"TEN COMMANDMENTS" LAID DOWN BY HAWAIIAN SOCIETY

Wishes of Hawaii's Delegate to Congress for 20 Years to Be Carried Out by People of His Territory.

Honolulu, T. H., June 9.—The wishes of the late Prince Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, Hawaii's delegate to Congress for 20 years, regarding the conduct and lives of his people will be carried out by members of the Hawaiian society, founded by a group of leading Hawaiians, according to resolutions adopted at the organization meeting.

The first endeavor of the society will be to obtain $10,000 by public subscription to found the "Kuhio Endowment Fund" for the higher education of Hawaiian youths, to assist older persons to obtain lands, to aid in the establishment of hospitals and schools and to act as an eleemosynary, education and philanthropic organization for the native race.

"The Commandments" were laid down for the conduct of Hawaiians. They consisted of advice that had been given by the late Prince and read:

"Thou shalt Americanize Hawaii and keep alive the American traditions in this, thy native Country. The burden is upon you. The other races come and go, whereas we are born only to die—we have no longings for other places.

"Thou shalt love thy race and love thy land or you will be an outcast. You must be a true Hawaiian before you can become a true American."

"Thou shalt conserve the lands for the race and incidentally for thy posterity.

"Thou shalt support the Hawaiian Homes Commission in making a success of the rehabilitation of thy race on the land of Hawaii.

"Thou shalt provide financial assistance for the education and the broadening of thy boys and girls on the mainland. The competition is keen and will be more so in the future.

"Thou shalt strive to control the production of thy foodstuffs and prepare thine own pot from taro cooked at thy home.

"Thou shalt increase thy birthrate and strive to bring many children to healthy manhood and thereby decrease thy death rate.

"Thou shalt in thine own life be frugal and temperate and work to increase thy material welfare and that of thy family.

"Thou shalt support and abide by the laws, enforcing prohibition of the manufacture and use of intoxicating liquor. Liquor has retarded the advance of our race. Our increase is hopeful with liquor out of the way.

"Thou shalt stop, look and listen and take an active interest and a full part in the government of thy native land. Thou must ever keep alive with the times."

PRESBYTERIANS SPLITTING OVER CHURCH UNION

Antis Threaten to Break Away If Church Union Is Consummated.

FRANK STATEMENTS FROM BOTH FACTIONS

Both Agree to Explore the Legal Possibilities of the Situation.

Dr. Scott took strong exception to statements made by Rev. C. W. Gordon, past- Moderator, who seconded the union report, in reference to the Union committee. Dr. Gordon had said "last year we were divided; this year we are united." That expression, said Mr. Scott, would convey the idea that there had been a change of attitude on the part of certain members of the committee. Both these statements, he said, were in complete contradiction of the position of the Union committee, as reported in their own declaration, from year to year.

Members of the legal fraternity, he said, had said that it was impossible for a divided church to obtain legislation. All knew how careful legislative bodies were in legislating for the church in this respect. It was not likely that they could obtain legislation when only one-third of the membership was in favor of organic union. It was not fair to call the thousands of members who wished to stay in the Presbyterian church, if the union committee were to be further, by next year he believed that the disposition of church property would be faced.

Referring to the proceedings of a communication from the General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada, expressing a desire to co-operate in approaching the matter of extending the church union movement, Cordial endorsement of the communication was expressed by Archbishop Matheson in a statement which was read. The assembly thanked the general synod and His Grace for their expressions of good will, and decided to appoint special committees to confer with that body.

W. L. Clark, moderator, at the evening session concerning the death of Victoria of Mayor Edward Parnell of the city. The moderator extended the thanks of the assembly to Mayor Parnell's bereaved relatives and friends.

The remainder of the evening session was occupied with the presentation of the foreign mission report and to addresses by various missionaries from the foreign fields. A note of optimism was struck in the foreign mission report, but the need for increased support to meet the deficit in year's operations was urged by Dr. Mackay. He said he would make a general appeal on mission finance when the assembly has finished dealing with the report on home mission and social service.

