London, July 23.—Madalarl Dhinagari, the Indian student who on the night of July 1st, at the conclusion of a public gathering in the Imperial Institute, shot and killed Lieut.-Col. Sir Wm. Hutt Curzon Wyllie and Dr. Cawas Lalcaea, was to-day found guilty and sentenced to death at the conclusion of the trial of the Mackenzie & Mann people has been to run their lines as close as possible to the centre of large cities.

As the Lord Chief Justice concluded in pronouncing sentence, the prisoner drew himself up in military style and saluted. He said: "I thank you, my Lord. I am proud to have the honor of laying down my humble life for my country. Your sentence of death is perfectly illegal. You are all-powerful and can do what you like; but remember we will have the power some day. That is all I have to say."

THE MAN IN OVERALLS.

What's the use of having a City Engineer if you can't trust him?

Things have come to a pretty pass when women can't go out at nights without being insulted. Who is responsible for this sort of thing?

Patronize Dr. Roberts' milk dairy and save baby's life.

The Civic Holiday will be the next disputation. What's the programme?

Of course, I suppose you are saving up for a rainy day. The winter is sometimes long and cold.

Have you taken your cemetery fence down yet? Lots of them are down. Quite an improvement.

Ain't mother going to get any holidays this year? Not even a trip to Toronto? You can't mean it.

Surely we can manage to have a flower show this season. Call a meeting.

As Mr. Callaghan remarks, there is politics in the hotel business, and you can hear him laugh heartily as he says so.

Inspector Sturdy is beginning to see that it is not easy to please two masters.

The ladies are just about as scared to go out at night as if there were a Jack the Huggin in town.

Honest, now, don't you think the City Engineer should know whether a gas engine or an electric motor would be preferable for pumping the water up to the mountain top? What do we pay him a salary for?

Complaints again reach me of persons cutting corners and tramping across lawns.

Brantford seems to be the only place that is not worrying about the power question. It knows exactly where it is at.

What would become of Niagara Falls if there were no grocers' picnic?

Are you shopping early? Don't forget that 5 o'clock is the closing hour.

Bad companions get the blame for many things, but who makes the bad companions bad?

Judging from his name, Grand Master MacWatt must be a Scottish Riter.

It looks to me as if the Mountaineers will have to carry water all winter.

The man in the next block thinks an awful lot of his wife. He says she makes all her own dresses, bakes all her own bread and does all her own washing.

SLOVENLY PACKING

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Grimsby, July 23.—Grimsby district fruit dealers are getting wrathful at the numerous complaints coming from customers over the contents of crates and baskets that are not up to the standard as regards packing, quality of contents, and poor measure.

A large meeting of buyers, held on Tuesday night, the matter was discussed from all points, and it was decided if complaints continue, to appeal to the Agricultural Department for an inspector.

A great fault with shippers is the poor attention paid in fastening the covers of packages. There are seldom more than two fasteners put in, and the chances are that the cover in every ten works loose in transit and either spills a portion of the contents or disorganizes them to such an extent that there is very little resemblance to the genuine article that left the orchards when it arrives on the consumer's table.

The housekeeper then raises a row with the city dealer, and the latter sits down and sends off a hot letter to the fruit district. If growers do not pay more attention to these most important details at once there is going to be something done between them and the buyers. There is no excuse these days for such slovenly packing as is noticeable every day.

Baskets with one half handles, or no handles at all, torn covers, with one end agape, and dirty, mouldy, shrivelled-up contents rushed in at the last minute in the confusion of shipping, are to be seen. These are not casual matters at all, and reflect severely on the trade to the detriment of careful shippers.

A couple of lawsuits in each locality would bring some of these growers to their senses, and show them that the great industry must be protected even at the cost of some hard feelings. It has come to the pitch that the consumer will not stand it any longer. The wholesaler and retailer feel that it has gone far enough, and the district buyers have come to the conclusion that patience is no longer a shining light.

5,000 SEATS.

Audience May Sing Some Choruses at the Tattoo.

Campbell Bros. have the contract for building the seats in the Cricket Grounds for the tattoo next Tuesday evening. The seating arrangement will be built in the form of a square, with accommodation for three thousand people.

In addition to this there will be two thousand and reserve seats. A pleasing innovation to the audience will be the privilege of singing in the choruses of the "Maple Leaf," and "Rule Britannia," also "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The audience will kindly take time from the associate conductors stationed at each side of the square.

APPEAL IN HAYES' CASE.

Indications Are That He Will Win It.

Dundurn Ice Cream Case Before Judge Monck.

Decision Reserved Pending the Submission of Argument.

The appeal entered by A. M. Lewis on behalf of Hugh Hayes, who was fined by Magistrate Jells for selling ice cream at Dundurn Park on Sunday, July 4, was heard by Judge Monck this morning.

Constables Cameron and Smith were called and gave an account of what they witnessed in Hayes' restaurant on the day in question. When they entered they saw several people eating ice cream and cake.

They particularly noticed a father give Hayes ten cents and ask for wafers and ice cream for his boy. When they questioned him, he said he sold cake and gave the ten cents to the waiter, but without success. Several other witnesses were called, all of whom told the same story of seeing ice cream and cake, but saw no one get ice cream alone.

Hayes himself said he paid $540 a year for the privileges of running the restaurant, which gave him the exclusive right to sell lunches and refreshments. He supplied hot water and tea to all who called for it, and served orders to tables in the ordinary way.

When an order came to him for cake and ice cream he served it, and many made a lunch of this order.

He practically admitted to Crown Attorney Washington that were it not for the ice cream part of his business he would have to close up, and if it could not be served on Sunday he was dubious as to whether he would open on that day.

Judge Monck was very much inclined to grant Hayes' appeal, as no evidence had been brought to show that he sold ice cream alone, and he thought that it was a fair case.

Mr. Washington argued that the ice cream was the main branch of his business, and that was where Hayes made his profit. It was virtually an ice cream business, and he thought Hayes was only trying to evade the law by providing cake.

In his opinion he was guilty of violating the Act.

Mr. Lewis argued strongly that the prisoner, under the Act, was not guilty of the charge, as his business was kept in a restaurant, and not an ice cream stand.

His Honor reserved judgment, as both solicitors had arguments to bring forward, and as the question was an important one, he was especially particular about it.

SOLD AT $2,500.

City Has Last Chance to Acquire MacNab Acre.

Hamilton has last its chance to secure for park purposes the seven-eighths of an acre of land adjoining Dundurn Park, known as the Sir Allan MacNab burial ground, and which was reserved by the family when the Dundurn property was sold to the late Senator MacInnes many years ago.

The property was offered to the Paris Board for $800, but when the board was asked to pay the transfer costs a dispute arose and the deal fell through.

The estate has now sold the land, and the price obtained shows that the $800 and transfer costs was ridiculously low. The estate obtained $2,500 and cost of transfer. The land is beautifully wooded, containing forty or fifty fine old trees and it is altogether likely they will be cut down.

SHARP STORM.

Horses Killed—Sub-Station in Dundas Burned.

Last night's storm, short and sharp though it was, did a good deal of damage around the country, causing a number of fires and killing horses and cattle. Mr. Charles Blain, whose farm is on the Ancaster mountain road, about three miles west of the city, found two fine horses dead in his field this morning.

Both had been killed by lightning. They were found in the open field, far from any tree, fence or building. Nothing else on the farm was struck.

At Dundas, just as the sharpest flash of lightning aroused the sleepers, shortly after 3 o'clock, all the electric lights went out. The Cataract sub-station on the line of the H. & D., in the east end, was struck. A large quantity of oil was stored there, and was burned. So hot was the fire that the building, although it was solid concrete, including the roof, was destroyed. The town manufacturing concerns which use electric power were idle to-day.

VERY HEAVY.

Record In Ore Carrying to the Hamilton Smelter.

According to official reports more than a million and a half tons of ore have passed over the G. T. R. so far en route from Point Edward to Hamilton for smelting.

At the present time the shipments are very heavy, and several trains a day are being rushed through. Officials report that traffic in all departments is keeping up exceptionally well and the outlook is for a busy fall.

Passenger traffic has not been so good in years, and all the through trains are carrying special coaches to accommodate the summer tourists.

Celestials in Another Mixed-Up Case in Court.

Walter Higham Given Chance to Support His Wife.

SERGT-MAJOR S. J. HUGGINS. Wins a place on second stage of King's Prize at Bisley with score of 99.

WARRANT FOR HIS ARREST.

Baggage Man Got Away Before It Could be Executed.

Was at Beamsville, But Fooled the Police There.

Beamsville, July 22.—(Special)—Constable A. B. Tufford and G. T. R. detectives have been on a still hunt in this locality for several days trying to get some trace of a man named Eakins, alias W. O. Williams, who, it is said, is wanted on a charge of fraud while employed as a baggage man at the Grand Trunk Station in Hamilton.

Williams was here on Monday night and Tuesday morning met a young lady of 23 years, who had been staying with her aunt, and who was to have left that morning for home in Huron county. Instead of doing so, she accompanied Williams to St. Catharines. Whether she has yet arrived at her home was not known by her relatives last night. Constable Tufford says Williams is a married man.

The meeting here, according to information, was evidently planned ahead. The authorities would very much like to lay their hands on the man just now.

Eakins, or Williams, came to this city only a few weeks ago and was employed at the G. T. R. Stuart Street Station. Last week the officials became suspicious and had a warrant issued for his arrest. He was gone, however, before it could be executed.

Finally, through Charlie Chew, who acted as interpreter, His Worship was satisfied that Sam did assault Charlie and must pay $5. The witness who had butted in produced "the necessary" promptly and the little army of Celestials left the court.

Walter Higham again appeared and was discharged on deferred sentence with the caution that should he not support his wife he will get six months. Walter began to unload and promised at Longboat speed, and said he had a job to go to right away with his brother-in-law.

Patrick Dunny was charged with stealing some milk from a bottle this morning. He explained that he had been at Toronto yesterday, and that the stuff they serve there is made a man into a state of mental oblivion. Being dry this morning he had taken a little touch of milk from a bottle on a doorway. The Magistrate said there could hardly be a charge of theft against him, but he was fined $5 for being drunk.

P. C. Ince said Robert Walker was driving his horse and rig down York street "like chained lightning." For such a manifestation of his Jehu propensities Walker was fined $5.

Thomas Greigg was charged with stealing a pair of shoes from a car at the Terminal Station. "Guess I'm guilty; was drunk," said Tom. He was remanded till to-morrow.

Frank Liberty was fined $3 or 15 days for a breach of a city by-law. He did not appear.

The four Bulgarians who were up yesterday were discharged, as Tom Jones, the complainant, wished to withdraw the case. The costs must be paid by Jones.

Joseph Keefe was remanded till to-morrow on a charge of stealing two lanterns from the G. T. R.

Thomas Higgins, a very dear old man, was charged with indecent language to P. C. Emerson. He was let go, but the Magistrate requested his wife to make him understand that should he appear again he will be fined, and that he, the Magistrate, was angry at his conduct.

"I am with the police every time," said his Worship.

Gordon McKenzie was remanded till Monday on a charge laid by Gertrude Emerson.

Love Finds the Way

"No," said Miss Lucas, lifting her gray eyes to Lillian's face, after kissing her: "no, perfectly inexplicable. Probably Mr. Clifford will make it clear when he recovers—if he should do so."

"Well, I hope he'll get better," said Mr. Besant, impatient of the topic.

"I have been looking for you," said Lillian, having any body in the house.

"Then it isn't any use asking you to 'Yes,' said Lillian.

"Yes," said Lillian, thinking it best to get her trial over. "Yes, I will go with you; I have nothing to keep me."

"Well, I am glad to hear of it," said Mr. Besant, looking at them with troubled face—Miss Lucas with eagle eyes that followed them a great deal farther than Sir Ralph could.

"Mr. Besant did not stand shivering on the brink; he took the leap, as he phrased it, without shilly-shallying.

"Well, I am glad to hear of it," said Mr. Besant, looking at them with troubled face.

"I know I should pain you—oh, how I wish you had not compelled me to! I cannot be your wife, Mr. Besant."

"I know I should pain you—oh, how I wish you had not compelled me to! I cannot be your wife, Mr. Besant."

"I know I should pain you—oh, how I wish you had not compelled me to! I cannot be your wife, Mr. Besant."

she need not have feared Sir Ralph, for when, some hours after, having nerved herself for the task, she entered his own room to give her explanation, he merely said: "Well, my darling, he has gone?"

"Yes, papa," she said, kneeling beside him and holding her lovely face against his heart.

"And what has he taken with him, a 'yes' or a 'no'?" asked Sir Ralph, tremblingly.

"A 'no,'" she replied, firmly.

He looked astonished for a moment, then troubled, lastly, with a sigh of relief, which was like him to her heart, he took her hand in his and kissed it.

That night Miss Lucas wrote two letters, one was to Dr. Ambrose, the other to Lady Melville, and in the last she did not forget to state that Mr. Besant had been refused by Lillian Melville, and that Claude Ainsley had seen her last night in the same morning.

Miss Lucas did not explain in so many words that it was in consequence of Mr. Ainsley's visit that Mr. Besant was refused, but she left her ladyship to draw her own conclusions, thinking, with a smile, what pain those same conclusions would bring to the woman who loved them.

How sweet a peace after a storm would be if it were not so deceptive! Sometimes, notwithstanding human wisdom, one forgets that other storms may and assuredly will arise and break on the serenity of the present.

It was peace at Rivershall. Mr. Clifford was better. He had had a trying time, a weakening, wearing time, and, added the old doctor, who, of course, would not gain credit for a great cure, "a dangerous time."

