Chinese Rebels Captured a
Brigadier's Family—Large Bodies of Troops are Being Sent Out—Missionaries are Fleeing

CANTON, May 29.—The revolutionists in the neighborhood of Swatow recently captured the entire family of a Chinese Brigadier General and compelled them all to drown themselves in a well.

Thirteen hundred troops have been dispatched from Canton to Swatow and another detachment has gone there from Shingling.

The missionists, with the exception of the German Mission at Lea Chow, have thus far been unmolested, but the missionaries are abandoning their stations and seeking refuge here.

The local authorities take a serious view of the situation and are urging the authorities at Canton to despatch gunboats here.

Incumbent and outgoing Chinese passengers on the Chaochow railroad are searched.

MUST HONOR THE
U. S. NAVAL UNIFORM

Secretary Metcalf Reprimands the Management of a Dancing Pavilion at Jamestown

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Discrimination against the bluejacket uniform of the navy at the dancing pavilion of the Pine Beach Amusement Park, a resort adjacent to the Jamestown Exposition, has led Secretary Metcalf to vigorous action.

Complaint was made to the navy department by Lieutenant J. V. Babcock commanding the U. S. S. Truxton, on May 24. The substance of this report and the action taken by Secretary Metcalf in the matter is given by him in the following letter to Governor Swanson of Virginia, dated March 22:

"The commanding officer of the Truxton states that the dancing pavilion of Pine Beach Park refuses admittance to men in bluejackets uniforms; at the same time grants unqualified admittance to soldiers in uniform. On receipt of complaints from well-behaved and self-respecting men of the vessel a first class petty officer was instructed to apply for admittance and he refused to see the manager and ask reasons for such action. Such discrimination being carried out, S. E. Lane, gunner's mate of the first class was on the 18th instant refused admittance to the dancing pavilion, the manager stated that under no circumstances would men in bluejackets uniforms be admitted; that the men were not objected to but their uniform was; that if they wanted to go in and dance other clothes would be furnished them. Request was made to see the other clothes mentioned, and the petty officer was shown a dressing room where a stock of white clothes were kept, very much similar to the regulation mess attendant uniforms."

"As the navy is doing everything in its power to make the exposition a success your attention is invited to this instance of apparent discrimination against the service uniform, and it is believed that some action should be taken by you to prevent such a recurrence or otherwise. If such practices be permitted the result will, this department feels assured, prove highly prejudicial to the naval service by causing the uniform of the navy to be looked on with disfavour."

Very respectfully,
V. H. METCALF, Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lycett started housekeeping at their wedding and all the children were born in one house—No. 1417 Bayview avenue. When most time for the family would be divided into two divisions, according to age, so that there would be enough seats at the table.

Prosecution Not Ready to Begin This Morning.

Mr. Emmerson and Dr. Pugsley Arrive at Noon—Very Few Spectators Present Today

(Special to the Star.)
FREDERICTON, May 29.—Preliminary examination in the Crockett libel suit was begun this morning at 11 o'clock before Col. Marsh and formal adjournment made until this afternoon. Barry, appearing for the prosecution, said that they were not ready. McLeod, saying that he appeared with Hazen and Crockett for the defense, offered no objection to adjournment, although he had not been officially notified. As it was not generally known that the case was adjourned there were few spectators, and these mostly included a large percentage of newspaper men.

ARMENIANS MAY ORGANIZE TO FIND PRIEST'S MURDERERS

Police are Now Looking for the Woman in the Case—A Suspect Reported in Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29.—Sarkis Eremoyan, supposed leader of a band of Armenians who may be connected with the death of Rev. Father Kasper Variorian, is believed by the police to be in Chicago. A man corresponding to Eremoyan's description pawned a watch in a Van Buren street pawnshop yesterday. He gave the name of "Sarkis Eremoyan" and declared that at one time he operated a restaurant in Chicago with his brother. A few hours later he was reported to have left the city immediately. The pawnbroker explained that under the city law he could not to it until the next day and after pleading for a time the police of the occurrence who at once resumed their search for the man.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The police are looking for the young woman who is reported to have been several times in the company of the priest and who is thought to have been a sister of Paul Sarsarian, one of them, for whom the police are seeking. Search is being made in Providence, R. I., where it is thought the girl may reside.

The police are now positive that the murdered man was alive on Wednesday two hours before the trunk containing his body was taken to the 37th street house, Yahrman Sorposion, who keeps a restaurant in East 26th street, told the police that the priest was in his restaurant from 11 until 12 o'clock on Wednesday. He was alone at the time.

Bishop Sarajian, of West Hoboken, told the police today that he believed the priest had a large sum of money with him when he was killed. He said that Father Kasper a month ago went on Worcester, Mass., and there carried out a large sum for the church which he doubtless had with him when he was killed.

Failure of the police to arrest the murderers may result in the organization of groups of the better class of Armenians in different parts to prosecute the search for the murderers. A plan to form such an organization was proposed to the police today by Mastich Hologipian, grocer, whose brother was formerly a partner of Sarkis Eremoyan, one of the Armenians who is sought by the police in this case. Mr. Hologipian says that his countrymen would be able to secure information not within the reach of the police.

THOUSANDS VIEW BODY OF MRS. MCKINLEY

All Yesterday Afternoon a Stream of People Passed by the Casket in Her Home in Canton

CANTON, Ohio, May 29.—Banked on every side with fragrant flowers, Mrs. McKinley's casket was passed by thousands of persons this afternoon. Cantonians paid their tribute in the best way they could since by request it had been denied them the privilege of any funeral decorations in the city or any general municipal participation in the procession. It was estimated that 8,000 people passed through the McKinley home in the time allotted. It had been stated that admission to the house would be from 3 to 5 o'clock. At 1:30 today, however, women and children lined up in front of the house awaiting to pass by the casket. The doors were opened at 2:30 and from that time until 5:30, the people of whom had known Mr. and Mrs. McKinley from childhood, the middle aged, and a throng of school children paid silent but sorrowful tribute to the woman they loved. Mothers carrying babies in their arms waited two hours in line for their turn to pass through the house. The casket rests in the room and in the same place where the body of President McKinley was placed while in the family home.

Hanging on the wall in the room where the body is reposing are photographs of President McKinley, Senator Hanna and framed documents received by the president during his illustrious career.

The funeral service tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock, will be simple and brief. Dr. Buxton, present pastor of the First Methodist church and Dr. Holmes, former pastor, will have charge.

CANTON, Ohio, May 29.—During the night and this morning up to the hour later the casket of President McKinley was in the care of the county coroner to arrive here to attend the funeral of Mrs. McKinley.

A rumor, apparently originating in Cleveland, that Michael Colgoose, the brother of the assassin of President McKinley, was in Canton, was discredited by the local police. Yesterday Inspector Sutton of the federal secret service held a conference with Chief of Police Smith relative to preserving order in the crowds in President Roosevelt's vicinity and to guard the president from possible injury. While placing no credence in the Colgoose rumor the police are on the alert and will take no chances in safeguarding the president. Inspector Sutton today service held over the route from the McKinley home to the cemetery and pronounced himself satisfied with the arrangements.

In the Trial of the Men Who
tempting to Kill President
Cabrera

GUATEMALA CITY, May 29.—The correspondent of the Associated Press has interviewed the foreign diplomat in regard to the arrests made in connection with the attempt on the life of President Cabrera. The Spanish minister, Senor Garcia-Jove, said that two Spaniards are on trial on the charge of conspiracy against the President. The minister declined to make any further statements.

The Italian Minister, Signor Carlo Nager, stated that he was watching the cases of the Italian citizens alleged to be implicated and he felt confident they could make a good defense. The Italian colony was now assured that every opportunity would be given to their fellow citizens to prove their innocence when the appeal is taken from the findings of the Military Court.

Count Von Scherwin, the German Minister, said that only one German had been imprisoned and he had not been tried. The Minister has sent a physician to examine this man, who is said to be irresponsible for his action. A certificate to this effect has been filed with the authorities.

While the majority of the Diplomats refused to discuss the matter it was authoritatively stated that no joint action in connection with the case of the prisoners, would be taken.

Must Give up all Zion City Buildings This Month—His Cheque Not Honored.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29.—General Overseer Voliva, who succeeded in ousting the late John Alexander Dowie from control of Zion City, has been ordered by Receiver John C. Hatley to vacate all leases of buildings on May 31st.

