Mr. Wm. J. Locke's Charming New Novel,

"Stella Maris."

Sentiment, one of the characters says, is everything in life. Without it no heroic action would ever be performed, no self-sacrifice shown; everything would be just miserable. Mr. Locke can certainly not be accused of losing sight of this most pleasing human attribute. Stella Maris, with her delicate thoughts and fancies, is thoroughly charming. Ritesa and Heroid are both quite captivating. The story as a whole is well worthy to rank with Locke's best and most successful novels. Special Colonial Editions—paper, 30c.; cloth, 75c.

BEAVER FLOUR

COSTS LESS - IS BETTER - AND GOES FURTHER THAN ANY WESTERN WHEAT FLOUR

"BEAVER" FLOUR makes a real home-made loaf of bread, close grained, beautifully white and tempting, with the delicious old-time flavor that "mother's brand" always had.

"Beaver" Flour makes Pies and Pastry that far excel anything made of western wheat flour, and with less shortening. And do you know why? Western wheat flours are strong and absorb much water, but they lack flavor. Ontario fall wheat has the nutty flavor, and pastry-making qualities, but lacks strength. "Beaver" Flour contains the choicest Ontario wheat with a little Manitoba wheat to increase the strength. The bakers of Toronto and London—the experts at the Agricultural Colleges—and thousands of homes through Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces—have proved that "Beaver" Flour is superior to any western wheat flour and is equally good for Bread and Pastry. Try it. DEALERS—Write us for prices on Feed, Coarse Grains and Cereals.

One in a Thousand, BUT TRUE TO THE LAST

CHAPTER XXVI. "To My Cost!"

"Daddy," I say on the following morning, when we are at breakfast, "Capt. Langholme tells me that Theo is going to be married again; is it true?"

"Yes, child."

"To Col. Cardyllion?"

"Yes, my darling."

"It's very soon, isn't it?" I say, persistently. "I see he is not very willing to talk about it, but I must know. What does Lady Lasselles say about it?"

"I don't know, she and the girls have left Park Royal."

"And Theo is there alone with the children?"

"Yes, and Col. Cardyllion's aunt—a Miss Woods."

"And what do you think of it?" I say, leaning my elbows on the table and resting my chin on my clasped hands.

"I said I wished they hadn't announced it quite so soon," he answers, "because, of course, they must wait till the year is over."

"Yes, I suppose so. And did you see him?"

"Yes, but I didn't know anything about it then. I was too much worried to look at him a second time."

"Poor daddy!" I say, caressingly; "your little women are a great deal of trouble to you! Theo wasn't at all happy with poor Lasselles, and her chander with Col. Cardyllion is very slender; and here am I, only a worry and a drag upon you. Well, Loys is a comfort at all events; certainly, you'll never be troubled with her and Teddy's matrimonial squabbles, for I never saw such a pair of turtle doves in all my life—never!"

"They seem very happy," says "daddy," in an absent voice.

"I want to go and see the Dom today," I announce. "I am in a feverish, restless state, longing for any thing which will occupy me and prevent me from thinking."

"The Dom?" says my father, inquiringly.

"The cathedral, you know. I want to go up the tower."

"Do you think you can manage it?" he asks, dubiously. "It seems a long way up."

"Yes; but I want to go," I plead. "So it ends by our setting off as soon as breakfast is over."

I believe that if I were to propose going to Afghanistan, or into the Maelstrom, my father would cheerfully assent. I should say that the cathedral of Utrecht is in its present condition, a unique specimen of architecture, for the tower, which is three hundred and twenty-one feet in height, is separated from the church by the entire length of the nave which was blown away during a terrific storm some time in the seventeenth century—about the date I am not very clear, for, though the janitor's small daughter speaks a little English, it is not very good to follow, and I am too listless to try her with French. We find, after mounting about a third of the way up, that the janitor and his family live in this strange place; and I, being tired and shown into a little room with an ordinary sash window and a blind upon which upon which is a gayly-colored representation of the Rhine and an old castle, and asked if I would like any refreshments, I glance at the card, and choose chocolate, and tell my father I am too tired to go to the top.

"You go," I say, "and I will rest here until you come back."

So I sit and watch the passers-by in the square below. There is a gateway in the corner, which I think must lead somewhere. It is evidently a short cut, for nobody passes along the front of the cathedral; they all turn in there—gentlepeople, servants, children and soldiers—we will find out when we go down. Near the gateway is a house in which is evidently an artist, for two of the upper windows are shaded in atelier fashion. If I had a pair of strong glasses, I could almost see into the room, and so much above it.

Presently "daddy" returns, saying that the country is flat and uninteresting, windmills and canals being the only chief objects to be seen.

"The man pointed out something to me, which he said was Amsterdam; but I could see nothing but a little smoke," he says. "Did you think I was a long time?"

"Oh, no! I have been watching the people," I answer. "I want to go away from here. I hate the place so."

"Very well; where would you like to go?"

"Oh, I don't know!" I say, dreamily. "All places will be pretty much the same, I suppose."

"You wouldn't like to go to Thornon Charteris?" he says, hesitatingly.

"Oh, no!" quickly. "I couldn't, daddy."

"Well—perhaps not. We had better go home."

Headaches and Heart Trouble

Nervous Prostration of Three Years' Standing Cured a Year Ago by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Anyone who knows the discouragement and despair which accompany the helplessness of nervous prostration will appreciate the gratitude felt by the writer of this letter.

Mrs. H. C. Jones, Scotch Lake, C.B., writes: "I suffered from nervous prostration for nearly three years. I had frequent headaches, had no appetite and was troubled with my heart. After consulting two doctors, without obtaining satisfactory results, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was completely cured by this treatment. It is nearly a year since I was cured, and I want others to know of this splendid medicine. I now attend to my household work with pleasure and comfort, and am glad to have the opportunity of recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

At least some benefit is bound to be derived from each dose of this great food cure, as day by day it forms new blood, and builds up the system. 50 cents a box, 4 for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmonson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"I think you'd better forget all that," he said, in as low a voice. "Good luck with your uncle. By the way, it is going to rain. I believe you had better borrow a mackintosh."

"Oh, I'm all right; it will take a good bucketful to go through this Irish frieze of mine. Good old Ireland! I've told the landlord that I'll send for my portmanteau when I get to Vale Hall; that is, if my uncle invites me to remain. Good-bye, old fellow!"

He had been obliged to hold the young horse pretty stiffly to keep him standing thus long, and he went off at a sharp pace.

The landlord of the inn looked after him.

"Is that horse safe?" inquired Senley Tyers, languidly.

