

A PLEA FOR THE MINISTER SALARIES ARE INADEQUATE

Dr. Lyle, of Hamilton,
Speaks Plainly at Synod Meeting.

MEN KEPT OUT OF THE CHURCH

By the Deplorable Fact That They Cannot Secure a Decent Living.

At this morning's session of the Synod of Hamilton and London, an overture from Mr. W. N. Hossie, of Brantford, was considered, asking for changes in the rules of forms of procedure affecting representative elders.

It was transmitted by the Presbytery of Paris, Mr. Hossie, of Brantford, supported the overture. It was moved by Mr. Hossie, seconded by Mr. Ratcliffe, that the overture be received and transmitted to the general assembly.

Changes Suggested.

An overture from the Presbytery of London was read regarding changes in statistical and financial forms, and was supported by Dr. L. McCrae and Rev. James Rollins. The overture was unanimously adopted.

Dr. McCrae, speaking in support of it, said it was desired that in future the names of congregations in a pastoral charge should be printed in the assembly's blue book in order that the identity of each church might be preserved.

Standing Committees.

Rev. R. Pettigrew presented the names of the standing committees for the year as follows:

Church Life and Work—A. L. Budge, convenor; Messrs. John Bailey, F. A. Wilson, Dr. James Ross, J. W. Cameron, W. Henderson, Rev. F. Strachan, Bessels, Geo. Rutherford, Hamilton; Dr. Logie, Paris; R. A. Thompson, M. P. P., Lyndsey; P. W. Merchant, elders.

Young People's Societies—George Arnold, convenor; J. A. Wilson, J. J. Hastie, J. G. Inkster, G. M. D. In, min-

LONDON CUSTOMS RETURNS TOTAL $976,720 FOR YEAR

About $75,000 Greater Than in 1907—The Figures Show That There Was a Considerable Falling Off in March of This Year, as Compared With March of Year Ago.

The customs returns for the year which closed yesterday are the largest in the history of London, and come within less than $25,000 of being one million dollars.

The returns for March show a decrease from those of March, 1907, of $12,054.62, the figures being $87,371.42 for March, 1907, against $75,316.81 for March this year.

The bad weather and the general slackness of things is accountable for the decrease this month, although there is considerable improvement to be noted over February, which was the lowest month of the year, traffic and business being completely tied up.

Collector Elliott states that there is a general improvement noticeable in the last couple of weeks, and expects that the returns from now on will show a steady increase.

Contractors Were Little Too Speedy Hygienic Site Not Deeded to Gov't

Work on the Excavations Has Been Stopped Until Matter Is Settled.

There is somewhat of a mix-up regarding the Hygienic Institute. Some time ago the contract was awarded to Jones Bros., and work was commenced. However, the site had not been deeded to the Government, and when some of the members of the Government were informed that work had commenced, a wire was sent to Jones Bros. last night to discontinue work until notified to begin again.

In the city of London bill was a clause giving the Government the right for the institute on the hospital grounds.

This came up in committee yesterday when inquiry was made regarding the work.

Hon. Adam Beck did not know that day are the stonemasons.

Three Million for Transmission Lines

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 1.—Provincial Treasurer Matheson stated this morning that of the four million dollar loan, which he proposes to raise at an early date, three millions will be applied to the construction of electric power

LIVELY ROW IN THE JUBILEE RINK

Young Man Hauled Into Court for Ruffianly Actions.

A young man who has appeared in court several times caused no end of a disturbance in the Jubilee rink last night.

The officer in charge of the rink asked him to hand in his skates, as he was acting in a disorderly manner, and one thing leading to another, a fight was soon in progress.

It is stated by those who saw the affair that the young man handled the officer as if he didn't get anything, and threw him all over the place.

Incidentally, the stove was knocked over, and other articles damaged before the police arrived and took the youth to the station.

His case was adjourned until Friday when he appeared this morning.

OPPOSE THE MARRIAGE

Press of Rome Object to Alleged Abruzz-Elkins Alliance.

London, April 1.—The Rome correspondent of the Globe says that the Italian newspapers have initiated a violent campaign against the proposed marriage between the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Elkins.

This change of attitude is simply and so by due to the "extraneousness" of American journalism, against which a stream of indignation is poured out daily. Even the Elkins family is not spared, the newspapers taking the ground that they should have taken steps to shield the duke from "outrage and insult."

The Globe's correspondent learns that the provisional arrangements for marriage have been altered owing to the King's wish that it should be celebrated in Italy. It will be a purely private and even the press will be rigidly excluded.

AUSTRIA REJECTS.

Vienna, April 1.—The Neue Freie Presse announces that Austria has definitely rejected Great Britain's proposal for the appointment of a governor-general of Macedonia.

BISMARCK'S SISTER DEAD.

Berlin, April 1.—Frau Malvine von Arnim, the only sister of Prince Bismarck, died here yesterday, at the age of 81 years.

UNIVERSITY BILL PLEASES MEANS MUCH TO LONDONERS

Western Will Be Placed on a Proper Footing and Local Boys Will Receive University Education in Their Own Town—Government Aid Will Now Be Sought.

The recommendation that the city be allowed to make a yearly grant for the Western University in the committee at Toronto yesterday is meeting with general approbation in the city. Among educationists especially, and it is now felt that the issue being a good university, that London needed, has been accomplished, and that the position of London as the central point in Western Ontario is now practically assured.

The university will now be under-nominal, and a larger staff of professors and teachers will be secured.

Bishop Williams Speaks.

"I am very well satisfied with the action of the committee regarding the Western University," said Bishop Williams this afternoon to The Advertiser. "I would have preferred if the term of the bill had been ten years instead of five, but still I am satisfied. At the end of five years, I am convinced that the citizens generally will be so im-

IF MEASURE IS AN INJUSTICE WILL NOT PASS, SAYS PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Assures Leader Mackay That There Will Be No Invasion of Provincial Rights by the Dominion Government—Legislature Passes Whitney's Resolution.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 1.—The second division of the session took place yesterday in the Legislature, the issue being the question of provincial rights, raised by the Premier in reference to the bill now before the Dominion Senate, to incorporate the Ontario and Michigan Power Company. The Premier moved the strongly worded resolution, which he had read to the House on Monday afternoon. To the Opposition, however, the resolution savoured too much of a condemnation of the Dominion Government, and Hon. Mr. Mackay offered an amendment, which, while upholding the rights of the Province, imputed no sinister motives to the Dominion Government. It was upon this amendment that the actual vote was taken, resulting in a tally of 59 to 19, a clear Government majority of 40. For this occasion only Mr. St. Denis voted with the Government, while Col. Rathbun, usually accounted an Independent Liberal, was paired against an Opposition member.

Mr. Mackay's Amendment.

Mr. Mackay's amendment, which was seconded by Mr. Harcourt, was as follows:

"That this House, while not unimpaired that the said bill is only a private bill, and not a public act to which the Government of Canada is committed, deems it advisable and timely to emphatically and unanimously express its disapproval of the said bill in some of its parts, and to assert and declare (Continued on Page Two.)

Social and Moral Reform Discussed At Synod of London and Hamilton

Let State Ownership of Liquor
Traffic Finds Advocate—A Missionary Evening.

At the afternoon session of the meeting of the Synod of London and Hamilton yesterday, Rev. J. G. Shearer, B. D., of Toronto, secretary of Social and Moral Reform for Canada, gave an address in which he touched upon a number of reforms which he thought were necessary.

Dr. Shearer spoke briefly upon the increase in the destruction of unborn life which is becoming very common in many parts of the country.

He condemned this practice very strongly, showing the awful effect it would have upon lowering society.

Higher Standard.

He also spoke of the need of higher standards of honor in commercial life, and urged that attempts be made to insure integrity in politicians.

Gambling and Intemperance were condemned, especially the former, which is increasing very largely.

Dr. Shearer suggested that more stringent measures be taken for the protection of little children, also for (Continued on Page Ten.)

Tuberculosis Hospital Set Back City Council Now in a Quandary

Vote in the County Will Not Likely Be Taken Till January.

The deputation sent to Toronto to look after the interests of the city in the matter of the city of London bill, is very well pleased with the success of the trip. Although not all was obtained that was desired, nevertheless, the results are very satisfactory.

Tuberculosis Hospital.

"The tuberculosis hospital matter was thrown out practically," said Mayor Stevely. "It effectively prevents any hospital being built this year. The city's part of the agreement was approved on condition that the county obtain a vote of the people on the question. It was pointed out that it would cost about $2,000 to take the vote—just half of the appropriation—and it was thought by the county members that it would not be wise to spend that much now. That is the reason that section was thrown out. I do not know what will be done. Some provision will have to be made, and I suppose the city will have to handle its own end of it without regard to the county. Whether or not a section of the present hospital will be set apart for these patients, I do not know. A meeting will be held shortly to discuss this question."

The deputation from the Real Estate Owners' Association objected the fire halls bylaw, but as the vote of the people was favorable to the two halls, the committee thought it not wise to insist on the fire halls are assured now, and we can get to work on them right away.

"The committee did not think that sufficient reasons had been advanced to change the date of the municipal elections, and so that section was thrown out. There is a law governing that now, and it was thought wise not to interfere with it.

"The rest of the bill went through without change."

CARBREKING CASE IN COURT ANOTHER MAN ARRAIGNED

Charged With Complicity in the Theft in Which Several Cases of Whisky Were Removed From a Car in the Grand Trunk Yards Here.

