ANGLICAN PRELATES PREACH IN CHURCHES OF ST. JOHN

Visiting Bishops Heard by Large Congregations at the Episcopal Services on Sunday—Reception in Keith's Theatre on Saturday Evening

The Bishop of London

The people of St. John yesterday turned out in very large numbers to hear sermons by the visiting bishops in the Anglican churches of the city. In most cases long before the hour the services began, the crowds had gathered around the main doors of the sacred buildings waiting until they should be opened.

At 8.30 there was a reception in Keith's assembly room at which a great number of the citizens as well as strangers in the city and the members of the general board of the women's auxiliary of the Anglican church of England in Canada were present as invited guests. Speeches were delivered by the Bishops of London, Glasgow, Washington and Niagara, as well as assistant Bishop Reeves, of Toronto, dealing with the subject of Canadian development.

The Bishop of London preached in Trinity in the morning and St. John's (Stone) church in the evening. Assistant Bishop Reeves, of Toronto, was in Trinity in the evening and St. John's (Stone) church in the morning. Bishop Taylor-Smith was in St. Paul's in the morning and St. Luke's in the evening.

Every seat was occupied in St. John's (Stone) church in the evening. The Bishop of London is a preacher of rare power, making his appeal directly to the hearts and consciences of his hearers. He read the gospel lesson, which was the story of blind Bartimeus, with wonderful effect.

"This," he said, "is one of the most humbling as it is the most exalting message in the New Testament. One of the most common delusions in this world is to imagine that we are exceptional people, that we have got exceptional temptations and difficulties to contend with. One man may say: 'Oh, I have a family temper the character of which is well known, and you can't expect me to do much with that. Another man is fully persuaded that no business house was ever so full of temptations as the one in which he is employed. Another may be a girl who finds her own home life so narrow and longs to be out in the big world doing something.'

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE ROSCOE CONKLING

By Robert G. Ingersoll

It was the ideal representative, faithful and incorruptible. He believed that a nation should discharge its obligations. He knew that a promise could not be made often enough or emphatic enough to take the place of payment. He felt that the promise of the government was the promise of every citizen—that a national obligation was a personal debt and that no possible combination of words and pictures could take the place of coin.

Heaven is like unto a heaven," his last ship said that he wanted to call the attention of his hearers to the inclination of the 20th century civilization. Coming from Glasgow into this country, he was struck with the great wealth which the church of Canada had to face in dealing with the mass of humanity now living in the expansive world.

The speaker at St. James' church, Broad street, last evening was the Bishop of Washington (Dr. C. J. Edmund Jones, see the words of St. Paul to Timothy: "This is a faithful saying—that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.")

Opera House Meeting. Every seat in the Opera House was occupied yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock when Bishop Taylor-Smith delivered a strongly practical and helpful address to men. His subject was "The Dignity of Man."

Pain in Heart. "For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side. Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and my little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."

Mrs. Nellie Thomas, of Hope, Sandusky, Ohio. For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles. Because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of long standing it has frequently prolonged life for many years after doctors had given up all hope, as proven by thousands of letters we have received from grateful people.

Holy Spirit and that they might be received by and prayed over by every individual present. There were hundreds and thousands of men in prisons and lunatic asylums who had no right to be there. They would not have been there if at some critical period of their lives their parents had spoken a few plain words. But these words were never spoken and so, instead of the healthful cause that corrects, instead of the pure came the impure and these men, many of them still in their teens, were left stranded wrecks on the shores of time.

Ignorance does not mean innocence and knowledge does not mean sin. It is not easy to speak to children on certain subjects but this does not remove the responsibility. During the late South African war when there was any particularly dangerous piece of work to be done volunteers were always called for and the result always was that they secured more men than they could use. He appealed to the fathers present not to be less zealous where the welfare of their children both in time and eternity was at stake. If it was true that drink killed its thousands, it was also true that unclean living slew its tens of thousands. There was no harm than good done, his lordship went on, by hitting at things. Only plain facts before the people in a plain way will do them good.