The man was silent a moment.

"The young gentleman can ride," he replied. "The danger bein't in the horse—" He stopped.

Senley Tyers looked at him steadily and waited, but the man turned away and let down the steps of the carriage. As he did so, Senley Tyers climbed a few yards up the hill, and shading his eyes, looked after Tempest.

"Good-bye, my friend," he muttered. His lips drew tight, and his brows—thin, delicate dark lines—came down over his eyes. "I wonder why it is that I hate you? Why, a dog with an ounce of gratitude in him ought to love the man who has saved his life, while—Bah! they are meaner than dogs, we men! 'Grandson of an earl!' Is that why, I wonder? I suppose so. I loathe them all, root and branch! Yes, Vane, I'm afraid it's true—I hate you."

him! That's like her—yes, I expect she meant it. It's just what she'd do if she weren't in a particularly sweet humor."

He smiled a little as he said this to himself, and sighed a little also. There were several women in London and elsewhere whose hearts reflected this young man's handsome face; but there was none who loved him more than Florence Heathcote; and, though he did not know it, he had only to go to her and say, "Florence, be my wife," and—well, all his troubles would have been over.

But he was young, and full of strength, and heart-whole, and he could not have done so. He was an idle, careless, ne'er-do-well young man; but deep down in his heart was a feeling which would have prevented him from selling himself even to Florence Heathcote. In all his life he had not seen the woman—the one woman in all the world—for him.

And so he rode on to the Witches' Caldron and his fate.

He found the cairns of stones after a time, and rode across the moor. As he did so the sky became very black. It had been growing gradually darker for the last hour or so, but he had not noticed it; now it came down—not in a pleasant summer shower, but with all the force of an autumn storm.

9667.—A SIMPLE STYLISH DESIGN

Ladies' House Dress.
Suitable for gingham, galatea, chambray, lawn, or percale, this model may also be developed in ratine, ling or theme, for more dressy wear. The fronts are cut low and a shawl collar finishes the neck. The skirt has a hem tucked at the centre back. The Pattern is cut in 5 Sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 5 yards of 44 inch material for a 36 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Corn on the Cob.

Corn on the cob is a tantalizing summer delicacy which is eaten with butter, salt and the fresh teeth. It is seldom tampered with by people who have lost their teeth until they are in a saucer, where it can be reached with a spoon and eaten with perfect composure.

Real corn on the cob is never enjoyed by anyone except those who reside in the corn belt and watch it tassel out from the kitchen window. The dining cars and eastern restaurants serve a pale, flabby imitation which bears the same resemblance to the real article that the bunny bug does to the minuet. When a crude, blunt westerner inserts his teeth in this case-hardened imitation, at 80 cents per insertion, he will call back the waiter and ask to have his order changed to ice cream and string beans.

On account of its adhesive qualities, corn on the cob is never served at society events, such as the six o'clock dinner or the wedding breakfast. There is nothing that will discourage conversation at the dinner-table quicker than a plateful of sweet corn which has to be held in both hands and shifted rapidly from ear to ear. There is also a strong and unreasonable prejudice against corn on the cob on the part of guests who are not satisfied with the way their plate fits. Unlike most foods, corn on the cob can be eaten in any quantity and at all times without causing confusion to anybody but those who are passive onlookers. It is very trying to be seated next to a dinner guest who is endeavouring to dispose of his quota of sweet corn without allowing the conversation to languish and whose articulation is considerably retarded thereby. We doubt, however, if this is any worse than listening to the intermittent ejaculations of the gourmand who attracts the meat course with one hand and the head lettuce with the other.

The sleeve in full length has a turn back cuff while the shorter sleeve shows a shaped cuff cut with overlapping point. The Pattern is cut in 5 Sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 3 yards of 44 inch material for a 36 inch size.

Up to the Southern Shore.
 A delightful treat is in store for those who are planning to spend next Wednesday out of town. The first excursion over the new railway to Ferrisland is being held. A garden party is being held at Ferrisland in aid of the new Convent there and an excursion train will be run to the most ancient capital, which Ferrisland is, over the railway line which has really not been officially opened. This will therefore, give an opportunity to everybody to see one of the most attractive bits of country within easy reach of St. John's. The whole of the route from here to Ferrisland is through a region which abounds in natural beauties, the scenic attractions of this route being certainly unsurpassed and in very few instances equalled in the country. The railway passes through the beautiful Killbride Valley to the Goules, then strikes into the country to the back of the Point, comes out at Bay Bulls, passes through that settlement and out to the headland which it circles, and traverses White Bay, doing the same again on to Middle and then to Tor's Cove, after which it strikes in the Land made Valley than which there is probably no finer bit of scenery on the island. From there the railway continues on to Cape Broyle, which it traverses in the same way and then inward through another valley of less attractive character and strikes the second station at Caplin Bay, whence it continues along within easy reach of the shore to Ferrisland where a stop will be made. The combination of seacoast and inland scenery which is afforded in the run is most delightful and we have no hesitation in saying that those who participate in the affair will thoroughly enjoy this chance of seeing as it will be virtually all our people, the unknown harbours and the beauty spots of the Southern Shore.

Minimise The Loss.
 Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss due to a backward and cold season by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.
 Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 16 per cent in Nitrate of Soda; and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.
 The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognised to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled and the growth of late crops stimulated.
 We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best method of using Sulphate of Ammonia, which will be forwarded free to any address on application.
 The Sulphate of Ammonia is moderate and our terms are accommodating.

BERLIN, August 14.
 As a result of the protracted financial and industrial depression, Germany is confronted by the problem of caring for an unprecedented army of unemployed. Attention was called to this condition by seven mass meetings of unemployed in various parts of the city, yesterday, at which resolutions were adopted demanding that the Government enact a law granting insurance against unemployment, demanding also that the State and Municipal authorities provide work, and that measures be at once adopted by the State to relieve suffering. It is estimated that nearly two thousand persons are out of employment in Berlin. Thousands of whom will have no chance to get work for five months, and that the indications are that this number will be increased when the winter arrives. The speakers painted gloomy pictures of suffering and misery among the working classes throughout Germany.

Panic in Moving Picture Theatre.
 Forty-nine persons seriously hurt, and fourteen believed to be dying.
 Valencia, Spain, August 11.—Forty-nine persons were seriously hurt to-day at Canidia, a town in the Province of Alcala, near the Mediterranean, as the result of a panic which occurred in a crowded moving picture theatre. A slight outbreak of fire caused the audience to rush blindly towards the exits, and of those hurt in the tremendous crush, fourteen are believed to-night to be dying.

