BIG C. P. R. ENGINE DASHED INTO LAKE
WHEN WRECKED

Imperial Limited Was the Victim—Boulders Fell In Front of Train, Causing it to Leave Rails—Fireman
Is Only Person Killed.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 21.—Fireman P. O'Connor of Schreiber, Ontario, was drowned, and other crew members and passengers narrowly escaped death, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning when the first section of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Imperial Limited, westbound, from Montreal to Vancouver, was wrecked near Caldwell, 175 miles east of Fort William, Ont.

The wreck was caused by the engine jumping the track at a point where the road skirts Lake Superior on a ledge thirty to fifty feet above the water. The engine plunged into the lake, carrying Fireman O'Connor to his death. The engineer escaped by jumping from the window of his cab. Baggage cars, club and dining cars and the heavily loaded Pullmans remained on the top of the grade.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 21.—Canadian Pacific Railway train No. 1 known as the "Imperial Limited," and running from Montreal for Vancouver, was wrecked near Herons Bay, Ontario, early this morning. Reports from Fort William that the transcontinental engine had plunged into Lake Superior, were current for several hours before any confirmation could be obtained from the railway office. It was admitted

12,000 MEN TO GO ON STRIKE

General Electric Company is Threatened—Men
Make Demands.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Unless adjustment of their grievances is made before to-night the more than twelve thousand employees of the General Electric Company will go on strike. Officials of twenty-five unions embracing men and women in every department of the big plant, made this announcement early to-day. "The workers demand that two discharged employees, Frank Dujay president of the Electrical Trades Alliance, and Mabel Leslie, chairman of the Girls' committee of the Electrical Workers, be reinstated."
Union employees allege that the dismissal of Dujay and Miss Leslie heralds a reduction in the force. If they are not returned to-day, union officials declare, the entire shops will be vacated to-night.

WANTS ALL NAMES.
QUEBEC, Nov. 21.—Armand Lavergne has introduced a bill in the Legislature here which calls for the publication in newspapers printed in or circulated in the Province of Quebec of the names of their shareholders and editors.

Guelph Street Railway, a civic enterprise, shows a net profit of $67,391.57 for a year's operations.

Brantford Cordage Co.
Is Forging Ahead

Additions to Factory With New Equipment Mean Large Number of Extra Employees.

A Courier man visited the Brantford Cordage Company's premises in West Brantford yesterday afternoon, and was amazed to see the progress the firm has made since the first disaster of a few months ago.

There has been a large new addition to main factory, 212 feet long by 58 feet wide, and a new brick warehouse, 295 feet long, in sections, and a new office, separate from the noise of the main structure, has been erected of red pressed brick.

In all, including also the establishment of new machines, there has been an outlay of some $40,000. Eleven years ago the concern had 60 spindles running, and the output of the first year was 60 tons. Now with 268 spindles in operation, that yield is recorded each week, with the additional help of large preparation machines and baling machines.

HIGH CONSTABLES WORK CHEAP AND ARE UNFIT FOR THEIR POSITION

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—"High constables at $50 per year, and the majority of these officials unfit for the position," is one of the statements in the annual report of Superintendent Rogers of the Provincial Police, submitted to Attorney-General J. J. Foy to-day.

Returns from 36 counties show that thirty have high constables, and these receive all the way from $50, some $100, some $200, while six counties dispense with the official. The matter will be taken up with a view to compelling the counties having no high constables to appoint one, and to compel all the counties to fill the office with a qualified man.

During the year the provincial police handled 1,256 cases and obtained 887 convictions, or 70 per cent of the prosecutions. Of these 598 persons were fined, and 403 sentenced while 126 were released and 231 discharged. In 25 cases charges were withdrawn. The decrease in the number of cases for the year is 350.

The good work done by the Provincial police in the Porcupine strike is pointed out. This cost the province $7,702.91.

The total fines collected during the year amounted to $17,109.50 and compelling the counties to appoint one, and to compel all the counties to fill the office with a qualified man.

There were 101 prosecutions under the fish and game laws in which four persons paid $3,370 in fines, a decrease for the year of $313.

Relief Fund
Reaches $70,000

[Canadian Press Despatch]
TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Tomorrow should see the $70,000 mark in the Great Lakes Disaster fund. To-day the fund is $69,500. The largest amount given yesterday was from Hiram Walker & Son, Limited, Walkerville, $500. Nine days are left for further contributions.

CITY WINS ITS CASE

Can Seize Street Railway Unless Taxes Are Paid at Once.

Money Must Be Paid Into Court By Monday Says Judge.

[Courier Special]
TORONTO, Nov. 21.—If the Grand Valley Railway or its receiver does not pay into court the money owing to Brantford in taxes, and the company still wants to appeal to the Appellate Division from the distress warrant order granted by the Chief Justice of Ontario in August last, there will be no stay of proceedings. This means, presumably, that the city may seize while the appeal is being made, unless the deposit is made.

When asked before Chief Justice R. M. Meredith to-day why the money had not been paid into court, the company's counsel said: "We did not have it."

The receiver has until Monday to accept either horn of this dilemma. Chief Justice R. M. Meredith's judgment for fighting the company's franchise in Brantford will go to the appellate division.

"It's often probable that I am wrong," said the Chief Justice, cheerfully, this morning.

But the company must pay the costs of this morning's hearing, because leave to appeal in each case was obtained ex-parte—a one-sided matter.

The following case over the Canadian Press wire:

"Unless the liquidator of the Grand Valley Railway pays the money into court, the city of Brantford may distrain to collect $7500 taxes while the liquidator is appealing against the city's claim. Such is the tenor of the decision of Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith at Osgoode Hall at noon to-day."

SCHMIDT'S INSANITY.
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The question whether Hans Schmidt, cut up her body and threw it into the Hudson, will be left to the jury that will try him for murder. Judge Foster in the Court of General Sessions today denied a motion of Schmidt's attorney for the appointment of a commission to pass on his mental condition. The trial will begin November 5. Since Schmidt has confessed the murder his defence has rested upon the plea of insanity.

SEVERE HARDSHIPS.
PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 21.—Bread soaked in salt sea water was the only food for two days of Captain Steeves and crew of the Steamer Port Colborne, which arrived from Sydney, N.S., with mails. This was only one of many trying experiences of the captain and his crew. The Port Colborne encountered storms in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

SLOWLY BUT SURELY WINDING UP HUERTA

This is the View Entertained at The National Capitol—Britain and United States Have Understanding.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Convening of the Mexican congress and Huerta's reading of his message are regarded by officials here as merely carrying the situation one step further along, and not as events which forecast any immediate step by the United States. The view here is that each day adds to what administrators and officials regard as the steady and gradual disintegration of the Huerta regime.

The official view is that should the congress act on English oil concessions pending, such acts will be regarded as invalid, not only by the United States but by Great Britain. A perfect understanding it understood to have been reached between London and Washington.

Inasmuch as foreign governments generally have signified their assent to the American policy as thus far outlined, it is being taken for granted here, that so far as the nations of the world are concerned, the new Mexican congress may legislate as it will, but its acts will not have international sanction as the constituted law making body of the republic.

Such a favorable attitude by other nations generally strengthens the confidence of the Washington Government that the power of the Huerta regime is crumbling. The fact that many members of the Catholic party did not attend the session of congress by previous agreement, is regarded as another evidence of the loss by Huerta of one of the chief sources of his previous support.

While positive steps are being taken and no action of a summary character, so far as known, is planned, the disposition of high officials is to await the slow, but what they deem the inevitable process of forcing Huerta to retire.

Lungmotor Is Purchased
—City Hall News Today

Official notice was received yesterday by City Engineer Jones from the Dominion Railway Board that the excavation of the Kerby Island would have to be completed by February 1 next. The excavation must be four feet deep and 300 feet wide. The Lake Erie and Northern Company has received the order of the board to this effect.

Ald. Suddaby, chairman of the board of works is entirely satisfied with the order.

Lungmotor It Is.
Ald. McFarland decided yesterday to order a lung motor and not a pulmotor. This there is written in municipal history this year how the stamper failed. The lungmotor will cost $125, whereas the pulmotor cost $225 and carried extras, as well as duty. The lungmotor is handier and more portable.

The lungmotor will be carried in a fire hall and a squad of men will be instructed in its use. It will be shipped at once here from Chicago.

The Board of Works had a short meeting last night and the members reviewing the year's work say that one of the best reports yet submitted will be sent to the council. The work throughout the city is pretty well cleaned up, the city gang now getting ready to work on the Eagle Place dyke.

A Good Scheme.
When Ald. T. E. Myerson was asked this morning what he thought of the scheme to operate the Brantford Street Railway and the Hydro Electric by one commission, he stated he believed it would be a good move, but he was not in favor of including the Grand Valley Railway. Continuing the alderman stated that he did not believe the city would have a legal right to include the Grand Valley as their line went through counties other than Brant.

Another party also said that he believed the scheme to be a good one. He brought forth a phase of the scheme which would especially appeal, viz. the electrical power could be secured at a minimum cost.

HAVING SOME TROUBLE ON WORK AT BRIDGE

As the result of the rains the Grand river rose considerably yesterday afternoon, but has now receded a little. Early in the afternoon the water began to rise, but almost ceased at 5 o'clock.

The work of building the retaining wall at Jubilee Terrace was somewhat retarded yesterday. Yesterday afternoon the water came over the steel sheet piling, rendering it necessary for the carpenters who were building forms for the northern section of the retaining wall to cease work. When the water has sufficiently receded, which it is expected will be a matter of only a few hours, the water will be pumped out and the work proceeded with.

In the meantime the carpenters are working on the forms for the southern half of the wall and building runways.

The excavating work at the southern side of Lorne bridge is progressing. This work was not greatly affected by the high water. There was no material lost as a result of the high water.

TWO BOOTH BROTHERS ARE STILL ESTRANGED

[Canadian Press Despatch]
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—If Brantwell Booth and Ballington Booth, brothers, estranged for seventeen years, are to meet in this city, the next move must come from Brantwell, leader of the Salvation Army.

This was the gist of a statement issued to-day by Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America. He had not received the letter his brother said he had written him, Ballington explained.

"But an Episcopal clergyman, a friend of mine," he added, "wrote General Brantwell Booth a letter which reached him on his arrival in New York city, asking him to meet me at luncheon. Up to the present time neither I nor the friend who wrote the letter have received any reply or any communication whatever from the leader of the Salvation Army."

ENQUIRY LAUNCHED INTO THE WRECKAGE
OF THE TURRET CHIEF

Dominion Commissioner Opens Investigation Today—Captain Tells Story of Terrific Storm Which Caused So Great a Loss of Life on Great Lakes.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 21.—This morning Captain H. St. G. Lindsay, Dominion wreck commissioner opened an enquiry in the city council chamber this morning with regard to the circumstances of the stranding of the Steamer Turret Chief, four miles east of Copper Harbor, in Lake Superior at 4 a.m. of Monday, the tenth of November, during the terrible storm which swept the lakes. The Government desires to ascertain why vessels were out in the storm when warned for two days previous of heavy gales. This is the first of a series of enquiries to be made by the wreck commissioner. It is understood that the next vessel's crew to be examined will be that of the Acadia, but the place for the hearing has not yet been settled.

With Captain Lindsay acting as nautical assessors are Captain Francis Nash, of Montreal, and Captain W. G. Batten of Kingston. J. T. Rowan of Ottawa, is official stenographer.

The Turret Chief is owned by the Canadian Lake and Ocean Navigation Company and managed by the Merchants Mutual Line. The owners are represented by Francis King, K. C., of Kingston. The commander of the Turret Chief is Captain Paddington.

Many of the passengers had retired when the explosion occurred and were inclined to be panicky until the officers assured them that the vessel was in no danger.

A Bad Scare
Alcohol Heater Exploded on Steamer.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Passengers on the steamship Anconia, which reached New York to-day from Naples had a bad scare on Monday last when an alcohol heater exploded in a pantry and started a fire which spread rapidly to the saloon passageway and the foyer companionway. The officers and crew seized fire extinguishers and put out the flames after half an hour's work. A steward was severely burned.

Many of the passengers had retired when the explosion occurred and were inclined to be panicky until the officers assured them that the vessel was in no danger.

Whiskey Smuggler Convicted in Cobalt

Had Been Engaged Four Years in Bringing Liquor From Quebec.

COBALT, Ont., Nov. 21.—For smuggling liquor over from Quebec into this district, a young French-Canadian, Roy Deschermes, was fined $500 and costs by Magistrate Atkinson in the police court here yesterday. The police state that the man has been bringing in whiskey in wholesale quantities, and only last week made a trip across Lake Timiskaming with sixteen cases of liquor each case containing twelve bottles. Deschermes had been acting as an agent for a liquor dealer on the Quebec side, and had been engaged in the business for four years.

Evidence All Put In,
In the Muir Arbitration

Various Values Placed Upon Property by Witnesses Yesterday—Decision Not Reached.

The arbitrators in the case for damages, brought by Col. Muir against the Brantford Lake Erie & Northern Railway for cutting through his property on the Ava Road, had a busy session of it yesterday.

Mr. Vansickle, formerly of Alberta, now a Hamilton real estate dealer, stated that he considered the property worth between $40,000 and $45,000.

Col. Muir, himself, was the last witness for the plaintiff's side of the case.

For the defence, Mr. S. P. Picher, real estate agent, placed the value of the property at $18,500. Mr. John Fair, civil engineer, and real estate agent, though the entire value was $27,000. Mr. F. J. Bullock, real estate dealer, placed it at $18,000 to $19,000.

During the afternoon the arbitrators, counsel and others interested drove to the property and made a thorough personal examination.

Mr. Brewster placed in as evidence the price of the following properties sold in recent years in the vicinity, viz: the Golf links, the Van Westrum residence and grounds, the Woodysat property, the Bennett farm and the Smith farm.