The trial of James Cotter, the Grand Trunk engineer, arrested at Windsor recently in connection with the car-breaking case in the Grand Trunk yards here some time ago, commenced this morning, when Cotter was charged with breaking into a bonded car.

Richard Blackwell, one of the most important witnesses, is ill in St. Thomas, and the case can not be closed until he appears.

An arrangement to this effect was made between Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, K. C., who represents Mr. Cotter, and Crown Attorney McKillop.

The Evidence.

The evidence of a number of Grand Trunk freight employees, as given in the previous cases against Perry Sinclair and Joseph Lenahan, was again taken. It told of the discovery that a number of cases of whisky were found to be missing when the contents of the car were checked.

IMPLEMENT CO. PURCHASE LAND

Big Plant at Port Stanley for the Manufacture of Gang Disk Plows.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Ont., April 1.—At a meeting of the shareholders of the Standard Implement Company, held in the Loney House, Port Stanley, last night, all but six shares of the stock were represented. J. B. Donald, the president, was in the chair. The immediate required stock of $5,000 has been subscribed, and prospects for securing the other $70,000 are bright. The company has purchased eleven acres of land on the line of the Pere Marquette west of the river, the price being $1,000. It was effected through Mr. John Price, who had a fifteen-day option on the property at the same figure. The latter was elected a director of the company. The board will meet in London on Thursday. Ground will be broken at once for the building, which will be 50 by 100 feet. The capital stock of the company is $75,000, in shares of $100 each. Many orders for gang disk plows have already been received from the Northwest, that implement being the main one to be manufactured.

HASN'T SOLD OUT TO ALBERTA GOVT

But Bell Telephone Company Is Carrying on Negotiations.

Montreal, Que., April 1.—Mr. C. F. Sise, president of the Bell Telephone Company, denied most emphatically today that the company has disposed of its business in Alberta to the Government of that province. There had been a report to that effect, but it was not true that the company had sold. Hon. W. H. Cushing, minister of public works of Alberta, who has been in the city for some time conducting the negotiations, was credited with the statement that the deal had been closed for $675,000.

ACQUITS CHANCELLOR DAY

Complaint Against Roosevelt's Baite
Ruled Out of Theological Court.

New York, April 1.—The charges preferred against Chancellor Day, Syracuse University, by the Rev. Geo. A. Cooke, of Brandon, Vt., were ruled out of court by Bishop David H. Moore at the opening of the one hundredth and ninth New York Methodist Episcopal conference today.

Bishop Moore, in dismissing the charges, said that the company had a direct attack upon free speech and free press.

The decision was greeted by cheers and long continued applause.

DE SAGAN A SUITOR

New York, April 1.—That Prince Helld de Sagan is a suitor for the hand of Madame Anna Gould is announced by the prince himself in a statement, in which he added that Madame Gould would sail for France very soon after his own departure, which is set for April 5. The prince's announcement was made coincident with the circulation of reports that Madame Gould has quarreled with her family because of her determination to marry de Sagan. Madame Gould is quoted as saying that she shall not "lower" her position, and she has asserted herself and shall abide by her own decision. Madame Gould has left the home of her sister, Miss Helen Gould, with whom she has been staying since her arrival from France more than a week ago, and is living with friends.

EDWIN COLEY KILLED ON C. P. R. DIED IN HOSPITAL OF INJURIES

It Was Good

Shawnee, Okla., April 1.—

Boys playing near a half carload of giant powder and dynamite caps at the Missouri and Kansas stock yards yesterday became involved in a dispute as to whether the powder was good or bad. They determined to test it, and applied a match. An explosion followed that was heard for miles. The car was blown into fragments, and people passing were blown from their feet and across the road. Six people were seriously injured, one, Robert Gray, a negro child, having since died.

USED A BOGUS BADGE

Posed as Constable and Beat His Way
on the Street Cars.

Toronto, April 1.—In the police court today Edward Berry was found guilty of perjury, in having denied, when placed on trial charged with the non-payment of his fare on a street car, that he had presented a bogus special constable's badge instead of a ticket, and that when the conductor refused the badge he had said he had traveled on this for five months. The magistrate said he could sentence Berry to fourteen years in prison or penitentiary for the offense, but in view of the fact that the prisoner's wife is ill in health, he made the sentence four months in the Central.

INCREASE IN SALARY FOR THE KAISER

Hereafter He Will Be Paid for Paying Part of Emperor.

Berlin, April 1.—An authentic report is in circulation here that a bill soon will be introduced in the Prussian Diet raising the official list of the Emperor. This list now amounts to $3,930,000 a year, which sum is paid the Emperor as king of Prussia, and not as emperor of Germany, the latter position carries no salary. The explanation offered for raising the list is the increased cost of living, which bears particularly heavy on the royal household because of the large number of children and other persons dependent upon the purse of the monarch.

DUMA WANTS A RAISE

St. Petersburg, April 1.—Following the lead of the legislators of Paris and Washington, 50 members of the Russian Duma today introduced a bill for the increase of their salaries by the extension, through the recess, of their present compensation of $5 a day. They complain that the sum they now receive is wholly inadequate to the St. Petersburg scale of living.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1.
A PERIOD OF WONDERFUL PRO-GRESS.

The official trade statistics of Canada for the past eleven years furnish an interesting study. In every department there has been but one story to tell. Canadian imports, exports and trade with the preferential tariff trade with the mother country, have advanced by leaps and bounds. Railway traffic has increased almost 300 per cent. So, too, as regards discounts and deposits in savings and chartered banks—the record is one of phenomenal progress.

In 1866, when the present Government assumed power, Canada's total imports amounted to $118,011,508.
For the twelve-month period ending June 30 last the imports amounted to $259,793,278. Our total exports in 1896 were $121,012,852; last year they totaled $258,171,674. The total trade of the country in the earlier period was therefore $239,625,360, as compared with $517,964,952.

Equally significant is the showing as to our trade with Great Britain.
In 1896 our total trade with the mother country amounted to $95,542,- 416, of which $32,824,505 represented imports for home consumption and $62,717,941 exports the produce of Canada and not including coin or bullion. Our total trade with Great Britain last year reached the impressive figure of $208,745,192, $98,901,819 imports and $119,843,374 exports.

Scarcely less marked has been Canada's railway development during the past eleven years. In 1896 there were 16,270 miles of railway in operation and the total number of tons carried was 24,266,825. Last year the mileage had grown to 22,462, and the tons carried to 63,866,132.

During the Laurier regime the expansion of business generally has been most marked in Canada, evidence of which is furnished by the monthly statements of discounts of the chartered banks. In 1896 discounts amounted to $224,507,301; last year they had increased to $629,970,696.

Further proof of the general prosperity is afforded by the savings of the people. In 1896 there was on deposit in the savings banks of Canada, including postoffice and Government savings banks, $61,259,151, and in chartered banks $183,769,992, or a total of $245,029,143; last year the total was $679,724,118, $90,264,229 of which was in savings banks and $589,459,889 in chartered banks.

In one particular, however, a decrease is shown, but it is a welcome
one. In the eleven-year period there has been a decided falling off in business failures. The total liabilities of failures in Canada in 1896 amounted to $16,230,460; in 1906-7 they had fallen to $11,691,397, and that, too, in face of an increase of about 300 per cent in trade.

With the immense expansion of trade, there has been a corresponding increase in revenue. In 1896 Canada's gross revenue was in round figures, $36,000,000; in 1906 it was $80,000,000, or considerably more than double. To that increase all the leading public services have contributed. Customs revenue has jumped from $19,000,000 in 1896 to $46,000,000 in 1906 (the former being collected at a cost of $14.7 for each hundred dollars, as compared with $3.35 per hundred for the latter); excise, from $8,000,000 (collected at a cost of 6 per cent), to $14,- 000,000 (collection cost 4 per cent);
postoffice, from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000, yielding a surplus of over $1,000,000
in place of deficits we were accustomed to under Conservative rule; Government railway and canals from $2,000,000 to over $8,000,000, while the revenue from Dominion land sales increased tenfold.

The remarkable development has necessarily been attended with increased expenditures, but the money has been wisely expended, the result being to vastly improve the national equipment. Better protection has been given the fisheries and there has been great improvement in agricultural organization. A wise immigration policy has had the effect of bringing in hundreds of thousands of settlers to take up homes in the fruitful West.

Our coasts are being thoroughly equipped with lighthouse and other protection services, and the great rivers with the most modern aids to navigation. Our ports are regularly visited by ships of the highest class, which carry our most perishable products without loss. Increased expenditures on the mounted police and militia has been the means of extending the reign of the law to vaster areas, and enabled us to undertake military responsibilities on two oceans and all over the Dominion in harmony with the growing national spirit. Last but by no means least, the Government has been enabled to pay, out of current revenue, for great public works in all parts of the country, including wharves, postoffices and other public buildings, instead of going into debt for them, as was the custom under the preceding administration. An idea of the advance in the country's equipment may be gained when it is stated that between July 1, 1896 and March 31, 1907, there was spent on lighthouse and coast service, ocean and river service and other public works, which are all for development, $150,528,000, the net debt in the same period being increased by only $5,174,- 000, as compared with an expenditure on the same services between 1896 and 1896 of $65,202,000, and an increase to the net public debt of $35,238,000.

WHITNEY'S CLAP-TRAP.

