THE WAR NEWS

The item of today's news which is of special interest to Canadians is the landing of the Canadian troops on British soil. It is announced that they will be sent to an inland training camp, but it will probably not be long before they are heard from at the front.

The present war has not only revealed the British Empire to itself, but has presented it to the world in a new and striking aspect. There were within the Empire itself many who entertained some doubts as to the solidarity of the Empire under stress of war, and there were probably none who anticipated such a remarkable proof of loyalty and devotion as immediately followed the declaration of war.

There had never before been such a test of loyalty, and under all the circumstances it was perhaps not unnatural that some people in the Mother Country itself should have misgivings as to the attitude of the overseas states of the Empire in this crisis. Every portion of the Empire, however, has stood the test in a really wonderful way, and the people of all races in every country under the British flag find themselves marching in unison to the sound of the British drum.

The moral effect of this great demonstration of unity upon the world at large must be great and far-reaching. Whether through envy or an inability to understand the genius of the British race, there have been many to prophesy the dismemberment of the Empire; and there can be no reasonable doubt that the Emperor of Germany and his advisors believed England would be restrained from entering upon this war through fear that India and perhaps Canada and Australia would refuse to join her, and that she would be confronted with rebellion in Ireland.

Surveying the British Empire as it is revealed to-day, we cannot withhold the tribute of admiration from the statesmanship which has widened the bounds of freedom, even as it has enlarged the boundaries of empire. Regarding especially the attitude of South Africa and India, we get a new and better conception of the genius of those men at the head of affairs in London, who, with the aid of their representatives in distant regions, were able as the years passed so to cement the bonds of friendship, and so inspire the people with confidence and trust in Britain's honor, that when the shock of war came the fruits of their labors stood revealed in universal devotion to the British flag and that for which it stands in every quarter of the globe.

getic business policy, and the third is that the people generally make every effort to earn money and to spend it not recklessly, but in the ordinary manner. It is obvious that the purchasing public do their part that they will encourage the manufacturers and merchants, and the latter will have a stronger argument to present to the banks.

A Life Association in Toronto, which has a membership of nearly four hundred, has received permits for the use of nine of the school buildings for training purposes in the evenings during the fall and winter. The Toronto school authorities evidently subscribed to the doctrine that buildings which are owned by the people should not be kept closed most of the time.

LIGHTER VEIN

When Sir John Mills was painting "Chill October" among the reeds and rushes of the Tay one afternoon a voice from behind a hedge asked the horse painter, "Man, did you ever try photography?"

Both the Same.

"Gentlemen, I can't lie about the horse; he is blind in one eye," said the auctioneer. The horse was soon knocked down to a citizen who had been greatly struck by the auctioneer's honesty, and after paying for the horse he said:—"You were honest enough to tell me that this animal was blind in one eye. Is there any other defect?"

TEST OF ANCHOR OF LOCAL INVENTOR IS SUCCESSFUL

Captain House, a native of St. John and now residing in San Francisco, has invented a patent sea anchor which was tested outside the harbor yesterday by Captain Dalton of the C. G. S. Aberdeen and Captain A. J. Mulcahey, nautical advisor of the Board of Trade. The anchor has an oil attachment and is designed so as to protect life boats in heavy weather by automatically distributing oil stored in a cylinder attachment to the anchor and so calm troubled waters. The test yesterday was made outside of Partridge Island in a choppy sea and proved very satisfactory.

