NOTE AND COMMENT.

There is nothing that the average man appreciates better than a tidy, well-ordered house, with a place for everything and everything in its place. On the other hand there is no more potent force of domestic unhappiness than disorder in the living apartments.

This is the age of women. We find all the avocations, professions and trades of life opening their doors to admit the enterprising woman. Some are going into their own and some are going into other people's business. In our admiration for the new woman, there is danger of forgetting the wife and mother and woman's true sphere as a home-makthe water line in dry seasons. 7—Frosts do less injury to crops. The drains make it possible to get better catches of grasses and clovers and minimize the losses from late spring and early fall frosts. 8-Drained land is more easily worked than undrained. The cost of man-power, horse-power and machinery is thus materially reduced. -Central Experimentel Farm Bulle-

The Joys of the Farm

It is asserted that the farmer is the most independent man on earth. and he has nothing to do but to enjoy life. That when the winter comes and the blizzard's on the wing he roasts his feet in the oven and reads the local newspapers, and the only thing that disturbs him is a call three times a day to a banquet of mince pie and other luxuries. It is a mistake. The industrious farmer begins work before the sun thinks of getting up. With his soul shrouded in gloom he proceeds to build a fire with a sledge hammer. He then takes a lantern and shovels his way to the barn and feeds the hogs. It is then time to feed the newly-arrived calf which seems to delight in butting a pail of milk over the tiller of the soil until he can easily

Are your hands chapped, cracked or sore? Have you "cold cracks" which open and bleed when the skin is drawn tight? Have you a cold sore, frost bite, chilblains, or a "raw" place, which at times makes it agony for you to go about your household duties? If so, Zam-Buk will give you relief, and will heal the frost-damaged skin. Anoint the sore places at night Zam-Buk's rich healing essences will sink into the wounds, end the smarting, and will heal quickly.

Mrs. Yellen, of Portland, says: Mrs. Yellen, of Portland, says: "My hands were so sore and cracked that it was agony to put them near water. When I did so they would smart and burn as if I had scalded them. I seemed quite unable to get relief from anything. I put on them until I tried Zam-Buk, and it succeeded when all else had failed. It closed the big cracks, gave me ease, soothed the inflammation, and in a very short time healed my hands."

Zam Buk also cures chafing, rashes, winter eczema, piles, ulcers, festering sores, sore heads and backs, abscesses, pinniles, ring-worm, etc., outs, burns, bruises, scalds, sprains. Of all druggists and stores, or post free from the Zam-

COMMUNICATIONS.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinion expressed by correspondents]

The Editor of the Guide-Advocate:

In the issue of January 24th of your paper there is a report of a special meeting of the Watford Municipal Council held on January 20th, at the call of Reeve Stapleford to pass a motion that our Clerk, W. S. Fuller, be authorized to call on me and request me to hand over all papers belonging to the corporation./Mr. papers belonging to the corporation. Mr. McKercher moved and Mr. Fowler seconded this motion. None of these parties ever asked me if I had any such papers. Had they asked me they would have found out I had no papers to hand over, but any I had were in my possession as agent and solictor of the Dominion Government respecting both the postoffice and armory sites, and that the Government had been sent the registered deed of the armory site and a report on title of the postoffice site with a deed of same approved of for execution. I un-Government had been sent the registered deed of the armory site and a report on title of the postoffice site with a deed of same approved of for execution. I understand both Mr. Doan and Mr. Hawn explained this at the council meeting but Mr. Stapleford and the mover and seconder of the motion, still for no benefit allowed it to go through, which might create a false impression in the minds of the public. So far this council meeting was so much waste time and need not have been held if Mr. Stapleford had wanted to do what any ordinary man should, but I will excuse him. I am again surprised to read Mr. Stapleford had wanted to do what any ordinary man should, but I will excuse him. I am again surprised to read Mr. Stapleford seletter in his possession dated January 17th, stating that his request for $2,000 to pay for sites had been granted. Mr. Stapleford would try to make us believe he is a wonderful man. Just to think of it, he takes office on January 13th, and in a few days his request mentioned is granted. This certainly is remarkable. In the first place I understand he told certain members of the Government at Ottawa we would give the postoffice site free if they would build us a postoffice here. I objected to this at different times and claimed the Government should pay for said site, and requested Mr. Hunter, the purchasing agent of the Government, to put in his report that way. He said he would so report to the Government, to put in his report that way. He said he would so report to the Government. Mr. Doan was present and I think one other member of the Council was also present when this happened. I at other times made the same request to the Government and Mr. Armstrong. Now Mr. Stapleford claims all the benefit after he was willing that our ratepayers should be burdened by paying for the site. Does he now want to insult the people of Watford and belittle and libel Mr. Armstrong and the Government by siying that they would not do justice to us unless he requested it, We know that such is not the case. If you will refer to the minutes of the first meeting of last year's council, you will see that I was the one who suggested getting the Government to build us a postoffice, custom's office and inland revenue office here as well as an armory. The ball was started and has resulted in something we should be proud of. Thanks to our member Mr. Armstrong and the present Government. be proud of. Thanks to our member Mr. Armstrong and the present Government for their generous consideration of us. Mr. Stapleford should give credit to those Mr. Stapleford should give credit to those to whom credit is due and not take it to hinself when he is not entitled to it. The same remarks also apply to the canning factory which we were last year trying to arrange to locate here this year if possible. My last interview with a director of the company on December 26th, was very encouraging. The Grand Trunk Railway Company agreed to give us a siding to the site considered by the canning people. I hope Mr. Stapleford will do all he can to continue our efforts not only in getting this factory and the furniture factory in view, but other similar things for Watford too.

