Saturday is your last chance to get a congooleum or linoleum rug at these specially reduced prices. See our stock.—Swift's Sale. Mrs. W. J. Thompson, Ontario St., is attending the Religious Educational Convention being held in Kitchener this week. Before returning she will spend some time with relatives in Galt, Preston and Hamilton. The second quarterly meeting of the official board of the Watford Methodist circuit will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Trustee Board will meet at 9 o'clock. One of the artistic and lavish productions yet made by Cosmopolitan Corporation, "Enemies of Women" by Blasco Ibanez, (author of the Four Horsemen), will be presented with an Orchestra at the Lyceum, Next Wednesday, Nov. 5th. Swifts have a big stock to turn into cash. Come with the crowd and get bargains. The Board of Education held a meeting at the High School on Wednesday afternoon, to examine the premises, pass on improvements, repairs, etc., to the building and equipment and plans laid for even more extensive beautifying of the grounds. After being in power in Britain only nine months, the labor party under Ramsey MacDonald went down to defeat at the polls on Wednesday. Conservatives show great gains and if early returns are a criterion, Stanley Baldwin will again be Premier of Great Britain. Farmers have been telling us for the past few weeks that potatoes were too big a crop this year, and consequently prices were too low. Huge potatoes are being shown here and there through the country as proofs of abnormal yields, but The Guide-Advocate has one on the scales that the grower says will cap them all. David Skillen brought a basketful (if we remember rightly, there were five potatoes in it) to this office to prove to us the fertility of Watford clay, informing us that these were quite ordinary samples picked at random from his garden. One was selected which seems a little heavier than the rest and it weighed 3 1/2 lbs., 19 inches around the chest and had the appearance of a regular Irish huskie. Although since being confined to the odor of printer's ink it has lost almost half-a-pond in weight, there is still enough honest-to-goodness potato to feed a good-sized family. We did plan on storing three bags for the winter, but on receiving Dave's generous contribution, we immediately cut our order to two!

Heavy ribbed all wool combinations, $2.98 per pair.—Swift's Sale. Goodyear Fabric Tires $7. Cord $7.75. Best grade guaranteed over-size cord, $12.—R. Morningstar. Edward, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fowler. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Styles, Sarnia, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Styles, over the week end. A special of men's pyjamas real heavy flannel, $2.98 per pair. Swift's Sale. About seventy persons responded to the invitation of Mrs. and Miss Thompson when they received last week. "Shell" Gasoline Just received a carload of extra high test, for cold weather, best that money can buy.—R. Morningstar. See big sheet for Swift's Sale. Read carefully, bring it with you. Big reductions, goods must be sold. Mrs. Angus Mitchell left on Tuesday for Beausejour, Man., where she will spend the winter with her son, Harry, also with J. H., in Prince Alberta. Private Wm. Wesley Shepherd, of the 17th pursuit squadron, Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Michigan, returned to duty on Saturday after spending a month's furlough at his home here. Rev. E. J. Roulston of Arkona, gave a very interesting lecture on Monday night to the Y. P. L. on the Methodist Church. The pictures of the pioneer missionaries in Ontario Manitoba, British Columbia and Nova Scotia. Perhaps the most interesting was a picture of Captain Webb of the British Army of occupation at Quebec about 1790 A. D. Barbara Heck in her old fashioned poke bonnet was also shown on the screen. She has the honor of being one of the founders of Methodism both in New York and in Canada. 35 Yearling Steers, stockyards, Watford, Saturday, Nov. 1st.—E. L. Moffatt, prop., J. F. Elliot, Auct.

"HOME TIES" WELL RECEIVED IN ALVINSTON

(Alvinston Free Press)

The play, "Home Ties," put on by the Watford Y. P. S. in the Parish Hall on Friday evening was well received by those in attendance, and the young people who took part in it are to be congratulated upon their stage ability. The play, which was a three-act farce, was full of amusing and mirth-provoking actions and sayings throughout and kept the house in uproarious laughter. Miss May Reid, who took the part of "Mrs. Poplin" widow with a pension and symptoms, and Jim Forest, the part of "Lindy Jane" the negro servant girl, had the comical parts in the sketch and carried out their parts well. Needless to say the other actors and actresses did their parts equally well, culminating the whole farce into an enjoyable evening. Mrs. Secord of Alvinston furnished piano instrumentals during intermissions, which were much enjoyed.

WEDDINGS

SIDDALL—CRAWFORD

A wedding was solemnized at Knox Presbyterian Church, London, Saturday, October 25th, at 3 o'clock, when Miss Ada Kathleen Crawford, daughter of Peter A. Crawford, of Lobo, became the bride of George Howie Siddall, lately of Watford. Rev. A. Symington officiated. Owing to the recent death of the bridegroom's mother, the wedding was very quiet. Dr. W. G. Siddall assisted his brother and Mrs. Siddall was the bride's attendant. The bride wore a smart three-piece suit with cut velvet tunic and French hat, and wore the bridegroom's gift, a gold wrist watch. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Siddall left on a wedding trip to Toronto and Montreal. On their return they will take up residence at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Shell" Gas Great Aid to Round-the-World Flyers

The following tribute to the high test qualities of "Shell" Gas has been made voluntarily by the American flyers who recently completed their round-the-world flight:— The "Shell" Gasoline which you shipped to Iceland and Greenland for the American Round World Flight proved entirely satisfactory. Our Flight met with its greatest difficulties in the arctic regions, heavy polar pack ice on the east coast of Greenland made it necessary to fly direct from Iceland to West Greenland and the high test qualities of "Shell" Gasoline contributed largely to the success of this long and dangerous flight. "Shell" Gas is distributed in Watford territory by Ray Morningstar, Watford Ford Garage. —adv.

East Lambton Vote

In East Lambton, there was very little difference in the vote on Thursday than that of 1919, every municipality in the riding having a majority in favor of the O. T. A. which will probably total, 4,500. Some of the majorities were, Watford 302; Arkona 148; Thedford 175; Alvinston 159; Inwood 81; Warwick 754; Plympton 819; Bosanquet 729. In West Lambton the vote was closer, Sarnia gave a majority of 566 for Government Control. Courtright was the solitary village in West Lambton, except Point Edward, to vote for government control. The vote in that village was O. T. A. 83; government Control 104. Returns from other municipalities in the constituency were Sombra, O. T. A. 113, government sale 50; Corunna O. T. A. 118, government control 83; Mooretown, O. T. A. 116; government control 44; Bradshaw O. T. A. 64, government control 20; Bickford O. T. A. 81, government control 30; Wilkesport, O. T. Employer (to applicant for a position, who has handed in testimonials from two ministers—"We don't work on Sundays. Haven't you a reference from some one who sees you on 'week days'?"

