How Your Baby Starts School

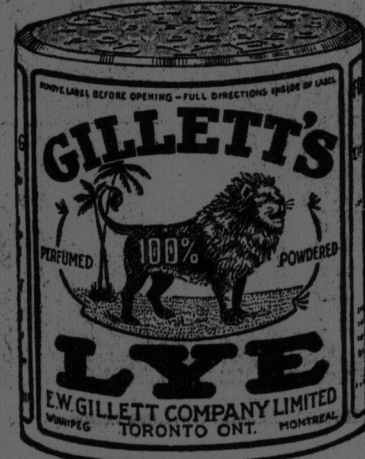

How to Make the Child's First School Clothes

BY CYNTHIA GREY

You can make your daughter's school clothes after the same pattern that you used to use for your paper dolls. I have had the artist draw a little girl so that you will get the general size, then cut it out of twenty-seven-inch goods. For a normal sized six-year-old girl the frock should be about a yard and a quarter above the bottom. Then make your sleeves according to diagram and sew them into the short kimono sleeves. Make little straight cuffs that will button tightly about the wrists and open the neck in a pocket hole that can be buttoned up straight in front. You can sell this little simple dress either with a leather or fabric belt. You can cut it

Daily Hints For the Cook

WALNUT BREAD
Four cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 scant cup sugar, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, little salt, 2 cups milk, 1 egg. Mix dry ingredients and add 2 scant cups milk and the beaten egg. Put in pan and let rise 1-2 hour and then bake 3-4 hour. We use this in a sandwich, the filling of which is cream cheese and pinicots made into a paste. Another bread is made as follows: One-half cup scalded milk, 1-2 cup boiling water, 1-2 tablespoon lard, 1-2 tablespoon butter, 8-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1-2 yeast cake dissolved in 2 tablespoons lukewarm water, 1-2 cup white flour, enough entire-wheat flour to knead and 8-4 cup pecan nut-meats broken into pieces. Add the nut-meats after the first raising for they have a tendency to hinder this process. Slice this nut bread, spread with butter and put orange marmalade between the slices. Cut in rounds, garnish top round with nut-meats (holding the nut-meats in place with a bit of butter).

When Mrs. Smith Said, "Oh, Dear"

By J. R. HAMILTON

Former Advertising Manager Wanamaker's, Philadelphia (Copyrighted)

MRS. Smith was a pretty woman. She loved fun, she loved good clothes, she loved good living. And Smith was the kind who always brought home the money. He earned more than any other man within four blocks. He was successful.

Yet there was only one topic of conversation in the Smith household, and that was money. There wasn't time for anything else. Mrs. Jones' husband wasn't so fortunate. He earned about half what Smith earned. Yet Mrs. Jones was also fun loving, clothes loving, and in fact a lover of all good things of life.

Now comes the singular part of our story. Mrs. Smith had fun, and bought clothes spasmodically with long lapses of dreariness and dowdiness in between. Mrs. Jones always had clothes. And so, as is usually the case, Mrs. Smith, who was considered so fortunate, finally found herself going for help to Mrs. Jones. "How do you do it?" said Mrs. Smith. "How on earth do you do it?"

And Mrs. Jones, having a kind heart as well as a shrewd mind turned to her richer friend and spoke as follows: "I think we are wearing the same kind of shoes," said Mrs. Jones. "How much did you pay for yours?"

"I paid $7.00," said Mrs. Smith. "That is strange," said Mrs. Jones. "I paid $3.85 for mine." How much did you pay for that little evening wrap? I have one almost like it.

"I really don't remember," said Mrs. Smith, "but I think it was $35.00." "How odd," said Mrs. Jones. "I think I bought mine for $16.75." And so the two women went through the list of wearables, until finally Mrs. Smith said in exasperation:

"Oh dear, how in the world did you do it?" Mrs. Jones laughed a good untroubled laugh. "Why," she said, "I do what every money making man in the world does. I watch my markets, and I buy when the prices are down. You do what every spendthrift man in the world does. You merely follow your next whim and buy when the prices are up."

I have my next year's shoes, stockings and underwear all bought from these Clearance sales. Next year you are going to pay two or three times as much as I have paid for the same things, just the same as you did for your shoes and your wrap." "Oh dear," said Mrs. Smith, "how in the world do you know when prices are down?"

"Why," said Mrs. Jones with another laugh. "I read my market reports. I read my advertising and I know everything that is going on in every store." Here, take this paper," she added. "Try it on as you did for your shoes and your wrap. The Clearance sales are on in every store, and every store worth while is advertising here."

