New Brunswick.

A writer in the London Advertiser gives the following historical sketch of New Brunswick, now one of the Confederated Provinces:—

New Brunswick was so named from Brunswick in Germany, the former residence of Queen Victoria's forefathers up to 1714, when George I., Duke of Brunswick, ascended the throne of England. It is a compact tract of country lying between the Bay of Chaleur and the Bay of Fundy, and bounded east by Gulf of St. Lawrence, and west by the State of Maine. The 45th and 48th parallels of latitude are nearly its south and north limits, and it lies within the 64th and 68th meridians west longitude. Area, 27,037 square miles, or 17,000,000 acres. Greatest length 210, and greatest width 180 miles—or equal to a square each side of which is 185 miles. Disputes, for many years, were carried on with the United States regarding its boundaries. It is diversified with hills and dales, beautiful lakes and noble rivers. The bays afford good facilities for commerce. Fully two-thirds of the boundary is formed by sea-coast, and the remainder affords all the advantages of a seaboard, being close to the navigable rivers St. Croix, St. John, and Restigouche. Along the Bay of Fundy the shores are high and precipitous, yet there are many good harbours for vessels not of the largest size. The eastern coast is well provided with ports. The largest vessels can find entrance at the mouths of the rivers, and especially at Miramichi Bay and the Richibucto. New Brunswick is thus, in her extensive seaboard and numerous harbours, supplied with the means of extending her commerce and fisheries almost without limit. At the head of the St. Croix river, on the south-west boundary, are a number of lakes forming a series of deep-water expansions and irregular openings in the midst of a granitic country. Dome shaped hills rise to the height of two thousand feet above the sea, and fine cliffs tower above the water, their perpendicular faces scamed and withered into the semblance of gigantic masonry. Over all the uncleared part of the colony, a dense forest covers every available spot. From this granite region two mountain branches stretch across the country, one running towards the north-east forms a fine range named the Tobique Mountains. Here, Mount Bald, the highest point is 2,240 feet. Every traveller wishing to obtain a magnificent view over a country richly varied by mountain and forest, lake and river, should ascend Mars Hill, 1,700 feet. Besides, it is historically interesting. Its summit was cleared in 1794 for the purpose of erecting an observatory; but it has returned to wildness. The scenery among these giant mountains is of the grandest character. Some of the clefts on their northern flanks are so deep and narrow that the sun never melts the snow in them; and glaciers descending these ravines in spring, add the evidences of their destroying force to the wildness of that region. Again, towering fissures, shut in by rugged cliffs, are occupied by narrow lakes at great depth; or torrents descend through them, leaping from fall to fall along their uneven beds, and in flood time strongly exhibit the degrading power of water, in the rocks and timber born down by their stained and foaming streams. In the foreground the confused and naked masses of stone and slate are mingled with trees and vegetation, struggling to gain a footing among them; but below and in the distance an interminable forest loads the surface and hides all distinction of hill and valley.

THE KINGSTON NEWS, a Conservative journal, devoted to Sir John A. Macdonald's cause has the following:—
"The numerical preponderance of Reformers in Upper Canada makes the Liberal party the arbiter of the affairs of this Province; and the representative members of that party can in their places in the Assembly control the administration in every particular."
If such be the case then why force on Reformers a "combination" that they do not want. It is evidently useless to attempt to split the Reform ranks; tho' some of the leaders may have turned recreant for the sake of obtaining office. A few shaky half-and-halves may say that the action was just and proper, but the main body of Reformers is as much intact as it even was, nor will all the specious speeches of John S. bring them to look upon him but with suspicion, nor will all the false logic of the renegades win to their sides again the friends whom they have deserted. Yes, the Liberal party will be arbiters, and truth and consistency will soon be unequivocally triumphant.

THE CANDIDATE FOR EAST TORONTO.—The following is from the Brampton Times one of the papers from which the Leader has been recently quoting, as the true exponent of the public opinion in the West:—
"TORONTO EAST.—James Beatty, of the Leader, a rebel in 1837—a denouncer of Tories as plunderers and robbers, until within a few years past—an annexationist in 1841, and that in heart yet—announces himself as a candidate for the House of Commons for Toronto East. Of all the men that sat in Parliament, we hope its walls will never be disgraced with such a man as James Beatty. He has several times tried to represent Toronto as a denouncer of Toryism and everything British, and has always been ignominiously defeated by loyal Reformers, he has for some years past appeared as a Tory in disguise. Under that cloak he is now trying to obtain a seat in the Canadian House of Commons. We warn the electors of Toronto that he is a Jesuit, prepared to sell them at any moment he can better himself. His speeches reported in the Toronto Examiner, or some old files of the Toronto Patriot, will show him up in true colours. We regret that the present Government has not a more loyal defender."

MINISTERIAL "TRIPPING."—The two Premiers have not yet ceased their hunting. If perseverance could always be rewarded by success no more successful men could be than Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. John Sandfield. We hear of them in Brantford, we hear of them in Simcoe, and in short we hear of them in so many places that it might be difficult for either of the gentlemen to convince a judiciary, formed of newspaper readers, of the infallibility of the proverb, that no person can be in two places at the same time. The last we hear of them is, that the Premier of Ontario arrived at Hamilton on Saturday last; he had come from Simcoe, by the way of Paris and was going to the Falls, to admire the beauties of nature no doubt. The Tories gave him a kind reception, which is saying considerable for the forgiving disposition of all parties. Sir John A., it was said was to follow him by the next train. It is believed that both the gentlemen will visit Hamilton next week to carry everything before them.