Sir John A. Macdonald was never a convinced federalist. He favored a legislative union of British North America, and accepted the federal plan because it was the only possible escape from an intolerable situation.
The American civil war he regarded as a warning against decentralization;
he feared that the greater the delegation of powers to the provinces the greater the centrifugal tendency. He was jealous of the rights conferred upon the provinces by the British North America act, and put the narrowest interpretation upon them in every instance. Against his centralizing policy Mowat was compelled to fight; and he won the battle of Provincial Rights for all time.

Upon this question there is now no division of opinion in Ontario. At one time the representatives of the Conservative party in the Legislature stood by Macdonald against Mowat.
Today the Legislature is a unit in defense of the principle for which Mowat contended. It is no more a party question; but Mr. Whitney has tried to make it appear so, and to place the Opposition in a false light.

What are the facts? A private bill has been introduced in the senate dealing with a matter which is within the purview of this Province. It is not a Government measure; it has not even yet come before the Government for consideration. But Mr. Whitney seizes on it as a pretext for a violent resolution, accusing the Federal Parliament of encroaching upon Provincial jurisdiction. A protest against the proposed legislation would be perfectly in order, and the leader of the Opposition moved an amendment to that effect, coupled with a vigorous affirmation of the readiness of the Legislature to assert and maintain the legislative and territorial sovereignty of the Province. The amendment meets the case adequately, but no!—Mr. Whitney would rather play the game of small politics. He loads his resolution with unwarranted abuse of the Federal Government, so as to make it impossible of acceptance by the Liberal members of the assembly.

This trickery will give every Conservative crossroads orator an excuse for shouting that the Liberal party is the enemy of Provincial Rights, the historic Liberal doctrine, which the Conservative party has so lately taken to its bosom. The whole intent of Mr. Whitney's resolution is partisan.

The good old Liberal doctrine of Provincial Rights will scarcely know its foster parents at Toronto.

Mr. Birrell has introduced an Irish union bill which is approved by both Balfour and Redmond. Oh, wonderful!

Some men would not be in public life but for the patronage system; but its elimination would give public life greater charms for the class of men
the country needs there.

Our local contemporary reproaches
Hon. A. G. MacKay for associating
Mr. Judd with a public executioner.
Our contemporary's touching regard for Mr. Judd's feelings must strike the latter as being rather belated.

Mr. Bennett, M. P., yesterday called
Mr. Paterson "a mighty poor specimen as a bluffer," and "weaker than dishwater or a jellyfish." This is a mighty good specimen of Billingsgate, in which line Mr. Bennett has no peers.

The Government of Alberta, following the lead of Manitoba, has bought out the Bell Telephone Company.
These young western provinces are willing to take long chances, and work out experiments for better or worse.
The Eastern provinces should keep an eye on these ventures and watch the results for examples to be followed or avoided.

The local management of the Grand Opera House has given the public the opportunity of choosing the play that Julia Marlowe will present in this city.
It is satisfactory to find that the most exclusive of Shakespeare's comedies,
"As You Like It," heads the poll, but one must despair of the many theatergoers who express a preference for the two commonplace, non-Shakespearean plays on the list. The class of people who would rather see Miss Marlowe in an obscure role than as Rosalind or Juliet are responsible for most of the rubbish offered by the modern stage.

THE MEAN PART.

[Judge.]
Phil O. Sopher—Don't worry, old man.
Chickens always come home to roost, you know.
Discouraged Friend—Yes, after they have laid their eggs in some other fellow's barn.

POINT OF VIEW.

[Life.]
His Wife—How does my new hat look?
Her Husband—Well, it looks like a week's salary to me, but it probably looks like 50 cents to any other man.

QUEER QUERIES.

[Penny Magazine.]
What is the germ of a German band?
What causes the pork as we eat?
Can a meadow lark about on the land?
Who knows what the crosscut saw?

Does a window ever feel a pane
At the sight of a hard mill race?
While the fish balls out with might and main,
And the boot tongue wags apace?

Who does the tree bow down to, pray?
Can you mend with glue the break of a day?
Does a railway sleeper snore?

Is cloth sold cheap at a cutter's stall?
Can you drive a starboard tack?
Are bucket shop keepers always pale?
Can you call a pet boot Jack?

HAS GIVEN AWAY 1,200 BRIDES.

[London (England) Standard.]
E. J. Lippson, parish clerk of Yarmouth, who has completed 44 years' service, has attended 1,200 weddings at that parish church, and has been absent from church only three times out of nearly 2,300 Sundays. He has given away more than 1,200 brides.

NATURALLY.

[Exchange.]
Barber—You have a large gash under your nose.
Patron—That's my mouth.

DIDN'T PASS.

[Harper's Weekly.]
Theresa (chanting)—Hello, Leo! I've been chasing a nice, tender little antelope for an hour or more. Did it pass by here?
Lion (licking his chops contentedly)—
No, it didn't pass by here.

ROOM FOR THE INVENTOR.

[New York Post.]
Knicker—We need a bottle that can't be refilled.
Bocker—And an auto that the chauffeur can't take his friends out in.

MIXED ON MILES.

[London (England) Chronicle.]
In comparing the Lusitania's speed with that of a railway train, it is necessary to remember that her "miles" are nautical miles, while the train's are statute miles. The confusion between different kinds of miles is apt to be much greater for the English tourist in Germany or Austria, who has incautiously spoken of "miles" instead of "kilometers," than the "miles" of the country is nearly five times as great as what he means by it. The "old London mile" was just 5,000 feet. On the other hand, until 1906 the northwest of England and Wales had a mile equal to about a Roman mile and a half. And all these miles go back to the Roman "mille passuum," a thousand paces, which is estimated to have been of 4,854 feet.

IN THE SMART SET.

[London Opinion.]
Mrs. Newrick—Don't you think William,
now we are getting into the smart set,
that we should have a coat of arms?
Mr. N.—Certainly, my dear. I'll see my tailor about it tomorrow.

RAGTIME AIRS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
Two lovers sat upon a bench and held each other in their arms of blue, she listened to the band;
Sweet, lumpy notes of music were a-sounding through the air;
They played the works of masters old,
those works without compare.
She heard the overture from "Till," and then she turned away, and
And to her lover by her side these words
she loud did say:

Chorus.
"Why don't they play them rag-time songs, then times we all do know?
They classics they're playing now were dead long years ago.
Why don't they play them lively airs
they play in every house?
Who cares for Wagner nowadays, for Shaban or for Strauss?
Them classics have had their day,
they're beaten to the flag.
They ought to play them lively tunes,
and give us lots of rag."

She sighed for George Cohen's songs, she longed so much to hear him sing.
The strains of "How'll You Pay the Rent
When I'm no Longer Near?"
She fumbled at her belt and then she reached for her handkerchief.
She wondered if the band would play
"The Bird on Nellie's Hat."
She stretched her chewing gum awhile, and then she turned away, and
And to her lover by her side these words
she loud did say:

PLANS INVASION OF THE SLUMS

Bishop of London Will Lead a Mighty Band of Christian Workers.

London, March 31.—The Bishop of London, the Right Rev. A. F. Winning-ton-Ingram, who, following his Wall street experience, created a sensation in the city recently by preaching a sermon to businessmen in the heart of commercial London—namely, at St.
Michael's, Cornhill—intends to follow up his success by organizing a monster religious demonstration in the slums of Westminster.

Some of the worst slums have been destroyed by the magic of the modern builder of apartment-houses, but there still remains an area which is considered by sociologists to be far worse in the way of morals and sanitation than any spot in the East End of London.

Through these squalid streets the Bishop of London will march at the head of a great Church of England procession on Saturday, April 5. The procession, with banners and mottoes, will wind in and out of mean alleys and courts, and will be accompanied by choir singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," and finally a midnight service will be held at an ancient church known as St. James the Less.

The popular bishop has scores of "workers" mostly women of good position, spending their entire days trying to better the conditions of those who live in Westminster slums. One of the most ardent helpers is the Hon.
Mrs. Robert Littleton, a daughter of the great singer, Sir Charles Santley.

SUDDEN DEATH OF

The People's Press of Welland, Ont., says:

There passed away at St. Johns, on Sunday evening, March 22, one of the old and well-known residents of Thorold Township, in the person of Wellington Price Robins. He was born in Crowland Township, June 23, 1830, and had lived all his life in Welland County. His wife, also a native of Welland County, born in Pelham, predeceased him only six weeks.

Some three years ago the old couple celebrated their golden wedding, and so, after fifty-three years of married life, Mr. Robins felt keenly his loss.
While visibly failing, since his wife's death, he was ill only a few days,
and his death was quite sudden.

The funeral service was held in St. John's Methodist Church, on Wednesday, March 25, and the interment took place at Fonthill.

She would never give in, however. Never! Let him do what he would, treat her as he would, kill her if he would. She would never give in! That was her first unalterable, irrevocable resolve. Death before surrender.

Another resolve followed. She would never cease to hope, never allow herself to believe that heaven would desert her and permit this man to triumph in his infamous persecution. Lies, cunning, treachery, and force might gain the upper hand for a time; they had given him success so far, but in the end they would fail him.

It was true that her plight was well nigh desperate, that she was in his power, and that she could see no opening in the dark gloom which had overwhelmed her. But the light would come, and a way of escape from his persecution be found.

She had been in even a worse plight and yet had escaped. In the awful journey to Sheffield it had appeared impossible that she could escape death but at the last moment the opening had been found, and she had lived to see the wretch who had threatened her condemned to death by his own associates.

She had put her trust in Providence, and in this mood of devout reliance upon the divine will, she fell on her knees and craved forgiveness for the weakness which had led her ever to despair, and prayed for strength and patience to await with calmness and fortitude the hour of her delivery.