"A weaker and older man would have fallen through under it," he told Sir Ralph. "For there was something more than the broken arm, something nearer the heart—ahem! A great shock, a great shock, no doubt; disturbed the proper level of the inner muscles—ahem!"

Mr. Williams had nursed him throughout with something akin to the love and devotion of a mother.

No one, not even Miss Lucas, who had tried hard to gain a footing in the sick room, had been admitted. None beside the doctor and the faithful nurse had heard the delicious man's ravings, and there were not the sort of persons to reveal them.

Mr. Clifford was coming down to-morrow. It was a happy thought for Lillian, a strangely happy one, notwithstanding that she had a right to feel happy at the recovery of the man who had dared and suffered so much for her.

She was just under that phase when one's heart is a great and unanswerable puzzle.

He had been up, but confined to his own rooms for some days past, to-morrow he was to journey down to the drawing room, and to-day seemed longer passing to the beautiful pupil.

To-morrow came and with it the convalescent.

They were seated, Sir Ralph and Lillian, before the fire in the drawing room—it was cold enough for a fire now, and the room looked all the cooler for it.

When a quiet tap at the door announced his arrival.

"Why? why?" asked Lillian, trembling.

"Why?" he repeated, fixing his dark eyes upon her. "Why? I cannot tell you. If you cannot conjecture, I cannot, I say, I dare not, tell you."

He rose and he spoke and hurried away from the piano.

Lillian, with her face down, did not look his way till she saw him sink into the chair, and then, looking up, she was alarmed at the fearful pallor of his face.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, almost as pale, and sprang towards the bell.

But he stopped her by lifting up his hand.

"Do not ring, I pray; it is only a passing weakness, and will be gone in a moment."

She obeyed, she could not do less, and as he covered his face with his thin, emaciated hand, she stole quietly back and commenced playing a sweet, delicious sonata of Mozart's.

He listened and his hand dropped from his face, showing the latter calm and grave again.

"Will you sing?" he said.

IN A TRUNK.

Body of a Man Found by Chambermaid at Lynn.

Lynn, Mass., July 22.—The body of a man packed in a trunk was found by a chambermaid in a Liberty street rooming house to-day. The body had a bullet wound over the heart. The face was mutilated, but it was partially identified as that of an American known as Frank Jones, who had rented the room about a month ago. The proprietor of the house and police are completely mystified by the discovery.

INCREASED RATES.

Montreal, July 22.—The steamship companies doing business on the St. Lawrence, and comprising the North Atlantic conference, have increased rates $1 per ton on inward traffic on weights between two and six tons. On weights over six tons special rates will be made. This is to cover port expenses.

ASTORIA. Dean Machorski, the oldest Catholic priest in the world, died Thursday, at Thorn, a town of Prussia. He was 102 years old.

these young men, who are now suffering torture, and ask that the women and children, who are weak and timid, be spared from sickness and suffering. We ask that, as there is no hope for the Arapahoes except to get their food from the earth, as does the white man, that the Great Spirit will so influence the young men and children that they may be willing to learn to cultivate the earth and to raise food to keep their people alive.

A RITE PASSING AWAY. "This prayer expressed the sentiment of the Arapahoes 30 years ago, and they have been slowly and steadily advancing toward the fulfillment of the spirit of this prayer. The Sun Dance has long been considered an obstacle in the way of civilization, and it has been forbidden by the Indian Office. There is no doubt that as long as the Sun Dance is kept up the Indian cannot engage successfully in farming and settle down in families, each family in a home of its own. The requirements of the Sun Dance are such that it requires every member of the tribe to be present; every clan must be present to fill these requirements. The Sun Dance is now very fast becoming a thing of the past, and would probably have been discontinued some time ago were it not for the fact that when a chief is installed as such he takes an obligation or pledge to do his best to help every member of the tribe to carry out every vow they may make to the Sun Spirit. When a member of the tribe makes a vow to make a Sun Dance to appease the wrath of the Great Spirit, the chief is obliged to do all in his power to call the tribe together and organize a Sun Dance. The faithfulness of the chiefs in carrying out these promises is from a certain standpoint commendable, yet as a matter of fact the Sun Dance is destined to go, and in all probability the sooner it goes the better it will be for the Indians. Yet while they were living under tribal government it filled a very important place in their affairs and was not a rite to be dispensed with lightly. That is the view which is still taken by the old timers, but they are bound to be overruled by the inevitable logic of events.

WED AT BRANDON. Son of the Late Rev. Dr. Cochrane Married. The Brandon Sun has an account of the wedding last Saturday, July 17, of Miss Anna Florence McDiarmid, of Brandon, and Mr. Alexander Robertson Cochrane, barrister, of Toronto, son of the late Rev. Dr. Cochrane, formerly pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church, Brandon. A charming wedding, it says, of unusual interest to Brandon residents, was that of Miss Anna Florence McDiarmid, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. McDiarmid, 641 Lorne avenue, of Toronto, which took place this afternoon at 2:30 p. m., in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

INFlicted TERIBLE PAIN. "The sun was up to high noon; six warriors stood nude except a breech cloth and fastening; in their bleeding breasts was fastened a rawhide lariat roped fastened to sticks thrust under the skin or some tied to the skin, which had been raised up for the purpose. One warrior was dragging a buffalo head, with the horns on, by a buffalo lariat roped, fastened to the skin which was raised up from his shoulder blade, and several passed under it while he dragged it around the grounds. The blood was streaming down his back and as the horns on the head would catch in the ground, the skin on the Indian's back would be peeled out several inches.

THE MASONIC TORONTO LADY. Brings Suit Against Her Husband in Detroit For Divorce. Belleville Is to Have the Meeting Next Year.

LONDON, July 23.—In the election of officers of the Masonic Grand Lodge there were twenty-four candidates, and it took so long to count the ballots that the result could not be announced until the lodge assembled for the afternoon session. R. W. Bro. Judge D. J. MacWatt, of Sarnia, was elected Grand Master without opposition. There was a contest for Deputy Grand Master between R. Wor. Bro. Aubrey White, of Toronto, and R. Wor. Bro. A. Shaw, of Kingston. Bro. White was chosen by a large majority. The list is as follows: Immediate Past Grand Master—M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed, Hamilton. Grand Master—M. W. Bro. Judge D. J. MacWatt, Sarnia (acclamation). Deputy Grand Master—R. W. Bro. Aubrey White, Toronto. Grand Senior Warden—R. W. Bro. Thos. Rowe, London. Grand Junior Warden—R. W. Bro. J. P. Rankin, Stratford. Grand Treasurer—M. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, Toronto (acclamation). Grand Secretary—R. W. Bro. R. L. Gunn, Hamilton (acclamation). Grand Registrar—R. W. Bro. Geo. M. Gorrell, Morrisburg. Grand Chaplain—R. W. Bro. Rev. F. E. Pitta, New Liskeard. Board of General Purposes—R. W. Bros. Fred Guest, St. Thomas; Geo. S. May, Ottawa; S. McWhorter, Petros; W. J. Drope, Grimsby; Col. W. A. Ponton, Belleville. Place of meeting, 1910—City of Belleville. R. W. Bro. P. A. Somerville, of Hamilton, was among those nominated for the Board of General Purposes. M. W. Bro. J. Ross Robertson's proposed amendment to the method of electing Grand Lodge officers was to the effect that nominations should be made in the lodges themselves some time prior to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, and that the nominations should be sent to every lodge to vote upon. This would do away with election at Grand Lodge communications. The amendment proposed by R. W. Bro. Hoodless, of Hamilton, was somewhat similar. His proposal was that the districts should hold their meeting at a date suitable to the several districts on or before July 1, and elect their deputy, and report the election at Grand Lodge. The present method is to elect the D. D. G. M. at a meeting of the representatives of the district on the Wednesday evening of Grand Lodge in the city where the communication is held. Both propositions were defeated by large majorities. Several other amendments were proposed and withdrawn. The amendment of R. W. Bro. D. J. MacWatt, of Sarnia, that the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer be ex-officio members of the Board of General Purposes was adopted without objection. The report of the Credential Committee was submitted, showing the attendance to be the largest of any annual communication held outside of Toronto. The total registration is 912, representing 1,536 votes. There are 411 lodges; of these 240 are represented by the regular officers and 26 by Past Masters, while 71 are represented by proxy. There are 74 lodges unrepresented. A gold stipe has been made on the Seebelt Peninsula, British Columbia. The T. Eaton Company, Winnipeg, has purchased sixty acres surrounding Sandy Lake, a pretty body of water on the N. T. R. right of way in the Kenora district, where they will establish a summer resort for the use of their employees.

THE TRAP IS BAITED.

It does not require any great powers of divination to discover the game which the Hydro-Electric conspirators are trying to play upon the city of Hamilton, or to explain why certain officials of the power commission and the aldermen who are under the influence in their attempt to betray ratepayers, to their great loss, are so eager to get the city committed to a contract with the commission for even 1,000 horse-power of current.

The willingness of the power gang to give Hamilton "special terms" (how well it sounds!) might well awaken suspicion. The assurance given to objecting members of the municipalities of the power union convinces them that Hamilton is not getting any snap. It is equivalent to the hint to let this city go on thinking that the commission is treating her with special favor; then enjoy the laugh at her expense when she wakes up to the trap into which she has fallen.

The Hydro crowd does not for a moment contend that the 1,000 horse-power to be taken from the commission will furnish us with "competition"; it will of necessity be at least 10 per cent. dearer than the local power. But they profess to think that we should contribute the few thousands of dollars a year, which we will throw away by taking it, as our share in building up Toronto and other rival municipalities at the expense of Hamilton, and hurting the local electric industry. It may not be a very laudable policy, but like some faults of which we have heard they plead that it is "such a very little one."

But there is a joker up the power gambler's sleeve. If Hamilton can be lured into taking 1,000 horse-power, her loss by the folly will not long be limited to the few thousands of dollars a year incurred by taking only that amount of current.

Here is the scheme in brief: Betray Hamilton into taking 1,000 horse-power, and then require her at the end of five years to cancel her more favorable contract and take all the power she may need for thirty years from the Hydro Commission at the higher price.

Watch the game. It is being played for high stakes. Whether somebody is in it for more than his health is the question that naturally strikes the man who studies it. If it can be won by the Hydro schemers Hamilton ratepayers may be stuck for a sum that may run into millions by the end of the term.

What the aldermen must make sure of is that if this city take 1,000, or 10, horse-power from the Hydro Commission, the freedom of the city to buy whatever further power she requires, not only for five years, but at any time in the future, shall be absolute and unimpaired. We must have the right to buy power where we can get it cheapest.

Even if we must pay an exorbitant price for the 1,000 horse-power as a bonus or gift to the scheme and the rival municipalities we must insist in freedom as to the rest of our supply.

Do not let the men who are working for other than Hamilton's interests and Hamilton's prosperity trick us in this way into putting ourselves on our wrists. Beware Adam Beck's illusory "concessions"! Remember the fable of "The Fox and the Goat."

RAILWAYS AND LABOR.

The importance of the railway interests to the workmen is brought home to us by the significant fact that 71 per cent. of the total of the earnings of all the roads in the United States goes to pay wages. The roads employed in 1907 in the neighborhood of 1,675,000 men, whose earnings amounted to $2,585,913,000 or more than $7,000,000 for every day of the year. It is difficult to grasp the significance of such stupendous figures. The number of employees on the pay rolls was only 60,000 less than the combined standing armies of Great Britain, Germany, the United States, France and Japan. The gross earnings were nearly three times the amount of the total revenue of the United States; twenty-nine times the gold production of the country, and six times the gold production of the entire world.

A consideration of these figures may help to lead to an appreciation of the vast interests with which the bare-brained public ownership and operation cranks wish to juggle. They also go to indicate the wisdom of the movement, now so general, of adopting just and carefully thought out measures for the regulation and control of these vast utilities to prevent abuses. The man who studies them will, if he be clear-minded, probably reach the conclusion that the State will have enough to do in discharging its own proper duties and seeing justice done, leaving the business of the community to the people of the community in their private capacity.

DEARER BREAD?

Mr. J. J. Hill, whose opinions upon economic subjects apart from those directly affecting railways always attract more or less attention, although his forecasts are not always accurate, is quoted as saying that the time of low prices for grain has passed. If this oracular utterance be interpreted to mean that the price of food derived from grain is to be permanently higher than it has been in the past, there will be many who will decline to accept Mr. Hill's conclusion as well reasoned. Mr. Hill has doubtless arrived at the natural conclusion that so far as the United States are concerned, the production of grain has not kept pace with the increase of population in recent years and that there is a diminishing surplus for export. But Mr. Hill may have omitted a very important factor in the consideration of that improved methods of cultivation. He has also left out of account the very important fact that the United States do not command the grain price situation. Canada is becoming more and more of a factor, and its production is likely to vastly increase for many years to come. The South American wheat industry is only in its infancy, and cheap labor and vast fertile areas make wonderful development possible. Australia, New Zealand, Russia, Asia and Africa hold out great possibilities of food production. It is too early to become apprehensive of food scarcity, unless it be such local famines as modern commercial transport should be able to deal with. The problem which Malthus discussed is not yet an immediately pressing one, and in spite of prophecies of the Hill type, householders will not yet begin to worry over a scarcity of cereal food stuffs.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Laziness is said by some United States army physicians to be due to a bug or hookworm. Some men appear to have been born infected.

Montreal claims a population of 389,837. Now if some Toronto directory estimator cannot beat that Toronto the Boastful must be dopey.

