

THE MORGAN POOL SAVED THE BANKS.

U. S. Secretary Cortelyou Says the Situation is Continually Improving.

Small Banks Fail and Run on Others--Attempt to Steal $9,000.

New York, Oct. 25.—A much calmer tone was apparent in business circles this morning. The success of the relief measures undertaken yesterday by J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and other prominent financiers, together with the serenity with which the officials of the Trust Company of America met the run of depositors on that institution, gave great encouragement to bankers and business men generally that no further trouble was to be feared. The $25,000,000 made up by a pool, headed by Mr. Morgan, which was sent into the stock market yesterday afternoon, is believed to have given permanent relief to the brokers, who were in need of funds with which to carry the stocks bought and held on margins for their customers. Announcement was made this morning that the United States Exchange Bank, a small institution located in the Harlem district of the city, would not open for business to-day. The bank has only a little more than $300,000 on deposit, and an inconspicuous business and the announcement that it would not open for business was entirely without effect. There were lines of depositors waiting this morning in front of the Trust Co. of America, and at the banking office of the Lincoln Trust Co., up town. Some of those in line at the Trust Co. of America had been there all night. At the head of the line was a woman, who declined to leave her place, even when the man next in line promised to restore it to her this morning. She suffered considerably from the cold night air, and several of the men, touched by her plight went to a nearby restaurant at 3 o'clock in the morning and got some bread and hot coffee for the woman to eat. First advices from London to-day was very encouraging. American stocks there opened at prices from one to four points higher. The stock market opened irregular, Union Pacific was up 1/2, Southern Pacific 1/2, St. Paul 3/4 higher, and Reading 1/2 higher. The Borough Bank of Brooklyn, a state institution, with a capital stock of $200,000 and deposits of about $3,000,000, did not open for business to-day. This bank has several branches in Brooklyn. Its business was not very large, and no prominent financiers were connected with it. The Lincoln Trust Co. resumed payment to its depositors as usual this morning. The Trust Co. of America also opened for business as usual. The line of de-

TIMES WILL CALL OFF THE GAME

The Times will receive a detailed report of the big football match at Montreal to-morrow over its own leased wire, which will run direct from the scene of the battle into the Times building. The report will be read out from the balcony at the office by an announcer with a loud voice. Immediately after the game a special edition of the Times, giving a full account of the game, will be issued. Drop around about 3 o'clock and hear all about the big game.

EMPRESS O F GERMANY. Latest portrait of Her Majesty in 18th century dress as the wife of the great Frederick II. of Prussia.

The Man In Overalls

There are going to be doings at the Liberal Club soon. Got your membership card yet? With the increase in the cost of booze the increased cost of living will be increased still more. Our new story had an auspicious opening last night. Did you read it? Aid. Anderson seems to have come to the conclusion that it is not all beer and skittles being an alderman. Chief Smith has pointed out twenty-five dark spots in the city that need a light. Did he include the Jolley Cut, or does he consider it out of the city? Hallowe'en will come in quite handsly to celebrate the victory of Thanksgiving Day. Times advertisers edit a large portion of this issue of the paper, and I must admit they do it like professionals. There are both profit and pleasure to be found in their announcements. It's doubtful if Leader Borden has made a single convert in his whole western trip. There's the Market Square. It's about as dark at night as is the cemetery. Over by the market buildings a man might be robbed and murdered and passers by never see a sign of the deed. It was to be expected that the Will street panic would send some financiers to the wall. Col Gibson's plan will be to throw out Hayhurst, Skedden and a few of the sharpshooters in skirmishing order to pick off the officers of the enemy before driving it into the bay. The boys will need a bath anyway. Now, how many men are there in the city who want to get shaved after 11 p. m? One at a time now. Now let the doctors all get vaccinated first. But what will the Patronage Committee say? Yes, Maude. The merchants' ads. are news, and very interesting news, to the lady readers. You know that. There should be a place in the battle for the veteran firemen. They could discourage the enemy by throwing cold water upon it. But is Mr. Weaver out for good? In the coming sham fight the Gore would be the proper place to shed the gore. If you run to catch a street car nowadays you are expected to run for the Legislature. So far the local Ministerial Association has not raised its voice against this limerick craze. The isolation hospital will be quite handy for the wounded on Thanksgiving Day. FEAR TO GO HOME. EARTHQUAKE SUFFERERS MAY DIE OF EXPOSURE. More Shocks Felt—The Pope Has Sent Money, and Orders Churches Kept Open—Italian Government Sends $50,000,000—Bad Weather. Rome, Oct. 25.—Little additional news was received here this morning from Calabria, which was visited by earth shocks on Oct. 23. The bad weather continues in the south and it is feared that many persons are likely to lose their lives as the result of exposure, fear of a repetition of the earthquakes preventing them from returning to the villages. Many of the homeless people have erected tents or are living under other temporary coverings. A few fresh shocks were experienced yesterday but no further damage has been reported. The Pope has sent supplies of money to the clergy of Calabria for the relief of the suffering parishioners and has ordered that the churches be kept open day and night, for the use of the homeless. The Government also has forwarded $20,000,000 to the Calabrian authorities for use in the relief work and has taken every other step possible to help the sufferers. A Tempting List. Chestnuts, new table raisins, figs, dates, pineapples, green ginger, preserved ginger, pigeons, ducks, chickens, Long Point ducks, select and standard oysters, snow apples, grape fruit, California rock, Malaga grapes, extracted honey, salt mackerel, haddie, ciscoes, Holland herring, sweet cider—Bain & Adams, 89-91 King street east. SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES. To rent at $5 a year and upwards, for the storing of deeds, bonds, stocks, wills, silver and other valuables, at the TRADERS BANK OF CANADA. The Toronto Board of Control has decided to recommend the annexation of the Deer Park district to that city.

PERPETUATE NAME OF SIMON FRASER.

Granddaughters Here Send Relics to the Government of British Columbia.

Some of the Articles Are Over 300 Years Old, But Are Well Preserved.

In connection with steps being taken by the British Columbia Government to perpetuate the memory of Simon Fraser, discoverer of the great river that bears his name, a number of old and valuable relics were sent to Vancouver this week by Misses Catherine and Agnes Fraser, King street east, the sole surviving granddaughters of the great pioneer, explorer, fur trader and soldier. This was done at the request of P. O. Schofield, Librarian of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia, who has written explaining the efforts being put forth to gather all authentic information with a view to immortalizing the memory of the grand old pioneer, the first white man to follow the course of the Fraser from its head waters to a point many miles distant from its outlet into the Gulf of Georgia. This and his exploratory expeditions in New Caledonia, as British Columbia was then called, were achievements that stand out boldly among the work of the pioneer explorers of Canada. The British Columbia Government recently placed on record its appreciation of the services rendered by the explorer and voted to his sole surviving daughter, Miss Harriett Fraser, of Toronto, an annuity of $600 a year. The hand of death interfered, but not before Miss Fraser, with her fast ebbing strength, penned a letter of thanks to Premier McBride for the recognition of her father's great work. Two days after the despatch announcing the Government's action reached her, she passed away. Accompanying the relics forwarded this week was the following brief sketch of Simon Fraser's life, of especial interest because it was prepared by his granddaughters. A short sketch of Mr. Simon Fraser's life, the discoverer of the Fraser River, who died at St. Andrew's, in the township of Cornwall, in the year 1862, at the advanced age of 86 years: Mr. Fraser was born at Bennington, in the United States, in the year 1776. His parents emigrated with a number of Scotch families to America in the year 1778, purchased property, and were comfortably settled when the Revolutionary War broke out. Simon Fraser, the father of the subject of this sketch, joined the Royal standard, was a captain in General Burgoyne's army, at the defeat of which he was taken prisoner of war and confined in Albany jail, where he died from the vigorous treatment of his captors. His widow, with her family, as soon as practicable came to Canada, first to Three Rivers; from there to Coteau du Lac; thence to St. Andrew's, where they finally settled. Simon, the youngest of the family, was sent to Montreal to school. He resided there with his uncle, Judge Fraser, who was then Chief Justice of Montreal. In 1792, at the age of 16 years, he became an articled clerk with McTavish, Frobisher & Co., in the Northwest Fur Trading Co., which had its headquarters at Montreal. In the year following he was sent to Lake Athabasca, where the company was the principal trading post of the company west of Grand Portage. In 1802 he became a partner and in 1805 he came down from Fort Athabasca to Fort William, and was there nominated to crop the Rocky Mountains, to extend outposts and form trading connections with the Indians. In August, 1805, he left Fort William and reached the foot of the mountains. His route lay through the Lake of the Woods, Lake Winnipeg and the Saskatchewan for a short distance past Cumberland House, on the Saskatchewan, then up English River as far as Isle a la Croix, then up Buffalo Lake, then over the Portage la Cache Mountains, Athabasca River and Lake to Fort Athabasca, which was the underground of the department, then up the Fraser River to the foot of the mountains, to a place which he named the Rocky Mountain Portage. There he left two clerks (named James McDougall and Archibald McGillivray), and twelve men. He then continued his route with six men to the summit of the mountains and reached a small lake of about 12 superficial miles in extent, which discharges down both sides of the mountains. BEST CAR SERVICE EVER IT THE FRUIT SECTION.

Plenty of Refrigerator Cars Always Available at All the Shipping Points.

Beausville, Oct. 25.—(Special)—More cars are needed at shorter notice, and within a season of about six weeks by the fruit growers of the peninsula than would be used all through any other six weeks of the year for the shipping of the whole district. While trying to get as near as possible to the exact percentage of tonnage in apples and grapes hauled over the Grand Trunk, your correspondent would estimate that they supply seventy-five per cent. of the cars used between Niagara Falls and Stoney Creek. From the middle of the grape season until the apples are off, refrigerator cars are in extra demand. Some years ago, not over two, a very great difficulty was met in getting a sufficient number of these cars at the right moment, and shippers said hard things against the railway then. This year things are all O. K. as far as the supply of cars goes. The letter published in the Toronto World of Monday, and written by a manufacturer of the district, gave the Times an opportunity to find out if a grievance on car shortage existed, and if so, the fruit shippers would be the sufferers, just at this time. What did he find? On Monday afternoon there are seven empty refrigerator cars on the Beausville siding for the use of ship-

THE FATAL AUTO.

Man Dashed Against Telegraph Pole and Killed.

New York, Oct. 25.—Henry Wellman, a wine merchant, of this city, was instantly killed last night in an automobile accident at Jamaica. Mr. Wellman was thrown out and his head came in contact with a telegraph pole.

WILL LAY STONE.

H. L. Frost of This City to Officiate at Guelph.

Mr. H. L. Frost, of this city, will lay the corner-stone of the new Methodist Church at Guelph, on Thanksgiving Day. The Methodists of Guelph have made great preparations for the important function. A silver trowel with suitable inscription has been procured, and there will be a number of speakers, ministers and laymen. Mr. Frost will go to Guelph by auto, accompanied by Mrs. Frost and Miss Mabel Taylor.

THE OLD STORY.

Shot by Companion in Mistake For a Deer.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 25.—William Durgan, aged 27 years, of Lake Placid, was shot and instantly killed by George Martin, of Averyville, who mistook him for a deer. Both were members of a large hunting party. Orin Porter, aged 17, of Lunbridge, while hunting deer was shot and almost instantly killed by a companion about the same age, named Tupper. Tupper's gun was accidentally discharged, the ball entering Porter's head.

COMMANDS ATTENTION.

Irresistible Bargains at Begg & Shannon's To-morrow.

There are several things that contribute to the interest of this issue of the Times, not the least important among which is the fine full page announcement made by Begg & Shannon, the men's outfitters, 44 James street north. The ladies will be pleased to read it, although its chief object is to impress upon the men of this country the fact that, under their roof Begg & Shannon have assembled one of the best selected stocks of fall and winter overcoats, trousers and furnishings ever shown in Hamilton. Spurred by a knowledge of the great business done the Saturday before Thanksgiving Day a year ago, they applied all their energy and cash purchasing power months ago to surprise their old and satisfied customers with values unsurpassed anywhere. The cool nights and crisp air suggests the wisdom of early buying, and with Begg & Shannon, October is the month when business crosses a trade line. To anticipate and assemble what men want is almost a science—altogether different from massing lots of goods to sell at a profit. Anybody with money can fill a store with clothes, but it takes the right kind of clothes to fill it with people, and this is what Begg & Shannon will do again on Saturday. Their desire is to have the public and their clothes meet, and after an argument has ensued a basis of friendship will be at once established. With their customary appreciation they open in the morning with a cut rate sale of Scotch underwear worth 75c for 30c. All day they offer elegant $10 raincoats for $6.95. Packard shoes at $4 and $5 and best hats at $2 and $3. Men's handsome overcoats run from $7.50 to $25, and their men's suits from $10 to $25. Begg & Shannon are particularly anxious that citizens should call to-morrow, and a warm welcome will be given those who go simply to inspect the values. Read the advertisement.

SLACK-WHITING.

On Tuesday, the 22nd inst., at the residence of the bride's father, Edward Whiting, of Oakland, Mr. Thomas A. Slack, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Delilah Isabella Whiting. The wedding took place at 3 p. m. and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Collins, of Oakland. The bridal party left for Paris, followed by the good wishes of their friends, where they will spend their honeymoon with relatives, after which they will move to Mr. Slack's residence, 43 Leaming street, Hamilton, Ont.

SHOT WIFE TO MAKE HER DEATH CERTAIN.

"She Made Me Promise I Would Prevent Her Burial Alive," Husband Testified.

New York, Oct. 25.—There were few dry eyes in Judge Foster's part of General Sessions Court yesterday when Jas. Waddell, accused of aiding and abetting his wife to commit suicide, told his story from the witness stand. "I would cut off my head and give it to you if that would serve you." To this she replied that such a method would be a terrible death, and that she had thought of killing herself by gas. "Promise me, Jim," he said she added, "that if you ever find me unconscious with the gas turned on you will shoot me, so that I will not be buried alive." Although he tried to reassure her he had to make this promise to her. Then she gave him a glass of wine and he fell asleep, he said. "I awoke," he continued, "with a choking sensation. I found a tube attached to the gas jet, and there beside me was my wife, unconscious. I felt her pulse and found it was not beating. Then I saw the revolver on the pillow beside her. Remembering my promise to her, I placed the muzzle to her head and fired one shot. Then I tried to shoot myself." The trial will be continued to-day.

ONE OF OLD LAND MARKS IS FAST DISAPPEARING.

Brick Building of the 30's on Land Property Being Removed.

One of the old landmarks of Hamilton is disappearing, because it stands in the way of modern industrial progress. Some time ago the Queen City Oil Company purchased a section of the old Col. Land property at the intersection of Wentworth street and the Grand Trunk Railway. On it was a stable which was one of the first brick buildings of any sort erected in Hamilton. It is believed that this stable was built about 1835. At any rate, when "Col. Land's Grove" was the popular place for Sunday school and other picnics 40 years ago, the stable was a great place for fun among the boys. It was then an old looking affair, the outer wood work decaying and the bricks and mortar beginning to crumble. But it has stood the ravages of time well. The company now needs the ground for the extension of its plant, and workmen are tearing the stable down. The bricks have lost all their "life." They crumble in the hand just as lime crumbles when moistened. The interior wood work is strong and sound yet, however. A 70 or 75-year-old brick building in the very heart of one of the most prosperous manufacturing centres, and within a stone's throw of the immense extent of modern buildings of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, will be a thing of the past in a few days.