Cannot Begin Too Soon. It was not possible to begin teaching morality to a child too early. He hardly knew of any condition of domestic life in which corruption could not creep. It takes twenty-five years for a man to reach his full maturity, or in other words it took a quarter of a century for God to build a man. From fifteen to twenty-five years the most important period of his life because the foundations of physical and intellectual life are being laid. If the speaker said, it was known what the relations of Yarmouth, N. S. Sept. 10—10th, sdr Walford, Sd, 11th—Brig Lady Napier, for Penobscot.

At the inquest on Saturday afternoon into the death of Harry Brundage, killed at the exhibition grounds on Thursday last, Coroner Berryman presided, and N. B. Keith, Henry Triffis, and Paul Dooley, were examined as witnesses. Their testimony was principally dealing with construction of booths for shooting galleries. Another session will be held on Tuesday evening.

The coroner's jury in the case of Edward Lane, killed in the collision of the West End street cars, will meet tonight at 7.30 o'clock. The jurors are I. E. Smith, foreman; Samuel K. Wilson, Geo. Ross, William McLaren, Harry Driscoll, Capt. Henry Kennedy and A. E. Hart.

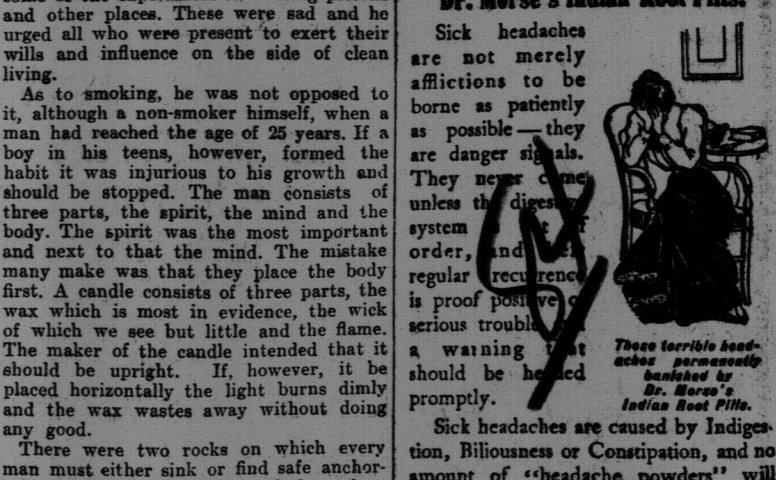

SICK HEADACHE

A Symptom of Troubles Which are Removed by Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. Sick headaches are not merely afflictions to be borne as patiently as possible, they are danger signals. They are danger signals unless the digestive system is regulated.

Sick headaches are caused by indigestion, biliousness or constipation, and no amount of 'headache powders' will do more than temporarily relieve them. The only way to get rid of them entirely is to cure the Constipation or Indigestion that is causing them, and nothing will do this quicker or more effectively than Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are purely vegetable in character, and are free from any harmful drug. For over fifty years they have been in constant use in Canada, and have proved most effective in regulating the bowels, aiding digestion, banishing sick headaches and restoring vigorous health.

BADEN-POWELL VISITS FARM AT NAUWIGEAUW

Hero of Making Anxiously Looked for When Time Expected Return Arrived - Many Eager to See Him

The chief visitor of interest in the city today is General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who is registered at the Royal Hotel. The general was in the country for almost the entire morning, he having left on the early train for Nauwigewauk, where he visited the farm of Mrs. Eleanor Close, who was expected to arrive at 10 o'clock, but did not return, and it was after 10 o'clock before he reached the city. His little anxiety is being feared that he would not be able to arrive in the city until after the hour set for the meeting in the Opera House, and the telephone was made use of in an effort to locate him, by M. E. Agar, president of the Opera Club, but to no avail. In spite of repeated enquiries, he could not be found, and as a last resource the telephone wires were used. Those who had a knowledge of the Baden-Powell, worried, not, for they knew he would be on hand at 2 o'clock, when he had said he would arrive.