Yours sincerely,

Yours sincerely W. E. FITZGERALD. Dated January 29th, 1913.

RODS FOR BATHROOM.

They Come In All Sizes to Fit Any Apartment.

The housekeeper who is in need of new bathroom fixings will be interested in the three-quarter glass towel rods which have just come out. In a small bathroom, where all the furnishings must be as small as possible, even the size of the towel rod counts. The brackets of these new rods are nickel plated on brass, which prevents them from rusting. They come in many sizes, the shortest being fifteen inches long and the longest forty-eight inches, so any woman ought to find one of the proper size to fit her bathroom.

The corner rod is another good one for a tiny room, as the bracket of this style rod is shaped so that it can be screwed into a corner. This type of rod comes from fifteen to twenty-four inches in length

A trio of small rods only five-eighths of an inch wide are fitted to one brack-et and will be found very convenient, as on these can be hung all the necessary towels as well as wash cloths. Little sets for holding soap, tumbler and six toothbrushes come in this ware and are intended for either a small or large bathroom. A neat little tumbler designed especially for a small room has a round nickel piece below through which six toothbrushes may be slipped.

New Feature in Sweaters.

Yoke effects are just now the fad on every type of costume from night-gowns to theater wraps, and winter sweaters, falling into line, are also fashioned with yokes at the top. The green buttons on this sweater give a snappy touch, and the white hat emphasizes the contrast of color.

DESOLATION AND DESPAIR,

The Dreadful Horrors of the Turkish Cholera Camps.

The scenes of death and desolation and despair which are part and parcel of the kingdom of the god of battles seldom have been brought so vividly seldom have been brought so vividly to the minds of peaceful people as in the terribly realistic pictures of the Turkish cholera camps and in the dispatches of hardened war correspondents, whose souls sickened at the horrors they witnessed. There were several cholera camps, but the most dreadful examples of irremediable suffering and wholesale deaths, under conditions that made death a welcome friend, were seen in the main camp at Hademkeni, a short distance behind the headquarters of Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-inchif, on the Tchatalja lines.

"The horrid scenes in the villages in Pasha. the Turkish commander-inchi.f., on the Tchatalja lines.

