EDWARD PAYSON WESTON FINISHES HIS LONG WALK ACROSS THE CONTINENT

First Time the Feat Has Ever Been Performed—Veteran Pedestrian Was Five Days Behind His Schedule—Had Hard Luck Most of the Way

NEW YORK, July 15.—Although taking 105 days and some hours for his walk from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast, five days more than he had allotted for the trans-continental trip, Edward Payson Weston's long walk from this city to San Francisco which he finished last night, ranks as one of the most notable pedestrian feats ever accomplished. It is the first time that a bonafide walk has been made across the American continent. Weston laid so much stress on this fact that he walked over railroad bridges in the far west instead of crossing in the ferries, and declared that after arriving at Oakland he would walk an additional five miles to equal the distance across the bay into San Francisco, as he found it necessary there to resort to the boat to reach his desired haven. It had always been Weston's ambition to make a walk across the American continent and the fact that he has come into his 71st year fitting culmination to his life's career of triumph with which the name of Weston is indelibly associated.

Had Weston ever dreamed of the difficulties he encountered, it is possible, as he admits, that he would never have attempted it.

He left New York starting from the Post Office building on March 15. Almost from the start he met bad roads and severe weather conditions. His walk up the state, and in fact almost until he arrived in Toledo, was constant battling against adverse weather conditions, with severe snowstorms and cold rains, making the roads at times almost impassable.

Going through Pennsylvania and Ohio he found the roads so terrible that an automobile with attendants was unable to keep up with him, and for over a week he was deprived of the changes of clothing and necessary supplies which accompanied him. Beyond Chicago he entered upon a new walking country, through Illinois by way of Joliet, he arrived in St. Louis April 28. Better roads were encountered through Missouri. He crossed the Kansas and on May 1st he made his longest single day's walk from Topeka to Junction City, Kansas.

Practically all of Weston's walk from Greeley to Oakland was done on the railroad tracks of the Southern Pacific R. R. In Wyoming his troubles multiplied to such an extent that had it not been for the timely aid rendered by the officials of the Southern Pacific R. R. in sending along from Ogden an assistant on a railroad track, carrying necessary milk, eggs and other nourishing foods, it is doubtful if Weston would have survived the frost and storms encountered day after day. Previous to this aid Weston had almost despaired of ever accomplishing the journey. Towns were far apart, food and water of good quality were impossible to obtain and for many days he walked hours without proper food and drink. The heat going through the desert beyond Salt Lake City was intense to the most of his walking was done at night but even then the miles were reeled off with extreme difficulty. Then came the arduous snow sheds over the Sierras in Nevada and here the assistance of the railroad was indispensable. It is a superhuman task. But his grit and determination to reach San Francisco led him over all obstacles, and when he entered California the remainder was easy.

TUBERCULOSIS TALKED AT MEDICAL MEETING

Government Should Manufacture Serums—Dr. Ferguson, of Moncton, Chosen President.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 15.—Officers of the Maritime Medical Association elected today are: Pres. W. A. Ferguson, Moncton; vice-presidents: J. G. McDonald, Amherst; A. G. Ferguson, Dalhousie; A. A. McLaughlin, Summerside; treasurer: G. G. Corbett, St. John; secretary: G. G. J. Martin, St. John.

Papers were read by Dr. Jardine of Summerside, on inflammation, and on rheumatism in childhood by Dr. A. McNeill of Summerside, on experience with antitoxins. Dr. Montanari, Dominion Health officer, spoke on tuberculosis, advocating diet and prevention, dispensaries and home visitations. Dr. Black, M.P. of Windsor, in dealing with prevention in diseases said the federal government should manufacture serums. The question also discussed by Lt. Col. Dr. Jones, general medical service for Canada who said the tuberculous campaign should be conducted exclusively by medical men.

HERE IS A CHANCE TO WIN THE BEST PRIZES EVER OFFERED IN ST. JOHN

Anyone Who Tries Has a Good Show—All It Needs is a Little Energy and an Early Start—Five Thousand Dollars to be Given Away Next Month.

Candidates will bear in mind that The Sun and The Star cannot be sent by mail in the City of St. John.

The list of candidates in the Sun and Star grand prize voting contest will be published in a few days. There is still room for many more on this list and if you would like to win one of the splendid prizes offered you had better enter the contest today and let your name appear as soon as the others.

HOW THE PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Any one can enter the contest. Ladies, girls, men and boys in either of the three districts are eligible to enter the contest and compete for the grand prizes as well as the district prizes. The touring car will be awarded to the candidate who has the highest number of votes in the contest. The Player Piano, will be given the candidate having the next highest number of votes, the Heintzman piano will go to the candidate having the third highest number of votes, and the Chestnut Motor Car will be awarded to the contestant having the fourth highest number of votes. After the grand prizes are awarded the district prizes will be given to those having the highest number of votes in their respective districts.

HOW TO WORK TO WIN

This question is naturally the most important to a candidate and the answer is, that like every other business, the business of collecting subscriptions and votes requires an alert, energetic and capable manager. To manage your campaign for the best advantage, you should first let all your friends and acquaintances generally know of your ambition; you should secure your subscriptions and their promise of future aid. If you have some friends who are enough interested in you to be willing to do a little work, get several receipt books from the contest department for distribution among them, and start them as you will start yourself, securing paid in advance subscriptions to the Sun and the Star.

NO APOLOGY NECESSARY.

No apology is necessary when you ask for a subscription to either the Sun or the Star. You know that full value will be received. You will not have to explain this to the subscribers; they know well what these papers are worth. If they once get the habits of reading the Sun or the Star, they are not likely to give up either.

KEEP MOVING AND WIN.

Be enthusiastic and live things up. You must keep moving to win. Each day will mean something to you until the 28th of August. You will be surprised how quickly the time flies by. Do not waste any of it. Take advantage of all the time you have and remember that every vote gained is a step on the road to victory. Start out now with the determination not to lose a single vote that might be yours. See every one that you can. Be enthusiastic yourself and that will interest others.

HEARTILY ENDORSED.

The contest is heartily endorsed on every side. The prizes are so valuable (Continued on Page Nine.)

ARTILLERY WILL LEAVE NEXT WEEK FOR PETAWAWA

One Hundred and Twenty Men are Going from the Three St. John Companies—Inspection Takes Place This Week—Programme for Camp

Final arrangements are being perfected for this year's Artillery camp at Petawawa, when thousands of soldiers will assemble from various parts of the Dominion.

The local Artillery companies are vigorously practicing for the visit to Petawawa. The men will leave the city at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, July 24.

One hundred and twenty artillerymen from St. John will attend the camp. Lieut-Colonel Baxter will command the united companies. Major Barker will take charge of No. 1 company, while Major Spith and Harrison will command No. 2 and 3 companies respectively. Each company will take along forty men. The soldiers will reach camp early on Monday morning, July 26, and will immediately enter camp.

The local barracks will be a scene of activity during the next few evenings. The officers are putting their men through the various drills and the companies generally are making a good showing and should win distinction at the camp. The inspection tonight will consist of muster parade and infantry work. On Friday evening there will be gun drill for all three batteries.

The camp orders for Petawawa have reached the city. The following is the daily routine for the Artillery camp: Reveille (gun fire), 5.30 a. m.; sick parade, 6.00 a. m.; morning stables and fatigue, 6.00-7.00 a. m.; breakfast, 7.30 a. m.; office hours, 8.00 a. m.; battery for practice moves off 2.00 p. m.; gun laying examination, 3.30 a. m.; dinner, 12.30 p. m.; battery for practice moves off 2.00 p. m.; gun laying examination, 2.00 p. m.; evening stables and fatigue, 6.00-7.00 a. m.; breakfast, 6.00 p. m.; guard mounting, 6.45 p. m.; retreat, 7.00 p. m.; tattoo—first post (gun fire) 8.30 p. m.; last post, 10.00 p. m.; lights out 10.05 p. m. On Sundays the routine is as follows: Reveille, 6.30 a. m.; sick parade, 7.00 a. m.; morning stables and fatigue, 8.45-7.45 a. m.; breakfast, 8.00 a. m.

The commanding officers of the units are responsible that the standing orders are strictly enforced. The troops on arrival will be met and led at once to their camp by the camp orderly officer. Detachments upon arrival and departure will be inspected by the camp orderly officer. Officers will wear service clothing at mess.

Heavy battery practice and range shooting will form a feature of the camp, in which the locals will participate. Full instructions are now in the hands of the local commanding officers.

FAMOUS SMUGGLING CASE AGAIN IN COURT

Wealthy Chinese is Charged With Complicity in the Frolic Affair

He Assisted the Crew of the Schooner—Lehmanman Has Served His Time and is Trying to Straighten Up.

BOSTON, July 15.—The famous-Chinese smuggling case of 1906, when Jimmy P. Lehmanman, of Brookline, Mass., and several other men led the Government officers of Canada and the United States on a lively chase which ended in their landing the little fishing smack, the Frolic, at Providence, R. I., with a whole cabin full of diseased Orientals, is again in the local courts and is attracting wide attention.

