SEA MONSTER AT ERIEAU

Ladies Were Out Trolling
and Claim to Have Seen One

He Was A Good Swimmer
but Gave up When boat
Neared Shore

From Our Own Correspondent.

Erieau, Aug. 16.—Erieau is truly an up-to-date summer resort. Here is to be had the best swimming, sailing and bathing in Ontario. Then, too, our fire flies are the brightest, our frogs croak the loudest, and our mosquitoes bite the hardest. Now comes along a real live sea monster—one that appears suddenly just at dusk, is a good swimmer, and truly frightens poor lone females. It is best described by the words of one vitally interested—

"We were out trolling just at sundown the other night when a large, dark object, appeared near the side of our boat. Alms began frantically to pull in the line, exclaiming, 'Oh, I don't want that! to get on my line! Bow the other way!'"

"But there was no other way, the dark object followed us. It seemed to have a large flat head covered with hair, and swam with its head well out of the water. Fortunately the wind was in our favor, and with its assistance, we began to gain on this dreadful uncertainty. Just as we thought we were going to out-distance the monster it vanished from sight."

"We have not seen it since."

THE GRASS IS DYING

A citizen who is interested in the welfare of the Maple City, made a very timely suggestion to The Planet today, which should be taken to heart by the members of the Parks committee of the City Council. He pointed out that many years ago, a hydrant was placed on Tecumseh Park. The object in placing it there was to give the caretaker an opportunity to sprinkle the grass when it needed it. It is a lamentable fact that the hydrant has never been used for that purpose since it was first installed.

At the present time the grass on the Park is in very bad condition, and is fast dying off. Tecumseh Park is one of Chatham's most popular and creditable beauty spots when it is dressed up in its best garb, and it is a shame to see the grass withering away for the want of a little water. The appearance of any city is an important feature of municipal enterprise, and no time should be lost in restoring the Park to its former condition.

Chief Pritchard says that there is a line of hose in the fire hall which is not fit for fire purposes but which would come in very handy and useful for sprinkling the Park.

ESSEX EXPLOSION

Detectives Are Securing Evidence
Against M. C. R.

Windsor, Aug. 16.—Crown Attorney J. H. Ridd claims that evidence is piling up fast against the Michigan Central Railway people in connection with the explosion at Essex last Saturday.

Provincial Detectives Mahoney and Campan are at work securing a quantity of evidence which, it is proposed to use at the adjourned inquest on Aug. 23.

The most significant occurrence within the past few days is the resignation of Conductor Barry, in whose nominal charge the car containing the dynamite is supposed to have been. Barry, who has sufficiently recovered from his injuries to be discharged from the hospital, has no explanation to offer at this time as to why he chose to resign, but it is understood that the prosecution will call him as the star witness when the case comes up again. Agent Stimers and Fireman Madigan, the other victims of the explosion, are still in the hospital, but are mending slowly.

King Edward And Kaiser Discuss Political Situation

British and German Rulers Hope for Closer Relationship Between Two Countries—Will Make For Peace

Paris, Aug. 16.—French opinion generally regards the meeting between King Edward and Emperor William at Wilhelmshoe Wednesday as marking another stage in the relaxation of European tensions.

Like the Swinemunde meeting and the approaching interview between King Edward and Emperor Francis Joseph at Lodi, the papers think it may principally be important in calming the sensibilities of Germany concerning the series of agreements Great Britain has been completing, and that from this standpoint it will strengthen the peace of Europe.

Moreover, Wednesday's meeting is contrasted with the handshake between the King and the German Emperor last year at Kronberg, and there is a disposition to consider the Wilhelmshoe meeting as being something in the nature of a genuine reconciliation between the two sovereigns, whose relations heretofore have been notoriously cool.

So far as French interests are concerned, the impression prevails that they cannot be prejudiced by what occurred at Wilhelmshoe, and that they may be advanced, especially should circumstances later necessitate a broadening of the mandate which France and Spain received at Algiers.

His visit with Emperor William was of short duration, but nevertheless it is regarded as most important, and it is stated in well-informed political circles that in the course of the conversation between the two monarchs the political situation was discussed in the most friendly terms.

Prince von Buelow and Sir Charles Harding also had a long and earnest conversation, and it is the general opinion that the results of the visit will be far-reaching, and place the relations of Great Britain and Germany upon a better footing.

The guests at the dinner in the palace were most cordial. Emperor William thanked King Edward warmly for his visit, which, he said, he regarded as an expression of the most friendly feeling. He then referred to the good relations which always had existed between the two countries during the reigns of King Frederick and Queen Victoria, and concluded with saying he considered that King Edward represented the English nation, and that his visit was an expression of the desire for a good understanding between the two nations.

King Edward replied that his dearest wish was to see good relations between the German and the English peoples, and he assured the Emperor that on the occasion of his coming visit to England he would receive a most hearty and popular welcome.

OFF ON A JOLLY TRIP

St. Thomas Journal Party Passes Through The Maple City

They Will go to Duluth and Return—Successful
Competition

There passed through the city last evening en route to Sarnia, the St. Thomas Evening Journal's free trip to Duluth party of girls. They embarked to-morrow on the steamer Huronic and are looking forward to a big time.

The Railway City of Ontario is looked upon as one of the most enterprising cities of Canada, and the Evening Journal fully reveals this fact. The Journal carried the contest through with zest, and the candidates worked hard to win first place. As a result, upwards of five million votes were cast, and the Journal was able to add to its circulation list a large number of new subscribers. It had promised to take twelve girls, five from St. Thomas, and one each from seven neighboring districts, but such good results were had from the competition, that when the contest closed, the Journal announced that it would take all the girls who secured 100,000 votes.

This meant six girls were unexpectedly invited to join the twelve winners, making the total number of candidates as guests of the Journal, eighteen. They are Miss Cora McIntyre, Mrs. M. J. Rose, Miss Ruby Copeman, Miss Retta Reath, Miss Gertie Pink, of St. Thomas; Miss Eva Smith, Talbotville; Mrs. R. B. Brown, Bridgeton; Miss Rena Tape, Ridgeway; Miss Bessie Waters, Yarmouth Centre; Miss Theresa Martin, Aylmer; Miss Della Cameron, Port Burwell; Miss Rose Field, Tillsonburg; Miss Charlotte Killins, Lawrence Station; Miss Cora Smith, Fingal; Miss May Leitch, Dutton; Miss Mary Batiste, Yarmouth Heights; Miss Effie Roberts, Sparta; and Miss Grace Smith, Simcoe.

The large number of votes received by these young winners testifies the energy and enthusiasm that they are able to display. It follows that the trip must be one in which all will take the keenest enjoyment.