Refreshed and invigorated by this, she examined the books which had been given to her. Like the rest of the things in the house, they had been recently bought. There was a Bible for which she was intensely grateful—a copy of the "Pilgrim's Progress."

PARTMENT,
LONDON, ONT.

her dress to stop her. But Olive presented that without any difficulty, and pushed her away. "You cannot stop me," she said. The reply was another oath and another rush at her. This time using more force, Olive thrust her away, and she staggered back unsteadily and fell. The door was open, and Olive ran to the front door. But as she laid her hand on the lock, she started with a little cry of dismay at a sound which reached her from the outside. Rattling, however, she threw open the door to fly.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

Marriage.

The instant Olive had opened the door she saw that the attempt to escape was hopeless. As the sound of the horn had warned her, a motor car was close to the house with Merridew in it.

As she stood a moment, hesitating whether still to risk flight, the woman rushed up from behind, seized her, and dragged her back into the passage.

Pushing her off again, Olive accepted defeat, and returned to her own room. If Merridew had not seen her, it would clearly be more prudent that she should not know of the attempt. She had satisfied herself that no one was in the house except the woman; and if he knew she had so nearly got away, he would be certain to have her more closely guarded in the future.

Mrs. Tisley followed her up the stairs, swearing freely, and vowing vengeance; and as she was locking the door, Olive warned her not to tell Merridew.

But he had not failed to notice what had occurred; and the moment he entered the house, Olive heard him rating her in stern, angry tones on account of it. Then Olive was fetched down; and his first words showed her that the attempt was likely to cost her dear.

"So I arrived just in time, it seems," he said, without any preface of assumed politeness. "You very nearly succeeded in making your escape, thanks to this blundering fool's drunkenness. This has got you to cease, and you had better know it at once. I am taking no more risks of that sort."

"And that means—what?" asked Olive, meeting his angry look firmly. "I came down to ask you to let our marriage take place. But after this, I tell you that it must. Understand that."

"You have already had my answer several times. I shall give no other."

"I dare say you would stop on here on the chance of repeating more successfully the attempt that has just failed. But you've opened my eyes in time. I meant to get the marriage over, and then let you go at once; as I told you before. Now, I take that back. I have obtained the necessary license, and have permission to have the ceremony take place here in this house; and take place it shall. I shall remain here until it is done."

Olive made no attempt to reply. "You've got the best of this old fool, and I won't trust a man in the place for fear you'd wheedle round him. I shall stay here, therefore; and shall send at once for the clergyman who will marry us. He will be here to-morrow. Now you can go back to your room and make up your mind to do it. I'll have no more of this sort of fooling. And mind, if you still refuse, the thing will be done all the same; but the results to you will not be pleasant."

Without a word Olive returned to her room, and Merridew himself followed and locked and bolted the door upon her. Not for an instant did Olive waver in her set resolve to refuse. She was not altogether sorry, indeed, that the crisis had come. She had entirely recovered her strength, and had maintained her health and spirits, despite the confinement in the one small room. The trouble would certainly have to be faced some time; and she would as soon face it at once as later. In that mood she set about her usual evening tasks, her mind fully made up, and her resolve as strong as ever.

The next day found her just the same. Mrs. Tisley brought her meals as usual; but there was an obvious change in her manner. She was now talkative and abusive. She declared that Olive had ruined her, and that she would have her revenge in some way. This was at breakfast time; and when she brought up the dinner it was clear she had been brooding over her grievances as well as seeking comfort again in the bottle.

Olive told her at last to leave the room; and, angered at this, the woman darted forward, and tried to strike her. There was a struggle between them, in which Olive found that she was much the stronger of the two, and she had all but overpowered her, when Merridew entered, attracted by the noise.

He sent the woman downstairs, and when Olive explained what had occurred, he sneered, and told her it served her right for having made an enemy of the other, and that the time might soon come when she would have bitter cause to repent what she had done.

That evening, as Merridew had said, the clergyman arrived, and was brought up to her room. Olive had nourished the secret hope that he would prove a friend, and would take her side. But the moment she saw him, the hope died.

He was one of those degraded scoundrels, some few of whom are to be found in the ranks of the clergy, who disgrace not only the cloth they wear, but the very name of manhood. A drunken, dissipated, worthless rascal, who was seemingly in Merry's power, and who cringed to him, and fawned on him with a subservience that was as disgusting to witness as it was likely to prove dangerous to Olive.

He had been properly coached as to what to believe, and as to what to say to Olive; and he smirked and simpered vacuously, as he fixed his bleary, drink-watery eyes on her, rubbing his hands over and over while he mumbled out some fatuous and insane congratulations.

"What do you mean, sir?" asked Olive, indignantly, in low disgust. "Of course—this is little, insignificant occasion," he mumbled thickly, dropping his eyes before her steady gaze.

PIMPLES

ALTHOUGH, NOT A DANGEROUS DISEASE, ARE A VERY TROUBLESOME AND UNSIGHTLY AFFLICTION . . .

They are caused by either poverty or impurity of the blood and require the prompt use of a good blood medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters, for their eradication, which it speedily accomplishes, at the same time strengthening the entire system. Pimples also often arise from dyspepsia and constipation, and in these cases Burdock Blood Bitters has the double effect of removing the pimples together with their cause.

Mr. D. P. Sammon, Osceola, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with pimples all over my face and hands. I paid out money to doctors but they could do me no good. A friend convinced me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using two bottles the pimples vanished, and I have not been troubled with them since."

Burdock Blood Bitters may be procured at all Druggists and Dealers.

at the Hotel Metropole on Tuesday that, as the local authorities spent $140,000 a year mainly on building construction, the work might be better allocated and unemployed men be reduced. They had too many local authorities in England and Wales. There were 25,000 such authorities.

ELEPHANT GRABS CHILD

Thought Little Girl Would Steal a Peanut.

Atlanta, Ga., March 31. — Enraged because she thought little Amy Chestnut was trying to take a peanut which had been thrown to her, Lady Maud, the big elephant at the Atlanta Zoo, seized the child and would have dashed her to the ground had not the little one's father prevented it.

A great crowd was about the elephant, which was staked on a grass plat, and a lady began to toss peanuts to the beast. One of the peanuts fell some distance from the elephant, and little Amy Chestnut, six years old, holding the hand of her father, reached to pick it up, thinking to throw it within reach of the slowly traveling trunk.

Seized with the idea that the child was about to take the peanut away from her, the elephant, with a sudden swish of the trunk, grasped the child and began to hoist her in the air. The child screamed and a tug of war ensued between father and elephant.

Fortunately the child was robed in a loose garment, and this was pulled off by the elephant, leaving the child almost nude and badly bruised, with the father. The elephant was in a vicious mood, and savagely threw the child's dress to the ground. Then she trumpeted and charged the length of the tether at the crowd. It was some time before the keepers dared to approach the beast.

TRY AGAIN FOR HEALTH

THE DANGEROUS WEAKNESS THAT FOLLOWS SHOULD BE CURED NOW.

One of the oldest physicians, after closely studying spring tiredness, says it seems to seek out the same victims year after year, and if the disorder is once contracted one is very prone to contract it again.

The symptoms are common—turn against your food, ache in back and limbs, nervous and often melancholy, dyspeptic and languid.

"I had all the symptoms," writes Mrs. Eva E. Clarkson, well known in Chester. "I was discouraged, blue, felt too poorly to bother with medicine. But I tried again for health. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The very sight of food used to turn me sick, now I eat and digest like a growing child. I used to feel bloodless and starved, now I am well-nourished and gaining in flesh. My face was haggard, dull eyes, dark circles; now I am animated, have pink cheeks, bright clear eyes. A feeling of buoyancy and good spirits that displaced the awful tired, drowsy, melancholy that came on, and always with splitting headaches, too. I hope my letter will induce others to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—such a good, honest tonic should be in every home, both for children and parents' use."

You have a woman's work to do in life, you have only a woman's delicate organism to do it with. You'll be vastly assisted with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, because they are good for women just as they are good for men and children too. 25c at all dealers.

ATTELL GIVING AWAY WEIGHT FIGHTS BATTLER A DRAW

Champion Featherweight of America Keeps Off the More Rugged Nelson for Nine Rounds, Handing Out Terrific Punishment—Both Dissatisfied With Decision.

San Francisco, April 1.—With a disadvantage of at least eight pounds against him, Abe Attell, champion featherweight of America, last night fought Battler Nelson, of Chicago, to a fifteen-round draw.

Attell had the advantage of all the earlier rounds. He matched his superior skill against the rugged and sturdier man and by outgeneraling his opponent in this manner had fair to earn a clear-cut decision. Nelson, however, forced the pace throughout, all the while seeking to force Attell into close quarters. The turning point came in the ninth round, after which, Nelson, who had been taking his punishment without a whimper, finally succeeded in getting past Attell's heretofore impenetrable guard, and worried his man to the end.

Both of the men were dissatisfied with the decision. Nelson was down to 131, and Attell weighed about 124 pounds.

KETCHELL LOOKS GOOD

Michigan Boxer Considered To Be the Coming Middleweight Champion.

New York, March 31.—Stanley Ketchell, the "Montana Catapult," is looked upon by fight experts as the coming middleweight champion of the world. Ketchell is now after a match with Bill Papke, the "Illinois Thunderbolt," to decide the championship in the middleweight class. The men have been offered a purse to fight before a club in Milwaukee, but Ketchell has refused the fight on the ground that a ten-round contest is not long enough to decide a world's championship. Inasmuch as the law does not allow fights of longer duration than ten rounds in Milwaukee, Ketchell is justified in his refusal to consider the match.