Notes and Comments.

We are now in the middle of August and there has been no 'let up' so far in the discouraging nature of the fishery reports from the Labrador. The outlook so far is bad for the shore fishermen. Little is known, however, of what the floaters are doing in the Northern Labrador, and it is to be hoped the news of their operations will be of a much more favourable character. So far as the outlook has unfolded itself, it points to a big shortage on the Labrador, and however favourably the prices may affect those who have fish, that aspect will afford no solace to the large body of fishermen with little or no fish. Ten days or a fortnight's good fishing may yet work wonders and relieve the situation materially. But the time is growing short now and the fishery news of the next fortnight from the Labrador will be scanned with anxiety. If the news is not much more encouraging, it will spell Hard Times for very many Labrador fishermen, who will have to seek other employment and compete with the many Newfoundlanders who have returned home on account of the money stringency in Canada.

The Board of Trade is not only down on the Government on account of the laxity with which the Bait Protection Service was conducted last year, but it is not satisfied with the turning down its recommendation for legislation in the matter of laws relating to common carriers and to weights and measures. The Council's report says: "The Council regrets to have to report that the Government could not find time to take up these matters during the last session. A good deal of time and trouble were taken by the various Committees in the preparation of these recommendations and reform is urgently needed."

Editor Runs Rather Than Face Scandal.

Berlin, August 8.—The great scandal connected with the allegations made some years ago against Prince Philip Eulenburg and other former members of the Emperor William's suite was revived to-day by proceedings brought against a sensational weekly newspaper, the 'Montags Zeitung.'

The paper had printed an article connecting the name of Count Georg von Huelssen-Haeseler, director of the Royal Theatres, with the case. In referring to a rumor, since denied, of his approaching retirement, the newspaper published on August 4th a long attack, alluding to Count von Huelssen-Haeseler as a bosom friend of Prince Eulenburg, and declaring that he only narrowly missed being involved in the scandal aroused by the disclosure of the Prince's alleged abnormal temperament and habits.

Count von Huelssen-Haeseler, who was on a yachting trip with the Emperor at the time the attack appeared, lodged a complaint with the police on his return.

The police to-day searched the newspaper offices and the editor's residence, and seized some manuscripts, but did not find the editor who had left the town.

London Truth Handles Hughes Without Gloves.

London, August 8.—Apropos of the reported appointment of Colonel Gwatkins as Chief of Staff in Canada, London 'Truth' this week says: "The only doubt is not whether Colonel Gwatkins knows enough, but whether he is not too knowledgeable for Colonel Hughes, who is lamentably ignorant about all matters military and correspondingly 'touchy' when his ignorance is pointed out to him.

"If Colonel Hughes could not hit it off with Colonel Mackenzie, I do not think he will with Colonel Gwatkins, who is not more likely than his predecessor to suffer a fool gladly, especially when he is his official chief."

To Chase Mormon Elders.

Indignant Matrons Keep Girls Away From Lecture.

Atlantic City, Aug. 7.—Church people of this country have appealed to the authorities to chase four Mormons out of this section and prevent them delivering any more sermons or attempting to spread their propaganda. They attempted to deliver speeches at Pleasantville. Angry women discovered their intentions, appointed themselves as vigilantes, and saw that girls were not permitted near the places where the elders started to speak.

French Develop the Aeroplane.

Paris, August 11.—The ministry has given its approval to a scheme for the wide development of the aeroplane to co-operate with the navy. Mr. Bardin, the minister of marine, will ask Parliament when it convenes for an immediate appropriation of $1,750,000 for this purpose. It is believed battleships and large cruisers will be able during a battle, to use aeroplanes to throw explosives as powerful as those now used in torpedoes, and French naval designers, therefore, are taking into account the necessity for additional overhead protection from aerial torpedoes.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. His only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well. You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." That "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it? Is it any more than his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible. Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Perce Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.—aug5,11

Laugh and Miss The Knife.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 9.—"Smile," that is the latest and cheapest preventive for appendicitis, according to the surgeons who have handled most of the cases in the hospital.

The surgeons say that mental worry is a chief cause of appendicitis. Imperfect digestion of food is the general habit of the man who lacks a rosy view of life. The man who smiles and talks at table is least susceptible to physical ailments.

Since the first of January, seventy-one cases of appendicitis have been treated in the Johns Hopkins Hospital. Four of the patients died. That these deaths could have been averted was the confident statement made in the official bulletin issued by the hospital.

The surgeons declare that many cases of internal complaint can be traced to gloomy spirits in those who insist on going through life with a frown. The specialists say: "Worry and you'll get a pain in the side. The more you laugh the healthier you'll be and the fewer aches you'll have."

Woman Suffrage in New Zealand.

Colonel Allen was one of the champions of woman suffrage many years before it became a burning question in Great Britain. "We have had woman's suffrage in New Zealand for twenty years, and I have had no reason to regret assisting the women to obtain that power. Of course, we have had no wild militants, nor have we a million more women than men in our country, which facts make the question a very difficult one. The women, however, have exercised their vote very well indeed, and the percentage who go to the booths is as high as among the men. The women have supported all progressive movements and especially temperance."

Strawberry Festival at Topsail, C.B.

On Wednesday, 6th inst., the C. E. W. A. held a successful strawberry festival in the Orphanage ground at Topsail in aid of the Church of England Parsonage. The good ladies of the Association deserve the highest praise for the noble, self-denying work they are doing in the interests of the church.

In less than two years the sisters of the Association have, through their untiring efforts and indomitable perseverance, raised over four hundred dollars towards the fund for enlarging, altering and repairing the Parsonage.

The Incumbent of the mission, Rev. T. G. Nettles, desires to express his deep appreciation of the valuable assistance the C. E. W. A. has rendered him in his work, and his earnest gratitude for the cheerful whole-hearted services they are devoting to God and His church. He also wishes to acknowledge with much thankfulness liberal donations from Sir Joseph and Lady Ouchterlony and Hon. E. R. Bowring towards the strawberry festival. He desires at the same time to thank several parishioners on his own mission, and some kind Methodist friends, for assistance given in various ways; the L. O. A. for the use of their tables and chairs; the Committee and several others who helped in bringing and removing articles needed for the festival. We are greatly indebted to the numerous friends from St. John's, Topsail and elsewhere who contributed by their presence and purchases to the financial success of the undertaking. One and all will please accept our best thanks. In addition to names and amounts already published, I beg gratefully to acknowledge the following:—

- Sir W. Horwood $10.00
- A. S. Rendell, Esq. 10.00
- A. Goodridge, Esq. 10.00
- W. H. Crowley, Esq. 5.00

Work has been begun on the Parsonage. Some free labour has been given—as high as four days by a few. We are hoping for still more. As soon as the lumber is on hand, which is expected every day, the work will be pushed forward. There is much to be done to put the house in the condition in which it should be. We shall go on, however, as far as our means will allow, and then must stop, so as not to run into debt.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space in your valuable paper,

Yours truly,

T. G. N.

Topsail, Aug. 12th, 1913.

