The price of hogs has taken a sudden rise, local dealers paying $9.50 per cwt. on Monday.

Miss Olive Ruetz, of Walkerton, has returned to her home here to spend the winter.

200 pairs Live Pigeons wanted up to Nov. 26th. Highest price paid at Liesemer & Co.'s Hardware.

Mr. Tyrwhitt Kidd attended the funeral of Mr. Harold Coumans of Chepstow on Monday.

We still have a big lot of "Tea Towels" to be given away. One pair for every home. Ask for a pair if you have not received any. Helwig Bros.

Mr. Fred A. Bridges has purchased the property recently occupied by H. W. Pletsch, and moved his harness business into the new stand on Monday.

Oxo Cubes for enriching gravies, soups, etc. as well as for beef tea, fill a long felt want. In boxes at 10 and 25 cents at Scheffer's.

Mr. William Schwalm returned from the Bruce County Hospital on Monday, and his friends here are pleased to learn of recovery.

Sealskipt Oysters are honest Oysters. They never fail to satisfy. They are economical too. A pint is enough for an ordinary family. Scheffer.

Everybody cordially invited to the box social in Fischer's school house on Friday evening, Nov. 28th. Waechter's orchestra.

Ex-Editor Johnston has had his car removed to the Ayrton garage where it will be thoroughly over-hauled by the Wenger expert before being placed in "cold storage" for the winter.

Mr. Ed. Schwalm returned to his home here on Saturday from Kindersley, Sask., where he had been making his home since last spring. Ed. has many friends here, who are pleased to see him back in the old burg.

Mr. N. F. Caswell, of Toronto, a representative of the Dominion Alliance will be in town next Sunday. He will take charge of the Presbyterian service in the morning at 11 and preach in the Methodist Church at 7 p. m. At both services he will speak on Temperance and the work of the Alliance.

Messrs. Wm. and Ed. Diebel have made application to the Mildmay Rink Co. for the lease of their rink for the coming season. In lieu of the company receiving no tenders, the rink was to have been used solely for curling purposes, but under the capable and experienced management of these gentlemen, the rink this winter promises to have a record season.

The body of Harold Coumans, who was one of the victims of the Lake Huron tragedy week ago Sunday, passed through here to Chepstow on Saturday evening's train. The funeral was held at that place on Monday, the Walkerton High School boys who were in the same class with Coumans when he was a student in that institute, attending in a body.

A united meeting of the Farmer's and Women's Institutes will be held commencing at 7.30, when addresses will be given by Mr. Barbour and Miss Robinson, of Ilderton. All interested in the problems of the producers are invited to be present. W. A. Rowland, Secretary.

Only a Dream.

The Express man at Clifford seems to be another of those unfortunate editors, who sees himself the proud possessor of an automobile—but only in his dreams. Here's what he says this week—"A few editors have automobiles, but many more could afford them if they had what was owing to them. He is indeed a "cheap" man who does not sufficiently realize his obligation to pay for his home paper and there are those who will take a paper for years, neglect paying for it, and when an account is presented be kind enough to drop a card ordering it discontinued, but with no reference to payment.

Obituary Mrs. Wm. McGavin.

Word has reached the office conveying the sad intelligence of the death, at 2636 Cambridge St., Vancouver, B. C., of Mrs. Wm. McGavin, on Thursday, November 13th. Deceased was 36 years, 11 months and 13 days of age, death being due to a hemorrhage of the brain. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and three children—Evelyn, aged 11, James Edwin, aged 7, and Willie, aged 3. The bereaved husband was a resident of this town for a number of years, and is well known in Carrick. He later went to Manitoba, where he married and resided until some time later, when he removed to Vancouver. His friends here extend their sympathy.

With Stane and Besom.

The local curlers association held a meeting on Monday night in the Royal Hotel for the purpose of organization, and the election of officers for the season. It was decided to join the Ontario Curling Association, which will entitle the club to compete in the district games for the Ontario Curling Tankard. The club wishes to notify intending new members to leave their names with either the secretary or the treasurer, and will arrange for purchase of stones for new members. A great deal of interest is taken in this sport, and Mildmay rinks will no doubt participate in some very interesting games this coming winter. The officers elected at Monday's meeting:—Pres., John E. Fink; Vice-Pres., P. D. Leisemer; Treas., Geo. Helwig; Sec. A. A. Werlich.

Funeral of Henry Schwalm.

The late Henry Schwalm, whose funeral was held to the Evangelical cemetery last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, came to this town from Colorado, one year ago last July. Owing to failing health Mr. Schwalm, located here, his father, Mr. Nicholas Schwalm being a resident of the place at that time, but since removed to Pinkham, Sask. As a result of Sunday's severe storm, wires were down all along the line and no word could be sent to his father and brothers at Pinkham. The funeral last Thursday was largely attended, among the number from outside points, being:—Mr. Dan Schell, of Listowel; Mrs. Smallback of Owen Sound; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt, of Clifford; Mr. and Mrs. John Wendt, of Wroxeter and Miss Mabel Hefkey of Drayton. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, fitting testimonials of the love and esteem in which deceased was held in Mildmay.

BORN.

BRAUN.—In Hanover, on Thursday Nov. 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Braun, a son.

Box Social.

At Separate S. S. No. 1, Carrick (Fischer's) on Friday Evening, November 28th. Dancing after social, music to be supplied by Waechter's orchestra. A cordial invitation to all.

Blessing of New R. C. Church.

The Opening Services of the new Roman Catholic church will be held at 10.30 on Sunday morning. A large number of invitations have been issued to prominent clergymen and it is expected that the Bishop of this diocese will be present. Many expressions of admiration have been elicited by the beautiful structure which has gone up in our midst, and an encouraging feature of the church construction is the debt, which only amounts to between five and six thousand dollars. Congratulations are due the pastor, Rev. R. C. Lehman, under whose personal supervision this splendid structure has been erected, as well as to the congregation, whose cheerful contributions have enabled the enterprise. The debt, it will be admitted, is small, size of congregation and the splendour of the new House of God taken into consideration, and great credit is due to those citizens who so unselfishly contributed to the building fund since a few years ago, when this tremendous enterprise was first conceived. The church, it is claimed, is one of the most magnificent in Ontario and will be a source of pride to the handful of people through whose assistance the building was constructed.

Judging Course.

A short course in Stock and Seed Judging will be held in the Mildmay Skating Rink on Friday and Saturday, November 28th and 29th, comprising judging of Beef Cattle, Heavy Horses and Seeds. This course has been arranged by the Farmers Institute Branch at Toronto in co-operation with its South Bruce branch and a committee of the local members at Mildmay, and is especially planned to meet conditions in Carrick and Culross. It will be entirely free and everyone interested in improving their live stock or seeds should avail themselves of this opportunity to obtain valuable information. The Program:—Friday—2.00 p. m.—Heavy Horses—John Guardhouse, Highgate. Saturday—9.30 to 12.00 a. m.—Beef Cattle—John Guardhouse, Highgate. 2.00 p. m.—Seeds—W. J. W. Lennox, Toronto. Mr. Guardhouse is one of Canada's leading farmers and show men and is recognized as a splendid Judge from one side of Canada to the other. Those interested in the improvement of animals will be amply repaid for any effort they may make to be present. Mr. Lennox is the Seed Inspector for Western Ontario for the Dominion Seed Branch at Ottawa. His work during the past few years has made him thoroughly familiar with all kinds of Seed Grains, Clovers, etc. Farmers, this is your opportunity to get information. N. C. MacKay, District Representative, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture. Local Committee—John Bilger, J. M. Fischer, Andrew Schmidt, Jas. H. Thompson.

FORMOSA.

Mr. C. Weiler has a gang of men at work cutting and skidding logs in Tony Voisin's bush the last two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Flachs moved to Hanover last week where Philip has secured a situation in the Knechtel furniture factory.

While playing in C. Weiler's barn on Sunday, George, the son of Mr. Gustav Tiede had the misfortune of falling and breaking his wrist. Dr. McCue reduced the fracture and the little fellow is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schnurr attended the funeral of Harold Coumans at Chepstow on Monday.

Mr. Alphonse Zimmer has been laid up since last week and is under the doctor's care.

Incorporation Meeting Last Friday Evening In Town Hall Was Largely Attended.

The Ratepayers Present Were In Sympathy With The Movement, as Expressed by Local Speakers. J. T. Kidd, Chairman. Meeting Opened Late.

