Kroonstad, Saturday, May 12 .- Pre- | rest of the force encamped around the sident Steyn has gone to Heilbrun, not Lindley. He has declared the former the new capital. Four hundred burghers have given up their arms here and in this neighborhood. Although the bridge across the Valsch has been destroyed, a good deviation exists where the road ran before the bridge was constructed.

BOER RESISTANCE BROKEN. London, Monday, May 14-4 a.m.-The war is practically over, says the Daily Chronicle's Kroonstad correspondent, and in less definite terms this is the view to be gathered from all the correspondents. They picture the Boers as utterly demoralized and disheartened by Lord Roberts' unexpected rapid advance and by his facile turning of carefully prepared positions of the Boers. There was practically no fighting and there are no further details to give respecting the occupa-tion of Kroonstad than are supplied in Lord Roberts' dispatch.

THE "OLD FLAG FLIES" OVER

KROONSTAD. The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The Union Jack was hoisted in the market place by Mrs. Lockhead, the American wife of a Scotchman. Most of the horses of the Boers are in a wretched condition, but President Kruger declares he will continue the war. It appears that the Boers at Kroonstad had been reinforced by 5.000 MEN FROM NATAL last Friday, and that altogether 10,000 men with 20 guns, trekked from Kroonstad on the approach of Lord Roberts. The Boers made an ineffectual stand at Boschrand and had elaborate entrenchments in front of Kroonstad, which offered great facilities for a rear guard action. Their only anxiety, however, appears to have been to get away safely with all their guns and convoys, which again they have successfully accomplished. The 78½ Dundas street, London. Brabant has occupied Hoepellok, half-way on the road from Thabanchu to Ladybrand. London, May 12.-The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Roberts: "Kroonstad, May 12, 2 p.m.-I entered Kroonstad at 1:30 without opposition today, when the Union Jack was hoisted amid cheers from the few British residents.

"President Steyn fled last evening after vainly endeavoring to persuade the burghers to continue opposing us. The Transvaalers said they would no longer fight on Orange Free State soil, and made off for the Vaal River. Free Staters accuse the Tranvaalers of having made use of them and then deserting. Many of the Free Staters have gone to their homes.

"The procession on entering the town was headed by a body guard, all of whom were colonials, and after my staff and foreign officers came the North Somerset Imperial Yeo-many, followed by Pole-Carew's division, consisting of the Guards and the 18th Brigade Navals, the 83rd, 84th and 85th Batteries, two five-inch guns manned by the Royal Artillery Com-pany, and the Twelfth Engineers. The bridge to the south advance have bewildered and dishad not been destroyed, but the large heartened the Boers, as their resistbridge near the town had been demol-ished. The Irish brigade with the fed-erals yesterday burned the goods shed. According to the townspeople many of them were drunk. The Boers are now trekking to the Vaal, where they are entrenching.

Gen. French encamped northeast of the town and dispatched a force to cut the line. The project succeeded late group of gunners dead on the top of at night, but, unfortunately, after the departure of the last train. Although the troops had marched seventeen miles they were in excellent form on entering the town. Many arrests have been made, chiefly of those who had maligned the British: It was found that many persons have been deported from Ladybrand for ultra-sympathy with the British. A number of the burghers are trekking homeward.

FREE STATE OPPOSITION OVER. Opposition in the Free State is practically over. All the prisoners in the hands of the British here agree that the quarrel between the Free Staters and the Transvaalers is so acute that the Transvaalers have decided to leave their ailies, whom they accuse of cowardice and lack of patriotism. Most of the Transvaal prisoners think if they are defeated at the Vaal River the Boers will retreat to Pretoria, but there appears to be a growing distrust in the Transvaal government. In a word, the back of the Boer resistance seems to have been broken. burghers are fighting without their previous stubbornness. They seem ready to retreat on the slightest pretext. ## Mafeking.

London, May 13-4 a.m.-There is no further news regarding the advance of the relief column to Mafeking, but it situation is now changed so greatly in is possible that Lord Roberts' suc- favor of the British that the fate of cesses will result in forcing the Boers to raise the siege.

London, May 12.-Brief but definite dispatches from both Cape Town and Pretoria, seem to justify the belief that the relief of Mafeking may possibly be effected inside of 60 hours.

A fortnight ago it was positively stated, both at Cape Town and Bloemfontein, that the only hope for Baden-Powell's starving garrison's rescue was in Gen. Carrington's coiumn, coming from the north. A little later on an equally positive statement was made from the same sources that a relief column was about to start from the south. Now comes word that a strong flying column composed of 3,000 cavalry and infantry, and a battery of six guns, passed through Vryburg on Wednesday, and was proceeding by forced marches night and day in the direction of Mafeking.

The British are undoubtedly counting on reports that the Boers recently took away the heavy guns from before Mafeking, and also that the investing force is composed of old men. Some experts predict a heavy battle before the town is relieved. Some incline to the opinion that the Boers will withdraw as they did at Ladysmith, We-pener and Bloemfontein, and allow the LADY CURZON'S APPEIAL. London, May 12. - Lady Georgiana Curzon has issued an urgent appeal for help for Mafeking. She says: "Nothing but absolute knowledge of the sufferings of the people of Mafeking prompts me to inaugurate another fund; the heart-rending accounts received from my sister, Lady Sarah Wilson, must be my excuse. She writes with authority, having shared equally with them the anxieties and privations of the long slege. She describes the destitution of

They have given slept in their beds. They have given lives and property and stood by the gallant Baden-Powell until their courage and endurance have thrilled the whole world." The appeal concludes with hoping the day the relief of Mafeking is announced the writer will be able to wire congratulations accompanied by a substantial sum of money.

THE SITUATION SUNDAY. London, May 13—4 a.m.—The situation at the seat of war in South Africa is as satisfactory for the moment, as the most sanguine friend could have hoped a week ago. The occupation of Kroonstad practically places the whole Orange Free State in British possession. It is evident from Lord Roberts last dispatch that disintegration has commenced. Free Staters are scattering to their homes, while the Transvaalers have gone northward, declining to fight longer in the Orange Free State. What little resistance the former still are likely to make seems to be cen-tering at Lindley, whither President Steyn has transferred his govern-

WON'T CROSS THE VAAL. Aliwal North, May 12.-It is reported from the Orange Free State that meetings were held recently in the Borr laagers, at which the Free State burghers decided not to cross the Vaal River, which means that they will not aid the Transvaal Boers in the de-fense of that republic.

Over the News From South Africa-Boer Resistance Collapsing All Along the Line-Dissension Among Transvaalers and Free Staters-Mafeking Likely to Be Relieved by May 24-Kruger's Last Card-Australian Federation-Salisbury on Temperance,

The news came almost like a thunderclap. Some of the military experts had been saying that Kroonstad would be taken without stiff fighting, but the public were very skeptical. Not only from a study of the map, but also from other sources, it was known that numerous kopjes in the neighborhood afforded the Boers the best opportunity for offering strong opposi-tion. On the other hand, these military critics pointed out that the country behind Kroonsad was so open that protracted resistance at that point involved serious risk of the Boer retreat being cut off by British cavalry, which could be sent around in large force. It is evident that the Boers even as long as two days ago, when the Free State capital was reported to have been removed to Heilbron, fully alive to the danger to their supposed stronghold. Nevertheless, the British public never imagined that the taking of Kroonstad would prove such simple matter. Lord Roberts's dispatch arrived after London had begun the night's amusement. As the news was rattled out by the tickers great anthusiasm was shown. Everybody enthusiasm was shown. Everybody broke into cheers for Roberts and sang "God Save the Queen" with no end of fervor. In view of the easy capture of this second capital of the Free State, many military men think the first really strenuous opposition to Roberts' progress will be prepared in the neigh-borhood of Johannesburg. MR. FORD'S SUMMARY.