An American religious organization declares that there is no Hades. This has impressed us so deeply that we have decided to send for our income-tax collector and tell him what we understand it isn't possible for him to do as we told him. U. S. paper.

The ridiculous way that Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle talk about heaven reminds one of the little girl who rummaging in a drawer, exclaimed: "There's Grandma's gone to heaven without her spectacles!"

When fiscal matters engage the attention of the Canadian Parliament at its next session there is likely to be a discussion of the remarkable growth in the trade between Canada and her late enemy, Germany, and of the possibility of taking steps to facilitate that commerce.

A sad feature of the Old World situation is that Ireland is not the only country pursuing war ends. There is desperate fighting in several other lands, even Pacifist China leads the way with the bloodiest of struggles. But if Ireland is wise she will not add to the European and Asiatic carnage.

The palm for pure, unadulterated candor must, of necessity, be handed to editor of the Glencoe Transcript, who after meeting Mayor Wenige of London at luncheon tendered Western Ontario newspaper men by the London Chamber of Commerce, returned home and wrote this one:—

"The daily papers have been giving so many details of the private life of the Prince and perhaps we may be excused if we draw attention to the fact that His Royal Highness did not retire to his bed until his train had passed through Glencoe. London, however, has no interest for him; even the possibility of seeing Mayor Wenige did not keep him awake."

He Found Them Polite

Arthur W. Ellis, who publishes the Petrolia Advertiser-Topic, recently returned from a three months' visit to Europe. Mr. Ellis crossed the pond with the Canadian Weekly Newspaper party, but spent an extra month on the Continent. In a recent issue Mr. Ellis had the following interesting paragraph: "One thing with which we are particularly charmed when in England and Scotland was the politeness of everyone. It was no more marked amongst the persons in the street than it was amongst persons of high degree. "Thank you sir," came as naturally to the lips of one as to the other. The same applies to Holland. In our hotel in Amsterdam the first morning's greeting was "Good morning" from the chambermaid, elevator boy, porters, assistant manager or manager, and revolving door attendant, who also thanks you for allowing him to swing round the door to let you out. It is not given in any fawning way, but seems to have been part of their education. In France they may have been just as polite, but as our French vocabulary was limited to two words, 'Oui' and 'consomme', we are unable to say. The French, however, know how to charge in English, and many of us consider that they mistook us for Germans and were collecting reparations as they went along."

IF OUR MERCHANTS and their sales clerks were not a mighty good natured bunch of folk, whose rough edges have been worn down by much contact with human nature, they would have reason to get quite grouchy at times. There are some persons who will go, or send, to more or less distant cities and make important purchases. Then when they want some little thing in a hurry and must have it for some pressing need, will rush to the home store and demand that it must be supplied to them right away and sometimes ask that it be charged. They expect their home men to keep stocked up with carloads of goods yet fail to supply their share of the patronage that would warrant their keeping such stock. A group of retail stores link up a town with a wonderful system for distributing modern products for home merchant brings to your door the comforts of advanced civilization where you can examine and see what you want. Are you doing what you should to encourage them? The men who own and conduct the stores in Watford are mostly a loyal force working to build up this community, helping by paying taxes and providing modern facilities to improve its civic advantages and promote its prosperity. When you deal with them you back up and help them in making Watford a bigger and better town. Think of these things the next time you take your pen in hand to sign a cheque or P. O. money order to order goods from some place that has no more interest in Watford than they have in Europe or Africa.

Observe Armistice Day

The usual Armistice Day two-minute silence will be observed on Tuesday, November 11th, at 11 o'clock, throughout the British Empire. This is in addition to the observance of Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day on Monday, November 10.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

The best way to deal with the drunken driver is not only to put him in jail, but to deny him the right to drive a car for long period after his release. The number of such drivers is large enough to constitute a grave menace to the public safety. It ought to be an established policy, applicable without exception in such cases, that the menace must be removed from the highways.

The enforcement of such a policy might tend to make the prohibition laws better observed and that certainly would be a good thing. But the immediate and main advantage of life and limb, so far as this is humanly possible, is the first duty of organized government.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT

(Forest Free Press)
 A few weeks ago a Forest merchant ran a ten-inch advertisement in a city paper, which cost him $15.00 of his good money. Not more than 50 copies of the said paper came to Forest and neighborhood, therefore the advertisement was of very little, if any, benefit to the merchant. The same advertisement in The Forest Free Press would have cost the merchant $2.00, and it would have gone into 900 homes in Forest and vicinity, and have been of great value to the merchant. Besides that, the $15.00 that went to the city paper will be kept there, whereas the $2.00, if spent with The Free Press, would have been returned to the Forest business places, and probably to the same merchant.

WEEKLY PAPERS GONE

The meeting of the Western Ontario division of the weekly newspaper publishers, held in London, last Friday, brought out the interesting fact that there are today forty-five fewer weekly papers published in the eight counties represented than there were ten years ago. The eight counties are Essex, Huron, Kent, Lambton, Middlesex, Norfolk, Oxford and Perth. When the war broke out in 1914 there were 99 papers in these counties, and today there are only 54, which means that the greatly increased cost of publication has wiped out 45 weekly papers, a loss of nearly 46 per cent. The greatest falling off was in Lambton, there being now only five weekly papers in the county, compared with fifteen in 1914. It is those publishers who advanced their rates to a living basis that have survived. There has been a similar falling off all over the Dominion.

Castor oil is said to be one of the principal ingredients used by the French chemists in manufacturing a substitute for gasoline as motor fuel. There is a strong sentiment in juvenile circles in favor of devoting the entire output of this unpalatable liquid to mechanical purposes.

SOME KICK

Now that the plebiscite campaign is over, it may perhaps be permissible for us to reprint the following story from the Prince Albert News:—

Dopy tells a story about a tiny ant who gazed longingly, but helplessly, at the body of a dead horse. Just then a bootlegger's truck rattled by and a case of stuff fell over the tail gate and crashed to the ground. A puddle formed and the ant took one sip. Then he seized the dead horse by the tail and shouted: "Come big boy, we're going home!"