Case Of Interest Heard In Court

Stephen E. Barton Is Charged With Soliciting Insurance Without Paying Provincial Tax.

Continuation of the case against Stephen E. Barton, charged with soliciting insurance in this province between the dates May 1 and May 23, without having paid the provincial tax of $300, occupied part of the proceedings in the police court yesterday morning. The evidence of two witnesses was heard and the matter was further postponed until Friday next. W. M. Ryan appeared for the Crown; F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the interests of the insurance underwriters, and John B. McVicar, of Fredericton, for the defendant.

William E. Gunter, of the firm of Murray & Gregory, Ltd., said that he had known the defendant for five or six years. The witness said that he had considerable dealings with the firm of Barton & Ellis, of Boston, that all the business was done by correspondence, and that Mr. Barton never asked for any insurance so far as the witness knew. He also said that the defendant, on the fact that Barton & Ellis had opened an office in this province, and he understood Mr. Barton to say they had authority to do business in New Brunswick.

LUCK PROVES A BIG FACTOR IN BALLOON RACES

J. S. McKibben Describes How Weather Played Him Prank Last Year.

Milwaukee, May 31.—(Associated Press).—There probably is nothing in which luck plays so great a part as competitive aviation, for despite the rapid strides in recent years navigating the air still is dependent on so many factors that almost any pilot in figuring his chances in a race will frankly admit that the result is about 50 per cent dependent on the whims of the goddess of fortune.

This is practically true in ballooning, where the navigator does not have the same control over his craft as an airplane pilot has, and in the national race which starts from here May 30 two pilots who are afflicted with probably the toughest luck in aviation records will compete. They are J. S. McKibben and Bernard von Hoffman, both of St. Louis, for they lost the international James Gordon Bennett balloon race at Brussels last year because the luck goddess glanced the other way at a critical moment.

Luck put them in the anomalous position of travelling further than any other entry and yet losing the race, although it is a contest for distance and not for speed.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Attendance for Past Year Was Above Average—Prizes Awarded.

Fredericton, June 9.—The closing exercises of the Provincial Normal School took place this morning.

Dr. W. S. Carter presented the Governor-General's silver medal to Miss Mavis Brown, this city, and the Governor-General's bronze medal to Miss Marjorie Wemp, Notre Dame, Kent, and in making the presentation congratulated the young ladies on winning the highest distinction awarded by the Normal School with such a large number of students competing, and said it was an honor of which they might justly feel proud and wished them success in their work.

Dr. Carter, in addressing the students on behalf of the Board of Education, said he wished to extend congratulations to them on having completed a very successful year of hard work and industry on their part.

Dr. C. C. Jones was pleased to see so many young men taking up the profession of teaching. He said he hoped the young women would take up college courses.

Dr. Bridges, the Principal, referred to the record number present at the opening of the term, 335, of which 47 were young men, the largest number for some years. During the term others came in, bringing the attendance to 360. This number, while very large, has been exceeded before.

The City of Fredericton silver medal was presented to Arthur Betts, Mill Cove, by His Worship Mayor Reid, who congratulated him on winning the medal with such a large number of young ladies competing.

The students of the Provincial Normal School closed their academic year tonight by holding a very successful social entertainment in the Assembly Hall. The valedictory was read by Harry S. Dysart, of Sussex, and the class prophesies by Miss Mildred Haines, of Devon, and Miss Jean Curie, of Campbellton.

There also was an interesting programme of musical selections and readings.

McKibben's Story.

This is the way Mr. McKibben tells it.

"We left Brussels about 5.45 p. m., Sept. 18, 1921, under very unfavorable conditions, for a storm was brewing, and we were in the midst of a thirty mile an hour wind, which carried us northwest, and in two hours we were over Zebrugge. The North Sea was crossed at an altitude of 4,500 feet, the English coast line being about twenty miles north of the Thames.

