ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED BY SOLEMN SERVICES, KING GEORGE UNVEILS MEMORIAL TO EMPIRE'S DEAD; LONDON IS SILENT FOR TWO MINUTES AS TRIBUTE

ALLIED WORLD PAYS TRIBUTE TO HEROIC DEAD ON 2ND ANNIVERSARY OF SIGNING OF THE ARMISTICE

Unknown British Warrior Is Buried in Westminster Abbey—Canada's Representatives Deposit Wreath at Foot of Cenotaph in London—Two Minutes' Silence Observed Throughout British Empire and France—Solemn Services in Many Cities.

Every city and town, village and hamlet, settlement and reservation in the Dominion, from Cape Breton to Vancouver Island, today commemorated the second anniversary of the closing of the great war. For the most part, open air divine service and military parades comprised the general program of observance throughout Canada. These were preceded by a general suspension of activities in practically all parts of the Dominion for two minutes in deference to Canada's heroes and heroines, who laid down their lives during the titanic struggle.

Impressive ceremonies were held in London and Paris, the British and French people paying tribute to the men who sacrificed their lives during the long fight against kaiserism. The body of an unknown British soldier was buried in Westminster Abbey, the King, governmental chiefs and relatives of missing soldiers witnessing the interment. Wreaths in large numbers were placed on the last resting place of the British warrior who fell in the great war. Floral wreaths were laid on the tomb from the Canadian War Veterans' Association and the Last Post Fund.

In Paris, the remains of a French soldier, taken from a nameless grave at Verdun, was laid at rest under the Arc de Triomphe. President Millerand and three French marshals—Joffre, Foch and Petain—stood by the open grave.

King George unveiled in Whitehall, London, a permanent cenotaph dedicated "To Our Glorious Dead," and in Paris the heart of Gambetta, the great French statesman, was deposited in the Pantheon.

No ceremonies of a national character were held in the United States, but men who served during the war observed the day, which in some states was made a holiday. In others, governors issued proclamations, pointing out the significance of the occasion. The exercises consisted of parades, memorial services and meetings, at which patriotic addresses were delivered. General Neville, one of the men who commanded during the French defence at Verdun in 1916, was the principal speaker on the program to be given at a great gathering of service men in New York City.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—(By the Canadian Press).)—Canada's ordinary activities, in practically all parts of the Dominion, were suspended for two minutes at noon today in silent and honorable memorial to the Canadian war heroes and nurses who sacrificed their lives helping to make possible the signing of the armistice, victoriously ending the great war, on November 11, 1918.

Reports from all directions indicate general observance of the proclamations of the authorities that this tribute be paid to the glorious dead. The great railways and telegraph systems from coast to coast, as well as local industries in all big cities, stopped operations for two minutes, silence prevailing for the period, as far as possible. Immediately afterward various celebrations for triumph took place in the big cities and towns of the Dominion. In some centres there were open air divine services, and in some cases military parades.

The governor-general and the Duchess of Devonshire, who are visiting Toronto at present, attended a special service at noon in St. James' Anglican Church, where the Rev. Dr. Cody officiated. There was a big open air service also during the noon hour in front of the city hall.

KING GEORGE IS CHIEF MOURNER AT FUNERAL OF "UNKNOWN WARRIOR"

London, Nov. 11.—Great Britain today impressively honored her war heroes by according a field marshal's funeral to an unknown British warrior, who was buried in Westminster Abbey, and unveiling a permanent cenotaph in Whitehall to "The Glorious Dead." Aside from members of the royal family, who included three queens—Queen Mary, Queen-Mother Alexandra and Queen Maud of Norway—the members of the British cabinet, and a few officials, including Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. C. J. Doherty and Hon. N. W. Rowell, the only witnesses to either ceremony were persons who lost relatives in the great war.

As "Big Ben," the great clock in the tower of the Parliament Building, began to strike the hour of 11, King George, facing the sixteenth century coffin of the unknown soldier, which was resting on a gun carriage, drew a cord that released the Union Jack draped above the cenotaph, and after the last stroke of the hour, thousands of people who crowded Whitehall as far as one could see in either direction remained absolutely silent for two minutes. This silence was broken by a choir softly beginning the hymn, "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past," which was followed by the Lord's Prayer, recited by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Buglers sounded "The Last Post," and with its escort of troopers and a band, the gun carriage then moved toward the Abbey, with King George, as chief mourner walking behind it.

Canada Represented.

Sir George Foster deposited a wreath of maple leaves at the foot of the monument on behalf of the Dominion of Canada. The Canadian party walked in the procession to the Abbey with the members of the British cabinet.

During the brief service in the nave of the Abbey, the King stood at the foot of the grave, the members of the royal family ranging themselves on either side. Of all the witnesses that packed Whitehall or crowded the Abbey a little band of approximately 100 women in the Abbey received the most reverent attention. They had been selected for the seats of honor because each had lost her husband and all her sons. Every woman in Great Britain so bereft who applied for a place got it, but less than half of the other applicants for seats were successful owing to the lack of space.

After the 100 had been seated, the next to be considered were those mothers who lost their only sons, or all their sons, and then came women who lost their husbands only. These were given positions in accordance with the price they had paid during the war. A girl who wrote she had lost nine brothers killed or missing was given a ticket, as also was a 12-year-old boy who wrote: "The man in the coffin might be my daddy." In all, 8,000 tickets were issued.

Guarded Throughout Night.

The body of the unknown soldier arrived here late last night, after it had been honored by Marshal Foch and other military officials in France from the time it was exhumed until the escort of French destroyers turned for home after seeing the British destroyer Verdun, which bore the body, safely into the harbor of Dover. It was brought to London in the same railway car used to transport the bodies of Edith Cavell, the nurse who was executed by the Germans, and Capt. Charles Fryatt, the British captain of a British merchant steamer who also met death before a German firing squad. It lay last night in a room especially set apart and fitted for it in Victoria Station, and a guard of honor remained there until morning.

The immediate guard which escorted the body on its trip through the crowded and silent streets from the station to Whitehall was composed of 100 men of all services, who won the Victoria Cross.

The pallbearers were field marshals and admirals of the fleet, including Viscount Douglas Haig, Earl Beatty, admiral of the Grand Fleet, and Major-Gen. Sir Hugh Trenchard, commander

LONDON PAYS TRIBUTE TO ALL EMPIRE'S DEAD

All Activities Cease for Period of Two Minutes.

AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK TODAY

Citizens Stand in Reverent Silence As Thoughts Revert to Flanders Field.

London responded in no half-hearted spirit today to the request of King George that the whole British Empire do honor to those who sleep "where poppies grow, in Flanders fields," and at 11 o'clock every activity ceased for the space of two minutes.

In factories the hum of machinery was hushed, while the employees "stood to" in reverent silence; in the stores buying and selling stopped, while buyers and sellers paid mutual tribute to the Empire's noble dead; on the railways and other transportation services every wheel came to a stop, while in the city schools the activity of busy minds and hands was hushed as boys and girls, led by their teachers, turned their thoughts to the great deeds and supreme sacrifices of the men who insured to them safety and freedom.

On public buildings the flags hoisted in celebration of the signing of the armistice by the Germans on November 11, 1918, were lowered to half mast at 11 o'clock, and remained so for two minutes in mute token of respect to those by whose heroism the armistice was brought about.

REDS PENETRATE WRANGEL'S LINES NEAR PEREKOP

Third Soviet Division Smashes Through Outer Works.

London, Nov. 11.—The fortified works planted by Gen. Wrangel in the vicinity of Perekop, on the isthmus leading to the Crimean Peninsula, have been occupied by the Bolsheviki, according to Wednesday's official statement from Moscow, received here by wireless today. The statement reads: "We have broken the enemy's fierce resistance and occupied his fortified positions near Perekop. We also occupied Armiansk-Bazar."

Armiansk is situated well south on the Isthmus of Perekop, some seven miles below the town of Perekop.

A Sebastopol dispatch on Wednesday night announced that the Third Soviet Division had broken through Gen. Wrangel's outer works at Perekop. It adds, however, that the situation was not regarded as serious. Penetration of the Crimean Peninsula at another point, on the easterly side, was claimed in Tuesday's soviet official statement.

ARMED MEN SEIZE GOODS ABOARD SHIP

Steamer Stopped Between Cork and Queenstown.

London, Nov. 11.—While a steamer carrying army stores was proceeding between Cork and Queenstown yesterday morning, she was ordered to stop opposite Black Rock Castle by men in boats, says a Central News dispatch from Cork. When the captain disregarded the order a short was fired at the vessel, which then stopped. Armed men boarded the steamer and seized goods valued at £500. When the boat arrived in Cork, the matter was reported to the police, who searched the district and recovered a portion of the goods. Rifles, shotguns and ammunition which were concealed in a boathouse near Black Rock Castle were also discovered, it is said.

SILK PRODUCTION IN JAPAN IS SUSPENDED FOR 3-MONTH PERIOD

Tokio, Nov. 11.—Production of silk has been suspended for three months by the silk manufacturers' union. There has been a general depression in the industry for some time, and the Yokohama silk exchange closed on October 27, when prices fell below the minimum fixed by the buying syndicate.

HIGH MASS CELEBRATED.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—For the repose of the souls of the Canadian soldiers killed in the great war requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Michaels Cathedral here today.

SUSPENSION OF HAMILTON TIMES IS PERMANENT

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—It was explained here today that the statement issued last night by the Ontario Newspapers Corporation, Limited, owners of the Hamilton Morning Times, made it quite clear that the suspension of publication of that paper is not temporary but permanent. That part of the statement which announces that "all obligations will be promptly met and money received for unearned subscriptions and advertising refunded immediately," tells the story.

"GRATITUDE"

With arms reversed and heads bowed down
We stand today, O God,
In honor of our fallen brave
Who sleep 'neath foreign sod.

We thank Thee, Lord, for those brave souls
Who fought and nobly died;
We thank Thee that our lives were spared
When death rode by our side.

We thank Thee that our flag still floats
Inscribed with Victory;
We thank Thee that no tyrants heel
Has crushed our liberty.

We thank Thee for the years to come,
When children, yet unborn,
Shall hear how tyranny was crushed
On that Armistice morn.

We thank Thee, Lord, for all Thy gifts,
For "Peace and Victory."
Accept, O God, from grateful hearts
The thanks we offer Thee.

HYDRO COMMISSION FIXES THE MINIMUM RATE OF TWO CENTS A KILOWATT FOR ALL LIGHTING

New Plan Does Away With Proposed Penalty Charge — Domestic Lighting One-Cent Rate Cut Out—Half-Cent Rate For Commercial Lighting Also Disappears—New Scheme Only Operative During the Period of Power Shortage.

Information was received today by E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission, that the hydro power commission has approved of a rate for electric lighting, which it believes will serve the purpose of bringing about a conservation of electricity, and which will take the place of the proposed penalty rate.

"The plan approved by the commission will," said Mr. Buchanan, "be in effect only during the period of power shortage." The commission has decided that there shall be no power supplied for lighting purposes at less than two cents per K.W.

Under this plan domestic lighting, which has been two cents per K.W. up to a certain usage, and then one cent per K.W., will be two cents straight, the one cent rate being cut out entirely.

Commercial light users, who have been paying three rates, viz., four, two and one-half cent per K.W., according to the quantity of current used, will in future be restricted to two rates, namely, four and two cents per K.W., the one-half cent rate being eliminated.

Needed for Extensions.

Answering a question on the two items to be placed by the city council in the London bill for the public utilities commission, $125,000 for electric lighting extensions and $135,000 for waterworks extension, Mr. Buchanan pointed out that these items were fully discussed in the local papers on Saturday last.

The electric lighting amount is, briefly stated, needed for the construction of a new sub-station in the east end of the city at an estimated cost of $55,000, the rest of the amount being needed for wire and service extensions throughout the city.

Of the amount asked for the waterworks, $40,000 is required for the construction of a rectifying plant for the removal of the iron from the water. The remainder is needed to cover the cost of the extensions of the mains and the installation of new services throughout the city.

TO OPPOSE L. AND P. S. DEBENTURE ISSUE AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Ald. John Ashton Will Bring in Motion Monday Evening To Have $257,000 Expenditure Submitted as Bylaw to the People.

Opposition to the inclusion of $257,000 for the L. and P. S. R. in the London bill without submitting it to a vote of the people will be made at the city council Monday. Ald. John Ashton said today he would bring in a motion to have the expenditure submitted as a bylaw instead of including it in the bill.

"There is no reason why expenditures for this department should be handled any differently than those for other departments," he said. "I think the people should have a chance to vote on this just as they did last year, and I am going to make a motion to that effect."

No. 1 committee's action Wednesday likely will be well supported, however. Five aldermen and the mayor supported it at the committee. Ald. Watkinson was the only member of the committee who was absent. It is possible he may oppose it. Several members of No. 2 committee also approve obtaining the money through the London bill, so that it is quite probable this will be the course pursued.

But 30 Per Cent Vote.

"The objection to sending matters of this kind to the people is that only about 30 per cent of them vote," said Ald. Seabrook of No. 2 committee. "Such a vote cannot be regarded as 'the voice of the people,' and it is unfair to have vital issues decided in that manner. If 75 per cent of the voters would exercise their franchise I would be in favor of all these things being decided by popular vote. When only a small number vote there is not a true indication of the feeling of the people even if the projects receive a favorable vote.

"Another reason why no vote is needed on the L. and P. S. R. debentures is that the tax rate is not affected. The L. and P. S. R. has not cost the citizens one cent since it was electrified."

Ald. Drake, another member of No. 2 committee, was of the opinion that the expenditure should be submitted to the people, although he had not gone carefully into the matter. He approved putting expenditures for storm sewers in the bill, and also waterworks and electrical expenditures.

Ald. Moorhead said he wanted to know exactly how the money was to be used before he would approve putting it in the bill. "It may be quite necessary, but I would like to have more information before I take action," he said.

Protests against the procedure may be made by the Labor Representation Committee Friday night, according to W. G. Tite, secretary of the organization.

"It seems to me that the committee's action is unconstitutional," he said. "According to procedure bylaws the council cannot spend more than $30,000 without a vote of the people. It is getting to be a fine state of affairs if seven or eight men in the council can wish all kinds of taxes on the people without their consent."

ONE DEAD, TWO ARE WOUNDED AS RESULT OF POLICE RAID

Constables Were Making a Search for Liquor in St. Boniface Hotel.

ASSAILANT ESCAPES

Identity of Man Who Fired Shots Not Yet Established.

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—One man is dead and two others wounded as the result of shooting, following a raid at the Stockyards Hotel, St. Boniface, early this morning.

The dead—Provincial Morality Inspector Alex. McCurdy, shot through the head; died five hours later.

The man who is alleged to have done the shooting signed the hotel register "John Brown and wife."

The shooting occurred when four morality officers entered the building in search of liquor.

Men and women rushed from the hotel, but five were captured and held as material witnesses.

Inspector McCurdy was leading his men. He entered a room. A shot rang out, and a moment later a man, carrying a smoking revolver, emerged. He opened fire on the rest of the raiding party and wounded Dineen and Uttley.

Constable Fred Causey, the fourth member of the party, had a narrow escape when the gunman rushed at him and fired point blank, but the bullet missed him.

In the confusion which followed, men and women fled from the hotel. The woman who was registered with the slayer disappeared, and the round up of occupants of hotel rooms netted the police only five prisoners. They were taken to the St. Boniface jail as material witnesses.

FEW ATTEND COURT TO HEAR EVIDENCE IN RIOT CHARGES

Hearing Is Adjourned As a Tribute to Allied Dead.

Welland, Nov. 11.—As the Magistrate's court opened this morning in connection with the Thorold riot case, Magistrate Fraser adjourned it until this afternoon, at the instance of the defence and in view of the fact that the court had decided to adjourn between the hours of eleven and twelve as a tribute to the Allies' honored dead. That the interest is waning in the case was demonstrated by the very meagre attendance present when the court resumed.

WHAT BOLSHEVIK TEACHINGS WILL DO

London, Nov. 11.—The girl employees in the offices of Sylvia Pankhurst's communistic paper, The Workers' Dreadnought in Fleet street, were thrashed and the offices upset just after 11 o'clock today by an angry crowd.

The leaders of the party which raided the offices alleged that during the two minutes of solemn silence in honor of the fallen dead, as provided for in the Armistice Day program, some of the women in the office "were singing, dancing and banging tin cans."

INCOME TAXES THIS YEAR TO ADD 35 MILLION TO FEDERAL TREASURY, NEW REGULATIONS ARE COMING

Penalties For Next Year Will Be Heavier — Prosecutions Will Become Automatic If Misrepresentation Believed —One "Bootlegger" Pays Income Tax on $15,000 For 1920.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Improved methods of collection, coupled with the imposition of penalties for false returns or failure to make returns or pay amounts assessed will this year much increase the amount contributed to the national treasury through the federal income tax. Upwards of 150,000 persons will pay the tax, and the amount which will be collected during the year is estimated at $35,000,000. While this is an improvement over last year it does not yet compare favorably, for instance, with collections in New Zealand, where in 1919 over six million sterling, or about $31,000,000, was collected. New Zealand has but one-eighth the population of Canada and on the same ratio Canada should collect $240,000,000.

Next year in Canada it is proposed to still further tighten up the regulations and stiffen penalties. There have been many prosecutions, both civil and criminal during the past year. There will be more next year. It will be provided, for instance, that a person who underestimates his income will be forced to pay the total amount underestimated, plus the tax on the aggregate, and will, in addition, be subject to prosecution and heavy penalty for fake returns. Prosecutions will be automatic and no leniency will be permitted for alleged errors. The books of professional men, where necessary, will be examined and checked up.

The commissioner of taxation reports that the farmers are now making returns much more satisfactorily than before. Among those who have been assessed this year is a "bootlegger," who admits to the possession of an income of $15,000.

ARMENIANS AND TURK RADICALS SIGN A TRUCE

Hostilities Cease Between the Opposing Factions.

London, Nov. 11.—An armistice has been signed between the Armenians and the Turkish Nationalists, it is announced in an Armenian communique dated November 7, received here today.

WILLING TO SPEND $250,000 TO MAKE O. T. A. EFFECTIVE

Toronto, Nov. 11.—It is said in Government circles that the Drury Government is prepared to spend $250,000 to increase the strength of the Ontario provincial police to enforce the O. T. A., and if the Legislature does not indorse this additional expenditure, then the Government will place it before the people. It is the intention to have all law enforcement under one department, that of the attorney-general.

During the past year the provincial police have been almost doubled, and further additions are to be made. Recruits have been undergoing instruction for some time, and more applications are being received.

WATER LINE BOUNDARY WILL BE NO BARRIER IN FUTURE ON WAR AGAINST BORDER RUM-RUNNERS

Arrangement Made Between Detroit and Canadian Officials Whereby Officers From Each District Will Be On Same Patrol Boat—Scheme Expected to Prove Effective.

Windsor, Nov. 11.—(Canadian Press)—The international boundary line will no longer present a barrier to American and Canadian officers in pursuit of malefactors over the Detroit river.

Following a conference in Detroit a short time ago between Dr. Inches, commissioner of police; W. E. Raney, Attorney-General of Ontario; Joseph Rogers, superintendent of provincial police; Crown Attorney J. H. Rodd and the late Magistrate Alfred Miers of Windsor, it was decided that to make the campaign along the border against rum-runners more effective an American officer should accompany Canadian license squads in their expeditions, and vice versa.

This means that Canadian officers chasing a boat, loaded with liquor, on the Detroit river, will no longer be forced to give up the chase when the craft enters American waters. On the contrary, they will be able to follow it to the American shore, if necessary, The same will apply to American officers who will have a Canadian official aboard.

The arrangement has been described as a co-operative agreement between the two countries to facilitate the curbing of the wholesale traffic in liquor along the border.

BERLIN WORKS CLOSED DOWN BY UNEMPLOYED

London, Nov. 11.—Three thousand unemployed men, part of whom were armed, stormed the Lion metal works in Berlin yesterday, drove out the proprietors and engineers, and extinguished the furnace fires, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from the German capital.

In the north side gas plant of Berlin, it is said, workmen drove out the industrial council and established a political soviet.

FARMERS LOWER MILK PRICES, BUT CITIZENS PAY JUST AS MUCH

Increased Overhead Expenses One Reason for the Present Prices, Say Dealers—Made More Money When Milk Sold at Six Cents Per Quart, Is Claim.

Declaring that though the milk producers have decreased the price of milk to the dealers in order to find a market for their supply, the dealers have not carried the good news on to the consumer, a householder in whose home a considerable quantity of milk is used daily, today asked a representative of The Advertiser, "Why is it?"

But before an answer could be found, he proceeded to answer his own question this wise: "I guess Londoners are too fond of a quiet life; they don't agitate enough or they would be getting the advantage of the lower prices, the same as other cities, such as Hamilton, Toronto, etc.

Was Sufficient.

"When the dealers were paying the farmers 4 cents a quart for milk, they sold it to the consumer at 8 cents and found this sufficient to meet all their overhead expenses, but when they had to pay the producer 5 cents, they promptly raised the price to the consumer to 10 cents a quart, so that they got 5 cents' profit, whereas before they had been content with 4 cents. And with each advance in price to the farmer they doubled the cost to the consumer till when 7 cents a quart was paid to the farmers, the consumer was required to pay the producer also 7 cents, making the cost of the milk to him 14 cents a quart."

"But despite the fact that with the closing of the milk condensing factories the farmers have without any suggestion on the part of the dealers reduced the wholesale price of their milk, the people of London are still paying 14 cents a quart. Every time the farmer got more, the dealer took care that he also got more, so that when the wholesale price of milk was 7 cents they were, and still are, getting 7 cents for themselves as against the four cents which satisfied them when they paid only four cents for the milk."

No Decline Coming.

That the dealers see no likelihood of a decline in the price of milk to the consumer, not at least for some time to come, was the statement made today by the manager of the City Creamery in reply to an inquiry made by The Advertiser.

"We made more money when we were selling milk at 6 cents a quart than we do today at 14 cents a quart," said the manager. "It is true that milk doubles in value from the time we buy it from the producer till we sell it to the consumer. It is also true that the figures show a very large increase proportionately in the amount which the dealers receive, but this is more than offset by the fact that there have been great increases in our costs. We, like the rest of the citizens of London, have to pay a very great deal more for coal, bottle caps have increased to four times their former costs; bottles have also made a heavy advance."

The speaker, answering a question, acknowledged that the farmers are receiving less for their milk than a short time back, but claimed that the decrease is less than half a cent a quart. He added: "You don't want to forget that we are paying double in wages to what we were when milk was selling to the consumer at 8 cents a quart. We are not asking anything more from the consumers than we actually need to carry on, on a paying basis. In regard to what you say about the decline in the price of milk in Toronto and Quebec, you want to remember that the people in those cities have been paying 2 or 3 cents a quart more than you have paid here in London, though the costs of handling are not any greater."

Bylaws Involving Large Sums Will Be Voted On

Expenditures of $692,000 To Be Placed in the London Bill Without Vote of People —Drawing-Up Duty of Old Council Instead of New.

BYLAWS.

$50,000 grant to Sick Children's Hospital.

$50,000 grant to Home for Incurables.

$200,000 debentures for Springbank dam and river improvement.

$100,000 debentures for motor bus system.

LONDON BILL, NO VOTE.

Electrical extensions, $125,000.

Waterworks extensions, $135,000.

L. and P. S. R., $257,000.

Storm sewers, $175,000.

Bylaws involving debenture issues of $400,000 will come before the electors January 1 if the recommendations of No. 1 committee Wednesday afternoon are approved by the city council Monday night.

Expenditures aggregating $692,000 will be placed in the London bill for approval by the Legislature, and will not be sent to the people. The bill will also seek to secure commission form of government for the city. The same plan submitted last year will be advocated again. The measure will also ask authority to operate a motor bus system.

A grant of $1,000 for the Victorian Order of Nurses and the expenditure of half a mill on playgrounds will be considered by the council and will not be voted on as formerly.

New Principle.

The committee followed a new principle in drafting the London bill. In previous years it was drawn up by the incoming council. The Legislature will meet earlier than usual in 1921, and municipal bills in order to be considered at this session are being drafted by outgoing councils throughout the province. This will make it impossible to include items voted down at the elections, as was done locally this spring.

Mayor Little said at the committee meeting Wednesday that he approved the plan, as the outgoing council was in a better position to know the city's needs than the newly-elected one. If some of the items in the measure were not approved the electors could indicate this by the men they returned to the council.

Clauses not desired could be struck out by the new council, but no additions could be made.

The largest individual item recommended for the London bill was the proposed L. & P. S. R. expenditures of $257,500. This was itemized as: Locomotive, steam shovel and additional cars, $114,200; 85-pound rails, sidings, switches and tracks, $67,400; car barn extension, freight shed and passenger station extensions, $44,600; road crossings, platform shelters, $6,500; overhead bridge, St. Thomas, $5,700; coal ferry slip and scales, $19,100.

Can't Stop Now.

"We have put a lot of money into the road, but we can't stop," was Mayor Little comment. "It is a question of making additional expenditure or losing what we have. They are using passenger coaches to haul gravel trains and express cars to haul coal. All the rolling stock will have to be scrapped unless we take care of the business in the proper way. Gravel cars are being loaded by hand at present. A big saving could be made by the use of a steam shovel. There is a lot of additional coal business from the G. T. R. to be handled."

The debentures asked by the Public Utilities Commission and which will be placed in the bill are for routine extensions in the waterworks and electrical departments. Similar issues were approved by the Ontario Railway Board this summer, because the Legislature refused its sanction to the whole London bill. The expenditure for storm sewers was recommended by No. 2 committee.

The motor bus project—requiring a debenture issue of $100,000—was fathered by Ald. F. E. Harley. It will not necessarily mean an immediate expenditure, he said, but will give the city some protection in the event of street railway service being suspended. The approval of the council would be required before any of the money could be expended and would not be used unless urgently required.

Erection of Dam.

The expenditure proposed on the river is for the plan outlined by Mayor Little last week. He claimed that it is only a matter of time before the city will have to obtain an addition to its water supply from Komoka. Erection of a dam at that point and rebuilding the Springbank dam would supply water to pump the water to the reservoir, he said.

In addition the river would be beautified and would be deepened so that it could be used for small craft. The land and water rights can be obtained cheaply under an agreement to supply electrical power to the present owners from the supply developed at the dams. The expenditures would not affect the tax rate, he said, and would be justified from the standpoints of both beauty and utility.

Nominations for civic offices will take place December 22. Hospital trustees will be nominated at 10 a.m.; school trustees at noon, and aldermen at 8 p.m.

Aside from the preparation of the London bill and drawing up bylaws, the session was a busy one. City Clerk Baker was authorized to attend the convention of the International Municipal League at Indianapolis, November 17, 18 and 19. A petition to change the name of the Pipe Line road to Springbank avenue was filed. The cost would be about $400, as title deeds and other documents have to be changed. It may be considered later with other changes in street names.

Want Representatives.

The trades and labor council will be asked to send representatives to meet a committee of the council and tenants and landlords in regard to alleged rent profiteering. With several other bodies the trades and labor council asked a public meeting for this purpose. Members of the committee felt that more would be gained by a thorough discussion than a public meeting, which could be held later if still desired.

New plumbing regulations were submitted by the board of health. They will be printed and discussed later.

The fire department was authorized to participate in the Armistice celebration tonight. The mayor and aldermen were invited to join in the parade and the program at the armories. Mayor Little urged the aldermen to be present.

Chief Aitken recommended installation of 24 hydrants for protection of public and separate schools. This was referred to the 1921 council.

A MEAN MAN

Who is the meanest man in London? Opinions throughout the city may differ, but those who were in attendance in police court Wednesday morning believe they have found him.

A lone drunk graced the docket. Although he admitted having consumed a considerable amount of liquor, Tuesday evening, he pleaded not guilty. The officers were so firm in their belief that he was drunk, they convinced the magistrate.

The magistrate leaned over. "Where did you get it?"

"Oh, I got it all right and I know where I can get lots more."

"Where?"

"I won't tell."

He paid a fine of $10 dollars.

TRYING TO REACH A WORKABLE BASIS

Costs of Machinery Do Not Indicate Lower Price Levels.

In the summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for the week, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment:

Prices and price talk engage the attention of the market this week even more than before. There is a sincere desire on the part of a large section of the trade to get down to a workable basis as soon as possible, but there are very real difficulties in the way, chiefest among these being that costs do not show much tendency toward lower levels.

One maker of machine tools in Canada stated this week that there was very little chance of them announcing a lower price under present conditions, as there was nothing in their cost of manufacturing that was showing a lessening. However this may be, the fact remains that a number of American makers of machine tools have announced reductions to their representatives in Canada, and they are now working on the new schedule. New York is to be the centre of interest this week, and it is generally believed that following the convention of the National Machine Tools Association there will be some announcement, concerted or otherwise, dealing with the price feature. Cuts already made range from 15 to 20 per cent.

