CONSECRATION OF BISHOP DUMOULIN

St. James' Cathedral is Crowded for Impressive Service—Eloquent Sermon by Bishop DuMoulin.

"Be to the flock of Christ a shepherd, not a wolf; feed them, devour them not. Hold up the weak, heal the sick, bind up the broken, bring again the outcasts, seek the lost. Be so merciful, that you be not remiss; so minister, that you forget not mercy, that when the chief shepherd shall appear you may receive the never-fading crown of glory; thru Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

This was the admonition which Bishop DuMoulin delivered yesterday afternoon at the consecration of St. James' Cathedral, presided over by the senior and other bishops of the Church of England in Canada, consecrating him in the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of the Diocese of Toronto.

The consecration service was of great impressiveness and of considerable length. It was five minutes past eleven when the choir entered singing the processional hymn. It was a quarter to two when the congregation began to disperse after the last strains of the recessional hymn died away. There are really three services, beginning with the communion office and ending with the consecration of the altar.

The consecration of the altar is the most important part of the service. It is performed by the bishop, assisted by the senior and other bishops. The bishop kneels and reads the prayer of consecration, which is a beautiful and ancient prayer. The altar is then covered with a white cloth and the bread and wine are placed upon it. The bishop then reads the prayer of consecration, which is a beautiful and ancient prayer.

CHINESE FREE AT VARSITY?

Proposition to Look After a Dozen Shanghai Converts Which Almost Went Thru.

This is a Yellow Peril story. It is also the story of how twelve converted Chinese from Shanghai tried to get four years' free tuition at Toronto University, and succeeded almost.

A few weeks ago, weeks count for little in this story, President Falconer received a letter from a Presbyterian missionary in charge of the field in and about Shanghai. The letter, besides emphasizing the good work being done among the benighted Chinese, recounted the fact that twelve bright, ambitious young Chinese had been converted. Then came the generous missionary's brilliant idea.

He suggested that among other methods of rewarding the twelve to have them given free tuition for four years at Toronto University. Doubtless this suggestion was backed up by pointing to the great advertisement Toronto University would get among other ambitious Chinese when the twelve returned to Shanghai with their degrees. As to this writer, he knows not.

At all events, the splendid and original suggestion of the Shanghai missionary was given to the board of trustees of the university. He approved of the free tuition scheme to the twelve Chinese. The matter was passed along in the ordinary course of university business to the educational committee. There it met its first feeble check.

There are six members of that committee. How many do you think held up their hands for the yellow twelve? Five of them, yes, I—y-e-e! But there was one doubting Thomas, no less a personage than G. R. Cockburn. He objected strenuously in the best manner of after-dinner eloquence that struck at the root of the matter. "I don't know," he said, "but by reason of their being British subjects were more entitled than the twelve converted Chinese."

However, the educational committee decided to tender the free tuition, amounting to at least $500 a piece, to the twelve.

But the story got to the ears of the big man in the university board of governors, and he was indignant. Now that theological options and similar distressing topics are to the fore at the university, this unexplained yellow invasion has caused no end of talk. It is said that Brother Falconer, the missionary, is a native of the island of Hawaii, and that he has been on the side of the theological options. But that's another story.

SOCIETY QUEEN ENDS HER LIFE WITH GAS

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 25.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face, as she believed, with years of suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation in her home near the fashionable Dupont circle in this city to-day.

Her tragic death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as nothing else in years. To-night members of the Lorillard family, famous because of its wealth, are gathered to mourn over the unexpected blow.

In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, members of the family declare that Mrs. Lorillard died of heart failure.

The death was more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts-street, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home at 239 Myrtle-street shortly after midnight this morning, she began to prepare for her death.

Unable to Restore Life.
The alarm given by Mrs. Lorillard brought Mr. Lorillard from his apartment at the hotel, together with the coroner's body, to Mrs. Lorillard's room. There, several attempts were made to revive her life by means of artificial respiration.

Two physicians soon resorted to every scientific method within their power, but after an hour's effort gave up in despair.

Had Not Retired.
Mrs. Lorillard's bed had the appearance of not having been occupied during the night. Mrs. Lorillard had died the night before last, but when her body was found she was in a dressing gown. The collar of diamonds she wore at the dinner had been removed, but the costly circle of diamonds that adorned her hair had not been displaced. The note was found in Mrs. Lorillard's room.

Invitations Begged.
Since the Lorillards began spending the winter social season in Washington, they have entertained and been entertained largely at luncheons and dinners at the home of Mrs. Lorillard, which were recalled immediately.

