INDUCTION AT ST. PAUL'S

On Thursday afternoon last the formal induction of Rev. W. M. Montgomery of Sombra to the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian churches of Athens and Toledo took place in St. Paul's church.

Following a very able sermon by Rev. Mr. McKenzie of Westport, the induction ceremony was conducted by the interim moderator, Rev. Mr. Cameron of Brockville, who also delivered the address to the minister, and at its conclusion little Miss Generva Yates presented Rev. Mr. Montgomery with a handsome floral bouquet. Rev. Mr. Pocock then addressed the people.

The whole ceremony, though simple in form, was deeply impressive and served to establish clearly the duties and responsibilities that the pastor and people had thereby assumed.

Rev. F. A. Read, pastor of the Methodist church, on invitation, delivered a brief address, welcoming the new pastor of St. Paul's and congratulating the congregation upon again having a ministerial leader in their work.

At the close of the meeting Rev. and Mrs. Montgomery met many of those present, Mr. Joseph Thompson introducing the people.

HIS LOYALTY IMPACHED

Over at Gananque local politicians have been recently engaged in boiling a pretty kettle of fish. In a letter to the Lansdowne Farmers' Association (published in the Gananque Journal), Mr. George Taylor, M. P., made this reference:

"Sir Wilfrid, who has always wished and said that the goal of his ambition was separation from England, and Fielding, who has always been a secessionist."

In reply, Mr. Taylor said: "Retract your statements and make suitable apology or the matter will have to be settled in court."

And this is the kind of retraction and apology that the editor of the Reporter offered last week in explanation, or justification:

"No person knows better than Mr. Taylor that there has been no reflection on his private character, and in assuming an injured air he is only 'playing to the gallery.' But as he considers our remark unparliamentary, we withdraw it and simply say that any one who makes the statement that the goal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's ambition is separation from England is shamefully misrepresenting fact."

This may close the incident, but it may be questioned if the matter should be allowed to drop just here. Mr. Taylor is not an obscure back-bencher in parliament. He is an experienced parliamentarian, prominent in the counsels of his party, and the statement he has made over his own signature is so entirely at variance with the estimation in which the premier is held by Liberals that a further investigation of the matter in or outside of a court of law might well be regarded as a matter of public interest. If, as stated, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is and has always been a separatist, the electors of Canada should be placed in possession of the facts as soon as possible.

Garnet Willis Wood

The death occurred at Toledo last Thursday evening of the little son of Mr. C. A. Wood, jr., of Toledo. He was three years and nine months old and was an exceptionally bright child. He accompanied his father last summer on several occasions when the parent as leader of the Toledo band visited various centres. He was greatly liked by all and now that he has been called away his parents have their sympathy and esteem of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

HOMESEKERS' EXCURSIONS

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued a circular authorizing all Agents to sell Home-seekers' Excursion tickets to points in Western Canada. This is interesting information for those desiring to take advantage of these excursions on certain dates from April to September 1910. The Grand Trunk Route is the most interesting, taking a passenger through the populated centres of Canada, through Chicago, and thence via Duluth, or through Chicago and the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Ask Grand Trunk Agents for further particulars.

DEATH OF MR. E. H. INGLE

We regret to record the death of Mr. Ernest H. Ingle, the student pastor of the Baptist Church Toledo. Mr. Ingle who was not of a robust nature, was stricken with peritonitis a little more than two weeks before he died. Dr. Cornell was called in to consult with Dr. Walker, but held out slight hopes for his recovery. All that could be done was done by medical skill and faithful nursing, and though a brave fight was made by the sick man, it was all to no purpose, death intervening on March 21st.

Mr. Ingle, who was but twenty-three years of age, was a young man with mental gifts of no mean order, and of sterling character. His preaching was not only fluent, but helpful to a high degree, and during his brief pastorate of six months he won for himself a large place in the hearts of not only the members of the church of which he was pastor, but also of the community. His last sermon was preached at St. Paul's school house on Tuesday, Feb. 28, his text being "At evening time there shall be light."

The funeral left the home of Mr. Donaldson near Frankville (where Mr. Ingle had been so well cared for by the Donaldson family during his illness), at noon on Thursday, proceeding to the Toledo Baptist Church where a service was held. The deceased man had given minute directions as to the conduct of the funeral and as far as possible, they were faithfully carried out. In accordance therewith, the Rev. Dr. Stobo, First Vice-President of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec and the appointed representative of Home Mission Board (Mr. Ingle working under that Board), preached the sermon, and the service was assisted in the services by the Rev. Wm. Westell of Athens and the Rev. Mr. Smith of Frankville, the Plum Hollow Baptist choir helping with the singing.

