ATLANTIC THE WINNER American Yacht Nearing the Finish Line -- Broke Trans-Atlantic Record.

LONDON, May 29--Barring accidents the American three-masted schooner yacht owned by Wilson Marshall, New York Yacht Club, is the winner of the Kaiser cup. She passed abeam of Scilly Island at 9.37 o'clock this morning.

There was a slight south-west wind and a smooth sea. If the breeze holds good, the Atlantic should reach the finish line about three o'clock this afternoon.

The American boat created a yachting record by crossing the Atlantic from the United States in twelve days. No other yachts have been sighted.

FALMOUTH, Eng., May 29.--The unexpectedly early arrival of the American three-masted schooner yacht Atlantic off the Scilly Islands caught the international yacht racing authorities napping.

When the despatch was received announcing the Atlantic as passing the Scilly Islands, the German cruiser was not expecting the yacht before Wednesday. The cruise immediately got up full steam and sped off to her position, a mile southward of the Lizard. The distance between the Scilly Islands and the Lizard, the finish of the race, is about 48 miles. The Atlantic, promising she is making about eight knots, should cross the finish line at about 4 p.m. of 11 a.m. New York time.

THE RUSSIAN FLEET WAS DEFEATED

THE JAPANESE FLEET

THE RUSSIAN BALTIC FLEET

ADMIRAL TOGO

Washington, May 28.—A despatch was received at the State Department today saying that the Japanese government has made the announcement that its fleet had engaged the Russians in the Straits of Korea, Saturday, and had held them.

London, May 29.—The Times' Tokyo correspondent says that telegrams from apparently trustworthy sources show that Vice-Admiral Rojstevsky approached the island in the forenoon of May 27, during a fog which cleared up at 10 o'clock in the afternoon when the battle commenced between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There was a strong breeze blowing with a high sea.

Based on the meagre details already received here, most of the newspapers are ready to believe that the Japanese have secured a victory. The secrecy maintained at Tokyo apparently extends to the European legations. As any rate Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister here, declined to see newspaper correspondents, much less to talk of a battle.

It is assumed here that the Japanese government will follow its customary plan not to allow details to be published until the action is over. The Daily Telegraph's Tokyo correspondent says that an intermittent fog prevailed in the Straits of Korea Saturday night, when there was brilliant sunshine. A high wind prevailed with a rough sea.

The Russian ships were first sighted at 6 o'clock in the morning, approaching the island under cover of a fog, which, however, lifted and the sun shone brightly. This squadron is believed to have consisted of six first class ships and, according to information received 21 more Russian warships arrived in the offing of Wonsan Saturday and attacked the Russian ships, but a later despatch says that the Russian transports are to stay in the vicinity of Shanghai, while the vessels of the Volunteer fleet are to leave for either German or French territory.

A despatch from Shanghai says that the Japanese fleet was passing ten miles southeast of Tanshi and that the Russian fleet was sighted approaching the Korean Straits yesterday afternoon at or near the Korean Straits between the main portion of the Russian squadron and a Japanese fleet under command of Admiral Togo.

Telegrams almost identical with the above have been received here and announce that a large portion of the Russian fleet was sighted approaching the Korean Straits yesterday headed for the channel between Tsu Island and the Japanese coast. According to the best information received here recently the main portion of Admiral Togo's fleet has been almost constantly at Masampo Bay.

THE TEST, A Story of Modern Finance

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE In the Popular Magazine. (Continued.) But, contrary, there was much to be thought out. Money must be raised. The new firm could not enter upon its career handi-capped by a working capital of a scant five thousand dollars. Fifty thousand was the minimum amount that Grey could conceive of as sufficient to their needs. To raise forty-five thousand was a problem.

MR. TARTE'S VIEW

Montreal, May 28.—(Special.)—Referring to the London campaign Hon. Mr. Tarte in Le Patriote says: "If the ministerial party makes a campaign of apology and excuses it will lose a splendid opportunity of asserting itself. Indeed, after the concessions it has made there is no reason to make excuses and apologies in a Protestant province. Excuses and apologies might be advantageously resorted to for the Catholic people, who understanding the difficulties of the moment and relying on the justice which the future always reserves for those who wait, show much breadth of political views and such tolerance."

It is worth a fortune that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago, I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The softness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.

TOGO'S VICTORY

"If I am victorious, I shall inform you. If I am vanquished, Togo will inform you." Admiral Rojstevsky is reported to have said when his fleet entered eastern waters.

Togo has been heard from. For some days his exact whereabouts was unknown to the world, but the thunder of his guns has answered the query, and shows that the Nelson of the far east was where his ships could do the most and best work.