Textile Workers May Strike.
MONTREAL, March 25.—Employees of the Dominion Textile Co. demanded a ten per cent. increase some time ago. To-day the company posted notices claiming that they could not pay an increase, as, while business was better in Canada than last year, the prices in England were so bad that to pay more for labor and consequently increase the price of their goods.

Those Deceptive Autos.
Charged with driving his auto too fast on Queen-street west last Sunday, Patterson, farmer, near Dutton, committed suicide this forenoon by taking carbolic acid. After taking it she went to the barn and told her father what she had done.

APPRECIATION OF G.T.R.

The New York Telegraph has devoted a page to the glories of Cobalt and another one to an ably written article descriptive of the immense strides which the G. T. R. is making in Canada. The article says:

For the two years prior to Mr. Hays' advent the total dividends paid to the shareholders aggregated $8,550,160; the dividends paid during the twelve years from Jan. 1, 1886, to Dec. 31, 1907, aggregated $21,182,058—244.7 per cent. greater since Mr. Hays took control of the management of the system than in the same period before.

This despite the enormous sums spent for improvements. Mr. Hays spent money to make money. And in this he is much like the late A. J. Cassatt, who made the Pennsylvania Railroad what it now is.

It has been good business policy to increase the loan and share capital of the Grand Trunk System 10.4 per cent. in a dozen years—good business because such policy has wiped out a million and a half deficit. And paid dividends, which, for 1908 and 1907, aggregated more than the total of the dividends for the whole dozen years prior to the Hays administration.

With this policy of management the credit of the Grand Trunk Railway System has become almost, if not quite, impregnable. When a transportation company can issue debentures against the securities owned by it and bearing but 4 per cent. interest, its credit is excellent, and when it is understood that those debentures are the equivalent of promissory notes—without any mortgage lien on the property—it is more evidently marvelous. For this is the kind of securities the Grand Trunk System has been using to finance its projects. The debentures are a lien on the earnings of the company. If the earnings do not meet the requirements of the owners of the debentures they are cumulative until they do.

Debentures of this character are being used from time to time to retire previous loans, which have been carrying from 5 to 7 per cent. interest—interest which aids materially in keeping the fixed charges down to the lowest possible figure.

Financially it will be seen that the Grand Trunk Railway System's "house in order" is a truism. Physically the road is the same and the Hays policy made it so.

By building and operating ferry lines across the rivers and great lakes dead ends have been done away with and the very branch lines which showed deficits in the past have become dividend earners. Tonnage has been drawn from Northern New York, Toronto, Milwaukee and other lake ports because of these ferries, justifying the confidence of the management in the expenditure of the money to establish these connecting links between fertile tonnage points and the main artery of the Grand Trunk System.

Not is the development completed. Every inch of territory tapped by the Grand Trunk Railway System has been drained for old business and the new industries propagated under the masterful policy of this transportation company are now coming into their own and counting on the tonnage and earnings of the system. Before another transportation era has been passed the new industries alone will have enough tonnage to warrant the payment of respectable dividends, and it is business which cannot be readily taken away from the Grand Trunk System by competition, on which they will soon have the long haul clear across the prairie of the Northwest and across the continent, upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Not the least important bearing upon the future of the Grand Trunk Railway System is the future of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway System, of which Mr. Hays is the president.

"I think also of the multitude of friends who have congratulated me. I feel that I shall stand on the solid foundation of your increasing prayer."

"My first official request to you, my dear brethren, is to use the prayer for you which I have placed before you in the bishop-elect, simply scoring out the word 'elect'."

"What shall I say to the givers of these generous gifts? They have deepened my faith, they have stirred me. Who touched, deeply stirred me. Who am I that God should so honor me, that my brethren should place before me, 'Behold I place before you an open door.' What a solemn word! A door of opportunity."

"On this day that we celebrate the Feast of the Annunciation we thankfully use those ancient words, 'My angel shall go before thee, and the angel of the Lord never forsake us until in the full pleasure of our Christ and Saviour He bring us home.'"

The recessional hymn was "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens Adore Him."

After the service all proceeded to the chapter house and promised due obedience to the bishop.

The following gifts have been made to the bishop: Episcopal robes, congregation of St. Philip's Church.

Convocation robes, family of the late archbishop.

Bible and prayer-book for personal use, congregation of St. Alban's Cathedral, presented by Canon MacNab.

Ring from the clergy.

Besides several gifts to the bishop and family from the congregation of St. Philip's Church.

