NEW WATER WORKS BUILDING SAID TO BE ONLY FEASIBLE WAY OUT OF DIFFICULTY

METRE WAS CONSCIENTIOUS

Jailor Davidson Pays Big Electric Light Bill But Metre Makes It Up

"LIGHT" BILLS INDEED

Jailor John Davidson has been having some fun with the Electric Light people lately. He noticed that his bill for electric light have been rather high, and he set about to find the reason. He was not at work long before he found a leak in the metre. The bill for the previous quarter was about $80, and he was sure he was not using that much light. The leak in the metre explained it all.

"It reminded me of a story I heard some time ago of an Irishman," he told The Planet. "Pat was arrested for being intoxicated and when he appeared before the judge, he gave a certain lecture. Pat claimed that he had not been very drunk."

"What do you mean by telling me that?" said the Judge. "Judging by your face you have been drunk for a week!"

"Well, son," replied Pat, "it's this way—my two registers more than I consume."

"That was the way with my electric light," continued Mr. Davidson. "But after I fixed the leak the bill came in for about $20 for the next quarter. The firm couldn't understand it and sent two different men to read the metre. They both made it the same. The next quarter the bill came down to $5, and I was beginning to think that I had a pretty good metre."

"You can imagine my surprise when the metre for the next quarter showed that I didn't owe the company anything, but according to the readings, the company owed me. I didn't get the money, though, and the next day the metre was taken to the Gas House to be tested. I shall always believe to my dying day that that metre knew that it had given me the worst of it before, and was trying to make it right between the company and me."

BIG ROW ON EMMA STREET

Citizen Complains That Poor Concrete Is Going In New Pavement

THE FAULT OF THE MIXER

There was trouble to burn over on Emma street yesterday, and it is not all over yet, if the assertions of some citizens in that neighborhood are to be taken into consideration.

It appears that the concrete being laid beneath the new pavement over there did not suit some of the inquisitive ratepayers who took the trouble to investigate. Yesterday afternoon one of the residents on the street went to Ald. James Massey with the complaint that the concrete being put down in spots was nothing more than loose sand and stones. He said that it was not being mixed properly, and that the upper coating of bitumastic was being rolled on top of this.

Ald. Massey spoke to the City Engineer about it last night, and that gentleman said that the matter had been attended to. He said it was just a case of carelessness on the part of the young man who was running the mixer. He admitted that the concrete had been found to be defective in places, but he said that immediate steps would be taken to remedy the condition of the spots which had been complained of.

It is the opinion of many of the ratepayers that the inspector should exercise a little more vigilance in seeing that no botch work is done in connection with public pavements, where the people's interests are so vitally at stake.

The people of Emma street are paying for the pavement, and they had a perfect right to investigate, and see that their pavement was being properly put down, in accordance with specifications.

NARROW ESCAPE

Little Miss Kathleen Shen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Con. Shen, had a narrow escape from perhaps serious injury last evening. While attempting to cross the street, at the corner of Gray and Queen, she was knocked down by a passing delivery rig.

The driver pulled the horse to a standstill as quickly as possible, but not before the little girl received a nasty gash to her hip.

Board Of Water Commissioners And The Property
Committee Meet Jointly To Discuss A
Very Important Question

CITY ENGINEER INSTRUCTED TO DRAW UP PLANS

Chatham Faces A Serious Crisis In The Present Cramped
Condition Claimed To Be Much In Evidence
At The Municipal Building

A joint meeting of the Property Committee of the City Council and the Board of Water Commissioners was held in Harrison Hall last evening, for the purpose of considering what is to be done with regard to the present crisis in which the city finds itself with regard to its waterworks and electric light departments.

The result of the meeting was a resolution passed to the effect that the City Engineer present a report to the City Council, giving a rough estimate of what a new electric light station, or a new waterworks building would cost, and which would be most advisable for the city to erect.

This will be the first step towards framing up a by-law to be put before the people at the January elections authorizing the building of either a new waterworks building or a new electric light station.

Those present at last night's meeting were Chairman Potter, Ald. Massey and Ald. Thompson of the Property Committee; Chairman W. D. Sheldon and Dr. G. W. Cornell, of the Board of Water Commissioners; City Engineer E. B. Jones, Secretary Weir, of the Water Board, and Fire Chief Richard Frith. It was especially explained that the meeting had been called jointly with the Water Commissioners, because both the members of that Board and the Property Committee were vitally interested in the question, now before the city, and it was the best plan that they should get together and thresh the matter out.

The electric light department is up against it, said Ald. Potter, as the machinery there at the present time is taxed to its utmost capacity to supply the present number of lights, and the Council are continually being petitioned for more lights. The result is that the Council are not in a position to supply these lights. The present machinery is good enough, but there would have to be added to supply the ever-increasing demand, and the department is so crowded for space that no more machinery can be installed. He said that he had thought of the advisability of installing gas engines to pump the city's water, but this was hardly practicable.

Engineer Jones—If the natural gas gave out at any time we would be up against it.

Commissioner Cornell—I notice by the Great Home Journal that we may be able to secure Niagara power in this city. If we could get that it would greatly help us out of this difficulty.

The Mayor gave it as his opinion that Niagara power would not be one, two, three, or four years away, but that it would be used by the city.

Chairman Sheldon said that in order to have the waterworks properly equipped, another pump and another boiler would have to be installed.

Engineer Jones—The present plant was built twenty years ago. It is altogether too small and awkward for present requirements.

Chairman Sheldon—The best thing that we can do under the circumstances as far as I am concerned is to go up on the hill and build a modern waterworks plant, where we would not be cramped for space as at present, and where we could make additions as the city grows in size.

Engineer Jones—In that case the old building would be used for an electric light plant exclusively. At the present time we are cramped for space in both departments. The waterworks would be better situated some distance back from the river anyway. It would give us a chance to put well down in the intervening space, which would be much more satisfactory, as at the present time the water seeps in from the banks on the occasion of every freshet.

Ald. Potter—Then the better way would be to leave the electric light plant in the present location and move the waterworks plant into a new modern building up on the hill. What do you think about it, Mr. Mayor?

Mayor Marshall—If we cannot generate sufficient power to light the city, and our waterworks plant is cramped in the present location, why have we got to do something to remedy matters.

Ald. Potter—The machinery is strained to its utmost at the present time, and the strain is hard on it.

The Mayor—The best plan would be to secure estimates on what a report brought in to the City Council on the matter, with a view to submitting a by-law to the people at the January elections.

The people should be shown how necessary a change is with regard to this matter, and if they are put in touch with the predicament in which the city finds itself regarding the electric light and waterworks situation, they will see that it is a highly necessary that a new building for one or the other of the two plants should be erected.

Chairman Sheldon—Of course the waterworks should get a rebate for the old building, which in this case would be vacated by them. It would all mean the same thing practically, as it would still be the people's money, but the money should be placed where it will properly belong.

Engineer Jones—The present pump house is gradually sinking into the river. It has sunk so much that there are now large cracks in the walls. The vibration is causing this.

Chairman Sheldon (jokingly)—Don't you know that what you are saying is detrimental to our sale of the building to the city?

Dr. Cornell tried to pass off the Engineer's little break by saying that the electric light plant would not vibrate, and the building would not be in danger of sinking, once the waterworks plant was moved out.

Mr. Sheldon said that the Water Commissioners were present to strengthen the hands of the Council in doing whatever was best for the city. Both plants were in cramped condition, and both plants should be perfectly efficient to meet requirements. It was especially necessary that the waterworks should be this way for some very potent reasons.

He thought it would be well for the Engineer to make out plans for a new building—a rough sketch with an estimate of cost attached. He thought it would be also a good idea before anything definite was done, to visit other cities where good up-to-date waterworks buildings have been erected. Now was the proper time to bring the matter before the people, when the elections were coming on, and a by-law could be submitted to get their feeling on the matter.

City Engineer Jones said that St. Thomas had a very up-to-date plant. He said that there was four times as much pressure required at the local waterworks now to what there was when he first took the matter in hand, and just twice as many lights to supply from the electric station.

Mr. Sheldon said that the strong reason which could be given the people for making a change, was that the water pressure is not strong enough to supply the present demands of the city.

The Mayor thought it would perhaps be the better plan to move the electric light plant up on the hill and leave the waterworks where it is at the present time. This would cost the least in his estimation.

Ald. Massey was of the same opinion. He thought that the spring freshets would interfere with an electric light department placed at such a low level. The last freshet had put the electric light department out of commission for a few days.

Mr. Sheldon did not, however, think it would be practical from an economical standpoint to fix the old building up for a waterworks building, as the pipes and everything were in awkward shape, and it would cost a great deal to put the department in proper shape on its present site. Referring to what Ald. Massey said about spring freshets, he said that these seldom interfered with the electric light department. It might never occur again. It is highly necessary that we should have a plant that can be enlarged as the city grows, to supply the ever-increasing demand from private houses, railways, street car services, steam-heating plants and so forth. If a change were made it should be one that would be permanent.

Ald. Potter—if we do not make that sort of a change, it would be just like taking money out of one pocket and putting it in another.

