BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE PARENT SOCIETY'S OPERATIONS.

THE SOCIETY was founded in London in the year 1804, for the purpose of circulating THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, without note or comment, throughout the world. The constitution of the Society admits of the co-operation of all who are favourable to its object, and who desire that God's way may be known upon earth, and His saving health among all nations. At the beginning of the present century it is probable that there were not more than four or five millions of copies of the Sacred Volume in all the world, existing in about fifty different translations.

Since the establishment of the BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY, more than sixty-five millions of copies of the Word of God, in whole or in part, have been circulated from its Depots, while other kindred Societies which have sprung out of it, and have been aided by it, have distributed about forty-six millions of copies more; so that during the present century about one hundred and eleven millions of copies of the Sacred Scriptures, in whole or in part, have been put into circulation by Bible Societies alone in various parts of the world.

The number of languages and dialects in which God's word is translated has been raised from fifty to two hundred and two, while the number of versions of the Scriptures, in whole or in part, hitherto prepared (there being sometimes more than one version in the same language) is two hundred and fifty.

five, the preparation of which has been promoted, directly or indirectly, by the BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY. In above thirty instances languages have been for the first time reduced to a written form, in order to give the people speaking them the word of God.

In addition to a circulation of English Scriptures to the extent of thirty millions of copies in Great Britain, Ireland and the Colonies, the Society is prosecuting its work in all the countries of Europe, as well as among the principal Asiatic and African nations, in Madagascar, in the chief islands of the South Pacific, in South America, Mexico, Labrador, and Greenland; and is ever ready to furnish Christian missionaries with the Word of God in the languages of the nations amongst whom they may labour.

SPEECH.

DELIVERED BY THE REV. H. J. PIGOTT, FROM PADUA, AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY, HELD IN EXETER HALL, LONDON, ON MAY 1ST. 1872.

May I be permitted to say, at the outset of the few remarks I shall have to make to this Meeting, that I stand here as a Missionary from Italy representing the Wesleyan Missionary Society there. I say this simply to explain and justify the shape and direction that my remarks will take, and to explain why the text and argument of the few observations I shall have to make will be comprised in three words—"Italy, Romanism, and the Bible." I know very well that I am to be followed by a gentleman who has received a special charge and commission to represent Rome in this assembly, and I will endeavour, as far as possible, not to trench upon Mr. Hamilton's domain. I rejoice to have the privilege of testifying before this Meeting to the profound and grateful sense which, as a Missionary in Italy, I have of the importance of the operations of the Bible Society in that country. The great work of evangelisation in Italy is greatly helped and facilitated by the operations of this Society. That is saying no more than any and every Missionary from every part of the world will have to say, but rather increases than diminishes the reason why I, standing here, not in my own name only or in the name of the special denomination to which I belong, but in the name of the body corporate of all the Evangelical workers in Italy, should express our love, gratitude, and veneration for the British and Foreign Bible Society. There is a speciality in regard to the operations of the Bible Society in Italy—a speciality not perhaps exclusively belonging to Italy, but at all events not common to every other field of operation in the many fields of Missionary enterprise. In other fields, the Bible agent must advance step by step with the Missionary—or rather, as in many such cases the Missionary is the Bible agent; the book must accompany the man. It cannot precede him; it cannot outstrip him: it cannot make its own silent voice heard where his voice cannot penetrate. If it does so, it can only do so exceptionally and in a limited sense. But this is not the case in Italy. In Italy the colporteur is ever beforehand with us. The centres of evangelical effort sparkle here and there upon the map with great intervening blots of darkness, but the written word of God has swept like a wave of light over the whole country. We cannot go to a village or a town where the colporteur has not been before us. He has already anticipated us; he has prepared the way, and I am very thankful to have the opportunity of testifying to the useful labours of these humble and self-denying men. The colporteurs of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Italy are the pioneers of Protestantism in that land; and in opening a way through mountains of indifference, in making the rough places of opposition plain, and the crooked places of prejudice straight, have laid the whole Christian world under very great obligations. In many cases they are men of humble extraction, without refinement, only newly emerged from the darkness and corruptions of Popery. They have, no doubt, the imperfections which belong to their class and early training; and now and then, here and there, one stands convicted as an hypocrite and hireling; but for the most part the colporteurs of the British and Foreign Bible Society are, I believe, converted men who labour for the glory of Christ and for the love of souls, and have testified to the sincerity of that love in "journeyings oft, in weariness and painfulness, in perils of the wilderness, in perils of the city, in perils of robbers, in perils of their own countrymen." As, in the wonderful providence of Almighty God, province after province has been annexed to the newly-formed kingdom of Italy, these colporteurs have rushed in and embraced the opportunity afforded them to flood that province from one end to the other with their priceless wares. Recently, when Rome itself was taken, they entered over the breach of Porta Pia, as was meet, because where should the Bible be except in the van of human progress? And with them entered an old friend of mine, who rejoices in the baptismal irony of Pio Nono—not he of the Vatican you will understand, but a great, shaggy-coated Abruzzo dog, who, after having dragged his load of Bibles over his native mountains, has at length carried his wares into the Eternal City itself. And there he can be seen keeping guard over your depot in the Corso as gentle as a lamb, and yet with immense and terrible strength dormant in his limbs—a kind of living allegory of the blessed book with which he has been so long associated. Then with all my heart and voice I say this day, God bless the colporteurs of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and comfort and sustain them in their self-denying work, and give them their reward in heaven. As to the results of the work of these men—the results of the good seed cast thus broadcast over the face of Italy—they are in some measure visible, but in a very great measure they are as yet unseen. In some respects, I say, they are visible. I should like to be able to quote a few instances in illustration of this point, but I fear to trespass too much upon your time. I will, however, give you one. In our work of evangelisation such cases are continually cropping up, indicating that a secret process is going on, as it were, underground. In June 1863 a young monk was riding in a diligence from Palermo to a neighbouring village, where he held the office of sacramental chaplain. In his hand was a book which he was reading with eager and startled avidity—Dr. de Sanctis' Treatise on the Mass—which he had purchased at Palermo, believing that he had bought some Romish manual of devotion, which would help him in the performance of his functions. He had hardly arrived at his lodgings, when he rushed to his library, and seized there a book which lay covered with dust upon the shelf, a copy of Diodati's Bible, which he had purchased in 1860, but had never read. All that night he passed in eager and careful verification of the passages cited by De Sanctis in his treatise, confronting them with this translation of the Holy Scriptures. The morning approaches; in a few hours he must stand at the altar, and there celebrate that function with regard to which such a new and terrible light had now for the first time dawned upon his soul. Permit me to give you the sequence in his own words translated from a letter in which, some time after, he narrated the story of his conversion:—