SOUTH PERTH.—Mr. McFarlane, late Reform member for Perth, has for some time been in the field alone for the representation of the South Riding, the County having been divided into two Constituencies. The candidate for the Local House was Mr. Trow, a man very rich in this world's goods. Until lately we heard of no opposition to either of the aspirants, but we now learn that Mr. T. B. Guest, of St. Mary's, is out as an opponent of Mr. McFarlane, and Mr. J. Donovan, of Toronto, is pitted against Mr. Trow. Mr. Donovan's claims to consideration rest on the ground that he "took such a manly stand against the proceedings of the Catholic Convention." Mr. Guest is known as the inviolable proposer of T. M. Daly. No matter how Tom had voted during one term, Mr. Guest always proposed him as "a fit and proper person to represent the County" when he came back looking for election. One would imagine that he would have known the South Riding of Perth better than to suppose that with even all his fine personal qualifications he would have any chance against Mr. McFarlane, who defeated Daly, the best canvasser perhaps who was ever in the old House Assembly. The Conservatives live at the other end of the County, which is unfortunate for Mr. Guest.

THE HIGHLANDERS.—The Montreal Witness of Friday says: A large number of the men of the 78th Regiment (which arrived in this city a few days before) visited town, from their encampment at Logan's Farm, yesterday afternoon. In the principal streets they might be seen in squads, evidently regarding the stores and public buildings with a curiosity equal to that which they were themselves beheld by the citizens. Independently of the fact that they are unusually a fine body of men, their picturesque dress—the only remains of the old Gaelic costume now found in Europe—is a never-failing cause of attention. Their gallant share in the suppression of the Indian mutiny also unconsciously increases the admiration and good will towards them.

SOME OF THE COALITION NEWSPAPERS still parade the names of the Ministerial candidates for the Local Legislature as "Unionists," and their meetings as "Union" meetings. This is surely a very blundering nomenclature, to distinguish the supporters of a Ministry, three of whose members out of five have opposed Union from first to last, the Premier himself, no longer since than Wednesday at the London meeting, declaring Confederation to be a "humbug." The term "Disunionists" is the only appropriate one for these gentlemen.—Globe.

NORTH SIMCOE.—Mr. Morrison's chances of election in Niagara being of the poorest possible kind, he is now in North Simcoe, to ascertain his prospects for a seat in the Legislative Assembly. He is opposed by Mr. Lount, who is a Reformer, strongly opposed to Mr. Sandfield McDonald's Coalition; and Mr. Morrison, it is said will be entirely unable to oppose him with success.

OIL EXPLOSION AT PETROLIA.—On Saturday morning about 5 o'clock a fire occurred in an oil well, owned by Messrs. Dorr & Middaugh, and originated by the gas being drawn into the furnace of the boiler and igniting in the well. It blew up with a loud report, injuring three men seriously and two severely. The well is still burning.

COUNTY OF KENT.—Mr. Sandfield McDonald is expected with his employer, Sir John A. Macdonald, in Chatham, in order to persuade either Northwood or Stephenson to retire from the field.

BARBER VS. CAMERON.—Mr. Robert Barber, of Streetsville, has been selected by the Reform Convention of the County of Peel, to contest the constituency with J. H. Cameron, Mr. Currie, of St. Catharines, having declined the previous nomination given to him. The Leader comes out strongly against Mr. Barber, calling him the extreme Disunionist and Protectionist candidate, and calls on the electors to vote for John Hillyard on opposite principles. The force of it is, that it is Cameron who is a Disunionist, opposed to Confederation, and still preters a change for Legislative Union, and as we understand it, the term Protectionist can be applied better to Cameron, who has voted for the high tariffs of Mr. Galt, than to Mr. Barber, who goes for such incidental protection as is necessary to raise a revenue, and at the same time protect the new and weak manufactures without driving out foreign productions.—Milton Champion.

WEST YORK.—Mr. Thomas Grahame, Deputy Reeve of Vaughan, (Mr. Howland, Marlen, being Reeve) has consented to become a candidate on the Union ticket for the representation of West York in the legislature of Ontario.

The Evening Mercury.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

DAILY MERCURY.—The Guelph Mercury has commenced a daily edition, in a neat, printed and cleverly conducted paper.—(Belleville Intelligencer).

NEW DAILY.—The Mercury, of Guelph, has made its appearance as an evening paper. It is a well printed, lively-looking paper, and starts on its new career with every prospect of success.—(Toronto Evening Telegram).

THE GUELPH MERCURY has made its appearance as a daily evening paper, the first number having been issued on Saturday. It presents a neat and creditable appearance, and is well adapted for enterprising conductors, will we hope prove a success.—(Ottawa Daily Times).

NEW DAILY.—Guelph can now boast of a second daily newspaper. The Mercury of that town is now issued every evening. It is a neatly got up sheet, and well furnished with reading matter. The only thing we dislike about it is, that it is too Guelphish, of the worst description, the Brown stamp, and opposes the Union government.—(London Daily Prototype).

THE GUELPH MERCURY has made its appearance as a daily evening paper, the first number having been issued on Saturday. It presents a neat and creditable appearance, and is well adapted for enterprising conductors, will we hope prove a success.—(Ottawa Daily Times).

The only thing we dislike about it is, that it is too Guelphish, of the worst description, the Brown stamp, and opposes the Union government.—(London Daily Prototype).

JOURNALISTIC.—We welcome the first copy of the Guelph Evening Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Innes. It is well printed on new, clean-cut type, and in appearance will challenge comparison with any of its contemporaries. The weekly edition has long been recognized as the best newspaper in Guelph, and we believe that the daily edition, which opens fresh and lively, will still further increase the prestige of the establishment. We wish our country every success.—(London Daily Advertiser).