A public meeting, as announced in last week's Gazette, was held in the Town Hall last Friday evening, and the attendance was very large the meeting was somewhat of a failure in that no outside speakers were present. The chair was taken at 8.45 by Mr. J. T. Kidd, and although he had not had time to prepare a speech, he gave a very eloquent outline of the movement, stating in conclusion that he was in full sympathy with the question under discussion, and would lend his influence to bring the matter to a satisfactory conclusion. Mr. Seraphine Herring was then called upon to address the meeting and the opinion of the speaker was given in no uncertain terms, leaving no room to doubt that his vote and influence would be given. Mr. Herring commented upon our street lighting system—or rather the absence of a street lighting system—and stated that it was a crying shame that a town the size of Mildmay should be so far back in the important matter of lighting. He commented upon the fact that strangers coming into town on the evening train had great difficulty in finding their way down street, owing to the darkness, and the audience found considerable amusement in the statement that we might as well be living in a swamp for all the light we have. Mr. Herring's address was fully appreciated, and furnished food for reflection to more than one who heard his views, bringing out, as it did, that incorporation was our only hope of securing a good lighting system.

Dr. L. Doering was next called upon and the audience listened with evident interest and pleasure to the speaker's views. Mr. Doering went fully into the question of raised taxation, and refuted more than one statement in this connection. He dwelt upon the prosperity and progress of Neustadt since its incorporation, and stated that Mildmay had not received its full share of the prosperity due it.

Mr. Louis Braun was also one of the speakers, and gave, we believe, one of the best addresses of the evening. Mr. Braun has the commendable knack of saying exactly what he means, and his greatest argument in favor of the movement was the lighting system. As Mr. Braun was on the fire board, his opinion should carry some weight with the rate-payers. He stated that while on the board they approached the Council with the matter of submitting a by-law for a lighting system, the cost of which was to have been added to the taxes, and the Council flatly refused to act in the matter, stating that they had no power to do so. There are two ways to secure a lighting system for this town, according to the speaker. One is to incorporate and have the management of the town in the hands of our citizens, and the other to remain as we are, and get the money for initial cost and maintenance from year to year, in case it was run at a loss, from the citizens by private subscription. The reader is left to form his own opinion as to which is the most commendable. Mr. Braun said if it comes to a vote, as it necessarily will, he thinks he will cast his ballot in favor of having self government for the town.

Mr. John G. Weber was also called upon to speak, and was really the only speaker of the evening who was decidedly averse to having our town incorporated. Mr. Weber was listened to with rapt attention and his statements were loudly applauded by those opposed to the movement. The speaker took exception to some of the statements made by previous speakers regarding Neustadt, saying even with incorporation and the addition of factories, Neustadt to-day was not as far advanced as Mildmay in its commercial situation. He said that the promoters of the movement prated about the splendid facilities in the water power line in Mildmay, but that he (the speaker) could not see any of them. Mr. Weber is of the opinion that the town is good enough as it is, and he does not favor having any radical change in our administration.

Mr. W. H. Huck spoke briefly and to the point, saying that 29 years ago when he was casting about for a location he did not consider Chesley and Hanover as even worth while, and consequently located at Mildmay. There is no comparison between these two places now as far as the commercial aspect is concerned, and Mr. Huck thinks Hanover and Chesley's prosperity is due to the fact that they became incorporated years ago, while Mildmay dragged along in the same old way all these years—and made practically no progress.

Dr. J. A. Wilson spoke at some length, going deeply into the question, and giving it as his opinion that if Mildmay became incorporated, selected a Council of good careful men, our citizens would not know their town in five years—without a mill increase in taxation. The speaker also commented upon our "lighting system", and stated the deplorable lack of street lighting could easily be remedied, and would be one of the first matters to be taken up after incorporation.

The best argument in favor of incorporation were the facts and figures submitted by the Clerk, Mr. J. A. Johnston. These figures enlightened, more than words could do, the situation in which we are at present in relation with the Township.

The meeting concluded with the singing of "God Save the King."

$10,000 BANK ROBBERY.

The Union Bank at Hazelton, B.C., Entered by Masked Men.

A despatch from Hazelton, B.C., says: Five masked men robbed the Union Bank at Hazelton, Tuesday night, shot the cashier and escaped with $10,000 after a rifle battle with citizens. A special train was sent west in hope of intercepting the bandits, as it was believed they escaped down the Skeena River. The cashier, returning from dinner, surprised the robbers at work. One robber opened fire, the bullet striking the cashier between the eyes. The wound is not serious. Citizens, attracted by the shot, hurried to the bank just as the robbers were leaving. The fleeing men engaged in a running battle with their pursuers until they found shelter in the timber on the edge of the town. Six men suspected of being implicated in the robbery were arrested between Hazelton and New Hazelton.

SYLVIA PANKHURST'S ARMY.

Several Hundred Men and Women Have Enlisted.

A despatch from London says: The enrolling of Sylvia Pankhurst's "East End Army" is progressing under the direction of Miss Zelle Emmerson, the American Suffragette. Several hundred men and women have enlisted. Miss Emmerson said on Wednesday that as soon as the army is trained the militants will lead the "soldiers" to the West End and imprison the members of the Cabinet in their homes until the vote is granted to women.

ECHOES OF THE GREAT STORM

Ghouls Rob Bodies of Wrecked Seamen—List of the Casualties—Losses and Insurance

Terrible as has been the greatest of the Great Lakes tragedies, with the disappearance of scores of vessels and the loss of perhaps two hundred men, it has been left for man to make the horror more horrible. Steamboat officials returned from Port Franks with information that will be placed in the hands of the Attorney-General's Department of a nature that casts a reflection upon this Province. Not only have they the names of men they found carrying wreckage away from the death-strewn shore, but they have under surveillance one man who is alleged to have in his possession $800 found on a foreigner's belt found on shore, and the names of men who are believed to have even gone so far as to rob the dead.

The Work of the Body-Looters was limited by a creek, for they could not get across this, and it was on the other side of it that the other eight bodies were found. On one of the other bodies was found $113, while all the others had money on them. The victims who were washed down from the wrecked boat were rifled, the perpetrators of the vile crime not even leaving anything by which the men might be identified.

Those who are stealing wreckage are making it more difficult for steamship men and county officers to identify the dead as lifebuoys have been taken off victims and thrown up, and men on boats taken away. It is therefore hard to locate the boats from which the wreckage comes, and it is therefore hard to locate away consists of all kinds of merchandise, as well as parts of the wrecked vessels.

An order has been issued warning all persons that those retaining wreckage in their possession would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, and the penalty is three years imprisonment. Later the steamship men went to Sarnia, where the police were notified, and steps taken to protect the wreckage.

Kindness of Rescuers. In contrast to the actions of persons who took advantage of the saddest of tragedies are the people who so kindly assisted in the rescue of the survivors of the Northern Queen, and who took them into their homes, suffering from the terrible exposure through which they had gone.

STEAMER HUTCHINSON, on beach above the Soo. Bottom badly torn.

STEAMER HURONIC, which was ashore near the Soo, released.

ern Queen was caught in the trough of the sea and to save her from plunging to the bottom, Captain Crawford turned her nose up the lake. Within an hour the waves, heeled to tremendous heights, pounded over us, stripping some of the upper works and smashing in through the ports.

"Water poured into my quarters and we were compelled to make for other parts of the ship. All hatches were down, but the flood came through and killed most of our fire. A couple of the boilers were still in shape, but we had not steam enough for power. We made the most of it till 6 o'clock that night.

"Snow then came down and our mast raked the clouds that swept over us. Men strapped on their life belts, but stayed below as much as possible to avoid being washed overboard.

Lost the Rudder. The boat rolled and the coal crashed down out of the bunkers on top of us. Captain Crawford knew that to attempt to make Port Huron would send us to the bottom, but we were anxious to get to the case of safety. We agreed that the best plan was to strike back into the teeth of the gale.

"No one slept that night, and along in the morning we lost our rudder, and knew that we were up against it. Before 4 o'clock the Queen veered around and from stem to stern, attacked back an instant, and with the next leap her cables' length. There was a terrible crash and we knew she had lost both anchors.

Yawls Smashed. In the meantime the yawls with one exception were smashed and torn from their davits. The snow fell in clouds, through which it was impossible to see more than a few feet, and in the roar of the gale the siren could not be heard any distance.

Later the sky cleared, but the wind kept up and dashed us about. We could not get out of the trough, and were drifting rapidly before the wind. When daylight came we found ourselves a mile off Port Franks. A couple of hours later the ship's keel went on a shoal and it felt like the finish. A big sea was still running, and we were way above the vessel. We raised by the waves only to go harder than before.

Marooned. "Finally she set fast and after that we got only the side leach as she rolled in the heavy seas. Monday night we found ourselves without fire and practically without food and soaked through and shivering and we were way above the vessel. We hunted about and got a little coal and tried to make fires to keep warm, but it was a tough job.

"All night waves buffeted us and Tuesday at daylight it still looked bad. We were then 1,000 yards from the beach. Late in the afternoon the gale ceased off a little and the captain ordered our only remaining yawl over the starboard side forward.

Cable Broke. "She dropped into the sea and 10 men plunged into her. A line had been made fast that she might be hauled back to take the rest of us ashore. The cable snapped and we were way above the vessel. A number of people from the village and a couple of fishermen were attracted and were prepared to help them in. They plunged into the water and sent up a cheer we could hear when the men were ashore.