Isaac N. Ford cables from London at o'clock this morning as follows. Considerable satisfaction is expressed by this morning's newspapers at the ecupation of Kroonstad by the British. The general opinion is that the resistance of the Boers will now colapse all along the line. Gen. Roberts has entered Kroonstad and completed the second stage of his march to Pretoria. His left wing marched fully twenty miles along the railway on Friday, and encamped within fourteen miles of the town, with the Boers in intrenched position at Boschrand, six miles distant. The right wing also advanced steadily along the Winburg road, the cavalry brigade overtaking the Boer convoy near Ventersburg and capturing a portion of the wagons. Pole-Carew's division was on the extreme left, with Tucker's division further east, and Colville's division on the artreme right Four brigade cavalry and two divisions of mounted infantry were in advance of the infantry supports, and the bulk of the mounted force was under French's command near the railway. A hundred prisoners had been taken, but a mishap had occurred to a troop of Inn's-killings, which had been suddenly fired upon from a house where the white flag was flying, several men being killed and sixteen wounded or captured. EVACUATION OF BOSCHRAND.

The Boers evacuated their intrenched position at Boschrand during the night when they learned that French's cav- timism. airy had seized a drift over the Vaalsch, and Pole-Carew's battalions took possession of the trenches without opposition. The following morning the British left wing was within eight miles of Kroonstad at 9 o'clock, and the headquarters' staff entered the town without opposition at 1:30, foilowed by the Imperial Yeomanry and other forces. The flag was raised and cheered, and the battalions as they came up encamped around the town. The march of 120 miles from Bloemfontein had been made with remarkhad gone two-fifths of the way to Pre-Gen. Roberts' bulletin, issued at 9 o'clock, recited the details of the occupation of Kroonstad. The most important detail was evidence of DISSENSIONS AMONG THE ALLIES

The Transvaal Boers had refused to remain longer in the Free State, and had retreated across the Varl to their own territory. President Stevn had appealed in vain to the burghers to make a final stand, and had himself taken refuge in fight Friday night. Gen. Botha had gone with the Transvaal Boers, and also taken Dewet with a portion of the Free Staters, but anparently the breach between the allies was final. The Transvaal Boers would only fight in defense of their own territory, and the mass of the Free Staters were unwilling to cross the Vaal. Many Free Staters were retiring to their farms, and the commandoes, with reduced numbers, were moving eastward toward the mountains for guerilla warfare. Gen. Roberts had not taken many prisoners, nor defeated the Dutch in any decisive engagement, but he had driven them from one line of defense to another, and taken all the heart for fighting out

THE WAR IS NOT OVER. The war is not over, but Gen. Roberts has divided the allies and brought the close of the campaign within sight The details of Gen. Rundle's skirmishing with the Boers on the eastern flank show that the eighth division has strong cavalry support, and is operating in the same manner as Gen. Roberts' force in the north. The

Another correspondent cables: The Boers seem to be on the eve of playing their last card, and according to many keen observers in England, it is be ing played, not in South Africa, but in the United States, through the medium of Boer delegates who sailed for New York from Rotterdam last week, Most estimates concur in agreeing that hostilities will have ceased by June, when President Kruger learns that the last Lord Salisbury as saying: "Let us country appealed to, namely, the Unit- have rifle clubs everywhere, and let ed States, will afford no help, and that the young maidens fetch their fathers' he has no alternative, in the face of the dinner and beer." overwhelming force now victoriously This reference to beer is no sweeping into his territory, but to sue so facetious as might appear.

BRITAIN'S ANSWER. What Great Britain's answer to that equest will be was unmistakably defined by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the secretary of state for the colonies, at Birmingham, Friday, when he declared that the Boer republics must become a crown colony, whose initial stage of organization will be controlled by a military administration. By agreeing to these terms, President Kruger must, of course, give up all for which he has been fighting. But on the other hand, now that terms have been so emphatically enunciated, they must either be granted or England will stand defeated. The latter alternative, however, does not enter England's category of possi-

His forward progress. they believe, will be stopped only when President Kruger, learning of the failure of Fischer's mission asks for peace. That this will come sooner than previously expected is the trend of popular opinion today. A long siege of Pretoria has become a remote contingency. Sharp fights at Kroonstad and on the Vaal River, a series of rear guard actions with constantly retreating forces, an organized envelopment of a hostile country, and then by June, or perhaps earlier, peace and Such is the average forecast of the struggle in South Africa. May be it is altogether too optimistic, but the present successes of the Brit-ism arms and the evidence of their well defined plans and excellent organization forms much excuse for op-his Birmingham speech, made a curious insinuation. He had been struck, he said, by the flood of literature poured out, not only in the United Kingdom, but in the United States.

"All that printing," he said, "costs money. Where does the money come from? Are there any capitalists on from? Are there any capitalists on the side of the Boers? Are there any secret hoards we have not yet ex-plored?" This spirit of counter-charge was evident in every sentence able dispatch, and Gen. Roberts' army of one of the most vigorous speeches had gone two-fifths of the way to Pre-AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION.

In comparison with what 200,000 British troops have been doing in South Africa during the week the events in England itself are perhaps unimportant. Yet they teem with human interest and international importance. First and foremost is the question of Australian federation. Delegates from this great colony are ceaselessly speaking pleasant words to London audiences, through the luxurious medium of public dinners and luncheons, to say nothing of copious press interviews, but meanwhile are fighting Colonial Secretary Chamberlain tooth and nail in an endeavor to maintain Australia's objection to having the English Privy Council as a final court of appeal for local cases. No compromise has yet been reached, and Mr. Chamberlain will shortly introduce the subject of federation in the House of Commons, advocating that the bill be passed as forwarded to Australia with the exception of an amendment granting the Privy Council the power mentioned above. Presumably the commons will follow the government's lead. The obligation subordinating the highest col-onial courts to the Privy Council, under which Canada now labors, may wreck the whole scheme of federation.

Mrs. Norman Thompson, Poplar Grove, P. E. I., says: "I had a severe cough, and pain and soreness in my chest. The cough was a hacking one and seemed to tear my lungs. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup promptly relieved the cough and removed every trace of the soreness."

The vexatious question raised by the Australian federation renders the colonial office eager to grant favors to Canada and other colonies. Mr. Cham-berlain has already assured the loyal colonists in Natal that their losses in the war will be made good, and as the northern half of the colony has been in the possession of the Boers, the assessment for damages will be a large one, and there will be a much heavier bill of costs from Cape Colony and the Bechuanaland protectorate.

SALISBURY ON TEMPERANCE. While imperial politics are interesting, home matters are almost equally The Outlook semi-humorously, sums up these matters by representing

This reference to beer is not half Salisbury's opposition to radical temperance measures in the House of Lords on Tuesday will probably afford the basis of one of the strongest planks of the opposition platform at the next election. Confronted by the united archbishops and bishops, the premier spoke more frankly on the temperance question than almost any leading man in English politics ever dared to speak. As at the Primrose League meeting, Lord Salisbury appeared to be thinking aloud, with no regard for consequences, and declared he did not see the force of preventing a certain number of people getting drunk when it entailed preventing "six times" as a second secon times as many sober consumers having the opportunity for free indulgence to which they have a right."

FREE INDULGENCE. The term "free indulgence" is a campaign headline that will not be easily forgotten; nor did the slim majority of three by which Lord Salisbury carried the debate, strengthen the position of the government. Lord Windsor, one of Lord Salisbury's warmest supporters, publishes articles saying the premier's attitude on this question is deeply regretable, and "may turn Conservative and Liberal imperialists into uncompromising opponents of the government."

PARLIAMENT.