"The horrid scenes in the villages in the rear of the army pale altogether into insignificance when compared with the horrors of Hademkeni," wrote a correspondent of The London Daily Telegraph, "where the remnants of the army defeated at Lule Burges were finally rallied. Three days ago I rode over the hills from the place where I was encamped, intending to visit Hademkeni. I mounted the last slope which hid the valley in which it lies, and then I was brought to a standstill by the awful babel of sounds which arose from beneath me. I was gazing into the valley of the shadow of death. There is a station at Hademkeni, and a train was in the station. It was black with the most wretched specimens of sick humanity seeking to escape from the dread spectre. The large square in the centre of Hademkeni resembled a successful fly-paper in midsummer. It was covered with the corpses of the living in all attitudes—some prone, some sitting, some with hands living in all attitudes—some prone, some sitting, some kneelng, some constantly shifting, some with hands clasped as if in supplication. In some parts of the area the dead were piled in heaps; in others those still living were almost as closely packed. This shocking lake of misery was being constantly fed by rivulets of stretcher-bearers, bringing in fresh victims from the camps and forts, and by others who crawled in of their own accord, seeming to prefer to end their days in the company of their fellow men or else expecting to find fellow men or else expecting to find succor."

When first occupied by from Yucatan. When first occupied by man Porto Rico may have been a part of a peninsula connected with South America. Its fauna and flora are of the South American type, and it contains relics of a forgotten race which show evidence of a high grade of culture. Few traces of these aborigines are now to be found except in the interior of the island. Among the curious remains are stone inclosed plazas

Motion Pictures as Detectives.

Through a Paris contemporary we learn of a novel method adopted by the Prague police authorities to detect the perpetrators of high crimes and misdemeanors. But whether the project will prove a success remains to be seen. When a person of distinction in the annals of crime is benig sought and the police experience difficulty in laying hands upon the suspect, in future they will send to every cinematograph exhibition in Bohemia a photograph exhibition in Bohemia a photograph of the person "wanted." During the entertainment the picture will be shown with some little explanatory note, and at the conclusion each member of the audience will be free to act as an amakeur detective. It seems very likely t at this method will be fruitful in actions for damages.—London Globe.

Care of the Eyes.

Care of the Eyes.

On rising in the morning the eyes should be bathed gently in cold water. Twenty passes are said to be decidedly strengthening. While using them closely they should be rested at intervals of an hour or two, for the strain of constant reading, etc., is like that of extending the arms at a certain height immovably. Imagine, then, the taxing of the eyes, which cannot complain save after years of irreparable neglect. When dust setwes in the eyes warm water will woothe them of any inflammation.

Gwing to the hall being engaged, the regular meeting of Pioneer L. O. L. No. 516, Warwick, will be held, on Monday evening, February 17th. Members and visiting brethren will please govern themselves accordingly. G. H. Holbrook, Rec. Secretary.

The annual meeting of the patrons of which is in itself quite a cheerful aspect of Orangeism.

In conclusion let me draw your attention to the Sentinel which is of such incalculable benefit to our order and I would strongly urge that every member of our Association make it a point to become a subscriber to it.

Let us strive to make a record for ourselves by which the cause of Orangeism Rec. Secretary.

The annual meeting of the patrons of Warwick Cheese and Butter Factory was held on Wednesday, Feb. 5th, with a large attendance. Mr. J. S. Clark resigned the salesmanship and Mr. H. A. Clark was appointed by the patrons for salesman for this year. We note Mr. Clark has put out over twenty-five thousand dollars worth of butter and cheese this past year and we hope he will be able to do more business this year. A factory of this kind will help the farmers and the farmers can help Mr. Clark by sending milk or cream all the year around. Everything has been done in a satisfactory way by Mr. Clark.

The monthly meeting of the Warwick Let us strive to make a record for ourselves by which the cause of Orangeism may be elevated and strengthened and I trust that the deliberations of this meeting may all be with an eye single to the best welfare of the order of which we are so proud and that we may go away feeling that we have all done something to better our condition.

Fraternally yours

The home of Mr. Henry Williamson, 4th line, Warwick, was the scene of a quiet wedding last Wednesday evening. Feb. 5th, when his eldest daughter, Mary Margaret, was united in the bonds of lioly matrimony to Mr. Willard N. Morgan of the 4th line. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Stevenson, minister of Wafford Congregational Church. The couple entered the room to the sweet strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march, played by Miss Elfrida Mitchell. On the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty repast, after which an enjoyable evening was spent to the satisfaction of all present.

E. L. LIBERAL CONVENTION

Dr. C. O. Fairbank Again the Liberal Candidate for the Commons.

Candidate for the Commons.