Small tools have been reduced in Canada by some 10 per cent.

The steel market itself is quieter, but there is still a good deal of business to be secured. Manufacturers are not buying in large quantities, nor have they for some years past. The reasons for this are two in number: First, they could not get the material if they were able to pay the price, and second, the price has been too high in most cases to get them away from the hand-to-mouth class. A slight reduction is announced this week in warehouse prices of bar iron, now selling at 5½c per pound. Most of the bar iron trade is supplied from the Canadian mills.

The scrap metal market went through a severe pruning at the hands of the dealers this week. They cut fast and deep into the lists they had been working on for buying purposes. Whether this decides the matter remains to be seen. A dealer can name his price, but if the seller will not accept it there is still room for an argument. Just now there are only three or four lines that are wanted, and these are scarce, and mostly in the iron and steel lines. Copper and brass scrap are drugs on the market, and business is stagnant.

Council Will Be Asked To Issue $13,000 Debentures for Site.

Arrangements for the erection of a children's hospital are rapidly nearing completion. On Monday night the city council will be asked to issue $13,000 debentures in payment for the site. The total cost of the property is $18,467. Houses on it were sold for $5,000, leaving only the remaining $13,000 to be paid by the council. The council will also decide whether to submit a bylaw to make a grant of $50,000 to the hospital. If a favorable vote is recorded on this, it will be possible to start building operations immediately, as the remainder of the necessary funds have been obtained by private subscription.

Other Woman Beat Husband, Wife Testifies

Mrs. Stewart, Contesting Divorce, Says She Gave Love, Not Violence.

Detroit, Nov. 11.—"So help me God, I never struck my husband. I loved him too much," declared Mrs. Alice Stewart in Judge Mandell's court on Wednesday, where she is contesting a divorce suit started by her husband, William. Mrs. Stewart does not want a divorce, and is anxious for a reconciliation.

The couple were married in 1897. The honeymoon was scarcely over when Stewart sent his wife to her home for a visit. They did not meet again for ten years. Mrs. Stewart charging that her husband deserted her. When they met Mrs. Stewart said she did not know her husband, he had changed so.

Stewart charges that his wife beat and scratched him and created a disturbance if he visited his mother.

"I have seen my husband with a black eye," Mrs. Stewart said, "but he got it in a saloon, and I helped to treat him when he came home."

Mrs. Stewart told of seeing a strange woman around their home one afternoon, and when her husband came from work this woman gave him a beating with an umbrella.

"MUCH OBLIGED"

Premier Drury is "much obliged" for the suggestion from the London City Council that this municipality's representation in the Legislature be increased from one to four members. A communication received from him by City Clerk Baker acknowledges the receipt of the city's communication, but makes no comment.

No further action will be taken by the city until the matter has been considered by the Legislature. The move to obtain the increased representation was due to an intimation by the Drury Government that proportional representation might be tried in the combined ridings of Middlesex and London.

Middlesex County will be represented in the inter-county judging competition at Guelph Winter Fair, open to young men not over 25 years of age, selected by the agricultural county representative from young men who have taken a short course in agriculture, but have not taken a regular course at an agricultural college. A very handsome silver trophy is offered to the team in this competition winning the greatest number of points. The trophy was donated by the late Hon. S. J. Duff, but must be won three times before becoming the property of any county.

There are also judging competitions open to all individuals not over 25 years of age at the winter fair on December 6 and 7. The prizes range from $10 for first, to $6 for fifth prize in each of the following classes: Horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine, poultry. All entries must reach J. E. BETTER FIRE PROTECTION, LONDON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Plans drawn Up By Fire Chief To Be Considered By 1921 City Council.

Plans for providing public and separate schools with better fire protection have been drawn up by Fire Chief John Aitken. They will be considered early next year by the new council. Estimates of the cost will be prepared in the meantime. He suggests the installation of 25 hydrants. At the present rate of $18 charged by the public utilities commission this would mean an annual upkeep of $432.

The disposition of the hydrants suggested by the chief is: Aberdeen 1, Alexandra 2, Boyle Memorial 1, Egerton 1, Empress Avenue 1, Lord Roberts 2, Lorne Avenue 1, Rectory 1, Riverview 4, Ryerson 2, Simcoe 1, Talbot 1, St. Peter's 1, Victoria 3, Wortley road 3.

Hood's Sarsaparilla comprises remedies that every physician prescribes for rheumatism, combined with other blood-purifying, tonic and strength-building ingredients in a formula vastly superior in make-up and in curative power. TOY-TOWN

OPENS SATURDAY

It Is All Smiles For Children and Grown-Ups Too

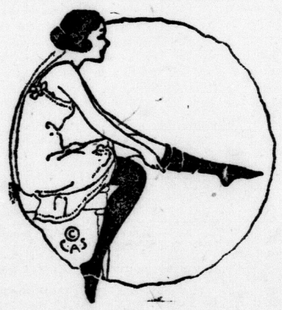

Toytown is the capital of the country called Joyland, and is now located in our Basement. Joyland had to have a temporary capital, as his honor, the president of this great republic, expects to spend a great deal of his time in this vicinity. So his cabinet, composed of his willing helpers, decided to move Toytown to our store. And here it will be Saturday ready to make records of all good little boys and girls, and anxious to know just what they would like for Christmas.

The great national business of Santa Claus & Co. will have on display more toys, games, dolls, books, mechanical toys and other things enjoyed by big and little girls and boys than we have ever had before at any one time. It is a wonderful and very practical display at the same time, for there is not a thing here that has not passed the censorship of Santa Claus and his cabinet.

COUNTY MAGISTRATE GIVES REASONS FOR FINING WESTBROOK

New Sections in Statutes of Ontario Cover Defendant's Offence.

Ex-warden Turnbull who is county magistrate at Komoka has explained how Hugh Westbrook was fined for carrying a gun and having a dead rabbit in his possession. Magistrate Turnbull points to sections in the new Ontario statutes which expressly prohibit the shooting of rabbits by any other parties than the farmer or lease-holder on the premises on which the shooting occurs. Some months ago, hunters from the city shot and killed a valuable farm horse. Only a short time ago a sheep was similarly killed. Farmers in the vicinity are incensed over the shooting of farm animals by careless or irresponsible sportsmen and are inclined to ask, what is the use of a law if it cannot be inforced.

As Westbrook admitted shooting the rabbit on the premises not his own, Mr. Turnbull contends that he was perfectly right in fining him $5 as provided under the act. How Westbrook came to pay $10 in all, is explained by the fact that the act also provided for the confiscation of the rifle. It was a valuable rifle worth $25 belonging to Westbrook's brother and County Constable Brown did insist upon its confiscation, Mr. Turnbull admits. At the magistrate's suggestion as a way out of the difficulty, it is claimed that Westbrook was quite agreeable to paying an extra $5, and being allowed to rreturn the rifle to its owner. "I did this rather than permit the confiscation of the rifle," said Mr. Turnbull.

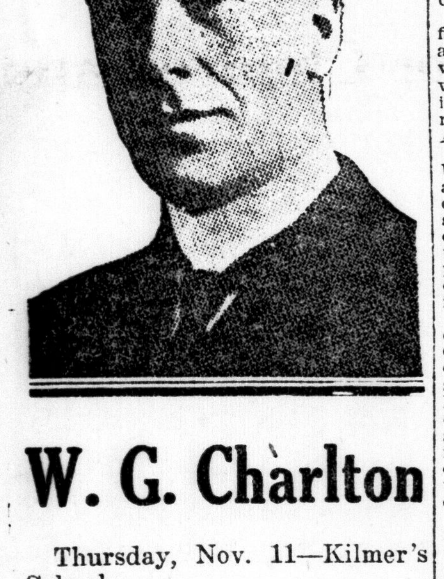

MAKES OBJECTIONS

Ed. Lance Thinks British Flag, as Well as American Emblem, Should Be Unfurled by American Consul.

Objection to the American consulate flying the American flag over its offices were made today by Secretary Ed. Lance of the soldiers' aid commission. Mr. Lance voiced his objection immediately after being informed that the American consul had hung up the flag. He declared that he believed that the British flag should have been hung up alongside of it. The American flag has been flying for nearly a month and because of the fact that very few Union Jacks had been unfurled today, the American flag as a result became more conspicuous. Every British consul in the United States has the Union Jack flying from his diplomatic residence, and no objections are made.

Prior to the flag being placed, permission was granted by the head officials of the Royal Bank of Canada. The Royal Bank officials always raise the Union Jack over the buildings on holidays, or whenever it is necessary.

DO NOT WANT MORE MEMBERS FOR LONDON

C. of C. Directors Take No Action On Request of City Council.

The directors of the chamber of commerce took no action Wednesday in the matter of a request from the city council that delegates be appointed to go with a civic deputation to Toronto, urging larger representation for the cities in the Ontario Government. The chamber of commerce is not in favor of increased representation. Rather it favors a reduction in the present number of members of the Ontario Legislature.

Under a new system of representation according to population, the chamber of commerce points out that Toronto would have ten times as many members as London. If London had four members Toronto would have forty members. The chamber of commerce is inclined to favor a rearrangement of constituencies to reduce the representation of districts, which have more representatives than they are fairly entitled to in proportion to population.

W. O. LIBRARY INSTITUTE IN SESSION AT PUBLIC LIBRARY; 150 DELEGATES

Technical Matters Concerning Control and Operation of Libraries Under Review.

The Public Library Institute for Western Ontario opened its session this afternoon at the public library here. Over 150 deegates were in attendance. W. O. Carson, public library inspector for Ontario, conducted a round-table conference and technical matters in connection with general library work were discussed.

John Cottam gave an addess on "Growing Younger," and Miss Mabel B. Dunham of Kitchener gave an interesting report on the Ontario Library convention held in Toronto recently.

At this evening's session, John M. Gunn will give a little talk on "Bards of Battle," and Miss Lillian H. Smith will speak on "Boys and Girls and Their Books." B. C. McCann, chairman of the library board, will preside at the evening session.

The public library is a bureau of information for delegates visiting today. The walls are decorated with various posters, giving the titles of good books on almost every subject. The picture on the poster denotes the subject.

City Briefs

BANK CLEARINGS.—The bank clearings for this week were: $4,042,250, and for the corresponding week in 1919 were: $3,680,070, an increase of $362,180.

ENTERTAIN FRIDAY.—The freshmen classes in arts at the Western University will hold a year entertainment and social evening in the arts' building Friday evening.

ANOTHER MISS LEE.—Miss Muriel Lee of Egerton street wishes it understood that she is not the Miss Muriel Lee who was implicated in a police court case last September.

AT STRATHROY. — Judge Talbot Macbeth is presiding over the Strathroy division court this afternoon. Small litigation cases appear to be considerable in number throughout the country. Quite a number were heard before Judge Macbeth in the Glencoe division court on Tuesday.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT.—Modern office equipment is to be installed in the assessment department to aid in the work of revision. An adding machine will be purchased early next year, and in the meantime one will be rented, as no funds are available to purchase one. A typewriter will also be bought.

TRAIL RANGERS CAMP FIRE.—Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., a trail rangers' grand camp will be held on the Sage farms, north Adelaide street, at the Thames River, on Saturday, November 20. Each group will take along its own provisions, but plenty of firewood will be available for camp fires for all the groups participating.

ENTERTAIN AT SUPPER.—On Friday evening at 6 o'clock the Women's Guild will entertain the men of the Church of St. John the Evangelist to a supper. Very Rev. Dean Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral, will address the gathering; N. F. Willmott will give a stereopticon program, and an old-fashioned sing-song will be held. Upwards of one hundred men are expected to attend. Rev. A. L. G. Clarke will act as chairman.

OFFICIATED AT SARNIA.—Dr. L. S. Holmes of this city, grand master of the Canadian Order of Beavers, officiated at the opening of a new lodge of the order at Sarnia last night. He was assisted by the grand secretary, E. J. W. Griffith; the grand representative, J. Thurlow, and the distict deputy, L. Howe, all of Windsor. The Beavers, who are a comparatively new organization, now have lodges in six Ontario cities.

W. U. GOVERNORS MEET.—Only routine matters were discussed at the meeting of the board of governors of the Western University Wednesday, according to members. Increased temporary accommodation is greatly needed at once for the university, but how this will be provided is not yet definitely settled. With the probable vacation of the old medical school by the medical classes at Christmas, it is likely that some of the arts classes will be transferred to that building.

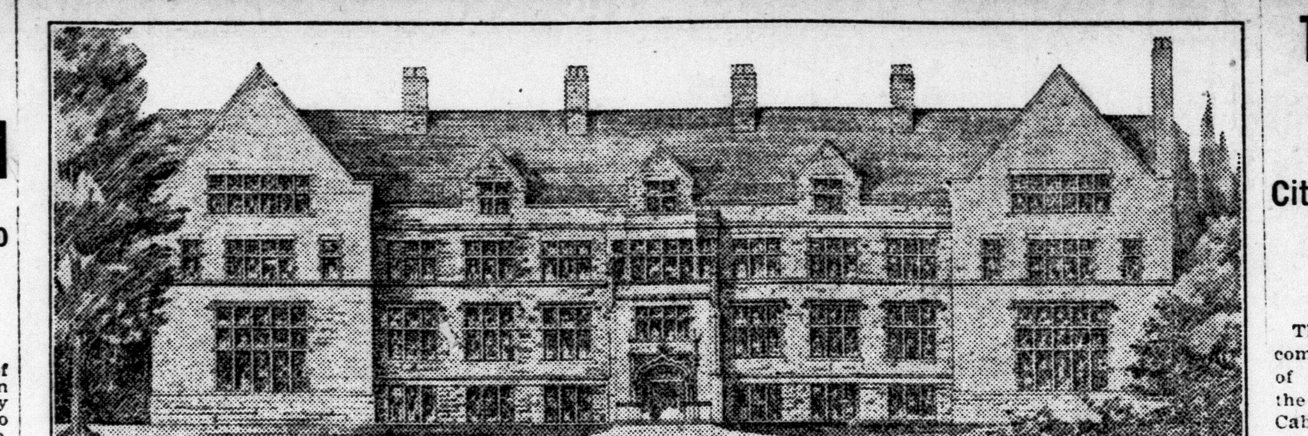

AFTER LUMBERJACKS. — C. S. Mickle, a representative of Mickle, Dyment & Son, Gravenhurst, Ont., visited the local Ontario Government Employment Bureau today and asked for 100 men to work in the lumber camps of Northern Ontario. Old-time, experienced lumberjacks are hard to get, according to Mr. Mickle, but not too much difficulty is being found in getting men who may soon make good woodsmen. He secured some men here, but not the hundred that he requires.

POLICE ON JOB.—To facilitate the movement of the parade this evening policemen will be stationed at all the important street intersections in the vicinity of the starting point of the line of march. Officers will be stationed at Waterloo and York streets, Colborne and King streets, Queen's avenue and Wellington street, Queen's avenue and Waterloo street, and at different points on Dundas street. All traffic will be kept from the streets where the parade will be formed up for at least an hour before the starting time, Chief of Police Birrell announced this morning.

NONE OUT YET.—"None of the cancelling machines have been sent out to the local storekeepers yet," said T. G. Davis, collector of inland revenue, in reply to a question. "We now have 700 machines on hand, but none will be sent out till the licenses are ready, and these are being prepared as rapidly as possible, and as soon as they are ready the license and cancelling machine will be sent out together. We shall probably require more than double the 700 cancellers now on hand before all the merchants are supplied, but every effort is being made to put them in operation as early as possible."

LOOKING FOR RELATIVES.—Chief of Police Robert Birrell has been asked by Mrs. John Cormore, a former Londoner, now living at 513 North Madison avenue, Bay City, to assist in a search which she is conducting for two sisters whom she has not seen for 40 years. Mrs. Cormore, who was then Sarah Derry, was brought to a children's home located on the present site of the Westminster Hospital in this city from England, along with her sisters, Amelia and Clara, when she was but 4 years old, and soon after the death of her parents in 1877. She was adopted by a family by the name of Hubbard soon after, and in the course of a few years she moved to Collingwood. Since that time she has not seen nor heard of her sisters.

NATURAL SCIENCE BUILDING FOR WESTERN UNIVERSITY

This building is one hundred and ninety-five feet long, with two wings each one hundred and thirty-feet deep. The offices and laboratories of the departments of chemistry and physics will occupy the first floor. The second floor will be given over to the department of biology, while on the third floor will be located the geological laboratories and museum. It has 60,000 feet of floor space.

CANADIAN AUDIENCES ARE TOPPING, SAYS PRETTY MISS DARON

Leading Lady in "Maid of the Mountains" Plans Three-Year Stay in This Country.

"The Canadian audiences are topping. I only hope that they like me just as much as I like them," said Miss Viva Daron, leading lady in the musical comedy, "The Maid of the Mountains," playing at the Grand Theatre for the remainder of the week, to an Advertiser reporter this afternoon.

Miss Daron is a typical English young miss. She has a complexion for which only English beauties are famous, and dancing brown eyes that match her hair. Miss Daron simply goes in raptures over Canada, and says, "You will understand how much I love it when I tell you that I have just signed a three-year contract with the Trans-Canada

MISS VIVA DARON.

Theatre Company for $80,000 without telling my mother. My mother thinks that I am here for three months, but at each city I write and tell her I am going to stay for six months longer."

Miss Daron has a delightful soprano voice, and has sung her way into the hearts of capacity Canadian audiences wherever she has played in the leading role in the "Maid of the Mountains." Tonight for the first time she will be accompanied by a harpist while singing her love lyrics. Miss Daron has engaged Miss Lucy Weston of London, England, a renowned harpist, who will come to Canada shortly and accompany her on a concert tour.

"I much prefer singing to acting, because you know right away whether your audience is pleased or not." Miss Daron just before coming to Canada had been playing in the movies in Southern France, taking parts in scenarios from three of Marion Crawford's famous books. "I was very much surprised when Percy Hutchinson approached me and asked me to take the role I am playing. I had never done much of this work before, only studying a little after I had won the London Times prize for ballad singing."

When asked if she was never tired playing every night in the week, Miss Daron replied: "I'm only tired when I'm not playing. I feel lost and get a bit homesick."

Miss Daron, though becoming famous on the American continent for her singing and acting, is most demure, and not "a bit fond of too much praise." "I only like to know that my acting is pleasing," she said.

ON C. P. R.

All trains on the C. P. R. will be stopped for two minutes at 12 o'clock (noon) today in commemoration of Armistice Day, according to Superintendent R. McKillop. Work in the shops will also be at a standstill.

THIS WILL MAKE YOU SNIFF.

During the moments when Bill Sneath is not wooing the muses, he smashes baggage on the London, Huron and Bruce, aboard a train which wends its way northward every evening. Some time ago Bill told a weird story of a cow which, refusing to budge, stood in the track and stuck out its tongue at oncoming train. The train was forced to stop, while the engineer and fireman fumed and raged because their engine was not larger.

Bill's Latest.

"Not long after our adventure with the cow, the engineer and fireman, who were still feeling sore on account of the indignities which had been heaped on their engine," said Bill, speaking in poetical language, "thought they saw an opportunity to revenge themselves on the animal kingdom. It was just before dusk when the engineer saw a small animal crawl on the tracks a little way ahead.

"The fireman tooted the whistle, but the four-footed creature emulating the actions of the cow, refused to move. 'Ha!' breathed the engineer, 'because the cow put it over on us, you think you can do the same. Well, here is where we call your bluff.

"Calling upon the gods to assist, the long-funnelled engine, he drove full speed at the creature. He struck it, and the trained passed on with barely a shudder. Their victory was short-lived, however, for during the remainder of that trip they had to ride with all windows of their cab closed. They had struck a skunk.

"The cleaners nearly went on strike when they had to clean our engine next day," concluded Bill.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Six and seven carloads of immigrants pass through this city every week on their way back to their native lands where they go to celebrate Christmas. The majority of them embark at Montreal. A carload will pass through this city, via the G. T. R., at 6:58 this evening.

All trains on the G. T. R. will be stopped for two minutes at 12 o'clock today noon to commemorate the signing of peace. Not a wheel on the whole system will move during the two-minute interval.

SURE SIGN OF WINTER.

The Huron and Bruce train arrived in the city covered with snow yesterday. The train crew reported that an inch of snow fell this side of Kincardine. The train was not blocked at any time.

CHIEF BILL CLERK.

W. E. Evans has been appointed chief bill clerk at the G. T. R. freight office, it was announced today.

LATEST WELL SUNK LOOKS LIKE WINNER

Good Flow of Water at Wellington and Nelson Street Shaft.

Prospects of a good flow of water have been found in a test boring being made for a new well by the public utilities commission at the corner of Wellington and Nelson streets, was the news made known to The Advertiser by Chairman T. W. McFarland. With the bore down 40 feet, water is already standing in the four-inch pipe within four feet of the top, a height considerably above the surface level of the river and indicative that the water is not river water.

Continuation of the four-inch bore will be made till gravel is struck, generally at a depth of 60 to 70 feet in this part of the city and a depth which eliminates the possibility of surface water. When the gravel has been reached a test of the flow will be made, and if the yield is around 200,000 gallons a day a 12-inch pipe will be installed and the water, after its purity has been proven by test will be pumped into the mains.

Should either the flow or purity prove unsatisfactory the 12-inch pipe will not be installed, the use of four-inch pipe in the test borings means a saving to the city of the cost of the larger outfit until the value of the well is assured.

The minimum daily flow of a well worth operating has been placed by the engineers at 200,000 gallons. With the exception that, where a battery of wells is located a well yielding only 150,000 may be used in conjunction with the other wells of the group, otherwise such a well would not pay for the cost of operating.

Mr. McFarland also stated that it is quite possible if the weather remains good that the official opening of the new reservoir at Springbank will take place some day next week. The reservoir is now quite completed with the exception of the curb, which will be finished this week, and the connecting up of the pipe.

HELPING SANTA CLAUS

Kindergarten Classes at Talbot Street School Visit the "Vet Craft Shop."

The kindergarten and primary classes at the Talbot street school celebrated Armistice Day by visiting the C.S.C.R. "Vet Craft Shop" on the corner of Ridout and Albert streets. The children marched from the school to the shop with their teachers, Miss Gertrude Bapty and Miss C. Baxter, all bearing flags in their small chubby hands, as well as candy and flowers, which they promptly bestowed upon the soldiers in the shop. Their own pretty little action was soon forgotten, however, in their delight over the toys which the soldiers are making at the shop. And as they examined them, they were told that in bringing their gifts to the soldiers they were helping Santa Claus.

THREE ARE KILLED WHEN FUEL TANK EXPLODES

New York, Nov. 11.—Three bodies were discovered this morning in the hold of the Morgan Line steamship, El Mundon, where nine men were seriously injured yesterday when one of the vessel's fuel tanks exploded while she was tied up to her Hudson River pier. Latest reports from the rescuers last night indicated that there had been no loss of life.

DISPUTE RESULTS ON HIGH BARBERING COST

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(By Canadian Press).—The failure of David Schaeffer of Bridgeport, Conn., and the proprietor of the Grand Union barber shop, to reach a compromise regarding a dispute over the high cost of barbering resulted in their appearance in the Essex Market police court, where Magistrate Sweetser handed down a decision, after appraising the work done to the customer. The magistrate valued it at $2, and directed the barber to return to his customer $2.85, which he was overcharged, in the magistrate's opinion.

It seemed that Mr. Schaeffer had a 60-cent haircut, a twenty-five cent shave, a fifty-cent singe, a fifty-cent wash, a seventy-five-cent shampoo, a sixty-five-cent massage, a fifty-cent manicuring, and a rub which sold for $1.10.

CLOSED FOR AFTERNOON.—City offices marked Armistice Day by closing at 1 o'clock. The council's proclamation, while not influencing the majority of the merchants, was law as far as all municipal departments were concerned, and city employees rejoiced in the fact. Aldermen honored the occasion by foregoing any meetings in the afternoon or evening in order that they could participate in the celebration tonight.

He complained of feeling weak and went out into the barnyard, where is was seen to sit down and rest for a while and then go inside the pig sty. When he did not appear some of those in the house went to look for him and found him lying dead just inside the door.

A physician was summoned and found that death was due to heart-failure.

A prominent feature in connection with the big Mocha Temple "Shriners' Circus" to be held in the Masonic Temple all next week in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital, will be the huge introductory parade on Saturday night. The parade is to be a real circus parade, elephants, monkeys and all manner of interesting animals taking part in it, the animals having long since been secreted in the mystic chambers of the Shrine at the temple. The Mocha Patrol will march with the Mocha Patrol Band. The Army and Navy Veterans are to take part, with the Army and Navy Veterans' Band. The Kiltie Band, the Boys' Naval Brigade, and an exceedingly funny clown band will all have a share in this gigantic parade advertising the Shriners' Circus and the Sick Children's Hospital. Every organization in the city, represented on the memorial children's hospital committee, will be represented by one or more decorated automobiles. The parade is to start from the Masonic Temple about 8:45 on Saturday evening, having formed up there at 8:30. The line of march has not yet been determined, but will be announced later.

SPLENDID STOCK AT ANNUAL SALE OF ELGIN SHORTHORNS

Cattlemen Were Present From All Over the District.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 10.—The fifth annual sale of the Elgin Shorthorn Breeders Association attracted cattle men from all over the district and was most successful.

The judging was done by Professor George E. Day of Guelph Agricultural College, secretary of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, who stated that the showing in Scotch stock, particularly the young female animals, was one of the finest he had ever seen.

W. H. Ford & Sons of Dutton, were successful in capturing both the special prizes donated by the Dominion Bank of this city for the champions in the male and female classes, while a special silver cup donated by F. W. Darby of the Farmers' Sun, Toronto, for the best two-year-old heifer, was won by John D. Ferguson & Sons of North Yarmouth. The rules governing the new trophy are that it be contested for five years and retained by the man winning it two years in succession.

The winners in the various classes were as follows:

Bulls under one year—First, W. H. Ford & Son, Dutton; second, W. G. Sanders & Son, St. Thomas; third, D. McPherson, Dutton.

Heifer calves, under one year—First, W. H. Ford & Sons; second, John McLean & Sons; third, Duncan McPherson; fourth, W. H. Ford & Sons; fifth, J. D. Ferguson & Son.

VETERANS' PROTEST SUCCEEDS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 11.—Protesting against the presence of Mayor E. V. Babcock in the reviewing stand, because the city recently issued a permit for what they termed a pro-German tag-day, scores of overseas veterans who took part in the Armistice Day parade here refused to march past the stand. After vainly trying to make a speech which was drowned by the cries of spectators and marchers, Mayor Babcock left the stand and the parade proceeded.

ST. RAILWAY FAILS TO PAY SHARE OF PAVING RECTORY ST.

City Engineer Unable to Collect $5,954 From Railway Company.

The street railway situation may be complicated still further by the failure of the company to pay its share of the cost of paving Rectory street from Cabell street to the Hamilton road last year. No action is being taken by the city at present, pending a further reply from the company to letters sent by City Engineer H. A. Brazier. The bill against the company is $5,954.

The work was done late last year in spite of protests from the company that it had no funds available and could not get the material required. All efforts to colelct the bill have failed, and City Engineer Brazier has therefore brought the matter to the attention of the council.

TERMS EXPIRE, BUT WILL THEY RETIRE?

F. G. Mitchell and T. W. McFarland Have Not Decided On Course.

The two members of the public utilities commission whose term of service expires at the end of the year, are T. W. McFarland, chairman of the commission, and F. G. Mitchell, but neither of them were prepared today to make any statement as the possibility of his standing for re-election.

In reply to The Advertiser's inquiry Mr. Mitchell said: "I have not yet given the matter consideration, and, therefore, cannot tell you what my decision will be." Mr. McFarland's reply was: "I don't know at present which course of action I shall take in the matter."

Artist's Model Says Bachelor Whipped Her

Miss May Rollins Enters Suit Against Millionaire.

New York, Nov. 11.—Details of the $500,000 breach of promise and damage suit which Miss May B. Rollins, an artist's model, has begun against Robert Barbour, multi-millionaire manufacturer of Paterson, N. J., came in for their first review in open court today when the case came up before Justice Henning in the King's County supreme court for argument on two motions. Counsel for the defendant moved the suit be dismissed; counsel for Miss Rollins moved judgment be awarded the plaintiff.

Miss Rollins, who is young and handsome, with a willowy figure, alleges the manufacturer invited her to his bachelor apartments July 13, and after binding her arms, beat her with a whip. Then he told her he never would marry her. Miss Rollins said she suffered extreme mental and bodily injuries.