The pectoral cross presented to the bishop by members of the cathedral congregation and a few others is of gold, set with five exceptionally fine aquamarines, the gift of Mrs. S. G. Wood, taken from a set which has been in the possession of her family for several generations.

In the bishop's chair, or "throne," as it is usually termed, there has lately been inserted a Roman tile or brick, about 16 inches in length and 10 in breadth, and two inches thick, which was sent out some years ago as a gift to St. Alban's Cathedral by the mayor of London in England, and the pastor of the parish in which were found the remains of a Roman building in England from which it was taken. This building was certainly in existence in the earlier part of the fifth century and probably much earlier, and therefore brings the cathedral closely into touch with the history of the world, whose name it bears, and who was put to death at St. Alban's then called by its Roman name of Verulamium, in the fourth century.

Notice that Canon MacNab was some thirty years ago the first Canadian clergyman to preach in this ancient cathedral of St. Alban's in Hertfordshire, England.

SHORE BERTH FOR BERESFORD. Marquis de Fontenoy in New York Tribune: Reports of official origin are being industriously propagated by friends of the present cabinet, to the effect that Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, since the termination of his command of the great Channel fleet, will be appointed to one of the most important berths in the service on shore. Possibly this is merely intended to arrest the popular agitation which has been caused by the general impression that Lord Charles Beresford has been subjected to grossly unfair treatment by the admiralty, and that the officer who stands highest in public regard as the foremost commander of the British navy is being sacrificed to the jealousy and animosity of cliques at Whitehall. This agitation has grown to such an extent as to become a source of much concern to the cabinet. It is possible, however, that the latter may be really in earnest about giving Lord Charles a shore command. For it would not only have the effect of putting an end to the movement in his behalf, but it would prevent him from entering parliament and from becoming one of the bitterest critics and foes of the administration.

As long as he continues in active service, either ashore or afloat, he is forced by the laws of discipline to remain silent and to refrain from assailing the admiralty; and it is not surprising on several occasions he has been given command, even by first lords of the admiralty who were opposed to him, merely in order to reduce him to silence.

There are only three shore commands open to an officer of rank, namely, those of the North, Plymouth and Portsmouth. Of these, that of Portsmouth is the most lucrative and important, carrying with it an official residence, possession of a royal yacht, a salary and allowances amounting to $2,000 a year. Portsmouth, moreover, is England's greatest naval arsenal and stronghold, and besides this, enjoys the advantage of being but a little over an hour's run from London. Unfortunately, however, for Lord Charles, the Portsmouth command is filled by Admiral Sir Arthur Fanshawe, who is his junior in point of age, and who was appointed a few months ago, and to the same thing applies to Plymouth, to which Admiral Sir William Fawkes was assigned only last year.

As for the North, a successor to Sir Gerard Noel has only just been appointed. Portsmouth is probably only shore berth which Lord Charles would be willing to accept as in recognition of his rank, and his seniority intended to place him there, the admiralty will be forced to perpetrate another piece of unfairness, by removing Sir Arthur Fanshawe from the blue ribbon of the service long before the competition is over, and in fact, just after getting settled there.

Canadian M.C.A. Association

A large audience attended the 23rd annual meeting of the Canadian M.C.A. Association, held in St. James' square Presbyterian Church yesterday morning and afternoon.

The morning meeting was opened by an address of welcome from the president, Mrs. Stark, which was followed by the treasurer's (Miss Caven's) report, showing the receipts to be $2588.77 and expenditures $2586.82, leaving a credit balance of $2.95.

Mrs. H. G. Eaton, secretary, then read the minutes of last meeting and Mrs. J. H. McMeekin of London gave an address on "Some Essentials of Missionary Work," in which she declared that many efficient leaders, members and willing helpers, have been secured by the circulation of evangelistic literature, which not only awaked the ranks of the workers but also kept up their enthusiasm.

At the afternoon meeting an address was given by Mme. Bieler of Paris, France, who paid great tribute to the work accomplished by the M.C.A. missionaries in France. Mme. Bieler then traced the history of religion in that country to the present time, and said that she had found the church a dogmatic and political oppressor of the public. In closing she declared that the condition of the church to-day is almost as bad as that of the inhabitants of heathen countries.

Mrs. Robert McCall then concluded the meeting by telling many pathetic scenes witnessed in various M.C.A. halls.

During the morning session the following board and officers were appointed: Mrs. Edward Blake, Mrs. Howitt, Mrs. Cowan, Miss Cart, Miss Copp, Mrs. W. Hamilton, Mrs. C. T. Stark, Miss Caven, Mrs. Laird, Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. C. Dalton, Mrs. Beaty, Mrs. McQuig, Mrs. Elias Rogers, Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Ralph Gibson, Mrs. Kate Burrill, Mrs. Rossar, Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. H. L. Stark, Mrs. George Caldwell, Mrs. W. B. Short, Mrs. G. M. Wrong, Mrs. Jas. Barber and Mrs. H. E. Eaton.