STILL IN JAIL.

Pearlstein Has Written Apology But Must Pay Costs.

David Pearlstein, the man who was taken to the jail yesterday morning to serve twenty-four hours for contempt of court, is not out yet, and from all appearances it is likely that he will be in for some time yet. He has written an apology to Chief Justice Mulock, but there are a few other things, in the order of the court, which may keep Pearlstein in durance vile. The principal one is that he has to pay the costs of the action that was brought against him in May last. This morning Mrs. Pearlstein was around the Court House, and she laid down the law in splendid style to Deputy Sheriff Zealand for taking her hubby into custody. She declared he was innocent. Mr. Zealand referred her to Staunton, O'Heir & Morison, who are acting in the case. She met one of the members of the firm, and threatened to bring her six children to him and let him keep them, as she said she had no money to apply them with the necessary of life. William Elliott and his wife, of Toronto, were arrested yesterday on a charge of abandoning one or more infants.

Love and Crime

Lilith Scrope is crouching down on the seat, her hands clutching the cloth cushion, her small, half-shut eyes are wide open now, with huge, black, distended pupils, and blazing with a greenish lustre, which lights up the dead-white face in an unearthly manner.

"Are you frightened, Scrope?" reiterates Miss Surtees, more impatiently. "Nonsense! Rouse yourself! There, give me the bag, and I will get the things out myself. Do you hear me, Scrope?" The dressing bag cannot reach it without walking to her end of the compartment.

But Lilith Scrope never moves.

She is staring at the lightning with those awful, distended eyes, muttering to herself through her clenched, gleaming teeth: "Always something happens to me in a storm. Always something happens to me in a storm." And at each repetition she draws in her breath with a sharp, hissing sound, and shudders pass over her from head to foot. Her simultaneous body seems to elongate, and stretches out on the long, slender neck, her face contracts in a small, triangular, pallid outline, as she extends and writhes herself along the seat in a sort of convulsion.

"Good gracious, what is the matter with you. Pray don't, Scrope!" Miss Surtees pleads, and, rising from her place and moving toward her, "Good heavens, she looks like a serpent," she exclaims, involuntarily retreating in a sort of horror, as the small, bloodless, gray-white face, with the shining eyes, is upturned, and with a weird, magnetic power in their gleam, compel her to look to a fixed gaze from which she cannot withdraw them.

She cannot withdraw them until—as if the deadly spell is wrought—there comes a frightful jerk and crash vibrates through the cars; shrill whistles, and then shouts and screams; and then, with a few mad plunges and leaps—like a wild creature escaping from captivity—a roar of escaping steam and crashing metal, the engine with half its train, attached, tumbles headlong over the grassy embankment into a quiet meadow, and lies on its side, smothered and belching out smoke and steam amid its ruin like a dying monster.

The accident has simply been caused, in the first instance, by the breaking of the coupling irons between two of what are called "composite" coaches—the second-class cars becoming separated from the third and first—it is believed in consequence of a sudden strain and jolt over improperly closed couplings.

The engine, detached from half its load, has gone off the track, and being unmanageable, has toppled over the embankment—fortunately only a few grassy slope, or the ruin wrought would have been far greater.

As it is, after the cries and screams of the third-class passengers, among whom are several women, have brought speedy aid to their relief, and extricated them from the ruined cars, it is found that, though everyone has sustained injuries, some very severe, in the shape of fractured ribs, and bruises, and cuts, only two are dangerously hurt and insensible.

The first-class passengers have suffered worst. One of the gentlemen, in a first-class smoking car, is found dead, and a young man in the same compartment is stunned and bleeding from a scalp wound. A lady in an adjoining car, and her daughter, both have fractured limbs; but when they reach the fourth of the first-class cars, exclamations of horror escape the lips of the party of searchers, with the surgeon among them.

The car door is open—it has been wrenched from one hinge, and hangs crookedly—and in the aperture a woman's body is lying, face downward.

"Battered pretty well to pieces, poor soul!" the men groan, and they lift the lifeless form out and gather up the garments—the plain black straw hat and dark-blue check dust-cloak—which are lying beside her.

"She is breathing, but that is all," the surgeon says, after a momentary examination. "The skull is fractured. The door in falling has done it, I expect. I wonder how it became unfastened. All the others are jammed tight. She opened it in trying to escape, poor creature. I suppose, and then fell halfway out in this fashion! Poor lady. I wonder was she alone."

They go back with a lamp to the wreck for it is growing quite dark now, beneficial torrents of rain in which the tempest is exhausting itself.

"There is somebody else here!" they cry, excitedly, as they hear a faint, moaning voice in the gloom of the wrecked car, and see lying on the floor, amid some fallen luggage a heap of light-colored, shining material.

"There's another lady here, sir," the men call out to the surgeon. "Another lady! Badly hurt, too, we're afraid."

"Can't do anything for a few minutes till we can get another stretcher," the surgeon says, briefly. "There's no use in dragging the poor lady out in this pouring rain and darkness. They'll be back in a few minutes from St. Cray's, with more help."

The cars toward the rear of the wrecked train have been filled with as many of the injured as are able to be assisted into them, and an engine sent out from St. Cray's has carried them on to the station there. The same engine, with a couple of cars filled with a relief gang, and a party of ambulance assistants for the badly wounded, has promised to return as quickly as possible.

"Some of them are past feeling—any more suffering, poor souls!" the surgeon remarks, presently. "That poor old gentleman from the smoking car, and this poor lady, I'm afraid. Hold that lamp here again, please."

They have laid the body down on one of the long seat cushions on the ground outside the wrecked car, and the surgeon, kneeling beside it, makes a second brief examination, feels the pulse in the thin white wrist, on which gleams a broadly gold band, of apparently foreign workmanship—a strand of plaited gold ropes, from which dangles a tiny gold anchor, with "Spero," in blue enamel—leaks beneath the eyelids, and puts the sides of the flask-cup to the clinched teeth.

"I think it is all over," he mutters, with a sigh, "anyway, it could only be a question of a few hours, with that in 'try to the head. See there!'"

He points to the depressed wound on the side of the head, from which the blood is oozing over the brow.

The face is, besides, terribly disfigured, with a great extravasated bruise across the cheek and eyes, which has swollen up blackly, and changed the shape of the features.

"She is hardly recognizable, except by her dress and jewelry, poor thing!" the doctor continues, glancing at the rings on the cold hand he is holding. One is a sapphire ring—one of plain heavy gold, set with a small cluster of brilliants.

Even as he speaks, he feels a slight convulsion pass over the body—a long, shuddering breath parts the white lips—the poor, bruised face grows blanched and rigid at the touch of the icy hand of the Mighty Messenger, the chest heaves and falls in the struggle of the spirit which rends itself away from its ruined earthly tenement and escapes.

"It is all over!" the surgeon says, gently, laying down the clammy hand. "I wonder if there is anyone in the train who knew her? Any friend or relative?"

He holds up the lamp as he says this, and looks inquiringly into the dark interior of the car.

His senses have deceived him, he tells himself a moment later; but just now as he looks, he could have sworn he saw the lamp-light reflected in a pair of shining, eager eyes watching him from that heap of garments on the floor.

"I may as well see what is the matter here," he remarks, discerning dimly a white face lying on the dark carpet.

"But she is so quiet that it's either a deep swoon or killed outright," he mutters, as he prepares to clamber into the overturned car, which is sloping at an angle that renders it difficult to keep one's footing. "I wish to heavens they'd hurry up with that train from St. Cray's!"

"They're coming, sir," one of the men answers. "I can see the engine lights leaving the station."

"You're wanted, doctor!" another man says, suddenly. "Here's a lady coming, and calling you."

"She can call away!" the doctor replies, testily. "Can't be in two places at once! I must give a look at this case—why bless my soul! Is it possible!" he exclaims, astoundedly, stepping back into the car, as he recognizes the tall, slender figure, the fair, bright face, the high-bred carriage of the head set so firmly on the rounded, stately throat of the girlish form that comes swiftly toward him through the gloom, and the rain, and the ruin all around. "Lady Christabel! Can this be you in this terrible place! Were you in the train?"

"Thank heaven, no," cries Lady Christabel Laudesay; "but what a terrible accident!"

She is trembling with excitement, for men are rushing to and fro in a kind of panic, and the scene is bewildering in the extreme.

It is necessary to go back a little to explain the presence of Lady Christabel Laudesay on the scene of the accident.

If one had glanced at the unattractive local paper a few days before, the following announcement might have been seen:

"The Right Honorable the Earl of Cardonnel, the Lady Christabel Laudesay, and suite, have returned to the Albany, St. Cray's, for the autumn."

The editor might have added to his item of fashionable information the statement that the Right Honorable the Earl of Cardonnel and his daughter, the Lady Christabel, have returned to St. Cray's, because—they have nowhere else to go.

They had been on a three-months' visit in town to the house of a wealthy, ill-tempered, morose old lady, Lady Christabel's maternal grandmother—the Dame Mallibrane; as haughty, hard, prejudiced and narrow-minded an old woman as centuries of the bluest and coldest blood could make her.

In her secret heart Lady Christabel dislikes her mother's mother extremely, and cannot help disliking her, in spite of very sincere endeavors to love her very much.

Regularly as June comes, just when the old gardens at the Abbey are at their loveliest, does Mrs. Mallibrane—Dame Erynayrde Mallibrane—by the ancient title of courtesy accorded to the wife or widow of the eldest son of the house of Mallibrane—summon her granddaughter to London, to the large, dull, dingy, stately house in Portman Square, and keep her there, an unwilling captive, until the end of August.

Mrs. Mallibrane calls this "doing my duty to that poor child of Christabel's."

It is to be presumed that she alludes to her daughter, the deceased Lady Cardonnel, as "poor," because she was foolish enough and feeble enough to die when her baby was born, instead of living as a healthy, sensible woman should. She calls her son-in-law "poor" Cardonnel, because she despises him as an unsuccessful man, and pities him because he is as proud and high-born as he is poor. And she calls her granddaughter "poor" because she has a scornful compassion for the girl's beautiful, generous, gracious youthfulness.

Christabel Laudesay, daughter of the seventh Earl of Cardonnel, has inherited generations of that blue blood which has trickled through the veins of frigid, placid patricians—people with cold, proud, narrow faces, and straight, thin noses, with delicate nostrils, and slightly projecting, white teeth below short, curling upper lips.

Lady Christabel's own mother was of another type of high-bred, fragile, carefully-nurtured beauty—a languid, graceful girl, with an exquisite transparent skin, a rich, changeable color, and lustrous eyes—a girl without bone or stamina, who died at the trial of maternity.

And—strange to tell—the offspring of all this stately Norman blood—of all these pale, high-bred, fragile women—is just a lovely, fresh-blooming, young English rose, "of the rosebud garden of girls!"—a strong, bright, healthy girl, with a splendid physique, a sweet, forgiving, loving and lovable disposition, a quick temper and a true heart.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, OCT. 25, 1907.

THE PANIC OVER.

The financial sky in New York is clearing, and it is believed that the crisis has passed. The restoration of confidence that has taken place is due almost entirely to the prompt and united action of great capitalists in sustaining the credit of the banks and other financial institutions with huge deposits, and making it to be understood that other millions were behind them. The United States Treasury also made large deposits in New York banks, which helped to stop the panic. At one time yesterday call money was worth 100 per cent, but the entry of the market supporters, Mr. Morgana, Mr. Rockefeller and others, into the field with ample funds at 6 per cent, quickly brought the rate to 10 per cent. There is no doubt that only the feeling produced by such a move prevented great demoralization and extensive disaster, as great confusion reigned and stocks were being flung on the market for sacrifice. Three small banks closed their doors, but none of the great institutions failed to meet demands.

It is believed that the panic being over, there will be no further disasters, and that business will soon settle to normal conditions. Aside from a few speculators in the market, Canadians will not be immediately interested in the result. Holders of stocks on margin may be pinched, but the real investors in securities affected need have no alarm. It is the man who can be forced to sell or cover margins that is hit. The consequences of the flurry, however, cannot be entirely escaped by our people, and it may have the effect of making them more wary and conservative about stock investments. Our banks and financial institutions are on an entirely different basis from those of our neighbors, and are fortunately out of the turmoil. The action taken by them a few months ago, and so severely criticized by some people who know little of finance, has had an excellent effect, and has helped to prevent dangers into which our neighbors have stumbled. The Canadian whose dealings have been in Canadian securities in Canada, and who has not been reckless or ill-guided has been in no danger.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto's Medical Health Officer and City Engineer report that to provide sewage and filtration for the city would cost $5,120,000.

Pictou, N. S., Tories have dropped A. C. Bell and nominated Sir Hibbert Tupper. Now if Sir Hibbert will accept he may have his measurement taken.

Down in East Northumberland the Tory candidate is attacking the Fruit Marks Act. That is an assault on Canadian honesty and trade reputation.

This is a favored country indeed. While financial storms disturb some neighbors, and earthquakes kill or terrify others, the Canadian enjoys security, peace and prosperity.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth is to spend a few weeks at Clifton Springs, N. Y., and consult eminent specialists regarding his ear affection. It is hoped that a speedy cure will be effected.

Is it not a little strange that the organs which are severest on the inefficiency and dishonesty of party government should be the loudest in their advocacy of placing all the great public utilities in the hands of the state or the municipalities?

Mr. Hugh Graham now says that the amount he personally subscribed to the Tory election funds in Quebec in 1904 was "$4,000 for a contract for literature, $1,381 for expenses during the year in the city of Quebec, $250 for each rural constituency for preliminary expenses, $900 for the campaign in each rural constituency, and $4,000 for each of the Quebec city constituencies." He refers to "the ridiculous smallness" of the amount!

A real estate exchange would be doubtless a good thing for the dealers, but it would hardly help the house-seeker to make a family of ten fit into a five roomed house, or a 25 cent rent bill come out of an $800 salary. There are some things that even real estate operators can't do.—Ottawa Journal.

The disparity between earnings and rent bills seems to be felt at the capital too. Perhaps the question may be solved by Edison's scheme to mould cement houses for three families at a cost of $1,000. If that does not work the people may have to find caves.

No. W. F. Maclean is not an anarchist. He stands at the other extreme. With him government is a god. It is the all in all—the fountain of wisdom, the source of all goodness and capability. Man as an individual is nothing, and can do or be nothing save receive its bounty. In his London harangue, as reported in his own paper, he made that abundantly clear. It is Government's duty to bring us the "comforts of life," to make "our lives livable," to make "the necessities of life" and its "comforts" cheap and attainable by all. Mr. Maclean in his Hierarchy of government evidently expects that when his fat prevails we shall not only all be warranted in sitting down in the middle of a field and waiting for the cows to walk up to be milked, but that Government shall milk them for us. The worship of the public ownership idol is a disease with some men; it is no more amenable to reason than scarlet fever.