Met at the Station by Large Delegation of Citizens—Funeral Today.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 21.—The remains of Rev. Dr. James Ross, D.D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, who was killed by a motor car in New York city Tuesday night, were brought to London yesterday morning, and were conveyed to the manse at 356 Queen's Avenue, where they will remain until a public funeral service is conducted in the church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The body was accompanied to London by Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Jeffery, who went to New York with Dr. Ross Monday evening. It was met at the depot by a large delegation of friends, including prominent members of the congregation of St. Andrew's, clergymen of various denominations, and representatives of the Public Library Board.

Dr. Ross and Dr. Jeffery went to New York to interview James Burton, private secretary to Andrew Carnegie, concerning a proposition for an endowed library here. Dr. Ross was killed before the time for the appointment arrived, but Dr. Jeffery attended to the matter, and will report to the library board at its next session. The proposition is said to be to erect a library on property to be furnished by the city on Federal Square. The claim was well received, and Dr. Jeffery is hopeful of a successful conclusion to the negotiations.

ALL BODIES FOUND WEAR LIFE BELTS

Victims of Storm Who Had No Time to Secure Them All Sank.

KINCARDINE, Nov. 21.—A life-belt was found yesterday about forty rods from where the body of Captain Paul Cutch was found. It is now believed that it is the one he wore and that it came off when the body was near land. This removes the hope entertained that bodies without life-belts might some ashore as Captain Cutch's did. It may also explain why no bodies from the Hydruis, the I. M. Scott or J. B. Smith have been recovered at any point.

John A. Hogan abandoned hope of recovering the body of his son and returns home to Rochester today. The young man was a deck hand, and his last trip was his second on the Argus.

McGraw brothers patrolled the lake yesterday, but discovered nothing.

Captain Sam Sexsmith was here yesterday attending the funeral of his mother. He was on Lake Erie on that fateful Sunday, but weathered the gale.

The Kincardine Board of Trade will memorialize the Dominion Government to improve the harbor here and provide better aids to navigation at this point.

Social and Personal

The Courier is always pleased to use items of personal interest. Phone 1361.

Mr. A. Yager leaves shortly on a trip to the Old Land.

Mr. Reg. Muirhead is home from Calgary until Christmas.

Miss S. Lee, 5 Marlborough St., is visiting friends in Toronto for a few days.

Mr. Billy Ryerson of Toronto, is spending Sunday at the parental home, Brant Ave.

Capt. J. R. Collins of Toronto, who will give a lecture in the Collegiate this evening is stopping at the Belmont.

Messrs. C. Williams, J. McCoy and H. Branch left last night for Montreal to sail for the Old Land on the Ascania.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald A. Muirhead of Banff, Alberta, are renewing old friendships in the city, and are guests at 148 George street.

A very popular guest in the city at present is Miss Eva Coombes of Hamilton, who is visiting Miss Lella Patterson, William street, for a few weeks.

A most enjoyable Thimble Tea was held at the home of Mrs. Horace Chisholm, Sarah street. Mrs. Chisholm entertained in honor of her friend, Mrs. Thomas A. Cox, whose birthday it was.

An enjoyable time was spent last evening at the home of Mrs. Horace Chisholm, 78 Ontario street, when about thirty of their friends gathered with them. Progressive euchre was in order. The winners of the first prizes were: Ladies, Mrs. Morrison, and the gentlemen, Mr. Morgan; consolation prizes were awarded, Miss Lottie Springle and Mr. Hamel. Dainty refreshments were served and the merry makers broke up amid the "wee sma' hours of the mornin'."

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Horning, 183 Murray street, was the scene of a jolly surprise party last evening when friends to the number of about thirty gathered in honor of Mr. John Joyce. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing euchre, dancing and indulging in other games. Plenty of lively music added to the pleasure of the evening. A very dainty luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Horning were the finest of hosts.

Fine Concert Given at St. Andrew's Under Auspices of Sr. Boy's Class.

A very successful concert was given in St. Andrew's S. S. room last evening under the auspices of the senior boys class in aid of repairs to the class room, the admission being one cent for each letter in the name. Mr. Harold Banner, president of the class made a very able chairman, and gave a neat introductory address. All the numbers were well rewarded, each one being forced to give an encore. The programme was as follows:

Solo, "Till the sands of the desert grow cold," Mr. W. Telfer; piano duet, Misses Alice Bloxham and Gladys Halrod; solo, "Somewhere a voice is calling," Miss Doris Maskell; instrumental, Mr. Kenneth Tennant; reading, "When Hiram learned to Cook," Miss Daisy Folsetter, a junior pupil of Miss Squire; duet, "The rose garden," Misses Alice Bloxham and Rae Kerr; piano duet, Overture from William Tell, Miss Olive Graham and Mr. Thomas Darwin; solo, "Heroes and Gentlemen," Mr. Halrod; selection by St. Andrew's S. S. orchestra.

A Woman's Exchange

A number of ladies met in the board room of the free library this morning to consider the advisability of starting a Woman's Exchange in this city. These exchanges are run in Hamilton, Toronto and other centres, and provide a medium for the sale of wares, cookery, etc., by needy ladies who thus add to their limited means. The matter was left to a committee to investigate and report.

GREAT WELCOME FOR DREADNOUGHT

Halifax People Will Extend Reception to Australia's New Ship.

[Canadian Press Dispatch]

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 21.—Wireless message received from the New Zealand this morning states that the Dreadnought cruiser expects to reach this port this afternoon. Arrangements for the entertainment of the warships company while in port include the presentation of an address of welcome by the mayor, a supper for the officers and a theatre party for the men.

The New Zealand will coal on Monday and leave later in the week for Portsmouth, England, on the last leg of her world girdling tour.

Charles B. Stover, Parks Commissioner of New York, has not been heard from since Oct. 16, when he left his office, supposedly to go to lunch.

Laid at Rest

An enjoyable at home was held in the Masonic Temple last evening by Mount Horeb Chapter, No. 20, R.A.M., at which a large number were present.

Mr. J. H. Cameron, entertainer, Dr. Robb, pianist, of Toronto, Messrs George Allen, baritone and W. H. Howlett of Hamilton supplied the numbers for a concert.

Mr. Cameron is considered one of the best entertainers in Canada, and certainly upheld his reputation last evening. The numbers given by Dr. Robb and Messrs Allen and Howlett were very greatly enjoyed.

After the concert a banquet was partaken of, followed by toasts and an address on the social side of Ma-

Women's Institute of Echo Place

The Echo Place Institute met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Day, Hamilton road, this being the third regular meeting of the institute. Ten new names were added to the roll, making a membership of 51. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Burke, the chair was filled very ably by Mrs. Craddock. The minutes of the October meeting were read by Rt. Ex. Comp. Dr. L. J. James, paper record.

The toast, The King and Craft was responded to by the singing of the National Anthem.

Rt. Ex. Com. M. McCormack proposed the toast to the Grand Chapter of Canada, which was responded to by Rt. Ex. Comp. Jno. H. Spence, Ex. Compt. Dr. C. D. Chapin proposed the toast, Our Lady Companions. The banquet was followed by dancing. The evening was considered a great success by all present.

on "Apples"..... ways to use them. Mrs. James read a paper on "The Turkey: How to Select and Prepare It for the Table." Mrs. Grummett gave some good recipes for mince-meat, Mrs. A. Edmondson for plum-pudding, and Mrs. Hall for Christmas cake. The members responded to their names at roll-call with ideas for Christmas presents.

The following musical program was enjoyed: Instrumental duet, Misses Grace and Alberta Williams; piano solo, Mrs. (Dr.) Devereux; solo, Mrs. Myrtle Douglas and Jean Caton.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 18th, at the home of Mrs. G. Smith, when the president, Mrs. Burke, and Mrs. C. Edmondson will give a report of the convention which is being held in Toronto this week.

Because of a falling off in the number of guests and because there were extensive improvements made to the hotel, the directors of the Windsor Hotel Montreal, did not pass the usual five per cent. dividend.

SOLEMN CEREMONY.

ROME, Nov. 21.—The erection in the capital to-day of the bust of the late Giuseppe Verdi, the Italian composer, in commemoration of his hundredth anniversary of his birth on October 10, 1813, was made the occasion to-day of a solemn ceremony. The monument was designed by Giulio Monteverde, the most noted Italian sculptor, and was placed among those of other modern Italian celebrities by the Mayor of Rome, Ernesto Nathan, in the presence of Luigi Creraro, Minister of Public Instruction and of foreign ambassadors.

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Nov. 21.—Three hundred and fifty men and women were driven by fire to-day from the vast plant of the Atlantic Marconi factory in Long Island City. Two men were seriously burned. The fire did damage estimated at $150,000. It started with an explosion of flour dust.

STEAMER RELEASED.

KINGSTON, Nov. 1.—This morning the Donnelly Wrecking Co. succeeded in releasing the Steamer Belleville which ran ashore near Jackson's Lighthouse, two miles below Gananoque, on Wednesday night during a rain storm. Belleville was lightened and came off undamaged. She continued her trip up.

BIG C.P.R. ENGINE DASHED INTO LAKE

jumped the track at Coldwell at 2:30 this morning. The train ran to rocks which had fallen from the hillside and were unnoticed by the engineer owing to the nature of the curve at this point, until too late. The engine crashed into the obstruction, dragging the mills with the express, baggage, mail and one passenger coach. The track at this point runs close along the shore of the lake and the engine and one car rolled down the embankment into the water. Fireman O'Connor of Schreiber is missing and is supposed to have gone down with the engine in one hundred feet of water. No passengers were injured.

Official Statement.
WINNIPEG, Nov. 21.—An official statement issued from the office of the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway states that the accident to the Imperial Limited at Coldwell this morning was the result of a collision of the locomotive with a rock on the track. It is confirmed that no passengers were injured. Fireman Ernest O'Connor who was killed was 24 years of age, married and leaves a wife and family at Schreiber.

MARKET REPORTS

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 20.—Wheat—The steady American cables and the strength in Winnipeg yesterday caused few offers here at the opening and values were higher. Following the opening there was a further advance of 1/4 on the scarcity of first-hand Manitoba wheat, strength in spot here, forecast of light Canadian shipments this week and continued good continental demand for cargoes. There is a growing firmness in the European new crop offers, with the weather generally unfavorable and marketing slower. The Argentine wheat weather in Argentina checked the advance and as a result prices reacted 1/4 from the high, with prices at 130 1/2, 1/4 to 1/2 higher than yesterday.
Corn—Demand unchanged and a continued good continental demand for cargoes. There is a growing firmness in the European new crop offers, with the weather generally unfavorable and marketing slower. The Argentine wheat weather in Argentina checked the advance and as a result prices reacted 1/4 from the high, with prices at 130 1/2, 1/4 to 1/2 higher than yesterday.

CATTLE MARKETS.
UNION STOCK YARDS.
TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 111 carloads, consisting of 2,439 hogs, 11,448 sheep and lambs, and 158 calves.

Stocks and Feeders.
The demand for stockers and feeders still continues to be strong and prices here firm at 100 to 105 for good, 90 to 95 for medium, 80 to 85 for poor, 70 to 75 for culls and weathers, 60 to 65 for stockers, 45 to 50 for weathers.

Veal Calves.
The receipts of calves were not equal to the demand and prices remained firm. Choice veal sold at 100 to 105, good, 85 to 90; medium, 75 to 80; culls, 65 to 70; rough grass calves, 45 to 50.

Sheep and Lambs.
Both sheep and lambs sold at higher prices. Sheep, ewes, sold at 45 to 50 for culls and weathers, 35 to 40 for lambs, and wethers, 25 to 30.

Hogs.
The market for hogs was again lower. Selects, fat, sold at 10 to 11, 11 to 12, with the market slow at the decline.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 4,500; market, 10 to 11; cows and heifers, 8 to 9; calves, 10 to 11; hogs, 10 to 11; sheep, 10 to 11; lambs, 10 to 11.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Efforts yesterday failed to bring about a settlement of the strike of 400 cloth, hosiery and embroiderers which threatened enforced idleness for 300,000 workers in the clothing and cloak industry.

Sylvia Eludes Arrest.
LONDON, Nov. 21.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst again eluded arrest after having delivered an inflammatory "no rent" speech at Canning Town last night. About fifty policemen were waiting outside the house, but Miss Pankhurst came through the main entrance surrounded by a strong body guard. She reached her motor car and got away in safety.

Canada is Exhibiting.
CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The annual land show opened here yesterday with exhibits showing products of every agricultural section of the United States and Canada. The display included dry land farming, reclamation of desert lands and road building.

RECORDS STILL ARE MISSING

Enquiry Into the West Shore Railway Enterprise by Ontario Board.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—The enquiry into the affairs of the Ontario West Shore Railway went on before the Ontario Railway Board this morning. Greyson Smith, a partner in the office where the late S. C. Smoke had his quarters sent word to the board that the records had been searched for hours last night, but had been unable to find any of the papers which J. C. Moyes said he turned over to Mr. Smoke, when he (Moyes) resigned.

High J. MacEwen, Secretary of the Lake Shore Railway Company, was the first witness. He said he had never seen anybody connected with the Huron Construction Company. All the business in connection with that company so far as he knew was conducted by Mr. Moyes.

MacEwen said he remembered the meeting where it was stated by Mr. Moyes that a contract had been entered into between the West Shore Railway Company and the Huron Construction Company, but had never received any wages himself.

MacEwen said except in the way of promises. He did not know where the books of the railway company were and the minutes of the directors' meetings had been sent to Toronto and so far as he knew, never returned. There had passed through the office of the secretary, aid Mr. MacEwen, $170,000 to the construction company and $25,000 to the account of Mr. Moyes. He had personal knowledge of no other money expended.

Engineer Middlemist, of the Ontario Railway Board, told of making an inspection of the line of the West Shore Railway, which was alleged to be completed. He found fault with the width of the roadbed, saying it was only nine feet where it should have been 12 or 14, said that much of the concrete work was crumbling away and the rails were so grown over with weeds that it was almost impossible to see how the work had been done.