JOURNAL ENTERPRISE.—We are happy to notice that the enterprising publishers of the Guelph Mercury have commenced the publication of a daily edition, under the above title. The new paper makes an excellent appearance, and bids fair to be a success. As the Mercury is the only Reform paper in Guelph, we hope the liberals of South Wellington will give it the support it deserves. We heartily wish Messrs. McLagan and Innes the fullest realization of their highest expectations.—(Waterloo Chronicle).

GUELPH EVENING MERCURY.—The enterprising proprietors of the Guelph Mercury, Messrs McLagan & Innes, have commenced the publication of a daily evening edition, under the above title. The first number of which is received to-day. The Mercury has long and worthily enjoyed the reputation of being one of the ablest conducted and most valuable journals in Western Canada, and the new publication promises to sustain the character of the letter. It is of fair size, and its typographical appearance bright and sharp, corresponding with its editorial capacities. The Evening Mercury is a great improvement on anything in the newspaper line with which the people of Guelph have been favored, and we hope that its days may be long and prosperous.—(Hamilton Times).

THE SARNIA "OBSERVER" having copied from the Hamilton "Times" its notice of the Evening Mercury, adds the following:—The above we find in the Hamilton "Times," and readily endorse all that is said in it as to the "Evening Mercury," and hope that the enterprise of its proprietors will be properly appreciated by the people of Guelph, as the "Mercury" is really a credit to their town.

NEW DAILY.—The proprietors of the "Guelph Mercury"—who have always shown themselves to be energetic, business-like, go-ahead men—have issued an evening sheet of first-class appearance and general get up, styled the "Guelph Evening Mercury." Without the sensation headings which half fill the "Advertiser," and make Jonathan make the laughing stock of all the little boys, it gives the latest news of the day, full and copiously, and proves just the thing wanted in the County Town—A live, wide-awake, reliable daily newspaper. Rip Van Winkle of the "Herald" must arouse himself, or the world will leave him a century behind. We wish the "Mercury" success and a long life.—(Elora Observer).

THE FIRST NUMBER of the "Guelph Evening Mercury" has been received. It is published by Messrs McLagan & Innes. It is very neatly printed, and like the weekly, ably conducted. We hope the people of Guelph, who are noted for their enterprise and ability, will give this new candidate for public favor a liberal support.—(Ingersoll Chronicle).

THE GUELPH MERCURY is now published a daily paper. Our contemporary has our best wishes for the success of the enterprise.—(Durham Chronicle).

NEW DAILY PAPER.—We have received from the publishers, Messrs. McLagan & Innes, the first number of the "Guelph Evening Mercury." It is a handsomely got up little sheet, and deserves the support of the community among whom it will circulate.—(Georgetown Herald).

THE PROPRIETORS of the Guelph "Mercury" have commenced the publication of a daily evening edition. We have received the first numbers, and must say that typographically the paper is a model of neatness. We differ from the "Mercury" politically, but notwithstanding this we are ready to give Messrs. McLagan & Innes every credit for their enterprise and energy. We wish them financial success in their new venture, but doubt whether the county town can support two dailies.—(Fergus News Record).

EVENING MERCURY.—We are in receipt of a new daily paper published in Guelph under the title of "Evening Mercury." It is printed from new Scotch type, and presents an exceedingly clean and neat appearance, while the literary department is characterized by marked ability. The "Evening Mercury" contains the news of the day, as well as all local matters of an interesting nature. Guelph now boasts of two daily papers, which says much for the intelligence of the inhabitants of that flourishing town. If the same ability and energy is exhibited in the management of the "Evening Mercury," that has for several years past marked that of the weekly, and which has placed it in the front rank as a newspaper, their efforts to publish a first-class daily will be crowned with success. The publishers of the "Mercury" have our warmest wishes for the success of their new enterprise.—(Berlin Telegraph).

WE HAVE on our table the first number of the Guelph "Evening Mercury," published by Messrs McLagan & Innes. It is a twenty-four column paper, and is without doubt far ahead of any paper of its size in Canada. We wish the proprietors every possible success, which they must undoubtedly deserve.—(Owen Sound Advertiser).

EVENING MERCURY.—This is the title of a new evening paper, published by Messrs. McLagan & Innes, in the thriving town of Guelph. It is a 24 column sheet—neatly printed, and conducted with ability. Politically speaking its tone is opposition to Guelph. We think the enterprising publishers will meet with that encouragement from the party, and also from the mercantile interests of Guelph, as to make it financially a success.—(Newmarket News Era).

NEW EVENING DAILY.—We were pleased to receive on Tuesday last the first number of the daily "Evening Mercury," which is printed in clear type and contains the latest news. The "Mercury" is striding forward into a high position among western journals, and we are pleased to see so able and so staunch a Reformer journal so prospering. We shall give the prospectus next week. Go on, friend "Mercury," and prosper.—(Milton Champion).

THE GUELPH EVENING MERCURY.—We have received the first number of this new weekly, and find it an exceedingly creditable production. It is the "Evening Mercury" is published by Messrs. McLagan & Innes, who have with a great show of enterprise, built a new office, and furnished it with a large quantity of new type. Their evening paper is a sheet of twenty-four columns, and conducted with that energy and care, which have always characterized the weekly—which will hereafter, by the way, be a forty column paper. We don't know whether Guelph can support two daily papers—though a certain thing it is that the press is well patronized there. Be that as it may, however, we heartily wish our enterprising contemporaries every success.—(Colborne World).