The Principal Functions of Banking

THE two principal functions a bank performs are receiving deposits and advancing credit. Our resources and liquid position, due to a continuous policy of conservative management, enable us to offer absolute security for savings. They place us in a position, also, where we can offer generous terms of credit to firms whose financial position warrants it.

6,522 Polls Out of 7,332.
For O. T. A. 541,003
For Government Control . . 501,124

Majority for O. T. A. . . . 39,879

Toronto, Oct. 24. With the majority now close to the 40,000 mark and climbing slowly as the remaining outlying polls are heard from, there are prospects that the final majority for the retention of the O. T. A. in the plebiscite yesterday will reach 50,000. The "dry" majority has grown steadily, though with increasing slowness, since the polls remaining to be heard from were almost entirely small ones, ever since the early majority for Government control disappeared near midnight last night. Thus Ontario has declared against, following the lead of the four Western provinces into the "wet" column.

Something over 1,000,000 citizens of the province went to the polls yesterday and, while the urban population was overwhelmingly against prohibition, the farming districts remained true to form and proved as emphatically "dry". The result is that the Ontario Temperance Act of 1916, confirmed in 1919, by a majority of 407,000, in a plebiscite held in connection with the provincial elections, has been again upheld, though the majority vote is apparently cut to about one-eighth of that figure. Returns are still very incomplete, but the missing polls are expected to add to the dry column.

Much Discussion

The result of the cleavage between city and farm is that much discussion has arisen in the urban centers on the possibility of some form of local option to give to separate communities their chosen system of liquor restrictions. There is even talk, reflected unofficially in newspaper columns, of a concerted movement in the Legislature on the part of representatives from "wet" areas. The most notable of these is Toronto, where eight separate constituencies went "wet". The attitude of the Provincial Government, however, as reflected in a statement issued by Premier Ferguson, after a long cabinet meeting to-day, is that the present liquor legislation has been upheld by popular vote and the Government intends to abide by that vote. The attitude of prohibition leaders here is that the principle of prohibition has been upheld and that their next concern will be with nation-wide prohibition. The Moderation League, which sponsored the appeal for the sale of liquor under Government control, suggests that in the light of yesterday's results prohibitory legislation will be difficult of enforcement in urban centers and suggests some system of local option as a solution of the difficulty.

Calls For Local Option

In commenting upon the revised returns, C. D. Boyce, general secretary of the Moderation League of Ontario, stated: "It is still my personal opinion that local option will have to be put into effect in Ontario, in view of the comparatively small majority on the large vote east and the attitude taken by residents of cities and towns on the question. Whether or not active steps will be taken with the object of having a system of local option introduced is a question that will, in all probability, be considered shortly by the Moderation League."

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Following is the provincial summary this morning—6,591 sub divisions out of 7,332 show—for Ontario Temperance Act 542,196 for Government control 501,828; dry majority 40,368.

Very little change in the standing of the vote on the Ontario Temperance Act was apparent this morning. The majority for prohibition hovered around 40,000 with several hundred polls still to hear from. It is not likely that any close estimate of the majority can be formed until the official count is announced.

No Concessions

Premier Ferguson was asked if the government would bring in a local option bill in view of the fact that most of the bigger centres of population had voted against prohibition.

The government cannot give any concessions to "wet" cities, replied Mr. Ferguson. "The result of the vote is apparent, and the issue was one clearly defined, and agreed upon by both parties beforehand."

Jail Term and Huge Fine Are Meted Out To Hon. Peter Smith

Former Treasurer of the Province in the late U. F. O. Government and Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., Found Guilty of Conspiracy to Defraud—Three Years Sentence and Joint Fine of $800,000 is Imposed and the Latter Gets Six Months in County Jail—Appeal Will be Entered—Pepall Jarvis Jr., are Acquitted.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Peter Smith, former treasurer of the province in the late U. F. O. government, and Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., was head of the former long-established and widely-known bond and brokerage house of Aemilius Jarvis & Company Limited, were late yesterday afternoon found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the province.

Smith was sentenced to serve three years in Portsmouth penitentiary, and Jarvis was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail. In addition, both men must remain in prison until fines are paid.

Aemilius Jarvis, Jr., son of the convicted broker, and Harry G. Pepall, vice-president and general manager respectively of the bond firm, were both found not guilty of conspiracy to defraud the province. The theft charges against all four were dismissed.

London, Ont., Oct. 25.—Chief Justice R. M. Meredith stated this morning that the six hundred thousand dollar fine which he imposed on Peter Smith and Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., was a collective one. "I do not care who pays it," he said "Jarvis or Smith."

Spent Night in Jail

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Peter Smith, former provincial treasurer of Ontario and Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., prominent yachtsman and head of the bond house bearing his name, spent the night in the county jail, following the sentence of Chief Justice R. M. Meredith of three years in penitentiary for the former treasurer and six months for the broker, in connection with their conviction by an assize court jury last evening of conspiracy to defraud the province.

This morning an attempt is being made to secure the freedom of Smith and Jarvis on bail while an appeal is taken in the case to the Appellate Division of the supreme court of Ontario on the question of alleged misdirection to the jury by the trial judge.

Wants Money Back

It is understood that a fine imposed on the convicted men by Chief Justice Meredith was $600,000 in all, not $800,000 each, as assumed in some quarters. This amount is to be paid, according to the judge's sentence, before either man is freed after the expiration of the prison term imposed in each case. His Lordship's intention was to secure return to the province of the amount lost to the public in the illegal transactions.

Fall Plowing Is Now General In Province

There Will be Plenty of Rough Feed For Stock in Lambton

The following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario department of agriculture.

Another week of excellent weather has permitted completion of many major crop harvests. Fall plowing has become more general in preparation for the next crop.

Potato rot is reported more prevalent which will have a tendency to offset the extra heavy yields in many localities. Market quotations range from 45c to $1.00 and in one case $1.25 per bag.

Livestock is being marketed freely but hauling out of other products, such as hay and grains, is being postponed until a more convenient season.

Cheese factories are operating later this year owing to the abundant pastures and favorable weather but many patrons and managers are now preparing for the winter disposition of milk and milk products.