THE CHIEF SCOUT

To be the head of a movement that has spread throughout the empire and is attracting attention in all countries is a distinction that comes to few men. It has been won, however, by an unassuming soldier and gentleman who is today in this city—Gen. Baden-Powell, the head of the Boy Scout movement.

THE EXHIBITION

The second week of the exhibition has opened under sunny skies and with the promise of additional attractions that should draw thousands upon thousands within its gates.

THE TARIFF TALK

The Ottawa Free Press suggests an increase in the British preference as a partial solution of the problem of a reduced tariff. The Free Press points out that there is a considerable demand for tariff reduction, and that it is not confined to the west, though stronger there than elsewhere.

the statement is being made so persistently in the great newspapers controlled by the tariff reformers in England that doubtless many readers are coming to believe it. And when men of the high standing of Sir James Whitney, after falling into the clutches of such socially and politically influential personages as Lord Northcliffe, confirm the suggestion that Canada's loyalty is a commercial commodity open to barter, shall we wonder if the unpleasant opinion of an agreed-for party purposes eventually takes root?

The Montreal Witness, which is a pronounced free trade journal, contends that the movement for tariff reduction in Canada is so formidable that account must be taken of it, and lay the responsibility for it upon the high protectionist party. We quote:

"Those English tariff reformers who have tried to persuade themselves that the free trade spirit of the Canadian west is of little account and hardly to be taken into consideration for practical purposes will be displeased to learn that a strong deputation is being organized by the three western provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, to go to Ottawa directly after parliament meets, for the purpose of reiterating and emphasizing the demands for tariff reduction which the organized farmers of the west made so vigorously during Sir Wilfrid Laurier's recent tour. We learn that the executive of the Dominion Grange is meeting in Toronto this week to consider the subject of Ontario's co-operation in the movement; and leaders of the western organization desire the co-operation of all the eastern provinces in the presentation at Ottawa of a demand for a reduction of the tariff in general and reciprocity with the United States in particular. We warned the moderate protectionists who have been constantly worrying the government for higher and higher duties, and in their own selfish interests of the Nemesis they were invoking; and they may chiefly blame themselves that the free trade movement has already gained such strength, and must now be taken very seriously into account by the government."

It must be noted, in connection with tariff matters, that negotiations with the United States for a measure of reciprocity will probably soon be opened at Ottawa by a delegation from Washington, and this fact adds another element of great interest to the general situation. The Ottawa Free Press is quite right in denouncing any attempt on the part of Conservatives to convey the impression in England that Canadian loyalty to the empire is conditioned upon tariff preferences, and that journal's suggestion of a method of carrying conviction to the public mind in the mother country by increasing the Canadian preference is worthy of consideration. This country does not want free trade, nor such legislation as would make it a slaughter market. It does want a moderate movement in the direction of tariff reduction.

This is election day in Maine. As usual, both great parties expect a victory. The prohibition and socialist candidates for governor will somewhat divide the vote, but the fight is between the Republican and Democrat.

The Trail Magazine, published in Regina, in its September issue has this anecdote concerning Mr. R. L. Borden:—"During the last general election a strong supporter of R. L. Borden met an equally ardent admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one morning after the opposition leader had spoken in their home town. 'Sound speech of Borden's last night,' said the former; 'every word of it was absolutely sound.' 'Yes,' said the Liberal as he passed on, 'that's all there was to it.'"

The tariff adviser of President Taft, who is now in St. John, believes that a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States can be negotiated, in a manner satisfactory to both countries. He states that the American people are under no delusions with regard to Canada. They understand its loyalty to the empire, and its growing spirit of Canadian nationalism, and do not, therefore, look for any action that would sacrifice either of those. But there are directions, Mr. Pepper believes, in which mutual tariff reductions can be made with benefit to both countries. At all events, he approaches the subject in the right spirit.