Mrs. Smith gave one final, "Oh Dear." "I guess it isn't how much money you have, but the way you use it," she said.

POTATO CROP IN CARLETON COUNTY BIG ONE THIS YEAR

Hay Also Good, Says Hon. W. P. Jones—The Valley Railway

"The potato crop in Carleton county will be the largest one on record," said Hon. W. P. Jones, of Woodstock, today. In view of the proposed reduction of the United States tariff, the farmers have planted a much larger acreage than usual, weather conditions have been favorable, no rust has yet appeared, and so far potato bugs have been very scarce. The price, too, is good, the agents are paying the farmers one dollar a barrel delivered at the station.

"The hay crop is also a good one; at the first of the season it was reported light, but the abundance of rain during the summer months brought it on so that it turned out exceptionally well." When asked about the progress being made on the Valley Railroad, Mr. Jones said that the contractors and company were very short of funds just now. The company, it was said, had not yet received the dominion subsidy on account of some disagreement over the construction work and plans. As the sub-contractors are not paid until the twentieth of each month for the work done during the preceding month, ordinarily and at present not even then, they are experiencing difficulty in keeping the work moving. There is a good deal of doubt, Mr. Jones said, as to whether the Centerville-Grand Falls section would be built at all now, as Mr. Gould was in favor of a route through Maine and had said that the minister of railways preferred the idea of using the C. P. R. for the northern part of the line.

THE POLICE COURT.

John Pederson, the Austrian, who was robbed by a stranger in O'Brien's bar-room on Saturday, was fined $8 in the police court yesterday afternoon, but the penalty was allowed to stand.
A fine of fifty dollars or five months in jail was imposed on Patrick Gallagher, who was arrested several weeks ago charged with acting improperly with young children.

The case of Ida Earle, who was charged with street walking, was taken up in private and, after her mother had given evidence, she was allowed to go.
A. B. Outhouse, captain of the schooner Hugh de Payens, was in the police court yesterday charged with assaulting John Pederson, one of his crew with a belaying pin. The trouble arose over a question of wages. Outhouse admitted the assault, but said he was forced to act as he did to prevent Pederson, who had possession of his ship. The magistrate gave Outhouse the chance to settle the case by paying Pederson, but he demanded, but he refused and paid a fine of $20, which was almost twice the claim. The matter of wages was handed over to the American consul for settlement.

The only unoccupied room in the hotel—one with a private bath in connection with it—was given to the stranger from Kansas. The next morning the clerk was approached by the guest when the latter was ready to check out.
"Well, did you have a good night's rest?" the clerk asked.
"No, I didn't," replied the Kansan. "The room was all right and the bed was pretty good, but I couldn't sleep any more for I was afraid some one would want to take a bath, and the only door to it was through my room."

To Grow Hair on a Bald Head

By a Specialist

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and putting up by any druggist. Buy Runi, 6 ounces; Lavona de Compose, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish perfume, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

THE CROPS

Returns to Ottawa Department Give Promise of Great Results This Year

In a bulletin issued on last Friday the Census and Statistics Office reported that, according to the returns made by crop-reporting correspondents at the end of last month, the weather of July was upon the whole favorable to the growth of grain crops. The conditions in the northwest provinces were reported as generally excellent. Representing a standard or full crop by 100, the average condition throughout Canada of fall wheat is expressed as 77.75, of spring wheat as 87.62, of oats as 87.45, of barley as 87.28, of rye as 85.00 of mixed grains as 89.28 and of fax seed as 88.55.

The percentages of the standard condition of spring wheat, barley, and rye represent the promise of yields per acre for spring wheat of six, for barley of five, for rye of two and for fax seed of one per cent above the average yields of the last five years. The condition of the oat crop promises a yield equal to the average.

All the field crops of Canada on July 31, excepting only fall wheat (77.75), hay and clover (89.27) and alfalfa (93.25) are reported as having a condition above 80, the range being from 82 beans and corn for husking to 80 for potatoes and mixed grains.

In the three northwest provinces spring wheat is reported as 84.00 in Manitoba, 89 in Saskatchewan and 88 in Alberta, the other grain crops being correspondingly high, barley, especially in Saskatchewan and Alberta being 90 per cent or over. Root crops in the northwest provinces and in Quebec is 90 and over; but in Ontario it is down to 78.48. Flaxseed is above 80 in the northwest provinces and in Saskatchewan, where the great bulk of this crop is grown the percentage condition is 84.17.