The members of the church sat as mourners with the brother. Dr. Stobo preached a very helpful discourse from the words, "These are they which come out of great tribulation and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the lamb; therefore, are they before the throne and serve him day and night in his temple." Mr. Stobo spoke of the constant faith in Christ which the departed man showed right to the end and his fearlessness in the hour of death. Mr. Westell also referred to his Christian character, and to the faithful work he had done both at Toledo and other places. The building was packed to the door, and a solemn time spent.

The service over, the procession reformed and proceeded to Smith's Falls, the remains being placed upon the train for Toronto in charge of the brother, Mr. Fred Ingle, where the burial was to be the next day.

To Be More Difficult

The high school entrance examinations will be more difficult than ever, according to a circular issued by the department of education recently. The desire of the department is according to the statement, to reduce the congestion of the high schools caused by too many inadequately prepared pupils being sent to these schools. The number of successful students has decreased over 4,000 in four years.

The news will not be received very joyfully by the prospective entrance students.

76,496 Deaths from Pneumonia

There are good grounds for a pessimistic view of the future. Some newspapers have been publishing statistics which show that a formidable ratio of consumption in the United States there were nearly seventy-seven thousand deaths due to pneumonia, and although consumption is a student at Wood's college, the most responsible for more deaths than diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox and cancer combined.

CROWNING OF KING AND QUEEN

Coronation There Will be a Scene of Oriental Magnificence.

A London cable says that a million sterling is to be spent on the Coronation Durbar in India gives an idea of the magnificent character of the ceremonies that are being arranged and the gorgeousness of the scenes in which the King and Queen will be the central figures at Delhi.

Although the date of the Durbar is not yet officially announced, there is no doubt that it will be on December 12 this year. The first intention was to have it in January next, but that was abandoned because of the night climate in Delhi in that month and the possibility of rain.

A gigantic amphitheatre will be constructed for the ceremony. The decorations will be on a lavish scale and the actual service will include the placing of their crowns on their own heads by the King and Queen.

Face Sores and Eruptions

Zam-Buk Will Quickly Heal. The approach of spring finds many people with unsightly face sores, eruptions, boils, etc. In this connection Zam-Buk is invaluable.

It is anticipated that their Majesties will stay in Delhi ten or twelve days, and it is expected that the King will give private audiences to some of the most important ruling Princes.

There is reason to anticipate that an elephant escort of native chiefs will not be a feature of the procession to the amphitheatre, as it was at the Durbar in the Punjab, and that the King, accompanied by the Viceroy and other high officers of state, will proceed to the Durbar on horseback.

Four divisions of infantry and two divisions of cavalry, with a quota of Imperial service troops, are to be mobilized for the Durbar, and there will be encamped close to Delhi between 90,000 and 100,000 men.

After the ceremonies at Delhi have been completed the King will proceed to Terai on the Nepal border, for tiger hunting for ten days or so, and will then visit Calcutta. The royal stay there is not expected to extend beyond three or four days; and it will terminate with the embarkation of the King and Queen for England.

USING PURGATIVES INJURES HEALTH

What You Need in Spring is a Blood Building Tonic.

A spring medicine is an actual necessity to most people. Nature demands it as an aid in carrying off the impurities that have accumulated in the blood during the long winter months and indoor life. Unfortunately thousands of people who recognize the necessity for a spring medicine do not know what is best to take and dose themselves with harsh, gripping purgatives.

MAKING WATER POWER WORK. The second nature giant that man learned to control was the power of flowing water. We all know that water rises from the ocean as vapor and, dropping as rain on the mountains, makes its way in rivers to the ocean again.

Up to that time each one had to grind his own grain, a little at a time, by rolling it between two flat stones; but when he learned the use of the water-wheel he was able to grind with larger stones, such as he himself could not even move, and produce enough meal for his own use and a whole village besides.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I continued to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilled. I wrote them and got the New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and I was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $15 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $24 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

STOPPING A TRAIN

THE NUMBER OF CARS COUNT

Likewise the Momentum and the Braking Power and the Temperature of the Rails—Freight Trains More Uncertain Than Passenger Trains.

"In what distance can a train be brought to a stop? Well, that depends," said the grizzled engineer, with a hand like a ham and an eye that could see red, white and green a mile away down a silvery track. "That depends, son, and the more I think of it the more I realize how it depends on circumstances."

