BRITISH POLICE STRIKE PROVES TO BE A FAILURE
NEW FINANCE MINISTER LIKELY TO BE SIR HENRY DRAYTON

BRITISH POLICE CLAIM 65,000 MEN WENT ON STRIKE, WHILE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS DECLARE WALKOUT HAS BEEN FAILURE

Home Secretary Declares That Men Who Went Out Will Never Be Reinstated—Strike Order in Liverpool Was Obeyed by 400 Out of 1,700 Policemen There—The Strikers Will Not Be Allowed to See Lloyd George.

London, Aug. 1.—The police strike in London and the English provinces called yesterday in protest against pending legislation affecting police organizations went into effect today. While labor circles declared that some 65,000 policemen and prison officials throughout the country had left their duties, it was asserted by Edward Shortt, the home secretary, in the House of Commons during the late forenoon that the strike had been a failure both in London and in the provinces.

The secretary conceded that the strike order had been obeyed by about 300 policemen out of 1,700 in Liverpool. "Policemen who are unable to give proper explanation of their absence from duty," the secretary continued, "will cease immediately to be policemen. Regarding Liverpool, I told the chief constable that I would fully support any step he considered necessary."

In contrast with the home secretary's statement, it was announced at a meeting of strikers that the city police would come out in a body this afternoon. Strike leaders asserted that by 8 o'clock tonight there would not be a policeman on duty in London.

65,000 Policemen Said by Labor Organ to Have Gone on Strike When Call Came

POLICE STRIKE HAS FAILED.
London, Aug. 1.—Edward Shortt, secretary for home affairs, told the House of Commons today that the police strike had failed, both in London and the provinces. He said Liverpool was the only city really affected, 300 officers out of 1,700 failing to report for duty there.

London, Aug. 1.—The Daily Herald, a labor organ, in a bulletin says that something like 65,000 policemen and prison officials throughout the country have gone on strike. The newspaper declares that the London men struck with dramatic suddenness, and striking unanimity, implying that the whole force responded to the call. This is contrary to all other newspaper reports, which declare that the strike was not a success, and that the police were generally ignored and up to the present the strike has been a failure.

General Sir Nevill Macready, chief commissioner of police, is quoted as saying at midnight that there will be no strike, and that these will be dismissed and never reinstated. Marston, chairman of the policemen's union was among those who said.

No reports have yet been received as to the effect of the strike on the provincial cities, but the belief is confidently expressed in official circles that the strike will prove abortive throughout the country.

An official of one of the principal west end police stations said there were more than 500 men absent from the force this morning, but the belief is confidently expressed in official circles that the strike will prove abortive throughout the country.

Liverpool out solid: strikers docked at midnight; fire at the docks; the announcement was received with cheers.

General Secretary Hays of the policemen's union, in a statement issued this morning, said: "The situation generally is highly satisfactory, seeing that the direction of the executive committee came as a bomb shell to the mass meetings, and that the news has not at reached the whole of the metropolis."

Union Officials' Claim.
The Star says it is reported that the electrical workers have threatened London's lighting in support of the police, and extreme action is also threatened by the officials of the locomotive engineers' union. The authorities think the strength of the strike movement has already been indicated, though it is probable that a few more constables may walk out when the afternoon shift reports for duty.

The Evening News says that all the strikers have been suspended, and will be definitely dismissed today.

Secretary Hays, addressing a meeting of the strikers, said that the authorities had sent a telegram to every police station, intimating that if the strikers would return by noon today they would be reinstated. Ironical laughter greeted the announcement Hays' made a strong appeal to the men to remain firm, asserting their number would be increased tenfold by tomorrow.

STRIKING POLICEMEN WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO INTERVIEW PREMIER
London, Aug. 1.—Sir Nevill Macready, chief of the metropolitan police, took cognizance this morning of a report that the strikers proposed marching to No. 10 Downing street, official residence of Premier Lloyd George, near the House of Parliament.

SIR HENRY DRAYTON LIKELY TO BE NEXT FINANCE MINISTER

Chief Railway Commissioner Likely To Succeed Sir Thomas White.

REGARDED AS CAPABLE
Hon. Arthur Meighan As Possible Contender Is Not Strongly Favored.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Aug. 1.—In well-informed circles here it is believed that Sir Henry Drayton, chief railway commissioner, will assume the position of financial minister in succession to Sir Thomas White. It is known that Sir Henry was asked to enter the Cabinet by Sir Robert Borden some weeks ago, and has had the proposal under consideration since then.

Sir Henry is a Conservative, although at no time has he been a strong party man. As head of the dominion railway, he has been in close touch with Canadian financial and industrial conditions. He has, it is believed, some political ambitions, but is naturally somewhat reluctant to give up the secure and congenial position of chief railway commissioner for the precarious post of a minister in Sir Robert Borden's cabinet.

Borden Hard Pressed.
Sir Robert, however, is hard pressed to secure a successor for Sir Thomas White, after the manner being made still more difficult by the fact that a by-election will have to be held, and a result of any by-election under present conditions is looked upon with fear and trembling by the Government. Sir Henry, however, might be able to carry one of the Toronto seats, and a vacancy might be created there by the appointment of Sir George Post to the Senate. The latter's retirement as minister of trade and commerce has been continued on page three.

Waiting Their Turn
The situation was well in hand, and the strike while the embers of race hatred were doubtless still smoldering, he feared no further outbreak.

However, field commanders of the six thousand state troops in the riot zone were under orders not to relax their vigilance.

Leading negro residents have started the work of reconstruction. A circular issued by them is being distributed by thousands. It reads: "Attention, law-abiding citizens! The rioting is over, go back to work and help the police keep the situation in hand by not congregating on the streets. Avoid all inflammatory remarks. Obey the police orders."

Chicago Race Riots Come To End With 32 Dead And 300 Hurt As Result Of Fights

CHICAGO RACE RIOTS COME TO END WITH 32 DEAD AND 300 HURT AS RESULT OF FIGHTS

Six Thousand State Troops Have Situation in "Black Belt" Under Control—Field Commanders Instruct Soldiers Not To Relax Vigilance For the Present.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—With state troops in full control of the "black belt" of Chicago, the rioting that terrorized that city for four nights was pronounced today. The total of the injured has been officially tabulated, but is known to be more than 300, and may exceed 500, as many slightly hurt went to their homes without reporting to the police.

ARMIES OF KEMAL PASHA ARE THREATENING TO ATTACK ALLIED FORCES IN ASIATIC TURKEY

HON. FRANK CARVELL RESIGNS POST IN UNION GOVERNMENT

Positively Declares He Will Not Attend Liberal Convention.

QUITS PUBLIC LIFE
Likely To Be Succeeded by Hon. J. D. Hazen, N. B. Justice.

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Hon. Frank Carvell gave in his resignation as minister of public works informally at 11 o'clock this morning. This will be followed by a formal letter later. The retiring minister states positively that he will not be at the Liberal convention and that he is retiring definitely from public life. Hon. J. D. Hazen, chief justice of New Brunswick, is in the city, and despite his denial, there is a revival of talk that he is being considered as successor.

Paris, Aug. 1.—There is uneasiness in peace conference circles over the situation in Asiatic Turkey, where six divisions of troops under Kemal Pasha, who calls himself dictator of national defence, are threatening an attack upon the Allied armies.

The warlike Turkish armies are concentrated chiefly about Erzeroum and in the neighborhood of Trebizond. A sort of Turkish political assembly, representing various districts, is gathered at Erzeroum.

The unsteadiness of the political situation in Constantinople is causing apprehension lest there be a general political collapse which would result in anarchy throughout Turkey. Unconfirmed rumors are reaching Paris that Persians are lending aid to Kemal Pasha in an effort to prevent Mussulmen being replaced by Christians.

SCOTIAN TO ARRIVE AT QUEBEC ON NEXT MONDAY WITH TROOPS

Several Other Steamers Expected To Depart From Liverpool in Few Days.

Montreal, Aug. 1.—The Scotian, which will probably reach Quebec on Monday next, and dock here either that night or next, carries 1,200 passengers, of whom 700 are military.

No word has been received up to yesterday afternoon as to whether the Scotian had sailed as arranged. The Minnedosa is due to leave Liverpool today. Under the normal schedule the Minnedosa was also fixed for sailing today from Liverpool, but it is more than likely that it will be delayed for a day or two, taking its turn after the other vessels have been cleared.

ESCAPED MAN SEEN AT MT. BRYDGES, IS REPORT TO POLICE

But Efforts To Catch Him
Have Failed.

JAIL IS SHORT OF HELP

Governor Explains Situation and Lays No Blame On the Turnkey.