Jimmy Coffroth, of San Francisco, has made a bid for a battle between Ketchell and Papke which Ketchell is anxious to accept, but Papke is holding out for the ten-round contest in Milwaukee.

PULLIAM GIVES CUP

Names Baseball Trophy After Great Hans Wagner.

New York, April 1.—I consider Hans Wagner the greatest baseball player yet produced in the professional leagues, and I wish to perpetuate his name in the form of a cup," says Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National League, in presenting a trophy to be competed for by the Interborough Baseball League, a local organization. President Pulliam gives the trophy, known as the "Hans Wagner Cup," to be won three seasons in succession before it becomes the property of any individual team. The Interborough League, composed of eight teams from the four large suburbs of the city, will open its season on Decoration Day.

FENCE VAULT "HEX" FEATURE

Three Juniors Carry Off 100 Points by Clearing 5 Feet 8 Inches.

The feature of the inaugural Junior Hexathlon at the Y. M. C. A. last night was the fence vault, an entirely new institution with the youngsters. No less than three of the kiddies succeeded in getting the maximum number of points, 100, in this event by clearing the bar at 5 feet 8 inches, some surprise of the evening was provided by the smallest of the youngsters, although he is one of the smallest boys at the "Y," succeeded in staying with his larger opponents almost to the finish. The little fellow cleared the bar at 5 feet 8 inches, but went down when he was raised another inch. His showing must be said to have been most remarkable, for some of his competitors were a foot higher in stature. Renton also did very well in the high jump, which was won by Hamilton, scratch, but in the vault proved too much for the boy and he dropped off without getting up among the top-notchers.

The potato race was fast and the kiddies scored a large number of points for the local "Y" in this event. Nearly thirty boys competed in the various events, and owing to the large entry list it was found impossible to complete the programme last night. The remainder of the contests will be run off on Saturday night.

The gallery was completely filled with spectators and a lively interest was taken in the performances of the little athletes.

ADVOCATES ATHLETICS FOR CONTROLLING TURF.

"The athletic field," says David Fultz, former star football and baseball player at Brown University, former professional baseball player and now practicing law in New York, "is the best place in the world for a man to learn to discipline himself." Mr. Fultz believes in sports as much for the mental and moral benefit to be had from them as for the physical benefits. Fultz was a capable and versatile athlete, and, being of a religious turn of mind, he has been in a good position to study the effect of sports on the morals and of the morals on sports.

"I have always contended," Fultz continued, "that athletic competitions, from the very fact that they put it up to a man not to lose control of himself, make the most effective source of discipline for him. I know that when I first began to take part in college sports I had a good deal of a temper, and that it sometimes got the better of me. It did not take me long, however, to learn that the world would not get along with me and be respected by my associates, and if I were to succeed on the athletic field, unless one is to be a mucker in sports he must learn to control his temper, and his feelings, and that is one good moral effect that sports have."

THE TURF.

LUKEMAN CREDITED WITH WORLD'S RECORD

Montreal Sprinter Given 6 1-5 for the Indoor 60-Yard Sprint.

Montreal, April 1.—Frank Lukeman, the M. A. A. sprinter, broke the world's indoor record for the 60-yard dash at the closing display of the M. A. A. A. gymnasium classes at the Arena last evening. Lukeman was timed for the final of the 60 yards in 6 1-5 seconds. In the preliminary heat Lukeman was caught in 6 seconds, but the time was not allowed owing to a technical irregularity. The race was run on a board track through the center of the arena.

News of Lukeman's 60-yard world's record of 6 1-5 is received with incredulity here. The old record was 6 3-5, made by L. E. Meyers, of New York, in 1882, and equaled since in 1899 by Tewkesberry and W. D. Eaton and Delgado in 1901.

Cut Out Water Says Trainer

Little Rock, Ark., April 1.—"If baseball players would stop drinking so much water during a game they would be much faster and much better off," says Harry Tutthill. "Drinking water the way they do should have been stopped long ago. All baseball men are now aiming for speed. That is all they seem to think of, and yet they permit the steady drinking of water which retards speed more than any other thing."

"I've seen players in the middle of a game on a hot day just about water-logged. They argue that they sweat it right out, but they don't. They drink it so steadily they can't. It makes them heavy and 'loggy.' Cut out water in such large quantities and baseball will be a faster game."

SPORTING GOSSIP BY SOUTHPAW.

WHAT A SPLENDID IDEA it is to give a youngster an athletic education in addition to his schooling! The writer dropped into the local Y. M. C. A. building last night and witnessed the kiddies go through the Hexathlon and the way the youngsters went to it was a revelation. Many of the little fellows jumped higher and ran faster than could the average adult. The boys go into the sport with a vim that speaks well for their clever brains. A year ago there were no local junior Hexathlon events. Now, there are a host of clever little athletes at the "Y," who later on will keep the Y. M. C. A. athletic marks hovering near the top at all stages.

ONE MONTH MORE and the local ball tossers will begin working the rust off winter joints at old Tecumseh Park. London fans are talking little but baseball these days, and the advent of the training season will be welcomed.

SPEAKING OF GIVING LOCAL BALL PLAYERS a chance to make good, a local fan asks, "How about Costello?" Leo was about the neatest diamond artist that has appeared on a local field in many a day. He was there with the whip, had his lamps on the ball bat, and could field 'em like a junior Hans Wagner.

DOWN IN GUELPH everybody has gone completely daft over the prospect of having an international baseball team. Recently a fan there went to ratty as to imagine he was a spring poet, with the result that he ground out a bunch of doggerel about a yard long. Local board of health regulations are so strict to allow the publishing of the same.

INDIAN WILL BE THERE ALL RIGHT

Toronto, April 1.—A concrete example of the Indian's peculiarity is being given by Tom Longboat, in connection with the R.C.B.C. big meet at Riverdale Arena Friday night. Longboat and Percy C. Selten, the five-mile record holder, are matched to meet George Adams, the ten-mile record holder, and W. F. Cumming, the indoor champion, in a two-mile relay, as a special attraction. Longboat, who was sent away to the reserve three weeks ago, told Tom Flanagan he would be here to run, but up to date he has not put in an appearance, and today Longboat wrote that he would be in town "soon" whenever that is. The race will be put on all right. Selten, Cumming and Adams worked out in particularly good form, and says that even if the Indian is not fit for a hand he will give him a start enough on Cumming to make the Scotchman step to get him in the distance. Adams only grins at Selten's conceit, and says that the Indian will be lucky if he doesn't have 20 or 30 yards to gain back on his relay. Adams is not an indoor runner, but he took kindly to the track yesterday.

The court of appeal at Lishon, Portugal, has decided that the hawking of Protestant Bibles for sale in the streets does not constitute the crime of disrespect to the state religion.

BROKE A DIGIT IN GREAT GAME

How the Wood Boys Helped in Great Contest Between Clippers and Toronto.

Dr. Fred Wood, the well-known local horseman, and his brother, Dr. Jeff Wood, the crack lawn bowler and all-around sportsman, can lay claim to being among the best known of local veteran ball tossers.

The former carries a mark of his prowess on the diamond of the "good old days" in the form of a broken digit, and with it there goes a story.

The two gentlemen named, as well as Dr. Peter Wood, of Hamilton, a brother, were all members of the famous Clippers, who made themselves famous 'way back in the eighties. Perhaps the most noteworthy game in which the Clippers participated was the one with Toronto in October, 1884. The Hamilton Spectator of Oct. 6 in that year gave an extended account of the game, and said in part as follows: "Toronto fully sustained its well-earned reputation for being the crookiest sporting town in America in the game between the Clippers and Toronto on Saturday. No matter how mean or how small a thing may be, nothing is too mean, too small or too contemptible for Toronto. In fact, the meaner it is the better Toronto seems to like it. And the city of crooks always comes to the front and does its wicked best to keep up its unenviable notoriety."

Tried "Ringers." The Torontos attempted to use Buffington (who died in the United States about two weeks ago) and Hackett, the famous Boston battery, but they were not allowed to do so. The story continues:

Refused To Play. When the discovery came in Toronto, Andrus, the Toronto's captain, their manager, and Jeffers wanted to go right on and play, but the Clippers wouldn't have it. They couldn't see the point. "Put on your regular team," they said, "and we'll play you. But we won't play with Buffington and Hackett on the field."

Dyson, the umpire, had called the game at 3:30, but no game would the Clippers play with the bean-eaters. Purvis, the Guelph catcher, who, together with Andrus and Connors the Torontos had rung in in a series in which it was agreed only local men should play, had been wandering around with his right hand done up in rags, sections of a kid glove, and a sling.

Needed Gate. "What are you going to do with all these people?" asked the Toronto manager. His voice was wild, his face white, and the perspiration stood out in drops.

"Give them back their money," said Fred. "We won't lose anything." Some of the Clippers began to put their clothes on. "Hold on," shouted Toronto, in agony. "Let's see if this thing can't be arranged." After three quarters of an hour of kicking, the matter was arranged. Purvis' hand got well with paralyzing rapidity. He found, however, that Toronto's discovered the Clippers were inexorable with regard to the Boston bean-eaters, that his hand was all right again; astonishing how these little matters do adjust themselves in cases of necessity. Shortly after 4 o'clock the game was called and resulted in a six when the Toronto boys went in for their seventh inning.