It was finally moved by Mayor Marshall, that the City Engineer be instructed to make rough estimates of the cost of a new waterworks building, and another of a new electric light station, and report to the City Council later on.—Carried.

HAS GONE TO WORK

The man Jackson who was reported to the police for allowing his wife and family to depend on the charity of his neighbors while he did nothing, has gone to work, and after a little persuasion on the part of Emma Dean Macdonald and Tom Groves—especially Tom Groves—he has decided to do better. He commenced work with Night & Felter this morning.

THE DIFFERENCE

After all, what is the difference between a beggar and a pauper? I don't know; but the difference between a beggar and a pauper is sometimes large.

GOT IT AT A BARGAIN

Little Bob Cowan Knows
How To Manage A Difficult Deal

HE NOW SPORTS A CANE

Bob Cowan, the bright young son of George W. Cowan, is showing early in life that he is a chip off the old block. He is a politician in the broad sense of the term, and a sample of his astuteness in driving a bargain, and of picking out the weak spots in the person he is dealing with, came to light the other day.

Bob tries to be like his father, and the fact that he had no cane has been bothering him for some time. It has been cold enough for a while, too, the last few days. The other day he was going home from school swinging the long sought for prize and trying to do it in the graceful way in which his father manages it.

"What have you got there, Bob?" suddenly asked his father, who was approaching from the rear, unnoticed by the young gentleman with the cane.

"Why, I have a cane," came proudly from the ex-Mayor, Jr., as he held it up for inspection. "And say, I got it at a bargain, too!"

"What did you pay for it?" was the next question.

"Well, now, I'll tell you," answered Bob, "but you may not believe it. I got that cane for a soda business. You see (naming one of his little playmates as King St. West) he likes things to eat. Offer him something good and he will give you anything he has. So when I saw him with this cane I offered him a soda biscuit for it and he took it. It was a great bargain, but I didn't tell that to him."

And then Bob threw out his chest, twirled his cane around his fingers and started off in long strides, trying to get away with the bluff that he was no amateur in the cane business.

A SERIOUS MATTER.

A little quiet and sensible thinking must be done by the electorate of this city between now and the time of the next municipal elections in January. The tone of last night's joint meeting of the Property Committee and the Water Commissioners would seem to indicate that a new and important by-law will be put before the people. This will mean a by-law to raise a sum probably between thirty and forty thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting a new Water Works building.

It is a matter which vitally concerns the people themselves, and they must do their own thinking when the time comes. The people are the shareholders in this concern, and they will be asked through their votes to say whether they believe a change ought to be made or not. The directors—our representatives at the Council and Water Boards—say it is highly necessary that something should be done, and done at once. They see the danger of leaving matters as they stand at present, and point to the crumpled buildings and overtaxed plants at the municipal works. These mean an unenviable crisis ahead, which is already being felt to some extent, as will be gathered from the report of last night's meeting, appearing in another column.

Can Chatham stand the shot? The people have been asked to pay for a lot of things during the past few years. Thing they want, and things they thought they wanted, and the tax-rate keeps soaring up to a merry figure. The pessimist will feel like chopping off right now, and asking the Council to forego big expenditures for the next couple of years, and allow things financial to get back into reasonable shape. But that is not quite the point.

If what has been stated by the Water Board and the Property Committee be facts—and it would be unreasonable to question the assertions of such experienced representatives—then the situation at the municipal buildings, and particularly at the Water Works department, has reached a stage which should be viewed with alarm. When it is stated that the water pressure is much overtaxed, the reason for such alarm is obvious to any intelligent ratepayer who wants to take the time to think the matter out.

It is evident that something must be done in the most vital interests of the city and its future. What that something is done it will have to be paid for with the people's cold cash, and it is therefore imperative that it should be done well.

A GREAT MISFORTUNE.

The London election inquiry drags its weary length, and that of which we all were sure is legally certified. But is there not something almost fatuous in the horror expressed at this formal disclosure of the inevitable consequence of a well known cause? Were not fraud and corruption sure to attend a perpetual conflict of two organized factions for power and place? What is the state of things at the center of the conflict? The most cool-headed and competent observers tell us that corruption reigns at Ottawa. The editor of the Government organ there leaves the place in disgust at the shameless dishonesty which prevails. "The callousness and carelessness," he says, "of the public men of today, induced by a seeming belief in the admiration of the people for smart trickery and corruption, is offensive to any man who hopes to find statesmanlike ability, common honesty, and straightforward dealing in the chief council-house of the country." He contrasts the present deadness of the public conscience with the horror shown at the Pacific Railway scandal. Since that time opportunities for graft, especially in connection with railway companies, have greatly increased; while in both parties alike any sort of distinctive principle such as might give moral life to a party organization has faded away. In what other legislative assembly could be found an exhibition of corrupt influence so general and so shameless as that which we were called upon to witness in the last session of our Canadian Parliament? What greater misfortune can befall a community than total loss of public respect for its national council and its Government?—Bystander.

The frozen North—Bruce.

In London, it looks as though the people will have to be resigned—unless Mr. Hyman does something pretty soon.

The Chatham man who reads newspapers while his wife and family starve, should remember that it is possible to carry a good thing too far.

Premier Laurier succeeded in holding his own in North Bruce, the Liberal candidate, Mr. Toimie, being returned by a large majority. Under normal conditions North Bruce is a Liberal constituency and the knowing ones looked for the present outcome in view of the popularity of the Liberal candidate, and the lateness in placing his opponent in the field. The fact that the Conservative vote was not polled did not help the situation. From this the lesson should be learned that candidates should be given ample time to canvass their constituencies, and the people generally should realize that if the present corruption is to be stamped out they must not hesitate to cast their votes for the man whose policy is clean government.

JUST A LITTLE BIT OFF THE TOP

Hyman appears to be resigned to his fate, but that is about all the resigning Hon. "Chick" has in mind.

A Highgate young woman ran away from home and sat in a pool of water. Are things getting so bad in Highgate that the citizens will run risks with their health in order to experience a little variety?

And lest you forget, there's to be a B.G. Conservative Convention in the I. O. O. F. Auditorium a week from Saturday.

A newspaper despatch says that Buffalo Bill is lost in the B.G. Horn Mountains. Considering the vicinity in which he was travelling, it is reasonable to suppose that he may have been hooked.

The recent disastrous records of submarine boats would seem to show that the most profitable results could be attained by making gifts of them to the enemy.

A Lorne avenue family is starving as a result of the father's laziness. Evidently he has taken the well-known maxim hit concerning "father" too much to heart.

They talk of putting in new machinery at the electric light station. If the whole outfit had been turned over to the junk man years ago, and a proper plant put in, this city might have saved a piece of money in the long run.

A Guelph minister says that there is much sin in high places. Perhaps that is the reason it is so hard to down.

The Catlike Fox.

The fox is an excellent mouser. He will lie and watch for a field mouse in the long grass like a cat, pounce upon it, kill it with a bite and lay it on one side until he has caught another and another, when, picking them all up, as many as he can carry in his mouth, he will cater away with them to serve them out to the cubs. This fact was confirmed by witnesses in Scotland who were examined by a committee of the board of agriculture when taking evidence on the occasion of the plague of field voles on the lowland sheep farms in 1893.—London Graphic.

In the virgin forests of that wonderful land, Australia, the ancient natives practised their weird and mysterious rites of healing. Much of their ancient lore will never now be known by modern man. Some of it, however, is known in certain quarters, and even modern scientists have been amazed at the deep knowledge of medicinal plants possessed by these ancient natives. When discovered by Capt. Cook, the great explorer, he wrote of them: "I did not observe amongst them any sign of disease. Old men without hair and teeth were full of life and activity." This wonderful health was found to be due to the fact that they used certain herbs in a manner as medicine. What stronger proof could be had than this, of the fact that the herbs of the field and the trees of the forest constitute nature's medicine chest for mankind? In Bileans for Bileans, the great Australian household remedy, you have the finest known medicinal essence. From coating to kernel they are purely vegetable. They are an absolutely natural remedy for indigestion, headache, biliousness, constipation, piles, and all disorders arising from liver and stomach disorders. It is now well known that liver medicines hitherto in use mostly contain bismuth, mercury, and other harmful products. These mineral constituents are very injurious if taken for long, and produce such effects as that of loosening the teeth, causing the hair to fall out, etc. Bileans are entirely different and superior. They are purely vegetable and contain no trace of any such harmful ingredients as the above. They cure that which they are taken to cure, and do not leave behind them evils worse than the original ones.

Bileans are mild in their action, and are thus suitable for the most delicate constitution. They never cause griping or pain. Taken at night, they work while you sleep, toning up and stimulating the liver, strengthening the digestive organs, removing the causes of headache, and when you awaken it is to feel "like another person altogether," as the saying goes. Bileans cure headache, constipation, piles, liver trouble, indigestion, and all digestive disorders, female ailments, skin eruptions, biliousness, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, dizziness, fainting, buzzing noise in the head, feelings of uncomfortable fullness even after a light meal, anaemia, debility, etc. They also act as a general tonic, and by improving the tone of the whole system enable it to throw off colds, etc. They improve the general circulation, and are a boon to pale faced girls and weak women. All druggists sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from the Bilean Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

DECAPITATION.