“What was I to do? I dressed myself for the Mass, ascended the altar, and God only, who numbers our human agonies and sighs, knows what I experienced in that terrible hour. I arrived at the preface; the moment defined for the act of transubstantiation came; I took the wafer in my hands; tried to dominate my will, and to recall my old faith in the power of the priest to bring down with five words Jesus from heaven to earth. . . . but an inward voice replied to me: canst thou believe that the Lord of the world, the Holy One, will place himself at the disposal of a sinner like thee? Dost thou not see that the bread remains bread? How often hast thou had to cast into the saccharium the putrid, maggotty particles which thou hadst preserved to communicate to the faithful? And with these thoughts I pronounced the consecratory words, uplifted the host and the cup, anguish-stricken at having committed and caused to commit by some dozen poor women who were listening to the Mass, an idolatrous act.” A day or two after, horrified at the inconsistency of his position, the young curate left his parish never to return, and went again to Palermo, with his Bible for his sole companion and guide. There he remained a long while in the utmost anguish and perplexity of mind, utterly ignorant that there was any one in that city or elsewhere to whom he could apply for comfort or instruction.

“For seven months,” he writes, “I wept over the Word of God; every night (by day he had some employment in a school)—every night I meditated upon that sacred volume, and besieged with prayer the throne of my God, who seemed deaf to my entreaties.”

One day, as, utterly heartbroken, he was pacing the streets of the city, he came upon a news-vendor, who offered him a journal entitled The Mirror of Truth, saying, “Reverend father, this is a paper you ought to buy!” He bought it; it was an evangelical journal published at that time by the Waldensian Church at Palermo, and on the fourth page he read:—In the Palazzo Sambuca is opened the Evangelical Church: Sunday morning, from 11 to 12; Sunday evening, from 7 to 8; Thursday evening, from 7 to 8.

Enough; the rest you can divine for yourselves; with what eager haste he went to the assembly, and how there the Lord met him and revealed to him the way of peace. And Giuseppe Moreno, for such is the name of the hero of my little story (minister of the Methodist Evangelical Church at Naples), is now one of the most zealous, devoted and heaven-owned preachers of the Word of life throughout the length and breadth of the Evangelical Church of Italy.