THE ENTERPRISING PROPRIETORS of the Guelph "Mercury" have commenced the publication of a daily paper, the first number of which we have received. It has a very neat appearance.—(Paisley Advocate).

WE HAVE now received the second number of the Guelph daily EVENING MERCURY. The whole appearance of the paper is excellent, and we have no doubt that its proprietors will be well rewarded for their labor.—(Thorold Patriot).

EVENING MERCURY.—Messrs McLagan & Innes, of Guelph, have commenced the publication of a new evening paper, in that town daily. We have received the first number, which is a very creditable specimen of typography, and the editorial staff consists of men who have shown their enterprise every success.—(Brant Expositor).

THE GUELPH MERCURY has advanced from a weekly to a daily issue. It is a neat little paper, conducted with ability, and meeting public support and encouragement.—(Orangeville Sun).

NEW DAILY.—We have received the first number of the Guelph Evening Mercury, a new daily paper published by Messrs. McLagan & Innes. We have looked upon the Mercury as one of our best Canadian journals, and we are pleased to notice that its proprietors are endeavoring to warrant the issue of a daily. We wish it every success.—(Owen Sound Advertiser).

THE RUSSELL WATCH!

A FEW REASONS THAT MAKE IT SUPERIOR TO ALL COMERS.

- 1st—It proves itself a reliable time-keeper beyond all question.
- 2nd—The RUSSELL WATCH being made on correct and scientific principles, it must follow as a natural consequence that it will keep time.
- 3rd—Each part of which the RUSSELL WATCH is composed is a reflex of the perfect machine by which, under skillful direction, it is produced.
- 4th—Truth is the essential of each part.
- 5th—Uniformity and conformity must therefore characterize the several parts in fulfilling the purpose for which they are made and brought together.
- 6th—Reproduction, as regards watch work, is simply an application of the principle that "things which are equal to the same things are equal to another," and if there is any merit, the RUSSELL WATCH possesses that merit to a demonstration.
- 7th—The greatest variety of price, quality and size, that confidence and perfection will admit, is afforded by the RUSSELL WATCH.
- 8th—The RUSSELL WATCH stands pre-eminent above all competitors for public favor and patronage.
- 9th—Proofs of the foregoing—the universal testimony of all Watchmakers who have sold, and the positive statements of the thousands in Europe, the United States and Canada, who have worn the RUSSELL WATCH.

New Brunswick.

A writer in the London Advertiser gives the following historical sketch of New Brunswick, now one of the Confederated Provinces:—

New Brunswick was so named from Brunswick in Germany, the former residences of Queen Victoria's forefathers up to 1714, when George I., Duke of Brunswick, ascended the throne of England. It is a compact tract of country lying between the Bay of Chaleur and the Bay of Fundy, and bounded east by Gulf of St. Lawrence, and west by the State of Maine. The 45th and 48th parallels of latitude are nearly its south and north limits, and it lies within the 64th and 68th meridians west longitude. Area, 27,037 square miles, or equal to a square each side of which is 165 miles. Disputes, for many years, were carried on with the United States regarding its boundaries. It is diversified with hills and dales, beautiful lakes and noble rivers. The bays afford good facilities for commerce. Fully two-thirds of the boundary is formed by sea coast, and the remainder affords all the advantages of a seaboard, being close to the navigable rivers St. Croix, St. John, and Restigouche. Along the Bay of Fundy the shores are high and precipitous, yet there are many good harbours for vessels not of the largest size. The eastern coast is well provided with ports. The largest vessels can find entrance at the mouths of the rivers, and especially at Miramichi Bay and the Richibucto. New Brunswick is thus, in her extensive seaboard and numerous harbours, supplied with the means of extending her commerce and fisheries almost without limit. At the head of the St. Croix river, on the south-west boundary, are a number of lakes forming a series of deep-water expansions and irregular openings in the midst of a granitic country. Dome shaped hills rise to the height of two thousand feet above the sea, and fine cliffs tower above the water, their perpendicular faces scamed and withered into the semblance of gigantic masonry. Over all the uncleared part of the colony, a dense forest covers every available spot. From this granite region two mountain branches stretch across the country; one running towards the north-east forms a fine range named the Tobacco Mountains. Here Mount Bald, the highest point is 2,240 feet. Every traveller wishing to obtain a magnificent view over a country richly varied by mountain and forest, lake and river, should ascend Mars Hill, 1,700 feet. Besides, it is historically interesting. Its summit was cleared in 1794 for the purpose of erecting an observatory; but it has returned to wildness. The scenery among these giant mountains is of the grandest character. Some of the clefts on their northern flanks are so deep and narrow that the sun never melts the snow in them; and glaciers descending these ravines in spring, add the evidences of their destroying force to the wildness of that region. Again, tortuous fissures, shut in by rugged cliffs, are occupied by narrow lakes at great depth; or torrents descend through them, leaping from fall to fall along their uneven beds, and in flood time strongly exhibit the degrading power of water, in the rocks and timber born down by their stained and foaming streams. In the foreground the confused and naked masses of stone and slate are mingled with trees and vegetation, struggling to gain a footing among them; but below and in the distance an interminable forest loads the surface and hides all distinction of hill and valley.