Card of Thanks.

I'm thankful that August full soon will be missed, for it's the gone-gone-gone of 1 d month in the list!

I'm thankful that winter is coming apace for then we begin to have fun on the place; how sweet to the yearner, how sweet to his soul, the trusty baseburner, the khdling and coal! How sweet to the thinker, who sweaters and swears, are stove-ripe and clunker, and snow on the stairs! I'm thankful the bally thermometer that's keeping its tally, while citizens sweat, will soon cease a-trying to mount to the skies, while sufferers, frying, gaze on it with sighs. I'm thankful the climate, which now is too worse for poets to rhyme it or prophets to curse, will soon take a reef in its sail and reform, and then we'll quit bein' because it's so warm!

Carried Away Child.

Geneva, August 11.—An enormous eagle-to-day, carried off the four-year-old child of a wood-cutter while it was playing near him when he was working in the forest in the vicinity of the village of Andeer, not far from Chur. A large body of hunters accompanied by dogs set off to the rescue of the child, but they were unable to find any trace of the eagle or its prey.

THE S. A. CONGRESS.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDONDERRY Ireland, To-day.—The police were again constantly employed in suppressing street fights between Nationalists and Orangemen. Numerous charges were made by the police who used their clubs freely. An elderly man named Armstrong was shot dead during a fighting which began at a Political celebration on Tuesday. Several persons were removed to hospitals suffering from wounds. The Magistrate held a meeting and decided among other precautionary measures to have all taverns in the disturbed district closed at seven in the evening. Late at night it was decided to requisition troops. Quiet had been restored at midnight.

ALBANY, N. Y. To-day.—Lieut. Governor Glynn will make formal address upon Governor Sulzer today for the possession of the Executive Chamber in the Capitol, and this being an issue on the question as to who is Governor of the State of New York. Governor Sulzer, it is said, will refuse to relinquish possession of the Chamber on such demand, and is understood to have already prepared a letter flatly declining to accede to it. What further action will then be taken by Glynn was not indicated last night, but general expectation was that rival claimants of the Governor's chair would resort to the courts for a test case under an agreed statement of facts. Word came from Saratoga last night that Secretary May would refuse to recognize Sulzer as Governor unless Attorney General Carmody should render an opinion contrary. Adjt. General Hamilton, formerly recognized Mr. Glynn as Governor.

NANAIMO, To-day.—The militia comprising detachments from three Victoria regiments marched into town yesterday morning through the streets thronged with soldiers and sullen miners. What most impressed the five hundred or more strikers gathered along the streets through which troops marched was the presence of two Maxim guns which were drawn by Royal Canadian artillery company. The members of the gun carriage held several thousand rounds of ammunition which was also another grim indication of the serious nature of the militia's mission. The strikers crowded sidewalks and although some miners held lanterns at soldiers, there was no attempt to oppose them.

LONDON, To-day.—After listening to vigorous speeches by Irish members in the Commons, concerning the abandonment of Queenstown as a sailing port for the Cunard liner mail steamers, in which he was told that without first getting sanction of Parliament which ratified the "Cunard contract," he had no right to dissent. Company breaking terms. Postmaster Samuel said he had given no formal assent to the Cunard liners' proposals to omit calling at Queenstown. Samuel answered that as presently advised he did not intend to grant the steamship company's request.

VICTORIA, To-day.—The basis of settlement of the strike as it affects one colliery in Vancouver and the Nanaimo Coal Co. will be submitted by President Partridge. If the men accept this other collieries will probably come into line. No general settlement seems to be in sight.

AMHERST, To-day.—A fire this morning destroyed the four-story of the Hewson building and stable and twenty-three valuable horses.

NO WORD FROM ERB.—Since leaving Berlin, Herr Erb, a fortnight ago, there has been no word received from the Balk, which left for the far north with the Moldavia party on board.

MIXARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARTH IN COWS.

COMMISSIONER D. M. REES.

COLONEL MAIDMENT, S.A.

The Annual Congress of the Salvation Army, which takes place in the city from the 14th to the 20th inst. will be conducted by Commissioner David M. Rees, Territorial Commander for Canada, Newfoundland and the Bermudas. The Commissioner is one of the Army's oldest officers, having connected himself with the organization in 1882. His experience has been long and varied, including Field and Divisional Commands, and Field Secretaryship in Great Britain, Territorial Commands in South Africa and Sweden, and for some years principal of the Army's International Training Home, London. He is now for the second time in command of the Canadian Territory.

During his term of office as Commander of the Canadian forces, he has made many improvements in the organization, and have extended the Social operations considerably. By his untiring devotion to the cause and making himself acquainted with every branch of the Army's work from the Atlantic to the Pacific, he has thus educated himself to every officer under his command. The Commissioner is not altogether a stranger to our shores having visited the city and conducted a series of meetings about two years ago. During his present visit to Newfoundland, in addition to the Congress meetings and Officers' Councils, he will devote much of his time in inspecting the Army's work and institutions, also finalizing plans for the further advancement and improvement of the Canadian forces.

JAMES STOTT

New Zealand's Premier

An appreciation of the Hon. W. F. Massey, Premier of New Zealand, appears in the New Zealand Herald.

"Mr. Massey makes no pretensions to the gift of genius," says the writer. "Though a fluent and convincing speaker he is no orator. He never attempts to soar to the heights of eloquence, or to captivate his audience by brilliant rhetoric. He is, as Mark Antony described himself, a plain, blunt man. He has little of the personal magnetism which enables his fortunate possessor to cast a mysterious spell on all who come within range of its subtle influence.

"The true explanation of Mr. Massey's hold on the public of New Zealand is to be found, I think, in the fact that he has come to be regarded as the incarnation of common sense and honesty of purpose. The people trust him. There is a true ring about his utterances. What he says he means, and what he means he says. His motto is a square deal for everybody, and I believe he will steadily adhere to it."

Boy Regains Voice At Cricket Match.