At noon today Jules Kennedy, of Chicago, who escaped from the county jail while undergoing a four months' sentence, was still at large, although every effort is being made by the local and county police to effect his recapture. Despite reports to the contrary, Governor James Carter, of the jail, today reported to The Advertiser that the escape was an accident, and was not a result of inefficiency on the part of Guard Robert Marsh, in charge of Kennedy at the time.

Regarding the escape, Governor Carter today made the following statement to The Advertiser: "We are short of help at the jail, owing to the fact that there were Thursday only four prisoners serving sentences. The other inmates are on remand, and cannot be put to work. Marsh came to me yesterday and asked for help outside on the coal pile. I told him that no one else was there, and I hesitated at allowing Kennedy to work outside, owing to the length of his sentence. However, as his conduct during his stay in the jail was exemplary, and as Marsh is an old and valued guard, I allowed him to take Kennedy outside, cautioning to watch him carefully."

"We have work which must be performed at the jail, and if we cannot employ the prisoners on these duties outside help must be obtained. Kennedy worked but a short time when he complained of illness, and in company with Marsh, he proceeded to a lavatory near the jail gardens on King street. Marsh waited outside in the pouring rain for a moment, and then stepped into an open stable for shelter. Waiting a reasonable time for Kennedy to respond to his call, he returned and discovered his absence."

"Marsh immediately notified me and left in pursuit of the escaped man. I notified Deputy Sheriff Ben Waterloo, who in turn phoned the local police. I then phoned the Grand Trunk station, thinking Kennedy would likely board a Grand Trunk dining car, where he was formerly employed. Finding no trace of him there, I notified Grand Trunk Constable Robert Logan, describing a description of Kennedy, and he promised to look out for him, and to notify all Grand Trunk passenger conductors on trains leaving here of the escape."

Traced to River.
"Telegrams were sent to the police at Windsor, Sarnia, Strathroy, Montreal, Chatham, Port Stanley, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Hamilton. St. Thomas police were telephoned, and the immigration authorities at border cities were furnished with Kennedy's description. A trucked Kennedy to the river, where he was seen by a boy walking along the bank. Further than this he is not traced."

"Detective Down and Sergeant of Mount Brydges, yesterday afternoon, but efforts to apprehend him were fruitless. The report that nothing was done to recapture Kennedy is a deliberate falsehood. We all make mistakes, and Marsh, who is the best guard we have, is in an unfortunate position, possibly through no fault of his own. Marsh has not been suspended by the sheriff, but it is likely that a full investigation of the circumstances surrounding the escape will be held in the near future by the provincial authorities."

THE WESTERN CROPS.

It is estimated that about 15,000 men will be required to work the Farm Laborers to assist in harvesting the crops in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The Canadian Pacific has arranged and is advertising special fares of $12 to Winnipeg, and will run special trains from Toronto, Tuesday, August 12, and Thursday, August 14.

VICTIM OF SHOOTING WILL BE BURIED AT OLD HOME TOWN

Mrs. Near's Body Taken To Havelock.

Parents, Not Notified by Pontiac Authorities, Claimed
It Today.

George Near and Mrs. Mabel Near, who were slain in Pontiac, Mich., on Monday night, will not even be buried in the same city, although it was one of his last wishes that he be buried there. Mrs. Near will be buried today in Havelock, near Peterborough, the old home of the Near family, while Mr. Near was buried at Woodland on Thursday.

The remains of Mrs. Mabel Near arrived in the city at 5 o'clock this morning at the G. T. station from Pontiac, Mich. No one accompanying the body, and relatives not knowing just what time the remains would arrive, no one went to the station to claim the body. Efforts were made to get in touch with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dobson, 359 Hale street, but these proved futile. Mr. Dobson, however, claimed the remains from the baggage room at 8 o'clock this morning, and they were taken immediately to her parents' home on Hale street, East London.

The remains were shipped at 1:30 o'clock to Havelock, following a burial service conducted by Rev. Byron Snell.

NEAR'S RELATIVES TO COMMUNICATE WITH PONTIAC SHERIFF

Will Ask For Investigation and Complete Tragedy Report.

SUGGESTIONS RESENTED

Near Buried, and Body of Mrs.
Near Expected
Today.

Conjectures as to the slaying of George Near and his young wife at Pontiac, Mich., Monday night took a new turn last night, when Near's relatives here stated that today they will communicate with the sheriff at Pontiac for a full investigation and report of the circumstances which led to the double tragedy.

Was the family entanglement of the young Nears another case in death of two of the principals? The father of the young woman, who was the victim of the tragedy, had knowledge of a third person and no hint of it had been given to the young husband, who wrote before the double tragedy.

This is what the Michigan authorities will be asked today to probe, with a request that the man who was said to have left this city with Near for Pontiac be located. As far as is known here, he is still in Michigan.

Brothers' Claim.
The Nears' relatives believe that the letters which Near wrote to his relatives in this city were opened by Pontiac by the Michigan authorities.

While the legal requirements of the law, ended with the coroner's inquest at Pontiac, so far as the Michigan authorities are concerned, aliens are endeavoring to surmise the truth from the conjectured story of what took place between the young couple after they had dined together in the ballroom at the Grand Hotel, where Mrs. Near was employed as an attendant.

From the Michigan city comes the report that as the two danced and sat together in the ballroom, they were believed by those who noticed them to be sweethearts. Near was unknown to any of those in the room. The couple walked together into the shadowed grounds surrounding the institution. The report went on. Two hours later searchers found both bodies with the bullet wounds in the region of the heart.

Did Near, even in spite of the letters which he wrote to his relatives, become reconciled while he danced with his young wife, only to have her shot down, as he passed as the two walked on the lawn which caused him to fulfill the plan which he had promulgated before he arrived at Pontiac?

Relatives Await.
The relatives await with keen anxiety the expected report from the sheriff at Pontiac. It is hoped that a full investigation will throw some light on the motive which led to the slaying of the independent young wife, who passed as the two walked on the lawn which caused him to fulfill the plan which he had promulgated before he arrived at Pontiac.

FRUIT GROWERS FROM NIAGARA VISITORS IN RIDGETOWN DISTRICT

RIDGETOWN, July 31.—About sixty fruit and vegetable growers from the Niagara district under the direction of F. Hart of the Ontario department of agriculture, motored to Ridgetown yesterday to view the locality and gain any available information as to methods used here in the fruit raising business.

The delegation, upon reaching Ridgetown, was highly pleased with the present crops, and the desirability of having this section use intensive fruit and vegetable farming. The residents here were gratified to be advised that the crops here were better than in any other locality visited thus far. In the evening the delegation was entertained at a luncheon at the Arlington Hotel by the Ridgetown and community board of trade, when President J. W. Murky and Mayor Sale delivered addresses of welcome.

Addresses were also given by W. E. Galbraith and J. D. Brien, who outlined in detail the advantages and prospects of this community for tobacco and intensive farming. It would also appear, it was stated, from the number of properties recently purchased by non-residents that the district surrounding Ridgetown would in the immediate future be commanding higher prices due to the possibilities, the land and locality offer.

End of Chicago Car
Strike Looked For
Saturday Morning

CHICAGO, July 31.—Resumption of street car traffic Saturday morning on Chicago's elevated and surface car lines seemed assured tonight, according to reports from union leaders, which came to the headquarters of W. D. Mahon, international president of the street car employees' organization. Mr. Mahon, who addressed meetings of the carmen this afternoon and tonight, expressed confidence that the 15,000 strikers would vote tomorrow to accept the terms offered by the companies.

Hundred Lake-Built Steamships Sold by Shipping Board

New York Concern Pays $80,-
000,000 For Them—
Record Sale.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—One hundred steamships built on the Great Lakes during the war, have been sold by the shipping board to the Anderson Overseas Corporation of New York for approximately $80,000,000. This is probably the largest ship sale on record, the board says in announcing the deal, and the vessels will eventually pass into French and Italian ownership.

BREAK IN WIRES AT KITCHENER CAUSES TIE-UP IN TRAFFIC

KITCHENER, July 31.—Street car traffic was tied up here shortly before 11 o'clock this morning as a result of the falling of the main trolley wires at the car barns, where the wires return by using the "Y" wire. The "Y" was put out of commission as a result of the wire break and one car returning to Waterloo was delayed while trying to switch to a Waterloo track. The tie-up was cleared in a half hour.

Little Donald Moore of Waterloo, aged 6, narrowly escaped being killed here today, when he ran into the street and fell in front of an approaching motor car. His life was saved by the motorist applying the brakes and stopping just before the wheels touched the child's body.

ENLARGED FACTORY.
Work will start in a few days here on a new addition to the A. & C. Boehmer box factory. The addition will greatly increase the output of the factory.

BUILDING GROWS.
Building permits issued during July here total $214,000, bringing the total for the first half of the year over $800,000. It is predicted that Kitchener will go on record for $1,000,000 in building returns before the end of the season.