"Shortly we passed over London. By sunrise we were in northern Wales and the Irish Sea was in sight. We dropped down very low and asked where we were and how far it was across the sea. The farmers told us it was 100 miles—much to our surprise—and we decided to tackle it, as our rate of speed at that time would carry us over in five hours—placing us in the neighborhood of Dublin.

"About 8.30 a. m. we crossed the town of Aberystwyth, but the wind gradually died down, and at 11.30 a. m. we were over Bardsey Island. We decided to land on this island, but while manoeuvring we caught sight of another balloon to the south of us. Naturally we abandoned all plans for landing, and decided not to try to come down until the other bag did. We kept sailing along, and at 4.30 p. m. we were only a mile from the Dublin shore—only a mile from sure victory in the world's greatest air race, for we were certain no other bag could have travelled that far.

"But there was no wind and we could not get into shore. We threw out all ballast, clothes, cans—everything but still could not get over land. Slowly we were sinking, but it was into the sea, and that was where we landed. A ship picked us up one mile from shore and this disqualified us.

"Imagine our disgust when we learned that the balloon we sighted when figuring on landing at Bardsey Island had landed there itself and had won the race by so doing! Had we landed on the island we would have had the prize! Had we had a mere puff of wind we would have reached Dublin and been an easy winner! We travelled further than any one, but landing in the ocean disqualified us—we had no control and that is why I say that luck is the biggest thing in a race of this kind."

Mr. McKibben has been in aviation since 1910. Von Hoffman is of a well-known family, his brother, Albert, and his father being aviators. While a St. Louisan, he was born in Milwaukee. He had his first trip when only ten years old and has flown in many national and international races, although probably the youngest pilot in the world. He and McKibben have separate entries in the race this year.

PIANO RECITAL WAS ENJOYED

A very successful piano recital was given on Thursday evening in Queen Square Methodist School-room, by some of the pupils of Mrs. C. Rayworth. Solos and duets were well rendered and showed careful thought and training. They were ably assisted by Miss Myrtle Crawford, reader and tonight by holding a very successful social entertainment in the Assembly Hall. The valedictory was read by Harry S. Dysart, of Sussex, and the class prophesies by Miss Mildred Haines, of Devon, and Miss Jean Curie, of Campbellton.

There also was an interesting programme of musical selections and readings.

TO BUILD LIGHTHOUSE

A lighthouse for the Courtenay Bay breakwater was under consideration yesterday by Chief Engineer Gray of the Federal Public works department; J. C. Chesley, local agent of marine and fisheries, and John Kelly, inspector of lights. These gentlemen went to Courtenay Bay and inspected the site of the breakwater, so that the officials may decide on the type of light which should be installed. The base will be constructed by the public works department. It is expected a structure similar to the Negro Point light will be erected. Good progress is being made in the pouring of concrete at the dry dock and the laying of granite is also under way. The breakwater is practically completed.

RY CLERKS NEXT TO GET WAGE CUT

Chicago, June 9.—Railway telegraphers probably will not be included in the third wage reduction order of the Railroad Labor Board, according to rumors today of the contemplated new slash from railroad payrolls. The telegraphers number approximately 15,000. So many local conditions on various lines have to be considered that deliberation of an order affecting the telegraphers would necessarily consume weeks, it was said.

New wage cuts to follow the $110,000,000 already lopped off the pay checks of 500,000 maintenance of way employees and 400,000 shovellers will affect 350,000 railroad clerks, signal men, stationery firemen, officers and marine department employees, according to reports.

Chief among the groups are 23,000 clerks, 25,000 men in the signal departments and 80,000 freight handlers and truckers.

"ADAM AND EVE" PAID HEAVY FINE

Broke the Game Laws of Maine to Get Food to Sustain Life.

Houlton, Me., June 9.—Carl A. Sutter of Boston and his wife, Margaret, broke the game laws of Maine to get food necessary to sustain life, they told Judge James Archibald here today when pleading guilty to five violations of the game code. It was charged that the man and woman while living as the modern Adam and Eve in the woods near Hove Brook trapped a deer, killed partridge, caught fish and made fire without reference to state regulations. They paid fines and costs aggregating $54.