Sugar beet, grown for beet root sugar in Ontario and Alberta, is 80.44 for the former and 92.21 for the latter province.

The preliminary estimate of the yield per acre of fall wheat is 22.88 bushels, which for the harvested area in Ontario did school wardrobe. The careful mother can buy all of these, outside the dresses, waists and skirts herself. If she launders and cares for these clothes herself, she will last through the school year. A little later one must add good over-shoes, leggings, a warm coat and mittens. Remember that plenty of cotton clothes that can go in the wash tub, thus insuring cleanliness, are much better than two flannel suits which get dirty and breed disease.

The school is always warm and you can teach your little child to run and exercise on the way to school.

The best physicians say that it is of about the bottom and sew on a straight scant pleating of the goods.

Don't let your little child in his white and black and white gingham. This will make a very pretty set of frocks and each one can be worn two days. Trim the black and white gingham with cords of turkey red and use red buttons all both. Your own taste will suggest different styles of trimming. These little dresses will be warm enough to wear all winter.

The best physicians say that it is

Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia of 925,800 acres indicates a total yield of 18,482,000 bushels, as compared with 15,296,000 bushels from 781,000 acres in 1912. This yield is 18 per cent above that of last year.

The average yield per acre of hay and clover is estimated at 128 tons indicating a total yield of 9,896,500 tons from 7,621,600 acres, as compared with 11,180,000 tons from 7,688,000 acres or 147 ton yield per acre of 138 tons, shows an estimated total production of 148,000 tons from 108,250 acres as compared with 310,100 tons from 111,800 acres, or 2.79 tons per acre in 1912.

Sewing machines valued at $10,000,000 were exported from the United States in 1912, more than $4,000,000 worth going to Europe.

MORE BURDENS What enemy has Canada to fear that it should seem necessary to adopt costly military training and spend enormous sums upon rifles, cannon, machine guns and other war materials?

The Standard announces that contracts for two more drill halls have been awarded at $13,700 and $15,000. It is evidently the policy of Col. the Hon. Sam. Hughes to dot this broad country with drill halls to such an extent that wherever two or three persons are gathered together, an armory shall be set down in the midst of them.

If one week from today the citizens of St. John should vote to repeal the new building law, there would be a return to the old condition of things, which is very far from desirable. What ever other good points the new by-law may have will be lost, along with that which relates to the three-decker tenement.

A very interesting situation between the United States and Mexico results from the action of the present Mexican government in threatening to break off all relations with the United States unless the latter recognizes the Huerta administration.

What is to be done about those grain conveyors at West St. John? If they are not provided, this national port will lose a good deal of business next winter. Last spring at a public meeting at which the matter was fully discussed, the whole sentiment of the meeting was that these conveyors must be provided, even if the city itself were compelled to take action in the matter.

RECIPROCITY The Tory press endeavors to make it appear that Canada will gain under the new American tariff everything it could have gained under reciprocity, and much more. The statement is not founded on fact, but it is not strange that Conservatives should be willing to admit that any gain can come to Canada from a lowering of the American tariff.

THE CANADIAN CLUBS The fifth annual conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs, which will be held in Hamilton on August 25, 26, 27, promises to be an event of unusual interest. The Canadian Clubs of Hamilton, the civic authorities and citizens have provided a fund to entertain the delegates, and they will be given an opportunity to visit such historic places as Lundy's Lane, Queenston Heights and Old Fort Niagara, in addition to enjoying an exceptionally interesting series of addresses, and the general discussion of Canadian Club problems.

KEEP THE CE BOX Sweet and Clean and Free from Odors with Old Dutch Cleanser. The delegates representing Women's Canadian Clubs will have an evening meeting, and St. John people will observe with interest that the presiding officer on that occasion will be Mrs. E. Atherton Smith.

THE RISE IN STOCKS

How Far It Has Gone, What Was Its Actual Cause, and Just How Much It Means (New York Post) The advance on the Stock Exchange, which reached its climax in the middle of the present week, after a continuous upward movement of at least four weeks, has altered pretty radically the relative scale of values. From the low level of the year—mostly touched in the second week of June, a day or so after the "Minnesota rate decision"—such advances have been made as 16 points in Union Pacific, 10 1/2 in Steel common, 11 each in Reading, St. Paul and Northern Pacific, and 5 to 6 in Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, and many others. A number of stocks, which in June stood 15 to 20 points below the January high level, this week reached prices only 5 or 6 points below the best figures of the year. It is therefore pertinent to ask just what this notable recovery really signifies.