This action comes as a climax to a bitter quarrel between Voliva and the president of Zion City Bank. Voliva presented his check at the bank for $1,800 and demanded payment at once. The bank official refused to comply with the request until he had advice from Receiver Hatley. The receiver ordered the cashier of the bank to withhold all moneys from Voliva and then notified Voliva that June 7, the lease held by him on the tabernacle, administration building and public schools would expire.

WEDS SWEETHEART
OF 50 YEARS AGO

Lovers, Separated in Buffalo, N. Y. Are United After Span of Half a Century.

OMAHA, Neb., May 29.—Judge Isaac S. Hascall, of Omaha, married today, in Buffalo, N. Y., the sweetheart whom he knew and loved more than fifty years ago. Judge Hascall is in his seventy-seventh years and his bride is sixty-eight. Her maiden name was Fortia Hawkins. She was married, but her husband is dead.

Back in the fifties Judge Hascall often called at the Hawkins home to discuss Shakespeare with the father of Miss Hawkins. There he saw and fell in love with her. But Isaac Hascall went away to the West. He carried the first law library to the Pacific coast and made a name for himself in the early days as a lawyer. He settled in Omaha in 1865 and has resided here since that time.

Judge Hascall made and lost several fortunes in real estate here. He took a large part for a time in politics and was considered a "boss" in city affairs for several years.

In later years, after a divorce from his wife, he has lived more the life of a recluse, occupying a large house standing on the bluff overlooking the Missouri River, east of Riverfront Park.

A few months ago came a letter from her who had been Miss Fortia Hawkins. It was answered immediately and the correspondence was kept up. Judge Hascall went east a week ago and the wedding has just been announced.

SCOWMEN'S STRIKE SOON SETTLED
The scowmen's strike is now settled, both parties agreeing to a compromise. The men, about eighty in number, who are employed as scowmen for the lumbering and shipping firms, went on strike last week for a raise of fifty cents a day, as told exclusively by the Sun. The old rate of pay was $2.50 a day, and the men asked for $3.00. The lumbermen refused to grant the increase.
The season's work had only commenced and so the strike did not interfere materially with the shipping, but the men will resume work as soon as they will be brisk and the amicable settlement will save considerable inconvenience. The men will receive $2.75 a day for their work.

The two year old daughter of Friedland DeVenne, whose home is at 27 Barker street, had a narrow escape from death yesterday. The interior of the house had been painted recently, and the bottle of paraffine was standing on a table and allowed the little girl the freedom of the bottle containing the paraffine and drank a considerable amount of the oil.
Mrs. DeVenne was warned by the child's cries and ran to her assistance. She at once perceived what the child had done and summoned a doctor. The little girl's serious constitution greatly aided in the work of recovery.

A team from the country in which two men were driving was struck by a street car on Scotty's Corner yesterday morning, and the wagon smashed to pieces. The horse had got safely across, when the car collision occurred, and they were dragged along by the car for some distance. Although badly bruised and their clothes torn, they were not severely injured. Their escape seemed almost miraculous.
When the key is turned in the four doors of J. N. All these sale goods are near this season.

A ROUND YOKED DRESSING SACK.

2262—Challis and the light washable silk are excellent for the warm weather negligee, because they wash well and are not burdensome in appearance or reality. Now that the embroidery fad is in full swing many women are devoting spare moments to the decoration of these same tea jackets and an excellent idea for such a one is portrayed. The simple round yoke negligee ates the fullness of the front and back in a most becoming manner. The collar may be of the flat order as shown or standing, while the neck may be cut out and finished without a collar. To styles of cuffs are also provided, for the deep cuff on the full-length and the turn-back one finishing the shorter sleeve. This sack is one which may be easily made out of any material. 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material are needed for the medium size, 2262—size, 32 to 44 inches bust measure.

DOG SAVES FAMILY

BY RINGING BELL

When Flames Appear in William Beattie's Home Faithful Collie Arouses the Household.

OXFORD, Pa., May 27.—A little trick taught a pet collie dog by the children saved the family of William Beattie, a prosperous farmer of this section, from death by fire. The dog saw the house in flames and, not being able to awaken the household by barking, seized the rope to the dinner bell, as he had been taught to do when summoning the hands from the fields, and the wild yapping of the dog aroused the entire neighborhood. The warning came just in time, for the members of the family barely escaped with their lives. Mr. Beattie had to fight the flames while rescuing his two children, who had been partly overcome by smoke. The fire started about midnight in the southwest corner of the house, and no theory is advanced as to its origin. The dogs began barking, but no attention was paid to them until the faithful collie rang the bell. By this time the flames had made such headway it was impossible to save any of the furniture, and Mr. Beattie was almost overcome by the dense smoke as he groped his way to the third floor to save his boys, who were stupified by the smoke. The Beattie home was an old landmark in this neighborhood, and was finished throughout with walnut and mahogany from trees grown on the estate.

POTATOES BRINGING GOOD

PRICES IN ALBERT CO.

HOPEWELL HILL, May 27.—Rev. Mr. Wagstaff of Alma occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church here yesterday morning, having exchanged with Rev. Mr. Hicks. In the afternoon in the Baptist Church, the congregation got some heavy knocks from the energetic pastor, Rev. H. D. Worden, who took occasion to denounce dancing, card playing, tobacco, etc., in language that could not very well be misunderstood. Mrs. Alex. Rogers is attending the evening exercises at Mount Allison. H. C. Read of Sackville visited the shiretown on Friday. Capt. Ronald Bennett of the S.S. Matawan, now loading at St. John, spent a few days at his old home at Hopewell Cape, recently. The old Baptist meeting house at the Cape was re-opened on Sunday last, Rev. Mr. Parker preaching an eloquent sermon to a large audience. Mrs. J. A. Tingle sang a solo at the service. R. P. Allen, news editor of the Fredericton Herald, spent Sunday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. (Capt.) J. A. Reid, at Hopewell Cape. The steamer Wilfred C. landed freight in the river last night from Moncton. It is something unusual for the residents of this farming section to be paying 41 a bushel, which is the price now being given for coppers, other varieties bringing as high as 30 cents. The merchants here have been importing island potatoes from Moncton, and have been told by the dealers there that they will not be able to guarantee any after next week, there being considerable danger of a potato famine.

THINK INDICATED ROUTE WOULD PARALLEL G. T. P.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 25.—The Atlantic and Western Railway application for the confirmation of a route map from Matapedia to Edmundston extending across Northern New Brunswick is made to Mr. Butler, deputy minister of railways, today. The engineer of the company and the solicitor objected to the indicated route because it turned to the south instead of going straight from Matapedia to Edmundston and would parallel the National Transcontinental for twenty-three miles, from near the mouth of the Grand River up the St. John to Edmundston.

The company will have to submit a new map indicating their relation to the other railroads, none of which parallel the map.

THE ST. JOHN STAR is published by THE SUN PRINTING COMPANY, (INC.) at St. John, New Brunswick, every afternoon (except Sunday) at $3.00 a year.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 29, 1917.

MILK AND A short time ago the Star obtained a number of samples of milk supplied by different dealers and sold in small shops in the city. These were examined, and there was every reason to believe that in several cases the milk had been skimmed, while in at least one instance it was evident that the farmer regarded the pump as his best cow. It was suggested to the merchant from whom this latter sample was obtained, that action might be taken against the milkman. The merchant promised to do what he could in the matter, and since then it has been found that the skimming and watering process in this particular case have been eliminated. As an explanation the Star has learned that the milkman telling him that customers were complaining about the milk being skimmed and watered, and the latter very readily agreed to furnish a better article. He had no desire to cause dissatisfaction. It is encouraging to find such a willingness to comply with a wish so informally expressed. The generosity displayed by this man in casting away all the traditions of his class, should move others to similar action. There will be deep gratitude felt towards this milkman who has thus consented to sell milk, which after all is what people really want when they ask for it.

THE WEATHER. The weather, always a popular subject for discussion, is receiving more than the ordinary attention this season, and while various explanations have been offered as to the abnormal conditions now existing it is difficult to discover any agreement in the different ideas put forth. There has perhaps never been an instance recorded in which, as was the case yesterday, frost warnings were issued for the middle and eastern States at such a late date. To quote from a Washington despatch: "Weather bureau officials say that there is no immediate prospect of any summer weather anywhere. The present cold wave, they add, has been running through most of the present month. Heavy frosts are reported to the bureau from Michigan and other states of the lake region. The cold southwest and is due, according to the weather experts, to the heavy rains in that part of the country. The indications in this section of the country are for a light fall of frost tonight. Forecaster Harry C. Frankford, of the weather bureau tonight said: The reason for the cold weather we have had during the past two or three months, is that the high areas of pressure have moved eastward from the northern portion of the country almost continually and these have caused cold north winds. That is the only reason I can give for the cold weather areas. As to what makes these high areas keep up all this season, is more than I can tell."