Once more the superiority of the Japanese navy has been demonstrated, and the hopes of Russia destroyed along with their ships. So news had been considerably asserted by St. Petersburg about what Rojstevsky would do that the public mind was perhaps somewhat in doubt as to the result of the meeting of the fleets.

THE PEOPLE TO BLAME

The attitude of society towards that portion of it which tends toward the reformatory and the jail needs to be changed. People go complacently about their business, paying little attention to what is transpiring in dark corners where crime is brooding, until a layard gang or a Johnnie Carr starts them into a sense of the fact that there is something wrong.

Such a state of affairs reflects upon a whole community. There is something radically wrong with a social system that renders such a condition possible. The fault does not lie with the police, not with any of these in authority.

WHITNEY'S FIRST SESSION

The Ontario legislature has been prorogued, and the general verdict is that the Whitney government has come through its first session with credit to itself and benefit to the province. The fact appears to have caused surprise in some quarters, though the reasons given do not seem to be adequate.

THE SCOURGE OF INDIA

The correspondent in India of the London Lancet tells a terrible story of the mortality caused by the plague. The report says:

"For the week ending April 22 there were 54,892 deaths, compared with 31,786 during the preceding week. The mortality during the present year promises to exceed the record, which stands as follows:—Total deaths for 1901, 273,679; 1902, 577,427; 1903, 631,283; 1904, 1,022,299; and for April 22, 1905, 63,928."

It is added that these figures probably do not tell the whole story. The plague is not confined to one district but is widely prevalent. Efforts to prevent its ravages have been largely unavailing.

COLLEGE RESIDENCE

Prof. George H. Locke, of the University of Chicago, has added his views to the general discussion on college residences, raised in connection with the changes and improvements in the University of Toronto.

"It is sensible and business like. Your advocacy of residences for the students is wise, and is endorsed by all persons who have had to do with university and college life. The first building put up in connection with the University of Chicago was a residence for students.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States has endorsed the collection of a permanent fund of $10,000,000, the income from which is to be expended in annuities for aged preachers.

The committee now has a permanent fund of nearly $1,000,000. The remainder is to be raised by collections, gifts and an insurance scheme by which a preacher may, by paying about $24 a year for three years, draw an annuity of $500.

A comparison of results of railway accidents in England and the United States enables the London Daily Telegraph to make this ironical observation:—"Our railways have much to learn from America. THE OLD TANYARD GANG
 William Holm and John Tobin, Two of Its Members in Jail Again—Suspicion of Robbery is the Charge This Time.

Carrying in his hip pocket a loaded revolver and in his possession three watches which have been identified as the property of another man, William Holm, one of the notorious tan yard gang of three years ago, fought unsuccessfully against arrest by Deputy Chief Jenkins and Detective Killen Sunday evening near Queen Square.

Deputy Jenkins and Detective Killen were in Germain street, a few doors later, John Tobin, another of that crowd, the revelation of whose doings startled the city at the time Willie Doherty was murdered, sought chance to escape from the police. Both young fellows are now in central station, Holm held on suspicion of the burglary of Wm. Webber's auction store in Charlotte street last week when a number of watches were stolen; and Tobin held as possibly having connected with that theft.

Deputy Jenkins and Detective Killen have been seeing the watches and jewelry stolen from Webber's; they also wanted the man or men. Yesterday they decided to take the chance on Holm, of whom they were suspicious and now they are pleased with their course of action.

The same case, Holm about 12:30 o'clock standing at the corner of Charlotte and St. James streets talking to a young man in a cap, getting one arm and the detective the other, the former declared Holm under arrest. The only response was a gasp.

As the walk to central station was begun, Detective Killen felt Holm's hip pocket and brought out a .38-caliber revolver, every chamber loaded.

"What am I arrested for," the prisoner then asked.

"For carrying a loaded revolver," said the deputy chief, and at the same time he took from Holm's vest pocket a gold watch, Holm, with a spring tried to get away but he failed. Then he fought but was put down and handcuffs soon made him doubly secure. He went along, but he would not talk.

A search of the prisoner disclosed in all three watches and some silver articles also found. One of the watches is a fifteen carat gold, twenty-year case, Waltham movement; the second is a nickel watch, the case of the third is of brass.

Here was a find and the police looked for a busy night. A search of Holm's home was made but nothing was found. Mr. Webber was looked up and asked to be in the police station at 10 o'clock and then the deputy and detective went out to Tobin. He was located about 11 o'clock in his home, which is in Germain street near the corner of St. James. A knock at the door brought no admission and they went to the door. The case against Doherty was then discussed and raised the window as if to get out but found the deputy ready there, while the detective watched the door. The man another window he went, and raised the

NEIL TWOMEY STOCK CO
 The striking new comedy drama, "The Wayward Son," which is to be the attraction at the Opera House on Tuesday, May 30, is said to be a beautiful story of everyday life—beautiful, because of its simplicity, because of its wholesome truth and the lesson it brings home to every heart. It is refreshing in this day of imbecility and suggestive plays, to be enabled to witness an American play of plain common folk. A play in which the prattle of an innocent child, the tears of a devoted old mother, the strong love of a trusting girl, the fidelity of an old-time negro and the villainy of a police official are all cleverly intermingled by the deft hand of the author in a tale embodying comedy, tragedy and pathos. Many of the services of a splendid company, headed by Neil Twomey, who is the author, as well as the principal interpreter of the piece.