FAMOUS BREACH OF PROMISE CASES

Proposals of Marriage Are Not Like Pie Crusts

PEERS AS DEFENDANTS

Quarter Million Given Miss Markham Recently is Record, But There Are Others Involving Large Sums—Once Ruler of a Kingdom Was Sued

(London Tit-Bits)

"Some men seem to think," said a prominent lawyer, who has figured as counsel in many breach of promise actions, to the writer a short time ago, that proposals, like pie-crusts, are only made to be broken, and they are quite pained when they find that the breaking is, at times, a costly process."

He was not alluding to the recent sensational case in which Miss Daisy Markham received £20,000 in the action which she brought against the Marquis of Northampton for breach of promise of marriage, but to the scores of cases which are tried every year, in which damages of a few hundred pounds are awarded; and he ventured the opinion that in the course of twelve months defendants in breach of promise cases have to pay as compensation for breaking women's hearts something like £15,000. For it must be remembered that many recent cases involving well-known people have been settled at the law courts upon terms not revealed, but presumably very substantial.

Notable Cases

The £20,000 given Miss Markham as a solatium for the breach is by far the largest sum ever awarded in the English courts in such an action. In two previous breach of promise cases, however, £10,000 damages were awarded. The first was in 1884, when Miss Finney, a Savoy actress professionally known as Miss Fortescue, brought an action against Viscount Garmoyne, son and heir of the great Lord Chancellor Cairns, for breach of promise. Miss Fortescue was then twenty-five years of age, and the sum of £10,000 was agreed upon between the parties when the case came before Mr. Justice Manisty.

Six years later Baron Huddleston had before him an action for breach of promise brought by Miss Theresa Gladys Knowles, a young lady of twenty-one, niece of Admiral Broughton, who sued Lealie Dunca, proprietor and editor of the "Matrimonial News," who was sixty-four years of age at the time. In the end the jury ordered him to disburse £10,000 to the lady, who, it might be mentioned, had claimed £25,000.

Peers as Defendants

In the same year Sir George Elliot, M. P., a man seventy-five years of age at the time, was the defendant in an action for breach of promise brought by Miss Emily Hals, who claimed £8,000. After two hours' deliberation, however, the jury disagreed, and a second trial ended so far as the courts were concerned, for it was announced soon afterwards that the parties had come to terms.

Another £10,000 case was the famous Liverpool action, when at the assizes in August, 1908, Mrs. Helen Turner received this amount in damages in an action which she brought against a well-known Liverpool wine merchant.

Members of the peerage have figured in several notable breach of promise actions. Viscount Dangan (afterwards Earl Crowley) had to pay £2,500 in 1889 to Miss Phyllis Broughton, while Miss Birdie Sutherland's action against the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks (afterwards Lord Tweedmouth) was settled in 1895 for £5,000. As in the recent case, the proposed marriages between Miss Birdie Sutherland and the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks, and that between Viscount Garmoyne and Miss Fortescue, were stopped by the active intervention of the fathers of the young men, the payment of the money in each case being accompanied by an expression of respect and esteem for the lady.

Mention might also be made of the £2,000 awarded against the Duke of Manchester in an action brought by Miss Portia Knight. His Grace was sued after his marriage in 1900. The public were looking forward to a sensational case, when the action was suddenly withdrawn from the lists, a private arrangement having been effected which prevented the case from coming into the courts.

In several other cases the damages have been between £2,000 and £3,000, notably that of Miss Florence Tennant, who recovered £2,800 from Morris Roberts at Birmingham, and Mrs. Miller, who was awarded £2,800 in an action which she brought in 1882.

Next to Miss Markham's case the record compensation paid to a lady by a titled wooer seems to be, according to MacArthur's History of the Parish of New Monkland, Lanarkshire, N. B., the £20,000 which Lord John Campbell paid in two instalments as damages for breach of promise to Miss Logan, a Lanarkshire lady, the second £10,000 being paid when he became Duke of Argyll in 1859. In this case much heavier damages were therefore paid than in any other previous case, but they appear not to have been awarded by a jury, but voluntarily paid.

One of the most sensational cases on record, however, was that in which the ruler of a kingdom was sued for breach of promise. This occurred in 1898, when an action was brought against the Sultan of Johore by Miss Jennie Mighell. That an English girl should bring such an action against an Eastern Prince seemed too incredible, but she persevered with it so courageously that the alarmed potentate declined to enter a defence beyond a declaration that as a sovereign he could not be sued by a subject, and accordingly the lady's action must fail because he was not amenable to the laws of England.

