LAKELET.

The Ladies' Patriotic League had a great turnout here Wednesday work day. There were about fifty people in the hall, very few homes in the community being unrepresented. There was a great amount of work done and a bale of goods valued at $135 was sent to Toronto the following day.

Mr. Wm. Wright had a bee at which every one in the community was present, on Tuesday afternoon. He bought some 15 acres of swamp from L. Viney, and he is at it now converting the timber into wood and logs.

Henry Demmerling's sale on Monday was well attended and good prices were realized. About $2500 worth was sold in 2½ hours. The bidding was keen.

Jas. Wright is buying and selling horses these days. He bought a team last week and sold them to his brother-in-law, Frank Wright. Now he has bought a nice driver from Mr. Small of Drew.

Chas. Hubbard is going to move to his farm on the 1st in a week or two. N. McLeod has to get out of there.

MOLTKE.

Mr. John Woods of near Clifford has purchased the farm recently owned by Geo. Filsinger and has already moved his effects to that place. We welcome Mr. Woods and family to our neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weigel attended the Kruetzer—Oehm wedding at Clifford.

Mrs. J. Ruhl and son, Herbert, spent Monday and Tuesday at A. Grierson's near Durham.

Mr. Adolph Weigel is confined to the house these last few days nursing a sore leg.

Miss Laura Wagner has returned to her home here after spending two weeks at Kitchener. She was accompanied by Mr. Mumps.

Miss Melinda Filsinger is engaged to work Mr. and Mrs. A. Luedtke for the summer months.

An enjoyable evening was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Woods and family last Friday evening.

Messrs. H. Fischer and J. Baetz made a business trip to Hanover last Saturday.

PAINTING ON GLASS.

How An Englishwoman Transforms Ordinary Glassware.

There is something supremely fascinating in glassware to women. They love it on their tables, their dressing-tables, and find its charm irresistible in lampshades, bowls and vases. But not many women have themselves engaged in the production of glassware—at least not in England, says London Answers.

One woman, however, is something of an exception. She cannot actually make glassware, for she has neither the plant nor the means, but she makes ordinary glass wonderfully beautiful. In an old little corner of London she has pitched camp in a little space, half studio, half shop, and here she works. She stains glassware with some secret material, flooding it with wonderful, rich colors. She catches the sunlight in her brushes, smatches the translucent tints from autumn berries, borrows ideas from the petals of flowers, and transfers all these lights and shades to her glass.

When she first started, people were sceptical of her art and craft. They thought such things could be done better abroad. Now they know better. Men who deal in such things show long and keen interest in it. She is probably on the road to help capture a trade that belonged to the enemy. If the demand continues to increase, an attractive and lucrative new occupation for women may spring up.

In the cabinets in her studio is a very world of fairy coloring. There is the homely jam-jar on which she made one of her first essays, transforming it ultimately into a thing of beauty. This is a precious souvenir. Then there are winecups, goblets, beautiful bowls, slender-necked bottles and exquisite vases, all stained with luscious coloring.

You pick up a bowl to look at the deep, rich grapes staining its rounded sides, and somehow the soul in the craft of this woman sends its message to you. You forget the little studio. Instead you are in the South of France during the purple season of the vintage. You can see the women in white caps coming home from the vineyards, bearing their baskets of grapes.

Or from a fruit bowl, through which shines the deep yellow of clusters of lemons, you get a vision of the scented lemon groves in Italy; while in a quaint two-handled cup all the fragrance of an English country lane seems stored, so vivid is the impression given you of pure, unclouded beauty.

What amazes people when they see these hidden stores of light and color is that their creator never makes her designs beforehand. She takes her clear-glass bowl or glass and commences to work right away. Yet every detail is perfect, and every design is repeated with perfect exactness.

Instant Postum

School teachers, doctors and food experts agree on two points—that the child needs a hot drink, and that the drink shouldn't be tea or coffee.

Postum fills the need admirably and its very extensive use among thoughtful parents, coupled with the child's fondness for this flavory, nourishing food-drink, show how completely it meets the requirement.

PETS, INSECTS AND HUMAN.

Interests of the Native Quarter of Japan.