PERPETUAL NAME OF SIMON FRASER.

tains. At this lake, which he afterwards called McLeod's Lake (out of compliment to one of the Northwest partners), he left three men to form acquaintance with the Indians, and in November returned with his remaining three men to the portage at the foot of the mountains, where he had left the fourteen. At this portage he passed the winter of 1854. In the month of May, 1856, he sent two canoes loaded with furs to Athabasca, with a report of his proceedings, and went again up the mountains with six men and a clerk named John Stewart, and reached McLeod's Lake by a devious course to the south. In this course he touched Fraser River, which takes its name from him, but which he then supposed to be the Columbia. He went up a tributary of the Fraser River and called it Stewart's River. Doubts now arose in his mind as to the Fraser, which he called the Great River. About 120 miles up the Stewart River he built another house, and called the place Stewart Caledonia. Here he left Mr. Stewart and two men and crossed westerly into the open country and built another house near a lake which he called Fraser's Lake. He was now with four men in the midst of Indians who had never before either seen or heard of the "pale face." On the border of this lake he witnessed an Indian ceremony which after the lapse of half a century, was as fresh in his mind as if it had occurred much later. He was taken by the Indians along the lake border to where they had a very large burying ground, when one of the chiefs of their tribe was being buried. An immense number of warriors assembled, and after a most solemn and impressive ceremony Mr. Fraser was invited by signs to approach the grave. He did so, and gave immense satisfaction by engraving his name on a post which had been planted over the remains of the departed warrior. From this lake Mr. Fraser returned and passed the winter with Mr. Stewart. In the early part of 1857 he sent despatches with what furs had been collected to Athabasca, and asked for an increased force of clerks and goods. In the fall of 1857 he received two canoes loaded with goods, and two clerks, named Julius Guesnel and Hugh Jones (the former was afterwards an M. P. for Montreal). These gentlemen brought despatches from the company recommending Mr. Fraser to trace with all possible speed the great river to the sea, they being apprehensive that the Americans would get ahead of the British in that quarter, particularly as in the previous year, 1856, Captain Lewis and Clark had gone down the Columbia, and were extending American authority along the western coast of America, and Astor on the part of the Americans also was looking anxiously towards that decision. The company therefore urged Mr. Fraser to spare no expense in achieving the object of their desires. In the summer of 1857 Mr. Fraser built another trading house on the Fraser River, in about latitude 54. In May, 1858, he started from Stewart's Lake with four canoes and 16 men, exclusive of Messrs. Stewart and Guesnel, leaving Fraser and two men in charge of a post at the mouth of the Stewart River, reached the ocean coast in July, and remained but a short time there, on account of the hostility of the Indians.

From the time he left Fraser until he arrived at the sea, he met numerous and very large bodies of Indians speaking several different languages. They assembled to see the wonderful "pale face" that had come amongst them. An idea may be formed of how they regarded white men from the fact that when hundreds of them were congregated together, at the discharge of a single rifle they would all fall upon their faces on the ground, so great was their astonishment.

Although some of the articles sent to British Columbia this week are over three hundred years old, they are wonderfully well preserved. The list included:

A walking cane, containing a dagger used by the great explorer.

Letters written by Simon Fraser to his men during his stay out west; also a list of articles secured from the Indians with their prices.

Half a dozen buttons and the brand of the coat worn by him when he was paymaster of the militia, between Columbia Landing and Prescott, after returning from the west.

A small painting of Simon Fraser.

A letter written by his father while a prisoner of war in Albany jail in 1777.

A book of the Fraser clan with the signature of Simon Fraser on the back. The Presidential address before the Royal Society of Canada, with an article on Simon Fraser, written by Sir Sandford Fleming.

A clipping from the Cornwall Freeholder, 1862, with the account of his death.

A teaspoon, dessert spoon, table spoon of solid silver used at his own table, a daguerotype of his nephew and other small relics.

Work on a book of the explorer's life will be begun shortly.

GRAHAM'S DENIAL.

Says Mr. Borden Had No Knowledge of the Fund.

(Toronto Globe.) Mr. Hugh Graham, proprietor of the Montreal Star, has sent to the Globe a letter regarding his contributions to the campaign fund of the Conservative party in 1904. Much of the letter is devoted to showing that for more than a third of a century Mr. Graham and the Star have been contributing money and space to causes believed to be worthy, but chiefly to Conservative party funds and the maintenance of the National Policy.

As to my subscription to the Conservative in the Quebec district in 1904, I have nothing to say. The amount subscribed was $4,000 for a contract for literature, $1,381 for expenses during the year in the city of Quebec, $250 for each rural constituency for preliminary expenses, $300 for the campaign in each rural constituency, and $4,000 for each of the Quebec city constituencies.

The explanation of how I came to give these sums is very simple. I was deeply interested in the elections, as all the world knew; and when asked by the party managers how the immediate necessities of the campaign would be met, as the subscriptions might come in tardily, I promised to make advances against these expected contributions. When the time came for the contributions to materialize, they were not forthcoming; but I had kept my promise in advancing the money. I consider the amount sent to the Quebec district, when used with the most rigid economy and absolute purity, to have been most reasonable; but, to their credit, be it said, it was all that the Quebec district managers asked when they sent their estimate.

If they had asked more I would have sent it up to a reasonable amount.

Mr. Graham says: When Mr. Borden wrote me that funds should be distributed only through committees acceptable to the local party friends, he had, as far as I am aware, no personal knowledge of any such fund; and is not, to my mind, so far as I know, cognizant of any such fund, except, possibly, from hearsay.

As to the charge that there was an attempt to purchase Liberal candidates, to bribe them to desert their party, or anything of that nature, in regard to them, it is, so far as I am concerned, and so far as my knowledge extends, without any basis whatever.

MRS. GROSE DECLARED SANE.

Application of Relatives Dismissed by Chief Justice Falconbridge.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday gave justice dismissing the application of certain relatives of Mrs. Martha L. Grose, of North Gwillimbury, to have Mrs. Grose declared incapable of managing her property. The applicants considered that the lady was over-susceptible to the influence of certain parties and might be induced to dispose of her property in an unwise manner.

His Lordship held, after considering the affidavits of the medical officers of the asylum, where Mrs. Grose was confined for some months in 1906, that she was perfectly sane and able to manage her own affairs.

ANNEXES COREAN PRINCE.

It Takes Future Ruler to Japan to be Educated.

Tokio, Oct. 24.—The object of the recent visit of Prince Yoshimoto, the Japanese Crown Prince, to Corea is apparently disclosed in an announcement made that Prince Ito, the Japanese Resident-General at Seoul, will return to Japan shortly on an Imperial summons, bringing with him the Korean Crown Prince for a course of study in Tokio.

The Korean Prince, for whom Yoshimoto is said to have formed a strong friendship during his visit to Seoul, is described as an unusually bright eleven-year-old boy, but his future is endangered by the child marriage customary at the Korean court.

The visit of Prince Yoshimoto is believed to have removed Korean suspicions, and will enable Ito to carry out his scheme of providing the future Korea with an intelligent ruler of Japanese education.

BRITISH RAILWAY STRIKE.

Great Eastern Co. Absolutely Refuses to Recognize the Union.

London, Oct. 24.—A step which apparently increases the probability of a general strike of railway employees in Great Britain has been taken by the Great Eastern Railway Company. The chairman of the company has issued a long explanatory statement, the kernel of which is that the company absolutely refuses the union's demand for recognition.

This is the point on which the trouble turns. The statement intimates that the other railway companies have made the same decision.

FOR THE OPENING NIGHT.

The Vitagraph Company publish the leading subjects for to-morrow's entertainments in to-day's papers and promise that those who see these new moving pictures will want to see them every week through the season so long as the company can continue to put on such good objects. "The Masquerade Party," and "The Onion Field" are said to be particularly good.

HEARING OF THEFT CASES.

Men Accused of Stealing Iron Committed For Trial.

Alleged Thief and Receiver of Hides are Remanded.

Alfred Larmer Summarily Dealt With This Morning.

John Nevills and William Doyle were before Magistrate Jelfs this morning, the first named on a charge of receiving, a number of hides stolen from a T. H. & B. car and the second on a charge of vagrancy, being also suspected of stealing the hides in company with two other men the police have so far been unable to capture. These two men are clever ones who have both done time and they have probably left the city. The Crown Attorney asked for a remand in the above two cases as he wanted the police to get the missing men but M. J. O'Reilly for the defendants wanted the crown to tell what it wanted the remand for. The Crown Attorney said he did not propose to tell the reason any more than that he was not ready and he did not care if he did not get a remand. The Magistrate granted the remand, however, but allowed both men to go on their own recognizance.

The case of stealing pig iron from G. T. R. against Joe Marshall and A. Hodyn was gone on with this morning and the prisoners were committed for trial. M. J. O'Reilly asked for Marshall and A. M. Lewis for the other and they were committed to get a view of the yards and see if any one was pilfering. He had not been there long when the prisoners came out of the shadow beside the shed wheeling a barrow in which was something he could not see. He made a slight noise in warning the watchman who was with him to keep quiet, and the men hearing it turned and ran. He went for assistance and getting Constable Gibbs went back and saw men coming back to the yards so he and the constable arrested them and, after a thorough search, found a lot of pig iron in a small shed used for storing sleighs during the winter. There was a hole in the side of this shed and the floor under the hole was all dented as if some iron or other heavy substance had fallen on it.

Constable Gibbs corroborated this evidence. The Chief Clerk of the court of the east end Rolling Mills and Blast Furnace, told of the iron going out and how it was loaded and how much of it there was. Chief Detective Day gave evidence of the condition of the ground and the flooring of the shed in which the iron was found.

The defendants had nothing to say and the case was sent up for trial. Robert Martin, Bay and Cannon streets, was charged with committing a serious offence in front of a small girl. The girl told her story. The prisoner denied at first that he was ever in Dundurn, where the offence was said to have been committed, but afterwards admitted that he had been up there a week or so ago, when he was intoxicated. He denied the accusation against him. The Chief secured a remand till Monday to get more evidence.

Peter Sheridan, Murray street east, and John Armstrong, James street north, were charged with being disorderly last night at the corner of Cannon and James streets. Sheridan pleaded guilty and took all the blame, and was fined $10, the other man getting off.

Stanley Haskins, a farmer, was charged with obstructing the street near the hay market with a load of hay. He pleaded guilty, but wanted to know if the constable was allowed to give him "lip." "I'll give you the exact words he said to me," said Stanley. "What was it?" asked constable Gravelle, the complainant. "Can't you hear it?" asked Stanley, and getting permission from the Chief of Police, he said Gravelle had told him it was "a h—l of a place to leave his hay."

Alfred Larmer was summarily dealt with this morning when he was charged with being drunk and with trespassing at his mother's home. His mother did not appear, and the defendant said he was only at the house to get his clothes. "You were arrested at the house?" asked the Magistrate, and getting a reply in the affirmative, he wasted no time in imposing a fine of $10 or twenty-one days for being drunk, and ordered him to find surety in the sum of $100 to keep the peace.

George Stremble, who was charged with neglecting to send his son to school, and who stated that the boy was 14 this next month, was up this morning. He was sworn to be going on thirteen. He was ordered to send the boy to school.

George Ollman, King William street, was sued by Pleasant Dupont, a colored chef, for $12.75. Judgment was given for the plaintiff.

Mary Ann Ladd, any place, Mag. Reeves, Red Hill, William Harrison, Bartonville, and W. Gusterson, John street south, were each fined $2 for hitting old John Barleycorn.

STRABANE

Potato diggers are doing a rushing business here just now. Most of the taken up by up-to-date machines. According to report, the crop is good around here.

Threshing is nearly over in this locality for this season. There is no word of any local sports going on here. About twenty-five young people spent a very pleasant evening last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Halliday. The Westover orchestra drove over and furnished some very fine music, which, with songs and games, made a very enjoyable evening.

The hard frosts these last few evenings has nipped a few potatoes for those who are unfortunate enough to have them out.

The new blacksmith, Mr. Saunders, of Hamilton, is working up a very nice trade here.

Representatives of the Manufacturers' Association waited upon the Toronto Board of Control, objecting to the nine-hour clause in city contracts.

General Discussion of Work With the Central Officers.

A joint meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hamilton Y. M. C. A., and the Committee of Management of the East Hamilton branch was held in the latter's building last evening at 6.15. The following directors and officers of the central association were present: Messrs. John E. Brown, President; G. Rutherford, W. J. Waugh, W. J. Aitchison, F. W. Watkins, F. R. Smith, Treasurer; J. J. Greene, T. F. Best, General Secretary; D. M. Barton, Physical Director; W. J. Robinson, Boys' Secretary.

Committee of Management, W. F. Coote, Chairman; J. L. Hopkins, George Crook, E. S. Vansickle, J. T. Pantan, P. Dresback, W. D. Conner, C. P. McGregor, H. Banwell, F. L. McLean, E. Henderson, C. Houlton, W. Cline and W. J. Orr, Secretary. After supper the chairman, Mr. Coote, stated that the meeting had been called to confer as to the best way in which to carry on the work of the association in the eastern part of the city. He asked Mr. Best to speak on shop meetings. Mr. Barton on physical work, Mr. Robinson on boys' work, Mr. Crook on progress of the religious work, Mr. Best drew attention to the large opportunity for shop Bible classes or evangelistic meetings, and thought the association should endeavor to carry on such work wherever it was possible to do so. Some meetings had been held periodically. As soon as workers could be secured and permission obtained from the officials regular services should be arranged for. Shop work has been a success in many manufacturing cities and towns.

Mr. Barton thought arrangements might be made in the building so that basketball could be played occasionally. Classes in dumbbell and wand drill should be organized at once. Later in the evening Mr. J. J. Greene kindly offered to have a punching bag installed under Mr. Barton's direction, which was thankfully accepted by the committee.

Mr. Robinson spoke of the congested condition of the boys' department in the central building, and urged that something should be done in East Hamilton for the boys to help relieve the central, and especially as he understood a large number of boys were applying for membership in the branch association. He realized the difficulty of doing very much on account of the limited accommodation, but thought certain hours should be set apart for the boys and juniors.

Mr. Crook referred to the Bible class and men's meetings recently organized, and the fact that much blessing had already been received by many young men in his mill, the Imperial cotton factory, from these services and the revival services in Barton Street Baptist Church. A large number of young men had been converted, and were earnestly seeking others. He felt the association had a great responsibility in helping to get for these new converts, and was sure everything possible would be done in that direction.

After a general discussion, the several lines of work suggested were referred to committees to carry out.

Discharged Hands.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 25.—The Montgomery shops of the Atlantic Railway, employing 300 men, and with a monthly pay roll of $16,000, were closed yesterday.

Master Mechanic Pearsall said that this order was due to adverse legislation and a decrease in business. The force employed in the shops of the Western Alabama Railroad has been reduced to 25 men.

EMERALD Y. M. U.