London, Aug. 9.—After being dumb for ten years, a Leeds youth found the power of speech restored to him yesterday during the excitement of a cricket match. No less remarkable was the boy's conduct in concealing the restoration of speech from all around him until he had written a letter to his mother telling the news. The youth while trying to steal a run found himself trying to shout. He even thought he heard his own voice, and much puzzled stole away to the woods after the match was over and there in solitude found that his voice was really restored. For a long time he remained talking to himself, and shouting with delight went back and without letting any one know what happened wrote his mother. He became dumb after an attack of influenza ten years ago. His doctor predicted that he would probably regain his speech even after the lapse of years.

Italian Portia is Disqualified.

Rome, August 11.—The cause of women in Italy has had a setback. Although Italians as a whole regard the question with benevolence, almost sympathy, some years ago Signorina Teresa Lombroso was admitted to the bar. In fact, she pleaded before the courts several times successfully. However, lately her right to exercise her profession was called into question, and the supreme court has just given a decision against her on findings that will make American women smile. It is held that as, according to Italian law, a woman cannot do anything in public life without the consent of her husband, if she were allowed to practice law, her husband might withdraw his consent at any moment, even while she was pleading.

From Liverpool.

The Furness liner Tobasco, Capt. Freeman, arrived today from Liverpool, which port she left seven days ago. She brought 20 packages of mail matter, 500 tons of cargo and 80 passengers. The ship sails again this evening for Halifax.

Here and There.

R. C. FEAST DAY.—To-day being the Feast of the Assumption, Mass was celebrated in all the R. C. Churches in the city, the same as on Sundays.

BOWINGS' BOATS.—The Portia left Rose Blanche yesterday afternoon, coming east. The Prospero left Fortunate Harbor at 9.30 a.m. to-day.

POLICE COURT.—A man for using threatening language to his brother was remanded. A vagrant named Tibbs whose hip is badly injured will be examined by a doctor and likely sent to the hospital.

VISITING SUBURBS.—At present there is a large influx of tourists here and to-day all the city cabmen are engaged taking the American and Canadian tourists to the most interesting resorts in the suburbs.

DELEGATES RETURN.—Mr. C. O. N. and Mrs. Conroy and Mr. J. Barron who were delegates attending the Knights of Columbus Convention, held in Boston, on August 5th, 6th and 7th, returned home to-day by the Morwell.

DRY FISH MARKET.—Yesterday afternoon and this morning severe cold loads of dry fish, this year's cure, were brought to town from Torbay and other nearby settlements. The fish was quickly disposed of in the local market and fetched good prices.

SMALLPOX.—Smallpox has been reported to Dr. Brehm from Reconciler in Fortune Bay. Three residents of the place are down with the disease. Dr. Fitzgerald, who is looking after the sufferers, is enforcing the quarantine rules strictly to prevent infection.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, August 15th 1913.—Psyhan Points Tea is justifying its reputation as the tea for Dyspeptics and those threatened with failure of the digestive organs, consisting as it does of nothing but the outside of the leaves and the young shoots of the tea plant without any of the coarsest leaves or midrib. It thus contains a minimum of tannin, which is the main thing that makes the use of tea to be such a prolific source of dyspepsia. It is also more economical than ordinary teas. Price 60 cents a pound; smaller packages at 35, 25 and 10 cents. Rat Corn will enable you to get rid of rats and mice. It dries up the vermin, leaving no odor whatever behind, and it is not poisonous to cats and dogs, etc. It is thus a safe remedy to use, as well as an effective one. Price 15 and 25 cents, and $1 a tin.

Died at Hospital.

There passed away at the General Hospital this morning, after a brief though severe illness, Mary, eldest daughter of Philip and the late Sarah (Trotty). Deceased was 24 years of age and a fine promising young woman. About a month ago she went on a visit to a relative at Bell Island, where she contracted a heavy cold, followed by pleuro-pneumonia. On the advice of her medical attendants she entered the Hospital, but she never rallied and the end came. To the sorrowing father and large circle of relatives and friends deep sympathy is expressed.

PRESCRIPTION "A."

Very Highly Recommended by An Outport Man. Please send me by mail 1 large bottle of Sutherland's Prescription "A". Enclosed you will find 50 cents, also 10 cents for postage. You sent me a trial size a few days ago and it almost cured my wife. Another 50 cent bottle will make a cure. I have tried doctors and all kinds of medicine, but I don't believe that there is any medicine that can cure a bad stomach like SUTHERLAND'S PRESCRIPTION "A". I am more than thankful that ever you advertised that medicine. Please forward as soon as possible, as I am waiting anxiously for it. Signed,

By RUTH CAMERON.

A few years ago one of our neighbors died very suddenly.

The widow had reason to expect to find herself fairly well off, as they had always lived comfortably and her husband had given her to understand that he had plenty laid by. But when she tried to put her hands on his money she found herself in great difficulty. His only will was a brief document making a few small bequests and devising the remainder of his property to her. But he did not definitely state in his will what this property was, and in his lifetime he had never told his wife just what securities he possessed or where he kept them. Consequently it was years before she was able to possess what rightfully belonged to her.

That is one instance of the unnecessary trouble which can be caused by a man who does not believe in letting his wife know anything about his business affairs. Here is another.

During a business man's absence on a long business trip his home was robbed of the family jewels and silver. His wife knew they had a burglar insurance but did not know in what company. She tried to reach her husband by letter or telegraph, but he had gone ahead of his schedule and every effort was in vain. The rules of the insurance company required the notice of the loss within a week.

When Ground is "Hot" and "Cold."

Striking Facts About the Soil.

How far does the heat of the full summer's sun penetrate into the ground? Probably not one person in ten will give an answer that is even approximately correct. Their replies generally vary from one inch to many hundreds of feet. Actually, the distance is about 3 feet. Beyond this depth the temperature of the soil does not vary appreciably from hour to hour, let the midday be never so hot and the midnight never so cold. At this depth the mean temperature in the summer is about 58 deg. Fahr., and in the winter about 38 deg. Fahr.

Increased by Depth.

And the annual difference? That is to say, the depth at which there is some difference between the summer temperature and that of the winter? Well, at a depth of 60 feet, it is impossible to measure any change due to the changing seasons overhead. Go down only 40 feet, and it is minute—barely measurable. But at 25 feet to 30 feet, it is quite a definite amount.

The surface heat takes a long while to penetrate downwards. In fact, curiously enough, the change in temperature of the ground takes just over six months to reach the end of its 25 feet journey. Thus we are faced with the phenomenon of midsummer upon the surface occurring at the same time as midwinter 25 feet to 30 feet down, and vice versa.