"In the first place, it depends on the number of cars you have on your train. The fewer cars you have the quicker you can stop, eh? Well, that's where you're dead wrong." The engineer rested his grizzled fist across his knee as if it were a fifteen pound monkey wrench. "Yes, sir," he repeated, "if you've got that idea you're wrong, just like folks are likely to be on railroad matters which they don't know anything about. Now, the fact is that a certain type of engine can be stopped quicker if it has a half dozen freight cars hooked on to it. That's so because there are brakes on each of the cars, and they all grind into the wheels when you sling on the emergency. Why wouldn't it stop quicker if you had a dozen cars on instead of six? Well, sonny, for the simple reason that the weight of the train, or rather, the momentum, overcomes the braking strength of your air, and so you're carried along. If you had less than six cars it would be just the other way—you wouldn't have enough braking power to overcome what weight you have got. Yes, sir, with every freight train and with every passenger train there is a certain number of cars necessary to make the train most effective when it comes to stopping quickly. This is a very practical question too. An engineer will say to himself, 'Well, I've got more cars on today; I'll have to put on brakes sooner in order to stop just right at the station.'"

"I once heard an engineer say that an engine with a baggage car and two passenger coaches would stop in the same distance of track. Indeed, take the same train over the very same track at different times, run her at exactly the same speed and apply the brakes in the very same manner and you can't stop in the same distance. Engineers would like to stop at each station at precisely the same spot that they did the day before. Do they ever do it? No, son, they don't, because it can't be done."

"The stopping of a train depends on conditions, just as I said before. Engineers who have traveled over a particular road for years can't do it. Sometimes the conditions vary to such an extent that the train runs past the station. Everybody has seen that done. And then the engineer says things under his breath and backs up his train to let the passengers on and to take on baggage. Sonny, engineers never know within yards where their trains will stop."

"Freight trains are more uncertain than passenger trains. This is so because it doesn't matter as much. An application of ten pounds of air may produce no braking at all, due to the wear of the system, and, on the other hand, fifteen pounds might put on more brake than the engineer wanted. He may throw on a small quantity of air, and without expecting it the emergency brakes get into action as a result. When the brakes are already on the engineer may release them a little and by so doing release them entirely, so that the train leaps forward. So you see, you can't always tell what the brakes are going to do."

"You wouldn't suppose that the temperature of the rails would make any difference about braking, would you? It's a fact. A rule of thumb is that a train will brake twice as quickly in the winter as in the summer. The wheels stick to the rails more when they are cold. The scientific folk tell you that the cohesion is greater. And, another thing, the oil on the rail when it is warm is more slippery. All the steel rails, pipes, etc., on a warm day are expanded, and so they have to move through greater distances to become effective. When they are contracted by the cold the brakes grip the wheels that much quicker and tighter with the same amount of air that you applied on a warm day."

"You see, sonny, every road in the country keeps tabs on the temperature three or four times a day all along its lines. Temperature is quite an important thing in railroading. All this goes to show that there is quite a lot of science in running trains. And I never saw a man yet who had been in the service so long that he couldn't learn a heap of things. The fellows who think about their business are always learning."—New York Tribune.

THE FOG BUOY.

A Safeguard to Fleets of Warships in Thick Weather.

Probably the greatest menace to the safety of navigation at sea is the fog. Modern steamships are seldom endangered by the most severe weather, but when the impenetrable envelope of mist incloses a ship she is exposed to the most terrible of perils, a collision at sea. A single ship may be comparatively safe even in a fog, but where there is a fleet of vessels the danger is greatly multiplied. There is always considerable danger, too, on account of the fact that many of the ship lines have what could be termed a beaten path across the ocean, and they always follow this route when possible. In addition to the customary fog horns and sirens, a fleet of warships often keep informed of their relative positions by the firing of signal guns at intervals only a few minutes apart. Another method used is the fog buoy. Each vessel in the fleet, especially if it is a warship, carries a fog buoy, a large cask painted a vivid red. This is cast overboard at the first sign of a fog, and it floats from the stern of the vessel, attached to a rope of grass fiber, which does not sink beneath the surface of the water. By this means the exact location of the individual ships of the fleet is maintained, even though proceeding at a moderate rate of speed.—Wichita Eagle.

AN ANCIENT CUSTOM.

Wassailing of Apple Trees Still Observed in Parts of England. What is the wassailing of apple trees?

This is an old custom, fast dying out, but still observed in parts of Somerset and Devon. At Wootton Bassett, near Minehead, the ceremony takes place on old Twelfth eve. All assemble at the farmhouse and after a hearty meal form a procession to the nearest orchard, the master in front with a light and men with old guns, blunderbusses and anything that makes a noise in the rear. Plenty of cider is taken and some pieces of toast.