The Theory of Sensation After the Head is Severed.

Half a dozen physicians were talking of death. It isn't a subject usually chosen by physicians for discussion, but these were discussing it. However, it was not altogether physical death. They were including the hereafter. "Well," said one, "I don't know whether there is to be a hereafter or not, and it doesn't trouble me very much, because I'll take chances on it if I can make the life I live before it the kind of life a man ought to live. But there is one thing about it that makes me hope there will be another life, and that is the opportunity I shall have of asking some of the people who have had their heads cut off if there was any sensation for a few minutes succeeding decapitation. I believe now that there is, and that life remains long enough for the decapitated person to realize that he has lost his head, or, rather, that he has lost his body, because the head is the center of thought, and, of course, it is the body that is lost, not the head. At least that is the way a man with his head off would be bound to think of it. I fancy there is no pain, because that would require some time, and if life exists at all after decapitation it would not be long enough to realize the sensation of pain. It must be a very queer sort of feeling, and, as I say, I hope there is a life hereafter. I may have a chance to find out a few facts not otherwise obtainable."

One man's silence may be more eloquent than another man's speech. A superiority of ambition is almost as useless as a total want of it.

THE EYEBROWS.

Some Superstitions and Old Beliefs Concerning Them.

Notwithstanding their inconspicuousness, the eyebrows have been the center of a certain amount of lore and even superstition. But the chief point at which superstition or folklore is found in this connection is in those cases, not infrequent, where the eyebrows meet. Everywhere this meeting of the brows has been held to be ominous in one way or another.

In some of our southern counties folks say that it is good to have such brows, for the possessor will never have trouble; but this is a rare interpretation. As a rule, the meeting brows are held to be of evil omen. Readers of Charles Kingsley's "Two Years Ago" will remember Mrs. Harvey's face, which had been handsome and was still clever; "but the eyebrows," continues Kingsley, "crushed together downward above her nose and, rising high at the outer corners, indicated as surely as the restless downy drop eye a character self-conscious, furtive, capable of great inconsistencies, possibly of great deceptions."

In the Icelandic sagas a man with meeting eyebrows is said to be one of the dreadful creatures known as werewolves, and the same belief has been found in Denmark and Germany; while in Greece, says Mr. Baring Gould, they are a sign that a man is a vampire. In horror there is little to choose between vampires and werewolves. A fanciful reason which has been given for these superstitions is that the meeting brows resemble a butterfly, "the familiar type of a soul ready to fly off and enter some other body." This seems tolerably far fetched.

In Hungary gypsy women and men whose eyebrows grow together are supposed to have in special degree the power to enchantment, and as illiterate folk have a great dread of such mysterious powers, especially as they may be supposed to be directed against the well being or happiness of their children, it need hardly be said that a man whose brows meet is not a popular person. Even now there are parts of England where a belief in witchcraft still lingers, and not so very long ago in Northumberland there were people who regarded a person whose eyebrows met as a witch or warlock.

In the north of Aberdeenshire, according to the late Rev. Walter Gregor, who was a very competent authority on Scottish lore and customs, a "closebrow man"—that is, one whose eyebrows meet—was regarded as being immoral. Elsewhere in Scotland one with "close brows" was regarded as unlucky to be met as "first sight," while other folk went a good deal further and regarded the unlucky possessor of "close brows" as one foredoomed to be hanged.—London Globe.

St. Valentine.

St. Valentine, presbyter and martyr, unlike many saints who are specially remembered, did nothing which could have suggested the manner in which his day is celebrated. It was his fortune to suffer martyrdom (he was beaten with a club and then beheaded) at a time when the heathens of southern Europe were accustomed to observe the return of spring. The quick eyes of those dependent upon sunlight for warmth learned to note and welcome every indication of the approaching season. They watched the birds, and when they saw them mating and making love they were minded to do the same, and so strong was the habit that, as with Christmas day, the good fathers did not attempt to root out the custom, but to connect it with some holy name, and St. Valentine's day of martyrdom fitted very nearly to that time.

Hanged and Tarred.

An English custom of not so long ago was to hang smugglers on gibbets arranged along the coasts and then tar the bodies that they might be preserved as a long while as a warning to other culprits. As late as 1822 three men thus varnished could have been seen hanging before Dover castle. Sometimes the process was extended to robbers, assassins, incendiaries and other criminals. John Palmer, who fired the dockyard at Portsmouth, was first hanged and then tarred in 1776. From time to time he was given a fresh coat of varnish and thus was made to last nearly fourteen years. The world custom did not stop smuggling or other crime, but no doubt it worked some influence as a preventive.

Touching Wood.

Can any reader explain the origin of touching wood after boasting of one's exemption from ill fortune?—a species of abist omen practised in Shropshire and Cheshire and probably in many other parts of England. The procedure is of this kind. "I'm thankful to say I never broke a bone or even had a bad sprain in my life—well, I'd better touch wood," and a chair or table or anything near that is wooden is touched. Can the custom come from some lingering memory of the veneration attached to relics of the true cross?—London Notes and Queries.

Touching a Button.

Wife—I've just been reading an article on electricity. John—and it appears that before long we shall be able to get pretty well everything we want by just touching a button. Husband—You'd never be able to get anything that way. Wife—Why not, John? Husband—Because nothing on earth would ever make you touch a button. Look at my shirt!

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong. It is but saying in other words that he is wiser today than yesterday.

CENSURES RAILWAY.

Verdict in the Case of Harry Clark Killed Near Cookton.

Hamilton, Oct. 31.—Coroner Balfe's jury last night returned the following verdict, after an enquiry into the circumstances:

"That Harry Clark, G. T. R. foreman, came to his death near Cookton, on the morning of Oct. 25, through a collision between engines 338 and 666, on the G. T. R. Railway, and that Engle Jones of 866 disobeyed orders in stopping his engine when he had orders to go to Lynden, and that the G. T. R. officials were negligent in not calling medical aid and providing an ambulance with more despatch."

The evidence went to show that when Clark was brought to Hamilton he was kept at the station about 30 minutes before removal to the hospital.

Better Than Spanking

Spanking does not cure children of bad-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 4, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The Purse. The invention of the purse was doubtless contemporaneous with that of money. The purse is mentioned in Old Testament history as a part of a traveler's outfit. When the disciples, spoken of in the gospels, were sent forth to preach they were commanded to take neither gold nor silver nor brass in their purses.

Popular. "He's a popular poet." "Dear me! Why I thought he hadn't written anything for years!" "He hasn't; that's why he's so popular."

GOOD REASONS FOR ITS SUCCESS

The majority of catarrh remedies are useless. But one that does cure is Catarrhine. It clears the head of all mucous discharges. Putrid matter in the nostrils, phlegm in the throat, and disease germs are completely swept away. The cause of the disease is destroyed, its results are destroyed, and the system so thoroughly cleansed of catarrh that the cure is permanent. All types of catarrh, throat and bronchial trouble, colds and coughs are more certainly cured by Catarrhine than anything else. Two sizes, 25c. and $1. at all dealers.

Napoleon's Tomb.

The windows in the Chapel of the Invalides in Paris, where the great Napoleon lies buried, are of a singularly translucent amber glass. When the sun shines full upon them the rays are transmitted into gold, and they fall like a ladder of light upon the bronze sarcophagus of the conqueror until he seems glorified from the skies.

When you want BLACK silk, you don't say "a spool of silk." When you want Windsor Table Salt, say so—"WINDSOR."

In Good Season.

In a place in New Jersey the town officers had just put some fire extinguishers in their buildings. One day one of the buildings caught fire, says the Philadelphia Ledger, and the extinguishers failed to do their work.

A few days later at the town meeting some citizens tried to learn the reason.

After they had freely discussed the subject one of them said, "Mr. Chairman, I make a motion that the fire extinguishers be examined ten days before every fire."

QUIET REIGNS IN RUSSIA

Russian Workmen Permit Manifesto Anniversary to Pass

IN UNDISTURBED PEACE

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The first anniversary of the proclamation of the manifesto giving a constitution to Russia, passed in undisturbed quiet. Disorder and bloodshed fortunately were avoided. Workmen complied absolutely with orders and abstained from any demonstration.

The Pullout from Works' employees worked as usual, in obedience to orders from labor headquarters. These works are the heart of the labor movement.

Disquieting signs were observed near the works last week, yesterday an adequate force of men was stationed near by to cope with any emergency. The men of a score of smaller factories had the day off, but work was performed in a majority of the shops. Several bands of black hundreds, armed with staves, paraded in a remote street, but there were no collisions with them, nor have there been any conflicts between the workmen and the public.

The Czar's Ukase. At noon a special edition of The Official Gazette, containing the Imperial ukase granting full religious freedom to the "old believers" was issued, the preamble of which is as follows:

"To guarantee to all Russian subjects liberty of faith and public worship according to the dictates of their conscience, we have issued a ukase April 30, 1905. In continuance of this task of love and peace we deem it good to establish rules and regulations governing the internal organization of the Holy Orthodox Church, and other dissident sects of the Holy Orthodox Church, charging the ministry of the interior at the same time to elaborate a similar law for the sects issuing from other Christian confessions. With trust in a beneficent Providence we believe that these measures will serve to strengthen the ties of loyalty by which the 'old believers' have been bound for centuries to the throne and fatherland and enhance the greatness of our general mother, the Holy Orthodox Church."