Counsel on both sides fought out the question with the greatest zeal, but in the end the Judge upheld the sultan's defence, and consequently the original case never came into the courts.

American Records

What promises to be one of the most sensational breach of promise actions ever tried in America is that which Miss M. A. Sullivan is bringing against a private New York man claiming damages of £20,000 and £15,000 for maintenance under an alleged contract.

The plaintiff, the daughter of a prominent local politician, says that when a student at Wellesley College she met the defendant, who proposed marriage, but declared that he must postpone the ceremony until his father's million-pound estate was settled. Ultimately, however, the plaintiff, according to her story, discovered that he had married someone else, and consequently she is bringing the action against him for the enormous sum mentioned.

Hitherto the record in the American courts for breach of promise damages is that established by Miss Clara Campbell, daughter of a prominent western forge-master, who some years ago brought an action for breach of promise against the senior member of a New York firm of coffee merchants, and was awarded £9,000 damages.

NICKEL'S LITTLE TRIO

START WEEK WITH HIT

Thousands Drawn to Theatre by Trimout Trio, All Vitagraph Bill and Miss Townsend

Three diminutive male vocalists, travelling under the name The Trimout Trio, opened a week's engagement at the Nickel last evening and were an instant success. It was impossible to have these performers give their programme at the matinee as they had been travelling all day en route from Sydney. The trio is composed of Eugene Beaudry, a wonderful little basso; Henry Curry, tenor, and George Jefferson, baritone. They humorously bill themselves as "180 inches of vocal harmony" and it is a fact they do deliver some very melodious goods. Among their numbers last evening were "That Old Girl of Mine, When the Wind O'er the Seas Doth Blow, Dreams of Mother, The Rosary, I'll Stick as Long as You, etc."

The Nickel's picture programme, which will be concluded today, has the merit of being an all-Vitagraph show. The leading feature is a two-reel production entitled The Great Diamond Mystery, being the prize winning story in the Motion Picture Magazine's recent contest. It is certainly an engrossing one. All the Vitagraph's best players take part in it. Comedy element is supplied in the picture. The Disciplining of Daisy—a college yarn—and topical interest is aroused in the Police Force of Quebec on Parade.

Where They Salt the Babies

An old superstition is that if a newborn baby is carefully and abundantly salted he will be strong and hardy when he grows up, and that moreover evil spirits will never be able to pursue him. And this custom is still clinging to in various parts of the world, though the method of procedure is different with different peoples. In certain parts of Russia, especially among some of the Armenian settlements, the salting of an infant is an occasion of great celebration, an event in the life of the youngster which is going to influence the whole of his life. The baby is rubbed well with fine salt, which is left on for about five hours, and during that time songs are sung, food and drinks partaken of, and all the relatives and friends join in the celebration.

Engine drivers in Germany receive a gold medal and £100 for every ten years' service without an accident.

Will Pave South Side of King Square—The Open Door—Vote on Building Law Amendment

Council Gives Permission To I. C. R. and C. P. R.

The common council was occupied largely yesterday afternoon with the discussion of the open door question and the matter of inserting the fair wage clause in city contracts, but nothing was decided in either of these matters.

Many resolutions were passed relating to work of the department of public works and harbors, ferries and public lands, and though several of these were of minor importance, more than one important motion was carried, including the granting of permission to the I. C. R. to lay tracks on Charlotte street extension and the leasing of land on the West Side to the C. P. R. for trackage purposes. It was decided to call for tenders for the paving the south side of King square without delay. The council met in full force, as Commissioner Schofield had come in from Hampton, where he is taking a vacation for the purpose of attending the meeting.

Permission was granted for the erection of fancy lamps on Union street to Joseph A. Likely and to T. J. McPherson, on their executing the proper agreement. Charles Wee was authorized to erect an electric sign extending over the sidewalk from his premises at 108 Charlotte street.

The commissioner of public works was authorized to purchase a tank car of road oil from the Imperial Oil Company of the same quality as that purchased April 15, at a price not to exceed ten cents a gallon.

The commissioner of harbors, ferries and public lands moved that the sum of $150 be paid William E. Scully in full settlement of a claim made by him for injuries to a horse, sustained by falling through the planking on the ferry docks. Adopted.

He further recommended that authority be given to purchase 14,000 feet of spruce planks for the flooring of warehouse No. 3 at $17.50 per thousand feet. Adopted.

