PATHETIC SCENES WHEN THE RELATIVES OF TRAIN WRECK VICTIMS IDENTIFY DEAD

Coroner Has to Settle Dispute Between Rival Claimants to Body of Five-Year Old Girl; Several Bodies are So Mutilated That Identification is Unlikely

YOUNG BRIDE THOUGHT TO BE KILLED IS NOT ON TRAIN

Six Men, Five Women and Two Children Still Unidentified; Engineer of Express Train is Reported to be in a Serious Condition Mentally

Corning, N.Y., July 5.—Of the forty-one passengers killed in the rear end collision on the Lackawanna, two miles east of this city early yesterday, thirteen remained unidentified up to a late hour today.

In several instances there are no clues by which identification may be attempted, and several bodies are so badly mutilated that the ultimate discovery of their identity seems a remote possibility.

The unidentified dead comprise six women, five men, and 8-year-old girl, and a 10-year-old boy.

Two Claimants.—Coroner H. B. Smith settled two claims of the body of a 5-year-old girl, identified by Wm. R. Laird of Buffalo, N.Y., and David Cochrane, of New York, a brother of Mrs. Wm. Armstrong, who, with her husband was killed.

Mystery Surrounds Fate of Little Armstrong Girl, as Sister is Reported to be in a Serious Condition Mentally.

Confusion Reigns.—It developed tonight that Mrs. Chas. Brandes of New York city, who has hitherto been mentioned in press dispatches as among the dead, was not on the train.

A few moments later the body of a young bride, supposed to have been Mrs. Brandes, was identified as that of Mrs. C. A. Maserve.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. They were on their wedding trip. A similarity of initials appearing on a wedding ring, led to her identification as Mrs. Brandes.

Engineer Schroeder of the express train is reported to be in a serious mental condition, and is under the constant care of physicians.

PARALYSIS HAS SMITTEN ORGANS OF SPEECH OF MEMBERS INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

Much Conjecture About the Tone of the Report That Will be Made to the City Council Monday; Committee Not Unanimous

BELIEVED HEALTH OFFICER WILL RECEIVE CRITICISM

For Lamentable Condition of Affairs at Smallpox Hospital; on This Committee is Said to be Unanimous; Resignation May be Asked For PARTIAL paralysis has smitten the speech organs of the members of the investigation committee. The word partial is used advisedly, because it is only when one subject is broached, the forthcoming report, that the clam-like silence falls.

While no noise of strife penetrates the walls, information which leaks out mysteriously, perhaps by way of the window or the roof, suggests that there is not entire unanimity in the view taken of the mass of evidence gathered by the committee, and the recommendations that should be made.

The city engineer is understood to be more or less under fire from certain quarters, some being disposed to hold him personally responsible for much of the defective work, while others are inclined to attribute it to the system of administration, which leaves his duties and those of others insufficiently defined.

The committee is understood to be in a suit in holding Dr. Ester, the medical health officer, entirely responsible for the lamentable conditions of affairs which was revealed at the smallpox hospital, and it is regarded as possible that his resignation may be asked for.

One of the members of the committee is known to be urgent for a recommendation that the number of the commissioners be increased, but it is thought unlikely that he will be able to secure a majority vote of the committee in favor of this recommendation.

CROP AT SASKATOON IS REDUCED TEN PER CENT. BY HEAT

Effect of Recent Storms; Followed by Intense Warm Weather, is Bad

There is Still Every Indication of a Bumper Crop; May be 5 to 10 per Cent. Off

Reports are from Fifty Points in Central and Northern Parts of Province

Saskatoon, Sask., July 5.—Crop reports from over fifty points in the central and northern portions of the province have been received by the Phoenix, covering the present conditions and the effects of recent storms following a season of unusual heat.

The heat coming so early in the season, while not doing any great harm, owing to the fact that there was plenty of moisture in the ground had the effect of bringing the crop on very rapidly and from a number of points it is reported that the grain is already headed out.

Plenty of Moisture.—Generally speaking, the rains have been so plentiful that not only has the crop been revived, but there is enough moisture in the ground to maintain growth for a period estimated from a couple of weeks to the end of the season.

The reports are very varied in detail as to the conditions existing but on the whole the drought appears to have done very little damage and there is now no damage from rain, while the winds have little effect and there has been no hail damage to speak of.

Both sides are importing speakers from Alberta and Manitoba. The Hon. C. W. Cross, of Edmonton, are here in the interests of the Liberals.

EXHIBITION DEMONSTRATED GREAT MEASURE OF IMPROVEMENT IN ALBERTA BREEDING

In Heavy Horse Classes 246 Head of Pedigreed Stock Was Shown, 306 Head of Pure Bred Cattle, 127 Sheep and 157 Swine

ENTRIES OF THE CLYDESDALE CLASSES MAGNIFICENT

Many Animals Exhibited Were Bred Bad into the Purple; Some Splendidly Bred Percherons Were on Show; Fine Sheep and Hogs

THE 1912 Industrial Exhibition, just closed afforded strong illustration of the measure of improvement in livestock breeding in progress in Alberta.

In the heavy horse classes no less than 246 head of pedigreed stock were shown. In the light classes 126 of the standard, thoroughbred and hackney strains competed.

These figures do not take into account any grade stock but includes solely pedigreed stuff. Numbered among the individuals in numerous of the classes were many of the best blooded animals in Canada.

These animals are all being used to improve the livestock industry of Alberta and as a result, the showing indicates something of the measure of advancement that is going on in this province in the improvement of herds and flocks.

Perhaps the most notable showing made by any one strain was that of the Clydesdale classes which had a total of 123 entries.

Among the Clydesdales were many animals of extremely high class. The champion, Scottish Crown, shown by J. A. Turner of Calgary, and a grand animal in himself is a horse of distinction.

INDICATIONS POINT TO A BUMPER CROP AND EVERYONE IS VERY HAPPY

Grain is Weeks Ahead of Any Former Season; the Canadian Pacific Will Be in Shape to Handle Twice the Tonnage It Did Last Year

WHEAT IS HEADED OUT IN MANY SECTIONS OF ALBERTA

FROM every section of Alberta comes the news that crop conditions could not be better. The grain is said to be fully three weeks in advance of the growth of any former season within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

With the wheat so far advanced grain growers feel assured that practically all of the crop will have been harvested before the coming of King Frost, who frequently takes a heavy toll.

It is expected that transportation facilities, inadequate last year, will be much better this fall. The Canadian Pacific, at a meeting about two months ago, appropriated $20,000,000 for rolling stock.

Hints to Amateur Gardeners

(By Wm. R. Reader) Apparagus—By many people this is considered the greatest of delicacies among vegetables, and very rightly so. For this reason it should have a place in every garden of any pretensions. Some amateurs have the idea that it is an expensive and difficult vegetable to grow, requiring a large amount of space, and therefore suitable only for those who have extensive gardens and unlimited means. This is, however, an erroneous idea. Certainly an early sowing is necessary, as is a costly than many vegetables, as very careful preparation is necessary that a good foundation may be laid, but after this initial outlay a good crop may be depended on for twenty-five or thirty years at practically small cost annually. Choose a good open position, well away from any trees that may be planted, as the roots of these will quickly take possession of the soil that has been so carefully prepared and watched to their own benefit.

lately fatal to them to become dry. Vary the position of the rows on each bed—three rows to a four-foot bed—and plant fifteen inches from plant to plant. Those who wish to do so may raise their own plants from seed, but this is a slow process, and much time is saved by purchasing two-year-old plants. If it is desired, however, to raise the plants do not sow the seed on the prepared bed, but on another portion of the garden, and when large enough transplant to their permanent quarters. A more expeditious way of raising the plants is to sow seeds in three-inch pots, two or three seeds in a pot. Blank the pots close together in a frame and keep carefully watered. After the seed has germinated pull out all but the strongest plant from each pot. Just before freeze-up bury the whole, pots and all, under a deep layer of coal ashes, and thoroughly water to prevent drying out during the winter. The following spring these plants may be knocked out of their pots and planted in the prepared beds. Throughout the summer promote all the growth possible by careful attention to watering, weeding and cultivating. The bed can hardly be cultivated too much, especially during periods when frequent watering is necessary. Growth will be greatly assisted by an occasional sprinkling of Burns' Fertilizer, soot or other stimulant, varying the kind of fertilizer used from time to time—for plants, like human beings, like a change of diet. During the first season the alleys may be planted with lettuce, radish, or similar small, quick-growing crop, that the space be fully utilized. The strongest of the growths will need supporting from time to time, to prevent twisting by the wind. This can easily be done by driving stakes at intervals along the edges of the beds and stretching string across these. When the first frost has quite killed down the growths in the fall, cut these off close to the ground and top-dress the bed with a layer of rotten manure, and cover this with a thin layer of soil from the alleys. When the bed, in the spring, rake off the roughest of this manure and give a good dressing of common salt. Do not cut any of the heads for use during the first season, no matter how strong or how plentifully produced, as if this is done the bed may be very easily ruined for a number of years. Allow all the growth possible to develop, to make the plants as strong as possible. When cutting, cut three or four inches below the surface, and cut as vertically as possible, or several other shoots that have not yet become visible above the surface of the soil may be damaged. The bed should be cut only daily, and the shoots placed with their bases in water until sufficient have been collected for use. Apparagus is a vegetable that does very readily, but very few amateurs are in a position to undertake this. The man who tries to please everybody does not please anybody very much.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING

All the cities west of Port Arthur are being invited to send representatives to a conference to be held in Winnipeg on July 16, when matters of vital interest to the rapidly growing municipalities of the West will be discussed.