CHINESE CHEF HELD FOR USING KNIFE ON CHATHAM WAITER

Gee Wo Arrested—Hardship
Cases From Loan Company Failure.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
CHATHAM, July 31.—Gee Wo, Chinese chef, was arrested by the police this morning, charged with assaulting and causing bodily harm to Harry Sato, a waiter. The assault followed an altercation in the kitchen of the Sanitary Cafe during the absence of the proprietor. Gee was heard on the street by a number of pedestrians who found the waiter bleeding profusely from wounds sustained in the head and face. He is alleged to have been the weapon used in the assault.

HARDSHIP CASES.
The filing of proxies with Harry Collins, who will represent a large percentage of district debenture holders and depositors at the general meeting of the Standard Reliance Loan Company, Toronto, has revealed many hardship cases as a result of the loan company's failure. Many farmers of this district are reported to have lost their money tied up. Widows have banked accounts from insurance companies, which have failed. One old man of 86 years said he had just recently money deposited for a respectable funeral on his death.

RESISTED 300.
A report which is being prepared on activities of the Chatham and Kent districts of the anti-union movement show that the sum raised in Kent and Chatham and forwarded to headquarters was $303.03. The amount expended to the end of June, 1919, which does not include amounts spent in Chatham prior to affiliation with the central fund, was $289.52. Approximately 300 Kent County families were assisted.

BOYS' NAVAL BRIGADE ORGANIZED AT GALT OFFICERS ELECTED

GALT, July 31.—Capt. S. Bond of the Navy League of Canada has just completed the organization of the first branch of the Boys' Naval Brigade in Waterloo County in this city, and today 32 boys had enrolled. Before summer is over they will enjoy a cruise on the Great Lakes. The election of officers of the local branch of the navy league resulted as follows: President, H. Hancock; vice-president, A. S. Charlton; secretary-treasurer, H. J. Foster; assistant secretary-treasurer, A. L. Benches; executive, Mayor Mer. A. Taylor, and G. A. Hutchison. T. O. McCulloch, F. S. Scott, M. P. J. G. Turrell and F. J. Wright.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES.
In the death of Miss Ethel F. Sharpe this city lost an exceptionally popular young woman. She was in her 17th year and the only daughter of Evan Sharpe, 61 Main street, and Mrs. A. H. Sharpe. She had been a resident of Galt for three and a half years, and was suddenly taken ill recently. She was well known in Guelph, where until recently she conducted a branch millinery store.

CUSTOMS INCREASE.
The customs collections at the local office for July amounted to $45,452.14, which, compared with $45,527.71 for the same month of 1918, is an increase of $12,412. It is considered exceptionally good in view of the fact that the tax on many lines of imports was recently removed.

VETERANS RETURN.
STRATFORD, July 31.—Merry M.C. returned to the city this morning, having come from England on the Winifreda. He enlisted as a gunner in the 25th Battery and in France served with the signallers, winning his commission and decoration on the field. Lieut. Tom Roache is also home today. He went overseas at the outbreak of war with the 7th Battalion from London as a private, and, fortunately, returned without a scratch. He won his promotion on the field. A brother, Lieut. Basil Roache, was killed at the Somme.

Leut. F. S. Coghlin, who has been on duty in England after being a prisoner of war, reached home today. The local recruiting office for the permanent force will be open again August 4 and 5, when Sergt. Lawson will be at the armory. Fourteen local boys have already joined the Princess units.

G. W. V. A. COMMENDS STAND OF LIBERTY LEAGUE AT WINDSOR

Walkerville Command Approves Of—Some Ministers Denounce It.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, July 31.—Although the referendum on prohibition will not go before the people until September, the campaign is already being waged in Essex County in a manner that indicates the election will be the hottest in the history of the district.

With a multitude of women voters now being added to the list, the "drys" declare there can be no possibility of the province becoming "wet." The strong stand of returned soldiers in favor of prohibition to the G. W. V. A. temperance act, allowing the sale of beer and wine under supervision is, however, causing some concern among prohibition workers.

The Walkerville command of the G. W. V. A. Association today dispatched messengers to the executive of the Liberty League commending that organization for its stand in favor of liquor and beer being sold under government supervision for consumption in the home.

The league's manifesto, issued Wednesday, in which it was stated that members of the league favored the sale of beer and wine, was a scathing reply from Rev. H. A. Graham, pastor of Walkerville Methodist Church.

The league has shown its colors. The Walkerville pastor said: "Now we know that if it is not a relative of the liquor interest, it is a relative of the liquor interest. The tool of the liquor interest." The league, in sermons preached by pastors of Windsor and Walkerville Methodist and Baptist churches, was accused of being "the tool of the liquor interest."

PROTEST IS MADE AGAINST FIXING PRICE OF CHEESE

The Frontenac Cheese Board
Names Delegation To Wait
On Government.

KINGSTON, July 31.—A strong protest over the fixing of the price of cheese at 25 cents by the British Government was a feature of the meeting of the Frontenac Cheese Board today, when a resolution was passed that the board will be forwarded to Premier Borden. Members declared the offer was insufficient and that it would have a bad effect on the industry. A deputation consisting of William Fawcett and William Pillar, secretary of the board, was appointed to meet the meeting of the government in Ottawa, and arrange for a meeting with the government to discuss the question. There were no sales made on the board.

J. J. O'Reilly, a prominent farmer, declared it was an outrage that the price had been fixed at 25 cents for the farmer, and strongly condemned Sir Robert Borden for allowing the agreement to be made.

"Something must be done at once to look after the interests of the dairy-men," he said. "If Sir Robert Borden is the man you want to support, then you can take your medicine. This country is a farming country, but the Government is doing everything it can to make it a manufacturing country, and give protection to the manufacturers."

Noble Response.
"Canada made a noble response to the call for arms, and as a result has a debt that not one member here will ever wipe out in his lifetime, and yet this Government allows the price of cheese to be fixed in this way. How can the price of cheese be fixed and the price of butter not be fixed? You will hear a lot about boys leaving the farm to go to the city, but I know of any farmers getting rich. I have seen a few farmers who have made a good thing out of the war, and I am glad that they had the 'go' in them to quit it."

Some members stated that if the price was to be fixed it would pay them better to go out of the cheese business and make butter, which was bringing 50 and 60 cents per pound.

BLENHEIM OLD BOYS ENJOY BIG TIME AT RONDEAU PARK

BLENHEIM, July 31.—At the "Old Boys' Reserve" Blenheim and district old boys' picnic at Rondeau Park, Ontario, yesterday was a great success. The day was fine and a great crowd took advantage of the opportunity to have a general good time. Every returned soldier was a guest of the old boys.

Dinner at 1 o'clock was followed by the annual meeting at which the following officers were elected after a good speech was given by C. W. Rankin, retiring president.

President, O. E. Anderson; vice-president, L. Brush; treasurer, W. E. Fellows, Jr.; secretary, W. J. Baird; assistant secretary, G. Taylor; nominating committee, Anderson, Brush and A. G. Shillington. The meeting next year is to be held the last Wednesday in July. The winners in the sports were:

Quota—G. Blackwell, 91; (booby), R. Treford, 11.
Indoor baseball—Capt. Anderson, 15; Capt. Treford, 11.
Turf-of-war—The country team (Capt. Angus McMillan), outplayed the town team (Capt. Robert Rumble) and won from T. T. Warwick.
A splendid game of baseball was played between Blenheim and Ridgetown, strengthened by members from the "Hammocks" and "The Elms." The Blenheim players won easily by a score of 8 to 2. Blenheim did better than they had in the field, while the visitors were weak in this line. Will Rieborough pitched for Blenheim and the Blenheim players were good for the visitors. Both did some good twirling and some successful fanning. The batter—Blenheim, Rieborough and Rumble; Ridgetown, Martin and Downey.

There were many old boys present from distant points and all had a real good time.

FORD MOTOR MANAGERS
PREDICT BIGGEST YEAR
WINDSOR, July 31.—Representatives of the Ford Motor Company from nearly all of the provinces of Canada, including Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, London and Ottawa, attended a joint conference of the Ford Motor Company plants here and in Detroit this week. Prospects for the coming year's business are encouraging, and already a greater volume of export business is in sight than ever before, they state. A production of 30,000 cars for the past twelve months is expected to be increased to a turn-out of 5,000 cars per month for 1919-20 from the Walkerville plant.

General Manager Gordon M. McGregor entertained the Canadian managers at his summer home at Juncosville.

And when you are offered M-O-N-A stomach tablets, made from a prescription better than many of the stomach specialists know how to write, are you going to be narrow minded and continue to suffer from indigestion, or are you going to be fair to yourself and try M-O-N-A on the money back agreement?