J. A. Courtney, one of the editors of the St. Thomas Journal, who is with this jolly crowd of girls, reported to the representatives of The Planet that never in his experience did he have such a pleasant duty as that of chaperoning this outing. "The girls have certainly had a good time," he said. "From the time we started out on this really delightful boat trip, the girls had all plans made for united action in the providing of an enjoyment for themselves, and as it happened for many others on board ship. They are, moreover, as well behaved as a Sunday school class, and when I get back to St. Thomas I shall not fail to say I am proud of them. We intend to spend a few days in Duluth, and then start on our return journey."

An ounce of confidence in yourself is better than a pound of confidence in others.

LAMBTON IS A FINE RESORT

Barton Reddick, Chatham
Old Boy, tells of Pleasant
Visit

Danmere Club is Doing A Great Business At
The Port

Barton Reddick, a popular Chatham old boy, who is now living in Detroit, where he is interested in the drug business, was a welcome caller at the Planet editorial rooms this morning. Bart has just returned from Port Lambton, where he and his mother, Mrs. G. W. Reddick, have been summering for the past three weeks. They leave this afternoon for Government Park, where they will spend the next week. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Reddick have also returned from the Port, where they have been spending a few days.

Bart was a former student at the O.C.I., and when he lived here, he was a very prominent figure in sports and athletics. He was best known as a lacrosse player, and was quite a favorite with the rooters when he played here. In speaking of his visit to Port Lambton he said—

"Lambton is a good place to go to spend a holiday, and it is all the better this year since the Danmere Club have opened up there. They give dances in their large pavilion four nights each week, and this tends to liven up proceedings considerably. This club is composed of four of the finest fellows you would want to find anywhere, and they are certainly doing a lot for Port Lambton. They have leased their property there for five years, so they intend to stay there, and they should receive every encouragement from all who are interested in this summer resort. Their music is of the very best, and the large crowds which attend their dances show that they are appreciated. The fishing is good at the Port. There are not many large strings caught, but the fishing is steady, and you can always catch something. Last Tuesday Bruce and I started out early in the morning and caught a fine string. Among the fish we caught was a big pike, which Bruce landed. It was a dandy, and we had a lot of trouble in getting it out. Perch and black bass are quite plentiful."

The fish at the Lake and Eau is very good this year, and Bart expects some good sport in this line during his visit to Government Park.

Col. Sam Holmes Thinks
Other Places Dead Compared With Chatham

I. O. O. F. Delegation Return
from Grand Encampment in Orillia

Colonel Sam. Holmes, who as a Past Chief Patriarch accompanied the delegation of Oddfellows to Orillia, says that the crops up Orillia way do not look nearly so good as they do around Chatham and vicinity.

"The harvest is two weeks behind up that way," he told a Planet reporter this morning. "Lots of farmers up there have just started to cut their oats, and the crops don't look nearly so heavy as ours do. 'I tell you,' he continued, 'I tell you there are not many places that can compare with this neat up-to-date city of ours. One only has to go away for awhile to find that out. There wasn't an automobile to be seen around Orillia, and things seemed pretty dead up there to what surroundings always are in Chatham.'"

The I. O. O. F. delegation who attended the Grand Encampment at Orillia were O. L. Lewis, P. G. M.; Wm. Potter, P. G. C. P.; S. Holmes, P. C. P.; Thomas Smith, P. C. P.; S. McCormick, P. C. P.; Wm. Flockard, P. C. P.; Matt Side, P. C. P.; Mr. Bedford, P. N. G.; Geo. Willard, P. N. G., and Mrs. James Dodson, treasurer for the Daughters of Rebekah.

The next Grand Encampment will be held in St. Thomas.

Inquest on Dr. Gibbins.

London, Aug. 16.—(C. A. P.)—An open verdict was returned at the inquest on Dr. Gibbins' body. The railway officials stated all carriage doors were shut, but marks of blood, flesh and hair were found in the carriage of the train whereon the doctor's father, said the son, had bad health and had been utterly disappointed in his work at Lenoxxville, but was unworried financially and quite cheerful.

WORD FOR THE CANOE.

The Toronto Telegram has the impudence to compare a clumsy rowboat to a graceful canoe as a means of enjoyment in the matter of aquatic sport. It goes further to condemn the canoe for "emptying homes and filling graves every summer," and ends up with a eulogy for the "steady-going" rowboat. The Galt Reporter evidently agrees with this line of talk, and re-produces the comment. As far as canoe fatalities are concerned, the victims are generally people who should never have entered either a rowboat or a canoe. It is true that you cannot rock a canoe to the same extent that you can rock a rowboat, but as far as that is concerned, neither craft was meant for rocking. Under the proper management, the canoe is looked upon as a safe craft and by all means the most conducive to real enjoyment. The amateur who undertakes to handle a canoe, without first receiving instructions as to the proper way of managing it, would be taking no greater risk than the person who stepped into a rowboat under similar conditions. The canoe should not be condemned on account of the blunders of people who have been overlooked by the managers of insane asylums. In view of the evident anxiety and nervousness felt by the press and unromantic editors of the Telegram and Reporter, we would suggest for their personal benefit that an old-fashioned, flat-bottomed sand scow is considered even safer than a rowboat.

The Stratford City Council is holding three minute sessions, while the Council in Chatham is sticking it out for three hours. Of course the affairs of the Maple City are of considerable more importance than those of its classic rival, but we doubt if there is that much difference.

Kaid Sir Harry Maclean, the remarkable soldier of fortune who has just been liberated by the Moorish rebels, is one of the Macleans of Lochbuie, and is 57 years of age. He entered the Warwickshire Regiment about thirty years since. When he was stationed at Gibraltar he crossed over to Tangier, and so impressed the Sultan that shortly it was announced that he had been appointed military instructor to the Moroccan army. For thirty years he has been settled in that unrefined kingdom. He is a man of small stature, much resource, and great courage, who has adopted the manners, costume, and customs of the Moors, but has remained British in his interests and Scottish at heart. It is characteristic that he introduced the berrypee into Morocco, eventually forming a pipers' corps.

NOON IN CHATHAM

What Is Going On In Town When The Clock Strikes 12.
Noon, the dinner hour, the hour of comfort, of pleasure and relaxation—the one hour in the twenty-four which comes to men and women of every station with greater similarity than the hour of any other function in life.
Promptly as the clock strikes 12 in Chatham the shadows on anxious faces turn to lines of good will, and if villainous not bread, pies, spiced and other indigestibles were excluded there would be no such words as dyspepsia or indigestion in the dictionary.

But the contrary is true, and medical science has to step in and aid the man or woman who has been too busy to pay proper attention to health.

The greatest step forward in medical discovery is Mi-o-na, which cures all stomach and digestive troubles. In hundreds of the best homes in Chatham and adjoining towns the handy little tablets, so pleasant to take, yet effective, have given quick and lasting relief from indigestion and that disagreeable full feeling after eating.

Mi-o-na acts very gently. Much of its wonderful power over indigestion comes from its uniform but sustaining action. The required stimulating and strengthening is given to the important organs of digestion without producing the slightest weakness or reaction.