Lehmanman, who is one of Boston's leading young set, and whose father, a wealthy Brookline man, was shot dead in a domestic quarrel by a leaden bullet before his arrest, fled to St. John. It was at St. John, N.B., that thirty of the smuggled Chinese were taken aboard the yacht.

Chin Shue, a wealthy Boston Chinaman merchant, was yesterday before the court charged with aiding and abetting Capt. Benj. Hewson. He was held in three thousand dollars for a continued hearing.

Lehmanman testified that after the Chinamen were landed near here he and Shue took a train for Boston and with them were the smuggled Chinks. Alfred Ames, one of the crew, also corroborated the other men's testimony. Shue was arrested late in June and is out on his bail. Lehmanman, who has been free for some months, is living quietly in Boston and is trying to lead a different life. Although but a boy, his life has already been full of escapade and adventure. He was the brains of the whole smuggling affair that caused a great sensation all over the country and Canada and Newfoundland, but his friends, who are prominent here, insist that he was but the tool of older and brainier men. Lehmanman is a graduate of Georgetown University, and is well known in St. John. He is about twenty-seven years old.

The bodies of J. W. Christie, wife and daughter, who were murdered in Rudolph, S. D., about ten days ago, arrived at Moore's Mills yesterday and were taken to Oak Hill, where they were interred. It was a sad sight to see three bodies of a once-thrifty family, occupying one grave. Friends from all sections of the county gathered in solemn procession to follow them to their last resting place. A most impressive ceremony was conducted at the church and grave by Rev. A. D. McLeod, pastor of the Methodist Church at Oak Hill.

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS; CREW PERISH

Torpedo Boat Collided With an Unknown Steamer

Sixteen Men Went Down—Reported That Some of Them Have Been Saved—Another Submarine Damaged.

LONDON, July 15.—A wireless message received at Portsmouth states that a submarine torpedo boat C 11 was in collision last night with an unknown steamer near Lowestoft and was sunk with its crew of sixteen men. Another submarine boat, C 12, was damaged in the collision, but the crew was saved.

It is understood that the crew of the C 11 had no chance to escape being inside the submarine, and went to the bottom with it.

No complete report of the accident has been received, but the latest advices from Sheerness, whence assistance was sent, indicate that some members of the crew of C 11 were saved.

There have been no disturbances at any of the collieries during the past week. One woman was arrested at Dominion No. 3 for interfering with the men on their way to work. She was later released on bail. The authorities have the mines well controlled and the least interference or intimidation on the part of the strikers is promptly checked by the police.

The output yesterday was 5,600 tons mined and from the banking stations and the company expect to increase this output today.

The officials of the U. M. W. held a meeting at Dominion No. 1 last evening in the U. M. W. hall. There were about 150 present. The P. W. A. also held a meeting at the same colliery. Grand Secretary Moffatt addressed the crowd from the steps of the U. M. W. hall and was given an ovation by the hundreds of loyal P. W. A. members who assembled on the streets. Dominion colliery is the only colliery which is running full time. The manager announced yesterday that he had no places for any more men.

At the meeting of the town council, last evening, a resolution approving the calling out of the militia was passed by a vote of 9 to 2. Mayor Douglas was turned down by a majority of his councillors.

STILL HOPING THAT MEN LOST IN FOG MAY BE SAVED

Two Public Fishermen, Who Missed Their Schooner Early in the Week, Have Not Yet Been Found.

BOSTON, July 15.—The fishing schooner Boyd and Leeds at "T" wharf, here, is still flying her flag at half-mast for the two members of her crew, Harry Larkin, 32 years old, and Edward Goodwin, 18 years old, both of Public, N. B., who were lost in the fog some miles off Nantucket early in the week. Capt. Goodwin, of the schooner, rather of one of the missing, says he had not wholly given up hope that the lost men will be picked up and all incoming boats are eagerly questioned. The captain says he made every effort to find the men before coming to port, cruising about and continually sounding his fog horn.

The National Division, S. of T., of British America, opened at Worcester, Mass., yesterday morning with M. W. P. J. O. McCarty in the chair. A goodly number of representatives were invited. Rev. Mr. Noon, who last year was appointed to attend the National Division of England, made a lengthy report. An invitation was extended by the G. W. F. of New Brunswick, E. S. Hennigar, for the National Division to hold the next session in the city of St. John, and was accepted.

OIL STOVE EXPLODES, BAD FIRE FOLLOWS

At 2:15 yesterday afternoon the fire department was called out to extinguish a blaze at 129 Duke street, caused by the explosion of an oil stove. Mrs. John Beisenburg, who occupies the house, will be a heavy loser, chiefly through smoke and water. Her loss is estimated at $300, with no insurance, while the damage to the building was estimated at $500, but this is covered by insurance.

While heating an iron over the oil stove one of the young ladies of the house left the room for a few minutes and upon returning found the room filled with flames, and before she could give the alarm, the stove exploded and sent blazing oil in all directions. Before the fire department could get streams on the scene the flames took possession of the room and had scorched the walls and doors of the hall. The department soon had the fire under control, but not before much damage had been done to the flat below by water. Two of the young ladies of the house had not learned of the fire and were astonished when they arrived at supper time to find their rooms upset.

YAKS LEAVE FOR BRANDON, MANITOBA

St. John's queerest visitors of a decade the five Yaks which were brought to this country late last winter, and which have been detained at the quarantine sheds ever since, were sent off on their journey yesterday after having been pronounced by the veterinary officials to have been sound in body and limb. The animals are consigned to Brandon, Manitoba, where the department of agriculture intends to take them over. The herd has been brought to Canada at the suggestion of Ernest Linton Thomson, who knows all about Yaks and who says that they may be made useful in stocking some of the more desolate of the Dominion plains.

Tuesday the herd was crated preparatory to its being put aboard the cars. Everything went swimmingly until the attendants at the quarantine yard met the acquaintance of the bull. The gentleman is distressingly impetuous. Likewise he is possessed of very long ears. At all events he decided to investigate for those who attempted to move him and he was crated only with difficulty.

Since coming to the city the animals have been exceptionally well behaved and all agree that other than the bull they are perfectly good Yaks.

MONCTON IS NEXT PLACE OF MEETING

About thirty members of the New Brunswick Dental Society left the York Assembly Rooms at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in three hackbords to enjoy a day's outing at Loch Lomond. Immediately upon arriving the entire party set down to luncheon, after which the afternoon was spent in games and other amusements, including boating on the lake.

At 7 o'clock last evening the party held a banquet at the Barker House, after which they broke up and returned to the city.

Dr. A. F. Godwin presided, and after justice had been done, many many toasts were called and responded to. The toast to the King was followed by that of the New Brunswick Dental Society, responded to by Dr. A. F. McAvaney, who in his remarks referred to the value of the society in promoting dentistry in this province. Dr. McAvaney was graduated in 1867 and for the past forty-two years has practiced dentistry in the province, he being a charter member of the association.

Other toasts were responded to in a most fitting manner. After dinner an enjoyable programme of music and readings took place. Those who took part included Dr. J. Leonard, Dr. H. B. Nason of St. John; Dr. D. Whitney of St. Stephen, Dr. Barbour of Fredericton and others.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the local dentists by the visitors and the party broke up, to meet at Moncton a year hence.

RIG WAS RETURNED TO WRONG STABLE

The horse and carriage that were hired from the stable of John Glynn, Dorchester street, Monday afternoon, were come upon yesterday at the stable of J. Kerr, Colburn street. The horse had been returned early Monday afternoon and it was thought by Kerr that it had been left there by a stranger, who had gone away without it. The horse was a new one to the city and the rig was not recognized by anyone connected with the stable as belonging to Glynn. The man who had hired the rig was evidently unfamiliar with the city and the supposition is that a mistake was made as to the location of Glynn's stable.

SCHOONER VENONA TAKES THE HONORS

Father Neptune Kind Yesterday to Eastern Yacht Club Fleet

KENT'S COVE, Me., July 14.—Father Neptune smiled on the Eastern Yacht Club fleet today, shutting up the fog works, turning moderately the south wind valve and pushing on a long swell over which the cruising fleet rolled complacently and the racing contingent sped gaily until the end of the day's sport found more than a score of yachts snugly at anchor in this harbor, the eastern entrance of the Fox Island straggle.

As for the racers, fourteen of which started and thirteen finished, the honors were carried off by the schooner Venona and the sloop Doris, although the Vigilant once more led the fleet at the finish with no competitor down-the-wind astir, spinners being carried for 35 of the 33 miles that were covered from Squirrel Island beyond Boothbay around to the island of Muscongus Bay, to the finish of Two Bush Light, the western entrance of Penobscot Bay.

ST. JOSEPHS WIN FIRST OF SERIES

A large crowd of baseball fans flocked to the grand stand and bleachers on the Shamrock grounds last evening to witness an exhibition game between St. Peter's and St. Joseph's. The game resulted in a win for St. Joseph's by a score of 4-2, and was the first of a series to decide the championship of the Inter-Society League.