Watford, Feb. 6.—That we, the Liberals of Past Lambton, desire to place on record our endorsation of the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in proceeding along the lines laid down in the naval resolution of March 29, 1909, which was unanimously adopted by parliament; we desire to record our disapproval of the contribution of $35,000,000, believing that any expenditure made by Canada should be for the construction, as far as practicable, of a Canadian navy, built in Canada, manned and maintained by Canada, under the authority of the Canadian Parliament, and ready at any emergency to be placed at the disposal of the Imperial Government; we consider this to be the only correct policy in harmony with the diguity of the Dominion of Canada, and which will carry out the adequate or satisfactory exsressions of the Canadian people in regard to naval defence."

Four men drove over thirty miles on this bitterly cold day, and more than a hundred delegates came distances varying from five to fifteen miles, to express themselves as in the foregoing resolution and to show their appreciation of and personal regard for Dr. C. O. Fairbank, of Petrolea. The four who came farthest were W. Davis of Florence, Chas. McDonald, Joseph Dent and Meaford Gilbert, of Bothwell. Dr. Fairbank was again tendered the unanimous Liberal nomination for the Federal Parliament, and in his speech of acceptance he won the heartiest of applause for his clear enunciation of Liberal principles.

The convention was held Thursday afternoon, President Sam Bailey occupying the chair.

the heartiest of applause for his clear enunciation of Liberal principles.

The convention was held Thursday afternoon, President Sam Bailey occupying the chair.

Nominations were then called for, and those suggested were: Dr. C. O. Fairbank, proposed by Donald McLeay, Warwick, and Rorie Mathewson, Petrolea; H. J. Pettypiece, ex-M. P. P., Forest, by Duncan Fisher, Brooke, and William Thompson, Warwick; J. H. Fowler, London, by J. McQueen and R. Perkins, Petrolea; Robert Auld, Watford, by Elmer Collier, Warwick, and W. Miniely, Plympton; Dr. J. H. Pickering, Forest, by H. Goldsmith, Bosanquet, and R. Morningstar, Arkona; Claude Sanagan, London, by H. K. Laird, Warwick, and J. S. Williams, Watford; Reeve Robert Sterrett, Petrolea, by I. Greenizen, Petrolea, and R. Auld, Watford; R. J. McCormick, M. P. P., Warwick, by Sam Edwards, Warwick, and S. W. Louks, Watford; Charles Egan, Petrolea, by R. McLachlan and J. E. Peat, Petrolea; Alex. Laird, Warwick, by W. Thompson and Peter Fleming, Warwick; John W. Kingston, Warwick, by W. Edwards and John Cameron, Warwick; and Lachlan Lindsay, Brooke, by Messrs. Fisher and Correstine, Brooke. All withdrew in favor of Dr. Fairbank.

Before the latter spoke, short addresses were given by K. J. McCormick, M. P. P., H. J. Pettypiece, ex-M. P. P., Robt. Auld, Dr. Pickering, J. H. Fowler, and C. R. Sanagan, of London.

East Lambton's representative in the local House, Mr. McCormick, made a characteristically happy speech, with special reference to Provincial affairs. Dr. Pickering, who has recently returned from a residence in the west, made a vigorous speech on Canada's pressing trade question.

The political situation was comprehensively reviewed by Mayor Pettypiece, of Forest. He criticized the Borden naval proposal and the ten-million-dollar grant

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Blakie have returned home after spending two weeks with friends in Simcoe.

The A, F. & A. M. of this village, held the first "Af Home" in their new lodge rooms last Thursday evening. There were about seventy-five present and a most enjoyable time was spent by all, which consisted of the members and their familites.

Mr. Charlie Maddock of six sideroad, had the misfortune to slip on the cement floor of the barn, at his home, on Saturday last, and broke his leg above the ankle. He happened to be all alone at the time of the accicent and had to crawl to the house and call a neighbor through the telephone. Medical help arrived and he was removed to the home of Mr. Ed. Totten, where he will be taken care of, as he and his brother were living alone. His many friends were very sorry to hear of his misfortune, and hope he will speedily recover.

Tade question.