A 50-cent box lasts for a couple of weeks and will ward off a dozen attacks of indigestion. C. H. Gunn & Co. give a guarantee, absolute and unqualified, with every box of Mi-o-na to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

Some folk have an ugly habit of speaking of others by queer nicknames.

Plus get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or bled piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents.

A Cowboy's Love.

By ABNER JOHNSON.

Copyright, 1907, by Mary McKoon.

Jim Traskon, cowboy, was riding slowly around a herd of a thousand steers on a grazing ground in Montana. As he rode he was occupied with pleasant thoughts. For years past he had had no other thoughts than for steers. Now he had got on to a new line, and his head was confused, and there was a new feeling in his heart. His attitude had been observed from afar off by Tom Matthews, a fellow cowboy. As the new arrival came within speaking distance he checked his pinto and exclaimed:

"Durn my hide, Jim Traskon, if you ain't homesick!"

"You're way off," was the reply.

"Then you are thinking of suicide."

"Wrong again."

"You can't be no doggone me—you can't be in love!"

Jim made no reply, but the hopelessness of his look increased. The other dismounted, came nearer, reached up and laid the palm of his hand on the suffering man's left side about where the heart is supposed to be. He held it there for twenty seconds. Then he stepped back and whispered:

"Jim, she's a palpitating as sure as your boral. It's a case of love, and don't you try to fool your Uncle Tom. Just pour out your confidence, and I'll advise to the best of my ability. I've been right there three or four times and know something about it."

"You—you won't give me away?"

"Not a give."

"Nor make fun of me?"

"Not on your life. When a man's in love and got it bad, Tom Matthews is not a man to jump on him. Who's the maiden, Jim?"

"You know that girl from New York over on the Horseshoe ranch?"

"You don't say! That Miss Walters who is visiting Kitty Williams? Say, Jim, you are flying high! That girl's father is worth three or four million dollars, and she wouldn't stoop to such as you and me if we were up to the neck in quicksand. You can't mean that you are struck on her?"

Jim nodded and sighed and looked far away over the grazing herd.

"Well, by gosh! And now the question is, is she struck on you?"

"I can't say she is; but, Tom, I'm loving that girl till I shall die if I don't get her. Why, I haven't eaten enough for the last week to keep a jack rabbit alive, and there are times when it seems as if wheels was going around in my head."

"Um! Took me the very same way the first time, and I had chills and fever besides. In love with Miss Walters, eh? It's a cheeky thing, Jim—mighty cheeky. I'm afraid you'll have to take it out in palpitating of the heart and loss of appetite. If she was some half breed, now, or even, the school-aman over on Dog river, there might be a show, but bracing up to a millionaire's daughter is flying high, Jim, flying high."

"But I'm a desperate man, Tom," replied Jim. "This 'ere thing they call love has got a rope around both my legs. It's either matrimony or death with me. What I want of you is to tell me how to work it. You've made two trips to Chicago with cattle and ought to know all about it."

"So I do, so I do. You have just seen her at a distance and fallen in love with her. Maybe it's the same way with her, but it won't do to bank on it. It's safer to argue that she's also seen you from one of her herd. You can go over to the ranch and call on her, because you haven't got a boiled shirt to put on. You can't get an introduction in the regular way because Kitty Williams is stuck up and would give you the cold glare. Her mother is down on you because one of her cats got hold of some of your wolf poison. Jim, old man, you are up against it."

"Then I'll hang myself within a week!"

"Um! Just the way I felt the first time. Let me see. There ought to be a way—there surely ought. It mustn't be any common way. It's got to be a hair raiser or it won't do. If you don't impress a millionaire's daughter like a house falling on her, you can't hold her thoughts for five minutes. Jim Traskon, are you ready for a desperate venture?"

"You bet I am, if it's anything connected with that girl! Yes, sir, I'll fight a dozen grizzlies one after another for her sake."

"Then when you come in tonight we'll have a talk. I've got a plan, and I'm quite sure she's bound to work. Say nothing, but come and see me."

It was true that Miss Nettie Walters was visiting Miss Kitty Williams, daughter of Major Williams of the Horseshoe ranch. It was also true that she was the daughter of a wealthy resident of New York. Both girls rode out on their ponies almost every day, and as a matter of fact they had several times passed within a few rods of the cowboy—the particular cowboy. They had given him no more notice, however, than they had given his herd.

There was a talk that evening between Jim Traskon and Tom Matthews, and when it was concluded the hopeless lover was no longer hopeless. In fact, he had been brought around to realize that life was worth the living. He even executed a shuffie and indulged in suppressed whoops of exultation.

Two days later fortune favored him with a broad smile. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon he caught sight of the New York girl riding alone—not quite alone, either, as she had three dogs with her, and the animals were doing their best to scare up a rabbit to be run down. When she was half a mile away a big jack broke cover, and away went girl and pony and dogs. It took Jim Traskon just two minutes to adorn himself in the Indian trappings which he had brought along for the occasion by the advice of Tom Matthews. Then he started the chase. His get-up was good, and his whoops had the true ring. Of course he depended on Miss Williams having told her girl friend that some of the Sioux Indians had left their reservation and were committing outrages along the skirts of the valley. As a matter of fact, this information had been imparted, but it hadn't deterred the New Yorker from riding out alone. She heard the whoops and looked back to see the redskin coming after her. Then she gave her pony the switch. In her go-off she rode straight away from home, and at the end of a three mile chase her pony was winded, and she was being overhauled.

Then was the psychological moment for Jim Traskon to strip off his disguise and begin to whoop and shoot and convey the idea to the girl that he had come up in time to run the redskin off and save her from being carried into captivity. According to Tom Matthews, she must feel grateful, she must smile on her rescuer, she must extend the glad hand, and if she didn't faint in his arms she must at least invite him to call on her at the ranch and sooner or later fall in love with and marry him.

All that ought to have taken place as easy as two and two make four, but, alas, it didn't. In the first place, the red skin away by his hopes and fears, the cowboy got too close; also he forgot to throw away his disguise. Then the girl pulled her tired horse in, wheeled him around and suddenly came riding back with a six shooter in her hand. She had never shot at a man before, burglar, cowboy or Indian chief, and for a novice she did remarkably well. Out of six shots she sent three bullets into Jim at points calculated to give him pain, and before she had ceased firing he was on the run for cover. When he had got a gait on him the girl headed for the ranch at alope, and her part of the adventure was over. Not so with Jim Traskon. He had to get into the brush and send for Tom Matthews, and Tom had to ride eight miles for a surgeon to pick the lead out and dress the wounds, and after Jim had told about forty lies about the affair the foreman said he was too ripe for him and had better go. Tom shook his fist under the poor fellow's nose and roared: "When I was telling you how to get that girl I didn't know that I was talking to a blame fool! Jim, you've mixed and muddled the case worse than an idiot, and now you go and suspend yourself from the limb of a weeping willow tree and be hanged to you! You had a mighty handsome girl and untold millions within your grasp, and then you went like a durned kype and forgot that you was a white man instead of an Injun. Get along out of Montana with you!"