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to children and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and general debility, are the signs of a displaced womb or weak generative organs.

My dear Mrs. Pinkham, my husband and I were very anxious for you to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE SEASON'S SPORTS.

PORTLAND'S WON FROM ST. JOHN IN A GOOD GAME SATURDAY

Rothsley College Defeats the High School--Moncton to Try the Double Umpire System--Manager McGraw Fined.

Only about 200 baseball enthusiasts had served enough to breathe the Arctic breeze which blew over the Victoria grounds on Saturday afternoon and shiver through the nine inning ball game between the St. John and Portland. Portland won 7 to 2.

It was a very good game, too, at that, although the weather was by no means conducive to good baseball. It was cold and there was a damp mist in the air. Consequently neither players or spectators were aroused to much enthusiasm.

The game was, all in all, a good one. True, both teams at times played rather loosely, but these times were few and far between and they more than redeemed themselves by good periods of heavy playing, while again there were occasions of their raising ball.

The feature of the whole game was Johnny Creighton's work in center garden for the St. John. Never has the position been better played here than Johnny played at Saturday. He went after everything and had but one error, and that a portable one. His record of 6 put-outs, 2 assists and 1 error above the kind of game he put up.

Both Nesbitt and Trearthin pitched strong, heavy games, but the North End boy had the better support. Portland went first to bat and through Howe's errors three men crossed the plate. St. John scored one run. Tompkins set the home on Cooper's hit to left. In the third inning Tompkins made St. John's score stand at two. McLeod made a pretty catch in the fourth inning, when he retired Harris on a foul. In the sixth inning the Portland had Evans and Green on the bases and Dever made a seeming by safe hit to center. By slipping into the air Creighton collared the ball and by a quick throw out off base.

In the eighth inning the Portland had the bases full and Dever came to bat. With a nice tap to centre he brought in Evans and Green. Malcolm went out on a foul to Carson and Trearthin batted to third base, bringing in Brits and Dever. Howard was caught trying to reach second, and McLeod went out on a fly to right. This made the score 3 to 2 in Portland's favor; the St. John could not score again.

Score: Portland, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. George, ss... 5 0 1 1 2 1 McLeod, c... 5 1 0 12 3 0 Green, 1b... 5 2 2 8 1 0 Brits, p... 5 1 3 2 1 0 Dever, 3b... 5 1 1 2 1 2 Malcolm, c... 4 0 0 0 0 0 Trearthin, p... 3 0 1 0 8 0

WHO WILL BE THE NEXT HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

Jeffries Retirement Leaves the Field Open--Corbett and Fitzsimmons May Meet Again--A Chance for Gus Ruhlin.

Now that Jeffries has retired from the ring, or in fact, has been forced into retirement through lack of some worthy opponent, what will the other heavyweight fighters do? This question is asked by prominent sportswomen when the heavyweight championship is discussed.

When Jeffries announced his retirement he made no disposition of the title, and the honor are now open for any legitimate applicant to fight for. With Jeffries as the head of the heavyweight division the others realized that it was a hopeless task to try and defeat the big bullfighter. Some of them, in fact, stated that so long as Jeffries remained the champion they had no desire to seek the title for the simple reason that it was impossible to defeat Jeffries.

Jim Corbett, the former heavyweight champion, recently announced that he would not fight again until Jeffries had retired. Now that the champion has found it necessary to give up the boxing game, Corbett will undoubtedly be heard from, for there are a couple of heavyweights who would give him an interesting tussle.

It makes possible another championship battle with his old rival, Bob Fitzsimmons. Since Fitzsimmons won his memorable battle over the Californian, both have fallen victims to Jeffries' terrific wallop, and they are now on the same level, so far as the championship is concerned. Nothing could be more interesting in the athletic game than another match between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Both are still in

CORNELL WINS TWO RACES

Ithaca Students Defeat Harvard Easily--Broke the Record on the Schuylkill River. Boston, May 27--Cornell University gave a notable exhibition of the type of rowing which has practiced so successfully on the Fougasseps in past years, when last this afternoon her varsity crewmen defeated the Harvard University eight-oared crew on the Charles River by six and one-half lengths. The Crimson crewmen rowed a plucky race, but they could do little in competing with the Ithaca students, who pulled over the course of 1 1/2 miles with a stroke and from which operated as a unit and which had their shell forward in the first one-eighth of a mile.