In the afternoon we tied a wire cable to a big crate of goods and cast it overboard. The crate found its way in, and after a couple of hours was within twenty yards of the heads of a couple of the men landed and got the crate before she was carried out by the undertow. They were both knocked out but they got up.

The yawl was made fast and two fishermen came with her to the boat. The next day only one man on the vessel, the Northern Queen. They found matters clear at night. I came off with the second trip. The captain and a couple of men stayed to the finish.

WORKS ALL DAY

And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food.

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to fit themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this.

A man was able to keep it up with ease after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply.

He says: "Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water.

"The nervous strain at my office from 6 A. M. to 6 P. M. and improper foods caused my health to fail rapidly. Cereal and so-called 'Foods' were tried without benefit until I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in the paper.

"In hopeless desperation I tried this food and at once gained strength, flesh and appetite. I am now able to work all day at the office and study at night, without the nervous exhaustion that was usual before I tried Grape-Nuts.

"It leaves me strengthened, refreshed, satisfied; nerves quieted and toned up, body and brain waste restored. I would have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one by this time, if it had not been for Grape-Nuts."

1913 FISH WORTH $34,000,000

A Falling Off in the Catch Is Reported From Northern British Columbia

A despatch from Ottawa says: Fish to the value of $34,000,000 were caught in Canadian waters in the last fiscal year, according to figures just compiled by Mr. W. A. Found, Superintendent of Fisheries. This is a slight decrease from the previous year. Reports with respect to the season now closing, however, indicate a catch fully equal in value to that of the last year, and the $35,000,000 mark may, quite possibly, be reached.

In British Columbia this is what is called "big" year in the salmon industry, and the catch on the Fraser River was up to expectations, while large quantities of halibut were taken. In the Northern waters of the province, however, a falling off occurred. The Prairie Provinces' fisheries have had a good average season devoid of any particular feature. Ontario provincially administers its own fisheries and does not report to Ottawa, but the catch is unofficially indicated to have been fully up to the mark.

In Quebec the season has been a fair one, while in the Maritime Provinces it is classified as good. Cod easily leads all other fish in respect to the volume of the catch. The lobster industry is active. Recommendations by the Shell Fish Commission designed to foster the business and the propagation of the fish, are under the consideration of Hon. J. D. Hazen.

Any Headache Cured, Tired Systems Re-Toned

When You're Dull, Tired, Restless Day and Night Something is Wrong in the Stomach.

A Prominent Publishing Man Says the Quickest Cure is Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Headaches never come to those who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouched for by the Assistant Manager of the Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O., Mr. J. H. Callender, who writes: "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everything else. They cleanse the whole system, act as a tonic on the blood, enliven digestion, help the stomach, and make you feel strong and well. For headaches, indigestion and stomach disorders I am confident that the one prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Being composed of natural vegetable remedies, Dr. Hamilton's Pills possess great power, yet they are harmless. They aid all organs connected with the stomach, liver, and bowels. In consequence, food is properly digested, the blood is pure and nourishing, the body is kept strong and resists disease. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, 5 for $1.00, or by mail from the Caturhoze Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

PRESENT INSURANCE RATES.

English Companies Are Heavy Losers By the Storm.

A despatch from London, England, says: The Canadian Press understands that considerable misgivings have sprung up among London underwriters in connection with the storm on the Great Lakes. They feel that in adopting the present rates on vessels trading on the Canadian lakes they have not taken into account the possibilities of such serious gales as that which has just taken place. Roughly, their loss is estimated at £1,500,000. Judging by later cables, however, this figure may considerably increase.

PUBLIC MEETING

MEETING

Another public meeting for the purpose of discussing the advisability of incorporating Mildmay will be held in the

TOWN HALL, MILDMAY

ON THURSDAY

NOVEMBER 20th

Arrangements have been made to secure a number of outside speakers, and a legal representative will be present to explain the method of procedure according to law. The speakers expected are residents of incorporated towns and their views, whether for or against, should be interesting to our ratepayers.

Every ratepayer in the town should make it a point to be in attendance.

Ladies cordially invited.

Chair taken at 8.15 o'clock.

Boys Smothered at Kincardine.

A melancholy accident occurred on Saturday by which two lads lost their lives. They were playing in the wheat bin of the Farmer's Elevator while the grain was being shipped on a G. T. R. car. They were drawn in until the chute was obstructed. The man at work below went to see what the trouble was, and was told by another boy. They then cut the outside wall near the chute and let the wheat run onto the ground until they were able to extricate the bodies. Medical men made every attempt to restore life, but the spark had fled. The unfortunate lads were Harvey McCullough, 7 years of age, son of W. J. McCullough, liveryman, and Johnnie McGregor, 9 years of age, son of Duncan McGregor, teamster. The bodies were buried Monday.

FARM NOTES.

Clean up the orchard now and have it in fine shape for work early in the spring.

According to reports, Nova Scotia has the best grain crop on record, which however, has been somewhat deteriorated by the heavy rains which have drenched all parts of the Province for the past two weeks.

Once more the world's record for the production of milk and butter among the Jerseys has been broken. In 365 days, Eminent Bess, a seven-year-old pure-bred, owned by the Roycroft Farm at Sidnaw, Michigan, produced 18,792 pounds 15.6 ounces of milk, and 362 pounds 13.7 ounces of butter. This exceeds the former record held by Jacaba Irnie by 1,525 pounds of milk and 9 pounds of butter. It also exceeds the world's record for Guernseys for both milk and butter.

It is probably generally known that the grain storage elevator capacity of Fort William—Port Arthur has now reached the enormous amount of 41,935,000 bushels, and ranks second among the cities of the world as a grain-storing centre, exceeded only by Chicago, Ill., with elevator capacity of 45,360,000. With the additional elevators now under construction and others projected at the Canadian head of the lakes, it will only be a matter of twelve or eighteen months before Fort William—Port Arthur will have the distinction of being the largest elevator storage centre in the world.

Brought From West For Wife Beating.

Thomas Mighton, the Durham wife-beater has been followed to the West and placed under arrest and it is expected will be placed in Owen Sound goal within the next few days. The three children whom he took away from his wife after the last assault have also been recovered and were brought back from the West, arriving in Durham on Saturday. It will be a source of satisfaction to the people of Grey County that the strong arm of the law has reached out for this man, for it is evident that he is responsible for two of the most brutal assaults on his own wife that has been recorded in Grey County. On February 16 last, Mighton, who up to that time had resided with his wife and family in Durham gave his wife a terrible thrashing. The following day a warrant was issued for his arrest, but he disappeared, and could not be located. On August 1st, last, he returned at night and after giving his wife another beating and turning her out of the house he again disappeared, taking the three children with him. Another warrant was issued for his arrest on this second assault, but the County constable at Durham did not even exert himself to get the man, and he made a clean "get away". Word was received that Mighton and 3 children were at the Soo, and a little later they were heard from at the Mountain Mine, Algoma. But the Durham constable, it is said required that a deposit of $75 was necessary before he would pull the lever that would put the machinery in motion. Public indignation was high in Durham, but nobody seemed to want to "come across" with the necessary seventy-five. Then Constable Cook of Ceylon, was put in touch with the case, and on his own account he got after the man. By this time Mighton and his children had reached Virdein, Man., but Cook is something of a live-wire as a Constable, and he eventually had his man arrested in the West, and the children sent home to their mother in Durham. Constable Cook deserves credit for the way he handled the case, for it would have been a standing disgrace to the good old county of Grey if this man Mighton had not been brought to time. The children (the oldest of whom is a girl of nine years) and none the worse for their long trip, and for the last few weeks were with Mrs. Kellington, a sister of Mighton's, who resides at Virdein, Man. The Children's Aid Society, through Mr. A. B. Trout, the general agent for Grey County, has been following the case for some time and rendered assistance to the constable in order that the children might be protected.—Hansover Post.

Wealth of Hair.

Parisian Sage is the Preparation that Grows Hair, Stops Dandruff and Hair Gloriously Radiant.

Money back says John Coates if Parisian Sage does not eradicate all dandruff, stop splitting hair, falling hair and scalp itch, and put life and lustre into the dull faded hair of any man, woman or child.

Parisian Sage is pleasant and refreshing. No cheap perfumery odor, no disagreeable concoction, but a daintily perfumed tonic—one that is not sticky or greasy—that proves its goodness the first time you use it.

Baldness and faded hair are both caused by dandruff germs. Parisian Sage kills the germs and causes the hair to grow abundantly.

Large bottle at John Coates and druggists everywhere. Regular price 50c.

Runaway.

On Monday afternoon Stephen Bros. delivery horse became frightened for some unknown reason and dashed madly down Durham Street. Although there were numerous vehicles on the street at the time, a collision was averted, but on turning the corner at the bank of Commerce the animal collided with a telephone pole and fell to the earth, where it was caught before it could regain its feet. Considerable damage was done to the rig. This is the second runaway in which this horse has figured during the past three weeks.—Walkerton Telescope.