Religious Freedom. According to the law, any dissident sect numbering fifty persons or more is not immoral, or having tenets like refusal to do military service (the Doukhobors and Standists are illegal) can apply for and shall receive permission to organize churches, conduct services, build schools and other religious buildings, and perform the baptism, marriage and other sacraments and keep registers of birth, marriages and deaths of equal authority with the official records of the Orthodox priests.

Introduces Civil Marriage. The new law introduces an important innovation in the form of civil marriage, designed for the sects having no clergy, but of which non-members can easily take advantage, enabling thousands of persons, who on account of their objection to religious rite and the absence of a civil ceremony, have lived together unmarried, to assume the legal tie and legitimize their children. This law is of special importance to the Mariavists, the Polish Schismatics from the Roman Catholic Church, whose numbers are rapidly growing on the German frontier.

Terrorists Kill Policeman. Warsaw, Oct. 31.—A band of terrorists shot and killed a policeman here last night. The streets were patrolled by cavalry yesterday, and detachments of artillery were posted at strategic points. The police ordered house owners, under threats of arrest, to display flags during the day and illuminations at night.

Eight Robbers Executed. St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Eight persons executed here in connection with the robbery of $188,826 from the Hermann of the custom house, Oct. 27, were tried by court-martial and executed yesterday.

EARL OF CRANBROOKE DEAD. At Age of 92—Was Twice British Secretary for War.

London, Oct. 31.—Gathorne Gathorne-Hardy, first Earl of Cranbrooke, who was twice Secretary for War and Lord President of the Council, died yesterday at Hemsted Park. He was born in 1814.

The Earl of Cranbrooke was born in 1814. He ran as Conservative candidate for Bradford in 1847, but was defeated. He represented Leamington for Oxford University. This seat he retained till 1878, when he was raised to the peerage. He was successively Under-Secretary of State for the Home Department, President of the Poor Law Board, Home Secretary, Secretary for War, Secretary for India, and President of the Council.

He was educated at Shrewsbury School and Oriel College, Oxford. He owned 6,000 acres in Kent and Sussex, and was also a partner in the Louthian Ironworks.

Province Sues For Dues. St. Catharines, Oct. 31.—A case of considerable interest was heard here Monday before Mr. Justice Falconbridge, when the Province of Ontario sued the estate of the late S. D. Woodruff for succession duties on $600,000 of stocks, bonds and debentures held in the State of New York. A writ was adjourned to Toronto. E. E. A. DuVerne and J. H. Ingersoll appeared for the province, and H. H. Collier for the estate.

Victims of the Hunting Season Thus Far in Maine Woods.

Bangor, Me., Oct. 31.—Six men killed is the record thus far in the present hunting season in Maine. Last week was the worst of the year, three deaths being reported and accurately a day passes without the report of one or more accidents due to careless handling of guns or mistaking human beings for animals.

The game receipts are far below those of last year. Up to Saturday 832 deer, 55 moose and 10 bears had been brought in, as against 1,376 deer, 70 moose and 19 bears for the same period last year.

The weather has made it difficult to stalk the game.

May Close Reservation. Washington, Oct. 31.—The Interior Department yesterday received despatches from agents in Nevada indicating that when all the facts are in concerning the opening of Walker Lake Indian reservation, Secretary Hitchcock may be compelled to recommend that the opening be declared invalid.

Parliament For the Philippines. Washington, Oct. 31.—The President is preparing to redeem his promise made through a collection in the Philippines of their own, conditioned upon their good behavior, for a term of two years. The President will, in March, direct the Philippine Commission to call a general election for the choice of delegates to what will be known as the Philippine Assembly.

Settle For $18,500. Kingston, Oct. 31.—Capt. Thomas Donnelly has made a settlement with the underwriters of the steamer John D. Cowie for damages to the steamer through a collision in the St. Clair River in May last, when the Brin sank and five lives were lost. Conlon Bros., owners of the Brin, received $18,500 from the underwriters of the Cowie.

Steamer Total Wreck. Quebec, Oct. 31.—A despatch from Cape Race reports the steamer Elxir went ashore Monday night at Cape Ballard, Newfoundland, and is a total wreck. She is laden with salt and bound from Hamburg to Charleston, S. C.

Whose Say-so Is Best? With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so as to their curative value. Through such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same weight as that of a disinterested party.

Dr. Pierce's medicine is a true and simple and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of the world rest solely upon their makers' say-so, or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalids are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men, whose names are printed in full volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Anglo-Jap Treaty. General in Character and Not Likely to Lead to War.

London, Oct. 31.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons by C. W. Bellairs, Liberal, as to whether there was any provision in the Anglo-Japanese treaty safeguarding British subjects' dominions from becoming involved in a war with America on behalf of Japan, Earl Grey, the Foreign Secretary, wrote a reply in which he referred the question to the text of the agreement.

The Foreign Secretary added: "This agreement is of a general character, and there is no indication that it is likely to lead to a war with any power."

Belleville Murder Trial. Belleville, Oct. 31.—The fall Assizes were opened yesterday afternoon, Judge Britton presiding. The case of King vs. Kleinberg, charged with wife murder, will be commenced this morning. Dr. Johnston, Clarke and Bruce Smith of Toronto are here, and it is said they will give expert testimony as to the prisoner's sanity. It is said the defence will be insanity. F. Arnold, K. C., of Toronto, is the crown prosecutor.

Socialists Trim Laborites. Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 31.—The first convention of the new labor party to be held in British Columbia or in Canada, has been captured by the Socialists. Straight Laborites are discussing the propriety of withdrawing in a body.

JOIN CHEYENNES

Indians on Warpath Becoming Bolder—Won't Go Back to Utah.

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct. 31.—"We are going to visit Chief White Cow Bull of the Cheyennes at any cost, and will not be taken back to Utah to starve. We would rather die first." Is the substance of the answer of Chief Kannaup to the soldiers.

The latest report from the front locates the main Ute band in the vicinity of Moorhead, going rapidly toward the Cheyenne reservation.

Two more troop trains are reported out of Fort Robinson following the first train unloaded at Aravada yesterday morning.

The Indians are becoming more bold. Doc Spear and E. H. Bottings, who encountered a band of 30 Indians, were fired upon and one of their horses killed. Their camp wagon was looted by another band of Utes.

Settlers near Moorhead, Mont., are sending their women and children to places of safety, and have turned the Spear blacksmith shop into a fort banking the sides and boring loopholes in the log walls.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Toronto Business Men Will Answer to Conspiracy Charge.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—There was little time lost in the Police Court yesterday, over the conspiracy charges laid against a number of business men in connection with certain civic contracts.

In connection with the roofing of St. Lawrence Market, the following were committed for trial: "Metallic Roofing Co., Albert Ormsby, Thomas Douglas, Asa Matthews, Henry and John Hulson, Alex E. Wheeler, George Duhlie.

The following will also stand their trial in the high court in connection with the contract for furniture for the City Hall: Charles Rogers & Sons Co. Limited; Office Specialty Manufacturing Co.; Canadian Office and School Furniture Co.; George N. Reynolds.

The conspiracy charges against the other firms, in other lines, will be heard next Monday.

Those who were committed yesterday will come before the Criminal Assizes, which commences Monday.

SECTIONMAN MURDERED. Edward Way Found With Crushed Skull and Bullet in Head.

Liverpool, N. S., Oct. 31.—The body of Edward Way of Halifax was found by trawmen on the line of the Halifax and Southwestern Railway Monday night, near Granite Village, 20 miles west of Liverpool.

On examination it was found that the man had been murdered, having been struck back of the ear with a club, crushing the skull. There was a bullet wound in the head.

He was a sectionman on the railway, and it is supposed he was murdered, and robbed, as a sum of money he was known to have on his person is missing.

An inquest was held here yesterday morning and the verdict was wilful murder.

DAUGHTER TELLS OF CRIME. George Leconteur Held Criminally Responsible For Wife Murder.

Quebec, Oct. 31.—With his face buried in his hands most of the time, Geo. Leconteur, who killed his wife Saturday morning on the Esplanade, heard the story of his horrible crime related to the coroner and the jury by his daughter, Katherine, yesterday morning, and heard her tell of his ill-treatment of her mother, and his jealousy, etc., at the inquest.

After hearing the evidence of several witnesses, the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that his wife was killed maliciously and with premeditation by George Leconteur, who is held criminally responsible.

THE LASH FOR OFFENDER. Fred. Dumontair Gets Also Two Years For Indecent Assault.

St. Catharines, Oct. 31.—Fred. Dumontair, convicted by a jury yesterday of indecent assault on a young girl near the Welland Canal two weeks ago, was sentenced last night.

His Lordship explained, in order to protect girls and women in border counties, it was necessary to inflict heavy penalties, and despite the protests of M. J. McCarron, counsel for the prisoner, sentenced him to two years, less one day, in Central Prison, and some time within ten days of the expiration of his sentence to receive twelve lashes.