PRICE OF SHOES MAY TAKE DROP LATE IN 1920

Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association Says Relief Possible.

BOSTON, Mass., July 31.—Shoes sold next spring will bring even higher prices than those now prevailing, but relief may be expected late in 1920, according to a statement issued today by the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association. The cause of high prices was said to be the depletion of stocks under war-time conditions, the prosperity of the public and European competition.

The statement said present prices were excessive and condemned "buying of a speculative character." The equilibrium of the market can be restored, it says, if manufacturers and merchants generally follow the dictates of common sense, but all purchases far in advance of actual needs or buying in quantities in excess of those needed for reasonable goods must stop.

MINE WORKERS CONCEIVED THE ONE BIG UNION

Witness at Winnipeg Trial Gives History of the Movement.

PRITCHARD'S SPEECHES Told Workers Prussian Heel of Government Must Be Removed.

WINNIPEG, July 31.—At today's hearing of the preliminary trial of the eight strike leaders on charges of sedition, Sgt. Waugh, a witness, told of a conversation with Edward Brown, Calgary, when a copy of the Western Labor News, bearing a circular chart of the Soviet government, reached Calgary. Holding the paper in his hand, Brown called Waugh to his side, witness testified, and said: "This is the aim of the One Big Union—the Soviet form of government—and we are going to have it."

Referring to strikes in sympathy with Winnipeg during the general strike here, Sgt. Waugh said it was noticeable that only those who struck were advocates of the One Big Union. He read reports of several meetings at which Mr. Pritchard spoke, at which he had taken notes. They knew these notes a part of one of Pritchard's speeches, he said:

"The Government and capitalists who own the Government whenever the workers demand their rights call them Bolsheviks and say they are dangerous. We have succeeded in fifteen months in doing what we have not been able to do in the last century. They know everybody has to go down to work in Russia. They fear the position would be the same in this country if the workers were successful in their aims, and so they call them Bolsheviks."

Another report said:

"It is the duty to make the Government retract the Prussian heel and let them know once for all that the workers are the only power."

Referring to postal employees, Brown said Pritchard declared: "It is the duty of all workingmen to cause the Government to retract its orders. They may crush us for the time being, but they will be reaction after next winter."

There was a big gulf between the workers and capitalists, he said, was merely a question of who had the right to be in power. "They hate us like snakes, and would kill us if they could," Sgt. Waugh then gave a short history of the One B. U., which had its origin in the strike of 1917. These were chiefly Russians and Ukrainians, led by British, Scotch, Irish and Italians, he said.

Among exhibits filed, identified by the witnesses, was a letter from the offices of Edward Brown, was a letter from Alderman W. B. Simpson, Winnipeg, dated a year ago, a subscription for a publication headed by Brown.

C. O. Collins, superintendent of the general hospital, told of having to present a written request in person to the strike committee for permission to have some of his striking employees return to work.

Robert Snook, several times candidate for alderman, testified to the intimidating tactics of strikers; to being attacked by a large number and his wagon demolished. In his next encounter with strike sympathizers he gurned with a stick of baseball bat.

VETS THREATEN TO KEEP DETROIT FREE PRESS OUT BY FORCE IF NECESSARY

Appearance of Another "Costello" Article Results in Decision of Ford and Walkerville Commands To Take Strong Measures.

WINDSOR, July 31.—The entry into Canada today, at the port of Windsor, of the Detroit Free Press carrying another Costello article has so incensed the veterans that the executive of the Walkerville and Ford commands got together in a hurry and passed a resolution to use force if necessary to keep the paper from landing at this port.

The Border Cities Liberty League, learning that organized resistance no longer is a possibility but a certainty, dispatched a telegram to Sir Robert Borden, protesting the Government's delay in taking action.

The veterans' resolution reads: "We as members of his majesty's forces demand that the yellow sheet, known as the Detroit Free Press, be banned from Canada forever as a paper inimical to the growing friendship between Canada and the United States. Also we demand that a publication not conducive to law and order in Canada, and if necessary, to the safety of the Dominion, be removed from the Dominion."

The next Costello article is due to appear in Sunday's edition of the paper.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bipro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bipro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bipro-phosphate should produce a complete transformation in the appearance, the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experiences, writes: "Bipro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION: Although bipro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Liberals Name Committees for Big Convention

OTTAWA, July 31.—It was announced subsequent to adjournment today of the advisory committee which is preparing plans for the Liberal convention that several committees had been named. Hon. Sydney Fisher will be chairman of the committee on resolutions. This committee will also deal with the matter of the election of a monument in honor of the memory of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. A. R. McMassey was named as chairman of a committee to study questions relating to trade and commerce. Hon. Dr. Beland will preside over the contributions of a committee which will consider the question of returned soldiers, and Hon. J. H. Macdonald will be chairman of the committee on organization.

NURSE NEVER SAW ITS EQUAL

Miss Murray, After Twelve Years' Professional Service, Praises Tanlac.

"I have been a trained nurse for twelve years, and have had a great deal to do with medicines. When it comes to building a person up from a weak, rundown condition, I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac," said Miss A. M. Murray, who lives at 262 Warwick Block, Winnipeg, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

Miss Murray successfully practiced her profession in New York for eight years before coming to Canada four years ago. She has been equally successful here, and her services are greatly in demand by the most wealthy and influential people in the city.

"I nursed thirty-five cases of influenza last winter," continued Miss Murray, "and I had to work night and day almost, and that was too much for me, and pulled me down something awful. Finally I had an attack of the 'flu' myself, and after pulling through that, I was left an extremely weak, rundown condition. I was just utterly exhausted all the time; I was very nervous, and for the first time in my life I was unable to sleep well, and would very often lie in bed and read for hours, trying to get sleep. Why, I was just so nervous and rundown that I actually was irritable, and the most trivial thing would upset me. My appetite left me entirely, and there were many days when a cup of tea was all I could take at a meal time."

One of my friends urged me to take Tanlac, and it certainly is the best remedy I have taken. I have actually gained fifteen pounds already, and I have only taken two boxes of Tanlac. All that nervousness has left me, and I sleep just like a child every night, and that tired, exhausted feeling has left me altogether. In fact, I feel just like all the time, and I unhesitatingly recommend Tanlac to everybody. I never lose an opportunity to advise people who are weak and rundown, like it was, to take Tanlac. I believe it is the best medicine they can get to build them up. I am sure that anybody who gives Tanlac a fair trial will feel just as I do about it—that it is a real medicine and can be relied upon to do just what they say it will do."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

HEARST EVADES H. H. DEWART'S DIRECT CHARGE

Ignores Issues at South Perth Convention Held at Mitchell.

STEREOTYPED RESUME Premier Contents Himself With Statement of Government's Record.

MITCHELL, July 31.—Evauding most of the questions asked by Mr. H. H. Dewart, when he spoke at the Liberal convention here a few weeks ago, Premier Hearst today at the South Perth Conservative Association convention contented himself with a stereotyped resume of the record of the Government since he assumed office in 1914. He had nothing whatever to say of Mr. Dewart's charges made in respect to the part which Mr. Dewart says he played in regard to the Union Government's reform, inadequate provision for taking care of labor interests, the election act and the appointment of partisan members.

Not a word was mentioned of the policy of the Government in regard to the returned soldiers, and of those who crowded the hall expected to hear any forecast as to when the Government intended to take its stand with the electors, they were disappointed. Not a word was said of this.

Premier Hearst rested his entire case on the deeds of his tenure of office. "I stand before you today and say, 'I have made good,'" he asserted. "There has not been a single case of wrong-doing brought to the attention of any department of my government."

The war record of the province, he declared, exceeded that of any other province. In regard to the null provincial war tax, he declared that not a dollar of it had been diverted from the channels for which it was raised.

The premier had nothing new to say in regard to the temperance measure. After reviewing the terms of the measure, he declared: "It is said we have not a mandate from practically a united Ontario to do anything possible to win the war. The Ontario temperance act was introduced into the House as a war measure. That was the justification for the passage of the bill without the vote of the people."

Premier Hearst told of the amounts raised by succession duty and corporation tax, the sums given to education and to public institutions, and claimed an aggressive agricultural policy.

In regard to the farmer movement, he challenged the U. F. O. to state any charge they had against his administration. He said he would defend every act of the Government. He urged the farmers to organize to protect their property, but did not like to have their club rendezvous for attacks on the Government. He was prepared to stand or fall by record.

Dr. P. T. Coupland of St. Mary's was the choice of the convention as candidate for the Legislature. He was elected. The officers elected were as follows: President, Dr. Armstrong; Mitchell; Brodhead; second vice-president, Dr. Stanley; St. Mary's secretary, Dr. Coupland; St. Mary's treasurer, Dr. Ford; Mitchell; County executive, Louis Becker; Brodhead; R. Morris; St. Mary's; Brodhead; St. Mary's; Bailey; St. Mary's; W. Nevill; Stratford; W. R. Butcher; St. Mary's; Dr. Armstrong; Mitchell.