To Instruct Teachers.

The spread of interest in the newly established Tuberculosis Day in the schools, on Friday Nov. 28th, is shown by the letters received by the Secretary of the National Sanatorium Association, from Teachers seeking details for their children. Provisions had been made for the distribution of such literature as is best suited to the needs of the children. The information thus disseminated will deal with the duty of the child regard to his own health and the sanitary regimen which is necessary in order that he may not contract or transmit the dread disease. Stress will also be laid on the necessity for his understanding the scope of the movement and his personal responsibility, as a citizen in the making, for its success.

When Our Grandpas Were in Love.

Things have changed a mighty sight Since our grandpa's went to spark, There was no electric light When they wished to keep it dark; They'd no chance to even call Up a girl by telephone; Had no taxis at all Carabets were still unknown; They were poor and underpaid And were plagued by many cares; How, oh how, did they persuade Our dear grandmas to be theirs? When our grandpas were young men They had little cash to burn; It was customary then To save all that one could earn; They were not inclined to flash Money where the crowd could see; They were stingy with their cash, For, in fact, they had to be; Cocktails gave them no delight, Life no doubt was very tame, But they seemed to hit it right With our grandmas all the same When our grandpas loved and sighed As enchanted lovers will, They had little cause for pride, And their tastes were simple still; They possessed no purring cars To appeal to women's hearts; On their hands they bore the scars Necessary toil imparts; Oh! I wonder how they won Our dear grandmas, poor old chaps, They appear, though, to have done Well, despite their handicaps.

The Great Lakes Disaster.

When the safety apparatus on Great Lake vessels was under examination at the time of the Titanic disaster, there was a disposition by navigation interests to scout the idea that similar calamities might happen on fresh water. They pointed to the nearness of ports, to the dotting of the Great Lake shores with wireless stations, to the comparatively short trips and the heavy vessel traffic on all routes. But the toll of death and disaster on the Upper Lakes, as the result of the storm of Sunday, ought to remove once and for all time any misapprehension of such a nature. Marine authorities say that no great storm on the lakes ever caused so much loss of life and property as did this one. The tremendous seas, swept along by the gale as if the were tissue-paper, rendered navigation most perilous, if not altogether impracticable. It is indeed, most fortunate that so many of the vessels caught in the storm were beached without harm, and their crews saved along with them.

Spoke on Behalf of Suffrage.

"As Others See Us," a volume by John Graham Brooks, quotes a speech delivered by a militant suffragette, a certain Mrs. Skimmer, two generations ago. She said:—

"Miss President, 'feller wimmen,' and male trash generally, I am here to-day for the purpose of discussing women's rights, recussing her wrongs and cussing the men.

I believe the sexes were created perfectly equal, with the woman a little more equal than the man.

I believe that the world to-day would be happier if the man never existed. As a success man is a failure, and I bless my stars that my mother was a woman. (Applause.)

I not only maintain these principles, but maintain a shiftless husband besides. They say man was created first. Well s'pose he was. Ain't experiments always failures?

The only decent thing about a man was a rib, and that went into making something better. (Applause.)

And they throw into our faces about taking an apple. I'll bet five dollars that Adam boosted Eve up the tree and only gave her the core.

And what did he do when he was found out? True to his masculine instincts, he sneaked behind Eve and said; 'Twan't me; 'twas her.' And women had to father everything and mother it too.

What we want is the ballot; we're bound to have it, if we have to let down our back hair and swim in a sea of gore.

WIT AND HUMOR

There is one sign that should be placed over every letter box in the city. What is that? Post no bills.

"Yeth, my poy, I got that chair on the hire system."

"Easy terms?"

"Rather. Five shillin' down and five shillin' whenever der collector can catch me."

"I'm glad I refused that man. He's untrustworthy."

"Why do you say that?"

"He vowed he would pine away and die if I turned him down, and now look how fat he has grown."

IT'S UP TO YOU MR. ADVERTISER

A BUSINESS without a proper system of advertising is like a motor without power. But there is also a quality in advertising. A business man who advertises judiciously will, in the first place, figure out which newspaper can bring him the best results. In this he considers the number of subscribers who read the paper. But there are many other things which add to or depreciate from the value of advertising—clear type faces, careful arrangement, and clean presswork. The matter of position too, is an important factor which must be considered.

OUR PAPER represents all of these, as we have both the material and experience to draw upon, and our paper GOES INTO 1010 HOMES. Then in the choice of position we are excellently situated at present.

Musings of a Country Merchant.

The following which has been going the rounds of the press is, perhaps somewhat satirical, but it contains a good many grains of truth: "Yes, remarked a country merchant, 'I certainly have a snap. Wholesale houses send dinners every month and draw on me at sight, but if I send a bill to a farmer he becomes swearing mad and quits trading at my store. While I am hard up for money many of those who are owing me are sending money in advance to mail-order houses. If I contribute money for any cause, people say I am bidding for trade; if I don't they say I am a hog. Every day I am expected to dig up for something that comes along, from a raffle to a church fund, by people who, I claim, ought to do part of their trading here, but our friends, Robt. Simpson and T. Eaton, neither buy tickets nor help in church funds and yet get cash in advance business. If I sell a pair of pants I must treat the family with candy and cigars; if I buy a load of potatoes I must do the same. Customers who are able to pay hang onto their money, while I pay ten per cent. at the bank to get ready cash. I have big business during hard times and poor crops from those who are willing to trade with me provided that I can duplicate catalogue house prices and wait till harvest for my money. My scales weigh too much when I sell sugar and too little when I buy butter. I am a thief, a liar and a grafter. If I smile, I am a soft, soapy hypocrite, and, if I don't I am a grump. Yes, certainly, this is a snap." And he looks over ten thousand dollars worth of accounts, all good, and wonders how he could raise $350 to pay a sight draft due to-morrow.

Crusade From Pulpits.

Hundreds of Ministers Will Observe November 20th as Tuberculosis Sunday.

The lapse of a year since the churches of Ontario observed tuberculosis Sunday shows great advances in the strength of the movement, to judge by the preparations which are being made throughout Ontario for the services on Sunday, Nov. 30th. On that day, which is the occasion of the Annual Tuberculosis Sunday, it is expected from at least a thousand pulpits sermons will be delivered, urging upon the attention of the congregations the necessity for co-operation in the nation wide campaign against the "White Plague." In some cases, pastors have for one service in the day resigned their offices of preacher to notable laymen who have achieved distinction in the crusade, while in many churches the sermons will be supplemented by addresses from prominent citizens, interested in the cause. Extra momentum has been given to the occasion this year by hearty approval which has been given the idea by important clerical bodies and many dignitaries of the various churches and officials in public and semi-public positions have come out individually appealing for aid in any movement which will teach the people of Canada the menace and the means of eradicating Tuberculosis.

Wife—James, do you know that you are a very small man?
Husband—How ridiculous! I am nearly six feet in height.
Wife—That makes no difference. Whenever I ask you for money to go shopping you are always short.

Some Difference.

A local merchant gave us one the other day which we will pass on to our readers. While in Listowel the other week preaching anniversary sermons, the famous John McNeill, of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, said that the past generation was brought up on oatmeal and the Bible, while the present generation was fed on cornflakes and Eaton's catalogue.—Port Elgin Times.

Youth Killed By Companion.

As a result of a mimic battle waged at Port Credit Saturday afternoon by four lads ranging in ages from 16 to 18 years, in which 22 calibre rifles were used as weapons, Thomas Crisp, 16 years of age, of 83 Duchess Street, is dead at the city morgue, and Cecil Babcock, 17, of 1 Otter Avenue, W. Sherman, 17, 226 Mutual Street, and R. Malcolm, 18, of 198 Mutual Street, are held by the police on temporary charges of murder. The four lads went to Port Credit Saturday afternoon to shoot birds, and finding game scarce, the suggestion was made that they engage in a sham battle. Each boy taking shelter behind a tree they blazed away at each other, until Crisp fell to the ground with blood streaming from a wound in his forehead. The terror-stricken lads rushed for assistance, and a private ambulance was summoned, which conveyed Crisp to the Western Hospital, where he died at 6.15. Babcock, the boy who is said to have fired the fatal shot, stated to the police Saturday that Crisp fired at him and he returned the shot, then broke his rifle to reload. He looked up again just in time to see his chum fall.

Broken English.