VAN HORN.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Theodore Roese took place last Wednesday from her home here and was largely attended. Mr. Roese has the sympathy of the whole community in his bereavement.

The Zink brothers gave quite a swell ball to a number of their friends at the residence of their uncle, Mr. Joseph Zink, last Friday evening. Among the many prominent young ladies who attended were the Misses Jarvis, Zinks, Zimmers, Ferguson, and Miss Minnie McNaughton, of Van Horn; Miss Gertie Campbell and Miss Villa Curtis, of Northwood; the Misses Nelson, of the River Road View; also Miss Maggie Neilson, of Mill; Miss Fern Whittell, Miss Tess O'Rourke, and several others. Mrs. Katie O'Connor, of Ridgeway, one of the prominent young society ladies of that place, was belle of the ball. Music was furnished by Orr's fall orchestra.

Mr. John Regan has moved to his new residence in the city.

Nervous Debility

A POSITIVE CURE IS WHAT YOU WANT

Nervous Debility often results from excessive brain work and worry, as well as from excesses, and the abuse of nature's laws. It causes loss of memory, despondency, specks before the eyes, loss of vigor, tired in morning, weak back, poor circulation, nervousness, dreams at night, weak limbs, loss of appetite, etc. Don't wait until it's too late. You come and have a heart-to-heart talk with us. We will do more for you in one week than other Doctors in town, and at half the expense. Don't let poor circumstances keep you away. We cure you, or we don't.

WE TREAT AND CURE ALL DISEASES PECULIAR TO MEN.

CANADA'S BEST PIANO

THE NORDHEIMER

Supremacy in the art of piano making can only be obtained by a combination of age, experience, capital intelligently applied, ambition to produce something better than has been made, and that care of minute detail, guaranteeing permanent satisfaction to the performer. More than the allotted span of life has been devoted by The House of Nordheimer towards developing the Nordheimer Piano to its present high state of mechanical and artistic perfection.

Mr. R. Victor Carter, our travelling representative, will visit Chatham regularly in our interests and will be pleased to give intending piano purchasers the benefit of his musical knowledge by making personal selection of pianos for all who entrust their order to him. Correspondence addressed to Mr. Carter at the Garner House, will receive his best attention.

AZOV IN STORM

The schooner Azov arrived in port last night with a cargo of lumber for the Blonde Co.
The Azov encountered a very severe gale, which almost amounted to a blizzard, on Lake Huron, but she weathered through safe and sound.
The snow was quite thick on the schooner when she arrived in port last evening.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mrs. Eva English, 2nd concession, Harwich, last evening, when some forty of her young friends were assembled to spend Halloween.

The city guests all met at the Central school and were driven to the house in two large comfortable hay racks.

The house was prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns, Jack o' lanterns and candles. The evening was spent in games and dancing, and after a dainty luncheon the guests departed for the city, everyone being delighted with the evening's entertainment.

MITCHELLS BAY WINS

Mitchell Bay and Kent Bridge football teams met at the Fair Grounds, Chatham, on Wednesday, Oct. 31st, to decide the final game in the semi-finals for the Clements trophy and McCaig medals. Owing to the chilly weather a scant turnout of spectators was present.

The game was started at five minutes after four, and the Mitchell's Bay boys were first in evidence. A fine run down the field by Gregory Lewis, Mitchell's Bay's left wing, was checked by Langford, K. B.'s back, a fine exhibition of give and take play, with occasional fine play by M. B.'s right wing and K. B.'s left wing were the features of the day's game.

Langford, at back, alone, as usual, for K. B. At the end of the first twenty minutes neither team had scored, and Referee Cumming ordered the teams to play twenty minutes longer, and it was just four minutes from the finish that Lister Gregory, by a fine piece of play, scored for Mitchell's Bay. The enthusiasm was wild at this point, which nettled the K. B. boys, and they played with vim and determination to equalize matters, but they were unable to break through the strong defence of the M. B.'s backs, the game resulting as hitherto stated.

Mitchell's Bay will meet the Chatham City team next Thursday, at Chatham, to play the final game for these trophies.

All of those indicted appeared before Coroner McMahon after the inquest, and were allowed to go on parole till 2.30 p. m. Saturday.

J. Lamontagne, legal adviser of the strikers' union, says he is pleased with the verdict, but the counsel for the other side intimate that objection may be taken to the charge of the coroner on some legal points he interpreted to the jury. In all, 99 witnesses testified in the inquest.

More to Come Yet.
Ed. Guerin, K. C., crown prosecutor, says the most important part is to come yet.

The coroner frequently remarked that there were many perjuries in the evidence. He made special reference to Coroner Rodrigue's failure to do his duty in the critical moment. The verdict caused an immense sensation.

DANGERS FROM DYSPEPSIA

Imperfect Digestion Most Profitable Cause of Serious Disease.

Few people seem to realize the real dangers in disturbed, deficient or defective digestion.

While health reports do not give indication as a cause of death, yet it is in reality often fatal, as it weakens the stomach that one becomes readily susceptible to an attack of typhoid fever, kidney disease, nervous prostration or other serious or fatal disease.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets should be used. If there is a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, distress after eating, nervousness, dizziness, nausea, headaches, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, spots before the eyes, or a peevish, irritable condition, with debility and weakness, begin the use of M-I-O-N-A at once.

It will build up the stomach and digestive organs so that you can eat anything at any time without fear of distress or indigestion.

A 50 cent box of M-I-O-N-A tablets will, in most cases, give prompt relief and cure, although in chronic and long-standing weakness of the stomach, two boxes or more are sometimes needed, but we guarantee will cure, in all cases, no matter how chronic or serious, or money will be refunded. You run no risk whatever in buying M-I-O-N-A.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50 cent box of M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. M-I-O-N-A is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write to-day for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give you case his careful and personal attention without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Self-love has no common sense.

OYSTERS.

We have something new in the way of oysters—or rather in the way of handling. We have just received from Baltimore a large box of solid oysters. These are called Seal Shipped Oysters.

The oysters are opened in Baltimore, put in a large box in their own juice, ice is placed in a separate compartment, they are then sealed and come direct to us. They are SOLID OYSTERS—no water or ice has ever touched them since being taken out of their shells in Baltimore. In this way they retain their flavor and are much superior to the ordinary oysters we are accustomed to here.

They cost more but are cheaper in the end as they are SOLID OYSTERS.

JILTED AT CHURCH

Ottawa East Young Woman Waits For Groom Who Changed Mind.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Ottawa East circles were agitated yesterday by the jilting of one of the young ladies of the village, who was gowning and waiting to meet her lover at the altar in Holy Trinity Church at 2 o'clock. The groom was also ready, but a previous jilting that the groom would not appear prevented a scene in the church.

The groom—who was to be worked in the car shops, and it is said that Tuesday he removed his tools and probably left for parts unknown Tuesday night.

The bride is a pretty French-Canadian Protestant, and is seriously upset by the despicable trick played her.

LOOKS BAD FOR HIM

Children Relate How Old Man Beat His Wife to Death.

Belleville, Nov. 1.—The Kleingebell murder trial was continued yesterday afternoon and the testimony was dead against the prisoner.

Wm. Little told of going to Kleingebell's house on the night of the tragedy and seeing Mrs. Kleingebell all beaten up in a way which alarmed him and made him notify the authorities.

Mrs. Dalmage, daughter of the prisoner, testified that she went to her father's house on the night of the tragedy and found her mother in bed, terribly beaten. Her father said he had done it with his fists, and would tell the truth if he hung for it to-morrow.

A. E. Bailey and Alf. Tuscomb corroborated Mrs. Dalmage's story. Old Kleingebell said he and his wife had quarrelled about his son, Herman, who the old man said had been born while he was away at the war; that his wife was saucy and he had pounded her. He said she deserved all she got.

Herman Kleingebell, who lives in Rochester, swore that while he lived at home his father abused and beat his mother with his fists. Old man Kleingebell grew furious at this, shouting that Herman had killed his cattle and he would shoot him. He jumped from his chair in the dock, but Mr. Porter and the county constables eventually quieted him. The court adjourned at 6.30 till this morning. It is expected the trial will last all day to-day.

MR. FIELDING WINS

Finance Minister Returned to Parliament by a 1,001 Majority.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 1.—The election in Shelburne-Queen's yesterday resulted in a victory for Finance Minister Fielding by a majority of 1,001, over P. C. Weidon, the Conservative candidate.

The campaign has been remarkable in several respects. Never before have such desperate efforts to win an election. From fifteen to twenty-five platform workers were in the constituency continuously during the past two weeks, holding the meetings day and night. The officials of the Dominion and local Governments in the riding and outside of it, made the fight their own, and made every effort to secure the election of the Finance Minister.

The Conservative workers, led by Dr. Weidon, though few in numbers, put up a clean, hard fight against great odds. Fielding's majority in 1904 was 185 over J. J. Ritchie, K. C.

Complete returns make Hon. W. S. Fielding's majority 1,001. The total vote was 92 less than in the general election of 1904.

Tolmie's Majority 450.

Port Elgin, Nov. 1.—The corrected returns show that Mr. Tolmie will have a majority of 450.