As most people are aware, the temperature increases with the depth. At 3 feet down the average annual mean is just short of 46 deg. Fahr.; while at 25 feet it is just over a degree more, that is 47 deg. Fahr. In agricultural districts you will hear farmers in the same village talking about "cold" soils and "warm" soils. This, although it sounds improbable to those who have never had anything to do with the land, is an actual fact.

Black Absorbs Heat.

Everybody knows, from personal experience, that black clothes are hotter to wear when a hot summer's sun is shining than white ones, hence the "bannels" for men and the white frocks for girls. The reason for this is that black and other dark colors absorb heat, while white and the lighter shades reflect it. And this applies to soils equally with clothes.

Those soils which by their ingredients are a darker color are literally warmer than their lighter neighbors. Peaty soils, some of which are nearly black, others a rich, dark brown, are the warmest. Light-colored clays and chalk the coldest. There may be as much as 18 deg. or 16 deg. Fahr. between the temperatures of two soils, lying next each other and upon the same day. On a warm summer's day the temperature of peaty soil may well be over 87 deg. Fahr., while a chalky field of similar situation in the same district will not rise above 73 deg. to 74 deg. Fahr.

Of course, the great advantage of a warm soil is that the crops upon it come to maturity so much earlier than those upon a cold one. Therefore, the man who is cultivating the former is enabled to place his produce upon the market very much sooner than his rival, and often gets an enhanced price in consequence.—TR-Blts.

Unbelievable Atrocities in Russian Prisons.

St. Petersburg, August 7.—Almost unbelievable atrocities are being revealed daily in connection with the general investigation of the Russian prison system, now being conducted by a special governmental commission.

The attention of the commission has been directed especially to Riga in the past few days. The evidence shows that the detective department there has practiced methods which rival the atrocities perpetrated at the Spanish Inquisition. Thirty-seven workmen, arrested on suspicion of murdering an engineer, were all subjected to the most horrible forms of torture during their examination. One of them, a youth named Timofeyev, was pinioned with his arms beneath his bent knees, a stick being passed through them, so he could not stir. He was then thrown to the floor, and one of the detectives belabored his naked feet with a rubber whip, afterwards using the butt end on the lad's body. When he cried out from pain, the detectives gagged him, gripped his throat until he was senseless, revived him with cold water, tore out his hair by handfuls, knocked his head against the floor, and subjected him to other unprintable indignities. A month later, all the prisoners, including Timofeyev, were released without any charge against their names. Timofeyev will be a cripple for life. A report from the Schlossenburg prison states that the food is vile; all hygiene has been dispensed with; there is no medical treatment; for the most trifling offenses prisoners are condemned to a month in the dreadful punishment cell, and floggings are a daily occurrence. Seven victims of this regime have recently become insane. A letter from a prisoner at Algatech says: "We are making a special study of suicide. A comrade who has been able to bring poison in with him is regarded as exceptionally fortunate. Those of us who are not thus provided are practising the art of making deadly nooses which we may tighten with our own hands in case we are called to the awful punishment cell."

Fashions and Fads.

Opera bags of moire are set into oval frames.

Rainproof bonnets are now made for automobilists.

The brassieres in blouse effects are particularly liked.

Young girls' suits have a great many sashes on the coats.

Scotch plaids and checks make very practical outing coats.

Some of the sheer black hats have white crowns veiled in black.

The chief novelty color at this moment is yellow in all shades.

Serge continues to be the great staple among fall wool materials.

The peg-top shirt is shown in some of the smart mannish suits.

Vella are not quite so much worn as they were early in the season.

One of the new autumn stuffs for wraps is plush in chinchilla effect.

Jeweled bands, velvet mounted, are much used for hair bandeaux.

Coming skirts have pleats, but they are still small around the foot.

Fashion continues to favor the rough white chinchilla cloths for coats.

The most exclusive of black-and-white dresses are carried out in tulle.

There is an increased liking for colored checks among worsted fabrics.

Some of the newest hair ornaments have hinged metal tops, jewel set.

Some of the summer linen coats are lined with linen, but of different color.

For the moderately priced evening coat there is nothing like broadcloth.

The new plaid ribbons show some extreme black effects difficult to describe.

Poplins are always staple-like bread and butter. So are dimity weaves.

Clinging effects continue to be one of the chief characteristics of the present fashions.

Some of the prettiest all-white dresses are made in crepon or heavy white chiffon.

Cotton crepes are of all weights, from the sheerest qualities to actual ratine thickness.

Silk crepons promise to be revived for fall gowns. Blister crepons are their newest forms.

The slash promises to be used in the new narrow skirts, but it will not be any way striking.

The new duveline fabric is being developed in both wool and silk and wool for the winter.

A few straight-cut coats on the Chinese order, but finished with waistcoats, are being made.

Net with large lace designs on it is more successful than really heavy laces like Irish or Venise.

A feature of practically all evening wraps is the drapery. Usually it is full above and confined below the knees.

Some of the newest linens, both tea cloths and napkins, have borders printed in high colors and modern art designs.

"The Silent Partner."

A Study of Mr. Z. A. Lash, a Noted Newfoundlander in Canada.

Zebulon Alton Lash is probably the most successful publicity dodger, the most nearly successful fugitive, from notoriety of the really noteworthy men in Canada. Day in and day-out he trudges along the worn sidewalks that lie between the Canadian Bank of Commerce head office in Toronto and the head offices of Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann, three blocks east along King Street, or is swept from engagement to engagement in a motor so big that he looks lost sitting all alone in the big back seat. Yet he gives no interview, is seldom the victim of the press photographer, and is never caught making an indiscretion in print.

Sir William Mackenzie cannot move out of his accustomed beat without at least six reporters and as many newspaper cameras following him. Sir Donald Mann gives interviews regularly, either on reciprocity, woman suffrage or the price of steel rails, but the unseen and unheard partner in that wonderful firm of Mackenzie and Mann—and in that other notable organization, the Canadian Northern Railway, moves unscathed among countless reporters. Thousands know his name. The same thousands see him every day in the year and scarcely think more than "Who's the little man sitting in the motor?" One does not see his picture in Sunday supplements and magazine articles, or see his views quoted under big headlines in the papers. Yet he is the third man in the great Mackenzie and Mann organization, which is not, as the public has been led to believe, a twin partnership, a coalition between two great railroad builders, not a double arrangement, but triple! And the weakest of the three—if there is any weakness—is not Zebulon Lash; K.C.

