not see Powell started into pitch for the locals, but round third base. Some of the St. Thomas players claimed they did, how- the visitors found his offerings fre-ever, and they stated that Powell had not touched the bag. They claimed he quently, and Donovan replaced him in was out, and Johnson gave in to them. He took their word rather than the fourth. Star Mason was on the Powell's and the local players who had seen the play. strikes caused some amusement to the fans. It sounded more like a whistle fans. It sounded than a human voice.

"Give me a ball, give me a ball!" said Umpfre Johnson on different occasions, and all the time the crowd was giving him a bawl. "Dad" Stewart is also a kicker. He kicked on everything he could possibly kick about yesterday, and only half the time was he right. * * *

If Hynes had not touched the ball when Bierbauer threw to catch Jacobson it the plate, it is doubtful if St. Thomas would have scored at all.

Yesterday's game demonstrated that the Tecumsehs are never out of it until the last ball is thrown. Their ability to win out in the final inning has been tested several times this season.

It looked like old times to see Loeey back at the initial corner. The Tecumsehs have certainly got a great bunch of first basemen, and they needed every one of them in yesterday's occurrence.

Hynes was invincible after the fifth, the Saints going out in one-two-three order after that inning. Only one man got to first. This was Gurney, who was given a life on Brant's error in the salary limit. Although Manager Bowerman has not given an official announcement of what he intends doing, it is likely that Rudolph will be given his release. There was some talk about Conyngham and Reske going too, but this has not been confirmed. Any of these players could make good on the other teams in the league.

Powers is the big noise in the hitting ine on the Saints' line-up, and he can be depended upon to bing it hard when men are on bases. He sizes up to be about the best catcher in the league. He worked in the outfield yesterday and did well, his catch of Speer's fly being

Dr. Curtis Says the Kindergarten for the Young Should Be Continued.

LEISURE IS INCREASING

All Over the World People Find It Necessary To Devote More Time To Pleasure and Forgetting Business Cares,

"If play is of such educative value to the little tots in the kindergarten there is no reason why it should be discontinued at the age of six or seven years," said Dr. Henry Curtis yesterday in his address on "Play in Relation to Education," delivered to the assembled teachers in Y. M. C. A. uditorium.

"The plans of Froebel should be carried right up through the university course and not allowed to stop with the young children," said he 'The leisure of the world is increasing, and we should be taught to employ that leisure. Across the border in the United States, no Government employee can work more than eight hours a day, and such is the outcry against the steel mills and their practice of working their men twelve hours modern structure."
Ald. Richter declared that the a day that it is only a question of a short time when they will have to Leisure Increasing.

"All over the world the amount of the committee could not take the whole city could be covered in a leisure is increasing, and it is in this the committee could not take the whole city could be covered in a leisure time that man gets his pleasure in life. This time is given up to "We are doing that," said Trustee art, to play, to education, or it is the unt. "We have Princess avenue, time when the vices that sink men to communication from the board.

Chairman John M. Gunn explained intend doing this."

Ald. Richter thought it too late to dance hall. It is the duty of the community to provide places where this season, and sugome and pleasant surroundings. It here that the playground and the ocial centre find much of their use-

But going nigher up we find that the young animal passes through a period of infancy, in which it is fitted for adult

Animals and Play.

"For instance, a kitten will pounce pon a ball or leaf as it rolls past. A ouppy will chase and bite and tear at anything given it to play with. Now preminent educationists have pointed out that without the practice which the kitten gets by its play the cat would not be able to catch mice. So with the puppy, and nearly every other young animal. Its infancy is a preparation for adult life.

So with the play of the Indi He plays hide-and-seek, and learns to hunt his game. He plays tag, and earns to run it down. He practices with the bow and arrow and learns some of this home treatment ow to kill it. Every particular of that boy's play is a preparation for his later life

Time for Play. "It is the spirit of play that makes man's work enjoyable. Play is the nighest kind of art," declared Dr.

urtis "Now, you ask how are you going find time for play in the already rowded curriculum of the school. In Boston, in the lower grades they are evoting two hours a day to play, in the belief that they can accomplish just as much work in the remaining hree, as was formerly done in five. And the results so far have borne them out. It is a well-known fact that a small child cannot possibly concenrate its mind in study for more than ifteen minutes at a time. Therefore, the average school room holds its young pupils' attention for not more than half the time. Why then should ve spend five hours to do the work which might be done in two or three Even if we could accomplish more intellectual work by cutting out the play. I do not believe that any advantage was ever purchased at the

Yet McCormick, J. W. McCallum, Alex. Jane Adams is authority for the statement that the saving in expenses connected with juvenile delinquency have more than paid for the cost of this magnificent system. New York, Pittsburg, Philadelphia and scores of other American cities have adopted the playground plan with beneficial results. A playground system is one of the best investments which a city ever made.