NOVEMBER
Fur Announcement!

Furs are increasingly and deservedly popular as articles of dress. Some of the best fur-producing countries are unsettled, and the hunters' catch hindered or neglected, causing an advance in the price of raw furs, which we were sure would occur. To secure to our customers the very best of values, and equal or even lower prices than former years, we have secured the agency for this section of The Celebrated Beaver Brand Furs.

In the face of a steady advance in the price of furs, we want to show you what a saving you can accomplish by purchasing at The Gordon Store.

In the Beaver Brand you can rest assured you are getting honest manufactured furs, of good quality, the most careful workmanship and up-to-date models. We guarantee satisfaction in style, price and wear. To insure against ripping, wear and tear, especially in astrachan coats, ladies' coat leaders, we have ours reinforced by a new system of seaming and interlining, which shall be fully explained to every purchaser. If you are not already one of our regular fur customers, we ask the opportunity of making you one, and when you are in need of reliable furs, and at lowest cash prices, be sure first of all to examine the reliable, the Beaver Brand Furs

PILLS AND PILLS.
A profile of cause of piles is the use of cathartics and pills of a drastic, violent nature, which is always followed by a reaction on account of the resinous, drying properties they contain.

It is an internal remedy that removes the cause of itching, blind, bleeding or suppurating piles.

SUMMER FIREPLACES.

A DECORATIVE FIREPLACE.
black leaded abomination, however, black survives in too many houses is a more difficult customer to manage. Half measures are of no use here, and the thing must be either left in its native ugliness or means must be adopted to cover it almost entirely.

A New Idea.
A wooden panel covered with tapestry of an indefinite leafy design may be planned to fit into the large square opening, and the lines of this can be broken up by pots of ferns. Once started, these groups can be kept up with a very few additional touches all through the summer.

An Oriental Suggestion.
A large Cairene brass tray is another thing which goes far toward mitigating the plainness of the summer fireplace. This can be flanked in various ways by a couple of scroily iron stands bearing plants, supporting jars of foliage or, as is shown in the sketch, by two tall cylinder pots. These latter can be filled with trails of ivy and periwinkle, with large fronds of fern standing up in the center, or, less troublesome still, they can be planted with marigolds or ivy leaf geraniums.

SAN SALVADOR.
Built on a Volcano, the Results Are Somewhat Startling.
San Salvador is built on a volcano. It has been three times destroyed by an earthquake, but the people are becoming accustomed to such excitement now. Earthquakes are pretty frequent, and while one is naturally nervous, there is really little danger to life. The shocks have been known to come as frequently as eighty times in an hour.

The effects are quite peculiar. In the city is a brick column, nine feet high and three feet square, which was removed a hundred feet without losing its perpendicular or cracking the mortar.
The ground under the city is full of caverns of unknown depth. A man was digging a well there. The last stroke he gave with his pick the bottom fell out, and he and his pick and all fell through, nobody knows where. There is a volcano not far from San Salvador that some years ago discharged lava over a forest. The wood all caught fire, of course, but the lava, being light and easily cooled, formed and hardened into long arcs through which it was possible to walk. Even now the imprint of the trunks and branches of the trees can be seen.

TABLE NAPKINS.
They Came Into General Use in the Fifteenth Century.

Curiously enough, that article, now considered almost indispensable, the table napkin, was first used only by children and was only adopted by elder members of the family about the middle of the fifteenth century. In etiquette books of an earlier date than this among other sage pieces of advice for children are instructions about wiping their fingers and lips with their napkins.

It seems that the tablecloth was long enough to reach the floor and served the grown people in place of napkins. When they did begin to use napkins they placed them first on the shoulder, then on the left arm and finally tied them about the neck. A French writer who evidently was conservative and did not welcome the napkin kindly records with scorn:

"The napkin is placed under the chin and fastened in the back, as if one were going to be shaved. A person told me that he wore his that way that he might not soil his beautiful frills." It was a difficult matter to tie the two corners in the back, and it is said that thence originated our expression for straitened circumstances, "Hard to make both ends meet." This custom led to the habit of table waiters carrying a napkin on the left arm.

TOLMIE WINS.
Succeeds in Downing Inexperienced Mr. McLelland By About 400.

Tara, Oct. 31.—The bye-election in North Bruce to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons, caused by the death of Leonard T. Bland, Conservative, resulted in the return of John Tolmie, Liberal, over Abram McLelland, Conservative, by a majority of nearly 400.

In the general election Mr. Bland had a majority of 107 over J. E. Campbell.

The victor of to-day was the member for West Bruce previous to the general election of 1904. In that year he lost the convention to Mr. Campbell.

He is immensely popular all through the riding, and this largely accounts for his extraordinary run. His opponent was Abram McLelland, a respectable farmer and drover, but woefully inexperienced in things political.

No one expected him to win, but it was not thought Mr. Tolmie's majority would be so decisive. The majorities follow:

FOR TEMPORARY PEACE.

Modus Vivendi Was Arranged With the United States.
London, Oct. 31.—Replying to further questions in the House of Commons yesterday regarding the Newfoundland fisheries question, Mr. Churchill, the Parliamentary Secretary for the Colonial Office, explained that the modus vivendi was a temporary arrangement made with the United States, intended to avoid the occurrence of untoward incidents during the negotiations necessitated by the action taken by the Colonial Government, in spite of the representations of His Majesty's Government.

Ample precedent for the course adopted could be found in the modus vivendi, into which the late Marquis of Salisbury entered, with France, respecting the Newfoundland lobster fisheries.

Foreign Secretary Grey announced that the correspondence with the United States and Newfoundland would be presented to the House as soon as it could be prepared.

DEATH OVERTAKES MINISTER.
Rev. Dr. Hutt Found Dead in His Study—Sad Circumstances.

Ingersoll, Oct. 31.—Shortly before 6 o'clock last night Rev. Dr. E. R. Hutt, for the past 17 years pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was found dead seated in a chair in his study. His sudden death is unusually sad in view of the fact that at 7 o'clock he was to have performed the ceremony at the marriage of his second son, and wedding guests had already arrived. Dr. Hutt was down town until about 4 o'clock. He had not enjoyed good health for the past couple of years, but there was no outward sign that the end was so near. Death was due to heart disease.

The late Dr. Hutt was in his 55th year, and is survived by widow and five children, three sons and two daughters. He was one of the best known Presbyterian ministers of western Ontario, and was a very clever speaker.

Anxious to Learn of Canada.
Toronto, Oct. 31.—Jan Mackie is an 11-year-old Boer boy, living at Engelbrecht's Drift, Orange River Colony, who springs into prominence in this part of the globe by having written a letter to the Minister of Education, asking that something be done to get him a correspondent in Canada. He encloses some meales, wheat, manna, potato, pea, bean, melon, tobacco and pumpkin seeds, which are sent to inaugurate exchange either for seeds of postage stamps. Hon. Dr. Pyne will himself write to the boy, and will have the letter passed on to Inspector Hughes and on to the school children.

Conservative Call to Arms.
Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—At the annual meeting of the Young Conservative Club last night a strong resolution was passed calling for a big general convention of the Conservative party, to be held in Winnipeg as soon as possible. The feeling of the meeting was strongly in favor of holding a convention to thoroughly re-organize and prepare for the next federal election.

Minister Borden Rebuked.
Kingston, Oct. 31.—The Kingston Reform Association last evening, re-elected John McDonald Mowat president. The recent appointment of Major Shannon, a Conservative, to the Militia Department, was under review, and Sir Frederick Borden received scathing criticism for allowing Tory officers at headquarters to run his Department.

Defects in Rifles.
Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Enquiry of the Mounted Police Department elicits the information that minor defects have been discovered in the mechanism of the Ross rifles recently issued to the force in the west. As a result the arms are being recalled, in order that this defect may be made good.

Boy Dies Without Doctor.
Kenora, Ont., Oct. 31.—A Christian Scientist named Shreck has been arrested, charged with permitting his little son to die without calling medical attention. He will be given a preliminary hearing on Friday.

REVELED IN PERFUMES.
The Ancients Indulged in Them to an Extravagant Degree.
The use of perfume was indulged in to such an extravagant degree by the ancients that some of the more ascetic men had good reason to denounce it. Solon issued an edict prohibiting the sale of perfumes in that city, and by the laws of Lycurgus perfumes were expelled from Sparta as being wasteful of oil and encouragers of sensuousness. Clearchus wrote against the excessive use of unguents, and Socrates declaimed against them in strong terms, preferring, he said, "the smell of healthy toil and the perfume of a good and manly life." It was customary at festivals to pass round to the guests perfumes served in alabaster boxes and vessels of gold. At one of these feasts Cyniscus, who loved to deride the youth for the use of perfumes, was made a butt for their ridicule. Some mischievous youth anointed the cynic with much ointment, pouring it lavishly over his head and face. When he awoke he exclaimed in an angry voice: "What is this? Oh, Hercules, will not some one come with a sponge and wipe my face, which is thus polluted with a lot of dirt?"
At the Syrian banquets it was usual for the slaves to come in with bladders full of Babylonian perfumes and bedew the garlands and walls and hangings and fill the halls with delicious fragrance. In some of the more modern feast statues and ornaments were provided with jets which threw out diluted essences and attars.—London Society.