Mr. C. Lewis, contractor, said to complete the road as originally intended would cost $707,735. The work which had been done could be duplicated so far as he could see, for $227,641, and allowing a contractor's profit of 15 per cent, the work could be done to-day for $267,785.

Edmund C. Lewis, contractor, said he had made an inspection of the roadway with Engineer Middlemist and agreed in every respect with the findings of the latter. Mr. Lewis said that he could do the work already performed on the road, for $261,871 and make a profit of 15 per cent, on the job. Before the case was adjourned sine die, W. Prondfoot, K.C., said that the municipalities interested would make application to the legislature at its next session in regard to their case. It is understood that this means they will pray to have the bond guarantee for which they are liable either removed or modified.

In the Quebec Legislature Provincial Secretary Dezarie told Godfrey Langlois, the educational reformer, that the salaries now paid to female teachers in the province averaged $163 a year in the cities. The female Catholic teachers averaged $254; and in the country $155.

Brantford Cordage Co.

genius, and he has inaugurated many devices which he resulted not only in an improved article, but also in a greatly enhanced machine capacity. This combination has spelled to a very large extent the success of the enterprise.

The products are known as the "Brantford Cordage Company's" "Mile Leaf Brands," and include "Silk Edge," "Gold Leaf," "Silver Leaf," and "Maple Leaf."

As an evidence of the worldwide standing of the goods, the writer was shown cablegrams received between Nov. 3rd and Nov. 19th ordering several hundred tons of twine to be sent to London, England, Aberdeen and Huntley, Scotland, Denmark, Roumania and other foreign countries.

The storage quarters are fireproof and most capacious, and all the improvements have been the device of Mr. Messacar and Mr. Walsh.

The property occupies some six acres, and is conveniently situated alongside the Grand Trunk Railway.

Mr. Connors, a leading binder twine expert, who happened to be on the premises, volunteered the remark: "You can say that in all my experience I never came across a better-run or better-equipped plant."

In addition to twine the concern has also commenced the manufacture of rope and this branch promises also to assume large proportions. Mr. Messacar and his associates have every reason to feel proud of this flourishing industry and the high standard of its products.

WORTH NOTING.

At this period of the year when building matters are more or less quiet in other centres it is worthy of note that owing to the just recognition of the importance of this community, by two Conservative governments, there is much labor at work in this city.

In connection with the Federal Government there are over sixty men employed on the new public building and some two hundred within Brantford limits on the Lake Erie and Northern Railway, a road made possible because of the Ottawa grant.

In connection with the Ontario Government some forty men are at work on an extension at the School for the Blind, and about half a hundred on the installation of the Hydro-Electric system.

All of said undertakings have, certainly come at a most opportune time. The four Conservative members of the four Brants are most decidedly on the job in looking after the requisite and warranted needs of their constituents.

THE LITTLE DOMINION.

Conservative papers have suddenly stopped eulogizing New Zealand. The little dominion has gone back on the contribution policy, and is going to do what Mr. Borden says Canada is too feeble to do.

But is it true that New Zealand has gone back on the contribution policy? New Zealand has contributed a battleship to the Imperial navy. It has not been reported that she has demanded her contribution back.

The public ceremony, held in St. Andrews Church, was one of the largest attended in years, the majority of the clergymen of the city of all denominations and many from outside points being present.

At the church, the Rev. J. G. Stuart of Knox Presbyterian Church was in charge. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Murdoch McKenzie, moderator of the General Assembly, other clergymen who took part were: Bishop Williams, representing the Anglican Church; Rev. Robert Johnson, Montreal, and Rev. H. H. Bingham of this city.

The members of the London Presbytery and clergymen of all denominations attended the service in a body, marching from the Y. M. C. A. building to the church. The body was taken to Woodland Cemetery for burial.

GOLDEN RULES OF SAFETY

"Ten Golden Rules of Safety" have been prepared by Peter M. Hoffman, coroner of Chicago, to aid in a campaign in that city for the cutting down of accidents.

Here they are: Look at it from the other fellow's viewpoint. Co-operate with him to use the streets, sidewalks, cars and buildings on the equal right basis of traffic.

Pedestrians on the street should give an equal right to automobiles, street cars or other pedestrians. Owners and operators of automobiles should respect the rights of others.

The pedestrians on the streets have as much right to the use of the streets as you have, and your forcing him to submit to your domination will call for drastic legislation on car users.

Mr. Business Man you may be the brightest man in town in all other ways, yet if you get in front of an automobile or street car, which is not a respecter of persons, you will get hurt just as much as the man in the so-called lower walk of life.

Everyone stop, look, and think safety before you cross a congested street or pass behind an automobile, car or wagon; always see what is on the other side of the object you are passing. Cross the street on a crosswalk.

To all users of the street: Do not crowd pedestrians into a place of danger with your automobile, wagon or street car; or dash into a crowd on a crosswalk in the absence of the crossing officer, or even if the officer is at the crossing and gives you the signal to proceed. Go carefully and safely.

To all users of the street: Remember the children and the aged. You were a child once and know how much you looked up to your elders.

INQUIRY LAUNCHED.

and followed their example and depended upon them. Help children by your example of safety, carefulness and assistance to them, and also the aged, as you will probably reach that advanced state in the future.

Get the safety habit; practice it and help others to acquire the same habit.

Sulzer

Oh, Sulzer came from Albany, and wore the victor's crown, although a stern impeachment court had lately turned him down. No sackcloth did the hero wear—although he had cause enough—but bore a princely diadem of laurel on his brow.

"My life to give to help the Peepul's cause," and on his path the Peepul pranced and gave him wild applause. The Peepul, the reformers, say, are virtuous and wise, but in the throbbing public breast all human goodness lies. The Peepul never make mistakes, their vision's clear and true, the more they rule the better 'tis, they say, for me and you.

And so the mighty Peepul rose and walked in Sulzer's train, and cried, "We'll never rest until you have your own again!" What wonder that we lift our hats when orators declaim of good days coming and invoke the sacred Peepul's name? The Peepul choose their heroes well—you cannot blind their eyes, they always recognize the truth beneath a garb of lies.

Though some may see in Sulzer but a creature soiled and vile, the Peepul see his sterling worth, and greet him with a smile.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE DR. ROSS

One of Largest Ever Held in the City of London—Tribute Paid.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 21.—Private and public services were held this afternoon over the body of Rev. Dr. Ross, pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, accidentally killed in New York City on Monday.

The public ceremony, held in St. Andrews Church, was one of the largest attended in years, the majority of the clergymen of the city of all denominations and many from outside points being present.

At the church, the Rev. J. G. Stuart of Knox Presbyterian Church was in charge. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Murdoch McKenzie, moderator of the General Assembly, other clergymen who took part were: Bishop Williams, representing the Anglican Church; Rev. Robert Johnson, Montreal, and Rev. H. H. Bingham of this city.

The members of the London Presbytery and clergymen of all denominations attended the service in a body, marching from the Y. M. C. A. building to the church. The body was taken to Woodland Cemetery for burial.

ROYAL PRINCESS'S INCOME

Duke of Argyll Successfully Appeals Against Taxation.

The Duke of Argyll, on Friday, successfully appealed against the decision of the Special Commissioners for Income Tax, who had held that the Parliamentary grant of £6,000 a year to his wife, the Princess Louise should be included in his income, and income and super-tax paid on it.

The case came before Mr. Justice Scrutton, in the King's Bench Division. The Duke had appealed to the Commissioners against assessment for super-tax on the ground that in them had been included £6,000 in respect of his wife's income. The Commissioners affirmed the assessments, and the Duke now appealed from the decision.

It was the Duke's case that the annuity, having been granted "free from all taxes and assessments," was not liable either to income-tax or super-tax. Mr. Sankey, K. C., representing the Duke, now presented this case.

The Attorney-General argued that the Income Tax Act of 1842 contained a provision to the effect that no future Act of Parliament granting annuities should exempt from payment of any of the taxes imposed by the Act.

His lordship, in giving judgment in favour of the Duke of Argyll, said that the Act of 1871 granting the annuity to the Princess Louise prevailed over the Income Tax Act of 1842 and that, therefore, she was entitled to receive the annuity free from all deductions for income-tax and super-tax. He was of opinion that the decision of the Commissioners was wrong, and that the Act of 1871 prevented the Princess or the Duke from being assessed for income or super-tax.

INQUIRY LAUNCHED.

Witness was on the bridge when the ship struck broadside. The engines stopped, but the vessel continued to roll towards the stone. The vessel took no water at this time. Witness was unable to see or do anything until daylight.

On the afternoon of November 8, witness and the crew left the vessel as ice commenced to form on the ship. The weather was bad all the time they were on board.

It was found that they had been stranded five miles east of Copper Harbor. No attempt was made to release the vessel. Witness and all the members of the crew got off the vessel safely and built a brush house in the bush near the steamer and here they lived until Monday morning, provisions having been secured from the steamer. The steamer was only about fifteen feet from shore and it was no trouble for the crew to get off.

The crew had no communication with the outside world till Monday when some of the crew walked to Madan, a distance of about 18 miles and telephoned from there to Collingwood and Toronto. When witness left the vessel the last time, she was standing straight and he believed had all of 1,500 tons of ice on her. The vessel was two feet forward and six feet aft. If the weather remained good he believed the vessel could be released, but if left there all winter it might not be possible.

"After the storm hit, I never saw a light. I had no idea that I was so near shore."

Witness and the commissioner then consulted charts in an endeavor to ascertain the point at which the vessel was stranded.

"Now that it is over, is there anything you think you might have done that you did not do? Could you not have made a tack eastward?"

"I thought of that," said the witness, "and I might have come through all right. It was about 11 o'clock at night when it got so bad."

Mr. King asked witness if storm signals were up at the Soo and Whitefish Point when he passed, and he replied "No."

"I never was in just the same position in such a heavy gale."

Witness did not contend that the lights were not burning, but blamed his inability to see them in the storm of sleet and snow.

"If you had seen the signals at Whitefish Point, what would you have done?" asked Captain Lindsay.

"I do not know."

"Have you ever been guided by the storm signals?"

"Yes, I have."

"I want to ascertain the value placed on those signals," said the commissioner. "Can you tell me if signals are much observed by the captains?"

"Some observe them and some do not."

Witness said he was never out in a hurricane, but after giving the matter some thought, would say that the wind might have been worse.

The freighter Howard M. Hanna, aground near the lighthouse at Port Austin, Mich., is a total loss. An effort will be made to sell her as she lies on the rocks.

Mrs. Clarissa A. Bailey, an Indian woman of Seattle, argued her own case in regard to land assessments before the Supreme Court, dividing her time with her attorneys.

Witness said he had means of taking soundings in Lake Superior, but on this occasion he had not taken any soundings, as he did not think it was necessary.

"Do you think the soundings on Lake Superior can be depended upon?"

"I could not say that they can."

RECORD AMOUNT OF ENGLISH MAIL

Arrived on One Steamer at New York This Morning.

(Canadian Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A record consignment of mail from England, not excepting the great amount brought in at Christmas time, arrived in New York on one steamer to-day. There were 3802 sacks, weighing about 155 tons in all, which were brought by the steamship Majestic. The consignment was so large that the steamer's mail room could not hold it all, and many sacks were stored in empty staterooms. The record is due to heavy weather which prevailed at Queenstown on November 9, making it impossible for the steamship Manxonia to collect her usual mail. The present consignment is the first arrival from England since November 12.

Masonic Celebration. Doric Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will celebrate "Life Members' Night" in the Temple this evening, and a pleasant time may be anticipated by the members of the craft who are able to attend. This lodge has over half a hundred life members.

Enjoyable Banquet. A banquet for all the members of the Wellington Street Sunday School was held in the church parlors last evening at which over four hundred were present. After the banquet Mr. Smith of Toronto, in the absence of Dr. Stevenson, Secretary of Forward Movement, who was unable to be present, gave a lecture on Japan, illustrated by lantern slides. This is the first time that a banquet for the whole Sunday School has been attempted in this church, and it proved a great success, being especially enjoyed by the children.

Law Overlooked. "If anybody at Vanessa is prosecuted for shooting squirrels the whole township of Windham will have to be prosecuted," said a resident of that locality this morning. The fact that shooting of squirrels in Norfolk was topped by the department at Toronto has been overlooked by the game warden, magistrate and others who should know. Everybody has been shooting. Just what action the department will take is not known. One man said he applied to the game warden and was told to shoot. Special officers from Toronto will likely visit the district this week.

Boy Knights Work. The Boy Knights have entered two teams in the Canadian Rifle League in both miniature and gallery series. In both of these series they made a splendid showing last year and with their fine new range their average should be considerably higher this year. An examination will be held in the near future for sergeants. The mothers of the Boy Knights held a meeting on Wednesday afternoon which was largely attended. They are deeply interested in the work and will take an active part in the Boy Knights' banquet next Wednesday evening.

Battery Meeting To-night. The organization meeting of the 32nd Battery C.F.A. will be held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 8.30 p.m. to-night. A cordial invitation has been extended to all men who are interested in this branch of the service, and an exceptional opportunity is afforded to young men to step in on the ground floor and obtain in a few months the appointments as non-commissioned officers, which under ordinary circumstances would take years to secure. Only those men desirous attending the school of instruction and obtaining certificates are being asked for at present. The Battery will not be recruited up to its total strength of 107 of all ranks until the guns and equipment arrive.

UNITED STATES WANTED REAL WARFARE

Failure Between Rebel Leader and Hale is Given in Despatch

(Canadian Press Despatch) NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 21.—It was learned to-day from authoritative sources that one of the principal reasons why the conferences here between William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's personal representative and General Carranza broke up was the failure of Carranza to give the United States government assurances that accepted rules of civilized warfare would be observed by the Constitutionalists, if they were allowed to import arms and ammunition.

Carranza, it is understood, was not in a position to give these assurances because of inability to control the generals in the field. The first indication that the Constitutionalists could not meet this demand came, it is said, when Carranza absented himself from the conference, giving himself as an excuse. After his second failure to keep the appointment, Hale refused to confer with subordinates. Although Hale declined to accept invitations from Carranza's subordinates to discuss the subject informally after the General's departure, he is said to have assured the ministers before he left for Tucson, that he would meet Carranza personally anywhere if the Constitutional leader so requested.

