Be the salesman ever so skillful and convincing it takes the mirror to make or mar the sale. It will go the salesman one better every time, inasmuch as it presents to the customer all the details of fit and finish at a glance. Its power to put the last touches to the sale is mightier than any salesman's word. It clinches the argument with a finality that's convincing.

Where the garments are cut and tailored correctly, as ours are, the mirror is a salesman's best friend, and has made some wonderful sales in our Overcoat department this last few weeks. Speaking of overcoats, we have some beauties this season, fabrics that simply radiate warmth and comfort, with beautiful color effects, surpassed by no other house in Toronto. There is an acute shortage of overcoats owing to labor conditions and other factors, and our customers tell us we have the best showing in town.

Our Big Manufacturing plant is making every effort to keep us supplied and we expect a large shipment of Beautiful Coats this week to add to our others. Price quotation is neither here nor there just now, because it's the coat that fills your eye full that you want and our price is always fair whether it's a coat at $25.00, $50.00, $75.00, $90.00 or any of the prices between.

Our Mirror will furnish you with the expert advice you seek, and we stand for any reflections it may make upon our garments.

GOVERNMENT WILL ATTEND TO ROADS

Steps to Remedy Defects Charged Against Late Regime.

One of the great complaints made against the Hearst government by U. F. O. candidates during the provincial elections was the shocking condition of many roads throughout Ontario. The present government, therefore, has the opportunity to remedy the defect, and it is understood that plans are already under consideration in the highways branch of the public works department with this end in view. The building of the provincial highway commenced under the late regime will be continued, but in all probability with some changes in the matter of construction. The roads in the country parts will be of gravel macadam, while those in the towns will be of a more permanent character, necessitated by the heavy local traffic. Will Attend to Bad Roads. It is not intended to do anything on the scale of the Toronto-Hamilton highway, which some critics during the elections described as "a speedway for millionaires," while others admitted its general utility. The government will, it is stated, soon seek to implement their hustings promises by paying particular attention to the many bad patches now known as roads in the more rural parts. "We have to repopulate the rural districts, and to try and keep the people on the farms as much as possible," said Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of agriculture, yesterday. "You cannot attract any more than you can drive people to live in the rural districts any more than you can drive them to the cities." "We must have good roads, so that we can motor to church, to the theatre or to visit friends. We must have good rural schools. The technical schools, model schools and collegiate institutes in the urban centres can look after themselves now, and they are in good shape, but the little red schoolhouse on the back concession must be improved. You can get restful sleep after the first application. Price 50c. NO LACK OF EMPLOYMENT. Organizing Secretary J. McGregor, Ontario provincial command, G.W.V.A., reports no lack of employment in Northern Ontario. He states that 1,000 men could be placed in the mines around Cobalt at a minimum wage of $4.25 per day. Mr. McGregor has held meetings at North Bay, Cobalt, Halleybury, New Liskeard, Englehart and Matheson. D. McLean, another G.W.V.A. organizing secretary, has just completed a tour in Eastern Ontario, where he visited branches at Kingston, Gananoque, Brockville, Smith's Falls, Perth, Renfrew, Almonte, Kemptonville, Chesterville, Avonmore, Cornwall, Ottawa, Westboro and Pembroke. He reports considerable dissatisfaction among members as a result of the rejection by the government of the G.W.V.A. re-establishment plan. He states that the desire for political action was apparent among members everywhere. COMMUTE MURDER SENTENCE. Edmonton, Nov. 18.—Frank Sweeney, the man convicted of murder at Grand Prairie and who was sentenced to death by Mr. Justice Walsh last August, will not execute his crime upon the gallows. The sentence received by Sheriff Haas from the department of justice at Ottawa. All great art is the expression of man's delight in God's work, not in his own.—Ruskin.

There is only one "Bromo Quinine." B. W. O'NEIL'S signature on the box. 20c. FAVORS MOTHERS' PENSIONS. Walter Rolfe, minister of health and labor, in an interview with the press yesterday afternoon, stated that he strongly favored legislation granting pensions for widowed mothers. "This is one of the most important social measures of the day," said the minister. "I have every reason to believe that it will early receive proper consideration at the hands of the Drury government, since during recent sessions of the two bodies forming the U.F.O.-Labor coalition this plank was accorded hearty endorsement by the U.F.O. leaders." The bill in the legislature will probably be along the lines suggested in the report of Dr. Riddell to Sir William Hearst.