At the close of this meeting the board retired and elected the following officers: Honorary president, Mrs. Edw. Blake; president, Mrs. C. T. Stark; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Cowan; 2nd vice-president, Miss Cart; 3rd vice-president, Miss Copp; 4th vice-president, Mrs. Laird; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Hamilton; recording secretary, Mrs. H. E. Eaton; treasurer, Mrs. Caven; leaflet secretary, Mrs. W. H. Howitt; and E. R. Eaton, recording secretary.

The decoration of the Royal Red Cross, which King Edward recently conferred upon Queen Elena of Italy for her conduct at Messina, is one of many orders of merit that may be won and worn by women. The oldest of these is the Order of the Ax, established in the twelfth century by the last Duke of Barcelona, Ramon Berenguer. Its establishment was inspired by the devoted courage of the Spanish women in repelling the Saracens in a life and death struggle.

ARE YOU STAGE STRUCK?

An Opportunity for Toronto Girls to Learn the Truth About the Life That Fascinates and Charms. Now all you girls who really think you want to go on the stage, here's your chance to find out the truth about the life behind the footlights. Successful theatrical stars get so many letters from aspiring Theatians, asking them how they shall go to work to get a start on the stage that The World thought it would be fine if it could arrange to have little Janet Priest, one of the stars of the "School Days" company, receive and answer all such letters during her stay at the Grand all next week.

AS A WOMAN SAW IT

By Alice Landon. Well, they certainly do know how to arrange things in the Church of England. Everybody had a seat with sufficient room to sit in comfortably; then nearly every woman had sense enough to attend the service without a monstrosity called a "merry widow" hat on, so the view of all that was going on was practically unobstructed. Dear me! it is a pity that all women are not as considerate of others, in church at least. Last Sunday morning, it was impossible for me to get even a single glimpse of the service on account of those darned hats called hats, worn by those fashionable women. But you wanted to hear about the well, first of all, the new bishop is a very good looking and impressive-looking man, and inwardly wholesome. There is no indication of trouble about him that I could see. He looks as though he would do all in his power to heal any factions now existing in the church. He may not be as powerful, but he is mighty. When he took the oath of office his voice was clear, steady and distinctly heard all over the church, while the least tremor of his voice was always heard in his sermons that way. One does not mind listening to a sermon if one can only hear all that is said. There were quite a large number of clergymen present and they made a very impressive sight in their white cassocks and scarlet hooded robes. They were a very fine, intelligent-looking body of men, who are giving up their lives to the church work for Christ's highest and holiest cause. According to a decree from Rome Very Rev. Note and Comment

Joe Kelley is again with us and the fans have every confidence that he will give Toronto a winning ball team.

Should Toronto's present line-up prove inadequate when the pinch comes on Jennings of Detroit and Clark Griffiths of Cincinnati.

Why is the game going ahead with leaps and bounds in British Columbia? Because they have been boasting lately.

PLAY GROUNDS ARE BEST WEAPON AGAINST CRIME

In the opinion of Dr. Joseph Lightenberger of the New York Bureau of Social Research, who talked on the subject in the West Side Young Men's Christian Association at Newark, N.J.

He said the suppression of crime was the greatest problem confronting the municipal governments of the United States, but that it would be disposed of in short order if his suggestion was adopted.

"If we built a park with no provisions for play we must arrest the boy who breaks city statutes while indulging in the world-old passion for exercise and amusement," said Dr. Lightenberger, "take him before the courts, acquit him with criminals and teach him that the himself is a criminal, which the most harmful of all."

The playgrounds association is doing marvelous work in giving the boy a chance to play. Not only are exercise and amusement necessary for physical development, but for the proper training in morality.

The first group to be formed is a playground association, which will be a crowd of children with whom to play, and from them he learns important lessons.

The necessity for amusement is the direct result of our abnormal methods of earning a living and a means of exertion. You can see any vital connection between the two.

Now we get it from cans. When we are removed from the touch of nature, we begin to gain a living in this artificial way we are not to be defunct, have a change to something that brings rest and relaxation.

Intellectual amusement is necessary unless we have the right sort of amusement. The very best prevention for vice among boys is the gymnasium, but the best is the playground.