When the orchard is reached a ring is formed, and the master, in the center, seizes a branch and sings a verse beginning "Oh, apple tree, I wassail thee, in hopes that thou wilt blow." Then he shouts in chorus:

Hail, captain, three bushel bagfuls, Barn flourish, tulip, holefuls
And a little heap under the stairs.
Then follow cheers, drinking of healths, shouts of "Now, Tom Pod, we wassail thee," and the placing of the pieces of toast, soaked in cider, among the branches for the robins.—London Answers.

The Porcupine.

Mother Nature surely must have set out to make "something different" the day she invented the porcupine. Here was an animal with a pathetically mild disposition, without cunning or courage and almost as slow and clumsy as a turtle. It would have been absurd to give him weapons of defense; he would never have the energy to attack anything, so he was given a coat of mail in which he might walk abroad among his enemies and yet be as safe as though he were behind a wall of steel. His upper parts, from his nose to the tip of his thick, muscular tail, are covered with a mass of sharp pointed quills intermixed with coarse hair. Each quill is provided with a number of minute barbs pointing backward, so that when it is once inserted in the flesh of any animal the mere movement of the muscles will cause it to work deeper and deeper.—Suburban Life.

Her Artistic Instinct.

The girl was a dainty thing in pink, evidently a stranger in Boston. The fellow had Harvard written all over him. They were standing in the delivery room of the public library, and he was explaining to her the decorations by Edwin Abbey which illustrate the legend of the Holy Grail. As he talked he glanced occasionally at his fair listener and seemed pleased to find her apparently lost in rapture. Finally, when his stock of knowledge was exhausted, he exclaimed:

"Why, I never before knew that you were so interested in art!" For a moment longer she continued to gaze at the painting; then, with a tremulous sigh, she turned to him with:

Old Age of Oysters.

Oysters grow only during summer, and especially during long, warm summers at that, and are scarcely big enough for the mouth before the third year. It is easy after looking over a bunch of shells to tell how old an oyster is. A summer hump and the winter sink come across the shell every year, but after the seventh or tenth year full growth comes; then by looking at the sink between the bumps it is hard to tell anything more about Miss Oyster's age. Oysters easily live to be twenty years old.—New York Press.

A New One on Him.

It was at the stone laying ceremony, and a wife was sent to the builder with the news, "Stone laid with great oath." The builder, smothering an awful oath, muttered, "Another new foreign cement!" and sang the missive from him in passionate disgust.—London Globe.

TOLEDO

March 22nd—Miss Geraldine Wood, who has been ill for the past few days, has recovered her former state of health.

Meagre, Ireland and Yellon sawed wood for Mr. Bollymy on Tuesday. They are hustlers.

A few in this vicinity have tapped but they report a very poor run so far.

Wild geese were seen in this vicinity on March 14. There was quite a large flock and their familiar honk made people think spring was surely here.

Joseph Maloney, son of Mr and Mrs. Thos. Maloney, is not much better. His fever has subsided but he is still in a very precarious condition.

Mr. Louis Hart, who has been visiting friends in Almonte, is back visiting at his parents home in Toledo.

Mr. Rob. Rae and family have disposed of their farm and are going to move back to their former home in Michigan.

The little child of Mr and Mrs E. Jones has been ill for the past few days.

Mr G. C. Bollymy has started his grist mill again. All winter it has been idle owing to inadequate water supply.

Mr Ingle who died on Tuesday evening, was beloved by all who were intimate with him and a great gloom is cast over Toledo and vicinity by his untimely end. He was only a young man, but his prospects were unusually fair for a brilliant future, as already he had accomplished much.

GLEN BUELL

Mrs W. Robins was in town on Saturday to see her sister who is very ill.

Miss Anna Yates has been visiting at Mr G. A. Gilroy's.

Miss Mabel Westlake, who was spending a few days in town, is home again.

Miss Stella Lee was in town on Friday.

Miss Maud Marshall, who has been visiting Miss Stella Lee at Mr C. J. Gilroy's has returned home.

Mr W. Dorman and family have moved to their new home near Frankville.

Mrs G. A. Gilroy has engaged Mr Omer Davis, milk tester, to test a number of his cows.

DIED AT MOOSE JAW

Sincere sorrow was caused to many in this section by the news that Mr. John Chamberlain was dead.

On March 6th Mr Chamberlain left Athens in company with his daughter, Miss Edith, for Moosebark, Sask., to visit his daughter, Mrs Richard Henderson. Though nearly 80 years of age, Mr Chamberlain viewed with delight his trip to the West and was very optimistic as to the future. Though far from being a strong man, it was felt that with this hopeful spirit he would make the trip alright, but he was taken ill on the train and reached Moose Jaw in an exhausted condition on March 11. He was met there by Mr and Mrs Henderson and was given every possible attention. He grew steadily weaker and lapsed into an unconscious condition on March 18, passing away on the 21st. Interment was made at Moose Jaw.