WHOLESALE GROCERS BUY NEW SITE

T. Kinnear and Company to Move From Front Street to Dupont.

The wholesale grocery firm of T. Kinnear & Co. have decided to move from East Front street, where they have done business for many years, and locate along the C.P.R. north town line. A site on Dupont street, west of Bathurst, has been purchased for about $50,000, and the building of a modern warehouse to cost about $150,000 will be started at an early date. The site has a frontage of 150 feet on the north side of Dupont street, beginning 135 feet from the Bathurst corner, and runs back 176 feet to a C.P.R. siding. The building will be 135 feet by 176 feet in dimensions, and two storeys high, with a basement. Former owners of this property were the Irwin Lumber Company. The World is informed that one of the objects of this change by the Kinnear firm is to get rid of the upgrade haul in the delivery to retailers. The new location will not only be more central than the old, but will give a down-grade haul for the bulk of the deliveries. Railway siding facilities are also said to be better up north than down town. T. Kinnear & Co. have occupied their present premises at 49 East Front street for 28 years, and for years previously occupied the building at 47 East Front street.

Beginning of Exodus. A prominent real estate man, recalling yesterday how the wholesale stationers a few years ago moved almost in a body to the vicinity of King and Spadina, predicts that this move by the Kinnear concern is the beginning of an exodus by the wholesale grocers to better locations up north. Another grocery firm, The World is informed, is now negotiating for a site in the vicinity of Dupont and Bathurst streets.

New Factory Building. The sale of 100 feet of land, on which roughcast houses are located at 92-99 Bathurst street, just north of King street, to the King Fashion Tailors, has been completed. A six-story and basement building for factory purposes will be erected by the purchasers commencing at once. The sale price of the land was about $200 a foot, and the vendor was John Tanner.

Queen Street Building Sold. The three-story building at 415 West Queen street has been purchased by S. Levinter to an automobile concern for $35,000. The purchase is subject to a two-year lease to Frank Barton, dealer in motor cars, who has occupied the premises for some time. This property has a frontage of 38 feet by a depth of 145 feet. Messrs. E. & J. Flanagan negotiated the Bathurst street and Queen street deals.

PICTURE MEN ASK FOR READJUSTMENT

Also Desire Representation on Censorship and Appeal Boards.

"We still want the moving picture business to be under the treasury department; we still want a board of appeal and we want representatives on that body as well as on the board of censors. We also want a readjustment of the provincial taxes." These were the requests made to the Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, by a deputation of moving picture men which waited upon him in his office at parliament buildings yesterday afternoon. It was the first deputation to see any member of the new government. Mr. Smith could not be induced to allow the press representatives to be present, although counsel for the picture men, F. J. Hughes, made a request that they be admitted. The deputation, in addition to Mr. Hughes, comprised F. E. Lennon and W. S. Barrett, representing the exchange managers; Thomas Scott and A. Alexander, the exhibitors, and Charles Dentilbeck and W. T. Couvert for the operators. Large Capital Invested. Mr. Hughes and other speakers placed a number of facts before the provincial treasurer to show the importance of the moving picture business. It was pointed out that in Ontario alone there was a capital of about $70,000,000 invested; the weekly payroll was about $160,000, and some 10,000 people were employed. It was also emphasized that a license fee of $150 was paid by each theatre, customs duties averaged $7,500 a week, amusement tax $10,000, and city taxes were about $50,000 a year. It was further contended that the picture business in the aggregate paid 20 to 25 per cent. more to the revenue than any other industry. The provincial treasurer, who was said to be thoroughly familiar with the industry, promised the consideration usually accorded to deputations.

PASSAGES-AT-ARMS FEATURE SESSION

Electrical Board Entertained to Tiffs Between J. T. Gunn and Peter White.