MUCH PAIN FROM KIDNEY DISEASE

Doctored in Vain Until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Were Used. Kidney derangements are often associated with disorders of the liver and bowels, and under these conditions ordinary kidney medicines usually fail to effect cure. It is because of their unique combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so generally successful, even in the most complicated cases. Mr. Edmund Bernard, farmer, St. Paul's, Kent county, N. B., writes: "About eighteen years ago my wife was afflicted with kidney disease, and suffered greatly from headaches, pains in bowels, and stomach, and her heart was affected. For a year she was treated by her doctor, with no apparent benefit. She then used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with most satisfactory results. This gave us such a good opinion of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that we always kept them in the house to be used for all derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels." HAD NO POWER OVER THE LIMBS Locomotor Ataxia, Heart Trouble and Nervous Spells Yielded to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It would be easy to tell you how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures locomotor ataxia and derangements of heart and nerves, but it may be more satisfactory to you to read this letter: Mrs. Thos. Allan, R. E. D. S. Sombra, Ont., writes: "Five years ago I suffered a complete breakdown, and frequently had palpitation of the heart. Since that illness I have had dizzy spells, had no power over my limbs (locomotor ataxia) and could not walk straight. At night I would have severe nervous spells, with heart palpitation, and would shake as though I had theague. I felt no improvement after using the first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after continuing the treatment can now walk, eat and sleep well, have no nervous spells and do not require heart medicine. I have several of my neighbors of the splendid results obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 60c. a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The present hour is undoubtedly propitious to teach the children great lessons by impressing upon them the examples of heroism which are being written at this time in Europe. We should have a flag in every school which should be hoisted with joy on the news of every victory and which should be carried proudly in school demonstrations. If we teach our children to love the British Empire which is our country, we cannot do so better than by impressing upon them the present benefits which we are deriving from our association with the Empire, rather than by seeking to put before them events hidden away in the distant past. The Indian Army

Into the West they are marching! Thine their longed-for day When that which England gave them they may at last repay: When for the faith she dealt them; peasants and priests and lords, When for the love they bear her, they shall unshathe their swords!

Men of the plains and hill-men, men born to warrior roles. Tall men of matchless ardor, small men with mighty souls. Rulers alike and subjects; splendid the roll-call rings: Rapsahs and Maharajahs, Kings and the sons of Kings, Bikanir, Patiala, Ratan and Kisbhangar, Jodhpur, who rides the leopard down, Sachin and Cooch-Behar, From lands where skies are molten and suns strike down and parch, Out of the East they're marching, into the West they march.

Oh little nimble Gurkhas, who've won a hundred fights, Oh Sikhs—the Sikhs who failed not upon the Dargal heights, Rajpats, against whose valor once in a younger world Ruthless, unceasing, vainly, the Mogul's hosts were hurled.

Gray are our western daybreaks and gray our western skies, And very cold the night-watch, unbroke by 'jackets' cries: Hard too will be the waiting—you do not love to wait? Aye, but the charge with bayonets—they'll sound it soon or late! And when that charge is sounded, who'll heed gray skies and cold? Not you, Sikhs, Rajpats, Gurkhas, if to one thought you hold, If as you cross the open, if as the foe you near, If as you leap the trenches, this thought is very clear:

These foes, they are not sabbes; they break the word they plight, Oh bakes their blades are whetted, each escapes now their might. Their Princes are as sweepers whom none may touch or trust, Their gods they have forgotten; their honor trails the dust; All that they had of izat is trodden under heel— Into their hearts, my brothers, drive home, drive home the steel!

FOR THE DANCE.

ing feature is the double Russian tunic which drapes the skirt. There is a vest of lace at the front of the dainty bodice, the neck of which may be cut in round, square or V-shaped outline. The foundation is a three-piece model. Required to make the costume are 3/4 yards of 44-inch material, 2 1/2 yards of lining for bodice and skirt and 3 yards of 48-inch satin for the bias folds and skirt. If lace foundation is substituted for the tunic instead of chiffon, the average size requires 2 1/2 yards, 40 inches deep for upper and under tunic, and 1 1/2 yard of material 36 inches wide for lower skirt section.

The construction of the skirt will be made the subject of today's lesson. All of the sections are made of material which simplifies matters greatly. The actual construction begins by placing the back gore at the upper edge, placing "T" on small "O" perforation.

Then gores are notched; close center-back seam from large "O" perforation to lower edge, finish edges above for open. Turn under lower edge of lower skirt section 3/4 inches for hem. Sew to lower edge of gores, notches and center-backs even. Large "O" perforation indicates center-back.

Close back seam of under tunic from large "O" perforation to lower edge.

Finish edges above for opening. Gather upper edge between double "T" perforations. Turn under lower edge 3/4 inches for hem. Adjust on skirt, stitch upper edge together, small "O" perforation at side seam of skirt.

For the upper tunic, close back seam from large "O" perforation to lower edge, finish edges above for opening. Turn under lower edge 3/4 inches for hem. Place upper edge, placing "T" on corresponding small "O" perforations and bring "T" perforation near center-back to center; press pleats; if desired gathered, omit pleats and gather entire upper edge. Arrange on skirt, centers even; stitch upper edges together. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas 1/2 inches wide to position underneath upper edge of skirt for a stay; stitch upper edges together. Pictorial Review waist, No. 1521. Skirt, No. 1522. Sizes 21, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 waist. Price, 15 cents.