WINNIPEG VETERANS ALLEGE OBSTRUCTION BY RADICAL ELEMENT

Affairs of G. W. V. A. Branch Placed in Hands of Dominion Executive.

WINNIPEG, July 31.—Because of alleged obstruction tactics on the part of a certain element of the Great War Veterans' Association, the local executive last night formally decided to place the affairs of the association in the hands of the Dominion executive. This action was considered necessary because of what were described as efforts on the part of radicals to use the association for furthering their own peculiar aims instead of the interests of the returned soldiers as a whole.

It was pointed out that the radicals are in the minority, as was indicated by a recent referendum vote on the policy of the executive, which was in favor of the strike for discussing the alien question and the high cost of living. All public and semi-public bodies in the city, including labor, will be invited.

SAVE YOUR TEETH FROM PYORRHOEA

Before They Loosen and Fall Out—Tender, Bleeding Gums Are Warning Signs of Dangerous Rupture of Gums to Treat at Home.

Don't Lose your teeth from Pyorrhea or Pimples Disease. It's unnecessary now. There is no reason why everybody cannot have good, firm teeth, and healthy gums, and be free of the humiliation of sore, diseased gums, and unsightly, decaying teeth.

You need not have your teeth pulled or wear false ones. Simply go to any local dentist and ask for the name of E. P. I. T. H. O. L. and use it as directed. This is the prescription of a famous New York dentist, and it seems to work like magic on loose teeth and sore, tender, inflamed, receding, shrunken, spongy, bleeding or pus-discharging gums. Teeth tighten and the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding pus discharge soon stops. Both dentists and users are amazed at the wonderful improvement it brings so quickly.

All the leading druggists dispense E. P. I. T. H. O. L. and are sure that unless it gives satisfactory results the money paid for it will be refunded. This makes its trial a safe and easy matter and certainly proves its value.—Adv.

How to "Loosen" Nerves That Are Too "Tight" for Beauty

By Luciezia Bori, The Famous Spanish Prima Donna.

It is the natural desire of every woman to be beautiful, and yet there are many women who defeat this desire by persistently cultivating "tight" nerves.

The woman who keeps her nerves "tight" draws on her vitality so strongly and so wastefully that the very fuel which should build up her body into rounded lines, vibrating with health, is exhausted in the tension of nervousness.

Nervousness may, of course, be the result of ill-health or of great sorrow. This type of "nerves" is more difficult to overcome, and it is not for these Justifiable nerves that these suggestions are made, though they will be found beneficial.

The hurried, hurried, unnecessarily nervous woman can seldom be beautiful, or, if, in spite of tight nerves, she is beautiful, short will be the reign of that beauty, because she takes too great a toll of every physical tribute that should contribute toward her loveliness.

If your nerves are tight and your body shows it in being undernourished and your skin colorless and flabby, learn to relax.

Begin with movements to reduce your body to a condition of perfect freedom and flexibility where all tension will be relieved.

For instance, pianists know the value of a limber wrist and have perhaps unknowingly always practiced de-tensing or relaxing the hand in octave and chord passages. Similarly, if they have any skill in running scales in thirds they have developed their fingers. These relaxing exercises really consist in shaking the different parts of your body until every joint is loosened, your muscles gently put in motion, and a tingling, magnetic feeling is obvious in the circulation.

Begin with your fingers. Withdraw the vital force from tips to knuckles. Then shake your fingers. Then shake your arms. Then shake your legs. Then shake your torso. Then shake your head. Then shake your feet. Then shake your whole body.

You shake your forearm and elbow as if above your head. Then raise your arms above your head, withdraw vitality and let them drop like deadweights, after which shake them.

These relaxing exercises should be followed by sweeping movements, the principle of which is the transference of weight from one part of the body to another. In doing this your head inclines toward the leg on which your weight is borne, and your torso from it—that is toward the inactive leg. This pose is shown in the statues of the Apollo Belvedere and the Venus de Milo.

These exercises may be learned very slowly, but they bring wonderful results in relaxation.

To relax your head drop it to the left. Its own weight will carry it around in a half-circle. Just as a child's drowsy head rolls around. Drop it again backward, then forward, and then to the right. Then make it describe a circle around your neck very slowly. Repeat this five times.

Some times standing on a footstool for the leg movement, changing from one foot to the other and enabling you to swing your free leg will facilitate these relaxation movements.

In performing your household duties remember that your chest and not your abdomen should be the most prominent when standing. This pose to posture with deep breathing, helps to loosen the tension of unemployed members and to reduce the waste of energy and nerve force.

The sunflower is a valuable plant. Its seeds make the food for livestock. Its oil is equal to linseed, and its stalks are as good as coal for producing heat.

The rhinoceros, notwithstanding its unwieldy shape and short legs, is one of the most agile of beasts. A horseman can scarcely manage to overtake it, and in strength it is perhaps unsurpassed by any animal in the forest. In a single combat no animal but the elephant can stand up against it. To kill an rhinoceros a T-ball must strike behind the shoulder.

WINIFRED BLACK

Writes About "Self-Consciousness."

Copyright, 1919, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Won't you please write an article on self-consciousness? I do so badly need your advice.

Dear Winifred Black:

As I am in moderate circumstances I cannot afford to purchase becoming apparel.

I am very homely, and I am sure nothing "looks" nice on me.

I am a typist, and each day when I go to lunch several young men flirt with me. I can't help but notice them.

As you know, luncheon is considered a luxury these days. I am sorely tried when these men ask me to lunch with them. I see no harm in it. I see only the money I am saving.

When I walk along the avenue, these are my main thoughts: "I wonder if these clothes look all right? I wonder what these people are staring at me for? Why is it that all these ugly-looking girls—real ugly-looking girls—glance at me and then look away?"

Somehow or other I cannot conquer my thoughts. They get the best of me every time.

If you take notice of this letter and write an article on it, I will be very grateful. You have helped so many working girls that I decided to take my turn. Please, dear Winifred Black, answer this. Sincerely in need of advice.

Consider Your Own Self.

Yes, my dear, I will write an article on self-consciousness. I couldn't help it. How do you think you are so very homely? How is it, do you suppose, that these young men annoy you so terribly by trying to flirt with you?

Staring at you? Why, you poor child, you're staring at them!

In all probability, they don't even know that you're alive.

Lunching with strange men—what are you thinking of?

What do you suppose they're thinking of when they ask you to go to luncheon with them?

It is very unusual to get something for nothing in the business world in which you live.

When an old friend or even a business associate invites you to luncheon with him, there's nothing strange about that.

The old friend may want to talk of old times and the business associate may be lonely or he may have to eat alone or he may want to discuss some one else's business affairs and think this is a good way to get a chance to do it.

Like a perfect stranger asks you to let him pay for your luncheon, you should do very well, indeed, to let him.

How are you going to pay him back? Don't you think you owe him for his lunch? How do you know who he is or what he's going to say about you?

"Ugly-looking girls?" So they have said and lent that number, so am anxious to get it, as it spools the story.

Ans.—One of the recipes below is the picking method desired. I think, and I am sure, that you will find it very useful. Glad to hear yours kept so well.

Cucumber Pickles.—Gather the cucumbers and cut up ready for the jars, then sprinkle over with a handful of salt and leave them in a bowl for an hour.

Sweet Cucumber Pickles.—Cut quarts small cucumbers for larger one cut in halves. Wash and scrub with brine and let stand over night. In the morning drain well and place in jars.

How to remove green stains from tan wallpaper without taking the color out of the paper? Thinking you will find space and wishing you and all the readers every success. I remain,

Ans.—You can buy a patent cleaner for wallpaper at any hardware or 15-cent store, or perhaps you could find this formula for a home-made cleaner:

Wallpaper Cleaner.—Six tablespoons sugar, six tablespoons flour, three tablespoons cold oil, enough water to make it the consistency of thick cream. Rub on stove and cook until like paste; roll into balls and rub on soiled wallpaper.

Would Try Anything.

Dear Miss Grey, I wonder if anyone among the many readers of your interesting page knows of something that would help me in my struggle with face and arms? Surely there is something that will check its growth somewhat. I have tried the electric needle, but it is too big an undertaking, especially for the arms. I am willing to try any other treatment even if it does take months. I do hope some of your readers can help me. This is a problem that has troubled me for years and I would be worth millions to anyone who discovered a cure. Thanking you, I am,

Ans.—Dear Brown Eyes, what I'd give to be able to advise a remedy for your trouble, but I am afraid I am a source of distress to many women. This formula for a depilatory is said to be a frequent user of any help from the readers: Powdered unslaked lime, 8 drams; carbonate of potash (which is a source of tartar), and saltpetre, 10 drams; each 1 dram. Mix and keep dry. Directions: Mix only to cover a small space at a time, leaving on only 10 minutes, then scrape off, and apply a soothing cold cream.