THIRTEEN HORSES WERE DESTROYED

Disastrous Blaze at Brighton, Ont., Early This Morning.

(Canadian Press Despatch) BRIGHTON, Ont., Nov. 21.—A disastrous fire occurred here this morning, completely consuming the livery and harness department of A. Wade, proprietor of the Hotel Central. The hotel stables, which were connected with the livery barn were also consumed. Thirteen horses were burned besides nearly all the vehicles, harness, robes and livery equipment. The fire evidently originated in the hay mow and the building was enveloped in flames before it was discovered.

The fire had broken through the upper floor when Mr. Wade rushed into the stable and he took a dangerous chance in undertaking to release any of the horses. Being forced from the stable he undertook to save the vehicles, but after removing the harness and a hack and one buggy the flames prevented his saving anything else.

Mr. Wade is a heavy loser, his equipment being valued at about $3,000 with insurance of only $1500.

VARIOUS MATTERS IN POLICE COURT

A Watch Case - Rose Daniels Charged - Other Police News.

Frank Hazell was mixed up in receiving a watch last Saturday which was stolen, and for which theft John Simons on Monday got sentenced to six months. He had bought the watch and chain from Simons and it was in his possession when the police recovered it. Consequently he was charged with receiving stolen property. He claimed that he did not know it was stolen. It was noticed that the chain had been changed and some time was taken, obtaining witnesses as to the identity of the chain. It was ascertained that the original chain was gold and the present one was imitation. At this stage the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

Three Armenians, Joe Peters, Steve Hayler and Steve Billo were brought before the bench for assaulting James Garrow. His story was that he was at a local hotel and ordered a glass of beer. In attempting to reach his glass he was held off by the Hungarians. "I thought you said Armenians last night," said Magistrate Livingston. "I might have done so," replied witness, "they are bad enough whichever they are" to the amusement of the court. He continued his story and said he was instantly surrounded by twenty foreigners. "I dare say," he said, "that if it had not been for my good old British blood I might never have got out alive." The commotion arrested the attention of the police, who arrived, as Garrow alleged, just in time to save his life. He had been kicked and struck with a stick. Although his story told of war and bloodshed, Garrow himself did not appear much the worse for his adventure. His vocabulary apparently exceeded his injuries.

The Armenians admitted being in the bar which was crowded, but denied the assault.

The Magistrate did not hesitate in fining defendants five dollars each, after Chief Slemin had said a word with reference to foreigners in public bars.

TWO LITTLE ONES WERE DROWNED

Sad End of Little Girls in Wolseley, Saskatchewan, Yesterday.

(Canadian Press Despatch) WOLSELEY, Sask., Nov. 21.—Myrtle MacKenzie, aged 11, and Dorothy Quinn, aged 9, were drowned Thursday afternoon when with a group of other children they were skating on the C. P. R. reservoir near school. The ice broke as they skated toward the bridge and as they sank the screams of the other children brought Mrs. MacKenzie and her eldest daughter, Fannie, both of whom rushed out to where the little girls had gone down. The ice too week for the children broke before the women reached them and the mother was only rescued when sinking for the third time by Allen Thompson, who jumped in with a rope. Fannie MacKenzie was dragged out by a rope flung to her by men on the bank. The bodies of the children were recovered later.

SHOT THROUGH HEAD

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Peter Basilio, 38 years old, a grocery dealer in the Italian section of the city was shot through the head and instantly killed here early to-day. No one witnessed the shooting and the authorities have no clue as to who fired the shot. The body was found in the street. Several black hand letters have been received by prominent Italians and it is believed that Basilio also had been threatened.

The American Federation of Labor yesterday, at Seattle, decided that the time was not opportune for a labor political party.

SERIOUS DISSENSION IN THE CABINET

Asquith's Compromise Offer Delayed by Uncertainty in Ranks, Says the Daily Mail.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Premier Asquith's compromise offer to the Opposition leaders on the Home Rule Bill is being delayed, according to the Daily Mail, by serious dissensions within the Cabinet regarding the solution of the question.
Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty; David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Sir Edward Grey, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor, the Daily Mail says, favor the exclusion of Ulster from the bill, while Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary; and Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Agriculture, belong to what may be called the fighting party which will resist the exclusion of Ulster, is only willing to confer small concessions, and is ready to impose Home Rule on Ulster by force of arms.

"It need only be said," adds the Daily Mail, "that the Ulster volunteer force now number 90,000 men, zealous to fanaticism, who are armed with 38,000 rifles and are obtaining more daily. Meanwhile Premier Asquith does not show him hand. He is waiting for developments."

Guarded by Her Army Sylvia Escapes Police

Got Clear Away After Delivering an Inflammatory "No Rent" Speech.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst again eluded arrest after having delivered an inflammatory "no rent" speech at Camington last night. About fifty policemen were waiting outside the hall, but Miss Pankhurst came through the main entrance surrounded by a strong bodyguard. She reached her motor car and got away in safety.

A Catholic cathedral costing $500,000 and an Archbishop's residence in keeping with the architectural beauty of the cathedral will be started in Edmonton next spring. It is also proposed to erect thirteen smaller churches in various parts of the city during the next year.

FATE OF EXPLORERS REMAINS MYSTERY

Impossible for Vessels to Reach Chesterfield Inlet.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Owing to the failure of the Hudson Bay steamer which was to go from Churchill to Chesterfield Inlet to reach the latter port, no definite word as to the fate of George Street, of Ottawa and Harry V. Radford, the American explorer, who are supposed to have been murdered by Eskimos near Baker Lake, will be received by the Mounted Police Department until next Spring or Summer.
Superintendent Demers, of the R.C.M.P. who was to have gone up in the Hudson Bay boat from Churchill, was unable to make the trip on account of the failure of the boat to reach its destination. He may try to go overland this winter, but the delay which has ensued will make it impossible to get any news as to the fate of the two explorers for many months.

A Come-Back

Police State That County Constable Kerr Was Slow on the Job.

The police department has a come back to County Constable Fret Kerr in the matter of having two juries empanelled for the inquest this week. P. C. Cara states he was summoned to the Grand Trunk to take charge of the body and did so. He notified Coroner Fissette and a warrant for a jury was issued. He did not go out into the Township but considered it a plain duty to act when notified that the body was at the Grand Trunk depot. Had County Constable Kerr been there there would have been no mix-up. In connection with the securing of the jurists next morning, the police state that Constable Kerr had no warrant, although he had been verbally told to proceed by Coroner Raphael of Cainsville. The police claim that when Kerr was notified he should have gone directly to the Grand Trunk depot and taken charge.

Some Interviews

Chief Slemm, when seen, stated that personally he knew nothing whatever about the matter, as he was at home and in bed when the police department received a notification from Dr. Fissette, coroner of Cainsville, who received the same, acted in accordance with the regulations in the matter, and Dr. Fissette had issued the necessary warrant for empanelling a jury.

Dr. Raphael of Cainsville, when phoned, said: "On the night of the finding of the remains, I was notified by Mr. Fulton at about 11.30 p.m. He phoned County Constable Kerr and advised that the body be taken to the city, and that he take the necessary steps to hold an inquest."

"Did you issue a coroner's warrant?"
"No, but I thought my word to be enough until next day."

"Have you since issued a warrant?"
"No, I heard later that it was after 1 p.m. that the city police were notified."

Dr. Fissette, when seen, stated that it was 1.30 a.m. when he received word of the finding of the body. As coroner he at once notified the police, who took the necessary action in such cases. He had also issued a coroner's warrant. He and Dr. Raphael consulted and quite understood that there had been a misunderstanding. As far as the body were concerned, everything was mutually agreeable.

Boycott Them

Echo Place People Insist Upon Delivery of Goods by Merchants.

The members of the Echo Place Improvement association have ceased to patronize city merchants who will not deliver goods to that section. For some time the association have been considering this move. Last night the boycott was approved when a resolution was unanimously carried.

Mr. John Fisher, M.P., wrote the association a letter of appreciation for the pleasant time spent at the concert held recently.

The association will make a grant to the hockey team and generally support it. President Burke was in the chair and in the absence of Mr. H. C. Thomas, secretary, Mr. Mowley Myers acted in that capacity.

MAY HAVE TO ADJOURN.
REGINA, Sask., Nov. 21.—Unless thermometer drops 30 or 40 degrees within the next week, legislative committee on privileged matters and elections may be forced to delay for some time its projected inquiry into Cumberland election. Before progress can be made subpoenas must be served on J. R. Settee, returning officer and four deputies. These men are buried in distant recesses of north land and cannot be reached until river and lake Muskeg are frozen hard and rendered passable for man and dog team.

WERE NO SALARIES TO BE CUT OFF

Report of Technical Commission is About Completed.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—The story sent out from Ottawa to the effect that Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, has abruptly cut off the salaries of Dr. Robertson, chairman of the Commission on Technical Education, and of the secretary, Thos. Bengough, is given an authoritative denial. The Minister does not care to be drawn into any controversy regarding the matter, but as is well known, he has been dissatisfied with the lack of expedition in completing the report finally. This was expressed in correspondence recently published. Dr. Robertson at the time explained that the work was practically done save for supervision of publication, and agreed as he would take but a small part of his time to perform the work without remuneration. Mr. Bengough completed his secretarial work this week. The members of the commission generally, who were paid at a rate per day, ceased their duties months ago.

Hon. John Sharples' Legacies $1,500,000

QUEBEC, Nov. 21.—The will of the late Hon. John Sharples was made public yesterday. The legacies and donations mentioned in it amount to $1,500,000 and succession taxes which go to the province $37,000.

Among the bequests to religious and charitable institutions is $3,000 for the Salvation Army.

Thirty-two members of the National Council of Y.M.C.A. in Canada, representing the three divisions, of the Dominion, the Western, the Maritime and the Ontario and Quebec, are attending the second annual meeting of the Council in Montreal. The financial report shows $47,500 required for the year's operations.

Half Million Sale of Fox and Oyster Ranch

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 21.—The second largest deal in the fox business on the Island has just been put through. James C. Tuplin of Black Bank, in the western part of the province, has disposed of his Fox fine property, including a fox ranch, also a large area of shore front for oyster cultivation, to a syndicate composed mainly of Boston capitalists and a few island moneyed men. The ranch contains eleven pairs of black foxes of highest quality. The deal involves an expenditure of half a million dollars.

PHILOSOPHICAL PHELI AND THE WEATHER

IT IS REALLY A CRYSTAL GLOBE BUT I CALL IT A ROTHE CAUSE I CAN'T SAY I HAVE CRYSTAL GLOBE

THE PROBS

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—A rather pronounced depression is centered in Minnesota, moving northward, while pressure remains high over the Atlantic states. Showers are occurring very locally in Ontario and snow is falling in the Qu'Appelle Valley.

Forecasts. Fresh to strong southerly to south-westerly winds, light showers, but partly fair and mild to-day and on Saturday.

Temperature. For the past twenty-four hours, highest 62, lowest 45; same date last year, highest 66, lowest 28.

CHARGED WITH EXTORTION. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Four upstate contractors told Assistant District Attorney Clark to-day that each had contributed $50 to the fund collected by Everett P. Fowler, the alleged Tammany "bagman" now under indictment for extortion.

O'KEEFE'S ESTATE. TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Eugene O'Keefe of the O'Keefe Brewing Co., Limited, who died about a month ago, left $75,000. Of that amount $39,000 is will to charities. There is also a bequest of $10,000 to His Holiness, the Pope.

CANADA GETS IT. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—There has been withdrawn from the embassies to-day an additional $200,000 gold coin for shipment to Canada.

QUEEN OF SPAIN ILL. PARIS, Nov. 21.—The improvement in the condition of health of the Queen of Spain, who is suffering from influenza, was so marked to-day that King Alfonso decided to proceed to Vienna to pay the visit to the Austrian court already arranged. The queen in the meantime remains here, and when sufficiently recovered to travel, will go to London to which capital King Alfonso also will go after his visit to Vienna.

REPRESENTS ATTACK ON MEMORY OF LATE MEMBER

J. I. Hartt, M.P.P., Denounces Tactics of Liberal Leader Rowell.

STATEMENTS ARE DECLARED UNTRUE

BRYANSTON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Rowell's charges made so freely of late that the Whitney Government and the liquor interests are in alliance met with a prompt and vigorous denial here last night at the hands of Mr. James I. Hartt, M.P.P. (East Simcoe), who characterized the statement as a plain and unvarnished lie.

"I am the Conservative candidate in this riding," he said, "and I support the policy of Sir James Whitney, a man who has made good all his promises to this province. He abolished the numbered ballot, he has advanced every interest of education, he has bought hydro-electricity to large sections of the province, in itself one of the grandest things that can be done in a faring country. New Ontario is asking for the benefit to-day. These are some of the things our leaders have done for us and why wouldn't we support them?"

To-day our political opponents are trying to drag the temperance question into the issue. There is not a man here but believes in temperance. I myself have been a temperance man and have supported temperance from my boyhood. Where do we get this temperance that we have to-day but from the Whitney Government. You didn't get it from the Ross Government that preceded them, and where was Mr. Rowell when the Ross Government was playing with this issue. He was looking them up.

Mr. McFarlan next discussed the bilingual school question. He said he stood firm for one language in the schools of Ontario. If there were the right kind of public schools all children would be educated thoroughly in the English language and the Government's regulations were being to this end. Schools supported by Government money must come under Government supervision and one language for all was the right policy.

Mr. McFarlan also referred to the good work being done in agriculture and for good roads. Improved highways meant much to the farming sections and the Government was giving its help.

"If I am the choice of the electors of East Middlesex," concluded the candidate, "you will know where I stand on these public questions. I stand for British fair play and one language in the schools, and I will to to-day I, hope all the electors of London Township and the rest of the riding will rally and see to it that every vote is polled. And I have all right a straight and fair fight and I know that we will win a great victory." (Applause.)