He was a hardworking and intelligent Frenchman, but the verbs still troubled him.
"Ah, yes, m'sieur, I saw Mrs. Brown the other day," he said to an English friend, "and she telled—I mean, told-me that her school was soon to break down."
"Break up, surely?"
"Ah, yes, break up! Your verbs do trouble me so yet! Break up—that was it!"
"Why was she going to let her school break up so early?"
"Because influenza had broken down in it."
"Broken out. It is a bit puzzling, isn't it?"
"Broken out—ah, yes! And she is going to lease the house in charge of a caretaker, as she fears it may be broken en— How do I say that, please?"
"Broken into, I expect."
"That is it. Broken into—by the burglars."
"Is her son married yet?"
"No; the engagement is broken in."
"Broken off. Oh, I hadn't heard of that! Is she worried about it?"
"He only broke up the news to her last week. Is that right?"
"No; you should say just 'broke' there."
"Ah, well; I think I am nearly broke myself by those verbs of yours!"
And he went sadly on his way.

Three Bridge Workmen Injured at Southampton.

Three workmen were injured, two of them seriously, in the collapse of a scaffold on a new county bridge near the mouth of the Saugen River, last week. Albert Watson of Paisley and William Barber of Kincardine, suffered severe injuries in the fall, and a Kincardine man named Beaton was less severely hurt. All are being cared for at Southampton. The bridge is under construction by the Hunter Bridge and Boiler Company of Kincardine.

Selected Recipes.

Baked Apples.—Select apples of uniform size, wash, core, arrange in baking dish and fill the cavities with sugar, butter and spices or with plain sugar, as preferred. Bake and serve with whipped cream.

Pressed Beef.—Take the thin pieces of pickled beef and boil until well done, then pick it to pieces, season with pepper, salt and all-spice. Put in a cloth, press with a heavy weight. When ready to serve, slice thin.

Baked Ham.—Soak the ham overnight in cold water, remove to kettle of fresh water and cook enough so that the skin easily removed, trim, press a couple of dozen cloves in the fat side and end, rub with brown sugar and place in fireless cooker between hot stones to bake.

Cornmeal Mush.—Heat the water to the boiling temperature and when it bubbles sprinkle cornmeal in very slowly, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens—about fifteen minutes. Put in fireless cooker and cook ten or more hours. When ready to serve heat very hot.

Salad Surprise.—Select turnips of one size, peel carefully, cut off top and scoop out the inside. To this add salt and English walnuts, mix thoroughly with French dressing made with a liberal quantity of olive oil; refill turnip cups, plant mint cherry on top and serve on lettuce leaves.

Mock Plum Pudding.—To a half-pound of gingersnaps add a half teaspoonful of baking powder, soak thoroughly in a pint of milk, mix in two well-beaten eggs, a tablespoonful of sugar, half a cup of raisins, quarter of a cup of citron, half a cup of nuts; bake in slow oven and serve hot with vanilla sauce.

Cherry Come Again.—Cream one rounding tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of white egg with 1½ cups of confectioner's sugar. Work in one tablespoonful of cherry juice and one of preserved cherries chopped fine, mix with stiffly beaten white of two eggs, mound on cold dish and place whole cherries on top.

Chocolate.—Three squares chocolate, one-half cup sugar, salt (six grains), two cups boiling water, few cups scalded milk. To the melted chocolate add sugar, salt and water. Stir until smooth, heat to the boiling point and place in the fireless cooker. Allow it to remain overnight and when ready to serve add milk; heat, but do not boil. The long cooking develops a pleasing flavor.

Veal Birds.—Cut veal in pieces about two inches square, pound each piece flat and twice as large as before. Season with salt and pepper and lay upon it a leaf of parsley and a strip of bacon, roll and skewer with wooden toothpicks. Roll in flour and brown in butter and drippings. Remove birds to the kettle and make a brown gravy in the pan. Pour this over the birds and heat to boiling and put in the fireless cooker for several hours. Serve in a casserole.

Sprink Chicken.—A hen, even an old one, may be made to do duty as a spring chicken if treated as follows: Select a hen, not too fat, dress carefully, skin and place in a pan, cover with water in which a pinch of soda has been dissolved, boil until tender, remove each piece, sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in cracker dust or cornmeal if preferred, and fry in a hot pan with lard and butter, half and half. After the chicken is browned, remove, add salt, pepper and a little water to the gravy in the pan, and when this comes to a boil add a cup of rich milk and boil for two minutes. Serve with the chicken.

Don't for Picture Hangers.

Don't hang too many pictures in a room.

Don't hang inharmonious pictures together, as rich oil paintings and austere etchings.

Don't use too many gold frames.

Don't use gold frames upon black and white pictures, as etchings or photographs.

Don't hang pictures above the eye level.

Don't let the cords or wires of your pictures show.

Don't hang a glass-covered picture where the light will cause it to glare.

Don't surround a large, important picture with little ones. Hang it alone.

Don't use white enamel frames. They suggest bathtubs.

Don't frame or hang anything because it is "cute." Such pictures have no lasting value.

Don't hang fruit, fish or game pictures anywhere but in the dining room.

Don't countenance crayon portraits or gaudy chromos.

Hints for the Home.

A good black ink mixed with white of egg will restore the color of black kid shoes or gloves.

If milk is kept in a large, shallow basin it will remain sweet for a longer time than if kept in a deep jug.

To whiten cloths which have become yellow soak in buttermilk for one week, then wash in the usual way.

To preserve fruit can rubbers cover with dry flour. Any rubber goods may be preserved for years in this way.

Rice may be substituted for macaroni as a dinner dish. Prepare it with grated cheese and bake in the oven.

A few drops of ammonia in the water in which silver is washed will keep it bright for a long time without cleaning.

If a napkin is wrung out of hot water and wrapped round sandwiches and they are put into a cool storeroom, they will remain as moist as when first spread.

Leftover Foodstuffs.

Soup should never be covered closely and then set away to cool. Fermentation will take place very quickly if the soup is covered while warm. If onions or other strong vegetables are to be kept, let them cool first and then put in covered jars. Crusts and cut slices of bread should be dried out in the warming oven. Do not keep the crumbs, made by running crusts through the food chopper, long in used jars. The shortening in the bread is very apt to make the crumbs rancid and the flavor will be imparted to the fresh meat, vegetables or other dishes in which the crumbs are used.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL STUDY

INTERNATIONAL LESSON, NOVEMBER 23.

Lesson VIII.—Joshua 1. 1-9. Golden

Leader. Josh. 1. 1-9. Golden Text, Josh. 1. 9.

Verse 1. After the death of Moses—The Israelites are still encamped in the land of Moab, east of the lowest Jordan. In Deut. 34, 8 we are told that "the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days," after which it appears that Joshua took immediate command of all the administrative affairs of the nation.

Jehovah spoke—It is not necessary to think of an audible, verbal communication from Jehovah to Joshua in this connection. Joshua had long been second in command as the assistant of Moses, and the situation naturally demanded that he take up immediately the reins of administration and proceed to carry out the plans of Moses, which were very familiar to him. His duty, therefore, was most clear, and as he contemplated the work before him, and the best means of carrying it out, he was conscious that the work intrusted to him was placed upon him by Jehovah, and there was borne in on his heart and mind by the Divine Spirit a strong and overwhelming conviction that he should at once "arise" and "go over this Jordan," and lead the people of Israel unto the land which Jehovah had promised them.

God speaks to men to-day as truly and as clearly as he did to Joshua; yet we do not expect the audible, verbal communication now—nor need we think of such a communication here. That the language of the sacred historian is figurative and anthropomorphic does not detract from the value of his narrative. On the contrary, it adds much to its forcefulness and beauty and gives to this ancient record a new and more enduring meaning and value.

Moses' minister—For forty years, ever since the departure of the Israelites from Egypt, Joshua had been the principal assistant and adviser to Moses.

3. Every place . . . to you have I given it—A supreme challenge to conquest and faith.

As I spake unto Moses—The promise referred to is found in Deut. 11, 24, which reads: "Every place whereon the sole of your foot shall tread shall be yours: from the wilderness, and Lebanon, from the river, the river Euphrates, even unto the hinder (western) sea shall be your border."

4. The boundaries of the land of promise, the new home of the redeemed nation, were to be the wilderness on the south, the lofty mountain ranges of Lebanon on the north, the great river, the river Euphrates, on the east, and the great sea toward the going down of the sun, that is, the Mediterranean, on the west. For other specific designations of these boundaries, compare also the following references: Gen. 15, 18-21; Exod. 23, 21; Num. 34, 1-2.

The land of the Hittites—Northern Syria, extending westward into Asia Minor. The Hittites were neither Semites nor Aryans, but probably Mongolians, whom they resembled most nearly in physiognomy and dress. Their facial type is said still to persist in the peasantry of Cappadocia. Their most prosperous national period was from about B. C. 1600-700 after which latter date they were absorbed by the Assyrian empire.

HERE IS A BONNIE, BUXOM, BOUNCING BRIDE.

She is Only 19 and Weighs Just 568 Pounds.

The photo shows a young Englishwoman just married in London, whose weight at the time of her wedding was 40 stone 8 pounds (568 lbs.). She is only nineteen years old, and we leave it to the reader's imagination as to what she will look like when fully matured. She is living quite peacefully in private life.