Returned Man's Troubles.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you find room in your Page for the recital of the troubles of a returned soldier? I will try to be brief. When I enlisted in 1915 I was fortunate enough to be acquainted with quite a few girls and young ladies in this fair city. I was away for nearly four years and spent the greater part of that time in France. I was only in hospital once during that period, and did not get to Blighty, so I had no chance of meeting any nice English girls. Well, I naturally went to long for the company of a nice girl, and comforted myself with the thought that I would get all I wanted, "après la guerre"—if I survived. Well, I survived all right and returned to Canada, but I was greatly disappointed.

Some of my girl friends had married fellows who did not fancy a soldier's life. Others married returned soldiers, and the rest seem to have chummed up with civies or drafted on to the front. It seemed to be very odd and distant, and some of my old friends would not even recognize me. I was talking to a girl about this, and she said, "If you want to meet girls you should not wear your service uniform." I was surprised, and thought that was just her opinion, but lately I have heard sentiments similar to this expressed quite often. I have been greatly puzzled and wondered if any of my girl friends were considered rough-necks. Thinking you for your consideration, I remain,

LONELY EX-SOLDIER.

Ans.—Now, girls, here's a chance for you to let London's ladies are not returning returned men "rough-necks." Really, Ex-Soldier, if you believe me when I say that some of the nicest men of my acquaintance are returned men, I am proud to shake their hands and welcome them as heroes who have performed a noble duty amid hardships and trials of which I can only real sweethearts, have they, and you have none, for all your great interest in such matters?

Did it ever occur to you, my dear girl, that brains and character and charm are unaffected good qualities and sweet modesty have a power of their own? All men are attracted by a pretty face, but the only thing that makes men fall in love.

Why don't you stop thinking about yourself for a few moments and think about somebody else for a change? You are a very interesting person, of course, but there are others—there really are, you know.

This is a grave, big, joyous, friendly, generous, happy, miserable, discouraged, hopeful world, full of happy, wretched, desperate, worried, ambitious human beings.

Every one of them trying to do something, either for herself or himself or for somebody else.

And consider the ones who are doing things for other people are the only ones who are in the least even partially happy.

You'll never be happy in the world if you go on thinking so much about yourself.

Who's the girl next to you at the office? What kind of a girl is she? Who does she like, at home? Is she happy or unhappy? Is she worried about her work, and is there some one at home dependent on her? Can't you help her some way?

Then Forget Yourself.

How about your little sister at home? Hasn't she problems of her own? Can't you make life a little easier for her, some way?

And your mother—people don't stop wishing they could be happy just because they're old. Years old—think up something nice to do for mother. If it's only something pleasant to say to her.

Do you know the office boys? How old are they? Are they trying to get their feet on the first rung of the ladder, which makes them feel like a leaden weight high up and up? Do you ever take any interest in them at all?

Why, my dear, you're living right in the midst of tragedy and comedy and farce, day in and day out, and you're missing it all, just because you think about yourself all the time.

Open your eyes, take the cotton out of your ears, look and listen. See, think, understand—and sympathize.

You'll have a hundred friends where you'll have one hundred interests to keep you busy.

Hard to do? Not at all! Listen to Susie when she wants to talk about her new crush. Hold Annie's hand when she's crying. Help Mary when she's sick. Pickle down and divide it with the girl who's fond of home cooking and can't get it.

Like people. Be interested in them. Sympathize with them. Help them. Relieve them in their happiness. And the first thing you know you'll have so little time to think about yourself that you'll be amazed when the nicest fellow in the world asks you to think about him.

Try this receipt and let us know how it works.

And lent that number, so am anxious to get it, as it spools the story.

Grease On Wallpaper.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to the Mail-Box, but I have been a subscriber for some time, and have received a great many useful hints from the page. Don't let me drop out of the crowd the Mail-Box into such a small space.

Now, can some kind reader tell me how to remove green stains from tan wallpaper without taking the color out of the paper? Thinking you will find space and wishing you and all the readers every success. I remain,

Ans.—You can buy a patent cleaner for wallpaper at any hardware or 15-cent store, or perhaps you could find this formula for a home-made cleaner:

Wallpaper Cleaner.—Six tablespoons sugar, six tablespoons flour, three tablespoons cold oil, enough water to make it the consistency of thick cream. Rub on stove and cook until like paste; roll into balls and rub on soiled wallpaper.

Would Try Anything.

Dear Miss Grey, I wonder if anyone among the many readers of your interesting page knows of something that would help me in my struggle with face and arms? Surely there is something that will check its growth somewhat. I have tried the electric needle, but it is too big an undertaking, especially for the arms. I am willing to try any other treatment even if it does take months. I do hope some of your readers can help me. This is a problem that has troubled me for years and I would be worth millions to anyone who discovered a cure. Thanking you, I am,

Ans.—Dear Brown Eyes, what I'd give to be able to advise a remedy for your trouble, but I am afraid I am a source of distress to many women. This formula for a depilatory is said to be a frequent user of any help from the readers: Powdered unslaked lime, 8 drams; carbonate of potash (which is a source of tartar), and saltpetre, 10 drams; each 1 dram. Mix and keep dry. Directions: Mix only to cover a small space at a time, leaving on only 10 minutes, then scrape off, and apply a soothing cold cream.

Returned Man's Troubles.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you find room in your Page for the recital of the troubles of a returned soldier? I will try to be brief. When I enlisted in 1915 I was fortunate enough to be acquainted with quite a few girls and young ladies in this fair city. I was away for nearly four years and spent the greater part of that time in France. I was only in hospital once during that period, and did not get to Blighty, so I had no chance of meeting any nice English girls. Well, I naturally went to long for the company of a nice girl, and comforted myself with the thought that I would get all I wanted, "après la guerre"—if I survived. Well, I survived all right and returned to Canada, but I was greatly disappointed.

Some of my girl friends had married fellows who did not fancy a soldier's life. Others married returned soldiers, and the rest seem to have chummed up with civies or drafted on to the front. It seemed to be very odd and distant, and some of my old friends would not even recognize me. I was talking to a girl about this, and she said, "If you want to meet girls you should not wear your service uniform." I was surprised, and thought that was just her opinion, but lately I have heard sentiments similar to this expressed quite often. I have been greatly puzzled and wondered if any of my girl friends were considered rough-necks. Thinking you for your consideration, I remain,

LONELY EX-SOLDIER.

Ans.—Now, girls, here's a chance for you to let London's ladies are not returning returned men "rough-necks." Really, Ex-Soldier, if you believe me when I say that some of the nicest men of my acquaintance are returned men, I am proud to shake their hands and welcome them as heroes who have performed a noble duty amid hardships and trials of which I can only

Schmidt Allows Only Three Hits but Loses

Tecumseh's Shut Out by Frank Quinn—Emery's Error Proves a Costly One.

KITCHENER, July 31.—Frank Quinn, who was taken out of the box last night in the third inning against London, was given permission by Manager Beatty to go back at the Tecumsehs this evening, and shut out the Londoners by a score of 2 to 0 in a fast and well-played game.

"Lefty" Schmidt pitched for the Tecumsehs and held the Beavers down to three hits, but issued six passes, while Quinn allowed six hits and one pass. The Beavers scored their two runs in the fifth inning, after Lyons had flied to Command. Argue walked, Quinn fanned, Kyle singled and went to second when Emery let the ball pass him. Argue scoring. A wild pitch by Smith allowed Kyle to score.

London bunched hits in the fifth and sixth inning, but fast fielding by the Beavers prevented any scoring. The teams leave in the morning for London to finish the week.

(BY B. B. P.)

The Tecumsehs will be home today to take the Beavers on this evening and again on Saturday. Reilly or Henrion will be Stewart's pitching choice.

Witry is still holding down second base for the Tecumsehs and making a good job of it also. He accepted four chances yesterday without a boot.

Mitchell has found his batting eye. He has been hitting better than any other member of the Tecumsehs this week. He had two blows in yesterday's game.

GRAY MEMORIAL HOME OFFICIALLY OPENED BY COL. M'ILLAN

Mrs. E. J. Commissioner Higgins of Salvation Army Staff Also Officiated.

A beautiful, palatial residence on one of the prettiest avenues in the city, to be known to the public as the "Ronald Roy Gray Memorial Home" was opened yesterday by Colonel John McMillan of Toronto and Mrs. E. J. (Commissioner) Higgins of the headquarters staff of the Salvation Army. Crowds of people wended their way yesterday, despite the drizzling rain, to Evergreen avenue to witness the opening of this beautiful home for the little tots without relations, and for those who have lost their father in the war and have no means of support, given to the Salvation Army of London by James Gray in memory of his two sons, Ronald and Roy, who gave their lives for the country's cause.