The business of parliament is stagnant. Mr. George Wyndham is con-demned to whip thistles every day by inquisitive members who persist asking inconvenient questions. The cause of Irish reunion has been promoted by Lord Salisbury's Primrose speech, and Mr. John Redmond is displaying a conciliatory temper towards his rivals. He has already spoken from the same platform with Mr. Healey and Mr. Blake, and tomorrow he will appear with Mr. Dillon in Free Trade Hall, in Manchester, and offer fresh proof that the Irish factions have reached a practical working understanding respecting the national policies. Both leaders are likely to answer Lord Salisbury's speech and rival each other in invective. CLOSE CALL FOR THE GOVERN-MENT. A curious feature of the week is the narrow majority of eleven which the government secured in the commons over the motion to prevent ministers from being company directors. Had the motion been carried 40 companies would have lost members of their boards and 25 ministers, including Lord Salisbury, Mr. Goschen, Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Hamilton and the Earl of Selberne, would have lost an additional source of income. All the weeklies, regardless of party, agree in support-ing the principle of the defeated mo-

SALISBURY'S ILL-TIMED SPEECH. The Saturday Review, interpreting Lord Salisbury's recent generalism regarding hatred toward England, and the necessity of arming the country as especially applicable to the United States, declares: "During the Cuban war there was a large number of people in this country who sympathized with Spain, but they kept their feelings strictly to themselves. Not a discordant note was heard in our press, and the British Government prevented combination of European powers that would have thrown the American Government on its back. How do the United States repay us? We were treated to all kinds of intrigues over the Alaskan boundary and the Nica-ragua Canal, and now the American press and nation loudly proclaim their sympathy with the Boers and are organizing receptions for their delegates. We shall have to defend our empire, and must do it, as Lord Salisbury says, with our right arm." This, it is claimed, by a cable correspondent, neither represents the best informed nor the popular opinion. Lord Sallsbury had no idea of referring to American pro-Boer manifestations when speaking at the meeting of the Primrose League. Moreover, these manifestations are popularly regarded in England, thanks to the cable dispatches of the cable correspondents, as nothing but a temporary effervescence of political agitation in a country on the verge of an election and as such of no serious import.

The Stomach That Fails

May Not Be to Blame—What Is the Condition of the Liver and Kidneys?-You May Need Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills.

When digestion is imperfect and proper nourishment is not derived from the food, it seems natural to blame the stomach!

But is it just? Several cases are on record where people lived and digested food without stomachs. As a matter of fact the most difficult and by far the greater part of digestion takes place in the intestines.

Nothing so quickly interferes with digestion as a sluggish, torpid action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. Be reasonable and put the blame where it is deserved. Acquit the much abused stomach and get away down to the foundation of the trouble, by setting the kidneys, liver and bowels right. Sometimes people wonder why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so re-markably efficient as a cure for dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles. They forget that these ailments are caused by derangements of the filtering and excretory organs. Except in cases of mere temporary indigestion, stomach medicines and tablets are no benefit. Chronic indigestion and dyspepsia of long standing are positively and remanently cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver

To illustrate we refer to the case of Mr. Henry Moore, of Pickering, Ont., who writes as follows:

"In the fall of 1895 I used three or four boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for Constipation and stomach troubles, and never found anything to compare with them. I had suffered with these complaints many years, and taken many kinds of medicine, but it remained for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to cure me. Am now well and strong, but continue to take one or two pills a week to counteract the uric acid condition in the blood and to keep the bowels perfectly regular." By acting directly on the kidneys. liver and bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills promptly make these organs regular and active and permanently cure constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles. BASEBALL. TOOK THE SECOND FROM THE REDS.

The Cockneys took the second game from the Reds on Saturday in a slugging match, that was replete with errors. Both teams landed hard and often on the respective slab artists, but the visitors were easily outpointed, their errors being of the castly variety. Kostal was given his first trial in the box for the nome team, and was batted freely in the latter half of the game, but kept the visitors guessing in the first lew innings. About 800 of the taithful attended the game, which afforded little or no excitement until the seventh inning, when the visitors secured six runs, coming within one of tieing the score. The visitors' team was changed around. O'Conneil played short, exchanging places with Fullmer second, and Catcher Saunders exchanged places with Boyd in right field.

London started the run-making in the first inning, and four men crossed the plate before the side was retired. Mohler drew a pass, Hemphill and Reed followed with singles, scoring Mohler; Reed died on strikes, and Jones made a pretty drive to center, scoring Hemphill and Hart. Radcliffe was nipped at first; Cope followed with a single to center, scoring Jones, who had purloined second. Lohman was retired

The visitors scored their first tally in the third on three clean hits by O'Con-nell, Grimshaw and Conklin, but failed to again score until the seventh, when they landed on Kostal in great shape, and batted out six runs. This left the home team only one run to the good, and in their half of the seventh they succeeded in tallying twice, again pulling away from Black's aggregation. eighth the visitors fell down in one, two, three order, and the home team started in at a lively clip, and through a costly error on the part of Fullmer and three clean hits, added two more runs to their string. In the minth inning the excitement ran high when the visitors started to pile up the runs in a manner that threatened disaster to the home team. Conklin hit safe for one base; Fullmer drew a pass; Saunders drove the ball to left, scoring Conklin and Fullmer, but was forced out at second by Boyd, who was in turn forced by Habel. Neal reached first on a pass, and O'Connell followed with one of the longest drives ever made on the home grounds, the ball going over the left pasture, and striking the fence, scoring Habel and Neai. Handiboe was at bat, and a single would have tied the game, but that single never came. The batter sent a hot drive to third, but Tommy Cope was there, and the ball was at first in about as short a space of time as it takes to tell it. It was a decidedly takes to tell it. shave, and the fans enjoyed it.

Mr. Frank O'Halloren, of 964 Yonge street, Toronto, writes as follows: "Kindly issue in your paper a challenge for a game of ball for the 24th of May to the Ontario Baseball Club, of the Toronto Junior League. I be-lieve the grocerymen of Toronto are running an excursion to London on the 24th of May. I would like to get a game on, as we have heard a lot of London, but have never had the pleasure of going there.

Chatham Banner: Chatham has also little reason to complain of the mileage as the schedule gives them but 3,-646 miles to travel, being the second lowest. Port Huron has the advantage of location, being called on to travel only 3,400 miles. London is chalked up for 3,675; Hamilton, 3,741; Saginaw, 3,703, and Grand Rapids, 3,-909. Chatham also gets good Saturday games.

BOXING BOUTS. New York, May 14.—It was announced at the Corbett-Jeffries fight that the Madison Square Club, which has Madison Square Garden as its club house arena, has decided to hold boxing bouts in its big amphitheater in the near fu-ture. Now that the courts have overruled the police board, which had re-fused the Madison Square Club a li-cense, the club will make an effort to secure all the big fights. The immense seating capacity and locality will enable it to compete with any of the present clubs. New York, May 14.—Champion Jeffries is perfectly willing to meet Jim Corbett in the ring again, and made the statement to a reporter Saturday. As Corbett has stated he wants another chance, the men may meet in the near future

THE JUBILEE HANDICAP. London, May 12.—At the Kempton Park meeting today, the jubilee handi-cap was won by Mr. I. Nouman's Sirenia. Mr. J. H. Poard's Merry Methodist, ridden by Rigby, was sec-ond, and Mr. J. A. Drake's Royal Flush, with J. Reiff in the saddle, was third, in a field of 21 horses. Distance, mile and a quarter. The jubilee handicap is of 3,000 sovereigns, by sub-scription of five sovereigns each, the second to receive 200 sovereigns and the third 100 sovereigns out of the stake, for 3-year-olds and upwards.

FOUTBALL. At the annual meeting of the Western Football Association, held in Berlin, it was decided that in order to boom association football and give it that hold on public favor that the game should have, centralization is necessary. An attempt is being made to get the various leagues now playing under association rules united under one governing body. There are at present in Ontario playing association the Eastern Association, with headquarters at Cornwall; the Bay of Quinte League, the Toronto League, the Inter-College Association in Toronto, the York County League, the Burlington Association, the Peninsular League and, last but not least, the Western Football Association, whose rules govern them all. Accordingly, at their last meeting a committee was formed, consisting of John C. Stuart, B.A., Windsor, representing the Peninsular League; S. A. Dickson, Toronto, representing the Inter-College Associa-tion; C. F. Bulmer, representing the Toronto League and district; D. For-and suggestions welcomed by anyone interested in the scheme. There is also talk of a trip to the old country during the fall of 1901. That trip will depend largely on the class of football that is played here this year. It is felt that it would not pay to take an inferior team across and that a team fit to cope with the crack teams of Engand and Scotland is hard to get. With Canada to the fore, as she has been lately, a firstclass team would be a drawing card, leagues will be communicated

CANCER TREATED ON SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES

antees.