Counsel for Barbour denied that there had been any promise of marriage or that the young woman had been beaten in his home. Barbour is in Europe. His fortune is estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Nov. 11—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Oils furnished the motive power at the opening of today's stock market. The Mexican and Dutch groups averaged gains of a point each. Houston Oil rose 2¾, and Standard Oil of New Jersey jumped 8 points. Shippings also were strong, and further improvement was shown by a majority of the rails, especially coalers and grangers. Steels, equipments and motors were backward, Bethlehem and Crucible losin 1 point eacgh, and United States Steel a fraction. Preliminary quotations for foreign exchange indicated a renewal of recent pressure, the London rate falling back 2 cents to the pound sterling.

1:30 p.m.—Wall stret directed its attention to high-grade specialties at midday. Extreme losses of 5 to almost 10 points resulted from pressure against Sears-Roebuck, General Electric, American Express, Pierce-Arrow preferred, and Willys-Overland preferred. Oils, rails and steels also became heavy.

POLICE FORCE IS UNDER STRENGTH

Kitchener Authorities Considering Plans For Securing More Protection.

KITCHENER, Nov. 10.—The question of better police protection for Kitchener was taken up an an informal conference today, attended by Mayor J. R. Eden, Magistrate Weir and Chief O'Neill. While no decision can be arrived at until a formal meeting of the police commission, it was given out after the conference that the principal question under consid ration is the raising of the salary schedule paid to new policemen. It is poin ed out that this schedule must be considerably raised before it can be made to appeal to new police recruits. At the present time Kitchener's police strength is six men, including the chief. Four years ago the strength of the force was nine.

EVERY DOG IS ENTITLED TO ONE BITE, SAYS JUDGE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—A person bitten by a dog, if it is proven that the animal has never bitten a human before, is not entitled to damages, Judge Valentine held today in the damage suit of Mrs. Alma Westberg against E. C. Zerris.

Acting upon the theory that every dog is entitled to one bite, the court ruled that although the plaintiff had been bitten severely, judgment for the plaintiff could not be given, as it would be reversed.

Mrs. Westberg and her husband, Fred Westberg, were seeking $6,588, and obtained judgment last January for $626. A new trial was granted on the "one-bite" theory, and Judge Valentine held for the defendant. The biting episode occurred at Wilmington on October 2, 1919, according to the complainant.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

TEACHERS' REQUEST FOR INCREASES IS LAID OVER TO 1921

INCOME TAX DISCUSSED

Resident Teachers Pay, While Non-Resident Exempt—Truant Officer To Investigate.

Members of No. 1 committee of the board of education held their regular monthly session in the board rooms yesterday afternoon, but the demand of the women teachers of the city of London that their "salaries for 1921 shall be increased $300 over the present amount," or a total, according to Secretary McElheran, of nearly $75,000, was not the first nor the most considered item of business before the committee.

As a matter of fact, the matter only came in at the tail end of the proceedings, and was then almost summarily "referred to next year's board" on the motion of Trustee H. Hayman.

It was pointed out that the present scale had only been in force seven months, and Trustee Hayman expressed the opinion that now with indications of a lowering cost of living was not the time to ask for increases in salaries.

Trustee Rowe considered it necessary to deal justly with the teachers, but did not like the idea of revising the salary schedule every month or two.

Provide Uniforms.

Inspector Edwards brought forward a suggestion that the Government grant for cadet training, $350 a year, might be used for the provision of uniforms for the public school cadets. There are at the present time 600 cadets in the city schools, and the only equipment they have is the Strathcona hat and leather belt supplied by the department.

It was suggested that the militia department might be able to assist in the outfitting of the boys by supplying undersized uniforms, which could be remade. The secretary was instructed to make inquiries in this regard. Except for this instruction, the motion of Trustee Rowe, that the matter be left to the 1921 board, was agreed to.

The committee will recommend to the board that 25 sets of health education bulletins, published in the United States, be secured and that the nurses and teachers be asked to make a study of them. The expenditure of $25 in National intelligence tests will also be recommended. These papers are used for the purpose of testing the degree of intelligence in the case of doubtful or backward children with a view to finding out how best to rouse the dormant interests of the child or the line along which instruction is most likely to succeed.

The case of a father, who is earning $63 a month, and who is supporting a family on it, but who had expressed a desire to send his daughter to a city school if he could do it for $2 a month, was considered and in view of the circumstances outlined by Inspector Edwards, it was decided to allow the child to attend if there was available accomodation.

Fee Raised.

Another case mentioned by the inspector in which the father was earning $100 a month, but has only been paying $1 a month for his child's teaching was discussed, and the order made that in future the father contribute $2.50 a month. The regular school fee for children residing outside the city is $8.50.

Objection was raised to teachers resident in the city having to pay income tax, while those who live outside the city boundaries go free, and the committee decided to instruct Truant Officer Dr. Weir to investigate the matter and report.

The application of E. H. McKone, B.A., teacher of the continuation class at Wortley school, to be placed on the same rating as the high school teachers was considered, and the committee decided to recommend that his salary be raised to $2,200.

Discussing a letter from the city clerk relative to the City of London bill, the trustees did not see that they had any concern or interest in the bill, as all their matters are referred to and dealt with by the department of education and not by the city council.

Miss Josephine Fitzgerald was appointed to the permanent teaching staff.

FIRST FALL PARADE OF SIGNALLERS HELD

Instructors Here To Give Six-Weeks' Course For Recruits.

The initial fall turnout of the No. 1 Company of the Canadian Signal Corps was held in the armories last night, and Major Malcolm Maitland, officer commanding, expressed satisfaction at the number of recruits on parade. Following inspection of the company, uniforms and equipment were issued to the ranks, and it was announced that the first signal course to the Canadian militia since the cessation of war would be opened here next week. Q.M.S. Instructor Steele of Ottawa will act as instructor at the armories three nights weekly, and he will arrive in London for this purpose in a few days.

The course will extend over a period of six weeks, and all members of the signal corps are eligible. The turnout last night was a preliminary to the course, which is open to several more recruits, local youths being invited to present themselves at the signal corps orderly room enrollment, any evening this week excepting Saturday.

RESULT NOT SERIOUS.

A collision which did not result seriously, occurred at the corner of Waterloo street and Cental avenue at 4:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when an auto bearing license number 53490 and driven by Mrs. McGuffin of Thorndale, struck a Normal car in charge of Motorman H. Bryce and Conductor J. Henderson.

RETURNED SOLDIER IS SUCCESSFUL IN SPITE OF DISCOURAGEMENT

Does Not Wait for Settlement Board Red Tape to Unwind

ASKS FOR GOVT. LOAN

Walter Cripps Supports Family Despite Inexperience at Gardening.

Walter E. Cripps, the returned soldier who in spite of the discouragement of the Toronto branch of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, decided to embark in market gardening, has now been notified that it will be in order for him to apply again for the loan, which he was refused last spring.

The apologetic explanation of the Ottawa office of the Soldiers' Settlement board for its change of mind is that Cripps' alleged "lack of experience has been overcome" in the meantime, that is between last April and the present date.

Pte. Cripps returning from the war decided that market gardening appealed to him. He was deeply interested in the work and had read and studied considerably. Having $1,000 or thereabouts, he invested it as a payment on a little farm out southeast of the city. To make a further payment on the land he had purchased, he sought a loan from the Soldiers' Settlement Board, but that body, after tripping him up on some technical questions about fertilizers, cicetera, at an examination in Toronto, decided that he lacked sufficient experience and wanted him to engage to work for a farmer for a year.

Letters of Protest.

Cripps has a family of six children and didn't fancy trying to support them on a farm laborer's income, so he went ahead with his project to make a job for himself. S. Frank Glass, M. P., Ed Lance of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, Roscoe A. Finn, B. Sc. A., agricultural representative for Middlesex County; T. F. Dexter, Ninian Sanderson, an experienced market gardener; George H. Poad, president of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association; Fred Dicks and others who knew Crippps wrote letters or protest against the decision of the board.

Mr. Glass personally took the matter up at Ottawa, and in the meantime all summer Mr. Cripps was selling on the market just as good vegetables as any of his neighbors, and proving that he knew his chosen business, whether the Soldiers' Settlement Board knew its business or not.

It takes a long time to convince official red tape of its possibility of an error of judgment, and, so only this week has come the information that the board is now inclined to listen favorably to Cripps' application for a loan.

At The Theaters

AT THE PATRICIA.

A concert entirely different from those of the two preceding nights brought to a close the Canadian All-Star Festival, held during the first half of this week in the Patricia Theatre Four great artists, the best of their kind in Canada, provided an entertainment that stood out in striking contrast to the colorful performance of the twelve artists on Tuesday night. Although it was different, Wednesday night's concert was every bit as pleasing. Possessed with a wonderful versatility "The Canadian Big Four," as they were pleased to call themselves, provided numbers which in turn appealed to all tastes. The last performance of the festival lacked the quartets, choruses and the novelties which were evident on the first two nights. The performers depended entirely on solo work for their scores. That they were successful was made evident by the encores which every number on the program was accorded, on two occasions the artists were forced to answer second calls.

There is no doubt that Frank Oldfield, the most famous of Canadian baritones and said to be unexcelled on the American continent, had already many admirers in this city, for his first appearance on the stage was greeted with much applause. His rich baritone voice fulfilled all the expectations of his auditors, as it proved to be possessed with an unusually wide range. His opening number "Sussex by the Sea," was especially good, for it contained the depth that brought out the wonderful qualities of his voice. He sang also "The Great Open Road" and "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," besides several new songs. In addition to his solo work he scored in a duet with his wife. They sang beautifully the "Garden of Your Heart" and as an encore "The Bells of St. Marys."

It has been said that the success of any musical number can be judged by the silence which sometimes prevails after the last note has died away and before the coming of the applause. If this be true, then the work of Maud Buschlen, one of Canada's greatest violinists, was certainly successful, for nearly all her numbers were followed by moments of silence before the applause broke forth. Besides having mastered a wonderful technique she has an enchanting personality which somehow seemed to creep into the sweet strains as they were born within the violin. Seemingly forgetful of her audience she poured forth her soul in many of her numbers. She showed considerable versatility as well, for she turned lightly from operatic airs to burlesque, when she gave a clever imitation of the bagpipes on the violin. Her best number was "Allegro," from "Seventh Concerto de Berlot," while her "Zion's King Shall Reign Victorious" was splendid.

J. H. Cameron proved himself the king of entertainers. He told funny stories galore which kept ripples of laughter rolling through the house. He told also numerous stories filled with pathos, but he never forgot to bring back the smiles. He sang a few humorous songs, but they were not as good as the monologes. His dramatic recitation of Rudyard Kipling's "Boots" was perhaps his best number.

Ada Davis Oldfield, with a well-trained soprano voice pleased with two solos. She accompanied the other members of the company.

The crowd was larger than on the two previous nights.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR BIG ARMISTICE NIGHT CELEBRATION

Will Be Equivalent in Every Manner To Any in the Dominion.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Parade Commences at 7 o'Clock Sharp — Mayor Little To Take Salute.

Final plans and preparations for the Armistice Day celebration here this evening were made and discussed at a general committee meeting in the armories last evening. Judging from the enthusiasm and interest shown the celebration here will be one that will be equivalent to any in Canada. Only through the efforts of an untiring committee could such plans be made with such elaborateness and method. Col. Frank Ware of the parade committee explained to the delegates from the organizations who are taking part in the parade this evening just where their organization will be placed in the parade.

Col. C. M. R. Graham announced that the finance committee had met with wonderful success in its campaign for funds, but more was needed to carry out and pay for the fireworks and other expenditures that will be contracted. He intimated that up to the present there had been $700 collected, but $700 more would be necessary that all expense accounts could be met. The committee contemplates asking several businessmen this morning to raise at least half of the amount that is needed yet.

Extra Attractions.

Several added attractions will be made to both the indoor and parade part of the celebration. The American consul, Gidley R. Taggert, will make his official bow to the people of London on the stand this evening that has been erected in front of the public utilities building. He, with General Panet, G. O. C., M. D. No. 1, and His Worship Mayor Little, will take the salute as the parade passes. It is also expected that Mr. Taggert will speak to the people who assemble in the armories for the indoor part of the celebration. An invitation will be sent to Reeve Thomas Clark of London Township to appear on the platform in the armories and address the people. Col. Graham said that many people were of the opinion that the indoor program was more of "lurnch" than a memorial service. He added that the committee was endeavoring to make it more in the nature of educating the generation coming up to the fact that the future destination of the world was decided on November 11, 1918. Frank Glass announced last evening that he will be able to attend and it is also thought that he will give an address for six minutes. Sir Adam Beck and Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A., will also be present.

One of the added features of the parade will be the appearance of several veterans of 1866. J. Price of Port Stanley, one of the veterans, was present at the meeting last evening, and said that he had been in communication with several of his comrade-in-arms, and all had expressed their desire to be in the parade and "walk along with the boys." Col. Graham has sent an emergency call for cars to carry the "old fighters" in the parade. Any person wishing to decorate their car for this purpose will receive instructions by getting in touch with Col. Graham or Col. French.

It was also learned that several crippled soldiers could not get in touch with any person to make arrangements for a seat in an auto. In order to overcome this it was stated that all veterans affected can have a car call at their door by phoning Secretary Ed Lance of the soldiers' aid commission at 965.

School Chorus.

The board of education announced last evening that all schools in the city will be closed this afternoon to give the kiddies who are taking part in the chorus at the armories this evening time to prepare. E. W. G. Quantz, teacher of singing in the public schools, held a practice for the children in the armories yesterday afternoon and reported that he thought the children were at their best. Those in the chorus will have a special part of the lawn in front of the armories allotted to them in order that they may review the parade.

Citizens in the downtown part of the city as well as those in the residential part are expected to decorate their homes or buildings in honor of the soldiers who gave their lives.

D. McGuire, 368 Grosvenor street, had his buggy badly damaged when it was struck by an auto bearing license number 50199 at the corner of Queen's avenue and Richmond street at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. According to spectators, Mr. McGuire was driving west on Queen's avenue when the auto, which had been proceeding north on Richmond street, turned east onto Queen's avenue. In order to avoid hitting an auto which was parked near the south curbing, the driver turned out, striking Mr. McGuire's buggy. One of the wheels on the buggy were broken. The horse was not injured.

RETAIL CLERKS MEET.

The members of the Retail Clerks Association met in the Labor Temple last night, but owing to the absence of some members, no official business was done. The members indulged in a round table conference, discussing plans for the benefit of the association.

COUNTRY IS FULLY FOUR YEARS BEHIND IN HOUSE BUILDING

Up To Present $50,000,000 Has Been Invested in Homes.

Construction contracts awarded in all the cities, towns, villages and rural districts throughout Canada during October, according to figures compiled by MacLean Daily Reports, Limited, totaled $18,169,500, compared with $20,820,100 in September and $25,573,300 in October, 1919. The total for the ten months of 1920 is $231,459,800, compared with $164,176,700 during the corresponding period of 1919, and $91,425,500 during 1918, being an increase of 40 per cent over 1919 and 164 per cent over 1918. While there has been a fairly steady decline during the past seven months in the amount of projects undertaken, the shrinkage is smaller proportionally than in the United States, and a high volume of activity still prevails.

Build More Homes.

Contracts for 961 homes, valued at $4,362,500, were awarded during October, compared with 835, costing $4,032,900 in September. The average cost of these residences was $4,900 each, compared with an average cost of $4,629 in June of this year. For ten months of 1920, $50,230,800 has been invested in residences throughout Canada, compared with $47,013,100 for the full twelve months in 1919 and but $14,661,800 in 1918. The country is fully four years behind in its residential building program.

In Ontario.

During October contracts were awarded for 238 residences, costing $2,507,200; 85 business buildings, costing $1,316,000; 15 industrial projects, valued at $767,000, and 22 contracts for bridges, roads, sewers, etc., costing $564,600. The total for the month was $5,154,800, compared with $7,905,600 a year ago. The figures for the ten months of 1920 are $87,231,700, compared with $74,950,800 during a similar period in 1919 and $30,644,600 in 1918.

In Quebec.

Quebec was strongly to the fore during October, with a total of $7,674,700 in contracts awarded. The new $5,000,000 match factory for Maguire, Paterson & Palmer, Limited, near Quebec City, accounts for two-thirds of the total. Residential buildings absorbed $1,009,900, business buildings $1,046,100, industrial buildings $5,249,500 and engineering projects $368,900.

The total value of contracts for the ten months of 1920, as compiled by MacLean Daily Reports, was $52,015,100, compared with $48,361,500 during a similar period in 1919 and $22,432,700 in 1918.

Gain in Maritimes.

Contracts awarded during October were $641,600 more than in September, and the largest for the year, with the exception of April and May. The figures were as follows: 53 residential buildings, costing $277,600; 2 business buildings, $841,600; 9 industrial buildings, costing $713,700, and 13 engineering contracts, costing $540,000, making a total for the month of $2,372,900.

For the ten months of 1920 the figures are $19,750,500, compared with $17,129,400 during a similar period in 1919.

Big Drop in West.

True to the trend of former years, and due entirely to seasonal conditions, new contracts awarded dropped precipitately during October, amounting to $2,967,400, compared with $7,447,500 in September and $2,667,300 a year ago." However an enormous gain is recorded during the first ten months of 1920, the figures being $62,462,500, compared with $24,036,400 during a similar period in 1919 and $16,099,500 in 1918. In February MacLean Daily Reports forecasted that $80,000,000 would be spent on new construction in the West this year, and, with two months yet to go, their estimate is not far out. This magnificent total has not been equalled since 1913.

DELAYS HEARING UNTIL WITNESS CAN REMEMBER

Magistrate Adjourns Thorold Rioting Case—Resumes Again Today.

HINTS OF INTIMIDATION

Crown Attorney Jeffries Determined To Get To Bottom of Trouble.

WELLAND, Ont., Nov. 10.—The preliminary hearing before Magistrate Fraser of Niagara Falls, Ont., in this town today of Barney Cowell, one of eighteen persons accused of being implicated in the riot at Thorold, Ont., on the night of August 16 last, when a mob made an attempt to lynch David McNeal and burn down the Thorold Town Hall, was adjourned till tomorrow because of adverse witnesses.

McNeal had been committed for trial on a charge of murdering Margaret Boucock of Thorold, four years of age, and a mob quickly formed after his committal, August 16, and fought the authorities for possession of McNeal until the prisoner finally faced the angry crowd and in a pleading speech succeeded in saving his life and restoring order in Thorold.

The town hall was damaged by fire, but not seriously.

Witnesses on the stand at today's hearing showed a lack of memory that caused Crown Attorney Jeffries to comment upon the coincidence and to intimate that he was going to get at the bottom of the Thorold riot in spite of witnesses' poor memories. He hinted at intimidation of witnesses, and warned all present that proper steps would be taken if witnesses were tampered with.

Contradictory Story.

One witness, John Battle, 12 years of age, declared that he had not seen a stone thrown nor any attempt to fire the Thorold Town Hall made on the night of the riot, but this was so contradictory of his evidence at the fire inquest at Thorold that, on the request of the crown prosecutor, the magistrate adjourned the hearing until tomorrow morning in the hope that Battle might refresh his memory.

Graphic Description.

The case of Barney Cowell, a Thorold teamster, one of the men charged with being a member of an unlawful assembly on the evening of the Thorold riots, was the first to appear before Magistrate Frazer when the trial commenced.

Detective McNamara and Chief Mains of the provincial police at Niagara Falls both gave graphic descriptions of what transpired during that night of terror. Detective McNamara told all about the preliminary hearing of McNeal, and testified to the assault launched at McNeal by Boucock, father of the girl. This, he declared, started an attack, and a fight ensued, chairs being used, one of which struck McNeal on the head, and one Crown Attorney Cowper. Several attempts to pacify the crowd were made, he continued. The police succeeded in clearing the court room. As time went on the crowd became denser, the mob shouting: "Throw him down! Lynch him! Give him to us!"

Hall Was Fired.

When darkness set in the hall was fired, and all in the court room were forced to retreat, McNeal eventually being captured by the mob. They badly mutilated him, dragging him across the road, and placing him on top of a radiator of an automobile. McNeal, at this time, was badly cut about the head and was covered with blood from head to foot. Chief Mains declared it was the worst scene he had ever experienced in his 28 years' service. It was a disgrace, he declared. In the main he corroborated the previous witness' testimony, but added that Dale was the man who had hold of the chair.

Questioned as to why the police did not bring McNeal down earlier in the afternoon, witness stated that it would not have been safe to do so, as the tendency of the crowd was to get McNeal at all costs. The chief stated that the crowd rendered the officials no aid, in fact, he added, their sympathies were all the other way.

Appeals For Fairness.

Witness told of the dragging of McNeal from the burning building to the automobile top, and of Chief Mains' appeals for a fair trial.

This appeal gained the respect of the best of a bad crowd, declared the chief. Chief Mains then described the walk from the automobile to the Library steps, where McNeal made his eloquent plea for British justice, and British fairplay, which eventually gained the day.

It is estimated that the trial, which in effect is only a preliminary hearing, will last for several days, as the crown has about 50 witnesses to testify.

Mr. Jeffries of Guelph is acting crown counsel, while Colonel H. A. Rose of Welland; Al Brooks of Welland, and F. W. Griffiths of Niagara Falls are acting for the defence. The accused are Bert Bauman, Merritton; Murray Brady, Thorold Township; Thomas McPhee, Thorold Township; Hazel White, St. Catharines; Edward Hodgkins, St. Catharines; Fred Cowell, Barney Cowell, Guy Dale, Ed. Hackett, David Jackson, William Jackson, Geo. Lawrence A. L. Whittaker, Owen Wright, Cecil Young, Walter Johnstone, George Atkins, all of Thorold. George Atkins is an ex-deputy reeve of the town of Thorold.

FEWER PLACEMENTS ARE REPORTED BY EMPLOYMENT DEPT.

Number of Vacancies Gradually Decreasing.

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—The employment service of the department of labor reports that returns from the Dominion and provincial offices of the employment service of Canada for the week ended October 16 shows a decrease in placements when compared with the returns for the previous week. The officers reported that they had made 754 references to regular positions, and that 7,534 placements were effected. This is a decrease of 437, as compared with the returns for the previous week, when 7,971 placements were reported, and an increase of 1,095 when compared with the corresponding week of last year. In addition, 1,721 casual jobs were supplied during the week, as compared with 1,717 during the week ended October 9.

During the week, 9,454 applicants were registered, of whom 8,277 were men and 1,177 were women. This represents a decrease of 311 in registration when compared with 9,765 applications reported during the preceding week. The number of vacancies notified by employers to the service during the week totalled 8,686, of which 7,566 were for men and 1,789 were women. When compared with the 9,890 vacancies of the preceding week this is a decrease of 1,204. Of the placements in regular employment, 6,821 were of men and 713 were of women.

During the week, Nova Scotia offices reported 5 placements. Placements reported by New Brunswick offices totalled 89, all within the province, as compared with 81 during the preceding week. Quebec offices reported 328 placements, 149 within the province and 179 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 370 during the previous week. Ontario offices reported 2,424 placements, 2,402 within the province and 22 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 2,504 during the preceding week. Placements reported by the prairie provinces were as follows: 1,193 by Manitoba offices, 872 within the province and 321 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 1,228 during the previous week; 1,002 by Saskatchewan offices, 980 within the province and 122 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 1,254 during the preceding week; 1,576 by Alberta offices, 1,529 within the province and 47 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 1,529 during the previous week; British Columbia offices reported 917 placements, of which 843 were within the province and 74 in other provinces, as compared with a total of 1,005 during the week ended October 9.

MEDICINES USED BY MONKS.

It is claimed that Monks of ancient days knew of more than three hundred species of medicinal plants used in general for medicines by these religious orders. While centuries have passed, with all the advance made in medical science, many of our most successful remedies are today made from the roots and herbs of the field, like that good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills, and is now considered the standard remedy.

WATCH EAST ELGIN.

Very soon now the electors of East Elgin will have the opportunity of expressing, in the rejection of Mr. Stansell, their condemnation of one of the most detested governments in Canada's history. A nation chafing under bungling tyranny looks to East Elgin to play its part in the overwhelming of the dark forces that have been in power since 1911. A bad government was turned out in 1896, but a more signal overthrow is at hand for a worse government at the present time.

Mr. W. L. M. King has been showing the west in patient, honest, candid detail how we are misgoverned. He has eloquently expressed the danger to Canadian liberties from a cabal that seeks to govern by order-in-council, by the screen of commissions, by unconstitutional franchise measures, and by mounted police where they are not wanted. The Meighen Government jockeys Ontario out of a vote on prohibition this fall, and does nothing to remedy the conditions in Essex that have just culminated in tragedy. Mr. Spracklin should have had the support that would keep lawless spirits in awe. Why were mounted police sent to Winnipeg and not to Essex?

One of the most scandalous items in the Ottawa Government's history was the scheme of vote-apportionment in the election of 1917. Mr. Meighen's own part in the manipulation of that election has not yet been investigated. He is an apt pupil of the Hon. Bob Rogers. A vote for Stansell is a vote for the Rogers system.

The callous indifference of the Government to the interest of the common man is seen in the dark record of the Ross rifle in the war. The returned men say they used it as a mediaeval club or mace, not as a modern gun. The nearest parallel to this in the chronicles of all the armies in the Great War is the incident of the empty munition boxes sent up by treachery and corruption to the men in the Russian trenches. In no country was there such rampant, undisguised and governmentally-encouraged exploitation by profiteers at home as in Canada. A grudgingly-enforced income tax, infinitesimal compared to those collected in Great Britain, the United States and Germany, was adopted by the Government only under heavy pressure from the Liberal Opposition. War profiteers have not been compelled to disgorge one cent, not even to eke out the wretched pensions of disabled soldiers. Excess profits taxes here are simply ridiculous compared with those collected in Great Britain and the United States.

A board of commerce was created ostensibly to check combines, enforce the existing laws against them and stop profiteering prices, but we have seen how the board was made a farce. As for sugar, would not everybody like to know the inner facts of the matter? It would be a sensational story. Let the East Elgin electors do their part in hacking that unspeakable clique out of Ottawa, and some things now dark may be made clear. Compare the case of Ontario timber limits.

No relief against combines by way of tariff reduction can be expected from Premier Meighen. Rather he and his friends may be depended on to increase the advantages of protection to the price-fixer. Both the Liberal and the Farmer's party are pledged to removal of duties on necessary food and clothing, and a very general reduction besides. The present Government stands for a higher tariff if possible, for taxes on necessaries disguised as luxury taxes; while the country is calling for fair taxation, economy, enforcement of liquor laws and a square deal all round in the open. It is up to East Elgin to deliver a blow from which the Government will not recover.

ITALY'S EXPERIMENT.

Down the length of Italy, from the plains of Lombardy to where Calabria dips a dainty foot in the blue fringes of the Ionian Sea and onward across the straits of Messina into the island of Sicily, Italian peasants are in revolt. Red flags streaming ahead, they are marching, determined on conquest of the land. In its very simplicity, the movement is of absorbing interest. Peasants organize a co-operative association. In a band, they occupy land. The proprietor dare say nothing, can do nothing. The red flag flaps over his broad acres. A sign is affixed by its side bearing the naive inscription:

"Requisitioned by the Co-operative of so and so."

Then comes the most curious development of all. A representative of the national government issues a decree. The occupation of the land is recognized. An agreement with the proprietor is drawn up. He is to get five per cent per annum as rental, on the value of his land. He remains the legal proprietor. But the co-operative is in occupation and its peasant members hold it occupied. Officers of the co-operative (working in conjunction with the Federation of Land Workers) parcel out the occupied zone. The co-operative purchases the seed, determines what shall be sown and sells the crop. The peasant tills the soil. The co-operative administers and, according to reports, generally administers well. The proprietor is paid his rent—when he can get it. The scheme is simplicity itself.

The present agrarian movement arose in war days, when the Government made demand on demand for increased production. The Socialist of the north looked south and saw great estates rolling down from the Apennines to the sea, estates with their lords of the soil and an ignorant peasantry ground under an economic tyranny. Here was the inheritance of feudal days and of that Neapolitan kingdom whose system of government Gladstone termed the "negation of God." For the great landlord of the south loved to assume the grand air. He would spend his days in hunting and gaiety. Often he had insufficient capital properly to develop his estate and stretchies of it would remain uncultivated. He gloried in the appearance of wealth as he jauntily strutted along fashion's expensive way. Who were these contadini that they should worry their lord with stupid demands? And so, as the tide rose, he pursued one expensive will o' th' wisp after another, impoverishing himself and his estate while peasants struggled to make the soil bring forth abundantly.

Unrest spread. "Pay no attention to worn-out theories of improving your condition," so ran the insidious advice of the Socialist. "Never mind questions of feudal dues. Be masters of the land."

The peasant listened and remembered.