No reason can be urged why any town or city should give anything to any manufacturer. They are forced to do so by conditions which make it possible for the manufacturer and others to use them as pawns in a game from which they gain nothing and lose much.

The public life in the older countries gains by the presence of a leisured class. Men of ability, who have retired from business and who are willing to devote their energies to the public service, are more numerous there than here.

In the interest of everyone concerned the new industry should be located at the centre most favorable to its growth. The West presents a wide and rich field for the development of new industries.

The cities of the Canadian West must combine to protect themselves. The gathering in Winnipeg will afford an opportunity for concerted action.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CITIES.

With the immense growth of urban population during the last century municipal government has become a matter of ever-increasing interest and importance.

Among the best governed cities today are those of Germany, where the social standing of the officials who correspond to our aldermen is such that the position is sought by some of the ablest and most successful men in the community.

Much of the inefficiency to be found in American and Canadian cities is doubtless nothing more than the penalty paid for the privilege of democratic government.

The public life in the older countries gains by the presence of a leisured class. Men of ability, who have retired from business and who are willing to devote their energies to the public service, are more numerous there than here.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"All want something they haven't got. I want a cottage; another person wants a castle," said an English duchess when addressing a charitable organization recently.

Now that the presidential nominations and the Johnson-Flynn bout have been pulled off there will not be another good mood until the report of the civic investigation committee is submitted to the city council.

VOLCANO'S ASHES SINK INTO GROUND

Stock Raising Impossible This Year, But Otherwise All Looks Hopeful

Streams to Westward Clear and if Salmon Run is Good Natives Will Not Suffer

At Seward, July 5.—Conditions to the westward in the region recently visited by volcanic disturbance are much better.

At Kodiak where the full force of the eruption was felt heavy rains have fallen and the ashes and dust have been packed tight and a goodly part has been absorbed into the ground.

The streams are all running clear and grass is beginning to come through. It looks as though the setback to the country would be only temporary.

At Seward a dancing party was given in honor of the visitors and at Port Graham there was a dance on shipboard.

At Union bay, where the Waechter stock ranch is located, there seems to have been a greater fall of ashes, stock over on the Sampson and will ship it to Fairbanks for market.

To Resume Next Year Mr. Waechter, who is one of the best

TELL OF HANFORD IN HIS CUPS

Detective and Alderman Testify Against Judge; Federal Jurist Assailed

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—The habits of United States District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford were the subject of inquiry today by the judicial committee of the house of representatives, which is investigating the judge.

A. J. Nordskog, until a few weeks ago an employee of a detective agency, was on the stand most of the afternoon.

"Judge Hanford in the evening invariably would go to the Rainier club from the federal building," said Nordskog. "He would leave the club at about 8 o'clock, when he would walk down Marion street to Second avenue and enter a bar, where he would take one drink."

On many occasions, he would walk across the street to the Butler hotel and have a third. Sometimes he would go the round of those three bars during the dinner hour. I remember that once or twice after having gone the round during the evening hours, he went to at least three bars after 11 o'clock before going home for the night."

The witness told of following Judge Hanford late the night of October 9, as he walked home in the rain from the Rainier club.

He said the judge stopped several times during the long walk to lean against a building and a lamp post.

Believes Judge Intoxicated "He rode on a car up the hill to Broadway, where he got off and walked north," said the witness.

GADETS HAD AVERSION TO EPSOM SALTS

Boys With the "Tummy Ache" Fled from Hospital Tent While Orderly Slept

The field day of the Provincial Cadet camp at the Reservoir was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but on account of the rain was postponed until this morning.

Inter-city relay races, obstacle races, wheelbarrow, and the straight sprint from 50 yards to 440, comprise the list of events to be competed for today.

A baseball and football tournament is in progress at the present time, and includes amongst its competitors a team from the Indian company of cadets from the Blood reservation.

The exciting events, outdoor camp vary. Some of the boys have become expert cupper snarers. Others have the delightful and enviable trait of being able to drink more pop and eat more ice cream than any other boy in their company.

"Drilling is a daily affair and the local companies under Sergt. Major Ferguson have shown up splendidly. The Leithbridge company, however, have led on the local in the matter of uniforms."

The first day in camp gave the army medical corps a busy time. The officer in charge on Wednesday night had thirty-four patients, all suffering from getting too much sweet stuff secured from the vendors who frequent the camp.

CONDUCTOR IS KILLED. Brantford, Ont., July 5.—As a result of a mix-up in orders George William, conductor on the Brantford and Hamilton Road, was killed instantly, and a motorist, Ralph Smith badly injured, when a work car careened into their car this morning.

PROF. F. H. MACDOUGALL ARRIVES IN CALGARY

He is an Eminent Educator of Texas and Will Teach in Calgary's University

Prof. F. H. MacDougall, who is to fill the chair of chemistry and mathematics of the Calgary university, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and will at once enter upon his duties.

Prof. MacDougall has the reputation of being a very capable man in his profession and until recently was connected with the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas.

J. N. HILL RESIGNS FROM VICE-PRESIDENCY OF NORTHERN PACIFIC

Will Take Vacation in Europe, Withdrawal of Hill Family from Company Denied

New York, July 5.—James N. Hill, son of James J. Hill, and vice-president of the Northern Pacific railway, resigned the vice-presidency today. He was succeeded by Col. W. P. Clough, who has been identified with the N.P. as a director, member of the executive committee and a legal adviser for a number of years.

Mr. Hill's retirement followed the decision to take a long vacation in Europe. It is denied that the Hill family has any intention to withdraw or in any way relinquish its interest in the railway business.

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS TO WED BESSIE MCCOY

Former War Correspondent Admits "Yama Yama" Girl is to Become His Wife Next Monday

New York, July 5.—Bessie McCoy of "Yama Yama" fame is to marry Richard Harding Davis, the former war correspondent. This has been published before in the newspapers, but has always been followed by an authoritative denial. Tonight, however, Mr. Davis admitted that he and Miss McCoy will be married on July 8.

"We are going to keep the place of the wedding a secret," he said. "We want to keep from being bothered. We are going to be married a week from today, and that's all you need to know. As a matter of fact, we haven't made our plans yet, anyhow, because we don't want them to leak out."

Mr. Davis said Miss McCoy is now in town, but he wouldn't say where. She and her mother and her younger sister, Nellie, have a home in New Rochelle, but nobody answered their telephone tonight.

PROGRAM OF DUKE'S TOUR OF BRITISH COLUMBIA IS ANNOUNCED

Victoria, B.C., July 5.—Lieut. Gov. Patterson was today advised of the programme of the tour of the Duke of Connaught in British Columbia during September and October as follows:

Kamloops, Sept. 17; Vancouver, Sept. 18 to 20; New Westminster, Sept. 21; Prince Rupert, Sept. 22 to 23; Nanaimo, Sept. 27; Victoria, Sept. 27 to Oct. 2; Vernon, Oct. 4; Penticton, Oct. 5; Robson via Arrowhead, Oct. 6; Nelson, Oct. 7.

OFF FOR HUDSON'S BAY

Ottawa, July 5.—The government steamer Stanley sails from North Sydney, N.B., on July 9, for Hudson Bay. The steamer will cruise about in the bay, reaching Port Nelson in time to take the minister of railways aboard. Mr. Cochrane will come back by boat.

BANK OF COMMERCE SENDS $5,000

Toronto, July 5.—The Bank of Commerce today telegraphed $5,000 to the Regina relief fund.

CALLS ON ROUGH RIDER TO PUBLISH EXPENSE ACCOUNT

Madison, Wis., July 5.—Senator LaFollette, in a printed article today, asks Col. Roosevelt for the second time to publish his expense account or else a candid statement of his reasons for thus spurning one of the basic principles of public morality and political decency.

"THE MAN AT LONE LAKE"

The Canadian Northland has been a fruitful field for more than one novelist. But it is doubtful whether anyone has touched its heart or stirred its spirit or revealed its inner mysteries.

Robertson writes of the mysterious ruffians. Roberts makes it too mythical. Fleming sees too much of the practical side. A host of other writers sacrificed everything in the desire to realize something romantic.

Now comes Mrs. Verna Sheard with "The Man at Lone Lake." There is something about this little story which makes it carry away a mental picture of the man, purified by his contact with nature in the Northern woods and fortified by the love of Nance, standing on the deck of an ocean liner, with Nance at his side, and with her looking towards the coast of England, where these two are to make their home.