The New Constitutional Remedy Supersedes the Knife and Plaster.

Time was when everybody thought cancer was a local disease, that had to be cut out with the knife or pulled out by the plaster. Very few medical men or even laymen think that now. Too many cancers come back again after being cut out to leave any doubt as to the constitutional nature of the disease. The only way to cure it perfectly and permanently is to permeate the system with a remedy that destroys every particle of the cancer poison.

That is what our Vegetable Cancer Cure does. It cures cancer of the lip, nose, breast, womb, stomach, bowels or cancer in any part of the body, perfectly and permanently-except in the last stages, and even in these cases, it checks the disease and prolongs life and gives comfort and satisfaction to the afflicted.

BASEBALL.

TOOK THE SECOND FROM THE REDS.

The Cockneys took the second game from the Reds on Saturday in a slugging match, that was replete with errors. Both teams landed hard and often on the respective slab artists, but the visitors were easily outpointed, their errors being of the castly variety. Kostal was given his first trial in the box for the nome team, and was batted freely in the latter half of the game, but kept the visitors guessing in the first tew innings. About 800 of the faithful attended the game, which afforded little or no excitement until the seventh inning, when the visitors secured six runs, coming within one of tieing the score. The visitors' team was changed around. O'Connell played short, exchanging places with Fullmer at second, and Catcher Saunders exchanged places with Boyd in right field. London started the run-making in the first inning, and four men crossed the plate before the side was retired. Mohler drew a pass, Hemphill and Reed followed with singles, scoring Mohler; Reed died on strikes, and Jones made a pretty drive to center, scoring Hemphill and Hart. Radcliffe was nipped at first; Cope followed with a single to center, scoring Jones, who had purloined second. Lohman was retired

The visitors scored their first tally in the third on three clean hits by O'Con-nell, Grimshaw and Conklin, but failed to again score until the seventh, when they landed on Kostal in great shape, and batted out six runs. This left the home team only one run to the good, and in their half of the seventh they succeeded in tallying twice, again pulling away from Black's aggregation. In the eighth the visitors fell down in one, two, three order, and the home team started in at a lively clip, and through a costly error on the part of Fullmer and three clean hits, added two more runs to their string. In the ninth inning the excitement ran high when the visitors started to pile up the runs in a manner that threatened disester to the home team. Conklin hit safe for one base; Fullmer drew a pass; Saunders drove the ball to left, scoring Conklin and Fullmer, but was forced out at second by Boyd, who was in turn forced by Habel. Neal reached first on a pass, and O'Connell followed with one of the longest drives ever made on the home grounds, the ball going over the left pasture, and striking the fence, scoring Habel and Neal. Handiboe was at bat, and a single would have tied the game, but that single never came. The batter sent a hot drive to third, but Tommy Cope was there, and the ball was at first in about as short a space of time as it takes to tell it. It was a decidedly close shave, and the fans enjoyed it. LONDON.

Hamilton, Ont., May 14.—Inability to get the ball over the plate was the feature of the game on Saturday. Hardy, for Hamilton, gave 12 bases, and Hopkins, for Port Huron, 11. Hardy, however, scattered his. Hopkins gave five in the first inning, and Conwell made a hit with the bases were full. The Port Hurons batted more freely than the home team, but not at op-portune times. . Both teams will have to strengthen up to be in the running. Port Huron's greatest weakness seems to be in the box. The score :

FOUTBALL,

At the annual meeting of the West-ern Football Association, held in Berlin, it was decided that in order to boom association football and give it that hold on public favor that the game should have, centralization is necessary. An attempt is being made to get the various leagues now playing under association rules united under one governing body. There are at present in Ontario playing association the Eastern Association, with headquart-ers at Cornwall; the Bay of Quinte League, the Toronto League, the Inter-College Association in Toronto, the York County League, the Burlington Association, the Peninsular League and, last but not least, the Western Football Association, whose rules govern them all. Accordingly, at their last meeting a committee was formed, consisting of John C. Stuart, B.A., Windsor, representing the Peninsular League; S. A. Dickson, Toronto, representing the Inter-College Association; C. F. Bulmer, representing the Toronto League and district; D. Forsyth, B.A., of Berlin, representing the W. F. A.; J. A. Jackson, of Seaforth, one of the prime movers in the union, and W. M. Govenlock, B.A., of London, chairman. The views of this committee will be obtained, the various leagues will be communicated with and suggestions welcomed by anyone interested in the scheme.

There is also talk of a trip to the old country during the fall of 1901. That trip will depend largely on the class of football that is played here this year. It is felt that it would not pay to take an inferior team across and that a team fit to cope with the fore, as she has been lately, a firstclass team would be a drawing card, Cincinnati ...2 1 0 1 0 0 0 2 0—6 9 3 and there would be very little diff-Pittsburg ....0 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 2—7 14 4 culty in arranging satisfactory guar-

CANCER TREATED ON SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES

The New Constitutional Remedy Supersedes the Knife and

Time was when everybody thought cancer was a local disease, that had to be cut out with the knife or pulled out by the plaster. Very few medical men or even laymen think that now. Too many cancers come back again after being cut out to leave any doubt as to the constitutional nature of the disease. The only way to cure it per-fectly and permanently is to permeate the system with a remedy that destroys every particle of the cancer

That is what our Vegetable Cancer Cure does. It cures cancer of the lip, nose, breast, womb. stomach. bowels or cancer in any part of the body, perfectly and permanently—except in the last stages, and even in these cases, it checks the disease and prolongs life and gives comfort and satisfaction to the afflicted. ### The Right Talk.

Rev. Dr. Robertson, the veteran superintendent of missions for the Presbytterian Church in the Northwest, made some interesting statements at the meeting of the synod in Toronto the other day. In 1898, he said, 40,000 new settlers entered our Northwest, to teke up homes there. In 1899 there were 60,000 new comers, and it is estimated that this year between 70,000 and 75,000 will go to the western districts of Canada.

There has been some criticism of the quality of the new settlers, particularly the Doukhobors. In the estimation of Dr. Robertson these people are the right kind of settlers. They are people of good physique, they are not lazy, they build good houses, and, above all, they are occupying lands that the Canadians left idle for years and years. "They don't seek for soft jobs in the cities, where they can wear good clothes and keep their hands clean," Dr. Robertson said, with em-"There is too much of that ourselves. The storekeepers speak well of them, and their women have, many of them, married Canadian farmers out there. Why? Because Canadian girls won't go out and become helpmates to the Canadian farmers. And," continued Dr. Robertson, what better proof of industry could you wish than this? A Galician farmer and his son spaded 24 acres, in the absence of the necessary implements, and grew their crops on the land so prepared. These people will make good settlers, their children will make better settlers than they, and that is the reason the people of the east should look after them." That is the way to talk. It is only politically prejudiced persons, or those who know nothing about these interesting new settlers, who run them down. There can be no doubt that in many districts of the United States they would be heartily welcomed, as an element of strength in the development of waste places. This was shown the other day when a strong effort was made to get the whole colony to pack up and go to California.

What is needed, as far as Dr. Robertson points out, is sympathetic friendship for the newcomers. The veteran missionary pleads from a church standpoint, it is true, and already the Presbyerian Church has done wonders in building up missions in all parts of the new land, but the advice given is worthy of general ac-

It is proposed to take the Societies." wisitors on a trip to Chicago, and home by way of New York, in order that they may see what kind of a country they are now allied with. Good results are expected to flow from this mayol excursion.