In the preliminary races, the freshmen crew from Wells Boat Club at Harvard won from the Cornell Boat Club by an eighth of a length in a seven-eighths of a mile course in 7 minutes 4 1/2 seconds. A picked crew race from the same clubs was also won by Cornell over a mile course by three lengths, with time of 7 minutes 1 1/2 seconds.

Considerable interest was attached to the single shell race for the Carroll cup, open to students of Harvard. Three men entered for this event, C. C. Anshin, D. Smith, of the law school, and James Montgomery, a college senior. Smith won the event easily in 7 minutes 3 1/2 seconds. Montgomery was five lengths behind and Anshin, whose shell had struck a bridge support on the way, was six lengths in the rear of Montgomery.

Philadelphia, May 27--Record time was made today in the third annual regatta of the American Rowing Association over the Schuylkill river for the Carroll cup, open to eight-oared junior college event the Cornell crew took first honors and broke the record for the course, which is the same length as the English Henley. One that made by the Argonaut crew of Toronto in 1903, when it covered the course in 6:28. Cornell held the lead throughout the race. The Yale freshmen were second and the University of Pennsylvania junior crew was third.

The Harvard freshmen were the race for the second eighth by three seconds from the University of Pennsylvania in a hard race. The eight-oared shell race for school crews was won by the Stone School, of Boston, in easy fashion.

All who are interested in cricket, or are anxious for a place on the team which is going to Nova Scotia, are requested to attend a meeting at No. 25 Prince William street at 8 o'clock this evening.

MILITARY MARCH OUT

The brigade church parade yesterday afternoon was one of the largest and best ordered of the kind seen here in recent years. Practically the entire military strength of the city was out, the marching showed evidence of conscientious drill, and the complimentary comment by the public was not undeserved.
For fully an hour before the appearance of the troops, Charlotte and King streets were lined with civilians, rank in rank. About 3:30 o'clock distant music was heard and music. The soldiers were coming nearer and nearer, and the triumphant symphony. Soon would be seen the vivid sections swinging along rank behind rank and soon to be heard the measured tread of the community's best and bravest.
They came in sight, stretched arms at the head of King street, and began to drill. They were warlike, but diffusing slightly from those who were expected. They belonged to the army of salvation, and warred against a spiritual rather than material foe.
When the brigade parade finally appeared the time was about 4 o'clock. Nearly 700 men were in line, and the procession was headed by the Artillery Band, followed by Col. G. R. White, D. O. C., and staff, the 3rd Regiment, Canadian Artillery, and officers of the retired and reserve.
Then followed the army medical corps, Canadian Army Service Corps, signallers and ordnance corps, cadets, companies of St. Luke's, St. John's and Trinity churches. Attached to the medical corps was the St. David's church company.
The Grand Fusiliers, headed by the band, made up the remainder of the turnout. On the barracks square, the brigade formed up under command of Col. H. H. McLean, brigadier, and inspected by the D. O. C., after which the brigade marched off to Trinity church by way of Broad, Charlotte, King and German streets.
Spacious Trinity was filled, but not solely by the military families and besides the band, made up the remainder of the turnout. On the barracks square, the brigade formed up under command of Col. H. H. McLean, brigadier, and inspected by the D. O. C., after which the brigade marched off to Trinity church by way of Broad, Charlotte, King and German streets.

STRONG SERMON

Rev. Father Owen-Jones Disagrees With the Archbishop of Canterbury.
Rev. Father Owen-Jones, priest in charge of the Mission church of St. John, has been strongly disagreed with by the Archbishop of Canterbury in the prayers of the Church at the Holy Spirit.
Father Owen-Jones referred to the matter during the course of his sermon at last evening's service. It was strange, he thought that this learned man, placed as he is at the head of the Church we all love so dearly, should advance such a measure; and he in his position as a humble priest in the Church of God could not agree with him. The certificate of the Holy Spirit of God is already in the Church and it only remains for His children to use it.
Father Owen-Jones reminded his hearers that at their baptism they received no less a gift than that of the Holy Ghost. Why then is it necessary that the gift be bestowed upon the Church a second time.

THE EARLY FLY.

The early fly has just arrived. But no one seems to welcome him. Instead, to use his own words from the Bible, he is "loathed, and he is not so much as he can be, and no one greets him with a smile or shows the slightest sign of pity."
The early fly must think our hearts are very hard and cold indeed. His own heart, if he's sensitive, must be as hard as iron. To think that he's been gone so long, and no one glad to see him back. To find when he comes around, "No one greets him with a smile."