Lambton—With three cuttings of alfalfa, plenty of straw and good ensilage corn crops, there will be plenty of roughage for feeding cattle. At a local auction sale this week, dairy cows did not sell above $65. The quality however, was not very high. Dairymen in the vicinity of Sarnia have been picking up some choice cows over the county at $100 a piece. Farmers are busily engaged in the north part of the county picking apples and in the southern part, lifting the sugar beets.

Algoma—This has been an exceptionally good fall for getting work done. The weather has been clear and warm for the past six weeks.

Bruce—A number of carloads of well finished export cattle are to be seen on the grass in several localities throughout the county. More requests have been received for federal assistance in the purchase of pure bred rams this fall than formerly. Evidently the average sheep raised is beginning to realize the value of using pure bred sires in his flock.

Kent—A few carloads of western steers have come into the county during the past week. We do not anticipate that a large number of cattle will be fed this year on account of the advanced prices of all grains. Similar to the last few weeks the run of hogs has been small. The prices being paid the farmer range from 10c to 10 1/4 cents. The number of hogs in the county is much smaller than at this time last year. Some districts are estimated at only 50 per cent. This again is due to the low price of pork during summer as well as the increased cost of feed and the decreased yield of corn.

Let There Be Light

The familiar but heretofore unadopted-proposal that lights be displayed on all vehicles, horse-drawn as well as motor, using the high-ways at night came before the recent conference of the Wardens of Ontario counties and Provincial authorities, with a resulting agreement to advocate enactment of legislation requiring such display—a decision that seems to leave small field for argument, inasmuch as it is based upon sound commonsense.

Rural opposition has always blocked the proposal as it has recurred from year to year; but that opposition has evidently now seen a light that will in due course be reflected upon the highways of the Province, to the better safeguarding of all users of those highways, be their source of transportation power engine or gasoline.

The benefits derived will split between the two, with the scale inclined in favor of the man behind the horse, for impact between his and the motor driven vehicle usually has results more disastrous to the former than to the latter.

The increased volume of motor traffic and the accelerated rate of its speed, due to the betterment of the highways, has made travel by night in a vehicle minus a warning light a dangerous thing.

'Tis true the owner of the horse-drawn vehicle may be put to some expense in providing lighting equipment, but such outlay will rank small beside the cost of a first-class funeral, and the possibility of expenditure upon the latter will be much lessened, once the warning radiance is installed.

"IN THE PUBLIC EYE"
By Carl A. Class

AN eye-headache some times accompanied by an earache and burning sensations of the eyes is caused by an over effort of the brain to understand a blurred image that has been thrown on the retina of the eye. In the eye-camera the foci are changed by the eye muscles that swell and reduce the shape of the crystalline lens. When these muscles become weakened an optometrist must prescribe the outer-man-made lenses to bring about this focus accommodation.

An Oil of Merit.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is not a jumble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but the result of the careful investigation of the healing qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

To See What Other Half Is Doing.

One reads almost daily that so many automobiles have been shipped to foreign countries, that Canadian agricultural implements and other manufactured articles are finding foreign markets, and now one reads that there is an increasing demand in China and Japan for Canadian wheat and that thousands of bushels of grain are being shipped to Oriental Ports. Of vital importance is this news to the Canadian, because the growth of Canadian exports means that new industries are being created, that more employment is guaranteed, that more money is placed in general circulation, and that there are more opportunities for the workman, manufacturer and commercial man, and a larger home market for the farmer.

But it means more than all this. The increasing demand for Canadian, American and European goods, which is apparent, means that the other half of the world—the world itself—is changing. The automobile is gradually replacing the rickshaw and the one horse cabs in the gateway ports of the world, and is working its way inland, not so slowly as it is surely. Fields that once knew only the primitive agricultural implements are being tilled with up-to-date machinery, and on the busy streets where people thronged in picturesque and native garb, the occidental costume does not strike a strange note. Customs are changing even in respect to foodstuffs. Outside the little restaurants one sees "English Speak Here", and knows that inside it will be harder to procure a native dish than a European one. Everywhere there is change. The Turks abolish their caliphate and their harems. The Greeks proclaim a republic, education for women appears in India. The Chinese are erecting modern factories.

Yet the world of romance still exists. Foreign countries still hold an allurements, and always will, but as the occidental civilization spreads, the Oriental atmosphere which, after all, is what the tourist goes to find, disappears before it, and the man of today has opportunity which those who come later will never see. Opportunity to see and come in contact with old customs, costumes, crafts and civilizations which are entering or about to enter a transient stage. Opportunity to experience the picturesque life of the other half of the world and to absorb at will the colorful atmosphere of strange lands; for the traveler may still feast his eyes upon the barbaric splendors of Pekin and experience the thrill of shopping in the tumultuous market place at Cairo. The auto has not yet replaced the sledge which taxis through the steep and cobbled streets of Madeira.

January 14th next will see the palatial Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of France leave New York on a globe encircling tour which will extend over 130 days. It will be a cruise which will embrace twenty-seven "Gateway Ports", and give the passengers opportunity of coming into contact with more than half a hundred different races. Madeira, Monaco, Naples, Haifa, Padang, Shanghai, Taku, Hilo, Balboa and Havana are but a few of the interesting ports of call, and inland excursions will be made to Jerusalem, Cairo, Agra for the Taj Mahal, Pekin, Nikko and other places. Last year another Canadian vessel, the Empress of Canada, made a similar trip—a very successful one—and the first to be operated under Canadian Pacific auspices throughout. A Mediterranean cruise is also planned this year by the Company, the Empress of Scotland being scheduled to leave New York, February 9th on a 62 day voyage, and, in addition, the Montroyal, formerly the Empress of Britain, will make two cruises that there is demand not only for Canadian foods, but for Canadian vessels, these last having won for themselves an enviable reputation on both the Atlantic and Pacific waters as seaworthy and comfortable ships.