The notable feature of the addresses of the Anglican bishops in St. John yesterday was their direct simplicity. The message was the old message, urging men and women to purity in thought and deed, in right relation with the divine life. The law of sacrifice and service, the temptations common to all, the strength that comes from God to them that seek it, were dwelt upon with earnestness and force. Every Sunday local ministers deliver the same message. Throughout the Christian world there is a growing unity of spirit among the churches, and a growing consciousness that not in emphasis upon minor points but upon the great essentials of the Christian faith is the kingdom of heaven to be brought to earth.

LETTERS FROM A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS WOMAN TO HER NIECE.

DEAR NIECE JOAN— Of course I'm glad its to be stenography and typewriting, both because I started that way, and because I believe there will always be a great call for first class stenographers. What you say you have heard about the field being crowded is all very true. The field is crowded—most fields are—but remember this, niece—thehell isn't. And that's where I expect you to be.

I don't happen to be acquainted with either of the two schools you speak of, but when you say that one of them offers to make you a good stenographer in three months, that settles it. I don't want any introduction to that one. Never lose sight, niece, of the fact that you can't get something for nothing in this world, and you'll have an axion that will fit in, in love, and business, and a good many other relations of life.

Your specific training is to be your stock in trade, and if you pay little in time and money for it, you must expect it to be inferior, just as a shopkeeper's would if he didn't pay standard prices.

The most hindering haste you can possibly make is in preparation for work. I had a stenographer once who came from one of those schools and after a few weeks, instead of dismissing her on some pretext she was dismissed. I told her the truth and said that I would lend her a hundred dollars and give her a position when she was ready for it, if she stenographers today, but she waited a year making haste too fast.

Of course I know you are anxious to get to work and earn money, but it's the race to the tortoise every time when preparing for the race track. You think I'm lucky, niece, because I make better money than most of the men who started out when I did, but it doesn't sound too much like self glorification your aunt would like to tell you that it wasn't all luck.

When I started in as a stenographer I was in as tight a place financially as anyone could be and then a bit tighter. I had to borrow the money to take the course, and I can tell you it took a good deal of courage to borrow one hundred dollars and spend eight months, when some schools were offering to do it for fifty dollars in three months.

One of my girl friends took the shorter course and tried to persuade me, and I don't think I'll ever forget how I felt when she began earning her eight dollars a week while I was still paying out money.

How I used to envy her the pretty new clothes she kept buying. The only new thing I had that winter was a five dollar coat of which was such an event in my life that the whole family went in to help me select it. I can tell you her eight dollars a week looked like a fortune to me then. But, somehow, the twelve dollars she is earning today doesn't.

You see, niece, you are getting just what you asked for—my honest opinion. I wonder if you are like most people who only ask your advice in the hope that you will take the responsibility off their shoulders by advising them to do what they want, but know isn't best.

How about it? Your plain speaking but affectionate old Aunt.

Daily Hints for the Cook

GRAPE CATCHUP.

Stem and wash the grapes, then put in a kettle with a little water to scald up, then strain and to every 3 cups of juice add 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon each of black pepper, clove, cinnamon and salt, then boil half away.

COTTAGE PUDDING.

Best level tablespoon of butter to a cream with 4 level tablespoons of sugar. Add 1 egg, beat five minutes, and 1 1/4 cup of milk, 3/4 of a cup of flour with 1 level tablespoon of baking powder. Can be baked in loaf or five custard cups.

CUCUMBER PICKLES.

Four boiling water over 1 peck of cucumbers, let stand until cool, then dry and pack. Pour over them this prepared vinegar: Boil together 1 gallon of cider vinegar, 3 tablespoons of black pepper, 8 tablespoons of salt, mix in a half cold vinegar, 2 tablespoons of curry powder, 4 tablespoons of cornstarch, 2 tablespoons of mustard. Stir into Cucumbers; let all boil up, then pour over cucumbers and seal.

NANTUCKET CORN PUDDING.

Select firm, fresh ears of corn, medium size, and with a keen bladed knife score each row of kernels, then scrape out the pulp, leaving the hulls on the cob. To the pulp taken from a dozen ears allow 1 pint of milk, 1/2 cup of butter, 1/2 cup sugar, a half teaspoonful salt, a half teaspoonful pepper, and if the corn lacks sweetness, two or three tablespoonsful sugar. Bake in a well buttered deep earthen dish for two hours, in a slow, steady oven.