Brilliant plays by both teams received well-merited applause from the roofers of each club and for five very long ears. At all events he decided to investigate for those who attempted to move him and he was crated only with difficulty.

The following schedule shows the play in detail:

LOTS OF ACTIVITY AT MOOSEPATH NOW

Many Horses Quartered at Track—Rudy Kip, 2 04, Arrives

There is any amount of activity at Moosepath just now. Besides the local animals Frank Fox is there with his string and the track presents a lively appearance in the mornings and afternoons when the bosses are being worked out.

Driver Billy Cummings brought the horses of A. E. Trites racing stable of Fredericton to the city yesterday by the steamer Victoria, and last night they were quartered at Moosepath Park for their final preparation for the races there on the 22d, 23d and 24th. There were three horses in the string, which is headed by Rudy Kip, 2 04 1/4, free for all. He will make his first start this season at St. John if he continues to work as well over Moosepath as he has shown at Fredericton. Crescent, 2:23 1/4, will start in 2:24 trot and Leonard Wilton will start in 2:27 pace. After the St. John meeting Mr. Cummings goes to Sussex and the horses will probably be sent to Moncton and other tracks on the circuit.

JIM HOLLAND KNOCKED OUT BY DENVER LIGHTWEIGHT

State Tennis Tournament—Boston Nationals Get New Material—Great Racing at Woonsocket—Glidden Tour.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Joe Sieger, a Denver lightweight, knocked out Jim Holland, a little Englishman, in the fourth round of a ten round contest at the Sharkey A. C. tonight. The Briton had decidedly the worst of it throughout. He was knocked down twice in the third round and was only saved by the bell. A blow on the jaw put him in the fourth.

LITCHFIELD, Conn., July 14.—In the state tennis tournament, the games were brought to the semi-finals in the singles and the first round of the doubles started. In the first round, singles, R. Dougherty, New York, beat E. S. Blagden, York Harbor, Maine, 7-5, 6-3. In the first round, doubles, O. and Perry beat E. S. Blagden and A. S. Thurston, Litchfield, 6-4, 6-1.

BOSTON, Mass., July 14.—President John S. C. Dovey, of the Boston National baseball team, with a view to revamping his team, has asked for waivers of Pitchers McCarthy and Lindaman, Shortstop Dalton and Utility Man Beck, should the major leagues have no call for the pitchers, Lynn of the New England League, has a chance of landing one or the other.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., July 14.—Great racing marked the third day's meeting at the Woonsocket Driving Park today. But one event was finished, the 2:25 trot, which Shila captured after six heats, with Bonnie Wilkes, the favorite, a poor fourth. There were many minor accidents and some setbacks for fast driving. In the 2:23 pace, Sovereign Boy finished first in the fourth heat, but was sent back to last place on account of the judge's displeasure at Bristol's driving. In the 2:15 pace Prince Hamlin, driven by Dore and King's Heir, driven by Forshner, were set back for similar causes.

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—Automobiles running in the Glidden endurance test, arrived late today. The run of 152 1/2 miles from Chicago, was finished ahead of the time limit by only heat and dust to annoy the drivers. From Chicago to the Illinois State line the roads were found good, but after en-

SUSSEX CAPTURES SECOND OF SERIES Spectators of the second race of the series for motor boats held last evening under the auspices of the Westport Outing Association witnessed a splendid race. The Sussex, owned by G. A. Hilyard, captured the event on time allowance, and second honors went to M. M. Jarvis' Vixen. The following boats got away at 7:30: Koonok, Fairbanks, Phil, Viking, Vixen, Loda, Puffin and Sussex. J. H. Bartou's Keonok was the first to cross the finish line, closely followed by T. Ryder's Fairbanks, and many thought these boats were the winners, but they had exceeded the speed limit made up from the previous race and were disqualified by the judge. The Sussex and Vixen being third and fourth, respectively, were awarded the honors. The race was an excellent one throughout. The course was from the pavilion to black spar buoy at Belyea's Point and return to pavilion. The time limit was one and a half hours. The officers for the race were Wm. Church, P. A. McAvity and D. F. Church.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE BEWARE OF IMITATIONS SOLD ON THE MERITS OF LINIMENT OF MINARLS

ALPS CLAIMS ITS TOLL Many Accidents to Climbers in the Mighty Snow-cled eaks. GENEVA, July 13.—Wilhelm Lander, a student of Alesid, in Hesse, today fell from the Hofstas, in the Allgau Alps, and was killed. Two merchants named Winter and Emerich, who left for an excursion on the Rindelphorn, have not returned and there is no news of them. Two ladies of Imbruck have met with a fall on the Retherspitze, and both have sustained injuries. JUST TOLERABLE. Concerning a certain time serving Washington clergyman of whom a visitor was one day expressing a harsh estimate, President Lincoln said: "I think you are rather hard on Mr. —. He reminds me of a man in Illinois who was arrested for passing a counterfeit bill. He admitted that he had taken it to a bank cashier to know if it was a good bill. 'Well, what was the reply of the cashier?' asked the lawyer. 'Why,' evasively answered the prisoner, 'he said it was a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a bill.'" Mr. Lincoln thought the clergyman "a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a clergyman."

Dentists All Over Globe Asked to CONVENTION IN BERLIN.
BERLIN, July 14—An invitation issued by the Berlin organization committee of the Fifth International Dental Congress, which is to be held in the Reichstag buildings here from August 23 to August 28.
It states that the German Imperial government has decided that the governments of the nations represented shall be officially informed of the meeting of the congress, and adds: "The United dental German profession is preparing worthy to celebrate this occasion and to make the theoretical and practical results of this congress stand out as a landmark in the development of dental science."

QUEEN AGAINST BIG HATS.
Monster Headgear Finds No Favor in Italian Court.
PARIS, July 14—Queen Elena of Italy revolted against the mode of gigantic hats which the French milliners have endeavored to impose on Italian women of fashion. Her Majesty and most of the ladies of her court do not wear a hat of any description, but, instead, have adopted a sort of light mantilla to wear in public.
The movement of protest against "ridiculous fashions" inflicted upon us from abroad" is said to be spreading throughout the Roman aristocracy.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Land Regulations.

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.
Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, brother, son, daughter, brother or sister.
In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $20 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.
A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $20 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $100.00.

BIG IMPROVEMENT AT PORTLAND, MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., July 14—Three subways, an enlarged and rearranged station and train shed, an addition to the general office building and important proposed changes in streets leading into railway square streets were announced today by officials of the Maine Central Railway. It is proposed to discontinue Congress Street for team travel where all the tracks cross it at the station, build a subway beneath it for foot passengers, widen St. John street from Congress to Portland street and possibly construct a new street from Congress to Portland street, west of the tracks. The changes to be made without expense to the city. Subways are to be built under the tracks in the trainshed from the waiting room and from Congress Street. No estimate was made of the cost.

HAS A PLUS OF A MILLION

OTTAWA, July 14—The books of the finance department for the last fiscal year were finally closed on Saturday last and the official statement of the Dominion's finances for the year was handed out today. The total revenue on consolidated fund account was $84,071,245. The surplus of revenue over all ordinary expenditure was $12,022,162.
Fielding's Estimate
In Mr. Fielding's budget speech of March last he estimated the revenue at $84,000,000, and the expenditure at $82,000,000, thus giving a surplus of a million and a half. As will be seen, the revenue exceeded his estimate by a half million and the expenditure was a million more owing to some unforeseen items in two or three of the departments.
The expenditure on capital account was $66,252,286, of which amount the National Transcontinental Railway was responsible for twenty-five million and the assumption of the liabilities of the Quebec Bridge Company for $4,000,000. Railway subsidies amounting to $1,750,000 were paid and bounties called for