The knife appears to be in evidence again in too many rows. The man who carries or uses a lethal weapon requires to be dealt with sternly.

Short-term prisoners at Winnipeg have been released on condition that they accept employment with the farmers who are clamoring for help.

"Drinking more beer, also more tobacco," announces the Toronto World. That sufficiently accounts for the editorial vagaries of our contemporary.

License Inspector Sturdy avers that he thinks the law is enforced in Hamilton. And knowing ones whose chronic drouth is never long unmoistened wink the other eye and smile.

Perhaps Ald. Hopkins would like to have a try at the engineer's job. At least the alderman's actions in the mountain water supply matter is a declaration of want of confidence in the engineer's judgment.

A Chicago doctor is suing a girl who jilted him $500 for "merchandise," including a diamond ring, which she obtained from him during his period of obsession. He proposes to discourage this method of "merchandizing."

Fifteen Canadians are eligible to shoot in the second stage of the King's Prize at Bisleys, and all the principal team matches have been won by the Canadians. The boys are maintaining Canada's good name.

M. Briand has been asked to form a Cabinet for France. He was the Minister of Justice and Worship in the old Cabinet, and it is expected that he will have the bitter hostility not only of the Clericals, but of the moneyed classes of the country, should he succeed in forming a Cabinet.

Congratulations to Color-Sergt. Freeborn and Sergt. Mitchell, of Hamilton, who won the Canada Club's gold watch and the Strathcona cup, respectively, at Bisleys, yesterday. At the presentation by Lord Strathcona of the prizes, Hon. Messrs. Fielding, Brodeur, Sir F. Borden, and Col. Sherwood were present to congratulate them upon their victory.

A Georgiana Township farmer is charged with horsewhipping his wife, and he proposes to plead justification. Better still, he is to produce to the judge a document signed by the wife admitting that she deserved the chastisement. What can a judge do in such a case but decide that such a marriage is no failure?

The struggle over the United States tariff is still in progress. Indications now are that the duty on lumber will be made $1.25 a thousand; that the scheme for reciprocity in coal will be dropped, and that print paper will be subject to $3 a ton duty. The tariff clamorers have abandoned all pretence at serving the people's interests, and openly fight for advantages for the taxpayers.

Some Tory organs are attempting to make much of the statement that the Ross rifles used at Bisleys are not the weapons served out to the militia. That is a mere quibble. They are as truly the militia Ross rifles as are the Lee-Enfield and other rifles used at the competition. As a matter of fact, perhaps not a single gun used in the match are publicly owned service rifles. Nearly all the guns, of whatever make, used in the match are privately owned and probably picked weapons. That has always been the rule.

Harold A. Richardson, who is from London, Ontario, bids fair to win fame and wealth by his discovery of the production of armor plate of a specially resisting quality. A six-inch plate of the metal resisted the impact of a 9.2 armor-piercing shell, the missile making no impression upon the plate, although the shell itself was shattered into minute pieces. Mr. Richardson is a son of Venerable Archbishop Richardson, of London, and sails for Canada to-morrow to pay him a visit.

Speaking of pellagra, the disease which has been so much discussed since the discovery of several cases in the United States, Dr. Lavender, a surgeon of the United States Marine Corps, says it is very common among the peasants of Italy, where it is referred to as "the poor man's gout." It is usually caused by insufficient nourishment. It is not contagious and if the patient is given plenty of good, wholesome food he soon recovers." There are eight cases in Dunning Hospital for the Insane in Chicago. Professor Colvert says it is not usually dangerous, although it sometimes affects the brain.

In view of certain happenings near home it might be as well to draw attention to the fact that these are bad times for arrogant and autocratic rulers. The Sultan of Turkey, the Shah of Persia, Emperor William of Germany and Clemenceau, of France—all these have found that there is a limit beyond which even the autocrat may not pass with safety.—Hamilton Spectator.

But like Abdul Hamid, the Shah of Persia and their ilk, who puff themselves up with their own importance, Whitney entertains the notion that he is Sir Oracle, and when he opens his mouth no common dog of a citizen dare criticize. And this notion is fostered in him by the course of a lot of plant newspaper party tools who appear to think that their only duty in life is to applaud political brigandage and praise the braggart as a statesman.

Our Exchanges

A NEW SPECIES. (New York Sun.) Housewife—Why don't you go to work. Tramp—I'm an honest man, mum, an' I can't find any business that isn't full of graft.

DISCRIMINATING. (Washington Star.) "Do you believe in the literal idea of future punishment?" "Not for myself," answered Mr. Serious Barker. "But I favor it for a lot of people I know."

WELL FIXED. (Detroit Free Press.) "Those new neighbors of ours must be well fixed." "What makes you think so?" "They gave a party yesterday, and they didn't have to borrow a thing from us."

THE NATIVES. (Dundas Banner.) Just another word about our Burlesque Circus. One of the chief attractions will be an opportunity of viewing real living natives of Borneo and Hamilton, exhibiting their heathen customs and wearing their peculiar native costumes.

AN OLD GAME. (Illustrated Bits.) Prehistoric Belle—Is this the place where a girl fell into the water last week and a man jumped in and saved her, and then took her to his cave and married her? Prehistoric Man (nervously)—I believe it is, but I can't swim a stroke.

BOTH HAVE DUTIES. (Mr. McAdoo, New York.) "We believe in the public be pleased policy as opposed to 'the public be damned' policy. We believe that that railroad is best that serves the public best; that decent treatment of the public; the recognition by the corporation of the just rights of the people results in recognition by the people of the just rights of the corporation. The latter is as essential as the former and they are not incompatible."

CHICAGO MODES. (Chicago Tribune.) A Chicago jury has decided that it is not indecent for a woman to appear in public on the stage lightly clad in bronze paint and two girdles. Her costume is not quite so airy as that of the Georgia colonel, which was made up of a shirt collar and a pair of spurs. She wears two girdles, while Venus had only one. Nevertheless, the verdict does not indicate that the jurors were possessed of the "sound judgment" which, according to the law, should be one of their qualifications.

THE PEACOCK THRONE. (N. Y. Sun.) The youth whom the Nationalist party of Persia has raised by force of arms to the Peacock throne may not mind the disillusionment, but it is said upon good authority that the famous chair is not all that stories of Oriental splendor ascribe to it. Revolutions in Mohammedan countries have let in the light upon many cherished traditions, and at the seat of the Great Mogul has not escaped. An iconoclastic French visitor to Persia declares that the throne never came from Delhi, but was made by a humble carpenter of Ispahan, and that most of the precious stones originally set in it have been replaced by others of small value and that the Great Mogul never sat in it at all. However true all this may be, the seat has proved unstable for Ahmed Mirza's immediate predecessors and may be not less fateful for him.

THE QUEEN'S CROWN. (N. Y. Herald.) Turning to the lighter side of court life, I was told the following little story by one who was present at a children's party at Buckingham Palace. The other day a little mite of some five years of age strayed away in the garden and was looking rather frightened. He saw a beautiful lady and running to her, said: "Oh, do take me to mamma."

"Certainly," replied the lady. "What is your name?" "He told her, slipping his hand confidently into hers. "And do you know who I am?" "No." "I am the Queen."

"Oh, no, you are not." "Indeed, I am."

"You can't be, for you haven't got your crown."

"But that is for indoors."

"What? for a prolonged interrogation. 'Why, I thought your crown grew on your head just like my hair does on mine.'"

TOO HEAVY A BURDEN. (Vancouver Province.) A Detroit clergyman, the Rev. Reed Stuart, has just resigned, after a pastorate of 23 years, because, as he explained, he does not feel "equal to the work of the institutional church."

out any bitterness, but in the misty atmosphere of the one who "believes in free souls, in boys' clubs and basketball, and in cadets carrying guns in the name of Christ." Those things, he admits, may be necessary in the modern church, but he intends from now on to leave the management of them to others. His early ideal had been that of a preacher, a spiritual leader; but he had found more and more of his time and strength taken up with the infinite variety of organizations within the church. We fancy that many a weary minister would find all this making a response in his own heart. The institutional church does, no doubt, a world of good; but some of its activities are confessedly only a sort of piety bribe to induce people to occupy pews which otherwise would be empty, and it certainly tends to belittle the prophetic function of the clergyman.

GOLDBRICKING US. (Guelph Herald.) After hearing the tidings that Hamilton will be treated fairly, but not with any degree of partiality, the Catsaraet power press will take fresh breath in order to show that the Ambitious City is being gold-bricked.

THE WALKING HABIT. (Toronto Star.) There is one excellent form of recreation which finds favor in the old country, but is practically neglected by Canadians. The Englishman finds pleasure in long walks, finds health in them, gets his appetite, knows what it is to sleep like a top afterwards. Incidentally he gets to know his own habitat, and to appreciate the beauty that lies within walking distance of almost everybody. Canadians have a surfeit of scenery to be had at the price of a little healthy recreation, but mostly content themselves with seeing in from car windows.

WHAT THEY TELL THE REPORTER. (Washington Star.) "I've got a scoop for you—our club's going to give a picnic." "You want to go easy on that; I'm a friend of your boss."

"Who writes the items for you after you bring them in?" "If I was you I'd be going to some show every night." "I don't see how you can make up so many lies."

"Be sure and send back this photo; it's the only one of me I have." "Put in your paper that I've gone to New York; I ain't going, but I want a certificate to take home with me."

"Say, get me a pass to the ball game, will you?" "I'm going to Europe this summer. Would your paper pay expenses if I was to send letters every now and then telling about my trip?"

"I wish you'd put a knock in your paper about a fellow I know."

"Don't you have to vote the way your editor does?" "If you print anything about this I'll quit taking your sheet."

WHITNEY WEAK AND ABUSIVE. (Hamilton Spectator.) Anyone at all acquainted with his manner of address will be able to bring to their mind's eye a vivid picture of the mingled scorn and sarcasm that no doubt colored his vocal effort in that final sentence. Good politics, perhaps, but statesmanship—hardly.

Earlier in his address, Sir James assured his audience that there was nothing at all to prevent anyone from testing the constitutionality of the power legislation before the highest court in the land. Perhaps not, provided the applicants for the test are willing to allow themselves to be made the objects of the Premier's fine scorn and ridicule before a political picnic crowd, their motives being impugned and the spirit of the people turned against them.

It is unfortunate for the Premier and for the cause which he champions that he should thus have weakened both himself and his cause. The man who is assured that he is right does not have to descend to the level of abuse in dealing with his opponent; for him to do so is likely to bring more injury to himself and cause than to those whom he attacks.

PRONOUNCED HIS CASE INCURABLE

Whole Body Raw with Eczema—Life was Intolerable—Was Even Incased in Plaster—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable; eczema in its worst form began when he was all right until a red rash broke out on his forehead, but we were not alarmed at a first. Very soon, however, the rash began to spread over his head and shoulders, and it caused him great discomfort."

him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result: no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said the only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. We hid him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable, in fact he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incised him in places, and this seemed to aggravate the soreness terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedies after remedies, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and began to use them. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin being so healthy that he can go to school. CORNER STONE TRULY LAID.

Ceremony at Dundas In Connection With Carnegie Building.

Dundas, July 23.—Another event in the town's history took place yesterday, beginning at 5 p. m., the laying of the cornerstone of the Carnegie Public Library on the corner of King and Ogilvie streets. There was a large attendance of citizens to witness the ceremony, including a good number of ladies. On a cross beam of the iron structural framework, on which the roof will be supported, was displayed the town's British flag. Hon. Thos. Bann acted as chairman, and with him on an improvised platform just above the space left for the cornerstone, were Col. Grafton, W. O. Sealey, M. P., Rev. J. B. Hamilton, Rev. James Grant, Mayor Lawrason, Reeve Lawson, Deputy Reeve Spittal, Councillor Moss, Principal Moore, F. C. G. Minty, F. D. Suter and others.

Mr. Hamilton opened proceedings with prayer. Then followed short addresses by the chairman, Col. Grafton, Principal Moore and Mayor Lawrason. The address by the last mentioned was of greater length than the others, and after speaking of the benefits to a community of a public library, he gave a short history of the events leading up to the decision of the town to accept the donation of $10,000 from Mr. Carnegie, and to subsequent events up to the formal laying of the cornerstone. Included in this historic summary of events was a list of citizens who had subscribed various amounts towards the maintenance of the library for ten years to come. The pleasant duty, he said, of formally laying the cornerstone fell to him as chairman of the committee appointed by the Town Council to have charge of the work, and the other members of the committee being Reeve Lawson and Councillor Moss.

In the cornerstone was deposited a typewritten history of the establishment of the library, the names of the building committee and contractors, the last revised voters' list of the town, the last auditors' report, the names of members of the Town Council and Board of Education, a copy each of the three town papers of the current week, Canadian coins of one, five, ten, 25 and 50c denominations, a number of Canadian postage stamps and post cards, etc. The cornerstone was then placed in position by Frank Roberts, the contractor for the masonry work, and Charles Scott, a workman, and after being tested and found level, and receiving the final setting blows from the silver trowel, was declared by the Mayor well made and properly laid. Then followed the benediction of Mr. Hamilton, after which the crowd dispersed, evidently having been much interested in the proceedings.

All the speakers referred to the great generosity of Col. Grafton in furnishing the site and his promise that should the library in the future require more ground in the rear, it would be supplied.

The supervision of the work is in the care of James B. Keagey. In his address Mayor Lawrason made a happy reference to the fact that the library was owned, by and was for the benefit of all the people, no sect, race or nationality being recognized.