On the surface, of course, Z. A. Lash is only a lawyer. He is known as the senior partner in Messrs. Blake, Lash, Anglin and Cassels, of the Bank of Commerce Building, Toronto. But although the law was the career that Lash as a young man chose, he was not the sort to be content to stop at merely being a senior partner in a big firm. From his birthplace in St. John's, Newfoundland, where he was born in 1846 and brought him to Dundas, Ont., for a grammar school education. Love of learning took him then to the University of Toronto, and hard work led him to a barrister's gown at the age of twenty-two, when he was called to the Bar of Ontario. In the practice of law he became a member of the firm Van-Koughnet and Lash, and later of the firm Beatty, Chadwick and Lash. In 1876, being only thirty years of age, he became Deputy Minister of Justice for Canada and resided at Ottawa. In 1882 he left the Government service to join Hon. Sam Blake and Mr. Cassels in the present well-known firm, and with this had reached, practically thirty years ago, the same height as a lawyer which he holds to-day.

But his activities extended outside the law, and when William Mackenzie and Donald Mann—in those old days little dreaming of knight-hoods—got into their first bad legal tangle and somehow found their way into the office of the little lawyer with the sideburns and the bright eyes, they unwittingly stumbled upon the man who was to be a silent but dominating factor in making successful most of the big undertakings they engaged in thereafter. The legend goes that William Mackenzie had, in an impetuous moment, undertaken more than he and his partner had been able to do, and that the big co-worker had not been able to find the usual way out. Their solicitor had failed. Their next assistant solicitor had given it up and they faced trouble. In such a situation it was not only an astute legal mind they required to help them, but a man of integrity upon whom they could rely to the utmost. And seeking such a man they found Zebulon Lash.

On his part, too, Lash had made a discovery. Brooding over trusty legal fables he had dreamed big dreams of work to be done and rewards to be had. He had wished that he had not been tied to law books and clients with petty cases. He saw an empire to be compassed in Canada, and when he met Mackenzie and Mann blundering from one big job to another like two big school-boys with giant abilities and no finesse, he saw his opportunity and seized it. It was Zebulon Lash, little, broad, stout, fussy looking, with gray sideburns and snappy eyes, who made the big speech introducing Mackenzie and Mann to the city of Toronto at a Board of Trade banquet fifteen years ago. Toronto scarcely knew Mackenzie and Mann until then. It was Z. A. Lash who began to add finesse to their workings. He showed them better methods of financing. He taught them the true value of Government backing. He showed them the mistake of asking too little for a railway and, most marvellous of all, taught them the value of personal publicity—he the most modest man in Toronto, who shrinks from public gaze into the quiet of his unostentatious home, and is never quoted!

To-day Mackenzie and Mann and the Canadian Northern Railway rival the C. P. R. in prestige and importance. To-day Z. A. Lash is a Vice-President of the Canadian Northern Railway and a director of Mackenzie and Mann Limited. He is Vice-President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He is Vice-President of the Sao Paulo Tramway, Light and Power Company, the Mexico Tramway Company and the Rio de Janeiro Tramway, Light and Power Company—all of them Mackenzie and Mann interests—to say nothing of the National Trust Company and other leading Canadian corporations. But chiefest of the Canadian Northern interests is the Canadian Northern.

In private life—he is a maker of fishing poles—a lover of sport, and devotee to good books, but above all a domestic man, the sanctuary of the home and the responsibility of the family are chief tenets in his religious belief. From the world of business, as it hurries and throbs outside the windows of his down-town office, he retires to the quiet of an old-fashioned street in Toronto. His blinds are not lifted for the public to see the inside of his home, however magnificent in its simplicity. No great porticoes or elaborate architecture attracts the admiration of the passerby. This is as Zebulon A. Lash wishes it. He loves privacy and retirement, and, strange to say, more nearly succeeds in getting it than most people. Occasionally he goes off on long holidays, in which, if opportunity affords, he goes fishing. For a rod he takes split bamboo and builds it up to suit himself. There are few better rods offered in any sporting goods store than Z. A. Lash makes for himself.

Outwardly he is alert, brusque, suspicious of strangers, indifferent, almost harsh, but inside this outer casing is a warm and impulsive heart that begrudges nothing to those he knows and loves. Young business men and lawyers have not seldom found themselves unexpectedly assisted by a man who refused to wait for thanks. Educationists find in the Treasurer of the University of Toronto—another of his positions—a man who combines with his knowledge of finance and law a passion for the fullest enlightenment to the greatest possible number. Opponents in law or business have been surprised to find him not inexorable, but almost quixotic in his passion for fair play to both sides. In parts of Canada his name is regarded as synonymous with vested rights, protected interests and predatory wealth. Z. A. Lash is not an oppressor, nor a capitalist in the sense the specialists use the word. He believes in vested rights and protection—as necessary to the nation. In this, he may be wrong, but no man has ever been able to accuse Z. A. Lash of being insincere. He believes in what he does.

One of his pet themes is the need for educating the immigrant to Canadian ideals. "What is the best way to make newcomers to Canada good Canadians?" he once exclaimed in a speech in Toronto. "Give them full and true information about Canada!" That speech was made many months ago. Recently he provided a young Canadian journalist with the means of starting an agricultural paper that would help carry out his idea of education. Thousands differ with Zebulon A. Lash in his opinions. He is misunderstood, by many and misrepresented by others. Above the turmoil he stands as a constructive Canadian, an upright, sensible man and a genuine citizen—James Grant in The Toronto Daily News, August 6.

A Busy Shipping Port.

This summer has seen great activity in Botwood shipping, both the A.N.D. Co. and the Albert E. Reed Co. have been despatching large quantities of pulp and paper, and their several large piers have been taxed to their full capacity to accommodate the steamers when a number have been discharging and loading at once.

The "Marina" has just arrived with over 3,000 tons of coal for the inland cities, and will carry away about the same quantity of Balmora.

The Newfoundland Pine and Pulp Co. have the four-masted bark "Hafstrford" loading a valuable cargo of 1,700,000 feet of White Pine for Buenos Ayres, and the three-masted auxiliary schooner "Geo. B. Cluett" carrying 800,000 laths for New York, as well as a schooner loading for St. John's. This company also has the bark "Hawthornbank" loading at Point Leamington with White Pine for Buenos Ayres, she will carry 1,250,000 feet. The ship "Max King" is on the way to Botwood to load another cargo for the Argentines, and several more cargoes are to be shipped later in the season. To furnish lumber for these cargoes the company's large and up-to-date Band Sawmill is in full swing sawing a night and day on White Pine logs, of which the company has eight million feet ($8,000,000 ft.) on hand, and the "Exploit's" is continuously employed towing logs from the company's holding boom on the Exploit's River to the mill boom at Botwood. The President of the Newfoundland Pine and Pulp Co., Mr. Harry J. Crowe, has been absent the past week in Canada Bay, where he is contemplating another extensive lumber industry. A lumber mill in any settlement spells prosperity for the inhabitants, and we wish Mr. Crowe every success in his new venture.