WATERMELON CONES.

Cut a ripe and chilled watermelon in halves crosswise the melon, says the Boston Cooking School Magazine. Use a tea, soup or table-spoon, as is desired. Press the bowl of the spoon to fit full height down into the melon, turn it around until it comes again to the starting place, lift out the cone of melon, remove the seeds in sight and dispose of in a serving dish. When all the cones-possible have been cut from the surface of the half melon, cut a slice of rind that extends to the tip of the cones, then remove the red portion of the melon in cones as above. Serve ice cold.

HALF MILLION SEE EUCHARISTIC PROCESSION SUNDAY IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The Eucharistic procession, the crowning event of the Eucharistic Congress, took place today and was participated in by 400,000 men, and was witnessed by half a million people. Never has any city of the new world witnessed such a spectacle and the demonstration was of such a stupendous character that it took four and a half hours for the procession to pass a given point. More processions passed at the rate of 10,000 an hour. Never has Montreal or any other Canadian city witnessed such a huge gathering of people. During the past two days more than 200,000 poured into the city from all parts of the continent. The tremendous influx resulted in something approaching a food famine and hundreds waited in line at the various hotels and restaurants waiting for a chance to get something to eat.

The resources of the railways were taxed to the utmost and the dense throngs packed the stations waiting for the special trains which took them back to their homes. Until a late hour tonight the trains were leaving every fifteen minutes. Montreal tonight is invaded by hungry throngs and prices of food have soared. The monster procession passed off without a hitch, and with the exception of a few cases of fainting the Red Cross stations along the route had little to do.

REV. MR. CAMP SPEAKS ON BOY SCOUTS AT THE EVERY DAY CLUB

The Boy Scout movement was endorsed by Rev. W. Camp at the Every Day Club last evening. He was utterly opposed to war, he said, and to the building of warships, but this was a movement to develop manhood and character. In the course of his address Mr. Camp referred also to the unveiling of the Tilley monument, and held up to boys and young men the example of Sir Leonard Tilley as one who had a high purpose in life and was inspired by high ideals. Mr. Camp dealt with right ideals, broad human sympathy and a desire to help others, and right relations with God, our Father, as the elements of character which men wrought out in the lives of men will bring universal brotherhood. He pointedly observed that a man does not enter Heaven alone. The modern conception of the Christian life is that a man shall as he rises lift others along with him. A great social change is being wrought out in this world, and the tendency is toward this spirit of brotherhood.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS
 OPERA HOUSE.
 Wm. P. Cullen's company, playing The Alaskan, closed to a good house on Saturday evening in the Opera House, and left last night for a tour of the border towns before opening at the Halifax exhibition. The company is a good one, and during its stay here, the members made many friends. They will be succeeded at the Opera House by Phil Ott and his company of comedians, which is announced as one of the best musical comedy organizations on the road. This company will play the entire week in two musical comedies, The Auto Girl, and The Explorer, the latter a comic satire on Dr. Cook.

THE GEM.
 In many of the larger cities of the world the entrance of women into business professions has become a subject, but while there are certain houses where feminine labor is not desired, this is not the case with all. It is a life which forms the basis of a powerful and stirring romantic drama, entitled "The Stronger Sex," which is to be shown at the Gem theatre, Waterloo street, today and tomorrow. It is a story of pathos and intense interest, and the management calculates to please its many patrons with its presentation. Two clever comedies, "The Detective's Dream," and "Prof and the Cat," will be given, as well as an educational feature, "Bear Hunting in Russia," and a scenic picture, "On the Ethiopian Frontier." Prof. Titus will sing, "Whisper, and I Shall Hear," while the orchestra has a fine programme of musical numbers.

THE LYRIC.
 Vaudeville programmes of a high order that please the people, coupled with the best in motion pictures are the meats of bringing the Lyric Theatre daily to the front and making it one of the most popular houses in the city. For the first part of this week the vaudeville attraction will be The Ladons, a pair of clever comedy artists with a fund of wit, out of the usual style and working in some very pretty costumes. This act is claimed to be an especially good one and to live up to the Lyric's high standard. The picture programme embraces four high class features, open all day.