In Japan if one will leave the hotel and the tourist office and the cocktail-drinkers and go out into the real native quarter, there are enough things to interest any one. One old man passes with his load of crickets, which sing in hot weather and are kept in cages like so many canaries. These gentle creatures make a noise like a squeaky axle and one hid under the hood of a twelve-passenger car would subject the most careful chauffeur to scorn. They are caught with birdlime and make nice little pets, cheap to buy and not requiring gasoline for upkeep.

My rickshaw man is an old fellow whom I hired a year ago and who recognized me again. He is low-priced, speaks quite a little English, and has a sense of humor. I have him trained so that if we pass any one at unusual work or go near any novel scenes, he points out these things to me. He knows my fondness for Japanese children, who are the cutest tots on earth, with their gay clothes, slant eyes and bobbed hair, and if he sees an unusually bright dress or a fine child, he points them out with a sort of fatherly pride of race. At two years old the Japanese surpass all other nationalities in charm and attractiveness, and these sober, yet happy little folks look as though they had strolled out of a toyshop.—Christian Herald.

HOW TO CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

The Common Cause is Lack of Blood—Therefore You Must Build Up the Blood.

There is the most intimate relation between the condition of the blood and the activity of the stomach. The blood depends upon the stomach for a large part of its nourishment; while every act of digestion, from the time the food enters the stomach and is assimilated by the blood needs plenty of pure well-oxidized blood. The muscles, glands and nerves of the stomach work only according to the quality of the blood.

The most common cause of indigestion is lack of rich, red blood. Not only does impure blood weaken the muscles of the stomach but it lessens the product of the glands of the intestines and stomach, which furnish the digestive fluids. Nothing will more promptly cure indigestion than plenty of pure blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the safest and most certain blood-builder. A thorough trial of these pills gives a hearty appetite, perfect digestion, strength and health. Here is proof of the value of these pills in cases of indigestion. Mr. Daniel Dexter, Liverpool, N.S., says:—

"For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. I was greatly troubled with gas on the stomach which caused disagreeable sensations. I was also frequently troubled with nausea and vomiting, which were very distressing. As a result of my trouble my appetite almost completely failed, and what I did eat caused me constant pain. I was continually doctoring but did not get any benefit, and had about made up my mind that I would suffer for life. One day a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and while I had not much hope of a cure I decided to do so. I had only taken a few boxes, however, when I found they were helping me. Very gladly then I continued the use of the pills, and in less than three months I was as well as ever I had been, able to eat a hearty meal, and to feel that life was again worth living. I had also been troubled from time to time with attacks of rheumatism, and the use of the pills cured this as well as the indigestion. It is now over a year since I took the pills, and in that time I have had no return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EVOLUTION OF THE GROCER.

"Engrosser" Was First a Dealer in all Kinds of Merchandise.

Nothing is so necessary in any community, nothing so unescapable as the grocer. It is the first business of the frontier settlement, and it plays the most important role in the business drama of any town. One can hardly imagine a city, in any age, in which there were no grocery stores, and yet the institution is a comparatively modern one. Do you know how groceries originated?

Only a few hundred years ago certain foresighted traders in France went about the country buying up bargain lots of merchandise. They bought fire damaged goods, bankrupt stocks, all sorts of commodities. They bought these things "en gros" and made money out of them. The trade was carried to England, where a man who bought hardware, thread, furniture, vegetables "en gros," or in large quantities, called himself an "engrosser." This was later shortened to "grocer," but the term was still applied to the proprietor of a general business. The grocer was a sort of racket shop, like the modern 10-cent store.

Gradually, it appears, the "grocer" found it more profitable to deal in tea, coffee, spices, fruits and non-perishable foodstuffs, and he confined his attention to these things. He took over the business of the "spicer"—and in France the shop we call a grocery is still known as an "epicerie." So far was the original meaning of the term lost sight of that a man who deals exclusively in fresh vegetables came to be known as a "green grocer."

Fashion Fads

Each day unfolds something new in the world of fashion, for many interesting novelties catch the eye of those who observe the women of fashion, from whose apparel may be gleaned every little detail and item of interest which create the atmosphere of good style.

Some of the new collars are large affairs rolled high at the back and low in front. These have been given the demure name of monk collar, and one is illustrated in the sketch. Sometimes they are fastened with little buttons and loops at the front, or the closing is made invisible. They are usually made of satin or the new figured silks to contrast with the dress material.