Principal Moore said that he had been immeasurably pleased in the past few months by two events in the town's history, the building of the new High School and the acquisition of a free public library. Which gave him the most pleasure he was at a loss to know, but both were evidences of the town's progressiveness and desire for the spread of education.

Mr. Bann in his address referred in an interesting manner to the old days of the Mechanic's Hall, in Dundas, which was founded and built in 1807, by the employees of the old Gartshore foundry.

The silver trowel used by Mayor Lawrason was engraved as follows: "Presented to Mayor J. W. Lawrason by the Town Council on his laying the cornerstone of the new public library, Dundas, July 22nd, 1909." STRUCK BY LIGHTNING. About 4 o'clock a fire alarm was sounded from box 27, which was by many at first thought a false alarm, owing to town wires becoming entangled owing to a rather heavy storm just preceding. But the firemen made quickly for the locality of the alarm box, and found the sub-station of the Cataract Power Co., near the canal basin, to be on fire. The building and its distributing appliances are a total loss, and many of the leading manufacturing industries of the town are idle to-day in consequence.

SCRAP BOOK POETRY

THE MAN WHO DID THE CHORES.
My land the plough is needing,
But I've got to do the chores.
The soil is lying idle,
And my team I can't get a stride,
And it's time I did my sowing,
But I've got to do the chores.

I ought to get to having,
But I've got to do the chores,
And my mower's wanting mending,
Soon the summer will be ending,
And my hired help is playing—
But I've got to do the chores.

The trees with fruit are groning,
But I've got to do the chores,
And the fruit I should be picking,
But it's not at work, I'm kicking,
And the old folks are longing—
But I've got to do the chores.

And I should begin my reaping,
But I've got to do the chores,
The golden grain is ready,
And the weather's holding steady,
And it's not that I am sleeping—
But I've got to do the chores.

My farm is a Dominion,
But I've got to do the chores,
The weeds are not getting mending,
It needs scientific farming;
That has long been my opinion—
But I've got to do the chores.

There's political corruption,
But I've got to do the chores,
I prefer a clean election,
And I fear that High Protection
Means Imperial disruption—
But I've got to do the chores.

There are wrongs I should be fighting,
But I've got to do the chores,
Some cesspools to take the lid off,
Some hired help to get me rid of,
Grat to kill and stop it's blighting—
But I've got to do the chores.

And the liquor curse needs killing,
But I've got to do the chores,
I might have had a holding,
Had I granted Prohibition,
Some one else my office filling,
But I've got to do the chores.

In the meantime many suffer,
But I've got to do the chores,
No, 23—I'll be it,
If the people come and see it
What the farmer is a sufferer,
Who does nothing else but chores.

Write my name on history's pages,
As "The man who did the chores,"
Ever busy ever working,
But wanting, I have a shirking,
Let the fane ring down the ages
Of "The man who did the chores."

GIRL CURED BY A MIRACLE.

Left Crutches at Shore of Ste Anne De Beauce.

Boy Whirled Round Shaft and Clothes Torn Off.

Boy Scalped While Leaping From a Swing Board.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Kingston, Ont., July 23.—Miss Amelia Moss, aged about 20, returned this morning from the shrine of Ste. Anne De Beauce, leaving behind her a pair of crutches and a plaster of paris cast, which she has used since last December. The girl and her friends claim that a miracle has been wrought. She comes from Maynooth, Hastings County, and sustained her injury in a tobogganing accident at that place. Her mother brought her to the Hotel Dieu for treatment and she remained there until the pilgrimage started on Tuesday. The girl was employed during meal hours as cashier in Conrad Haag's Cafe, and patrons of that place were astounded to do so to see her walking apparently as well as ever, without any assistance. The girl's knees had previously caused her considerable pain.

Gilbert McBroom, aged 9, was whirled around a shaft in his father's mill at Washburn yesterday and escaped with a few bruises. He was caught in the belting and practically all his clothing torn off.

Clair Devlin, 10 years, son of Peter Devlin, immigration inspector, was scalped yesterday in a remarkable manner. While swinging he made a leap from the moving seat board, the latter striking him on the back of the head and tearing the scalp a distance of 8 inches. Dr. Morrison sewed the loose skin on and the child will probably recover.

GREAT SHOW. Barnum & Bailey's Comes to Hamilton August 13.

Barnum & Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth" is announced for two performances in this city on Friday, Aug. 13. Few people stop to realize the wonderful amount of work and the fine system brought into effect in the routing of a big circus and the carrying on of its advertising campaign. A few facts will no doubt prove interesting.

In the first place, a big circus like Barnum's, will have its general offices in Chicago, and in these offices are a corps of men, all of whom take some active part in the selection of the season's route.

Before a town is chosen as an exhibition stand for a big circus, every detail concerning its condition is looked into. It is a manufacturing town, investigation is made as to whether the factories are running, and, if so, whether on full time and full pay.

If it is an agricultural district, prospects for crops, etc., are looked into. When an exhibition stand is finally decided upon, the proper railroad arrangements are made and the first man in the town is the local contracting agent. This man's duties are to arrange for the show grounds, contract for feed for the animals and horses, and arrange for bread, meat, butter, milk and groceries to be delivered to the show.

Contracts are made with a local lawyerman for a number of reasons to be sent into the country for advertising purposes in the surrounding country, the routes for each team being laid out at the same time. After the contracting agent has completed all arrangements for the shows coming, an advertising campaign is started which has no comparison in any other line of business.

There are three advertising cars, upon which are a brigade of thirty men to each car. Then there are several special billing brigades. In all there are nearly one hundred advance agents. These include general agents, contracting agents, railroad contractors, carmen, car managers, bill posters, lithographers, banner men and twenty-four hour men.

The name of the town and the date of the exhibition are the two things featured. In other words, Hamilton the place, Friday, Aug. 13, the date, and Barnum & Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth" the event, are hammered into the minds of every one for miles around right up to the day of the show.

A press agent in advance arranges for advertising in all the local papers and with every paper published in the vicinity.

With these facts in mind, one can realize where the crowds come from. A great benefit to the town and merchants is in the fact that a large percentage of these visitors are strangers and not in the habit of spending their money or trading here. Circus day being a holiday, everyone celebrates, and each person usually lays aside a few dollars to spend. While the circus gets its share, a greater percentage goes to the city where the circus exhibits.

When the circus exhibits here, it will be with the long omitted street parade back in its old place. Never since the beginning, it is claimed, of time, has such a gorgeous processionary display been seen.

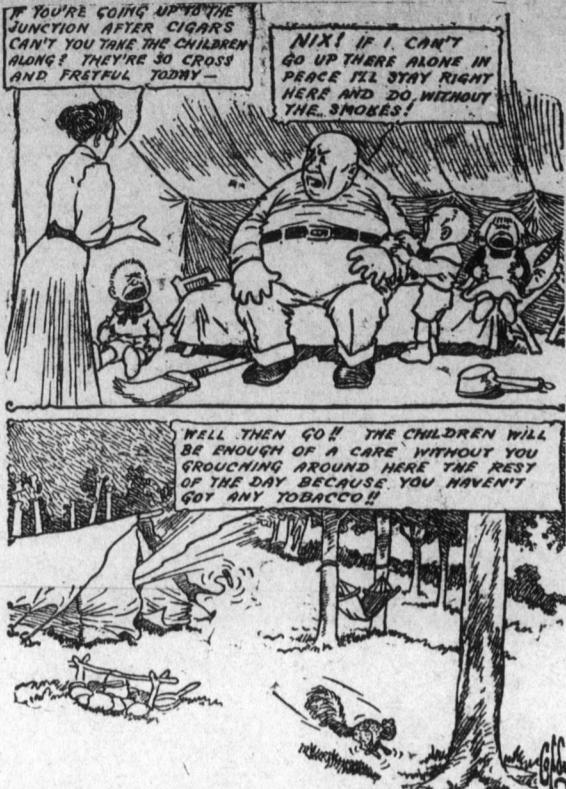

SWALLOWED PIN. Young Toledo Pugilist Now in Critical Condition.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

London, Ont., July 23.—Frank Erne, the young Toledo pugilist who tried to strangle himself in his bed at Victoria Hospital, and who has been violently insane as the result of being drugged and robbed, is in a most critical condition as a result of swallowing a pin. It is not known yet whether he swallowed the pin accidentally or with intent to suicide. Doctors are trying to locate it with the X-rays, and will operate, if necessary, to remove it.

IN EARNEST. Military Tournament at Canadian National Exhibition.

The military display and tournament at the Toronto Exhibition will have more features of real interest this year than anything of the kind previously attempted in Canada. In such competitions as the Victoria Cross and wrestling on horseback, corps will be arranged against corps, the Royal Canadian Dragoons stationed at Toronto against the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, stationed at Kingston. The rivalry between these corps is very keen, so much so that the men are anxious to mix things up a bit with the single stick in the Balachava mele, if the permission of the officers can be obtained.

North Shore Service. The Hamilton Ferry Company, after careful consideration, has ranged a new week day service for its patrons that should be popular and convenient. A special boat will leave the John street dock at 8:20 every Wednesday evening and a late boat, leaving Hamilton at 11 p. m., will be run on Saturday night.

Three persons were so badly injured that they will die and 20 others were hurt. There was a panic among the passengers, who were on their way from Coney Island. Men, women and children fought their way out of the wreck, and it was only by good fortune that the casualties were not greater.

CRUISE OF MAPLE LEAF.

Good Time on Board and Fine Day at Charlotte.

"There lies the port—the vessel puffs her sail; Here glow the dark, broad seas. Maple Leaf; Maple Leaf; hip, hip, hurrah! Hamilton; Hamilton; Y. M. C. A. H-A-M-I-L-T-O-N—Hamilton."

So goes the college yell of the jolly Y. M. C. A. cruisers, scarcely had the outlines of the Beach faded from view on sailing day before all hands were hailed below deck to test the culinary capabilities of the far-heralded cook, Alex., and the discrimination of the general manager, E. M. Best, in the stocking of the ship's larder. The cook was unanimously voted to have juggled miraculously with the indifferent materials at hand, and all the members of the company stowed away a most enjoyable and satisfactory meal.

One-thirty p. m. found all hands again on deck. A desultory conversation was carried on for a few minutes, gradually fading away into a strange forlorn silence. The wind was gradually increasing in strength and the waves in volume. Presently a series of sports was inaugurated, consisting chiefly of short sprints to the rail. After a close contest, the first heat was won by Chaplain Buscombe, who proved to the satisfaction of the spectators that a sporting person is not an incongruity.

The second heat was easy for Burns, of Brantford, who opened "a broad gap" between himself and his competitors. In the run off for the championship, Brantford again proved a winner, Burns beating the chaplain to a frazzle.

For a short time during the afternoon the Maple Leaf was in wireless communication with the steamers Cayuga and Corona of the Niagara Navigation Company, but they reported all well on board, and did not require assistance. Supper at six p. m. was followed by a few more sprints, but no after dinner records were broken.

The evening passed pleasantly with song and story, and a few astronomical observations, all hands turning in at 10:30.

About 4 a. m. on Tuesday a tremendous stamping of feet on deck, the reefing of sails, and the rattling of chairs brought everyone on deck to find the vessel anchored at the port of Charlotte. Following breakfast and service

SPAIN'S FIGHT.

Authorities Censor the News From the Seat of War.

Liberal and Republican Press Causing the Trouble.

Madrid, July 22, via Badajoz, on the Portuguese frontier, July 23.—The Spanish authorities are exercising a rigid censorship over the publication of news regarding the war between the Spaniards and the Kabyle tribesmen on the Rif coast of Morocco. Nothing except official despatches is allowed to be printed, and communication by telephone to the provincial newspapers has been stopped. The Government considers these measures justified on the ground of military necessity, and because of the anti-patriotic campaign being conducted by the Liberal and Republican press. The censorship of the Paris press was discontinued to-day, and all the Republican clubs were closed. The persons arrested yesterday in connection with the demonstrations against the departure of the troops will be charged with sedition, and tried by military court-martial.

The outside world should understand, however, the Government officials declare, that the Liberals and Republicans are exploiting the unpopularity of the war for political purposes, and they are suspected by the authorities of inciting the reservists, who were forced in many cases to leave their families without support, to resist.

In response to a telegram from a group of Liberal and Republican Deputies demanding the convocation of Parliament, Premier Maura replied that, without desiring to ignore Parliament, he considered the demand based on a false conception of the situation, as events in Africa in no wise modified the policy of the Government. The Government to-day announced the opening of subscriptions throughout the country for the benefit of families of reservists sent to Mellila.

ORPHANS IN MOTOR CARS

Enjoyed Hospitality of Hamilton Automobile Club

And Had a Day of Sports at Oaklands.

Happiness Supreme, Without a Mishap During Day.

Probably the most enjoyable outing ever experienced by the orphans of this city was tendered them yesterday afternoon by the Hamilton Automobile Club. Between 1.30 and 2 o'clock the children assembled at the Gore extension and the automobiles were soon on hand to convey them to Oaklands Park where they spent a very pleasant afternoon.

The spectacle presented when the happy crowd was preparing to start was a most impressive one. Many beautiful automobiles were drawn up to the side walk just outside the post-office and westwards; then the children, who see little of the luxuries of life gleefully and joyfully climbing in to enjoy a treat which meant much to them, was a pleasant sight. Many citizens stopped and watched the scene and on all sides voices could be heard expressing approval of the kind and thoughtful act on the part of the Automobile Association in remembering the unfortunate ones.