THE KINGSTON NEWS, a Conservative journal, devoted to Sir John A. Macdonald's cause has the following:—
"The numerical preponderance of Reformers in Upper Canada makes the Liberal party the arbiter of the affairs of this Province; and the representative members of that party can in their places in the Assembly control the administration in every particular."
If such be the case then why force on Reformers a "combination" that they do not want. It is evidently useless to attempt to split the Reform ranks; tho' some of the leaders may have turned recreant for the sake of obtaining office. A few shaky half-and-halves may say that the action was just and proper, but the main body of Reformers is as much intact as it even was, nor will all the specious speeches of John S. bring them to look upon him with suspicion, nor will all the false logic of the renegades win to their sides again the friends whom they have deserted. Yes, the Liberal party will be arbiters, and truth and consistency will soon be unequivocally triumphant.

THE CANDIDATE FOR EAST TORONTO.—The following is from the Brampton Times one of the papers from which the Leader has been recently quoting, as the true exponent of the public opinion in the West:—
"TORONTO EAST.—James Beaty, of the Leader, a rebel in 1837—a denouncer of Tories as plunderers and robbers, until within a few years past—an annexationist in 1841, and which in heart yet—announces himself as a candidate for the House of Commons for Toronto East. Of all the men that sat in Parliament, we hope its walls will never be disgraced with such a man as James Beaty. He has several times tried to represent Toronto as a denouncer of Toryism and everything British, and has always been ignominiously defeated by loyal Reformers, he has for some years past appeared as a Tory in disguise. Under that cloak he is now trying to obtain a seat in the Canadian House of Commons. We warn the electors of Toronto that he is a Jesuit, prepared to sell them at any moment he can better himself. His speeches reported in the Toronto Examiner, or some old files of the Toronto Patriot, will show him up in true colours. We deeply regret that the present Government has not a more loyal defend-

MINISTERIAL "TRIPPING."

—The two Premiers have not yet ceased their hunting. If perseverance could always be rewarded by success no more successful men could be than Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. John Sandfield. We hear of them in Brantford, we hear of them in Simcoe, and in short we hear of them in so many places that it might be difficult for either of the gentlemen to convince a judiciary, formed of newspaper readers, of the infallibility of the proverb, that no person can be in two places at the same time. The last we hear of them, is that the Premier of Ontario arrived at Hamilton on Saturday last: he had come from Simcoe, by the way of Paris and was going to the Falls, to admire the beauties of nature no doubt. The Tories gave him a kind reception, which is saying considerable for the forgiving disposition of all parties. Sir John A. it was said was to follow him by the next train. It is believed that both the gentlemen will visit Hamilton next week to carry everything before them.

SOUTH PERTH.—Mr. McFarlane, late Reform member for Perth, has for some time been in the field alone for the representation of the South Riding, the County having been divided into two Constituencies. The candidate for the Local House was Mr. Trow, a man very rich in this world's goods. Until lately we heard of no opposition to either of the aspirants, but we now learn that Mr. T. B. Guest, of St. Mary's, is out as an opponent of Mr. McFarlane, and Mr. J. Donovan, of Toronto, is pitted against Mr. Trow. Mr. Donovan's claims to consideration rest on the ground that he "took such a manly stand against the proceedings of the Catholic Convention." Mr. Guest is known as the inviolable proposer of T. M. Daly. No matter how Tom had voted during one term, Mr. Guest always proposed him as "a fit and proper person to represent the County" when he came back looking for election. One would imagine that he would have known the South Riding of Perth better than to suppose that with even all his fine personal qualifications he would have any chance against Mr. McFarlane, who defeated Daly, the best canvasser perhaps who was ever in the old House of Assembly. The Conservatives live at the other end of the County, which is unfortunate for Mr. Guest.

THE HIGHLANDERS.—The Montreal Witness of Friday says: A large number of the men of the 78th Regiment (which arrived in this city a few days before) visited town, from their encampment at Logan's Farm, yesterday afternoon. In the principal streets they might be seen in squads, evidently regarding the stores and public buildings with a curiosity equal to that with which they were themselves beheld by the citizens. Independently of the fact that they are unusually a fine body of men, their picturesque dress—the only remains of the old Gaelic costume now found in Europe—is a never-failing cause of attention. Their gallant share in the suppression of the Indian mutiny also unconsciously increases the admiration and good will towards them.

SOME of the Coalition newspapers still parade the names of the Ministerial candidates for the Local Legislature as "Unionists," and their meetings as "Union meetings." This is surely a very blundering nomenclature, to distinguish the supporters of a Ministry, three of whose members out of five have opposed Union from first to last, the Premier himself, no longer since than Wednesday at the London meeting, declaring Confederation to be a "humbug." The term "Disunionists" is the only appropriate one for these gentlemen.—Globe.

NORTH SIMCOE.—Mr. Morrison's chances of election in Niagara being of the poorest possible kind, he is now in North Simcoe, to ascertain his prospects for a seat in the Legislative Assembly. He is opposed by Mr. Lount, who is a Reformer, strongly opposed to Mr. Sandfield McDonald's Coalition, and Mr. Morrison, it is said will be entirely unable to oppose him with success.

OIL EXPLOSION AT PETROLIA.—On Saturday morning about 5 o'clock a fire occurred in an oil well, owned by Messrs. Dorr & Middaugh, and originated by the gas being drawn into the furnace of the boiler and igniting in the well. It blew up with a loud report, injuring three men seriously and two severely. The well is still burning.

COUNTY OF KENT.—Mr. Sandfield McDonald is expected with his employer, Sir John A. Macdonald, in Chatham, in order to persuade either Northwood or Stephenson to retire from the field.