The loose side panels on skirts, with large pockets on each side, are also recognized as one of the newest style notes in skirts. The panels being loose flap about in the wind, often disclosing a bright lining of contrasting material on the reverse side. From the front, these side panels seem at first to be nothing but the familiar skirt which appears quite often in the new dresses showing the narrower underskirts.

Another treatment of side panels appears in some skirts where the panel extends to the lower edge of the skirt, is attached there, and falls softly over the edge in puffed or draped effect. Puffed all around in imitation of the Turkish trouser effect, are some of the skirts of evening dresses. In the supple taffetas and silver tissue cloths, dresses in this style are extremely graceful, the skirts devoid of any trimming whatever and the bodices fitting rather snugly in contrast. The bodices are in reality hardly more than deep bands suspended by straps of ribbon over the shoulders. Sleeves there are none, unless the bands across the upper part of the arms are so called. In other styles of evening dresses, however, sleeves begin to be more favored than they have been for some time. The flowing sleeves which form a kind of drapery reaching almost to the edge of the skirt is a style with great charm.

These patterns may be obtained from your local McCall Dealer or from the McCall Company, 70 Bond Street, Toronto, Ontario, Dept "W."

To Every Woman Who Is In Pain

Mrs. Williams Says Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Suffered for Two Years, but Three Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her a New Woman.

Adamsville, Kent Co., N.B., Jan. 29th (Special).—"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman who suffers." So says Mrs. Williams, a well-known and highly respected lady residing here. Mrs. Williams was a sufferer for two years till she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She found in them quick relief and complete cure. That is why she is so enthusiastic in her praise of them.

"My troubles started with a cold," Mrs. Williams states. "I never seemed to get over the effects of it. I had cramps in my muscles and my joints were stiff. There were dark circles under my eyes which were puffed and swollen. I had a bitter taste in my mouth and I suffered from severe headaches.

"I felt heavy and sleepy after meals and had attacks of neuralgia. Heart flutterings and rheumatism were soon added to my troubles. I took just three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I cannot be too glad that I did so."

Every one of Mrs. Williams' symptoms was a symptom of kidney disease. That is why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Awkwardly Put.

The other day a gentleman farmer having some pigs for sale offered to dispose of them to a pork butcher. The latter called at the farm where, before proceeding to the yard, he was hospitably treated and introduced to his host's daughters.

A gallant man is that porkist, and one who never lets pass an opportunity of paying a compliment.

"Now, sir," said he, on leaving the room, "I've seen your young ladies and I'm going to see your young swine, and if the two's much alike there won't be no difficulty about bringing off a deal."

"Hurry up, Tommy!" called mamma. "We're late. Are your shoes on?"

"Yes, mother; all but one!"

SMALL WONDERFUL FEATS.

Cling in Any Position to the Smoothest Objects.

That snails can pass over such sharp instruments as a razor's edge without the slightest harm has been demonstrated by a French scientist. The snail walks with the whole under-surface of his body, and it is provided with means to lubricate the road on which it travels. A peculiarly complex system of muscles enables it to cling in any position to the smoothest objects. In lifting itself over the razor's edge it clings with the hind part of its walking surface to one side of the blade and extends the fore part and bends it down over the other side. Then it draws itself over gradually and without exerting any pressure upon the edge of the blade. It could not, however, crawl along the sharp edge of a razor or knife.

It is a fact that while the common snail has lungs, heart and a general circulation, being in every respect an air-breathing creature, it is, nevertheless, able to live indefinitely without inhaling the least bit of air. Experiments have clearly demonstrated that any or all of the usual life conditions may be removed in the case of the snail without terminating its existence or indeed impairing its functions. The snail retreats into its shell on the approach of frosty weather, and causes the opening or mouth of its shell to be hermetically sealed by a secretion of silky texture absolutely impervious to air and water. In this condition, therefore, it is plain that the little creature is deprived of three of the four elements of life—air, water and nourishment.