The political situation was comprehensively reviewed by Mayor Pettypiece, of Forest. He criticized the Borden naval proposal and the ten-million-dollar grant to agriculture. He considered it absurd to cellect the money from the people and then hand it back to them, while the collecting of it enabled the privileged classes to collect more for themselves. He criticized the banking bill on the ground that it did not prohibit the farmers doing business with the United States as the bankers had prevented the farmers doing business with the Americans. "In Forest," he said, "we have three chartered banks, where one could do all the banking necessary, but they are merely agencies reaching out to gather in the deposits of the people, to be sent on to the head offices to be sent on to the bear of his misfortune, and hope he will speedi and he immediately proceeded to an attack upon the Government's naval bill, which he described as an act to set back the hands of the clock. He recalled the speeches of Messrs. Borden and Foster against the contribution, and went on to demonstrate the necessity of policing the coasts with a Canadian navy. He was against Canada paying tribute on principle; moreover, it was not necessary, as Great Britain was rolling in wealth. While England paid for its army and navy expenditures out of ordinary revenue, and last year had a surplus, Germany had had to go in debt. Dr. Fairbank exploded the absurd suggestion of an emergency.

bank exploded the absurd suggestion of an emergency.

On the trade question the candidate's remarks also met with a response that showed the way the farmers felt about the defeat of reciprocity. He expressed his indignation over the dismissal of four civil servants in Petrolea without any reason. The government's action had been one of the most disgraceful things that had ever occurred in the county. He thanked the delegates for the support they had always given him, and said he was prepared to continue with them to fight for a good cause.

On motion of Messrs, Pettypiece and Pickering the nomination was made unanimous, the cheering being renewed.

The resolution set forth above was then offered by Township Councillor Harry unanimously.-Globe.

Caused by Lumbago, a Form Muscular Rheumatism

Lumbago is sudden in its attacks and Lumpago is sudden in its attacks and is so intensely painful that the sufferer is often unable to move, even to turn in bed or rise from a chair. The trouble chiefly occurs among working men, among whom it numbers thousands of victims. As the attacks come on quite frequently and are so torturing, this disease means much loss of time and money as well as the enderon quite frequently and are so torturing, this disease means much loss of time and money as well as the endurance of much suffering. No victim needs to be told that liniments, plasters and outward treatment will not cure the disease. This kind of ireatment is merely a waste of time and money. The trouble is really a species of muscular rheumatism, and is due to poor blood, and can only be cured through the blood. It is for this reason that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so successful in curing this trouble, and those who are afflicted by it should lose no time in giving the Pills a trial. If the treatment is persisted in the disease will be driven from the system and the cure be made permanent. In substantiation Mrs. Alfred Derby, Ettyville, Ont., says: "A few years ago I was attacked by excruciating pains in the back which the doctor called lumbago. I was not able to do a bit of work about the house, and suffered dreadfully every time I moved about. I took the doctor's medicine all winter, and used liniments, without getting any relief. In a thoroughly discouraged condition I doctor's medicine all winter, and used liniments, without getting any relief. In a thoroughly discouraged condition I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using six boxes I was better and able to do all my own work, and have not been afflicted with the trouble since. I now always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those ailing."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be lad by real medicine.

SUFFERED FROM VIOLENT CATHARTICS

The Warning of Mr. Geo. C. Fox Is One That Should Be Heeded by All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox. whose friends throughout the West are legion In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: 6. "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, billousness, constipation, bad stomach, and keep the system in perfect condition."

Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills; sold for 25c., all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Cnt.

And What Stood Between Him and Relapse

By F. A. MITCHEL ***************

When I got tired of work I concluded to tramp. But when a man gits dissatisfied with a hard job and takes an easier one the chances are that he'll soon want an easier one still. The feller that tackles the job he happens to have for all it's worth is the one that is most likely to git an easier one in time, and when he gits it he'll be satisfied with it till be gits an easier one, and he'll be goin' up hill all the time.

I hadn't been trampin' very long before it occurred to me that it would be the easiest thing in the world, when some fool woman was givin' me somep'n to eat, with no man about the house, to make her tell me where she kept ber valuables, take 'em and light out. I needn't try it on at houses near together, but separate, so that there wouldn't be any one to call on for help and I'd have a better chance to git away after I'd done the job. Another thing I must keep clear of was hous where there was a telephone, or, if I tackled one of 'em, I must cut the wire before I started in.