Wealth.

The science of economics differs from almost every other in one particular at least, and that is, there is a popular as well as a scientific conception concerning the different sublects embraced by it. A celebrated jurist advised his students to get rid of every idea they had formed on the subject of law. The same advice would be equally wholesome in the realm of political economy. It seemed to John Stuart Mill that an erroneous wiew of the nature and uses of wealth gave a false direction to the commercial policy of Europe for many generations. He goes on to say: "It often happens that the universal belief of one age of mankind, a belief from which no one was, nor without an extraordinary effort of genius and courage could at the time be free-becomes to a subsequent age so palpable an absurdity, that the only difficulty then is to imagine how such a thing can ever have appeared credible." Mill may have been guilty of exaggeration as regards this particular instance, But on the general position he is sound.

It has been agreed upon by economic writers of the last half century to define wealth as "all useful and agreeable things which possess exchangeable value; or, in other words, all useful or agreeable things which cannot be obtained in the quantity desired without labor or sacrifice."

This definition was discovered, on analysis, to require more explanation. Thus the questions arise: Does the term "things" include immaterial as well as material things? Does "exchangeable value" imply that the things must be actually capable of transference themselves, or is it merely a right which is transferred? Are things which are of no use to anyone but the owner, a part of his wealth? Is labor a necessary foundation? The result was that things were no longer described as useful or agreeable, but were said to possess "utility."

In different departments of political economy different stress is laid upon the different constituents of wealth. For example, in consumption, stress is laid upon utility; in production, upon labor; in distribution, upon appropriation: and in exchange, upon value. As these divisions are hypothetical rather than actual, these phases of the question often everlap one another,

A Busy Woman.

Lady Aberdeen continues to be one of the busiest women among the titled nobility. She has just completed, and had issued from the printers the seven volumes of the proceedings of the International Congress of Women. The first volume deals with the general course of the proceedings, and is illustrated with numerous excellent portraits of the delegates, certainly a very noteworthy array of talented women-not forgetting "Madame Shen, honorary vice-president for China." "Women in the Professions" is the title given to two of the volumes, and a volume each is devoted to "Women in Industrial Life, in Education, in Social Life, in Politics." The last is the smallest of all the volumes, but it records the fairness of the congress in receiving and printing a paper bearing the title, "The Why and Wherefore of the Anti-Suffrage Movement in the State of New York."

This series of papers will be much sought after by those interested in the progress of the race, for many questions of interest not only to women but to the sterner sex are dealt with in them.

The Countess of Aberdeen has done her work well, as she always does.

The strike in the building trades in Chicago has lasted over four months, and cost the workmen in wages alone $2,000,000. No one knows how much the loss to the community and to the employers has been, but it must be very large. The question of pay has not risen at all. The trouble has all come from the refusal of the bosses to at all times recognize the Building Trades Council. It is really too bad that both workmen and employers cannot be got to consent to have the whole question settled by friendly arbitration. A great strike was settled in this way in Great Britain by the kindly offices of Earl Rosebery, after all other means had failed.

Failure has overtaken one of the formerly most famous of patent medicine firms, the Vogeler Company, proprietors of St. Jacobs' Oil. The collapse is ascribed to the withdrawal of its advertising, which kept the remedy before the public in all parts of the world. A good thing won't sell itself these hustling times. A family paper is the medium through which to reach the purchasing public, and The Advertiser offers exceptional advantages in this particular direction.

Brother Gardiner's Memory. [Hamilton Times.]

We recall an Irish Protestant banquet in Hamilton a good many years ago, at which a newspaper man and an officer of the St. George's Soc sat side by side. Though the former was on the rock, the latter was not, and when the waiter came with glasses all parts of the room to the printer man, the sturdy son of St. George said: "Let him pour." Before the end of the evening the man who tion of the man who abstained, in addition to his own share, probably six or eight glasses of champaign, and he was still able to speak for "Our Sister

The Maxim Gun Orator. [Hamilton Times.]

Major Beattie, of London, says: "If I had my way I would raise the tariff wall so high between Canada and the United States that no Yankee The Economic Conception of could shoot any of his goods over it with a Maxim gun." Major Beattie was not honest enough to say, that no Canadian who wished to buy something a Yankee had would be allowed to do so." The violation of individual liberty contained in his foolish proposal would be too strongly marked, you know. The London Advertiser properly points out that the major confesses that he is "opposed to civilization, for the intercourse of mankind presupposes trading relations; while an entirely unsocial, hermetically-sealed existence, were it thinkable, would mean a return to barbar-Corea and Thibet are specimen hermit-nations which, because of their purposed isolation and non-intercourse, are far behind even the rearmost van of civilization. The London News remarks that "though some may doubt the accuracy of the colonel's deduc-tions, it is impossible not to admire the absoluteness of his faith in protection, and the candor with which he states it." That is true, but not necessarily a compliment. It could have been truly said of any devotee of Mum-

Trade in Canada.

Toronto, May 14.-Bradstreet's trade review weekly summary:
There is some complaint at Mon-treal of the dullness of trade in certain wholesale departments, and of rather slow remittances, but it is generally felt that with the season further advanced, and with warm summer weather, the condition of business will show marked improvement. The trade of the country is on a healthy, sound basis. There has been an absence of speculative buying that characterized some previous years, and the outlook is promising. Trade at Toronto has been moderately active. The condiion of country remittances is satisfactory for the sea-

"Honesty is the Best Policy."

Never was a more pointed saying put into print, and yet to be honest only because it is policy is a poor kind of honesty. Better change "policy" to "principle" and the world will like you better. In the medical world there is one medicine honest for principle's sake—and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the specific of the age for all blood troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are all toned up by its action as a cleanser aud thus good health ensues. It never disappoints.

KIPLING'S WARNING. London, May 13.-Rudyard Kipling the president of the Wesleyan Conference in favor of the annexation of the two republics. To this appeal Mr. Kipling adds: "If, through any intellectual lasciviousness, we in England prefer to tickle emotion by being generous once again at other people's expense when the settlement comes, all this weary, bloody work will have to be done anew from the beginning, five or ten years hence. I assume that you have full knowledge of the situation in South Afirca. But I don't think you can realize how passionately and eagerly the loyalists look to England for a sign that the mother country will neither desert them nor betray them to the Dutch."

The Canadians.

IN THURSDAY'S FIGHT. Geneva Siding, Orange Free State,

May 11.-In the engagement which took place yesterday Gen. Ian Hamilton was on the right flank, with the 21st and 19th brigades. On the day previous he marched to Winburg, where the Highlanders remained till early yesterday, when they moved forward and forced the passage of the Zand River. After a severe bombardment the infantry advanced on a line of kopjes, and in the meantime a force of 400 Boers attacked the right flank, cluding the Canadians, who were driven off after a sharp fight.

When the British force reached Ventersburg the place surrendered without opposition. The three columns which comprise Lord Roberts' force will converge on Kroonstad tomorrow (Saturday). London, May 12.—A dispatch from Cape Town, dated May 12, says that Lord Strathcona's Horse have gone to the front, and that Lord Castle-

Exceedingly pretty new styles of Blouse Waists have just been placed in stock. We're always looking for new ideas. Old out-of-style stuff can be had without the searching, but that is not what our customers want, and don't expect to find here; matters not how cheap. It won't do if it lacks newness of style. The fun of it is, style doesn't always mean additional price,

At $1 00—Made from very choice patterns in American Percales with pretty fitting French back, moderately full blouse front and fly placque and the latest flare cuff. A very swell effect on the wearer.

At $1 75—Having a great sale in large American cities, the new sailor effect, with revers and vest front, prettily trimmed with fine insertion—very stylich.

tion—very stylish.

