Our Spring Greeting for 1896 is issued under particularly favorable auspices.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The business situation is much brighter, and goods and prices favor the purchaser in a way not equalled for years. So buoyant are all the prospects, that we have prepared to meet our large and growing custom, by purchasing the

Largest, Choicest and Most Representative Stock of Goods

we have yet had the pleasure of placing before the public. In selecting which, we have been guided by the unvarying principle-" to secure the very best." Where style was the consideration we have insisted on goods faultlessly fashioned; and in all classes of goods we demanded those that and were, in fact, the best and newest procurable. These we purchased carefully and methodically, buying close and figuring a narrow margin of profit, so that we can offer the same for much less than the ordinary cost.

Our patrons form a community possessed of good taste, and endowed with a discriminating sense of harmony and appropriateness, and we ask for a test of our resources and ability to meet the needs of every patron, feeling that we were never so well equipped to supply their wants.

We can convince the most sceptical that it is unprofitable and unfair to send their money away to firms, they know little or nothing shout, giving them the opportunity of sending in return anything they may see fit, when they can buy

BETTER GOODS AT JUST AS FINE PRICES and from just as good people right in their own community.

Our store is as heretofore a place where all are cordially welcome, a place where goods, prices and courteous treatment are just right.

Thanking you one and all for your valued patronage during the past seventeen years, trusting you will continue to show your appreciation of our efforts in your behalf. and promising to guard well your interests this spring of 1896, as the champion of low prices, superior goods and honest treatment.

We remain faithfully yours, her young men, and no doubt when the time comes they will be prepared to follow whith-erscoever the destinies of our country may lead them. —THE report of the Minister of Justice as to Ponitentiaries in Canada for the year ending 30th June, 1895, presents some inter-esting yet painful features. There are five ponitentiaries in the Domlinion, viz., Mani-toba, St. Vincent de Paul, British Columbia, Dorchester and Kingston, and their average bochester and Kingston, and their average population during the last five years has been 1226, and the cost of Keeping up these population during the last five years has

Most convicts are classed as laborers, but now and then there is a doctor or a schooli teacher. We have looked in vain for an editor or lawyer, but such cannot be found. Tom our own province there were sent to Dyrohester last year 38, of whom 13 were under 20 years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of age and 19 between 20 and the tom years of the tow were the tow years of the tow year and 63 cents per capita of the population of 30, and but one more than 40. Four of these are serving second terms, and one a third verm. None come from our county, except perhaps William Moses, who was sent up for a second term from Pictou for larceny. Of the 38 from this province only 4 had trades, and 31 were sent up for stealing. The total number of criminals from Nova Scotia at Dorchester on the 30th of last June was 94, and Annapolis county is responsible for only 3 of that number, while our number—accord ing to population—would bé 4; hence we have reason to congratulate ourselves that our county is not the worst in this respect; in fact we take fourth place, three other ties having but one each. During the year 29 were pardoned out of Dorchester, of whom 20 were from Nova Scotia. The value of convict labor at Dor-chester during the year was §22,207.

In addition to the 94 at Dorchester who have committed crime in Nova Scotia, there are doubless few others serving out short terms in the county gaols, as no person is sent to the penitentiary for less than two years, hence petty criminals are not included in the above returns. To make the serving out short the serving out short the serving serving in the above returns. It would appear that the criminal class consists largely of those who have never been educated nor taught a trade. We plume ourselves upon the efficacy of our free school system and the dignity of labor, but there is something still lacking while the history of our criminal class is as it is at present. These young men now in prison for stealing, having no trade and no education, were once cent boys, and the beginning of their misfortune was the neglect of their parents to have them receive at least a rudimentary education and then proper instruction in some trade. Such treatment might have rescued them from their present deplorable condition, but when boys are educated on the street they must possess considerable moral stamina to give their attention to those two ible elements of good u

Bay View Park.

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT WILL BE. It is the common exclamation of all who ave visited Elder's Head, henceforth to be nown as Bay. View Park: "We did not now there know there was such a beautiful spot near Not only do very few people except sportsmen know the natural at-tractions of Bay View, but a still smaller number are aware what extensive improve-ments have been inaugurated and are about to be carried out by the Hon. L. E. Baker, who now owns the property. It may be said without fear of contradic ion that Bay View Park is the finest piece of land on Yarmouth harbor. It lies be-tween the main and the back channel, directly opposite the centre of the town, and can be reached in five minutes from Main street by row boat and in half the time by The Park is said to contain 60 acres, but it is so diversified that pedestrian who walks over it gets the impression that it is four times as large. It is entered on the landward side by a spur from the Cape road at the south, making a pleasant drive of two miles from town. With the ception of this narrow promonotory it is tirely surrounded by water, the Park profit, and would turn in our direction a continually increasing number of summer tourists. Even American students would appreciate the cool and pleasant surroundings of such a literary Acropolis. These are not dreams, but pictures of what has been done elsewhere and can be done here, if we unite, without jealousy or party feeling, in this and every other way to advance the interests of the home we love so well. I hope some of these plans will be carried to fruition by our people this very season.