Two men got out, and one man reached home. The ball was almost invisible in the gathering dusk. To the spectators it was quite invisible. Macklin was at bat. Pete Wood sent in a high one. Fred Wood reached up for it, and the ball caught him on the index finger of the right hand, knocking it out of joint. The umpire called time, and Fred's finger was attended to. But it grew dark so quickly that after waiting a few minutes it was seen that it would be impossible to play more, and as the game went by the last inning, and as that was a tie, the contest was declared a draw, with all bets off.

COBB LAYS OFF

Georgian Could Not Stand Northern Weather When He Signed Contract.

Little Rock, Ark., April 1.—Ty Cobb is unable to attend practice with the Tigers this morning, owing to the heavy cold which threatens to lay him up. Ty caught it going north to sign his contract.

Davy Jones is also on the sick list again, but continued work at the park. These two are the only invalids now. Ed Killian's bad hip has completely recovered.

TWENTY-THREE GUILTY

Violators of Anti-Gambling Law at Condon's Track Punished.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 31.—Twenty-three cases of alleged violation of the anti-race track gambling laws returned in court against John Condon's Oakland track a year ago were dismissed today. The circuit court by reducing the charge to "maintaining a nuisance." The defendants pleaded guilty to 12 charges and were fined $10 for each offense.

L. A. Celia, John Condon, H. O. Price and Dan Stuart were named as defendants. The arrests were made when the race track continued in operation after the enactment of the anti-betting laws.

DECIDED IT BEST TO ARBITRATE

Charles O'Leary Tells How Players Almost Fought a Duel.

Little Rock, Ark., April 1.—"Baseball gentlemen never amount to much," says Charles O'Leary. "I've never seen the man who announces that he is going to hit somebody ever really do it. When a guy hikes around telling folks what he is going to do to somebody, take it for granted that he won't do a thing."

All of which was Charles's method for leading up to a story. The crowd waited for him to continue. He went on:

Into an Argument. "Bud Thiel, who is now playing with the Little Rock club, and Jack Law got into an argument on the ball field in Des Moines. I continued all season, and even into the winter, when they met in Minneapolis. One would tell his friends what he was going to do to the other for an entire evening. Finally they met face to face. 'We won't fight here,' they agreed; 'we'll meet somewhere tonight and fight it out.'"

Asked to Referee. "That night I was called up, and asked to referee a duel. I declined, but went over to see what the trouble was. They met in an old barn, both of them with their coats off and ready for a wicked fight to all appearances, yet neither made any advances. 'Why don't you start something?' said Law, doubling up his fists.

Knife Two Feet Long. "Thiel pulled out a knife about two feet long from his pocket, ticked the edge of it, eyed Law coolly, and remarked: 'Why don't you start something yourself?'

"Al right," said Law, and he pulled out a junior gaiting gun from his hip-pocket. "Thiel looked at the gun a while, looked at his long knife, then cast a nervous look at the crowd. 'Let's arbitrate this thing,' he said."

SCHEDULE MEETING

Eastern League Will Meet in New York on April 6.

Toronto, April 1.—The Eastern League schedule meeting will be held in New York at the Victoria Hotel on April 6. President McCaffery was informed this morning that the meeting would be held on that date, and the only thing that he had to say was "that it was pretty nearly time." At the meeting the amendments proposed by Mr. Chapin, of Rochester, in regard to the passes for ladies and their limitation on other days.

BILL GLEASON SIGNED BY PAIGE

Hamilton Times: Manager Paige, of the Hamilton Baseball Club, says that Bill Gleason, who has been signed by him for the coming season, pitched for three years for the famous Dartmouth College nine and was looked upon as one of the best college ball tossers in the east. For two seasons he pitched in the New York-Vermont League, a league made up practically of college men playing very fast ball. Gleason won the majority of his games. Last season Gleason was with the Bangor, Maine, Club, champions of the Maine State League. He pitched 24 games and won 18. In six of the games he shut out the opposing team.

Gleason is 26 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. He is now working out in the south and recently pitched a game of 12 innings against the famous York City, Young, of Boston. It has been decided by Manager Paige to have the players signed report here May 4 for practice. Exhibition games will be played before the league season opens on May 20.

THE PRISON EDITOR.

There is a prison editor on every newspaper staff in Japan, whose duties consist in going to jail and standing trial for an offense committed by the journal. This representative of some of the most independent papers spends a large portion of his time in prison, either awaiting the hearing of his case or in serving out the term of his sentence. Even when out of the toils, he has no editorial duties to perform. His salary is larger than that of most of his colleagues, and his position is in demand. He enjoys the notorious title of editor-in-chief, and when he is behind the bars the actual editor is classed by the journal in question as merely a contributor. Everybody, including the authorities, is fully aware of the subterfuge, but nevertheless, the trial proceeds of the imprisoned editorial dummy, who perhaps is incapable of writing a news paragraph.

BREEZY BITS OF SPORTING GOSSIP

Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps, is a facetious youngster. Listen to this: "I may not have been in the business as long as old Harry Bay or Bill Bradley, but just the same my fame is such that they have a team in the Southern League named after me."

Reports from the south state that a familiar story about the poolrooms is Lajoie and S. All as partners against two of the other players. The dove of peace has evidently got in some deadly work.

Manager Lajoie and his Clevelanders have been steering clear of the usual hoodoo this year. The big Frenchman said Saturday: "As far as I am concerned, the season could start tomorrow. I am in better shape than I have been for many a spring."

"Lefty" Davis, the former Pirate and Red, is still holding out and St. Paul fans do not expect him to play with the Saints this year. He was expected to hold down center garden.

Columbus fans are having some early baseball for that neck of the woods. Saturday and Sunday their American Association champions played Connie Mack's Athletics.

Pittsburg has a tall bunch of ballers this season. Nine of the 25 members of the squad are over six feet tall.

Free shaves for the entire season is the inducement hung up by a Columbus touring artist for the first home run made during the A. A. season.

Isn't it about time for Harry Pulliam to announce the spring styles?

Here's a new one. A gigantic Pole named Cyganiewicz Zbyssow of London is after Hackenschmidt for the world's wrestling title. Sounds like a buzz saw working overtime.

One of the curiosities of major league baseball has passed into history. Silent John Titus of the Phillies has been shorn of his mustache. But there still remains "Rube" Waddell and "Bugs" Raymond.

A Cleveland paper prints a Clarkesonian opinion of the world's greatest baseball player. Fred of Pittsburg says: "Wagner." And Brother Josh says: "Lajoie." But then Josh only arrived from Toledo recently.

Reports say Pittsburg is liable to lose Abby, who may decide to give his entire attention to his hotel business in Latrobe. If this keeps on the one-time champion Pirates will soon be but a name. Be optimistic, however.

CUP CAME EASY

Handed to Toronto Athletics Without Being Completed For.

Toronto, March 31.—The Toronto Canoe Club today received from the Tacoma Canoe Club, of Detroit, the Detroit Free Press cup, an international challenge emblem for single blade fouls, without having raced for it.

The Tacoma won the cup, and in 1906 the Torontos challenged for it. The Tacoma replied that they had no crew to defend it, and offered to send the cup. The Torontos, however, said they would wait for a year, and race for the cup.

Last year the Torontos again challenged, and again the Tacoma was ready to defend it against any United States four at their regatta this summer.

One of the greatest markets in the world for world instruments is South Africa, which spends on an average $1,000,000 a year, about $500,000 of which goes into pianos.

GLAD HAND TO "GLAD."

Speaking of Glad Graney, the St. Thomas boy, the Sporting News says: "The Nap's pitchers appear to be in good shape, particularly the new men, and young Gladstone Graney especially. This youth, who was turned loose a year ago by Frank Chance without a trial, has been the sensation of the training trip. When he reported in Cleveland, he did not look big enough to hold down a major league job. But appearances are very deceitful, for Graney strips as big as either 'Dusty' Rhoades or Jake Thielman and weighs ten pounds more than Walter Clarkson. He is such a man as Willie Sudhoff, short but powerful. He has one of the best curve balls that I ever saw and the jump to his fast ball is a peach. In his first game he struck out eight men in four innings, and a few days later he struck out five of the Nap, regulars in three innings. He made a monkey of 'Nig' Clarke, fanning him twice. He can also field his position well, watches the bases splendidly, and can bat quite a few.

LACROSSE.

The Brantford Expositor says that Whitehead and Durkin, of the Tecumseh had been dickering with Roy Brown for a place in the Brantford team, and characterized their action as an attempt to use the C. L. A. as a lever to boost their N. L. A. salaries.

JUMPS INTO BASEBALL.

Essex has organized a baseball team with Dr. J. W. Brine president, and A. H. Scarff secretary, and will probably enter the league to be formed by Kingsville, Leamington, Ruthven and others of the county.

SHORT TRAINING SEASON.

TIGERS WORK HARD

Crawled Off to Bed As Soon As Supper Had Been Disposed Of.

Little Rock, Ark., April 1.—The Tigers were put through another grind yesterday, so hard that most of them crawled to bed as soon as they had eaten their supper. Jennings is bound to make up for lost time, and as he always leads them in the work, there is no kicking on the extra practice.

Say, Crawford arrived yesterday afternoon and put the first time this year the championship team was intact. With Cobb in right, Crawford in center and McIntyre in left, the Tigers will take the field tomorrow afternoon against the Little Rock club. The young pitchers will be worked.

Jennings picked his Yarnigan team this afternoon. It will be captained by Schmidt. It will be: Willett, Suggs, Malloy, Sterger, Jones, Cockill, Downs, Killifer and Drake.