Wynn went to the Northland to fight the monster habit which he has developed after an accident in the laboratory of a United States university, where he had a professorship. Nance lived with her grandfather, a logger, and it was only natural that these two should be thrown together frequently.

And it is likewise natural that love should result, but their love is not permitted to run smoothly, because Francis, a half-breed trapper employed by the grandfather, has stolen feelings of his own for the girl; but for Wynn he has no thoughts except of jealousy and revenge. Wynn, as a result, has several narrow escapades, and it looks for a time as if he must leave the neighborhood or be shot in his tracks.

But he is not a coward, and after the grandfather dies and Nance is kidnapped and at length restored, the lovers succeed in reaching the mission at St. Elizabeth, where they are married by the priest. From the mission they start out on their long journey to England, there to enjoy the titles and holdings of a baronetcy to which Wynn has fallen heir.

The book is written with charm and simple dignity. One wishes, however, that the author had not been so elaborate.

There is one scene, for instance, which sticks to the reader, the scene where the grandfather corners his last enemy, the Indian, and kills him in the wilds. Nance could never reconcile herself to the cruelties of the Indian, and she is particularly shocked by the barbarism of the old.

Dear Miss Libbey: I am 25, living on a ranch. Eighteen months ago I left the city and left behind me a sweet heart whom I loved with all my wit...

Dear Miss Libbey: I am 22 and have a gentleman companion of 30. Now, to explain the circumstances, I have a friend who is a widower of two years.

Dear Miss Libbey: I am 18 and have seen some funny happenings out at the gatherings. What do you think of this? The first two were kin, the other two were not.

Baseball Today's Games Decide Race -- Football Edmonton Game Is Arranged -- Athletics Decoteau Races Today

MOST ANYTHING IS LIABLE TO HAPPEN IN THE GREAT RACE FOR THE WESTERN CANADA LEAGUE PENNANT

Today's Games Will Decide Which One of Three Teams Wins This Series; Two Games Today in Calgary and Two in Edmonton; Take Your Pencil to the Game

Today is the last day of the first series in the Western Canada league pennant race and upon the result of today's games depends which one of three teams wins the pennant for the first series.

There will be four games played today, two in Calgary and two in Edmonton. The Bronks and Boosters clash on the local diamond, while the Eskimos and Deers meet in Edmonton.

Not very much chance eh? Well you can't sometimes always tell and such things have been known to happen in the history of the British Empire.

Red Deer has the best chance of winning of any of the teams. At the present time they lead the league by a very comfortable margin.

But these calculations were made without taking the weather man into consideration, and that person has decided more than one pennant race.

You had better take your pencil out to the game today and prepare to do some figuring for most anything is liable to happen.

Arrangements have been made for a good street car service both to and from each game.

Table with 4 columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct. Rows include Red Deer, Bassano, Calgary, and Edmonton.

DECOTEAU WILL RACE TODAY AT THE OLYMPIAD

Alberta's Star Athlete Entered for 10,000 Metre Race in Sweden

Canadian Athletes to Participate in First Heats of Today's Races

With the opening of the athletic section of the great Swedish Olympiad at Stockholm today, Alberta's attention is focused on the 10,000 metre heats to be run off this afternoon.

The heats in the 100 metres will also take place today. Canada has Deane of British Columbia, Howard of Winnipeg, and Lukeman of Montreal entered in this event.

P.S.—We want the public to know that this business has no connection with those shipping in car lots of poultry from the East and selling them as high class breeders when in reality they are not.

SAYS AL PALZER IS THE SECOND EDITION OF SHARKEY

Gentleman Jim Corbett Has Admiration for Fighting Qualities

Wells, However, Made Him
Look Like Novice for Boxing Ability

By James J. Corbett Former Heavyweight Champion of the World

(Special to Morning Albertan)
New York, July 6.—Al Palzer is affectionately referred to by ardent admirers as an enlarged edition of Terrible Terry McGovern, and the description seems to fit him well to judge from the style of fighting he has adopted and by adhering to which he has won a respectable string of victories.

There is no man I can recall among the heavyweights of the past two decades with whom one might compare this youthful aspirant for championship honors, unless it may be Thomas Sharkey, Esquire. The sailor and the low-wain resemble each other in aggressivness. Sharkey knew but one thing when in the ring and that was to tear into his adversary and trust largely to luck to put the wallop over.

Palzer has adopted the same rushing tactics that made famous the former pride of the navy. But Al is possessed of several natural attributes that the fourteenth street boniface could not boast of during his fighting days—weight, phenomenal strength and extreme youth are among the advantages.
Also Al hits quite as hefty a punch, if not more so, and has recuperative qualities that seem to defy nature.

I have watched Palzer in the majority of his ring battles, and particularly in the encounters with Kaufman and Wells and he has been forced to submit to enough punishment to kill an ordinary man before calling on his wonderful reserve powers to wear his man down until able to put over the finishing punch.

Sharkey could hit hard, as any of his former opponents will testify. But his punches were of the wild-swinging variety and he carried no other guns worth mentioning. Palzer has a greater assortment of wallops and his straight punches transmit terrible punishment.

In the Bombardier Wells-Palzer bout the thing that impressed me more than anything else was the latter's wonderful block of defence. He is all offense and knows positively nothing at all of the science of the game that teaches the blocking of blows with other part of his anatomy than those at which they have been aimed. I wonder what Tom O'Rourke was doing with this big fellow all the while he had him in charge.
Certain it is this feature of Palzer's boxing education has been sadly neglected. It may be Al is of the abnormal thinking kind that it is difficult to teach, and one who learns best by actual experience than in practice.

Still, one would think that several beatings he has assimilated to date would have had the effect of causing him to try to block a punch occasionally. Nature teaches us the defense of something. If only a crude style, but Palzer either scorns the use of a protective system or else he can't think of more than one thing at a time and the same time.

Wells, and by the way this lad out-classes all other heavyweights in the game in point of skill, made Al look like the veriest novice early in the proceedings and won the admiration of the spectators by the way he man-handled his much larger rival. In other words, he put Palzer in the sucker class as a boxer, and in the first round almost put him out of business with a punch in the chin; and he it understood that Wells, though slight of frame alongside this giant from Iowa, can punch like all concerned. The right uppercut with which he floored Albert was a beauty and everybody present thought it was a case of curtains for America's pride and joy in the "white hope" line.

Even though defeated Bombardier drew a tremendous hit with the "talent." Fitted against a man who weighed him by 40 pounds, science availed little.
The great bulk and strength and recuperative powers of the American overbalanced the superior skill and agility of the Englishman.
Wells is a very handy man with the gloves and a wonderful puncher, too, but it will take a man of Palzer's own or greater avardupolis and offensive ability to drop him to the mat for the full count of ten.

At that the contest ought to serve Palzer in good stead. He must now realize he is not invulnerable, and that defense plays a very important part in the art of boxing. When a man weighing 40 pounds less can topple him to the floor for a "knock-out," knowledge of the Bombardier did in the first session, it is time the recipient of the wallop took up that branch of the course which includes the study of defense. Otherwise it is only a question of a very short time until the now magnificent specimen of athletic manhood must succumb to the volume of punishment absorbed, even in victory. Those who are advising the big fellow will do well to take the tip. If they have his interests at heart, give this boy a thorough schooling in certain branches of the science before sending him to certain disaster by our dark-skinned brethren or the padded gloves.

Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, will need a bodyguard to see himself to turn a deaf ear to the appeals of Johnny Dundee for a match. Dundee is an Italian who adopted a Scotch fighting moniker, and threatened to ask the aid of the Black Hand to convince the "champ" he is entitled to a try at the championship.

Kilbane and Dundee were matched to box ten rounds in this city about two months ago, but a few days before the date set for the bout Dundee was "carried" and another boxer substituted.
The snub given by the club owners at the time was that Johnny had made a poor showing in an exhibition with Charley White, the Chicago feather, and lost his powers of attraction as a result.

Whatever the reason Dundee did not take the coveted chance of matching his skill with that of Attell's successor and that is why he wretched wroth at the champion and the local promoters who stalled him out of the contest. Since that time Johnny has met and defeated the best of the division in the season and has given up considerable time trying to arrange a 12-round bout with Kilbane at the latter's home city of Cleveland, and scheduled for the 4th, but fate seems to have been unkind once more, as negotiations were again called off.

Dundee is recognized locally as the one boy in this neighborhood who would have a chance of holding his own in a match with Kilbane, and the latter's mix up with this particular party. The mix up does not exhibit a great yearning to champion prefers to await the arrival of Jim Driscoll and does not want to risk his reputation with a clever boy like Dundee before talking business with the English champion. Driscoll and Kilbane will draw capacity at the Ger-den, and that's too big a proposition to have blocked by the Dundees and their like.