A French Farm Home

The following description of a French farm home was taken from the Picton Gazette. Mr. A. E. Callan, the editor, who was overseas this year, was a successful farmer up to ten years ago, and is therefore in a position to write authoritatively on the subject of farms:

"There is always some compensation for all misfortune. There is no loss without some gain. This is nature's way of holding the balances even. I have already referred to the balky motorcar engine that resulted in the visit to La Chaudiere cemetery. This same delay also resulted in another most interesting experience. Just at the spot where we were held up for an hour or more was a French farm home built in the usual style of English and French farmsteads. It was in the war area and the buildings were new. They were built of red brick with tile roofs in a sort of square with the buildings all connected together on three sides and on the fourth side fenced in. The house and the main barn faced the road but there was no entrance to either from the roadside. The entrance was an arched driveway between the house and barn with doors that closed by night. The house and main barn were really one building, one and a half story high with continuous roof, the central driveway being merely an entrance with the barn loft over head. We were not in the house but we were through the other buildings. The ground floor of the barn was a cow stable with stalls for 24 cows. There were 20 cows in the stable when we visited it at 12 noon, June 25th. While we were there they were turned out on to a small bit of pasture for exercise, but they were practically stall-fed the year round. They were fine specimens of milch cows, big and roomy, and red in color. They were just about the type of cow one would expect to get from across between a good Short-horn and a Holstein, but I should say even bigger and roomier than either of these breeds. What is more they were in the pink of condition and milking heavily. So much for the cattle. Now for the stable and feeds.

The stable was the best I have ever seen. It was of brick with concrete mangers and reinforced concrete partitions between the cows. There was an individual water system. The stables were on the ground level. The upper floor was the storage loft for straw. Hay is not stored in England or France, it is stacked. The floor of the loft was of reinforced concrete with steel beams. A large quantity of wheat straw was stored there bound in bundles after being threshed by hand with the flail. This was used for bedding.

"At right angles with the cow barn and joining it was the horse stable. Joining the horse stables was the pig pen and joining this the machine shed. These made another side of the square. Some five or six good horses were in the stables. In the pig pen were 22 of the finest hogs I ever saw. There were three or four fine brood sows, some young pigs and some about ready for market. In the angle between the cow and horse barn, and built into it, was a sort of round structure or tower about ten feet in diameter. This proved to be a manure tank built in the silo style. The tank was in the second story and was used as a reservoir for the liquid manure that was pumped into it by a 2 h. p. electric pump from the collecting tank or cistern built under the stable floors, which are filled from grates in the drop behind the cows and horses. The liquid manure is taken direct to the fields in a tank mounted on a wagon like a watering cart. This was gravity filled from the storage tank. In the centre of the three-sided square, the other side of which is formed by a large poultry house and sort of store room, is the semi-circular manure pit for the solids. This is enclosed with a brick wall and has a concrete floor. Around the three sides of this were several small pits or silos for storing brewers' grains, which formed an important part of the live-stock rations. These pits were about four ft. deep, six feet long and four feet wide. One side is formed by the manure pit walls, the opposite side by another circular wall and the other sides by the partitions between. These are filled with brewers' grain, covered with clay and used as needed.

"The most striking thing about these farm buildings was the conservation of the valuable fertilizing elements that are largely wasted in Canada. Herein lies much of the secret of the wonderful fertility of the Belgian, French and English farms, where land that has been cropped for centuries continues to produce abundantly. Canadian farmers have much to learn from European methods. We are wasteful and inefficient."

LAMBTON LOAN CO. ARE ACCEPTING NOVEMBER BONDS

Interest Paid on Deposit or Conversion Made to Lambton Loan Debentures

The issue of the new Dominion government loan has established the fact that there is an enormous amount of money seeking profitable investment, the possessors of which are often unable to find an avenue which will offer a good rate of interest and at the same time provide the unquestioned security which is vital to the average investor.

In this connection attention is drawn to the debentures offered by the Lambton Loan and Investment Co., of Sarnia, an institution which for almost one hundred years has carried on a financial and investment business which has had few equals in the history of Canada. These debentures are for terms of one, two, three, four or five years bearing interest at the rate of 5 1/2 percent, carrying coupons payable twice a year. They are purchasable at any time and are backed by a capital and reserve of $1,700,000.

One of Best Available
Consideration of these circumstances show that the investment offered by the Lambton Loan and Investment Company is one of the most attractive on the market today and is sure to prove of unusual interest to those who desire to place their money in channels of assured safety and at the same time reap the benefits of an interest rate of 5 1/2 percent. The fact that this strong Lambton institution has served the public since its foundation in 1844 is a guarantee of integrity that cannot be overlooked.

The Lambton Loan and Investment Company is also accepting Government Bonds of November maturity, and will allow interest either on their deposit or conversion to Lambton Loan and Investment Company Debentures.

If advantage is taken of this offer now, it will mean a bonus of four weeks interest. The longer you wait, the less bonus of interest you will receive. The new Dominion Loan has all been taken up, and the present holders of Bonds, maturing in November 1924, will have to find some other outlets for their money, and what better investment could be made than with a Loan Company, whose money is all placed in the surrounding country and consequently helping to build up Lambton County. The Company will be glad to supply any further information desired. A personal call at our office, 191 Front Street, Sarnia, is always appreciated. o17-3

Toronto's Night Life

Toronto is a puzzle to all but the home folks, writes Gregory Clark in a Toronto paper.

The city of churches—and the greatest racing city in the Dominion. Headquarters of the temperance forces of Canada—but plenty of drug stores and bootleggers and breweries in active eruption.

Gateway to one of the grandest summer resort regions in the world—yet a chilly, inhospitable city to the stranger.

It hasn't a single cabaret. Its public dance halls have dwindled to two in number, two little, modest ones.

A city of over half a million, and it can only create a demand for one tea dance, which, at that, is not a regular institution.

Yet the man who would say that Toronto doesn't have a good time—absolutely as good a time as it wants—would be crazy.

The fact is, what Toronto regards as a good time happens to be different from the idea of a good time held by the people of Montreal, Buffalo, Winnipeg, New York, Detroit or San Francisco.

And that is definitely and finally proven by the night life of Toronto. Toronto is the only city of its size in America that has no downtown night life.

The corner of King and Yonge streets, at twenty minutes past eight at night, is the abode of shadows. A small trickle of people pass the great heart of Toronto, hastening somewhere else. Motor cars slow up and slew cautiously around the corner, afraid of the shadows. There is no traffic cop. One would be absurd.

The crowd thins and thins, as the hours pass from 8.30 to 10.30. Then there comes a surge of people from the theatres. But they don't linger. They pile aboard cars. The night is racy with motor cars on their way.