"You can try to trap me into an admission that I knew all about the award on the Saturday previous to the Sunday on which the strike vote was taken, but take it from me you won't succeed," said James T. Gunn, business agent for the Electrical Workers' Union, in reply to various readings made by Peter White, counsel for the Toronto Railway Company, from Toronto newspapers, assuming to quote interviews with Mr. Gunn, at yesterday afternoon's session of the electrical board held to place responsibility for the T. S. R. electrical workers' strike on Thursday, Sept. 3.

off by half past five, and Judge Barron called for an adjournment. Perhaps the most important of the passages-at-arms was that in which Mr. Gunn refused to allow the minutes of the union for the union meeting of August 7 to be produced for perusal by Mr. White.

Wanted Minutes. "I want to get those minutes," said the counsel. "Well, you are not going to get them," fired back the business agent.

Very clever, made with a view to clear the company," replied the witness. A little later Mr. White told Mr. Gunn to reserve his remarks to a later date and to merely answer questions at the moment. "I may say that courtesy is also due me as a witness," was the apt reply of the business agent, whose counsels were taken up by J. G. O'Donoghue, counsel for the union, who remarked that he would not tolerate any abuse of his witness.

believed the public deserved consideration, but that it also should consider the rights of the men. "What rights?" asked Mr. White. "Oh, the right to live in decency and comfort," fired back Mr. Gunn. "We claim and rightly that every worker has the right to a decent living wage. My opinion is that any attempt to grade wages so that many employees cannot get such wages is part of an obnoxious system."

and the carrying out of the award. He believed the company had enough men on hand to carry on during the strike. The Hydro-Electric had managed to keep going during the strike.

CORONER'S JURY GET A SURPRISE

Later Evidence Completely Contradicts That of First Witnesses.

That the ambulance, driven by Thomas Hitchcock, which overturned near the corner of Christie street and Yorkville avenue, on Nov. 12, after colliding with a Hydro pole, was impacted against the pole, when struck by another auto, was the summary of evidence presented by George Furnival at the inquest into the death of George Simms, held at the morgue last night.

The evidence of Furnival, who was the last witness called, came as a distinct surprise to the court, as previous witnesses did not see the two autos collide.

George Simms, who was killed when the ambulance overturned, was sitting in the car in the exact position where the impact took place, and did not regard consciousness.

Had Right-of-Way. According to the evidence of Furnival, the ambulance was proceeding south on Christie street, and had the right-of-way over the car approaching from the east along Yorkville avenue.

Mr. Hanigan explained that while the three members carry on all of the work during the early years, the task is now becoming too heavy for them.

Construction of Hydro radials will be commenced shortly, and it is to be expected that the health of our chairmen will be maintained for some time.

The four years' term was finally agreed on. At a luncheon at noon Sir Adam predicted a great future for municipal ownership in the province, as foreseen by the Hydro and the Ontario Electric.

Touching on the statement made by a former speaker that Sir Thomas White had been converted to a municipal-ownership view from an opposite, Sir Adam intimated that if the Ottawa powers would do something to show that this was the case, he would be more willing to accept it.

Referring to a statement attributed to Mr. Vanderlip in Toronto at a recent dinner, that public ownership cannot be a success in a democratic country, Sir Adam pointed to the success of Hydro.

NO EMBARGO YET ON SCREENINGS

Board of Commerce Suggest Interested Parties Settle Out of Court.

At the conclusion yesterday afternoon of the hearing before the board of commerce of the appeal on behalf of the Canadian Feed Manufacturing Co. to have an embargo placed on the screenings of Canadian grain cleared at the lake head terminal elevators, the claim that a pool or combine, which has control of this commodity, is being operated by the terminal elevator interests, with headquarters in Minneapolis, the parties agreed to act on the suggestion of Judge Hobson that they attempt four weeks no settlement of the matter.

The appeal was made by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on behalf of the Canadian Feed Co., and the charges against the terminal elevator interests are embodied in the following statement submitted to the board of commerce yesterday, with the request for the embargo.

The Canadian Feed Manufacturing Company, Fort William, with a capitalization of some $300,000, was promoted for the purpose of manufacturing stock food out of the screenings of Canadian grain cleared at the Lake Head terminal elevators.