"The usefulness of the playground is not confined to the congested cities alone. In the rural districts, places are found where the moral conditions are worse than they are in New York city, simply because of the lack of sane social activities. It is the purpose of the new movement to transform the country school and its grounds into a social centre for the neighborhood. A place where the boys and girls of the community and their elders can gather for a good

In the evening Dr. Curtis spoke at St. Peter's Parish Hall. He reviewd emphasized the difference between real play and gymnastics. "Gymnastics tend towards awkardness; play tends towards grace, because play is natural," was the way he summed it

Callaghan Choosing a Piano

It is not given to everybody to be an expert on pianos. The average person buying a piano can hardly expect to know what to look for and what to avoid.

As I said months ago in these columns, a piano is a purely material thing. Its excellence therefore, can only be material excellence. If it has this and excellence of workmanship and tonal quality, it has all that a piano

That is exactly what I claim for MARTIN-ORME Pianos-excellence of materials, tone and workmanship. When I tell you that the head of the MARTIN-ORME firm personally superintends the more important processes of manufacture, you will realize something of the thoroughness of the methods of the firm. A good reputation cannot be too jealously guarded.

When choosing a piano, consider the MARTIN-ORME among standard makes. Look it over and compare it with other high-grade instruments. I am content to show you the MARTIN-ORME and await your choice,

The report will contain, not only an estimate of the assets of the London street railway, and the proper figure for its purchase, but will include a report as to the electrification of tht London and Port Stanley Railway, together with a proposition to accomplish the work. The document is a very voluminous affair, and contains a vast amount of information regarding

Hon. Adam Beck, in an interview with The Advertiser, stated that the report was in process of completion, and would be handed to the city as soon as he had time to go thoroughly into it.

Can't Be Done. It was also stated at the city hall that an expert, either in the employ of the Lake Erie Coal Company, or of Mr. Hahold Richardson, who represents a lrage English syndicate, had gone over the line to report on the electrification of the road. He announces that electrification under the present conditions is imposible. The roadbed and right of way present great difficulties, and in addition it would be unwise to invest the amount of money necessary to complete the scheme, with another electric line paralleling it. Efforts will made, it is understood, to obtain this expert's full report on the question, to be considered when the hydro-electric proposition is given out.

AN ANAEMIC ATTEMPT TO BOLSTER STORY

Duke and Police Officers.

The Free Press today makes an nemic attempt to bolster upp its fake yarn about two London policemen dining with the duke on the occasion f his visit here on Wednesday. The Advertiser repeats that the story was a deliberate fake, and the attempt to olster it up at this stage by repeatng something which the paper knows to be absolutely untrue, is not very edifying. The police officers, Messrs. Bolton and McRae, did not meet the duke, were not invited by him to go into his car, and his royal highness did not grant either of the gentlemen a special interview in which he praised the London police force. #### Importance of Radial Lines to London.

At the adjourned meeting of the board of trade held on Friday evening, President Reason reviewed the work done during the past year, and also thanked the members for again electng him to the presidency.

"We have had a very successful year," he declared. "A number of important matters were brought to our notice, and were dealt with. A source satisfaction to us is the fact that the Government gave a substantial grant towards the building of a 1,200oot breakwater at Port Stanley. This work when completed will cost about a quarter of a million dollars, and will be a decided improvement. The Lonfor what has been done. We also advocated the improvement of the Welland Canal, as we consider that it would be in our best interests to have his done.'

Radial Railways. "One of the most important matters for the future of the city of London s the question of radial railways. Their importance can well be judged from the fact that last year, the Lonion and Lake Erie Traction Company carried a million passengers to from London. That is a great thing for London.