Faced with a difficult situation—for production had to be increased—the Italian Government legalized occupation of uncultivated or badly cultivated lands. And occupations grew apace. Nor, now, are they restricted to the terms of official decrees. They are sweeping over cultivated and uncultivated lands alike, over estates great and small. The royal estate at Santa Maria de Capua Vetere near Naples has been seized by a co-operative.

In all Italy, between sixty and seventy thousand acres have been occupied, and the occupations are growing daily. They now represent a total of 199 properties invaded by 105 co-operative associations. In the province of Rome alone, seizures of land have totalled 33,000 acres.

Nor has occupation been confined to lands nor to the metal works, so much in question lately. In Rome, great villas from which the wealthy owners were temporarily absent, have been seized by families, taking this rough and ready means of solving the housing problem. Two hundred workmen occupied one huge villa, only to be ejected in the morning by the police. In Milan, the tenants of a workmen's home quietly took possession. They appointed a managing committee, dismissed an expensive staff, reduced room rentals by nearly 50 per cent, and declared they would serve themselves.

The mainspring of the agrarian movement is the Federation of Land Workers. Its base of operations is Bologna in Emilia, and its driving force is Augustina Altobella, an elderly lady who has been fighting for the Italian peasant since her childhood days. Attempts to unionize Italian land workers began in 1884, but it was not till 1900 that the first locals were formed. In the following year, the first general conference was held at Bologna. There were delegates from no less than 704 locals, representing a total membership of 152,022. The Federation counts within its ranks not only the agricultural laborer, but the metayer (the man who farms on half shares) and the small proprietor.

The final object of the Federation is socialization of the land. At its Bologna conference last year, the Federation decided to demand the creation of a vast collective domain to be administered by co-operative societies of agricultural workers.

From the beginnings of twenty years ago, the Federation has increased its membership until it now stands at 850,000 for the whole of Italy. Alarmed proprietors, too, have organized. But so far their organization has not been of much avail. They are subjected to one or two modes of attack. Either they must accept stringent contracts with their labor or their land is occupied.

And what will be the result of it all? Will production be increased? On this count, it is early yet to venture an opinion, and Italian authorities vary in their view. But one outcome appears certain: having secured their advantage, the Italian co-operatives are not likely to relinquish it easily. They have tasted the first fruits of power. Already, unfortunately, however, some of the co-operative associations are assuming rather the character of trusts. One reads of implacable boycotts of small proprietors, or attacks on the farm worker who attempts to become a small proprietor in his own name. One reads of a peasant being shot because he disregarded orders in the disposal of his crop, of other peasants being lynched for not using farm implements supplied by the co-operative.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To many hard beer is preferable to soft beer, but when it comes to coal they are delighted to get either kind.

Was the Government's sudden reversal of the sugar order due to the fact that it heard what the "wild" wives were saying?

Now that many of the big industries in the United States have partially shut down Canada finds that she has many prodigal sons.

If those people who foretell a hard winter had been as thrifty as the squirrels all summer pessimists would be a minus quantity at present.

The householder who filled his cellar with goods imported from Montreal last spring is wondering just now if it wouldn't have been better if he had used half of the floor space for coal.

FOR OVERSEAS TRAVELERS.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

Something entirely new in ocean liners will shortly be at the service of overseas travelers—a 10,000-ton ship, which will be devoted solely to the carriage of third class passengers. The White Star Line is responsible for the innovation, and the vessel, the Vedic, which is nearing completion, will be utilized on the North Atlantic service. There will be accommodation for 1,200 passengers, who will have full use and enjoyment of all promenade decks. Built during the war at Belfast by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, the Vedic was placed in commission as a transport. She has lately been refitted.

From Here and There

A MOVING FEAT.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

The feat of moving a building bodily from one site to another was successfully performed recently in Great Britain. The building in question was of timber and reinforced concrete; it measured 60 feet in length and in breadth, and it weighed 150 tons. A large wooden platform was introduced under the building. This platform rested on iron rollers, and when all the weight of the building came on the platform, winches and wire ropes were employed to draw the whole structure for 80 feet to the new site. The work of the office went on as usual during the proceedings, even the telephone remaining in operation. It is estimated that the cost of taking the structure down and rebuilding it would have been at least three times that of the process of transfer.

DO NOT PAY CONSCIENCE MONEY.

[Toronto Star.]

It is a mistake to found a theory upon an isolated instance. A Toronto consumer found a nickel and three coppers in a bottle of milk. But that does not prove that the dairies have started to pay conscience money.

VERY BUSY AT 104.

[Almonte Gazette.]

Pleading his own case, Mr. Joseph Beland, said to be 104 years old, put up what is probably a world's record in Bryson police court.

Mr. Beland had a civil case in connection with a property deal involving a matter of two or three hundred dollars. An adjournment of the case was asked, but Mr. Beland strenuously objected, and stated that he had a job to go to the following day, and could not lose time. The court reserved decision.

BAD MANAGEMENT.

[Montreal Star.]

Waste in the management of cities is widespread. According to the findings of civic experts in the United States, the average city on this continent wastes about 20 per cent of its expenditure—$300,000,000 a year is the sum in round numbers of the total estimated loss.

Can one imagine what would happen to the president and directors of a corporation who allowed twenty dollars out of every hundred, say in the purchasing department, to leak away with no return?

How much chance would they have of re-election at a general meeting of the stockholders after their methods of business were found out?

Still the stockholders of Montreal, the taxpayers, have witnessed this sort of thing for very many years.

The point must be driven home that the people have to pay, in the most direct manner, for inefficient, extravagant and boodling government.

The following is a local illustration of the truth of this: When the administrative commission assumed the guidance of the city's affairs the finances were in such a deplorable state that heavy additional burdens had to be levied on realty; while householders had their water rates increased by one-third. The whole lamentable situation was found to have been brought about by gross waste of revenue in the past.

The fact cannot be kept too vividly in mind by those who are drafting the new city charter that its most important feature must be to induce really capable and honorable men to enter the lists for civic honors. With such men at the helm, wholesale waste will be largely impossible.

MONEY TO BURN.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

A British official who recently returned to London from the Crimea states that it was cheaper to burn money in South Russia than matches, because 100,000 roubles are equal to about $4, and a box of matches cost 10,000 roubles. It is cheaper to light cigarettes and pipes with hundred rouble notes than with matches.

SIMILIA SIMILIBUS.

[British Whig.]

The ability of the dealer in so-called "canned music" to sell his assorted stock of machines and records has long challenged the admiration of the professors of salesmanship. Possibly because so many people enjoy a noise even if they do not understand music, the phonograph dealer has a deep lake in which to cast his nets. The actual and undisputed beauties of the best quality of mechanically reproduced music are so efficiently supplemented by the vast quantity of cheerful, noisy records, that the receipts of these dealers have long been the envy of the mere banker or bricklayer.

Naturally, any hints as to the way the phonograph dealer does it command attention and respect. One of these princes of salesmanship, a general sales manager, in fact, made a speech lately in Chicago upon his own learned profession, and gave the information—quite as valuable because it was casual and "contributory"—that black-haired salesmen did better in the South and light-haired salesmen in the North. This is one of the magic bits of concrete information which are worth more than all the professional essays in the world. This general sales manager defined salesmanship as "the ability to read human nature," and said a successful businessman "now needed to know the relative value of the shady or the sunny side of the street." What are synthetic paradoxes like those statements worth compared with the information about the proper regional distribution of black-haired and light-haired salesmen?

COAL IN THE WEST.

[Hamilton Times.]

Alberta shipped 75,000 tons of coal into the United States this year. Western Canada has enough of coal, we are told, to supply Canada and the States with this fuel for thousands of years. Let some of it be shipped down this way.

IT HAD TO COME.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

For some time Hamilton has been the only city in Canada where a daily paper could be bought for a cent. Everywhere else in the country the newspapers found it necessary to increase their prices to meet the increased cost of production. But the Hamilton papers, for reasons probably rising out of local conditions, continued to maintain the old prices. And now even the Hamilton papers have given up the impossible task of attempting to carry on business by selling below the cost of production, and have raised their prices. It had to come.

CUTTING TRADES.

[Toronto Star.]

Talk of wage cuts is very prevalent. Our own idea is that there'll be more cuts in such trades as that of the barber and butcher than in other lines. When you come to think of it, the more cuts these chaps get, paradoxical as it may seem, the more money they make.

ONE WAY TO AVOID STRIKES.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The committee of the New York Legislature investigating the building trade conditions in New York city, finds that it was an ordinary thing for contractors to pay quite large sums to walking delegates or business agents to insure that they would not be subjected to loss through strikes. The power of labor organizers in some cases is so complete that the temptation to use it for personal gain must be strong. The bad business has been heard of before. Exposure is fatal to it, however, as it is towards other grafting, and exposure is liable to come at any time.

JUST COMMON SENSE.

[E. Gregory in Breeders' Gazette.]

Agriculture has not suffered to any considerable extent. Crop production has not fallen off. Practically all of our lands are in cultivation or pasturage, and there is still plenty of food to go around; not any big surplus as in the past, but enough and more than enough of many things. If this were not so, farmers would not have to sell cattle and hogs at a loss. But I do not believe that there is a large surplus of other farm products. We should have an extra supply. Something should be saved during the fat years to tide us over the lean ones. That is not being done now, but each year might bring an increased production. This can be done in one way only, and that is to pay the farmer a fair price for his products. Farming is the hardest work there is, and living conditions on farms are usually less comfortable than in cities. If the people who do the work and endure the hardships are not entitled to good wages, who are? Farming as a business is not going to the dogs, as some people think. Neither is it flourishing as it should. There are several reasons for this—the low price of farm products, high-priced labor, speculation in foodstuffs, lack of farm organization, and prohibitive freight rates, among others.

Poetry and Jest

THE DINOSAUR.

[Bert Leston Taylor.]

Behold the mighty Dinosaur,
Famous in prehistoric lore,
Not only for his weight and strength,
But for his intellectual length.
You will observe by these remains
The creature had two sets of brains—
One in his head (the usual place),
The other at his spinal base.
Thus he could reason a priori
As well as a posteriori.
No problem bothered him a bit,
He made both head and tail of it.
So wise he was so wise and solemn,
Each thought filled just a spinal column.
If one brain found the pressure strong
It passed a few ideas along;
If something slipt his forward mind,
'Twas rescued by the one behind;
And if in error he was caught,
He had a saving after-thought.
As he thought twice before he spoke,
He had no judgments to revoke;
For he could think, without congestion,
Upon both sides of every question.
Oh, gaze upon this model beast,
Defunct ten million years at least!

SAFE ENOUGH, ANYWAY.

"Do you think it healthy to keep your hogs in the house?" a social investigator asked a native of Arkansas.

"Waal, I dunno," he drawled, "but I been a-keepin' my hawgs there for fourteen years and I an't never lost one on 'em yet."

PURCHASE.

(Certain letters written by Lorenzo d' Medici are sold at auction.)

[By Hortense Flexner.]

They shall come in and chat, their purses hid,
The men who hold rare things and gently smile,
They shall disturb frail, musty sheets and bid
A fortune for this letter or grey file
Of parchment, nobly written by the hand
That loved to gleam in gems and curious rings,
Point out a man for death—give castles, land,
Or rest on ermined shoulders of tall kings,
And through the room, as from an unsealed urn,
Shadows will drift, faint shapes of Florence—dead,
Born of these records men shall lift and turn,
Knowing as he, who gave the artists bread
For white madonnas, saints, God's cloudy throne,
A man may buy what he can never own!

INDEFINITE.

[Cincinnati Inquirer.]

"Is this the hosiery department?" said the voice over the phone.

"Yes," replied the weary saleslady.

"Have you any flesh-colored stockings in stock?" asked the voice.

"Yes," replied the weary saleslady. "Whaddy ya want—pink, yellow, or black?"

ACCOUNTING FOR IT.

[Boston Transcript.]

Mame—Cora's hair used to be black now I see it's turned chestnut. How do you account for it?

Mabel—I believe she's been using the comic supplement to do her hair up in.

Time was when one could sniff without remorse,
Like Sherlock Holmes, at corpulent detectives—
But, lo! with one great master stroke, the force
Has altered our perspectives.
And all the ribald borak,
Which papers vied with vaudeville to poke,
Might now apply to Barry Dorvorak,
With no apparent damage to the joke.

Let sacrilegious banter fill the press,
And "Constant Readers" rave to half-a-column;
Let, too, the Sunday pulpits effervesce
With warnings loud and solemn—
The force has proved its merits,
And, as for critics of the men in blue—
Consign them all to Popocatapelt!
Then offer Scotland Yard its rightful due.

Observe how, after days of patient toil,
The Yard unearths the very theory needed—
When Edgar Allan Poe and Conan Doyle
Could scarcely have succeeded.
"A motor car seen standing
For 90 minutes on a seaside road
Is now supposed (the logic is commanding)
To have no bearing on the episode."

Who knows how clues like this may end in time,
Or to what heights may soar each sub-inspector?
It yet may be discovered that the crime
Was not done by the rector,
Nor by a traveling circus,
Nor by a delegation from Madrid,
Nor yet by Weary Willie, nor Persnurkus—
In fact, by no one but the chap who did!

SELF-PROTECTION.

"You admit, then," said an Alabama judge, "that you stole the hog?"

"Ah sure has to, Jedge," said the colored prisoner.

"Well, nigger, there's been a lot of hog-stealing going on around here lately, and I'm just going to make an example of you or none of us will be safe."—The Lawyer and Banker (New Orleans).

THE SONG OF THE AIRMAN.

[Mowbray Percy.]

I sit alone
On a flying throne
And spurn the crumbling world.
I mount with a rush
In the doting hush,
And shout to the clouds unfurl'd.
And the clean, cold breeze
Of the ether seas
Is whistling through my hair—
And the love of life,
And the love of wife,
Are naught to the love of the air.

I skirt the edge
Of a fleecy ledge
And perch on a purple dome.
I hurtle through
The purple-blue
Where the sky-children have their home;
Then sweeping down
I gasp and drown
In a gulf of golden glare—
And the love of life
And the love of wife
Are naught to love of the air!

I drink the light
At awful height,
My eagle spirit burns.
The world inane
Is shot with pain.
The brooding stillness churns
And sights and sounds
Of the outer bounds
Allure me on to dare—
And the love of life
And the love of wife
Are naught to love of the air!

Every Man For Himself

BY HOPKINS MOORHOUSE.

"Miss Lawson was masquerading in Ferguson's office for some reason. I caught her listening at the keyhole while Podmore was interviewing Ferguson day before yesterday. You might begin by explaining why she should report all this to you, Stiles, and why you tried to follow me last night after I left Mr. Lawson. I know that Miss Lawson is a valued member of the Recorder staff. Now, what about it?"

"She's doin' some special stunt for the paper," Stiles nodded after a little hesitation. "We've been good friends for quite a while, but there aint no reason why she should tell me all she knows, is there? She came to me yesterday an' asked me to keep an eye on your movements for a bit. She said you were workin' with Podmore an' that you an' him had swiped some envelope from Mr. Wade, the railroad president, and hidden it."

"That's what comes of listening at keyholes. Go on."

"That's all, Mr. Kendrick. She was kind of worried over you callin' on her father an' give me Hall Columbia for losin' sight of you last night after she'd gone to the trouble of pointin' you out to me. But I aint no dime novel detective!"

"Why should she be interested in my movements?"

"Search me!"

"Why did those two fellows jump on you last night? Don't say they were after your watch. Tell me the truth."

"Well, you seen how they was watchin' at the office today, didn't you? I've been watched like that ever since——" Stiles stopped short in some confusion.

"Ever since the theft of the satchel containing fifty-thousand dollars," prompted Kendrick. "I know all about that. It's all right. Go on."

But for a moment Stiles was stricken dumb by this cool speech.

"Who told you about that?" he demanded in a scared tone. "Say, how'd it be if you told me what's your side in this little gab-fest? Who are you workingin' for? Police? Nickleby? Say, you aint crazy enough to think I had anything to do with the disappearance of that bunch of coin, are you?"

"Hardly," smiled Phil. He handed over Benjamin Wade's letter of introduction, "to whom it may concern." The change which perusal of these credentials wrought in Jimmy Stiles was at once noticeable. He relaxed in his chair with a breath of relief and laughed.

"Why didn't you say in the first place you were Wade's private secretary?" he protested. "Gee whiz! Now I know where I'm at—if it's true," he added suspiciously, suddenly sitting erect again. "Miss Lawson said she heard Podmore tell Ferguson you hid that envelope for him in a stump up in the bush near some waterbank or other after he'd pinched it from Mr. Wade's private car, and that you two fellows were friends an' had both got fired by Wade because you wouldn't tell where the envelope was."

"It isn't wise to believe everything one hears, Jimmy,—through key-holes," advised Kendrick. "That's all a bluff. It was Mr. Wade's idea that by pretending to be friendly toward Podmore I might get a line on something. We framed up the whole thing on Podmore."

"But the envelope really was swiped an' hid in the stump, wasn't it?"

"Yes, I left it there at Mr. Wade's suggestion."

"With all that money in it?"

"The bills were bogus—just stage money."

"What!" cried Stiles in excitement. "Gee whilikins! Is that right, Mr. Kendrick?" His mouth opened in what seemed to be fear as well as astonishment. "But of course it's right. That's what he wanted me to get that duplicate envelope for. Gosh! why didn't we think of that last night?"

He got up and took a turn across the room and back in his agitation.

"You surely didn't expect—?" began Kendrick in considerable surprise.

"We haven't known what to expect," interrupted Stiles anxiously. "Anything—everything!—with fifty-thousand dollars of election money kicking around loose. Why, Miss Lawson's been on the trail of this campaign fund contribution ever since that night when—that is to say——" For a second time Jimmy Stiles paused uncertainly.

Kendrick had a flash of inspiration. He sprang to his feet, reaching excitedly into his pocket.

"Has Miss Lawson ever owned a pin like this? Is this her's?" and he unfolded the dollar bill and held out the blouse pin for inspection.

"Sure, that's her's. She told me she lost one from her best hand-painted set in your canoe that night."

Kendrick sat down in the nearest chair and laughed as if Stiles had said something which was exceedingly witty. The outburst was so spontaneous and unaccountable that the bookkeeper stared at him. He could not know that Phil would laugh with equal abandon just then if somebody were to inform him that the real reason a hen crosses the road is to get to the other side.

"She seems to have taken you pretty well into her confidence, Jimmy. Perhaps you can tell me who her escort was that night of the fog—a Joe Somebody."

"Oh, that was me. I paddled her across the bay that night. We agreed to call each other fake names in case anybody heard us talking. When she got into your canoe by mistake I was scared to move; I knew she could take care of herself."

Again Phil laughed. But Stiles was growing impatient as his worried look returned.

"Say, never mind all that, Mr. Kendrick, please. We've got to do something about this other thing right away quick. Nickleby's been havin' Podmore watched an' he had a seance yesterday afternoon with the fellow that's doing it. There's liable to be others setting out with the same idea she had——"

"What do you mean? demanded Kendrick, seriously.

"Miss Lawson took the train west last night to get that darn envelope you hid in the stump in the woods——"

"Good heavens!"

"I told her she oughtn't to try it," went on Stiles earnestly. "She's liable to run into all sorts of trouble. But she wouldn't listen to me for a minute. She aint scared of anything, Miss Lawson aint, an' she thinks it's real money she's rescuing all by her lonesome."

"You don't mean to say she went all over?" asked Phil in dismay.

"That's just it. She wouldn't have it any other way."

They gazed at each other with eager faces.

The Powerful Katrinka—

CAUSE OF EARLY OLD AGE

The celebrated Dr. Michenhoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poisons generated in the intestine." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death; 15 to 30 drops of "Seigel's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound. 10

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. R. S. Pollard of Winnipeg, with her wee son, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Banghart, Dufferin avenue.

Mr. Charles Percy, of the London Conservatory of Music, accompanied by two of his pupils, Miss Bessie Kerr and Miss Eula Kennedy, is to appear in recital before the Sarnia Women's Music Club on November 23.

Miss Gladys Jones, whose marriage to Mr. Ora Newton takes place shortly, has been the guest of honor at a number of enjoyable functions. Among the hostesses entertaining for her were Miss H. zel Coles, Mrs. George Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eckert and Miss Gertrude Anderson.

Mrs. A. Walker, Eva street, entertained recently in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Florence Walker, whose marriage to Mr. John E. Gillett takes place on November 16. The evening was spent in cards and dancing, the guest of honor being showered with a quantity of pretty and useful presents.

Mrs. Ellen H. Gregsten, who celebrated her 89th birthday on Tuesday, is the author of many beautiful little poems. And a little booklet bearing the words of one entitled "War," came to The Advertiser yesterday. On Tuesday Mrs. Gregsten's house on Colborne street was a bower of beautiful flowers, the gift of her friends.

The Alma Daughters will be the hostesses of a tea, to be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Smith, 308 Princess avenue, on the afternoon of December 4, the invitation extending to their friends and students of Alma College. Arrangements for the tea were made at a meeting of the Alma Daughters, held at the home of Mrs. G. L. MacDonald, Hyman street, on Tuesday afternoon.

The big reception room at the "Kennels" presented a gay sight yesterday afternoon when the Ladies' Golf Club entertained at bridge in aid of a fund to furnish an upstairs sitting-room at the club house. The grates alight glowed pleasantly for each arriving guest. About thirty tables had been arranged for and many guests, not playing, dropped in at the tea hour. In the tea-room golden 'mums were used upon the table, from which Mrs. John Weld and Mrs. C. B. Hunt poured tea, the guests coming to the table informally and receiving their cups. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the bridge included Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. C. B. Hunt and Mrs. John Weld. This function ended the golf club's activities for the year.

The pretty new home of Mrs. Chas. Ivey, 199 St. James street, was the scene of a most enjoyable musicale yesterday afternoon, when the hostesses were five members of the Princess Patricia Chapter, whose object was to raise money for the Sick Children's Hospital. Baby 'mums in pink and mauve shades were the decorations in the living-room, while in the tearoom beyond Laby 'mums were again used with delightful effect. Mrs. Charles Ivy, Mrs. Eric Reid, Mrs. Fred Phelps, Mrs. F. G. Cook and Miss Olwen Williams, a charming quintette of hostesses, received their guests as they arrived, while in the dining-room Mrs. McClary Moore, Mrs. Gerald Pearson and Mrs. Gordon Ingram officiated at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Gordon Philip, Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Mrs. Masuret, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Richard Ivey, Mrs. McDermid, Mrs. Geo. Little, Mrs. Humphreys and Miss Eula White.

A musical program of a very high degree of excellence was rendered, the artists including Miss Minnie Raymond, Mrs. Chas. Ivey and Rev. Quintin Warner, who gave a violin, 'cello and piano trio; Mr. Harry Carson, tenor, who sang a delightful group of songs; Mrs. Chas. Ivey, whose contribution was a very fine group of violin numbers; Mrs. Schofield, who favored with a group of pretty songs, and Miss Helen Little, who played a piano selection.

ANDERSON—CARR.

An interesting marriage took place Monday, November 1, at the West Lorne manse, when Miss Sophie L. Carr, nursing sister, who served overseas three and a half years, became the bride of Mr. Ernest S. Anderson, formerly of the Canadian Engineers, who went overseas with the First Contingent, winning the Military Medal and Italian bronze medals for valor.

Rev. Mr. Carr, brother of the bride, performed the ceremony, the couple leaving for Toronto on the evening train.

APPLEFORD—JAMIESON.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride, Crinan, on Wednesday, when Mary Jamieson was united in marriage to Harley Appleford, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Appleford, Talbotville.

Rev. Mr. Carr of West Lorne performed the ceremony, the bride being given away by her brother, Mr. H. J. Jamieson, and the wedding march played by Miss McNeill of Strathroy.

The happy couple left for Toronto, and on their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Talbotville.

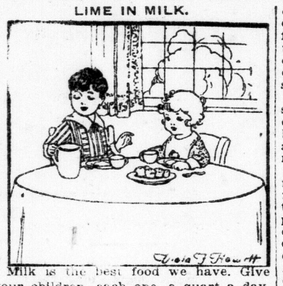

PATTERSON—CARNEGIE.

On Tuesday afternoon, November 9, a pretty wedding took place at New St. James's Presbyterian manse, when Blanche Marguerite, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carnegie of Rodney, was married to Russell Patterson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson of Rodney, Ont., the Rev. J. McKay officiating. The bride wore her traveling suit of navy blue serge with georgette blouse embroidered in blue and brown velvet hat with corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. After a wedding dinner at Wong's Cafe the happy couple left via G. T. R. for Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will be at home to their friends after December 1 at 791 William street, London.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

LIME IN MILK.

Milk is the best food we have. Give your children, each one, a quart a day, if possible, a pint without fail. Buy more milk, less meat, and your family will be better fed.

Everybody needs milk for its lime content, as well as for its other valuable elements. It is the chief common food for lime. In a cup of milk, there is three times as much lime as in half a cup of carrots, four times as much as in one egg, and ten times as much as in two slices of bread.

Milk is, furthermore, the cheapest source of lime, and lime, remember, is one of the materials of which a child's body is made. Bones, teeth, and blood, all require lime, and can get it from milk, in its most assimilable form.

A quart of milk is equal in general food to any one of the following, and for a young child, is more digestible than any of them: three-eighths of a pound of ordinary cheese, three-quarters of a pound of cottage cheese, three-quarters of a pound of tenderloin steak, eight large eggs, or a quart of oysters. And even at 20 cents a quart, milk is cheaper than any of them. Even dear milk is cheap food, because it is good food, and has the lime the children's bodies need.

Early and Late Marriages.

I grew up, writes a teacher, aged 32, without seeing the beautiful side of married life, always declaring to mother that I would never marry. I was the eldest of five children and helped raise the others. We all have received college training, none of us is married, as we were trained to get our education after twenty and wait till some property could be acquired. . . . I now see wifehood and motherhood in the holy light.. . . . I desire this greater happiness. . . . Until this past year I refused every offer, because I did not feel that those who spoke of marriage were my equals in education and advantages. . . .

And now this teacher finds herself in a quandary trying to decide whether to marry a man more than twenty years her senior and the victim of an acquired physical defect. She has been made to believe that at thirty-two she is a bit too old to marry—yet if she marries it will be a man twenty-three years older than herself. That would be unfortunate. A slight difference, say up to ten years, between the ages of husband and wife may be insignificant, but the wedding of July and October is scarcely less to be deplored than the joining of May and December.

Education and property acquisition are all very well, but when these are permitted to put off marriage, a mistake has been made.

By the age of twenty-five every man should be married or taxed as an unmarried man, unless he can show sufficient reason for exemption. And the tax on bachelors should be so heavy that it would be no joke. The revenue so accumulated should go into a fund for state subsidies for motherhood.

There is no sort of useful education which a man or woman should not have completed by the age of twenty-four years at the latest. And when a man marries he should marry a woman who takes him for himself, not for his property. It is notorious that the hardest way to earn money is to marry it.

Nowadays a good many prospective bridegrooms get cold feet and back out when the thing begins to take on the appearance of a courtship, because a good many foolish young women have too many high and mighty airs and a fellow just can't see his way to support them in the grand and glorious style they apparently expect. It is not the gay bird that catches the worm. A girl who can demonstrate ability to cook, sew, make some of her own clothes and practice reasonable economies in the face of fatuous custom is more likely to land one. These quick spenders somehow don't appeal to the marrying type of young man that still boba up now and then.

Very few women are physically ready to marry before the age of twenty-one years. Very few are too old to marry before the age of forty years. The ideal wedding season is from twenty-one to twenty-six years.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Kidney Trouble.

I was examined by my physician who found that I have kidney trouble. I am going to take his advice and be fixed up. I wish you would tell me what diet would be best for me to follow. (T. C. P.)

ANSWER—That is, of course, impossible, for I have no conception of the nature of the trouble nor of your individual requirements in the way of foods. So-called diets purporting to be appropriate for this and that disease are scarcely worth considering seriously. A diet must be adapted to the individual conditions. What is one man's meat is another man's poison, even though they both have the same kind of kidney or other disease. The physician who found that you have kidney trouble is the only one in position to advise about your diet.

Gas on Stomach.

I have been considerably troubled for some time with formations of gas on my stomach, quite severe at times. I would appreciate it if you will give me a list of proper foods and food combinations which would be correct for me. (C. H. B.)

ANSWER—Read the reply to the foregoing query and substitute, oh, any one of a score of different conditions or diseases in which "gas on the stomach" is a common complaint. The food combination idea is a charlatan's bunk. Instinct and taste or appetite alone are the safest guides as to the combination of two or more foods at one meal. There is no need for any pseudo-scientific nonsense to decide whether one cares for any two foods at the same time.