WOMAN HAD RIDE ON THE FRONT SEAT

Excitement in the Holmedale Last Evening—Fire Department Out.

Holmedale was the scene of excitement last night at 10 o'clock, when an overturned lamp at 3 Spring street caused a fire which P. C. Cobden was able to extinguish in the nick of time. The fire department was summoned, and there were only a few rags burnt. The lone occupant of the house was Mrs. Daniels, who was found in a hopelessly inebriated condition. There might have been a fatality had the fire not been discovered.

The police patrol, which arrived on the scene, took the woman to the police cells. When Patrol Driver Cara endeavored to unfasten the door of the joy-wagon it was found hermetically sealed and refused to budge.

As the outcome the woman was lifted to the seat and enjoyed the breeze of a ride in front of the police depot.

FOUND IMPERIAL FEELING OVERSEAS

Lord Emmott Makes Eulogistic Reference to the Dominion.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Speaking at a reception given by the Victoria League to members of the Parliamentary Association, who had just returned from a tour, Lord Emmott referred in the highest terms to the Imperial sentiment he had found in every one of the dominions overseas. He did not think the time had come for any great organic change in the direction of Imperial Federation or any such step as that. The dominions were for the most part not prepared for anything of the kind, yet he felt very hopeful about the future of the Empire. The general trend was in the right direction. When he looked to the future he was forced to realize that in some forty or fifty years a great proportion of the population in the overseas dominions would be made up of those who had not seen the United Kingdom or had any personal knowledge of it. "It would be therefore all to the good if we visited the dominions more and encouraged the people of the dominions to visit us more. The dominions complained that we were ignorant of their affairs, and that we frequently betrayed that ignorance." Lord Emmott said he had pleasure in pointing out one or two occasions that the people of the dominions were not always accurately informed on British affairs, but there was not the slightest doubt that the interchange of visits was absolutely necessary, for in that way only could they become more informed about each other, and the better they understood one another the greater would be the Empire gain.

STEFANSSON YARN GIVEN ITS QUIETUS

Supply Boat of Expedition is Safe in Its Winter Quarters.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Ward reached the Department of the Naval Service to-day that the ship Belvedere, one of the supply ships which went north as part of the Stefansson expedition, is in safe winter quarters. This regarded as settling the question as to the safety of the old whaler Karluk, Stefansson's ship, as the Belvedere followed practically the same route to the Arctic and encountered the same weather in which the Karluk was reported to have been lost.

The Belvedere is owned in Seattle, Wash. Her owners there received word of her safety from a member of the ship's company who had journeyed overland to Circle, Alaska, and sent a wire from there. The Seattle firm notified the naval service depot at Esquimault, from which the message was forwarded to the department here to-day.

Incidentally Mr. Fortescue, controller of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, has contradicted the statements which have appeared that the failure of the Belvedere to reach Herschel Island with supplies has compelled the police to abandon that post.

PASTOR J. J. ROSS SPOKE LAST NIGHT

"Russellism" Was Subject of Address—The Points Referred to.

Pastor J. J. Ross of Hamilton gave a stirring address on Russellism in Victoria Hall last evening. He was pronounced reasonable and most considerate and convincing in his utterances. The following are his points in condemnation of Millennial Dawn Teaching:

1. It denies the doctrine of the Trinity.

2. It denies that Jesus Christ was God before his incarnation.

3. It teaches that Christ was only a created spirit.

4. In incarnation he ceased to be a spirit and became the second Adam.

5. As the second Adam he had only one nature.

6. His nature of humanity was annihilated at the cross.

7. He did not rise in the body in which he died.

8. The body in which he died may have been dissolved into gas.

9. The body in which he appeared after death was nothing more than a momentarily materialized appearance which was finally dissolved.

10. Jesus Christ is not now a man.

11. The "Man Christ Jesus" no longer exists.

12. Jesus Christ is now an invisible spirit being.

13. He came into the world in 1874 as an invisible spirit being.

14. The Millennium will begin in 1914.

15. All the dead out of Christ will be raised at that time.

16. All the unrighteous and wicked dead will be raised and made perfect and innocent like Adam before his fall.

17. All the unrighteous and wicked momentarily materialized appearance in this life, the more like 21. Those who do not want to live 18. The more wicked they have been in this life, the more like they will be, through the "experience" of sin, to accept the Gospel of the second chance.

19. Those who accept the second chance will have everlasting life.

20. Those who get everlasting life will sustain it by eating food.

21. Those who do not want to live forever will have the privilege of being asphyxiated in the lake of fire.

22. The assurance given to the wicked and sinful is, that there is no suffering for sin.

23. Those who do not care for heaven need not be afraid of hell.

24. The finally impenitent are extinguished here, and annihilated hereafter.

The following statement was read by the chairman at the conclusion of the meeting:

"On a steamer on the corner of Market and Colborne streets, immediately below the notice of this meeting, there is the statement that a challenge has been given by a representative of the International Bible Student's Association to public debate.

"As that announcement is evidently the outcome of this meeting, we would say here that if the challenge is made for either side to select anyone it chooses to represent, then we hereby accept the challenge. The debate to take place in Brantford. Details to be arranged by a committee of three on each side."

General improvement among the Indians is the burden of the annual report of the Indian department. The number of Indians and Eskimos combined is put at 109,657. The Eskimos numbered 1,447. Indians proper increased by 1,509, but the Eskimos decreased by 1,600. Ontario has the largest Indian population 26,077.

MARQUARD'S STAR HAS SET IN BASEBALL

Once Popular Southpaw No Longer Idol and is Slated to Leave Giants.

One short year often makes a big difference in the prospects, reputation and standing of a ball player.
It was only twelve months ago that Rube Marquard had pretty near the center of the baseball stage, and his name took up much space in big, broad letters on head lines in the sporting pages of the newspapers.

What he would do or would not do was heralded broadcast and there was at that time terrible agitation for fear that he might adopt the "stogie" permanently and leave baseball flat.

Immediately after the world's series of 1912 was finished Rube and his present wife started out on a vande-ville engagement that took in the country from east to west. Rube had won two games in the series between the Giants and Boston Red Sox for the championship of the universe, and he had also during the national game season won nineteen straight games, tying the pitching record of consecutive wins.

New York fans predicted all sorts of dire disaster for the Giants unless Rube would deign to play again with the clan McGraw.

Rube had a good press agent, who kept the wires red hot telling about how good and great a pitcher Mar-quard was and how poor a manager McGraw was. Fans got wild-eyed over the controversy between the manager and the pitcher. Both were in vogue and doubtless both desired some benefit from the advertising they received—but it can be said, and pertinently so, that Rube needed the advertising while Mc-Graw did not, consequently Rube did all the skyhigh flying.

When in March last year, the news arrived that Marquard had decided to live up to his contract and play with the Giants again, a sigh of relief went up from New York fans that sounded like the blowing of the wind that shoots, scots, and whistles around the Flatiron building on a stormy day.

It was fondly imagined that the success of the Giants—their ability to win the National League pennant again—depended entirely on Mar-quard rejoining the team.

There was not a few of the Giants themselves who imagined the same thing and there was much rejoicing in the Marlin training camp when the news was received from Scott Dick Kinsella that Rube had announced his intention of coming back.

Situation Reversed.
But neither the fortunes of the Giants, the New York club, the National league, nor the great national game appear to hinge on what Marquard will do next year.
On the contrary, Rube is the one who is on the anxious seat.

That it is the intention of Mc-Graw to trade Marquard to the Boston Nationals for Pitcher Tyler—also a southpaw twirler—is the general opinion.

Hints have been thrown out to that effect, although the prospective deal has not been authoritatively announced. But it is on tap nevertheless.
And one short year has caused Marquard to lose the great prestige as an invaluable pitcher.

There are some who think that if

Marquard had joined the Giants in Marlin and had the advantage to be gained by the spring training that he would have been the same winning pitcher he was in 1912.

He did not join the team until the players were on their way north.
Rube and his wife met the club in Houston, Texas, and he pitched very little on the way home. He had to get into shape in one-day stands, and although he tried hard and conscientiously to train himself, conditions and circumstances were against him, and when the championship season started he was far from being in his true form. He might have thought he was, but Mc-Graw knew he was not.

Marquard had no more chance to duplicate his big record of 1912 than I had or the druggist from Orange, who had been frequently taken for me when the drug dispenser is taking exercise before games at the Polo grounds.

LONDON PENSIONERS

Increase of Over 6,000, or Eleven Per Cent. in Two Years.

In the week's London County Council agenda there appears a valuable report on the administration of the Old Age Pensions Acts in London. The number of pensioners is steadily mounting up, as will be seen from the following figures giving the totals on the last Friday in March for three years:—

1911	60,508
1912	64,212
1913	67,147

The increase since 1911 represents 11 per cent. The report also draws attention to the importance of claimants making their claims at the earliest possible moment under the regulations (i.e. four months before the date when the claimant can be said to be entitled to a pension).

This provision of the regulations is not sufficiently known to claimants and consequently they lose a considerable amount of money which might be drawn in pensions while the necessary investigations are being made.

How Tommy Burns Was Cured
Of a Bad Case Of Cold Feet

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20.—
The old Naud Junction boxing pavilion is being torn down. Within a day or two the famous old barn will be of the past.

Some of the most famous fights in the history of the ring have been staged there. Many of the world's greatest fighters won their spurs in that ring.

The pavilion was erected in 1905
after the passage of a city ordinance forbidding boxing in the old Hazard pavilion.

The first match held there was between Hugo Kelly and Tommy Burns for the middleweight championship of the world. The last was between Jim Flynn and Sam Langford.

Tommy Burns also won the heavyweight championship of the world from Marvin Hart at old Naud's, in which connection is told a characteristic story of T. Burns.

Tommy's Cold Feet.
Burns didn't want to fight Hart.

He was afraid of Tommy was at that time a middleweight just growing too heavy to make the weight.
Hart was just enough of a joke to make the promoters feel sure Burns could beat him. But when they suggested the match to him Tommy almost fainted.

"Fight that big guy," he snorted.
"Not on your life. He's as big as a house." No argument could move him.

Whereupon Tommy departed for the races then in progress at Santa Anita Park. McCarey went over to the telegraph office and sent this message: "Burns accepts your terms for the match. Come at once."

A few days afterwards Tommy Burns was at the boxing headquarters when Marvin Hart strode briskly in.

"What's he doing here?" deman-ed Tommy in a faint voice.
"He's come to fight you," they said.
"Nothing doing; I won't do it,"
yelled Tommy and fled.

Billy Was Instructed.
They finally persuaded him, still vowing he would never step into the ring, to go into training. There was at that time a colored boy named Billy Woods boxing in Los Angeles, and he promised to become a champion. The promoters installed him as Tommy Burns' sparring partner.

"Now, Billy," they told him, "every time you get a poke go down as though you were knocked out." Faithful to his orders, Billy got in the way of one of Tommy's pokes the first day and went down like a log and was counted out. After he had repeated this two or three days, Tommy Burns paid another visit to the pro-moter's office.

McCarey said that his heart sank within him when he saw Tommy, supposing that he had come for the intention of withdrawing the match.

"What do you want, Tommy?" he inquired faintly.
"I want you to make that big guy post a forfeit, so he won't run out on me. I'm going to knock him out sure," said Tommy.

That's a bit of Naud Junction history that Tommy Burns doesn't know himself, for while he went into the ring and easily beat Marvin Hart, he never knew how it was that his courage had been bolstered up.

Five hundred laymen from all parts of Nipissing and Temiskaming Districts attended a missionary conference and banquet at North Bay.

A protest against the ill-treatment of political prisoners in Russia is being circulated throughout Europe.

YANKIES WILL BE MADE OVER

Rumor Has it That Important Trades Are Brewing to Strengthen Team.

Wait until next year is old "stuff" in the baseball world. In fact, it is getting so old that it is new, but it is one of the things which go with the sport, so we will have it as long as they play the game.

There is no doubt that Manager Chance has made some good progress in the line-up of his team. In fact the Yankees are better than they have been all year.

The leader of the New York club has told what the make-up of his infield will be next year, but by the time next season rolls around some changes may come. If the New York manager can make the trades he would like to before the club goes to Texas to train, there will be something doing in the camp of the New Yorkers which will get us boys who pound the typewriter something to talk about.

There is no doubt that the left wing of the Yankees infield has been straightened out. Remember when Kid Elberfeld and Conroy took care of third base and the shortstop positions. Well, not since the days when those two players were with the old Yankee family, has that end of the infield looked so well as present.

And there has been nothing the matter with the work of Peckinpah.

When the club assembles at Texas next spring Chance will not have to bother about that part of the infield. There is no doubt that Zeider looks to be a better ball player than he has shown the New York fans. He has been having a great deal of trouble with his legs, and the operation on the big league bunion has bothered him a little.

Williams has been going along well, but it is still a question whether he will be able to go along at the big league pace. Time will tell that. Chance has said that he does not know how the outfield will be made up. But he that as it may, the Yankees are not being used for doormats any more.

Whether Ed Sweeney will be retained as a Yankee catcher next season or not is a question. It was not long ago that the fans got after Sweeney as they did Hal Chase. With all that Sweeney is a good receiver, and there will be a scramble for his services when the club decides to let him out. The happy fellow is not in good with the New York fans, and that is the beginning of the end. With all that, Sweeney is a faithful worker and has caught good ball since he has been with the New York club.

NEW MEN SHOWING UP AT EVERY PRACTICE

Hamilton Hopeful of Good Team—Burlington May Join the O. H. A.

HAMILTON, Nov. 21.—With the hockey season about a month away, the Hamilton teams are shaping up fairly well, and by the time the season opens they should be in the best condition. The Hamilton Hockey Club are holding regular practices at the Alert rink, and at every practice a new man shows up. The Centennial have been counting on Muckler, the Kingston boy, to play cover point, but at present he is employed at the Alert rink, and it is more than likely that he will chase the puck for the Hamilton Hockey Club. With Muckler and Taylor on the line up, they should be able to make a good showing this season.