A PROTEST

(From the New Glasgow Chronicle)

To free our soil let us say now with all the force we can that we are sick and tired of hearing—"It is not on the German people we are making war, but on German militarists." The statement is all right; Germany's army is the German people—every man of them is behind the Kaiser, lock, stock and barrel. The German Emperor and the German army officers are demons, while the German people—every man of them is behind the fathers, mothers and children, the outraged women and girls left alive in Belgium and the gentleness of the German soldiers—now soldiers who only six weeks ago were running the farms and workshops of Germany? Ask the Belgian captives who are now in fetters reaping the crops of Germany, about the gentleness and Christian spirit of these German soldiers who were only a few weeks ago farmers and artisans? Ask the Belgian boys, whose hands were chopped off so that they could not carry arms, about the human affection of these German soldiers who would burn towns, shoot the inhabitants, or brain them with their rifles, and who could not ask for a meal of victuals without pushing a revolver into the harmless household's face. A long spirit of meekness, forbearance, that would strew deadly mines in the sea where harmless fishermen ply their calling. In fact, the ancient horrors of Goths and Vandals, who overrun Europe in Medieval times, were not more inhuman than those German gen-

HOW TO LIVE WELL AND SAVE THE PENNIES DURING THE WAR

(By Miss Canada)

The art of preparing savory gravies and sauces is more important in connection with the serving of the cheaper meats than in connection with the cooking of the more expensive.

There are a few general principles underlying the making of all sauces or gravies, whether the liquid used is water, milk, stock, tomato juice, or some combination of these. For ordinary gravy 2 level tablespoons of flour or 1 1/2 tablespoons of cornstarch or arrow-root is sufficient to thicken a cupful of liquid. This is true excepting when the flour is browned in this case about one half tablespoonful more should be allowed. The easiest way to mix the ingredients is to beat the fat, add the flour, and cook until the mixture ceases to bubble, and then add the liquid. This is a quick method and by using it there is little danger of getting a lumpy gravy. Many persons, however, think it is not a wholesome method and prefer the old-fashioned one of thickening the gravy by means of flour mixed with a little cold water. The latter method is of course not practicable for brown gravies.

Considering the large amount of discussion about the digestibility of fried food and of gravies made by heating flour in fat, a few words on the subject at this point may not be out of order. It is difficult to see how heating the fat before adding the flour can be unwholesome, unless the cook is unskillful enough to heat the fat so high that it begins to scorch. Overheated fat, as has already been pointed out, contains an acid irritating substance called "acrolein," which may be readily considered to be unwholesome. It is without doubt the production of this body by overheating which has given fried food its bad name. The good flavor of browned flour is often overlooked. If the flour is cooked in fat until it is a dark brown color a distinctive and very agreeable flavor is obtained. This flavor combines very well with that of currant jelly, and

LAUDABLE DESIRE OF THE PRINCE OF WALES

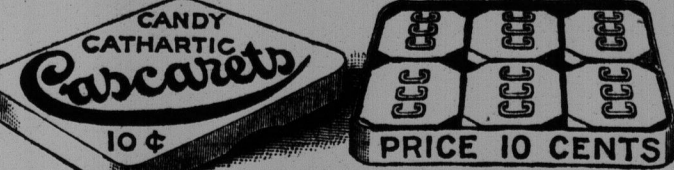

Trusts Millions Subscribed for Relief May Be Applied to Production.

London, Oct. 8.—The Prince of Wales fund has reached $15,000,000 and the Prince has issued a letter expressing his thanks for the generous contributions. "I trust," he says in the letter, "that the portion of the fund which will be applied to the relief of civil distress may, as far as possible, flow into productive channels, such as assisting schemes for male and for female employment, and perhaps industrial training, for it is repugnant to me, as it must be to the recipients, that assistance should be distributed only in the form of doles."

CASCARETS FOR COSTIVE BOWELS, SOUR STOMACH, COLD OR HEADACHE

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means your stomach is sour—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation. Try Cascarets; they sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble, headache, bad cold and all such misery ends.