Emerald Y. M. U. held its regular weekly meeting last evening and it was well attended. After the business was transacted the members were treated to an address by Mr. Best of the Y. M. C. A., on the South African War, which was very much enjoyed by those present. R. Minary gave a recitation. As the next meeting falls on Thanksgiving night it will be postponed until November 7th.

RAILWAY SOLD.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 25.—A detachment from Richmond, Va., says according to information obtained from high authority, the Central Railroad of Georgia has been sold to the Norfolk & Southern.

PATIENTS FOR NEW HOME.

Numerous Applications for Entrance to Institution for Incurables.

Iron Poles for Municipal Plant Will Cost $50 Each.

Sandsucker is Being Beached To-day for Repairs.

Although there was a big difference of opinion when it was decided to build the new Home for Incurables as to whether there would be enough patients to justify the expense in erecting the institution, applicants are already pouring in to Superintendent Rae, of the House of Refuge. "There will be no doubt about the institution being filled," said Mr. Rae this morning. "We have had over a dozen applications already, although the building will not be ready to open before next March. Some of these patients are quite willing to pay, one of them offering $20 a month."

The new home was built to provide a place for poor people of this class who had no one to take care of them. Those who desire to be admitted and can afford to will be made to pay something. The greatest care will be exercised as to who is to be admitted. The work is being rushed along, and the men are now engaged putting on the slate roof.

Chief Engineer Notman, of the Hydro-Electric, has submitted a blue print of a new pole for the proposed municipal lighting plant here. It is an iron pole, costing $50, as compared with the wooden one, costing $40, provided for in the estimates. Although the committee thinks it has all the necessary information now to prepare and submit a by-law to the people, it is not likely any action will be taken to-night. Some of the aldermen would like to take a little longer to study the figures.

City Engineer Barrow, Ald. Peregrine and Ald. Allen went to the Beach yesterday afternoon with carpenters and looked the sandsucker over. Mr. Barrow left instructions to have the sucker beached to-day. He expects to get a figure this afternoon from the carpenters as to what it will cost to repair the frame work. Bain & Son have already begun repairing the machinery.

Friends of Samuel Weaver, caretaker of Dundurn Park, who the Parks Board decided at its last meeting to dismiss, are making strenuous efforts to have him retained. They would like to see him continued as caretaker at the park, even though a superintendent of parks is appointed. As announced yesterday, Harry Marshall will be the new parks superintendent.

The following building permits were issued to-day:

Walter Friden, brick house, Wilson street, between Ashley and Wentworth, $1,200.

James Houlding, brick house on Fairview avenue, between King and Wilson streets, for C. H. Houlding, $2,500.

W. W. Main, two frame houses on Ferrie street, between Mary and Ferguson avenue, $1,400.

Superintendent Rae, of the House of Refuge, wishes to thank H. E. Hard for a contribution of rocking chairs and preserving jars and George J. Harvey for ten bags of apples.

The Board of Works to-night will consider the reports of Engineer Heddie and Foreman Towers, who inspected the Street Railway system to see what had been done to comply with the Railway Board's order.

INSPECTED ASYLUM.

Government Said to Contemplate Enlarging Institution.

Dr. Rogers, Provincial Inspector of Asylums and Hospitals, accompanied by a Government architect, inspected the Hamilton Asylum yesterday. They ordered a number of changes and improvements for the safety and comfort of the inmates and attendants. A number of new stairways were ordered in the main building, and more iron fire escapes outside the same building were considered necessary by the inspector. This work will probably be done at once. It is reported that the visit of the architect had to do with the erection of another large building in the grounds. The various asylums in the Province are nearly filled, and the Hamilton Asylum is taxed to its full capacity. At the present time there are only three patients' beds vacant. In view of the fine location of the Hamilton Asylum and the large grounds surrounding it, the Government is considering the advisability of enlarging the institution. There are about 1,300 patients in the Hamilton Asylum.

FINED $25,000.

Michigan Central Fined That Amount—Echo of Explosion.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—(Special)—A fine of $25,000 is imposed upon the Michigan Central Railway Company by a judgment pronounced by Mr. Justice Riddell this morning. The amount of the penalty, however, is conditional on the company paying in the amount within thirty days. The company was indicted originally under section 221, 247 and 279 of the criminal code for the explosion that occurred last August in Essex, by which two men were killed and forty others more or less seriously injured. The Crown, however, withdrew the count under section 279.

The 2 T's are new people here, and wish to introduce you to their overcoat and shirt department. Their guarantee goes with every coat or shirt you buy. Their suit sale two weeks ago was far beyond their expectations. Of course they gave the values. To-morrow they are going to do better. This is the overcoat season now. Their loss is your gain. Get busy and save a few dollars. Some of these overcoats and shirts will be on exhibition in their windows. Of course they cannot put them all in the windows. Step inside and see the real value they have to offer you to-day.

CASE DISMISSED.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The appeal of the Onitagas & Buffalo Mining Company against assessment of $100,000 fixed by the town of Cobalt for the purpose of the levying of a tax on income has been dismissed by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board in a judgment given this morning.

POLICE WANT HIM.

Shafer Alias Ferguson is Being Watched For.

The police all over Ontario are on the lookout for a polished crook named Shafer, who is a native of Elora or Forestburg, and who has been wanted for some months for many different offences committed throughout the province. He was arrested here in June of 1902 and charged with breaking into the home of Aggie Harmer on the Freelon road, and for this offence was sent down. His latest exploit has been a visit to Salem, where he is alleged to have held up a boy for his supper. The local police are on the lookout for him, but have little hope that he will come this far. He was also charged here with housebreaking on another occasion. He went under the name of William Ferguson while here.

The following is the temperature as registered at Parke & Parke's drug store:

Thanksgiving Sale.

Extraordinary price reductions will be made all over the store, to make it a made all over the store. It will prove to be a splendid buying opportunity in your winter needs. A special purchase of women's fur-lined cloaks, new and handsome styles, arriving this week from abroad. A special lot of women's and children's new and handsome styles in cloth and lined jackets, which will be sold at great price savings, the entire stock being new this season. Women's stylish autumn and winter dress skirts at $4.39. Women's all-over net waists at $4.89. Women's undershirts at $1.29. On the large and bright ground floor will be a sale of black and colored dress goods at less than half price. Sale of handsome $1.25 stripe dress silk at 59c. Sale of new white lace curtains at 79c, 98c and $1.18. Sale of sheetings, bed comforters and blankets. Women's elbow length gloves, Perrin's finest quality, at $1.95. Women's men's and children's warm winter hosiery in the finest and best all-wool makes at 25c, and there will be many other good sales on. That Finch Bros. is a popular Saturday shopping place goes without saying, the best evidence of it is that on last Saturday the cash sales were 95 per cent greater than the corresponding Saturday one year ago. Such business advances do not come by chance. It means having the entire confidence of the buying public; it means hard work, dependable qualities and grand values at all times, but this is not news. Finch Bros. have been in business and before the public since 1880, and no business house in Canada has a better record for honorable and fair dealings. Read their large advertisement to-night. It is sure to prove interesting and very profitable. Don't miss it, and be one of the many shoppers here to-morrow.

WHAT IS GOING ON NOW

TIGERS OFF TO MONTREAL.

All But Barron Went East This Morning.

The Crack Wing Man Will Go Along With the Fans This Evening—The Players Are Confident of Victory in To-morrow's Big Battle on the Gridiron—Seats at a Premium in Montreal.

- Interprovincial Senior. Argos at Ottawa. Tigers at Montreal. Dundas at Hamilton. Interprovincial Intermediate. London at Toronto Argos. O. R. F. U. Senior. Peterboro at Vics. Westmount at Kingston. O. R. F. U. Intermediate. Vics at Tammany Tigers. O. R. F. U. Junior. Brockville at Gananoque. Waterdown at Hamilton. Canada Life at St. Michael's. Parkdale at Aura Lee. Berlin at Galt. McGill at Varsity. Ottawa College at Queen's. Intercollegiate Intermediate. McMaster at Varsity II.

OFF TO MONTREAL.

President Seymour, of the Hamilton Rugby Football Club, and all the members of the champion team except Barron, left on the G. T. R. this morning for Montreal, where the most important match of the season in the new Interprovincial League will be played to-morrow afternoon. About 20 followers of the team went along. Barron was unable to get away this morning, and he will go down on the evening train with Manager Thompson. It is expected that at least 100 fans will go to the big city to-night, as over 60 persons have handed in their names to the club officers. The train will leave Stuart street at 8.30, and two cars have been reserved for the Tiger supporters. In addition to the regular team, the following spare men have been sent by the club: Zimmerman, WiWgle, Burton, Climie and Loftus. Before the boys left this morning Mr. Connon, the florist, presented them with large yellow chrysanthemums. The players were in good spirits and are confident of victory to-morrow. The Hamilton team will line up as follows: Back—Tope. Half-backs—Simpson, Southam, Moore. Quarter—Ballard. Scrimmage—Murray, McCarthy, Craig. Wings—Barron, Martin, Lyon, Gray. Isbister, Marriott.

The Times will have a wire from the field in Montreal to the editorial rooms to-morrow, and the game will be reported in detail by its own reporters as the plays are made. A running report of the game will be called off from the balcony in front of the Times building, and a special edition will be run off as soon as the game is over. The extra will not be a fake one, with only the score in; it will contain a full report of the match.

GAMES HERE TO-MORROW.

There will be lots of football for the local fans who cannot go to Montreal to-morrow. Two championship games, on which a great deal depends, will supply plenty of excitement for everybody. The Tiger second team and Dundas will supply the big drawing card, and their game to-morrow should be fast. Both teams are in the pink of condition, and both are determined to win at any cost. The Intermediate championship is conceded to belong to one of these teams, and to-morrow's game will just about decide the 1907 Intermediate champions. The Tigers found Dundas their hardest rivals last year, though they had the luck with them and won out after two very hard games. Dundas is sending in a team that is probably the strongest that ever represented the Valley City on the Rugby field. The Tiger III had a hard work out last night with the seniors, and lined up for a practice game. They have a great back division, and the big crowd of spectators present got quite enthusiastic over the game. Once when Nibs Harrison booted the ball for fifty feet and Gleesing, who was following up fast, got through and got over the seniors' line for a try, there was considerable cheering for the Second. With this sort of material coming on to represent the seniors, there is no need to worry as to the future team. The back division of the Intermediates which will play against the famous back division of Dundas to-morrow will show some great running and punting stunts, and will make it a game well worth seeing. Every man in the team is in great shape and ready for the game.

The first game will start at 1.30, and will be between the Waterdown team and the Tigers III. For the Junior O. R. F. U. championship, The Tiger Cubs are generally looked on as champions this year. The Hamilton Football Club is deeply indebted to H. A. Seyland, Principal of the Art School, for the use of his automobile. He brings a number of players from their work to the field every night, and after their workout takes them to Dr. Kelly's Spa.

MONTREAL EXCITED.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—For the game against Hamilton to-morrow Montreal will present the same line-up as defeated Tigers in Hamilton and Ottawa in Ottawa. The Executive held a meeting last night and it was decided that it would be inadvisable to make any change in view of the importance of the match. Kelly, it is stated, will be all right for Saturday, and Kingstone will be back from New York ready to fill in the other inside wing position. "Chaucer" Elliott said after the morning practice, when all the seniors except Kingstone were in line, that the team was to-day a 25 per cent. better team than the one that defeated the Tigers at home. He is confident of a victory.

There is no doubt whatever that the match will draw the largest attendance that ever witnessed a football game in Montreal. There has been a rush for tickets like that for a Stanley Cup battle and the advance sale beats any known for the M. A. A. field. It is larger than for any lacrosse match the last two years. To satisfy the demand for seats the whole of the big stand from bend to bend is being reserved, the last block to be put on sale in the morning. Last night, with the match nearly two days away, $3 was commonly offered for a $1 seat. Montreal should make enough out of the match to finance them for the season.

THE WORM TURNS.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Russell stated to a Citizen reporter that he did not know what the Wanderers were going to do this winter, that he had not attended the annual meeting, at which he was elected captain, and that he was taking no interest in hockey, having decided to retire. Russell said that he had had all the glory he wanted out of hockey and that his people objected to him playing. Consequently he does not intend to accept the captaincy of the Wanderers.

Reports from Montreal are to the effect that Montreal intends to fight the case to a finish again, and that they believe Dr. Hendry did not know the true facts of Russell's election as captain of the Stanley Cup team when he ordered Russell out of the game. They intend informing him that Russell was not at the Wanderer meeting and that he does not intend to play hockey and this may put a different complexion on the case.

FREE KICKS.

Stinson, of Montreal, is a greater punter, but he had nothing on Joe Gleeson or Jack Williams—Ottawa Citizen. Jimmie Craig, captain of the Montreal team, says that this will be his last year at football.

The Argonauts have accepted the Ottawa nominations for officials for Saturday's game at the capital. H. C. Griffith will referee, and Eddie Gleeson will be umpire.

Johnston will play quarter-back for the senior Argos at Ottawa to-morrow, and Hay will play the same position for the intermediates against London on Varsity Field.

Dr. W. B. Hendry and Jack Lash, of Toronto, have been agreed upon as referee and umpire respectively for the senior match at Montreal on Saturday between Hamilton Tigers and Montreal, in the Inter-provincial Rugby Union.

An Executive meeting of the O. R. F. U. has been called for to-night, when the question of the affiliation with the C. A. A. U. will be finally decided upon.

and a president chosen in place of George Ballard, who resigned some time since. W. J. Morrison, of Toronto, has been suggested as referee for the Argonaut 11-London game, which will be played here on Saturday. The Argos have accepted the suggestion.

McGill has taken up English Rugby with enthusiasm. A large percentage of the students are from the Maritime Provinces and from England and the introduction of the game has been often suggested. The first game will be played to-day.

The Ottawa College Athletic Association has decided to follow the example of the Hamilton and Argonaut Clubs, and will distribute printed programmes prior to each game in Ottawa.

Father Staunton, the clever coach of the Ottawa College team, announces his intention of challenging for the Dominion Rugby championship in the event of winning the intercollegiate title.

FELL IN THE RING.

Bookmakers at Jamaica Track Affected by Panic.

New York, Oct. 25.—Many race track men were up in arms at Jamaica when the news was received that the Knickerbocker Trust Co. had suspended payment. In the betting ring there was something like a panic. One bookmaker, it was said, had $80,000 on deposit with the Trust Company, while several others had amounts tied up averaging $20,000 each. Other layers said they had smaller amounts on deposit, and as a result there was a great deal of worry manifested. A well-known trainer, it was said, had an account of $30,000 with the Knickerbocker, while others were in the same boat, but for less sums. Some of the biggest bettors notified the layers that they were temporarily embarrassed, and asked for time to make settlements.

SADDLE AND SULKY.

Miss Wilks' racing string has returned from Kentucky and gone into winter quarters at Critchington Farm, Galet. Fourteen horses were in the lot, with the gallant Kentucky Todd at the head.

New York, Oct. 25.—James B. Brady, the 9 to 20 favorite, scored an easy victory in the Hemstead Selling Stakes at 6 furlongs at Jamaica. Brady so far outclassed his field that he was made an odds-on favorite, and taking the lead at the start, won easily.