The procession started at 2.30, and went by way of the Beach and around the bay to the park. Enough rain had fallen to lay the dust, but not enough to interfere with the wheels in travelling. Great care was exercised by the drivers, the cars being driven at a very moderate rate, and the trip was made without the semblance of a mishap. Some little difficulty was experienced in locating the grounds, and before they were reached the entire crowd landed at Bay View Park and had the pleasure of the trip back to Oaklands. The children looked upon this as a great joke on the drivers.

After reaching the park the committee of management at once began to interest the children in sports and amusements. Several generous fellows threw up coins and had the boys scramble for them. The little fellows piled one on another, sometimes for deep, in their eagerness to clutch the coveted coins. The races and other games were most joyfully entered into by all the children, and heartily enjoyed, not a murmur nor a cross word was heard from one of them, which rounds greatly to the credit of the institutions in which they are being trained and cared for.

The following was the programme of the games:

50 yard foot race for small boys; 50 yard foot race for big boys; boot and shoe race for all boys; tug-of-war, boys; 60 yard foot race for small girls; 50 yard foot race for big girls; boot and shoe race for all girls; tug-of-war, girls. Three prizes were given in each event.

After the games were over all sat down to an excellent lunch provided by Mr. George Crawford. The service rendered by the caterer was the very best, and the orderly way the children conducted themselves was worthy of praise. Due to much praise cannot be given to all concerned in the event.

Owing to the threatening rain not as many automobiles as were intended took the trip, all the closest ones available were occupied. The following is a list of the owners whose automobiles were used: Paul J. Myler, James Moodie, C. G. Milne, John Moodie, M. J. Overell, G. H. Rieft, R. M. Roy, Geo. W. Robinson, W. Southam, I. M. Thomson, Robert Unsworth, Thomas W. Watkins, C. S. Wilcox, J. M. Young, Miss O. Palm, F. H. Gall, S. D. Biggar, K. C. Dr. R. B. Burt,

W. A. Child, S. B. Cunningham, James Dixon, H. L. Frost, A. P. Goering, W. H. Ginder, Allan Glasco, W. Gastie, W. A. Holton, Hon. Col. Hendrie, Robert Hobson, J. H. Kerr, J. W. Lamoreaux, Joseph Levy, J. D. Moodie.

The ladies in charge of the children were: Mrs. Home, the President, Mrs. R. A. Lucas, Boys' Home, the President, Mrs. M. Leggat, Orphans' Home, Miss Ida Crawford, St. Joseph's Orphanage, Sister Annetta in charge of the girls and Sister Cecilia of the boys.

The trip home was by way of the high level bridge and Dundurn Park. After leaving there the procession broke up, and the children were conveyed to their respective institutions. The Automobile Association wishes to thank Mrs. Townsend, of the park, for so kindly giving them the use of the grounds.

LABORITES REBUKED

Again Raised Protest Against Czar's London Visit.

London, July 22.—The Labor members of the House of Commons to-day again raised their protest against the Czar's approaching visit to England, and drew upon themselves the unwonted stern rebuke from Sir Edward Grey, secretary for Foreign Affairs, who dissented entirely from their biased statements, which, he said, were based upon utterances by Prince Peter Kurapokin, and other Anarchists. Sir Edward cited the disapproval of the manifestations against the Czar expressed by the members of the Douma, who were recently in London, affirming that the only persons in Russia approving of such attitude were the reactionaries. Among other things, Sir Edward said: "It is no business even to know what passes in the internal affairs of other countries. Some of the abominable things which have been said on this subject can only be regarded as manifestations of futile folly."

THE CRY FOR WATER.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—Will you permit me to call the attention of Aki, Hopkins and Morris to the fact that their conduct in delaying the furnishing of a water supply to residents on the mountain is not likely to further the Mayoralty booms which these gentlemen are credited with diligently incubating? However eager they may be to commit the city to the dearer Hydro-Electric power, they should be able to see that causing delay in this matter is not likely to gain them popularity up here among the people who have to carry water long distances.

Wake up, you aldermen! The Mountaineers are more concerned with getting a supply of drink than with the Hydro-Electric scheme or anything you may make out of it. If you have any Mayoralty aspirations, Messrs. Hopkins and Morris, hurry up the water for the mountain, or bank upon the hostile vote of the locality. If there is any money in it for you, in delaying our water supply to further the Hydro scheme, perhaps we can get up a subscription list and make the amount good for you. Anyway, delay is intolerable. Give us to drink!

Came to Life in Coffin.
Mexico City, July 22.—While a wake was being held over the body of Teofilo Buenostro, of Morelia, who was supposed to be dead, he suddenly came back to life and sprang from the coffin. The room was crowded with mourners, who were panic-stricken at the sight. An old woman was trampled to death and other persons injured by the crowd which attempted to flee.

HARDEST YET.

THE ARMOR-PLATE INVENTION OF A YOUNG CANADIAN.

Production of Harold A. Richardson, of London, Tested by British Admiralty—25 Per Cent. Better Than German Steel.

London, July 22.—Mr. Harold A. Richardson, of London, Ontario, who has been here two years in connection with an improved process for the manufacture of armor plate, seen by the Canadian Associated Press at Hyde Park Hotel, said he had scored a great success in the tests of his plate by the naval authorities which culminated on Saturday here for a plant, and says he is backed by big men. He says for Canada Saturday for a short holiday.

He hinted that the Admiralty is holding over the armor-plate contracts for the new Dreadnoughts until the results of the tests of his invention are known in London, Ont., July 22.—Harold A. Richardson, of this city, whose patent armor plate has been accepted by the British Admiralty, is a son of the Ven. Archdeacon Richardson, formerly rector of the Memorial Church, but now of Broughdale, London's new northern suburb, where he has established a church. A cablegram from his son at Portsmouth, England, confirming the report of his good fortune. Mr. Harold Richardson, some time ago married a very wealthy English lady, and is now a resident of London.

THE NARCISSUS.

Once there was a young fairy who was very vain. He was beautiful but selfish, for he loved no one but himself. One day as he was walking beside a little stream, whose waters were as clear as crystal, he saw a lovely face gazing up at him, and was charmed with its beauty. He did not know it was his own face, but thought it was a love water fairy, and promptly fell in love. Every day he went to the stream and smiled at the lovely image reflected there. He was very happy when the blue eyes and red lips smiled back at him.

In this way many fine days passed, but one morning when he arose from his bed in a pearly blossom he was deeply disappointed to find that the day was dark and dismal. The sun was hidden behind a heavy cloud, and big raindrops were falling.

However, he felt that he must see his divinity, he went to the stream as usual. The strong north wind ruffled the water, so that the face was completely hidden from him. He thought the water fairy must be angry, and waited several hours, hoping that she would repeat and smile at him once more; but the day gradually faded into night, and still the water fairy refused to show itself.

At last, after long watching, the heartbroken fairy lover sickened and died. But even death could not rob him of his beauty, for the fairy queen changed him into a graceful flower, with a sweet, delicate face.

The little flower is called the Narcissus and grows on the banks of streams, where it can bend over the water and gaze at its own image reflected there.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

THE PROFESSOR'S MISTAKE.

When Mrs. Sillersby went out for the afternoon she told her husband that she hoped the children would not annoy him at his work—the husband being, of course, that famous Prof. Sillersby of whom so many stories are told. He was, as is well known, one of the profoundest scholars that America has produced and little more than a baby in the affairs of everyday life.

Mrs. Sillersby then expressed a hope that the children would not interrupt the professor's work, in saying which she showed herself a singularly sanguine woman. There were a lot of children, and they seemed to have no other mission in life that afternoon except to make work of any kind impossible. They began with hide and seek on the floor of the room where the professor was working, till he stopped that; then they slid down the staircase in bath-tubs and tea trays and things.

That being prohibited, they played at three-ring circus in the room over the professor's head, materially assisted therein by the possession of a big drum which some considerate friend had given one of them at Christmas. The professor stood it with such patience as he could command till the afternoon began to draw in, and then, in his despair, an inspiration came to him. He would put them to bed, it was decided.

"Gracious!" said Mrs. Sillersby. "How did you get them undressed and into bed? Didn't you have a lot of trouble?"

"Not much," said the professor. "Except one boy who is in the cot by the door in the small nursery."

"I will go up and see," said his wife. And up she went.

"I don't wonder you had some trouble with that boy," she said quietly, when she came down again ten minutes later. "Do you know which child that is?"

"No, I don't think I noticed," said the professor.

"I don't think you could have," said his wife. "That is Tommy Wilkins from across the street."—Bellman.

WANT NO NEGROES.

Citizens of Vermont Object to Colored Troopers.

Burlington, Vt., July 22.—Confronted with a question similar to that which disturbed the peace of Brownsville, Tex., people of northwestern Vermont are acting not unlike the Texans.

Burlington, a hotbed of abolition before the civil war, is up in arms over a decision of the Government to quarter 1,200 negro cavalrymen at Fort Ethan Allen, three miles from this city.

Many white persons have refused to eat in restaurants with the negroes, and citizens of Burlington and Winooski are seriously demanding "Jim Crow" or separate cars for whites and blacks on the trolley road.

GARD SHARPERS ARRESTED.

Had Been Swindling by Wholesale in France.

Paris, July 22.—Osborne Frank Kinsley, aged 46; James Brodies, alias Palmer, aged 36; Muck Clair, aged 32; and George Hubbard, aged 30, all Americans, have been arrested at Dinard, accused of card swindling. Detectives have been tracking them for some time. The attention of the police was first called to the men at Vichy, where they made it a rule to pick acquaintance with compatriots around the gaming tables at the Casino. Their winnings ran from 6,000 to 30,000 francs in an evening.

Later they came to Paris. Afterward they went to Dinard, where they were arrested last night, where they had won 32,000 francs. Marked cards, small files and a complete outfit for card swindling were found in their possession.

Whistler's famous "Nocturns in Blue and Gold, Valparaiso," has been bought for the United States.

ELKS HURT.

Baseball Magnate Loses Leg in Trolley Accident.

Pottsville, Pa., July 22.—Five Elks were seriously injured to-day in a trolley wreck on the Tumbling Run branch of the Eastern Pennsylvania Railway Company, and a score of others painfully hurt. The Eastern Lodge of Elks was on its annual visit to the Pottsville Lodge, and while returning to Pottsville from Tumbling Run Park the special car in which they were riding got beyond control, jumping the track and turning over. Among those seriously injured was Thos. B. Golden, of Pottsville, the well known minor league baseball magnate, whose leg was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

AGAIN THE CANOE.

Field Secretary of Y.M.C.A. International Committee Drowned.

New York, July 22.—News was received to-day at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters of the drowning, by the upsetting of a canoe at Silver Bay, N. Y., of Bruno Hobbs, Field Secretary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

He had been in the Young Men's Christian Association work as an employed officer since Feb. 1906, and was 41 years old. He was formerly a successful lawyer in Denver and Kansas City. Hobbs had gone to Silver Bay to attend a Sunday school conference.

NEW COINS NOT IN DEMAND.

Mint Restricts Output of Silver and Copper.

Ottawa, July 22.—Owing to the lack of demand from the banks for new silver and copper coinage, the Royal Mint has been obliged of late to very considerably restrict the output of new coins. The normal output is about three tons of copper coins per week. At present the output is only half that amount, and no silver coins are being minted. The gold minted so far this year has consisted only of a small number of English sovereigns. No Canadian gold pieces have so far been minted. It is expected that the demand for a silver and copper currency will increase as soon as the crop movement begins.

WAS MURDERED.

SENSATIONAL VERDICT AT SECOND BAYFIELD INQUEST.

Wounds Were Inflicted by Someone Unknown—Doctors Say Deceased Could Not Have Tied Stocking Round Her Neck.

Bayfield, Ont., July 22.—That deceased came to her death at the hands of some person or persons unknown, and that the case was manifestly not one of suicide, was the verdict returned this evening by the coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Mrs. James Burns, of this place. It will be remembered that at the first inquiry the verdict was suicide, but the talk of the place and the rumors which reached the coroner led to a further inquiry, which was completed to-night, but which did not throw any more light on the mystery.

On Thursday of last week when W. J. Burns, the husband, came home from his work he found his wife lying dead on the bed with a stocking twisted around her neck and with a bruise on her forehead. He called for his neighbors, and at once the startling news spread, giving rise to all sorts of stories. From the rumors afloat the main facts which stood out were the death of the woman and her discovery as described, and the circumstance that the invalid daughter of the woman was lying ill in another bed in the house.

As soon as the news reached the ears of Mr. Seagar, the County Coroner Attorney at Goderich, he instructed Dr. J. W. Shaw, the coroner at Clinton, to make a thorough investigation and hold another inquest if necessary. The coroner deputed Dr. Gunn, of Clinton, and Dr. Wood, of Bayfield, to make a post-mortem, and the result of this was to discredit the suicide theory. "The second inquest opened on Saturday last, and, after hearing some unimportant evidence, was adjourned till to-night, when the principal evidence was that of the two doctors who made the post-mortem. The embalming of the body prevented a successful effort to decide whether or not poison had been administered.

The doctors said the blow on the head and the other bruises on the body might have caused death, but at any rate these injuries would make it impossible that she could have tied the stocking around her own neck. They also said that in their opinion the stocking was put there by someone else. The husband told how when he came home he found his wife dead and at once alarmed the neighbors. He described as well as he could how she was lying and how the stocking was around her neck. Neighbors giving evidence declared that they had not seen anyone around the house, and they also in part corroborated the evidence which the husband gave relative to the position in which the body was when he found it.