One Test of the Teacher.

The true teacher must have a readiness to be forgotten. And what is harder? Many a man is ready to be generous if by it he can win praise. The love of praise is the almost universal infirmity, but there is no more baffling infirmity for the teacher. If praise and recognition are dear to him, he may as well stop work. Dear to him perhaps they must be, as a human being; but, as a teacher, he is called on to rise above ordinary human conditions. A teacher does not live for himself, but for his pupil and for the truth which he imparts. His aim is to be a colorless medium through which that truth may shine on an opening mind. How can he be this if he is continually interposing himself and saying: "Instead of looking at the truth, my children, look at me and see how skillfully I do my work. I thought I taught you admirably today. I hope you thought so too." No, the teacher must keep himself entirely out of the way, fixing young attention on the proffered knowledge and not on anything so small as him who brings it. Only so can he be whole hearted in invigorating the lives committed to his charge.

THE RIGHT MEDICINE FOR PELVIC TROUBLES FOUND IN PER-UNA.

MRS. CAROLINE KRAMER. Fort Collins, Col., writes:

"The majority of women who are suffering from disordered periods and other pelvic troubles, have such strong faith in doctors that they allow them to experiment on them for kidney, liver or stomach troubles until they become completely discouraged and their money is gone."

"This was my unfortunate experience for nearly two years when my attention was called to Peruna."

"I hardly dared believe that at last I had found the right medicine, but as I kept on using it and was finally cured, I could only thank God and take courage."

"I have had most satisfactory results from the use of your medicine and have advised dozens of women who were suffering with woman's ills to use Peruna and let the doctors alone."

"Those who followed my advice are better today and many are fully restored to health."

Mrs. Wilda Mooers, R. F. D., No. 1, Lento, Ore., writes:

"For the past four years I was a wretched woman, suffering with severe backaches and other pains, leaving me so weak and weary that it was only with difficulty that I was able to attend to my household duties."

"I used different remedies, but found no relief until I had tried Peruna."

"Within two weeks there was a change for the better and in less than three months I was a well and happy woman."

"All the praise is due to Peruna."

Undertakers for Birds.

A branch of business conducted by a Philadelphia establishment devoted to supplying and boarding feathered pets is that of preparing dead birds for burial. Children who have lost their canaries or other songsters through disease or accident bring the little cadavers to the store to be laid out in becoming style. Tiny coffins, made of large enough for a bird, are kept in stock, also quantities of pale pink and blue cotton. The latter is used for filling the bird coffin, and on this the bird is laid. The effect when birdie's body is "decently" composed on the pink and blue cotton is sufficient to console the little mourning mother or mistress. The children then convey their coffin away for burial. Funeral expenses are light.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distressing indigestion, or constipation, or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any combination of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver, or the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the above symptoms are Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

First Slot Machine.

The first coin in the slot machine dates back to Egypt's halcyon days. It was an automatic receptacle which sold holy water and was placed at the doors of the temples in which the Egyptians worshipped daily. A tiny coin was dropped into the basin and immediately a certain amount of water was released.

Elaborate Jumper Frocks Combined With Handsome Lace.

Linen, besides being used in some of the smartest summer tailor makes this year, is finding much use in dressy jumper frocks combined with handsome lace, beautifully embroidered or, again, elaborately braided. A combination of heavy and baby Irish crochet finds a most attractive use in this pleated jumper dress of linen in the old fashioned buff shade.

The skirt is gored to the knees and finished with a tucked flounce. Between this and the skirt proper are set two rows of lace between a band of linen, ornamented with whorls of white braid. The jumper, worn over a guimpe of batiste and val insertion, is made entirely of the lace in the most extreme form of the Japanese idea, and the surplus fronts are large. Loose sleeves are banded with the linen, and white cord ornaments hold the fronts in place.

The hat is the popular cloche or bell shape in neapolitan, trimmed with white and yellow ostrich feathers and yellow tea roses. Loops of black velvet ribbon on the bandeau in the back give a French touch.

When Catches Come Off.

When catches come out of gloves it is not necessary to discard the gloves by any means, for they can be put back again unless they have torn the place from which they have come. Do not be discouraged if on examining the hole left by the departed catch it seems twice as large as the catch itself.

This is probably merely because it is stretched and will not make any difference in the replacing. With a fine needle and cotton, not silk, overcast the hole in small stitches, not going very deep into the glove. A very shallow overcasting will hold without pulling out.

Draw the hole up slowly and carefully around the button in the groove meant for it. If the work is done otherwise than slowly and carefully the thread may break or the material may pucker. But if done as prescribed even a large hole will gradually fill in and fall into place.

After the thread has been drawn up in this way it should be wrapped around the clasp two or three times to make all secure and the thread finished off on the wrong side. If these directions are exactly followed, no sign will be left that the catch has ever parted company with the glove.

For the Thin Woman.

Sleep is quite as important as medicine to the thin woman, and every afternoon a nap must be indulged in if possible.

Even the relaxing of the body by lying down, with the eyes closed and with no thought of care, will do much to quiet and soothe the nerves. While it is necessary that she should be out in the air as much as possible, she should always be suitably clad, for colds have a disastrous effect upon the thin woman.

Of course not every woman can take the time to put flesh on her bones by following this delightful regime, but she can follow some of the directions and if persistently adhered to will surely attain to a becoming plumpness of face and figure.

Velvet Dog Collars.

One of the novelties shown by the shops is the black velvet neckband with slides. The ribbon is half an inch in width and is fitted with rhinestone slides in delicate designs and clasps to fasten. It is to be worn at the top of the gown collar.

To Make the Hair Curl.

To make the hair fluffy when putting it up on curlers use the following lotion: Take of gum arabic, one ounce; good mollet sugar, half ounce; pure hot water, three-quarters of a pint. Dissolve. When the solution is cold add alcohol, two fluid ounces; salt ammonia, six grains each. The last two should be dissolved in the alcohol before admixture. Lastly, add enough water to make the whole measure one pint. Perfume with cologne or lavender water. Moisten the hair with the fluid before putting it in papers or curlers.

Emigrants Are Deceived.

At a meeting of the Sydney Labor Council, the headquarters of organized labor in New South Wales, the secretary reported that a large number of immigrants from Essex arriving in Sydney had decided to book passages back to England. He added that some had already done so, for the reason that they were disgusted with the condition of the labor market in New South Wales. They had been misled by the statements of T. A. Coghlan, the state's agent general for labor. The agent general's statements were found to be without foundation.

A representative of the bookmakers of the state said that in one house there were eleven new arrivals, all employed, while a representative of the bookmakers declared that it was no good trying to ventilate the matter locally, and that action would have to be taken in England. The council's secretary was instructed to secure detailed information for investigation by the executive.