CROPS AND PRICES. While it is not always true that no loss is sustained by the partial failure of a crop, still figures for the past few years would indicate that where an international market exists for any product, the variation in the supply directly regulates the price. In such cases short crops are not to be feared. There are reasons to believe that the Canadian wheat crop this year will fall far below that of last autumn, but even now the indications are that through higher prices, the returns to the farmers will be satisfactory. In the United States during the past few years prices for wheat have more than counterbalanced any loss which might have been sustained by short crops. The yield and the value of wheat since 1903 has been as follows:

Year	Yield bush.	Value.
1901	1,148,469,000	$487,350,000
1902	1,070,922,000	$222,250,000
1903	1,037,822,000	$48,025,000
1904	1,052,400,000	$10,490,000
1905	1,072,979,000	$18,972,000

BASEBALL. Some idea of the extent to which baseball has become a feature of American life is conveyed by an article in the Century Magazine. Without regard to any of the local leagues of which there are thousands in existence, it is shown that this year the so-called major and minor leagues number thirty-three, that they furnish regular professional baseball to two hundred and fifty-six cities in Canada and the United States, and that a season's payroll for the players engaged amounts to four million dollars.

TOKYO, May 29.—Secrecy is maintained by the Japanese government regarding the subjects it will take to the Hague Peace Conference and it is impossible to make a forecast of its position. It is generally felt that the Conference will have little practical result and the Japanese press is not enthusiastic.

CLEVELAND, May 29.—A verdict of murder in the first degree was returned today by the jury in the case of John Saloy, charged with murdering his sweetheart, Verna Vago, 15 years old. Saloy will be sentenced to the electric chair. A plea of temporary insanity was made as a defense. This is the first time in seven years that a verdict carrying the death penalty has been brought by a jury in the courts of Cuyahoga county.

ROCHESTER DOCTOR WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED. He Had Evidently Committed Suicide—Was at One Time Insane. ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 29.—Dr. J. Gray, 65 years old, was found dead in bed last night at the hotel where he boarded. The coroner found no signs of violence, but it is not yet known what led him to suspect that the man committed suicide. Dr. Gray was committed to the Rochester State Hospital for the Insane in 1904, and after a time released. He afterwards practiced his profession at London, Ont. He was the author of a book "The Great Unseen" which was alleged to deal with his treatment at the hospital, in which he criticized the management. The coroner found among his possessions letters showing that he written to Gov. Hughes, and other officials complaining of the treatment he received at the hospital.

ASHORE AND AFOAT. NEW YORK, May 29.—The steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, which went aground on the west edge of the main channel in the lower bay last night, was floated at 1:30 o'clock without assistance, other than that given by her own engines. The steamer apparently sustained no damage.

JOCKEY SUSPENDED. NEW YORK, May 29.—The World says Jockey Jack Martin was suspended by the stewards at Belmont Park yesterday for the balance of the meeting because he persisted in disobeying Cassidy's orders while at the post in the second race. He had the mount on Gokoon at the time. This suspension will cost Martin many dollars as he had been engaged to ride some notable horses at Belmont Park, the chief of which was one of James R. Keene's great colts in the Belmont Stakes next Thursday.

AMERICAN EXAMPLE MAY BE FOLLOWED. Plan of Rapid Mobilization Has Been Evolved. Militia Can be Put into Field as Quickly as Regulars—Canadian Study Scheme.

OTTAWA, May 28.—In militia circles keen interest is taken in recent regulations of the United States militia, which would have a decided tendency to expedite the early movement of troops to the scene of hostilities in the event of war. Although the prospect of an inefficient militia, should either be unable to take the field as quickly as an opposing force would be just as unfortunate as to have the army armed with an inefficient rifle. It is therefore, it is argued, just as important that our organization should be such as to permit the mobilization of troops as quickly as other forces are mobilized—a question that has been engaging the attention of Parliament since the accidents with the Ross rifle revealed its weak points. Under the new American regulations the militia will be organized on the same lines as the regular army, and in the event of mobilization immediately under Federal control, even although they preserve their identity as State troops. It has taken the War Department some years to bring this plan into existence, as the militia is controlled by the various State legislatures. The important point in connection with the new arrangement is that each state has agreed to keep a hand a sufficient supply of ammunition, stores and supplies to immediately equip for the field, the "peace" strength of their various State regiments. The effect of this will be that on an order to mobilize the militia will be able to take the field without delay. Even the uninitiated in military science know that no military force is kept at war strength during peace time. A battalion, say of 800 men, will in time of war be divided into two strong. Up to the present time the system has been to enroll the additional men and give them the front, it usually takes at least three months to mobilize a battalion up to war strength. This does not matter so much if the other fellows go at things in the same way. Under the new American plan a regiment would have everything necessary to move its training establishment, probably 700 men, into the field in less than a week. Even men would be left behind to train the raw recruits who could be sent forward as they were needed. The regiment until the full establishment is reached. This would mean that in addition to the regular army of 100,000 strong could be rushed immediately to the front. In Canada under similar circumstances and with the present system of mobilization it would be impossible to start the regiments to the front for three months. The Canadian militia were to act in union with those of the United States it would be much later before they could get into the field, which would be a national disgrace. In the event of a struggle with that country the frontiers would be occupied long before the Canadian regiments could move. The plan of the American general staff, which is a highly concentrated effort, would appear to make it necessary for Canada to take similar steps. The Canadian militia, under Federal control, such a change could be brought about quite easily. The one thing essential to such a plan would be to keep sufficient stores, arms and ammunition at all regimental headquarters to immediately equip the regiments. It is not improbable that the necessity for such an arrangement will be dictated by Parliament at no distant date.

LOWELL, May 28.—Because the license granted by the board of police for a public wrestling performance expired at 12 o'clock last night, Wilfred Barrette and Peter Fiorde, two local wrestlers were unable to get a fall at the Academy of Music last night. PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Michael Kokalis and Michael Bodner, were convicted of murder in the first degree today, for the killing of Charles Prigge, a 16 year old boy last December. Prigge was held up by the two men who rifled his pockets. They found no money and as the boy turned to run away he was shot in the back and killed. TUSCON, Ariz., May 28.—Immigration officials yesterday captured 29 Japanese, 25 miles south of Tucson. They had been smuggled across the border. All were wearing medals for service in the Japanese-Russian war.

BIGGEST BRIDEGROOM WEIGHS 570, WIFE 105. His Knee Is Twice as Much Round as His Bride's Slim Waist.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 28.—Cupid has been hunting big game in Georgia, and the tiny god's unerring shaft has transfixed the heart of the champion matronistic Elk of the world, W. T. Brinson, who tips the scale at just 570 pounds, a little more than five times the weight of his bride. Mr. Brinson, biggest of bridegrooms, is a wealthy turpentine distiller, and his neighbors assert he has the biggest heart in Georgia. It probably weighs more to begin with, but it is a safe bet for this Brodwingian bridegroom. Mr. Brinson—she is 23 and he is 44—occupies the star corner of them all. As his fiancée lived at Superior, about 100 miles from his Waycross home, Mr. Brinson did his courting by mail. There is not a railway car that can accommodate a traveler with a girl of more than 8 feet and a knee measurement of 3 feet 8 inches. He tried it once, but he was unable to fit in the baggage car all the 11 miles. If he could get into a car, he would have to occupy four seats, one pair facing the other, as his shirt would project right over to the seat in front of him. When everything was ready for the wedding the bride-elect traveled to meet her fiancé, and was received at the station by Mr. Brinson, beaming expansively, seated in his big new buggy, especially built for two. This is a wonderful vehicle. It can hold four ordinary people; the wheels are extra stout and the springs are extra strong. It is reinforced all over to make it safe for this Brodwingian bridegroom. When she went over to her new home little Mrs. Brinson, who only weighs 105 pounds as against her husband's 570, found the furniture, Mr. Brinson's room is fitted with extra large things, all reinforced. The chairs are double the size of ordinary ones. The bed has springs which are made of extra stout steel and the slats are made of the heart of oak, the strongest that can be had. As a matter of fact nearly everything that Mr. Brinson possesses must be made to order. His suits take three times the quantity of cloth used for the ordinary man. His knee is twice as big as his wife's, and his waist is three times the quantity of cloth used for the ordinary man. His knee is twice as big as his wife's, and his waist is three times the quantity of cloth used for the ordinary man. BATH, May 28.—Fire broke out tonight in the basement of the Sagadahoc block on Front street, presumably from spontaneous combustion or defective wiring. The fire, which confined mostly to the basement of the clothing store of Thompson Brothers, was smothered with $20,000 by smoke and water. The office of Dr. R. H. Donald on the second floor was damaged $500. The loss is covered by insurance.