5. As I was with Moses—The narrative is designed to impress upon the reader the sense that the continuity of the nation and of its high purpose was independent of, and not broken by, a change in the person of the leader.

I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee—A promise quoted by the author of the Epistle to the Hebrews: "Be ye free from the love of money; content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee" (Heb. 13, 5). Compare also Deut. 31, 6, 8; 1 Chron. 28, 20.

7. Observe to do according to all the law—The law is to be strictly and carefully observed if the great work to which Joshua has been called is to be successfully accomplished. He is to "read, mark, and inwardly digest" that law, carrying out its provisions to the letter.

Have good success—Literally, "deal wisely."

8. This book of the law—"This obviously refers to the 'law' described in Deut. 31, 9 as written by Moses and delivered to the Levites and elders. That it embraces a considerable nucleus of the Pentateuchal legislation (including, of course, the bulk of Exod. 19-23) few critics would deny."—Dummelow.

9. Have not I commanded thee?—For similar emphasis on the personal leadership of Jehovah, compare Deut. 31, 7, 8, 23.

WEARY AND HEAVY LADEN

I Have a Yoke, Jesus Said, Which Will Enable You to Stand Any Strain, Do Any Work.

"For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."—Matthew, xi, 30.

There are few Bible texts, I believe, which are more generally misunderstood than these lines from the most beautiful and appealing speech which has been recorded from the lips of Jesus. Calling unto all the "weary and heavy laden" to come unto him, he promised to give them rest if they would take his "yoke" upon them and learn of him. "For my yoke is easy," he said, "and my burden is light."

To nine people out of ten this word "yoke" is understood to imply some kind of discipline, restriction or humiliation. They have a picture of the colt darting freely about in the pasture, and then the tamed horse in harness. They see the steer running wild over the prairies, and then the ox bound fast to the plough. To take Jesus' yoke upon us is to extirpate our natural desires, forfeit our personal freedom, yield ourselves to the yoke of pietistic discipline. It is to do, in some modern way, what the mediaeval Catholic did when he left the world and entered the confining walls of the monastery; or what the Puritan did when he put on his garb of sombre hue,

Destroy All Things Beautiful, and denied himself the innocent pleasures of a merry heart. Just how such a "yoke" as this can fairly be described as "easy" or such a "burden" as "light" has been answered with as little adequacy as the parallel question as to how such a "yoke" or "burden" is to bring "rest" to the person assuming it.

If we would really understand just what Jesus had in mind when He uttered this saying let us return in imagination to the days of His young manhood, when the Nazarene was a carpenter. Let us picture Him standing by the open door of His shop and seeing a pair of oxen toiling up the hill with a heavy load, their straining hanches, heaving sides and tired eyes giving every indication of exhaustion and pain. Instantly, with that ready compassion for distress which was so characteristic of His nature, the young man leaps to the panting animals and quickly points out to their troubled driver that the yokes are badly made and in part defective. Then He snatches them from the necks of the oxen, carries them to His bench for repair and readjustment and, this done, lays them again upon their shoulders. And lo! the oxen toss their heads into the air with a new freedom and set themselves to their task with a fresh vigor. No longer do they strain at their load. The yoke is easy, and therefore the burden is light!

It is such an experience as this which Jesus had in mind when He spoke these immortal words. He was here, as nearly always, speaking in parable, and drawing His parable from the everyday life which He and His hearers knew so well. He was here pointing out that every one of us, like the yoked oxen, must bear a burden, and oftentimes, therefore,

Be Heavy Laden and Weary.

Assuming that the people to whom He was speaking well understood—as many of us to-day do not!—that yokes are placed upon beasts of burden not that they may be tamed or fettered or restricted, but that they may be equipped to carry their loads easily and effectively. He naturally enough used this figure to express His idea that we must be similarly equipped spiritually if we are to bear the burdens of human life. Learn My lesson of love, heed My message of spiritual life, follow in My pathway of service and you will find a yoke which will enable you to bear every burden which the world may lay upon you.

If you are "weary and heavy laden," "come to me and I will give you rest." "My yoke is easy." Take it upon you, and behold, your burden will become light!—Rev. John Haynes Holmes.

Doings in Europe.

Lady Grace of Westmore, the beautiful and mysterious English aristocrat who went to Berlin a week ago to get 1,000 men to sign a petition for "votes for women," has found German officialdom proof against the strains of her voice and her demure manner.

She intended to storm the German ministers, including the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and enlist their sympathies by methods diametrically opposed to those employed by Mrs. Pankhurst, but Lady Grace admits failure and she has given up the attempt. The most notable signature she captured was that of Fegoud, the daring French aviator.

Lady Grace of Westmore, as she is known here, refuses to admit her identity. She admits that neither the name nor the title she assumes is hers, but declares she has a right to a higher title. She intimates that she is a marchioness and shows a photograph of Conway Castle as her ancestral home.

Birth Rate Almost Nothing. There is an extraordinary social phenomenon at Montreuil-lez-Lille, France, where the birth rate has fallen lower in the last three years than in 100 years in the remainder of France. The cause given is the democratic-socialist trend of thought following two strikes. The town once had a birth rate of thirty-seven thousand. It has now one per thousand.

The first strike, against the mine owners, interfered with mine operations in politics, lasted sixteen days and was decided in the miners' favor. Then the municipality became socialist, and this remains. The second strike, for an increase of pay, was lost after a three months' fight. It ruined the workers, who were obliged to capitulate.

Walking as a Punishment. Prof. Roland has just devised an ingenious method of punishment for pupils who are idle, turbulent or undisciplined. Instead of making them remain in to write lines or do similar tasks, he makes them walk five miles. They are required to produce from their parents a certificate that the walk has been taken.

The professor is so pleased with the results obtained that he is recommending his method to other schoolmasters.

Ukub An Up-to-date Town. It will astonish most people to learn that the Macedonian town of Ukub, of which the name was probably familiar to few until the place was taken and retaken by Serbians, Turks and Bulgarians, has a system of street lighting by electricity.

The installation was almost finished in September last, just before the war broke out, and was completed and put into working order by the engineering staff of the Serbian army when the town was taken. Since that time electric light has been installed in many private houses.

Ukub also has a horseshoe works, which was established in 1911, and produces the Turkish as well as various other styles of horseshoes. As soon as settled conditions prevail again the works propose to take up the manufacture of wire nails for which the machinery has already been imported from Germany, and of ploughs.

King's Tribute to Warrior. When King Alfonso and President Poincaré were returning by train from Toledo to Madrid the King noticed a sword in the hands of the French military Governor of Morocco, who was wearing "Surely that is a sword with a history, General," he said. "It is not of modern sign."

"It belonged to my grandfather, sir," replied Gen. Lyauter. "He was an officer in the army of Napoleon I." The General drew his sword and handed it to the king, who read out slowly the names of the great battles engraved on the blade and kissed the blade gravely.

He then handed back the sword to Gen. Lyauter, who, deeply touched by the graceful act, saluted and returned it to its scabbard.

Sells a Church for $425. The old church of Clairfontaine, just outside of Paris, which, although it dates from the eleventh century, was offered for sale some months ago for the modest sum of $425. The old church was falling into ruin and the price of $425 was put upon it because the buyer would have to tear it down and cart it away, no easy job with the heavy line at some distance.

About twelve years ago the church was declared no longer useful for its original purpose and the wealthy parishioners of the village decided to build a new edifice, to which were taken most of the relics of the old building—doors, windows and commemorative tablets, even one which reads as follows:

"This church was constructed in honor of God and Notre Dame in the year 1100 by Simon, Comte de Montfort, son of Amalry the First, who was the son of King Robert."

The village kept for itself the entrance of stone in the Roman style, so the buyer, who by the way, was the only bidder, gets only the "carcases" of the historic church for his $425.

Avoid Obesity in Children. Mothers who are naturally proud of their fine plump babies will be surprised to learn that a fat infant is not necessarily a healthy one.

At a medical congress last week at the Hospital for Sick Children, Paris, are given by Prof. Netter, Dr. Legendre of the Lariboisiere Hospital, asserted that when an infant becomes fat it is because the nourishment has been perverted from its proper use, probably from the result of hereditary predisposition.

"An abnormal condition of the vascular glands frequently leads to obesity in children; the common belief that it is due to give infants as much as they can eat is wrong," said Dr. Leopold Levi. "It only develops infantile obesity, and is due to the child. On the other hand, restricted alimentation is attended with the best results and muscular exercises recommended as a cure for children who have put on too much flesh."

Swiss Embroidery Industry. The demand for hand machine embroidery is diminishing from year to year in Switzerland, and the time is not far distant when hundreds of "home embroiderers," owning and operating one or two hand machines, will have to exchange these for the schiffli model.