CHARGED WITH ESPIONAGE

Leipzig, Germany, July 5.—The trial of Leopold Eilers, a native of the Island of Heligoland, began today before the Imperial Supreme Court here. The president of the court decided behind closed doors. The charge against Eilers is one of espionage in the Rhine district.
Eilers is 22 years old and a farm hand. He resided in America from 1902 to 1908, the latter part of the time in New Orleans, where he married an American wife, Mathilda Dilmark, who has since died.
He is accused of attempting to obtain secret documents, and also the plans of the Defense of Heligoland for delivery to the British Government.
A waitress named Giza Kling is also charged as an accessory.

J. A. LABREQUE—The Quebec globe trotter who is waiting to challenge to Alaska, and who has secured a bride, as stipulated in the terms of the contract, the agreement being that he marry her on his return from the trip. He is on the way through Ontario now.

MODEL 60-T—Wheel base, 111 inches; body, 5-passenger fore-door touring; motor, 41.8 x 41.2; horsepower, 35; Remy magnet; tires, 34 x 4 inch Q. D.; equipment, three oil lamps in black and nickel finish, two gas lamps and generator. Top and glass front.

The Truth About Automobile Values SHOWING WHY THIS $1900 CAR IS
THE EQUAL OF ANY $2400 CAR MADE

Overland Overland

EVERY single day in the year thousands of people argue backwards and forwards,
"Which is the best car to buy and why?"
And in practically every one of these arguments the essential facts are overlooked. General statements, made by automobile producers, are too seldom discounted—consequently no clear, or proven solution can result.

Contrary to the popular opinion, the selection of the right automobile is not a difficult or complex task. You are after the best car you can buy for the very least amount of money. That's your problem. No knowledge of the higher mathematics is necessary to figure this out. Common sense, calm judgment, a series of comparisons, and a little knowledge of manufacturing conditions is all that is necessary.

You often hear this statement: "Automobiles are pretty well standardized now; most any standard car you buy will give perfect satisfaction," etc., etc.

This may or may not be true. We do not propose to argue this point here. But we do propose to show you the wide difference in the prices of popular priced cars that are all practically the same in what they offer. We do propose to prove to you that you do not need to pay in the neighborhood of $2,400 for a car of the thirty-five horsepower type when you get a thirty-five horsepower Overland for $1,900.

To begin with, what are you buying? You are buying so much power, speed, comfort, service, appearance, wear and construction. Nothing more.

Broadly speaking, one popular priced car offers you about as much as another. Fundamentally they are all alike. And they are all good cars.
No one can say this, that, or the other car is "a poor job." Keen competition permits no "poor job" to exist.

But while most of the cars offer about the same identical car value they all differ in price.
The power, speed, body, tires, wheels, construction and finish do not seem to differ much. Possibly one has a different set of lamps, another a different style hood—still another a more sweeping curve on the mud guards, but the basic value of the cars scarcely varies a particle.

Why, then, such a great difference in price?
What is this due to? This great difference in automobile prices is due to the size of the plants that produce them.

The selling price of any automobile is controlled and measured by the factory's output.
This is an invariable rule. It is a firmly fixed condition. Small plant—large price. Large plant —small price. Being nothing more nor less than a manufacturing condition it cannot vary.

Having competition to meet, the smaller plant must make its actual car value equal the fundamental value given in the car produced by the larger plant. But by the time the smaller manufacturer has built a car of the same basic value (that is, the same specifications) as an Overland it has actually cost thirty per cent. more to produce it. Thus their selling price must be raised in proportion. Their inability to operate as economically as the Overland organization—which is the greatest of its kind in the industry—makes it impossible to compete on both a specification basis and a price basis.

Thus the wide difference in price between our thirty-five horsepower touring car and the others.
The proof of which is obtained by a careful comparison of current market prices.

Our thirty-five horsepower five-passenger touring car is priced at $1,900. This is the lowest priced thirty-five horsepower touring car on the market.

Part for part—point for point—it is the equal of any $2,400 car made. It has the power—the speed—the comfort—the appearance—and the construction. Take the powerful motor—the strong and rugged rear system—the Vanadium steel gears—the fine bearings—the pressed steel frame—the drop forged axles—the big tires—the superb body work—the high grade upholstery; in fact, take every item that goes into the makeup of this automobile and you will find the duplicate of this car cannot be had below the twenty-four hundred dollar mark.

Here is a car with a powerful, silent, smooth-running thirty-five horsepower motor. Here is a car that seats five large passengers comfortably.
The upholstery is of good leather, hand-stuffed with fine hair. The body is finished in our famous dark Overland blue and the wheels in battleship gray. The transmission is of the selective type, three speeds and reverse—fitted with the fine F. & S. annular bearings which are used on the most expensive cars in the world. The frame is of pressed steel and has a single drop. The crank and gear casings are of aluminum. The front axle is a one-piece, drop forged I section fitted with the famous Timken bearings. The tires are 34x4—quick detachable. The handsome massive lamps are finished in solid black with brilliant heavy nickel trimmings.

We have given you the facts. Clear reasoning cannot be argued against. What will you pay for a thirty-five horsepower car? $1,000 or $2,400? Which appeals to your sense of values?

Our Model 60 deserves your most careful and thoughtful consideration. See this model at our Show Room, 323 Eighth Avenue West, or arrange for a demonstration by 'Phone.

THIS is Calgary's great saving event and one for which many people have waited. This year it will be bigger and better than ever, due to large stocks, also to the fact that this will no doubt be our last summer season in this building, and that all summer merchandise must be cleared in order to prevent its being carried over until we occupy our new store. All surplus stocks, broken and odd lines, etc., have been included in this clearance, as well as many staple lines that we wish to reduce before inventory. Every department will be affected by it and each one is offering its best values in order to make this sale a great success.

Our space here is inadequate to list all that we have to offer. Those bargains that were left out will be found displayed in every department. The following items, although very brief, portray in a very convincing manner the wonderful saving possibilities of this sale. Come, you cannot afford to stay away!

THE MARKETS
WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.
 Winnipeg, Man., July 5.—There was a general break in prices on the world's wheat markets today, due to the favorable reports on crop conditions and the beneficial rains on both sides of the line. Continental cables were lower, and Liverpool market 1/4c to 1/2c lower, and closed 1/2c to 1/4c lower, while American markets were 1/4c to 1/2c lower at opening and continued weak, particularly the distant months.

The Winnipeg market opened 1/2c lower for July and 1/4c lower for October, with a poor demand, and in sympathy with other markets declined a further 1/4c and 1/2c respectively. Later, a slight recovery fractionally from the low points was made, and trading continued fairly steady until within five minutes of the close, when it broke from 87 3/4 to 87 1/2 for October. July closed 1/4c down to 2 3/4 down on all the months.

Chicago closed 1/4c to 1/2c down, and very weak, and corn went 1/2c to 3/4c down and oats 1/2c to 3/4c down. The cash demand continues fairly good for contract grades, and little inquiry for lower grades, and a few efficient offerings to meet the demand. Oats and flax were more active, with weaker prices.

Receipts were lighter today, 275 cars being in sight for inspection. Deliveries through the clearing house were: Wheat, nil; oats, 46,000; feed oats, 7,000; flax nil.

Grain Inspection:
 Spring wheat—No. 1 Northern 4, No. 2 Northern 39, No. 3 Northern 2, No. 4 Northern 1, 2, rejected 1, 2, rejected 2, no grade 59 rejected 6, condemned 5, No. 1 17 No. 4 46.

ENGLISH FIRM OFFERS MEXICAN PACIFIC PROPERTY
 Seattle Men May Part With Extensive Holdings on West Coast of Mexico

Washington, July 5.—An English syndicate has signed a contract to purchase a controlling interest in the Mexican Pacific Company's railroad and plantation properties and government concessions on the west coast of Mexico for a consideration running into several million dollars. This announcement was made yesterday by Montie Thomson, of this city, president of the Mexican Pacific Company, the man who has spent several years in developing interests in Mexico and who several months ago successfully financed a large railroad proposition after having received valuable concessions from the Mexican government.

Name Not Changed.
 Mr. Thomson said yesterday that the name of the company will be changed to the Mexican Pacific Railway Company and that active construction of the railroad will be pushed as rapidly as possible. In all 450 miles of road will be built.

Work on the road is now in progress. Five hundred men are at present employed and a portion of the line has been completed. The portion of the line extending from Zihuatanejo to Acapulco is now under construction. At one point a tunnel 300 feet long had to be pierced through a mountain of rock. The tunnel has been completed and grading for the greater part of ten miles has been finished. Trains are in operation over several miles of the road.

Taps Rich Region
 The line when finished will skirt the coast for about 150 miles and traverse a region rich in agricultural and horticultural possibilities and will parallel mountain ranges covered with merchantable timber.

The same company also plans to build a railroad from Zihuatanejo to Balsas, where it will connect with the National railroad of Mexico.

The project also includes the construction of two $1,250,000 cement docks at Acapulco, which will be capable of accommodating the largest vessel on the Pacific.

