ELEVENTH YEAR. THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 28, 1890. ONE CENT.

A BATCH OF JUDGES WANTED.

TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE OLDER MEN ON THE ONTARIO BENCH.

Who Will be the Next Chief Justice at Ottawa and at Toronto?—What About Meredith and Mowat?—Young Lawyers Who Would Make Judges—Salaries Must Go Up—Men Who Can't Afford the Honor of the Bench.

The World has been directing public attention for the past few days to a number of public officials who are very much overpaid for the services they render. This morning attention is invited to the insufficient salaries paid to the judges of the Superior Courts of Ontario, who render first-class services to the State and receive only second-class pay, and which condition of affairs has brought about a difficulty in securing competent men for the bench. As a number of changes are likely soon to be made the authorities at Ottawa will be compelled, in their efforts to secure new judges, to take into consideration the question of their salaries.

One of the first vacancies that is likely to occur will be made by the resignation of Sir William Ritchie, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at Ottawa. Justice Strong, also of that court, is likely soon to retire. So is Mr. Justice Patterson. Among the names mentioned as a successor to Sir William Ritchie is that of Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, but it is a question whether the political exigencies of the Conservative party will allow of the retirement of the Minister of Justice for some time at least. Indeed it is said that Sir John Macdonald will insist on Sir John Thompson remaining with him till the last. In that case the Chief Justice's successor might come from Ontario, as also the successor to Justice Strong, or Judge Patterson.

In Ontario no less than five vacancies must soon be brought about. Mr. Justice Proudfoot has already asked to be retired and it is pretty generally understood that Chief Justice Hagarty, Chief Justice Galt and Mr. Justice Burton intend to follow the example of Judge Proudfoot. They have all rendered faithful services and are well entitled to retire on an allowance of two-thirds of their salary. With these four prospective vacancies and the fifth vacancy which would occur if an Ontario judge were elevated to the Supreme Court at Ottawa, five new appointments on the Ontario bench would be at the disposal of Sir John Macdonald. Where to get the men without increasing the salaries will be his principal difficulty. The Chief Justice of Ontario should certainly have $10,000 a year, and the other chief justices not less than $8000, with $7500 each for the ordinary puisne judges.

Among the names mentioned for the chief justices, especially that of Ontario, that is in succession to Mr. Hagarty, are those of Christopher Robinson, Chancellor Boyd, Hon. Oliver Mowat and Mr. Meredith. Christopher Robinson, it is admitted by all, has the first claim, if he would take the chief justiceship. Mr. Mowat, now in his 71st year, is almost too old for the office, if it were not the case that he prefers politics. Mr. Meredith is young, strong, full of vigor and a sound lawyer, and would make an excellent chief justice. That he would take the position The World has no means of knowing.

A number of lawyers now practising at the Ontario bar, and who have gained reputation, would not care to go on the bench, because it would mean a great falling off in their income, which they at present cannot afford: moreover a number of these gentlemen, like B. B. Osler and D'Alton McCarthy, might make very indifferent judges notwithstanding their ability at the bar. The kind of lawyer to get for judge is one who has had a good training in law and possesses as well the judicial instinct and a capacity for work. These men also ought to be if possible at their full vigor, say from the age of 38 to 50, and who could afford to retire on the moderate salaries of judges. Among the younger men of the profession who answer this description to a greater or less degree are: E. Douglas Armour, Z. A. Lash, C. H. Ritchie, W. Laidlaw, T. D. Delamere, J. J. Foy, A. H. Marsh, J. H. Macdonald, George F. Shepley, Col. Macdonald of Guelph, Mr. Walkem of Kingston and D. B. Maclennan of Cornwall. It might just be possible that senior members of the bar like Charles Moss, John Bain and James Beaty, might be induced to go on the bench, but that is uncertain.

But something must be done right away to get the Bench of Ontario up to the proper efficiency.

AT THE REFORM CLUB.

The Attorney-General of Nova Scotia Receives a Stirring Ovation.