Owing to the lateness of the season he moved that the proposals to rebuild the masonry the North Market wharf by Nelson Street under plans submitted by William Murdoch and Henry Holgate, civil engineers, be laid over till next session. Carried.

The commissioner also recommended that the department of public works of Canada be petitioned to have the necessary dredging undertaken at berths 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 Sand Point, so as to give a mean depth of thirty feet at low tide. The city engineer and harbormaster to take soundings at the berths mentioned. Carried.

The question of changing the system of assessment in the city was brought up for discussion and it was proposed to use the Somers system. Commissioner McLellan said he knew there was much dissatisfaction among the smaller ratepayers at the present system of assessment, but that vacant lands should be made to pay in accordance with the values placed on them by the proprietors. No decision was reached in the matter.

The council then resolved into a committee of the whole and Commissioner McLellan asked the recorder, who was present, whether the whole by-law relating to the arrangement of fire districts, etc., must be voted on and repealed if necessary in order to find out the opinion of the electors as to the construction of three-storey wooden buildings in the city.

Recorder Baxter said that this was necessary but that another by-law could be passed in order to retain the present arrangement of fire districts in case the vote of the people was in favor of the construction of three-storey wooden buildings.

Commissioner McLellan said that it had been called to his attention that a number of persons, among the poorer classes especially, would find it easier to attend the Sunday band concerts in the evening. He moved that the hours be changed from 8.30 to 5.30 and that the concerts should be held between 8.30 and 10

One of The Derbys Might Have Been a King. THE CROWN DECLINED. The Story of The Famous Stanleys Intimately Linked With Centuries of British History—Their Estate One of Immense Wealth.

(London Saturday Journal) A romantic might-have-been adds to the interest of King George's visit to Knowley Hall, the famous old seat of the Earl of Derby. It is as a subject and vassal that the earl receives his royal guest; it might have been as a sovereign! Earl Derby would today be King of Greece had not his grandfathers refused the throne. The story runs into the latter-day history of Europe, and we disentangle it from an enthralling chapter.

LATE REPORT MAKES NO CHANGE IN ALASKA STEAMER DEATH LIST

Seattle, Wn., Aug. 19.—Fifty-four passengers who hailed from Seattle on the steamer State of California on last Wednesday night, were booked for Juneau and Seattle, and presumably were on the ship when she struck a rock and sank in Gambier Bay, Alaska, on last Sunday morning. Twenty-two passengers were taken on board at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Petersburg, Wrangell and other points, and these also were on the boat at the time of the disaster, making a total of seventy-six passengers. Forty-three passengers were rescued and taken to Juneau by the steamer Jefferson, leaving thirty-three who probably have perished. Seven of the crew are dead, making the total death forty.

STILL IN FORCE

The board of health has not yet relaxed its order preventing milk from one farm near the city from being brought in for sale. Although the milk was found to be pure on analysis a final report has not yet been received from the farm, and in consequence the restrictions have not yet been relaxed.

A COMPLAINT

Two of the river steamer captains, speaking here from Glasgow, last night complained of some of the tugs and schooners lying at the wharves along the river so that not infrequently it was necessary for them to be alongside and land their passengers over the decks of the freight and the captains say that the wharves should not be used for such purposes as they were built by the government for the convenience of the travelling public.

TAKES WELSH'S PLACE BEFORE THE CHAMPION

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 19.—Willie Ritchie, world's light-weight champion, will remain in Vancouver for the next five weeks, and will defend his title on two occasions. Owing to the injuries sustained by Freddie Welsh, and which forced him to abandon the holiday bout, Eddie Moly, was substituted by the promoter last night. Moly, who Welsh's partner, has appeared in several bouts at Brighouse and has made a good impression. He stops at Ollie Kirk in five rounds in New York, three months ago, but since that time has taken on weight rapidly and will meet Ritchie at 135 pounds tonight. They will box 15 rounds. Ritchie will defend his title against Welsh on September 20, physicians stating that Welsh will be able to resume training in two weeks.

ICE FARTHER OUT THAN IS USUAL

Montreal, Aug. 19.—The ice in Belle Isle strait is at last thinning out, according to reports made by officers of the Donaldson Line Athena, which arrived here from Glasgow last night. They say that the difference in the conditions passing through the straits this time is most noticeable, compared with those prevailing only a month ago, and report that the ice is being met with much farther out this year than has ever been known before. During the voyage which has just ended, the Athena encountered the first ice 250 miles to the east of Belle Isle, whereas it is distinctly unusual for it to be met with until within 200 miles east of that point.