All the Plaintiffs Won

At the County Court before Judge Greig here last week all plaintiffs in the three actions won. The first victor, Orin Hogland, was awarded $700 damages against his father-in-law, John Beater of town. The next successful suitor was Mr. John Kyle of Chesley, who in a suit for $150 balance on a year's rent of a farm leased to John White, got judgment against White for $110 and costs. The tenant, it seems, did certain fixing and repairing about the place, and put this as an offset against the rent. It transpired that much of this work hadn't been ordered by the landlord, with the result that the Judge only allowed deft. $40 for this, and ordered him to pay the balance of $110, together with the costs of the action. The last case on the list was a suit brought by Seaman Bros. Ltd., of Wiarnton against George Voght, formerly of the 160th Brass Band, to replenish a quantity of lumber and to recover an amount of about $600. The court held that plaintiffs were entitled to the lumber and also gave judgment in their favor for $580.50. The defendant's counterclaim against the plaintiffs was dismissed.

WOMEN OF CANADA.

Fort Coulonge, Quebec.—"I am happy to tell you that your medicine did me wonderful good."

I was troubled with weakness and I tried wines and other things but received very little benefit. I was young at the time and knew very little about medicines till a lady friend came to me with a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I became strong and a year afterward had twins.—Mrs. J. Brady, Fort Coulonge, Quebec.

Thousands of women right here in Canada who are now blessed with robust health cannot understand why thousands of other women continue to worry and suffer when they can obtain for a trifling sum Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will surely and quickly banish all pain, distress and misery and restore the womanly health.

Young mothers who preserve the charms of face and figure in spite of an increasing family and the care of growing children are always to be envied. "Favorite Prescription" gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her, and enjoy the happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

After an uneventful existence of three years the Bruce Peninsular News published at Lions Head has succumbed. Newspapers have been hit hard by the abnormal increase in the cost of material and labor and many of the other smaller weeklies will cease to exist before the end of 1917. In United States in 1916 no fewer than 800 weeklies became defunct.

If a Provincial Road System is inaugurated by the Govt of Ontario, at the approaching session, what are Bruce's chances of being linked up with it? The Govt's share of the million dollar fund to County roads will be increased from 40 p. c. If so those who advocated a waiting policy in Bruce County Council will be able to say to the 19 pushers, "I told you so."

May Go as a Unit

A report is current among the boys of the 160th Battalion at Bramshott, which tickles their fancy, and yet seems almost too good to be true. "We are living in hopes of going to France as a unit. In fact it is almost certain," is the news that a member of the battalion who is usually pretty well informed, writes home. If the France Battalion is permitted to go to France as a body, it will be the first Battalion that has been so favored since the early part of the war. Members of the 160th had long since given up hope, if they ever seriously had any, of retaining their identity as a regiment and they will certainly be a tickled bunch if they get to France together.

It is reported that the Battalion will move back to Witley C-up shortly to form part of the 8th Can. Division. The move will not take place for a little while though as nearly the whole Battalion is still quarantined for mumps.

A Costly Chase

The inmate who skipped last Fall from the Bruce House of Refuge and was recaptured recently at Tobermory, and brought back to the grating grubbery, stuck the county for $20.00 for his escapade. When High Constable Ward's bill for the capture of the fugitive came before the County Council at Walkerton last week it incited a spirited discussion, one legislator going so far as to suggest that he ought to have been pushed off at the Tub. As there mightn't be a handy whale around when this Jonah fell in, there was a horrible chance that he might, like a glass of beer before prohibition, "cross the bar." The silver lining to the dark cloud is that the county hadn't to supply the eats during his absence, but as it had to provide a new suit on his return, there is still occasion to fall on his neck and weep.

Seed Oats Supply

The past unfavorable season has caused a great shortage in the supply of good seed oats in Ontario and Western Quebec. Even the best samples we have seen should be graded to about 30 per cent, to make them suitable for seed. Rather than sow light grain from a stunted crop, farmers are well advised to purchase their seed.

The special grade for seed oats established at the Government interior terminal elevators last year, will serve as a much needed source of supply. This No. 1 Canada Western seed oats must be 95 per cent, white oats, sound, clean, free from other grain and from noxious weed seeds within the meaning of the Seed Control Act, and shall not weigh less than 34 lbs. to the bushel. It is available through the usual channels of commerce for grain.—Seed Branch, Ottawa.

Mrs. Ashford hastily composed her features.

"Only a girl stopping here," she said hurriedly, then, turning to the silent negotiator, she said, "Go, my dear, I shall not want you at present, and I shall be glad to see you again, while Jasper, taking her to a servant, gave no more thought to her."

"Now what about a room?" he said imperiously, as he took off his light overcoat.