White Clover Bread! CLEAN FROM Baker to Eater. Because wrapped just after leaving oven. All Handling on Wrapper. AUTOMATIC POSTMAN SEEMS ALMOST HUMAN. Bicycle Repairer Invents Elaborate System for Rural Delivery Routes.

CORNING, N. Y., May 28.—Ralph A. Bartholomew, foreman of the Crystal City cycle repair shop, is said to be the inventor of a device which will dispense with carrier, driver and horse and will automatically deliver and collect the mail along a rural free delivery route at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. In general the invention is the utilization of small cars run on wires at a convenient height and propelled by electricity. The apparatus, which has been patented, is in practical operation at Reading Center, and it has been found to do its work with almost human intelligence. The machine has never been put out of commission by snow, storm, cold or wind, and the inventor says it will do equally good work over mountain ranges or wind-swept plains. There is the electric motor, the track, wires and their supporting poles, the electric switch, the little cars with their mail box compartments and a hundred simple yet differing mechanical devices and agents to enable it to deliver and collect the mail. It has been tried and not found wanting in any respect. In case anything happens to interrupt the circuit, like cutting the wire, then is indicated at the central station the exact place where it occurred.

King Before His Father. Haakon of Norway Turns the Tables on Frederick of Denmark. COPENHAGEN, May 28.—King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway passed through this city today en route to Paris. They were received at the railway station by King Frederick, King Haakon's father. Onlookers among the courtiers present tell the following funny story of the conversation between the two monarchs: "Now, Haakon," said King Frederick, "how do you like being a King?" "I will rather see you," replied Haakon; "I've been a King longer than you."

Lord Methuen to Command Troops in South Africa. LONDON, May 29.—Among a number of new military appointments announced last night, is one of unusual interest, that of General Methuen to command the British forces in South Africa. General Methuen's part in the South Africa campaign did not reflect great credit upon him. He was severely defeated at Magerfontein in December, 1899, and was recalled from Kimberley after his unsuccessful operations before Warrenton in March, 1900. H. R. McEllis is in Boston, on a business trip.

Their Trim Elegance.

You, and every other well-dressed woman, rightly demand elegant and perfect-fitting shoes.

Two ways are open to you; pay an exorbitant price to a custom bootmaker and wait a couple of weeks for your shoes; or wear Women's Regals in quarter-sizes, pay a half or a third of the made-to-order price and get your shoes at once. That's the story in a nutshell.

You'll be surprised at the smooth fit and genuine custom appearance of Women's Regals—the truth is, you'll have to peep at the label to make sure they weren't made to order.

FROM EDITORIAL IN United States Trade Reports

We hear so much these days about the "Ground Floor" and yet very few realize how much has been accomplished in the building of fortunes by this Ground Floor idea, in fact almost every one of the great fortunes of today, originated from some lucky opportunity or far-seeing thought which enables some one to know where to place a few dollars which will quickly jump into hundreds.

When we learn of an opportunity which is beyond the ordinary we feel we are doing a service to our readers in pointing it out.

By far the best thing we have heard of for many months is the proposition of the Cove Hydro-Electric Co., whose offices are at 104 Tremont Bldg., Boston, Mass., and 128 Prince William St., St. John, N. B.

Our readers should look into this. The company is offering their stock and those who grasp the opportunity now will indeed be on the Ground Floor.

Two ladies called at the police court this morning. One wished to make information against a railway news agent. The lady claims that she visited a sister in Maine to receive a jacket and to get clear of paying postage or expressage asked the railway employee to carry the garment. He did so, and in the transmission of the parcel it was lost. The Maine lady did not receive the jacket and wrote the St. John sister who this morning would have had her messenger arrested if it could have possibly been arranged to suit her. The messenger is said not to have been to blame but has been taught a lesson.

Nothing Doing Today—Smith Goes Back to Jail for Fourth Year

COUNTY COURT.

The county court resumed its session at ten o'clock this morning. No business was done, however, as Judge Forbes adjourned the court until Friday morning when the criminal docket will come up.

In the county court, yesterday the only case taken up was that of the King v. Chas. Smith, a Brooklyn negro, charged with stealing several suits of clothing, a shot gun and other articles. He was found guilty and sentenced by His Honor Judge Forbes to five years in penitentiary with hard labor. Smith was previously sentenced to eleven years for stealing in Halifax. He served part of that sentence and was let out on a ticket-of-leave. The sentence imposed yesterday by Judge Forbes will begin on the expiration of the former sentence, of which the negro still has about nine years to serve.

Had he not gone back to the ways of crime after being released on probation he would have enjoyed his liberty permanently. Now a term of fourteen years confronts him.

Smith was not represented by counsel at the trial. Clerk of the court, C. H. Ferguson, prosecuted, and the same witnesses testified as gave evidence at the preliminary examination. Practically the same evidence was brought out.

Judge Forbes charged strongly against the prisoner, but the jury reported a disagreement, after having been out about forty minutes. They stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal.

His honor then rather impatiently explained to the doubting juror, Mr. Howe, that it was not necessary that there should be eye witnesses of the crime to justify a verdict for conviction, and closed by sending the jury back again. After deliberating for ten minutes they announced that they had agreed on a verdict of "guilty."

In sentencing the man, Judge Forbes alluded to the term of imprisonment imposed on Smith in Halifax for a similar crime and said that the public should be protected from criminals like Smith.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Ponies in harness and under saddle occupied the Tan Bark Ring at the Open Air Horse Show at Chestnut Hill this morning. A feature of the afternoon will be the exhibition of Sweet Marie. The famous trotter will be shown by E. T. Stotsbury of this city.

All members of St. Luke's Anglican Young People's Association are requested to be present at the closing of their association on Friday evening, May 31st. A programme is being prepared for this occasion.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., May 28.—Compulsory arbitration as a means of settling industrial disputes has received a severe blow from the strike of butchers at Wellington. For some years new differences between employers and employed in New Zealand have been settled by the state in state arbitration, which has in the meantime settled by the state in the arbitration court, whose award is binding on the man as in combination as a trade union. As it happens the crisis has come without waiting for a turn in the tide of prosperity. The slaughtermen in the Wellington district stockyards have struck for more wages and got them; but with that full faith in state arbitration has in a moment become a thing of the past. The strike occurred among butchers employed by a couple of firms who export frozen mutton on a large scale and the time was well chosen for owing to a scarcity of grass the farmers were pouring their sheep into the yards of the exporters and the position of the companies was hopeless in the event of a stoppage of work. Large flocks of sheep were confined in paddocks with little feed and every day's delay meant that the animals were going back while there was even some danger of their actual starvation unless fodder was procured at a heavy cost.

At this moment the men discovered that the wages they received under an award of the Arbitration Court were too small, and demanded an immediate increase of twenty-five per cent, and left work when it was refused. They left themselves open to penalties of $50 each by their actions and officers were sent from the minister of labor to give them warning, but they persisted in the course they had laid down for themselves and the meat companies were compelled to compromise with an increase of pay amounting to 15 per cent. The general impression is that it will be difficult, if not impossible, to exact from the men the penalties prescribed by the law. If they refuse to pay they may be sent to prison, but whether it will be found expedient to send a couple of hundred men to jail for an offense of this nature remains to be seen. Still less does it seem feasible to deal with two or three thousand in this fashion if there were a strike of this kind on a larger scale.

JAPAN DOUBLING HER NAVY, TO HAVE ARMY OF A MILLION

Are Preparations Aimed at United States, Russia, or for Use in the Dismemberment of China, the Great Oriental Question.

TOKYO, Japan, May 28.—That her navy shall be more than double the size and strength it was at the outbreak of the war with Russia, and that her army shall be capable of operating upon first call no less than one million trained soldiers, this is the military programme upon which Japan has set out and to the consummation of which all the resources of the Island Empire are being marshalled. Whether this elaborate programme is undertaken merely as a safeguard against future possibilities or is aimed at some particular nation no human outside the little group of elder statesmen, who are the real rulers of Japan, knows, and there is not one of those who would not give up his life rather than reveal the possible object of attack—if there is one, such in contemplation.