STRANGER THAN FICTION IS HOPE DIAMOND HISTORY
Famous Stone Sold in Paris Recently for $80,000 Valued at $125,000.
The London Times gives an interesting history of the Hope diamond, which was sold in Paris for $80,000, where it is valued at $125,000, the stone weighing 44 1/4 carats.
Generation after generation of novelists have woven romances around the subject of diamonds and precious stones, but it may be questioned if any "mingled yarn" ever found its way into print which can rival the story of the famous Hope diamond. Like most other famous stones, its story is largely blended with tragedy.
The diamond was first seen in London this diamond was on public view before its sale by auction, but probably the first time it was seen in London was in the hands of a French Jew, who had it in his possession as early as 1666. It is universally admitted that this stone was, as Mr. Streeter points out, with the rest of the French Royal jewels, in the hands of Louis XVI. and deposited in the Garde Meuble.
LONG SERIES OF TRAGEDIES.
Its possession is the story of a long series of tragedies—murder, suicide, madness, and various other misfortunes. The first recorded western owner was the great traveller who carried "the King's Hope diamond" to the commerce des diamants, Jean Baptiste Tavernier, who was born in France and died in London in 1699. He was the author of "Voyages en Turquie, en Perse et aux Indes," which was published in 1676, and in which he returned from the East sold 25 large diamonds to the Grand Monarque in 1668 and among them was the famous Hope diamond. Tavernier's son involved his father in such unfortunate speculations that he was compelled to sell this estate to pay his debts, and at the age of 81 he started on a journey to the East, but he was attacked by fever and died. This forms tragedy number one in the history of the Hope diamond.
When it became part of the Crown Jewels Madame de Montespan was in monopoly of the king's affections, and he yielded to her request to wear the famous blue diamond. But by a curious coincidence her husband, the King, declined to give her the diamond from Louis XIV. for a number of those costly fetes which he gave her, and she appears to have resented the jealousy of the King. He kept it for some time, but fell into the hands of a Jew, who was the son of the Gascon de France, of April 6, 1689, briefly announced: "On nous mande de Figueras (whence Fouquet was permitted to go to take the waters) que le Sieur Fouquet est mort d'apoplexie." The diamond lay for a long series of years during the Regency with the other Crown Jewels, until Marie Antoinette became Queen of France. She heard of its extraordinary beauty, and by the command of Louis XVI. it was given to her. She wore it, we are told, about her throat at a great ball at the Tuilleries; the Princess de Lamballe, her bosom friend—the friend for whom the historic Gainsborough hat was first made—occasionally borrowed and wore the blue diamond. Marie Antoinette was beheaded and the Princess de Lamballe was done to death by a Paris mob.
PURCHASED BY HOPE.
For nearly forty years the diamond remained perdu, so far as the public was concerned. Its actual history in France was unimpressive and it was not until 1818, when it was sold to a Frenchman, Francois Beaulieu, a native of Marseilles, who came to London, where in the last stages of decadence and ill-health, sent for Daniel Elison, a London dealer, and offered it for sale. Elison paid the price asked and took the diamond—the next day Beaulieu died or starved, and no one knows where he is now. It is said that he was alone when he died, and that he was found by his son—the former was ruined and the latter committed suicide. The younger Beaulieu is further said to have given it to a Frenchman, Francois Beaulieu, a native of Marseilles, who came to London, where in the last stages of decadence and ill-health, sent for Daniel Elison, a London dealer, and offered it for sale. Elison paid the price asked and took the diamond—the next day Beaulieu died or starved, and no one knows where he is now. It is said that he was alone when he died, and that he was found by his son—the former was ruined and the latter committed suicide. The younger Beaulieu is further said to have given it to a Frenchman, Francois Beaulieu, a native of Marseilles, who came to London, where in the last stages of decadence and ill-health, sent for Daniel Elison, a London dealer, and offered it for sale. TAKING A HOLIDAY.

A man's worth to the community may be judged almost as successfully at the vacation season as during his busiest time of the year. The test comes when it is discovered how well or how ill he can be spared. There are men who feel that they cannot afford to take a holiday because they are convinced that their particular part of the universe would cease to revolve if they relaxed their vigilance for a moment. Men in subordinate positions get the idea that they are indispensable to the success of the enterprise with which they are connected, and begin to feel their own importance. For such men it is a wholesome experience to go away for a couple of weeks or more and on coming back to find that the world has moved along without their help and that even their own affairs have not gone entirely to smash because they were absent. There are men who are indispensable in certain positions and whose removal whether it is either permanent or temporary will mean that the work with which they are identified will stop. There are not so very many of them, however. There is an underlying wish to take almost any role that happens to be left vacant and the measure of success with which he fills it goes far to demonstrate the value of the man whose place he takes.

For this reason the vacation time affects different men in different ways. The self-important man worries over what will happen in his absence, the man who has not been working as hard as he ought may fear that the one who takes his place will do better than he has done and the ambitious man may see in the absence of someone else an opportunity to show his own ability to fill a better position than the one ordinarily holds down.

CANADA'S FINANCES.

The published summary of Canada's finances for the last fiscal year indicates that in spite of the very marked depression existing everywhere, this country has enjoyed an almost remarkable degree of prosperity. By the exercise of rigid economy, expenditures have been kept down to the minimum and while certain works which it had been intended to carry through have had to wait, still the reduction has not been seriously felt in any department. The revenue of course has been small, but the fact that receipts have amounted to more than eighty-five million, shows that Canada has not been affected by the worldwide depression to such an extent as have most other countries still struggling against debt.

Mr. Fielding has come through a bad year with a surplus of a million dollars, an actual surplus on running expenses, and not created by deceptive book-keeping or by changing to capital any expenditures which belong to the consolidated fund account. Canada may well congratulate herself on making such a satisfactory showing.

THE PRIZE CONTEST.

It is not too much to say that the subscription prize contest inaugurated by The Star and Sun is arousing a wide interest in this city in the past. The number of nominations already received is far beyond the expectations of those who are conducting the business, and the hundreds of enquiries received daily indicate that within a very short time many more persons will actively engage in the work of securing subscriptions and votes. These papers have arranged this contest as a matter of business. It is believed that the offer of valuable prizes will induce a lively campaign among competitors which will result in materially increasing the list of regular readers of The Star and Sun. That such a supposition is well founded is clearly shown by the very general interest now being displayed.

RACE SUICIDE IN GERMANY.

A New York paper discussing the decreasing birth rate in America, has this to say of Germany:—"German statesmen point in alarm to the decreasing birth rate, most plainly observed in Berlin, and a pronouncement to 'race suicide' such as ex-President Roosevelt buried at the American people is expected from Emperor William. In England the discovery of Germany's danger will come as a great relief, for one of the main arguments of the agitators during the war years in England has been to point out that the German housewife is providing seven children to the English wife's four. As far as Berlin is concerned, there can be no doubt that the situation is serious. Every year shows a decreasing birth rate. In 1908 the total fell to 51,038, from 53,889 the previous year. In 1909 about 29 children were born for every thousand of population, whereas in 1908 the rate had decreased to 24. In 1913 the birth rate was over 44 to the thousand. Another startling fact just brought to light is that in 1918 every fourth married woman bore a child, in 1908 every ninth. In looking for an explanation some investigators blame the hard times. Others say the Berlin married women show growing dislike to large families."

IN THE POURING CAR.

The Woman (with three wells)—Look! those poor creatures by the road with the basket—See! there we have passed them. The Man (with the goggles)—Poor devils. "If wishes were horses, eh?" The Woman—It is wrong for us to be riding like this while they—aw wretched, no doubt—but, then, I suppose they don't realize what they are missing. The Man—They can't—sort of "Man with the Hoe" intellects, you know. Gee! we are going some—gives me an awful thrill. Let's get at the "Madam bottle, etc., etc."

BY THE ROADSIDE.

The Woman (with the berries)—What unearthly looking creature! How can they do it? The notes and odor—ugh—and so fast! They miss the beauty of the summer—the flowers and the grass and the berries. Look, hear, such a red one—there by your hand! The Man (at her feet)—This! Eat it!—not redder than your lips, sweetest heart. Come back, father into the cool ferns. They have covered our grass with their dirt. The Woman—I pity them so—to always hurry, hurry like that—to rush through the air instead of having it blowing cool and sweet about their faces—to see the world through their veils and masks. The Man—The only way they came to see it. They measure their joys with a cyclometer. A sign of the times. Watch those clouds. It is a sign of death, Tom? The Woman—It sure is, replied Tom grimly, "if I can't get hold of a gun!"

WHEN SKINS DON'T FAIL.

Two visitors in the country were disturbed at night by the constant howling of a stray dog. "It is a sign of death, Tom?" asked one. "It sure is," replied Tom grimly, "if I can't get hold of a gun!"

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 14.—Evelyn Thaw, although on her trial today, did not resume the stand as had been expected, to testify for the state in opposing her husband's attempt to prove himself sane and sane in his mind. The state's attorney had announced at adjournment yesterday that they would show today that the much-disputed conversation in which Harry K. Thaw is supposed to have threatened the life of Justice Mills had taken place, and her testimony on this point admitted. Nothing of the kind was done, however. Instead, by continuation of the testimony of other witnesses in Thaw's behalf.

CARDINAL GIBBONS ON DIVORCE LAWS

Replies to Former Supreme Court Justice Brown.

Says Laws of Christian Nations are Founded on Gospels and They Forbid Divorce Except for One Cause.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview today, replied to remarks of former Supreme Court Justice Henry B. Brown, on the subject of divorce, before the Maryland Bar Association at Old Point Comfort last night. The Cardinal said: "Justice Brown, while referring to myself as a layman, has taken exception to my views on divorce and re-marriage. He is reported to have referred to the Founder of the Christian Religion as an 'idealistic' whose sentiments, while suitable to his favored times and circumstances, are not adapted to this enlightened age. The learned jurist will permit me to say that the teachings of Christ have been the basis of all Christian legislation for nearly 2,000 years and continue to be the light and guide of hundreds of millions of souls. We are indebted to this Divine Legislator for the Christian civilization that rules the destinies of Europe, North and South America, Australia and large sections of Asia and Africa. Neither Solon of Larycus, nor Justinian nor Napoleon nor any other framer of laws ever exerted a tithe of the influence which the Gospel of Christ exercises over the human race. And there is no subject which He treats more fully and clearly than the question of marriage, which is the very foundation of our family and social life. In three of the Gospels He proclaims the unity of marriage and the sacredness of a marriage contract once made in the case of adultery. I don't see why a law which has been enforced and cordially accepted in every age and country where Christianity dominates should be considered obsolete or impracticable in the United States. "Divorces are multiplied, not because ministers willingly assist at illegitimate marriages, but because loose legislation on matrimony renders it easy to break a water-tight marriage bond. If the civil laws of all our states were as strict as they are in South Carolina and in Canada, the persons contemplating marriage would seriously and prayerfully reflect before entering into a contract which would bind them for life."