I quote this as one instance of the good wrought by the diffusion of the Bible in Italy which has come to my knowledge; but I repeat what I said a while back, that a great deal of what you are doing remains unseen. Why, your Report tells of some thousands of Holy Scriptures, either in their entirety or in portions, circulated every month, and of hundreds of thousands sold and circulated since the opening of Italy in 1859. Now what, I ask, has become of these copies of God's Word? What are they doing? Where are they? I should say, judging from my own personal observation, that barely a third part has been sold within the circle of our existing evangelical churches and congregations. Then where are the remaining two-thirds? A caviller may say, "Many of them have fallen into the hands of the priests and have been confiscated and destroyed." Be it so. "Many of them have been bought and sold again, and turn up often in unexpected quarters; many of them have been purchased under the impulse of curiosity, or by way of protest against priestly interdiction, and lie dust-covered on the book-shelves." Be it so. Make all these deductions, there will still be a large residue, and where are they? They are in peasant huts in far-off mountain valleys, and amidst the rich Lombard plains, and under the shadow of the lofty chesnuts of the Apennines, and among the orange groves of Sicily. They are in the knapsacks of the soldiers, the stalwart sons of Italy gathered from the North, from the South, from the East, and from the West. They are in the studies of thoughtful priests who are timidly inquiring after the Truth, or vainly hoping for what I believe will never come while Popery is Popery—that is, reform from within the Church. They are in the hands of Nicodemuses who would fain come to Christ, but not in the light of day, and of thoughtful sceptics and of simple-hearted Catholics, who, in that confusion of mind which the liberal God will condone, are reading them together with their Litanies to Mary and their guide-books to the Confessional for the aliment of their souls. They are doing what the sap is doing in the tree during the long winter months; what the seed-corn is doing under the soil before it peers out into the sunshine; what the leaven is doing while it is secretly and silently, by processes undistinguishable to us, diffusing itself in the mass. Just as that sap is preparing the verdant glory of the coming spring; just as that seed-corn has in itself the prophecy and the promise of the coming harvest; just as that leaven will leaven the whole lump, so these copies of the Holy Scriptures diffused through Italy by the agency of your colporteurs are preparing for Italy a glorious spring-tide, a glorious harvest and a leavened purity and sweetness. That is what they are doing. Let no one think that I am over sanguine, and that I overlook our difficulties. No one who has laboured for half a score of years in Italy is likely to err in over enthusiasm. His danger is the other way. The over-sanguine are the casual visitors who hop, skip, and jump through Italy with a Cook's tourist ticket; and because in some kiosk they have seen a caricature of the Pope, because in some railway carriage an Italian liberal has denounced priestcraft, or because they have met with the grave courtesy characteristic of that noble people when they have distributed a tract, go away with the impression that the field is ripe for the harvest. These are the over-sanguine, but not the Missionary. He knows, better than others, what fearful forces are at work holding down that great and noble people, and what an iron grip Popery has on its population, and that between Popery and the Bible there can be no compact—there can be no truce. It was all very well for Father Hyacinthe to stand on the platform of the Bible Meeting in Rome, and say that he stood there in his capacity of Catholic priest. He stood there as a Catholic, just as the noble Lord in the chair stands here as a Catholic, as you are here to-day—as Peter, Paul, Clement, Ignatius, and Justin Martyr are Catholics—old Catholics, and very old. But not Catholic—strange combination of terms—in the sense of Roman Catholic or Popish Catholic. I was very much struck the morning after the meeting was over to read an article by Monsignor Nardi, in his famous Voce della Verità, “the voice of truth,” in which he laboured to show that the Romish Church does not condemn or oppose Bible circulation, but only the circulation of unauthorised translations, or even of authcrised translations without notes, Voce della Verità! Nay; lies my Lord, unmitigated lies. If what Monsignor Nardi says be really so, where are her cheap editions of the authorised and annotated Bible? Where are her clever men continuously at work to compile and edit these editions? Where are her societies for diffusing them, her colporteurs to scatter them abroad? Up to the 20th September 1870, it needed a rich man to buy a Bible in the City of Rome; and remember, I mean, an authorised translation with legitimate notes, that would have satisfied the whole College of Cardinals, if indeed they could ever be satisfied by a translation of the Bible. And then there are other opponents to our work in Italy. There is a scoffing, mocking, materialistic scepticism with which we have to grapple. Here, in this impious crusade, Popery and incredulity join hands. And what wonder? Are they not near akin? Is not one the unfaithful spouse and the other the bastard child? There are men in Italy who read the Bible—men of popular influence, journalists, pamphleteers, orators in Parliament, and for what? For the same reason for which the Scribes and Pharisees went to hear Jesus Christ, in order that they may blaspheme its miracles as imposture, and may pervert and misrepresent its holy teaching. I have read articles on the Son of God himself, upon the character of Jesus—which have made me think shudderingly of the unpardonable sin of blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. These are our antagonists, the choice battalions, the picked legions of the power of darkness. But we do not fear. The Lord of Hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our ark and refuge, and the victory shall one day be ours. Mighty influences—the influences of the blessed Spirit—are working with us. When I think of Italy I figure to myself a sleeper plunged in profound slumber with the dawnlight just creeping in through the casement of his room. Gently and imperceptibly, struggling feebly through the darkness, come the first rays and fall upon his face, and still he sleeps on. The minutes pass. The rays multiply, and things around become more clear, but he slumbers on undisturbed. The dawnlight deepens and falls full on the upturned face. There is a flutter of the eyelids, but he sleeps on. But now mysteriously the light begins to enter the land of sleep and invest the thoughts that flit there to and fro like fantastic shadows. At length the sun rises. The first rays like golden shafts, fall on that face, and now there is a long deep sigh; the limbs begin to stir; the muscles grow taut; the eyes at length open, and the sleeper is awake. It is just so with Italy. Into that chamber of darkness where, during its long night, Italy has been plunged into slumber so heavy that it seemed to be death, you have been pouring the dawnlight of God's Truth. As yet the sleeper stirs but little, and yet the light is fretting the visual nerve, and there are influences, Divine influences, at work on the soul. "Light, light, more light!"—pour it in unstinted, and ere long you shall see that face, so lovely even in its dull unconsciousness, begin to stir with life, and Italy—how near may be the time God only knows—shall waken from its slumber and gird itself to holy service in its new day.