European military experts who are given to airing their opinions in print are just now indulging in predictions of a war between Japan and the United States. The efforts of the writers find ready publication in the British controlled press of the Orient. The fact that most of the foreign newspapers published in this part of the world are owned and controlled by Englishmen is, however, so well understood by the intelligent and educated classes of Japanese that there is little likelihood of such publications having any material influence in shaping the better thought of Japan. But such portions of these predictions of impending clash with the United States as reach through the vernacular press down to the masses may do harm; and for this reason, if for no other, they are worth consideration.

The fact that Japan's present programme of naval expansion covers a period of seven years, and that, therefore, the consummation will be reached several years anterior to the completion of the Panama Canal, is pointed out by these pessimists as significant. It may be. At the same time it could not fit in the light of the past record of non-accomplishment of Panama, be expected of the most friendly nation that it should delay the completion of its greater navy until after the digging of the "big ditch" across the Isthmus, even if Uncle Joe cannot add other expert counsel since Congress have so lightly and obligingly nipped the other when the wedding of the waters of the Pacific and Atlantic shall take place at some point between Panama and Colon.

JAPAN'S DESTINY IN ASIA.

Their no Occidental can fashion the mysterious workings of the Orient. The mind has long been accepted as an axiom. Within certain limits this may be true, but I am one of those inclining strongly to the belief that the brains of men are of very similar construction no matter how different the coloring of their skins. As a race the Japanese have, of course, certain distinctive traits—whether elemental or the development of a feudal system—and among these traits is a secretiveness that baffles all attempts at fathoming. But the man who controlled the destinies of the Empire are humans possessing logical minds, and these men must see that Japan's destiny, if she is to play anything like the large part in world affairs they count upon, must be worked out in Asia.

Much more likely, it seems to me, are her war preparations for that day when the world shall go out for the dismemberment of China than that they are aimed for any anticipated clash with the United States or any European Power. And, too, it seems much more likely that the trend of Japanese thought and preparation has China in view rather than that there is anticipation of a renewal of conflict with Russia at any time in the near future. The man who predicts a complete and on the surface an altogether friendly understanding between Japan and Russia—also with China in the role of victim in anticipated slaughter—stands a fair chance of finding himself stared a prophet than does he who would have us believe, as some of the pen warriors would, that Japan and Russia will again be flying at each other's throat in the near future.

Whichever theory it may please the theorist to follow, however, he has this basis of fact to argue from—Instead of permitting her army to languish and her navy to rest on its well won laurels, Japan is pushing with great vigor her plans for army and navy increase.

There has been no word from the veteran army which, under Oyama and Kuroki and Nogai and their able associates, drove the Russians from the plains and the mountains of Manchuria.

RHEUMATISM A GAYNOR-GREENE CASE AT WELLAND

Barfi, a Millionaire Brewer, Who Jumped $15,000 Bail.

Will Fight Extradition—Wanted in New York State on Charge of Being Implicated in Aaron Conspiracy.

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., May 28.—The Barti case may develop into a second Gaynor-Greene case. Mr. H. Dewar, of Toronto, who is acting for the millionaire brewer, Herman Barti, whom the State of New York is sparing no expense or time to extradite, gave the court at Welland to understand on Thursday that his client will not return to the United States without a big struggle. He asked for an adjournment, so the case was enlarged until June 8. Barti, therefore, returns to jail for another two men on a charge of being implicated in the alleged conspiracy to burn the big brewery at Auburn nearly three years ago, and collect the insurance. If the plot had been carried out, it is said, several lives would have been sacrificed.

Barti lives in Syracuse, and he owns several residences. Some years ago he purchased for $12,000 the Lake Shore Malt Company's large brewery situated in the very centre of Auburn. He let it idle, and put over $75,000 worth of insurance on the place.

DETAILS OF THE PLOT.

The plot to burn the building was discovered by accident. John Lawlor, an employe of another brewery, in the building, and was there with his team daily. He saw two men, Wittig and Dipold, in the building frequently, but never could understand what they were doing. On the night of September 15, 1904, Lawlor saw the two men enter the building, and their actions were suspicious. He investigated and found the most extensive arrangements for setting fire to the building. Barrel upon barrel of kerosene and gasoline were stored in the building, and the walls and floors were thoroughly saturated with the inflammable stuff. Two candles were burned down they would set fire to a heap of oil-soaked shavings. Only fifteen feet away was a large tenement where several hundred foreigners lived. In the building were other large buildings, in close touch. Enough gasoline and coal oil was found in the place to have blown up the Barti building into smithereens, and the neighboring buildings as well.

Wittig was never caught, but Dipold is believed to be in Chicago. He made a clean breast of the whole thing, and said that Barti had hired him and Wittig to do the deed. Barti was convicted on bail of $15,000.

PLANS A CHURCH LOVE FEAST; FINDS REAL ONE

Pair Select Anniversary of Edifice as Marriage Day—Surprise Pastor.

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J., May 28.—A "Love Feast" will be advertised to mark the twentieth anniversary of the Methodist Episcopal church here today and the Rev. J. H. Thomas arrived at the edifice early to put the finishing touches on his sermon, in which he planned to urge members of the church to "love one another."

An entirely different sort of a love feast and a far more practical one greeted the divine. Walter Fullaway, of Philadelphia, and Miss Naomi De Ginter, of Oaklyn, N. J., were already in love and picked out the auspicious occasion to get married.

Early members of the congregation consequently stood by while the minister performed the ceremony, after which the originally advertised feast was held.

Lieutenant Governor Tweedie is in the city for the purpose of completing arrangements concerning the part he will take in the reception to be given by Earl Grey when he visits St. John in August. Yesterday his honor interviewed Lt. Col. White, D. O. C., with regard to the military part of the reception to the governor general and to the proposed of the function. It is also expected that before returning Governor Tweedie will arrange concerning the Fredericton programme. The reception which Lieutenant Governor Tweedie will hold in St. John will likely take place during the visit of the governor general.

Banfield Quits Bride for Police Station to Furnish Bail.

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—With an affection for his friend of the true Dumas and Pythias variety, John Dennis deserted his bride at the altar at the close of the marriage service last evening, and hurried away to a police station, where he gave up every penny of his hard-earned money with which he intended to take his honeymoon. His friend might have his liberty.

Dennis was married to Miss Annie Matthews. While the wedding was being held in his pocket and produced $200 for bail and triumphantly took his friend to the house.

SENDING THE MAIL TO CAPT. BERNIER

OTTAWA, May 28.—The department of marine has just dispatched a mail for Captain Bernier, of the Canadian patrol steamer Arctic, which is now in the North and has been there ever since last spring. Through his address is a little doubtful, it is hoped that all good luck the letters will reach Captain Bernier some time before he goes into winter quarters the autumn in Lancaster Land. The mail was sent from Ottawa to the postmaster of Dundee, Scotland, with the request that he deliver it to the captain of the whaler, Eolips, due to leave that port shortly. He will take the bag to Belkivik, Iceland. From there the mail will be taken by the Dundee whaler Walrus, which is going into the waters in which the Arctic will navigate this summer. It is believed that there will be a good chance of the two boats meeting, and for that reason, and because there is no other way, the mail has been dispatched.

A HANDSOME BROCHURE.

The Canada Steamship Company have issued a unique little publication descriptive of the development of the line since its inauguration in 1850. The art cover is beautifully printed, with illustrations in color. It contains views, accompanied by appropriate letterpress, of the pioneer steamer "Britannia," "Scotia," "Russia," "Aurora," steamers which in their day marked the highest phase of marine architecture. The ships at present in commission are represented by the "Umbria" and "Etruria," "Campania" and "Luca," "Ivernia" and "Saxonia," "Carpathia," "Caronia" and "Carmania," while a special picture is reproduced of the mammoth turbine liners "Lusitania" and "Mauretania." The Express Steamers which are now approaching completion. The illustrations are all from original designs, and are excellently reproduced. An interesting feature of the brochure is the list of the principal steamers of the line from 1840-1907, with particulars as to matters of construction, dimensions, engine power, &c. A copy of this "Pictorial History" has been sent to each of the shareholders of the company along with the annual report and balance sheet, and forms in conjunction with a dividend of 5 per cent on the second financial position of the company, a pleasing and thoughtful innovation which cannot fail to be highly appreciated.

NEGRO VALEDICTORIAN; 7 OF 12 DON'T GRADUATE

Honors Won by Barber's Son Rouse Fashionable Pittsburg Suburb.