The nervous breakdown of men and women results often in insanity and becomes too late to cure. Youth becomes too weak to stand up to the life's procession are forced to drop out.

"If we are living for the fun we can get out of existence, amusement is of little consequence. When St. Paul said, 'bodily exercise profits little, the spoke of the professional athlete of his time, he was not wrong.'"

Exercise is to supplement mental and moral growth, they must be regarded as the most elements in modern progress.

PENSIONIST JUDGES SHOULD AVOID POLITICS

OTTAWA, March 25.—(Special.)—In the upper house to-day, Senator Power called attention to the "unsatisfactory condition of the law with respect to the retirement of judges."

Senator Choquette referred to the case of a retired judge on pension taking his full allowance and going on the hustings as the chief organizer of a political party.

He also commented on the case of a judge who had obtained his retirement and two-thirds allowance on the certificate of a doctor that he was physically incapable, and then contested and won a seat in the house of commons, drawing an indemnity of $2500 a year.

This was hardly fair, just and honorable.

Sir Richard Cartwright agreed that this was an abuse, requiring an amendment to the statute.

Senator Landry challenged the allegations of Senator Choquette. It would have been more fair, he said, for him to have formulated charges to which the retired judges had referred to could be easily possible for a man to be physically unfit to sit on the bench, but well enough to participate in politics.

CASTRO TO REVOLUTE

Paris, March 25.—Eduardo leaving for Bordeaux, at the railroad station Senor Castro confided to a small group of Venezuelan adherents and admitted his intention of re-establishing his power in Venezuela by a revolution should this be necessary, and Senor Castro declared that his trip to Europe had been misunderstood both at home and abroad.

He had come to see the continent not only because he needed rest, but also to serve his country by interesting foreign capital in Venezuelan industries.

Castro's parting words were: "I believe that God and destiny call me back to Venezuela. I intend to accomplish my mission there, even tho it involves revolution."

VON BUELOW IN TIGHT PLACE

Coalition Seems to Have Struck Snares Over Financial Reform.

BERLIN, March 25.—Prince von Buelow's coalition of the Conservative, Liberal and Radical parties, which was originally formed to carry out the reform of the financial system, is in a tight place.

The Reichstag Herr von Norman, the Conservative leader of the opposition, has informed the leader of the National Liberals, Herr Bassermann, that the Conservative party would not consider without consulting them they would get a majority.

This coalition government has been formed since the dissolution in 1907, the Conservatives served similar no-

This action caused a great sensation in the lobbies of the Reichstag, towards the close of the day's session, when it became known that this means the abandonment of Chancellor von Buelow by his own party to the Conservatives, who latterly have been fiercely attacking the chancellor because he only has held the office since the 11th of November.

It is also known that the court circle have been moving heaven and earth for some time to get rid of the emperor's wife, the empress.

GLADSTONE NOVIKOFF ALLIANCE IS REVEALED

NEW YORK, March 21.—W. T. Stead in his London cable to The American says: "The publication of the long-expected reminiscences of Mme. Olga Novikoff—the true story of Gladstone's romantic attachment for this wonderful Russian propagandist is at last fairly and squarely revealed."

Mme. Novikoff has long been one of the most remarkable feminine forces in Europe. Unlike other women who have become famous in history, her reputation has never been besmirched by a scandal, nor has she ever used her power save in the interests of international peace.

Thirty years ago "Tories of the baser sort used to leer, with their eyes lowered, when her name was mentioned."

Mme. Novikoff was not only a beautiful woman, but she was also a brilliant and accomplished linguist.

Others in more courteous fashion spoke of the fair Egeria who inspired the Liberal leader with an enthusiasm which impelled him to lead the attack upon the traditional policy of Great Britain in the east.

But just exactly how much Mme. Novikoff influenced Mr. Gladstone, and how close was their intimacy, has never before been clearly understood, even by those who were behind the scenes of English contemporary politics.

Now, at last, everything is in the light of day and all the world is invited to see for themselves the truth concerning one of the most interesting and most useful political alliances between a man and a woman in our time.

In the two large volumes, over 500 pages each, with a 50-page index and 60 portraits thrown in, there are more than a hundred letters of Mr. Gladstone, covering a period of 20 years.

Castro's parting words were: "I believe that God and destiny call me back to Venezuela. I intend to accomplish my mission there, even tho it involves revolution."

Passionate politics, no doubt, with an ideal platonic affection, had been the chief bond between Gladstone and Novikoff connection amounted to.

Mr. Gladstone was a man of gallant courtesy toward all women, and Mme. Novikoff appealed to all that was chivalrous in his nature alike as a churchman and a statesman.