Mr Chamberlain spent his whole life in this section and was highly esteemed as a citizen, neighbor and friend. In their sorrow his two daughters have the heartfelt sympathy of a wide circle of friends in this district.

LICENSE LAW CHANGES

Among the amendments to the Liquor License Act made by the Ontario legislature at its recent session was the addition of a clause which provides that the question of license reduction shall be taken out of the hands of municipal Councils and left with the electors. Ten per cent of the electors may petition the Council any time before the first of November, asking for a reduction of so many of the licenses. The question must be voted on at the next municipal election, and submitted to a fifty per cent vote (in this respect following the liquor license law for Scotland). The submission shall be compulsory and the third reading shall be compulsory on the by-law being adopted. A license reduction by-law being submitted and passed upon by the people, the question of fixing the number of licenses shall not be submitted again for a term of three years.

It is provided also that a local option vote shall be confined to resident voters.

SHOULD FIND OUT

(Canadian Farm) It should not be found necessary in these days to urge a dairyman to test his cows and to keep a record of what they produce. And yet how many there are who pride themselves upon being first-class dairymen who fail in this one essential. They go on in the same old hap-hazard way every year and are seemingly content with receiving the monthly cheque from the factory. One must get down to the bottom of things and find out what profit there is in the undertaking. A dairyman may send the milk of twenty cows to a cheese factory or creamery and not make a cent on the undertaking. In fact he may lose as has so often been demonstrated. In a herd of twenty cows there are likely to be a few which give a larger return than others. This can only be successfully done by testing each cow and keeping an accurate record of what each produces in quality and quantity of milk.

FOR PROHIBITION

The Dominion Alliance is the force that promotes, guides and in large measure controls all efforts made in Canada in the direction of prohibition or temperance reform. The Ontario branch has been most active in encouraging, instructing and helping in the local option and license reduction campaigns that have achieved such a large measure of success in Ontario. Of course, the Alliance is not content with the present prohibitive method of destroying the liquor traffic, but is looking forward to county and later to provincial prohibition.

In order to bring the work prominently before the people, the Alliance has adopted a policy of holding county field days, on which, as far as possible, every pulp in a particular county is filled by representatives of the Alliance.

Last Sunday was field day in Leeds and Grenville and to this village three clever young speakers were sent. Rev J. Lyman Cotton, B.A., spoke in the Anglican church here and at Delta, Mr F. W. Dugan spoke in the morning in the Presbyterian church in the morning and in the Methodist church in the evening and Mr McNeivins spoke in the Baptist church here and at Plum Hollow. All very ably presented the merits of the work of the Alliance and very favorably impressed their hearers with its importance and the need of temperance people uniting in the work of holding all that had been gained and of effectually fighting for further conquests.

CHEESE PROSPECTS

Montreal Trade Bulletin: Now that about all the cheese held here has been disposed of for English account, shippers and dealers are already directing their attention to the new make, a few fadders having already been turned out in the West, but not in sufficient quantity to establish values. A few factories are starting up in the West but are now offering to sell ahead. It is said that the party referred to by us some two weeks ago as being willing to buy all the April cheese at 11c., will have to increase his limit considerably, if he intends to get a share of them. The first half of April cheese was sold at Belleville last year at 12 3/8c.; but dealers say they do not expect to pay that figure this coming April, as the prediction amongst dealers is that the make of cheese during the coming season will be large and prices lower than in 1910. Advices from Brockville are to the effect that cows are in splendid condition, some herds giving 15 to 25 per cent. more milk than a year ago.

HOMESEEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

Beginning April 4th, the C. P. R. has arranged to run a series of Home-seekers' 60-day return excursions to the principal points in the Canadian West, leaving this end by regular trains on April 4 and 18, May 2, 16 and 30, June 13 and 27, July 11 and 25, August 8 and 22, and Sept. 5 and 19. Tickets are tourist class but admit of reservation of space in the company's elegant tourist sleepers at a small extra charge. They are also good to stop-over at stations between Hurkett and Dryden, Ont., and at Winnipeg, or any point west thereof, going and returning within ticket limit. The fares from Brockville and stations in this district to some of the principal places are as follows:—Bran- don $37, Battleford $41.50, Calgary $48.50, Deloraine $37.75, Edmonton $43.50, Lethbridge $43.25, Regina $39.25, Winnipeg $35.50, and proportionate fares to other points. 150 lbs. baggage checked free on each full ticket. Children over 5 and under 12, half above rates. Variation of route west of Winnipeg is allowed at slight additional cost. Complete information and literature pertaining to the above excursions and the magnificent territory tapped by the C.P.R. in the great Canadian West, may be had from Geo. E. McGrade, City Passenger agent, Brockville.