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Because Ray Wooten, a negro and son of the town barber, was the class valedictorian, more than half the members of the graduating class of the Oakdale High School refused to attend the commencement exercises last evening. The fashionable suburb is now devising its time to the discretion of the race question.

When Professor Johnston announced a few days ago that Wooten would be the class valedictorian because he was the honor student, there were all kinds of protests. Threats were even made that they would not attend the commencement. Professor Johnston announced that those who stayed away would not receive diplomas.

The exercises passed off over smoothly, however, last evening, before a small audience, and only five of the twelve members of the graduating class appeared. The others say they will accept diplomas.

SEVEN

OF MOLEY

By Arthur W. Marchmont.

For over an hour beyond the usual time the dinner plates and other things were not fetched, and when Mrs. Tisley came for them it was quite plain that she had been filling in the time with the help of the gin bottle.

She was in the lachrymose stage when conversation with some one is almost as great a craving as that for the drink itself. And a remark which she let drop, ministered to her in the manner by which Olive was to be treated, indeed her lead the woman to talk freely.

A very little aggravation was sufficient; and the scene began with snarling lip, to goad over Olive's coming death.

"So you won't say you're his wife, eh? You think that's precious clever, don't you? But it won't do you any good. Dead folks can't talk. See? And, clever as you think yourself, and cunning—to go stealing out when a body's back's turned—you won't be able to talk either, any more than anyone else."

"I'm a long way from dead yet, and shall live to tell of your share in this, and to see you punished for it, too," said Olive, with a threatening look.

"You'll have to about pretty loud to be heard from the bottom of a mine shaft, and no mistake. With your 'see me punished' I suppose you think you're all fools."

"Go away, and don't talk rubbish about a mine shaft!" almost shouted the woman, furiously. "When you're down that one—you can see it from your window there, if you like to get up and look—when you're down that one, I say, it'll be rubbish in one; and she laughed at her wit.

"You are only foolish, woman. People cannot be murdered without the murderers being discovered and hanged."

"Oh, can't they? But people can fall down a mine shaft and starve to death, my beauty. People who go walking about these parts without knowing their way. And if they're found, if they ever are, I say, who's going to say they were murdered?"

"You are intoxicated. Go away and try to sleep it off."

"Don't you talk about sleeping it off. You'll sleep soundly enough down there," and Mrs. Tisley stretched out her lean hand toward the window again, spluttered out the words vindictively, and then nodded at Olive with a leer, cunning, malicious, triumphant, and brutal.

Olive smiled with deliberate provocation. "I suppose you have no idea of how extremely silly you look when you're in this maudlin state, Mrs. Tisley," she said. "But pray don't think I believe a word you say, or that you frighten me in the slightest degree."

"This drew another outbreak, with further references to the mine shaft, and bearing hints of the terrors of starvation. But as no fresh information was to be gleaned from the repetition of the threats, Olive ceased to provoke the woman."

Another thought had occurred to her, indeed—to take advantage of the fact that she had heard so much.

"The woman ran toward the door and caught hold of Olive. The grip was so feeble that Olive could have thrown her side without the least difficulty, but at that moment she heard a heavy footfall in the house below and stopped."

She would not repeat the mistake of the previous occasion. If there was a man in the house—whether Merrifield or some other—she could not succeed in getting away. She allowed the woman to appear to overpower her, and therefore, and to force her back into her chair.

When she was alone again, Olive thought carefully over all that the woman had said. She had been telling the truth. Her small, vicious nature had found pleasure in taunting her victim with the fate in store for her; dwelling with callid pleasure upon the torture she thought she was inflicting.

Placing her one chair close to the window, she was able to see the shaft of which the woman spoke with such insistent malice. It was situated about a hundred yards from the back door of the house; and so placed that it was quite possible for anyone, not knowing its whereabouts, to fall into it.

It was just such a means as Merrifield's cunning would be likely to employ. If he were to throw her down the shaft alive—and the woman had laid stress on the fact that she was to die of starvation—there would be no prospect save that of certain death.

Nor would there be any proof of murder. There might be suspicion; there must be that, of course; but Merrifield would not be stopped by any such consideration as that. He had taken that risk all through his career. Besides, there was a great chance that her body would never be discovered.

Yes, she believed the woman's story. Merrifield had a ceremony of marriage gone through, and could produce his witnesses, and the forged register; if he were driven to fight his claim to Silverbeech and the fortune, and it would be the easiest thing in the world for him at once to spread the report of his marriage, coupled with some lie to the effect that she had run away from him directly afterwards and had mysteriously disappeared.

anon, she fastened her attention on what she read until the calm and solace of the holy words soothed and cheered her.

So absorbed was she at last that the hours slipped away unnoticed; and it was until the dusk was closing in, and reading became difficult, that she remembered the woman had not brought her tea at the usual time.

Any change from the routine of the day was an object of suspicion; and when she closed her book, it was to sit considering whether the omission had any sinister significance.

The little room was almost dark when Mrs. Tisley arrived. She was now in a very changed mood, longer truculent, insolent, and abusive, but sleek, sly, and cunning almost. She was sorry she had forgotten the tea; but had been busy. She was afraid Olive would be both hungry and thirsty; but she brought the bread and butter not usual. She set it on the table with a smirk and went away.

Her mind keenly on the alert, Olive read all this as full of suspicion; and was instantly on her guard. The meal had been kept back in order that her hunger and thirst might make her the more eager for it, and more likely to take it without question.

A sharp and rapid scrutiny of everything on the table convinced her that the shade of doubt about the contents, but she saw his glance as he went out, and understood it.

He had lied about that change of plan. He had come to satisfy himself that she was taking the drug thus cunningly put before her.

That night was to see the deed he had planned.

When he had left her she rose, and was about to throw away the milk when she paused. Her face lightened with a new thought.

Her prayers had been answered. The way of escape had been pointed out to her.

Intensely excited, she put the little jug back on the table, and sat down wrapped in close, deep thought over the details of her plan.

Her eyes beamed brightly; for now the light of hope once more shone in them.

CHAPTER XXXV.
Suspense.

Olive was now eager for the next development of the scheme against her life. The rigid discipline to which she had subjected herself while in the house was bearing excellent fruit. She was complete mistress of every moment of every faculty; and every nerve; and what might prove of even more importance, of every muscle in her young, lithe, strong body.

She would have to fight for her life. She understood that, and all that it involved. Merrifield had come with this last falsehood in order that she might be deceived and caught off her guard.

The glance she had seen from him as he left the room showed that he believed he had quite succeeded. But it would be his turn next time to be caught off his guard.

Whatever their plan might be—and the woman had said more than enough to let Olive understand its main lines—it must appear to be deceived by it; and this gave her considerable thought.

She must, of course, appear to have taken the drug they had given her, and the question which filled her with anxious speculation was what next step Merrifield would take to ascertain this.

Would he come himself and see, or would he send up the doctor? He had guessed it would be the latter. He had said he was going away, and in his desire to keep secret the fact of his presence in the house, he would send the woman up, lest Olive should not have taken the drug, and find out his lie, and thus prove a less easy victim.

But she must be prepared for either course. If Merrifield came, Olive must attack him suddenly; and she had a thought of the means. She had a weapon with which, if she could but find the opportunity for a blow, she would certainly disable him.

This was the short iron bar used to keep the laths of her bedstead taut. She had often taken this out for the purposes of her exercises; and she knew she could use it with deadly effect. Her plan would be, therefore, to affect to be unconscious, but to have this weapon at her side, and then to find a moment when he was off his guard and strike him down.

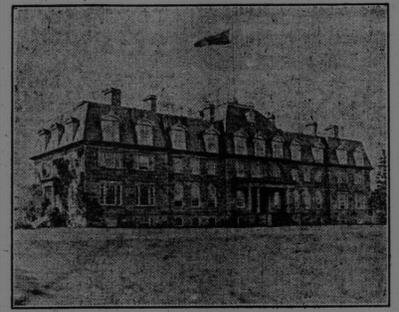

But if the woman came, she had a different plan. To use the weapon on her would only rouse Merrifield's suspicions; and Olive would still be locked in her prison with the certain prospect that he would find other means, probably with more help, to accomplish his purpose.

She must, therefore, manage to deal with the woman almost silently; so that Merrifield should have no thought of her being able to offer resistance. She thought all this out, and was soon ready for either emergency.

Graduation Exercises Thursday Afternoon—Examinations Finished Yesterday—More Applicants for Vacant Chairs.