Invest $30,000,000
 It is said that English and French financiers have agreed to put $30,000,000 into the project and that 6,000 men will be employed within a few months.

The concession received from the government calls for the railroad to be completed within seven years, but Mr. Thomson says that the road will be built and in operation before that date.

Several Seattle, Portland and Vancouver, B. C., capitalists, besides Mr. Thomson, are interested in the Mexican Pacific Company, although he has been the prime mover in the enterprise from the first. Mr. Thomson expects to leave for Mexico about July 20.

ALASKAN DEVICES HOME-MADE PLOW
 Implement of Logs and Old Iron to be Exhibited at the Panama Fair

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 5.—A vivid illustration of what the mother of invention can do rested on the deck of the steamer St. Michael this morning en route to the San Francisco Fair. It was a home-made plow purchased by Howard Turner from the lower river farmer who made it.

The main portion of the plow is made of a log of wood about three and one-half feet in length and a foot in diameter. This has been brought down to a point in front and curved into the plowshare at one side. On the other, or land side, the log has been chiseled straight up and down. The point is covered by a strip of quarter-inch iron, while sheetrock covers the share, the land and the bottom of the log plow.

The beam is a straight spruce pole four inches in diameter, which is held by numerous half hitches in passed to the handles. The back of the larger plow, where the line is fastened.

The beam is attached to the log plowshare below by bands of heavy iron.

The handles are of small poles set in holes bored into the log and fastened solidly to each other, as well as braced to the log.

The final touch of genius, however, is the sod cutter. This is done by a curved side of the beam with a strip of iron.

The maker of the plow, who used it at Kelly's wood yard, 18 miles above Tanana, stated to Turner when the N. C. company man bought it for the fair, that with one horse he could do very satisfactory work.

DIDN'T CLAIM $15,000,000
 Man Who Died in Australia Preferred to Remain a Gardener

London, July 5.—There are few men who would refuse to take the trouble of claiming $15,000,000 which was theirs by right. One such man is said to have just died at Point Chevalier, Auckland, New Zealand.

The estate, which is said to amount to the sum named, is lying unclaimed in chancery in the name of Walters, an Ekeater family. The heir has been advertised for, but no claimant has been forthcoming.

It seems probable that the man who has just died in New Zealand not only was the heir, but knew it and refused to claim the money. His name was Richard Walters. He was an old and pensioner and worked as a gardener for a Mr. Myerson.

He died suddenly, and an inquest was necessary, at which the facts were made public. It seems that the old man had shown his employer documents which the latter thought afforded quite conclusive proof that he was heir to the family estate of Walters.

The reason Walters gave for refusing to take any steps to secure the millions was that it was too much trouble. He was becoming an old man and preferred to continue in his occupation of gardener.

DOMINION DAY PARADE
Eighty boys fell in at the stroke of 8:45 a.m. last Monday for a special parade called for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of the confederation of the Dominion.
All troops fell in at the appointed time showing a smart, well-groomed, excellent muster. After several moments' delay the troops fell in on First street west. Behind the school cadets. The combined parade, under the command of Col. James Walker, then moved to Victoria park. There they were drawn up in a hollow square formation, with the cadets on the west, 103rd regiment on the south, the 11th light horse on the east.

The parade was accompanied by the 103rd regiment band and also the Citizens' band, who played them to the ground.
The flag was broken at the masthead facing the grand stand, and after the general salute the parade was dismissed.

The marching and behavior of the scouts compared most favorably with that of the other units in the parade.
Full advantage was taken by all who could avail themselves of the courtesy of the exhibition authorities. They threw the grounds open to those who had taken part in the parade.

THE ANNUAL CAMP
The sole topic of conversation this week on the lips of all Calgary scouts seems to be camp. In pleasurable anticipation of the coming ten days under canvas. Should the weather be fine, as we all devoutly hope that it will be, there is no doubt that the "very best camp yet" will be the result; and even though the weather be not all that could be desired, there are some in the scouts who remember what a splendid time was spent under canvas in the first year of the movement in Calgary, when half of the time the sun hid its face most successfully and it rained every day, and nearly all day at that; but though the officers almost gave up hope, the scouts themselves faced the downpour with a cheerfulness that was uncomparable. They received their reward, for the last two or three days the sun showed how the title of "Sunny Alberta" had been won; and today you can still hear words of pleasure when that first summer camp is mentioned.

If any of you have cameras, of course you should bring them along with you. You will get far better chances of taking photos for your stalker's or photographer's badges. Besides, think what pleasure it will be in after years to look back through an old album and re-visit, as it were, the scenes of that summer camp at Jumping Pond, or to point out to your friends where such and such an event took place, or where you saw this or that animal, and how carefully you had to stalk him to obtain your snapshot. A camera will certainly repay you for any trouble it may give you in developing and printing, and will be a faithful historian on which to rely in the future, when you have forgotten little details of your past camping experiences.

UNDER CANVAS
I was fortunate this week in receiving an article from a friend of the scout movement in Calgary, which I am giving herewith. The writerman refused to allow me to use his name, so I must perforce leave it out. Here it is:
"In less than a week's time more than half a hundred scouts will be under canvas. The spot chosen for the camp this year is J. A. Fraser's ranch, some ten miles south of Cochrane. The country in this district is beautifully wooded and undulating in places, with steeper banks and declivities in other parts.
"Just now every boy who intends to be present at the camp is preparing his kit and the few odds and ends which he intends to take with him. The chief topic of conversation in the mouth of every true scout is the camp. 'How many will your troop turn out?' 'Are you on the advance party?' 'Have you got a 22 rifle in your bunch?' These and many other questions are being asked and answered by most of the Calgary scouts.
"Yes, the annual camp is great fun, but it has its purposes, too. While we must enjoy ourselves to the full extent in our power, let us not forget that there is work to be done and things to be accomplished. There are many things which we can only learn by spending a week or ten days sleeping in the open air, living with nature. The time chosen for the camp is an ideal one. Just now, in the early summer, everything is fresh and bright. Everything is young. Staying on a ranch, we shall be able to observe nature at first hand.
"For those who have not already learned to swim, what grander opportunity is afforded than the splendid creeks which run through Mr. Fraser's property. There will be every chance for all to qualify for out-door badges and, what is more than that, to make yourselves more proficient in real, true sportsmanship.
"Chores"
"Just one word about the chores," or to give them a military tinge, "va-tio." It is not so much the larger every-day duties to which one is appointed from the charge of a corporal attend, as those minor details, especially around your own tent, of which I speak. These may seem but trifling, but they make all the difference to the appearance and smartness of the individual patrol—little things which no order compels you to perform. They're got to be done, and someone has to do them. It's all very well for the first day or two, but they do begin to get tiresome. Still, there they are, and the real sportsman doesn't mind working up his game to get a shot. By that I mean that we all have got to take the rough with the smooth if we want to have a real good time.
"We none of us imagine that Wellington's army enjoyed the work entailed in knowing up the lines at Torres Vedras, but still that saved the army from destruction and the Empire from disgrace."
But, remember, all names and subscriptions must be in by today, and if you have not returned to your scoutmaster the form issued by the officer commanding at camp, hurry up and get it in safety, for tomorrow will be too late.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE CALGARY TROOPS

CHATS WITH THE CHURCH OF REDEEMER PATROLS

Before parading with the other troops on Dominion Day the inspection for the Rowley competition took place. It was very gratifying to find that out of a total of 81 scouts there were only 10 absent, four of whom were sick. The result of the Rowley competition were as follows:
1. Buffaloes 225
2. Tigers 222
3. Hicory 221
4. Lions 212
5. Ravens 188
6. Owls 184
The full total of marks to date being:
1. Tigers 975
2. Buffaloes 973
3. Hicory 953
4. Lions 933
5. Ravens 861
6. Owls 820

We paraded in the following order, under District Commissioner Jewett, in front of the Buffaloes as signifiers, followed by the Ravens, then some of the Hicory patrol drawing the field telegraph truck cart supported in the front by the Buffaloes and the few Canadian engines with Dedridge and Cane as ordies. Then came the Lions, followed by the Tigers carrying the ambulance, stretcher and other Mr. McRoberts. Counting officers, the troop paraded 44 strong.

Scouts who have their pathfinder's badge in this troop must brush up their knowledge of the country around. The examinations for them will take place shortly. So hustle.

The strictly regular that the cadets have not been favored with good weather for their camp, and hope before these notes appear in print old Sol will have once again regained his rightful place in the skies.

All scouts who intend to go to the summer camp must hand in the papers, signed by their parents or guardians, not later than today. They must also bring the necessary fees.

The parade on Monday some of us went up to the banks of the Elbow river until we reached the old camp. We first of all had some practice at the rifle range, and then the tenderfoot by going into the bush and pretending to be some scout from another troop. After having supper we returned at 7:30 p.m. after an enjoyable day.