Harmakis won three races and finished four times in second place at Windsor, taking down $995 in coin. Delany, the Northern circuit jockey, whose contract has just been sold to an Easterner, has landed 48 winners all year.

A. J. Casatt's son has made an offer of $20,000 for Nealon, the Suburban wire ner.

BURNS SAILS.

Champion Tommy Left N. Y. for England Yesterday.

New York, Oct. 25.—Tommy Burns, who claims the heavyweight championship of the world, sailed yesterday on the Deutschland, for London, where he is to meet Gunner Moir, the English heavyweight champion, on Nov. 25th. Burns is little the worse for a shake-up he received in a train wreck a few days ago, and says it will not interfere with the fight. He may ask for a few weeks' postponement.

ATELL AND WEEKS.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25.—Arloides have been signed for a fight between Abe Atell and Fred Weeks, of Oribble Creek, for the featherweight championship of the world, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 29th. They will weigh in at 122 lbs. ringside, stripped. Sixty per cent of the money will go to the winner and 40 to the loser. Charles Eytson will be the referee.

GUN CLUB DATES.

There will be a merchandise shoot to-morrow afternoon at Hamilton Gun Club grounds. A new Leggett trap has been installed. At the January tournament the club is going to have two days' live bird shooting and two days' target shooting. Tournament is to be held on January 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, 1908.

VON BUELOW'S RUIN.

Widespread Conspiracy Aimed at German Chancellor Discovered.

PRINCE VON BUELOW

Berlin, Oct. 25.—A widespread conspiracy to bring about the downfall of Prince Buelow, the Imperial Chancellor, has been discovered.

Recently there was issued a scurrilous pamphlet, in which Adolphus Brand brought serious charges against the chancellor. Prince Buelow thereupon instructed the public prosecutor to proceed against Brand for criminal libel. The police have now searched Brand's residence, and discovered that he was the tool of the powerful political round-table clique, whose exposure and defeat were brought about by Prince Buelow five months ago.

Revelations are now being made, showing astounding corruption in the highest circles of the German Empire.

Prince Buelow, who has many political enemies in high places, succeeded Prince Hohenlohe as imperial chancellor in October, 1900. They have been repeated unsuccessful attempts to discredit him in the eyes of the Emperor.

SHOT TWO WOMEN.

Returning From a Dance at Welland—Man Escaped.

Welland, Oct. 24.—Miles Milakouie, an Austrian, while returning from a dance with his boarding-house mistress and another woman, got into an argument over six dollars that the woman said she was owing for board. He pulled a .38-calibre revolver and fired in such haste that the bullet pierced the thigh of Mrs. Petro Valletch, and then lodged in the knee of Mrs. Milka Yojie, whom he had intended to hit. He immediately fled into the darkness. Both women are recovering.

HANGED IN THE OLD MILL.

Lost Money in Venture and Was Despondent.

Wallaceburg, Oct. 24.—John Thompson, of Sombra, committed suicide last night by hanging himself on the premises of the old grist mill, Sombra village, in which deceased was a shareholder to the extent of $1200.

His wife missed him, and thought it strange that he had not returned as usual, and instituted a search. The body of deceased was found suspended by a rope at 9.30 o'clock. It cannot be learned how long he was dead.

The loss of money invested in the grist mill had a tendency to turn his mind, and in a state of despondency, it is believed, Thompson committed the rash act.

The Government has received a presentation from the Grand Jury of Grey County, assuring that the disobedient inmates of the County House of Refuge are placed in a "dark hole." Picou, N. S., Conservatives nominated Sir Hibbert Tupper for the Commons. Mr. W. F. Maclean, M. P., addressed a labor meeting at London in support of Mr. Jacobs' candidature.

C. A. A. U. WILL BE ASKED TO TAKE CONTROL.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—As the conditions of the competition in the English Olympic games next year stipulate that the teams from the respective countries must be under the control of the governing body controlling that branch of athletics in which the team intends to compete, it was unanimously decided at last night's meeting in the West End Y. M. C. A. to ask the C. A. A. U. to take charge of the situation immediately. A resolution to this effect was passed and forwarded to the Union, and will probably be discussed at to-morrow afternoon's meeting. The suggestion to hold point meets throughout the winter and early summer, the receipts of which, after expenses have been deducted, to be turned over to the C. A. A. U., was enthusiastically received. All local organizations, with the exception of the Irish-Canadians, were represented, and it was said that that organization intended to finance the trip of its own representatives. President Stark pointed out that the Olympic authorities would not accept the entry of the club, but that it might wear its own colors while members of the Canadian team if any of its men catch a place. J. J. Ward, who occupied the chair, stated on behalf of the Ward Marathon trustees, toward the Olympic trip fund would be given on condition that only approved amateurs selected by the governing body as stipulated, be sent to England. Tom Eck, the veteran trainer and handler of bicycle riders, sisters and other athletes, who is recognized as perhaps the most successful member of his craft in the world, was present, and was asked to say a few words in connection with the matter under discussion. Mr. Eck gave it as his opinion that Canada bred athletes, whose superiors were nowhere to be found, but that the methods of training applied here are somewhat behind the times. He mentioned the names of numerous Canadians who had upheld the honor of the Dominion in various branches of sport in home and foreign arenas, and believed that there is material available now for a track team which would hold up its end with the world's best. In the estimation of the veteran trainer, Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat are sure world-beaters if properly coached and prepared. Mr. Eck's name has been frequently mentioned as the man to send to England in charge of the Canadian team. He is a native of Newmarket, and is now on a visit to his old home. His interests in New York are such that they might prevent him from accompanying the Canadian team if given the opportunity, but he pledged himself to give freely of his time and valuable experience toward getting a winning team ready. He has made five European tours with athletic teams and understands the business thoroughly. THE MONTREAL RACE. Toronto, Oct. 25.—Tom Coley, who is under the ban of the A. A. U., will start in the Hamilton Herald race. Fowler and others from across the line will also suffer suspension if they start against him. The Irish-Canadian Athletic Club yesterday received a wire from the Montreal Herald, protesting against the withdrawal of Tom Longboat and Percy Selien from the Herald team with Lowboon getting a winning team ready. "Negotiations are under way which may result in the race being held under C. A. A. U. sanction." SHRUGG FOR ENGLAND. Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—"I expect to sail for England about December 1st," said Shrugg, the runner, yesterday. "I will put in the winter training, as I intend taking a whirl at the running game next summer, but it will be my last year on the track. I have been running now for eleven years, and am about tired of it. When I come over next year I intend coming straight to Winnipeg, and, after running here, will go as far west as Vancouver. I was sorry I could not get to the coast this year." TRACK AND FIELD. The C. A. A. U. has granted a sanction for the Guelph cross-country and track meet on Thanksgiving Day. The meet there is expected to be a most pronounced success. The events have attracted many good men. Frank Lukeman, W. Halpenny and W. A. Mackay, of the M. A. A. A., are the Montreal athletes who are going to compete in the Madison Square Garden meeting, and no objection is made to their entry. Leslie Boyd, the President of the M. A. A. A., will accompany the men to New York. Lukeman is entered for the sprint and jumps, Halpenny for the pole vault, in which he won the Canadian record, and Mackay for the middle distance. Toronto, Oct. 25.—The Irish-Canadians received a telegram at 10 o'clock last night from the management of the Gaelic League, which is running the meet at New York at which Tom Longboat was to have appeared, advising them not to send the Indian as a competitor. ATTEMPTS SUICIDE. Man Who Killed London's "Universal Provider" Opens an Artery. London, Oct. 24.—A Central News despatch says that George George Hayner, the young man who murdered William A. Whiteley, the "Universal Provider," in London last January, and was condemned to death, but whose sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life, and who was confined in Parkhurst prison on the Isle of Wight, yesterday opened an artery in his wrist. The bleeding was stanching just in time to save his life and he is now in the prison hospital. Hayner attempted suicide with a pistol immediately after his crime. The bullet destroyed one of his eyes. A NEGRO FOUGHT THE JAPS. The Black Man Took Up the Cause of a White British Columbia. Welland, Oct. 25.—Mr. J. J. Sides writes from Regina describing a trip through the West. Referring to the Vancouver riots, he says: "One of the heroes of the fracas was to see a negro, 'black as the ace of spades,' in the ranks of the rioters, fighting to keep this as a white man's country, for white men only. It has been said that the rioting was a good-matured affair on the part of the rioters, that they did not wish to hurt anybody, but to bring the Oriental immigration matter to a focus. I cannot help but think, however, that that determined attitude of the Japs to defend themselves had a good deal to do with the sudden subsidence of the trouble." A new sewage and water system for Toronto, to cost $5,120,000, was recommended to the city in a joint report of the City Engineer and Medical Health Officer.

The frost is on the pumpkin. And the rain is on the sky. While the edge of autumn's here. And the summer's gone by. And the baseball fan is sorry. While the football fan is glad. Some Snap Shots at Sport and Sportsmen

Baseball is a game not at all too strenuous. For the amount played in Canada and the United States, the season just closed, the fatalities have been few, only five as far as can be learned, this being a decrease of seven from the season last year. John Flanagan, the giant hammer-thrower and former holder of the world's record for throwing the 16-pound hammer, announces, says the New York World, that he is no longer a champion and is willing to pass the wreath over to big Matt McGrath, the present holder of the title. John says that his fellow-countryman has something on him when it comes to throwing the missile. Shrugg's time in his exhibition at Winnipeg on Saturday does not constitute a record of any kind. Records are not made in such performances. W. Andrews and Doc. Morton, the well-known Toronto bicycle riders, are considering ways and means of getting to England next year, to compete in the Olympic bicycle races. The Toronto Telegram man has recovered from his autumn attack on the horse races. Pipe this: "These long distance walkers are coming in for so much prominence that soon John Counsell will be walking from Hamilton, Ont." CHEERS FOR MORGAN.

The Great Financier's Pool Saved the Situation.

Over $100,000,000 Thrown into the Financial District.

Indication Now That the Crisis is Passed.

New York, Oct. 24.—As a result of to-day's developments in the financial world there is every indication to-night that the crisis in the banking and trust company situation has been safely passed. The Trust Company of America all through the day's banking hours paid out money to depositors as rapidly as possible and closed the day with all demands having been met. A very favorable feature of the situation respecting this company was that it was able to make its payments with very little assistance, and another was that the company received over its counters in the morning hours in ordinary deposits more than a million dollars. As the trust company of America had been the centre of the recent financial storm it was accepted that the ability it had shown thus to weather the storm was a clear indication that the financial sky had cleared and that a period of fair weather was now well in sight.

By far the most notable and even a dramatic episode of the day was the emptying of millions of money into the Stock Exchange through a pool headed by J. P. Morgan and other financiers in order to avert a ruthless selling out of stocks held by brokers, which was threatened because of their inability to obtain renewals of the loans on which these stocks had been carried.

The keen demand for money to almost unprecedented figures, and certain large interests were charging rates which, if not legally usurious, were at least so in effect. One member of the clearing house was severely criticized by other bankers for adding an unnecessary strain to the money situation, and repudiated all further loans on call on the Stock Exchange. The effect of this was to send call rates up to 100 per cent., and in the resultant sharp decline, Union Pacific, a ten per cent. stock, sold down to par.

Notwithstanding the high rate for call money that might have been obtained, the National City Bank, Mr. John D. Rockefeller personally and other prominent moneyed interests sent funds to the Stock Exchange to the amount of $25,000,000. These sums, however, were not sufficient to meet the demands and for a time there was great confusion, and stocks were hurriedly flung on the market. At the time when the announcement was made that a pool had been formed with Mr. J. P. Morgan at its head, to come to the rescue of the brokers for whom it was necessary to provide funds at once in order that they might carry the stocks they were holding for their customers.

The Morgan pool brought a sum of money amounting to $25,000,000 into the loan corner of the exchange, where it was quickly distributed in such lots as would be most effective in rendering support.

The effect of this relief measure was instantaneous and the rate on call money dropped from 100 per cent. to 10 per cent. Stocks advanced more rapidly than they had declined, and it was only a few minutes until Union Pacific, the market leader, was selling at 105. Other stocks were similarly affected, and the rally was complete. Scarcely an hour had the veterans of finance seen a great situation saved so quickly and so effectively by such a Napoleonic stroke.

When the Stock Exchange closed every one was getting all the money he wanted. The close was marked by a memorable scene in which the brokers gathered around the trading posts and gave three cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan and the members of the pool which had saved the day.

The aggregate amount of money which had been contributed in order to weather the storm and restore confidence assumes truly colossal proportions. Roughly estimated it includes $25,000,000 which Secretary Cortelyou deposited in New York banks; $25,000,000 which the Morgan pool brought to the floor of the Stock Exchange; $10,000,000 which John D. Rockefeller deposited with the Union Trust Company as a means of stemming the tide; and finally another $20,000,000, which it is understood Mr. Rockefeller stood ready to advance to meet any further stress of conditions—in all considerably in excess of $100,000,000.

GETTING AT THE HOUSEWIFE.

"If your product is used by the housewife you had better go straight to that lady and tell her about it," says Edmund Bartlett in "Selling More Goods." "She will listen. You needn't be a bit afraid she won't." Presumably Mr. Bartlett meant "if your product is one that ought to be used by the housewife," and in that case his advice is good. The question with some producers is how to get at the housewife. Too many of them send out canvassers to hold unsatisfactory conversations with her at the front door on her busy day. The tactful and profitable avenue of approach is the home newspaper, which she receives and consults on a friendly footing. Advertisers in the Times.

Sudden Death at Welland.

Welland, Oct. 24.—Citizens were shocked to hear of the sudden death of William H. Crow at 2 o'clock to-day. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy this morning. He had been ill a few days. He was a widower, aged 48 years, and leaves no family. He was one of Welland's prominent business men, engaged largely in lumbering.

Don't hang curtains round the cot. Children need plenty of air, especially when sleeping. Don't place the cot in a position where the light will fall on the child's eyes; nor in a draught. Don't make up baby's bed on the floor. The air is most pernicious near the floor, and purest in the middle of the room. Don't forget that children's clothing should be warm, but light. Don't neglect to air the children's bedclothes every day, taking them in about noon. Don't allow a child to sleep with an elder person; its rest will be less disturbed and more beneficial alone.

FLOOR FELL.

WORKMEN CRUSHED IN AN OSHTAWA FACTORY.

Henry Perkins Killed and Four Others Badly Hurt—Floor Was Loaded With Lot of Heavy Iron Castings.

Oshawa, Oct. 24.—In the collapse of a flooring due to a defective beam one man was killed, one seriously injured and two others bruised in an accident occurring at the Oshawa Steam and Gas-fitting Company's works here about 10.45 this morning. The dead man is Harvey Perkins, about 24 years of age, unmarried, who was employed in the mill room of the works. William Jones, J. Lewis, Thomas Allan and W. Russell were all badly crushed but will recover. The other two were able to get out of the wreckage unassisted and escaped harm except for slight bruises.