By 11.15 those still abroad have a mischievous air. By a quarter to twelve the policeman is standing prominently at a corner, as though reminding the stragglers still disturbing his peace. By midnight the taxi drivers, like stage hands after the curtain is down and the audience departed, arrive noisily at the one-arm lunches to count their takings and soak up a doughnut in coffee.

But has Toronto no night life? Does Toronto go to bed or the theatre at 8 p.m.?

Toronto has a night life. A night life just as active and lively and full of excitement and fun as you will ever see on Broadway or the Loop. But it isn't a downtown night life. It's an uptown night life.

It is a small movie theatre, drug store soda parlor, a rural sort of night life. It is as if Toronto were a series of towns run together, but each retaining its individuality. The celebrants of Bloor street get to know the other evening promenaders by sight, just as the people of Galt or Brampton get to know each other.

The bright lights of Danforth are miles longer than the bright lights of Yonge street. King street, at its most crowded hour after sunset, is a village thoroughfare compared to the big jam on St. Clair avenue.

What are the throngs doing? No less than the throngs of Broadway or Hollywood. Ice cream and French pastry is as well-made on Danforth as on Woodward avenue. Hundred-watt lamps are the same all over America. A wait is a wait. A pound is fifteen and a half ounces.

Gloria Swanson dazzles no less brightly from the screen on St. Clair than from the screen of the Rialto. There is a standard of excellence to the playing of the violin or the piano which only a few surpass. The electric sky signs, the paint, the gilt and glitter of all the artificers can never surpass the glory of a fruit store window, a barbaric plunge of color. Then the people—their clothes, their faces, their expressions, the feel of throngs of them passing and following and preceding.

And Bloor street doesn't come intruding on St. Clair, nor does College go invading Danforth.

Toronto is a puzzle to all but the home folks.

But the home folks understand. Toronto has another kind of night life besides the theatres and ice-cream parlors. It is in the realms of sport.

There are numerous parks in this big city, in which cricket, tennis, soft ball and lawn bowling take place. It is quite interesting to wander through these parks and watch the different games. Toronto has more bowling-greens than any other city in America.

Where Wigs Are Worn.

Wig-making is an art in itself but is too limited to provide a very lucrative job for the makers. In England the total output does not exceed 250 a year. A barrister, more especially a "newly called" one, has no particular liking for a new wig, which marks him out as a "prentice hand."

Continuing the PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Convocation of Presbyterians

For the district will be held in St. Andrew's Church Schoolroom, Sarnia, at 2 o'clock and 7.30 on FRIDAY, OCT. 31st, to consider

THE CHURCH UNION VOTE BY BALLOT

The afternoon meeting will be for organization, the evening meeting for addresses.

This convocation is for information. Come and learn the exact situation so that you may act before it is too late. EVERY CONGREGATION in this district should be largely represented.

Delegates need not be appointed. Let all true Presbyterians come, men and women. A round table conference will be conducted, and outstanding speakers will address the meeting.

"The more 'toned down' the wig is, the better he likes it. As for the older barrister, one wig will usually last him all his life. The average cost of a barrister's wig is from $20 to $30, while a K.C.'s full-bottom wig can cost as much as $70.

The hair has to go through many processes—boiling, bleaching, curling—before it is ready to adorn the head of either advocate or judge; and the making of a single wig will occupy a skilled worker a week, or more.

Most legal luminaries are as carefully fitted for a wig as for a suit of clothes; and the sizes and shapes vary considerably. The average wig is about twenty-two inches in circumference; occasionally a wig may be twenty-four inches or more.

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

An insect has been discovered that bores into the metallic furnishings of telephone instruments. The buzzing sound frequently heard may be due to the operations of the invisible drillers.

Jubilee Celebrated By Warwick Methodist Church

Former Pastors Deliver Addresses at Sunday Services.

Warwick Methodist Diamond Jubilee services were a great success. On Sunday morning, Rev. C. C. Couzens, of Chicago, former junior pastor over 50 years ago, preached an eloquent and inspiring sermon to a crowded church. In the evening, in order that all might be comfortably seated, service was held in the church shed, and Rev. Geo. Jewitt, pastor of the church some 30 years ago, preached a very appropriate and practical sermon. Anthems by the home choir and solos by Mr. A. E. Laschinger, of Elmira, added much to the interest of the day.

On the Monday following a hot supper was served to hundreds of people, after which a very unique and suitable program was given. Mrs. W. Brush of Watford, and Mr. Laschinger, rendered very beautiful vocal solos. Mr. Archie Dewar, delighted the audience with his charming violin, while Mr. Manson, of Forest, gave several piano selections. Greetings from the neighboring churches were timely and appropriate. Rev. H. V. Workman, of Watford, represented the Presbyterian church, Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner, the Congregational, and Rev. Jennings, of Warwick, the Anglican church. Rev. S. J. Thompson, chairman of the district and pastor of Watford, Methodist church was also present and gave an address.

The audience was delighted to hear reminiscent addresses from five of the former pastors, Rev. C. C. Couzens, Rev. Geo. Jewitt, of London, Rev. R. I. Hosking, of London, Rev. S. Anderson, of Forest and Rev. H. Kennedy, of Morpet. Communications were read from other former pastors unable to be present, Rev. H. T. Crossley, Rev. Chas. Barltrop, Rev. H. W. McTavish, and Rev. R. C. Burton.