The Homeland's Call

(By Ronald MacCallum in MacLean's Magazine, October, 1914.)
Hearken, ye whelps of the Lion!
Stir ye, awake from your dream;
Hark to the world-dung challenge,
List to the eagle's scream:
Thrown in the teeth of the nations
Terrible, menacing, grim;
Hear ye the words of defiance,
Hurl'd to the Empire's rim;
"Stand from the path of my southern mate.
Stand aside lest ye be too late
And I tear thee limb from limb."
Hearken, ye whelps of the Lion,
Hear ye his arrogant cry!
"Where is there one to dare me,
One who'll do battle and die?
Fear I the bear that was conquered,
Cowed by the small yellow man?
Hear I the squawks of an upstart?
I ground in the dust of Sedan?
Who talks to me of the Lion's away?
A lion's cub may be eagle's prey!
And mercy is none of my plan."

LOCAL WAR NEWS

That all the units in the city will be actively engaged in recruiting and drilling by next week is the opinion of local militia officers. While none have received instructions from Ottawa as yet, except Colonel B. R. Armstrong, who was there early this week, orders to recruit are daily anticipated by those in charge of the respective units. Captain T. E. Bishop of the Army Medical Company plans to recruit in a few days, whether instructions are received or not, in order to be ready, for since the official announcement by President Borden that a second contingent was to be organized, it is generally believed that recruiting orders will not be long delayed.

dying. Five years ago, I received sam-

I decided to do so and at once I felt re-

INSURING GOOD DIGESTION

Importance of Preventing Food Fermentation in Stomach.
Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work perfectly and remains in perfect health, but permit anything to interfere with the proper digestion of food, an unending train of troubles is set in motion. About the only thing that will upset the stomach and interfere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action of the food itself. This fermentation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, resulting in the unnatural digestion of the stomach and the burning by the acid of the delicate lining of the stomach.

British Submarine Attack Successful; Summary of The Morning War News

London, Oct. 7, 8.30 p. m.—Submarine E-9, of the British navy, under command of Lieut. Commander Max Horton, yesterday made another raid into German waters, off the mouth of the River Ems, and succeeded in sinking a German torpedo boat destroyer. It was this same submarine, under the same commander, which made a similar dash and sank the German cruiser Hela off Heligoland September 13. As on the former occasion, the E-9 has safely returned to her home port. The action took place at 1 o'clock yesterday, and was witnessed by the Dutch coast guards on the Dutch Island Schiermonnikoog, in the North Sea, off the province of Friesland.

Paris, Oct. 7, 2.30 p. m.—The Messagero publishes a despatch from Ancona, in Italy, on the Adriatic, telegraphs the Rome correspondent of the Havas Agency, which declares that four Austrian torpedo boats and two Austrian torpedo boat destroyers have been lost off the coast of Dalmatia as a result of coming in contact with mines.

The Ancona despatch adds that a majority of the members of the crews of these vessels lost their lives. While the world awaits news of the great battle in which the British and French allied forces and the Germans in Northern France have engaged for twenty-six days, the meagre official reports from the front vouchsafe little information of the actual operations. Today it is a small piece of ground lost, and tomorrow the same ground has been regained. Meanwhile the French forces are moving northward, but are gaining little to the eastward, which would be essential to the outflanking of the German right wing.

As a matter of fact, Gen. Von Kluck, in command of that section of the German army, with heavy reinforcements, which have reached him in the past week, has taken a decided offensive, and day by day the same announcement is made by the French war office that the "violent battle continues."

The British official bureau reports that the French army is fighting with the greatest dash and bravery, but is silent on what the British are doing. The French officials report an advance on certain points on the centre, and the re-taking of the ground previously yielded in the Roye district.

The situation as between the Russians and Germans and Austrians is somewhat problematical, but a very frank statement from Berlin admits that the German forces on the frontier of East Prussia have assumed a strategical defensive movement, and that they abandoned the bombardment of Ossowetz fortress, in Russian Poland.

The forty-third German casualty list, issued at Berlin, contains 10,600 names in dead, wounded and missing. The Belgian government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the ministers and many thousands of refugees having reached there. The bombardment of Antwerp, it is reported, has already begun, following a notification from the commander of the German troops that non-combatants and others desiring to do so, should withdraw from the city.

The second son of the German Emperor, Prince Eitel Frederick, is reported to have been injured by a fall from his horse in a recent battle. Already two other sons of the emperor have suffered physical ailments, Prince Joachim having received a bullet wound, and Prince Oscar having been stricken with a heart affection after an exhausting engagement.