UP TO ALL OF US

Johnny William was around collecting for the Parson's salary last week. His visit called to mind the following story: a clergyman was starving to death on small donations and a salary of $100. Finally he made up his mind to go away. With wet eyes he stood up in the prayer meeting to bid good bye to his weeping congregation. "Brothers and sisters," he said wiping his eyes on his red bandana handkerchief, "I've called you together to-night to say farewell. The Lord has called me to another place. I don't think the Lord loves this people much for none of you seem to die. And you don't seem to love each other, for I've never carried any of you. And I don't think you love me for your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples. By their fruits ye shall know them," and now, brothers and sisters, I am going to a better place. I've been appointed chaplain to the penitentiary at Kingston. "Where I go ye cannot come but I go to prepare a place for you." How many other congregations does this cap fit? Don't all speak at once.—Ex.

Red Fife Grown Successfully in England and in Australia.

Something About the Grain That Has Made Manitoba Famous.

The best grades of Canadian wheat... Red Fife has an interesting history. In the early days, when the Northwest regions of Canada were being opened up, a settler, David Fife, planted part of his land with grain from Danzig.

This wheat, however, does not owe its origin to the climatic conditions of that country, as has often been assumed. It is a variety which was first cultivated in Galicia, and no doubt a few grains of it found their way into Fife's bulk of Danzig wheat.

Nearly twenty years ago a young farmer returning to Engadon brought with him a small quantity of Canadian wheat and planted it, I believe, in the neighborhood of Kildermister. It grew sufficiently well, and was soon found to be of more than common value as a spring wheat.

These laboriously collected data show, then, that Red Fife has great advantages to set against its weaker points. Still more extended tests are required, though, before it can be recommended for extensive cultivation; but it is a noteworthy fact that in the country round Boston in Lincolnshire, and again in Surrey, nearly all the growers who have tried it are repeating their experiments.

A close study of that so frequently fatal disease, appendicitis, has quite convinced me, writes Dr. Hamilton, that its cause is directly traceable to indigestion and constipation. When a protracted case of constipation develops, the stomach and bowels are almost sure to be clogged with a mass of sour, putrid, half-digested food.

PORTABLE OFFICES.

A man who actually carries his office in his hand is the railroad conductor. Usually it is a box specially made and ornamented with bright brass trimmings and brass handles and with the conductor's name neatly engraved on a brass plate.

When his trip is finished you will see him leave the train carrying his office with him. The railroad has no dent, to pay for him and yet he is one of the busiest of employees, with many accounts to keep.

Usually the conductor opens up his office in the baggage car or in an empty seat after his train has left the last station of the run. For some time thereafter he is a busy man.

His portable office, when opened is transformed into a little desk having pigeonholes and writing materials, and with it open in front of him the conductor counts his tickets, sorts them among the proper pigeonholes and makes up his accounts. It is all done generally before the train gets in, and upon arrival at the terminal he takes his office with him and departs with the rest of the passengers.

Catarrhal Deafness--How Cured

The inconvenience of slight deafness is known to tens of thousands. It is very frequently due to catarrhal inflammation of the middle ear. Drugs or sprays cannot possibly reach the affected parts. But you can breathe Catarrhoxone, a germ-destroying and healing agent, and by compressing it into the passage of the ear, you bring about a speedy improvement in hearing, and remove the catarrhal condition there.

I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my stables for over a year, and consider it the VERY BEST for horse flesh can get, and would strongly recommend it to all horsemen.

ELECTRICITY AND CLIMATE.

In a recent lecture before the British Institute of Electrical Engineers, Signor Ferranti made a startling declaration to the effect that the weather of the island of Great Britain could be controlled by means of electricity. The entire island would have to be girded with an electrical "defence" capable of warding off the vapors of the sea and preventing them from precipitation on the land.

ARGENTINA'S EXPORTS.

Argentina is the greatest exporter of corn in the world; she sends abroad more chilled and frozen meat than any other country. Only Russia, says the Century, excels her in wheat exports, and only Australia contributes more wool to international trade.

LOST ISLAND OF DEAD SEA.

The Dead Sea is encroaching upon the land about it so rapidly in this decade that whole forests of trees which formerly grew at some distance from its banks are now partially submerged.