Describing the plan of himself and his wife to live six weeks in the wilderness under natural conditions, without civilized clothing, food or weapons, Sutter told the judge that the good resulting from his experience would more than balance any hardship done by him in the woods.

MURDER FOLLOWED CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Jackson, Mich., June 9.—Authorities spent the day in a fruitless search for the slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, mistress of the Grand Hotel Home for Girls here, whose body was found early today by a factory worker.

Several men who could not account for their movements last night, were questioned, but comparison of their finger prints with those found on a blood stained axe, with which Miss Mallett had been killed, did not connect them with the crime, police said. Bloodhounds traced the slayer from the scene of the slaying to a marsh on the outskirts of the city. The trail was lost there.

Physicians who examined Miss Mallett announced she had been criminally assaulted.

"MILEAGE" is the magic word in Tiredom these days, and Dunlop Tires right across the continent are rolling up record after record.

To think about a 5,000-mile Tire is to live in the past; to talk about a 10,000-mile Tire is to be "just ordinary"; to dwell on a 15,000, 20,000, 25,000 mile Tire is to get into that rubber sphere where Dunlop is pre-eminently the leader.

Ask for Dunlop Cord and specify "Traction." Then you are on your way to a new experience.

The linking up of the Provincial Hospital's water supply with the city's water supply was authorized at a sitting of the executive of the Provincial Government yesterday morning, also the installation of electric lighting in place of the present oil lamps in use, and the construction of a concrete piggery at an estimated cost of $2,500.

The work was authorized upon the recommendations submitted by the commissioners of the Provincial Hospital, and a special committee has been appointed to take up the matter of water installation with the city authorities. It is hoped to have the work started in the near future, and considerable employment will thus be afforded to relieve the unemployment problem. Canadian Mountain Playgrounds

Probably no other part of the world gives up to its people a greater expanse of country for recreation purposes than Canada. From the Atlantic to the Pacific large tracts of territory have been set aside by the Dominion or Provincial Governments—great unspoiled kingdoms, where nature and beauty vie with each other, where bird and animal life is unexcelled, and where everything is as nature planned it. Just what this means to mortal man it is difficult to estimate, but it makes life worth while for those who embrace the opportunity of spending their vacation in these great open spaces. These playgrounds are, in addition, a great national asset, as thousands of tourists annually from all parts of the world worship with us at our scenic shrines.

Of the great Canadian National Parks, Jasper Park, which has an area of 4,400 square miles, is without a peer. In fact, it is doubtful if anywhere in an equal area such mountain scenery and wonder features can be found—majestic peaks, snowfields and glaciers, deep canyons and mighty rivers on every hand.

Jasper Park Lodge is at present being constructed and will be ready for the reception of this year's tourists. It will be operated by the Canadian National Railways.

CHINA WILL TACKLE HARD JOB IF JAPAN GIVES UP TSINGTAO

Model City of Orient Expected to Deteriorate Under Inefficient Chinese Administration Methods.

Tsingtao, June 6.—In talking over Tsingtao and the Shantung railway, it such an eventuality does occur, China will be facing a task which will tax to the utmost her capacity for good government and efficient administration. Foreign interests in the province are so great, and the interest of the world in Shantung so keen, that she cannot afford to fail, and in the opinion of all impartial observers, she will make every effort to prove to the world that she is capable of administering the city and the railroad so efficiently and as well as has Japan for the last seven years.

One Good Appointment In the appointment of Dr. C. T. Wang as chairman of the Shantung Reorganization Commission, the Chinese Government has played its best card, for Dr. Wang is credited on all sides with being one of the ablest and most honest of Chinese administrators. On the other hand, the Chinese have never been able to maintain a government free of corruption and graft—the Peking Government is a mine of graft and petty politics, while the Provincial Government of Shantung under Tschun Tien is universally characterized as "corrupt and inefficient." Seeks in the provincial assembly are sold for an average of $10,000 and are considered good investments.