IN PRAISE OF APPLES

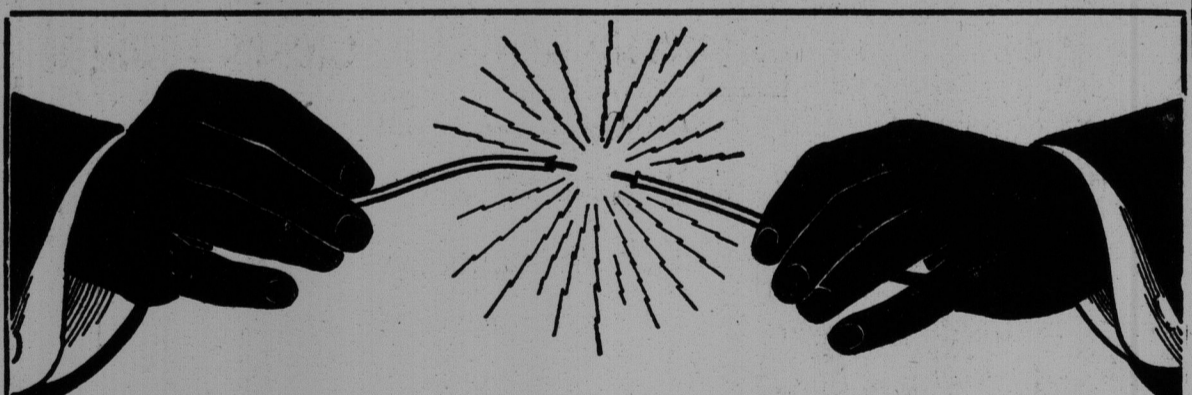

(By Peter McArthur.)

Fruit Commissioner's office, Ottawa—The apple-lovers of the country have been graded to a legal standard, so that nothing will do them but No. 1 apples and those of the choicest varieties. In Ontario the No. 1 Spies, Snows and McIntosh Reds could have been sold many times over. I am told that it is the same with the Gravensteins and other choice varieties in the maritime provinces and the Jonathans and Spitzengrasses of British Columbia. Everybody wants the choicest grade of the best known varieties. They are all like the spotty Kentucky Major who said: "I figger that we ah goin' through the world for the last time and that the best is none too good." Nonsense, and what is more, criminal nonsense!

It is entirely right that apples should be graded to a legal standard, so that the man who buys may get what he is paying for, but there are thousands and thousands of barrels of sound apples of little known varieties and culls of the best varieties that are as good as the best for cooking and eating. They are not "fancy," but they are wholesome and delicious and not one of them should be allowed to waste. And there is no reason why you should sniff superior and talk about "having them for the poor."

Yesterday I was in an orchard where packing was in progress and saw twentysix crates of apples being thrown to the pigs because they had a few scabs that made it impossible to pack them in the best grades. There is no market for culls and yet those culls were just as good as any apples in the No. 1 barrels. Just think of the apples being thrown to the pigs, because they were disfigured by a few blemishes that were only skin deep!

Now, do not scold my friend, the orchardist. He cannot sell them to the evaporating factory, for the nearest is miles away, and the price he would get would not pay for the price of loading them in a wagon and hauling them. And he cannot put them on the market because nobody wants culls. So they go to the pigs. If the pigs that the French

Thoughts are Sparks

—flashes of the mind that decide for success or failure.

The question is, what kind of sparks does your brain generate?

The brain, like a battery, must be supplied with certain elements to generate thought properly. These brain elements are water, albumen and phosphate of potash. If any of these are lacking in the daily food, brain and body energy are vitally lessened.

Are you lacking? Listen! Water and albumen are plentifully supplied in ordinary food, but phosphate of potash—together with other mineral elements—is almost wholly lacking in white bread and all white flour products.

German army. It was time for the beloved veteran to sound a warning. In a signed article he says: "I cannot help thinking that the great task of subduing Germany will begin when we, with our French, Russian and Belgian allies have driven the German allies into the heart of their own territory."

"We may be sure that Lord Roberts has no illusions about the difficulty of the preliminary task of driving the German allies into the heart of their own territory." It cannot be done by bullets and bravado.

"Let us avoid," he goes on to say, "what Kipling during the Boer war described as 'killing Kruger with your mouth.' Let us rather devote all our energies to defeating our foe man by the superior fighting of adequate numbers of British soldiers in the open field."