It was thought that the invalid daughter might be able to throw some light on the case, but she could not do so. It was said that she could not have caused the injuries inflicted upon the deceased. The dead woman was for years

Several of the Canadians competed for the Barlow prizes, in a peculiar match, in which snap shooting and rapid firing, attack and defence, are features, the positions being standing, sitting, kneeling or prone. None of them got within the prize money, except Blackburn, of Winnipeg, who won 75th, winning 20 shillings.

Britain's Navy Gathering For Still One More Review.

London, July 22.—The summer of 1909 will be remembered as a season of naval pageantry. Last month the greatest assemblage of war craft in the history of the British navy took place off Portsmouth. This week the same ships entered the Thames, and the public was able to see the largest fleet that ever anchored so near London. On Saturday the ships will gather at Portsmouth, where on July 31st they will be reviewed by the King, and on the following Monday the Emperor of Russia will have an opportunity to see them when his yacht comes to Cowes for the meeting with the King.

COBOURG MYSTERY.

No Further Action Will be Taken to Discover Thieves.

Cobourg, July 22.—It is understood that as the diamonds belonging to Mrs. Boake have been recovered no further action will be taken. A few days before Mrs. Boake's loss, Miss L. Donnelly, her sister, missed a much valued diamond brooch. Chief of Police Rose was told of the loss, and notified Crown Attorney Kerr, who telephoned the Provincial Attorney's Department, and Detective Reburn was sent down from Toronto to investigate the case. Miss Donnelly missed her brooch on the 12th, and it was on the following Sunday, July 18th, that Mrs. Boake discovered her loss. Detective Rogers was then sent here. On Tuesday a Pinkerton man, T. B. Nash, arrived on the scene. That day the diamonds were replaced.

WOMEN FOR PEACE.

To Allay Hostile Feeling Between Britain and Germany.

London, July 22.—A woman's Anglo-German Entente Committee, with the object of striving to put an end to the incessant bickerings between the two nations, was organized this afternoon at the residence of Mr. David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Among the members of the committee are: Mrs. Asquith, wife of the Premier; Mrs. Lloyd-George; Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the President of the Board of Trade; Lady Brassey, Lady Meath, Lady Pearson and Lady Wear. date.

HUMAN SHIELDS.

How Band of Gypsies Fought New York Police.

New York, July 22.—A pitched battle was fought at Pier No. 8, Brooklyn, to-day, between immigration inspectors and a band of 24 gypsies, who were being deported to South America. Enraged at the Immigration Commissioners' decision, after they claimed to have established that they possessed $1,500 in cash, the wanderers refused to board the steamer Verdi, which was to take them back to Buenos Ayres. In the heat of the melee several children of the band were injured, because their parents, who carried them, used them as shields, and in some cases pushed their little bodies against the inspectors, who were trying to drive them from a tug onto the steamer. One little girl was still unconscious when the vessel sailed.

The band was finally driven to the dock, where a reinforcement of "long-shoremen" got them aboard the Verdi.

LURED TO PANAMA.

Traffic in White Girls to the Canal Zone.

New York, July 22.—A plea for the stoppage of the "white slave" traffic between the United States and the canal zone is contemplated in a letter from Second Lieutenant C. W. Barber, of the Second United States Infantry, the assistant chief of police of the canal zone, which was given out to-day by the local police. Writing to former Commissioner Bingham, Lieut. Barber declares that many American girls, especially actresses, had been lured to Panama, and that "the life they lead there would make your heart bleed."

The letter tells the story of three chorus girls, who the writer says, were lured to Panama on the promise of an engagement in a local playhouse, and who were saved by the captain of the steamer Tagus, who took them down. The woman who is alleged to have engaged them to go to Panama was arrested and escaped, but she was re-arrested in Guayaquil under the name of Spencer.

The police will meet the steamer Albatross, due here from Panama to-morrow, to ascertain if the woman calling herself Helen Spencer, who a wireless message last night stated had been tempted outside on board, is the woman who was arrested in Guayaquil.

NO PAUPERS WANTED.

Mr. C. C. James Tells of Immigrants Ontario Seeks.

London, July 22.—Interviewed by the Standard, Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, said: "What we are aiming at in the London office of the Province of Ontario is, so far as possible, to discourage people from emigrating who are or have been dependent on charity in this country. They are better at home, as they would only be disappointed in Canada. If such men continue to go out, it will tend to give Britain an unfavorable name in Ontario."

PLEA FOR DEATH.

That Last Long Sleep That Gives Meaning to Life.

(Pittsburg Times-Gazette.)

We move fast in these days. A little time ago we were told that old age was a disease, and, as such, preventable, and now they would have us believe that death is but an obsession, a fixed idea to be eradicated—that men have been dying from a sort of inertia of illusory preconception throughout the aeons. They—the scientific rabble, I mean; the rationalists, the materialists, call them what you will—have taken from us our religion, and left us nothing to sin against, and are taking from us our grievances and our tyrannies and leaving us nothing to rebel against; now they would deprive us of our mortality, and leave us nothing to live for. It is time to make a protest. Let us retain, at least, our heritage of death.

It is death that gives meaning and relief to life, as night relief and meaning to day, says a writer in the London Standard. Without death life were an interminable and inconsequent farce. It is that ultimate and irrevocable curtain that turns ignoble farce into a tragedy of terror and pathos. Against that sombre background, stage and players stand out in heroic relief.

The unpenetrated mystery of death is the last stronghold of romance. Already, rational science, parceling out the earth by acres, has driven her to Arabian deserts and Arctic seas, and follows hot-foot on her track. How wisely were the men of the middle ages inspired in their prosecution of Galileo who, for the fiery chariot of Phoebus and its champing horses gave us, in exchange, a gyrating peg-top of an earth, a marching marionette of a sun!

And now science, or, if you like, its baser sister, spiritualism, is rapping at the portals of the great enigma, prying with vain queries the inviolate silence of the dead.

Let us not be cheated of our greatness, which rests on the certainty of our mortality. How little and mean were our calls and our complainings—like the cries of the disembodied spirits, which are as the cries of bats—if they did not ring into poignant melody beneath the great arc of the impenetrable silence. It is death that gives our very living its savour. To "live each day as if it were our last" is to give a new value to little common things, to our waking and our dressing, to the sunlight and the street and the hurrying human faces. How wise were the old Egyptians who introduced a skeleton to their feasts. That was an "entree" indeed! What a new flavor it gave to the meals, what a new resonance to the laughter, as though it resounded from those tense, hollow ribs! The banquet became sacramental from the intimate presence of a sense of ultimate things. And to the greatest of all things in life—to love—death gives its terrible beauty. The sun strikes no rainbow from a cloudless sky. Only "darkness and the death-hour" round love to its perfection.

Of the two cardinal human experiences, nature has cheated us of one—birth; do not let us permit science to juggle us out of the other. Some men, with what sincerity I know not, pray for a death that darts out of sudden ambush like a masked robber. But others, and I am of their number, would be a conscientious time in dying. For they know that nature is beneficent to her children, and puts them softly to sleep. It is their desire to taste the full experience of death—to see the pictured pageantry of the world grow dim, to hear its brave processional music fade into a mellowing distance; to feel life, that unquiet tenant of the body, slip stealthily from room to room, closing gentle doors behind her. How she once, in the early days of her tenancy, coursed the corridors of the pulses, held high riot in the halls of heart and head! But of late she has been amending her mad ways, and hushing her footfalls a little, that she might tutor you to her departure, and attune your ears to the approaching silence. It is long since that she disbanded her wild cohort of attendant hopes, desires and regrets, and found herself a little lonely, perhaps, a little at a distance, in the echoing halls. And soon the house will be left vacant, awaiting another occupant, whose leasehold is eternal.

Ah, no! let no one alienate from us our right to die! We have eaten and drunk and loved our life and loved our love; let us die our death too. For death is a brave adventure.

Rock Slide Killed Two.

Grand Forks, B. C., July 22.—Two men lost their lives as the result of a rock slide on the Canadian Pacific near here. Later, when a crew was clearing the track another slide occurred, and buried three of them, hurling them down the steep bank. All were foreigners. The body of one was brought here, also one of the injured.

The picture of an ancient school house may truthfully be called a relic of the old masters.

IN THE AMERICAN.

At Montreal—The Chicago manager tallied on Steinfield's sacrifice fly. This three-run lead New York could not overcome, as Reulbach was in grand form and pitched his ninth successive victory.

AT NEW YORK.

At New York—A wild throw of Chance's grounder by Pitcher Wiltz in the first inning, following a pass to Evers, a lucky hit by Sheppard, enabled Chicago to score two runs yesterday and finally bring called at the end of the sixth inning. Cleveland lost a chance to tie the score when Hinchman was fouled out on a triple into a home run.

CREEL WON HANDICAP

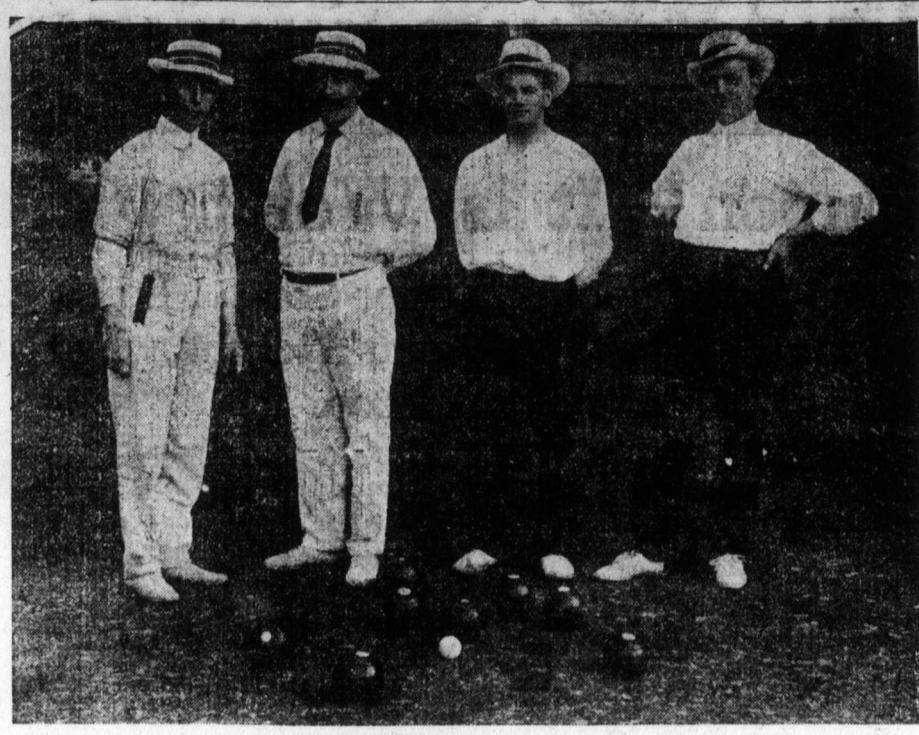

Old Caper Sauce Beat Cannie Maid Again.

Davenport in Form, Rides Three Winners.

Donau Won Empire City Feature.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 23.—Threatening weather, culminating into a light rain, detracted considerably from the sport here yesterday afternoon. Upsets were frequent. The mile and sixteenth handicap was reduced to three starters and the speculation centred around The Minks and Creel, John E. McMillan, the other starter, attracting but little notice. Creel, under his light impost, made the others look cheap, as he went into a long lead from the start, and, although The Minks made a game bid after going a half, weakened in the stretch drive, which allowed Creel to win as his rider pleased. John E. McMillan, after being a forward contender for a half, began to bleed and was pulled up at the stretch turn and led off the track, thereby forfeiting three money. In the opener, for maiden fillies, twelve started, and under the good handling that Davenport gave Fair Louise, she was able to get up in time to beat out Polly Lee, the early pacer. Davenport followed up his initial success by leading Argonaut, a winner in the second race over Cloisteress. Argonaut showed considerable improvement over his last out, when ridden by Mentry. Bob R. was considered best in the third race, but after being in forward contention for five furlongs, retired and left Laveno, Fearnought II and Brevite to fight out the issue, they finishing in that order. Sal Volatile found conditions exactly to her liking in the sixth race and spread-eagled her opponents, winning by a big margin from Darington, with Dainty Dame in third place. On her showing today it is patent that Dainty Dame is in poor form and in need of a rest. Pat Dunne managed to score his first victory of the meeting, when The Peer scored a fluky win in the closing race over Belle Scott and Mystifier. The latter was best, and with a good ride would have won. T. M. Greene had to be excused from starting in the sixth race on account of having gotten out of his stall in some mysterious manner during the night, and was pretty well skinned up before being discovered by early-rising stable hands. J. W. Colt was a visitor this afternoon. He will ship his entire band of steeplechasers to Saratoga next week. Jockey Crowley was an addition to the riding ranks. He came from

New York and as under contract to S. J. Kirkman, was badly shaken up by a tumble from Bilberry, the horse striking him a glancing blow across the head while passing. He had to cancel his remaining engagements for the day. Summary: First Race—Two-year-old maiden fillies—5 furlongs—Fair Louise, 112 (Davenport), 3 to 1, even and 3 to 5; 1; Polly Lee, 112 (Trotter), 15 to 1, 6 to 1 and 3 to 1; 2; Amanda Lee, 112 (Preston), 7 to 2, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5; 3. Time, 1:15. Broadward, Rounder, Lott, Creel, Simonette, Jack Donnerlen, Sallian, Pinkard, Bob R. also ran. Fourth Race—Handicap; three-year-olds and up; 1 1/16 miles—Creel, 99 (Ross), 6 to 5 and out, 1; The Minks, Tom (Howard), even and out; 2; John E. McMillan, 108 (Kennedy), 5 to 1, 4 to 5 and out, broke down and did not finish. Time 1:47.1.5. Only three starters. Fifth Race—Selling; three-year-olds and up; Canadian foals; 1 mile—Caper Sauce, 102 (Davenport), 9 to 10 and out, 1; Cannie Maid, 102 (Kennedy), 5 to 2, 1; The Scott, 103 (Dugan), 5 to 1, even and out, 2; Mystifier, 104 (Roegens), 7 to 1, 8 to 5 and out, 3. Hears of the Tigers Wherever He Goes.