ARTS BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF NEW BRUNSWICK

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 28.—The Encenia proceedings at the University of New Brunswick opened to-night with the presentation of Tom Cobb, a comedy drama, in the Opera House. A large and appreciative audience was present.

The Alumni Society of the University will hold their annual meeting tomorrow evening and the senate of the institution will meet the following morning.

Victors are already beginning to arrive in this city for the Encenia. The graduation exercises take place on Thursday afternoon.

Today examination at the University were completed, and tomorrow morning the faculty will hold a meeting to make up the graduation list.

As if refusing even to listen to him, she put the cup to her lips and began to drink the tea. She did it quite naturally, as though she had no shade of doubt about the contents. But she saw his glance as he went out, and understood it.

He had lied about that change of plan. He had come to satisfy himself that she was taking the drug thus cunningly put before her.

Jones this morning stated that unless the increased subsidies were received by the provincial government in July it was unlikely that the new department would be in operation during the academic year, which opens in September.

Concerning the selection of a successor to Dr. McDonald, the chancellor said that no real applications had as yet been received and that the matter would likely be taken up at a special meeting of the senate to be called probably during July, when, if the increase of subsidies were obtainable in July, the forestry department matter would also be considered.

The filling of the other vacancies on the faculty will be taken up by the senate at its meeting on Thursday morning.

Further announcements as to the medal winners at the University have not been made and will likely not be officially given out until Thursday. It is stated upon good authority, however, that Miss Edna B. Bell, of Moncton, will be the winner of the Governor General's medal for the greatest proficiency in classics.

The Ketchum medal for the greatest proficiency in engineering will likely be awarded to C. D. McCormack, of Somerville, Carleton county, who has had a very successful course.

The alumni gold medal for the best original Latin essay or a translation into Latin prose of a selection from Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire will likely go to either Stanley Bridge, of St. John, or Waldo C. Macdunn, of St. Mary's, and it is said that Miss Cora McFarlane, of Kings county, will likely be awarded the Brydson-Jack scholarship for the best standing in the examinations in third year physics.

As was officially announced some days ago the winner of the Douglas gold medal is Miss Clara Robinson, of Cambridge, Queens county.

MANY ATTENDING
CLOSING EXERCISES
OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER

ANTIGONISH, N. S., May 28.—The fifty-second annual commencement exercises of the University of St. Francis Xavier's College were held in the college hall this afternoon. A large number of visitors, consisting of friends and relatives of the graduates, were present, as well as a large number of the clergy.

The late Mr. Howes of Boston died about two months ago, leaving property worth about $15,000. His brother Joseph at the time went from this city to Boston. He was given to understand that his brother had died without a will having been made. As a consequence Mr. Howes looked upon himself as the heir of the estate.

Shortly after his return to this city he learned that the will had been probated in Boston, by which his brother's property was left to a sister-in-law and niece of the deceased. On receipt of the news, about two weeks ago, Mr. Howes went to Boston and obtained legal aid toward breaking the will. Mr. Howes' lawyer is ex-Governor Bates.

The grounds upon which the will is to be contested are that undue influence was brought to bear on the testator, also that he was of unsound mind at the time. Mr. Howes claims that the testimony of the nurses and doctor who attended his brother during his illness will support the contention that he was of unsound mind.

The following graduated from the commercial department: Dennis Mac Cormack, Sydney Mines; J. T. Morrisey, Newcastle; E. J. Macdonald, Sydney Mines.

ADDRESSED CANADIAN CLUB AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., May 28.—Although Halifax was tonight in the grasp of a fog, the Canadian Club, in the evening of the season, a large audience assembled to hear Rev. J. A. Macdonald's address on "Public Opinion and Public Life," before the Canadian Club. The meeting was a public one and most of Halifax's representative men were present.

Macdonald spoke for an hour and a half making a telling appeal for wholesome sound public opinion which would find expression in the public life of the country.

Dr. McGill, of Pine Hill College, moved a vote of thanks describing the address as a marvellous treatment of the subject replete with suggestion and inspiring thought and prophetic insight. Prof. MacMechan, of Dalhousie University who is an old schoolmate of Mr. Macdonald, seconded the motion, which was tendered by President Geo. S. Campbell.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 28.—Auburn retained their title against the Baltimore Criterion team in the world five-man duck pin championship series tonight, defeating the Orioles five, 1485 to 1433.

WILL CONTEST LATE
BROTHER'S WILL

Joseph Howes of 12 Sheriff street returned from Boston yesterday. Mr. Howes was in Boston for a fortnight taking steps to have the will of his brother, the late Abraham Howes, contested.

The late Mr. Howes of Boston died about two months ago, leaving property worth about $15,000. His brother Joseph at the time went from this city to Boston. He was given to understand that his brother had died without a will having been made. As a consequence Mr. Howes looked upon himself as the heir of the estate.

The grounds upon which the will is to be contested are that undue influence was brought to bear on the testator, also that he was of unsound mind at the time. Mr. Howes claims that the testimony of the nurses and doctor who attended his brother during his illness will support the contention that he was of unsound mind.

WIDOW OF FAMOUS
CHOCOLATE KING
COMMITTS SUICIDE

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 28.—Mrs. Richard Cadbury, widow of the famous chocolate king, committed suicide on board the steamer Empress of China on her way from Yokohama to Vancouver on May 27. She and her daughters had been travelling in Palestine. Mrs. Cadbury suffered greatly from sea sickness and general depression on the way from Yokohama, and when a few days from port jumped from the promenade deck to the after deck where the Chinese passengers were quartered. She sustained injuries from which she died in a few hours and the same day was buried at sea.

COMING JUNE 5TH
Hargreaves Has One of the Greatest Shows on Earth.

Everybody who has seen the great Hargreaves railroad shows which will exhibit in St. John Wednesday, June 5, knows that the big circus has an exceedingly large number of clever and handsome women among the 80 or more performers. There are acrobats, aerialists, equestrians, contortionists, jugglers, high-wire performers, gymnasts, animal trainers and clowns, all of whom are equally clever in their respective lines of endeavor. A keen rivalry exists between the lady and gentlemen artists of the Hargreaves shows, and this fact greatly enhances their performance. The enormous programme offered by this circus is one of unrivalled excellence. Only the best and most modern features are presented, regardless of trouble and expense, making a programme which cannot fail to please every artistic taste and fancy.

Inasmuch as a detailed description of the numerous and varied acts of this circus would fill a couple of columns, it is impossible to here enumerate the features. The "big top" exhibition, or performance proper, by no means concludes the attractions of the Hargreaves shows. The big double menagerie forms a zoological display that is without a peer in all the world. Then there is the huge museum, containing a myriad of human freaks, and the double hippodrome, in which are held intensely interesting and exciting Roman chariot standing and modern races. The parade this year is entirely new, and in the language of the contracting press agent, "it transcendently exceeds the wildest dream of the most imaginative Utopian idealist."

Remember, these all new and enlarged shows will be seen here in all their vast entirety.

Man yields to custom as he bows to fate—in all things ruled, mind, body and estate.—Crabbe.

REMARKABLE INVENTION FOR THE CULTURE OF HAIR

THE EVANS VACUUM CAP is a practical invention constructed on scientific and hygienic principles by the simple means of which a free and normal circulation is restored throughout the scalp. The minute blood vessels are gently stimulated to activity, thus allowing the food supply which can only be derived from the blood, to be carried to the hair roots, the effects of which are quickly seen in a healthy vigorous growth of hair. There is no rubbing and as no drugs or chemicals of whatsoever kind are employed, there can be nothing to cause irritation. It is only necessary to wear the Cap three or four minutes daily.

60 Days' Free Trial! THE COMPANY'S GUARANTEE

AN EVANS VACUUM CAP will be sent you for sixty days' free trial. If you do not see a gradual development of a new growth of hair, and are not convinced that the Cap will completely restore your hair, you are at liberty to return the cap with no expense whatever to yourself. It is requested, as an evidence of good faith, that the price of the Cap be deposited with the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit Company, of London, the largest financial and business institution of the kind in the world, who will issue a receipt guaranteeing that money will be returned in full on demand without questions or comment, at any time during trial period.

The eminent DR. I. N. LOVE, in his address to the Medical Board on the subject of Alopecia (loss of hair) stated that if a means could be devised to bring nutrition to the hair follicles (hair roots) without resorting to any irritating process, the problem of hair growth could be solved. Later on when the EVANS VACUUM CAP was submitted to him for inspection, he remarked that the Cap would fulfil and confirm in practice the observations he had previously made before the Medical Board.