Mayor Somerville acted as chairman, and Mrs. Higgins expressed the appreciation of so beautiful a home in which to continue a part of the work done in London by the Salvation Army. Colonel John McMillan also spoke in reference to the gratitude of the Salvation Army to Mr. Gray for the beautiful residence, which, he said, indeed, was a memorial to the dead and which would ever be a help and a home for those so unfortunate as to have lost parents, or otherwise been rendered homeless.

James Gray, who was quite overcome and who found it hard to speak, in a few words, expressed his purpose of giving the home in memory of his two sons, and which, he hoped, would afford through the Salvation Army, a good home for many a little one. Mrs. Higgins, following her address, turned the key in the door, and pronounced the home open.

Many citizens took the opportunity of looking through the beautiful building, packed and span, with its dormitories of little white beds. One room, purposely for very small children, contained six little baby cots. Some little children were already established in the home, and were very happy and contented, and it will not be long now before the home will be filled up with trim Salvation Army nurses in attendance.

ANNUAL UNITED PICNIC AT ERIE LAKESIDE OF MANY FAMILIES

The annual united picnic of the Brown-Uren-Gleason-Vining families was held at Lakeside Wednesday, and there was a record attendance, over 500 merry-makers being present. The outing originated as a memorial to the late Rev. T. Brown of East Nisouri, and descendants were present yesterday from Montreal to the Yukon. Joseph Brown of this city, president of the outing for the past ten years, retired from office Wednesday, and Irvin Gleason was elected to succeed him. Both the above men delivered an address at the picnic, and at the conclusion of a good sports program, which included boating, the party sat down to a chicken dinner.

Rev. H. J. Uren of Mitchell, Rev. A. Allen of Moncton, Ont., E. A. Shaw of Wellburn and Squire James Wilson of Drumbo delivered addresses at Lakeside Wednesday, and the outing was pronounced a decided success by all present.

THE HOUSEKEEPERS' BUYING GUIDE

Our Consumers' League

BY ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.

"The Art of Cookery"

Ruskin seems to have been pretty much of an "all-round man." Judging from the variety of subjects on which he was able to lecture and write with indisputable authority. Take the subject of cooking, for example. Does any modern housewife feel inclined to dispute this statement? "Cookery means carefulness and inventiveness and williness and readiness of appliances. It means the economy of your grandmothers and the science of modern chemists; it means much testing and no wasting; it means English thoroughness and French art and Arabian hospitality."

If there is any place more than another that "carefulness, inventiveness, willingness, and readiness of appliances" are required it is in the cooking of meats, in view of the present prevailing prices. If Ruskin had been living at this hour to foot the weekly grocery, butcher, baker and milk bills, he couldn't have said anything more appropriate than, "Cookery means the economy of your grandmothers and the science of modern chemists; it means much testing and no wasting."

And every household science cranks tells you insistently that "thoroughness" is of supreme importance. But what matters mere stodge thoroughness unless it has the touch of art and grace, the touch that adds poignancy, that allures the palate, and delights the eye?

And what of the most lavish feast unless it be served with the garnish of hospitality, a garnish that enhances their value, and gives a gracious flavor to every viand?

But to get back to the subject of meat? The war did a good deal to bring the modern housewife to a realization of the importance of using to the best advantage the food resources obtainable. For example, she learned to use substitutes for wheat and sugar, to serve fish frequently instead of meat, and to go wonderful—her family sometimes thought "fearful"—things with "left-overs."

War shortage was an excellent education in food economy, in cheating the garbage can. (Where have I heard that expression, "cheating the garbage can," before?)

But, according to local butchers, housewives didn't take to the less expensive cuts of meat in the manner that might have been anticipated, not only in view of war-time meat conservation, but to make war on the high cost of living, which continues to get higher.

Some time ago a writer on food economy said: "In the days when cattle, sheep and hogs were killed and dressed at home, the housewife was in the habit of getting the last half-ounce of food value from the carcasses. But gradually the abattoirs took over this work, and as high-priced roasts, steaks and chops began to get firm grip on the market, people were apt to forget that pigs' and cows still had feet, livers, backbones, tails and tongues. Although these portions were all available, the demand for them fell off."

"Such portions have been long popular in Europe, where soup and stew making is a fine art, and in the United States they have enjoyed a good market, though in Canada they have been neglected to such an extent that fully 75 per cent went to the grease tank to be rendered down, or else was exported to other countries. "Ox-tails are counted a delicacy in Europe. Yet in a Canadian city with a population of over 100,000 no less than 500 pounds of ox-tails are either rendered down each week or exported to the United States, where they find a ready market. It is the same with backbones and neckbones, or with any of the other varieties of fancy meats."

Facts About Meats

If prepared in a fireless cooker, the juices are retained in meat and the flavor is improved.

An entire dinner can be put in the cooker in the morning, and it will look after itself without any further attention until the time arrives to serve it.

The telephone and delivery system should be achieved as far as possible by the careful housekeeper. It adds considerably to the cost of living and reduces the amount of satisfaction experienced by the buyer.

Every woman should endeavor to buy her meat at first hand. Few women would dream of ordering blouses, gloves or shoes over the telephone, yet many of them are continually ready to order a roast or steak in this long-distance fashion.

Food advertisements should be closely followed and encouraged. Careful planning before setting out to buy meat often prevents waste.

Meat should be taken out of its paper wrappings as soon as it is brought into the kitchen. The very careful housewife will then weigh and trim the meat. After this she wipes it with a damp cloth or scrapes the surface with a knife. Finally she puts it away in a cool place until ready to use it. She NEVER places it on the ice.

A much higher temperature is required for the preparation of meat than of tough pieces of meat. If the juices are to be retained, strong heat should be applied by broiling over a flame, by cooking in the oven, by cooking in hot fat, or by immersion in boiling water.

To broil fresh pigs' feet, boil the feet in salt water and spices until well done. After being thoroughly cooked, allow them to cool. The feet are then split, rolled in melted butter and cracker meal, laid out in flat buttered pans. Cover very closely and bake two hours. Make a gravy with the liquor that is left in the pan.

Summer-Spoiled Skin Removed by Absorption

As undue summer exposure usually leaves an undesirable surface of tan, redness or roughness, often freckles, too, the sensible thing to do is to remove such surface. There's nothing better for this than ordinary mercurized wax, which actually absorbs an unwholesome complexion. The thin layer of surface skin is itself absorbed, gently, gradually, so there's no inconvenience, no detention indoors. Spread the wax lightly over the entire face at bedtime and take it off in the morning with warm water. If you will get one ounce of mercurized wax at the drug store, use it for a week or so, you may expect marked improvement daily. When the underlying skin is wholly in view your complexion will be a marvel of spotless purity and beautiful whiteness.—Adv.

Manioc—A New Flour From Plant That Gives Us Tapioca

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

Spices, peppers, sea onions and sauces whip the lining of the stomach to an over-production of juices and hydrochloric acid. These, together with over-eating, have much to do with ulcers of the stomach and the associated stomach troubles. To overcome some of this mischief, Dr. Herbert J. Spinden has imported a new flour for housekeepers, the manioc root.

The manioc is a tropical shrub, growing to the height of six feet, from which the natives of the lowlands of tropical South America make flour and various other eatables. It is also much used in the West Indies.

In making manioc flour the very juicy roots of the plant which somewhat resemble sweet potatoes in shape are grated, according to Indian fashion, on a board set with rock crystals. The grated meal must then be subjected to high pressure in order to drive off the poisonous juice. This is accomplished by this by stuffing the meal into a basket tube, which is then stretched out. Tremendous pressure is exerted by this simple machine. The poisonous fluid is drained through the basket-work into pottery vessels.

Made into Cakes.

The meal is then taken out of the tube and used chiefly for making thin wafers, often of large size, which are slightly browned on either side by baking on griddles. These cakes will last for a long time, and are considered excellent food. The Indians do not mix the manioc meal with water or other liquid to make a dough. It is simply sprinkled over the top of the griddle and cohesion results from the process that somewhat resembles melting, the rather fibrous substance resolving itself into a fairly compact mass. Many other dishes are made of manioc flour in tropical countries.

Besides our, the plant yields an excellent starch, a condiment and tapioca, the last named being the principal object of commerce derived from the yuca or manioc plant.

The starch is contained in the poisonous juice which is extracted from the meal. It is allowed to settle in the fluid, which is then poured off. In certain places the manioc meal is not subjected to pressure, but is thoroughly stirred in water in order to extract the largest possible amount of starch. Tapioca, which commands a higher price in the tropics than cornstarch, is generally regarded as the highest quality.