BARBER VS. CAMERON.—Mr. Robert Barber, of Streetsville, has been selected by the Reform Convention of the County of Peel, to contest the constituency with J. H. Cameron, Mr. Currie, of St. Catharines, having declined the previous nomination given to him. The Leader comes out strongly against Mr. Barber, calling him the extreme Disunionist and Protectionist candidate, and calls on the electors to vote for John Hillyard on opposite principles. The fact of it is, that it is Cameron who is a Disunionist, opposed to Confederation, and still prefers a change for legislative Union, and as we understand it, the term Protectionist can be applied better to Cameron, who has voted for the high tariffs of Mr. Galt, than to Mr. Barber, who goes for such incidental protection as is necessary to raise a revenue, and at the same time protect the new and weak manufactures without driving out foreign productions.—Milton Champion.

WEST YORK.—Mr. Thomas Grahame, Deputy Reeve of Vaughan, (Mr. Howland, Warden, being Reeve) has consented to become a candidate on the Union ticket for the representation of West York in the legislature of Ontario. The Belgian volunteers to the number of about 2,400 arrived in London on the 24th July, and were received on landing

The Evening Mercury.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

DAILY MERCURY.—The Guelph Mercury has commenced a daily edition. It is a neatly printed and cleverly conducted paper.—(Belleville Intelligencer)

NEW DAILY.—The Mercury of Guelph, has made its appearance as an evening paper. It is well printed, lively-looking paper, and starts out on its new career with every prospect of success.—(Toronto Evening Telegram)

THE GUELPH MERCURY.—The first number of the Guelph Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones, has been received. It is a neat and creditable appearance, and, in the hands of its enterprising proprietors, will, we hope, prove a success.—(Ottawa Daily Times)

NEW DAILY.—Guelph can now boast of a second daily newspaper. The Mercury of Guelph is now issued every evening. It is a neatly got up sheet, and well furnished with reading matter.—(The Weekly Freeman)

JOURNALISTIC.—We welcome the first copy of the Guelph Evening Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones, which, we believe, is the best newspaper in Guelph, and we believe that it will further increase the prestige of the establishment. We wish our cotemporary every success.—(London Daily Advertiser)

JOURNAL ENTERPRISE.—We are happy to notice that the enterprising publishers of the Guelph Mercury have been successful in their design, to be published every weekday afternoon.—(The Weekly Freeman)

THE GUELPH MERCURY.—The enterprising proprietors of the Guelph Mercury, Messrs. McLagan & Jones, have commenced the publication of a daily evening edition, under the above title, the first number of which has just appeared. The Mercury has long and worthily enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best conducted and most valuable journals of Western Canada, and the new publication promises to sustain the character to the letter. It is of a fair size, and its typographical appearance is bright and sharp, corresponding with its editorial capacities. The EVENING MERCURY is a great improvement on anything in the newspaper line with which the people of Guelph have before been favoured, and we hope that its days may be long and prosperous.—(Hamilton Times)

THE SUNDAY OBSERVER.—Having copied from the Observer its notice of the Evening Mercury, we add the following: The above we find in the Hamilton Times, and readily endorse all the complimentary remarks made therein to the Evening Mercury, and hope that the enterprise of its proprietors will be properly appreciated by the people of Guelph, as the Mercury is really a credit to their town.

NEW DAILY.—The proprietors of the Guelph Mercury, who have always shown themselves to be energetic, business-like, go-ahead men, have issued an evening sheet of the Guelph Mercury, and general set up, styled the Guelph Evening Mercury. Without the slightest hesitations, and in a timely manner, they have taken the long and short of all the little boys, it gives the late news of the day, full and copious, and gives just the thing wanted in the community. It is a five-winkable, reliable daily newspaper, and it is a credit to the town, and a credit to the proprietors, Messrs. McLagan & Jones.—(Elora Observer)

THE GUELPH MERCURY.—The first number of the Guelph Evening Mercury has been received. It is published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones. It is very neatly printed, and like the weekly, ably conducted. We hope the people of Guelph, who are noted for their enterprise and ability, will give the paper the support of a liberal subscription.—(Ingersoll Chronicle)

THE GUELPH MERCURY.—We are happy to receive the first number of the Guelph Evening Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones. It is a neat and creditable appearance, and, in the hands of its enterprising proprietors, will, we hope, prove a success.—(Mount Forest Examiner)

THE GUELPH MERCURY.—The Guelph Mercury, hitherto a first-class weekly, commencing on Saturday last for the first time as a daily. It is a paper of 24 columns, and displays an amount of enterprise and ability, we should say, altogether in advance of the means of the place to sustain.—(Stratford Beacon)

GUELPH EVENING MERCURY.—We have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of several numbers of the daily Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones. It is printed from new type, and presents an exceedingly elegant and neat appearance, while the literary department is characterized by marked ability. The Evening Mercury contains the latest telegraphic news, as well as all local matters of an interesting nature. Guelph now boasts of two daily papers, which says much for the intelligence of the inhabitants of that flourishing town. If the same ability and energy is exhibited in the management of the Evening Mercury, that has for several years past marked that of the weekly, and which has placed it in the front rank as a newspaper, their efforts to publish a first-class daily will be crowned with success. The publishers of the Mercury have our warmest wishes for the success of their new enterprise.—(Berlin Telegraph)

WE have on our table the first number of the Guelph Evening Mercury, published by Messrs. McLagan & Jones. It is a neat and creditable appearance, and, in the hands of its enterprising proprietors, will, we hope, prove a success.—(Down Sound Advertiser)

Politically speaking its tone is opposition to Coalition. MONDAY EVENING, JULY 29.

NORAH CUSHALEEN OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

'Och!' exclaimed Terry, leaping half his own height, 'long life to your honour. Sure you've the heart of a gentleman, and the makins of a gentleman every inch of yes. Praise to yer honour's goodness, Terry Cushaleen will set foot this blessed night on Irish ground, and cheer up the heart of old Michael and my darling Norah.'