Bobby Kerr Writes an Interesting Letter to Genial Manager Thompson.

Dr. Walter Thompson received a letter from Bobby Kerr this morning, dated Edinburgh, July 14th, in which the plucky Hamilton sprinter refers to the royal treatment he has been receiving in the old country and predicts the result of the Edinburgh handicap sprints, which he lost. He is in the best of health, and his time of 9.4.5 seconds, against Cartmell, on a grass strip at Stourbridge, shows that he has completely rounded into form again. At Birmingham Bobby defeated Cartmell by over a yard, in the 100, which is more than Walker ever beat him. The following are extracts from the letter: "On July 10th, at Birmingham, on a grass track, I turned the tables on Cartmell in the 100 yards dash by a yard. In the 220 yards I defeated him by a half a yard. I may say here that I consider Cartmell the most wonderful runner I ever met, as powerful as a lion. For winning those races I received a gold watch, valued at 10 guineas, and a nice rose bowl, valued at the same amount. "At Stourbridge, on July 12, I again won the 100 yards from Cartmell. This time in 9.4.5 seconds, and on a grass track, that I saw one of the watches myself, after the race. There I received a wonderful ovation, a gold watch and chain, and a kodak. "I run here (Edinburgh), tonight in the two handicaps. They are cutters, too much for me to win, but I will try hard. "I leave here for Ireland, go through Glasgow and arrive at Belfast on Saturday. I run at Dublin for Ireland against Scotland. I am doing this merely to say that I have competed in these great races. I may say that everywhere I have been, so far, I find that the Hamilton Tigers are known."

BOWLING TOURNAMENT BEGINS NEXT WEEK.

'Times' Trophy and Other Prizes Will be Competed For—Bowling on Green in Excellent Condition.

Final arrangements are now being made for the opening of the Thistle Bowling Club's tournament for the city bowling championship, which will take place on Thursday next on the Thistle green. Already a large entry has been received, and it is expected that it will take at least four days to finish the rolling. Civic Holiday will be included, and an attempt will be made to have all the events settled by that evening. The grounds, which have a reputation for excellence, have been receiving extra attention lately, and by Thursday will be in the best possible condition. The feature of the tournament will be the competition for the cup donated by the Times Printing Company last year. The Victoria, Fernleigh, Royal Hamilton Yacht Club, Beach, and Thistle Bowling Clubs, all have rinks entered in this event, and the competition will be keen, last year the trophy was captured by the R. H. Y. C. team, composed of Ralph Ripley, skip; Fred W. Gayler, Fred Hubert, and R. A. Milne. This year they hope to repeat the trick. About forty entries are expected for both singles and doubles, which will follow the championship consolation. Lawn bowling has become one of the popular sports of Hamilton, and not only have new clubs been formed lately but the membership of all has increased immensely during the past few years. It is an ideal game for sedate, middle age, as not only does it have the virtue of being a good healthy exercise, but also the advantage of being able to be participated in with some degree of dignity—it is not so with some sports. Many believe that green bowling is a comparatively new game, while in reality it is one of the oldest English games now patronized. It has been the subject of several legislative enactments, having been prohibited altogether during the reign of Henry VIII, by a law which was repealed in 1845. Bowls, as it was then called, was formerly a favorite game with the Dutch, and the early inhabitants of New York city, at that time New Amsterdam, made it a common recreation. The ground they used to play on, at the lower end of Broadway, near the Battery, is now a small ornamental park, and still bears the name of Bowling Green.

DRAW FOR ZINGARIS.

Made Good Score in Second Inning. Royals Trim Newark in Ten Innings. Games in the Three Big Leagues.

Philadelphia, July 23.—Rain alone saved the Toronto Zingaris from defeat at the hands of Merion Cricket Club at Haverford yesterday, the match ending in a draw, greatly in favor of Merion. No play was going on before lunch, and it was still raining after the interval and there was not any indication that it would let up. In very sportsmanlike manner, however, the visitors consented to continue, rain or no rain, and under these circumstances deserved to escape defeat. They had a narrow escape, though, for going in with only a hit over 20 minutes to play, H. V. Horden and W. N. Morice, by hurricane hitting, knocked off 53 of the 91 runs required to give Merion the victory. Score: Toronto Zingaris—First Inning. J. L. Counsell, c. Conners, b. Horden 8; P. E. Henderson, b. Horden 12; S. R. Saunders, b. Horden 3; A. H. Gibson, not out 37; G. H. Southam, c. Vetterlein, b. Horden 10; D. W. Saunders, c. Ashbridge, b. Horden 0; H. S. Reid, b. Lee 0; W. J. Fleury, 1 b. THE RETAIL LEAGUE.

A Fast Game Played at Victoria Park Last Evening. G. W. Robinson Company and Wilkinson & Kompass hooked up in a chasty game of ball in the Retail League last evening at Victoria Park, and although the score indicates that Robinson's had a good margin of work on during the game, there was enough excitement to make the game interesting. The league is growing in favor, and there was quite a crowd on hand to cheer their respective sides. Robinson's started scoring early in the game, and managed to make a few runs each inning. The Wilkinson & Kompass team had a little stage fright, it being their first appearance this year. There is some good material in the team, and they will bear watching before the league ends. Robinson's have a number of heavy hitters, and are fairly fast on the bases. The score by innings: G. W. Robinson ... 127, 132, 241—22; Wilkinson & Kompass ... 221, 120, 111—30. Batteries—Robinson's: Vipond and Stewart; Wilkinson's: Read and Cutler. The next game will be on Tuesday night at 5 o'clock, when the fast team of Stanley Mills & Co. will hook up with G. W. Robinson's. It promises to be a good one. The standing of the league is as follows: Won. Lost. P.C. Stanley Mills & Co. ... 1 0 1.000; G. W. Robinson & Co. ... 1 0 1.000; Finch Bros. ... 0 1 0.000; Wilkinson & Kompass ... 0 1 0.000.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Now that Johnson is in our vicinity, we hear nothing but his side of the story concerning the drawn out controversy between himself and Jeffries. It is rumored that the latter's press agent is fagged out, and is resting up for next week's war of words. Meanwhile the sporting public is also weary of the talk fest. The best element of sportamanship was once more displayed by the cricketers yesterday at Philadelphia, the Toronto-Hamilton men under Fleury scuffling at defeat and playing in the rain until time was up. Then they were rewarded with a drawn game. The motor boat races in class C and class D, held over from July 17th, will be sailed over the regular bay course on Saturday, July 24th. The starting gun will be fired at 4 o'clock p. m. Fred McCarthy, the Canuck who is riding at Salt Lake City, was set down for 10 days for doing a "wiggly waggie" that spilled some riders in a race. He learned the trick from the French riders at Shepherd's Bush. While at the barrier for the fifth race, Bilberry fell and threw his jockey, G. Burns, who met with what appeared a very serious mishap; in fact, he was carried away bleeding. As the start of this race was right opposite the grand stand, the excitement was great. All who saw his fall, thought him killed, for he was kicked either by Bilberry, who ran a mile around the track riderless, or Out of Step, who would not behave. The Canadians are shooting in England as if they intended to corner all the prizes in captivity. Already they have a fine bunch of them corralled, and every wire brings news of victory. Let the good work go on. We must convince them besides make speeches. S. Ketchell shows every sign of a champion pugilist. He is there with the press agency lay. Envious of J. Johnson, the Senegambian who ran into a

The local management has decided to make the general admission twenty-five cents straight, cutting out the grand stand charge of ten cents, and to admit the ladies free, but the customary charge of ten cents will be continued for boys. FROM THE SCRAP HEAP

Big Jack Johnson arrived in town yesterday afternoon ready for his engagement at Hanlan's Point. "I don't want to be talking, talking, talking all the time," said the husky negro when asked about his proposed fight with Jeffries. "My certified cheque for $10,000 was posted at New York when Jeffries was there, and is now in Chicago with the sporting editor of the American. That cheque talks louder than I care to. Jeffries will never meet me in the ring. That's as sure as two and two make four. I have done all that can be expected of me to get a match. My money has been posted for three months, and I don't see any of his going up. Let the public who pay to see the fights decide who is sidestepping." Continuing, Johnson said: "Tommy Burns is a good little man, but the little fellows can't lick the big fellows. Burns has a hard right hand swing, which won him his game. If Langford should ever defeat Ketchel for the middleweight championship title, Papke, who thinks he is a champion in that class, would be in an ad predicament. It was not until the promoters began to urge Papke to fight the Boston negro that he displayed his race prejudices. Many believe that Langford's punching ability has had more to do with Papke's sudden resolution than with his color. Willie Lewis says he will box ten rounds with Papke at the Fairmont A. C. if the latter will make 150 pounds ringside. As this weight is not a hardship for the Dutchman, it looks as if Lewis will be accommodated. Lewis has been talking at length about his skill as a middleweight, and thinks he can whip Papke under the above conditions. If he can, he will surprise many students of pugilism who are anxious to be shown. Billy Papke and his brother Ed, who now plots the Papke campaigns, are coming to the East. Young Corbett received $400 for meeting Johnny Frayne in Frisco. Fred Douglas wants to match Johnny Willett and Young Loughreave. The last was a corker. Jim Savage, of New York, looks like a good middleweight. He has been knocking out everyone he meets.

NO REVOLT IN INDIA,

But There is a Great Deal of Sedition Preached.

Opinion of Rev. R. A. King of Indore, India.

India Not Yet Ready For Responsible Government.

Toronto, July 23.—The present method of British rule in India is, in my opinion, the best and practically the only method which could succeed in India to-day. The people are not yet ready for representative government or self-government in any form. They do not know what it means.

"There is very little fear, I think, of a general uprising of the natives in India, even though a great deal of sedition is being preached and distributed among them, for there is too much division among the various classes."

These statements were made by the Rev. R. A. King, Principal of Indore Presbyterian College, India, in an interview with the Globe yesterday afternoon. Principal King has spent the last six years in India, and has just returned for a year's furlough to recover his health. As there are in attendance at his college, which is in Central India, representatives from practically all the classes in India, Rev. Mr. King is in a position to speak with some authority on the feeling among the natives.

"There is, of course," Rev. Mr. King continued, "a very great deal of unrest among certain classes, chiefly the educated classes, and these would like to see self-government for India, or, rather, they would like to see themselves the rulers of India. The 'sedition-mongers,' as we call them, are for the most part the Brahmin lawyers and the editors of some of the native newspapers. A great number of the latter are anti-British and preach sedition, printing false statements which cannot be corrected or put right by the Government officials. Some of these papers have been suppressed lately for printing seditious matter."

BRITAIN'S HOLD.

There are now about sixty thousand British troops in India, and should any large part of these be withdrawn, Mr. King declared, that there would undoubtedly be attempts on the part of certain agitators to bring about an uprising; but there could be no stable form of government or national policy formed because of the narrowness and jealousy of the various castes. The Mahatmas had not forgotten how near they were at one time to becoming the ruling class, and they would be likely to grasp the first opportunity to try again. The Mohammedans also remembered that they were once the rulers of India, and between these two classes there could be no peace.

While Mr. King said the authorities in India, did not think there was much danger of an uprising of the natives, they had no intention, he added, of being caught napping, and preparations had been made at each station for the safety of the Europeans in case of trouble. The native regiments in the army would, Mr. King thought, be loyal to the officials in the event of an attempted uprising. "While there is little fear, under present conditions, of a general uprising, there might be at any moment a stampede and fight in any bazaar, which would be of purely local significance, as there are in India a class of natives always ready for loot."

THE GOVERNMENT.

Questioned as to his opinion on the measure of representative government for which India was prepared, Rev. Mr. King said that they were prepared for no greater measure than they already had. Ninety per cent. of the population were altogether illiterate. They knew nothing about the way they were governed, and cared nothing. "You can go ten miles into the country from Benares," he said, "ask the people to whom they are paying taxes, and they will be unable to tell you. They know no more, perhaps less, what representative government means, or what a ballot is for than the Indian or Eskimo on the shores of the Arctic Ocean in Canada."

"The educated Brahmins say that they are Indians, and they ought to have something to say in the government of their own country, that they ought to be just as good as those of any other class. Their cry of 'India for the Indians' means practically India for themselves. They lack the idea of brotherhood. In the times of famine they assist in the relief work, and draw their pay for what they do, but their hearts are not in the work. They care nothing whether those of any other caste die of starvation or not."

"The uneducated classes in India are very fortunate in having British on their side. Those natives who reside in the British provinces receive much to their justice than those in the native provinces. Many of them are recognizing this, which is shown by the fact that all immigration between provinces is in every case from native-governed provinces. There is no immigration in the other direction."

THE LONDON CRIME.

"What has been the effect in India of the assassination of Colonel Curzon Wylie?" was asked Rev. Mr. King. "It is hard to say. I cannot speak of any general effect. But if stringent measures are not adopted, if the assassin escapes execution for his deed, the effect in India will be much worse than if he were put to death for the crime. They made a very lamentable selection in the case of Colonel Wylie, and he was killed not for his own acts, but because he represented the ruling power. Personally he was always interested in the natives and he and Lady Wylie were very kind to them. There was a feeling of great regret amongst the natives of Indore when the news became known, for Colonel Wylie was stationed at that point as agent to the Governor-General for some years and made an excellent impression."