Witness—I don't know, sir. I did not go into the interim at all. I just stayed in the ante-room.

All Household Roads Lead to Kitchen Work

NINE-TENTHS of kitchen labor and worry is caused by ill-working cook stoves and ranges; by ranges that draw poorly; that have such complicated drafts that only a skilled mechanic can manage them; whose grates are so constructed that it is a strong man's work to shake them down; ranges which work well when the wind is in a certain direction, but act like a fiend at other times; ranges whose work is so unreliable that the housekeeper is in a constant nerve-racking worry lest the meals be late or the baking spoiled.

The Pandora range is built to make work easy, a child can shake it down; its drafts are so simple that one learns them in a minute; its heat is kept in the range so effectively that you can do a big baking and hardly know there is a fire in it two feet away; it keeps the kitchen cool; it saves you worry; it saves you time and money; it saves you backaches and headaches, because it is so easy to manage and so reliable.

The Pandora makes kitchen work easy.

SEE THE DERBY ONCE.

The Horse Race Incident in by Long Odds the Least of It.

It is a matter of twenty odd miles from London to Epsom, in whose vicinity the historic race course lies, and samples of almost every curious thing there is in old England are to be seen along the various roadways. If there were but one road to Epsom, half of the procession that starts from London on the morning of Derby day would be left struggling in the outskirts of the city long after the great race had been run. But there are many, though none too many, since each is packed to the point of discomfort from early dawn until far into the night.

The Derby is a thing for the foreigner to see once and ever afterward to hold in grateful memory, because it is an experience that could never repeat itself to the satisfaction of the mere onlooker. Primarily it is, of course, a horse race, but the race, which occupies such a fleeting breath of time, is by long odds the least of it. Otherwise it is an expression of Britishness such as may not be witnessed upon any other occasion. It is the one day in the year, I believe, on which English society levels itself out upon the first principle of the brotherhood of man. "Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief, doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief," without distinction and with perfect camaraderie, come together with the evident if unconscious purpose of proving that to be merely British is all that any true Briton can reasonably desire.

The foreigners are the only spectators. Everybody else is "in the cast," as it were, and it is difficult to judge whether the king, with his nobles and their bery of brilliantly attired ladies, or the coterie in his donkey cart, with "the missus and the kids," is the leading actor. Perhaps it would be better to call it a variety show and to decide that each in his "turn" is a star in his own particular performance.

MOHAMMED'S BLOODY HAND

History of the Imprint on a Pillar in the Church of St. Sophia.

In the course of our exploration in Constantinople we visited a building in an obscure and poor quarter of Stambul inhabited solely by Mohammedans.

It is called the Mosque Kahrie, but it is or was a church dedicated to the Blessed Virgin. The beauty of the mosque ceiling and walls not even centuries of neglect have been able to obliterate.

When we returned to the great Church of St. Sophia, now a mosque, and saw again the print of the bloody hand of Mohammed, which is pointed out high up on the wall of that once Christian church, we understand its significance better than we had at first sight.

Mohammed II, after advancing his outpost gradually and stealthily had finally, as if in a night, crossed the Bosphorus from Asia and raised his forts on the European side of the stream. Just the day before, on a trip up the Bosphorus, we had seen the ruins of those fortifications.

The rulers of the city had protested in vain against this encroachment. When the Moslems finally attacked the city the Christians fled in terror to St. Sophia. An ancient legend, firmly believed, promised that this sanctuary was absolutely safe.

Mohammed proved the fallacy of their trust by breaking down the doors, murdering those who had sought safety there, men, women and children—so many of them that finally, forcing his horse over the great pile of dead bodies, away up on the side of a pillar he planted his bloody hand on the clear wall in token of his victory over the Christians. That gory hand still overshadows the fairest portion of southeastern Europe.

Warning Him.

"I am sorry," said the poet, "but I am obliged to call your attention to the fact that a line in one of my recent compositions was entirely perverted and the meaning painfully distorted by the compositor."

"Young man," replied the editor, "that compositor has gone through more poems than you ever wrote or even read. He has put in his life setting up poetry of all kinds, spring and autumn styles and heavier goods for winter. He may have changed your poem, but when you say he has changed you presume. When a man of his experience makes up his mind to change a piece of poetry a person in your position should not attempt to criticize."

The Art of Glove Cutting.

The cutters of the great glove houses in Brussels and in France earn even higher wages than the cutters of the most fashionable tailors in London and New York. So difficult is this art of cutting gloves that most of the principal cutters are known to the trade by name and by fame, and the peculiar knives which they use in the business are so highly prized that they are handed down from generation to generation as heirlooms.

The Poultry Business.

Billfuz—See that sharp looking man over there? He has made a fortune out of the poultry business. Jubb—is that so? He doesn't look like a man who raised chickens. Billfuz—Raise chickens? Of course he doesn't. He writes books telling other people how much he can make by raising them.

Never risk a joke, even the least ofensive in its nature and the most common, with a person who is not well bred and possessed of sense to comprehend it.—Bryers.

HER FIRST PHOTOGRAPH.

Miss Marie Corelli, the Novelist, Explains Her Views and How It All Came About.

The long drawn out fight which Miss Marie Corelli has been making to protect her personal modesty and at the same time not interfere with the publicity of her fiction has taken a new turn with the publication of her latest book, "The Treasures of Heaven," which has just been given to the book-sellers.

At last she has condescended, at the special request of the publishers to allow a real photograph of herself to go before the public. It appears as the frontispiece of the new book, which is her sixteenth.

Even more surprising, as a bit of vanity, is the "author's note" which goes with the frontispiece in the English edition of "The Treasures of Heaven." She declares that a portrait of herself was taken in the spring of this year, and she explains her feelings about it.

It is somewhat reluctant, she writes, "to see it so placed, because it has nothing whatever to do with the story, which is told in the following pages, beyond being a faithful likeness."

LITERARY

The November number of the Woman's Home Companion is to hand, bigger and better than ever. This magazine has made not remarkable strides towards the top of Magazine-dom, and judging by the forecast for 1907, it will continue its steady growth. The current number contains the first instalment of a new serial entitled Jerry Junior. A New England Thanksgiving story by the popular authoress, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, also deserves special mention.

"Schools that Are, and Schools that Should Be," by an ex-teacher, which appears in the October number of Everyday Housekeeping, might be read with advantage by Canadian parents, although it refers to the schools in the United States.

"Home Improvement," in the same number, treats of the outside improvement of the home, and our streets, parks, business places, etc., which men, women and children can combine to improve.

The Domestic Science Department contains many valuable recipes.

The Canadian Pictorial, the first number of which has just been issued by The Pictorial Publishing Co., Montreal, is a 24-page illustrated magazine. It is printed on calendar paper, which shows the pictures to good advantage. The illustrations are chiefly Canadian and embrace scenes from all parts of our magnificent Dominion. The Canadian Pictorial should have a good field, as it is the only magazine of this class in Canada, and The Planet joins in wishing the publishers success in their enterprise. The price is 10c. a number or $1.00 per annum.

In the November number of Keith's Magazine on Home Building, the decoration of ceilings is dealt with in a manner that will be a help to everyone who has tried to solve the knotty question, "What can I do with this ceiling?" The designs for the home interior are anything more easy and pretty than ever. The Decoration and Furnishing Department takes up the one room problem, which confronts so many residents of the large cities. Keith's Magazine, at $1.50 per annum, is one that no domestic householder should be without.

In the November number of Success, in "The Mind of the Child," by Patterson, Du Bois, (who is considered one of the greatest authorities on the moral training of children), all parents and teachers will find much food for thought. "The Human Machine," by Dr. Woods Hutchison, is a second article of a series on human and common sense, which is a combination of humor and good sense. It is illustrated by Clare V. Duvignies.

These are only two of the many interesting papers with which the seventy-three pages of the magazine are filled. The price is only 10c.

"Lives" of all the November magazines is the Review of Reviews, with every one of its special features and all its departments edited in the best manner. The Copper, the great industrial fact of the month—see the market quotations—this is the topic selected for most extended treatment. The British House of Lords, a venerable institution that has been at the helm of the nation's affairs since the time of the great industrial revolution, is the subject of a trenchant political essay from the pen of W. T. Stead. There are other contributed articles, amongst which we might mention Dr. Schumacher, the brilliant young economist who is lecturing this fall at Columbia University on the Kaiser Wilhelm foundation; and the forthcoming visit of British teachers to the United States.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSE PLANS.

We have just received from the publishers, J. S. Ogilvie Company, New York, a book entitled "Palliser's Up-to-Date House Plans," which contains 150 new, practical, up-to-date, 1906 plans of houses, costing from $500 to $15,000, and to all who are now thinking of building or ever expect to build a house, we can heartily recommend this book as giving information, hints and helps as to how to build a good house at a low price. One interesting and practical feature of the book is a list of working plans and specifications from which any one can get an estimate. The price of these working plans is $2.50 per set, and the price usually charged for this work. The price of this practical book, containing 160 pages, bound in paper cover, is only $1.00, for which amount it will be sent to any one by mail, postpaid. J. S. Ogilvie Publishing Company, 57 Rose Street, New York, are the publishers.