At $1 25, $1 50 and $1 75—Exclusive styles, with yokes of insertion and lace all-over, and with tucked and ruffled all-over, very taking styles. We're having a particularly good sale of these styles.

At 50c—Our leader; made in best styles from American percales of fine colors and patterns, cheap, but fashionable.

The Kreuz Zeitung (Berlin), in an inspired article, discusses the Boer mission to America, saying it considers American intervention probable, and advises England to accept it and finish the war if England wishes to retain American friendship.

Lieut.-Gen. Becher, in the Lokal Anzeiger, Berlin, reviews recent move-ments in South Africa and concludes that the Boers will continue to avoid decisive battles, but inflict great damage upon moving British columns.

The Sanford Manufacturing Company has received an order for 30,000 khaki serge uniforms for the imperial troops now fighting in South Africa. The busi-ness of the contract has been done through the Dominion Government, and an inspector has been appointed by the government.

Since their return to Toronto from Montreal on Wednesday, Major Dent-and Veterinary-Major Phillips have in-spected several hundred horses, and enough have been secured to provide a brought from Cape Town the appeal load for the first transport. The ship of a well-known Wesleyan minister to is fitted up to carry 1,000 horses, and of her cargo 750 will be supplied from Ontario and $2 50 from Quebec. Walter Harland Smith, the purchasing agent, says that 5,000 excellent animals could be secured in Ontario and Quebec at the present time. A Central News telegram from Durban says the Boers are raiding in Swaziland, and are everywhere carrying off grain and horses in spite of the protests of the natives.

Dyspepsia Tablets, digest the food instead of making the worn out stomach do all the work, give it a much meeded rest, and the cure of dyspepsia is the natural result. You get nourishment and rest at the same time because these Tablets will thoroughly digest all wholesome food taken into the stomach whether the stomach works or not. A cure is cer-tain to result because the digestive organs are given a chance to rest and recover their natural vigor and The Tablets are then no longer tone.

required. To show the manner in which the remedy acts on different people and how quickly and effectually it cures stomach troubles we present a few recent cases:

Mr. J. O. Wondly, of Peoria, Ill., writes: I was unable to eat anything but the plainest food, and even that often distressed me, but since using one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I can eat anything and everything I want.

Mrs. Samuel Kepple, of Girty, Pa., writes: I have been entirely relieved of my stomach troubles by your Tablets. I suffered three years with sour stomach and gas at night. I am thankful for them.

Mrs. A. E. Bowen, Bernard, Vt., writes: I think Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best thing for dyspepsia I ever took. I will recommend them to anyone troubled as bad as I

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will not disappoint, because they cure dyspepsia surely and lastingly by causing the food to be properly assimilated, and cure constipation by producing the proper quantity of bile, and sold by all druggists at 50 cents per pack-

Seems to Have Been Successful in Northern Natal.

Dundonald and Bethune Defeat the Boers in the Biggarsberg District.

London, May 14.-A dispatch received by the Associated Press from Pietermaritzburg, Natal, timed 12:05 p.m., brings the first intimation of success attained by Gen. Buller in Northwestern Natal. The sender of this dispatch evidently assumes that news of the affair has been received direct from the scene of hostilities, for

"Gen. Buller's official telegram, notifying his success at the Biggarsberg, received here an hour ago, has given keen satisfaction. It is confidently anticipated that Dundee will be occupied by the British today. The residents of the north country are delighted, as forcing the Biggarsberg means that they will speedily be enabled to return to their homes.

At about the time this message was filed arrived another dispatch to the Associated Press. dated Stone Hill farm, 8:20 this morning, it says: "After four days' march eastwards, at the foot of the Biggarsberg ridges, in the direction of Helpmakaar, which was occupied by the federals, the 2nd brigade on Sunday led the attack,

Dundonald's cavalry BROKE THE BOERS' CENTER and Bethune's horse advanced on their extreme right. In the direction of Pomeroy a small party of burghers occupied a ridge overlooking Help-makaar, but they did not wait for the assault.

Recent British scouting in the direction of Dundee has shown that the federals were in great force on the Biggarsberg. So apparently Gen. Buller concluded that it was necessary to clear them from his rear before commencing a movement in the direction of the Drakensberg range. If that is his plan he has possibly divided his forces, sending one column eastward to threaten Vryheid and Utrecht and take Laing's Nek in the rear, while a west-bound column attempts to form junction with the forces of Roberts, via the Harrismith railroad. Telegrams from Kroonstad indicate that Gen. French's cavalry is keep-ing in touch with the Boers. But perhaps Lord Roberts will be compelled to order a brief halt of his main body in order to allow the troops to re-cuperate after their exhausting marches of the past week.

THE "SPLIT."

All the correspondents agree that to all intents and purposes the Free Staters have severed their military alli-ance with the Transvaal, though scat-tered bodies, they say, will possibly hold out here and there for some time. At the same time a dispatch from Cape Town dated today says a procla-mation will be published this week annexing the Orange Free State.

It is also said that Gen. Botha the commander-in-chief of the Boer forces, threatens to resign if any prepara-tions are made for the wanton destruction of property.

The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company at Cape Town says the American residents are taking steps to repudiate the statements of Mr. Webster Davis, the former United States assistant secretary of the interior, who recently visited South Africa.

News from Mafeking is expected speedily. The war office is reported to have expressed the opinion that news of raising the siege of that place may be expected by Wednesday.

News of Buller's Success Fully Confirmed.

Positions at the Biggarsberg Taken-Harly Relief of Mafeking Assured.

London, May 14.-A special dispatch from Stone Hill Farm, Natal, dated today, says:

Gen. Buller's advance commenced on Thursday, when he left Ladysmith in strength. When within two miles of Helpmakaar the Boers opened a heavy artillery fire, and the British guns replied, while a portion of Buller's troops worked round the Boer flanks. The British attack was pressed home on Sunday. Bethune, on the right, outflanked the Boers, whose splendid dewere practically taken. Gen. Buller's march, subsequent to the attack, was carried out without a hitch. The British are still pushing on."

MAFEKING. London, May 14 .- The parliamentary secretary of the war office, Mr. George Wyndham, in the House of Commons today, declined to divulge Lord Robplans for the relief of Mafeking, but added significantly that he hoped they would shortly be accomplished."
GREAT CAPTURES OF FLOUR AND GRIAIN.

Thabanchu, Sunday, May 13. - The eighth division, with its front extendng 30 miles, was yesterday moving forward. Gen. Grenfell and Gen. Brabant followed the Boers, reaching Newberry's mills and capturing great quantities of flour and grain. Gen. Brabant's main force with Campbell's brigade of Guards, and Gen. Boyes' brigade, have cleared the country.

The Boers are splitting up and retir-

Boer Treachery.

MISUSE OF WHITE FLAG. London, May 14-3:12 p.m.-The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Kroonstad, Sunday, May 13 .- There were more casualties in the cavalry division May 10, than reported by me. I have been unable to get an exact account of what occurred, as the commanding officer, Capt. Elsworthy, was killed, and two officers were wounded at the same time, and have been sent to the rear. But, it would appear, that a party of our men going up to a kraal, on which a white flag was flying, was suddenly attacked by a large number of the enemy. Two officers, Capt. Haig, of the 6th Dragoons, and Lieut. Wilkinson, of the Australian Horse, were made prisoners, and 21 men are still unaccounted for. Some of them may have turned up, as the cavalry covered a considerable distance May 10, and men reported missing have been rejoining during the last few days.'

The above dispatch refers to the losses sustained by the Inniskillings May 10, as detailed in the dispatches of the Associated Press Saturday. The troopers were fired on while unsaddling their horses, having approached the kraal unsuspiciously while a white flag was flying from it. UNEXPECTED OPPOSITION. New York, May 14.-- A batch of correspondence from the London office of the Associated Press contains the following: "While Lord Kitchener was engaged in suppressing the Preiska rebellion he ordered the destruction of a certain farm house. Not seeing any signs of his orders being carried out he rode over to his staff, and found an interesting situation. In the door-way of the farm house stood a pretty young Dutch girl, her hands clasping the doorposts, and her eyes flashing fire from beneath her sunbonnet.