Botwood is now so easily reached that it is becoming known as an ideal spot in which to spend a holiday. The A.N.D. Co.'s train is constantly running from Bishop Falls and Grand Falls, a short trip of five miles in a motor boat carries one from Morris Arm on the main line of the R.N. Co. to Botwood, while if one wishes a pleasant steamer trip the Clyde leaves Lewisport twice a week for Botwood, and the run up the bay has probably the finest scenery on her route.

Sudden Death.

Last evening at the residence of his parents, on Cookstown Road, the death occurred suddenly of Mr. William Beer. Deceased was 38 years of age, and a son of Mr. John Beer, of the Sanitary Department. The young man suffered from internal injuries as the result of a heavy fall received a month ago. At five o'clock last evening Mr. Beer took very ill with an attack of heart failure. Medical and spiritual aid were called and an hour later he expired. Deceased was well known in the city and worked with the U. S. Picture and Portrait Co. for a number of years. To the bereaved father and other relatives the Telegram extends sympathy.

MEXICO CITY, August 14.
 A statement made by the Minister of War, that he will not be a candidate for the Presidency, his only candidate being Provisional President Huerta, has aroused considerable interest here. The close relations between Blarquet and Huerta is considered to make Blarquet's statement tantamount to an official indication that Huerta will run for the office of Chief Executive of the Republic.

LONDON, Aug. 14.
 The Chronicle's morning states that Lord Alverstone's resignation is in the hands of Premier Asquith, but his successor as Lord Chief Justice will not be appointed till after the long vacation. The appointment will undoubtedly be offered to Sir Rufus Isaacs, who in the event of acceptance will be succeeded as Attorney General by Sir John Simon. The report of the probable resignation of Rt. Hon. Augustine Birrell is contradicted on the same authority. Birrell is reported to have said that he intends to cling to the office until it expires with Home Rule for Ireland. This will be his one chance for distinction. There have been many Chief Secretaries for Ireland, he said, but it will be a real distinction to be the last of them.

CANTON, Aug. 14.
 Twelve hundred were killed while fighting the rebels yesterday and pillage is in progress everywhere. Half of the soldiers have joined the rebels, and together have looted the principal goldsmiths and silversmiths' stores. Local generals are powerless owing to dissensions among themselves. An attack on the foreign concession at Shamen is believed by foreign residents to be in contemplation by disorderly elements. A detachment of Indian native troops stationed there as a guard has been reinforced from Hong Kong in preparation for eventualities. The foreign quarter serves as a buffet between the two quarters. A fire broke out destroying thirty barracks, and traffic on Han Kow railway has been suspended.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.
 After a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today it became known that the administration would take action with regard to the statement made by Ambassador Wilson attacking the reported views of the British Foreign Office on recognition of the Huerta Government in Mexico. Bryan arranged to confer with the Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Meanwhile word would be obtained from the British summer embassy at Dublin, N.H., as to whether the statement of the British Foreign Office as reported was correct. It was said on good authority that a sharp reprimand was likely to be the form which the administration would use to give expression to its resentment for the Ambassador's statement. Senator Lodge conferred briefly with the President and told him he wished to cooperate in every way possible to support his efforts to handle the situation peacefully.

Slight Fire.

Last night the Central and Western Fire Companies were called to the Reid Company's Round House. Some hot cinders that came from an engine ignited some waste and caused the alarm. The services of the firemen were not needed as the fire was put out before they arrived.

In This City Men Will Find a Buying Opportunity To-Day!

Every man in business will understand why this buying opportunity has come to him and what it means.

Every factory as well as every store, has a broken stock of merchandise which it must clear out at any cost.

There never was a store nor a factory that could regulate its merchandise just right.

Every clothing factory has a surplus clothing stock at this time, which it must move even if it loses money in doing so. The same is true of every clothing store.

Every manufacturer of shirts, of collars, of neckties, has a surplus stock which he is trying to put into your hands. Every Shoe Manufacturer has a Shoe Stock which must be cleared.

These manufacturers are going to the stores in this city and offering the stocks in many cases far below the manufacturing cost. Your stores are buying up these stocks for your benefit. And they are giving you prices that are unknown at any other time of the year.

A man can understand the reason for these sales because he finds the same necessity for clearance in any line he happens to be in.

Any store or factory that does not clear its stocks at least once a year will become a junk store in three years.

So now is your time to lay in a few straw hats, a couple of suits of clothes, and several pairs of good shoes.

Now is your time to lay in plenty of collars, shirts, stockings and underwear, because these prices will never reach this level again for 12 long months.

You will find all these bargains in the advertising which this paper carries every day. You will be able to save from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent. of your money on anything you buy.

Who wouldn't read the advertising eagerly when he can save from $5.00 to $20.00 on an ordinary amount purchase?

Turn to that advertising now. And make your business knowledge of advantage to your pocket book.

Hr. Grace Notes.

The Newfoundland Highlanders marched up from Carbonar yesterday morning, and after a short rest left for the race course where no doubt a very enjoyable day was spent. They are all well and they think the days are passing away all too quickly.

A number of city folks who were here for our Regatta, returned to St. John's this morning.

Tuesday evening and night with cold N. E. wind and rain looked very gloomy for our Regatta on Wednesday. But Wednesday morning opened fine and bright and when the first race was called hundreds had already gathered on the grounds. In this race (Tradesmen) five boats contested, among them the two new boats—Prince Albert and Agile—the Firemen's and Mr. Charles Ash's. Owing to some little hitch in turning the race was disputed, but the Bessie came in first, Prince Albert second and Agile third. Seven of the races were run off, and two cup races are yet to be rowed. During the evening hundreds of people gathered around the lake, and the different groups of picnic parties formed a very pretty picture as they dotted the hill side. Among the visitors were Sir Edward Morris, Capt. Eli Dawe and Mr. Plescott. A large number of visitors too numerous to mention were also there.

Only two boats contested for the Shamrock Cup; this might be accounted for in some way by the fact that this cup is only open to crews from the different societies of Harbour Grace, while the other cups are open to people from any part of the Island. The day passed off very pleasantly. The C. C. C. band and the pipers from the Highlanders furnished music for the occasion.

Mr. Walker's dining rooms were well patronized, and he no doubt received sufficient remuneration to warrant him in keeping up this house for the use of the public on Regatta days.