F. C. B., R. W., C. C. W., M. H. M., D. P. A.

You and each of you, and scores of others similarly afflicted, greetings. Dr. Brady regrets he is unable to reply to your questions because your form of signature (for instance, J. J. Smith) leaves him in doubt whether you are of the masculine, feminine or neutral sex.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

LIII.—Difficulties.

Thus were my secretarial hopes nipped in the bud.

I was totally untrained. Besides, the market was overstocked.

What career remained to me?

Teaching?

I loathed the thought! And there, too, I had no experience, and no degree. My chances of employment would be next to nothing.

What other professions did women follow?

Medicine?

Years of college, followed by at least two in hospital work. Seven years of preparation!

Dressmaking? I could sew. But even here one must have served a regular apprenticeship.

A "mother's helper"? I shuddered at the thought. Yet it seemed more feasible than anything.

And it would provide a roof over my head, in the meantime.

Where did one go in order to become a household blessing?

"Domestic servant agency," I told myself, with a bitter little smile.

It took me half an hour before I could force my lagging feet inside that humble spot. . . .

There good news awaited me. Three ladies were inside, on the lookout for "mother's helper."

"You won't suit me," she said, sourly. "I have to be careful whom I introduce into my home. My husband—" She broke off, turning her back on me. I wondered if her husband were a susceptible male, and she a jealous wife? Later she engaged a plain, mouse-colored little creature who could be calculated to arouse no admiration in the bosom masculine.

The next woman asked me for my "references."

This was a decided surprise to me.

"I have none that I could give. I—I haven't done this sort of thing before," I stammered.

The woman eyed me sharply.

"You can't give any references, eh? Have you run away from home or what? No, you're not the type I want," She moved away.

The third prospective employer was a stout, common woman with a genial sort of face. I felt more hopeful.

There were three children in her family, she said. They lived in a small house in a suburb. Her husband spent the day at business. He had a shop of some kind.

"It's a companion that I want—a friend," she explained, waving a pudgy hand. "The children are at school until half-past three o'clock. I'd expect you to do most of the housework, dear, and all the mending. Then you'd have to help the children with their lessons and their music, and see them into bed at night. Oh, it's an easy position—a lady's life!"

She beamed on me.

"Can you cook?" she added. "Oh, I forgot to tell you that I'd expect you to wash light things, such as blouses and summer dresses and handkerchiefs, and the little boys' overalls and smocks."

My heart sank.

"What salary?" I asked.

She frowned a little. Then she said, evasively:

"It would be a nice home for you, my dear, and you'd be treated more as a family friend than a servant. I hadn't thought about salary, exactly. You'd have free board and lodging—a big consideration these days!—and"—this very magnanimously — "pocket-money."

"'Pocket-money'?" I repeated, blankly.

She nodded, smiling affably.

"What about a dollar a week, for a start?"

"A dollar!" I stared at her indignantly. "Why, an ordinary servant gets a lot more, with half the work!"

"Highty-tighty, my fine lady! You aim too high! Well, suppose we say—a dollar and a half a week? How about it?"

I shook my head. This vulgar woman made me shudder. Anything than take a position with her!

Pretty soon I found myself out in the street again, on the old, dreary quest for work. My enthusiasm was quite gone. My wish for independence, too. I longed for home, for the sweet country sights and sounds, the fresh air, the care-free life.

How far away it seemed, that life! "Freddie Delaunay, you have much to answer for!" I bit my lip to keep the tears back.

I visited at least a dozen agencies that day. I trudged the city streets until my limbs ached as drearily as did my heart.

But lack of experience and training—combined with lack of references—was against me. I could find no post that would suit me in the very least.

Cooks were required, in plenty.

But my cooking was an amateurish and uncertain accomplishment.

Even as a lady's maid I would require first-class references. And I'd no knowledge of the latest modes of hair-dressing and hair-waving and face-massage, which a lady's maid should know.

At five o'clock my head began to feel a little queer and dizzy. I had had no food for quite six hours. And I had tramped for miles and miles, always with disappointment at the end of every interview.

Oh, there must be something I could do!

But how to find it?

Influence! That was what one needed.

And I had no influence behind me!

For another hour I trudged—in vain. Then, at six o'clock, those dreary agencies closed their inhospitable doors.

I returned to my hotel. I was tired—dog-tired—and hungry, and unstrung.

As I entered the lounge, a tall figure rose to greet me. Looking up, I saw it was Neil Saunders!

Tomorrow—Neil's Surprise.

Attention, Alarm Clock!

Dear Miss Grey,—I have written to your Mail-Box before, but I guess you won't remember me. No, I don't want the stocking-foot pattern, because I received one some time ago. When I saw Alarm Clock's letter in the paper I thought I would like to correspond with her. I have to keep house, same as she does, and as I'm only a kid also, we might be able to interest each other. I will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Grey and if Alarm Clock does write, you can please forward it on to me. I will not take up any more of your valuable time, and thanking you for past favors.

WILMA.

Ans.—If Alarm Clock cares to write, Wilma, I shall be pleased to forward her letter to you.

The following kinds, if you can: Marigold, Zinnia, Purple Petunia, Poppy and Hollyhocks. And can you let me have the pattern for the little girl's apron, and I will return it as soon as I can copy it. I hope I am not too much trouble, but I do want those seeds so much. Well, good luck to the Mail-Box. I am glad to see the fund growing so fine.

I wonder if any of the boxites have a pattern for a baby's crochet or knitted coat and vest for a baby six months old. I would be very glad to get one and also the apron pattern. I noticed some time ago where someone was offering lots of baby things knitted. Perhaps I could get some from them. Inclosed find 25 cents for S. C. H.

MRS. D. H. R.

P.S.—Have you any good games you could let me have for boys and girls?

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' GUILD.

The officers of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild recently elected at the annual meeting of this organization are as follows: President, Mrs. S. J. Niven; vice-presidents, Mrs. T. H. Carling, and Mrs Thomas Baker; treasurer, Mrs. Scatcherd; secretary, Mrs. Gerald Pearson.

GYPSYS AT SHRINERS' CIRCUS.

One of the most attractive features of the Shriners' Circus to be held in the Masonic Temple next week in aid of the Children's Hospital, will be the fortune-telling tents, under the convenership of Miss Harriet Priddis. The fortune-tellers, who are reputed to be wisdom itself in their revelations, will be in typical gypsy costume. Gypsy tinkers of the same camp will go about the bazaar with wheelbarrows full of all manner of tinware for sale. Assisting Miss Priddis in her undertaking will be the Abigail Becker Chapter, Miss Bertha Smith and the Child Welfare Association, Mrs. A. C. Joseph and the Victoria Hospital Alumnae, Mrs. R. Guymer and the London West organization, and Mrs Dreaney and the Trafalgar Chapter.

Another attractive booth has been promised by the Army and Navy Veterans, who under the convenership of Sergt. Rollings, Sergt. Davis and Mr. Glennie will erect a most realistic dugout, in which will be exhibited war trophies and souvenirs.

On Tuesday afternoon a general meeting of the Shriners' Circus conveners was held at the Masonic Temple, the Masons themselves being in readiness to take orders as to just what manner of carpentry work was necessary for the booths undertaken. This expense is to be borne by the Masons alone, who are allowing the Hospital Committee to receive the entire gross proceeds of their undertakings at the circus for the hospital fund.

Some of the booth conveners have asked that an appeal be made to the public for articles which they might use in their booths.

EMPRESS AVENUE M. C.

Miss Lawrence of the Empress avenue school, addressed the Mothers' Club on Tuesday night on the "Subnormal Child," giving a most instructive blackboard outline as to how subnormality becomes hereditary. This meeting took the form of a pickle and relish shower for the Children's Shelter and the Protestant Orphans' Home. The result was that yesterday quantities of bottles of pickles, chili sauce, etc., were taken to these two homes by a committee of the Club members.

A discussion arose at the meeting as to advisability of holding sewing meetings in the various homes of the members during the winter months, the garments to be used in district relief work. A bazaar was suggested for next month. There will also be shortly a sale of papers, collected by the school children, the proceeds to be used for school improvements, such as records, basketball, etc. The program included selections from Mrs. Harold Peach, piano; Master Harold Bentley, cornet, and Miss Hawthorne, readings.

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders dead
The fight that ye so bravely led We've taken up. And we will keep
True faith with you who lie asleep,
With each a cross to mark his bed.
And poppies blowing overhead
Where once his own lifeblood ran red.
So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us is caught,
Ten million hands will hold it high,
And Freedom's light shall never die.
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders fields.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

NINA.

Though Nina has a typically French sound, the name is regarded as English. However, it came to us through the French by a lengthy process of evolution. The Hebrew Chanaach was its earliest source and from this word it derived its significance of "grace."

Through the English Hannah, it came to France as Anne, and was soon given the diminutive, Annette. As Nanette, it appeared simultaneously, but the French love of variety changed the latter form to Nanon and finally Ninon.

The beauty and fame of Ninon de l'Enclos, superwoman and court "vamp" in the reign of Louis XIV, spread her name afar. It became almost a synonym for charmer, and the maids of several countries coveted it. But Ninon is too Gallic for English ears, so, in its transportation across the channel the ending underwent a change and Nina was the final result. It has enjoyed extraordinary vogue in America, too.

The diamond is Nina's talismanic gem. It is the emblem of fearlessness and invincibility and promises its wearer success in all undertakings and freedom from misgivings. According to an old superstition, it enhances the love of a husband for his wife. Sunday is Nina's lucky day and 3 her ducky number.

Puppy Stories

PEDRO IN OVER-THE-MOON-LAND.

Part One.

"Hey diddle, diddle,
The cat and the fiddle
The cow jumped over the moon,
The little dog laughed to see such sport
And the dish ran away with the spoon."

Pedro, the pup in the corner had listened to Tommy singing that nursery rhyme over and over, until he wished to goodness he would stop. It was a very foolish rhyme, the little dog thought, for whoever heard of a cat with a fiddle and a cow jumping over the moon. Then, to be sure, there was the stupid part about the dish running away with the spoon. The big pudding dish that stood on the kitchen table all ready to hold the batter for tomorrow's pudding didn't look as if it could run at all. Perhaps Pedro wouldn't have been so angry with the rhyme if he had not been so sleepy. It had been a long day, you see, and he had romped with Tommy most of the afternoon, so now he wanted to rest in peace.

Pedro made up his mind he was going to go to sleep, but every time he closed his eyes someone seemed to yell that rhyme in his ears. Finally everything was still, for Tommy had been sent off to bed. Pedro thought now that his resting time had come.

But what was that! Someone was playing the fiddle. Pedro jumped up to see who was disturbing him this time. And who do you suppose it was, Mrs. Tabby Cat, to be sure, standing up on her hind legs and playing the fiddle for all she was worth with the bow in one front paws. Why, it was the rhyme coming true! Pedro could hardly believe his eyes.

"Mooooooo!" called Mrs. Moo Cow's voice from the barnyard. Pedro ran out to see what had disturbed the family cow, and Mrs. Tabby ran after him playing a gay tune on the fiddle as she went.

What a sight greeted him there. Mrs. Moo Cow was just ready to take a great big jump and before he could stop her she had jumped high into the air. How funny she looked. Pedro couldn't help laughing at her. Just then there was a crashing sound in the house. The pudding dish had fallen off the table, thought Pedro, but before he could go in to make sure, out ran the pudding dish with the spoon firm in its grasp. It too, took a flying leap, and over the moon it went. Why hadn't Mrs. Cow jumped back, and what did the pudding dish mean by running away with the only pudding spoon in the house, thought Pedro. What if they didn't come back. He knew he had taken a jump and was going up, up, up in the air. He too, was jumping over the moon, and after him was coming Mrs. Tabby Cat, playing "Walt 'Till You Get Them Up in the Air Boys" on the fiddle as fast as ever she could. What was to wait them on the other side of the moon?.

Commission Government For Hockey in London Is Latest Proposal

Governing Body Would Make at Least Junior O. H. A. Entry and Develop City Hockey League—Centralized Control Looks Like Good Plan.

A rift has appeared in London's hockeyless gloom as the result of a new plan whereby the fans will be assured of at least a junior hockey entry.

The latest proposal is to form a hockey commission in London from members of the two clubs, the Hermitage and Orients, which have in the past undertook to look after hockey in the city and have been rather successful at the job, and two outside members who would in a way represent the hockey public in London.

This at a stroke centralizes control of hockey in London under interests who will have the whole game at heart, rather than the interests of any one club or organization.

This commission, as well as looking after the O. H. A. club, would take over the management of the City League, from which an entry into the second round of the Northern League would be made.

Would Be an Independent Commission.

In the past there have been complaints from both fans and players as to treatment, and often ugly rumors. Under a commission form of government, allied with no one club or other organization, hockey affairs would be more or less wide open to players and fans alike.

Running hockey teams has been a thankless job in the past, and probably the new commission will have its troubles that way as well, but the abuse would be minimized and probably a better spirit of co-operation between players and commission, and finally fans and hockey, would be the outcome.

It is the best plan yet put forward for keeping the game alive in the city, and at a meeting to be held next week details will be more fully discussed and the proposal more generally gone over.

In the event that this commission gets working, city league hockey will be energetically pushed from the start. Usually there is a squad of thirty or forty out for the junior teams, and those who do not make that company would be allocated to clubs in the city league.

Rink accommodation could be better looked after, too, with centralized control, and according to members of the London curlers, they will be prepared to give accommodation equal to last year, and slightly better probably.

This news sort of lifts the back-pond atmosphere from the local hockey situation.

Comiskey Lauded in His Action at Money Loss With Sox Players

Hek Says If Grand Thingumbob of Baseball Is Ever Created Old Roman Ought To Have Job.

By Hek.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The year just passed was a great baseball year. Next year is going to be still greater. The bribery scandal in connection with the 1919 world's series is not going to hurt baseball. Its sifting and placing the responsibility where it lies is going to do baseball lots of good.

Baseball is clean. Human rats may invade it, just as human rats get into every profession. But human rats cannot stay in baseball. Charley Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sax proved this fact.

Charley Comiskey is a sportsman in all senses of the world. His action in summarily firing the players involved in the bribery scandal was a great act. Some owners might have hesitated, but not Comiskey. He isn't built that way.

Comiskey's Greatest Act.

From the time that I played baseball in rocky and glass-covered Chicago lots, without any shoes to protect my feet, I have admired Comiskey. But the thing for which I admire him most was his action in taking the stigma off baseball, the great American national game.

Some owners might have hesitated. Comiskey fired the guilty players without any hesitation. It meant taking money out of his own pockets—no small sum, either. It meant that he would not sell them. He did not ask waivers on them. He "canned" them aright. And by doing so he served notice on all ball players and all club owners that baseball was to be kept clean.

Is there a club owner in this country who would dare to hire these renegades? I'd like to see one try it. He would lose his team, for honest ball players will not play with crooks. He would lose his crowds, for American public sentiment is a mighty weapon. One hundred and seventy-eight thousand three hundred and fifty-seven fans paid $564,800 to see the 1920 world's series. Would they have all been there if Comiskey had not acted as he did? They would not. Comiskey lost money by being on the level. Other owners made money because he was square with the public.

Vote for Comiskey.

Perhaps Ban Johnson, heavyweight will not always occupy that position. Perhaps Comiskey could be induced to become Johnson's successor. He's for him.

If the post of Grand Thingumbob of Baseball is ever created, I nominate Charley Comiskey for the job, full knowing that he will do everything that is necessary to keep baseball clean.

Won't it be funny to see Rube Marquard, the left-handed slabster, pirouetting about the diamond any more?

Goodby, Rube. We hope the National League will bar you for keeps. There isn't any more room in baseball for player-speculators than there is for the White Sox renegades.

I wish the Cleveland judge who found you guilty of ticket-scalping had sent you to jail, or something just as bad. Too bad Comiskey wasn't on the bench.

McGraw May Retire.

New York, Nov. 8.—Reports are very strong here that John McGraw probably will retire as playing manager of the Giants and devote himself to the club's business affairs, McGraw's personal escapades have lost him a lot of friends during the last few months.

SARNIA TEAM OUT OF BANDAGES FOR BIG SATURDAY CLASH

Yellow and Black Horde Awaited With Confidence by Borderers.

SARNIA, Nov. 10.—A small turnout greeted the coaches tonight at the curling rink, the players evidently being a trifle backward about letting their bruises be bumped around again.

There are several small imperfections in the work of the squad, which held them back last Saturday to be ironed out between now and the next game here. Lamb's chin is healing up, though he will likely carry a scar. Gord. Smith is having one of his front teeth set back in the gums and filed off to the same level as the rest of his molars and the rest of the team are hobbling around and showing more interest in life than they have since last Saturday morning, when they watched the farmers drawing in their produce to the Hamilton maket, which was camped just below their hotel windows. Cole's instep, which has been in bad shape for some time, will likely be able to get into the game and bolster up the back division or the wing as the case may be. Full turnouts are requested every night this week to get in shape for the striped horde here next Saturday.

OTTAWA TRYING TO CAPTURE BIG GAME

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Ottawa is making a great effort to land the big football classic between Varsity and McGill. Controller Kent is in communication with Varsity and McGill officials with a view towards having the game played here. He is offering special inducements for the game, and will have a seating accommodation arranged for the greatest crowd that Ottawa has ever turned out to witness a final.

WARRING LEAGUES TO OPEN A PEACE TALK IN CHICAGO

Garry Herrmann Read Telegram While Addressing Minor Leaguers — Latter Suspicious of Sudden Affection For Them.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 10.—War clouds tonight appeared to be vanishing from the horizon of major league baseball. The agreement of the disputants of the National and American Leagues to meet in joint session in Chicago Friday to effect a peace treaty was taken as indicating so early settlement of the threatened baseball civil war.

To assure peaceful negotiations no outsiders will be admitted to the Friday meting. Lawyers are excluded so that no "technical questions" can be raised. Presidents B. B. Johnson of the American League and John Heydler of the National League are to stay away, so that the clobowners may fight things out alone.

Announcement of the peace conference came in a dramatic way. Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Nationals, was addressing the minor league meeting here, when a messenger brought him a note. It was from the American League owners who had not met and decided to treat with the Nationals. Herrmann at once announced the terms of the message.

Iron Out Differences.

President Johnson, in a statement later, said the Friday meeting was an effort to "iron out the points of difference between the two leagues." The National League club owners issued no statement, intimating, however, that they would abide by what they had already done. This was taken to mean that they would insist on the Lasker plan of baseball government, and on the appointment of Judge Landis of Chicago as chairman of the new board of control at a salary of $50,000 per annum.

The minor leagues today, after hearing harmony speeches by Herrmann, Charles Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Nationals and Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburg Nationals, went into executive session and voiced their suspicion of the sudden affection manifested for them by the major league magnates. They determined that in dealing with the major leagues they will not cede any of their own rights.

As You Were

Baseball may have its gambling disclosures, but so far, during the present outpost actions, there has been disclosed a lot of loyalty even when loyalty probably means extinction and certainly large financial losses.

The men who are standing behind Ban Johnson look to be staring ruin in the face because of numbers and money behind every additional number, but they are sticking so far and in doing that they will be commended by the whole baldom—even as losers.

With the Yankees arrayed against them, what kind of a war Ban launches will be certainly Ruthless.

This war has little in common with the last one started by the organization of the Federal League, but it recalls what a costly mess that was.

It was early in 1914 that the Federal League was organized and was fought not only by two major leagues—the National and American—but by all the minor leagues. The total cost of that war, which finally was settled early in 1916, never has been stated by those involved, but it is believed between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 was dropped by the club owners on both sides. The league was organized in Chicago with James Gilmore as president. Charles Weeghman and William Walker, both stockholders today in the Cubs, were principal owners in the Chicago club. Phil Hall, now owner of the St. Louis Americans, was the Chicago backer of the St. Louis club of the Federals. President Gilmore then interested Robbert Ward of New York together with men in Pittsburg, Baltimoe, Indianapolis, Kansas City and Buffalo. Thus the league was launched. It was a harvest for the ball players. Many who had been receiving salaries of about $4,000 a season, procured contracts, either with the new organization or with their own clubs, for twice that amount. Injunction suits were common and attorneys' fees were tremendous. Construction of new ball parks cost fortunes. Seven of them have been idle since the war was settled after the 1915 season. In the nineties the National League was a twelve-club organization, and after a few unsatisfactory years decided to return to an eight-club organization. This made the opening for the expansion of the American League, then a minor body. It went into the abandoned cities of the National—Cleveland, Baltimore and Washington, and invaded Chicago, later going into New York, Philadelphia, Boston and St. Louis.

One Yankee owner says that Ban and his faithfuls won't get any nearer Babe Ruth than the crown prince got to Paris. They won't strike nearly as much champagne on the way either.

Matty Mathewson, famous hurler of the Giants, is making a good fight against the white plague, reports claim. He is not yet ready to leave the Saranac Lake Sanatorium, but his physicians assert that he has won the fight, and will be out shortly. Mathewson is one of the best-liked personalities in baseball, even without his wonderful record in the game, and his recovery will be hoped for by thousands of admirers.

Varsity is taking no chances with Queen's on Saturday, despite their 16-0 verdict over the Presbyterians at the start of the season. Coach Laddie Cassells is giving the Blue and White squad the same going-over as if they were meeting McGill.

Solomon, Kitchener Star, Leaves Mysteriously

KITCHENER, Nov. 10.—"Solly" Soloman, famed as Kitchener's star puck shooter in the Allen cup games of 1918, has disappeared from the city and his relatives are anxious regarding his whereabouts. Solly left the city, it is believed, about Monday, leaving no word regarding his intentions. His friends and relatives can give no reason for his unusual disappearance.

SARNIANS NOT DEPENDING ON 21-PT. LEAD ON SAINTS

SARNIA, Nov. 10.—The S. C. I. are carrying a twenty-seven point lead with them to St. Thomas Saturday, but that fact is not allowing them to let up in their practices in the least. The local students are practicing faithfully this week in an effort to add more points to their lead, when they meet the Railway City lads on their own field down in the hollow. Parkes, who had one foot injured in the Petrolea game here, is hobbling around and says he is going to make a strong try to get into Saturday's game. Whether he will be able to or not is problematical. Gabler, who has been gracing a pair of crutches for a long time, will likely don the uniform for old times' sake.

18 Clubs In Sight For London and District Association

Organization of Soccer Saturday Night Assured of Good Start for First Season—Eleven City Clubs Are Practical Certainties.

More than eighteen clubs are in prospect for the new London and District Association, which will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Richmond Hotel Saturday evening at 7:30. This is, of course, inclusive of Sarnia and St. Thomas entries, the number of which can be only conservatively estimated.

Out of the London City League of eight teams last year there is every indication of another four clubs, thus making the establishment of the London and District Association certain and sure from London alone.

Mayor Little and council have been invited to attend the meeting Saturday night, at which Secretary Muir of the O. F. A. will be present. The Windsor and District Association was given its send-off by Mayor Winters, and the border organization is in splendid shape to undertake a large soccer program next year.

Good Financial Year.

At Saturday's meeting the financial report of this year's soccer will be read, and there are some welcome surprises in store for the league's supporters.

A number of the clubs of the city have been notified of the meeting, and those who have been overlooked are cordially invited to attend. Both St. Thomas and Sarnia will have representatives at the meeting.

The teams practically entered now from the city are: G. W. V. A., Grand Trunks, Public Utilities, Army and Navy, 33rd Regiment, R. C. R.'s, 1st W. O. R., 2nd Machine Gunners, Grand Army, Richard-Wilcox and Knights of Columbus.

EAST END BOYS' LEAGUE HAS FINE HOCKEY TEAM ENTERED FOR SEASON

Five teams were entered in the East End Boys Hockey League, formed last night at a meeting of the boys interested.

Ex-Mayor F. G. Rumball offered medals for the winning team and the captains are already busy gathering up their line-ups for the season.

The teams entered and their captains are:

Wolves.—Bert Mennel; Lions, S. Foster; Tigers, Wilfred Kelleher; Falcons, Kenneth Hunter; All Saints, Ray Dew; Leopards, Kenneth Graham.

The secretary of the league is H. Hyatt. The schedule will be published later.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Hist! There's a secret. Harry Vardon, the great British golfer, confided to friends here that he is a collector. His hobby is nails. He began to follow it when a kid, drawing the nails out of every box that entered his home.

MACDONALD'S CUT BRIER

¶ MACDONALD'S "BRIER" has become a Canadian institution. Smoked by the men who made history. In the bush, on the trail, in mining camps, prospectors' huts, factory yards, on trains, steamships, in the luxurious homes and downtown clubs of our Canadian cities—Macdonald's has always been recognized as the smoke.

¶ MACDONALD'S CUT "BRIER"—the same tobacco but in new form—maintains every Macdonald tradition since 1858, and gives to smokers—more tobacco for the money.

England Amazed at Revelations Recently Made Over National Pastime.

[By HEK.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Other folks have their troubles, too. Just as we were amazed and shocked by the revelations that certain baseball players had accepted bribes to "throw" the 1919 World's Series, the sporting circles and public in England have been amazed by the discovery that famous football players there were indulging in similar practices.

Football is a close rival of cricket in British popular favor. It is, in fact, one of the British national games. Our British brothers are now conducting some "mopping up" operations that are expected to overcome the suspicions cast upon the sport by the exposure of famous players.

Clergy Demand Reform.

In the universal demand that was heard on every hand for a "clean up" the British clergy took a prominent part, according to a letter which I have just received from a prominent British sportsman. He informs me that Bishop Welldon, the Dean of Durham, led in the campaign for a football regeneration, and quotes the Dean as saying:

"Football is the most democratic of games; yet it better not be played at all if it cannot be played in the spirit of true sport.

"The bribing of football players and the buying and selling of football matches are absolutely fatal to sport. This is a matter of life or death to British sport."

Managers Heed Outcry.

The Dean is to be commended for his attitude. In this country too many of those who might be leaders in influencing a better sporting spirit are inclined to shrug their shoulders and say, "Well, what could you expect?"

As the result of the demand of the Dean and the public support given him, all the managers of the leading football teams are doing everything possible to eliminate every dishonest player. Not one has attempted to dispute the facts presented as to dishonorable practices.

I wonder what would happen if any of the leading churches in America should call for reformation in any branch of sport. Would they be hooted at from one end of the country to the other? Think it over.

EMBRO CURLERS ELECT OFFICERS

EMBRO, Nov. 10.—The curlers and bowlers held a meeting at the Courier office, where the officers of last year were re-elected as follows: President, R. H. Clark; vice-president, William French; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Atkinson; directors, Messrs. A. A. McKinnon, John Brown, William Davis and Dr. Green.

Rev. Mr. Galbraith of Thamesford is to occupy the pulpit of Knox Church next Sunday.

G. R. Smith of Enterprise is to be teller at the Royal Bank here. Miss Norma Ross is giving her position (as teller) up this week.

RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Ralph Greenleaf of Monmouth, Illinois, retained his title as pocket billiard champion of the world last night when he defeated Arthur Woods of Minneapolis 125 to 55 in 31 innings.

Greenleaf defeated the other finalists, James Maturo of Denver, who finished third, and Walter Franklin of Kansas City, who lost all three games he played and finished last.

COAL MERCHANTS MUST GET WORD OF CUSTOMERS

Ontario Fuel Controller Issues a New Order.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—The Ontario fuel controller is issuing special instructions to all dealers that in filling further orders they must first secure from the consumer a declaration that he has not on hand sufficient coal to last him through the winter. The order will go to all dealers and the mayor of each municipality.

Information is also being gathered by the fuel controller so that wherever emergencies arise immediate steps may be taken to relieve the situation.

Here is Lou Marsh's statement:

Smith lies when he says that he told me in any way at any time before the bout that the man he was bringing or the man he brought here was not the man I contracted for, I contracted for Frank Burns of 'Frisco to come here and box Valgar and Smith arrived in town last Wednesday with a man he introduced to me as Burns. Burns received a try-out against Fred Crompton on Wednesday afternoon and critics who saw him told me that he was an awkwardly clever fellow with a tremendous kick in his left hand, and predicted a lively battle. Thursday night at eight o'clock I received a phone call saying that it was being rumored around town that the boxer Smith had was not the real Burns, but a ringer. I immediately hunted up Burns and Smith at the Walker House and in the presence of Joe Jacobs, Harold Marsh and Henry McEwan, both Smith and the boxer declared vigorously that the boxer was Frankie Burns of Frisco, and they gave me a record of fifteen to more of his bouts. Jacobs, McEwan and Marsh will take an affidavit today. In addition, Smith went to the sporting editors of the Globe and World and made the same statement, backing his assertions up by producing letters and money order receipts to or from Frankie Burns. To confirm Smith's statements I wired William Rocap and Lou Jaffe, Philadelphia sporting writers, Thursday night as follows:

"Nate Smith is here with Frankie Burns of Frisco to box Valgar. How long has Burns been around Philadelphia? Name half a dozen of his best opponents. Is he good enough to give Valgar a battle? Please reply quickly. Important."