On Monday and Tuesday we will continue our good turn in seeking members for the Calgary branch for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. Scouts must parade at 7 p.m., at Paget in uniform until Monday. Let there be a better turnout than last month for this occasion.

Study the orders for the week carefully.
THE TENTH CALGARY
The annual camp will soon be here. I am sorry that I will not be able to attend, and regret also that few of the troop have taken the chance of enjoying camp life and all the pleasures and experiences of life under canvas. Corporal Ernest Roberts and Scout Gordon Foster are the only representatives of the troop, and it is up to them to credit to their troop while in camp. I trust they will have a good time at Cochrane and not come back with "swelled heads."

The scoutmaster's regulations are again due and should be paid up before the 20th. Some haven't been handed in for last month yet, and they should be paid in with this month's dues.
P. L. Foster is working hard at his second class badge and intends passing his tests by the end of the month. Good luck, Willard! Won't it be bliss?

P. L. McDonald is getting very strong and is getting better and better. I wonder if he could work up some of his badges at home these days. It wouldn't be a bad idea. Try it, Alce.

Note the parade called for Monday. The troop has been rather slack lately and needs a tonic. It is supposed to be paid in with this month's dues. Monday will be tried. A full turnout is expected with this change. Remember, 7:30 p.m., prompt.

Don't pitch your tent directly under a tree. If you will suffer after a rain storm, for the water will keep dripping off the leaves on to the canvas, and at night time especially this is very irritating.
Air your tents well every day. When the weather is dry, the curtain at the bottom should be tied up during the day, so that the inside of the tent is ventilated and has plenty of fresh air circulating in it.

Before turning in for the night, see that everything is packed up, and that nothing is left lying about outside the tent.
If you are sleeping in ordinary clothes, always loosen your belt.

Don't wear wet clothes.
Don't shake the washing-up always shaken ropes before rain.
Don't go in for a lot of night work. Never allow the camp to become untidy by leaving things lying about, and before finally taking your departure be sure to clear away every sign of your visit.
Don't go for a swim just after a meal.
Knives can be cleaned by plunging them once or twice into the ground.
A good way to clean greasy plates is to rub them with a lump of turf.
Always salute the flag and have prayers before commencing the day's work.
If your tent is not hot in the sun, put blankets over the top. The thicker the roof, the cooler is the tent in summer.
Don't forget to dig a good drain all round your tent or hut, so that if heavy rain comes in the night your floor will not get flooded from outside.
Finally, whatever the weather may be, and in all circumstances, "Keep smiling!"—From The Scout.

JUDGING DISTANCE
A Capital Exercise for All Boys

(By "Dark Blue")
It is very useful to be able to estimate distance correctly, whether you are a marksman or an athlete.
Many a race has been thrown away through the runner being a bad judge of distances, and making his effort too soon or too late. This applies especially to cross-country running.
Most people are poor judges of distance. Ask a person to show you his idea of one foot or one yard, and he will probably be a good deal out one way or the other.
I dare say some of you, when out walking, have set yourselves to reach a certain landmark, only to find that it was ever so much farther away than you supposed.
The first step towards becoming an expert judge of distance out of doors is to get into your head a clear idea of a distance of one hundred yards.
This is simply a matter of practice. Measure off one hundred yards on the ground, and then study it from different angles. Next try to estimate one hundred yards in a different direction, using the measured distance as a guide to your eye. Then go to another part of the ground and try to judge one hundred yards; afterwards, of course, measuring your attempt.
Keep on at this until you can judge

Jack Frost's Master McCLARY'S "Sunshine" Furnace

Jack Frost had the time of his life last winter. He warred against all elements and froze them stiff. Lakes and rivers he turned into solids; he also put a razor-like edge on the wind. He even bit into steel rails making them as brittle as burned glass. Outside, Jack reigned supreme, but his chilly majesty was locked to a frazzle inside by "The Understudy of the Sun"—McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace.

Think of the past winter when the mercury swung timidly below the freezing point—not for a day or a week, but for months at a time. How you shovelled coal, and how you talked about the appetite of that poor old furnace in the cellar. It simply ate up coal and then fell down when it came to heating the house evenly and comfortably.

McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace makes the most of very little fuel, and distributes a much greater percentage of heat throughout house than the ordinary furnace.

Ashe cannot bank up between the active fire and the walls of the fire-pot in the "Sunshine" Furnace. It is an absolute guarantee of balmy June weather in the home, when Jack Frost's icy garments are jingling in the Arctic cold without. That's why the "Sunshine" is called "The Ice King's Master." The "Sunshine" Furnace is an excellent investment—it will last a life-time with ordinary care—and return you a handsome interest on the investment every year by the actual saving it effects. Now, we want you to do us a favor—we want you to call on the McClary agent and ask him to prove every claim we make for the "Sunshine" Furnace—ask him to prove every claim true. Ask him to show you—The fuel-saving features of the "Sunshine"—The mechanical reasons which make balmy healthy June weather possible in the home when Jack Frost is in his element without—Why the "Sunshine" saves money which other furnaces burn up, and—Why the largest makers of furnaces in the British Empire so amply and so fearlessly guarantee the "Sunshine"—The Understudy of the Sun. Your decision will please us and pay you. If you don't know the McClary agent, write us at our nearest address.

undo your boots before going to sleep. Always sleep with your feet toward the wall. If you can't get a swim. If the ground is wet, and your fire will not burn, it is a good plan to lay it on an old tray or frying pan.
If your water supply should run short, leave a bucket outside the tent at night, and when the morning comes writing out the dew which has fallen on it. Of course, water thus obtained should be used only for washing purposes.
All rubbish which cannot be burnt must be buried, and a pit should be dug for this purpose at some distance from the tents.
If your rubbish hole is too near the tent, you will suffer from unpleasant smells arising from the decaying matter, and this is most unhealthy.
Always be on the look-out to do a good turn to the owner of the land upon which you are encamped. By so doing you will bring credit to the whole scout movement, and also improve your chance of using the same ground at some other time.

16th Semi-Annual Footwear Sale at Richardson's Big Shoe House

Just 8 years ago Richardson started his career as a merchant in Calgary. Pretty small beginning too, but Richardson's Shoe Business has grown as fast as Calgary in the last 8 years and that is "going some." He has been given some pretty hard knocks by the opposition since going into business, but "chickens go home to roost," and Richardson's trade has tripled and quadrupled while several competitors have bit the dust. There must be a reason, don't you think? There is too—Richardson's Golden Rule—"Public Satisfaction." You can bank on whatever he advertises to be right.

Just a word about the bargains. Read over carefully the list of advertised lines—there is almost certain to be the something you want among them. If it isn't mentioned come down to the store, you are sure to find just what you want and it will be marked at a surprisingly low price.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

(By G. Major)

THE RETURN OF THE LIGHT OPERA

The lovers of true light opera as distinguished from the foreign and home-grown brand of musical comedies, which have for the last few years monopolized the stage, will have had cause for rejoicing this spring in the remarkable success which has attended the revival of four famous comic operas. These operas have been marked by artistic productions, but the encouraging part is the great interest taken by the general public. After all, it is the box office receipts which counts for the most.

The enthusiastic welcome accorded to "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado" stands in bold relief when compared to the dozen foreign musical comedies which were offered during the season. It is of course, of which with any degree of success. Of course, the all-star casts which have characterized the light opera revival have been to some extent responsible for their success, but there can be no doubt that the theatre-going public are glad to hear their favorite old Gilbert and Sullivan comedies once more.

With their mission accomplished in New York, the managers are now preparing for tours which will cover the continent. The De Koven Opera Company, which owes its existence to the present revival, is sending on the tour a company which will play "Robin Hood" exclusively, while the Shubert and W. A. Brady have already opened "Pacific Coast" tour at the different theatres. The latter company, who will present a repertoire of "The Mikado," "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Pirates of Penzance." The latter company, after concluding their Pacific coast engagements, will come east under Manager Sherman's circuit, and will present the plays at the Sherman Grand for an entire week, commencing Monday, September 26. This is such an unusually strong combination that the names of the individuals will be of interest. To those who have followed the course of comic opera productions, the names will all be familiar. The company includes: De Wolf Hopper, Eugene Cowles, Arthur Conningham, George J. MacFarlane, Arthur J. Brien, Charles Duffell, Viola Gillette, Alice Brady, Kate Condon and others.

The announcement will no doubt necessitate a change of the name of the local Amateur Operative Society, as they had under consideration the production of "The Pirates" or "Penzance" some time in the early fall. There are other musical operas, however, which they could produce with credit and which would be novel to the local production scene. Concerned. Victor Herbert's tuneful opera, "The Wizard of the Nile," "The Gondoliers," "The Fortune Teller," and "The Knickerbocker" would stand the amateur's good over-rides for a number of years. A large number of good amateur singers have come to the city during the last few weeks, and the operatic society, by a judicious selection of their works, should be able to surpass all their former efforts.