She incarnated the two movements of the century—the movement of the woman and the movement of the man.

At the time when they first met, Mme. Novikoff was only 33. Three years later the romantic death of her brother in the Serbian war, and the death of her father, had left her a widow.

From that moment Mr. Gladstone made her cause his own, and fought the battles of the Slavs with the same ardor as he had shown in the case of the Armenians.

FAVOR ONE GENERAL PLAN FOR ELECTRIC RAILROADS

The approaching electrification problem, that is the problem involved in the change from the electrical to the railroad engineer, and the questions, "how much standardization is desired from present knowledge of electrification?" and "how much or how little can be done as small portions of lines are electrified to approach a first standardization?" occupied the attention of members of the New York Central Railroad Club, says The New York Commercial.

The occasion was the fifth annual electrical night of the organization, and it attracted an attendance of about 1000 engineers, including the president of the club, J. F. Deema, occupied the evening.

Before taking up the electrification subject, there was a discussion of the "abuse of the M. C. R. repair card," the importance of which has caused it to receive widespread attention. The card, which has been reported showing what repairs have been made on the M. C. R. engines, was planned by W. T. Goodnow, master mechanic of the Lake Shore at Englewood, Ill., and he followed the Engineering Chamberlain of the New York Central lines.

William McClellan of New York opened the discussion of the electrification topic and spoke upon "Systems and Standards in Steam Railroads."

He said in part: "The electric locomotive can supplant the steam locomotive in a desirable and economical manner, but we must have extensions in mind. We are electrifying whole railroads, and we must have a standard system of transportation which will be most reliable, most effective, and most economical. There are many examples of the difficulty and expense of standardizing after large amounts of money have been expended on the apparatus, he pointed out. Continuing, he said: "On the other hand, if we standardize too soon we run serious risk of adopting inferior methods and progress. Therefore, the proper attitude is to proceed conservatively with standardization, and to have some system of electrical engineering, acting jointly with the committee of the American Society of Electrical Engineers. Some features that can be standardized, and which should be standardized as soon as possible are: Location and type of third rail and overhead contact line. Consideration of side and top clearances, and location of end supports. The location of bus, and train line. Hose couplings have to be standardized, and the voltage of direct and alternating current on third rail and overhead contact line, high voltage for overhead, and low voltage for frequency of alternating current. It is certain that we must reduce to our present variety of systems for electrification to one general system, and the same time standardizing on the same basis, now exist in a useless variety. The whole matter will be counterproductive, and it is a question of simple or composite system is generally applicable to all work. Each of the systems has its particular advantage over the other systems, and unduly adopted for any particular case in which the advantages greatly outweigh the disadvantages. I think this is an economic question, which is more properly to be determined by the executive than by the engineer. The subject of committee work by railroad or electric utility, has been carefully worked out on the basis of the various systems. It is certain that the various co-ordinate branches of railway organizations, and the expenditure of vast sums of money, will be a waste of time and money. When necessary instances will be possible by a revolution in the practices or methods of men have been set up. This can in a large measure, be avoided by the adoption of a wise policy on the part of railroad officials in directing their committee work along such lines as will meet with the hearty co-operation of the combined talents in the transportation and electrical fields. "It is, in my opinion, not only possible, but desirable, that the various co-ordinate branches of railway organizations, outline a policy of approved practices and methods, which can be made uniform in application, and in this manner avoid much confusion and attendant expenditure of time and money."

BUILD BRIDGE AT ONCE SETTLE ISSUES LATER

This is Mayor's Program Regarding Eastern Entrance, But Mr. Rust is Dubious.

"It will not be our fault if we don't have the cars going thru the eastern entrance at the next exhibition. We will go ahead with the bridge and the railways can do what they like about it."

This was the statement of Mayor Oliver yesterday afternoon in complimentary discussion of the morning of the private bills committee of the legislature to allow the city to issue $135,000 debentures for the construction of the new Bathurst-street bridge.

"We will have to make arrangements with the railways, get permission to build the bridge and also get a deed of Garrison Commons," he said. "Unless we get these matters settled pretty soon, we cannot have the eastern entrance this year. We will probably reach an understanding with the railways next month."

Manager Fleming says that if no hitch occurs the car service will be established in time for the exhibition. An agreement with the city must, however, be first drawn up. Changed Street Names. The civic street-naming committee yesterday made several changes in its recommendations as to changes. Owing to a number of complaints about the selection of the names, the committee recently referred back the whole list of proposed alterations.