Friday morning I received a reply from Jaffe, saying that Burns had been training there for a fight for a month, and that he and Smith had gone to Toronto, and that Smith was a reliable man. Rocaps wired that Billy Shannon had been substituted for Burns and was no match for Valgar. That wire did not reach me until it was handed to me by W. A. Hewitt, sporting editor of the Star, at the arena at 9:30 the night of the bouts. I immediately called James P. Fitzgerald, the secretary of the commission and J. V. Conroy, secretary of the G. W. V. A., showed them the wires and put the matter up to Mr. Fitzgerald as secretary of the commission. He pointed out that the wires were contradictory and said to let the bout go ahead. He also issued Smith's boxer a license under the name of Frankie Burns. When the bout turned out one-sided, I went to Mr. Fitzgerald and asked him what to do and voluntarily turned over to him all wires, correspondence and contracts. He ordered the purse withheld until the commission investigated.

Smith and his boxer maintained steadfastly, both before, during and after the bout, that the man in the ring was Frankie Burns of 'Frisco, and reiterated their statements in the morning. The commission was not satisfied, and sent Mr. Fitzgerald to Philadelphia to investigate, and his investigations apparently resulted in Smith's confession. His confession at Philadelphia is in direct contrast to his attitude here.

Gives Smith the Lie.

I absolutely deny that I was at any time told by Smith that he did not have the real Burns here, or that I knew until today that he was not the real Frankie Burns of San Francisco.

If Smith says as Rocap wires that he wired me that Burns could not come and that I wired him to bring on a substitute he lies. That is plain enough.

That should be easy to prove. If Smith wired that Burns was unable to come his wire will be on the file in Philadelphia. If I wired back to send a substitute, as he says, he should have my wire or the original should be on file in the Toronto office.

The production of those wires should settle the whole matter. I'm going to ask the telegraph companies for a statement.

I was not any party to any fraud on the Toronto boxing public, but was the victim of the substitution myself. I did not know that the real Frankie Burns of 'Frisco had not appeared here until I saw the Globe this morning.

M'GILL WILL NOT GO TO TORONTO TO PLAY

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Officers of the McGill and University of Toronto rugby clubs were in communication with one another over the long distance telephone last night with regard to the play-off for the championship. Last night Varsity asked McGill to toss for the choice of place for the play-off. This the McGill Club refused to do as they tossed during the season of 1914, and after losing went to Toronto, where the game was played. In the opinion of the McGill Club, it is Toronto's turn to come to Montreal, and if they decide not to, the game will be played on neutral ground.

In speaking of Kingston for the play-off the McGill man said: "If the new stadium was completed we would be the first to offer to go to Kingston, but as the old campus is not sufficiently large to accommodate the crowd, Kingston appears to be out of the question for the playoff."

CHALLENGES SCHOONER OWNERS TO DEEP SEA RACE DURING APRIL

New York, Nov. 11.—F. R. Mayer of New York, vice-commodore of the Atlantic Yacht Club, and owner of the yacht Undaunted, announced last night he had challenged the owners of the Gloucester fishing schooner Esperanto for a 200-mile deep sea contest next April. The Esperanto was the winner of the recent international series with the Halifax schooner Delawana in the races for the championship of the Atlantic fishing fleet.

OTTAWA SIGNS PLAYERS.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Ottawas have already signed four of their players in anticipation of the hockey season. Within a few weeks it is expected all last year's squad will be signed. The local directors say the Livingstone team has not done anything yet except sign up some amateurs and a few fading professionals like Goldie Prodgers. Livingstone claimed Neighbor, Cleghorn and Benedict. This shows how foolish its dream of hockey domination was.

Pete Green is going to be signed up as bench manager again. The lucky pilot is a big favorite, and with Eddie Gerard as team captain the board of strategy will again be intact.

GOVERNMENT LOAN APPROVED.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Approval of a government loan to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad of $7,662,000, for improvements, was announced today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Explosion on Freighter Ends in Fire — Vessel Is Beached.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—After a spectacular race against time down the Hudson River, surrounded by puffing tugs and fireboats, and with flames licking about her forward decks, the burning Morgan Line freighter El Mundo tonight lay beached on the Communipaw Flats near Ellis Island, out of the way of harbor traffic.

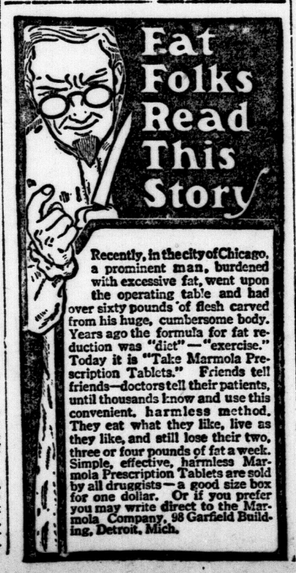

Flames which started from an explosion in her forward fuel oil tanks shortly after 3 o'clock continued to burn briskly, sweeping the freighter from bow to stern, despite the efofrts of a swarm of fire-fighters to hold them in control.

The ship, a craft of 10,000 tons, is almost a complete wreck, with her sides torn by blasts and her forward superstructure carried away by the fire.

All members of the crew of the ill-fated El Mundo, which arrived here from Galveston last Monday with a general cargo, have been accounted for, police officials said tonight. Eight of the deckhands were reported seriously burned, one probably fatally.

More than a score of longshoremen and members of the crew were unloading the vessel at the Southern Pacific Line pier when the fuel tank, containing several thousand gallons of oil, blew up without warning, hurling men in all directions and carrying away a section of the deck. Plates on the port side also were torn out, and the ship immediately began to list.

Sprayed by burning oil, many workers on the pier had narrow escapes from being burned to death. Several also had the clothes blown from their bodies by the force of the blast, which shook the waterfront for blocks.

Recently, in the city of Chicago, a prominent man, burdened with excessive fat, went upon the operating table and had over sixty pounds of flesh carved from his huge, cumbersome body. Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—doctors tell their patients, until thousands know and use this convenient, harmless method. They eat what they like, live as they like, and still lose their two, three or four pounds of fat a week. Simple, effective, harmless Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists—a good size box for one dollar. Or if you prefer you may write direct to the Marmola Company, 938 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich.

A Perfection Oil Heater near a window heats the cold air seeping through the sash and then radiates it as warm fresh air.

YOU really need a little warmth in the parlor these cool evenings, but you naturally hesitate to put on the furnace, because it eats up the coal, and coal is scarce and high in price—and then, you don't want to heat the whole house. A Perfection will produce all the heat you actually need right on the spot, and you can turn off the heat as soon as you retire.

A Perfection Oil Heater is invaluable as auxiliary heat on cold winter days and in exposed corners. Use it to boil a kettle, heat shaving water, dry clothes indoors and in many other ways.

Over 4,000,000 Perfections in use, and each giving ten hours of cosy warmth for every gallon of coal oil.

Get a copy of our new Heater folder. Ask your dealer to show you a Perfection Oil Heater. Dealers will also demonstrate New Perfection Oil Cookstoves and Perfection Water Heaters for you.

A DANGEROUS WARNING —BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

Busy Time For New Magistrate

Scores of Serious Cases To Be Heard at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Nov. 10.—W. E. Gundy, newly-appointed police magistrate for the border, was sworn into office today by J. H. Rodd, crown attorney.

The appointment of Mr. Gundy pleases attorneys and residents of the border, as he has acquired a decided reputation for executive ability, knowledge of the law and judgment. The docket which faces the new magistrate is huge. Minor cases have been dealt with by two justices of the peace for the last two weeks. Scores of liquor cases, several charges of theft, one of housebreaking and any number of other serious cases await.

HAMILTON MORNING NEWSPAPER SUSPENDS HAD BRIEF EXISTENCE

Times Blames Combination of Unforeseen Circumstances For Action.

HAMILTON, Nov. 10.—The Ontario Newspapers' Corporation, Limited, have made the following statement tonight:

"It has been found necessary to suspend publication of the Hamilton Morning Times. This has been brought about by a combination of circumstances, largely uncontrollable, which culminated today in the inability of the management to secure sufficient printers to make the issue of tomorrow's edition possible. It had been unable since Monday to publish papers of requisite size owing to this cause. The management, which had been paying a scale of wages in excess of the morning newspaper scale provided for in the agreement entered into between the Hamilton publishers and the Typographical Union, was unable to meet the demands which the union officials thought fair under the circumstances, with the result as above stated.

"This is very much regretted by the Ontario Newspapers' Corporation, Limited, but is the only action possible when all the facts are considered. The proposal to establish a morning newspaper in Hamilton as it presented itself to the promoters a few months ago seemed feasible, and even attractive as a commercial undertaking. Events, however, in the business world have developed so quickly and unexpectedly as to prejudice a successful operation of the enterprise which this company has undertaken.

"The management has, however, reason to be grateful for the encouraging reception accorded the new venture by a large section of the community. Considering the brevity of the appeal that has been made, the response from the standpoint of advertising patronage and subscriptions received gave assurance that under normal conditions and the co-operation that had been anticipated, ultimate success might confidently have been looked for.

"All obligations will be promtply met and money received for unearned subcriptions and advertising refunded immediately."

FIRM NOT AFFECTED.

HAMILTON, Nov. 10.—Mr. W. Nelson Wilkinson, managing editor of the Hamilton Morning Times, who also is president and general manager of the Canadian Newspapers, Service, Limited, tonight made the following statement:

"Canadian Newspaper Service, Limited, was separate and distinct from the Hamilton Times. The company purchased from the Ontario Newspapers' Corporation, Limited, the plant and business of the Canada Ready Print Company and amalgamated it with the Canadian Newspaper Service, Limited. The business of the Canadian Newspaper Service, Limited, is not affected by the suspension of the Hamilton Morning Times."

SPRACKLIN MAY BECOME CHIEF OF INSPECTORS

Interesting Developments Are Coming in Connection With Hunting Rum-Runners.

(By Staff Reporter.)

WINDSOR, Nov. 10.—Important developments in connection with the killing of Beverley Trumble are expected at any time. Mrs. Trumble is considering instituting civil suit against Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin and intimated tonight that she will probably decide upon such a course through her attorney, W. H. Furlong. Sums ranging from $50,000 to $100,000 as compensation may be asked.

That such an action will be taken was predicted by friends of the roadhouse keeper tonight. In the meantime Hamilton Trumble, former Windsor alderman and local businessman, father of "Babe" said tonight that he expected to take some action on the finding of the jury and the conduct of the case by the crown.

Friends of the dead man, and they number hundreds on both sides of the border, are preparing a petition for local circulation calling upon Attorney-General Raney to re-open the case in spite of the recommendation of Crown Attorney Rodd that no further action be taken by the crown, on the ground that such a course would entail additional expense and that no object would be gained because he believed the decision of the jury would be reiterated by any jury that would be named here.

Justice Rose, presiding at the Supreme Court assizes at Sandwich has ordered the grand jury held until it is certain no further developments will occur.

Ignores Threats.

Ignoring rumored and telephoned threats of violence, Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin is planning more determined crusades against rum forces than ever. An intensive campaign is being planned to embrace the whole county and today he recommended the appointment of four additional officers to assist him in his work. Crown Attorney Rodd after considering the names suggested and the plan for increasing activities tonight forwarded the recommendation with his approval to Attorney-General Raney.

Mr. Spracklin today held a conference with his squad of liquor sleuths, during which a vigorous campaign was mapped out. The whole district is to be scoured and closer vigilance than heretofore maintained along the whole river front between Essex County and Michigan.

Rev. Spracklin will enter the pulpit again next Sunday, although probably not in his own church. His plans for the day have not been completed, but it is probable he will either preach in Sarnia or Chatham. His own pulpit will be filled by a speaker from Detroit.

Many Congratulations.

Today the Spracklin home was besieged with congratulatory messages by wire, telephone and mail, as well as by personal calls. The minister denied himself to all visitors except those who submitted to rigid scrutiny before entering his residence. This was to prevent any possibility of violence, such as has been widely threatened.

Just what will be the outcome of the controversy existing in the local liquor hunting forces between two factions, headed by Chief License Inspector Mousseau and Mr. Spracklin, is problematical. With his bold announcement tonight of his intention to carry on, the minister has not contributed toward the solution of the despute which has originated because of his appointment as free lance agent, independent of the authority of Mr. Mousseau.

May Be Chief.

A possible solution of the difficulty is suggested in a well-grounded story that, following the appointment of W. E. Gundy as magistrate for the border, License Inspector Mosseau will be named magistrate to handle cases originating in Sandwich, Ford City and other parts of the County of Essex.

In the event of the naming of Inspector Mosseau as magistrate, it is certain, border officials declared tonight, that Mr. Spracklin would be promoted as a reward for his services to the department, to the position of chief license inspector of the county, in succession to Mr. Mosseau.

GAS SITUATION IS UP TO BOARD

Judge Dismisses Application For Injunction From City of Chatham.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—An application by the city of Chatham to Mr. Justice Logie here today for an injunction restraining the Chatham Gas Company from increasing the rates for domestic use from 25 cents and 35 cents to 50 cents and 75 cents, without the sanction of an order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, was dismissed. His lordship ruled that the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board had exclusive jurisdiction in the matter. O. L. Lewis, K. C., appeared for the city of Chatham, W. N. Tilley, K. C., for the Chatham Gas Company. The latter opposed the application for an injunction on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction, and that the question was one for the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, solely, to deal with. The judge concurred in this view.

NO SETTLEMENT OF GAS DISPUTE

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—Representatives of Southwestern Ontario municipalities and of the Union Gas Company continued negotiations all day today at the Parliament Buildings, but reached no settlement. Negotiations will be continued in Toronto next week. The board of five, under the chairmanship of Gas Commissioner Estlin, had another conference with Premier Drury, and late in the afternoon met all the municipal representatives in further discussion.

The gas company insisted on a winter rate of 50 cents and a summer rate of 75 cents. The municipalities, through their representatives, offered 40 cents, but the two different forces could not come to terms. The company has now some contracts at 50 cents and 75 cents, and could not see its way clear to establishings a rate of 40 cents with the remainder. The municipalities were equally insistent not to go beyond 40 cents. Meantime gas is being supplied to all the municipalities concerned.

MAY TRAIN TEACHERS OF TECHNICAL WORK AT OTTAWA SCHOOL

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Although no decision has been made in the matter, it seems likely that, in the event of the Federal and Provincial Governments agreeing to the establishment of a central institution for training teachers of technical education that institution will be located at Ottawa. It will be remembered that the interprovincial conference on technical education, which was held in Ottawa last month, and included representatives from practically every province of the Dominion, went on record as being in favor of establishing such an institution.

BROKE HIS NECK BUT STILL TALKS

Case at Brantford of Keen Interest to Medical Men.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 10.—Morley E. Wingrove, who went out to pick apples in the country, is in the local hospital with a broken neck. His condition has aroused considerable attention from local medical men. He is paralyzed from the neck down, but is quite conscious and converses freely.

At a meeting here tonight of the commission on mothers' pensions, 80 applications were received, and many of the applicants were heard. It is estimated that one mill on the dollar will be required for the successful operation of the act.

A wife and five children, the second case of the kind in a month, are billeted on the city for relief as a result of the head of the family being sent to jail for a breach of the O. T. A. Relief Officer Glover reported the case today.

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 35c and 60c a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WOMAN WAS HURLED THROUGH WINDOW

Struck by Auto Driven by William Pring of London.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 10.—Mrs. John House, Copenhagan, is at the Amassa Wood Hospital suffering from internal injuries, a broken wrist and body bruises, which she received in an auto accident at the corner of Elgin and Talbot streets today. The auto truck was driven by William A. Pring, London, and striking Mrs. House, knocked her through the plate glass window of Mr. Rick's store. Mr. Pring claims that in turning off Elgin street she ran in front of the truck and he to avoid striking her, ran his auto over the curb and pushed her through the window. Parties seeing the accident place the blame on Mr. Pring. They say the lady was on the sidewalk, and the car took too wide a turn at the corner and jumped on the sidewalk. Mrs. House is about 50 years old. Her husband, who was with her, was not injured. The police are investigating. Reports from the hospital tonight, say Mrs. House is in no danger.

THREE MILLION YEARS OLD

There has just been completed in Toronto the "unrocking" of an almost perfect skeleton of one of the Dinosaur family, which used to gambol in the valley of the Red River, Alberta, some 3,000,000 years ago. The skeleton was found by Dr. W. A. Parks and staff, of the Royal Ontario Museum, where it is now mounted as shown in the photograph. The sand along the shallow, brackish shores of this great body of water formed a splendid preservative for the huge reptiles then roaming the earth.

Should Arrest Fashion Queens For Indecent Exposure, Claim

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—"Some of the fashionably dressed women of Ontario should be arrested for indecent exposure," declared Dr. Margaret Patterson of this city at this afternoon's session of the annual convention of the Ontario Women's Institutes. The question of women's dress came up in connection with a resolution submitted from the Muskoka Women's Institute condemning the present-day tendency toward immodesty of dress. The concensus of opinion of the delegates to the annual convention was that the immodest styles prevailing at present were attributable to lack of home training of the young people, and generally relaxed discipline in the home.

Censorship of the moving pictures came in for sharp criticism, and the convention demanded more rigid censorship. It was stated by delegates that some of the moving pictures shown in country towns were not fit for children to see.

Dr. Margaret Patterson said that one manager of a moving picture theatre had remarked to her that if a picture did not contain a little bit of suggestiveness the moving picture theatre might as well close up.

A letter had been received from Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, whose department has charge of the censorship of pictures, stating that he would be pleased to receive suggestions from the Women's Institutes on the censorship question. It was agreed that a delegation should wait upon the minister with regard to the matter.

WILL NOT MAKE PHONE INCREASE RETROACTIVE

Railway Board Chairman Says Any Change Would Be For Future.

FINAL SESSION LATER

Will Fix Date When Municipalities' Expert Reports Are Ready.

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—(By Canadian Press).—The board of railway commissioners, which convened here today at the inquiry into the application of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada for an increase in telephone rates and the applying of a measured rate for outgoing calls on business telephones, adjourned early this afternoon, announcing that the date of the final sessions at Ottawa for the discussion of the whole matter, on which their eventual order will be based, would not be fixed until it was known when the reports of the experts engaged by the Union of Municipalities who are opposing the company's application would be ready.

These reports, the board was informed, could not be ready for at least six weeks.

Another matter of almost equal importance was settled at the session, namely, when Chairman S. J. McLean of the railway commission, announced that there would be no retroactive measures, but that any increase, if granted, would date from the issuing of the order of the board, but would have no retroactive effect. This led to a request by counsel for the Bell Telephone Company that proceedings should be hastened, since they claimed that under the present rates the company was losing $200,000 a month.

Apart from Quebec and the south shore representatives there was a unanimity of opinion that if the Bell Telephone Company could show that it was entitled to an advance in its rates, this should be granted.

OPPOSE MEASURE PLAN.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Emphatic objection to the installation of the measured service system proposed by the Bell Telephone Company was made in a brief filed on behalf of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association with the board of railway commissioners when it met here this morning, under the chairmanship of Hon. F. B. Carvell. Briefs along similar lines were presented by the board of trade, the chamber of commerce, the Montreal Publicity Association and other interested local bodies. The Union of Canadian Municipalities has instructed Charles Laurendeau, K.C., to watch the proceedings on its behalf. The company was represented by a battery of legal and technical experts.

KITCHENER EXPECTS TO PASS OBJECTIVE IN SAN CAMPAIGN

Aim To Open Freeport Buildings as County Tuberculosis Hospital.

KITCHENER, Nov. 10.—The first big gun in the big sanatorium drive was fired here tonight, when teams of canvassers, headed by a strong committee, started out to collect $10,000 from Kitchener citizens in the next forty-eight hours, for the purpose of putting Kitchener up to its objective in the effort to raise $25,000 for the opening of the Freeport Sanatorium as the county tuberculosis hospital under the auspices of the Waterloo County Health Association. Every indication points to the fund being over-subscribed here.

Appointed Chairman.

With the selection of L. J. Breithaupt as general chairman, the campaign to get the Twin City district behind the proposed Kitchener Chamber of Commerce got off to a good start today. Mr. Breithaupt was hit upon as being the one man in the community acceptable to even those who are still playing a discordant note on the old dissension string, which separated the community during the war.

The appointment of a committee, consisting of members of Grand River Lodge, the parent Masonic lodge of this city, to interview the officials of various other Masonic lodges in the district to organize for the erection of a Masonic Temple here, was announced today. The lease on the present Masonic headquarters expires in five years, and it is the aim of the parent lodge to get building operations under way as soon as possible.

Lake Erie and Northern Railway Applies to Railway Board.

GALT, Nov. 10.—It has been learned here that the Lake Erie and Northern, and Grand River Electric Railways have applied to the Dominion Railway Board for an increase in their passenger and freight rates in conformity with the increases granted the steam lines of 20 per cent in passenger rates, and 40 per cent in freight rates.

MAY ASK PROVINCE TO ASSUME SHARE OF HIGHWAY COST

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—A meeting of the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission and the municipalities was held at the Parliament Buildings today.

The chief items on the agenda were whether there should be a change in the personnel of the commission, whether maintenance of the highway should be borne by the counties, rather than local municipalities, and whether the Government should assume its share as provided under the provincial highways act.

George H. Gooderham, chairman of the commission, who presided, stated that on maintenance there was a shortage of some $6,000, as compared with $120,000 last year. He read a report of Col. W. D. Sawyer, road commissioner for Massachusetts, to the effect that he did not know of any concrete road anywhere that had a better or more uniform mixture, and that it was excellently maintained.

"We are of the opinion," said Mr. Gooderham, "that the municipalities should be relieved of the cost of maintenance of the road, just as they do for provincial highways. If this is to be done, then some move in the way of a memorial to the Government should be sent, asking for such legislation at the coming session.

The Canadian Vimy Memorial Church

To be erected at Lens in memory of the Canadians who fell in the Great War

A Gift from Canada to France

¶ With a desire to perpetuate the memories of the 60,000 fellow-Canadians who died that we might live, it is proposed to erect a Memorial Church in Lens, France, the place made memorable by the victory of Canadian arms.

¶ This Church will replace the Institutional Church totally destroyed and will be under the oversight of the Federated Protestant Churches of France. The proposal, having been endorsed by representative Church Bodies, will therefore express in an entirely non-sectarian degree the spirit of Christian Unity.

¶ YOU ARE ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TOWARDS ITS ERECTION — your personal interest in persuading others to subscribe is also asked.

¶ The Organizing Committee feels that a lengthy appeal is unnecessary as this very practical suggestion is bound to ensure a willing and generous response.

¶ The Memorial Church will be a place of sacred pilgrimage; for the ground upon which it will stand has been consecrated by the blood of our heroic sons and daughters, and the eternal message which will be preached from such an edifice will have special power.

¶ ARMISTICE SUNDAY COLLECTION. An appeal has already gone out and has met with ready response on the part of Protestant Ministers all over Canada for a special collection on Armistice Sunday, November 14th, for this Vimy Memorial Church Fund.

INDIVIDUAL SUBSCRIPTIONS. Will you not send your individual subscription, whether large or small? Let it be your testimony to the noble spirit of self-sacrifice of those immortal heroes to whose memory the Church will be dedicated.

DR. LYNOTT, the Specialist

Offers every man the opportunity of relief from disease—to lift the burden—to increase your earning power—to make you happy and contented and care free. Where is the man who won't take advantage of this opportunity? The sickly, anaemic, weak, disease-burdened man cannot hope to make a success in life—cannot hope to enjoy the pleasures of the healthy man. He cannot hope to earn promotion in his chosen work nor to make as much money as his fellow workman who is free from disease.

Dangers of Bad Blood Overcome

NO MATTER THE MAN, WHETHER YOUNG OR OLD, SINGLE OR MARRIED, HE CAN NEVER FEEL SAFE AS LONG AS HIS BLOOD IS NOT HEALTHY. THE FACE, BODY, BONES, NERVES AND BRAIN MAY BE AFFECTED ANY DAY WITHOUT ANY WARNING, AND THE SYMPTOMS SPRING ON YOU LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT. SO, IF SUFFERING, DON'T GROW CARELESS. REMEMBER THE DANGER. BE WARNED IN TIME. THE BEST TREATMENT IS WHAT YOU WANT, AND AT ONCE.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD PURE AND YOUR NERVES STRONG, AND YOU CAN DEFY DISEASE—WHY SUFFER AND DELAY?

Blood, Nervous and Skin Ailments

IMPURE, DEVITALIZED, SLUGGISH BLOOD MAY BE THE DIRECT CAUSE OF A MULTITUDE OF DISEASES. WEAK, UNSTEADY, SHATTERED NERVOUS SYSTEMS ARE THE CAUSE OF MANY MORE DISORDERS. THE CAUSE OF MOST ALL AILMENTS CAN BE TRACED TO THE BLOOD AND NERVOUS SYSTEM. THE FACT THAT YOU HAVE BEEN TREATED ELSEWHERE WITHOUT BENEFITS SHOULD NOT DISCOURAGE YOU. HUNDREDS OF PATIENTS ARE BEING RESTORED TO A SOUND BASIS OF HEALTH AFTER TRYING NUMEROUS DOCTORS AND OTHER TREATMENTS IN VAIN. MY CHARGES ARE REASONABLE. NO MORE THAN YOU CAN AFFORD TO PAY. EXAMINATION IS FREE.

NEGLECT IS DANGEROUS

There is nothing in the world more dangerous than neglect. Nothing else as responsible for so much suffering and disaster. Trace the cause of misfortune and you will find that somewhere neglect had a part. Neglect is more dangerous than disease. It is usually through neglect that little ailments come, and through neglect that they grow serious, undermining the constitution, and reach an incurable stage. My success in treating difficult cases of long standing has made me a well-known specialist in this and surrounding territory in treating men's diseases. This success is due to several things. It is due to the study I have given my specialty; to my having ascertained the exact nature of men's ailments, and to the original distinctive and thoroughly scientific methods of treatment I employ.

Special Examinations

A thorough examination of the patient is the most important part of accepting a man for treatment. A thorough examination by an expert specialist is the only way a perfect diagnosis can be made, and without a correct diagnosis no progress can be made toward a cure. My examinations include mechanical Blood Pressure Test, Physical Diagnosis, Chemical Analysis, and a complete consideration of all symptoms and bodily effects of the ailment. I attribute my success to the fact that I make proper diagnoses, and this ability is due to experience, and this experience is your assurance of prompt and perfect results in the treatment of your ailment. Scientific methods used in every case.

Thin, Impoverished Blood--- General Weakness---Emaciation

—BLOOD—It is absolutely impossible to be well and strong, pulsing with life and energy, if the organs and tissues of the body are not properly nourished with pure, rich blood. When you reach the point where nature's building-up process fails to keep pace with the tearing down process, old age begins to set in, even though you may be young in actual years. Impure, sluggish blood is the direct cause of a multitude of ailments. YOUR WHOLE HEALTH OF BODY AND MIND DEPENDS ON YOUR BLOOD. Any "building process" of the body and mind, of the muscle and tissue formations, of any of the various vital organs, can be accomplished only by working direct through the blood stream.

Be a Real Manly Man--- Enjoy Life---Health---Happiness

YOU WANT HEALTH—health that knows no aches nor pains whatever—health that gives life a new zest and makes it really worth while. When your nerves are steady. When your mind is at rest. When you sleep soundly all night. When you can work hard, either with brain or muscle, and then enjoy the pleasures of life like other healthy men. WHAT UNSPEAKABLE JOY IT IS TO HAVE HEALTH LIKE THAT! HOW YOU LIVE EVERY MINUTE OF THE DAY! How soundly you sleep at night, and how refreshed you feel in the morning! How keenly you relish your meals! What energy you show in your work, how your eyes sparkle! Why suffer another hour, when sure, quick relief is at hand? Come in today and start on the road to health.

Auto-Intoxication---Headaches--- Catarrh of the Stomach---Ulcers

STOMACH TROUBLE—You know quickly enough when you have a bad stomach. When you have heartburn and indigestion, sour, gassy stomach. Many people will be surprised to learn that such a long train of ailments can be traced to Auto-Intoxication. The ailing man thinks the condition of the stomach is due to something eaten. This may be true to a certain extent but remember this, that the mere fact that you do suffer this way is a pretty sure sign that something further is wrong with you. I WANT TO TELL YOU WHAT YOUR TROUBLE IS. If you are one of those who have tried everything, but still have found no relief, I WANT TO TREAT YOU. I want to show you that you need not suffer longer.