Subsequent investigation showed that one of the wooden beams supporting the flooring in a corner above the mill room was defective. It is thought that the weight of small castings placed in the storeroom caused this beam to give way and so precipitated a section of floor 20x16 feet. The rescuers worked for two hours before recovering Perkins' body. He was dead, having been struck a severe blow on the head. An inquest will be held.

The works employed about 150 men. There were eight in the room where the accident occurred, but only four were under the section that collapsed.

FAILURE IN INDIAN WORK.

HON. S. H. BLAKE SPEAKS ON COSTLY OVER-MANNED STAFFS.

Discussion at the General Board of Missions for the Church of England in Canada—Report of the Treasurer.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—A comprehensive report on the Northwest Indian work, the outcome of months of investigation with other denominations and their negotiations with the Government to induce them to assume as their own full charge the work of education, leaving to the churches religious care only, was discussed at some length yesterday at the half-yearly session of the General Board of Missions for the Church of England in Canada, in St. James' Cathedral Parish Hall, presided over by the Archbishop of Toronto. The report stated that the existing system had been a partial failure, and was becoming too onerous for the churches with their rapidly growing work, while the children are undoubtedly wards of the nation. The boarding and industrial school system was established, but the Indians, on account of a large number of deaths, have been withholding their children from the schools, because of the unsanitary conditions of the buildings. The Northwest clergymen combated the reflection upon the school because of outside deaths was greater. The Bishop of Algoma charged that the statistics furnished were widely and inexcusably misleading, but the Hon. S. H. Blake proclaimed that reflecting judgment would no longer support the present inefficient supervision and overmanned costly staffs.

The statement showed that the educated male Indian last year earned in the Northwest $5,000,000 agriculturally. Seventy day schools, with 730 pupils, cost $185,000. The Federal Government, while industrial schools, with an attendance of 238, cost $42,422, of which $27,750 was paid by the Government. Boarding schools, with 264 in attendance, cost $45,927, of which the Government paid $18,634.

The grants in various dioceses for the ensuing year are a considerable advance upon last year's, and the appointments to raise the $120,000 was referred to a committee consisting of Archbishop Matheson, Bishop Williams and Hon. S. H. Blake for adjustment. The grants resolved that the Federal Government continue aid to industrial and boarding schools for Indians or take up operations of that class released by the Church Missionary Society of England. It would, however, continue the evangelistic work among the tribes, but considered the creation of the duty of the Government, especially as the Indians are wards of the nation. Other denominations had asked for sufficient funds to sustain the schools, of which they desire to continue control. A paper from Charles Jenkins, urging a settled policy upon foreign, Indian and white work was referred to a special committee.

Following are the grants recommended: Algoma, $7,000; Athabasca, nil; Caledonia, $2,000; Calgary, $9,000; Columbia, $2,500; Keewatin, $4,300; Kootenay, $8,000; Mackenzie River, nil; Moose, $2,500; Northwest, $2,900; Qu'Appelle, $10,000; Rupert's Land, $10,450; Saskatchewan, $17,500; Yukon, $4,000.

The report of the Treasurer, Chancellor Worrell, showed contributions to be $1,000 in advance of last year's. A proposal for the new Anglican mission province in China came from a missionary, Rev. W. C. White, Longueux, as a reflex of the Centenary Missionary Conference, which will be taken up to-day. The Archbishop of Toronto and Hon. S. H. Blake tendered a luncheon to the board yesterday. The sessions will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock.

Those present from the Diocese of Niagara were Bishop DuMoulin, Archdeacon Clarke, Archdeacon Forner, J. H. Ingersoll, Alfred Powis.

MAY BE DROWNED.

Young Toronto Clerk Went Out Shooting on the Lake.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The worst is feared by friends of John F. Stammer, sixteen years old, of Oak avenue, Balm Beach, who went out duck shooting yesterday morning in a canoe, and did not return. The youth is an employee of the Canada Life Assurance Company. Since the duck season commenced Stammer has been in the habit of going out on the lake about 3.30, returning home about 8 o'clock. As usual, he went out yesterday morning, but failed to show up at the expected hour. His friends were anxious as to his safety, and an unsuccessful search was instituted.

RAILWAYS ARE BUSY.

Greatest Volume of Freight Ever Carried in Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—Reports to the Labor Department show that the amount of freight handled by the railway and other transportation companies in the past few weeks has been greater than at any previous period in the history of the Dominion. Owing to the scarcity of labor several large railway construction projects are being withheld until the facilities for carrying out the work have been increased. Upwards of 1,500 miles of track will be completed during the present year, in addition to some 3,011 miles under construction.

TRADES DISPUTES.

Large Decrease in Loss of Working Days Last Month.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The Labor Gazette for October reports the number of trade disputes during September was one less than in the previous month, and there was a decrease of approximately 37,960 in the number of working days lost. Compared with September, 1906, there was a decrease of four in the number of trade disputes, and a decrease of about 35,240 in the number of working days lost.

Cruelty to Animals in Hawaii.

Afterward I was taken to Kawaihae, where I saw cattle loaded in a most cruel manner. It was a little after six o'clock when I landed on the beach among a lot of cowboys and half-naked natives. The cattle were curried under the trees, and when one was ready to be taken aboard a rope was tied about its horns. A cowboy on horseback then rode into the surf, dragging the frightened steer into the water. The rope was tossed to a half-naked native who was swimming, and he in turn carried it to the men waiting in a small boat. There men pulled the animal, which must now swim or drown, to the boat and tied him by the horns to its side. After eight steers had been tied up in this manner the engine on the steamer was set to work and the boat pulled alongside by means of a rope. The cattle were then hoisted on board by the use of a belly-band. The method of handling these dumb animals is brutal, and while the men seem to use as much care as possible in moving them about, their pitiless belting caused by fear made a pathetic scene as I have ever witnessed. Thousands are shipped every year, and it seems that some more humane method of putting them aboard might be adopted.

The Japanese sailor on these ships is said to be the best for keeping the ship clean, while the native excels in handling the boats, especially in rough water. The Hawaiian is a born swimmer, and native boys will follow these vessels for several hundred yards as they are leaving Honolulu, swimming alongside and diving for coins thrown overboard by the travelers. The passage on these boats is always rough and on the Ewaianai, as the ship lay at anchor out in the channel, the nights were intensely warm. Freighting in this way is necessarily expensive, but those in authority say that it is the only way practical as no wharf could withstand the lashing of the waves caused by the mad fury of the winds during winter. At that season it is often impossible to make landings along the rocky coast of Molokai. —Mrs. C. R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly.

Despair.
"What do you want of the editor?" asked the office boy, blocking up the doorway.
"I have a manuscript poem," said the long haired caller, "which I wish to submit for his inspection."
The office boy closed the door, but reappeared a moment later.
"Nothin' doin'." We ain't printin' no poetry now," he said, slamming the door in the caller's face.
"Bard out!" exclaimed the poet, tearing his hair.
"Cheer up!" yelled the boy over the partition, "I've heard that 'un before."

Two Hundred Bodies Already Recovered by Rescuers.

Shocks Continue—People in Dreadful Plight.

Rome, Oct. 24.—The details received here during the day regarding the earthquake in Calabria yesterday tend to show that the damage and loss of life were much more extended than at first estimated, but that the loss of life has not been great.

The Pope, when informed of the destruction this morning, said, with tears in his eyes: "Are we having a repetition of the disaster of 1905? God help the poor souls!" The Pontiff will send a sum of money for the relief of the sufferers.

The shocks were especially severe in the southern end of the Calabria Peninsula, but throughout Calabria to-day there were scenes of desolation and despair.

The first shock was a tremendous one and was followed by two others of long duration, which entirely destroyed two villages, and reduced many houses in several others to ruins.

Half the houses of Ferruzzano and Brancone collapsed and many persons were buried in the ruins, and at Sinopoli and St. Ilario many are said to have lost their lives.

Panic prevailed everywhere. Rocella, Jonica, Reggio, Cosanzza, Bazzano, Palmi, Marina and other towns also suffered from the shocks, but not severely.

The ancient cathedral of Torre di Gerace was thrown down, as was also an ancient tower. Half the houses in the village of Gerace are in ruins.

During the confusion caused by the first earth shock the prisoners in the jail at Catanzaro mutinied and were subdued with great difficulty.

The earth shocks continue, but they are slight. The people are still in a condition of apprehension, which is increased by each tremor.

The people are too frightened to assist in the rescue work, and for that reason no bodies were recovered from the ruins until 6 o'clock this evening.

It is now estimated that the deaths will surpass five hundred, but it is impossible to get accurate information on this subject, as many villages are still cut off by the floods, and the destruction of roads and telegraph lines, and no word from them can be had.

"DEVILISH AUTOMOBILES." Master in Chambers Deals in Parables When Hearing Case.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Mr. A. Frowse, of East Zorra, is suing the township and Mr. Davies, a resident, for damages sustained by his horse through some barbed wire with which Mr. Davies sought to protect his lawn.

S.S. CONVENTION.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS RECEIVED MUCH INSPIRATION.

Making of the Teacher the Vital Problem—How to Secure Attention—Appeal for Increased Support to Extend Effective Operations.

Brampton, Oct. 24.—The Ontario Sunday School Convention which closed here to-night has been probably the best in the association's history in every way, and much advance in Sunday school work throughout the Province is expected to result.

A greatly increased support of the association's work was appealed for by Mr. Theron Gibson, the treasurer, especially in view of the placing in the field of the newly-chosen Primary Secretary, Miss Minnie Kayson, of Brampton (St. Paul's).

Mr. E. J. Joseph, of Toronto, the new President, was introduced this evening by Mr. W. Hamilton, Chairman of the Executive, and inducted into office by the retiring President, Mr. K. W. Clarke, of Millbrook.

International teacher-training diplomas were awarded to the following candidates this year: By private study—Rev. Dr. R. N. Burns, Mr. Horace S. Foster, Rev. W. S. McAlpine, Miss Jennie Archdekin, Brampton; Miss Minnie McLaughlin, Thomas; Mr. Wm. J. Schmidt, Newton Brook.

Four concurrent conferences were held this morning from 10 to 12 o'clock by the pastors, the superintendents, the elementary grades workers, and the librarians, teachers, and treasurers.

In the pastor's conference, when Rev. R. F. Aie, of Homer, presided, Rev. R. W. Merritt, Sunday School Field Secretary for the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, introduced the subject of "The Pulpit and the Sunday School as Allies."

The closing address of the convention was by Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, of Toronto Junction, on "The Sunday School as an Evangelizing Agency."

WOMEN FARMERS. Increasing Greatly in Numbers in New England States.

HABITUAL DRUNKARDS. English Physician Says Inebriety is Due to Defect in Mental Mechanism. After a twenty-five years' study of the inebriate Dr. R. Welsh Braithwaite, the inspector under the inebriates act, has come to the conclusion—so he informed the Society for the Study of Inebriety in his Norman Kerr memorial lecture last night—that inebriety is due to inherent defect in mental mechanism, generally congenital, sometimes more or less acquired.

deed—as to the probability of any normally constituted individual becoming a habitual drunkard, even if he permits himself to indulge occasionally in a fair measure of careless drinking, without the intervention of nerve shock or other influence sufficiently potent to disturb the equilibrium of nervous and mental mechanism.

Of the 2,277 admissions to State and certified inebriate reformatories previous to December of last year 62 per cent. were proved, he said, to be either insane or defective in varying degree, and only a little over 37 per cent. could be described as of "average mental capacity."

Dealing with the control and treatment of alcohol, the lecturer held that "the influence which incites or strengthens moral resolution are useful only when applied to inebriates whose mental condition approaches the normal."

There are in this country now more women farmers than in the old nations, whence come reports of women doing the hard labor in fields. It has become the pride of many American women to carry on their farms by their own efforts and to employ women of their own class to help them. In England there are communities in farming colonies, where all the work is done by women.

IN THE WORLD OF AMUSEMENT

There can be no denying it—"The Right of Way" as a drama, bristles with interrogation points. It has been stated again and again that Charley Steele, its principal personage, is a "human interrogation point," but after Eugene W. Presbury's adaptation of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel at the Grand Opera House last evening, a good many of those who witnessed it have added several more interrogation points. Some are: "If Sir Gilbert Parker approved of Mr. Presbury's first arrangement, why has Mr. Presbury changed it? Why the change from the burning of the church at Caudebec to the variety of Cooling Springs? Is the latest solution of Steele's perplexities really a complete one?" Other questions could be asked, but it is useless to be querulous in the presence of so stupendous a task as Mr. Presbury has undertaken. All playgoers know the futility of attempting to please the readers of popular novels, who often look for the whole of a book to be crammed into a four or five-act play. In the present adaptation Mr. Presbury has done no better or worse than the most of adapters. To begin, the character of Beauty Steele is a most complex one for stage purposes, and it is doubtful whether any dramatist or actor can place it satisfactorily before the public. Then, the story is lengthy and elaborately worked out—so woven, in fact, that the dramatist cannot safely pick from it portions here and there to form a satisfactory stage garment.

The principal scenes of the five-act drama are Steele's office, the Cote Doria and Joe Portugais' hut on the mountain, and in these he has certainly placed many strong and impressive incidents. But, in themselves, without thinking of the novel, make a powerful play. In the first scene Steele's Montreal life and habits are well brought out, and the chief preliminary incidents are skilfully dovetailed together. The Cote Doria that the club prospects for next season were extremely bright, and hoped that it would not be long before the Hamilton Cricket Club would hold a foremost place in the cricket events of the province, as was the case not so many years ago. Mr. Martin also thanked the management for the privileges that had been extended to the club.

The bill was enthusiastically received, and many favorable comments were heard regarding the excellence of the performance. Miss Grace Hazard, the dainty soprano, in her entertaining act of "Five Feet of Comic Opera," and J. Francis Dooley & Co., were among the chief hits with the audience.

Interpretative Readings.
The Conservatory of Music announces a most interesting series of interpretative readings by Mrs. Sidney Dunn. Mrs. Dunn's name is synonymous with all that is best in this most fundamental of arts—expression, and some unusually interesting and elevating evenings are promised. Through an error the announcements issued were for Friday, Nov. 5th, when it should have been Tuesday, Nov. 5th. Patrons are asked to accept this correction. Mrs. Dunn will be assisted by Mr. Arthur Ostler, Miss Elizabeth Herald and Miss Anna Laidlaw.

Wire at the Savoy.
The management of the Savoy Theatre, in view of the great interest taken here in the result of the Tiger-Montreal football game to-morrow afternoon, has made special arrangements to have the score called off by quarters at the matinee performance. The result of the Argonaut-Ottawa game will also be announced. The three Ernesto Sisters, an European aerial novelty from Europe, is announced as one of the strong features for next week's bill. Joe Maxwell and Company, the headliner, presenting "A Night in a Police Station," a clever one-act musical comedy by Joe Hart, have an act that abounds in excellent singing and clever work. The ten people in the cast are all said to be capable actors and to have good voices.