"Finally the old hero, referring to charges of atrocities by German troops, absolutely untrue, were brought against our brave soldiers fighting in South Africa. He exhorts his countrymen so to conduct themselves in the campaign as to earn the liking of the Germans as well as their respect."

"England was in need of this same counsel, this restraining admonition and the generous appeal of her greatest soldier."

TWENTY BOTTLES OF SCOTCH

Amherst News—Rev. H. R. Grant, who had such a trying experience at Fugwash a short time ago, added another chapter to his reminiscences in Stellarton last week, when he in the company of Inspector Soy, called at a place kept by D. Hoar. Mr. Hoar's door opened to let out a caller and the men forced their way in, but before they could get behind the counter the proprietor smashed a bottle containing rum, in order to prevent it from falling into the hands of the law. A long search followed which was rewarded at last by the discovery of a concealed hatch leading into a space between the double walls of rooms upstairs. The place had no opening in the other rooms, but was large enough to hold about one thousand bottles of liquor. Rev. Mr. Grant squeezed his way through the small exit and emerged with about twenty bottles of Scotch.

The fortifications of Antwerp are generally considered as among the most modern and most impregnable in the world, but against them are being brought to bear the specimens of the modern gunner's skill. Something of the defenses of this important city, which is liable to be invested by the Germans at any moment, is told by Major Piorkowski, an expert representative of the great Krupp gun works, at Essen, Germany, in an article especially written for the war issue of the Scientific American of October 8th, in which he says: "Antwerp has always been a fortress and its history is full of fighting and sieges. But now its fortifications count among the most modern, and are considered an example of the present state of the military engineer's art and science. Their designer and builder, Gen. A. H. Brialmont, the Belgian engineer and writer on fortifications, has made himself famous not only by his work for the strongholds of Antwerp, but by his planning and building the defenses of Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, and of Liège and Namur. His close connection and friendship with Col. Max Schumann of the German Works of Magdeburg in Germany enabled him to introduce iron and steel batteries and turrets into fortifications, and these modern constructions probably will now have their first test in real warfare. I may say right here that modern ordnance and gunnery have made great progress in the last thirty years, since Antwerp's ramparts and forts were built, as they are now, so that it is quite doubtful whether they would prove formidable and make the siege a long one. The range and power of penetration and accuracy of modern ordnance is far superior to what it was when the tests at Bucharest, in 1888, and at Spesia, Italy, in 1886, spread the fame of the so-called Gruson turrets, which form the nucleus of the Antwerp forts, and which were then adopted by the military engineers of Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium, Roumania, Switzerland, and Holland."

WHAT IS THE DUMDUM BULLET. Dumdum bullets have been freely discussed in many of the war reports, but exceedingly few people know what this term means, or whence the name was derived. This is explained in an article in the war issue of the Scientific American of October 8th, together with other interesting information relating to the subject. During the Chitral campaign in India, in 1888, the native troops found that the nickel-jacketed lead bullets they were using were not as effective as they wished; that is, they did not "stop" their man. They found the difficulty could be overcome by partially stripping off the nickel jacket and exposing the leaden head. These bullets, because they came from the Dumdum Ammunition Works at Calcutta, were known as "dumdums." They became greatly distorted when striking a soft body, spreading out into something like a mushroom shape and producing a very serious wound. This is the true dumdum bullet. It will be appreciated that, as in the Indian campaign, the bullet can be easily prepared by any soldier individually, without the knowledge of his superiors; and if such bullets have been used in the present war, this is their undoubted source. "That young Blok stays till a very late hour. What does your mother say about it?" "She says men haven't altered a bit."

FAIRVILLE NEWS

Judgment in the Pink case was not rendered yesterday, the case having been further adjourned until today. It is understood that all the evidence has been submitted and today's proceedings will consist chiefly of addresses by counsel J. King Kelley for the highway board and W. A. Nelson representing Mr. Pink.

An effort was made to try to have the matter amicably settled, but no basis for negotiations could be arrived at. Meanwhile that particular section of the new sidewalk will have to await further developments, and if the case is appealed to the supreme court no difference which side ultimately triumphs, it looks as though some time must elapse before the final scene in this interesting situation is reached, the actual laying of concrete, somewhere in front of Pink's domicile.