The Travel Magazine is an "Old Friend with a New Face," as it is a continuation of The Four Track News, which has been doubled in size to allow the publishers to use larger illustrations. [This will be appreciated by all who were familiar with Four Track News, which was not large enough to show the grandeur of the scenery which is depicted each month in this magazine, which will be realized when looking at the beauty of the scenery through which the travellers passed. The experiences of "A Modern Jonah" make attractive reading, but no one would envy his experiences. The wide interest that is felt on the subject of Game Protection is shown

"To Abitibi with the Prospector," with which the November number of Rod and Gun opens, is a delightful account of a cruise from Lake Temiskaming to Lake Abitibi. It is very fully illustrated, showing the beauty of the scenery through which the travellers passed. The experiences of "A Modern Jonah" make attractive reading, but no one would envy his experiences. The wide interest that is felt on the subject of Game Protection is shown

WAS TEMPTED AND HE FELL

Wm. Spence Opened Ballot Box Just To "See How"

THE LONDON SCANDAL

Toronto, Nov. 1.—"They tempted me several times and at last I fell." So said William Spence of London, deputy returning officer, as he yesterday explained to Magistrate Denison the circumstances leading up to the illegal opening of a ballot box. He had not done it for money; it was to see whether Steve Collins and another had voted right. Deputy returning officers had marked the ballots, and when they were exposed in Wm. Spence's house it was shown that the two men hadn't earned the bribe money that was to have been theirs. Spence got it instead, as a reward. Spence said he had been urged by Sifton to open the box.

Always For Pure Elections. George Gibbons, K. C., of London, president of the Alberta Association, made a strong denial that he had ever countenanced crooked work and entered into a long statement to prove that election history in London laid corruption at the doors of the Conservative party. Speaking of the earlier Tory man elections, he said "No party ever tried harder to carry on pure elections, and no man on God's earth did more than I did."

He said that Collins' appointment as a deputy returning officer had been a serious mistake, and related his refusal to "bribe the briber."

He had always tried to carry on elections without the illegal use of money; he knew that in the last election this policy had not been carried out, and he was glad the exposures have resulted. The respectable voters in London like good, clean politics, he said.

The Brockville Election. The first Brockville witness called was H. Wendling. He said that before the Comstock-White election a Liberal worker came to him with two ballots marked for Comstock. Wendling made a bargain with two men who promised to use the marked ballots when they went to vote and return the bank to the Liberal organizers. They would then receive $10 each.

Sherwood Elliott gave evidence which corroborated the story of Wendling regarding the methods used in Brockville. He went to Linn to vote, and after arriving in the polling booth was sent to Stack's Hotel. He saw Mike Stack, who gave him a ballot marked for Comstock, and said he would receive $10 for the blank one. He voted for White, and gave the bogus ballot to a Brockville lawyer. He told Stack that he still had the ballot marked for the Liberal candidate. Stack offered him $20 for it, and later raised his bid to $50, but the witness would not bargain for it.

Reginald Wallis. The ballot was put in as an exhibit. It had the initials supposed to belong to the D. R. O. on the back, and looked genuine.

Mr. Weatherly saw Pritchett in a Brockville polling booth, and Wm. Stewart gave evidence to same effect. Rufus Smith related having been promised $100 to slip in prepared ballots marked for the Liberal candidate. He had agreed to do the job, but hadn't. He had promised just to "keep in" with the party, he said.

Identification of O'Meara. The charge of perjury against John O'Meara of London was gone on with before Magistrate Denison yesterday morning and the crown produced several witnesses, who attempted to identify O'Meara as the man arrested in Brantford during the Heyd-Henry election of 1897. Several witnesses were positive that O'Meara was the man but in details as to dress and other points they were not all of one accord. The case was remanded until to-day, when O'Meara's father will be the witness. Magistrate Denison would not accept bail.

Brockville Man Killed by Cars. Brockville, Nov. 1.—Yesterday the 11:30 limited train on the G. T. R. from Montreal struck and killed Mr. Warren, an old resident, at the Parks street crossing, in the town. He was a brick-layer and was crossing the track towards the brickyard when the limited rushed along, killing him almost instantly. He was about 62 years old and leaves a widow and family.

Yesterday morning John Menish, street superintendent, reported word that his son George, had been killed while switching cars at St. Louis, Mo.

Indians Desire Peace.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 1.—Rumors of a fight between the troops and the Utes in Wyoming are discredited at military headquarters here. On the other hand, a message sent from the front by courier Tuesday night and wired to headquarters yesterday, said the Indians were peacefully inclined and no trouble was anticipated. A special says the Indians are traveling northward and have already passed the Montana state line.

Child Scalded to Death.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—While several relatives and friends were making merry in celebration of the intended departure of his parents for their old home in Sunny Italy, Salvatore Tedesco, 3 years old, tumbled into a tub of boiling water at his home and sustained scalds which caused the child's death three hours later, after terrible suffering.

BODY THAT OF ANOTHER

Strange Plea of the Defence In Trial Of Doyle For Murder

A QUEER DEVELOPMENT

Morden, Man., Nov. 1.—The Doyle murder trial, which promises to be the most sensational ever heard in the west, opened here yesterday. Doyle, an American, is charged with killing Vincent Weller, also an American, at Snowlake, Man., on Nov. 20 last. The body was not found until this spring.

The startling feature of the day was the arrest of Charles Foley, Killarney, at the close of the proceedings. He is accused of intimidating witnesses from North Dakota who are here. Foley is an old chum of Doyle.

The line of argument to be taken by the defence, as revealed yesterday is most unexpected. The defence evidently intends to try and prove that it was not Weller's body which was found, but that of an unknown man, found near Morris, Man., about a week before the body supposed to be that of Weller was found, and which mysteriously disappeared. The claim is, it was dressed up as Weller to secure the reward money. It is said the defence will try to prove Weller has been seen since Nov. 20 in the Northwest.

WAS A SUCCESS

The masquerade ball given by the Young Men's Pleasure Club last evening proved highly successful, and was attended by about 50 couples. The floor was in excellent shape and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent by all present. The prize for the best costume was won by Mr. Stephen Anquetil and his partner, Miss Matthews, who were dressed as Mexican beat and Belle respectively. The prize for the cake-walk was won by E. Johns and his partner.

DIAMOND DYES

Are Used By All Wise And Economical Canadian Women.

Failures in home dyeing are caused by the use of imitation and adulterated package dyes which are ruinous to good materials and dangerous to handle. Ladies who value their garments and materials should never risk imitation and worthless package dyes. The colors of such dyes are always muddy, blotchy and lifeless. Storekeepers sell such trashy dyes simply because of the large profits they bring, and care little for the trouble and vexation these common dyes cause to the women who use them. DIAMOND DYES are the only successful, pure, fast and brilliant dyes sold. The DIAMOND DYES have a wonderful record of triumphs and successes, and have no equals in the world for easy and profitable home coloring.

As there are merchants who sell inferior and adulterated package dyes, insist each time you buy that you are served with the DIAMOND DYES. See that each package bears the words, DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 203 Mountain Street, Montreal, P. Q., for valuable Dye Book and Card of Dyed Samples; Free to any address.

The people who are unable to make a living are most expert at making excuses.

Odd Overcoats

We have a few odd overcoats scattered through the stocks that were carried over from last year, of course that are not as stylish as those we are making this year. How could they be? But then they are just as serviceable and we have knocked all signs of style out of the prices as the following list of reduction shows.

$ 7.50 for $ 5.00 $10 for $ 8.00
10.00 for 6.50 15 for 8.00
15.00 for 10.00 20 for 16.00
12.00 for 10.00 22 for 18.00

This lot has:

5 size 34 4 size 38
4 size 36 3 size 39
3 size 37 2 size 40

Also Ends of Stock in Boy's and Men's Sizes at a Snap.

Quite a number of these coats are in big boy's and small men's sizes, others are for very big men. If you are not a stickler for extreme style and want to be warm this winter, now is your chance.

NECKWEAR SALE

On Saturday we will place on sale 60 dozen fine silk ties principally Tooks, made from 50c silks—in an immense variety of the best fall patterns and shading at 19c.

NEW YORK CLOAK STORE,

HANDSOME NEW

COATS and SUITS

New York's Latest Offerings

October as usual has brought forth a variety of cloak and suit styles—different of course from those shown earlier of these later productions. We received several shipments this week, these shipments embrace an assortment which is broad, which reaches a big total in many instances. However, there is but a single garment of a kind. Our cloak and suit department, you know aims for style exclusiveness, this exclusiveness is quite noticeable in almost every garment we show. We're proud of the style, character which compels visitors to say—"Well in the New York Cloak Store things are different." A coat and a suit of course, but our offerings bear the hall mark of the aristocracy of fashion, the price is not a bit higher than quality and style. Call for smart new coats $6.50 to $25.00 Smart new suits $3.50 to $35.00.

Special Sales will be given on Saturday

On skirts from $3.00 to $5.00 for $2.49. Blouses from $1.25 to $2.25 for 98c.