"The Irish sergeant in charge of the party of destruction was vainly endeavoring to persuade her to let them pass in, but to all his blandishments of 'Arrah, darlint: wisha, now, acushla,' etc., the maiden turned a deaf ear, and a deadlock prevailed. Lord Kitchener's sharp, 'What's this? put a climax to the scene. The girl evidently guessed that this was the dreaed chief of staff, and her lips trembled in spite of herself.

"Kitchener gazed sternly at her, standing bravely though tearfully there, and turned to his military secretary and said, "Put down, that the commander's orders with reference to the destruction of Rightman's farm could not be carried out, owing to un-expected opposition." Forward, men. This is vouched for by C. A. Mc-Mullen, an engineer recently returned from Johannesburg.

THE TRIUMPH OF TRUE LOVE

She was leaving the room gently and moiselessly when Lord Selwyn spoke.
"Mrs. Rivers," he said, "pray remain; and will you—will you kneel down and read the prayers for my wife? They are gone to fetch Dr. Hearne, but he will not be in time."

She returned to her place. It was afternoon now, and the world lay in a glory of sunshine; the song of the birds reached them, the perfume of the flowers came in great gusts, but in that chamber was the solemn hush of death, broken only by the prayers of mercy for the one who could no longer ask mercy for herself.

Slowly and gently she read them. Who shall say if the grand, tender words reached that dulled brain? Who shall say what passed in the soul that hovered on the brink of eternity? Then Dr. Danvers came up to the bed and looked at the white face. He laid his hand gently on Mrs. Rivers.

"You pray no longer for the living,"
he said; "she is dead."
She was dead. When her soul passed to its judgment none of the kneeling there ever knew. There was little change in the face, save that the gray shades deepened. Lord Selwyn's

CHAPTER XXIII.

It was not until the first bewilder-ment of his sorrow passed away that Lord Vivian Selwyn thought of asking it happened. No one could tell The lady's maid told him all that Lady Beatrice had said, and he could not understand why his wife had been so determined upon visiting Redruthwhat could have induced her to brave his annoyance and his anger, to disobey his commands, to disregard his wishes. There must be some reason why, but he never discovered it. He went to the stables to ask what had passed. One of the men working there told him that Lady Beatrice had insisted upon having the chestnuts, and had forced the unfortunate groom to her. No one knew why-no one could give him the least clue as to wife had been so anxious to go to Redruth as to endanger her life in order to get there—neither servants, de-pendents, nor friends. He inquired anxiously at Redruth if Lady Selwyn had any appointment there with tradespeople, but he could not hear of any. He was forced to believe that impatience of the pain she was bear-ing, had sent her, at the risk of her life, to Redruth, in search of some-thing to lessen it. To the end of his life Lord Selwyn believed that, and it was well for him he did so. The secret of that journey, for which she had been willing to risk her life, perished with

All that she knew was, her husband had said, some days since, he was afraid the ponies would do mischief; they were so wild and full of spirit.

Lord Vivian did all he could for the woman. He gave her the cottage, and settled upon her a pension that would forever keep grim want from her door. There was an inquest, but no one had anything to say, and the verdict was, of course, "accidental death."

It was wonderful what a sensation

the accident created. Lady had not been loved; she was too cold, oo proud, too haughty to win much aftion; but she had been greatly adnired. She had been the queen of the ounty; she had held her place with ofinite and graceful tact, never failing i her social duties, dispensing her usband's hospitalities with a queenly and. She would be very much missed very one knew that. Then the world not only mourned her, but pitied her; it was sad to be cut off so suddenly, in the very prime of her magnificent womanhood and the very zenith of her To leave a little child-a boy so beautiful, so full of promise. was, how much to be deployed. Surely no accident created more sympathy.

Letters of condolence literally poured in upon Lord Vivian. The world never showed deeper pity or deeper sympathy. When the inquest was over, all that remained of the once beautiful, imperial Beatrice was laid ready for the grave. It was Mrs. Rivers who brushed the rich masses of hair from the marble brow, who folded the white hands on the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great and the culat breast who laid great the culat breast who can be considered to the culat breast the cu When the inquest was over, all that requiet breast, who laid sweet roses and laid her warra lips on the cold lips of the silent dead.

Death gave strange majesty to th beautiful face. Looking at her lying there, so caim and so still, white lilies there, so calm and so star, white missing in her clasped hands, white roses lying on the cold, slient breast, no one could realize the evil she had planned. Lord Vivlan mourned for her—not with the passionate grief he had felt for the loss of Violante, but with a deep and earnest sorrow. them more.

Men of high repute were there; no one failed; and the funeral of Lady Selwyn of Selwyn Castle was remember. Selwyn of Selwyn Castle was remembered long afterward as one of the grandest ceremonials ever witnessed.

Then came a lull: a time when Lord Selwyn seemed to sink into the very deuths of despair. It had been so sudden. He had seen his wife one morning, looking much as usual; in four days afterward she was dead and buried. The only thing that saved him buried. The only thing that saved him was anxiety for Rupert. The intelligence of Lady Beatrice's death could not long be kept from him. He saw the sad faces, the mourning dresses; he heard the tolling of the distant church bell, and the noise of the long funeral procession. They were obliged to tell him; and although she had been un-kind to him—how unkind none but him-travel On Mrs. Rivers the sad, sudden death produced a strange effect. It gave her time for thought, She had dreaded the revelation of her secret, that must have ensued when it became known; and now it was once more her own. She deplored Beatrice's sad death more, perhaps, than anyone, for she alone knew the secret of the terrible crime the dead woman had planned. She mourned not only for the lost life, but for the sin-laden soul so swiftly, so suddenly summoned before its Judge. suddenly summoned before its Judge.

She was miserably undecided what to do. There were times when it seemed to her the only atonement she could make for her error was to confess her fault to her husband, to tell him every motive which had actuated her, and let him punish her as he would. That idea would take possession of her until she was nearly throwing herself at his feet and telling him all.

Then came the reaction. The same motives that had led her to make the sacrifice existed still. They were rather deepened by the thought of how her son would listen to such a story and how it would affect him, She resolved at last upon keeping silent a short time longer.

The day came when Rupert was able to leave the room in which he had fought so fierce a battle with the grim King Death, and go downstairs. Soon as he was able to travel, his father asked him if he would go to Scotland, and

London, May 12.-Lord Salisbury's address to the members of the Primrose League on Wednesday and the remarkable utterances of the premier on that occasion continue to form almost the sole topic of conversation. Editorial writers quickly gave up the attempt to analyze for the benefit of the public the numerous features of the speech and were well-nigh staggered into silence by its baffling unexpectedness and the multiplicity of the issues it contained. It was delivered when the nation expected exactly the opposite kind of remarks. To implore his countrymen to awake in the perils constantly menacing the great empire, and its existence at the very momen when a long period of patient waiting had been replaced by jubilation over Lord Roberts' successful advance, an expedient which seemed so utterly bereft of the first principles of poli tics and policy, considering the a proach of the elections, that some Lord Salisbury's own supporters were ous sorrow at her death.

It retarded his recovery, there was no mistake over that, and the doctors strongly advised his lordship to take him away as soon as he was able to be a strongly advised his lordship to take present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the present efforts to obtain how and the comparing the compar Boer conspiracies and hostility. The whole tone of the speech lacked all those formalities, reticences and veil-ed allusions to which the English peo-ple have been accustomed since the days of Pitt and Palmerston. Lord Salisbury hitherto has religiously fol-lowed such precedents, but on Wednesday he spoke to the public as he would to an intimate friend after din-> amazing and so interesting has been Lord Salisbury himself, as revealed this week, that the broad—and from the standpoint of other nations, the far most important-sensational feature of the speech has passed al-most unnoticed. Were the premier of any other European state to get up in these times of wars and rumors of wars, and urge the people of an eminently commercial race to accustom themselves to the use of firearms, and to establish rifle clubs in every city, village and hamlet, there would run through Europe such a shiver of fright and such vivid anticipation of hostile intention and devastating conflict that market prices would drop by tens, and mobilization plans would be at the finger-tip of every war minister.