"You shall have the best, sir," replied Lucy, only too eager to conciliate him. "Anything—everything we have is yours."

"Very kind of you, I'm sure," yawned Jasper. "Set about it then."

He was tired, for he had done a great deal of walking for him, who was accustomed to use his own or his friend's motor for every journey, great or small. Besides, he had some how missed Adrien despite his care, and was greatly puzzled and irritated.

"He was turning to follow Lucy, when there came a sound of footsteps, followed by another loud knock at the door, and a man's commanding voice: "Hurry! Quick here with a light!"

Lucy started, and Jasper Vermont turned rather pale, for he instantly recognised the voice as that of the man he had sought so diligently all that day. But he had no desire to be discovered just then, so, seizing the frightened woman almost savagely by the arm, he whispered fiercely: "You may let him in—I know him. But if he finds out that I am here, I will tell John all to-night; remember that. Hide me somewhere where I can see you understand? Quick!"

The knocking commenced again, and under its cover, Lucy, trembling like a leaf, opened a door, the upper part of which was glazed, and which led from the small room to the kitchen. Into this ambush Mr. Vermont hurried, while Lucy ran to the other door and threw it open to admit Adrien Leroy, who staggered into the room with his dripping burden in his arms.

"I'm sorry to knock you up," he said, trying to reassure her, "but this is a really a really bad case; our boat upset."

"Bring her in here, sir," said the good little woman, her courage and self-possession returning under the emergency. "She had better come up to the bedroom, poor lady."

Adrien carried Eveline up the narrow staircase, followed by Lucy, who had hastily produced some spirits with which to restore consciousness.

"You had better fetch a doctor, sir," she called after Adrien, as he came down again.

Leroy hesitated. He knew that Lady Merivale valued her reputation more than her life. To fetch a doctor might have the latter, but would most certainly ruin the former; for no medical man would permit her to return to London that night, and, in that case, discovery would be inevitable.

Troubled and worn with anxiety, he paced to and fro in the room behind the shop, regardless of his own dripping clothes, while Jasper, behind the little window curtain watched him

PRACTICAL FARMING

Growing Menace of the Feed Shortage

A special lecturer on stock-raising is to be one of the crew of a better farming special, that is to tour the Province of Ontario during the next two months, and the result looked for from his lectures is apparently the prevention of the sacrifice of breeding stock, which has been taking place of late, owing to the serious shortage of food. The assistance of the district representatives is also being enlisted by the Agricultural Department, Provincial and Dominion Live Stock Departments are co-operating in the endeavor to save the breeding stock of the country so as to ensure a supply of meat and dairy animals in the future.

On the same day that the announcement of the department's decision to take the above course in an endeavor to overcome the natural results of a serious crop shortage, appeared in the Toronto papers a report of a fair enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba feed wheat, oats and barley, from Montreal, but, it was pointed out that "no business could be worked, owing to scarcity of ocean freight room." On the same day, also, an increase of ten cents occurred in beef cattle prices, making an advance in two days of fifty cents.

If a shortage of ocean freight room was the only thing interfering with an export business in feed grain being done, then, would it not be well to see that this shortage of freight room for this commodity be maintained until Canadian live stock men obtain a supply of absolutely necessary feed for their breeding stock, at least?

An advance in price paid for heavy weight and heavy butcher steers at this time is a matter for approval of the farmers who have been sufficiently good managers to get some fattening stock into good condition under the present circumstances. An advance in cost of stockers and feeders resulted in sympathy with the upward trend of the beef market, "but the trade done in these was comparatively light." This last remark is indicative of the fact that further feeding is not being considered, in spite of the advancing prices for beef animals.

It is necessary that a certain supply of heaves be kept up for home consumption, yet in exchange conditions a heavy consumption of meat should be discouraged so that animals that have been advancing in condition at a slow rate may be carried on till better times, as cheaply as possible, and a proportion of feed saved for the breeding stock.

A sudden betterment of the present situation might be brought about by regulations preventing the slaughter of unfinished animals, which are a source of loss to the feeder on two counts and which do not return a legitimate profit to the butcher or packer.

With provisions made to ensure him a fair supply of food at a reasonable rate, the farmer will feel inclined to pay attention to the lectures of the live stock expert and as an enforced reduction of business in unfinished animals at the present crisis would result in the possession of those animals by their present owners when spring arrives, they should be satisfied to work along slowly until that time and pray for a better season in sound of the carriage wheels had died away into the distance, then he came out of his hiding-place, his face pale, his eyes shining.