A human hair of average thickness can support a load of 6 to 14 ounces and the average number of hairs on the head is about 30,000. A woman's long hair which is to be shown at the Gem theatre, Waterloo street, today and tomorrow. It is a story of pathos and intense interest,

Tennis
 Tournament ended.
 The tennis tournament was ended on Saturday.
 The results were as follows:
 In the ladies' singles Mrs. H. R. Babbitt, of Fredericton, with scores of 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, won from Miss Mabel Thomson, St. John, in a very plucky match, which was replete with good plays. Mrs. Babbitt's name is the first to go on the cup awarded the champion in the ladies' singles.
 Probably the match in which most interest was manifested was that between Cassels, of Montreal, and Grant, of Halifax, which was won by the latter after his opponent had gotten the first four. Cassels tried to rush his game, but Grant beat him by out-driving, and though the Montreal man came back by playing short, the Halifax player had the better of him throughout, and won his match, thus making him the champion in the men's singles, and taking the cup to Halifax. The scores were 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

DID NOT WED WHOLE FAMILY, SAYS DALE

New York, Sept. 12.—Francis Colgate Dale, the young real estate broker who has been made the defendant in a supreme court suit by his wife to recover $50,000 worth of jewelry that she claims he gave her as a wedding present and recently took away from her, gives an explanation of how he happened to remove the diamond and ruby ornaments from a safety deposit vault in the Night and Day Bank.

He is twenty-four years of age. He was married to Lillian Peterson on January 1, 1909 and separated from her. His father was a member of the Wall street firm of Chalmers & Dale. His grandfather was the Rev. Gerald F. Dale of Philadelphia, head of the National Presbyterian Church.

Since his return after an extended European trip, Dale asserts that his relations with his wife have become strained by reason of her parents' fondness for dictating how much money a young married couple ought to spend and how this sum should be expended. While willing to be generous, Dale charges that he thought his mother-in-law showed too much zeal for his welfare in making changes for him and having the amounts charged.

Extravagance, He Says
 "I still love my wife dearly and was willing to put up with extravagance for her sake and the sake of our little boy," Dale stated, "but I decided that it would be best for us to live apart from her parents. I didn't marry the whole family and didn't care to support any one but the members of my own family. I did, however, loan Dr. Peterson, my father-in-law some money, and have his notes for the amount."
 Dale's wife and I took a house at No. 145 West Seventy-sixth street. In six months my wife's style of living had cost me $10,000. The sum did not include anything spent for furniture as I had that. But the extravagance I was forced to bear was too much for my income. I had to borrow money. Then we decided on my wife's request, to board.

"A week ago in order to get my wife away from the influence of her parents I took her to Carmel, Saturday, while I was in another part of the house, she took the baby and drove away in the train. I learned from neighbors that a closed coach, bearing two men, drove her to New York. I have reason to believe that one of these men was my father. When I reached New York and inquired at Dr. Peterson's home for my wife he told me I could not see her."
 Speaking of the jewels for the recovery of which Mrs. Dale is suing Mr. Dale he said that they were gifts to him from his mother and given in turn to his wife on the understanding that she was to keep them in the event she was divorced from him.

"I was recovering from scarlet fever a week ago," Dale continued, "and my wife telephoned me demanding the jewels. I said I did not give her the amount she desired at once she would sell my mother's jewelry. As she refused to do so I went to the bank and took the jewelry for safe keeping. My wife and I used the same safe deposit box. Both of us had keys."

Jackson battled for the supremacy in the men's doubles, but the former team won easily. Best of three sets was played from Nova Scotia. The scores were 6-7, 6-0, 6-1, 6-4.