There is a strong possibility of Burlington getting into the intermediate O. H. A., and if such is the case they will be plentiful next season. Burlington had a good

NERVEUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" settles sour upset stomachs in five minutes. Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out of order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out of order stomach because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes, from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

train last season in the senior city league, and with a few changes would be hard to beat.

R.M.C. Cadets Await the Commandant's Approval. KINGSTON, Nov. 21.—The cadets of the Royal Military College have decided to enter the senior series of the Intercollegiate Hockey Union.

When the commandant of the college approves their wishes, they will make a formal application for admission to this series, and should be a welcome addition.

WOOD A STAR GOLFER. Joe Wood, the smoke ball expert, of the Red Sox, is said to have developed into such a good golf player that he is the talk of the links wherever he appears and he has promised to take part in a tournament at Boston later.

SAYS JOHNSON WAS INDISCREET

Griffith Deplores the Fact That His Star Twirler Misused His Arm.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—John McGraw's statement that he thought Walter Johnson was using poor judgment by pitching at top speed in the cold weather, as he did in a game against the Giants at Tulsa, Okla., has aroused the ire of Manager Griffith.

No manager could have been more careful of a pitcher's arm than was Griffith last season of Johnson's. He threw his star twirler along and took every precaution against over working him. At one time he gave him a ten-day rest after he had pitched a 15-inning game at Boston, and at no time was he pitched out of turn.

Naturally Griffith feels that in view of the care he took to preserve Walter's pitching arm the pitcher himself should be interested and not do such an indiscreet thing as pitch a lot of ball games on cold days after the season closes.

I am very much surprised to hear that Johnson has been pitching at top speed in games in the west since the season closed," said Griffith. "It seems to me that he should appreciate the effort I made last season to keep from over working him. He has a wonderful arm, no doubt, but there is a limit to everything and by pitching these games he is not treating himself or the club as he should."

I would write Walter and caution him against this sort of practice but I don't suppose that he is minded to work in any more games, so it will not be necessary to write him.

"I know from experience that it does a pitcher no good to work after the season is over. It shortens his career and I shall have an understanding with my pitchers in the future on this question."

The New York Horse Show is on this week and will be followed by the horse sale.

George E. Hutton went out to the sale near Pontiac on Wednesday to buy a trotter but came back with a two year old pacer, Peter Colin, by Baron Peter out of a mare by Simocolon, next dam by Antevolo. The youngster was trained on the trot and late, and when his shoes were changed he began to scoot.

Most Remarkable Values Ever Offered in Suits, Overcoats, Raincoats and Trousers!

Preparations for this event were made long ago, and they've been supplemented with recent special purchases of woolsens which enable us to give even better values than we had originally planned or thought possible. We therefore want to go on record as saying that in all our sixty years' experience as clothiers we have never known a parallel opportunity.

Men's and Young Men's Fall and Winter Suits

Most of them are cut in accordance with the new English models that are so popular this season with young men and men who want to look young. Close-fitting lines, natural shoulders, high-cut vest, straight line trousers. Plenty of conservative models, too, for from this stock of ours we can supply every demand of every taste. The fabrics include fine woolsens, serges and tweeds in patterns and color effects that have the right snap and dash. Also black and blue clays and black and blue chevrons.

JACK JOHNSON TO MEET MORAN

Heavyweight Boxers Have Been Matched for a Bout in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—Jack Johnson, the colored fighter, has been matched to fight Frank Moran during the second week in January here for the heavyweight championship of the world. Two clubs, the Nouveau Cirque and the Wonderland Francaise are now bidding for the fight, a definite decision on which will be given on Saturday. The Nouveau Cirque, which will hold the bout at the Velodrome d'Hiver, in Passy, seats 30,000, and has offered Johnson a fifty per cent. of the gross gate and Moran twenty-five. The fight pictures have already been arranged for. The Wonderland Club, which is under the control of Theodore Viennet, the biggest French fight promoter, will submit a bid. Johnson is willing to fight Moran to defend his title on account of the recent action of the International Boxing Commission in declaring the heavyweight title vacant. McKetrick, Moran's manager, said that Nyklim's report that Johnson's finances now require his re-entrance into the ring are erroneous. Johnson and his wife, who have jewels worth $50,000, have taken a $100-a-month apartment at Passy, and are buying a new motor. McKetrick also says that both he and Johnson prefer Viennet's club to get the fight, which in that case will be held at Luna Park, Paris, where they can draw a big society house.

A WONDERFUL COLD CURE

Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarhozone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and gripe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarhozone that enable it to act so quickly. In the case of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes announced that he would be a candidate in South Lanark.

REDGE RANKLIN A PROFESSIONAL

Stratford Goalkeeper Signs Contract to Play for Ontarios.

STRATFORD, Nov. 21.—Redge Ranklin, the well-known Stratford goalkeeper, has decided to enter the professional ranks and has signed a contract to play for Jimmy Murphy's Ontarios in the N.H.A. this season. Ranklin, who has been classed among the best goalkeepers in the O.H.A., refused several offers last winter to turn professional. Wanderers and Toronto seeking his services.

Stratford, while turning out good players in large quantities for a number of years, has only had a few jump to the professional ranks. Riley Hern and Frank Switzer being two that jumped and made good with a vengeance. Hern made a name for himself in the O.H.A. as goalkeeper for the Wanderers, and the local fans are confident that Redge Ranklin will prove just as big a star as Riley Hern.

Horse Notes

About 90 pacers stepped into the 210 hat this year.

Mr. Billings has 13 trotters in his stable for saddle horses.

Peter the Great leads the sires of money winners down the big line this year.

W. L. Snow has been able to do a lot of work with his horses at the state fair track.

Spalding, by Barongale, and Drogoda, by Dromore, have been sold to a man in Ohio.

Fred Jamison won 32 races and $22,000 with his stable of 8 horses on the half-mile track.

Branham Baughman, 2:04 1-4, an honest pacer, went through the season without winning a race.

R. M. Williams, who was manager of the New York fiasco this year, is trying to get the ship off the rocks.

The chestnut pacer, Mowbray Girl, 2:19 1-4, has been sold by Sam Burroughs, of Cleveland, to somebody in Michigan.

The Cox stable heads the list of money winners with $85,000. Murphy being next with $78,000 and Geers third with $55,000.

The fast pacer, Pickles, 2:03 1-4, likes the speedway game first class and is doing all that was expected of her in New York.

Frank Bogash, Jr., having won $24,325 this year ranks second among all harness sires, Etawah being first and Tenart third.

State fair folks will foregather at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago on December 3 and 4 and arrange their dates for next year.

The Michigan circuit set a pace for all of the tracks as there is more talk about three per cent. entrance now than ever in the past.

Dromore Farm has shipped to Roy Miller at Lexington, two highly bred weanlings by Justice Brooke and out of native Belle and Gay Worthy.

Of the new 2:10 pacers this year, Frank Bogash, Jr. is first in speed with 2:01 1-4, and Michigan Queen by Marble Girl, is second with 2:03 3-4.

Poinsetta, the fast daughter of Barongale and Anella, is at Dromore farm. Little will be done with her next year as it is expected that she will be ripe for the big stakes in 1915.

Walter R. Cox was given a banquet by the citizens of Dover last Thursday. Foughkeepsie folks are going to do the same thing to Murphy. Now that Snow is one of us, why not give him a spread in Detroit?

MESSAGES FROM "OTHER SIDE"

Miss Stead's Communication from Her Father.

Miss Estelle Wilson Stead, daughter of the late Mr. W. T. Stead, is visiting America, and in an interview with a Pressman she claimed to have received "spirit messages" from her father.

"My father, just after he passed into the unseen, communicated with me," said Miss Stead. "He told me of that awful night when he lost his life on the Titanic. As he was going down into the cabin something struck him. It was a terrible blow. He never regained consciousness of this world, but passed at once into the abode of the spirits.

"The terrible scenes of that disaster were told to me. My father's sympathy went into the cabin, something struck him. It was a terrible blow. He never regained consciousness of this world, but passed at once into the abode of the spirits.

"For some time I have had communication with him. One does not have to talk so much about these things to me. At the instant you can't tell all that you feel is coming to you from one in the spirit world. It is a great comfort to dwell upon these messages, but not to tell them.

"Since he has gone he has told me to come to America. I told him that was being done. He knows that I am here in the country now.

"These messages come to me in several ways. Generally it is by something akin to telegraphy. I may be resting in the twilight, or I may be in a mood of intense spiritual concentration, when I hear his voice speaking to me. At the instant it will seem as if my father spoke in the flesh. Then, as the material side of life floods back upon me, I have to wonder if I have not been dreaming. I have never received a message in dream form, however. Nor have I ever used the quills board. But I have received communications by automatic handwriting.

"I believe that telepathy may often exist between two who are in spiritual harmony on the same electric circle, as mother and child, or two lovers. I say electric, because the communication appears to be some sort of vibration, finer than the vibration of sound, and not like those of the other whereby we see light.

"Scientists are coming to admit that every personality is charged with positive or negative electricity. Why should not there be electric attractions and communications?"

Lulu Lumine, the unbeaten western trotter, was bred in New Jersey by a man who sold her to Mr. Smollinger, William Simpson of New York owned the mare, Lumine, and Orator the sire, was bred in New Jersey.

Ed. A. Tipton and H. K. Devereaux are said to be at work on a plan to form a new trotting association to consist only of the mile tracks. This would not be a bad idea as it is hard to make rules equitable for both the big and the little ovals.

SEAGRAM AGAIN O.J.C. PRESIDENT

Club Holds Annual Meeting and Re-elected All Its Officers.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—The annual meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club was held yesterday at the company's offices, Imperial Bank Building, the president, Mr. Joseph E. Seagram, occupying the chair.

The chairman referred to the successful season enjoyed by the club, and stated that purses had been substantially increased during the past year, and now amounted to more than $100,000. Disturbances between the Spring and Autumn meetings, work on the new grand stand at Woodbine Park was now going ahead very fast, more than two thousand feet of steel work being already erected. The contractors are bound to complete everything before May 1st, next.

A dividend of five per cent was declared on the capital stock for the past year.

The following officers were re-elected:

President—Joseph E. Seagram, Waterloo.

First Vice President—Sir Edmund B. Osler, M.P., Toronto.

Second Vice President—Sir Lyman Melvin Jones, Toronto.

Executive Committee—D. W. Alexander, R. J. Christie, A. E. Dymally, of Toronto; Lt.-Col. H. S. Hendrie, C.V.O., M.P.P., and Lt.-Col. William Hendrie, of Hamilton.

REPORTERS ON STRIKE

Public Protest Against a Newspaper at York.

A demonstration probably without precedent in the history of British journalism took place at York, in connection with a recent strike of the reporters of a local paper called the "York Herald." It was held under the auspices of the York Trades Council, and the principal speakers were Mr. J. H. Harley, of London, ex-president of the National Union of Journalists, and Mr. W. N. Watts, secretary of that organization. The audience numbered 2,000 people.

Mr. Harley said that in no other city in the country had journalists been compelled to produce any stoppage of employment to obtain better conditions in a newspaper office. York was the black spot in British journalism. He spoke of the failure of interviews and representations to obtain better conditions and said they had had to "black" the office. It was time the directors realized that people were not going to stand any longer York being held up to the derision of journalists of the United Kingdom.

Mr. Watts said the union had spent two thousand pounds in fighting the paper, and would spend every farthing they possessed before they were beaten.

A resolution was adopted pledging the meeting to do all it could to support the National Union in their endeavor to obtain better conditions.

Peter the Great, McKinney, Bellini and Todd are the only stallions that have sired more than ten 2:10 performers.

There was a heavy voice at the recent election of officials at North Randall and the following candidates were successful: For mayor, Bert Shank; for clerk, Henry Chisholm; for treasurer, H. K. Devereaux.

Huerta Calls On His Nation

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—President Huerta delivered a long address to his Congress to-day which he ended with the following:

"The present moment is extremely solemn and perhaps decisive for the welfare of the nation. Not only the eyes of fifteen million Mexicans, but those of the whole civilized world are at this time upon us. Your attitude and your action shall inform our fellow citizens and future generations whether we have been right in clinging to our nationality, in placing national dignity above all base interests of the moment, or if on the contrary instead of that attitude of intense national feeling we should have ceded before reprovable interests and unworthy ambitions.

Why The Slater Shoe Gives Better Wear

The genuine Slater Shoe is made to live up to a standard selling price, which is fixed by the factory and plainly stamped on the sole BEFORE the shoes are shipped. This puts the responsibility of VALUE up to the factory. The shoes must "make good" in style, workmanship and material, otherwise the makers couldn't afford to spend thousands of dollars in advertising their product as THE BEST FOR THE PRICE.

For over 40 years the genuine Slater Shoe has been advertised as the standard of value at the price stamped on the sole. During that time their sales have CONSTANTLY INCREASED year by year. There must be a REASON. The reason is that Slater Shoes (the genuine) wear better than other shoes. They are built to a rigid standard of VALUE, which is THE BEST POSSIBLE TO OBTAIN FOR THE STAMPED PRICE.

The Genuine Has The Slater Trademark On The Sole.

The Cash Intrigue

By George Randolph Chester

(Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

At the end of the week Lillian went back to lonely Forest Lakes. Where Kelvin and Rollins and Herbert Reussner had helped to salt the huge empty house and the immense acreage, it, too, empty except for the small army of gaunt and grizzled woodsmen, who, with guns slung comfortably in their arms, kept close scrutiny, now they remained but Henry Breed and George Blagg and Dr. Zephan. Zephan met her first as she came up on the porch, peering at her through his thick glasses with the same curious regard that he would have given to a strange and brilliantly colored insect. Suddenly his eyes lighted as they caught her glance. For an instant these two looked into each other's souls, and Lillian felt her cheeks burning. But in an instant more she had closed those portals of her inmost consciousness and bestowed upon him a stare of willful insolence.