"Lucy Ashford," he said, sinking into a chair, and holding up one finger in solemn warning, "you may be asked some day to give an account of what has taken place to-night. Remember this; you know nothing, you recognise no one—till I give you leave." Discreetly, and the story of your Canterbury trip becomes the property of the whole world. I'll proclaim it through every newspaper in the world."

Trembling and crying, and too ignorant to realise the absurdity of this threat, Lucy swore to be silent; and then, to her intense relief, Mr. Vermont changed his mind as to staying the night, and announced his decision of returning to London.

CHAPTER XXI.

On the night of that fateful trip, when Leroy returned to his chambers, he found Lady Constance's letter. Already tired with the events of the day, and the struggle in the water, this proved an overwhelming blow. The thought that he had spent the day in idle dalliance, when he might have been with the woman he truly loved—might have basked in the warmth of her presence, even though she would never be his, drove him almost to madness.

Jasper Vermont, who had followed him back to town by the first train obtainable, called in at Jermyn Court, and found him pacing up and down the room more troubled and unhappy than he had ever been in the whole course of his pampered, shielded life. Vermont listened and sympathised, and stabbed fresh, with his artful accounts of Lady Constance's anger at the fancied slight. He was altogether delighted at the way in which things had turned out, though he did not know how Fortune had aided him still more at Waterloo Station.

On the following morning Leroy received a cypher note from Lady Merivale, saying that she had a word home safely, and unnoticed; with 1917, when their profits will result from abundant pasture and such grain crops as will enable them to feed at a profit next winter.

Sow Thistle.

In fighting sow thistle we must recognize that this weed spreads from both seeds and roots. We must, therefore, prevent the plant from producing seed, kill the perennial root stalk and sow absolutely clean seed grain if we are to control this terrible pest.

Various methods of attack have been advocated such as crowding out the weed by a persistent perennial, smothering the plant with tar paper, straw, manure, or by a quickly growing crop, and starving the plant by preventing it from forming green leaves. The crowding out method often fails because the thistle proves to be more persistent than the crop employed to displace it. The smothering plan succeeds on small patches, but is not practicable on large areas.

Many authorities advocate the starvation plan or summer fallow, as, by far, the best for eradicating this troublesome weed.

Plough six to eight inches deep in the autumn, if possible, but if pressure of work prevents autumn ploughing, then plough the same depth about the middle of June. After a few days, begin the use of the duck-foot cultivator crosswise of the land and repeat whenever the tiniest shoots are ready to show, until the land freezes in autumn. Where the soil is a loose loam the land may not need ploughing and the cultivator can be used from the start.

Never allow the thistle to show even a leaf above the ground and by autumn it will be killed. The cultivation must be thorough.

Treatment of Tree Wounds.

In pruning trees, if the wood exposed by the final cut is healthy and there is no trace of decay or disease, the practice now is as soon as the surface is dry to paint it with shellac, good lead paint, asphalt or tar to prevent the entrance of decay producing organisms.

Wounds treated with shellac heal the quickest, but it is not as desirable as the other materials suggested. Asphalt is the most durable when properly applied, but seems to interfere with the early stages of normal healing more than any of the others. The rapid healing of large wounds is generally of secondary importance, so asphalt is the best material to use when it can be properly applied.

Asphalt must be applied hot and some apparatus for keeping it melted is necessary, as well as a brush made of rope for applying it. A brush of bristles would be quickly destroyed by the hot asphalt.

Coal tar or good lead paint are good and probably the best for general use. If decayed matter is found in the wound it should be carefully removed with a chisel, after which an antiseptic coating should be applied.

Corrosive sublimate, one part to 1,000 parts of water, or a fairly blue solution of copper sulphate or creosote are the antiseptics generally used. After the antiseptic has dried paint the wound.

A sigh of relief, he turned his attention to his own affairs. To Jasper's supreme annoyance, he insisted on going through a pile of papers which Vermont had only meant him to sign; and to that gentleman's chagrin he actually dared to interfere in the matter of rents and leases; which proceedings, naturally, did not tend to make Jasper feel the more kindly disposed to the world in general, and Adrien Leroy in particular.