In the mixed doubles Wood and Hazen won from MacLennan and Dunn, by default, and the former team well in turn defeated Silver and Wiswell in the St. John Tennis Association. This latter match was particularly spectacular, and was regarded by many of those who witnessed it as the best of the tournament. The scores were 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Mrs. George Skinner presented to Mrs. Babbitt a diamond and ruby necklace valued at $10,000. The necklace was presented to Mrs. P. W. Thomson presented to the winners in the maritime tournament the cups won by them.

 Play in the Steaton handicap is proceeding and another round will be played this week. D. W. Newcombe is the present holder of the cup.
 There is talk of sending a team to Moncton next Saturday.

Mr. Wiley Wins Championship.
 The Maritime Golf Association matches were finished at Woodstock Saturday. H. W. Wiley of the Halifax club was drawn against Dr. F. Sprague and the latter was five down and four up to play at the finish. Charles J. Jones, one of the young set players, who was Mr. Wiley's next opponent was only two down at the finish. In the final, thirty-six holes, Mr. Wiley won from Dr. S. Crighton and captured the Maritime championship. Dr. Sprague won the consolation prize with Rev. G. B. Ireland the runner-up. The next association meet will be at Glace Bay, N. S.

THE BEGGARS OF EGYPT

How to Treat Their Persistent Demands for Bakhshish
 While at Marseille, France, I met a man from Ohio and passed a pleasant evening with him. We occupied adjoining rooms at the hotel. About midnight he began shouting in his sleep. "Ma fish, ma fish" which is Arabic for "I have nothing for you." "Bak, umah!" ("Be off!") "Ala ya tik!" ("May God give thee!"). He repeated these phrases over and over and thrashed around in his bed. I became uneasy and rapping on his door asked if he were ill. "No," he replied. "I have been travelling in Egypt. Just arrived here. I dreamed I was again surrounded by Egyptian beggars and have been repeating my replies to them."
 In Egypt one should never give bakhshish except for actual service rendered. Resist calmly but firmly every attempt at extortion. Never pay till the stipulated service is finished. Then after you have paid a little more than the bargain called for turn a deaf ear to the protestations and entreaties that always follow. Bear in mind that the more bakhshish you give the more clamorous become the applicants. Real thanks and gratitude must not be expected for gifts.
 A friend of mine once broke one of these rules just to see what would happen. As we passed through a little mud village twenty miles from Cairo he gave a sturdy beggar a millime (half a cent). This beggar, accompanied by others, followed us to the edge of the village, asking for more. My friend then gave him a mizra (2 cents).

 They followed us a hundred yards or so and were more persistent than before. When they showed a disposition to go back he gave them five piasters. They followed us half a mile and became very clamorous. I was afraid we would get into trouble and wanted him to stop it, but when they began to lag he gave them twenty piasters.
 They followed us two miles and the experiment might have ended seriously had we not met a company of travelers with a druggman, who sent the beggars about their business. This may help you to understand Egyptian character.—O. E. Morse in Christian Herald.

Queer Bits of History
 (Chicago News).
 Queen Elizabeth in the last year of her reign, was much concerned as to the expenses of the royal household. According to a document in the public record office, she ordered a comparison to be made between the expenditure incurred in the third and the forty-third years of her reign, when "Yi was found that in broad boare, wyne, wood, coles, wax-light, torches, tallow lights and meates, other allowances of incidents, necessaries, carriages and wages, £12,000 (£80,000), had been spent at least more was spent, and no sufficient warrant for the increase. The queen's majesty being informed of this difference said "I will not suffer this dishonourable spoils and increase that no prince ever before me did. But my specific order for reformation shall satisfy my loving subjects, for I will end as I began with my subjects' lives."
 Old-time acts of Parliament in Great Britain aimed to stop Sunday travelling. In 1699, for example, two men were found guilty of the crime of walking from Bristol to Bath on a Sunday and were at once fined 30 shillings ($4.80) each. All business was at a standstill on a Sunday. Nothing was allowed to be sold except milk. For all the traders of England, the milkman, and the milkman alone, was allowed to pursue his calling for the whole seven days of the week.