Under the law, screenings cannot be shipped in their unmanufactured state from one part of Canada to another, but can only be exported to the United States.

The fact that a pool exists was disclosed by the government's (Prince of Wales) audit, the report of which was laid on the table of the house of commons last session.

Each terminal company sold screenings to the pool at an agreed-on price, and the company exported the screenings to the United States. They declined to make a price to the Canadian feed manufacturers at all.

When the audit disclosed that the pool existed, it was dissolved and a new pool formed across the line in Minneapolis under the name of the Superior Feed Company. The officers and shareholders of which are, it is understood, the heads of the same Canadian terminal elevators.

All screenings are sold and exported to this concern, and the Canadian Feed Manufacturing Company is discriminating against and cannot get supplies to keep it running, thus hindering competition, or substantially controlling manufacture and sale in stock feed in this country, contrary to the provisions of the act.

The representation that only refuse is exported is incorrect, as is disclosed by the official inspection of cargoes showing that better grades, known as elevator screenings and scalpsings were exported, it is denied that only refuse screenings are exported.

CLOTHING AND FOOD COSTS ARE PROBED

Commerce Board, in Hamilton, is told Why Suit Prices Soar.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 18.—The board of commerce held sittings this morning and afternoon in the city council chamber. Vice-Chairman O'Connor and Commissioner James Murdoch represented the board.

In taking up the retail clothing trade this afternoon, the vice-chairman of the board, after Col. Morrison had submitted a number of statements with reference to local firms, addressing the local fair-price commissioner, said: "I am going to ask you a very bold question."

"I don't think so," replied Col. Morrison. "It is all the method of doing business. I don't think that there is one of the companies doing something today that they have not done in the past."

"Or is it a case of looking for better methods in the future, rather than trying to get the best of the past?" suggested Mr. O'Connor.

The actual cost of the cloth of four or five different grades put into suitings was first considered in the clothing industry. There were five grades of material, the cost of a suit made from the first grade being $12.95, overhead and selling expenses bringing the complete cost to $18.24.

Grade two suit cost $2 per yard, there being the same amount of cloth—3 1/2 yards in a suit, making the cloth for the suit cost $7.75; shrinkage, cutting, lining and trimming brought it up to $13.82; overhead and selling costs made the complete cost $18.15, and the trade got this suit for $20.

Grade three suit was $2.25 per yard, the material costing $7.83; shrinkage, cutting, lining, trimming and making brought the cost to $13.18; overhead and selling expenses made the price $18.24. The manufacturers sold this for $25.

Grade four suit cost $3 per yard, costs of making bringing it up to $24.34, which overhead and selling costs further increased to $30.50. This suit was sold to the trade for $30, the reason for this being, according to Col. Morrison, that it was not so attractive a suit and a poor seller.

Grade five suit cost $4.75 per yard, the overhead and selling expenses to $31.74. This suit sold for $40 to the trade, and the manufacturer's profit was $8.26.

WARNING TO MANUFACTURERS The rapid decrease in production of bituminous coal in the United States has caused the Central Fuel Committee to embargo all shipments of bituminous coal for Canada. In view of the dangers with which our public utilities, hospitals and other essentials are confronted, I have taken over all bituminous coal in storage or in transit in Ontario. Manufacturers and other users of bituminous coal must recognize the absolute need of taking every precaution against waste; failure so to do will result in endangerment of the manufacturing industry of Ontario. No dealer in coal or any person or persons having or controlling coal in storage or in transit, is permitted to deliver any bituminous coal to any user thereof without having first secured the permission of the Fuel Administrator. All applications for coal must be made to the Fuel Administrator for Ontario and must set forth: A—Nature of industry. B—Stock of coal on hand. C—Daily consumption. D—Railroad on which industry is located. Consignees who have been notified by shippers that cars left the mines for the consignee, must not regard this coal as being in stock; the fact is the coal will not be permitted to cross the International boundary. MOUNT PLEASANT RATEPAYERS MEET

Dr. John Noble and Fred Hambly Detail Needed School Reforms.

The Mount Pleasant Ratepayers' Association held their regular meeting in Hodgson School last night and listened to addresses from Dr. John Noble and Chairman Fred Hambly of the board of education.