Deterioration Expected A certain deterioration, in spite of this, is considered inevitable, both in the administration of the city and in the management of the railway. General Yui, the present Japanese military governor of the leased territory, expressed his doubts as to China's ability, in a special interview, saying: "It is a great question whether the Chinese can maintain this standard but we hope they can, for with the increase in the population of Tsingtao, and the growth of its trade, it becomes more than ever necessary that the work started by the Germans and carried on by the Japanese be kept up. Will the Chinese with their complete lack of the necessary funds for the upkeep of the city and their notorious corruption in government administration be able to do this? We fear not only inefficiency in the management of the Tsingtao-Tsinan railway but even more inefficiency and graft in the administration of Tsingtao itself."

COMPLICATE REPARATIONS QUESTIONS

French Doctrine of Intangibility Blocks Reduction of Allied Credit.

Paris, June 6.—The lack of optimism on the part of the financial committee appointed by the Reparations Commission, which was reported Thursday, may now be considered as confirmed pessimism, in view of the decision to adjourn until next Wednesday.

J. P. Morgan and his colleagues feel it is essential to stabilize Germany's economic situation and that too heavy a burden should not be imposed. From that thesis it is only a step to a reduction of Allied credit and there it is blocked by the French doctrine of intangibility. Besides, Herr Bergmann asks fifty per cent of the loan proceeds for Germany alone. The inter-allied debts complicate the question. Before the committee meets again, the Governments concerned will be consulted and upon their replies the continuation of committee meetings probably will depend.

Premier Poincaré's speech, which expressed so well the sentiments of a majority of the deputies and their constituents throughout France, has made clear, without so stating, that the Franco-British entente is maintained only by necessity. As one writer says: "It is a body without a soul."

This situation may be altered by Premier Poincaré's visit to England, June 17, and the luncheon to be given by Lord George in Downing Street two days later, is the most optimistic view. It is hoped the conference between the two premiers will reanimate feelings deeper than those of interest alone. It is argued that it is useless for France and England to pretend to be actuated by pure and simple friendliness. Neither Government recently has shown anything but discrimination toward formal pacts, the reason being that each desires to maintain the privilege of pursuing its own way as occasion arises.

Paris, June 6.—J. P. Morgan, who is participating in the conference here of the International Committee of Bankers, left for London today, with Mrs. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. George Whitney of Paris. They plan to return Tuesday, unless in the interval Mr. Morgan is informed that the Reparations Commission is not yet ready to reply to certain inquiries made by the Bankers' Committee. In this case the committee chairman, M. Delacroix will propose a further recess. The recess until Wednesday of the committee of International Bankers invited by the Reparations Commission to give advice concerning an international loan for Germany is for the purpose of requesting the Commission for further information upon the credit basis for the proposed loan.

The bankers, in discussing the possibility of the loan, quickly reached the question of how any loan could be floated unless full assurances were given to the investing public as to the nature and extent of the security upon which a loan would rest. One element would be the willingness of the debtor, it was said, and another would be the reasonable certainty that he could pay.

The bankers in this instance, it is understood, have in mind the proposition that the prospective debtor has a doubtful reputation, and that every care must be taken to examine into what he can be depended upon to do if the investment is to be offered to the judgment and authority of the group of bankers.

The financiers, it appears, although they may not wish to touch upon the general subject of reparations, are ready to advise respecting the loan without dealing with the assets and liabilities of the prospective borrower, who in this case already has given lien on all he possesses to the Allied governments as represented on the Reparations Commission. This raised probably will require some days before the Commission can give its answer.

"BALKANIZED" EASTERN EUROPE HOSTILE TO RACIAL MINORITIES

Small States, Liberated from Former Foreign Sway and Given Power, in Turn Become Oppressors.