UNWELCOME VISITORS
If there is one man more than another who has a close-range acquaintance with a little animal that is given as wide a berth as possible, it is A. L. H. Stevens, caretaker of the public gardens. Thus far this summer seven of them have been killed by him, the last to fall being one this morning. The unwelcome visitors undo quite a lot of the work which Mr. Stevens has diligently performed and tear up portions of the flower beds.

BLAMES THE OCEONEE
W. W. Belyea, of Belyea's Point, takes exception to the statement in the Times yesterday that the grounding of the Ocone on Monday was due to the anxiety of her captain to be obliging, or to the failure of the boatman at the Point to get out from the shore in time. He says it was clearly due to the lack of skill on the part of whoever was directing the movements of the Ocone, which should not have grounded at all. He says the boat from shore put the passengers on board at the same place where it is always done and that the steamer should have cleared the point in safety.

KEEP CELLARS CLEAR
"Any merchant who allows his cellar to be littered with ashes, paper or loose rubbish of any kind is liable to a fine of $20 a day for every day his premises are in such a state. I do not believe that this is generally known but as the penalty is a heavy one every citizen should take care to observe the law carefully in this respect."
Magistrate Ritchie made these remarks when dealing with a case against Howard P. Robinson, who was reported by Sergeant Baxter for allowing loose paper to be around the cellar of the Atlantic Bond Co's office. Mr. O'Neill, a clerk in Mr. Robinson's office, said that arrangements had been made to have the paper removed. The magistrate allowed the fine to stand.

MR. SWITH WILL BE 101 YEARS OF
AGE TOMORROW

Veteran North End Citizen Hearty
As He Makes New Stride into His Second Century

Probably the oldest man in St. John is Louis Smith of Magazine street, who will be 101 years old tomorrow.

Mr. Smith has been a familiar figure in the city for many years and many a cheery greeting he gets as he goes about selling fresh vegetables, which he takes round in a wheelbarrow from door to door. It spite of his years he still makes it himself.

Mr. Smith was born in Havre, France, on Aug. 20, 1812, and has seen many adventures. He was one of the crew on the vessel sent out by the French government in search for Franklin the Arctic explorer in 1848 and at another time was shipwrecked off the New Zealand coast, being one of five who were saved out of a crew of twenty-four. Two of the five were afterwards killed and eaten by savages to whose mercy they were thrown by the sea. He also served in the Crimean war but deserted and swam a mile to escape in an American vessel which landed him at this port.

Three days after landing he was married to Catherine Reardon. He now has four sons and three daughters, forty-six grandchildren and six great-grand children. Mr. Smith is still an active man despite the burden of years.

TOURISTS PLAN TO WALK TO FREDERICTON

That is Design of Party of Young
Ladies Coming Here in Few Days—Season Good One For
Visitors

This year has been a bumper one for the tourist traffic. Enquiries at the Tourist Association rooms yesterday elicited the information that for the first ten days of August alone more than 100 more had registered than during the same period last year. Already this month more than 800 have been at the rooms and this number does not include several large parties such as that of Mr. Beckman, which was composed of twenty people.

More tourists seem to come here from Philadelphia than from any other single place. New York people also favor St. John; during the summer, however, people from every section of the continent turn up here. So far parties from South Africa, Australia, South America and all sections of the states have been among the number. Walking tours are becoming more and more popular. One party of young ladies is expected in the city in two or three days, who are planning a walking trip to Fredericton. They have made arrangements for stops at every eight miles on the route.

The number of tourists who are coming here for hunting in the fall promises to be better than ever. One party of ten have already made arrangements through the local association here, and smaller parties have also signified their intention of coming.

HENS ARE 'CATTLE
ACCORDING TO THE LAW

Discovery Made in Dealing With
Police Court Matter

That a hen, according to the Consolidated Statutes, is a species of cattle was the surprising discovery made by Police Clerk Henderson this morning, when he was trying to find the penalty prescribed for citizens who allow their poultry to run at large. No separate mention of hens was made in the book of law, but under the section which has to do with cattle elaborate instructions were found as to the treatment to be handed out to the owners of vagrant hens.

Thomas Graham was the offender whose case drew forth this startling information. He had been reported for allowing his hens to wander at large in his neighbor's garden plots in Eris street.