"The Ideal City Public School" was the subject of Dr. John Noble's address. Dr. Noble told of his early troubles when he was prevented by family contacts and the like from carrying out his ideas.

"Our educational system is all wrong," said Dr. Noble, who said that the three "R's" were not sufficient, and the system of child education in this city was radically inappropriate. He was glad to see that dancing had been introduced in the city schools. "I don't care for those stiff-legged, hard-headed old Methodists, who never wanted to see us dance." Auditoriums for assemblies and the abolition of examinations were more ideas that the speaker wanted to see introduced in the city.

Board's Money Troubles.
Chairman Fred Hambly of the board of education told of the money troubles of the board, and said that although a million and a quarter was asked for school estimates last year, the estimates would probably be two and a half millions next year.

"We are not an extravagant body of men and women, despite reports to the contrary, and if the citizens want their children to go to school in places other than barns and garrets we will have to get the money," said Mr. Hambly. Mr. Hambly paid a warm tribute to Dr. Noble, whose work on the board of education was to be commended. "He was one of the first to agitate for keeping the children out of the school basement," said the speaker.

The speaker emphasized the value of injecting the school into the community, and of the necessity of picking this new blood well. He advised bringing the board of control candid dates and those for the majority to the ratepayers' meetings and naming them down to a promise. "And if it's Church or not bring it in here, but you'll have a time naming down this fellow Church."

CITY HALL NOTES

The trustees of the General Hospital will call upon the board of control this morning to ask for a fairly large sum of money towards upkeep and maintenance. The exact sum they seek could not be ascertained yesterday or any details as to their proposals. The hospital authorities own the freehold and the building of the old General on East Gerrard street, and it is suggested they may be anxious to sell that property and use the sum realized to reduce their capital account of some $180,000.

The board of education will hold a conference with the board of control today in regard to the city retaining the services of Mr. Pearce as city architect. It is hoped to fix up a scheme whereby the educational authorities will agree to the city building all their schools and keeping them in repair. If this is agreed to Mr. Pearce will retain his present position and the question of the city undertaking this additional work will be put to the ratepayers by question on January 1st.

A deputation of returned soldiers will be received by the board of control this morning on the subject of lack of employment in the city. Mr. Harris, the commander of the streets, has since armistice secured employment for between two and three thousand men, but his efforts do not seem to reduce the "wanting work" list to any great extent.

Some dozen of the returned men called upon the mayor yesterday morning asking for work, one of them declaring that he had been on the streets at last week looking for employment, but was able to obtain only pick and shovel work, and he was not suited to that class of labor. The department told the mayor that civilians obtained positions ahead of returned men and that pull had a lot to do with it.

The mayor told the men that the government labor bureau was not a success as an employment agency. "We must have a real live city registration agency," said the mayor, and then he advised the deputation to come back and see the board of control this morning.

The mayor explained yesterday that the adoption of the council's resolution at the council meeting last Monday considerably altered the position of the matter. If the resolution drafted by the committee had been adopted and the people had voted for it in January, there was legal authority for once putting it into practice. If the public opinion in Alderman Ramsden's ideas it will be necessary to get parliamentary sanction for it, and that by the city. This authority could not be obtained before May or June next, and by that time the assessment for 1921 would have been made. As the council looked as if the new form of taxation could not come into force before 1922.

When Alderman Honeyford was discussing the income tax and the percentage taxation on Monday he freely quoted Adam Smith and John Stuart Mill in support of his arguments. It was pointed out that the mayor was comparing the opinions of two logicians of a long past age against the practical knowledge and personal experience of two very young city commissioners. Adam Smith was born in 1723 and John Stuart Mill in 1800. Messrs. Bradshaw and Forman, are alive and still at work.

The civic employee subscribed for $450,000 worth of Victory bonds. There were 4,300 subscribers, averaging $100 bond each.

The juvenile court judge, Judge Boyd, has not yet received his much overdue salary, although it was ordered by the board of control to be paid immediately. It now appears that the board had no authority to issue this order in face of the council's previous decision that no salary be paid to the judge until he had been interviewed by the city.