Early History
During the evening an historic sketch of the old church and community was given by Rev. A. R. Johnston, the present pastor. These are some of the facts recorded:— In 1827 the Indians were first placed on the reserve, which added greatly to the settlement of the township. In 1832 Robert Hume, drove from Ottawa, via Toronto and London, which at that time consisted of only a few homes and after many trying experiences reached 2nd concession, south and settled on the farm now owned by A. Kersey. In 1833 Joseph Little, a young man of 22 years, landed in Warwick to manage the estate of A. J. Kingston. At the same time Rev. Jas. Wans, who was sent to St. Clair Indian Reserve, used to make trips as far east as Warwick, and preach in private homes or any other available place. Robert Hume was the first to open his home for the gospel, then on account of the illness of Mrs. Edwards, service was changed and held in the Edwards' home. It may be of interest to know that the first white girl born in Warwick was Elizabeth Hume and the first white boy to be born was Elijah Burvell. In the process of time a church was contemplated. The present property was deeded on July 31, 1854 between Honorable Malcolm Cameron and his wife Christina and the following trustees: Jno. H. Barber, of Adelaide, Jno. Lett, of Brooke, Simpson Shepherd, of Plympton, and Wm. Mitchell, Jno. Shaw, Robert Campbell, and Joseph Little, all of Warwick. The property was a memorial to Christina Cameron and the trustees obtained full possession of it for 5 shillings. Preparation for building began in 1859 in the pastorate of Wm. Chapman and his wife. The first sewing circle was started and in an old account book, owned by Miss Shaw, of Watford, we find, received from the Ladies' Aid $45.65, in trust for the building of Warwick church, signed Jno. Shaw. In 1862 plans were completed and the lumber was brought from Bosanquet. It is believed it was purchased at Pine Hill. In the latter part of Jan. or early in February, 1863 the present church was dedicated. Mr. Gault and Mr. Wm. Morris, drove to Exeter to bring Mr. and Mrs. Chapman back for the opening. The first lighting plant, by way of lamps, was brought from London, by Uncle Joe Little and the children of Jno Shaw were so curious that they got up out of bed to see the lamps. Miss S. Shaw of Watford, has in her possession, two old class books dating back to 1851 and which give the names of the first members. Among these we find such names as Shaw, Little Reid, McCormick, Campbell, Hawn and Hume. It is interesting to note that the early members did not believe in having an organ in the church, but

Jno. Morris and Mersea Overton, were leaders in song. However in the process of time, an organ was purchased under the regime of Rev. C. Barltrop and Mrs. Kingstone, (nee Sara Minielly) became the organist. Mr. Humphrey was the first choir leader and among the members of the choir were: Mrs. Fowler, Miss C. Trusslee, Miss Williams, Miss Waugh, Mrs. Falloon, Miss Minielly, W. Morris and Jno. Williams.

Though the church has passed the 60th mile post, yet faithful ministers to the people long before there was a church. Before the dedication we find the names of Revs. Ratcliffe, Soodrich, Hardie, Dugman, Cozson, Constable, Webster, Case, Savage, Crews and Howard, and after the dedication, Shaw, C. Barltrop, Fallis, C. C. Couzens, Geo. Jewitt, S. Anderson, H. McTavish, R. I. Hoskins, H. Fair, H. Kennedy, R. C. Burton and A. R. Johnston, the present pastor. Parallel with this noble list were many probationers or assistant pastors, among them, Evangelist Hugh T. Crossley and Alex Langford.

Many of the honored pastors have fallen asleep as well as many of the first members of the church, but their mantle has fallen upon the present generation who are bearing the responsibilities of the church manfully, and loyally. The Diamond Jubilee services will long be remembered in the memories of the present members.

It costs nothing to make an estimate if you are a subscriber to that great weekly for 1925. The Family Herald has a wonderful program this season. It is admitted to be the best family and farm paper on this continent. A very handsome art calendar is also given to each subscriber. It is the biggest Two Dollars worth ever offered in Canada. Write for a sample copy or leave your subscription at this office. You will never regret it.

Lambton Winners in Field Corn

(By Agricultural Office)

There will be a normal quantity of Seed Corn for Lambton County Seed Corn purchasers for the Spring of 1925. The specialized Seed Corn producers crop is in good condition. In the majority of instances the regular mixed farmer who grows corn for his silo and saved only his own seed, selecting at the time of silo filling, will have to purchase his seed corn in the spring of 1925.

This being a late season the corn has not matured as rapidly as in former years. The earlier soil conditions, better seed selection and cultured methods have advanced the maturity of the corn grown by the specialized seed producer.

The standing of the fields competing in the Lambton Corn, Grain and Seed Growers' Association, Field Corn Crop Competition is as follows: 1st.—J. H. Powell, Inwood. 2nd.—Jas. Hand, Alvinston. 3rd.—Elton Zawitz, Croton. 4th.—Glen Payne, Pt. Lambton. 5th.—Jas. Walden, Theford. 6th.—Harry Shellar, Pt. Lambton. 7th.—Russell Lovell, Alvinston. 8th.—Thos. Lovell, Alvinston. 9th.—Bert Payne, Pt. Lambton. 10th.—David Hayter, Alvinston.

A trophy presented to the Association by Mr. R. V. LeSeur, M. P., is offered in annual competition until won three times, not necessarily in succession for the best four acres of corn grown in the County. The final awarding of the trophy each year is based on the field standing score and the score obtained by a 60 ear lot exhibited at the annual Corn & Seed Show which will be held in the Town of Forest in January, 1925.

Fattening Poultry For Thanksgiving

(Experimental Farms Note.)

There is no bird for the family table that equals the turkey. With the Canadian Thanksgiving so early, however, few turkeys are ready for that festival, and yet some of the early birds might better be prepared for this market than held until Christmas and New Year's, picking out the largest ones, and giving them a week or two's special feed. Confine the birds for fattening in yards (not in crates), and give a mash of ground grains mixed with milk, twice a day. Feed just as much as will be cleaned up. If it is not convenient to confine the largest birds, it will do no harm to feed the whole flock the same feed and take out those that are fit for the Thanksgiving trade, leaving the others for later marketing.

Geese and ducks also will be used to a certain extent for Thanksgiving but in all probably well-grown cockerels will be used more than anything else, and there are not many delicacies more appreciated than a well-fleshed cockerel. But it must be fleshed. It also costs less to have a plump juicy and tender bird than it does to have a thin, dry and tough one. Crate feeding puts on the flesh, and now is the time to see about it. Two or three weeks feeding make a big difference though a longer time is better.

It costs much more per pound to grow the frame than it does to put the flesh on the frame after it is there. To grow the frame costs anywhere from 10 to 20 cents per pound, depending upon the birds and the way they are fed, but by crate-feeding the bird for a few weeks before killing, a pound of flesh can be added for from 6 to 12 cents.

In experiments conducted at the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, it took but 2½ pounds of dry mash mixed with buttermilk to make a pound of meat, and the cheapest combination of feed was equal parts of oats, corn and buckwheat, all finely ground. This was fed twice a day, just enough for the birds to quickly clean up.