SHOOTS PIN INTO EYE SHAKING HER SKIRTS

Mrs. Wallace Kittel, of Glendale, N. J., Painfully Injured by a Stray Gun Accident.

ASBURY PARK, July 14.—Through a peculiar accident Mrs. Wallace Kittel, of Glendale, has lost the sight of her right eye. Returning home from a visit to a niece in Millville, she found her skirt very dusty and started to shake it. Suddenly there was a piercing pain in her eye, and reaching up quickly she found a pin that was deeply imbedded in the pupil. The pin did not come out easily, but when it did a quantity of water which she poured forth in her hand. The pin had been shot from a rifle.

100 INJURED IN PITTSBURG RIOTS

Strikers Clash With Workmen and Police.

Used Pieces of Slug, Iron and Revolvers—Constabulary Called Out—Fusillade Prevents Strike Breakers Landing

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 14.—Riots in which about 4,000 employes of the Frisco Steel Car Company took part, occurred today. Half of the workers had gone on strike this morning and at noon the company closed up the plant, whereupon the employes who had remained at work clashed with those who had quit. In saving the plant they were attacked by the strikers armed with pieces of slag, iron and other missiles, and special watchmen stationed there connected to fire revolvers over the heads of the crowd. One man was struck by a bullet and slightly wounded and another arrested. He was rescued by friends and the watchman was compelled to flee for his life. More than a hundred persons were more or less seriously injured and only the arrival of a sheriff's deputy and a squad of special officers prevented serious trouble when the night force started to work at 6 o'clock. Recently the company changed the plan of paying its men from regular time to a system known as "pooling." This involves the completion of each piece of work before wages are paid. When a large force of men is at work and a number of cars are started, it may be more than a month before payment is made. The company denies that they are paying more wages than before, but states that the foreigners cannot be made to understand this. "PITTSBURG, Pa., July 14.—A hundred deputy sheriffs armed with Winchester rifles are guarding the plant of the Frisco Steel Car Company tonight. The strikers are on the rampage and are en route to the scene from Greensburg. Tonight the company attempted to bring a number of strike-breakers by steam to the works, but the rioters lined the banks of the river with bricks, slugs and revolvers. Their fusillade was returned by sheriffs on board the boat, but the strike of the men was prevented by the rioters.

MARRIAGE OF NORDICA.

Will Take Place in London Shortly—Big Fee for Singer.

LONDON, July 14.—It is reported on reliable authority that the marriage of Miss Edith Nordica and Mr. J. Young will take place in London as soon after the latter's arrival in England by the Lusitania on Wednesday as the legal requirements in regard to residence can be fulfilled. The bridegroom has had to pay a fee of $2,500 for staying at Dorchester House on the occasion of Ambassador Keld's party for the King and Queen. She says it is the biggest party she has ever seen in Europe or America. The prima donna obtained this special license in order to sing at Dorchester House as had to break an engagement to sing at the Princess de Polignac's musical in Paris. She is singing at Mrs. John W. Mackay's party tonight for $1,500.

SKYLARKS.

John Burroughs relates that a number of years ago a friend in England sent him a score of skylarks in a cage. He gave them their liberty in a field near where he lived. They flew away and he never heard or saw them again. But one Sunday a Scotchman from a neighboring city called on him and declared, with visible excitement, that his way along the road he had heard a skylark. He was not dreaming; he knew it was a skylark, though he had not heard one since he had left the banks of the Doon a quarter of a century or more before. The song had given him infinitely more pleasure than it would have given to the naturalist himself. Many years ago some skylarks were liberated on Long Island, and they became established there and may now occasionally be heard in certain localities. One summer day a lover of birds journeyed out from the city in order to observe them. A lark was soaring and singing in the sky above him. An old Irishman came along and suddenly stopped, as if transfixed to the spot. A cloud of mingled delight and incredulity came into his face. Was he indeed hearing the bird of his youth? He took off his hat and turned his face skyward and, with moving lips and straining eyes, stood a long time regarding the bird. "Ah," thought the student of nature, "if I could only hear the bird as he hears that song with his ears!" To the man of science it was only a bird song to be critically compared to a score of others, but to the other it brought back his youth and all those long gone days of his native hills.

BRECHLOADING CANNON

The brechloading cannon were among the earliest used. We find them on English and other ships as early as the last quarter of the fourteenth century, and therefore much before the time of the bayonets. The cannon was a mere tube, bound with heavy iron rings, and was loaded by the insertion of the "young chamber," an iron pan containing the charge, which fitted into and closed the breech. These guns were very clumsy affairs in comparison with the modern brechloader, but the principle was the same.

CHINESE THEORY IS THAT ELSIE SEIGEL SUICIDED

Statement Made in Official Court Bulletin Published in Peking—Chinese World Over to Protect Leon Ling.

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—That Elsie Sigel, instead of being a murdered victim of Leon Ling in New York City, took poison with suicidal intent in Leon Ling's room, is the statement made in an official court bulletin of Peking, China, a copy of which was translated today in Denver. This statement is made in a report to the Chinese government credited to the Chinese consul in New York, who was ordered to investigate the reported murder of Elsie Sigel. The bulletin was translated by Leo Wing, a leader of the Chinese colony in Denver. According to Leo, when this report went to Peking, orders were issued by the head of the Chinese "sons," who acted with the consent of the government, that the fugitive Leon Ling should be protected by the Chinese all over the world. Chinese consuls in America were secretly communicated with and an acknowledgment is made by the New York police that Leon Ling was not responsible for the death of Miss Sigel. He will be protected by his countrymen.

JOB STILL OPEN.

The proprietor of a London restaurant advertised for a cook. The first to apply for the berth appeared to be in every way suitable. But before engaging him the restaurant keeper inquired if he could give him a tip for the 2.30 rate. The cook's eyes brightened. He whispered a "dear cert," and mentioned that he had 5 shillings on the horse himself. That was enough. The proprietor gave him a lecture on the evils of betting and showed him the door. As he went out he saw another man about to enter. "Are you going to apply for the job?" he asked. "If you are asked for any money, say you can't tell a Derby winner from a catter's donkey." The man took the advice, was engaged and commenced his duties. Presently the proprietor rushed to the speaking tube and yelled to the new cook: "Chaff's head on!" Instantly the reply came: "Did he, by George? What was second and third?"

BAKED MEN.

Workers in porcelain factories are literally baked, but by some miracle of use and wont they remain sufficiently underdone to live. At least if they are not quite baked they endure a stronger heat than that which browns the Sunday sinner. The furnaces wherein porcelain is finished are kept at the fiercest heat used in any industry. A chain of workmen, their heads and bodies swathed in fireproof garments, take the finished pieces from the fire one at a time and pass them to the cooling room. The man at the head of this chain—who stands nearest the furnace—can work in only five minute shifts. In his intervals of rest he lies on a mattress drinking glass after glass of ice water from the hands of a small boy. At luncheon all about the chain of men steaks grill.—Cincinnati Equiper.

GIROUX LOSES BY ONE VOTE

MONTREAL, July 14.—One of the fiercest fights in the history of the city council was ended today by the defeat of the faction led by Ald. Giroux. It was over a contract for paving amounting to $300,000. Ald. Giroux, as chairman of the road committee, recommended that the job should go to an American concern, the Hiawatha Company, for $2.45 cents per yard, despite the fact that a local concern offered to do the work for $1.95 per yard. Ald. Giroux's contention was that the Hiawatha Company controlled a patent process that made it worth the difference. The city surveyor said he could not see the value for the extra money, and it was hinted that the difference really lay in graft, a suspicion to which color was lent by the testimony given by a man named Powell before the road committee, that he has been held up for sixty cents a yard royalty. The council has been sitting for the last three days, but the Giroux faction was not reached until today. Some weeks ago it was referred back to the road committee, but since then a new ward has been added to the city and Ald. Giroux had captured the members and allies. It was asserted would give him the votes he required. The aldermen in question voted for his report, but they were nullified by the defection of two of his former supporters, and Giroux lost by a single vote. What he will do now, nobody knows, but the prospect appears to be that Montreal will not get much, if any, paving done this year.

EDMONTON, July 14.—Asserting his report, but they were nullified by the defection of two of his former supporters, and Giroux lost by a single vote. What he will do now, nobody knows, but the prospect appears to be that Montreal will not get much, if any, paving done this year.