The first job of the kind I tried I found dead easy. The men were all away, and the women was skeered to death. They banded over all the money they had in the house ($17) and offered me some jewelry besides. 1 declined the jewelry 'cause I didn't care to be traced tryin' to convert it into cash. I got away with the money, and I don't believe the losers tried very hard to find me. The amount involved wasn't enough to pay 'em for doin' so. By choosin' houses that were unprotected and in thinly settled regions and bein' content with small sums I did a very good business and took the least risk possible. The people 1 robbed considered me their natural enemy and would have taken any revenge on me they could. This kept my con science, and on the whole I considered my lot far better than that of persons who slave all day at hard work. I roamed at large and had what money needed for an occasional good time If the persons I robbed had only kept on hurling their maledictions at me per haps I'd 'a' got enough by this time to set up in some kind o' business, hiring ebrated others to do the work. Strange to say, PAGE WIRE FENCE my run of prosperity was brought to a standstill by the opposite kind o' treatment.

> One day after trampin' two or three miles without meetin' a person or a team or comin' to a house I overtook a gal on the road and played the usual game of out o' work, hungry, no home por nothin. I asked her if she knew any charitable party thereabouts who would give me a crust of bread. She was the easiest fooled gal I ever tackled. She not only believed all I said, but almost cried over my misfortunes. She said she lived with her old mother around a bend in the road ahead and if I'd go with her she'd give me all I wanted to eat and a little money to help me on to a better condition.

She took me to a spick and span place. and set me down before a bright fire, where I could warm myself, for it wasn't in the line o' my business to wear seasonable clothes, and off she goes to git me somep'n to eat. First thing I knew i beered a squawkin in the chicken house and, tookin' out through a winder, saw the gal choppin' the head off'n a fat ben. For a while I couldn't believe that she was fool enough to kill a chicken for me, and I didn't feel sure of it till I heered it sizzlin' on the stove.

All this while I was thinkin' how I'd commence the business I was there My usual game was to find out where the money was kept or at least in what part of the house to look for it. Sometimes I did this by roundbout questions, sometimes by obser-ation. If I could learn this before istin" the pirate flag it made the occurred to me that while the gal of the that she could sell for 25 ants a pound I might go up the front sirway and take a look into the bu-

Goin' softly, I turned into a bedtoom on the second floor. I opened the top drawer of the bureau and find-in nothin opened an inlaid box on the mantei. Among a few trinkets and other small articles nestled a roll of bills. I took em out, stuffed 'em in my pocket and was turnin' to leave the room when I saw an old lady standin' there lookin' at me. She turned white as a sheet, ran into a

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th. "I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night.

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief.

In two days, the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

room, locked the door, and I heard ber raise a sash and call out to her daughter that there was a robber in the house. I ran downstairs, intendin' to light out, but met the gal in the hall. She looked as if she hadn't yet got on to the fact that I was the robber her mother was talkin' about.

"Where is he?" she asked. "I reckon he went down the back stairs," I said.

If the old woman hadn't recovered from her scare enough to unlock ber-self and come downstairs I would 's' said I'd look for him in the back yard and got away in that direction. she saw me she screamed and, runnin' back into her room, locked herself in again. This put the gal on to my true object. She gave me a look of disappointment and repreach that did me more damage than a bullet would 'a' done. Then she said:

"On mother's account I prefer to tell you that all the money there is in the house is in a box on the mantel in the room at the head of the stairs. We have no jewelry of any value, and all the silver we own is in the sideboard. I've prepared a meal for you, for I confess I was moved by your pitiful story and appearance. The meal is on the table for you, and you might as well eat it. I'll go up and get the money for you."

The only reply I made was to put my hand in my pocket, take out the bills and hand 'em to her.

"I've done this kind of a job a great many times," I said, "but this is the first time I've wished I hadn't."

Whether it was what I said or the way I looked I don't know, but that soft heart o' hern thawed again, and she actually seemed to want to make me feel better about it.