There are 800 unemployed among the 1,100 members of the Sydney Unemployed Laborers' Union.

A meeting of the East Kent License Commission was held in Blenheim to transfer the A. Forbes hotel at Cedar Springs to Mr. Rd. Pullerton, of Chatham. Present: W. C. S. J. B. L. Jarvis, and Frank Clifford, Commissioners, and Inspector Boon. The Board granted the transfer.

TWO NEW INDUSTRIES

Two deputations in view of establishing new industries in this city were here yesterday looking over the city. The members of the Board of Trade were hurriedly called together to consider both cases, and were much satisfied with the propositions. The parties are much pleased with Chatham, and would desire very much to locate here.

One is a large American industry from Cleveland, and will employ 75 skilled mechanics, and the other is a Canadian firm already doing a big business in Canada, but desiring to come to Chatham on account of better facilities. The latter factory will employ 120 hands, three-fourths to be women and girls.

This makes four good propositions which Chatham has in hand at present, and it is hoped that at least three of them will locate in the Maple City. Chatham is on the road to success and prosperity, and the prospects for a bright future never looked better.

In each instance the new industries will not cost the ratepayers a cent. The company will have to pay the interest to cover the cost of the loan. The Industrial Committee are acting very non-communally along the line of inducement, and are not giving anything more than what is absolutely necessary.

SITUATION IN MOROCCO

European Victims of Recent Massacre are Buried

Sultan Reproaches Military Government for Inaction

Tangier, Aug. 16.—The European victims of the original massacre at Casablanca were buried Wednesday with impressive ceremonies. The foreign consuls Gen. Drude, commander of the French expeditionary force; a detachment of troops, and Europeans to the number of 500 followed the hearse to the grave. The funeral oration was delivered by the French vice-consul of Casablanca.

The bombardment of Casablanca has produced a deep impression at Fez. The Government received the news well, and at once provided guards for all European residents, urging them not to leave the city, where it guaranteed their security.

Advices received here from Fez say that the grand council called by the Sultan to consider the situation at Casablanca has agreed that he shall use all his influence in the direction of peace.

The Sultan's proclamation, counselling universal calm, in the country's great crisis, is earnestly supported, so far as his public affirmations are concerned by Sherref El Ouisan, who is a notorious fanatic and hater of Europeans.

The Sultan has begged the Europeans not to leave Fez, as he would not be responsible for their safety if they departed from the capital.

Reports from Casablanca yesterday indicate that the Kabyles are gathering reinforcements, as if preparing for a final effort to capture Gen. Drude's camp outside that city.

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Casablanca correspondent of The Figaro telegraphs that Muley Amin, the military governor of Casablanca, has received a letter from the Sultan, bitterly reproaching him for his inaction, which the Sultan says was particularly responsible for the trouble, and blaming him for not having foreseen and repressed the disturbances.

Vice-Admiral Philibert, telegraphing Wednesday, reported isolated attacks on Casablanca, which the troops easily defeated, being assisted by the shell fire of the French cruiser Clotie.

The cruisers Forbin, Galliee, Cassini and two torpedo boat destroyers are now used in a systematic patrol of the coast of Morocco.

ARABS TAKE OUTPOST

Desperate Charge of Moors Against the Artillery.

French and Spanish Defenders Driven Out—Station Recaptured After Fierce Fighting—Bayonet Charge Successful—Transport Arrives With Reinforcements—Moorish Horsemen Plundering.

Tangier, Morocco, Aug. 15.—Several thousand fanatical Moors rushed the outpost at Casablanca Tuesday night, drove out the French and Spanish defenders of one of the stations and held it against the foreign troops for over an hour.

Only the most desperate fighting by the soldiers enabled them to regain possession of the outpost which was finally carried by a bayonet attack.

News of the fight reached here yesterday. Hundreds of the Moors were slain or wounded during the fighting and the troops likewise lost several men, according to the message.

The attack of the Moors was made shortly after midnight. Mounted on their fleet horses, the natives charged directly against the guns, unmindful alike of both the rifle fire and shrapnel.

The outer defences were rushed, the soldiers being compelled to withdraw. The Moors established themselves there.

The Moors were repulsed at other points and driven off. Reinforcements were rushed to the force which had been driven out of their earthworks and several charges were launched against the Moors occupying them.

The French swept over the rifle pits, driving the Moors before them. The natives fought bravely, but were unable to cope with their trained adversaries. Many Moors were cut down beside the guns they refused to surrender alive.

Reinforcements are beginning to arrive in Casablanca in response to calls for more soldiers. The transport Oasis has arrived with men sent from Algiers and Oran.

The Spanish cruiser Rio del Plata has also arrived and landed a force of marines. Three hundred Spanish infantrymen and several troops of cavalry are on their way to Casablanca from Cadix.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Despatches from special correspondents at Tangier received here yesterday confirm the reports of engagements between the Moors and make plain that the situation is more alarming than is generally appreciated.

Two hundred horsemen have forced the gates of Mazagan and are plundering the European section of the city. A few Europeans made their escape.

The situation at Fez is critical. The population threatens to rise against the Government which is in no position to defend itself.

Europeans cannot leave the city, which is hemmed in by tribes. A French cruiser has restored calm at Rabat by threatening to bombard the neighboring holy city of Sall. The tribesmen have left the city to join the besiegers at Casablanca.

The bombardment of Fort Fedala, where the natives have a reserve supply of arms and ammunition, is regarded as an immediate necessity.

Gen. Drupe proposes to occupy successively Ben Rechid, Casa Medouna and Settat, which are the centres of the wild tribesmen.

News from Morocco City is bad. Tribes in that region have offered the Sultanate to Tony Hafid, whom they have invited to lead them to Fez. It is feared Hafid's loyalty will not be able to withstand the temptation.

The apparent reluctance to send reinforcements to Gen. Drupe is regarded here as being a great mistake.

Sir Harry Not Free.

Tangier, Aug. 15.—It has been learned that Caid Sir Harry Maclean, the Englishman in charge of the Sultan of Morocco, who has been a prisoner of the bandit Raisuli, since early in June, has not been set at liberty as previously reported.

The British Legation here yesterday received a communication from Raisuli, threatening that unless his terms are accepted immediately he will re-occupy Maclean back from the Knaass tribesmen and removed him to a strategic position in the neighborhood of Ben Larous.

Maclean is well, but he has been deprived of his tent and compelled to occupy an ordinary soldier's tent of small size. He is subsisting upon black bread.

Explosion in Store.

Sydney Mines, N. S., Aug. 15.—An explosion in Weddleton's candy kitchen occurred yesterday. Miss Josephine was standing behind the counter, within two feet of a soda fountain, cylinder charged to 150 pounds pressure, which suddenly exploded, sending glassware, candy bottles and other paraphernalia flying in all directions, and destroying a wooden partition. Miss Oram's escape was miraculous. Outside a bad fire had escaped without injury.