SCENE FROM "A WAY DOWN EAST," Which will appear at the Grand next week.

scene epitomizes Steele's search for death, and the but scenes show him first without his memory, and then restored to his former mental health, with his great love for Rosalie and her great love for him. The love element is more direct and compressed than in the novel, and a good many of the original incidents are transposed and altered to meet dramatic exigencies. In the last scene, the adapter claims to have solved the problem, which the novelist would not at all could not solve; but it is doubtful whether last evening's audience was contented with the solution. However that may be, it was apparent that all that was said and done could have been said and done in the previous scene, thus saving a wait and a stage rest, and so, in regard to Steele's decision, once again comes the query, Who knows?

As to the production, little but praise can be said. Guy Standing probably never before had so hard a character to interpret as Charley Steele, and that he made so much of it is very much to his credit. In the first scene he was most admirable as the cynical, doubting heart-racked lawyer; in the second scene the abandon and recklessness were well sustained, and in the remaining scenes there was acting of a high order in depicting the varying emotions of the dead-to-the-world man, who had taken on a new life, with love at the centre of it all. Mr. Standing received a series of curtain calls, and in response to inconsiderate applauders, took himself out of the picture and thanked the audience for its praise of the actors. The other characters in the cast were many, but only a few had opportunity to distinguish themselves. Theodore Roberts was effective as Portugais, supporting Mr. Standing splendidly. His pathetic scenes were very strong. In his efforts to be impressive in parts where he should speak low, he was inadvisable to a good many, and little effects here and there were lost. Miss May Buckley was sweetly sympathetic as Rosalie, and presented a pretty picture. Miss Lomon, as Mrs. Steele, had little to do, but did that little well. Other well-sustained parts were those of Billy, Joseph Two-Two, the Cure, Henry Wenman, M. Rossignol, Alex. Kearney, and the Abbé, Henry J. Hadfield. The stage settings were complete in every way.

"The Right of Way" will be repeated this evening.

Cricket night at Savoy.
The largest and most fashionable audience that has graced the Savoy Theatre this season was present last night—cricket night, the performance being in honor of the Hamilton Cricket Club, which benefited in a financial way from it. The theatre was crowded from pit to dome and many persons stood throughout the performance. In the boxes and dress circle were scores of ladies and gentlemen in evening dress. Hamilton society being well represented. The stage and boxes were nicely decorated, union jacks and the club's colors being used. Between two of the acts, Mr. Kirwan Martin, on behalf of the Club, stepped on the stage and sincerely thanked the brilliant audience for its liberal support, in such a worthy object, that of assisting the club. He was sure that the members of the club were grateful for the assistance rendered. He mentioned

At Bennett's Theatre.
A collection of stars comprise the bill at Bennett's this week, and it includes a little of everything. Comedy predominates, however, and the ever changing scenes follow each other with such rapidity as to please even the most exacting. Each number is meritorious, but the act which stands out as being distinctly attractive is "The Goal Strike," a comical skit which covers its presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Murphy, far from being as serious as the name might imply, the piece is one of the most laughable seen here this season. For effective staging and dramatic presentation "The Card Party" is a perfect gem. It is produced by Edward Forsberg and company four exceptionally clever artists. Mr. Forsberg's acting is superb. There is a delightful combination of mirth and music in "A Rustic Romeo," the sketch presented by Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Lucier. The piece is acknowledged to be one of the best acts on the bill, both for its clever conception and genuine humor.

Gardner and Stoddard, in their vaudeville frivolities, have an act which they need never be ashamed of. Miss Stoddard mimics the mimics and Mr. Gardner indulges in a lot of fun making on a piano, which occasions much merriment.

McNish and Penfold are another pair of good entertainers, and their act is receiving favorable criticism from the bulk of theatre-goers. Willis and Hassan, equilibrist; Elsie Harvey and the Field boys, singers and dancers, and Wenden and Taylor, song illustrators, complete the bill. There will be a "Teddy Bear" matinee to-morrow.

Several of the greatest acts in vaudeville have been booked for next week, including the sensational laughing act, "Motoring," which has recently attained an enviable reputation throughout the States. Della Fox, the famous comic opera singer, who will sing the song that made her famous, "A Pretty Girl, A Summer's Night." The other good ones are: George H. Wood, monologist; Don at Bedina, European acrobat, and his trained dogs; Bruno and Russell, singers and dancers; Zeno, Jordan and Zeno, famous tumblers; Wesson, Walters and Wesson, in "The Hotel Repose," and the Clarence Sisters, singers and dancers.

Next Week's Attractions.
"Shadowed by Three" will be the attraction of the Grand to-morrow afternoon and evening. It is a detective play of more than usual strength and should please those who like the melodrama. Seats are now on sale.

"The Shadow Behind the Throne," a play that was seen here last season, and created a favorable impression, will be given again on Wednesday matinee and night. Seats will be on sale on Monday.

The Grand will have a splendid attraction for Thanksgiving Day, in Wm. A. Brady's production of Lottie Blair Parker's greatest success, "Way Down East." Those who have never seen "Way Down East" are strongly advised to do so upon this occasion, for there is no more delightful rural play on the stage at the present time. For ten years this play has delighted millions of people throughout the country, and that it has lost none of its popularity is evident from the constantly increasing business it has done everywhere. People seem never to tire of it, and it may be likened to Tenyson's "Brook," which flows on forever.

Something New.
In connection with the entertainment which will be held in the recital hall of the Conservatory of Music to-morrow evening, under the auspices of St. Patrick's Club, John J. Hackett will put on a new singing creation, entitled "Top of the Mornin' to You, Bridget McQue." The music of the piece is by Harry Von Tilzer and the piece has been staged by Mr. Hackett. It will be presented for the first time. It contains a chorus something after the style of "The Irish Maids," which was produced successfully last year.

BENNETT MEETINGS.

First of the Sunday Evening Services on November 3.
Arrangements for the Sunday evening temperance mass meetings at the Bennett Theatre are rapidly progressing. Yesterday the committee in charge visited the auditorium in order to be able intelligently to adjust the various details. A more inviting place for an evangelistic service, they thought, it would be difficult to imagine. Because it is not a church, it will attract the non-church-going element, whom it is desired to influence, and it would not be surprising to see such scenes duplicated as when Moody and Sanky utilized similar places of secular amusement in the chief cities of America and Great Britain. Although termed temperance

BERRY AND BALLOON

Tynside Man Talks About His Unusual Experience.

Mr. Thos. Berry, the Tynside farmer, who was the first man to shake hands with the American aeronauts when they landed, talks most interestingly of the unusual experience.

"I have read some about airships and navigation in the clouds," said Mr. Berry, "and it seemed quite natural to have a couple of aeronauts dropping in on us about supper time. 'I tell you,' continued Mr. Berry, in his peculiar way, 'those Americans seemed mighty glad to strike solid ground again. It was a good thing, too, for they were real nice chaps. I helped them pack up their balloons, gave them some supper, and when they would not remain all night, I carted them into town. The hotel, of course, was closed. 'After pounding on the door for a while some person yelled 'Who's there?' 'The latest arrivals from the clouds,' I replied.

"Tell them to anchor alongside, and I'll be down in a minute," was the answer I got," said Mr. Berry, who further declared that he did not attach any great significance to the arrival of the aeronauts until he discovered that all Caledonia was talking about it.

The balloon was in a plowed field on the farm of James Cummings. Had it dragged six inches further it probably would have been torn by a barbed wire fence, which surrounds the field. The anchor, however caught in the soft earth and held fast.

"They slit the balloon, or opened a valve, or something," said Mr. Berry, "and the big thing just nestled down like a hen over a batch of chickens; didn't seem to be any jar at all. The men had not entirely run out of food, and one of the souvenirs which I thought it worth while to take was a St. Louis sandwich. It isn't often that a sandwich flies a thousand miles and lands near our farm. My boy had one, too."

The aeronauts left their megaphone, several paper pie plates and other articles with Mr. Berry as souvenirs. A couple of scores of hard-boiled eggs were distributed over the country between Caledonia and Port Dover, in the process of lightening the ballast.

EXCELSIOR CLUB.

Zion Tabernacle Young Men Re-elect Dr. Davey.

The young men of Zion Tabernacle Excelsior Club held their election of officers last evening, after all the business in connection with the banquet of last week had been disposed of.

Dr. J. Edgar Davey, who has held the office of president for three years, was compelled to accept it again, as the boys of the club feel that as president the doctor is "the best that is." He will be ably assisted by the following officers:

First Vice-President—Will Blake. Second Vice-President—Will Cook. Third Vice-President—Martin Hoth. Secretary—Geo. Congdon. Treasurer—Geo. Bennett. Pianist—Harold Newson. Reporters—Geo. R. Weber and Bert W. Sharpe.

Owing to the holiday, there will be no meeting of the club next Thursday evening.

ESPARANTO.

Knox Church Young Men Hear About Universal Language.

Knox Church Young Men's Union held an open meeting last night, and there was a splendid attendance. H. T. Truscott, the president, was in the chair, and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. G. Faulkner Smith, who gave a very interesting talk on "Esparanto, the New Universal Language." A Russian doctor found it hard to master foreign languages and so he hit upon the scheme of having a simple language that could be easily learned and so invented E-sparanto. The grammar can be learned in half an hour and by the use of prefixes and suffixes words are made to have different meanings whereas in our language separate words are used. Although it is comparatively new to this country yet it has taken a great hold in the old world, where E-sparanto societies have been formed with a total membership of six hundred thousand. In London the clerks of the large mercantile houses have to pass examinations and several magazines are published in E-sparanto. Mr. Smith gave a number of blackboard illustrations, and handled the subject in a very able manner. He was tendered a very hearty vote of thanks at the close. An account of Thanksgiving Day being next Thursday there will be no meeting for two weeks hence, and it was decided to hold a social evening on that date.

GIVES ADVICE.

Simple Home Recipe Said to Do Wonders.

A well-known authority says that Backache is often nature's danger signal, which notifies the sufferer that the kidneys are sick.

The following simple home-made mixture is said to relieve backache and cleanse and build up weak, disordered kidneys, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist is authority that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble or suffer with lame back or weak bladder, or such symptoms as frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful, thick, discolored urine, etc., should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly follow its use, and it is said to do wonders for many people.

LAYING OFF MEN.

TWO LARGE TORONTO COMPANIES CURTAIL PRODUCTION.

Canada Foundry Company Cutting Down Its Staff—Mr. Frederic Nicholls Upon the Industrial Situation in This Country To-day.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The works of the Canadian Shipbuilding Company will practically be closed down as soon as the present contracts are completed, while the Canada Foundry Company has begun reduction by cutting its force of 85 blacksmiths in two. The latter had made a demand for a ten per cent. increase in wages. Recently quite a number of contracts have been refused by the Shipbuilding Company because of the labor situation and the stringency in the money market. Last winter the Shipbuilding Company had 1,025 men on its pay roll, while the pay list was over $20,000 fortnightly. However, Mr. A. Angstrom, the manager, stated yesterday that he thought conditions would be greatly improved within a couple of months. Mr. Frederic Nicholls, who is connected with both companies, was prepared to make a more general statement.

"It is clear," he said, "that every conservative manufacturer will prepare for a possible diminution of production, because even if the demand does not slacken a healthy contraction should prove beneficial." In conclusion, Mr. Nicholls pointed out that the present peculiar situation came as no surprise, and as proof of his statement he produced copies of London papers, wherein in the spring he had stated that the country was suffering from over-prosperity, because the growth of the country's material property had been so rapid and so great that the existing organizations were scarcely able to keep pace with the national progress.

GHOST AND LANDLORD.

Suit Against Winnipeg Free Press in Supreme Court.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—In the Supreme Court to-day the appeal in the case of the Manitoba Free Press vs. Nagy was heard. In October, 1905, the company published in the Free Press as a news item a report that an unoccupied house haunted by a ghost, which appeared late at night and performed strange antics, which caused timid persons to give the place a wide berth. The respondent is the owner of the building, and brought an action against the publishing company for $10,000 damages for defamation of title.

Particulars as to special damages were for expenses incurred in guarding the premises from the large crowds attracted by the item to satisfy their curiosity by visiting the place at all hours of the night; for loss of rent, depreciation in value, and other incidental expenses occasioned in consequence of the unusual disturbances thus caused in the vicinity of the property.

The action was dismissed by Judge Macdonald at the trial, but on appeal his judgment was reversed and a verdict for $1,000 entered. On the present appeal the company contends that the item was not damaging or published maliciously; that no particular premises had been indicated as haunted; that the claims for damages were cooked up and absurd, and that no malice or special damage has been proved. Judgment was reserved.

CAPTAIN AND WIFE SAVED.

Not Drowned, as Rumored, in Wreck of the Barque Jacques.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The rumored drowning of two people on the barge Jacques last night as a result of its collision in Lake St. Louis with the steamer Norwalk turns out to be false. There were no drownings. The captain, his wife and the crew escaped to another part of the vessel. The sunken vessel will be raised.

Railwaymen at London, Ont., say the recent order to reduce expenses will have little effect at that point.

South Bruce Liberals nominated Mr. R. E. Truax for the Legislature, and North Perth Conservatives nominated Hon. Nelson Monteith.

THE UNDESIRABLES.

KEEP THEM OUT; REDUCE HOTEL LICENSES IN DOMINION.

Resolutions Passed at Meeting of General Board of Temperance and Moral Reform of the Methodist Church—The Officers Elected.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The General Board of Temperance and Moral Reform of the Methodist Church in Canada at its annual meeting yesterday passed resolutions against the bringing in or inferior immigrants, commending the Government with regard to the enforcement of the liquor laws, favoring the reduction of hotel licenses throughout the Dominion wherever practicable; recommending the formation of men's brotherhoods in all congregations for the purpose of dealing with questions of social uplift, and recommending that sociality be taken up in the Methodist universities. The convention disapproved of the action of the Provincial Government with respect to the issuing of a brewery and distillers' warehouse licenses in the town of St. John in direct defiance of the expression of will of the people without any warning whatever.

The Treasurer's report showed the receipts for the year to have been $9,893.02. There was a slight deficit, and a much larger amount will be necessary to meet the expenditures being undertaken for the ensuing year.

Rev. J. W. Cooley, Grimshy, was elected on the Executive and Finance Committees. Rev. T. Albert Moore was placed on several committees. Rev. Jas. Henderson, of Ottawa, was appointed to the vacancy on the General Board by the removal of Rev. George F. Saiton to another district. Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. Watson, Rev. Dr. Cowan, Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, Rev. Dr. Albert Moore, Rev. W. H. Huicks and Alexander Mills were appointed a committee to confer with the Moral Reform Board of the Presbyterian Church along the lines of moral and social reform and arrange for a co-operation between the churches. Rev. Dr. Carman presided.

TORONTO LIFE CLAIM.

Claimants Against York Loan Hold $3,000 Stock Certificates.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Claims amounting in the neighborhood of $5,500 were presented before Referee George Kappelle in the York County Loan & Savings Company proceedings in behalf of the Toronto Insurance Company yesterday afternoon. The insurance concern as subsidiary to the York Loan Company was in the practice of selling its life insurance policies on part payment of shares in the York Loan Company. Of these they hold a about $3,000 face value. Beyond that they are also asking rent from the liquidators for premises owned by them and occupied by the York Loan Company. Mr. Kappelle allowed the claim for rent to be put in as an ordinary account, otherwise no decision was given. Argument continues this afternoon.