Reval, June 9.—(My Mail)—The war "Balkanized" eastern Europe. Numerous small nations which before had constituted part of Russia or Austria and were slowly, but surely, being assimilated by these two "melting pots" for heterogeneous races, have achieved independence and claim the right to build up their own national destinies on the basis of self-determination. But "Balkanization" implies more than liberation from a former, foreign sway. The parallel, unfortunately, is justified by another typical analogy, to wit, the mixture of different nationalities in the same territory and the subsequent oppression of the minority by the numerical majority. This circumstance is aggravated by the fact that, as a rule, the minority represents, intellectually, the higher civilization and, economically, the more valuable elements of the population.

Easy to Strike Such Blow It was easy to strike the blow in such a way as to affect only the Balts, since they owned practically all the large—or so-called noble—estates. The Estonian Constituent Assembly therefore decreed, on Oct. 10, 1919, that all these large estates should be nationalized and divided into small lots, which were to be handed over to the tillers of the soil.

In order to pacify public opinion abroad, this policy of oppression was construed by the Government into a measure of a social or economic nature; the slogan of "land hunger" was coined, and the agrarian policy was supposed to substantiate the ideals of radical socialism. But the real aim of the law becomes manifest when it is taken into account that small estates and peasant farms also are subject to expropriation when they are owned by former holders of "noble" estates. The same theory applies to the agricultural inventory; it is to be expropriated when it belongs to the owner of a large estate, it is exempted in the case of a small one. A large number of whom are of the Estonian race.

Policy Has Political Aim Limited space does not give scope for discussion of the details of this question, which is being amply vented by the press in Estonia and Latvia. It will suffice to add that even the leaders of the now ruling majority and the promoters of the agrarian reform have repeatedly confirmed in press and public speeches that this policy has, first of all, a political aim, viz., that of eliminating the Baltic element of the population of the two republics.

The official representatives of minorities are most emphatic on the point that the protection of racial minorities cannot be considered a question of internal politics, nor can a flagrant violation of the rights of a minority be considered an internal economic reform. If the League of Nations is to defend the democratic ideals of justice and fairness to great and small alike, it is bound to intervene on behalf of the racial minorities.

Estonia a Small Nation Estonia is but a small country and the Baltic race numbers only a few thousands. Yet, since the ideal of international protection to racial minorities has been proclaimed by the League, it should surely be applied independently of numbers. It stands to reason that a people which has lived up to 700 years in a country in face of any majorities.

The Balts are willing to submit loyally to the rule of the new masters of the country, but they protest against a policy which aims manifestly at the destruction of their race. Whatever the odds may be, they are going to fight for their rights, in Geneva as well as at the special conference which is to take place in Prague in the early summer.

Races Were Antipathetic There was no love lost between Estonians and Letts on the one side and the Balts on the other. They represented the opposed interests of Capital and Labor, and moreover, the Imperial Government had made the mistake of tolerating, hitherto, a systematic campaign against the Balts by the Estonian and Lettish radical press. Thus the masses had been taught to look upon Balts as "invaders," "foreign settlers," and "oppressors of the masses."

This feeling of national and social antagonism bore its fruits when, in 1918, the Russian Empire collapsed and Estonia, having declared her independence, constituted her own national government. It was, indeed, its first and most sincere aim to rid the country of the Baltic minority and it did so by depriving the Balts of their landed property, which constituted the mainstay of its social and economic importance.

The Imperial Government of Russia, conscious of the necessity of assimilating all the heterogeneous elements of a vast Empire, had been carrying out lately a policy of "Russification," the aims of which were identical with the scheme of Americanization advocated by political leaders of the United States. The Imperial Government of Russia, however, unfortunately resorted to means of coercion and administrative oppression which, while partly expediting the process of elimination, aroused considerable antagonism and national chauvinism on the part of the alien population of Russia.