Lillian stopped for a moment in the dim old library, where Henry Breed sat in absorbed contemplation, his old well thumbed Bible open before him. "Cast abroad the rays of thy wrath," he solemnly intoned, "and behold every one that is proud and abase him. Look on every one that is proud and bring him low, and tread down the wicked in their place."

As he finished a look of intense malignity overspread his emaciated features. The girl was shocked at the change that had taken place in him during her one week of absence.

"Grandfather," she said, sweeping toward him with the quick decision that characterized her, "you are spending too much time in this stuffy old room, since there is no one here but Zephan. It is perfectly glorious outdoors. The car is still outside. I want you to come and ride with me."

She had put her hand upon his shoulder, and the touch seemed to arouse him instantly. He gazed at her with a slow return of his habitually shrewd expression.

"You are looking charming," he commented. "Your trip has done you good. Did you see Kelvin?" There was eagerness in the question.

"Yes, indeed," she replied. "He's accomplishing wonders."

"I know," he said and glanced at a pile of wireless telegrams strung upon a desk hook that lay at his right hand.

"He's a marvelous young man that. He is the instrument of Providence, placed in my hands during the day of chastisement and purification and of the new birth."

"I don't know about that," returned Lillian dryly. "I am rather inclined to think that you are the instrument in his hand."

"The tail cannot wag the dog," said Breed, smiling. "The things Kelvin aims to do for himself are the things I want him to do for my own ends, and if he ever gets too big for me I'll break him as I would any other efficient but dangerous tool. But tell me about him."

"Wait until I run up and get into something more comfortable than these traveling clothes, and then I'll go out and drive around through the park with you and talk."

Lillian hurried to her apartments, where she found Elsie White standing before a photograph of Phillip. Lillian smiled cruelly as she viewed this tableau and stood silent until Elsie, feeling her presence in the room, turned slowly, a flush of crimson mounting to her brow as she met Lillian's gaze.

"He's a handsome fellow, isn't he?" Lillian observed carelessly as Elsie began to smooth out her hair.

"The?" asked Elsie quietly.

Lillian glanced sardonically at Elsie in the glass, but the girl back of her had her eyes bent steadily upon her work.

"Kelvin," answered Lillian. "He's built like an Adonis and muscled like a young Hercules, but the touch of his hands, strong as they are, is like velvet." She was keeping her cold eyes now steadily fixed upon those other eyes veiled beneath their downcast lids and that cruel smile sat fixedly upon her mouth. "His lips," she lingered over the item with a relish, still watching that pale face—"his lips are cool and firm"—the hands busily engaged with her black tresses trembled slightly—"but suddenly they are like fire. I think I shall marry him! Elsie! You hurt me dreadfully that time! You are becoming more and more clumsy every day. I am afraid that I shall have to discharge you." And, having inflicted all the pain that she could, she went down the hall singing blithely. A stranger hearing her would have thought that there was nothing but gentleness and guileless joy in her heart.

She stopped in at Blagg's office. He had heard her coming. He was receiving a message at the time and the rattle of the tubes gave to his emaciated face a ghastly wanness. As she entered he only glanced up with smoldering hate. Lillian smiled back in all her witchery at that black look. She knew that she had never been more beautiful than now. She knew that her beauty was a perpetual torment to this man and in the absence of more entertaining prey she had toyed with him as a cat does with a captured and wing broken bird.

"You don't seem half glad to see me, Mr. Blagg," she remonstrated.

"No," he answered her, and his voice was tense and strained. "I wish you had never come back. I wish you had died!"

"Oh, tut, tut," she said, laughing, though a glitter came into her

She was forewarned. "That is not a very cheerful reception. It seems to me that you are becoming old and peevish."

"I am," he asserted. "Lillian"—"Miss Breed, if you please," she corrected him.

"I'll call you by a less formal name than that if I like," he flared. "I know every step that you took while you were away."

"Indeed," she said pleasantly, realising for the first time that there was some basis for the hints that Blagg had often given her of a powerful organization of which he was the head.

Her calmness angered him. "Whatever of awe I ever had for you is gone," he declared. "Whatever of respect I ever had for you is swept away. Whatever of love I felt is dead, now that I know you for what you are, now that you have made yourself common."

"Be careful," she warned him. "It is unsafe to talk that way to me."

"Safe or unsafe," he cried, "what do I care? I have died a thousand deaths in the past week, and I cannot be further harmed."

"Too bad," she murmured in mock sympathy. "Deaths among the lower orders of the animal kingdom seemed quite common last week. They just found one poor fool in the Long Island woods this morning. He looked like a workman. A revolver was by his side, but he had not been shot. He had been strangled. That's a bad piece down there. Somebody shot at Kelvin there earlier in the week, but it was a foolish waste of ammunition. Kelvin bears a charmed life. By the way, you have not yet stated what has made this alleged tremendous change in you." She looked at him mockingly, a half smile upon her lips.

"Are you daring me?" he cried, his nervous tension increased to the breaking point by her recital of the failure of his plans, the first news he had received of it.

"Tell me," she defied him.

"Have you not made yourself Kelvin's mistress?"

He had expected to overwhelm her with this, to meet her indignant denial, to have to brave her fury. Instead she let her half veiled eyes rest cruelly upon him and walked toward the door.

"Yes," she said.

He recoiled as though she had struck him a mortal blow. Rigid and immovable as he would ever be in death he sat, and from the stairway there floated up to his numbed ears a gay little song that Lillian lightly hummed as she tripped down to the library.

Not merely a picture book, but an educational work of rare interest to every member of the home.

Art plates reproduced from water-color studies abound throughout the entire magnificent volume.

Every progressive man, woman and child is eager to know all about the Panama Canal and the remarkable country through which it passes. Realizing this fact, several hundred newspapers have arranged to take an enormous advance edition of the most elaborate and complete illustrated history of PANAMA AND THE CANAL, published by the Syndicate Publishing Co. of New York City.

This company is eminently fitted to issue such a work at a minimum cost. It has heretofore supplied through daily newspapers millions of high-class dictionaries and other books.

THE DAILY COURIER is the one paper in this section through which PANAMA AND THE CANAL IN PICTURE AND PROSE can be had. The plan outlined below tells you how to get this only complete Panama Book ALMOST FREE.

The large volume is twice the size of an ordinary novel; it is a most handsome book, stamped in gold, with beautiful color panel on front cover, showing the famous Culebra Cut; it contains 450 large pages filled with interesting information of rare educational value to every reader. The illustrations are modern works of art, covering every important scene in the Canal Zone; they include 16 water-color plates with more than 600 photographic studies.

Presentation of the Brantford Courier

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hand the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

MAKE HOME LIFE MORE ATTRACTIVE

Number of Problems Discussed at Meeting of Women's Institute.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—One of the most interesting of conventions opened yesterday at the Foresters' Hall on College street. Here the Women's Institutes of Ontario are holding their twelfth annual convention.

Looking down the rows of earnest, intelligent faces, one was struck very forcibly by the marked characteristics of these delegates from Ontario's rural villages and towns. Fine-featured women they are, varying in ages from youth to serene old age. One notices, too, the absence of superficialities of dress, the tendency to smooth neatly combed hair, and the quiet, forceful expression of most of the upturned countenances. There is a total lack of excitement, or even enthusiasm in its outward manifestations. It is obvious that they are one and all typical women of that wonderful rural world which is the backbone of the country, and judging from its representatives at the Foresters' Hall, Canada has every reason to be proud of them, and to feel confidence in their sense of responsibility and realization of their supreme power in the world of building up the nation.

There is a curious psychological difference between this convention and a convention of missionary societies, for instance. In the latter there is always the element of excitement, the thrill of great undertakings, the feeling of an undercurrent of hazard, of possible danger, of uncertainty, while in the latter there is the steady quiet pulsation of a calm and regular pulse set only on its task of carrying out rhythmically an uniform, the greater work of building up and maintaining the strength and health and vitality of the body which it is designed to keep in motion.

Hon. Mr. Burrell Speaks.
At the evening session, the most important of yesterday's meetings, the Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion, was on the platform. He spoke briefly on the increasing influence of women as vital factors in the improvement of rural conditions, asking them to devote their energy especially to questions of food and sanitation, and raised considerable mirth by stating that he firmly believed in the old maxim, "Feed the brute" only there should be an addition made in the words, "and feed him properly." "I believe," he said, "that half the tragedies in rural life are due to improper feeding to ignorance, the sound knowledge on the part of the women of the relative food values, and the scientific method of preparing it in the most nutritious and economical manner."

He went on to speak of men as being what women made them. Canada needs new standards of value as regards men—many men are mere bluffers, and women do not follow up their bluff sufficiently. There is a tendency on the part of men to be selfish, and women have hitherto have not been altogether wise in their treatment of them. A good healthy revolt on the part of some women might be the redeeming of some men.

Rights of the Child
Dr. Helen MacMurchy spoke on the evils of the apartment and tenement houses as being factor conducive to the decline in the birth rate, and Ven. Archbishop Cody endorsed her remarks, and in a forcible and convincing address dwelt on the rights of the child. The child's right to be born, and to be well-born—well-born, he explained, meant to be born of healthy parents, in healthy surroundings—to be well born physically, mentally and morally. It is the duty of the State to prevent the perpetuation of the feeble-minded. The child also has a right to live, and it is a disgrace to all civilizations that statistics of infant mortality should be as they are. One child out of every ten dies before it reaches the age of five. Speaking of education, he stated that the aim of all education should be the development of character, and referred to the social cadet movement as being one that is altogether for good, as it indicates principles of self discipline and unselfishness.

He went on to speak of the necessity for a general improvement in manners, and said that the day of the rough diamond was passed. Nowadays people realize that he is all the better for a little polishing, and regular instruction in good manners should be part of the training of boys and girls in every Canadian home and school.

Interesting Papers
Mrs. M. N. Norman of Toronto presided at the evening session, and short papers were read on "Bee-keeping," "Poultry Raising," and "Fruit Farming," by Miss Ethel Robinson, Ilderton; Mrs. M. S. Brown Vandorf; Mrs. S. G. Brown, Whitby; and Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, Lorne Park.

Medical Inspection
The morning session opened with a song and devotional exercises led by the Rev. James W. Peasley of Toronto. The Rev. William Bacon of Orillia presiding. There followed the reports from branch institutes and the convention then gave its attention to the most important work of the session, i.e. the reports on the medical inspection of rural schools by Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson, Parkhill, and Dr. Struthers, Toronto.

The first inspection took place last spring under three local doctors in the district of North Middlesex, the nurse being provided by three institutes for ten days, and country, village and town schools were inspected. In the country schools out of 20 children examined 18 were found to be defective in the village schools out of 75 pupils examined 52 were found defective. Exhaustive figures were given by Mrs. Wilson proving that on examination fully 50 per cent of the children attending the public and separate schools were defective, chiefly through enlarged tonsils, adenoids, defective vision and bad teeth.

A resolution was adopted setting forth that the provisional department of Education take steps to provide for the early establishment of a provincial system of medical and dental inspection of school children. That a special grant of money be set aside towards the employment of a competent school nurse in each school district to follow up the work of the school health officer and for whatever other medical necessary to the success of the work.

The convention met at a o'clock in the afternoon, with Mrs. C. E. Horning of Hamilton in the chair, and continued the hearing of reports and the answering of questions. Mr. Geo. A. Putnam, superintendent of the institutes, gave a lengthy report of the work for the year and the progress made. He stated in the course of his speech that the women of the institutes are, one of the most forcible factors in encouraging agriculture. These institutes are composed of Ontario's best women, and their work a homemaking, community improving, and nation building is of incalculable value. Both the Dominion and the Provincial Departments of Agriculture are prepared to uphold these institutes and their work, and in all provinces of Canada there are now associations formed and working on the same lines as the Ontario institutes.

Tried for Abetting The "Suttee" Crime

Relatives of Widow in India Get Long Terms in Jail

CALCUTTA, Nov. 21.—An important case, exemplifying the slowness of Indian customs in dying, has been decided in the Allahabad High Court. The widow of a Brahmin committed "suttee" on her husband's death—that is, was burned on the funeral pyre in the presence of the whole village. Five of the relatives were arrested for abetting the suttee, and were sentenced to imprisonment. They appealed to the High Court, the defence being that the fire was lighted by supernatural means, the flames descending from Heaven. The High Court rejected the appeal, and has increased the sentences in two cases.

A WOMAN'S HELPLESSNESS

Cured Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backaches, dizziness, languor and nervousness. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, another for their stomach and a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure because they actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, carrying with it a new health and new strength. Mrs. Wm. Acorn, Charlottetown, P.E.I., says:

"Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was one of the most miserable women I lived. For more than three years I lived a life of constant dread. I was taking weak spells so that I could not be left alone. If I walked from one room to another my heart would palpitate so violently that I feared I would die. I was continually sending for the doctor, who told me I had no blood and that my nerves were shattered. Notwithstanding his treatment I did not get any better. I could not keep anything on my stomach, and the least thing would make me sick. Then my trouble was complicated with rheumatism, which became so bad that I had to be lifted like a child, and the pain was almost unbearable. I was in this deplorable condition when my husband read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got me a supply. When I had taken half a dozen boxes I felt much better, and could go about the house. I kept on taking the Pills until I had used twelve boxes, and I can truly say they made me a well woman. Indeed I do not think I would be living now but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I wish I could persuade every woman who is sick to follow my example, for I have proved they will cure the most desperate cases, and I consider myself a living witness of this fact."

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid, at 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brackville, Ont.

ONE MORE GRAND CURE IS REPORTED

Dodd's Kidney Pills Add to Their Record in New Brunswick. Mr. M. G. Wilson, After Suffering for Five Years, Finds Quick Relief and Complete Health.