ABOUT CONVERTS.

Speaking of their converts to Christianity, Rev. Mr. King said that they were chiefly among the lower classes, although there were some Brahmin Christians. The latter were, however, the exception. In the south, he said, the educated natives could be about equally divided into Brahmins and Christians, but in the north the educated class were nearly all Brahmins, for their Christian missions were younger. The mission tried to give all their converts education which would enable them to read and write, but comparatively few of those of the lower class took a college education, for among them there is at present no opening for college men, other than Government appointments and the professions. There were not enough of the former to go around, and the law profession was already overstocked. It was, in fact, the native lawyers who were the greatest agitators against British rule.

CARDINAL FINED.

Bordeaux, July 22.—The Correctional Court to-day fined Cardinal Andrieu $120 for inciting disobedience to the laws in a speech which he made on the occasion of his enthronement, while Abbe Carteau was fined $5 for subsequently reading the Cardinal's discourse from the pulpit. Neither the Cardinal or Abbe were present.

MUST PAY $120 For Inciting Disobedience to the Law.

The former's offence was committed when he was installed as Archbishop of Bordeaux. He said that bad laws were not binding on the conscience, adding, "Since those that have been enacted compromise the most sacred interests of the Church and family, we have not only the right, but it is also our duty to disobey them."

Practically all the Bishops of France sent Andrieu messages expressing approval of what he had said.

A LABOR BUREAU.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Daily the fear of a scarcity of farm labor this summer grows apace with favorable news from the agricultural districts. At the present time there are four hundred applications on file with the Provincial Government, and nearly seven hundred with the Dominion immigration officers, asking for men, but neither can supply any. The C. P. R. is at present endeavoring to arrange excursions from the east, but reports received indicate that men there are also scarce. When the excurseurs are enroute this year every effort will be made to prevent a recurrence of the rowdiness of last year, and if necessary a special constable will be placed on each car. To-day Magistrate Daly decided to try an experiment.

Hearing of the scarcity of men, he released all short-term prisoners on condition that they get employment. General Grain Agent Acheson, of the C. P. R., who has just returned from a tour of inspection of the crops, says the grain is at about the same stage of development as in other years, and especially in Manitoba the harvest will be about the same time as last year. He does not look for more than an average crop, which would mean a yield of about a hundred million bushels of wheat.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

It is probable that the Joint Conference Committee on the tariff at Washington will place a duty of $1.25 per thousand on lumber and $3 per ton on print paper.

THE SECOND HALF MOON!

Model of Henry Hudson's Vessel Reaches New York For the Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

New York, July 22.—Three hundred years after her original famous voyage, the reproduction of Henry Hudson's vessel, the Half Moon, or the Halve Maen, as the Dutch have it, came into New York harbor late to-day, resting on the deck of the big Dutch freighter Soestdyk.

Built in Amsterdam, Holland, by public subscription, under the patronage of the highest personages of the country, the new Half Moon was sent here as Holland's popular contribution to the Hudson-Fulton celebration commemorating the discovery of the Hudson River from the deck of the original Half Moon, and Robert Fulton's epoch-making steamship voyage.

THE HALF MOON AND HUDSON ON LEFT; THE CLERMONT AND FULTON AT TOP; THE BALDWIN AND THOS. BALDWIN ON RIGHT.

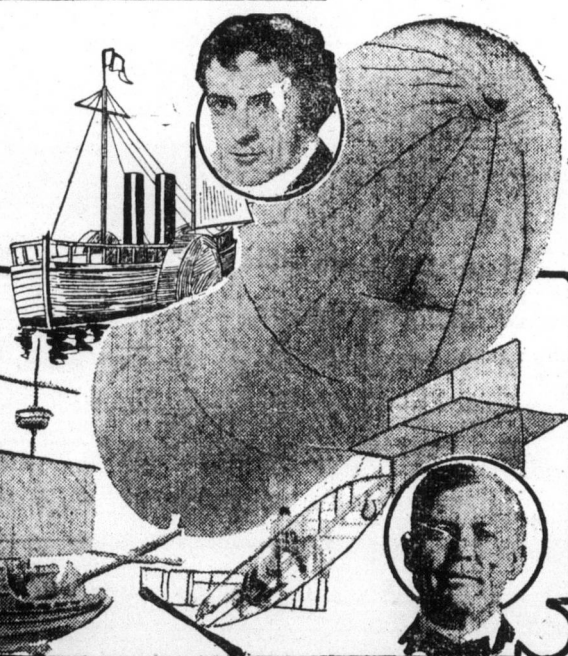

Perched upon the deck of the big ship, the Half Moon was a remarkable sight, even apart from the peculiar interest attaching to her. The Half Moon is only 74 1/2 feet long over all, and has a breadth of barely 17 feet. The great crane in the Brooklyn Navy Yard is to lift her up and put her down in the water, and then she is to be fitted out exactly as she was when Hudson commanded her.

THE BALDWIN AND THOS. BALDWIN

Thos. Baldwin was the first American to successfully make a steerable balloon. In 1805, over New York city, Roy Knabenshue, one of his pupils, made a long voyage that astounded the city. In connection with the celebration of the water feats of Hudson and Fulton on the Hudson River, Sept. 25 to Oct. 9, Baldwin and other air navigators will race from New York to Albany, over the Hudson, for a prize of $10,000 offered by the New York World.

The Indians from the forests along the Hudson wondered at Hudson and his ship. The natives of New York marveled at Fulton and the Clermont. But we, in our day, are blasé. Wireless telegraphy, submarine boats, the telephone, the ocean greyhounds—we have wondered so much in the past 50 years—so terribly much in the past 15 years—that we'll probably take the records of the Hudson-Fulton flight in a very matter-of-fact way.

The shores will be lined by automobiles that can cover the distance in one-sixth less time than the happy Fulton went to Albany from New York. Other thousands will be sitting in motor boats that could go to Albany from New York and back from sun to sun.

THE BALDWIN AND THOS. BALDWIN

Several men had tried, with little success, to run boats by steam, when Robt. Fulton took the problem in hand. Aug. 17, 1807, amid jeers and hootings, which turned to praise, his Clermont steamed out into the Hudson River from Hoboken, N. J., and made a trip of 150 miles on the Hudson, the time being 32 hours. The natives were astounded, and one miller rowed out into mid-stream, declaring that he saw a mill running up stream.

THE CLERMONT AND FULTON

If the sailors of the air have good luck their time will be much less than either of these records. Baldwin believes he can travel 30 miles an hour; this would make his time five hours. Curtiss' aeroplane travels 40 miles an hour. He would cover the distance, if successful, in less than four hours.

FELL EIGHT FEET.

Recently-Appointed Parkkeeper at Brockville Meets Sad End.

Brockville, July 22.—Stephen H. Patterson, who a few weeks ago was appointed caretaker of St. Lawrence Park, a beautiful spot on the river front, recently purchased by the corporation for the use of citizens, was the victim of a sad accident this afternoon. He had just recently cleared the property and was engaged in the construction of a bathing house. The frames were laid with the exception of a top joist, and in placing it in position Patterson missed his footing and fell a distance of eight feet, alighting on his back on a floor joist.

A heavily-built man, he fell with such force that twelve ribs punctured his lungs, causing hemorrhages, from which he died three hours later. He leaves a wife.

JEWEL ROBBERY.

Three Men Under Arrest at Ottawa on Suspicion.

Ottawa, July 22.—Two men, who gave the names of C. A. Woods, Kingston, and F. W. Conrad, Ottawa, were arrested shortly after midnight last night in a Benfrew Hotel on suspicion of being the men who stole two trays of diamond rings from McMillan's jewelry store here yesterday. No trace of the missing diamonds has yet been found.

Mrs. McMillan says that the rings stolen were worth in the neighborhood of $5,000.

FACTORY ROW.

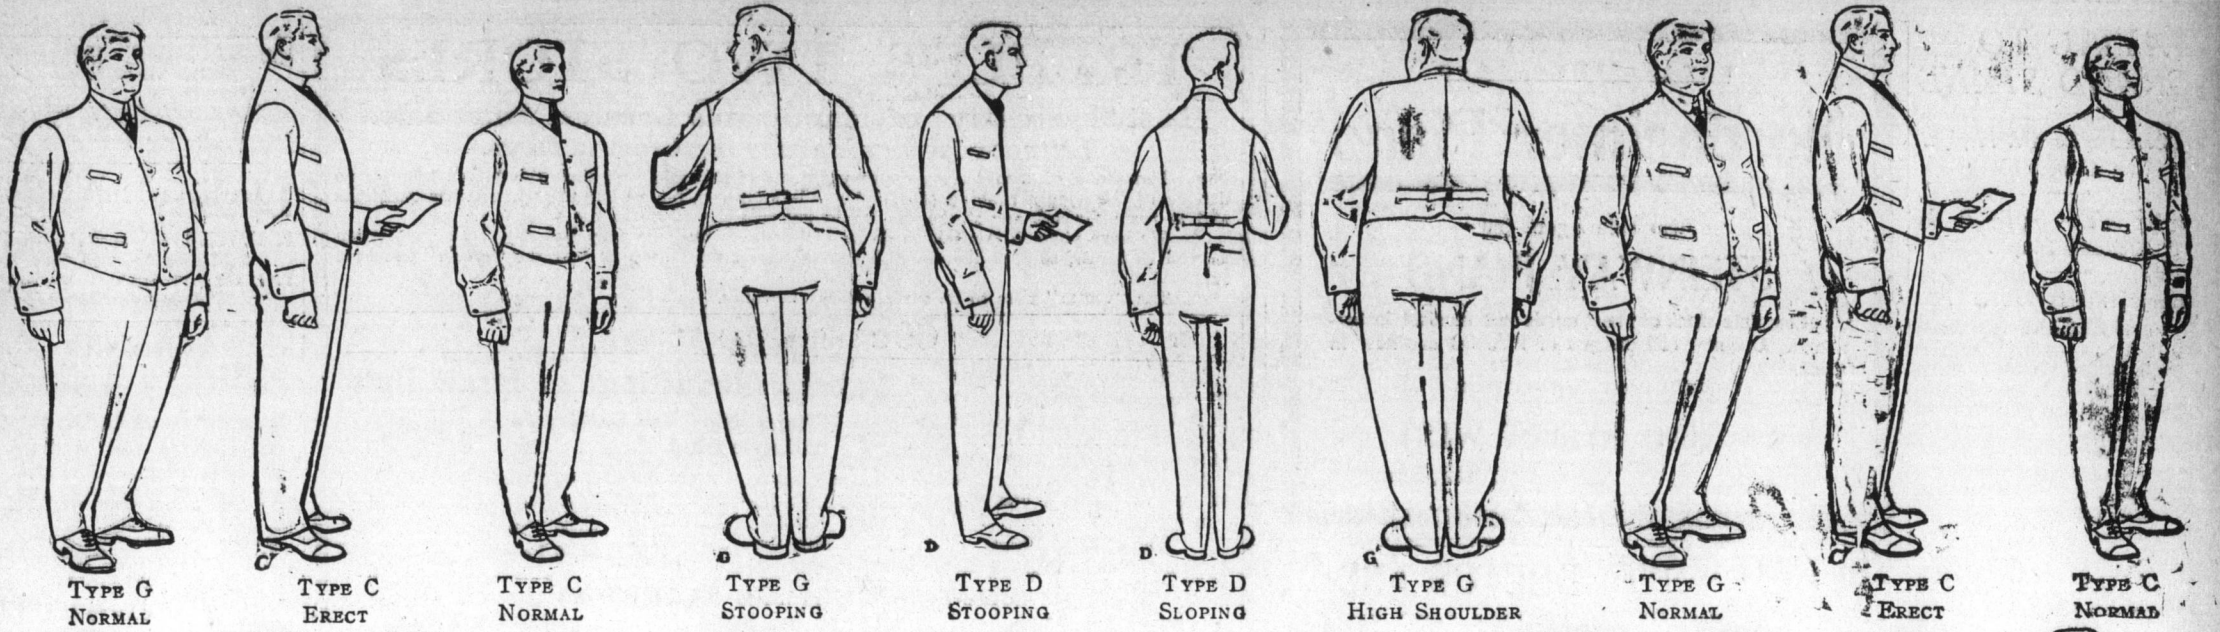

Englishman Wounded by Italian, Who Went to Brother's Aid.

Toronto, July 23.—As a result of a dispute over a trivial matter, which ended in a stabbing affray, Alfred Slater, a feeder at the Joseph Simpson & Sons knitting factory on Berkeley street, is suffering from three knife wounds in his head, thigh and chest, while Michael and Joe Bingham, two young Italians who were also employed in the factory, are being looked for by the police. Slater's wounds, although painful, are not serious.

The three men were working on a night shift at the factory on Wednesday when the trouble started. Slater, who was operating a feeder, complained that Joe Bingham was sending down too many spools to be cleaned and went up to remonstrate with him. A quarrel ensued, and while the two were scuffling about Michael Bingham, it is alleged, went to his brother's assistance, and stabbed Slater three times.

Fell With Coffin Into Grave.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Angus Roos, who was murdered on Saturday at Frank, was buried at Blairmore yesterday beside his father and mother. While four men were lowering the coffin the grave caved in, two of the men being precipitated into the newly-dug grave under the coffin, which had to be righted and the pit dug out again. The wife of the deceased fainting at the occurrence.

Judge Hooper fixed the amount of bail to be required of Ira Grunden at $10,000.