"By sayin' that you're sorry," she said, "you have done all you can to atone for your fault. That is all any of us can do when we sin against our Heavenly Father, and I forgive you as I hope to be forgiven myself. come into the dining room and eat a good dinner. I've killed a chicken for you, and I have some cream potatoes and have made you a cup of coffee. can give you bread and butter and honey for dessert."

I didn't realize it at the time, but it was this treatment that in the end lodged me in jail. The best way to thaw out a cold hearted person is thaw yourself. There's lots o' criminals that are born wrong, and nobody can't do nothin' with 'em, and they can't do nothin' with themselves. But those of us who have got a spark o' decency in us can't stand kindness any more than other people, and unless we've got some criminal blood in our veins we've got to be switched off by it on to the main track.

"If you'll sit down with me," I said to the gal, "I'll do it. Not that it's fit that I should sit with you at table, but I couldn't eat unless you did."

She sat down opposite the coffeepot and poured me a cup of coffee. Then with her own hands she helped me to the chicken, askin' me if I liked white or dark meat. Then she landed some of the cream potatoes on my plate, and when I gave her a wistful look, that meant I wished she'd try to eat somethin' herself, she took a bit o' the chicken and some bread and butter and eat it for my sake.

She didn't give me a lecture when I left her; it was no more necessary than givin' me another dinner and would have gone against me just as much. She just said: "Some day when you are along this way again drop in. The latchstring is always out, and there are more chickens in the roost."

I didn't think I could say anything at fust. I jest looked down at the floor, but before I got out o' hearin' I turned and said:

"I don't know what my next line o work'll be, but it won't be this one, and it's all owin' to you."

I left her standin' in the front yard lookin' after me, and I kind o' thort her eyes were a bit moist, but the only thing she said was "God help you," and, turnin', went into the house. I reckoned she went up to her mother, who'd been kind o' quiet all the while.

hunted till I got a job and after I'd been to work awhile concluded to make a visit to the gal who had con verted me and report progress. She seemed glad to see me, but she said that her mother had been so frightened at my last appearance that it had made her ill. She said, too, that if I'd allow her to git me up another dinner I'd make her really happy. I saw that she meant it, and, although I wasn't hungry, I let her do it. I'd have caten shark's teeth to please her.

I went to see her every now and then after that. On one of my visits I found her lookin' unusually happy, and she told me she was engaged to be married. I tried to look pleased and sympathetic and all that, but it was mighty hard.

"You'll come to my weddin', won't you?" she asked, and, seein' she meant it, I promised to go.

I would ruther have been burned at the stake than to go and see her married. I couldn't help showin' that I'd be glad to stay away, but I didn't give her the awful secret I was carryin' about as to why I didn't want to be there. When the day came around I was on hand, sure enough, though it was no use tryin' to look cheerful.

My goin' brought on a crisis that had to come, I suppose, sooner or later. The police were lookin' for me, and at one of my visits to the gal who'd got the upper hand o' me some one I'd previously robbed saw me comin' out o' the house and set the cops on to me, and they watched the place for me. Durin' the weddin' ceremony I felt a hand rest on my shoulder, and I knew what had happened. Without turnin' I whispered, "Don't interrupt the weddin' and let me slide out quiet."

He had the decency to do as I asked, and I stood there lookin' at the bride and groom bein' tied together. It was mighty hard, and if I could 'a' got out without bein' noticed I'd 'a' gone at once with the cop. But the minute the par-son said "man and wife" I took the arm-luckily he was in plain clothes and walked out with him as though he was a particular friend o' mine. I didn't look back neither, fearin' to catch the bride's eye.

I'm payin' the penalty of it all, and i suppose if it hadn't been for one act of kindness when I get out I'd go into the old business. But the gal who did it, though she doesn't belong to me, stands in the way. For her sake, what ever I do, I'll have to be honest.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and dranghty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk. The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIEROE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

This famous Doctor's prescription has been recommended for over 40 years, and is today just as big a success. Restores a healthy appetite. Cleanses the blood. Strengthens the nerves. Regulates stomach and liver. Demand the original.

While a certain simplicity should be while a certain simplicity should be maintained in living room furnishings, as in the rest of the rooms in the house, there is more liberty for the use of pictures and other ornamentation. For this reason a plain wall covering is preferable. It will be a better background for pictures and for everything in the room. The overdraperies may be of figured material, but not too strong or brilliant in design. ways effective. Here strong contrasts may often be used to the advantage of the whole room.