E. L. Cousins, the chief engineer to the harbor board, is attending the great lakes convention now being held at Windsor. The mayor has wired him to invite the members to hold their convention in Eastern Ontario. The city yesterday shut off the supply of water to the island, but despite this inconvenience, about 30 houses are to be kept open at night, and some 200 people will inhabit them. They will obtain their water from the tunnel shaft or from the lake.

The grand jury presentment as announced by Sir William Mulock in the council yesterday states that Toronto jail is in a very unsatisfactory condition. The jail farm, however, is making excellent progress towards providing an institution on a self-supporting basis. A good word is given to the Mayor and the Mimico Asylum is stated to be well conducted.

Alderman Nesbitt has given notice of a motion to provide a suitable instructor for boys of 16 and over who are committed to the Industrial Farm. The majority of the lads so committed have very little schooling and it was felt that a good start could be given them during their detention.

The following building permits were issued yesterday: The Globe Printing Co. was granted a permit today to build an addition to their printing plant at Yonge and Melinda streets to cost $35,000. Other permits issued today include one to H. Burnside to build a one-story brick and steel garage to cost $15,000; George Davies, three stores, St. Clair avenue and southeast corner Elmwood avenue, $18,000; T. B. Marshall, pair brick dwellings, each side of Goldview avenue, near Gerrard street, $4,500; Eden Smith and Sons in trust, dwelling and private garage, north side Lyndhurst avenue, near Melgund road, $16,000.

A special informal meeting of the city council will be held this afternoon. A deputation of the wholesale and retail butchers will be received and will be asked to give their views on the proposed sale of the city abattoir.

Oppose Compulsory Vaccination
Vaccination is not a sure preventive of smallpox. Vaccination is, in fact, more dangerous than smallpox. When you allow your children to be vaccinated you are taking a terrible risk. You may cripple your children for life, inflict upon them some loathsome and incurable disease or even accomplish their death in a short time. And in spite of all these risks your child will not be proof against contracting smallpox.

Come to Massey Hall

Wed., Nov. 19--- 8 p.m. Chairman: His Worship Mayor Church

His Worship the Mayor has called a public meeting of protest against compulsory vaccination. We believe that 80% of the adult population of Toronto are opposed to compulsory vaccination. Let those who believe in vaccination be vaccinated. But who should any public official have the power to force it upon those who doubt its efficiency as a preventive and are positively convinced of its danger?

ELECTRIC INTERESTS FOR THE CLEAN-UP

the two sides were not more than five million dollars apart in what one would give and what the other would take, and that they hoped for a successful conclusion in a short time.

Negotiators Unknown

The representatives of the Hydro Commission in the negotiations are not known for certain, outside of the fact that everything is more or less under the review of Sir Adam Beck. The world believes that Sir William Mackenzie is not a very active participant in the deal, that some months ago he turned it all over to others. The best of understanding is Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Adam Beck. They both are disposed "to say it in flowers." Sir Adam will be here next week. He may never be present on "the clean-up" although at present out of town.

The world, however, is not sure that the negotiations are for the acquisition of the Toronto Railway; in fact, one authority stated yesterday that in all probability the Toronto Railway would be made a matter of special negotiation under the terms of the franchise, involving arbitration; but that if both parties were agreeable, instead of arbitration taking place in 1921 it could come on almost immediately and be brought to a speedy conclusion, and in that way provide for the clean-up in every direction within three months or less.

Chippawa Helped.

What hastens the action of the private companies is the early prospect of fifteen-dollar power from the Hydro development at Chippawa, above the Falls. It is also known that the Seymour power plant, which is to be owned by the people, can be easily developed to a lot more of energy.

Alongside of this, all the reports about early estimates of the cost of the clean-up in every direction within three months or less.

To Help Yonge Street. One feature of the clean-up plan is that it provides for the Hydro acquiring the Metropolitan Railway and the freeing of Yonge street from its shackles. Passenger traffic would come down Yonge street, but freight would be diverted down the Don valley. The other subsidiary companies of the Toronto Railway which would be acquired are the Toronto & Scarborough, the Toronto Electric Light Company, the Toronto & Niagara Power Company, the Toronto Power Company, the Toronto & Scarborough Electric Light & Power Co., and the Schomberg & Aurora Railway.