No wonder, therefore, that when Russia collapsed, all the border areas, with their alien populations, hastened to sever all connections with the former Empire, and to establish their own independent governments based on the rule of self-determination. Freed of their common master, who by most of them was looked upon as an oppressor, the various races which had lived together in the same territory for centuries had to face the new problem of regulating the mutual relations between themselves.

ANCESTOR HUNTERS ENGLAND'S LATEST

London, June 7.—Englishmen have been inclined to ridicule and belittle the efforts that have been made by Americans, suddenly wealthy, to acquire a first-class family tree and portraits of their ancestors. They have plenty of the new rich. They have plenty of money, very weird ideas of art and money, very few family histories to speak of. They regard this deficiency as a drawback to social advancement, so they try to make it up by buying antique stuff for their modern mansions. Ancestor hunters we call them.

"When the pictures, furniture and other treasures of a famous old family come into the market they make a point of turning up on the first 'view day' and picking out a few things that they think will help bolster up their pedigree to blue blood and an ancient line.

"Of course, they don't go in for the really big stuff—national treasures and so on—because that would be unrecognizable, and would defeat their object. But somebody's portrait of a gentleman with an impressive wig is irresistible, and they take such pride in pointing it out to visitors and saying, 'Yes, an ancestor of mine, painted in his study by one of the leading artists of his time, supposed to be a Van Dyck!'

Not the Club for Her. "Is your wife a member of that Bridge club where the members are fined a nickel for each word they speak?" "Not any more. I couldn't afford it, so she had to resign."

KU KLUX KLAN IN WAST CONCLAVE

Thirty to Fifty Thousand in All Night Ceremonies of Naturalization.

Joliet, Ill., June 7.—What was declared to be the largest gathering of the Ku Klux Klan ever held did not end until approaching dawn dimmed the fiery cross high over the assemblage yesterday morning. It was said that every city north of Springfield in Illinois and many points in Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana were represented. The number in attendance was estimated at from 30,000 to 50,000. Wives and children fanned from surrounding hills, more than 2000 candidates were "naturalized" into the "invisible empire."

The meeting was held in a wood near Plainfield. White-robed and hooded figures guarded the roads, while the weird rituals were conducted by the light of flaming torches. Candidates were grouped before a throne while on the outskirts men stood with folded arms to halt any curians.

The candidates, it was said, kissed the American flag, swore to obey the injunctions of the Klan, to uphold the supremacy of the white race and to aid the defenseless.

A bugle was sounded at midnight, the grand goblins mounted the platform and spoke five words, then the assemblage joined in singing "American" and the "Star-Spangled Banner."

CONSTIPATION BAD HEADACHES FAINT, DIZZY SPELLS

Constipation is one of the commonest ills of mankind, and one too often allowed to go unlooked after, until some serious complication sets in. A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule of everyone then there will be no constipation, sick or bilious spells, dizziness, heartburn, coated tongue, foul breath, sour stomach, floating specks before the eyes, jaundice, water brash, etc. Keep the bowels properly regulated by the use of MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS and you will enjoy the best of health. Mrs. Frank Wilsey, R.R. 3, Belmont, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for nearly two years. I had had headaches, faint and dizzy spells, and would bleed terribly. I was nearly discouraged for I had tried so many things that gave me no relief. My mother got me a trial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and told me to give them a fair trial. After I had taken one I felt much better and continued their use. Now I have no faint and dizzy spells and am gaining nicely. I would not be without Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for the world!"

Price, 25c a trial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Too Short Notice Sammy's father met him just as he was trying to steal unnoticed into the house after a harrowing experience with a mud puddle. "Well, sir," he enquired grimly, "where have you been?" "I—I fell in a mudhole."

"What! And with your new trousers on?" "Yes, sir; I didn't have time to take 'em off."

'I am not unaware of the criticisms made by those not in agreement with the policies of the American Federation of Labor. I call attention to the fact that the chief criticisms call for the introduction into our movement of policies either adopted or first advanced abroad, and that these policies have either failed abroad or have remained in effect abroad because of conditions which are vastly different from conditions here.