> Lady Georgiana Curzon has issued an urgent appeal for help for Mafeking. She says: "Nothing but absolute knowledge of the sufferings of the people of Mafeking prompts me to inaugurate another fund; the heartrending accounts received from my sister. Lady Sarah Wilson, must be my excuse." A CURIOUS INCIDENT.

A curious incident connected with the parade of the Ladysmith naval brigade of the British cruiser Powerful was that the decorating authorities almost smothered the office of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian commissioner, with the Stars and Stripes, while on the other side of the United States embassy, in the same street, there was no sign of an American flag. Lord Strathcona pointed out the unsuitability of the predominance of the Stars and Stripes. and the number of these emblems was

AMUSEMENTS.

With all the best players at the war, the polo season opens tamely. Clubs like the Ranelagh and Hurlingham are likely to be quiet this summer. There was an interesting game on Wednesday at Hurlingham, however, when a match between England and America was played. The American team was composed of Foxhall Keene, W. Mc-Creery, L. McCreery and Frank Mac-The latter was unable to play, but at the last moment a strong English player, A. Rawlinson, was substituted. With his help the Americans defeated Lord Harrington, F. Freake, W. S. Buckmaster and Capt. Renton 4 to 1.

Magistrate Administers Lenient Sentence—Will Deal Severely With Future Stone-Throwers-Robert Blackwell Fined - As-

John Sullivan, who was last week convicted of stone-throwing at a street car on the night of May 1, was this morning sentenced to three months in the central prison. In passing sentence Police Magistrate Love said that the offense was a most grave and serious one, for which the maximum penalty was life imprisonment. The man who took a missile in his hand and hurled it at a street car was endangering property and life, and giving the city the name of being a lawless community. His worship believed it right for laboring men to have unions and to organize for their own safety and advantage, but if such destruction of property were going to accompany labor processions, then it remained for the respectable and law-abiding men of the labor ranks to see that these processions did not take place on streets where the temptation to damage property would be found. In view of the circumstances that the prisoner had a wife and five children depending on him; and that he had previously been a good and industrious citizen, that a petition signed by prominent citizens had been presented in Sullivan's behalf, a lenient sentence would be imposed. Warning, however, was given that the next person who offend-ed in like manner would be punished in an extremely severe manner, regardless of circumstances.

Robert Blackwell, who assaulted Alfred Hodgins, of the Central Hotel, was fined 5 or twenty days in jail.

John Turner, a drunk, who had been several times discharged, but who did not profit by leniency, was fined $10 or twenty days in jail.

Four other drunks were let go. A young lady who rode her wheel on the sidewalk was also discharged

"On the Stroke of Twelve," which appears next Thursday, at the Lon-don Opera House for matinee and night, is a sensational comedy drama. The play receives its title from a sensational prison escape in the third act. Jack Rutledge, the hero, is trapped by a forged check given him by the villain in the first ace. Jack is tried and convicted and sent to prison, from where he makes a sensational escape with his friend, Geo. Bainbridge, who is convicted with him. The two then proceed to hunt down Horton, the villain, and his accedes the Old. In the preface Mr. complice, Moses Levi, The fourth act Starley justifies his action by saying shows the interior of a counterfeiters' the Old Testament was meant to be a den, and is another of the sensational features of the play. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just what every weak, nervous, run-down woman needs to make her strong and well. They cure those feelings of smothering and sinking that come on at times, make the heart beat strong and regular, give sweet, refreshing sleep and banish headaches and nervousness. They infuse new life and energy into dispirited, health-shattered women, who have come to think there is no cure for them.

Read the words of encouragement in this letter from Mrs. Thos. Sommars, Clifton, New London, P.E.I. "Last fall I was in a very serious condition suffering from nervousness and weakness, I got so bad at last that I could hardly move around, and despaired of ever getting well. Seeing Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills highly recommended for such conditions I purchased a box.

"Before I had taken half of it I could notice an improvement in my condition and when I had used two boxes I was completely cured. "It was wonderful how these pills took away that dreadful feeling of aervousness and gave me strength.

"I recommended them to my neighbor who was troubled with nervousness, and they cured her, too. We all think there is nothing equal to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

Pte. F. G. W. Floyd Killed in South Africa.

During Last Thursday's Operations-No Particulars Given in the Dispatch-Pte. G. W. Leonard, of Woodstock. Wounded.

Pte. F. G. Floyd, of this city, a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment, was killed in South Africa last Thursday, and Pte. G. W. Leonard, of Woodstock, was wounded the same day. Of these facts Lieut.-Col. Holmes, D.O.C., was notified yesterday morning by the militia department.

No further details were given in the dispatch received from Col. Otter. Pte. Floyd was a member of the 7th Fusiliers. He volunteered for duty in South Africa when the first call came. At that time he was in the employ of M. Masuret & Co.. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd, of North Richmond street. Mr. F. J. Floyd, of James Cowan & Co., is a brother. Lieut.-Col. Holmes notified Lieut.-Col. Smith, of the 7th, of Pte. Floyd's death, and the battalion's chaplain.

Ven. Archdeacon Davis, conveyed the sad news to the family. Three members of the 7th are now dead in South Africa-Pte. Robert Smith (Paardeberg), Pte. W. G. Adams (Bloemfontein), and Pte. Floyd.

He added that after Crodin counted the ballots he refused to seal the envelope or the ballot box and then he went away with the box. Mr. D. M. Tait, manager of the Star Loan Company, testified that Sheriff Brown had left a box containing the ballots in his vault for several days in January, 1899. No one but himself had a key to the vault, and he himself certainly did not open the box.

MR. PRESTON'S EVIDENCE. The first questions put to Mr. W. T.

R. Preston were of a general charac-Mr. Preston said he discussed organization work with Messrs. McCrimmon, McIntyre, Darrach, Grant and Macnish. He had nothing to do with the appointment of deputy returning officers. "One of the drawbacks to the party system," he explained, "is the desire on the part of party men to be made deputy returning officers.'

Q.-Why did you suggest getting outsiders in? A.—I never suggested it in the world. I did not know there were outsiders in until about five weeks after the election.

Mr. Preston denied having seen the letters to the sheriff before the trial yesterday. He would not appoint de-puties in that way, he said, as he would like to be a little more specific in his recommendations.

Mr. Preston admitted bringing in five strangers, but not to act as deputies. Mr. Preston described with some dethe work of these men, showing that they were employed in canvassing and perfecting the organization in for eight years; finally the disease bevarious parts of the riding. They were there about two weeks: he received reports from them almost daily; they were to stimuate the local workers, who might be tempted to take too

Mr. Preston admitted giving the five men mentioned the money to come to the riding. He said he collected it from some of the friends in St. Thomas, The amount raised was nearly $300. money was for the purpose of assisting in the organizing. It was handed to a friend of his among a crowd coming off the train, but whose name he could not recall, and was rewritten by him and sent. Mr. Preston explained at length the origin of the term, "threshing machine," and said he had first seen it used in reference to the party workers in a cartoon in the Toronto Telegram just previously, after the East Wellington elec-tion. they have not been here." Mr. Preston concluded by strenuously denying the story that he attended a political meeting at St. Thomas the Sunday night before the election, and said he never attended a political meeting on Sunday in his life. MR. GEORGE REID ON THE STAND George Reid, of London, said he knew Pritchett all his life. "What sort of a man is he?" Mr. Watson asked, and the witness replied: "I don't consider him the highest type of man; a little doubtful as to how he conducts himself at times. His reputation is not of the very best." "He is a self-convicted liar," said