'Ha! a sweetheart!' cried Hargreave, with a loud oath.
'The only sweetheart that ever I had, yer honour, answered Terry readily.—'But she's my own sister, and a purtier colleen brathes not within the corners of the country.'

'I think you said they live at Dundarra; I have some thoughts of going thereabouts.'

'Have you, indade, yer honour? Well, ye'll fine it a swate enough spot; but—'
'Now, Mr. Hargreave, shouted the captain approaching at the moment with several men behind him, 'I have ordered the helmsman to lie-to—no easy matter in such a stiff gale. Be ready to get into the boat the moment we have her lowered. It is now almost dark, and I dare not take you further. You have some hour's good pulling before you. I would not advise you to hoist sail in such a wind.'

Fair and you're right, captain, exclaimed Terry. 'The bay is a ticklish place, even in moderate weather, let alone a blow like this.'

The captain was too busily engaged in superintending the lowering of Hargreave's boat to hear this rejoinder of the happy Terry, who, in the prospect of soon being ashore, could scarcely restrain himself from leaping about in all directions.

'You're going to take a oar, I suppose?' he observed, addressing himself to Andrew.

'Deed am I!' answered the undemonstrative Scotchman; 'and, he added, it's my opinion we'll have a gay tech-poo.'

'I'll take you the near cuts, me boy! I'm mighty obliged to his honour, your mistress, for giving me a berth, and long life to him for the same; but I'll just take the liberty of modestly asserting that, if you had gone wanting me, it's a thousand chances to one that you'd ever been heard of at Dundarra.'

'Now then!' shouted the captain; 'the boat's in water. Farewell, Mr. Hargreave! I hope you'll make the land all right.— Terry, my boy! look alive and swing yourself down!'

'Alive is it yer honour?' shouted Terry with a shrill whoop; and seizing a rope, he leapt over the bulwarks and disappeared, but presently his voice was heard coming cheerily from below, with an intimation that he was in the boat and would steady her for the descent of the oars.

Hargreave and Andrew made the somewhat perilous descent in safety, and Terry was about to sever her from the ship, when a black mass came flying from the deck, and fell into the water with a terrible plunge, just at the side of the boat.

'Thunder and come, what's that?' ejaculated Terry, full of consternation.

'Only the dog,' remarked Hargreave. 'Push off, Dash will take care of himself! Terry unhooked the chain, and the next moment the little skiff—for it was no more—was tossing and tumbling on the rolling billows. A cheer came from the ship as the black speck was dimly seen dancing away from her side, and she immediately resumed her course, leaving those in the boat to shift for themselves, and do their best to gain the beach.

The beach was still a considerable distance off, and was now nearly indistinguishable in the darkness. The tempest was increasing every moment in fury, and on the bosom of the foaming billows the tiny skiff rose and fell, and was cast to and fro like a feather.

Nothing daunted, however, Terry took the rudder, and headed her in the right direction, and Andrew and his master fearlessly put forth each his oar and took steady pulls.

Now seen for a moment, and again lost to view, the black figure of Dash appeared on the white foam as he swam in their wake, full of wild delight, which he evinced every few moments by uttering a short joyous bark.

With patient firmness, they kept command of the skiff in the turbulent sea, and hoped they were making progress towards the shore. But confident as Terry was of his steering, and intimate as he was with the bay, his eye-sight was no better than that of his companions, and neither he no they could see the dark rocks towering against the almost as dark sky. Every where was white billow foam, which the wind sent flying over them, and though every time they rose upon a crest the three pairs of eyes were bent round with eager scrutiny, yet they sank down into the trough ere they had time to take a steady gaze.

For nearly an hour Dash kept bravely at the boat's stern, but at last he showed signs of fatigue. His barks of delight had become mere snorts of satisfaction, and the distance between him and the boat gradually increased. In these circumstances his master and the others thought he deserved to be taken on board, and having waited till he came alongside, Andrew bent over and helped him over the gunwale.

'Away forward and lie down, Dash,' commanded Hargreave; and the intelligent animal went away near the bows, and shaking himself till the water flew like a shower from his shaggy hair, curled round and laid himself down, thankful evidently for repose after such exertion in his favorite element.

'Can you make out our whereabouts, Terry?' asked Hargreave, after nearly another hour had passed in silent struggle.

'No yer honour,' replied the steersman, 'I can make out nothing but say and darkness. This isn't like Blantire Bay at all, at all!'

'Suppose we are making for the English side of the Channel?' suggested the other.

'Then, yer honour, it will be a long time before we reach it,' replied Terry. 'But never a bit of that we can be doing, for the wind would be dead against us, Holy mother! what's that?'

The latter exclamation was caused by a wild, piercing shriek, which rose above wind and wave, and made all three pause in breathless expectancy. Dash also sprang to his feet, and turning his head eagerly forward, poised his fore paws for a moment on the edge of the boat, then, with a loud and deep bark, he sprang over and plunged into the sea.

'It was a woman's scream,' said Hargreave, excitedly.

'I'll take my oath on that,' remarked Terry. 'It's a woman, if it's not a ghost. Dash dina gang tee help a ghost,' observed Andrew, who had risen to his feet and bent eagerly forward. 'See yonder,' he hastily added, 'the dog has

'You are right,' exclaimed his master. 'It is some poor drowning creature, I think. Let us at once row towards it, and second the endeavor of Dash.'