Good strong, healthy birds, weighing 4 to 6 pounds are suitable, and best returns come from the American breeds. Care must be taken that the birds are healthy and free from lice—a good dusting of insect powder should be applied before putting into crates. They also should have a 24 hour fast before the first feed. This is essential if the birds are to be kept in condition throughout the feeding period. Another necessary precaution is to restrict the feed for the first two or three days, until the birds become accustomed to the confinement, after which they may have all they will eat twice a day. A dose of Epsom salts in the first feed, 1 pound to 100 birds, helps to keep them in good condition during the feeding period.

Zam-Buk

HEALING SOOTHING ANTISEPTIC for Injuries & Skin Troubles

A slatted crate is best, but a packing box may be made over to do. Even an empty stall in the stable is better than nothing. But keep the birds clean and give them plenty of fresh air without draughts.

It never pays to market birds without the finishing, but it does pay to get any birds that are ready off your hands early. Usually there is a better price, for a limited number, at Thanksgiving than at Christmas, and to put some on the market then helps to keep up the price later in the season.

For the purpose of considering the advisability of organizing an Eastern Star chapter in Forest, about 25 Masons' wives, mothers and sisters met in the library room on Tuesday evening, where 21 of those present signed a petition to be forwarded to the head chapter for consideration. The name 'Edith Cavell' was chosen as a suitable one for the chapter, which will be organized as soon as the charter is granted.

The Quebec workmen constructing the big steel elevated waterworks tank are beginning to believe that the real dry spot of Ontario is centred in Forest, and that their efforts to construct a system of liquid refreshment are being attended by a flood-crest of hard luck. Last week the foreman went to the hospital, following an accident that nearly resulted in his death, while Friday another worker, received three fractured ribs, when he slipped on the elevated framework of the structure.

The death of Sylvester A. Kenzie of Forest took place at the home of his son, M. L. Kenzie, in Warwick township, on Tuesday evening, in his 75th year. Mr. Kenzie has been ill for several months. The funeral was held on Thursday from the residence of his son, lot 15, con. 4, N. E. R., Warwick with interment in Beechwood cemetery.

Easily Fatigued And Despondent

A Condition Known as General Debility Due to Watery Blood.

General debility is the term used to describe a weak and run down condition of the system. Debility may come from a number of causes. The after effects of acute illness, lack of nourishment due to poor indigestion, overwork or worry, or anything that makes the blood thin, thereby preventing it from carrying nourishment and health to the tissues of the body. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present, often a tendency to be easily fatigued, spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep.

Mr. Lorenza L. Pamache, Rockland, Ont., was a severe sufferer from this trouble and tells how he found release. He says:—"Two years ago I was in that condition which medical men call general debility. I made periodical visits to Montreal for fourteen months to undergo electric treatment. At the end of this time I was feeling well and thought with proper care I would continue in good health. But in the course of a month or so the symptoms came back more acute than ever. I lost appetite and could hardly sleep during the night, and what sleep I had was disturbed with nightmares. I had headaches and the least effort was telling on my nerves. I always felt pains somewhere, and had to lose much time. After suffering for three months, trying various things without good results, I was terribly depressed and disheartened. One day I met a friend who noted how pale and thin I was and he so strongly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, that I determined to give them a fair trial. I got six boxes and began the treatment at once. After I had taken four boxes I began to take notice of an improvement in my health. I could sleep better, and I scarcely had a headache. Since that time my health has been steadily improving and now I feel just as well as ever. I have gained twenty pounds since I began the treatment. Now I would not be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the home, and strongly recommend them to all sufferers from a depressed system and the aches that follow."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THANKS

A paean of praise our hearts should raise
 To Him who heard our cry
 The great search light revealed the right
 And kept our Province dry.

Not autocrat but democrat,
 When truth was brought to bear
 We see the right with Heaven's light,
 And feel the power of prayer.

The selfish need of those who feed,
 On life blood, and on tears,
 Those parasites must take their flights,
 To other darker years.

We'll praise the hand that kept our land,
 From drunkenness, and glut,
 Our choice to vote upon that spot
 Was guided! was it not?

But thousands wrong not in this song,
 A menace to the race
 The foreign born, we almost scorn,
 To them be given grace.

Oct. 23, 1924. W. B. Laws, Watford.

Guard The Children From Autumn Colds

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mother's best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MEETS FORMER GERMAN GUARD

Rev. E. W. McKegney, of Dutton, concludes that the world is, after all, very small. In July, 1918, he was a prisoner of war at Karlsruhe, and, of course, was guarded very closely by German officers, whom he expected after his release never to meet again. What was his surprise to meet in Rodney the other day one of his guards, a young man who recently arrived from Germany and is now making his home in that village. Recognition was followed by a brief interesting conversation, as the former guard's knowledge of English is very limited. Mr. McKegney states that he had no complaint to make of the treatment he received while at Karlsruhe.

RAPIDLY FILLING UP

The auto graveyard at Maidstone Cross is rapidly filling. The remains of three battered auto hulks are lying by the roadside at the W. E. Crossing. These machines belonged to men who thought they could beat the car to the crossing and found they could not. So many people forget that street cars have the right of way. This week Albert Cheny, a Windsor real estate man tried to "beat'em" stunt on a M. C. R. Express at the cross and as a result another car is smashed and the occupant is in Hotel Dieu under going repairs. He will recover but it was a narrow escape.—Kingsville Reporter.

On The Trail Of The Moose

Have you followed the trail of the lordly moose through the flaming forests of the north and heard him call from the barrens or tracked the fleet-footed deer over newly-fallen snow, with the keen wind in your face while the trees cracked in the frost and the whole forest seemed vibrant with life? If you have you know the real joy of the Canadian autumn, which is never found on the city's streets nor in pulsing marts of commerce, but only in the clean open spaces and the fragrant silent woods.

Now that the leaves are turning crimson and gold you will begin to dream of the little hunting camp in the north woods, of sparkling dewy dawns, tramps through the fallen leaves, blasting camp fires, wonderful autumn nights and the bed of balsam boughs, for there is no tonic in all the world for a tired brain and a weary soul like a hunting trip in the Northern wilds.

Canadian National Railways tap the choicest of the solitary hunting districts of Northern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces and if you are going off on a hunt this year go to the nearest ticket office and procure a copy of "Hunting in Canada" which contains full information as to the various districts, accommodation and guides. Then pack up your rifle, sweater and togs and be off. 017-24-31