When he had taken his departure, Adrien ordered the motor, and drove down to Barminster with the intention of offering an apology for his seeming discourtesy. He found all in confusion and excitement in view of the coming ball; and, whether by accident or design, he found it impossible to get a single word with Constance alone.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

London—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it, "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not wear any more. At night they would burn dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. I had almost given up hope of ever seeing again." Another man says, "I had been blind for three years. I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not wear any more. At night they would burn dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. I had almost given up hope of ever seeing again."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be successfully treated by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Dryo tablets. Drop one Bon-Dryo tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bottle the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many have hoped to find relief, but have been disappointed. Bon-Dryo is a very remarkable remedy. Its essential ingredients are well known to ophthalmic specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations that should be kept at hand for regular use in almost every family. The Valmar Eye and Ear Clinic, 4, Avenue, will fill your order if your druggist cannot.

QUEER PROFESSIONS.

Strange Ways in Which Some People Make a Living.

An old lady sits at the bottom of Southampton Street, London, in the early morning, while Covent Garden Market is in full swing, and notes the position of every cart that enters the precincts. She is a well-known referee. Dealers come to her and say: "Where is So-and-So?" "Have you seen What-you-may-call-him?" And she will say "Seventh" or "Fifth"—referring to the place he will be found in the row.

This old dame also takes care of the whips of carters till the return journey, and remembers the owner of each one, never mixing them. She receives a minimum of a penny for every service she does, and makes a nice living out of it.

The "knocker-up" of a Lancashire town is another worker who starts early and finishes early. He sets off from his house about five, armed with a long pole, at the end of which is a loop of strong wire. With this loop he rattles on the windows of the factory operatives, and is supposed to wait until they give a sign that they are "up." There is a system of fines for lateness in the mills, and the "knocker-up" saves the mill "hands" many a pound in the course of a year. He collects twopence a week on a Saturday from all his clients.

A Woman's Exchange in New York undertakes to supply what is called "the cheering-up-lady." Her duty is to visit lonely houses; to play cards with venerable widows and spinsters; to read, talk, and look pleasant. In the East End, London, there is actually a courtship coach established. This is not a four-wheeled vehicle, but a man who teaches the young and ardent swain how to pop the question, and advises the bashful laundry-girl how to smooth the wrinkles out of matrimonial prospects.

Study some new book on farming this winter. Begin any time now. The evenings will go better if the book-work is combined with a necessary-checked apple now and then.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS TORONTO.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards yesterday consisted of 36 cars, 714 cattle, 34 calves, 241 hogs, 57 sheep and lambs.

Trade in cattle was strong at the Union Stock Yards, at prices practically the same as those obtained on Monday. The run was light, only 714 cattle being on sale. The quality was none too good but packers seem glad to get any kind of cattle these days. The highest price paid was $11.25 per cwt for 88 butcher steers and heifers, average weight 1060 lbs.; they were sold by Dunn & Levack to the Swift Canadian Co. The bulk of butcher cattle sold at from $10 to $10.75. Cows were also in strong demand, choice selling at from $8.50 to $9 and good cows at $7.75 to $8.25. Canners and cutters steady at from $5 to $5.50.

Stockers and feeders—Trade in this line was very limited on account of butchers taking everything killable for their purposes. Best feeders sell at from $8.50 to $8.75.

Trade in milkers and springers was steady, best cows selling at from $85 to $110 each. Two extra choice cows sold at $125 and $132 each.

The sheep and lamb market was steady at Monday's prices, while calves were strong. Choice veal sold at from 13c to 14c lb. A few extra choice brought 15c a lb.

Hogs were higher. Weighed off cars sold at $14.75 and fed and watered at $14.50. In a couple of cases fed and watered sold at 10c more than the above, or $14.60. Hogs are expected to reach $15 at an early date.

Effective

A lady entered a railroad car and took a seat in front of a newly married couple. She was hardly seated before they began making remarks about her.

Her last year's bonnet and coat were fully criticized with more or less giggling on the bride's part, and there is no telling what might have come next if the lady had not put a sudden stop to the conversation by a bit of strategy.

She turned her head, noticed that the bride was considerably older than the groom, and in the smoothest of tones, said:

"Madam, will you please ask your son to close the window?"

The "son" closed his mouth, and the bride no longer giggled.