Bible Society Recorder.

TORONTO, 15TH JULY, 1872.

THE QUARTERLY MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS was held in the Board Room on Tuesday evening the 9th inst. The Chair was taken by the President, the Hon. G. W. Allan, at 7.30 o'clock. The Rev. W. Reid, M. A., Vice-President, read the 67th Psalm and offered prayer. The receipts for the past quarter—which is the first quarter of the current year—were reported as $1818 00, being $683 00 less than the corresponding quarter of last year. This is to be accounted for by the fact that very few, indeed, of the branches were delinquent in their returns when the accounts for 1871-2 were closed. A petition from the Board to the Hon. S. L. Tilley, Minister of Customs, praying for the removal of duties collected on the Bibles and Testaments imported, had been forwarded to Ottawa, and an answer received. The answer was courteous, but held out no hope that the reasonable prayer of the petition would be granted. A further consideration of the question by the Board will hereafter be made. The meeting closed with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Green, V. P., at ten o'clock.

Reports received from Sister Societies—want of space prevents a fuller notice in the present number.

Delay of present number—Our printers expect hereafter to issue the Recorder in due time.

Upper Canada Bible Society Communications.

1. All Communications relating to the Bible Recorder to be addressed to "The Rev. JOHN GEMLEY, Bible Society House, 102 Yonge Street, Toronto."

2. All Reports, Letters and other communications, from Branches, Agents, Colporteurs, and other parties, relating to the Bible Society work, and designed for the Board of Directors or for the Secretaries, to be addressed to "The Secretaries of the Upper Canada Bible Society, Toronto."

3. Remittances on Free Contributions to be sent in registered letters, or by other safe conveyance, to the "Rev. John Gemley, Permanent Secretary, Bible Society House, Toronto."

4. Remittances on Depository Purchase Account, to be sent to "Mr. JOHN YOUNG, Bible Society Depository, Toronto."

* * Parties desirous of communicating with the Bible Society, Toronto, on any of the matters indicated above, will greatly oblige the Secretaries by adhering to the foregoing regulations. Separate communications relating to any of the four subjects named, can, when necessary, be enclosed in one envelope, as it will be a great convenience to the Secretaries not to have the matters classified above, mixed together in one communication. They should be kept quite separate.

Stated Meetings of the Board of Directors.—Representation of Auxiliaries and Branches.

Quarterly and other Meetings of the Board.—The Board of Directors shall meet for the transaction of business once in each quarter, and at any other time when called together by the Secretaries, or by any three of the Directors.

Quarterly Meetings of the Board shall be held on the second Tuesday of January, April, July, and October, of each year, at 7.30 o'clock P.M. Monthly Meetings are held on the second Tuesday in each month, at the same hour.

Appointment of Agents.—No Travelling Agent of the Society, shall be appointed by the Board, except at one of these Quarterly Meetings.

Representation of Local Branches at the Board.—The President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, and Agents of each Auxiliary and Branch in connection with the Upper Canada Bible Society shall be ex-officio Members of the Board of Directors, at Toronto; and as such, shall have the right to attend all the Meetings of the Board.

GRANTS TO SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

That in all applications for grants of Bibles to Sunday Schools, the applicant be requested to furnish the Secretaries with an account of the state of the School: the number of Scholars and Teachers; the amount of Funds at the disposal of the Managers; who are its officers; and why it is necessary to make such application; all which should in every case be certified by a Minister of the Gospel, or some other person of known respectability. And further, this Board recommends that the Secretaries make grants in future only to destitute settlements; reporting the same to the next Meeting of the Board of Directors.

PRICE OF THE "RECORDER."

Some of the Branches having expressed a desire to obtain a larger number of Recorders than those already forwarded to them, the Board recommends that a small price be paid by each Branch for any additional supply they may be pleased to order, viz.:—Single copies, 20 cents; ten copies to one address, $1.50; over ten and under 50 copies, $13 per 100; any quantity over 50 copies, $12 per 100; in each case including postage.