Most of the embroidery schools in the St. Gall district, nine in all, which aim thoroughly to train their pupils in the technique of embroidery manufacture and which formerly were unable to accommodate all the pupils, report now a big decline in the number of applications, claiming that young men are turning their attention to the schiffli machine.

The schiffli machine has not driven the hand machine out of existence—and that is never to be expected—but has rendered it of minor importance and quite changed the character of the industry. The individual owners of hand machines—the cottage workers—have completely lost control being reduced to work at stitch wages for the manufacturers.

It is worthy of note that the production of artificial silk embroideries, on schiffli machines is gaining rapidly. This class of goods has heretofore always been exclusively manufactured on hand machines.

Looked Familiar.

Dinah was a product of New Orleans, a big, plump "yaller girl" who could cook the finest dinners for miles around. One day a new butler appeared upon the scene, and Dinah's mistress noticed that she took a great interest in the man. At last her mistress could stand her curiosity no longer: "Dinah, do you know that new man?" Dinah took another long and scrutinizing look and then slowly and reminiscently replied: "Well, I dunno, Miss Alice; but I think he was ma fust husband!"

Fashion Hints

Bags of Silk and Beads.

A new sort of handbag is shown for use with street suits. It is made of silk and beads and at first sight seems too fragile for street wear. But it proves to be useful and durable as well as very attractive.

These bags are made in several shapes, but all are small and the colors are generally in neutral tones. One bag, of gray, is six-sided, each panel or side ending in a point. The six points are joined to form the tip of the bag. Another bag, of soft, dull yellow, is four-sided and the four sides are cut diagonally at the bottom and mitred together. Still other bags have three or two sides.

All of them have chain handles of gold or silver beads and are decorated with a two-inch band of the beads applied about half way from the top to the bottom. Below this band hangs a two or three-inch fringe of beads, gold and silver used together.

New Handkerchiefs.

Colored handkerchiefs are still in fashion, and the colors and materials in which they are made are both more varied than ever before.

There are delightfully soft handkerchiefs made of crepe from Japan. They are made in two-color combinations. Sometimes the centre is white, and the hem blue, sometimes the centre is blue and the hem white, and sometimes the handkerchief is made of two shades of blue. Other colors, too, are used, and all of them are soft, rich colors that stand washing well.

The butterfly handkerchiefs are in keeping with the general liking for the butterfly that has pervaded the whole realm of dress. Half a dozen handkerchiefs are sold in a set, each embroidered with a big butterfly in one corner. Of course the six butterflies are all different. They are embroidered in white.

Gauze handkerchiefs are a novelty. It is a fine, firm gauze of which they are made, almost as fine as chiffon, but with much more stiffness and dressing than that material has. Each handkerchief is bordered with four or five stripes of color, about an inch from the narrow hemstitched hem. The stripes are in the form of little cords.

The wide-hemmed handkerchief is another novelty. The handkerchief is made of sheer linen, and the hem is an inch and a half wide. The hem is embroidered in the corner—with flowers and butterflies and wheat and birds and wreaths and any of the other symbols that are usually employed for handkerchief decoration. All the embroidery is kept off from the single thickness of linen and on the thick hem.

Notes From Paris.

Many souple moire costumes will be worn.

The use of dyed fur is becoming more general.

The two tired skirt is usually of lamp shade white.

Brown and white is a much favored combination.

Belts of all kinds are used on the auto and sporting coats.

One of fashion's latest caprices is the jet robe for day wear.

There is a strong revival of empire styles in evening gowns.

A street dress of dark blue has a nasturtium red velvet girdle.

Attractive are the odd coats of velour de laine trimmed with fur.

Some of the newest tailored suits have loose jackets with belts at the hip line.

Short plaited tunics of white lace or tulle appear on many costumes of black satin.

Sleeve lengths are greatly varied. Evening costumes have short cape sleeves with angel draperies, which leave the arm uncovered. The dressy afternoon gowns have long or three-quarter sleeves.

A pretty evening frock is fashioned of white charmeuse. The scant flowers of white tulle are edged with glands of pink roses and are attached to the skirt half way between the waist and hip line.

The vital statistics of Saskatchewan for August were: Births 1,231, marriages 345, deaths 294.

A well-known New Zealand farmer tells a good story which Colonial Life prints. One day a territorial Life prints. One day a territorial farmer called at his house and engaged him in conversation for some minutes. "I subsequently discovered," said the speaker, "that while he so engaged me some of his mates made a raid on my fowlhouse, and 'bagged' the whole poultry run." In consideration of the farmer's generosity in saying nothing about the matter, the delinquents on their return home had their photographs taken, and forwarded one to the farmer, apparently to remind him of their happy visit. "It was very good and kind of them," said the farmer, "and in order to show my deep appreciation of their thoughtfulness and sportsmanlike action I have had the photograph framed and hung in the fowlhouse."

THE HALF-SPEED MAN AND WOMAN

What It Means When You Feel "All Out of Sorts."

You know what it means to feel "all out of sorts." Most people have felt this way at some time. Nerves out of order, irritable, languid, depressed. An aching head, a fagged brain, appetite bad and digestion weak. With some people this condition comes and goes; with others it is chronic; they can't shake it off. It interferes with business, spoils recreation and robs life of all its joys. These men and women are only able to live and work at "half speed."

Half speed people have lost that abundant natural vitality which enables others to go "full-speed-head" through life. Their energy and nerve power have evaporated—they cannot work long without breaking down. The trouble is nerve weakness and is caused by poor, watery blood. You can begin to improve your condition to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood once more pulsate through your veins, and your nerves thrill with fresh vigor. Here is convincing evidence that new strength and full health can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Newton Mayhew, North Tryon, P. E. I., says: "I am a farmer and naturally have to work very hard. The result was that I found myself very much run down. My blood became thin and watery, and my muscles flabby. I took doctors' treatment but it did not help me and I grew so weak that I could scarcely work at all. As I found the medical treatment was not helping me I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in these I found the medicine I needed, as in a short time I was restored to my old health and vigor. I shall always recommend these pills to all sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be mailed, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INCREASE OF WAGES.

Millions More Were Paid to Workers Last Year.

A report on the ascertained changes in the rates of wages and hours of labor in the United Kingdom in 1912 was issued recently by the British Board of Trade. This states that after the period of depression in 1908-9 wages began to rise in sympathy with the improvement in trade and employment, but the movement was somewhat slow until about May last year. After that date the movement became more rapid, with the result that the number of workpeople whose wages were reported as increased during 1912 was in excess of that for any previous year, while the aggregate amount of their net weekly increase was exceeded twice only during the last 20 years, namely, in 1900 and 1907, both years of exceptional prosperity.

The number of workpeople reported as affected by changes in rates of wages last year was 1,818,240. The advance represented an increase for 52 weeks of over $7,000,000, but as the changes mostly took effect late in the year the actual increase in the wages bill was about $3,000,000, allocating the weekly advance of $139,000. Coal mining accounted for $77,000, engineering and shipbuilding $11,000, the textile trades $215,000.

iron and steel manufactures $10,000, and building trades $8,000.

The statistics given are exclusive of changes affecting agricultural laborers, railway servants and seamen. Reports received, however, indicated that agricultural laborers in a considerable number of districts had been granted advances of wages; also that the earnings of about half a million railway servants continued to rise, while seamen fully maintained the rate granted in the previous year.

Changes in the hours of labor affected 105,000 persons, whose weekly working time was reduced by 211,000 hours in the aggregate.

CLIMBING A MAGNETIC CHAIN

Remarkable Experiment With a Lifting Magnet.

A Berlin correspondent of the Scientific American describes an interesting experiment that was made at the works of one of the large German manufacturing firms with one of their lifting magnets.

A chain, fastened to the ground and carrying an iron ball at its free end, was raised to a vertical position by the approach of the great lifting magnet suspended from a crane.

The attraction of the magnet was so strong that the chain remained in a perfectly vertical position. A grain-up workman climbed up the chain without disturbing its rigidity in the least. The chain seemed to float in the air. The magnetic pull on the ball was greater than the gravitational pull on the man.

This remarkable experiment shows the enormous power of attraction exerted by the lifting magnets that are used in iron and steel works to carry about iron material of every description. The magnets enable the operator to seize iron material at any point desired, and convey it to any other point within the range of the crane. Incidentally, the use of lifting magnets has greatly diminished the risk of accidents in the moving of heavy masses of iron.

ILLS OF CHILDHOOD.

Every mother should be able to recognize the symptoms of the little ailments that attack her children. She should also be in a position to treat them promptly. To do this she should keep a supply of Baby's Own Tablets in the house at all times. The Tablets never fail to be of help to little ones. Mothers who are anxious for the welfare of her little ones will receive free for the asking a valuable little book on the care of infants and young children. Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. G. L. Bonham, St. George, Ont., says: "I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets as a safe and sure medicine for little ones. I have raised four babies with their aid and would not be without them." MIXED METAPHORS.