WHIMS IN WILLS.

Curious Desires Have Actuated Many Testators. The whimsy of the law is sometimes alleviated by the freaks and whims that appear in wills. Some persons have used their wills as means of paying off old scores. In 1770 Stephen Swain of the parish of St. Olaves, London, left "John Abbott and Mary, his wife, 6 shillings each for a halter for fear the halter should not be provided." In 1793 Philip Thicknesse willed that his right hand be cut off and sent to his son "in hopes that such a slight may remind him of his duty to God after having so long neglected the duty he owed to a father who once affectionately loved him." Lieutenant Colonel Nash got even with his wife by leaving the belt rings of Bath abbey £10 a year on condition that they muffle the bells of said abbey on the anniversary of his marriage and ring them with "doleful acoustation from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m." and on the anniversary of his death to ring a merry peal for the same space "in memory of his happy release from domestic tyranny and wretchedness." Jasper Maxine, who died in 1838, must have been a person of humor. He left his servant an old valve, stating that it contained something that would enable him to drink. When the valve was opened it was found to contain only a red herring. Occasionally a testator exhibits an original idea as to the disposition of his body. Stear Benoit, whose will was probated in Paris in 1877, ordered that he be buried in his old trunk to save the expense of a coffin. He added that he was attached to the trunk, it having gone around the world with him three times.

"But I hope there's nothing wrong with it." "Oh, no! it's all right, for I gave it to my husband as a birthday gift." "Didn't he like it? Don't think in the house." "No; he didn't care for it. SAY ELLA GINGLES / WOUNDED HERSELF TO DRAGON THRONE

Physician, on Stand, Thinks Lace Maker's Injuries Were Self Inflicted.

Many Women Enter Court Room on Frustrated Passes and Man Faints in the Crisp.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Ella Gingles continued to bask in the white light of public interest today. Judge Brennan's court room, where the young Irish lace maker is on trial for the slaying of her former employer, a charge which she declares was made only to cover attempts to lead her into white slavery, was jammed with women, several of whom obtained entry through trickery and forgery of passes, it is said.

The story of the Wellington Hotel bathroom incident was again attacked by the state today. Attempts of counsel for the defendant to bring into the case the names of well known men said to be behind the alleged plot against the girl met with failure. Dr. Arthur E. Price, a medical expert for the State, gave testimony tending to support the theory that the girl is suffering from hysteria. Dr. Price saw the girl at the hospital after she was found injured in the bathroom. He thus described his observations:

"Besides a few scratches on the body I found a small lump on the back of the head. When I pressed it she screamed, saying it pained her. Later, while she was talking to Mr. Short, I pressed the lump but she paid no attention to it."

"What is your opinion of the wounds?"

"I think they were self inflicted."

P. H. O'Donnell, counsel for the girl, had the physician examine scars on the back of the woman's arms. Dr. Price said that these scars were far more severe wounds than many he had found on the girl.

"In what way are these wounds different from the scratches you found?"

"They have been lengthened. The scars could be the result of deeper incisions or scratches."

Miss Anna Williams, nurse detective at a department store, testified that on January 3 she saw Ella Gingles steal some goods from the store and that later the girl signed a confession to the theft. She testified that she found the girl in the Wellington Hotel, told of going to the bathroom in which the slaying occurred and found the door locked on the inside. She described what she saw when the door was opened with the aid of a porter.

"Miss Gingles was lying on the floor with her hands behind her head. There was a string around her wrists and her feet were tied with a stocking. She appeared to be in a state of unconsciousness. I asked her who I should notify and she replied: 'Captain O'Brien.' A detective came up the stairs and she started to scream that a man had poisoned her and that she would die with him. I asked her how they had poisoned her, and she said that she had been drinking wine. Then the doctor came."

Ella Gingles was cheered as she made her way along through the corridors of the Criminal Court Building. A crowd extending from Broadway to the doors of the court room there were merely to catch a glimpse of the defendant. One man wedged himself in the crowd fainting from the heat. Several shouldered their way to Miss Gingles' side and spoke words of encouragement. The girl seemed much embarrassed at the reception accorded her yesterday at the Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian church, where she was introduced from the pulpit by the pastor and where $200 for her defence was raised.

Miss Gingles' mother, at the La Salle Street Railway station, told of two interviews she had had with Miss Gingles in January subsequent to the first alleged attack and prior to the Wellington Hotel bathroom slaying. On the first visit to the depot Mrs. Wolf found the lace-maker in the woman's waiting room. She had forgotten the incident when Miss Gingles reappeared a week later and introduced her to her mother.

"I asked her what I could do for her, and she said she had been arrested on the charge of stealing lace. She said Miss Harrette abused her because she would not give up her secret of lace making."

"Mr. O'Donnell then cross-examined the witness.

"Did Ella appear sick and faint?"

"Yes."

"Did she tell you anything about being taken from her home by two women?"

"Yes, she said Miss Harrette and another woman had taken all her lace and had then taken her to the hotel."

"You mentioned 'white slavery'?"

"Yes, we always ask all young women who come to the depot and seem to be lost whether any one had approached them."

"Is it then so prevalent that you question all friendless girls who seek your assistance?"

"Yes."

"Did Ella know what 'white slavery' meant?"

"Yes."

William H. Luthardt, clerk at the Detective Bureau, testified that he was in the office when the night gown and rope were brought in.

"Did the gown appear to have been laundered?" he was asked.

"No, it seemed to be new," he replied.

"Is there the name of 'A. Barrette' in clear ink. To satisfy myself that the ink had not been through the laundry with the gown I moistened the writing and it blurred."

Detective Sergeant William Howe corroborated Mr. Luthardt. The testimony of the gown was introduced by the State to show that the night gown in which Miss Gingles was found in the hotel bathroom did not belong to Miss Gingles and the name "A. Barrette" written thereon.

SLEW PRETENDER TO DRAGON THRONE

Modern Chinese Troops Made Short Work of His Force.

All Members of Aspirant's Family Killed and His Head Paraded Throughout the Province.

PEKING, July 14.—A remarkable story of the tragic fate of a youthful pretender to the dragon throne and a large number of his followers comes through missionary channels from distant Yunnan Province.

Under the influence of a Taoist priest a prosperous member of the country gentry named Chu conceived the conviction that he himself was a descendant of the Chu Ming emperor, and his son, aged twelve years, the rightful occupant of the throne. He rallied the peasants and his neighbors to the number of upward of two thousand men, variously armed with pikes, spears and swords.

With the pretender at their head Yunnan Fu, the provincial capital, preaching an anti-Manchu crusade. Near Yunnan Fu a detachment of the Chinese modern troops overtook, attacked and routed the insurgents. Several hundred of them are reported killed and wounded.

All the members of the Chu family were promptly slaughtered by the Chinese modern troops. The head of the youthful claimant, so lately adorned by the halo of the son of heaven, matters in his execution, paraded through the province in a cage as an exhibit and warning to all questioners of Manchu authority.

LAST FIGHT OF JIKIRI.

U. S. Soldiers Poured Terrible Shell-Fire on Outlaw, Who Had Three Male Followers.

MANILA, July 14.—While detailed accounts of the last fight of Jikiri, the famous Moro outlaw chieftain, who was killed and his band exterminated in a pitched battle near Patian on the Island of Jolo, July 5, have not been received, several brief despatches and a letter or two from officers who fought against the outlaw give a fairly correct story of the fight.

Hunted from place to place by the regulars and constabulary, who had been in close pursuit, Jikiri, with seven followers, two women and one child, took refuge in a cave that he had hidden in the interior of an extinct volcano. Here the outlaws gathered to make their last stand. As the soldiers came up the scouts located the party and the troops worked their way around the pass until entrenched in a narrow spot, and there was no chance of escape.

Capt. George L. Byram, of the Sixth Cavalry, who commanded the attacking force, then ordered a white flag displayed, and through his interpreter asked Jikiri to surrender. The outlaw refused and also declined to accept a safe conduct for the women and children, who remained with the band and bore their share of the fighting.

Captain Byram ordered up the guns and a terrific shellfire was opened on the cave. The missiles broke above the entrance to the opening, but the ledge protected those inside from the fire of the guns and little damage was done. The storming parties worked their way to the steep slope, and, finding footing on the ledge, endeavored to rush the larger entrance to the cave.

Fighting for a few minutes was desultory, but the outlaws drove their assailants back by a savage spear charge. The soldiers were not to be completely routed, however, and taking up their posts at the end of the ledge, poured a terrific rifle fire into the mouth of the cave, the bullets glancing from the rock walls and throwing showers of sharp splinters here and there among the beleaguered.

Among the beleaguered, Jikiri himself singled out Lieut. Arthur H. Wilson, of the Sixth Cavalry, who commanded one section of the attacking party. Dashing from the cave the outlaw flung himself upon the American before Wilson could raise his pistol.