BURNED IN HIS BUNK.

Construction Car Destroyed by Fire Near Morden, Man.

Morden, Man., Oct. 24.—As the result of a fire on the new Midland Railway early this morning William Parenteau, of Otterburn, Man., was burned to death, and William Strassburg lies in Wallhall Hospital, probably fatally burned. At 4.30 this morning the engine car of the construction gang on the Great Northern Railway at Heskett, a point sixteen miles southeast from Morden, took fire from an explosion of the stove, and was totally destroyed. There were two occupants, William Strassburg, the time-keeper, who escaped with very severe burns, and is now in critical condition, and William Parenteau, time-keeper, who was burned to death in his bunk.

WHAT IS A DAY'S WORK?

Manufacturers Object to the Nine-Hour Clause.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Representatives of the Manufacturers' Association waited on the Board of Control yesterday with reference to the clause in contracts for city work calling for a nine-hour day, to which they objected.

Mr. A. R. Williams, of John Inglis Company, said he stood for freedom, and tenders for city work should be free of such hampering conditions. He referred to the machinists' strike, and said, with in a year men would be willing to work eleven hours a day for ten hours' pay.

The board promised to consider the question, and asked the manufacturers to put their case in writing. The same request had been made when representatives of the labor unions waited on the board last week.

GAS SUPPLY CUT OFF.

Chatham Factories Close Down and People Wear Their Overcoats.

Chatham, Oct. 24.—The main which carries the natural gas to Chatham from the Tilbury wells burst at 10 o'clock this morning, and the escaping gas later caught fire.

The Volcanic Oil and Gas Company, from whose wells the gas is brought, are experiencing great difficulty in repairing the break. As the boilers at the Chatham Steam Heating Company's plant are heated with natural gas, the result has been that the stores, offices, factories, city and county buildings, as well as the schools, have been without heat all day. Traffic on the C. W. & L. E. Railway ceased this morning. The boilers at the power house are heated with gas, and there was no means of generating steam.

Many factories which use gas engines have had to shut down for the time being. Both local newspapers came out this evening all "hand-stud," there being no gas to melt the metal in the typesetting machines, and in the stores and offices men might be seen working with their overcoats and hats on.

Next Emperor of Austria, Least Known Royal Prince, is Man of Strong Character.

(By Ex-Attache.)

Of all the royal personages of Europe there is none that commands just as present such a widespread interest as Francis Ferdinand, Archduke of Austria. The grave illness of his uncle, Emperor Francis Joseph, broken by age and by sorrow, has had the effect of focusing the attention of the world and of the new upon his successor, and although the latter is in his fifty-fifth year, the most extraordinary ignorance prevails, not only abroad, but even in Austria and Hungary themselves, concerning him.

In fact, it is difficult to recall any prince who has come to the throne in mature manhood about whose personality, character, political views, tastes, and even environment, so little is known. Indeed, he is almost an enigma, not only to his countrymen, but also to foreign nations, and the political outlook of Europe would appear clearer to the puzzled statesmen in the various capitals of the old world if they possessed more information concerning Francis Ferdinand and had some data on which to base their speculations as to the probable course of the policy which he will inaugurate as ruler of the dual empire.

Before going any further it may be as well to explain how it has been possible for a prince of the rank of Francis Ferdinand to surround his existence with such an amount of mystery. It is not such an amount of mystery as he has pursued methods of the late King Louis of Bavaria, whose horror of publicity was so great that he was wont to establish his abode in the most inaccessible mountain fastnesses and never to drive abroad save in the middle of the night. It is merely that in Austria a great majority of the common people, and the remainder of mankind.

Not that the Hapsburgs are arrogant. On the contrary, they are most kindly and unaffected, with even the lowest classes. They are, however, somewhat Olympian in their relations to the aristocracy and to the bourgeoisie, and there is but little of that close and intimate friendship which unites the patriotee to the members of the reigning house in other monarchies. The Austrian nobles are faithful, devoted, and loyal retainers of the Hapsburgs, but always remain in the role of servants. There is no question of their being hereditary, and the sovereign and his family, as in other countries, and the relations are perhaps best illustrated by the response given by an archduke at a popular fete to a newly-fledged baron, who, with the tactlessness of the parvenus of his kind, had taken it upon himself to deprecate the presence of so many of the common herd, intimating that their contact must be disagreeable to the prince.

"Not at all," the latter exclaimed, generally, "if we members of the Imperial family were to be restricted to the companionship of people of our own caste we should be obliged to spend most of our days in the vaults of the Capuchin Church—where so many hundreds of the Hapsburgs sleep their last sleep."

Then, too, the serious illness which overtook Francis Ferdinand shortly after the tragic death of Crown Prince Rudolf compelled him to lead for several years a quiet and retired life. It was a malady of such gravity that it was regarded for a time as eliminating him from all consideration in connection with the succession to the throne. Contrary to general expectation, he recovered, and his convalescence was signalized by a romance in which Countess Sophie Chotek, daughter of a former Austrian Minister Plenipotentiary at Dresden and one time lady in waiting to Archduchess Frederick, was the heroine.

Francis Ferdinand insisted upon making the countess his wife. By a morganatic alliance only could he do this, and all sorts of obstacles were placed in the way thereof, mainly of a dynastic, political, and also of a more personal character. The dynastic and political objections to the match were due to the fact that he was destined to succeed the present Emperor on the throne of Austria and of Hungary.

The personal opposition came largely from his relatives, especially from Archduchess Frederick, who, after his refusal to wed Archduchess Maria Dorothea, now Duchess of Orleans, had counted upon his marrying one of her daughters, and who was terribly disappointed to find that they had been cut out, so to speak, by her lady in waiting, Emperor Francis Joseph, however, ultimately gave his consent to the match upon the archduke's registering a solemn oath on the gospels and in writing, in the presence of the princes of the house and of the great dignitaries of the realm, whereby he pledged himself that on becoming emperor he would never take advantage of any of the political or dynastic objections any sons born of the union with rights to the crown.

Moreover, he renounced in the name of his unborn children, all pretensions to Imperial rank and to all prelates. The difficulties which he had encountered in marrying the countess, the anomalous position assigned to her as his morganatic wife, whereby she was deprived of any share in his honors as a member of the reigning family, and the affronts to which she was subjected by certain of his relatives, as well as by some of the great nobility, who resented the idea that a mere Bohemian Countess Chotek should become the wife of their future emperor, all contributed to keep the archduke in the background during the first few years of his wedded existence. Also he is exceedingly domestic in his confiscated the temporalities of the papacy, are not the motives of Francis Ferdinand's aversion to Italy, but merely contributory thereto.

If he regards the alliance with Italy as a mere sham, not worth the paper on which it is written, and King Victor Emmanuel's subjects as the most irreconcilable of the foes of Austria, it is because he knows full well that every patriotic Italian is imbued with the determination to add sooner or later to united Italy those portions of the empire of Francis Joseph where Italian is the language spoken, and which are never referred to in the dominions of Victor Emmanuel otherwise than by the expressive name of Italia Irredenta—that is to say, unredeemed Italy.

Francis Ferdinand has three children by his marriage, who bear their mother's princely title of Hohenberg, with the predicate of serene highness. He eldest is a girl, who has received her mother's name of Sophie, and the address is boy, Prince Maximilian, being now 5 years of age, and his brother, Ernest, only 3. Their father is devoted to his children, and has them with him on every occasion. They even used to accompany him when he went out shooting in the big forest around his stately chateau of Konopischt, until he found that this interfered with his sports, as they are so passionately fond of animals that whenever any game came within reach of his gun they would clasp hold of his arms and entreat him not to shoot the pretty animal or bird, as the case might be.

Although from an ecclesiastical point of view the church in the person of the Pope would have the power of relieving him of the obligations of the oath which he made at the time of his marriage to refrain from raising his wife to the throne and his children into the line of succession thereto, yet Francis Ferdinand's sense of honor is so keen that there is no reason whatsoever to suppose that he will yield to the longings of his heart and break the promise which he gave to the members of his house, the government of the dual empire, and to the people. Throughout his reign, at any rate as long as she remains unmarried, his half-sister, Archduchess Maria Annunciata, of the Hradraschin, will continue to play the role of acting empress and of first lady of the empire, to which she was appointed a year ago on the death of Archduke Otto, and on all state functions and official ceremonies the princess of Hohenberg will be obliged to yield the pas to her sister-in-law.

It is Archduke Otto's eldest son, Charles Francis, who is the next in line of succession to his uncle, Francis Ferdinand. The lad, who recently attained his majority on his twentieth birthday, which he celebrated last August at Ischl with his granduncle, Emperor Francis Joseph, has been brought up altogether under the latter's influence and direction, and received the early part of his education in one of the public grammar schools of Vienna, being the first son of the House of Hapsburg to thus take his place on the benches of the public institutions, beside the sons of petty tradesmen, artisans, and laborers, thus coming into close touch and intimate contact with the people over whom he is destined in the course of time to reign.

He has inherited the good looks and striking appearance of his dashing father, but not the latter's moral shortcomings, and is justly regarded as one of the most promising princes of the historic dynasty of Hapsburg.

"The Toller and Other Poems" is the title of a neat little volume of verse by Wm. J. Fischer, Waterloo, Ontario, with portrait of the author and four illustrations by A. M. Wickson. It is not the first effort of the author, who has before appeared before the public in "Songs of the Wayside." The contents of the present volume are mostly short, being more than three stanzas in length. Not all of them would be classed as titles to fame, but many of them breathe a true poetic spirit and are well worthy of preservation to Canadian literature, and the young poet should receive a hearty reception at the hands of the Canadian public.

OLDEST BANK IN THE WORLD.

There was a kind of public record of office attached to the palace and temple at Nineveh, in which it was customary to deposit important legal and other documents, such as contracts and agreements for the purchase and sale of property, marriage settlements, wills, etc. Among these there were discovered official statements as to the history and transactions of the eminent banking house of 2300 at Nineveh. Assyrian chronology proves that these refer to a date about 2300 years before the Christian era, when Abraham dwelt at Ur of the Chaldees, as is stated in Genesis. We may, therefore, claim for this firm the reputation of being the oldest bank in the world, at least, of which we have any record, or are likely to have. The accounts are very voluminous, and cover the transactions of five generations of the house from father to son. The firm grew rapidly in importance during this period, during which they attained great wealth; for they had succeeded in securing from the King the appointment of collectors of taxes and sale of property, the east always leads to fortune. They afterwards framed the revenue for several of the Assyrian Provinces, with very great gain to the firm.—T. P. London Weekly.

FOUND FATHER.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE OF A KINGSTON LADY.

Mrs. Charles Herbert's Father Went Away Before She Was Born and His Wife Died—He Was Told the Baby Was Also Dead—Located in Victoria, B. C.

Kingston, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Charles Herbert, Pine street, has discovered the whereabouts of her father, whom she never saw, as he was supposed to have been drowned at the time of her birth. Her father is T. F. Setterington of Victoria, B. C. Twenty-four years ago Mr. Setterington purchased his discharge from B Battery here and took a berth on the steamer "Ansonia" bound for Lake Superior ports. He left behind him a wife, who died two weeks after her husband was wrecked on Lake Superior and all hands were supposed to have been drowned, but Mr. Setterington was rescued by Indians and kept by them till the spring of the following year. When he returned to civilization he was informed that his wife and the child he had never seen were dead. The baby, who was taken by her uncle, John Tisdale, of Barfield, was brought up and educated by his father, and she thought to be dead the child took the name of Tisdale. When she was twenty years old, four years ago, she was married to Charles Herbert.

A few months ago a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert, who knew of the supposed fate of Mrs. Herbert's father, said there was a man of the same name living in Victoria, B. C., and he was quite sure it was her father.

Mrs. Herbert wrote to the man at the address given her and was pleasantly surprised when she received a letter from him telling her that he indeed was her father.

A Rapid Pace.

From what is gathered from the Winnipeg newspapers, the city has a floating debt of $2,500,000. It also voted for schemes that call for an expenditure of $5,500,000, and is being by some urged to vote for other schemes that will involve an outlay of $10,000,000. Some conservative persons object to the latter on the ground that the obligations are valueless, and that the city is overburdened, however, too much to expect that they were listened to. Winnipeg has not yet reached the stage of development where the taxpayer can expect to outvote the land holder.

BELGIAN WOMEN TOILERS

Societies for the advancement of womanhood could find abundant work in Belgium. To-day the land of King Leopold is perhaps further behind the times in its treatment of the gentler sex than any other country of Europe.

The Belgian woman still does the manual labor of the land as she once did it all over the world. The value of progress, whose motto is "where there is a will, there is a way," has not yet reached the woman of the little strip of land 12 miles by 12 miles that refuses in the name of kingdom.

The Belgian woman is the nation's farmer, miner, laborer, and mechanic. She tills the soil, she works in the mines, she works in the factories, and she works in the fields. She is the backbone of the nation, and she is the backbone of the world.

She is the backbone of the nation, and she is the backbone of the world. She is the backbone of the nation, and she is the backbone of the world.

W. J. BRYAN.

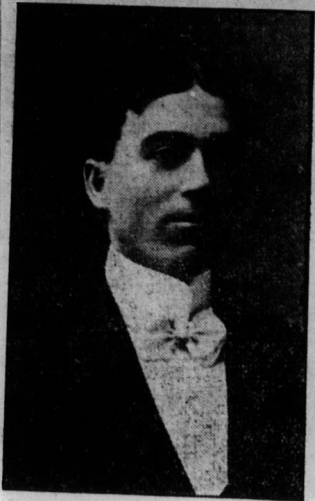

Depends on Roosevelt Whether He Will Be a Candidate or Not.

New York, Oct. 25.—A despatch to the Herald from New York, N. Y., says: It can be asserted on unquestionable authority that Wm. J. Bryan's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination is now almost dependent upon what President Roosevelt will do about the third-term movement. If the President yields to the insistent demands to accept the Republican nomination for another term, Mr. Bryan will step aside and permit the leadership of his party to be placed in other hands than his.

—The Nebraska has been sounding the Roosevelt sentiment as well as the Bryan sentiment in typical centres of New York State since last Monday. He will continue his peregrinations through the state until next Wednesday, when he will start for the west with his mind virtually made up as to what will be the most expedient thing to do with reference to his own candidacy.

—The average duration of the reign of English monarchs for the last 600 years has been 21 years.

Overcoats

When a man throws discretion to the winds and buys an Overcoat at random, wears it and finds it plays him false, he drops that make and tries another.

Such promiscuous clothes buying is unwise.

When a man buys a "Sovereign Brand" Overcoat he finds sufficient style, fit, wear and general satisfaction in it to make him return here for his next clothing need.

If you buy a Coat here this season, you won't bother with custom tailors any more.

Of course "Sovereign Brand" Coats cost a little more than the ordinary kind. These good coats are for men who are willing to pay $12, $15, $18, $20, $25 and $30, and the quality of workmanship and material in every garment more than justifies the price. Cheaper Coats at $5 to $10.