DOING BETTER.

"I shall use exactly the same policy in dealing with the umpires this year that I did last," said the league president. "When I believe that they are right they shall have my hearty support. As a matter of fact, I do not know that there is any necessity for apprehension on the umpire question. I am inclined to believe that the professional players are doing better than they did four or five years ago."

PERMANENT CAMPS.

It is now becoming a fad among major league ball teams to have permanent training camps. The Pittsburg Stars started this fashion by going to Hot Springs for the past few seasons. The White Sox it is said have annexed Los Angeles as a permanent place for the removal of winter kinks. The Highlanders have staked a claim at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and the Tigers have arranged for a regular trip to Little Rock. The Cubs have gone to West Baden for the last two or three years, and there is a chance Vicksburg may become a regular stop on Charley Murphy's railroad map.

HANK O'DAY.

THE QUIET LIFE.

Jack Piester, of the Cubs, evidently does not believe in publicity. Jack has beaten all the holdout records of Ty Cobb, Tommy Leach, Elmer Flick, Nig Clarke and others, and not a word was said about it until a week ago. The soup-pas has not signed a contract for the coming season and has missed the chance of his life to have columns printed about his retirement, great business opportunity, and hundreds of other things which happen to the ball player who cannot agree on terms with his boss. Jack has been so quiet about his refusal to sign that he did not get his picture published until last week. Better luck next time, old boy!

Lady Tenders Bouquet To Mr. Weir Thinks Truant Officer Too "Busy"

Warns That Official To Not Meddle in Matters Where He Isn't Wanted.

Mrs. Ada Corbin, of West London, who was declared by Truant Officer Weir, to be in dire distress, counters heavily on Mr. Weir in a letter to the press. She says amongst other things:

"Allow me to state my true circumstances. My children are as strong and healthy a lot of children as anyone could wish to see. I am sending you a photo of them which will speak for itself. All this while they have had plenty to eat, warm clothing and the fire was never allowed to go out. Never in my life have I heard my children 'cry for bread.' I am also sending you a photo of the 'frail' eldest daughter. She is a strong, healthy girl, and quite as capable of working as the hundreds of other girls in this city who perform the same class of work as she does. I myself have had steady work all winter and sometimes there has been as much as $2 a day coming into my house, and we have had all the necessities and some of the comforts of life. Not once this winter have any of my children been kept out of school for lack of sufficient clothing. The four who are of school age have attended with fair regularity. The second eldest girl, who is between 14 and 15, stays at home to look after the younger children, while I am at work. They all attend the Sunday school of the West London Anglican Church, as the rector can testify.

"I have not asked for any assistance this winter, for the simple reason that I have not needed any. Had I needed any, I would have applied to Mr. Sanders, of the Children's Aid Society, for it, and in any case, had I been in such destitute circumstances as Mr. Weir represents, I have a brother to whom I could have gone. This statement that I said Mr. Sanders knew that I was in need and had not done anything for me, is entirely incorrect. I never made such a statement. We have not been in need, and as far as my knowledge goes, Mr. Sanders has not known anything about my circumstances for over a year.

"I want to know what right Mr. Weir or anybody else has to bring me before the public as he has done under the circumstances? Suppose I abused myself in Mr. Weir's affairs without his consent and against his will, would he like it any better than I do? Because I work to support my family, and my daughter works for her living, must we be treated as having no rights? And must we be subject to the curious spying of anyone who thinks they must busy themselves at charitable work, and must whether or not find a subject? I refuse to be that subject, and give Mr. Weir and all his kind notice not to busy themselves further in my affairs. Thanking you for your valuable space, I am, yours truly, ADA CORBIN.

D. D. G. M. Visits St. John's Lodge

The visit of the D. D. G. M. Wor. Bro. E. E. Kilmer, of Aylmer, to St. John's Lodge, No. 20, A. F. and A. M., last night, was indeed the cause of one of the most successful celebrations of the kind ever held in this city. There were fully 600 Masons present, among them being about 175 from St. Thomas and surrounding district. Between 200 and 300 were unable to gain admittance to the banquet room after the degree work had been put on.

It was the largest meeting of the kind ever held by the Masonic craft in London.

After the degree work had been exemplified, the gathering adjourned to the banquet room, where a splendid banquet was put on.

Bro. J. O. Weldon, W. M., was toastmaster, and introduced the toast to "The King and the Craft."

The next toast was to "The Grand Lodge of Canada." It was responded to by Bros. Kilmer, D. D. G. M.; P. A. Somerville, grand junior warden, of Hamilton, and William Miner, P. D. D. G. M., of West Lorne.

The toast to "The Visitors" brought forth many responses, among those making replies being W. Bro. W. M. Logan, Hamilton; P. Bro. St. John's, No. 40; Rev. Bro. J. Livingstone; W. Bro. Davidson; Bro. J. Metherall; W. Bro. Bott; R. W. Bro. Henry Roe, of St. Thomas; R. W. Bro. Dr. Guest, P. D. D. G. M.; St. Thomas; R. W. Bro. Thornton; Lamont; R. W. Bro. Grest, Fanshawe; W. Bro. Dr. Leitch, P. D. D. G. M.; St. Thomas, and R. W. Bro. S. Dubber, St. Thomas.

The toast, "St. John's Lodge, No. 20," was proposed by W. Bro. P. A. Somerville, grand junior warden, Hamilton, to which Wor. Master J. O. Weldon, Bros. Thomas Rowe and Hugh McIntosh made reply.

During the evening a splendid programme was rendered, in which Bros. W. Skinner and E. S. Crawford took part, both rendering excellent solos. Bagpipe selections were given by Bros. C. Alford and Hamilton.

The gathering broke up at an early hour.

Mr. Practical Joker Has Lovely Time If You Are Fooled Why Just Grin

First-of-April Humorist Busy as of Yore With Old Tricks.

"This is All Fool's Day. Nearly every citizen in the city knows it by practical experience, more or less bitter."

This is the day of days to the practical joker, and has all the other festive season of the year beaten for real downright hilarity to the fellow who likes a practical joke at the expense of someone else.

Did You Kick a Hat?

Those who are nursing fractured toes accumulated by kicking dilapidated hats with bricks in their interiors are not laughing themselves into an untimely grave so far as can be learned.

Horse-play flourishes on this day. The grown-up children are joining hands with the smaller, rascals, and cutting up something scandalous.

So far as can be learned, the same repertoire of tricks is doing service—just the same as "when we were boys."

Same Old Chestnuts.

The purse with a string attached, the hat with a brick in it, bogus messages, phone and otherwise, and all the rest of it are doing duty.

A rather mean practical joker got in his deadly work at the hospital this morning.

He phoned Victoria Hospital and informed them that a wreck had occurred on a railroad, and eight people had been killed and a score injured. The hospital attendants were told to prepare for the coming of the injured.

Bales of bandages, liniment by the case, and all the other paraphernalia needed in such cases, were got ready, but in a few minutes the joker informed them that it was April Fool's Day.

The nurses, being ladies, could not express themselves properly.

He Bit, All Right.

A young lady with a bewitching smile approached a certain citizen on the street this morning, and with a smile asked him to have a chocolate. He was looking into her eyes to figure out what day it was, and after he had chewed a piece of soap for about a minute he went out behind the city hall and kicked himself a block.

Then the inhabitants thereof sooted with delight.

This is the day for the joker. Everybody laughs.

Alleged Crooks Nabbed By the Police

Detective Niche this morning arrested two young men on suspicion of being crooks.

They give the names of Richard Brighton, of Toronto, and Harry Diamond, of Mexico.

On them was found an 18-karat solid-gold, hunting-case stopwatch, No.

14,225, valued at $125; a lady's coin brooch, made out of quarters and ten-cent pieces; a lady's neck chain, some glasses, and a handsome pair of opera glasses.

Both young men appeared before Magistrate Love this morning and were remanded for a week while the police investigate.

Thos. Shaw Will Be New President

The annual meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association of London will be held tonight in Duffield Block at 8 o'clock. Many important matters will come up, chief amongst which will be the question of holding a picnic here, and entertaining outside grocers. The election of officers for the year will also take place. It is understood that Mr. Thomas Shaw, the East End grocer, will succeed Mr. Harry Ranahan as president. Mr. Shaw is now first vice-president of the association.

IMPORTANT YORK LOAN DECISION 7,000 DENIED A PREFERENCE

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Ont., April 1.—Over seven thousand shareholders, whose claims aggregate $464,773 58, against the assets of the defunct York Loan Company, are denied the right to rank as preferred claimants in the liquidation proceedings now in progress, by judgment delivered by the official referee, Mr. George Kappel, this afternoon.

The exact number of shareholders concerned is about 7,316, and they consisted of those whose investment in the company had so matured as to be withdrawn under certain conditions at the time the winding-up order was granted. Mr. Kappel finds that this class of shareholders has no preference or priority over the other shareholders, and accordingly must rank with the general body.

Redistribution Committee Winds Up A New Juggle With the Hurons

Premier Announces Legislature Will Close Next Tuesday.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, April 1.—The redistribution committee of the Legislature this morning concluded its deliberations. In Essex, North Tilbury has been taken from the south riding and put in the north. Another change was made in the first arrangement of Huron, Tuckersmith being taken from the center and placed in the south. The only change in the Yorks is that Stouffville is put in the east riding. Lanark remains unchanged. Mr. Whitney incidentally announced that the House would close next Thursday. The bill will be discussed in the committee of the whole Thursday.