Betrayed by Finger Print.

Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 15.—Traced by finger prints, a black hand signed to a letter received by Father Peremi of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, in which the priest is threatened with death unless he turns over $800 by Sept. 1. Michael Vennio, an Italian barber, was arrested as the writer of the letter.

Mosquitoes Stop Mails.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 15.—Mosquitoes are playing havoc with the delivery of the mails along the shores of the Delaware Bay in Central Delaware.

It is learned that a dozen rural carriers who start from Dover have been made ill by attacks from the pests.

THE SOUL OF WIT.

Some Famous Retorts That Have Been Characterized by Brevity.

Brevity has been the marked characteristic of many happy retorts. What could be more crushing, more grimly witty, than the reply attributed to Talleyrand on an occasion when a certain notorious personage, ill and in great pain, said that he was suffering the torments of the lost. Swiftly came the wicked retort "Deja!" already?

Of a different complexion, but equally exemplifying the soul of wit, was the reply, which has been attributed to various painters, to a questioner who wished to know the vehicle with which the painter mixed his colors. Dr. John Brown tells the story of Opie.

"Pray, Mr. Opie, may I ask what you mix your colors with?" said a brisk dilettante student to the great painter. "With brains, sir," was the gruff reply—and the right one.

Single word replies, more or less witty, says The London Globe, are fairly common. A patient whom the famous Dr. Abernethy had advised to take a walk on an empty stomach calmly replied, "Whose?"

A recent example was the answer of the late Dean Hole to a boring questioner following him on the Great Northern Railway. "What comes after 'leahin'?" asked the bore. "Scratchin'," came the swift retort, and thereafter the conversation flagged.

Many brief and telling replies are laid to the account of Douglas Jerrold. "What comes after 'leahin'?" asked the bore. "Scratchin'," came the swift retort, and thereafter the conversation flagged.

Akin to this was the answer of John Wesley to the blustering swaggerer who pushed against him on the path, with the insulting remark, "I never make way for a fool." "I always do," said Wesley, quietly stepping aside, and then placidly pursuing his way.

Brief and witty was the reply of a Catholic cleric to an opponent in argument who had declared his disbelief in purgatory. "You might go farther and fare worse," was the ecclesiastic's parting shot.

The wit of more than one of Dr. Johnson's crushing retorts was enhanced by brevity, but examples are too familiar to be quoted. Johnson came down like a sledgehammer on Scotland and things Scottish. Less familiar, perhaps, is the retort in which a Scotsman scored. An Englishman in Scotland was abusing the country, complaining of the state of the land and wondering where he could get less to eat.

"I could tell a place where ye wad get less," said a Scot, who was listening to the tirade. "Where's that?" asked the other.

"Oh, just where an Englishman's been!" said the Scotsman dryly.

Brevity as the soul of wit is exemplified in many popular sayings. Wit is by no means an inevitable ingredient in proverbs. Many of them are of doubtful sense, and some are foolish, yet there is a certain spice. The definition of proverbs by Howell as "sayings which combine sense, shortness and salt," is in the main true. Though truth may be altogether absent and wit barely perceptible, yet there must be a certain "salt," which gives life and savor to "salt," which is the main truth.

It is telling that some of the shortest—such, for instance, as "Forewarned, forearmed," "Extremes meet," or the ancient "Inter malleum et incudem" (Between the hammer and the anvil). Many sayings which in English are short were briefer still in their original classical form.

That the soul of wit was exemplified most strikingly among the Greeks is only what we should expect. It is curious to remember that our word "laconic" preserves the memory of the reputation for conciseness of speech borne by the people of one part of Greece—the Laconians or Spartans. When Philip of Macedon threatened them, "If I enter Laconia, I will level your city to the dust," they made the famous reply, "If."

Victim of Chikman.

St. Thomas, Aug. 15.—E. H. Chase of this city, received news Tuesday night of the death of his son-in-law, Cyrus Winters, at Regina, from arsenical poison. Winters boarded at a restaurant, the proprietor of which loaned some oatmeal to a Chinaman, keeper of a rival eating house.

The Chinaman returned the oatmeal, which was used, with the result that a number of boarders were taken violently ill.

An analysis of the oatmeal revealed arsenic.

WAS HARD FIGHT.

Koreans Give Japs All They Can Do
at Kangwha Island.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 14.—After two days of fighting with Korean soldiers and the mob, Japanese troops succeeded Monday in capturing Kang-wha Island, at the mouth of the Han River.

Kangwha is the site of the famous old forts, and was held by a small garrison.

The first detachment of 200 Japanese detailed to disband the garrison was fired on as both detachments
nearly the island, and was beaten off.
Six Japanese soldiers were killed and six probably fatally wounded, others being less seriously hurt.

The Japanese finally succeeded in making a landing on the northern end of the island, which they held until the arrival of 200 reinforcements with machine guns. Several hours' engagement followed, the Japanese capturing forts and barracks. They killed or captured all the Korean soldiers. Incomplete reports say 40 Koreans were killed and probably several hundred wounded.

Korean officials of the northern and eastern sections are sending daily appeals for help.

The whole North Kyong Province,
near the Yalu, is reported in a state of insurrection. Troops have been hurried to the scene.

There are frequent clashes in the mountainous districts of the eastern section between small bodies of Japanese troops and deserting Korean soldiers.

While this condition is likely to prevail until the Korean ammunition is exhausted, the military authorities regard the capture of Kangwha as marking the end of anything like organized resistance.

HAY FEVER CAN BE PREVENTED
Don't seek other cures at "Hay Fever Season," don't destroy your stomach and nerves by drugs—prevent the disease. Hay Fever is caused by germs that float about in the air and finally find lodgement in your throat and lungs. Medicine won't reach them here, but Catarrhozone will. Catarrhozone is a sure cure for Hay Fever. Start now to use Catarrhozone. Inhale it into the throat, lungs, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes; it goes wherever the air you breathe goes, and it will prevent and cure Hay Fever. En-

DRESSING HELPS.
Some Professional Advice For Cutting
Out Clothes.

In cutting out, so some tailors say,
it is better to cut with the nap up instead of down, as in cloth. This method is said to prevent rubbed spots, the material retaining its bloom for a much longer period.

Mark all the perforations and notches carefully and baste with the utmost precision, using fine silk instead of cotton and taking a long stitch on the wrong side and an extremely short one on the right.

In making the placket cut the under-lap double (about one and a half inches wide when finished) and allow the underlap to extend one and a half inches below the placket opening, then join underlap to seam. When stitching, be careful that the skirt seam does not pucker. After this turn the remainder of the lap over and hem neatly to seam on the inside. The opposite side should be faced the same width as the lap over side. The hooks and eyes should be sewed in place with a space of one and a half inches apart, with hooks on right side, eyes on the opposite side.