Many of the sea made twenty years ago show an island near the northern extremity of the lake which was not found during a recent survey, and it is supposed that this has been lost in the rising waters. The Turkish Government sold the mining rights on the shores to a syndicate about $350,000, and if the sea for some unknown reason continues to rise these holdings will be almost unattainable.

THE CYNICAL PHILOSOPHER.

A woman in the case may be all right; it is when there are two that there is likely to be trouble. When a woman dresses to please the men, she doesn't have much success with the one who is paying for it.

THIS WAS NO JOKE

The other day over in the town of G—, Ontario, Mrs. R. came into Mr. B's store and asked for a couple of packages of Dye. He was selling the Old Style Dyes that require a separate Dye for Wool and Cotton, and asked her if she knew what KIND of cloth her goods were made of. Mrs. R. said she wasn't sure, so he advised her to go home and make the following test:

FEWER FOGS IN LONDON.

Twenty years ago there were fifty-five foggy days in London during the winter months, whereas in 1909-10 there were only eleven during the same period. The fog itself has been scotch'd and killed, and St. James' Crisillon-Brown at the annual dinner of the Sanitary Inspectors' Association. The reduction in the number of fogs is attributed chiefly to improved sanitation.

THE COMFORTER.

Anxious Old Lady—"I say, my good man, is this boat going on or down?" Deckhand—"Well, she's a leaky old tub, so I shouldn't wonder if she was going down. But then again, her bilers ain't none too good, so she might go up."

PUZZLING IT OUT.

When telegraph poles were first set up they had a most disquieting effect upon various species of animals. In Norway, for instance, at the time of the introduction of these useful articles, the bears were much perplexed to determine their purpose.

The Norwegian bear, hearing the moaning of the wind in the wires, such a buzzing as he had somewhere heard before, proceeded in the arduous fashion to "put two and two together." Such a buzzing must mean the presence of a sweet morsel; the poles must be gigantic hives; so the bear set to work to root the poles out of the ground.

The strange humming also attracted the attention of the woodpeckers, when concluded that innumerable insects were concealed in those tall poles. Therefore, the birds went to work to find the treasure, boring holes to extract the insects.

In time, however, they all became wiser, and the telegraph poles or wire came to be used by more than one species of bird as a safe place for its nest. There is a small bird of Natal that used to build its cradle-shaped nest in the branches of tree, but as soon as the telegraph wires were set up it changed the location of its housekeeping and built on the wires, so that snakes could not molest its treasures.

LITTLE WILLIE'S CAMEL ESSAY.

"The caminal is a sheep of the desert. It is called a bacteria because it has a lump on its back. The caminal is very patient, and will lie down and die without a groan, but when it is angry it gets its back up, which is called taking the horns. The shepherds of caminals is called Arabs. When they live in towns they are called street Arabs. When the caminal goes on a journey it drinks as much as it can to last for many days. Such animals are called taking the horns. Those that cannot carry enough are called inebrates."

CURED OF LAME BACK WHEN 84

Mr. Samuel Martin, of Stratford, Ont., nursed twenty years of his life in misery, suffering tortures from lame back. He tried nearly all advertised remedies, and household recipes, but received no benefit from any of them.

Some months ago, seeing Gin Pills advertised, Mr. Martin purchased a box. The relief which Mr. Martin experienced after he had taken one box was so great that he knew he had found the right remedy at last. He used two more boxes and is now completely cured.

According to a recent amendment to the Public Schools Act, pupils and teachers in country schools will in future have the same summer holidays as the town and village schools.

Miss Beatrice May Hutchings and Mr. Arthur James, both of Addison, were united in marriage in Brockville on Tuesday last week by the Rev. Dr. Sparling.

Mr. D. Fisher is lying seriously ill at his home in Athens. He had been in poor health all winter and on Friday last received a stroke of paralysis. From this he has partially recovered but continues in a very low condition.

Because of the typhoid epidemic in Ottawa that city is to lose the annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of Ontario and Quebec. The meeting, which opens on Good Friday, will be held in Hamilton.

Miss Mabelle Wight of the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, is enjoying her holidays at the home of her grandfather. Miss Wight speaks very highly of the work in connection with that Institution.

A splendid programme of recitations and musical numbers is being arranged for the W. C. T. U. medal contest on Tuesday, April 4. The event takes place in the town hall and the programme will start sharp at 8 o'clock.

The community of Jasper was shocked on Monday last week to hear of the death of one of its well-known residents, Elmer Davis. Deceased had been ill for about three weeks with pneumonia. Mr. Davis was about thirty-five years of age.