The Huron Changes. Mr. Whitney moved that the three ridings of Huron County be respectively known as north, center and south. Mr. Bowman said that there had been a discrepancy of 2,000 between the population of the two ridings, and in future there would be 8,600.

Replying to Mr. Whitney, Mr. Clark (Northumberland), said that Huron could be so divided as to avoid the "Scarified" appearance, of which the Premier had complained in other constituencies, and which characterized the three ridings as proposed by the redistribution bill. The Premier retorted that the government's chief labors, so far had been to restore the ridings to fair and just dimensions. If Huron, for instance, had not been so carved and twisted by the Liberals, neither Mr. Cameron nor Judge Garrow could ever have found a seat in the House.

Mr. Clark proposed a re-arrangement of the two north ridings, but the Premier and Mr. Hanna concluded that this proposal would not improve things.

The Middlesexes. The committee then took up the three Middlesexes, by which Stratford goes from the west to the north and Lobo Township from the north to the west.

Mr. Clarke contended that the former space of the ridings was "more human."

The Premier answered that the matter of population would have to be equalized after the next Dominion census. According to the last census, East Middlesex had about 25,000 population. The other two ridings in their present form had a difference in population of about 1,600. The redistribution would reduce this to 800.

Seventh To Shoot for Mail Trophy At Cove Ranges Late in May

A Handsome List of Prizes To Be Competed
For.

The chief subject of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Seventh Rifle Association last night was the big shoot for the London Daily Mail trophies, which will be held at the cove ranges either on the 23rd or 25th of May.

The Mail has offered a handsome list of trophies to be competed for on one of the two dates mentioned, by rifle teams in every part of the British Empire. Three events, the 200, 500 and 600 yards, will be shot off.

The rules of the competition provide that the entire regiment may shoot off, if desired, and that the eight highest scores be sent into the Mail for comparison with the scores made by other teams elsewhere.

The rules governing the targets will be those used in the Bisley competitions. In the 200-yard shoot the bullseye will be six inches in diameter, and this will be inside a black circle twelve inches in diameter. The white circle indicating the bullseye will be invisible to the marksmen at 200 yards.

In the 500 and 600 yard events the bullseye will be 20 inches in diameter, the inner circle being 32 inches, and the magpie 48 inches.

Points count as follows: Bullseye, 5; inner circle, 4; magpie, 3; outer circle, 2.

The Seventh Rifle Association has been practicing faithfully all winter at the armories, but the soldiers long for the outdoor ranges.

Practice shoots will begin as soon as the ground is fit, which will probably be shortly.

To encourage the marksmen, handsome spoons will be given for highest scores at the practice shoots. Winners in the first event, however, will be the winner of a first prize will be handicapped five points. If he wins again he is next handicapped eight points, and so on.

Mrs. Sage is Again the President Huron Auxiliary Elects Officers

Interesting Paper Read at This Morning's Session.

The New Officers. President—Mrs. G. B. Sage. Recording Secretary—Miss Bartram. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Falls. Treasurer—Mrs. J. W. B. Smith. Junior Secretary—Miss Fox. Secretary of Literature—Miss Moore. Dorcas Secretary—Miss Gower. Editor of the Leaflet—Mrs. Tilley.

The morning session of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Huron was taken up largely with business matters of the organization. It began a few days ago with a very large representation of delegates, and the business was conducted in a splendid manner.

President's Address. The annual address of the president was read by Mrs. Sage. She pointed out the great and rapid development of the organization. It began a few years ago with a small membership, and now it is very strong, doing excellent work for the cause of missions and for the church.

She referred to the splendid attributes of the former presidents, and regretted exceedingly the absence of Mrs. Baldwin, who was the first president, and who for seventeen years directed the affairs of the order most successfully. Mrs. Baldwin was prevented by illness from being present at this convention.

St. Andrew's Day. Mrs. Sage referred to many matters concerning the order. She spoke of the success that had followed the suggestion that St. Andrew's Day be generally observed as a day of prayer and devotion. This had been done in many places, and the beneficial results had been most marked. Mrs. Sage advised a more general observance of the day.

Senate Kills O. and M. P. Measure

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, April 1.—The bill to incorporate the Ontario and Michigan Power Company, asking power to develop water powers on the Pigeon, Nepigon and Sturgeon rivers, and also to export power to the United States was killed at the Senate railway committee today. The Ontario Government made a protest against the bill, claiming it was an infringement of provincial rights to grant the charter.

Senator Chouquette, taking this view of the question, moved that the committee report against the bill, because the powers asked for were within the jurisdiction of the Province. This was carried on a vote of 19 to 15.

The funeral will be held to the Grand Trunk station on Friday morning, interment taking place at Owen Sound.

A Bulletin Error. On The Advertiser bulletin yesterday it was stated that Mr. Newman Pidd was not in his (Pidd's) house the night Harry Bartlett disappeared. This was an error, as a personal of Mr. Pidd's denial in last night's Advertiser will show. The bulletin should have stated that Mr. Pidd was not out of his own house the night Bartlett was last seen.

CARBRECKING CASE IN COURT

Wm. Martin, crossing watchman, said he had seen Cotter and Sinclair working the cars that night and towards morning Cotter was the worse of liquor.

Walkerville Witness. Charles Clue, warehouse agent of the G. T. R. at Walkerville, gave evidence that the whisky had been shipped by him on Feb. 10. The car was sent away properly sealed.

Andrew Thompson, a G. T. R. freight conductor, stated that the car was all right when it arrived at Glencoe where he left it.

Charles Smith, G. T. R. agent opened and sealed the car again at Glencoe, and sent it on to London, T. Cotter, Gibbons, witness stated that "he car was only open a few minutes, and that he was there all the time until it was sealed."

The crown called a number of other witnesses who offered similar testimony.

Owing to the absence of Richard Blackwell it was decided to adjourn the case for a week.

It is understood that crown intend getting Perry Sinclair to testify against Cotter.

A Stirring Address. Dr. Lyle, of Hamilton, in a stirring address, said that as long as young ministers were treated as they were by the Canadian Presbyterian Church there will always be the difficulty in getting them to take up church and missionary work. Young ministers must have sufficient salary to enable them to live at least in a respectable manner, and not in abject poverty, dependent almost entirely on a few poor and scattered members of a small congregation.

The augmentation committee should look into this question at once, and try and readjust this matter. Ministers should not be backward in taking this question up.

Not Charity. It is not a matter of asking charity, for the laborer is worthy of his hire. At present we are neither generous nor just to these men, and the matter must be rectified or dire results will follow in a scarcity of ministers in our rapidly-growing country.

Vote of Thanks. A very hearty vote of thanks was conveyed to Rev. W. J. Henderson for the long and faithful service he has rendered.

The synod adjourned until this afternoon, when an important discussion on the compensation for those engaged on the liquor traffic who have lost their business by local option being passed was led by Rev. Dr. Horne, of Chatham.

Outwashed butter at $1.52 to $1.58 per cwt. mostly at $1.56.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The markets held here the past week were on a par with those of the previous week, as there was a brisk demand in nearly every line, and prices were firm, with the exception of hay and apples.

Grain—Wheat has fluctuated considerably the past week, as they sold at Saturday's market at $1.60 and $1.62 per cwt. At present they are disposed of at $1.52 to $1.58 per cwt. Wheat is higher at $1.52 to $1.60 per bushel. Timothy seed sells at $1.50 to $1.53 per bushel.

Hay and Straw—There were a large number of loads offered last week and sales were slow. So far this week the supply is small, but there is an improvement in the demand. Prices range from $13 to $14 per ton. Straw is slow and the supply is sufficient for all requirements. Sales are made mostly at $7.50 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—At Saturday's market butter was a shade easier. Since then there has been a firmer tone to the market, and at present it is firm at 23c to 24c for creamery and 20c to 21c for choice pound rolls in basket lots. Eggs are a little firmer than last week on Saturday. Prices range from 15c to 16c per dozen for crates and basket lots.

Poultry—The market is firm and sales brisk at $1 per bag wholesale, and $1.05 to $1.10 retail.

Apples—There is a slight improvement in the demand for the better class of apples, which sell at $2 per barrel, second quality at $1.50 per barrel. By the bag prices range from 4c to 5c.

Poultry—Turkeys sold at 17c to 18c per pound for dressed, and 15c to 16c for live. Chickens sell at 11c to 12c per pound for dressed, and 10c to 11c for live.

Dressed Hogs—Prices have advanced at $8 per cwt for hogs which weigh 120 to 150 pounds. The market is firm and prices may be a little higher for next Monday's shipment. Fat pigs sell at $12.75 per cwt. Small pigs range in price from $4 to $5 per pair, the latter price for pigs about three months old.

Maple Syrup—There is a fairly brisk demand at $1.10 to $1.15 per gallon wholesale, and $1.20 to $1.25 retail.

Butcher's Meats—There is very little change in prices in this line. The latter half of the week, $5.50 per cwt. Veal, $5 to $5.50 per cwt, according to quality.

Lamb scarce at 12c to 13c per pound. Mutton, $5 to $5.50 per cwt.

TORONTO.

Toronto, March 31.—Sugar—The market is strong at unchanged prices. Owing to the failure of the crop in new sugar, dealers expect the price of refined to go higher before summer. The outlook for the new sugar crop is favorable, but reports say that the acreage is not so large as last year, which is contrary to previous reports, as high prices are usually followed next season by an increase in the acreage.