Last evening a very successful congregational social was held in the Methodist vestry, which was brightly decorated with flags, autumn leaves and flowers for the occasion, and presented a very attractive appearance. Members of the Methodist faith who have lately taken up their residence in Fairville were individually introduced by the minister, Rev. Gilbert Earle, and the acquaintances were renewed by subsequent intercourse and social conversation. The work now in progress and plans for the future, including the remodeling of a class room and part of the kitchen into a church parlour were discussed by the pastor in a lengthy address, dealing with every phase of church activity.

In relation to the affairs of the Ladies' Aid Society, he explained that in addition to their efforts along regular lines, the members had undertaken to provide a quantity of needed articles for the Canadian soldiers. The announcement was heartily received. During the evening music was furnished by the choir and at the close refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

SOME OF OUR TROOPS IN OLD LAND TWO WEEKS

Princess Patricia Regiment, It is Believed, Are The Ones

CLERGYMAN BRINGS WORD

Rev. W. H. Johnson of St. George's Arrived Today From England—Main Body Reached Britain Today

Some of the Canadian troops have been in England for a fortnight or more, according to a statement by Rev. W. H. Johnson, of St. George's, who arrived in the city today from England, where he has been visiting with his wife and two children. He returned to Canada via Montreal on the Cunard liner 'Acadia.' While in the city he will be the guest of Rev. Dr. D. Hutchinson, Douglas avenue.

Johnson said that he understood the Canadian force was the Princess Patricia regiment which was reported to have sailed some time ago from Canada and then turned back. That this was merely a strategic action upon the part of the militia authorities was then the general belief. Mr. Johnson said that much interest centered in England in the anticipated arrival of the main body of the Canadian forces, who were sure of a hearty welcome. He had been told that the Princess Patricia unit had been sent into training quarters in an English camp.

All the movements of British soldiers in transport to the continent, Mr. Johnson said, were being carried out with remarkable secrecy. Few outside of those in the confidence of the war department knew of the points of embarkation for the most part these were in the south of England. Recruiting was being steadily advanced, and apparently there was no difficulty in getting men, the chief trouble being in equipping them for action.

London, Oct. 8.—The Canadian troops, it is announced, arrived in home waters today.

MISS ETTA LOUISE JONES AND F. A. HOLMAN WED

A nuptial event of popular local interest was solemnized last evening at 8.30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Jones in Metcalf street, when their daughter, Miss ETTA LOUISE JONES, became the bride of Frederick Augustus HOLMAN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Holman, of Kentworth.

Rev. H. Noble, pastor of Victoria street Baptist church, performed the ceremony, which took place under a prettily arranged autumn arch in the parlour. Brown ferns, autumn leaves and potted berries were used in a most attractive decorative scheme in the house.

The bride was nicely attired in white silk with shadow lace overdress, and wore a Juliette cap with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was unattended. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a dainty luncheon served, at which about fifty guests were assembled. Later Mrs. Holman and the bride went to the home of Mrs. M. W. Jones in Metcalf street, where a substantial check presented to the bride was a substantial check. Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., in the near future.

The new C. P. R. twin screw steamer 'Misanthra' has sailed on her maiden voyage.

STETSON DAY

Today is Stetson Day at the St. John Golf Club. The annual field day which brings the playing season to an official close. The feature of the day will be the final match in the Stetson handicap, the contestants being P. S. Nesbitt and W. W. Bruce. Play in this match has been going on for some weeks and these two players are the survivors of the principal handicap match of the year, the prize for which is the famous Stetson Cup.

This morning the ladies are playing single matches. At one o'clock luncheon for the players was given at the club houses, with a large attendance. This afternoon mixed foursomes constitute the card. There is a large number of special prizes for today's play.

The prizes will be presented at the club house at the close of the afternoon play. F. A. Peters won the championship and the Weldon Cup this year.

The course has been in excellent condition and the season has been one of the most successful in the club's history. It is expected that this will be the last season on the present grounds as the links of the Riverside Golf and Country Club will be opened for play next spring.

PIT PROPS

The board of trade had a cable message this morning from the Bowden, New Brunswick commissioner in London, stating that "the following specifications of props are likely to find buyers in Britain: 2 to 7 inch top diameter; 6 to 10 feet lengths; large quantities; price prior to war 65c to 75c per fathom c.i.f.; 100s considered fair price on September 26. Timber Federation of London prepared to communicate likely buyers."