Care should be exercised to avoid the use of too many warm colors or too many cold colors together. In a room that is mostly green or blue or gray it is necessary to introduce warm bits of red, yellow or orange in the pillows or coverings to "bring the room together" and avoid monotony. A single brilliantly covered pillow or table mat will sometimes accomplish this in a room that is otherwise oppressively "gray." The warm colors always dominate the colder, less assertive ones. For this reason if the wall coverings and draperies are warm in color a great deal of soft green, blue or gray must be used to obtain any contrasting effect. Ways and Means of Keeping the Young Convalescent Amused.

During a long convalescence it is very necessary to keep the patient's thought away from herself and with the wider world of affairs and men. This is true whether the patient is child or adult. One little girl, who was confined to her room for months, dressed dolls for a children's hospital. When one was completed her mother took it to the hospital and gave it personally to some child, coming home to relate the whole "wonderful experience" to her own little invalid.

The trained nurse who was with them taught the child how to bandage, how to give a bath and take a temperature, taking pains to explain to her why things were done. This not only made her willing to be cared for, but sowed in her mind the rudiments of nursing and encouraged the interest that has since made her a wonderful

Another girl made all sorts of dolls' hats, her favorite one being a "mush-room shape," fashioned from an orange peel and trimmed with quids of the reverse side of the same material. The only way for her to obtain the hat material was to eat the orange-a method of forcing the appetite that is Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—Receipts at the Union stockyards today were 122 cars, with 2,193 cattle, 160 calves, 1,299 hogs, 481 sheep and lambs, and 20 horses. There was a moderately good run of cattle at the Union stockyards to-day. Trade was not too brisk and a heavier run would probably have made it hard to maintain prices at last week's levels. As it was prices were not more than steady on the best grades and inclined to ease off on the commoner grades. Two or three loads of choice steers sold from $6.75 up to $7.00, the latter figure being top price for the day, and only about a couple of loads at that. Three good loads sold at $6.90. The general run of fair to good butchers 'ran from $6.00 to $6.40. Good fat butcher cows steady at Alvinston—Messrs, A. H. Gilroy and J. W. Kedwell.

Strathroy—Mr. David Evans.
While a number of subjects of natural interest to agricultural associations were discussed, the chief business before the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the striking of a schedule of dates for the holding of the fall exhibitions for the circuit. The election of officers resulted as follows:—
President—Mr. W. A. Brock, Petrolea.
1st Vice-Pres.—A. H. Gilroy, Alvinston.

Ist vice-Pres.—A. H. Gilloy, Alvinston.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Samuel Bailey, Forest.
Sec.-Treas.—David Evans, Strathroy.
After due consideration, and with the full approval of the representatives present the following schedule of dates was adopted on motion of Messrs. Gilroy and Marriott:— Marriott :-

Address and Presntation.

A very pleasant time was spent on Wednesday evening, Feb. 5th, when the many friends connected with the Walnut church gathered at the home of Mrs. C. Dolbear to spend a social evening before the departure of her daughter. Mrs. Russell Powell, for her new home.

5. During the evening Mrs. Powell was called before the gathering and presented with a silver cake plate, biscuit jar and a casserole. The following address was read by Mrs. John Hawes:—

To Mrs. Russell Powell,—
Dear Alma

Dear Alma

We, your friends of Walnut, have assembled here to spend an evening with you, prior to your leaving for your new home.

w home. You have endeared yourself to all, by You have endeared yourself to all, by your most amiable disposition, and we always have had your hearty co-operation in whatever was undertaken here. You will be missed from the choir especially, where you have been a member for some time, and where you were untiring in your efforts to do your part.

We are sorry to lose you from our midst, and still we are glad that your removal will not be far away, and may God spare you many years, to lend your life in usefulness to the church and vicinity where you are about to go.

As a remembrance of our happy associations and a slight token of esteem, we ask you to accept these gifts, and with them our best wishes to you and your lusband for a long and happy wedded life.

Mrs. Powell made a suitable reply, thanking one and all. Afterwards an oyster supper was served by the ladies.