The trouble with the necks of blouses
is caused by two mistakes of most frequent occurrence. The space between the shoulder seams in the back is too narrow. That causes hump. The neck should be divided into three equal portions, back and two fronts. Shoulder seams must always be straight at the neckband and alterations made toward back or front at the armhole.

The wrinkles around the neck will be quite done away with if the neck-band is made longer than the neck of the blouse, the latter being "nick-ed" here and there as it is sewed on. This is a simple remedy, but most complete.

AN ENGLISH RECIPE.
A Delicious Cake Named For the Prince of Wales.

One cupful of sugar, half a cupful of butter, two cupfuls of flour, two eggs,
a cupful of sour milk, a teaspoonful of baking soda, two teaspoonfuls of New Orleans molasses, spices to taste. Bake in a quick oven.

One cupful of sugar, a cupful of milk, four ounces of butter, two whole eggs, one yolk and the grated rind of a lemon.

Stir the butter and sugar to a light cream, add the lemon and the egg (one at a time), stirring a few moments between each addition.

Add alternately the milk and prepared flour, making a soft dough. Roll out on a floured board a quarter of an inch thick, and with a tin cutter cut into rounds. Cut a small piece from the center of each in the form of a ring.

Drop into hot fat and fry until a golden color. Remove the crullers with a cake turner, place them for a few moments on blotting or coarse brown paper, remove to a dish and dust with powdered sugar.

HOUSEHOLD DON'TS.
Don't leave a lamp lighted while absent from the house.

Never leave matches, medicine, poison, a gun or revolver in reach of children.

Never place pans, jars, basins or other vessels upon stairs or any article that can possibly catch a descending foot.

Never, even for a minute, set a vessel of scalding water on the floor. Many children's lives are lost through this carelessness.

Never leave a door open in such a way that any person moving about in the dark can possibly strike against it.
Close or open against a wall.

Never at any time leave a hassock or other small furnishings in the middle of the floor. Chairs, especially rockers, should be set back at night where no person rising can trip or hurt the feet
on them.

Where to Hang a Mirror.
If the mirror be intended mainly for decorative purposes, take care to hang it where it will reflect something which will add to the good appearance of the room. Sometimes it is a good plan to reflect a window with the view beyond, sometimes one prefers to reflect the open door to another room or a conservatory, but in either case a feeling of space is gained, and though it is only an illusion, it is one which is well worth striving after.

Whatever the purpose of the mirror,
one point must always be remembered,
and that is never to hang it where the sun's rays will fall upon it. Light and heat produce a chemical disintegration of the quicksilver at the back of the glass, which makes it dull and injures
its reflecting power.

The Gas Stove.
Do you find your gas stove a real economizer? If not, these may be some of the reasons:

Lighting burners before you are ready to use them.

Baking but one thing at a time.

Heating water or cooking in uncovered vessels.

Placing small vessels upon large burners.

Using large burners when small ones
would do.

Not turning out the flame before removing food.

Not lowering the flames when food is already boiling.

BOMB FOR A LORD.

Ashtown Has Walls of His Apartment
Shattered.

Cloonnell, Ireland, Aug. 15.—Lord Ashtown had a narrow escape from death at his residence, Glenabury Lodge, yesterday. He was asleep in a room on the ground floor, when a terrible explosion, caused by a bomb, shattered one of the walls of his apartment, and destroyed most of the furniture. The explosion did not injure Lord Ashtown, who only arrived at the lodge Tuesday night. The gamekeepers recently had trouble with poachers on the estate, and the outrage is attributed to them.

Lord Ashtown has also been threatened by political agitators. At the recent Galway Assizes, a local politician, who is a justice of the peace, was charged with inciting others to murder Lord Ashtown. The politician was, however, acquitted.

To put the brakes on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a loaded wagon going down a hill? If did, his sensible horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill
with the brakes set against him.
When his stomach is out of order,
and the allied organs of digestion
and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments and problems seem presented to his mind
"perplexed and confused." This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
It puts the stomach and digestive nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light
step for the day's duties. Dr.
Pierce's medicines do not contain alcohol or other injurious ingredients; they are not "patent medicines" because their ingredients are printed on the label of each bottle.

COUNCIL TURN POLICE.
Litchford's Civic Fathers Raid Houses
of Bad Repute.

North Bay, Aug. 15.—An interesting story comes from Litchford, which recently blossomed into a full-fledged town with mayor and councillors.
Like many of the northern towns, Litchford has been invaded by a band of the demi-monde army, which is increasing so rapidly in the district that vicious dives are to be found even north of McDougall's shute.

Mayor McNeill, and the councillors of Litchford determined that their first official act would partake of the nature of a housecleaning.

Each member of the town parliament was duly sworn in as special constable, and accompanied by Provincial Constable Lefebvre, eight houses of ill-repute were raided, and inmates, frequenters and proprietors given summary trial, with the result that the sum of $700 was collected in fines.

Third Esperanto Congress.
Cambridge, Aug. 14.—The third congress of the Esperantists was formally opened in the new theatre here Monday night.

The opening address was delivered by President Zamenhoff, who explained that the whole object of Esperanto was the promotion of feelings of international brotherhood.

Some twelve or fifteen hundred delegates from all parts of the world gave the president a rousing reception.

HOW WAGES INCREASE
TWENTY-SEVEN PER CENT. AC-CORDING TO CENSUS REPORT.

Record of Five Years—Factory Workers Get Much More Now—Salaries Are on the Up-Grade—Evidence of Canada's Manufacturing Prosperity—Details of Various Industries—
Employers Increased 12 Per Cent.

A bulletin was issued recently by the Census Department, dealing with the number of wage-earners and salaries paid to all classes of employees in manufacturing establishments of Canada in the years 1900 and 1905. The number of wage-earners in 1900 was 244,000, and in 1905 there were 381, 437, an increase of 47,437. Where there are less than three or more works the figures are grouped under the head of "All Other Industries."

The number of employees includes officers, clerks, workers, etc., who are paid salaries or wages for service. The salaries paid in 1900 were $113,549, 850, and in 1905, $164,394,490, an increase of $51,145,140. There was an increase in the average wage per employee of $90.74. The employers increased in the five years by 12 per cent.; the total wage by 45 per cent., and the average wage per employee by 37 per cent. The value of product per employee in the year 1900 was $1,383, and in 1905 it was $1,832, being an increase of $434, or 31 per cent.
For 1900 the average wage per employee was less than in 1905 by $128.65,
and the average product less by $477.

A Big Increase.
The salaries and wages in the agricultural implement industry was $3-75,804, an increase of over $700,000, and an increase in the number of employees of over 600; boots and shoes, $4,644,171, a decrease of about $1,000 over 1900, and a decrease in the employees of over 800, the number employed in 1905 being 12,940.