DR. W. MOORE, referring to the invention, says that the principle upon which the Evans Vacuum Cap is founded, is absolutely correct and indisputable. An illustrated and descriptive book of the Evans Vacuum Cap will be sent, post free, on application.

Private Dispatches from St. Pierre, Miq., Tell Story of Sadness—French Warship Found No Trace of Two Missing Vessels, Which Probably Went Down in April Hurricane.

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., May 28.—From private dispatches received here, the season of 1907 promises to be another bad one for the French fishermen of St. Pierre, Miq. Two months ago the schooner Blanche, Capt. Eli Girardin, and the crack schooner Leizem, owned by Lamourer Françoise of France, left St. Pierre for the banks of Canada. Both vessels suffered severely and were in a crippled and dismantled condition, the former fasting very badly, necessitating the assistance of the warship to take her to St. Pierre. The brig, however, managed to reach the French colony unaided. Both the wrecked ships and the warship reported considerable ice on the Banks. In fact the warship was obliged to steer a course along Cape Ray to get clear of the immense ice floes. All the fishing vessels spoken by the warship say that very little fish have been taken off the Banks, which leads to the belief that another bad season is in store for the inhabitants of the French colony.

DISCUSSED PROBLEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION THROUGHOUT EMPIRE

LONDON, May 28.—The federal conference on education was resumed yesterday, Lord Reay presiding. The question first discussed was higher technical education in the Empire. Lord Reay said he entirely agreed with the desire expressed by colonial delegates that a central organization should be started to act as a sort of clearing office in which results of the experience of educationists from every part of the Empire could be brought together and utilized for the benefit of the whole. Such an office would give a lead to education and would be of enormous importance.

Dr. Parkin took part in the discussion, which was adjourned after carrying of the resolution in favour of the examination of the proposal to establish an all red mail service would take some time. If one line were to be subsidized the government itself would be that any other line on the same route should be compensated.

MAY HOLD EXHIBITION

SYDNEY, N. S., May 28.—The question of holding an Island exhibition in 1908 was discussed at a meeting of the Board of Trade tonight. The matter was left to a committee to confer with towns and municipalities and report. It would seem as if public opinion were strongly in favour of such a proposition.

EPISCOPAL MINISTER BECOMES A CATHOLIC

Rev. Fred E. J. Lloyd Confirmed in the West — Was Formerly in Charlottetown.

A despatch from Dubuque, Iowa, dated May 8th, states that Rev. Fred E. J. Lloyd of Chicago, one of the most prominent divines of the Episcopal church, has been converted to the Catholic faith. He was confirmed on Sunday by Archbishop Keane and was given the title of Boniface. Dr. Lloyd was elected to become bishop of the Episcopal church, and his elevation would have taken place in the very near future. He was conducting a non-Catholic mission when his faith underwent a change, and he recently went from Chicago to Dubuque to take his new vows.

Dr. Lloyd is well known in the Maritime Provinces. He was stationed for a time in Charlottetown, P. E. I., and while there was music instructor in Prince of Wales College. During his residence in Charlottetown a pamphlet was issued holding up to ridicule many of the prominent families of the city, and Mr. Lloyd was generally credited with being the author. His stay in the city after that time was brief.

BELL-DEINSTADT

Romantic Marriage of a St. John Young Lady and a Mount Allison Graduate.

A marriage, the news of which will be heard with interest by many friends of the bride in St. John, was that of Miss Marguerite Deinstadt, daughter of Rev. T. J. Deinstadt, of Fairville, and Mr. Ralph Pickard Bell, of Halifax, which took place last evening in Amherst.

Miss Deinstadt, who is an accomplished musician, besides being one of St. John's most popular young ladies, was formerly a student at Mount Allison and while there met Mr. Bell. He too was a student. Miss Deinstadt went to Sackville to take part in the closing exercises, and last evening she and Mr. Bell, who is just now graduating, went to Amherst, where they were quietly married. Their parents received the first intimation of the event this forenoon and were somewhat surprised. Miss Deinstadt and Mr. Bell had been engaged for some little time and it was understood that they would be married during the coming autumn.

TALK OF A POUND FOR WANDERING DOGS

This Matter May Come Before the Safety Board at Its Next Meeting

Now that the dog poisoner has started everybody talking it is quite probable that at the next meeting of the safety board, steps will be taken to have a "pound" secured where unlicensed dogs can be placed. At City Hall this morning a discussion took place between an alderman and a police official. The latter stated that a place could be secured where these dogs could be conveyed and then the dog poisoner would have little cause to carry out his stately work. A city by-law states that unlicensed dogs, or dogs found without collars can be taken to the pound and first of all destroyed in this place by gas. No sooner had the press announced the scheme, than the result of that locality were up in arms and sent petitions to the council asking that the plan be not carried out. It was pointed out in the discussion that policemen in several other cities, have the power to summon to court, anyone who allowed a dog to run loose about the streets. John by-laws do not give the police that authority.

CHARGED POLICEMAN WITH TAKING MONEY

Out in Court Today Arthur Smith Was Sorry for What He Had Said.

On the police court bench this morning there were four prisoners, three of whom were charged with drunkenness, while the fourth, Arthur D. Smith trembled at the knees when the magistrate first addressed him.

He was charged with giving a false story to the police at headquarters, of being arrested by Policeman Ira D. Ferry and allowed to go by the officer after being relieved of a wallet containing thirty-five dollars and other articles. The information was searched and his money and all that he thought lost were found in an inside vest pocket.

In court this morning the magistrate read the following charge to the prisoner:

"Arrested for making a false statement to the chief of police and Deputy F. W. Jenkins, saying that a police officer had arrested him and stolen his pocket book and money, also his watch, and then let him go. After making the above statement Deputy Jenkins found watch, pocketbook and money on his person."

His honor said that the charge was a novel one. The police court dealt with all cases from prisoners blowing paper on the street, to high treason. He did not know what steps the crown officers would take in this case but it might be a serious offence for the prisoner. In the mean time the prisoner could have his liberty and he might as well think of the narrow escape that he has had. The magistrate advised the prisoner to get back to Misspe as soon as he could and intimated that a person arrested for high treason could be punished with death. Before the prisoner left for the Mayor will be tried to explain how he came to be locked up. He said he had been with a friend, had reached the street, had taken a beer with the policeman, and was advised to go home and clear from the Sheffield street district.

The policeman denies having had a drink with the man who made the charges against him, and would have proved such had the case gone on for trial. As it is, it is thought that Smith, who claims Boston as his home, was demoralized with liquor and talked nonsense. On awakening sober last night he offered to apologize for what he had said.

OLD SCHOOL CHUM, AND THE MONEY, BOTH GONE

There were two protectionists at the police court last night. One was a tramp from the United States and the other a man 35 years of age, who gave his name as George Parker and his home as Woodstock. The reason for his being a protectionist was that he had no place to sleep and was awaiting funds from friends in Woodstock.

When a boy going to school he had a companion named Williams and it happened that these two were in the woods at Millstream during the winter. Last Thursday they were paid off, decided to take a trip to St. John to see the sights and arriving here on Friday they put up at an Indian town hotel. Becoming tired of looking at the tall buildings, Parker went to his room in the hotel, and while he was asleep a leather wallet containing $90 and placed it under his pillow so burglars could not possibly get at it without his awakening. He hung his overcoat on a nail with his other garments.

His old school mate went out for a walk when Parker retired, but when Parker awoke early Saturday morning there was no school mate alongside of him, the wallet with the money was gone and also the overcoat.

A stranger in a strange city without funds Parker tramped about trying to find Williams but being unsuccessful and having no money he had to find a night's lodging in the police station while he awaited cash from Woodstock to take him home.

WATER AND SEWERAGE

Scarcity of Labor Has Resulted in Higher Pay

The water and sewerage board will meet at City Hall this evening. It is understood that several matters relating to the repairs on No. 2 section of the water extension will be discussed. Engineer Hunter, who is now in the city, will attend.

Some discussion will probably take place over Superintendent Sturrock's annual report, which he submitted to the board about two months ago. This report was handed to Mayor Sears, who was asked to go over it, and he handed it to the common clerk a few days ago. The report is now being printed, Mayor Sears said this morning that he considered the report to be a very encouraging one. The superintendent refers to the Loch Lomond extension and states that labor had been very scarce for the carrying on of this work. Considerably higher pay had to be given for labor than was expected and this, he said, will tend to make an increase in the estimates.