With one hand gripping the officer's hair the bandit slashed at his neck with the heavy knife he carried, endeavoring to behead him. Lieut. Joe A. Baer, of the Sixth Cavalry, saw his comrade's peril and dashed to his aid. As Jikiri swung back the knife to strike, Baer shot him dead, and Wilson dropped to the ground. It is feared that Wilson will be incapacitated from further service in the army as the muscles and chords of his neck were severed by the bandit's knife.

Writing of the fight, American officers say that in the desperate hand-to-hand fight some of the assailants may have been wounded by their own fire. In their anxiety to save each other they were forced to shoot high power rifles at close range, which are doubly dangerous as the bullets will plough through several men.

Hundreds of friendly Moros saw the fight at close range. They perched among the rocks. Many of them believed that Jikiri bore a charmed skin, impervious to knife and bullet. They would not be convinced that he was dead until they saw and felt his body.

FOSTER CAPTURES 46 BOTTLES OF "BOOZE"

HAITLAND, July 14.—This afternoon A. R. Foster, chief of G. T. P. police, seized from two Swedes forty-six bottles of whiskey and gin, which they were carrying to the railroad wharves on Burgess and Tallor's contract, near Foreston. Mr. Foster had been informed of the likelihood of making a seizure and drove from Bristol toward Glasville. He overtook the two men on the way, each of them carrying heavy valises. They surrendered the goods, but refused to give their names. The liquor will be destroyed.

NEEDED A STIMULANT

A travelling man was riding in the smoking-car of an express train, reading his paper, when a man rushed in from the car behind the smoker, evidently in great agitation, and said: "Has anybody in the car any white-roy? A woman in the car behind has fainted! Instantly dozens of flasks were produced. The man who had asked for it picked out the largest one, drew the cork and put the bottle to his lips. With a long, satisfied sigh, he handed it back and remarked: "That did me a lot of good. I needed it, for it always makes me feel so queer to see a woman faint!"

Oak Hall's Big Mid-Summer Sale of Mens' and Boys' Clothing and Furnishings STARTS TODAY

A well-ordered store starts every season with a fresh stock—and in a business like Oak Hall's, demanding big stocks, a complete clearance is no easy matter, but the rewards are so well worth while to those who take advantage of this offer that we predict the clearance will be complete and rapid. An accurate description of the various lots is not possible in the space we have decided to use in this paper, but when we tell you our entire stock of men's and boys' clothing is concerned, you can understand the magnitude of the sale.

At the prices which will prevail—it is hard to understand how anyone can resist the tempting values—even buying for next year would be a good act of economy.

CANADIAN LABOR LEADERS TAKE OPPOSITE VIEWS

OTTAWA, July 14.—In respect to the demand from Mayor Douglas of Ottawa that the militia be withdrawn from the scene of the strike, Colonel Piset, Deputy Minister of Militia, stated that he had sent a reply to the Canadian Labor Union, stating that the question of the withdrawal of troops is one for General Drury, district officer commanding, who is now on the scene to deal with as being most convenient with the needs of the situation. "The law and the department will leave matters in the hands of Gen. Drury."

Two Opposite Views

J. W. Patterson, president of the Canadian Federation of Labor, and P. M. Draper, secretary of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, give their views regarding the demand for the withdrawal of troops from Glouce Bay street last night.

"This," said Mr. Patterson, "is the beginning of the end of the Canadian Federation of Labor. Troops have been imported from Belgium, given round with knives in their hands, and it time for Canadians to have some form of protest."

"Where is all the money coming from? I believe that the government investigates this strike, as it will surely do it, and the source from the pay of these American agitators, rather than from the United Mine Workers."

WHEAT MAKES NEW RECORD

July Delivery Advances 7 Cents on Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14.—Wheat for July delivery advanced 7 cents to $1.27 a bushel during a stormy session on the Board of Trade today, establishing a new high record for the season and giving promise of a repetition of the recent "deal" headed by James A. Patton in the May option.

The immediate cause of the buying flurry was an additional rainfall last night in Kansas and Missouri, where the new crop of wheat is now harvesting or is awaiting the thrasher and dispatches from sections telling of damage to the new crop by excessive rains. In addition the official forecast for tomorrow for the principal wheat growing states predicted thunderstorms.

A large "sleeping" short interest has existed for some time in the July option and the action of the market today indicated that many of these traders had become alarmed at crop reports.

There is little contract wheat for delivery in Chicago now and that little there was absolutely no sign of violence. The local public there could not cope with an endeavor being made to have the public believe that we are trying to win the strike by violence. Such is not the case, however. The United Mine Workers have a membership of nearly 400,000 and funds of over a million for strike purposes. They are ready to support the men on strike in Cape Breton for an indefinite period. I have authority for making this statement."

FLORENCEVILLE HOUSE IS TOTALLY DESTROYED

FLORENCEVILLE, July 15.—The dwelling of Trueman Lovely was burned to the ground at an early hour this morning while the owner was lying in bed at the home of his brother and his wife was visiting at the home of a neighbor.

The fire was first noticed at seven o'clock, but it had made such headway that all thought of saving it was immediately given up. While the cause is not known it is thought by many that Lovely himself is responsible for some fifteen minutes before the fire was noticed, and the husband was left for the home of his brother, and almost immediately afterwards the blaze was noticed. The loss has been placed at $200.

ON TRACK OF ROBBERS

RAINEY RIVER, July 14.—Detectives have got on the track of the men believed to be the bandits who robbed the Bank of Nova Scotia here some time ago, up at Oak Island, near the head of Rainy River. A strong posse headed by Pinkertons has gone out.

DIDN'T SEEM SO TO HIM.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Conditions and General Information of the Contest!

THE CONTEST IS OPEN TO EVERYONE

Any person residing in the territory in which The Sun or the The St. John Star or Weekly News circulates is eligible to enter the contest.

The contest manager reserves the right to reject any nominations.

Votes will be issued on paid-in-Advance subscriptions to The Sun, Star, and Weekly News.

A coupon will also be published in The Sun and Star, which, when neatly cut out, name filled in, and brought, or mailed to the Contest Department within ten days, will count as votes.

The first thing to do is to enter your name as a candidate, then either call, write or phone, The Sun office for a receipt book with which to secure subscriptions. Then let all your friends know you are in the contest and request them to save their votes for you.

Candidates may nominate themselves or may be nominated by their friends.

No employe or member of employe's family of The Sun Printing Co. can enter the contest.

All special vote ballots issued on subscriptions are good until the end of the contest, and they may be voted at the discretion of the candidate or subscriber.

Votes are not transferable.

Votes will be allowed on subscriptions secured anywhere in Canada. But subscriptions must be paid in advance to secure votes.

The votes will be counted and canvassed by a committee of prominent citizens.

In case of a tie the prize will be divided between the contestants tying.

Any questions which may arise will be settled by The Sun Printing Co., and its decisions will be absolute and final. Nominations must have the address of the candidates.

How to Win a Valuable Prize

Send in your nomination. You will find a nomination blank printed on another page. The nomination blank is good for 1,000 votes, which gives you a fine start.

Then enlist the aid of your friends and neighbors. Use your telephone. Let everyone know that you are a candidate before they promise their help to a more enterprising candidate.

Be ambitious and determined to win. If you have friends you cannot see at once, write to them.

You can get votes and subscriptions anywhere, from the other districts as well as your own.

Votes will be given on new subscriptions and renewals of old subscriptions that are paid to you in advance.

Call or send to The Sun and Star office for a receipt book. The Contest Manager will be glad to have you call so that he can explain anything you do not understand. Telephone or write to him if you cannot call, and a representative will give you full details.

Secure every Daily Vote Coupon possible. But work for the Special Ballots. They count the most.

Ask your friends to help you. If you belong to a church, society or any organization, let your fellow members know that you expect their help. It will be freely given if you only ask before it is given to some other candidate.

Don't forget that the children can do the most effective work in collecting Daily Coupons, as well as secure you many paid-in-advance subscriptions.

Should your father, brother, mother, sister or friends belong to any organization, get them to secure the votes and assistance of the members of the organization.

Do not let a day pass without securing some subscriptions and votes. The steady, persistent work is what will make you the winner of a valuable prize. Keeping everlastingly at it always brings success.

Any one, anywhere, can vote for any candidate. Candidates can secure votes and subscriptions anywhere.

It is easier to ask questions than to correct mistakes. Do not hesitate to ask questions. The Contest Manager is at The Sun office to help you.

Do not get discouraged. Once nominated do not drop out. You can win. These valuable prizes will be won by some one. Why not by you?

Your Friends Will Help You

Hundreds of people will have no personal friends in the contest. You can secure their friendship and subscriptions if you only ask them. They will also secure votes for you from their friend.

A little organization among your friends for systematic work in your interest will go a long way toward making you the winner of the Grand Prize.

Increase Your Vote Each Day

For further information phone or ask for Contest Manager who will be glad to answer any questions.

Mills, 213 Water street; Mrs. Ester Williams, 113 Gullford street; Wm. Cunningham, 80 Gullford street; Louis Green, 124 Winklow street; Mrs. Nell McKellar, 88 Germant street; John P. Gleason (ast.), 28 Minnet street; Jaa. Clark, 2 Victoria street; Jas. Kennedy, 186 Rodney street.