To the magistrate he confessed that he was much surprised and grieved at being reported, as he had kept hens in the same way, in the same place for the last twenty-five years and his mother had kept them before him. When he gave assurance that his poultry would be shut up in the future, and any damage done would be fully paid for, the magistrate allowed the matter to stand.

THE NEW BRIDGE

"The work of excavating for the Suspension Bridge on the St. John side will be started in a few days now," said A. K. Wetmore, provincial engineer, who is at the Dufferin today. "So far the work has gone ahead very satisfactorily. The work of preparing on the Fairville side is almost completed; it required a lot of rock cutting, much more than will be needed on the St. John side, as the site on this side is more naturally adapted as a foundation for a pier. When completed the foundations will indeed be splendid ones. The work on the anchorage for the stays will be begun soon and will be done along with the erection of the retaining wall. The superstructure is reported to be well under way, there will be no difficulty in having it ready, as there is a very great deal of work to be done yet in preparation before the work of actual erection can be started."

Mr. Smith was born in Havre, France, on Aug. 20, 1812, and has seen many adventures. He was one of the crew on the vessel sent out by the French government in search for Franklin the Arctic explorer in 1848 and at another time was shipwrecked off the New Zealand coast, being one of five who were saved out of a crew of twenty-four. Two of the five were afterwards killed and eaten by savages to whose mercy they were thrown by the sea. He also served in the Crimean war but deserted and swam a mile to escape in an American vessel which landed him at this port.

Three days after landing he was married to Catherine Reardon. He now has four sons and three daughters, forty-six grandchildren and six great-grand children. Mr. Smith is still an active man despite the burden of years.

TOURISTS PLAN TO WALK TO FREDERICTON

That is Design of Party of Young
Ladies Coming Here in Few
Days—Season Good One For
Visitors

This year has been a bumper one for the tourist traffic. Enquiries at the Tourist Association rooms yesterday elicited the information that for the first ten days of August alone more than 100 more had registered than during the same period last year. Already this month more than 800 have been at the rooms and this number does not include several large parties such as that of Mr. Beckman, which was composed of twenty people.

More tourists seem to come here from Philadelphia than from any other single place. New York people also favor St. John; during the summer, however, people from every section of the continent turn up here. So far parties from South Africa, Australia, South America and all sections of the states have been among the number. Walking tours are becoming more and more popular. One party of young ladies is expected in the city in two or three days, who are planning a walking trip to Fredericton. They have made arrangements for stops at every eight miles on the route.

The number of tourists who are coming here for hunting in the fall promises to be better than ever. One party of ten have already made arrangements through the local association here, and smaller parties have also signified their intention of coming.

HENS ARE 'CATTLE
ACCORDING TO THE LAW

Discovery Made in Dealing With
Police Court Matter

That a hen, according to the Consolidated Statutes, is a species of cattle was the surprising discovery made by Police Clerk Henderson this morning, when he was trying to find the penalty prescribed for citizens who allow their poultry to run at large. No separate mention of hens was made in the book of law, but under the section which has to do with cattle elaborate instructions were found as to the treatment to be handed out to the owners of vagrant hens.

Thomas Graham was the offender whose case drew forth this startling information. He had been reported for allowing his hens to wander at large in his neighbor's garden plots in Eris street.

To the magistrate he confessed that he was much surprised and grieved at being reported, as he had kept hens in the same way, in the same place for the last twenty-five years and his mother had kept them before him. When he gave assurance that his poultry would be shut up in the future, and any damage done would be fully paid for, the magistrate allowed the matter to stand.

THE NEW BRIDGE

"The work of excavating for the Suspension Bridge on the St. John side will be started in a few days now," said A. K. Wetmore, provincial engineer, who is at the Dufferin today. "So far the work has gone ahead very satisfactorily. The work of preparing on the Fairville side is almost completed; it required a lot of rock cutting, much more than will be needed on the St. John side, as the site on this side is more naturally adapted as a foundation for a pier. When completed the foundations will indeed be splendid ones. The work on the anchorage for the stays will be begun soon and will be done along with the erection of the retaining wall. The superstructure is reported to be well under way, there will be no difficulty in having it ready, as there is a very great deal of work to be done yet in preparation before the work of actual erection can be started."

Probably the oldest man in St. John is Louis Smith of Magazine street, who will be 101 years old tomorrow.

Mr. Smith has been a familiar figure in the city for many years and many a cheery greeting he gets as he goes about selling fresh vegetables, which he takes round in a wheelbarrow from door to door. It spite of his years he still makes it himself.