BUSINESS IN WEST TORONTO LOOKING UP

Smallpox Scare in North York—East Toronto and the Railway Clash—County News.

WEST TORONTO, March 25.—The death occurred in this city at a late hour last night of Mrs. Lewis Scruton after a short illness.

The death of Mrs. Scruton resulted from paralysis. Deceased was born in Uxbridge and was a daughter of the late Alexander Johnston.

Not a Right Spot. Some little comment has been excited here by the action of the city council in permitting the placing of a news stand at the southwest corner of Keele and Annette-streets.

A Modern Building. The brick building at the northeast corner of Keele and Dundas-streets, occupied as a hardware store by R. Bruce, will shortly be replaced by a fine modern structure.

It is freely reported around town that a big American abattoir company are looking for a site and will shortly locate here.

Gets $150 From City. In the non-jury court this morning Solomon Pellis, a wood worker of West Toronto, was awarded $150 against the town for a broken leg received on a Marietta street.

The funeral of the late John D. Thompson took place this afternoon at Prospect cemetery and was largely attended.

be continued. Reference was also made to the need for the retention of hotel accommodation in East Toronto in order to cater to the farming and general public.

Chairman Coatsworth asked the deputations to place in writing their views as to the number and name of the hotels they favored as being retained.

East-Enders Want Matter Settled One Way or Other. In East Toronto and among those who are compelled for any reason to travel over the Scarborough branch of the Toronto and York Railway there is genuine satisfaction over the action of W. H. Grant in forcing the issue relative to combination tickets used on that line.

The trouble chiefly lies in the fact that the company issue a limited ticket from the East Toronto end of 8 a.m. and 5 and 8.30 in the evening, good to all parts of the city. They are also good on Saturdays and Sundays.

It is urged by the company and was so stated by Mr. Nix before Magistrate Kingford that there are good reasons for a continuous trip. To the World last night Mr. Grant said: “There is something in the argument of the street railway company, but my contention is that the Toronto end of the tickets is good to any point in the city.”

HOPES TO SAVE MONEY TO AFFORD INCREASES

But Trustee's Plan May Be Illegal—Should H. S. Principals Mark Time?

Forty-four high school teachers were granted increases in their salaries of $100 each by the management committee of the board of education yesterday. But Chairman Rawlinson thinks the action was illegal and will get Solicitor Hodgins' opinion on it before he gets to the finance committee on Monday.

Mr. Grant was for many years solicitor for East Toronto and prior to its incorporation for Little York, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the situation.

COBALT--- Market Irregular, But With a Stronger Undertone ---COBALT

MINING MARKETS IRREGULAR BUT HAS GOOD UNDERTONE

Temiskaming Has a Natural Reaction After Swift Advance—Other Good Issues Are Steady to Firm.

World Office, Thursday Evening, March 25. With some irregularity the business on the mining exchanges was conducted with a satisfactory undertone to prices to-day. Temiskaming, which has shown extreme irregularity during the past few days, has had a natural reaction, and under profit taking these shares sold down a few points again to-day. In the general list there was much better buying than has been witnessed for several days, but this was not in sufficient volume to entirely offset the operations of professionals, and prices responded only slowly to the absorption. Those who take a broad view of the situation are of the opinion that the market has been pretty well cleaned up of real stock, and that any steady buying from now on must shortly have a strong effect upon prices. Many of to-day's offerings were tentative and made for the purpose of holding back prices in the event of shorts. At the close, the market had an improved appearance and with natural reactions a general advance in prices is anticipated from now forward in all the issues of merit.

WORK ON GAVIN-HAMILTON Shaft Down 57 Feet and Drifting Has Been Commenced.

ELK LAKE, March 25.—(From the Man Up There.)—The six drill compressor, one sixty-five horsepower boiler, and four air drills are now on the ground and ready for installation at the Gavin-Hamilton. The shaft on this property is now down to a depth of fifty-seven feet and drifting has been commenced. As has been mentioned in a previous article, the veins on the Gavin-Hamilton are well defined, and as soon as the plant is in operation and sufficient development work done good results are looked for. Already some silver has been taken out of the shaft, and from present indications it is only a matter of development to make the property a shipping mine.

OTISSE-CURRIE Big Mine-Drill Compressor Will Be Soon Working.

ELK LAKE, March 25.—(From the Man Up There.)—The big mine-drill compressor at the Otisse-Currie, together with its complement of machinery and other machinery, has now been installed. Mr. Barnum, the assistant superintendent at the mine, was in town to-day, and informed The World that the compressor was likely to be put in motion at any minute, and that as soon as the plant was in operation the work of development would make great headway. As is well known, the Otisse-Currie is one of the richest properties in the Silver Lake District, having already shipped some high grade ore. The Otisse and the Otisse-Currie properties are only awaiting the advent of the railway when they will be listed with the best shipping properties in northern Ontario.