Bread, biscuits and confectionery shows an increase of over $600,000 in wages; butter and cheese, $200,000;
carriages and wagons about $200,000;
car repairs, $2,000,000; clothing, men's factory, over $600,000; clothing, women's factory, for $719,000, to $2,312, 000.

There was a decrease in clothing,
men's custom, of about $700,000,
and in cottons of about $100,000.
Electric apparatus and supplies show an increase in wages from $960,551 to $2,498,905; electric light, from $591,089
to $460,418; fish, preserved, from $1-700,106 to $2,879,137; foundry and machine shop products paid an increase of over three millions and a half in wages; furniture, etc., over $600,000.

Log products, with a decrease of over 1,000 in employees, paid out in wages $21,035,919, as compared with $18,755,327 in 1900. Lumber products show an increase of 5,000 in employees and of nearly three million dollars in wages.

In printing and bookbinding there were 5,902 employees in 1905, double over 1900, with an increase in wages
from $1,135,341 to $3,032,328 in 1905.

In printing and publishing there were $5,540,255 paid in wages for 1905 to 9,960 employees, as compared to $4,671,413 in 1900 to 9,481 employees.

For smelting there was paid in salaries $6,648,400 in 1905, for 9,849
wage-earners, as compared with $1-53,553 in 1900 for 3,113 wage-earners.

Woolen goods show a decrease to $1,508,143 paid in 1905 for 4,647 employees, as compared to $2,068,320 for 6,795 wage-earners in 1900.

There are in the log industry 59-
854 employees; lumber products, 13-338; preserved fish, 18,449; foundry
and machine shops, 17,928; cottons, 10,450; smelting, 9,849; and furniture and upholstering goods, 8,141.

GIFT OF PRICELESS RELICS.
Antiquities For the Museum of the Toronto University.

A large altar of libations of about 2700 B.C., beautifully carved with designs of the offerings to be placed upon it, is an important addition to the collection for the University of Toronto Museum, presented by Dr.
Robert Mond, of Egypt. Information to that effect has been received from Mr. C. T. Curdley, the distinguished graduate of Victoria, now engaged in research in the Orient. This altar is described as the best that has survived, and is in a remarkable state of preservation. It has an inner and outer receptacle for the pouring of the liquids.

From the same source there has also been obtained a large cedar box of the eighteenth dynasty, or the period of the Hebrew bondage, which,
in its exquisite paintings, exhibits scenes of the worship of the Egyptian gods. The cedar is that of Lebanon.

Mr. Curdley, in a letter to Mr.
John A. Paterson, K.C., of the senate of the university, announces a remarkable find in a collection of Roman garments and other articles.
These were found in the sand by a peasant, and he was induced to part with them. The collection includes small towels of the Turkish type,
a number of mats, a sampler, beautifully worked, a baby's embroidered shirt, pairs of curtains, with applique ornamentation, and many elaborately worked strips, without a doubt part of priestly vestments. The colors are stated to be still quite fresh.

This exclusive collection of textiles will also find their place in the university museum. A whole Noah's Ark can be traced in the sampler working of one of the fragments of linen.

Must Have Been a Cannibal.
The writer of a book of travels, telling of the insect pests in British Guiana, makes a statement of which the best can be said is that it is probably not so bad as it sounds.

"One lady that I knew, while busy at her toilet, felt something crawling on her shoulder. She screamed and called her husband, and he had just time to knock the centiped off before it bit her in the neck."

ERIEAU

Erieau, August 16.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Anthony returned to Cleveland to-day, having spent a pleasant outing at the Bungalow.

Dr. Charles Baskerville is expected to arrive to-day from Detroit. He will stop at Beverley Lodge.

The "Louise" came in to-day from Sandusky with a large number of Clevelanders on board. As a strong southeasterly wind was blowing, they, no doubt, had an interesting voyage. Passengers going around by Detroit complain of a lack of accommodation on the night boats, numbers having to sleep in the saloons, because of over-crowding during the holiday season.

W. W. Turner, of William street, joined his family at Belvidere last evening.

Everyone is admiring the capital way in which Mr. Alex. Boushall is handling the "Eric B." He is evidently following in the footsteps of his skilled father and uncle.

Mrs. Alfred Snell, Hillman Snell, and baby, were visiting here yesterday.

Mrs. A. E. Pilkey and Miss Helene Pilkey spent Thursday in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, of Cleveland, left for their home to-day after a short holiday at the Bungalow.

Mrs. Geo. Taylor, of Rockyford, Colorado, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Nichol, of Victoria avenue, is spending a few days with Miss Abram at Shaghnappoe.

Miss Lou Clark, who has been the guest of Mrs. Pickering, returned to her home in Blenheim yesterday.

Miss Mary Wood and Miss Bessie Anderson, of Grand avenue, are the charming guests of Mrs. Jas. Glenn at Killarney.

Miss Riva English arrived at the Eau yesterday, where she will spend the rest of August.

Miss Florence Ashford and cousin, Mr. Graham Blackburn, of Madison, Wis., are visiting Mrs. W. H. Bennett. Miss Ashford has many friends here, having spent several summers on the bar.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, of Cleveland, opened their cottage yesterday and will occupy it for the remainder of the season.

First Cottager.—Are you doing anything to relieve the sufferings of your neighbors? Second Cottager.—Yes, we've sold our phonograph.

Miss M. Fleming is the guest of Erieau friends.

Miss Tyhurst, soloist of the William street Baptist church, was a visitor on the bar yesterday.

Miss Sleep, of Nova Scotia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Lugsdin. Miss Ruby Jamieson, daughter of Dr. Jamieson, is also a visitor at Ben Oban.

Miss Margaret Park was the bright little hostess at a birthday party last evening. About forty of her small friends assembled first at the boathouse and enjoyed an hour's ride in the steam launch "Ripple." They then returned to the cottage and played games and sang popular songs till the most important part of the program, the refreshments, was introduced. These consisted of cakes, ice cream, and fruit, and every child carried away a good sized bag of peanuts and bon-bons and a small Union Jack as souvenirs. The prizes were won by Douglas Kerr and Douglas Park. After singing "She's a Jolly Good Fellow," the crowd dispersed to their homes, the grownups as well as the little folks having had a very jolly time. Among those present were Isabel Fisher, Margaret Simpson, little Miss Cartwright, Pete McKenzie, Elizabeth Armstrong, Evelyn Park, Beverley Park, Edith Piggott, Flora and Jimmie Nicol, Cyril Ball, Kenneth Ball, Buster Ball, Joe Sheldon, Beverley Kerr, Margaret Kerr, Garrett Cherry, Douglas Kerr, Helen Lugsdin, Harold Lugsdin, Gladys McRitchie, Donald McKay, Helen Northwood, Margaret Northwood, Grace Northwood, Morris Smith, Francis Smith, Lennie McDonald, Mary McDonald, Douglas Park.