The Dominion Power Company controls the Hamilton Cataract Power, Light & Traction Co., the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway, the Brantford & Hamilton Electric Railway, the Hamilton Terminal Company, the Hamilton Electric Light & Power Co., the Hamilton Street Railway, the Hamilton & Dundas Street Railway, the Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville Electric Railway, the Owen Sound Electric Railway, the Lincoln Electric Light & Power Co., at St. Catharines; the Welland Electric Company and the Western Counties Electric Company at Brantford.

HANNA POLICY WAS HALTED

for his services. He, and not his patient, decides when to physic and not to physic. The patient opens his mouth and shuts his eyes and takes what the doctor gives him.

Doctors Disagree, of course—as angels do.

But doctors don't fight with one another. They are highly-trained, high-principled body of men. They render incalculable service to mankind. But they are as humane as the rest of us. They have developed the trade union idea as powerfully as the lawyers have. No bricklayer sticks more tenaciously to his local than many doctors do to the inspirations of the Ontario Medical Council.

When Mr. Nixon really faces his problem of applying the science of mental diseases—he will feel the impact of a weight of medical advice which, unless he is forewarned and forearmed, will make him feel much like McPherson, who was a failure as provincial secretary, and too little like Mr. Hanna, who was a remarkable success—until a few blunders to make the success more conspicuous.

And here is where Joe Downey, once M.L.A. and now superintendent of the Orillia Institution for the Mentally Defective, comes in, as a sort of illuminant of the diverse tendencies in psychiatry, which were held at Mr. McPherson, and which young Mr. Nixon will have to master if he is to succeed as well as he desires.

Joe Downey and Hugh Clark.

Joe Downey is pointed to by various doctors as the proof that Mr. Hanna's ideas were basically wrong. By those who know more than some of the doctors, Joe is mentioned as an indication that the Mr. Hanna's ideas were sound, his judgment was at fault in a particular case, because he allowed himself to be moved by party political influences, which were held at any time, and are doubly bad when they affect the care of the mental derivate.

Joe Downey is a very able and very popular man—a gay, impulsive, clever Irishman, who can make more of the details of a story than most men can of its substance. He and Hugh Clark, who has fallen into the abyssal solemnities of an Ottawa under-secretaryship, were regarded as twin fun-makers in the legislature.

Nobody has ever suggested that Joe would have become superintendent at Orillia if he had not been a politician. He was not appointed there, because he was a politician, but because Mr. Hanna thought he would justify a new policy—the policy which permits to Parkinson, a man of great difficulty and his greater opportunity.

Policy Reversed Traditional Idea. The doctors don't like Joe Downey because they say he represents the Hanna policy. Mr. Hanna himself never denied that Joe did not fully appreciate his policy. That policy was the reversal of the traditional idea that a doctor is the best man to administer a lunatic asylum. To that traditional idea the doctors as a body have clung now and will continue to cling. They will try to get Mr. Nixon to accept it, and Mr. Nixon will have to be a strong man if they fail in having their own way with him.

To most people it seems the most natural thing in the world that a doctor, and only a doctor, is the right man to have control of a lunatic asylum—to use the discredited designation. But why?

Before you puzzle this thing out, ponder, for a couple of minutes, a change that was brought about during Mr. Hanna's regime. When he became provincial secretary, every Ontario asylum for the insane had its padded rooms and other paraphernalia for "dealing with" the violent demerit. Mr. Hanna abolished every padded room.

From Asylum to Home.

It would be interesting to know just what the doctors' attitude was to this revolution in treatment. It came about as part of a vital change in the view that was taken of the lunatic, as a scientific view of the whole problem of insanity as a social burden. That

That policy was the reversal of the traditional idea that a doctor is the best man to administer a lunatic asylum. To that traditional idea the doctors as a body have clung now and will continue to cling. They will try to get Mr. Nixon to accept it, and Mr. Nixon will have to be a strong man if they fail in having their own way with him.

To most people it seems the most natural thing in the world that a doctor, and only a doctor, is the right man to have control of a lunatic asylum—to use the discredited designation. But why?