Nerve Shock---Nature Exhausted Need This Help---Easy to Get It

BACKACHE—What a multitude of pain-racking ailments may cause backache. Any of the errors of a man's whole life may be the cause of backache. Any part of the back may ache and pain you, and make your life miserable. You go on thinking it will get better, when, in fact, that very ache is trying to tell you that there is something seriously wrong with you. You wonder why you are losing ground—you wonder why your nervous energy is low, and you worry and wonder if it could be a fatal disease. YOU CAN FIND OUT IN TEN MINUTES IF YOU WILL CALL ON ME FOR AN EXAMINATION. It has been my business for years to tell men what was wrong with their health, and to give them treatment.

FREE CONSULTATION. Daily Hours 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Holidays and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. FREE EXAMINATIONS.

Why is THERMOKEPT the Best Coffee?

The Thermokept process is the latest scientific discovery for preserving the flavor and strength of food products.

Thermokept means kept fresh.

No air reaches Thermokept Coffee in its journey from roaster to consumer. Coffee in the ordinary container loses both aroma and strength by contact with the air.

Thermokept Coffee is packed hot from the ovens by the new marvelous Thermokept process. It comes to you with its original freshness, flavor and strength.

And it stays that way for any length of time and under all climatic conditions while in the original sealed container.

Thermokept Coffee is selected, blended and roasted by experts. It is a scientific combination of the world's finest coffees. It is steel cut by the most modern methods and guaranteed to retain its strength and flavor while in the original sealed Thermokept container.

BRIT. COLUMBIA HAS HUGE LIST OF CANDIDATES

About 150 Nominated or 47 Seats in the Pacific Province.

SIX PARTIES IN RACE

Liberals, Conservatives, Farmers, Soldiers, Laborites and Socialists.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 10.—Nominations in 39 constituencies for 47 members of the British Columbia Legislature to be voted for on Wednesday, December 1, were made today throughout the province. Approximately 150 candidates have entered the districts for the contest, representing the Liberals, Conservatives, Farmers, Soldiers, Labor and Socialists. There were no elections by acclamation today, and in most of the ridings at least three and four candidates are offering.

In Vancouver City for the six seats 29 candidates of the various parties are appealing for support, while in Victoria 19 are in the fight for the four seats. Hon. John Oliver, premier and Liberal leader, has accepted nomination in both Victoria and Delta ridings. W. J. Bowser, Conservative and Opposition leader, is running in Vancouver.

Three women are seeking election, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Liberal, and late member for Vancouver; Miss Edith Paterson, a barrister, nominated by Vancouver Conservatives; and Mrs. E. Crossfield, running in Vancouver as the nominee of the Women's Liberty League.

The Liberals, under the leadership of the late Hon. H. C. Brewster, went into office following the defeat of the Bowser administration in 1916, and after the death of Mr. Brewster a year later, Sir John Oliver succeeded to the premiership.

RAISE BIRTH RATE.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—France's efforts to raise the birth rate and lower the death rate by means of the new ministry of hygiene are too recent to be judged by comprehensive statistics. The importance of the problem, however, is given pessimistic prominence anew by publication of the labor ministry's statistics for 1919.

There were three deaths to two births last year. In only one department, Finisterre, did births exceed deaths. In a number deaths were double and even nearly treble the number of births.

POSSESS GOOD HEALTH BY LOOKING AFTER

THE BOWELS

A free motion of the bowels, once or twice a day, should be the rule of everyone, as half the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels are allowed to become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, and the liver does not do its work properly on account of holding back the bile, so that it does not pass through the bowels, but is allowed to get into the blood, thus causing a poisoning of the whole system.

If you would escape constipation, sick and bilious headaches, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath; the nasty irritating, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, you should keep your liver stirred up by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

These pills, being purely vegetable, keep your liver working actively, helping it to resume its proper functions, and thereby removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the whole system.

Mrs. H. Barrows, Enfield, N. S., writes: "I was troubled with such headaches and constipation. One day a friend told me of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I got two vials, and found they did me a world of good. I therefore have great faith in them."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WILL TURN DOWN APPLICATION FOR SALARY INCREASE

Teachers Will Be Told the Limit Has Been Reached.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 10.—Although a new salary schedule was granted to all the public school teachers here a year ago with normal increases each year all around, application has been received by the board of education for further increases. The board meets Thursday, and it was announced today that the request of the teachers would be denied. In explanation, it was pointed out that expenditures for school and general purposes with a 40-mill tax rate prevailing had reached the limit.

H. W. Petrie, Toronto, a former Brantford resident, has set aside $25,000 in Victory bonds for five years, the interest to be donated to the general hospital. He said that the hospital was without endowment funds, and his old interest in the city prompted his donation. The hospital had 2,731 patients in the past year and a bank overdraft of $2,700 is reported. The city council will make good the amount.

The Cockshutt Plow Company, at the annual meeting here today, was reported in the soundest condition in the history of the firm, with assets of $16,000,000. As to dividends on preferred stock, unpaid for four years, it was announced that there would be a decision shortly from the directorate.

The old boad of directors was re-elected as follows: Col. H. Cockshutt, George Wedlake, G. K. Wedlake, Sir Augustus Nanton, E. A. Mott, Sir Lomer Gouin, H. W. Hutchinson, James Adams and E. Perry.

SPRACKLIN MAY RUN FOR MAYOR AT SANDWICH

Keen Interest Is Being Taken in the Coming Elections.

WINDSOR, Nov. 10. — With no definite announcement made today by Mayor Winter of Windsor and Mayor King of Walkerville that they had decided finally to retire from politics, municipal election interest is keen. That a three-cornered fight in Windsor is probable, became apparent with the announcement tonight of Ald. Percy England, a member of four years' standing in the council, that he had definitely decided to enter a race. Ex-Mayor Tuson, who only withdrew from the mayoralty contest last year after his election to the water board was made almost certain by the arranged retirement of Commissioner Smith, hinted that he would this year not be dissuaded from mayoralty honors. For some weeks he has been conducting a live campaign on the ferry issue, his old election hobby, and it is regarded as certain he will be on the ballot for mayor this year.

At Walkerville C. J. Stogdell, a veteran member of the council, threw down the gauntlet as the first aspirant for the honor to be vacated by Mayor King at the expiration of his present term.

At Ford City Mayor Poisson will again be in the field, he said tonight.

Mayor Donnelly of Sandwich, who has held that office for eleven consecutive years and is regarded as a permanent leader, has not announced his intentions. It is within the bounds of possibility, however, that either Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin or one of his supporters will contest the seat; as a result of the situation that has developed from the activities of rum runners. It was in an arraignment of the Donnelly administration in which he charged gross negligence of duty in running down bootleggers that "the fighting parson" first sprang from oblivion into fame.

SAYS WRANGEL ARMY HAS TRIPLED IN SIZE

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The French foreign office hears that General Wrangel, commander of the anti-Bolshevik forces in Southern Russia, has declared to the French high commissioner that his army returned to the Crimea three times more nurmerous and stronger than when it entered the Tauride five months ago.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S FINDING

CHATHAM, Nov. 10.—Coroner R. V. Bray opened the inquest at North Buxton today into the death of James Harris, who was killed last Saturday, at the M. C. R. crossing, 8th concession Raleigh township. Evidence submitted by trainmen, showed that both the whistle and the bell were ringing on the approach to the crossing. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, no blame being attached to anyone.

PLEA SAVES GIRL FROM WEDDING SHE ABHORRED

SANTA ANA, Cal., Nov. 9. — The force in the city clerk's office had a thrill when a woman's voice, screaming "Save me! Save me!" rang through the corridors of the big courthouse.

The words were those of Mrs. Mario Salos, aged 23, of Los Angeles, who is said to have been forced to come here to marry a Mexican, B. Ramos, also of Los Angeles, by the man and A. M. Nieto who posed as a Mexican official of Los Angeles County.

Mrs. Salos said she had a husband, and she carried a baby in her arms. Deputy E. R. Abbey was about to issue the marriage license when the girl protested. Ramos was put in the county jail and the young woman and her sister were sent back to Los Angeles after "the hat had been passed" to collect the necessary money.

PLANNING TO CHECK INFANT MORTALITY

Galt Board of Health to Continue Child Welfare Work.

GALT, Nov. 10.—The annual report of Dr. J. H. Radford, M.O.H., is most satisfactory, showing a decrease in the death rate from 16.72 per thousand to 11.61. There is still room though, he points out, for improvement, especially in saving lives of infants, as more than one-fifth of the deaths were of children under two years. To aid the campaign of child welfare the board of health will continue the baby clinic for a year. Galt has been fortunate in being free from epidemics of contagious diseases, due chiefly to the supply of good water, and the fact that all milk delivered in the city is now pasteurized.

A Photograph from War-Stricken Europe
(All are seven years old—largest child is normal)

Do this in Remembrance of Armistice Day

Millions of children in Central and Eastern Europe have been made fatherless by war. Many of them are stunted and weakened through lack of proper food. Under-fed children are dying by thousands, a prey to disease. Millions are growing up weak and undeveloped because the milk, sugar and fats that promote normal growth are wanting.

These are the coming citizens of Central and Eastern Europe. Upon their present care and nourishment depends whether the nations to which they belong will be healthy and right-minded or hot-beds of anarchy and degeneracy. For the future of civilization, we must save the children.

These countries can provide about $2 worth of food out of the $3 necessary to the proper feeding of one of these children for a month. Other foods, like milk and fats, costing $1 per month per child, must come from outside. And it is this dollar which will turn the scale.

The Ravages of Typhus

While the children are suffering so much the adult populations have been reduced to the direst misery by the spread of typhus. An investigator for the League of Red Cross Societies says:

"Misery greater in extent and intensity than the modern world has ever before witnessed exists in the broad belt lying between the Baltic, the Adriatic and the Black Sea. In this great area there is generally an absolute lack of medicines and sanitary appliances; doctors, nurses and hospital equipment are practically non-existent; food and clothing are insufficient to make life itself tolerable, and disease and suffering are present in practically every household."

The British Empire War Relief Fund

has been undertaken by all British peoples to help mitigate the suffering of plague-stricken Europe and to save the children. It will be administered in Europe in co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies.

Bean Growing Profitable in Vicinity of Blenheim

Crop Has Netted One Grower More Than $90 Per Acre—Carloads of Onions Are Being Left To Rot as Result of Condition of the Market.

[Special to The Advertiser]

BLENHEIM, Nov. 10.—(Special to the Advertiser.)—That the growing of beans was a very profitable crop here this year, is shown in the returns received by Samuel Moore, a farmer, two miles north of town, who from eight acres delivered more than 240 bushels and received $3.00 per bushel, netting him over $90 per acre. This is one of the best returns reported, although there are quite a number who have yields of 25 bushels and more per acre. A few farmers who have the variety known as yellow-eyes are receiving $6 per bushel. This variety though a good yield this year, is not grown generally.

Going to Waste.

The onion game this year has not brought the returns expected earlier in the season. Those who were able to harvest early, got the early market and made well, but the crop coming on later proved more difficult to handle and then during the last few weeks the bottom has gone out of the market. The commission men handling them report the onions have not stood the shipping well, in fact, a number of cars shipped were turned down at their destination and the shippers lost heavily.

Stopped Harvesting.

So poorly has been the prospect of late that growers have practically abandoned further harvesting of the crop, and hundreds of bushels of onions are being left on the fields to become the victims of the frosts. One grower is said to have nearly twenty acres, which have been left without pulling. Another grower has several carloads, which he will remove from the land and leave to waste.

It is said that a blight came upon the crop this year and the onions did not properly mature. However, the marsh land owners are not discouraged, but will prepare their ground for another season with a view to an early planting next sping. These lands are in what is known as the Burk pumping scheme and have come to be considered very valuable.

ALLIED WORLD PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE HEROIC DEAD ON 2ND ANNIVERSARY of British Air Forces. Battalions of Guards, with their bands, and a few officials made up the balance of the escort.

The cortege proceeded through Grosvenor Gardens and Grosvenor Place to Hyde Park, and thence to Buckingham Palace, Pall Mall and Whitehall. As the procession started from the station a battery in Hyde Park fired a field marshal's salute of 19 guns, and just as the coffin was lowered into the grave another battery of Horse Guards fired the same salute.

Wreaths From Canada.

The grave was filled with soil brought from the grave from which the body was exhumed in France, and was covered by what is known as the "padre's flag," one of the most famous flags figuring in the war. It was taken to France early in the struggle by a chaplain who used it scores of times at funerals on the field, and it has been much coveted by many regiments to which the chaplain has loaned it for short periods.

Not in recent years has London seen such detailed police precautions. Extra strong barricades had been constructed at every approach to Whitehall and the Abbey, and every one that could be spared was on duty or was held in reserve near Whitehall. Store windows, even blocks away were boarded or protected by steel shutters in order to prevent breakage by the crush. After the ceremonies were completed the barricades were opened and when the witnesses had passed out, all who cared to were allowed to go into Whitehall, past the cenotaph and place wreaths on it. Long lines began to file past immediately.

Representatives of the Dominion Great War Veterans placed a wreath in tribute to the unknown hero. Another wreath from the Canadian Last Post fund bore the legend: "Lest We Forget."

BODY OF AN UNKNOWN "POILU" IS LAID TO REST IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Paris, Nov. 11.—Official and civilian France today did honor to the memory of the nation's sons who fell during the great war, the ceremonies lending a solemn atmosphere to the celebration of the second anniversary of the armistice with Germany. Paris, accustomed to observing its victory days and national fests with rejoicing, turned aside this year and dedicated the day to memory and recognition of the sacrifice made by hundreds of thousands of dead who are sleeping in cemeteries along the battle lines. Called from its grave on the field of Verdun, the body of an unidentified French "poilu" was carried solemnly through the streets and reburied under the Arc de Tromphe. Following the flag-draped gun carriage, on which the coffin rested, walked President Millerand, cabinet members and three French marshals—Joffre, the hero of the Marne; Foch, whose genius accomplished the final defeat of Germany, and Petain, whose defence of Verdun will forever live in French song and story.

Gambetta Honored.

In addition, France took occasion to remember that fifty years ago the country, defeated by Germany, owed its very existence for a time to Leon Gambetta, who took virtual control of affairs in Paris when the city was besieged by Germans and later succeeded in organizing armies to continue the futile struggle against the Teuton invaders. The heart of Gambetta, which has been preserved since his death in 1882, was inurned in the Pantheon, the national shrine of France.

The procession formed in Place Denferth-Rochereau at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the head of the column standing in the shadow of the huge statue of the lion of Belfort," which represents the spirit of the city in offering bitterest resistance to the Germans in 1870. First came mutilated soldiers and veterans of the great war, then troops from Alsace and Lorraine and then colonials. Gen. Berdoulat, governor of Paris, followed, preceding flags used in the late war, behind which came Gen. Falque and staff, bearing artillery flags, and Gen. Derescas and staff above whom waved cavalry standards.

Flags of 1870 Carried.

Faded and shattered flags of 1870, recently retrieved from Potsdam and Berlin, and carried by veterans of the Franco-Prussian War, escorted the car bearing the heart of Gambetta, who had resisted desperately giving those very flags to Prussia in the hour of defeat.

A delegation of non-commissioned officers of all arms separated this car from the gun carriage upon which lay the body of the unknown soldier. President Millerand and all members of his cabinet walked behind it, accompanied by the three marshals.

The procession terminated with delegations from the Saint Cyr and Polytechnic schools, Republican Guards, Colonial Infantry, Senegalese, two batteries of 75's and one of 155's. As the procession entered Boulevard Saint Michel, there was heard in the distance from the forts surrounding Paris the first shots of a 100-gun salute.

The gun carriage on which rested the coffin of the unknown soldier attracted greater attention than the car bearing the heart of Gambetta. All last night huge crowds filled Place Denferth-Rochereau awaiting the arrival of the body from Verdun. This body was chosen from among eight others last night by Private August Thin, a native of Caen, Brittany, who was a volunteer during the war. At the request of Andre Maginot, minister of pensions, the veteran placed his hand on one coffin lying in state in the Verdun citadel. The work of collecting the remains of more than 320,000 French soldiers who were killed at Verdun is now going on, the bodies being destined to be placed in the Onsuarie of Fort Douaumont, where a memorial chapel is being erected.

At 9:30 o'clock the procession reached the Pantheon, where President Millerand made a short address. It then continued down Boulevard Saint Michel and Boulevard Saint Germain, crossing the Seine by the Chamber of Deputies bridge. It circled Place de la Concord, passing the statues of Lille and Strausburg, and proceeded up the Champs Elysees. It reached the Arc de Triomphe at noon.

SERVICES AT BRANTFORD.

Brantford, Nov. 11.—Brantford paid tribute to the heroic dead fittingly today. At three minutes to 11 the fire bell tolled eleven times, church bells following. Then came a memorial service at the armories terrace, under the auspices of the city council and the I. O. D. E., with returned chaplains in charge, Capt. (Rev.) Jeakins reading the chapter from Ecclesiasticus from which Kipling chose "Their name liveth for ever more." Capt. W. G. Martin offered prayer, Capt. George S. Easton gave an address, and Capt. B. E. Robinson offered the benediction. Flowers were laid on a specially-erected cenotaph near the service by the I. O. D. E., at the conclusion of the service by civic organizations and private citizens. The celebration was continued by a memorial service at Grace Anglican Church at noon, while this evening special services will be held in several of the city churches.

HAMILTON'S ACTIVITIES CEASE.

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—Hamilton bowed its head in respect for two minutes today in memory of the men who died to save civilization. There was no special armistice celebration, merely an adherence to the general plan of meditating on the great war and the lessons it taught. Promptly at 11 o'clock the machinery in four hundred factories came to a dead stop, railway traffic was suspended, school children dropped their studies and in the stores there came a sudden silence. Many organizations will hold the armistice celebrations tonight and there will be a big dinner at the Connaught Hotel to mark the event.

GERMAN GUNS FOR WINDSOR.

Windsor, Nov. 11.—All business stopped for two minutes at 11 a.m. today as a tribute to the men who fell in the great war. At 3:15 this afternoon the ceremony of presenting the two captured German guns allotted to the city will take place in City Hall park. The two guns have been placed on each side of the entrance to the city hall and they will be presented to the city with appropriate ceremonies in the presence of civic officials and the general public.

One of the guns was captured by the 18th Battalion, a unit recruited locally and Lieutenant-Col. E. S. Wigle, who commanded the battalion and Major G. H. Wilkinson, one of the officers, will take a prominent part in the ceremony.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GREY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all grey hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Grey, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's years younger.

ASK SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO DEVOTE CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO SUFFERING

Methodist Board Would Send Aid To Starving European Children.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church is sending out an appeal to its 4,500,000 Sunday school members to devote their Christmas offerings this year to sending food, clothing, medicine and other relief to the suffering children of Europe. Announcement is made from headquarters in Chicago.

Bishop John L. Nuelson, a member of the international committee for the relief of children, who recently returned to this country from Zurich, Switzerland, says the outlook for the coming winter in the needier sections of Europe is dark.

"Those countries before the war could not support their own populations, but were depending upon large imports of provisions," he said. "South Russia, which supplied large sections of Europe with grain is not in a position to support its own populations. These countries have no gold to buy grain from Australia or America. They cannot manufacture goods for export because they have not enough raw material or coal and they have no credit.

"If you draw a line north through the devastated area of Belgium and south through the entire continent and then travel east through Dalmatia, Albania, Montenegro, Slovakia, Macedonia, and Greece into Turkey, and then travel north through Serbia, Bulgaria, Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary, Austria, Rumania, South Germany and on through North Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Letvia and Esthonia into Russia, through Russia to Siberia and south into Asia Minor and Syria, Armenia and Mesopotamia, you will find in that vast territory hardly one child in a thousand which is not under normal either physically, mentally or morally."

Bishop Nuelson added that throughout all the war-swept and famine-stricken sections of Europe, the "teachers in the schools find that the children are so undernourished that it is a physical impossibility for many of them to concentrate their attention upon school work for even three hours per day."

BRUSSELS' FAME BUILT ON ERRORS

Name of Place Linked Up With Carpet Which Is Not Made There.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—"Brussells fame rests partly on popular misapprehensions," said a bulletin of the National Geographic society concerning the city where the international financial congress met.

"Its name is linked with a carpet that is not made there, and also with a cathedral which, properly speaking, is not a cathedral at all, but a church—that of St. Gudule.

"But even after deducting this much from Brussels' credit, enough remains to give it a foremost place among wrold capitals. Were the romantic adventures cast into a 'movie' scenario, the title might accurately be 'From Swamp Dwelling to Petit Paris.'

From Swamp to Beauty.

"The seventh century village on the Senne, near the center of what now is Belgium, was called Brussels, literally 'swamp dwelling,' with descriptive intent. The genius of a people for making much of meager physical circumstances, fully warrants the nickname often given the modern city of parks, boulevards, art galleries and a famous university.

"At the historic Brussels conference in 1874 the city had a premonition of its tragic experience in 1914. The world's great powers, and many of the lesser ones, met there to discuss more humane usages in war. Prussia upheld the principle that citizens of a city—men, women or children—who resisted invasion of an enemy thereby rendered themselves liable to precisely the same treatment as their armed soldiery. England sided with the smaller nations in objecting to this proposal. Only thirty years later Germany illustrated her theory by her atrocities in Brussels.

Heads Make a Holiday.

"Suffering was no new experience for Burssels. More than three centuries earlier its great square had seen Count Egmont and Count Horn walk to the scaffold, as the former recited the fifty-first Psalm, and a little later both heads were displayed to the assembled multitude on iron spikes. More gruesome still, both heads were finally boxed and sent to Philip II, of Spain, so that latter-day Herod might exult at another victory over his northern subjects.

"Though the Brussels carpet of modern times is not made in Belgium, Brussels was paid a deserving tribute in its naming, for when it first was manufactured at Wilton, England, the product was patterned after the tapestries for which Brussels was famous for centuries.

"In addition to its weaving, Brussels gained renown for its lace-making, and its needle made laces still find their way all over the civilized world, including a considerable quantity to the United States. The feminine culture of feudal times sought to express in the delicate designs of filmy fabric what men wrought to the lace-like architecture of the cathedrals.

Damp Enhances Charm.

"Geography reinforced temperament, in this instance. It is not stretching a point to say that Miss America strolls along Fifth avenue, on a sunny day, with a bit of lace giving a piquant touch to her tailored costume, because it is damp and dank in Belgium. The mere necessity for keeping one's hands busy on a day when rain engenders ennui played a part. Moreover, the process of retting flax, to separate fiber from core, requires the condition of moisture, which can easily be had in a Belgium cellar."

"In the time of Louis XIV, France was the rival of the Lowlands in lace-making, and so acute did the jealosy become that in 1670 thousands of crowns worth of Flanders lace was burned by the hangman.

"After the blight of Philip's despotic rule, lace-making was the only industry that survived. Woman's fingers, it has been said, then saved Flanders from utter ruin. Even before 1914, visitors to Brussels were impressed by the participation of woman in many occupations reserved to men in other lands—a condition deftly attained by women with their skill in the textile arts as the initial leverage."

"The first time visitor to Brussels may find himself beguiled to an 'exhibition' of fabrics in some private home, only to learn that the 'exhibition' is a display of laces for sale. The chances are he will find a bargain that will alleviate any irritation at this ingenious form of salesmanship.

"Again he may be surprised to learn that the compact, neighboring Brussels ranks with Boston in population."

FRENCH SALON HAS 2,000 CANVASES

PARIS, Nov. 9.—At the thirteenth autumn salon there are many notable works of art—2,000 canvases being exhibited. Among those which are attracting widest attention are a riotous "Bacchanale" by Maurice Denis and a large canvas by Flandrin representing a corner in a sunny park, with several figures, some of which are on horseback and some afoot. Matisse sent a magnificent decorative panel, representing persons playing and listening to music in a room opening on a garden. Charles Guerin has two small decorative panels. And among the more exciting works in a portrait, which is almost a caricature of Van Dongen, of one of the wildest of Socialists, Rappoport.

There are many examples of sculpture, one of the chief among which is a charming work by Yvonne Sebruys.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the exhibition, however, is the two sections, one of which is devoted to 30 works by Renoir and the other to works by the great Belgian sculptor, Constantin Meunier. The proportion of examples of cubist and "dadaist" is less high than might have been expected.

Stock Prices Tricky; Rise, Dive to Bottom, Recover at Closing

New York Market Experienced Three Distinct Phases in One Day—Buying Power Stronger—New Low Records Registered During Declines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The stock market experienced distinct phases today, opening at gains of one to three points, declining violently at midday and rallying with considerable ease before the close, when most losses were recovered.

Sales of stocks approximating 1,350,000 shares were in keeping with recent extensive dealings, with this important difference, however, that the buying power for the first time in almost a week was sufficient to absorb most offerings.

Reaction At Noon.

Reactions of one to six points at noon resulted directly from the issuance of the United States Steel Corporation's tonnage report for October, which disclosed a decrease of about 538,000 tons in unfilled orders, and the decision of the American Sugar Refining directors to pass the "extra" dividend on the common stock.

Although these developments had been foreshadowed, their actual announcement gave the short interest an excuse for renewing their aggressions throughout the list. The decline extended to levels where new low records for the year were registered, while United States Steel, on its additional recession a fraction, made a new minimum for three years.

Recoveries At Last.

Recoveries were most impressive in the last hour under guidance of Southern Pacific, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive and Crucible Steel, in all of which were more or less extensive losses were replaced by substantial gains.

Foreign exchange and the money market helped to sustain the rally, bills on London rallying almost seven cents from the low quotation of last Monday, while call money eased from 10 to 9 per cent just before the market closed.

Late in the day the American Express Company declared a quarterly dividend—which is 50 cents better than the declaration for the last quarter.

FAIR DEMAND FOR POTATOES ON MARKET

No Changes Recorded in Hay Prices—Market Was Small.

Very little produce was offered for sale at the local market Thursday. Hay was in fair demand, but the price remained higher than expected. It sold from $30 to $35 a ton. Barley sold at $2.25 a cwt.

The demand for potatoes was fair. They sold at $2 a bag, wholesale, and $2.10 to $2.25 per bag, retail. The reason given for the small market was that a number of the small towns in the vicinity of London declared Thursday as a holiday to commemorate the signing of the armistice.

It was said the British royal commission had failed to accept over-night offers. Sentiment became generally bearish, and speculators sold freely. Opening prices, which varied from 1½c lower to ¼c advance, were followed by decided breaks all around and then something of a rally. Corn received inadequate support. After opening unchanged to ⅜c higher, the market suffered a substantial decline.

Oats sagged with other cereals, starting ⅜c off to ¼c higher, and then showing a general sag.

GRAFT INVESTIGATION IMPLICATES OFFICIALS OF ARGENTINE GOVT.

Finds That 5,500,000 Pesos Have Been Unduly Disbursed.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 10.—Argentina has been having a graft investigation as a result of which it has been found that 5,500,000 pesos have been "unduly" disbursed by former government officials who directed payments to contractors for building the capitol here. The present government has announced its intention of bringing suits to recover the money improperly paid.

The building, a magnificent structure of classic architecture, marble facings and broad sweeps of marble steps, not unlike the capitol at Washington, is jestingly called in the newspapers "El Palacio de Oro," Spanish for "The Palace of Gold." It was begun in 1897 and was originally to have cost 10,000,000 pesos. It is not yet entirely finished and has cost 27,000,000.

Recently a committee of the national accountancy department completed an investigaton of the expenditure of the moneys paid for construction of the building and reported that 5,500,000 pesos had been "unduly" disbursed.

Buenos Ayres newspapers told years ago of wagon loads of building material that went in the front door of the structure, soon after came out the back door and then disappeared. Charges were made that marble was paid for but concrete used for part of the construction, and other accusations of graft were aired. It was then that the newspapers began to call it "The Palace of Gold."

SPANIARDS BAPTIZED UNRULY VOLCANOES

Antigua, the glittering Spanish capital of all Central America, arose high on the central plateau in the beautiful valley of the Almocongo.

Its palaces and churches, its monasteries and hospitals, its sparking fountains and avenidas, were unsurpassed in any part of the new world, while above all towered the sweeping outlines of the great volcanoes known as "Agua" and "Fuego" ("Water" and "fire"), which were destined to be her doom, for twice Antigua was destroyed, the first time in 1546 by a flood of water from the crater of the volcano which was then appropriately called Agua, and the second time in 1773 by fire and earthquake from Fuego.

The Spaniards not being able to remonstrate with the recalcitrant volcanoes in the same effective manner that was employed in dealing with the Indians, other means were resorted to, and these mountains were solemnly baptized "Agua" and "Fuego" and taken with due ceremony into the arms of the church in the hope that they would eschew their heathen dieties and reform their uncouth ways. Nevertheless, as a matter of terrestrial precaution, the capital city was removed twenty-four miles distant to a safer location, where it is now situated. Strange to say, both Agua and Fuego seem to have lived up to their new responsibilities, with but a few half-hearted attempts at backsliding, until the recent great quakes that in 1917-18 again shattered the fair city of Guatemala.