The Magic of Seven
Madame Lillian Nordica in a recent letter with a representative of the New York Dramatic Mirror confessed to a superstitious belief in the magic of seven. "I had all without design on the part of myself or any one else," said the famous soprano, "that my first appearance in public as a singer should occur on Sunday, the seventh day of the week which happened to fall on the seventh day of the seventh month. It was seven years ago. In fact, no one in my family took any notice of this until seven years afterward when one of my sisters told me about it.

"My mother had accidentally chosen me a name containing seven letters, as she spelled it, and as I do—Lillian. When I came to choose for myself an operatic name, I sold my mind to my teacher and wanted to retain my first name and get a second as nearly like my family name as possible, but containing seven letters, and ending with an 'a.' As at that time it was considered proper for all operatic artists to adopt names with an Italian or French sound, I submitted 'Nordica,' and as such I have been known ever since.

"Oddly enough, my husband's signature is G. V. Young—also contains seven letters. My manager, Frederic Shipman, has seven letters in his last name. He has four actors under his direction next season—'The Kingpin' who has seven letters in his last name; Madama Mary Hallock, the pianist; who has seven in hers; Madame Frances Alda, who has seven in her first name, and myself, with seven in both first and last. My geomantist and secretary, Remayne Illingworth, has seven in each of his names. The thoroughbred filly I have just bought from John F. Madden's breeding farm in Kentucky has seven letters in her name, Dorothy.

"The first time I realized that the number seven was a lucky number to others beside myself was during my early years at the Metropolitan. Jon De Reszke was then in the height of his fame as an actor, and there was great competition among the sopranos to sing with him. De Reszke was more in demand than Caruso is today. But there was only one Valentin, and so I was safe when they sang 'Les Huguenots.'

"One night, as we were about to go in 'Les Huguenots' De Reszke, all smiles, came to me and said, 'I owe you much, madam.'

"When I seemed surprised, he told me that he had just received by cable from St. Petersburg the news that he had won a great race with his favorite filly, and imagine my surprise when he said the name of the filly was Lillian Nordica. When I asked him why he had named his filly after me he paid me a pretty compliment, and at the same time admitted that superstitious entered into his action to a large extent also. For each name had seven letters and he was a strong adherent of the number seven.

"Whenever Lillian Nordica ran she won, and each time the tenor took great delight in telling about it. According to him, she won over $30,000 in prizes that winter.

"I have found that many of the most important events of my life occurred on the seventh day of the month, and that the years ending in seven—1877, 1887, 1897 and 1907—were among the most important in my musical career. All of this has so interested me in the number seven that I have accumulated

"The moon changes its phases every seven days."
"As you see," concluded Madame Nordica, "I am not the only one who believes in seven."

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

The Durbar in Kinemacolor
The invention of Kinemacolor has revolutionized photography and cinematography, and today it stands on a plane of popularity that is the subject of comment throughout the scientific and theatrical world.

The pictures of the Durbar in India, when King George and Queen Mary were proclaimed Emperor and Empress, are creating intense excitement in London and New York and words fail to describe the brilliant and thrilling spectacle of the greatest and most important pageant that the world has ever known.

In viewing the Kinemacolor pictures of the Durbar, one is impressed with not only the fidelity of motion and action but chiefly by the perfect fidelity with which the colors are reproduced. The climate of India lends itself in a marked degree to photography and the Durbar pictures have been acclaimed as a triumph of cinematographic art.

The climatic conditions of India, the gorgeous spectacle of the Durbar is presented with its hosts of distinguished personages, King-Emperors, Queens, Princes, and Rajahs of India, Chieftains and officials, thousands of British and Indian soldiers and many hundreds of thousands of

Headaches Over the Eyes Mean Frontal Catarrh

APT TO GET INTO EARS, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OR TO REACH THE LUNGS AND END IN CONSUMPTION

You Can Cure Catarrh in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing Balsamic Fumes of Catarrhose, and Here is Proof

Mr. Urie Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Quebec, inherited catarrh from his mother. The disease spread from his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected, and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhose, and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhose pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it carefully, and took Catarrhose Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor prescribed Catarrhose, and I took it steadily until I was cured. Catarrhose could work such a miracle.

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with catarrh, and now I am an evidence of what Catarrhose can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhose.

"Two months' treatment, large price $1, and guaranteed. Small size, 50c, all reliable dealers or the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and imitation for 'Catarrhose'."

New Organist at the First Baptist Church

Charles F. Nidd, the organist of the First Baptist church of Calgary, is an English musician, and although still young man his record as an organist covers nearly eleven years, during which period he has been engaged by some of the largest organizations in the east of England.

A native of the county of Bedfordshire, he studied under the well known authority, Frederick Godtard, whose name as an examiner to the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Organists has become almost world wide.

The excellent training afforded by the tuition of this master enabled Mr. Nidd to fill some of the most coveted positions which the English musical world affords, and immediately previous to his departure for Canada he was organist and conductor of a chorus of one hundred and twenty in the Methodist church, Luton—an edifice accommodation of over 2,500 people.

Since becoming the organist of the First Baptist church, Mr. Nidd has come to the forefront and is now recognized as one of the leading organists of the city. He will give an opening concert on Thursday evening, and a representative gathering of the Calgary musical world will meet to hear this talented young man.

The new organ is one of the latest type by the well known builders, Messrs. Gray and Co., and when completed will be the finest in the city.

The program for the recital in the First Baptist church on July 11, 1912, is as follows:

- Prelude and Fugue in C Minor.....J. S. Bach
- Serenade.....Leoncavallo
- Communion in E Flat.....Battiste C. P. Nidd
- Vocal solo, "There Were Ninety and Nine".....Campton Miss Vera Harrison
- First Sonata da Camera.....A. L. Peace
- Prelude "Tritian Tangle".....Wagner
- Violin solo, "Concerto, 2nd Movement".....Mendelssohn Prof. A. P. Howells
- Symphonic poem, "Finlandia".....Sibelius
- (a) Romanza.....Volsteinholme (b) Allegretto.....Volsteinholme
- Vocal solo, "The King of Love".....C. F. Nidd
- Vocal solo.....C. Gounod A. E. Sullivan
- Capriccio.....Lemaigre
- March "The King of Love".....Wety C. F. Nidd

Had Stomach Rumbles Distress Before Meals

Was Seldom Free From That Weary, Droopy, Half-Dead Feeling

Now Cured, and Gives Good Advice to Others With Dyspeptic Tendencies

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience, which is told by Mr. Edward Dawkins:

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond, "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and all the while I was eating and drinking, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. Today I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it.

Refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mantrake and Butterworth's 26c per box or five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Margaret Illington

"Kindling" the new Charles Kenyon drama, in which Margaret Illington will open at the Sherman Grand Monday, July 22, for three nights, is one of those compelling dramas which has an irresistible appeal to all classes of theatregoers.

Margaret Illington makes good her title as a worthy artist in playing the role of Maggie Schultz, she forgets the days of her drawing room emotions. She so surrounds herself with the character of the submerged tenement wife that her Maggie Schultz becomes the breathing embodiment of the possibilities of want and the desperation born of it. Only now and then her dawning mother love for the baby yet to be born, makes her forget that if there is any saving illumination of that soul, it is the love of Maggie Schultz for the unborn baby, the dream of her as a mother, bringing a squalling cursed child into the poisoned life of the tenements, that ultimately leads Maggie Schultz to become a thief.

It is a great achievement in dramatic art when a play with a theme receives its illustration solely through the medium of one of its people, and thus sends its message so irresistibly through the soul of his audience. Margaret Illington has scored this achievement. Her Maggie Schultz is far the biggest thing she has ever done, and it dwarfs the Marie Voysin of her playing "The Thief" to the proportions of a Marionette. It justifies a renewed confidence in Miss Illington's future.

Miss Illington is supported by one of the best balanced acting organizations ever assembled in our city, and the cast includes Byron Fessenden, Frank Compton, Ida Lewis, Florence Robinson, Ruth Thomson, John Jex, A. G. Kenyon, Frank Camp and H. Benson.

Special priced matinee will be given on Wednesday.

GRACE PRESBYTERIAN TO CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

Sunday Will be Observed as Organization's Seventh Birthday

Rev. Alex Esler Will Preach Two Anniversary Sermons on Sunday

Congregation is Building Fine Stone Church on Fifteenth Avenue

Tomorrow Grace Presbyterian church is to celebrate its seventh anniversary, having been organized on the first Sunday in July, 1905. The congregation has since been worshipping in a frame building on Twelfth avenue west, near Eighth street. Shortly after the present pastor of the church came to Calgary the building was found to be too small and an additional capacity. At present a fine handsome stone building is in course of erection at the corner of Fifteenth avenue west and Ninth street, but owing to the strike between the stonemasons and stonecutters, operations are at a standstill.