LITTLE SHIPPEGAN, Gloucester Co., N.B., Nov. 17.—(Special).—Another grand cure has been added to the splendid record, Dodd's Kidney Pills have made in New Brunswick. Mr. G. M. Wilson, a well known resident of this place, suffered for five years from a severe form of kidney disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

"I suffered for five years with a terrible pain in the small of my back and shoulders," Mr. Wilson says, in an interview.

"My trouble started in a cold, and though I was treated by doctors and tried all kinds of medicine, it continued to grow worse.

"My joints were stiff, my sleep at times was broken and unrefreshing and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. My skin itched and burned, and I had lapses of memory, while occasional sharp pains in the top of my head added to my discomfort.

"I was a sick man when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they soon gave me relief, and five boxes cured me completely. They are the best pills I ever used."

If the disease of the kidneys, or from the kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was "to make" it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you disguised your hair, and it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Agent, J. George Bowles.

THE AMOROUS BABOON AND THE ANIMATED ART GALLERY

The fame of Jocko the Jealous, the amorous baboon, had preceded him to America, and when the animals from the Paris Hippodrome had been safely transferred to their dens in the arena he was the center of attraction as he limbered up his muscles in the large monkey cage, after the cramped accommodations of the small traveling box. He had gained a reputation as a masher in Paris; but never had the "primo donna" of the show, the artist, been so much in love and so intensely jealous as upon his first introduction to American beauty, as exemplified by the fair woman who stood before his cage.

Jocko was not the first male being who had been fascinated by the charms of the prima donna. In fact, he was never quiet in his cage, but it was specially well-dressed woman stopped in front of it he played entirely to her, and when she moved away his eyes followed her as long as she was in sight.

"There will never be another like Consul," said the press agent, shaking his head sadly.

"Never until the missing link is discovered," replied the proprietor. "I don't believe a more human monkey will ever be found, and I attribute his wonderful intelligence to the fact that he associated entirely with human beings, almost from the day of his birth. I got him from the captain of a tramp steamer which traded to the west coast, and I paid a good deal of money for him, too. I have never dared to tell his early history as it was intensely human. He was ever so close to the human race, and when I wanted to find any of the employees who was off duty, or not in his proper place, I always went first to Consul's cage and I was pretty sure to locate him. That monkey was never still, and the things he would do, and the pranks he would play on his own kind were more amusing than any of the things he had been taught."

"When he was in company he was as well-mannered as most men, but, of course, he had his prejudices and had to be watched. His special aversion was a negro, which is strange when you consider his early associations, and if one came around when he was loose he was apt to attack him. We had to consider that in traveling, for Consul always stopped at the hotels with his trainer and eat about the tables, smoking his cigar like any other guest, but if there were negro servants about, we had to be very careful not to let them come near him."

"He had the reasoning power of a child ten years of age; he was patient when anything was wrong, and we had to do disagreeable things to him, appreciating that it was for his benefit. Only once did we have to use force, when it was necessary to pull a tooth, and I am glad it wasn't necessary, for it took seven men to control him and they thought they had done a day's work when we finished. The last time he went abroad he was the life of the ship, but he pretty nearly killed himself. The doctor prescribed a cough medicine for him and Consul liked it so well that he got up in the night, after his trainer had gone to sleep, opened the valve in which it was kept and emptied the bottle. I guess there must have been laudanum in it, for they had to work over him the rest of the night to save him."

"He would walk the deck with the lady passengers, who made a great deal of him, and when the customary concert was given, nothing would do but that he must perform and then west. The freaks all lived together at a large boarding house and one morning, when they reported for duty, the "Tattooed Lady" was missing. It was before the days when they were so common, and we had spent a lot of money to have her decorated and made her our star attraction. Of course, none of the tattooing was visible when she was in street costume, but when she sat on the platform dressed in low neck and short skirts the lecturer had something to talk about, for the menagerie pictures on her was a thing of beauty, and the few choice texts like, "Be good and you will be happy," which were scattered in between the animals, were highly moral and elevating, and that was one of the strong points of our show. Merritt used to press him, self when he was telling how she was shipwrecked on a desert island and held captive by the cruel cannibals, whose high priests spared her from anyway, and I have noticed that trouble always comes in bunches in the show business, so I wasn't surprised when a husky guy that looked like a former same in with blood in his eye and asked for the manager. I looked around for Merritt, but he had gone around the corner to get something to down his sorrow, so I slipped a piece of lead pipe under my coat and acknowledged the soft impeachment.

"Look here, wot kind of a skin game be yours, tell me rummy here!" says the guy and I took a good grip on the lead pipe and tried to turn away with a soft answer, and quiting from our advertisement that it was a highly moral and intellectual entertainment.

"Not by a dern sight, it ain't," says he. "It's a blasted man-trail to ketch the unwary, an' I'll have the law on ye an' make ye pay for triffing with my young affection." I have seen some pretty tough things said to me in my day, but that was about the worst ever, and pretty nearly took my breath away, but he went right on.

"I deliver milk to that boardin' house down the street an' I see a like-ly lookin' gal there lately an' I want ed some one to help milk an' look after the house, so I asks her to marry me. She says she will, so we stitched up an' I never knew she was one of yer dern freaks until it was too late. She says she's a 'Tattooed Lady,' an' she's all covered with pictures."

"Well, what be the pictures, 'em?" says I. "Aren't they good pictures?"

"Good enough," says he, "them as likes 'em; but I don't hanker after no depositions o' that kind an' I, 's'pose, I'll make yer pay for palmin' off a damaged article on me. She's all over makes an' other decess an' it makes me sick ter my stomach every time I thinks of 'em. I tried to convince him that we were not responsible and that it was his wife's duty to have informed him."

"That's what I told him, 'dod graat her! But she says it's my own fault if I didn't know she was a 'Tattooed Lady,' because I never asked her, an' blamed if she isn't proud o' them pictures, too."

"How did you settle it—did he get damages?" asked the Stranger.

"Damages!" exclaimed the Press Agent as he wiped the foam from his mustache. "Why, Merritt came in, and when he heard the guy kick he lit right into him."

"Blame your skin!" he yelled. "I've a good mind to have you arrested for stealing the pictures from my act gallery. I have a claim on 'em, for I paid for the liquor to keep a sailor happy for six weeks while he was doing that job. The guy got onto the fact that she was valuable, so they adjourned to a cafe to talk it over."

"With what result?" asked the Proprietor, as he rose from the table.

"Well, Merritt got her back on the platform, the farmer sold his team, and within six weeks he was wearing more yellow diamonds and throwing a bigger chest than the husband of a grand opera prima donna."

Rev. Cochrane, Woodstock, May Refuse a Call to Ottawa Church

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 21.—Knox Church, Woodstock, is not likely to lose its popular young pastor, Rev. R. B. Cochrane, despite a tempting offer of $3,500 a year, announced in the press from Knox Presbyterian Church, Ottawa.

Mr. Cochrane was seen by a reporter a few minutes after a telegraph messenger had handed him a message from the managers of the Ottawa church, advising him of the unanimous call, but although he refused to discuss the matter at any length just now, what he did say did not seem to indicate that he would consent to leave the industrial city, at

ONTARIO ARE AFTER SOLOMON OF BERLIN

Then Mr. Cochrane has but recently moved into his new $14,000 mansion for him by his Woodstock congregation and this part, it is thought, will assist him to come to the decision to stay in the industrial city.

To your representative the pastor stated that he would give the matter two or three days consideration before finally deciding what to do. He intimated, however, that his present inclination was to stay proceedings right now by notifying Ottawa that the call could not be accepted.

A deputation from the Ottawa church was in Woodstock some weeks ago and heard Rev. Mr. Cochrane preach, and it is learned that when approached on that occasion Mr. Cochrane verbally told the visitors that it would be impossible for him to leave Woodstock just now. Mr. Cochrane's salary here is $2,200.

A YEAR'S STRIKES

More People Affected in 1912 Than Ever Before.

From a report issued on Tuesday by the Board of Trade Department of Labour Statistics, it appears that there were 857 labour disputes with their 1911. But the disputes of 1912 affected 1,232,016 workpeople directly, and 230,285 workpeople indirectly, as compared with 831,104 and 130,876 respectively for 1911.

The number of disputes beginning in 1912 has only been exceeded four times in the nineteen years for which comparative statistics are available. Both the number of workpeople involved and the aggregate duration of all disputes in progress during the year were considerably higher than any previously reported by the department, the next largest aggregate duration being in 1893, when over 30,000,000 working days were lost mainly owing to a long dispute of coal miners in the federated districts.

Of the 857 disputes beginning in 1912, 407, or nearly one-half, involved less than 100 workpeople, 782 involved less than 1,000, and only twelve involved 5,000 or more. The general coal strike accounted for nearly 70 per cent of the total number of workpeople involved, and more than 80 per cent of the total aggregate duration of all disputes beginning in that year.

Mr. Sidney Webby, speaking at the London School of Economics, on Wednesday night, said that when they saw it stated that strikes had been the means of losing 30,000,000 working days they must not forget that three Bank Holidays would account for more than that. It was useless to measure such things in that way, for a holiday might be just what the community wanted. On that basis Sunday was a wasteful institution.

Little Chance of His Making the Jump—Amateur Prospects.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The Toronto professional hockey club known as the Ontario Hockey Club is after the services of Otto Solomon, the fast left wing man of the Berlin O. H. A. intermediates. Manager Jas. Murphy of the Toronto team has written "Solly" stating that he was favorably impressed with his showing the last time he saw him perform. Murphy writes that he would like to have Solomon try out with his team as soon as the season opens, and assures him that it will not interfere with his amateur standing if he should decide to adhere to the amateur ranks.

"Solly" does not feel disposed to jump into the professional ranks. In fact he has decided to stay with the amateur game and will be seen with the intermediates this season.

The meeting to reorganize the local O. H. A. forces, which was to have been held at the Auditorium last night, did not take place. A number of the boys got together and talked over the prospects for the coming season, but it was decided to defer the election of officers until another meeting to be held on Friday night.

London Team for Cleveland

London Free Press.—Probably the first game of hockey the London club will be engaged in is the one they are arranging to play in Cleveland. Secretary W. R. Vining has communicated with the Cleveland club, and in all probability a two game series will be arranged in the Ohio city for the week of December 15. Should the exhibition games be billed, the locals will also play in Detroit the coming week on their return from Cleveland.

A ROUNDUP OF FALL FASHIONS

The Wired Lampshade Tunic of Lace

OUT of the many fashions that have been launched on the autumn season some have lived a day, some have had a brief popularity and others have become accepted facts in the evidence of styles. In the roundup of the fall fashions the main features will help every woman to decide, to copy and to walk out into the new season in the most artistic, becoming and satisfying of costumes.

There is noticeable a combination of figured and plain fabrics; in fact, the mills are keeping this in mind and weaving for nearly every plain material a plaid or brocaded pattern to combine with it. This type of gown is shown in the velvet costume of Paul Poiret. The coat is of plain old rose and enriched with gray fur on the sleeves and bottom of the coat. The skirt shows the curved-up divided line that is favored by this master of style.

The lampshade tunic must not be forgotten in the round-up. It is here in figured lace, wired out from the figure and edged with narrow fur. Over the skirt of figured silk it shows to new and beautiful advantage. Use the fine thread wire when shaping your tunic along this latest line.

Scallops are here. They edge the full tunic of the attractive model of dark-green charmeuse trimmed with tulle. The scallops are bound with folds of the same silk, and a ruffle of tulle flares out in contrast. You can make your scallops either pointed or round and shallow or deep.

The prominence of tulle and beads should be noted in the study of the styles, and a glance at the satin evening gown trimmed with black tulle and jet beads will emphasize these points in the decoration of a gown. Flesh-colored tulle, or "chair," as the French say, is used for the bodice and tunic. It is pleated and banded in below the waist line with folds of black tulle. Large beads give an additional touch of black. Notice the long sleeves of chiffon—a feature of some of the newest evening gowns.

Moire is one of the favorites for afternoon dresses, and in the high-waisted model it is shown to excellent advantage. The bodice has fullness that is held under a broad, straight belt ornamented with two buttons. A double skirt is shown, deep points of the upper being edged with a scalloped ruffle. Tulle

Scallops Edge the Upper Skirt

A High Waist Line and a Double Skirt

dyed to match the old rose of the silk edges the sleeves and the top of the bodice. Remember that a high waist line has a tendency to make the waist appear larger and increase the height.

The Medici collar now rejoices in a double form, wired to soften the line at the throat. Color on neckwear is noticeable, and the inevitable touch of fur is seen on blouses, neckwear and hats.

Double, triple and four and five tiered skirts are breaking the skirt line in new form. The girle holds a corner all its own, being ubiquitous and a friendly expression of beauty.

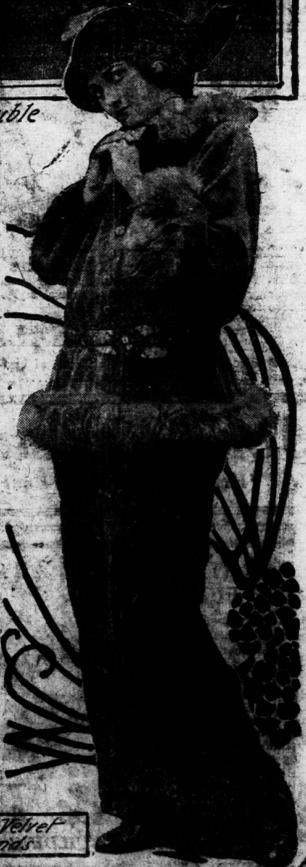

Waistcoats from the Louis Quinze period have taken us by storm. They are used in gowns and with suits, and even does the effect appear on blouses.

All countries have given their treasures to western fashion. Persia, China, Japan, Greece, Russia and Egypt have joined hands with European countries, and through the alenbic of Paris ateliers have these contributing factors come to the western world in becoming beauty. Leniency is the fact worth noting. Any woman who cannot be well dressed in this year's offerings is hopeless. A wide field from which to choose is your best friend.

Each one of these points has stood the test of criticism and the days. They will carry the wearers through the winter with gratifying success.