FORMER BOY SCOUTS COMBAT ILLITERACY

Madrid, Nov. 10.—Former boy scouts in Spain have decided to inaugurate a campaign throughout the country to combat the prevalent illiteracy. The resolution founding a society just formed for that purpose says: "We consider the existence in Spain of 60 per cent of the population who can neither read nor write constitutes a veritable scandal for the nation. After carefully analyzing the problem, we have reached the conclusion that a modicum of goodwill on the part of the governing classes would be sufficient to solve it."

The society resolved to form free classes in every big city where boys will be given instruction in the elements of reading, writing and arithmetic. Later similar classes are to be started for adults of both sexes. The teachers will be chosen from volunteers among educated people and the society hopes to enlist the services also of professional teachers from the national schools to give instruction in the evening.

WALES COLLECTED MENAGERIE ON TRIP

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 10.—The Prince of Wales collected a varied menagerie in the course of his trip to the United States and British Dominions. The pride of his collection when he reached Bermuda on his way back to London was an ugly little customer about eight inches long, part lizard and part toad, and called "Horace."

In Australia, whence he came, they call him "mountain devil," though he and his family live on a hot, dry plain. The strange thing about him is that he never drinks. His family have dwelt so long in their arid land that nature has enabled them to absorb dew through their pores. Some of the newspapermen aboard the Renown expressed the fear that when Horace encountered a London fog he would absorb so much moisture that he would drown.

Other components of the royal menagerie were about 500 canary birds, an equal number of parrots, four laughing jackasses and a small kangaroo. Most of them were destined to become residents of the London Zoological Gardens.

NORTHCLIFFE RAISED $4,000,000 IN LESS THAN 100 MINUTES

Outstanding Financial Feat Possible Through Publicity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(By Canadian Press).—A special dispatch from London printed in the Wall Street Journal gives an interesting account of how Lord Northcliffe raised the sum of $4,000,000 in 100 minutes. The feat, which the correspondent declares was regarded as the outstanding event of the week in London financial circles, was accomplished in selling the new issue of stock of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company. Lord Northcliffe was offered ten times the amount of the issue, and the dispatch declares that $100,000,000 might have been obtained in two days had the lists remained open.

"Such success in the flotation of new stocks has not occurred since pre-war days," the correspondent declares, "probably not since the days of the rubber boom. It has surprised and encouraged British directors; and it has proved that there is plenty of money to be had in England by those who know how to advertise for it."

The Anglo-Newfoundland Company leases a big tract of timber land in Newfoundland and manufactures paper for the Daily Mail and the Daily Mirror. The new stock consists of 15-year, second mortgage debentures, paying a trifle over 8 per cent.

Describing Lord Northcliffe's method of floating the stock, the Wall Street Journal correspondent says:

"The stock was offered directly to the public by means of full-page advertisements which gave full particulars of the Newfoundland properties and photographs of the mills.

"These advertisements were supplemented by several editorials and news articles on the rising cost of paper and on the methods of papermaking.

"The publicity was well planned and complete. It created immediate attention, as a matter of news. Indifectly, it was used to remind the public of the immense circulation of the Mail and Mirror, which are now selling more than a million copies a day each."

PICKPOCKETS ARE VERY SLICK GENTRY

If You've Been a Victim You'll Agree With This Yarn.

Have you ever had your pocket picked?

If not, have you ever been in a crowd when someone has been deprived of their purse, watch or other valuables?

If you have undergone either of the above experiences and then have waited to see the criminal involved convicted, has it caused you no little surprise and indignation to discover that the officers of the law could not get enough evidence on their man to send him up?

Perhaps this has happened to you, and if it has not you have probably read of pickpockets who have been released because there was insufficient evidence to convict them. And you have wondered why.

Pickpockets never work alone. When a man bumps into you in a crowd and profusely begs your pardon, beware. More than likely he is one of a gang of pickpockets.

The first of the quartet bumps into the prospective victim. The "taker" then slips in, and while you are engaged in accepting the apologies of the first man, removes whatever he may desire in the way of valuables. If you immediately notice your loss you make a grab for the man, but he has not an article belonging to you on his person. The third man in the gang, standing near the second, receives all valuables removed. And then in many cases there is a fourth man.

So when the police arrive, and you are arguing with the first or second man, the others have slipped away. The first two may be arrested and taken to the station, but they have no articles belonging to you about their person. Therefore, you are stumped. And so are the police.

In cases of this sort, however, if the police know the crook, he is generally given a vagrancy sentence. Thus it is that the majority of pickpockets escape conviction and long sentences.

The police know most of the pickpockets who frequent a town. If a good pickpocket comes to a city and does not intend to ply his "trade" he invariably goes to police headquarters to inform the officers that he is not "working."

A good pickpocket will never "lift" a timepiece, officers state, and if he does he will more than likely throw it away. Money is hard to identify. You may catch a pickpocket red-handed with your roll in his hand, but the chances are that you can't tell what denomination the bills are or how much money you had.

Shoplifters are also hard to convict for practically the same reasons. They work in pairs, and nine times out of ten the manager of the store will compromise with the criminal if the goods are returned.

FREE HAND FOR OIL DRILLERS IN FRANCE

Any One May Prospect, No Matter Who Is Owner of the Property.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The discovery of oil deposits in Landes last week, followed by the finding of important oil tracings in Limogne this week, has resulted in calling the attention of foreign prospectors to the advantageous nature of the French laws covering mining, as any nation in the development of mineral wealth, provided the French Government receives its share of the profits when the exploitation company is formed and operating.

The basic provisions of these laws have not been changed in a hundred and ten years, while freer privileges were granted to prospectors and operating companies by amendments to these laws enacted last September. They provide that anyone, irrespective of nationality, may discover and operate mines in France, even if the ground in which the mine is sunk does not belong to him.

In fact, the state is willing to force recalcitrant land owners to authorize drilling for oil provided experts show that there is a possibility of petroleum wealth lying below the surface of the ground, the owner of the land being punished meanwhile for his unpatriotic spirit by getting merely a nominal fee for the use of his property, without damages for the installation of machinery or any share in the minerals or oils obtained.

But while research work is open to all persons, concessions are granted only to French citizens, so that if American drillers now working in Southern France strike oil they will have to find a Frenchman to act as a figurehead in any corporation they may form to exploit their discoveries. Unlike in the United States, these exploitation corporations are not permitted to own surface rights, their interests being confined merely to subsurface operations, for which they must pay the state one-tenth of their earnings. Concessions are granted for ninety-nine years.

The latest strike of oil by prospectors is reported from Clermont Ferrand, in the Department of Puy de Dome, where, according to reports, they have found oil in great abundance at a depth of 1,500 feet.

LIBERAL MEMBER OF COMMONS ARRESTED RESULT OF SPEECH

Col. Malone Held After Search of Apartment by Police.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—Lieut.-Col. L'Estrange Malone, Liberal member of the House of Commons, was arrested tonight by a staff officer inside Trinity College, where Colonel Malone had gone by invitation to speak in a debate on bolshevism at the Collect Historical Society.

APARTMENT RAIDED.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The apartment in London of Lieut.-Col. Malone was raided by the police yesterday. A search of two hours was made by the policemen, who carried away large bundles of documents alleged to be of a revolutionary character.

Colonel Malone already had started for Dublin, and his arrest there tonight is supposed to be connected with an alleged revolutionary speech delivered by him in Albert Hall, in London, Sunday, on the occasion of the anniversary of the Russian revolution. It is known that the speeches delivered then by Colonel Malone and others have been under consideration by crown law officers.

STOCK-BREEDER AT MONCTON OPPOSES TARIFF REDUCTION

Wire Fence Firm Claims Protection Does Not Increase Price.

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 10.—A. Chapman, manager of a wire fence company, submitted before the tariff inquiry commission here today, a statement which declared that the protection enjoyed by his firm cost the consumer nothing, as their price for fencing was on a par with the price in the New England States.

A. E. Trites of Salisbury, president of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, on behalf of the farming interests, opposed tariff reduction, and G. Archibald of the United Farmers' Guild spoke briefly, regretting the unexpected absence of a member of the United Farmers' party, who, he felt, would not have taken Mr. Trite's attitude toward the tariff.

AIM TO PREVENT OVERLAPPING

CHATHAM, Nov. 10.—A movement which promises to play a most important part in the spiritual work of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in Western Ontario was definitely started today, when a co-operative committee of the London Conference met in session with a co-operative committee of the Chatham and Sarnia Presbyteries in Park Street Sunday School Hall.

The idea of the co-operative plan is to prevent overlapping and has been carried out most successfully in the eastern part of the province. At the morning session the general scheme was discussed and it was decided to procure complete data as to the conditions existing in the places in which the activities of the co-operative committee will be considered necessary.

Rev. George Jewitt of Wyoming, president of the London conference, was in attendance and Rev. Mr. Hall of Sarnia acted as secretary of both committees.

MEIGHEN REFUSES AID FOR IRRIGATION WORK IN ALBERTA

Says Province Should Do It—Terms Class Prejudice Fatal.

MEDICINE HAT, Nov. 10.—Irrigation was no more a problem for the Federal Government, in respect to the actual construction and operation of irrigation systems, than was Ontario's hydro-electric a federal matter, said Hon. Arthur Meighen, in addressing this afternoon a luncheon gathering of Medicine Hat citizens, who wanted to hear his views on suggestions that his Government should undertake the measures which are thought necessary to insure regular crops in the dry areas of Southern Alberta.

The prime minister declared that after the Federal Government had spent something more than one million and a half dollars on elaborate surveys of the irrigation projects, the responsibility for constructing and administering the works, rested with the local districts and the Provincial Government on any arrangements they desired to make. The premier pointed out that the Federal Government had done much for the Western provinces which was not done for the East, in the administration of forest reserves and national parks and in other respects.

Natural Resources.

"While the principle of natural resources being locally controlled is best," he said, "these resources in Canada have been administered for the benefit of the people of the provinces, and only to a small extent has the Dominion Government had any revenue from them."

Mr. Meighen declared that Alberta should look forward to agricultural expansion. There was bound to be in the western provinces, and in Alberta, in particular, so great an industrial advance that the centre of commercial gravity rapidly would move from the East to the West.

Large Expenditures.

Mr. Meighen expressed the opinion that agriculture always had and always would receive fair treatment from whatever government happened to be in power. He pointed to the large expenditures on soldiers' land settlement, on payment of railway difficulties, on extending canals and waterways and marine transportation, as it was of particular benefit to the agricultural population. The prime minister closed with a denunciation of class prejudice as "the most fatal and disastrous appeal that can be made by a public man."

BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF TEMPERANCE ACT PLANNED BY GOVT.

Premier Drury Hints at Important Announcement Very Shortly.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—Premier Drury hinted today that the Government would have an important announcement ready in a day or two with reference to Government action in the better enforcement of the O. T. A. He declined, however, to answer any questions relative to the tragedy at Sandwich.

Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general, Mr. J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the board of Ontario license commisioners, and Chief Inspector Ayearst held a two hours' conference at the Parliament Buildings today, and at its conclusion the strictest secrecy was maintained as to the subjects under discussion.

Plan Improvement.

The suggestion that a reorganization of the board or staff of officers enforcing the Ontario temperance act was in contemplation was neither denied nor affirmed, but Hon. Mr. Raney, in commenting on the liquor situation, said: "We feel that there has been considerable improvement in the enforcement of the liquor law, but there is still much room for improvement. This is to be expected, when you realize that there are thousands of persons in a position to break the law who have to be watched."

May Increase Force.

Asked if the Government contemplated appointing more officers to enforce the act along the border, Mr. Raney said as many men would be put on the force as the Government was advised the situation required. The Government would be guided in this respect, he added, by the advice of the men now doing the work. Beyond this statement, Mr. Raney said he could not at present discuss the situation for publication.

The license board has a staff of only ten or twelve officers working along the border at Windsor.

BRITISH EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON TO TAKE UP REPRISAL THREAT

Message Received Said 'Three Englishmen Will Pay Penalty' For Every Irishman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The British embassy announced today it had taken steps to call the attention of the United States state department to a message recently received by the British chief secretary for Ireland, dated New York, and threatening reprisals against Englishmen resident in the United States "if there are any more reprisals in Ireland on and after the fourteenth day of November."

The New York message was sent in the name of the Amalgamated Irish Societies of America, and bore the signature "J. V. O'Connor, president."

At the state department it was said nothing had been received from the embassy in relation to the message. No comment as to the course the Washington Government might pursue was available.

The New York message, as made public by the embassy, read:

"We hereby inform and warn you that if there are any more reprisals in Ireland on and after the fourteenth day of November, 1920, that the men of Irish blood in this country and their sympathizers will immediately begin reprisals on Englishmen here who are not citizens of the United States; for every man, woman or child who is murdered after the above date by the cowardly English soldiers and police, three Englishmen in this country will pay the penalty.

"Amalgamated Irish Societies of America.

"President."

SEES COLLAPSE OF COAL PRICES

Situation Easier Soon as Railroads Can Handle the Shipments.

LANSING, Nov. 10.—The bottom will drop out of the coal market within 60 days, prices will return to a level lower than that fixed by the federal fuel administration during the war, and fuel will be a drag on the market, according to W. K. Prudden, chairman of the state fuel committee, before the budget commission today.

"If the railroads could handle even 55 per cent of the coal the mines can turn out today, the country would be amply supplied," Mr. Prudden said. "The thing for the consumer to do is not to become panicky. Reports of an approaching coal shortage are put out by interested parties. They are not justified by the facts."

Mr. Prudden was state fuel director during the war.

ELSIE JANIS IN "THE IMP," AT THE GRAND NEXT MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

The feature attraction at the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday brings to London a new Selznick picture, starring Elsie Janis in "The Imp." "The Imp" is a novel production, well made and splendidly acted, a picture rich with comedy situations and thrilling dramatic situations. The play gives Miss Janis a role widely contrasted to her customary light comedy parts, for the play is built on a strong melodramatic theme hitting here and there the high spots of humor inevitable in any play in which Miss Janis is starred. The story has to do with a wealthy and deluded young girl, who develops a mania for crime. The situations through which she travels before regaining her reason furnish action aplenty for the play. Other added features bring Johnny Ray in a George McManus cartoon comedy entitled "Father's Close Shave," with a laugh at every foot of film. Prizma, master picture in Nature's own colors, will reveal something new and novel in moving pictures that should be a distinct hit with Grand patrons. Pathe Topics of the Day brings the world's news in pictures, and Grand fans are assured of a real bill of diversion for the first three days of week, commencing Monday next.

"THE MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

An important feature of "The Maid of the Mountains," which will be presented for the first time in this city at the Grand tonight, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee at 2 p.m., by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, and Percy Hutchison, is the fact that, unlike the average musical comedy, it tells a coherent romantic story in an interesting manner, uninterrupted by any of the vaudeville interpolations which have become so prominent an element in the average musical comedy on this side of the Atlantic.

"The Maid of the Mountains" is a Carmenesque figure, by name Teresa, who is in love with Baldasarre, the chief of a band of brigands who have their stronghold in the Sardinian Mountains. Baldasarre, however, has fallen in love with Angela, the daughter of the Governor, whose military forces have hemmed him in. When the brigands disband, Teresa is captured by the governor, whose military forces and his associates determine upon a daring plan for her rescue. The brigand chief resolves to impersonate the new governor, who is about to replace Angela's father, and to set Teresa free. Baldasarre carries out the impersonation, but is denounced by Teresa in a fit of jealous rage when she finds him making love to the governor's daughter. In the last act Baldasarre and his colleagues, imprisoned on Devil's Island, are set free through the instrumentality of the repentant Teresa, and all ends happily.

For this story there has been provided a musical setting of exceptional charm which includes a number of lyrics and other solos and choruses that are certain to be hummed and whistled for a long time by all who hear them. The scenery is vividly realistic, rich in coloring, and effective in design. The costumes are equally colorful and picturesque. The personnel, which has been chosen with the greatest care, includes a number of members from the original company.

AT LOEW'S.

They say children and dogs can't be fooled about the persons they can trust and the persons that cannot be depended upon for sincerity. The doctor was not sure of Katherine till he saw how instinctively his dogs loved her and how Leonard, his housekeeper's little lame son, trusted her. Then he felt sure of her absolute worth and sincerity. Would you depend upon dogs and children to make your decision about a person? Perhaps you never thought of it before. In "A Dark Lantern," a new Realart picture, featuring versatile Alice Brady, opening at Loew's Theatre today for three days, you will see how rigidly Doctor Garth Vincent (James L. Crane) tested the girl he loved before he would admit his love even to himself.

THE MAJESTIC PLAYERS.

A reporter peeped into the Majestic yesterday and found the Majestic players "up to their ears" in work on their initial offering "Within the Law," which will be featured by the company as their bill for the opening week, commencing with Monday evening next. There are fifteen in the company, and that they are a happy family is evident in the harmony that exists and the manner in which each and every member is lending every effort to put over the initial bill with a bang. Laughter and goodwill feature the entire company "off stage." First of all, there's Ann Bert, leading lady and one of the sweetest little ladies that ever stood in the glare of the spotlight. She just needs one performance to fix for good her place in the hearts of London playgoers.

George Dill, the leading man, has youth and good looks in his favor, and he runs Miss Bert a close second. Marjorie Bonner, Gwendowlyn Bates, Edna Marshall, Marjorie Weston, Louisa Gilcrest and Hudy Davis complete the feminine end of the company, and all of them are charming little misses who will undoubtedly win over the hearts of Majestic patrons with their first appearance here on Monday evening next. They were all too busy to talk, but ye goodly reporter hopes to catch a personal interview between now and show time next week, and perhaps learn something of their "dark pasts." Of the male members there's Alfred Rigali, William Powers, William Grow, who will pilot the destiny of the new company; Edward Latimer, Dillon Deasy, James Swift and H. P. Young, who will look after the business interests of the company.

London will have the opportunity to give the new company "the once over" Monday evening next, when a get acquainted performance will be featured and two admissions for the price of one will be in vogue. Seats for all performances went on sale today and judging by the heavy advance as featured the sale today, Londoners lock with favor on the inauguration of stock in the city. Seats can be reserved one week in advance, and those who are desirous of being in on the opening performance should make their reservations without delay.

CHARLES RAY, THE WONDER BOY IN "FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY."

Did you see "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" on the stage? If you did you know what a wonderful play it was, and you can see what a great picture makes with Charles Ray in the leading role of Kid Burns, the ex-prize fighter. Well, you may see Charles Ray in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" at the Allen, today, tomorrow and Saturday, and it is some picture.

If you did not know it, the story is of one, Kid Burns, ex-pugilist, who receives word from his pal in New Rochele that his pal has inherited a fortune of some 'steen millions, and Kid is to go as his financial and social adviser. Looking it up in the time-table he finds that the place is only 45 minutes from Broadway, and jumps on the first train to aid in spending the new-found fortune. When he arrives he is mistaken for the missing heir, and you can imagine what fun you will get out of Charles Ray as an ex-prize fighter, supposedly the darling of fortunte, as he is pampered and petted by a bunch of fortunte hunters. Charlie sure puts the ray in sunshine and chases all the o's out of gloom this time. It is his first picture for the First National Company, and by all tokens the best since he started his career on the screen.

Overture is Victor Herbert's "Algeria." Chester comedy special, "Four Times Foiled" and Allen's World News are also shown.

A special feature of the program is the exceptional baseball picture made by Babe Ruth, showing himself in action, knocking the famous home runs, and with Carl (Mighty) Mays pitching. It's a real treat for baseball fans, for the picture is very interesting, showing numerous scenes in slow and fast motion and everything about baseball.

WHATYOU WILL SEE AND LEARN FROM "OPEN YOUR EYES," NOW SHOWING AT THE MAJESTIC.

Following are a few of the lessons you will learn and some of the things you will see in "Open Your Eyes," that amazing picture, which is showing at the Majestic today, tomorrow and Saturday.

You will see the lively roadhouse, counterpart of that notorious hostelry which was lately the scene of so much scandal in Sandwich, scenes where danger lurks in every form, lurking for incautious youth or daring maiden. You will see the episodes in the gay after-hours cabaret, where "Christine" the celebrated syncopationiste, introduces the shimmy number that was barred from Broadway a while ago. You will see the wild joy rides of reckless seekers after thrills, as they speed from one infamous resort to another. Many scenes of genuine dramatic power that lead to a staggering climax, and the brilliant acting of a carefully chosen cast. You will learn what happened to the uninformed young people in the danger spots they visited; and how trustful children of sensible parents avoided these pitfalls; you will learn of the evil consequences of placing faith in the quack doctor, and the hideous results of ignoring a menace that threatens the welfare of the nation for generations to come. And last, but not least, you will learn of the means of combating this cancer of our social life, and supplanting despair with hope and happiness.

Owing to the intimate study made of this delicate subject, the Government will not allow anyone under sixteen to be admitted—but there is no one over that age who will not be the better, and be thrilled and entertained as well, when they see "Open Your Eyes."

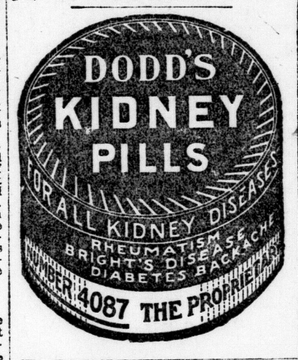

PATRICIA. GEORGE WALSH HERE IN A NEW THRILLER.

In a thrilling story of the half-world that is said to offer him immense opportunities for his best work, George Walsh, the athletic William Fox star, will be seen at the Patricia Theatre today, Friday and Saturday in "From Now On." This is a picturization of the successful story by Frank L. Packard, author "The Miracle Man," and from advance reports young Walsh, in his new vehicle, will surprise even his most devoted fans.

The Lee-Art sextet, direct from the Keith vaudeville circuit, will present a varied program and song that will prove a delight to all lovers of the "better-class" acts.

Eddie Polo, in the sixth chapter of the serial story "The Vanishing Dagger," will complete the bill.

I. L. P. WANTS MAYOR TO DEVOTE HIS FULL TIME TO CITY WORK

Paid Aldermen Another Plank of Platform — Ask Labor Committee's Approval.

London Branch of the Independent Labor Party at a closed meeting Wednesday night in the Labor Temple, instructed its delegates to the Labor Representation committee which meets Friday evening, what planks to advocate for the labor platform in the next municipal elections. Among other things the Independent Labor party wants, is a full-time mayor with adequate remuneration for devoting all his time to civic business. It also wants paid aldermen.

In the suggested platform formulated for submission to the Labor Representation Committee, the Labor party reiterated the stand it has previously taken on the gas question, the street railway situation, the rent, assessment and taxation situation; and it indorsed the resolution previously passed by the Labor Representation Committee demanding a square deal and a preference for V.A.D. nurses who served overseas in the making of any and all appointments diectly or indirectly under the Government's control, wherever the V. A. D. nurses are qualified for the positions offered.

No particular solution of the street railway situation was suggested, but for one thing the Independent Labor party is solid against any bond redemption while the road is being operated under the Ontario municipal and railway board.

The delegates of the Independent Labor party who will present the suggested platform to the Labor Representative committee are: Harry Wray, Rev. E. M. Hawkins, editor of "The Herald"; H. B. Ashplant and R. G. Carroll.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE HALF-HOLIDAY

Order Against It Cancelled at Last Minute — Cadets To Parade.

Probably no news ever spread quicker, at least in one small section of the city where lives a small boy, whose dad has a little bit to do with the purveying of news for the enlightenment, education and—other things of the citizens of all ages in the city of London and abroad, learned by word of mouth that the printed letter for once at least did not tell the truth, and that the dire news contained in the evening papers that there would be no armistice holiday for the schools had almost at the last moment been recalled by the order of the chairman of the board, Trustee Hayman, following a conference of the officials.

The announcement was made at the regular monthly meeting of No. 1 committee yesterday afternoon that owing to the very general expression of the children and their parents that the city schools should honor the proclamation of the city's chief magistrate, Mayor Little, and as well as remembering with reverence jointly with the whole Empire the splendid deeds of heroism of "those who sleep in Flanders fields" by two minutes of solemn silence during the forenoon, but also share in the rejoicing of those who returned over a great peace won by bravery and sacrifice.

Therefore, the order that the holiday should not be which was announced on Tuesday at the meeting of No. 2 committee was rescinded, and the schools will be closed at noon for the remainder of the day. In the evening the cadet corps of the public schools will parade, and to them will be given the honor, as worthy sons of worthy fathers, of providing the escort to the German guns, scarred trophies of their sire's prowess on the field of battle.

SHIPPING APPLES FROM ILDERTON

Three Gangs of Packers Are Busy Loading Up Cars.

ILDERTON, Nov. 10.—Ilderton fruit growers have been busy making shipments this week and two large cars were loaded, one at Komoka and one here. Owing to the car shortage the cars were loaded to capacity, one having 232 barrels and other 254. The larger shipment was in the Ilderton car and is the record number of barrels ever sent from here in one car. Three gangs of packers are working, and it is expected that two more cars will be shipped this week. Up to the present five full cars and part of another have been shipped.

Fruit Inspector Connor of London was here yesterday and visited each gang of packers, giving instruction and showing the men how to pack according to the latest "Fruit Marks Act."

Work is being rushed in connection with the new U. F. O. elevator here, and Alex. Stewart, chairman of the committee, and C. McNair are looking after the installation of the machinery and equipment. It is expected that the big grinder will be working shortly and in good time for the winter season of stock feeding. The machinery includes a big crude oil-burning engine and a large grain cleaner.

The concert on Monday evening in connection with the anniversarry services in the Presbyterian Church was a splendid success.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL TO RUN MANY CANDIDATES

Will Make a Special Effort To Elect Aldermanic Slate.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 10.—The trades and labor council, although declaring that it will have candidates in the race for aldermen, school trustees and will see that a labor man or two will be elected to the other municipal offices, have not yet chosen the men or women who will be given a place on the slate of the labor men.

Nearly every member of the present council is connected with the Independent Labor party, because of the aldermen's unselfish and patriotic sympathies. Whether any of the council will be given recognition by the labor men the executive of the association will not say, but the officials do announce that they will have a majority around the next aldermanic board.

Engineer Banquetted.

Donald Miller, Wabash Railway engineer, the oldest member of the B. of L. E. in Canada, was banquetted and given a fitting reminder a night ago of the esteem and respect in which he is held by hundreds of railwaymen and residents, both within St. Thomas and outside of it. The members of Division No. 529, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, assisted by Divisions 132 and 161, tendered Mr. Miller a banquet at the Engineers' Hall, and during the evening presented the honored guest with a beautiful service badge of the grand order and address expressive of the sterling character of the recipient and the kindly feelings and good-will which have always been in evidence for their old associate.

Mrs. Miller was given a pin to mark her lengthy membership in the Grand international Auxiliary. Appreciative replies came from Mr. and Mrs. Miller. There was an interesting toast list, dancing and cards. W. W. Wooliver, chief Engineer of 529, was toastmaster and director of ceremonies. Mrs. D. Meadows assisted in the interesting exercises.

Firemen Saved House.

The house of C. A. Cromwell, Port Stanley, was saved a night ago by the arrival of the firemen in time to put out the blaze. The fire caught from an overheated stove pipe in the kitchen.

At the Ladies' Aid pumpkin social in Corinth the guests put away $30 in pumpkin pies and sandwiches.

Rev. Dr. Flanders, who died in Winnipeg Tuesday, was a member of the Alma College board.

Bishop Berry Coming.

Bishop Berry of the M. E. Church, Philadelphia, and well known to the older people of the city, being a brother of the late Mrs. John Farley, will conduct the anniversary services at the First Methodist Church Sunday.

JUVENILE COURT IS URGED BY THE C. A. S.

Need of Probation Officers Is Voiced At Regular Meeting.

Better facilities to deal with juvenile delinquents and the need of probation officers were urged on the Children's Aid Society at its regular monthly meeting by Inspector W. J. Kelly. He pointed out that an exceptionally large number of boys and girls have been coming before the police magistrate lately, many of them for crimes of a serious nature.

There is a lack of suitable detention rooms for these juvenile offenders, he said. Only two rooms are available for this purpose at the children's shelter, and when these are occupied young boys have to be remanded to jail to await trial.

Establishment of a juvenile court, he pointed out, would likely mean that probation officers would be appointed to follow up the cases which came before it, but he urged that something along this line should be done in the meantime. Valuable work could be done by improving the home conditions of children brought into court and preventing a recurrence of their crime rather than punishing them for it.

Monthly reports presented at the meeting showed that there are 39 children at the present time. During the month seven were placed in foster homes and eleven were returned to their parents.