The first minister of Grace church was the Rev. C. A. Myers who, on account of poor health, was compelled to resign. He was succeeded by the Rev. A. MacWilliams, who remained in charge until the summer of 1910. In October of the same year the present pastor, Rev. Alex Esler, was inducted. Mr. Esler will preach at both services tomorrow. At eleven o'clock the communion will be celebrated, and at 7:30 p.m. the subject will be "The unearned throne." No doubt a large number of the present and former members of the church will attend these anniversary services.

BAPTISTS OF CRESCENT HEIGHTS OPEN A NEW CHURCH

Building Was Commenced May 1; is Completed; Will be Opened Sunday

Has Cost $20,000 and is Beautiful Structure of Which Suburb is Proud

Crescent Heights Congregation Was Organized Two Years Ago

The Baptists of Crescent Heights have completed a beautiful building, which is a credit to the suburb of Calgary. The work has been done in an almost incredible space of time, the excavation having been completed about the first of May, and the finishing touches completed about the first of July, thus the whole edifice, valued at $20,000, has been the short space of two months from basement to spire.

The new building has a seating capacity of 500 in the auditorium including gallery, and a number of additional rooms for class room accommodation and prayer.

In the basement there is a room twelve feet high, which is to be used for a gymnasium to accommodate the increasing class of boys in connection with the church. The gym room is 20x40 in size.

The building has been placed on the back part of the lot, with a view of using the present structure for a permanent Sunday school room, and the process of time placing a larger building for worship upon the 8x100 feet reserved for in the future.

Calgary has such a habit of outgrowing all expectations that it is felt incumbent upon the church people to prepare for all such eventualities.

The history of the Baptists of Crescent Heights has extended from 1897, when Sunday school work was begun. Rev. F. W. Patterson, and the late A. J. McArthur were instrumental in putting the work on a permanent basis, by the erection of the building in which the church has been worshipping. The work was carried on by supplies from Sunday to Sunday from the First church, and during the summer months by students from Brandon college. Following the students' supply the Rev. Mr. Burgess gave nine months to the work with much success.

In January, 1911, the Mission Board decided upon a distinct advance by the church, and all the symptoms of the church, Rev. H. I. Kempton, the present pastor, being called to the field.

From a membership of twenty-five the church has grown to its present status, a membership of one hundred, with many others ready to come into the church immediately.

From receiving $500 from the Mission Board last year, the church is now self supporting, having declared for itself support on the first of January, 1912, the new building was likewise undertaken, which has been brought to a successful completion.

The opening services of the new church will be held on Sunday, Rev. J. C. Sycamore, M.A., pastor of the First church in the city, will preach in the morning and Rev. M. A. McLean, B.D., of Olivet, in the evening.

The choir under the efficient management of Mrs. James Macaulay, will be given special musical numbers for the opening, and there will also be special soloists, Mr. Edgar Dobbs and Miss Ella Miller, in the morning and evening respectively.

In connection with the opening exercises of the church Rev. J. C. Sycamore will give his famous lecture entitled, "Unopened Parcels," on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Friday evening the next week the ladies of the church intend giving a banquet to the members and friends of the congregation, after which a general platform meeting will be held, at which a number of visiting ministers will speak.

A VERY PRACTICAL JOKE

An Irishman who was digging a well, and had practically finished it, arrived at his work one morning to find it had caved in during the night.

Pat looked round to make sure no one was watching, then took off his cap and hat and hung them on the windlass, and crawled into some bushes near. Very soon some passers-by discovered that the well had caved in, and, seeing Pat's hat and coat, supposed he was at the bottom.

They setted spades and dug vigorously for several hours, until they had quite cleared the well. Then, as they were peering down in search of the body, Pat came walking out of his hiding place and thanked them heartily for relieving him of a disagreeable task.

Some of the tired diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a hearty laugh, which soon followed.

EXHIBITION SHOWS GREAT BREEDING IMPROVEMENT

so far toward promoting improvement in heavy horse breeding in the southern portion of the province.

Equine Aristocrats.

Other especially meritorious individuals in the Percheron classes were: Decision D, shown by H. Watts of Calgary, second in stallion class, four years or over; Hadriap, shown by Robinson Bros., of Macleod, second for stallion three years; Figaro, shown by George Lane, first for Canadian bred stallion and second for stallion two years; Bichette, shown by George Lane, first for dry mare any age and champion female; Lily, shown by Y. Drake of Calgary, first for two year old filly; and Knighthood, shown by H. Watts, Calgary, best bred stallion bred in the United States.

In the other heavy classes were: spires, Belgians, and Suffolk, among which were numerous notably fine individuals.

The cattle exhibit, like that of the heavy horses brought out some exceptionally fine stock. At the head, in point of numbers shown, were the Ayrshires with 92. Next came the Holsteins with 76, then the Shortorns with fifty, the Aberdeen Angus with 27, the Galloways and Red Poll with eighteen each, the Herefords with fourteen, and the Jerseys with six.

Individuals stood out strikingly in almost every class, evidencing a lineage of purest blood, while the number of especially good animals was larger than has ever been seen at any previous show, indicating the extent to which the improvement of herds is being carried on.

Mary's Little Lamb.

Perhaps in no direction was greater advancement shown than in the exhibit of sheep. In the past the sheep has not played a particularly prominent part in exhibitions held for the promotion of the live stock industry, but a noticeable change was in evidence on this occasion, with a total of 127 head of superlatively fine animals, denoting that the gospel of mixed farming, being preached by leading agriculturists is not falling on barren soil.

Large advancement in breeding was shown, likewise in the exhibit of hogs, which included some of the finest

ARMY AVIATORS KILLED

Salisbury Plain, Eng., July 5.—Captain E. B. Lorraine and Sergeant Major Wilson, of the army flying corps, were killed this morning while flying over the great military encampment here. They were taking their usual early morning practice and the aeroplane had reached the height of 400 feet when the machine lost its balance, turning over and fell to the roadway. Sergeant Major Wilson was killed instantly, but Captain Lorraine lived a short time, although he was unconscious when picked up.

CARPENTERS GO TO REGINA.

Winnipeg, July 5.—Not less than two hundred carpenters have left the city for Regina, according to the secretary of the union, but these west of their own accord and were not sent by the union. At a meeting of the striking union men this morning, officials claimed that they were winning all along the line, not less than eighty employers of carpenters having signed up the new schedule, and these include defections from the builder's exchange.

HEAVY RAINFALL AROUND WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, July 5.—That the observatory says is the heaviest rain of two years, fell over this district early today and will prove of great benefit to market gardeners and farmers. It is not noteworthy as being the first rain of the season unaccompanied by an electrical storm and should do much to replenish the springs of the earth on which Winnipeg's water supply is somewhat precariously dependent.

FATAL ELECTRIC STORM.

Moncton, N.B., July 5.—One man is dead and three others are in the hospital, having been struck by lightning near here in a tremendous electrical storm this morning. Little hopes are held out for the men in the hospital, all of them being in a state of coma.

FRENCH SEAMEN RIOTING

Montréal, July 4.—The Tuckett Tobacco Company Limited has taken over the business formerly carried on by the three firms known as the Geo. E. Tuckett and Son Company Limited, Hamilton; the Tuckett Clear Company Limited, Hamilton; Tuckett's Limited, Hamilton.

The business was first carried on under the name of Tuckett and Billings, who commenced away back in 1845 afterwards being known as Geo. E. Tuckett and Son.

Both these firms came down to two generations. The business was incorporated in 1892 as the Geo. E. Tuckett and Company Limited, and Tuckett and Billings. Both the firms for many years manufactured T and B, plus tobacco and T and B Myrtle navy cut tobacco. It was once the pride of the company that the names of these brands have been the household words in Canada for more than two generations.

In the year 1906 a company was formed to operate under the name of the Tuckett Cigar Company Limited. The cigar company manufactures the well known brands of "Marguerite," and "Tuckett Club Special," the sales of which have increased yearly until in 1911 they exceeded twenty millions and for many years had without question the largest sale of any cigars in Canada.

Recently a cigarette department has been installed, and the reputation of the various brands has been most gratifying and the sales have exceeded expectations.

All the best tobacco used in the various brands manufactured by both companies is purchased under the most favorable conditions in the first markets.

Meredith and Company Limited have purchased the three companies and incorporated a new company under the WHOA! WHOA! WHOA! HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

HORSES 1100 HEAD. This is the number we have for sale. If you are looking for standard blood, any age up to 8 years, come and see us, or write for particulars. The above horses are of Percheron, Shire and Clyde stock of the best quality. Also 12 high class, pure bred stallions. If you mean to buy, make a date with us, and we can show you the goods. And, above all, the price is right. We wish to dispose of this bunch within the next few weeks. There is an opportunity to secure good stock at the right price. Besides horses we have for sale one of the best ranch propositions in Alberta—17 years' lease of sixteen full sections; finest range; abundance of pure water; all fenced; with buildings, corrals, etc., capable of handling 2,000 or more horses. If you are looking to buy, write us and we will furnish full description, or better come and see us, as this is a rare opportunity and will not be on the market long. BAIRD & HAAG, PARKVIEW, CALGARY.