Before you puzzle this thing out, ponder, for a couple of minutes, a change that was brought about during Mr. Hanna's regime. When he became provincial secretary, every Ontario asylum for the insane had its padded rooms and other paraphernalia for "dealing with" the violent demerit. Mr. Hanna abolished every padded room.

From Asylum to Home.

It would be interesting to know just what the doctors' attitude was to this revolution in treatment. It came about as part of a vital change in the view that was taken of the lunatic, as a scientific view of the whole problem of insanity as a social burden. That

ONE EVERY MINUTE

By Billy Scott

WAR ON EATS

"A messenger for a stiff what makes me scout out for any little thing from my desk to a set of mission furniture. He runs a tea factory and today he sends me with a bunch of fresh ironed currency for a lot of paper bags. 'Bare is up,' I says be ezin' tack very awoz, with only half the usual haul. 'At this time the line pipes the old flint-heart, takin' down all his slugs and addin' a dime to the different grades of kickbacks beverage. A couple of minutes later a pore gog toddlers in for a pound o' mixed. 'Have to soak you a dollar a pound,' I says, 'the boss, weighin' a bag o' dough and shupin' down the scales with his little digit. And the pore connosser lams out beatin' his chest and repeating a poem what sounded like porohouse, 'bers and damn.

$50 a month to You

$5000 to your family

Desperate financial straits need not overwhelm you while you have a Canada Life policy because—

The policy provides a fund for emergencies. It also means independence in old age.

Accident or disease which may totally and permanently disable you need not mean that your income ceases because—

The Canada Life will pay you a monthly indemnity while you live.

Why not figure this out now, while you are in good health?

Special Indemnity Policy

This policy, issued by the Canada Life will pay you

$50.00 a Month

or more during your lifetime, if before you reach age 60 you should become totally and permanently disabled, and will also pay or more to your family at your death, without any deduction whatever on account of the monthly payments made to you.

Consider This:

Total disability would be worse for your family and your business financially than loss of life because, while your income would be reduced or stopped altogether, your expenses would go on just the same.

That is when a Special Indemnity Policy comes to your assistance.

If totally disabled you cannot earn premiums, so the premiums will be waived.

The policy will give you financial aid through a Monthly Indemnity which will continue as long as you live.

The policy will continue in force, paying the monthly cheque, earning dividends, increasing in cash value, and providing insurance of $5,000 for protection of your home.

The Premium

Just a moderate premium—equivalent to a small rate of interest—will secure this policy with all that it guarantees. Ask for particulars.

change can be easily understood by the ordinary citizen, because it is so simple that anybody can appreciate them, and so profound that little knowledge which is so dangerous a thing, were slow to grasp. When Mr. Hanna left the department his policy was ready for a next progressive step. Mr. McPherson halted because he hadn't the courage to enforce ideals which belong to a period of fundamental change.

The change is from the idea of an asylum to the idea of a home, with the intermediate stage of the idea of a hospital. A few words on each of these stages and we shall be prepared to consider, tomorrow, the choices that circumstances will compel young Mr. Nixon to make.

The "asylum" with its quota of padded cells, was a place of refuge from violence. In older days the lunatic was regarded with hostility. When he was incarcerated he became a curiosity. The inmates of Bedlam, the old "asylum" in London, were chained on Saturdays to the walls, because which was the straw on which they slept; supplied with bread and water by the keepers and left till Monday, the public being admitted to view them at a penny apiece.

Fascinating as a romance, the old "asylum" in London, were hospitals for the insane, and as hospitals are they not the fitting spheres for absolutely medical control? But it is now being realized that hospitals are places where the sick are cured; and that most inmates of Mimico, Queen Street, Whitby and Brockville will never be cured. On Bloor Street many incurable children are cared for, in the institution called "The Hospital for Incurables." It is "The Home for Incurable Children."

So what was called an "asylum"—a place in which protection from violence was its principal function—is becoming regarded as a "home" for incurable demented, in the care of whom not even a padded room is either necessary or desirable. It is a blessed advance, and it reflects a growth in our conception of "political" management of the most pathetic of public concerns which is as fascinating as a romance, even