OLD LONDON'S NEW SHOW PLACE

A Mile of Galleries in the Museum Just Opened.

LONDON, July 14.—Another great present was provided for London on June 25 when all the members of the Royal family in this part of the world attended the opening of the Victoria and Albert Museum. The new wing, presenting two of Queen Victoria's sons, two of her daughters, five of her grand-children and one great-granddaughter. After a graceful speech declaring the museum opened, the King walked through the building and the remainder of the opening on Cecil M. Smith the director.

The total length of these galleries is three-quarters of a mile, and including the long gallery of two floors that are now being erected, the entire length of the galleries in the new building are just one mile in length, while the top lighted court occupy an area of nearly an acre and a half.

SULLIVAN'S BEST COMPLIMENT.

When Sir Arthur Sullivan of Gilbert and Sullivan fame was traveling in the western states a man ran up to him and grasping his hand said: "Say, for golly, I'm mighty glad to meet you! When I heard you was a-comin' I couldn't hardly wait. But say, you ain't very big, are you?" How much do you weigh?"

AT CLOSE RANGE.

"Who is that neglected looking little boy with dirt on his face?" "He is the child of the noted astronomer who lives over the way."

"Oh, is he? Come here, sonny. Run home and tell your father he doesn't need his telescope if he wants to see spots on the sun."

EIGHT-MILE BORE THROUGH THE ALPS

Details of the Project to Tunnel Mont Blanc—Would Cost Ten Millions.

LONDON, July 14.—The latest details concerning the project of boring a tunnel through Mont Blanc are embodied in a report prepared by the French Ministry of Public Works. The great tunnel would begin at Chamoni, at a height of 3,500 feet above the sea level, and would end at Entreves, at a height of 4,300 feet. Its length would be eight miles. It is not expected that special difficulties will be encountered in the boring, as the Mont Blanc massif is held to consist of hard granite throughout and unacceptably high temperatures and sudden floodings by subterranean streams, as in the case of the Simplon tunnel, are not looked for. The construction of a double-track electric railway would, it is estimated take five years and cost $20,000,000.

KANSAS CITY to be Governed by Commission—Aged Woman Murdered—Penal Offense to Defame a Woman.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—The Wright Brothers, on account of the various unfortunate incidents that have happened since their arrival at Fort Myer, may find it necessary to obtain a further extension of time in which to complete their official aeroplane speed and endurance trials.

LETHBRIDGE MINERS WILL NOT ACCEPT AWARD

Dispute Decision Made by Their Own Arbitrator—May Cause Further Trouble.

LETHBRIDGE, July 14.—The trouble between the miners and the coal operators is not over yet. According to an agreement recently signed, matters in dispute regarding differences in pillar work at Hill Creek mine were to be settled by arbitration. Steps were taken to have this adjusted. The miners nominated Rev. H. R. Grant of Fernis, chairman of the conciliation board of the big strike, and the operators accepted the nomination. Mr. Grant made an investigation and made a decision that upheld the contention of the company rather more than that of the union. The union met at Frank yesterday and refused to accept the award. The trouble at Hill Creek, therefore, is as bad as ever, and the act of the miners' board is a violation of the agreement recently signed. It may be that the whole agreement will be set aside.

WERE IMPRISONED IN LONDON TOWER

300 Visitors Were Suddenly Locked In—How Tower Is Guarded.

LONDON, July 14.—The amusing if somewhat embarrassing situation in which 300 Tower of London visitors were placed when they suddenly found themselves imprisoned behind locked doors the other day brings to light the effective manner in which the nation's treasures are guarded. There is a system of secret electrical alarms installed at the Tower, the sound of which is a signal for the immediate closing of all the doors in the building as well as all the entrances. On the occasion referred to an atmospheric disturbance set the alarm bell ringing in this guard-house and at once all the doors were closed. Wardens and policemen took their appointed stations and no one was allowed to enter or leave. The officials were uncertain whether an attempt had been made to carry away the Crown jewels or to blow up the Tower, and watch was kept on the doors and gates to be swung open again.

BRITISH TRADE WITH CANADA DEVELOPING ENORMOUSLY

Mr. Richard Trigge, May Have Scope of His Work Largely Increased.

Through the medium of Mr. Richard Trigge, His Majesty's Trade Commissioner to the Dominion of Canada, a heartfelt interest in trade conditions in Canada among the merchants and manufacturers of Great Britain has been developing during the present summer, such as it is, hoped may produce gratifying results.

The office of the Commissioner provides a source of information, of a nature hitherto unknown, for British men of commerce. A general interest had already been stimulated by the distribution of a most comprehensive report on trade conditions and prospects in Canada, when, therefore, in various cities of the Dominion, the British commercial world hastened to take advantage of the opportunity offered to make further inquiry through the safe means of an official of the home government.

Saunders, Defendant in Divorce Suit

WIFE TESTIFIES

Case of Harris vs. Harris Will About Complete Docket

FREDERICTON, July 14.—In the divorce court the next case on the docket, Sarah Amelia Saunders v. William A. Saunders, was taken up today. The case is understood to be a sensational one. The libel sets out that the defendant, who was formerly Miss Currie, gave evidence in corroboration of the fact that she had eloped with the plaintiff. The witness traced the parties to various places and at length located them in a lumber camp where Saunders was engaged as a cook. They had travelled and registered at hotels as man and wife.

MAKES PLEA FOR FEWER DOCTORS

Multiplying Too Fast, Says Governor

Interesting Papers Read by Several of the Delegates

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 14.—At a meeting of the Maritime Medical Association tonight, Lt. Governor McKinnon gave an address making a plea for more co-operation among the three Maritime provinces in the profession as well as commercial lines. The number of physicians, he believed, is multiplying too rapidly in proportion to the population of the province. If more were cultivated there would be more people and better help for physicians.

JUMPED FROM AUTO AND WAS KILLED

Sad Death of Bank Clerk at Shakespear, Ont.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 13.—Harry Campbell, clerk in a local branch of the Toronto Bank, was accidentally killed last night at Shakespear. He was with a party of friends who were returning from Stratford in an automobile, when at Shakespear village, some one called that there was a fire in the engine. Campbell jumped, striking on his head and sustaining injuries from which he died at four o'clock this morning.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT SALE NOT SUCCESSFUL

Many Tenders Received for Mine Limits Less Than Bids Previously Refused.

TORONTO, July 13.—It is not probable that the Ontario government will dispose of many parcels of mining land on the Gillespie tract recently offered for sale by public tender. The line of the coal tendering closed last night, and the Ontario government, it is believed, deemed to be satisfactory, many of them being lower than those offered and rejected at a former sale.

"WATCH ME SHOOT THE KID"

Said 17-Year-Old Boy as He Put Bullet Into Brain of 13 Months Old Baby.

REVERE, Mass., July 14.—Pulling a 22 calibre revolver from his pocket with the exclamation, "Watch me shoot the kid," a seventeen-year-old boy fired point-blank at the thirteen month old Annie Paquette, as she lay in her baby carriage, in the center of Ambrose street and Broadway tonight. The bullet lodged in the brain of the infant and he was immediately arrested charged with assault with intent to kill. The infant was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital and but little hope of recovery is offered.

CORONER SAYS BOY'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

FAIRFIELD, Me., July 14.—Coroner L. J. Addison, of Skowhegan, has been in town today investigating the death of the little Leaki boy, who disappeared last Saturday and whose body was found in the Kennebec, Tuesday. Coroner Addison questioned a number of people and decided that the drowning was accidental, and that an inquest was not necessary. He learned that the little boy was last seen by other children and was left alone, sitting on the river bank over deep, swift water.

HILL RAILROAD LINES.

Through the Burlington They Will Have Direct Access to Southern States.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Hill lines through the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, it is reported, are about to establish important connections with several systems serving the Southern States, which will be to extend greatly the Burlington's traffic alliance.

COVERS A WIDE FIELD.

These are, however, not all the duties of the Commissioner. Some of them are of a nature that could not be readily explained in a newspaper article. Mr. Grigg's commission covers a wide field, including, of course, his own and that of the trade correspondents in Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Ottawa, Toronto, Montreal, Victoria, Vancouver, who are associated with him, is to foster trade relations between the Dominion of Canada and the Mother Country. The Commissioner is, however, the chief representative of the Dominion of Canada in drawing closer the bonds of amity between Great Britain and Canada.

ONLY A YEAR OLD.

The office of His Majesty's Trade Commissioner to the Dominion of Canada was instituted by the British Parliament last year when Mr. Richard Grigg was appointed, with headquarters in the Board of Trade Building, Montreal. Mr. Grigg had previously, as special commissioner to His Majesty's Board of Trade, written a report addressed to the Right Hon. David Lloyd George, then president of that department, on the condition and prospects of British Trade in Canada. The report was presented to Parliament and printed by the British government as a blue book. It proved to be a very comprehensive and important report and was received by both the British and Canadian governments with unanimous approval.