Eminent British Statesmen and Politicians Make Them.

In the palmy days of spread-eagle oratory, when language was far more flowery and figurative than it is now, it took a cool head behind a vehement manner to steer a safe course among similes and metaphors. Absurdities were frequent, and laughter marred many a peroration; yet, carried along by the speaker's earnestness and fire in delivery, the most wildly ridiculous metaphors often passed unnoticed. At a memorial meeting in honor of one of the most famous of American orators—Wendell Phillips—a magniloquent speaker referred to the spirits of the great departed, which, on leaving this earth, "wend each its way, swifter than a winged eagle, loftier than a soaring falcon—sweeping across the mighty spaces of the heavens as a glorious comet sweep, rushing ever onward, forward and upward, to its goal in Abraham's bosom!"

Oratory of that type—even without the mixed metaphor—is a rare survival from the fashion of an earlier time. Eloquence is more restrained and less ornate nowadays. Yet even in the simpler style of our own time, public speakers of experience, as well as blunders and beginners, occasionally slip up on their metaphors. Any schoolboy could correct the errors that some wide-awake English reporter has noted in the recent speeches of eminent British statesmen and politicians.

"We are told," said Mr. Walter Long, in a debate on an education bill, "that by such legislation the very heart of the country has been shaken to its uttermost foundations."

Mr. St. John Brodrick, in the House of Commons, talking of the mobilization of troops, declared that "among the many jarring notes heard in this House on military affairs, this subject at least must be regarded as an oasis."

Mr. Asquith, the premier, did better. He said that "redistribution is a thorny subject, which requires delicate handling or it will tread on

Offensive Breath Caused Usually By Catarrh

A Simple Remedy Discovered That Cures Without Drugs.

The American people suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. It undermines more constitutions and creates more sickness than all other diseases combined. It is, therefore, very dangerous.

You can't successfully treat Catarrh by internal dosing—you must in some way send a purifying, healing agent through the breathing organs, so that the germs can be reached. This you do every time you inhale Catarrh-ozone. It's rich essences and healing balsams are breathed all through the nose, throat and lungs, and effectively destroy every trace of Catarrh. This is a proven fact.

I endorse Catarrh-ozone because I know of six bad cases of Catarrh, including my own, that it has cured. It is a sensible remedy because it is capable of going where the disease is. I believe it cures quicker than other remedies because it gets sooner to the source of the disease than anything else I know of. I had headaches, bad breath, and much stomach trouble associated with my Catarrh, but they have disappeared since using Catarrh-ozone, which keeps me free from colds, headaches, catarrh and all winter ills." OTTO E. KRAMER, Belleville, Ont.

Catarrh-ozone is needed in every home. Large size lasts 2 months, price $1.00; small size, 50c; trial size, 25c. At all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrh-ozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Not Responsible.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. "I just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!"

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts of the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 10-cent stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

BEVERAGES OF NATIONS.

Amount of Spirits Consumed in Different Countries.

Norwegians are one of the most temperate of Northern nations, consuming but 4 1/2 pints of beer a 4 1/2 of brandy per head of population.

The Dane drinks on the average 156 pints of beer, but little wine, and only 36 pints of brandy each year. The Swede manages to consume 84 pints of beer and 13 of spirits. The Russian drinks 7 1/2 pints of vodka and the same amount of beer. The Frenchman, however, takes 160 pints of wine, 15 of beer, 48 of brandy. The Britisher soothes himself with 9 pints of whisky or gin, 3 of claret, and 238 of beer.

The Dutchman will drink 54 pints of beer and 12 of brandy. Taking every German province to obtain an average, it is found that the German consumes 187 1/2 pints of beer, 10 of wine, and 8 1/2 of spirits.

In Munich, however, the average amount per head rises to 850 1/2 pints, being the highest of any province, while the lowest average obtains in the northern province of Alsacia. Here the inhabitants are satisfied with only 144 pints of beer per head.

The Italian is the least of all addicted to alcoholic beverages, taking only 3 pints of beer, 1 1/2 of alcoholic beverages, and 144 of wine per head.

UP-TO-DATE BATTLESHIP.

H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth Is the First Oil-Burning Warship.

H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth, the supership of the British navy, is the largest British battleship ever launched. Her design embodies some striking new features which make her the most up-to-date warship in the world.

She will, for example, be the first vessel to be armed to fight aircraft (a battery of specially designed guns are given her for this purpose) and to be protected against them as well, for in action all her crew will be under cover of a central battery, which gives overhead protection from dropping bombs, as well as side protection against gunfire.

Again, she will be the first ship to mount the new 15 inch guns, of which she is to carry four pairs. The offensive power of this weapon is enormous.

Her torpedoes, fired from four tubes, will be of the latest twenty-one inch pattern. Heated air propels them, and they have a long effective range, with double the speed of the older weapons. For speed and accuracy, in fact, there is no torpedo in existence like them.

She will burn oil fuel only, being the first battleship in the world to do this. It is anticipated that oil alone will enable her to maintain a steady twenty-eight knots per hour without any of the falling off and spurring up again that occurs in coal-burning ships.

Expected Death From Day to Day

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Elmes makes the following declaration. "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down, because the money I had spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended 'Nerviline.' I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica, to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

LIVE STOCK MARKETS TORONTO.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 65 cars—1194 cattle, 690 hogs, 667 sheep and lambs and 96 calves. The receipts of cattle being light, a still smaller number of good to choice animals were the result—not enough to supply the demand—and this caused prices to be very strong for these classes in fact, all classes were very firm, with an active trade.

Stockers and feeders were in greater demand, as there were many fresh buyers.

Milkers and choice quality were scarce which caused the market to remain strong.

Sheep, lambs and calves, as well as hogs, were in active demand at prices quoted.

Butchers.—Choice butchers sold at $7 25 to $7 75; good butchers $6 25 to $7; medium, $5 75 to $6 25; choice cows, $6 to $6 50; good at $4 75 to $5 50; medium $4 25 to $4 75; canners and cutters, $3 to 4 25; choice bulls, $6 to $7; butchers' bulls, $5 25 to $5 75; bologna bulls, $4 25 to $5 25.

Stockers and Feeders.—There were many fresh faces amongst the buyers of these classes, and prices were very firm, as follows:

Steers, 1000 to 1150 lbs., sold at $6 40 to $6 80; steers 900 to 1000 lbs., at $6 to $6 25; stockers, 500 to 800 lbs., at $5 25 to $6, rough eastern stockers, $4 50 to $5 25.

Milkers and Springers.—Demand continued to centre on good to choice milkers and close-up springers. Such sell at firm to stronger prices, being very scarce, many at $70 and $80 with choice to extra big producers quoted up to $90 and $100. Backward springers are not wanted, and are slow sale at $45 to $50.

Veal Calves.—Receipts were moderate and, as usual, prices were firm. Choice calves, $9 to $10 50; good calves: $8 to $9; medium, $7 to $7 50; common $5 50 to $6 50; rough eastern calves $4 60 to $6.

Sheep and Lambs.—The market was firmer for lambs, and sheep steady. Sheep, ewes, $4 50 to $5 50; culls and rams, $2 50 to $4 25 lambs, ewes and wethers, $7 80 to $7 80; bucks, 75c per head less.

Hogs.—Receipts of hogs were light—not enough to supply the local demand, as there were several decks bought by an outside firm, this caused prices to be very strong. Selects, fed and watered sold at $9, and $8 40 to $8 65 f. o. b. cars at country points.

Farm For Sale.

135 1/2 ACRES—Lot 1 and part of lot 2, con. 1, Elderslie. All cleared and in good state of cultivation; about 30 acres of fall plowing done and balance seeded down. About 25 acres of new land. Soil rich black loam, clay bottom. Bank barn 97x82 ft., one of the finest in the county; good new frame house, and running water at river and creek. This is a first-class stock farm, as no water need be pumped for stock. On Elora Road, 3 1/2 miles from Paisley. Apply to J. J. Bradley, prop., on the premises, or address Paisley P. O., R. R. No. 1.

MILD MAY

Hand to Mouth.

So many blow in every penny, and when the rainy day is here they're needing coin, but haven't any, and so they shed the scalding tear. "Big business grinds the poor men's faces." I've heard them murmur once or twice; "Our Government a rank disgrace is, when when worthy men can't raise the price. The rich men, by their chauffeurs driven, regard the poor with haughty glance; the poor may have a show in heaven —on earth they surely have no chance."

The poor man has his chance, however, it's better now than e'er before, unless the fruits of his endeavor he blows in wildly at the store; unless he burns his hard-earned wages the quickest way that he knows how, he never had, in all the ages, a better chance than he has now. When luck is good and skies are sunny, and well paid jobs are running loose, a man should salt away his money where it will keep for winter use. However small the sum he pickles, 'twill cheer him when he's unemployed; I'd rather have a dozen nickles than nothing but an aching void.—Walt Mason.