Mr and Mrs. Saxon Washburne, Soperton, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Julia Evelyn, to Leslie Bland Webster, Warburton, Ont., the marriage to take place April 13th, at Soperton Methodist Church.

Following a week of unseasonably cold weather, Sunday was bright and warm and many spring birds appeared—robins, bluejays, song sparrows, blackbirds, etc. Rain has since fallen and sleighing is practically at an end.

On Saturday morning March 18, Jos. Phillips, the head of the defunct York Loan Company, which left many sorrowful people throughout Ontario on account of the loss of their savings was released from the provincial penitentiary, where he served during the past three years and three months.

Owners of put-puts are now looking up the records of other years in regard to the opening of navigation. This season there will be several new launches on Charleston Lake and a gay season is anticipated. A concert move to conserve and improve the fishing at that beautiful resort might well be made by those interested in the lake.

Good sleighing for 120 days is the record made by this winter. Opening on Nov. 26, the sleighing continued without a break until March 26. The importance of sleighing to this country is made plain by the fact that while farmers and teamsters took full advantage of it this winter, there yet remains much work that could best be done with sleighs.

Miss Anna Bellamy of Toronto, who has been assisting Miss Falkner with her millinery opening, left this week to open a millinery shop in North Augusta. Miss Bellamy has had experience in both the wholesale and retail departments of trimming and will display a line of beautiful and fashionable goods.

The special services at the Baptist church, Plum Hollow, conducted by Gippy Hawkins concluded on Thursday evening. Much interest was shown in the meetings, and several decided to live a better life. Mr. Hawkins told the story of his life on Thursday evening to a large audience, the narration being full of interest, pathos and humor.

We are pleased to announce that Mr. E. J. Purcell who, some time ago, was appointed police magistrate for this village, has qualified for the position and has now consented to accept cases for adjudication. Mr. Purcell's private and public life in Athens has been such as to inspire confidence in his integrity and ability, and his acceptance of the office to which he has been appointed will meet with general favor.

The Kingston board of education by a vote of eight to seven has decided to exclude outside pupils from the collegiate institute after the conclusion of the present term. Between 50 and 60 pupils will be affected and the exclusion is because of lack of accommodation. It is the Ontario governments' "approved school" requirements that have rendered this action necessary. Where these students are to go for their secondary educations would be a nice question for Dr. Pyne to answer.

In attempting to discredit the reciprocity proposal and show that it would not benefit the Canadian farmer, some peculiar figures are quoted. An instance of this will be found in our anti-reciprocity adv't this week where it is stated that at the time the compact was made dressed poultry was selling at the same price in Boston and Montreal. When poultry raisers remember that Canadian turkeys cost the Americans from 5c to 7c more per pound than Canadian buyers had to pay, they will understand why our produce dealers are so bitterly opposing this measure of free trade.

Mr John Doolan of Chicago is this week visiting his brother, Mr Wm. Doolan, Elgin street.

The Ontario Agricultural College is endeavoring to help those in doubt about drainage. Any farmer in Ontario wishing assistance in his drainage problems may have the same by making application to the Department of Physics, O. A. C., Guelph. As soon as possible after receipt of the application, a drainage adviser is sent to make a survey of the land, after which he makes a complete map showing the location of the drains, the grade, size of tile, etc. When completed the map is sent to the owner, so that he has an accurate guide to follow in putting in his drains. As in previous years, the only outlay to the farmer is the necessary travelling expenses of one man in connection with the survey. The railways give a rate of a cent a mile for this work, so that the travelling expenses are light.

Staff Entertained

Office and Field: On the 8th inst. Mr. A. E. Donovan, manager for Ontario of the Mutual of New York, entertained thirty of his agents at McConkey's in Toronto to a luncheon to hear an address from Mr. J. A. Jackson, of the home office. At the luncheon Mr. Jackson gave but a short address, followed by Mr. Donovan and others, and at three o'clock the party adjourned to the city office, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. There Mr. Jackson spoke to the agents for an hour. Mr. Donovan also spoke for a half hour at the close on salesmanship.

FOOD - FOR THOUGHT

Who pays the enormous expense of those show-rooms in our towns and cities? Is it not the people who buy pianos there?

Why buy from them when you can get just as good, and in many cases better, from me, delivered Free from the factory to your door? This is one of the reasons I can sell you a piano for less money than you pay at any show-room.

All kinds of instruments taken in exchange. We defy competition for the money in all grades. Get my prices before purchasing, for they are certainly very low for strictly high grade pianos.

Also agent for Raymond, New Williams, and New Home Sewing Machines.