Desperately Hargreave and Andrew bent to the oars, and the boat skimmed forward like a bird to where Dash struggled with something dark in his mouth.

'A woman,' cried the youth, 'and her hair trails in the foam. Hold on, Dash; don't let go, my brave fellow. Andrew, Terry, bear a hand and pull her on board!'

Terry, with the impulsive generosity of his countrymen, had thrown himself over the side, and held by the boat with one hand, while with his unoccupied arm he encircled the waist of the inanimate body which Dash was supporting on the surface.

Hargreave likewise bent his body forward, and held out his arms to receive the burden which the Irishman was now bearing from the foam. Andrew not less humane than the others, but perhaps more self-possessed and more capable of exercising reason, crossed to the other side, so that his weight there might prevent the boat from being upset. This cautious procedure saved the whole of their lives, for when Hargreave drew the dripping body over the gunwale, the boat dipped down to the very water's edge, till almost another feather's weight would have swamped it. The body was got in, however, and the boat righted.

'A young girl it is,' cried the youth, as he held her in his arms.

'Your honour's right,' gasped Terry, as he again clambered into the boat. 'It's a purty colleen. I couldn't see her face; but I know she's handsome by her slender waist. How has she come at all, at all, to be in the bay in Blantire Bay on such a night?'

'There must have been a boat upset; perhaps others may be saved,' said Hargreave.

Dash seemed to be of the same opinion, for he was swimming round the spot in circles. A long search, however, issued in nothing. No more bodies were seen floating, and neither boat nor spars were visible in the foam.

So they pulled forward, and Terry sat in the stern, one hand on the rudder, and the other arm supporting the cold wet body of the inanimate girl. They did not know whether she was still alive, or whether the boiling flood had done its work of death.

'God bless the friends of this poor colleen!' muttered Terry. 'It's little they'll know the could bed she found in the black waters, and maybe the light's burnin' in the cabin bole that's meant to guide her over the bog. Praise God, she may get round if we could reach the shore, for I find her heart fluttering again in my own; but if we have to sail much further, the could will finish what the water began.'

Little did Terry dream that the poor unconscious girl he held in his arms was his own sister Norah Cushaleen.

"Och!" exclaimed Terry, leaping half his own height, "long life to your honour. Sure you've the heart of a gentleman, and the makings of a gentleman every inch of yes. Praise to yer honour's goodness. Terry Cushaleen will set foot this blessed night on Irish ground, and cheer up the heart of ould Michael and my darling Norah."

ASTOUNDING, CONFOUNDING, BUT TRUE. ANOTHER WONDERFUL Cure of Consumption!

By the GREAT SHOSHONEES REMEDY, IN CANADA.

Messrs. Young & Chamberlain: GENTLEMEN.—I, Wilson Storms, of Brighton, C. W., make oath and say: I feel anxious to let you know who the Great Shoshonees Remedy is elected for me. My wife, as I believe, died with Consumption and died; I was also afflicted with the same disease, and after her death I continued sinking towards morning. I had very severe Night Sweats; I coughed nearly all night, and every night could not sleep; my chest felt as if I had been raised over a quart of matter every 24 hours; had severe pain in the left lung, &c., and was greatly distressed. I felt as if I was going as fast as I could. I was taking medicine from a regular physician, but it did not even relieve my cough, and the village one day, about a quarter of a mile, which took me to go and come about two hours. While there I saw Squire Wellington, and happened to say to him I wish you could give me something to relieve my cough. He said— "There is a Great Indian Remedy just introduced; I continued taking it for a while, and I believe it will cure you." I took his advice, and brought a bottle home with me. I took a spoonful at once, which I felt through my whole system. At night I took a table spoonful and rested well all night, and continued to rest well every night. The next morning I was in a better state, and my chest gradually felt better. I got hearty and strong. I took only three bottles. I am not taking it now, and I am as hearty and well as ever I was in my life. My sister-in-law was with me for a while, who was affected with the Liver Complaint. She has taken the remedy and is well. This certificate you may show to the world if you please. WILSON STORMS.

Sworn before us at Brighton, C.W. this 25th day of August, 1867. B. YOUNG, J. P. Reeve. I. M. WELLINGTON, J. P. Guelph, 15th Nov. 1866. 682-4f

THE BRYANT, STRATTON & ODELL Business College and Telegraph Institute. Express Buildings, Bryant Stratton & Co's Commercial College ESTABLISHED 1858. 55 Yonge-st., TORONTO.

Located in 46 of the largest cities of the States and Canada, under the management of J. D. ODELL, Principal.

A SCHOLARSHIP issued from this College is good for an unlimited time, and entitles the holder to the advantage of instruction and influence in obtaining situations. Each College derives special benefit from all others, in the combined experience of numerous teachers, the collection of manuscripts and the publication of text books, beyond the ordinary means of any single school. We have the best system of Penmanship known to the public, taught by experienced, first-class Penmen, for which we were awarded First Premiums in all departments at the late Provincial Fair. Regular class instructions in Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Book-keeping, English Grammar, Correspondence, Composition, &c., &c., with ample black-board explanations, and special lectures to suit individual cases. Actual business is here introduced by the use of Banks, and other offices, as in business houses. The practical method of giving instruction in this institution is the most important feature. Students count their thousands of dollars, buy and sell merchandise, real estate, stocks, &c., with as much interest as our first merchants, thus converting the school-room into a banking house and mercantile exchange, by introducing the actualities of business, as well as the abstract theory of Book-keeping. For further information please call at the College and send for a College Monthly, enclosing letter stamp. Toronto, August 15, 1866. 669 J. D. ODELL.