The general plan of laying out the Park has been to copy nature as closely as possible. The paths follow the natural slopes of the land and lead now into the cool depths of the forest, now to a cool sandy beach, and now to a lofty prospect. -The southern slope of the Park faces toward the sea. Already one large cottage looks out from this point through the trees, and from its broad verandahs commands an outlook past Bunker Island and well nigh out into the open waters. Facing the town there are sites for several more summer homes, which will soon be erected.

Just here the pathways converge to the Just here the pathways converge to the restaurant, which ittelf commands the entire town from the foot of a long slope that has the north seeded to grass. This slope lies to the north seeded to grass. This slope lies to the north seeded to grass. This slope lies to the north seeded to grass. This slope is to edge, and in their shelter to being dug a deep artesian well that will supply the slope we with ice cold water. Climbing this slope we dip down into the dark pine woods, cross an dip down into the dark pine woods, cross an open interval, and find ourselves at the foot of a rocky cliff. This cliff path will doubtless be the favorite resort of sight seekers. The steep climb reveals many a romantic spot, and some of the rocks hint at embryo caverns and are themselves carved into fan-tastic forms. Alligator rock certainly lifts its saurian head in a most life-like manner. Passing along the top of the cliffs through the orchard we come to the highest point in Park. Near this a cottage is being erected, and happy will be its occupants in the per-petual vista from its windows. Those who have climbed the steep ascent at John's Cove will be surprised to know that this bill (North Cape it is called), though not so high gives one even a broader outlook. The entire Yarmouth Cape can be seen from the Light to the mainland, including the pleasant farming country of Overton and the ocean out-

To the north the view goes past Milton to the hills beyond. The whole town of Yar-mouth is clearly visible as in a panorama, giving the impression of much greater size than it really has. The shipping, the har-bor and the islands form a very interesting part of the prospect, and complete a thor-ough geography lesson on the contour of western Nova Scotia.

Coming back by another path we pass the tables, whose convenience is obvious to those visiting the spot by teams, and stop to look in a deep and mysterious looking hole under a large flat stone. Here, led by cer tain marks on the tops of the trees that closely surround the spot, no longer than two months ago, eager treasure seekers dug at midnight for the concealed treasures of at midnight for the concealed treasures of Capt. Kidd, which according to very old tradition, are buried somewhere on this hill Whether the search was successful we can-not say. Certainly no great tiches have been spent in our local emportums since the sarch. Probably the treasure hunters are avving their money for the opening day at the View Part.

dull side of things, and naturally fall into a They have also the habit of complaining, a abit which quickens only the lower inte lect. Where is there a more discontented creature than a good watch dog? He is for ever looking for some infringement of his rights; and an approaching stop or a distant bark, drives him into a fury of protest. Discontented women are always egotists they view everything in regard to themselves and have therefore the defective sympathies that belong to low organizations. They never win confidence, for their discontent breeds distrust and doubt, and however clever they may naturally be, an obstrusive self, with its train of likings and dislikings obscures their judgment, and they take false views of people and things. For this reason it is almost a hopeless effort to show them how little people generally care about their grievances, for they have thought about themselves so long and so much that they cannot conceive of any other subject inter esting the rest of the world. REV. CHAS. E. WHITECOMBE, RECTOR ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH AND PRINCIPAL ST. MATTHEW'S PARISH SCHOOL, HAMILTON, ONT., FOUND GREAT RELIEF FROM DR. AGNEW'S CATARRHAL POWDER.

POWDER. The rector of St. Matthew's Church, Ham-iton, Ont., holds a warm place in the hearts of his people, not alone because he is a faith-full p-top, but for the work he has done for the children of Hamilton as principal of St. Matthew's pariel --sol. As he has sent forth his influence through other way the good properties of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder by telling the people of Canada how much it has help-ed him. There is something unique in this medicide that secures favour wherever it is shown, and which just now is making a host of friends because of the certain relief it gives in cases of hay fever, a trouble that a cure for catarrhal trouble it has no equal. Development of Children. Parent on feel in doubt as to how to educate then children; but of one thing they should never doubt, that is that every one must in the main educate himself, no matter how many or how capable his teach-ers may be. Herbert Spencer puts it cor-rectly when he says: "In education the process of self-development should be en-couraged to the fullest extent. Children should be led to make their own investiga tions and to draw their own inferences They should be told as little as possible, and induced to discover as much as possible. Humanity has progressed solely by self-in-struction; and that, to achieve the best resulte, each mind must progress somewhat after the same tashion, is continually proved by the marked success of self-made men.

To Curl Feathers. Dampen the feathers slightly and then curl each strand separately by drawing it carefully between the blunt edge of a knife and your right thumb, a silver fruit knife or a paper knife, either of which is useful for the survey.