A NOTED DETECTIVE

Seymour Beutler, Who Was Here During Races, Was Twenty-Five Years With the Pinkertons

A visitor to the city during the exhibition, but here more particularly for the running races at Moseph Park, was Seymour Beutler, and while he kept in the background, probably none was more alert or took more interest in the people thronging the city, the grounds, and the race track during the last few days, than he.

Mr. Beutler is a noted detective. For some twenty-five years he was connected with the Pinkerton agency, and rose to the position of assistant superintendent, which means something. A few years ago he started a detective agency in Broadway, New York, and now has a dozen or more trained sleuths under him.

Beutler is a quiet, rather retiring man, and from his manner, none would suspect that he is one of the best known men in his profession, having a reputation which extends from ocean to ocean.

He came here at the instance of the management of the running races, simply to ward off crooks, who might be following the races. None was seen, however, and that this is so, is declared to be due to the fact that when it is known that Mr. Beutler has charge of this department at any running meet, few crooks dare venture in the neighborhood. Mr. Beutler left on Saturday evening for his home in New York.

CROOKS WERE GIVEN SHORT STAY; OUT OF TOWN ON NEXT TRAIN

During the exhibition, while a few complaints have been made to the police regarding the work of pocket-pickers, they have been not nearly so numerous as was expected, considering the vast crowds of people in attendance at the fair, and the great numbers of visitors from outside places. However, a few attempts have been made by men bent on making a living by this means, and in some cases they have been successful.

On Saturday evening in the union depot three men who have "done time" in the States for their "touching" manner, attempted to make a little extra by mixing in with the vast concourse of people who were in the place. It was a lucky thing for some of them that the three men were detected in the work, and it was due to the presence of Detective F. P. Killen that this was done and that the pocket-pickers were forced to leave town on the next train. One of the trio was recognized as a crook from Boston, and "tell me your company and I'll tell you what you are," put his companions in the same category.

REV. D. HUTCHINSON CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY BAPTIST MINISTERS

At a meeting of the Baptist ministers of the city, this morning, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President Rev. D. Hutchinson; secretary, treasurer, Rev. G. D. Millberry; programme committee, Rev. Messrs. W. R. Robinson, W. Campbell and F. H. Wentworth. It was decided to send aid to Rev. G. W. Sherman, the Baptist minister in Campbellton, but no action was taken regarding the form the assistance would take.

Rev. D. Leung, formerly of Victoria street Baptist church but now of Vancouver, told of church matters there, and was given a hearty welcome. The ministers next Monday will hold an outing on the river, in company with their wives, and arrangements will be made this week evening. Mr. Fletcher will read a paper at the outing.

HUSBAND HEARS WIFE AND ANOTHER MAN WERE IN SYDNEY

Regarding a reference made elsewhere in this paper to a couple who left on Friday evening with money and valuables amounting to nearly $200 in their possession, the husband of the woman, Mr. Bushana, said this morning that he had learned that they were in Sydney on Saturday night. He had been told by a traveller on the train leaving here on Friday evening that the couple were on board from St. John to Sydney, but whether or not they were still there, could not be learned.

Mr. Bushana has placed the matter in the hands of the police and the chief of police of Sydney will be communicated with in an effort to prevent the couple going farther.

The total receipts were $575.47, and expenditures $644.15, leaving a balance of $31.32.

The report of the Dorcas secretary showed the total number of bales sent away during the year 1909-10 was 798, of which 465 went to Indian boarding schools, 138 to Indian missions, 144 to white missions, and ten to foreign missions. It was an increase of twenty-eight bales over last year.

The junior secretary's report showed an increase in membership. There were 375 branches with a membership of $39, an increase of seventy-seven branches and 1473 members. Including parochial pledges, the children gave $8,099. Including minors and babies the membership amounted to 94,090, and their offerings amounted to $4,790.

The report of the general corresponding secretary showed that salaries were provided for two women missionaries for the new Canadian Diocese of Honan, China, and the board undertook to pledge the salary for one Chinese catechist for Victoria, B. C. and Miss Lennox for Japan and Miss Sedgewick for China, but the diocesan boards had failed to make up these amounts.