Some Familiar Products.

After the extraction of the starch the juice of the yuca is subjected to heat sufficient to destroy the poison in it. It is then used as a condiment. This extract, which has a sharp, peppery quality, has considerable commercial value, and serves as a base for certain table sauces and for the soup known as Philadelphia pepper pot. Tapioca is obtained by heating the starch, while it is moist.

There is no doubt that the manioc or yuca has an immense food value, and can be used to great advantage as a substitute ration. As to the use of manioc flour in this country, Dr. Spinden says: "I am afraid that considerable education would be necessary before the general public could be brought to use it. Nevertheless, the crop is one that could be obtained in a short time and in tremendous quantities, and if we should actually get to the

What Madge Found When She Reached Home.

I reached home feeling tired and dispirited, almost exhausted with the extreme heat of the early summer day. The nervous tension of the day still upon me, I dreaded infinitely the sound of trivial, but necessary, duties which generally awaited me, little executive details of the housekeeping, patiently listening to my mother-in-law's perfunctory wails concerning Katie and the occasional discipline which my little maid required. Even the hour with my baby, usually a time looked forward to all day, appeared suddenly as I entered the house, I had neither strength nor inclination.

But to my surprise and relief there was nothing for me to do when I entered the house. Katie, peacefully shelling peas upon the screened side veranda, had a watchful eye for "Dear Second," sprawled blissfully asleep upon the dainty sheeted crib mattress which I had placed upon the grass rug of the veranda in order that he might get as much coolness as possible. She smiled brightly at me as I came in, but spoke in a careful murmur, that she might not awaken the sleeping child.

"You look so warm," she said, "try you not to go to sleep too." "Mother Grisham!" I queried, for I knew that my august mother-in-law would consider herself highly insulted if I did not look for her as soon as I returned from school.

"Oh, she sleep too, foot go to sleep half-hour ago," Katie dimpled, chuckled at me as I came in, but spoke in a careful murmur, that she might not awaken the sleeping child.

Starch ..... 1 part

Diary of a Fashion Model

Looking Ahead to Street Dresses For the First Cool Days.
"A gown for the first cool days," requested Miss Donaldson when she came yesterday looking tanned and radiant from her summer place at the seashore. "I have several charming models of Polart, tweed, gabardine, tricot and serge," replied madame. "Any one of these materials is the right weight for early fall wear and sufficiently heavy to do service under a topcoat later on when there's a real nip in the air."

"Midnight blue leads the field," madame explained, pushing this favorite for first place. The warm shade of brown called walnut is also in great demand, and I have made several becoming frocks of olive green. This shade is especially good when combined with leather brown. Taupe and the carter shades are also popular.

"Of course, I like navy or midnight blue best," Miss Donaldson remarked, "but I've had so many blue gowns that my friends have to look twice to see if I really am appearing in something new."

"That rose and green are lovely. Faltie silk, isn't it?" Miss Donaldson inquired. "Yes," replied madame. "The collar is made of rose tulle overlapping green tulle, which is bound with black grosgrain ribbon. The same colors run around the right angle cut out of the sleeve, which display the net underneath."

"The details of this frock are very effective. I like the black grosgrain ribbon tie and the tiny pearl buttons on the vest. This gown is exactly what I meant when I said 'something for the first cool days.'"

"David's never seen your wife before. How are they now?"

"Fine!" replied Daddy Desman. "You sure they'll be glad to know you so come along!"

Squeedee and David jumped into the water and away they paddled. Squeedee and David followed up a great, long trail until they reached the big chamber, built a great deal like Mr. Beaver's, four feet above the surface of the water. From this room several halls ran down into the water.

Mama Desman and the three Desman babies came out to meet them and invited them into their little home.

HOUSING SCHEME NO TO WALK ON TOP OF FEATHER IN CAP FOR PLATE HIGH AIR

PROVINCIAL GOVT. AT PORT STANLEY

Will Appoint Man to Interview Real Flying Thrills Promised
Applicants For Loans. For Civic Holiday at Lakeside.

THE BUILDERS' EXCHANGE

Not An Applicant From That Body To Build Houses.

In the opinion of J. C. Richter, chairman of the local housing commission, the housing scheme is no feather in the cap of the Ontario Government. This opinion was expressed at the meeting of the housing commission on Thursday night, by lending money to the municipalities the Government at Toronto is conferring no favor on them, he said, for interest at the rate of five per cent was being paid on all loans. It was the municipalities that were taking the risk, for they had to pay the Government interest regardless whether or not the people to whom they made loans to build houses kept up their payments. If the municipalities did not and some of the houses had to be rented, they would be classified as second-hand ones.

At some later date when the rates on loans were cheaper, the commission could probably do better than they will by accepting Government loans.

City Council.

It was unknown to him, he said, what the city council intended the commission to do about the matter. He did not know whether the commission under this scheme was expected to speculate or pick out applicants who would not fail in their payments.

There was no sign of surplus labor in the city, and there was no desire on the part of contractors to participate in the scheme, as was shown by the tenders received. Not a member of the Builders' Exchange had made application to build the houses.

It was necessary, he contended, to engage a man like the one who understood the matter, for a man like that probably would save money where another man would not. He was not accustomed to the work would lose.

Labor Scarcity.

Commissioner E. R. Denison declared that he agreed with 90 per cent of the remarks of Chairman Richter. It was apparent to him that there would be a lack of labor in this city, and that the price of building materials would be in proportion to the increase in the amount of building done in the city.

What we ought to do is to outline a policy to suit London, he declared. If it did not suit the Government, then all well and good. London was different from other municipalities in regard to the housing situation. In the other municipalities there would be a demand for houses and something should be done at present to meet the crisis, he remarked. The commission would be doing London a real service by constructing from 25 to 30 houses.

Land and Plans.

Seconded by Commissioner R. H. Hessel, he moved that the land be purchased and plans for the erection of this number of houses be submitted to Housing Director Ellis at Toronto.

Mayor C. R. Somerville declared that he could not vote for that, as he did not think the council intended that there should be any building done on the speculative plan.

His worship then seconded an amendment to the motion by the chairman, that a committee be appointed to interview the 107 applicants for houses and find out how many actually wished to build. After the action mentioned in the motion might be taken.

On a vote being taken, the amendment was opposed by Dennis and Hessel. Vice-Chairman J. W. Cunliffe, who had taken the chair in order that Mr. Richter might express his views, voted for the amendment.

Secretary B. Baker and the chairman were given the power to secure competent men. The vice-chairman declared that he knew of a soldier who was in the engineer department at Carleton Place, but who would be out of the army today, and who might be suitable for the position. This man will be sent to the two men who have been authorized to secure a person for the position. It is understood that other members of the commission will send applicants to the secretary and the chairman.

About ten plans for houses have been approved by the Toronto officials to date.

THE NEW HOME OF FASHION-CRAFT

London is rapidly coming to the stage where it will be one of the really important manufacturing and business centres of Canada, on account of the many excellent clothing stores already established here, and several others which will be running before the fall. The latest new store to be opened is that of Fashion-Craft, located in the store formerly occupied by Gray, and which has been leased by Mr. Todd, a successful merchant of Medicine Hat, who, after selling out his store there, decided to locate in London. Mr. W. H. Todd had many years' experience in the clothing business, and with him will be associated three men, who are experts in their particular line. Mr. H. W. McKendall, who has returned from France, where he was formerly in charge of the Fashion-Craft store in Winnipeg, will be in charge of the clothing department. With him will be Mr. Percy King, who is well known to Londoners. Mr. W. J. Rutledge, also just out of khaki of the west, associated for many years with Mr. Todd, will be in charge of the furnishings department. The store has been remodelled and fitted with modern furnishings, and when opened will be a revelation to Londoners. The interior decorations are novel and artistic, and are about the latest lines of big American stores. The lighting system is excellent, and is arranged to give plenty of light for proper selection of colors, weaves, etc. The store will be opened some time next week, and Mr. Todd, the proprietor, is making arrangements for an opening that will be unique in the history of London.

K. C. HUT SUPPLYING CONVALESCENTS WITH TOBACCO AND GAMES

Soldiers who are convalescing in the four city hospitals, Victoria, Tecumseh, are in the future going to be well supplied with all manner of things which will add to their comfort by the K. C. Catholic Army Hut.

Under this new arrangement cigarettes, pipes, note paper, envelopes, chocolate, and chewing gum will be supplied regularly every two weeks.

Through the staffs of these different institutions, E. V. Hession, secretary of the K. C. Catholic Army Hut, are also wishing magazines and games to pass away the time during their long sojourn inside. The hut is now supplying these articles, when the tobacco and chocolate are shared around. A plentiful supply is assured every man.