Jack Hamill, who is a well known prospector in the north, writing to a friend in the city, stated that a fine calcite vein five inches wide had been encountered on the Alliance property, which immediately adjoins the Elk Lake Discovery mine. This new vein heads right into the last named property, and is regarded as important by the Elk Lake Discovery people.

CORNWALL MILL SOLD Purchased by American Interests, Who Will Enlarge the Plant. Mrs. Louis Kalla of Brown-street, a bride of two days, appeared as complainant before Recorder Houghton against 'Joe' Clemons of Perth Amboy, and Louis Kierly of South River, whom she suspects of cutting off her hair, states a despatch from New Brunswick, N. J.

REJECTED LOVER'S REVENGE. Young bride's beautiful hair clipped off while walking in the yard. Mrs. Kalla told the court that she was in the yard of her home after dark, when her hair was snipped off. She saw two men whom she did not recognize. One seized her hair while the other staggered her with a cloth. The woman fainted. When she was taken in the house and revived a note was found in the bosom of her dress. It read: 'Dear Rival—I wish you luck. We could have been a pair. I only wanted to shame her and cut off the hair of which she was so proud on that head of hers she carried so high. It would have been relief to kill her. She was so happy when she swore her troth. She said once she would not be my wife. Do not be angry with me. I have made it a little easier. I wish you much luck.'

THE McCHARLES PRIZE Applications For Award of $1000 Are Now Invited. In view of the great interest now being taken by Canadians in all developments in the natural resources of the Dominion, the bequest of the late Aeneas McCharles providing a fund of $10,000 for the purpose of recognizing the inventions or discoveries of special merit made by Canadians will be welcomed by all. The value of the annual prize is $1,000 in money, to be awarded: (1) To any Canadian from one end of the country to the other, and whether student or not, who invents or discovers any new and improved process for the treatment of Canadian ores or minerals of any kind, after such process has been proved to be of special merit on a practical scale; (2) Or for any important discovery, invention or device by any Canadian that will lessen the dangers and loss of life in connection with the use of electricity in supplying power and light; (3) Or for any marked public distinction achieved by any Canadian in scientific research in any useful practical line. The first award will be made this year by the board of governors. All communications in connection with this award should be addressed to the secretary of the McCharles Prize Committee of Award, University of Toronto, Toronto.

UNIVERSITY SERMONS. Rev. Prof. Jordan of Kingston will preach the Varsity sermon on Sunday morning instead of on April 4, as first arranged, owing to the special service since arranged in connection with the Hayden's missions congress on April 11. Dr. Wilfred Grenfell of Labrador will be the speaker. Exciting Early Morning Fire. Two employes of A. W. Miles, the College-street undertaker, had to climb from the window of their room at 2.40 yesterday morning due to smoke from a fire which had started in the stable loft. The damage was about $250. A street car, despite police signals, ran over and spoiled a line of hose.

Here's a Great Chance FROM Camp Gowganda

Because one of the most successful prospectors in the Silver Fields of North Ontario undertook to do more than his financial strength permitted, I am in a position to-day to offer for quick sale two Gowganda claims of 40 acres each, staked before the snow was on the ground, and containing many veins which indicate high mineral enrichment,

My Price is $5000 Cash Of all the properties held by the owner these claims appealed to him most. He started, with what capital he had, an aggressive program of development. He erected a first-class camp building and blacksmith shop, and did the full assessment work. He employed several men to help, and among the discoveries is an eight-inch vein of solid calcite. This discovery alone makes the property a splendid speculation. Other calcite veins were located and justify systematic development. Native silver has been found on one of the adjoining claims. The lines are established by survey, and record is complete, with all requirements of the mining act fully met. On one of the properties is a 24-inch vein of quartz, bismuth, calcite and bloom, a form of mineralization characteristic of the district. Lakes on the properties give fine domestic and steam-making water. There is plenty of good timber for all mining purposes right at hand. Mining properties of no greater value have been sold for $25,000 to $40,000 at Gowganda. These properties may be had now for $5000 cash. Owner's report and records available. Apply at once to Box 50, The World.

But pretty much on that same principle, nevertheless, we are going to show you a "cross-section" of this stock. There is too much in the department as a whole to show you at one time. We are going to run through the goods at $1.00 a yard, and prove to you that at any one point Simpson value stands alone.