Robert H. Reid of Montreal, charged with obtaining $750,000 on false pretences, while out on $40,000 bail was re-arrested yesterday on the request of the chief of police of Halifax on a charge of dealing with a forged document knowing it to be forged.

MADE IN CANADA CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED HERE

M. R. A.'s Eleven Windows a Revelation to the Public—Toronto Takes Action

Insist on the "Made-in-Canada" sign—mark on all your purchases whenever possible. That is the significance of a campaign becoming general throughout the Dominion and now being inaugurated in St. John by Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd. It is really remarkable the collection of different classes of goods which they have made from their several departments and which have been turned out of Canadian factories, and the result of the first gun fired in the campaign is seen in eleven large display windows in which nothing but lines of home-manufacture is shown, even to the show-card decorations.

Even members of the firm themselves did not realize what a splendid assortment of really fine articles sold at their many counters came from Canadian manufactures, but the general public was undoubtedly amazed to learn the extent to which industrial life has developed throughout the Dominion. This is just a beginning, with M. R. A. There are other similar displays of Canadian-made goods yet to be shown, for the variety of the stock is by no means exhausted with the filling of the eleven windows, even though they do cover an extensive range.

An object lesson is presented in the showings, for they give an idea as to what can be done to develop Canadian industries and Canadian trade now that so many of the big manufacturing countries of Europe are paying more attention to the ways of war rather than to the bettering of peace.

A fitting idea is given as to the assortment of merchandise shown in the M. R. A. windows today, in the following incomplete list: Furniture of different kinds, shown in the Market Square store; ladies' finished costumes, and ready-to-wear lines, ladies' underwear, children's clothes, neckwear, umbrellas, men's furnishings, men's clothing, all shown in the King street window; house furnishings, curtains, carpets, rug portieres, tapestry, oldchina, velours, flannelles, blankets and other goods, displayed in the German street windows. These are not all, by any means, and as has been said, the display is only a beginning of the goods in the inventories of this special concern, for there must be in other business houses an equal opportunity for similar displays of goods bearing the "Made-in-Canada" trade mark. A visit to the stores of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd., and a glance at their windows will prove of educational value to many a citizen.

Action in Toronto

A resolution advocating the general use of Canadian-made goods was passed by the Council of the Board of Trade on a recent meeting, and will be distributed throughout Canada, and is exemplified by the other side of the "Made-in-Canada" sign.

The resolution is as follows: "Resolved that in view of the state of unemployment existing and of the large importations of goods into Canada, much of which could be supplied by Canadian manufactures, the Council of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto make representations to the Ontario government, the city council, the University of Toronto, the board of education and the societies of engineers and architects, requesting them, where possible, to use Canadian-made goods for all work under their control, and that the secretary be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to boards of trade in Canada asking them to take similar action with governmental and municipal authorities, and architects, and engineers in their districts."

THE LATE JOSEPH BULLOCK

In the current issue of the War Cry appears a picture of the late Joseph Bullock with the following appreciative note:

The late Mr. Bullock of St. John, was a very warm friend of the Salvation Army, and his death will be much regretted by a large number of officers and soldiers who have come into personal contact with him. The Women's Social Work was of special interest to both him and his good wife, and it is largely as a result of their generosity that the Army possesses such a splendid Rescue Home in St. John.

Canadian Volunteers

Montreal, Oct. 8.—While actual recruiting for the second contingent cannot be opened till instructions have been received at the various stations—and these are expected within the course of a day or two at most—there is every evidence that the response to the call will be as enthusiastic as it was by the men who went to Valcartier, the ranks of the Victoria Rifles, the Grenadier Guards and the Fifth Royal Highlanders, depleted by the departure of volunteers with the first contingent, are being rapidly filled.

A. Andrew J. Barry Dead.

The body of Andrew J. Barry whose death occurred on Sunday, in Somerville, Mass., at the age of 50 years, was brought to Bangor on Tuesday. Mr. Barry was formerly of Bangor and although he was born in Welford, N.B., he spent many years of his life in the Maine city.

Buy Cotton Goods Now

Never again is the Canadian woman likely to have such splendid opportunities to buy cotton goods as she has today.

The war has forced the price of raw cotton to an unprecedented low figure.

That, of course, means lessened prices for cotton fabrics and greater buying opportunities.

It would pay to buy cottons today and store them up. When the war situation clears prices will jump.

The stores are showing many attractive values, as can be seen from the advertising in The Telegraph and Times.