Attorney-General Longley's second day in Toronto was pleasantly spent. He busied himself renewing old acquaintances and seeing his political allies in this part of the Dominion. In the evening a banquet was given in his honor at the Reform Club. Over one hundred covers were laid. Mr. John A. Barron, M.P. for North Victoria, was in the chair and Mr. H. W. Darling in the vice-chair. The banquet was in every way a success. Speeches were made by Hon. G. W. Ross, Col. Gibson and Mr. James McMullen, M.P., North Wellington.

Mr. Longley was received with marked enthusiasm when he arose to respond to the toast of "Our Guest." He is a pleasing and fluent speaker. He denied in the most emphatic manner that he was an annexationist, as had been charged against him by his political opponents. No public utterances of his could be construed into such a meaning. He thought that the present restricted trade policy of the country was detrimental to the country's best interests. He wanted enlarged fields of trade and more extensive markets. These sentiments were loudly applauded.

A FUGITIVE'S FATE.

Jumped from a Train to His Death—His Child Followed.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Stephen Beck, an old man living in St. Clair county, Ill., jumped from a passenger train while it was going at full speed near Holmesburg Junction to-day and was killed. He was accompanied by his young daughter, and when the child saw her father jump from the train she ran after him and jumped off. She was so badly injured that she died soon afterwards. They were bound for Hamburg and had over $3000 in their possession. Inspection of the man's papers showed that Beck had been held in $300 bail for felonious assault upon a little girl and that he had given a check to his bondsmen to cover the amount and then prepared to flee the country. There was a strong smell of whisky on the body.

An Ohio Flood.

CALDWELL, O., Aug. 27.—Noble County was visited from 2 to 6 p.m. yesterday by the hardest rains ever known there. At East Union on Duck Creek several houses were washed away. One bridge struck a dwelling house and Rev. S. W. Archer, D. Kirk, his wife and child, Mrs. Belle Dach and David Morse's child were drowned.

The Haldimand Petition.

CALEDONIA, Aug. 27.—The election petition trial of J. W. Sheppard against Dr. Montague and Peter E. Reicheld will commence on Tuesday next at Cayuga. It is stated here that the petition has been withdrawn by consent of both parties.

ACCIDENT OR SUICIDE.

The Body of a Montreal Merchant Found in the River at Sherbrooke.

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—The body of James Moir, a Montreal merchant, was found last night floating in the St. Francis River at Sherbrooke. Mr. Moir was at one time prominent in business circles as a member of the firm of Forrester & Moir, but some years ago he lost heavily in gold mining speculation and retired, going to Chicago, where he became an insurance broker. A year ago his wife died and he returned to Montreal and resided with his brother, Arch. Moir, when it was noticed that symptoms of incipient insanity were developed. On Aug. 12 Arch. Moir with his family and the deceased went to Portland Harbor, Long Island, to spend the vacation. On Aug. 20 the deceased was missed. When night came and he did not return Mr. Moir became uneasy and a search was at once instituted but without results, although telegrams were sent about the country and railway depots and placards with the description of the deceased. It is not likely that it will ever be known what was the object of deceased in going to Sherbrooke, whether he was accidentally drowned or whether he took his own life in a fit of despondency. Mr. Moir was 65 years old.

TOO WINDY FOR GOOD SHOOTING.

But the Crack Marksmen Keep Pegging Away for Bullseyes—Mr. Mulock Re-lected President.

The high and shifty wind on Garrison common yesterday interfered seriously with the scoring. The Tait-Brassey match was the only one completed, the highest battalion score being 576 and the highest individual 83, as against 655 and 91 last year. In spite of the big scores made by some of the teams in the Canadian Military Rifle League, the local corps carried off the principal prizes. In the battalion match the Q.O.R. was first and the 12th Battalion second. In the grand aggregate Staff-Sergt. Harp, Q.O.R., and Staff-Sergt. Bell, 12th Battalion, tie for first place. In the Walker match Tuesday the Q.O.R. was first and the 12th Battalion second.

Stray Shots.

The treasurer, Col. Alger, commenced yesterday to pay out the prizes.

The extra series and revolver matches will close to-day at noon. The entries are about 25 per cent. more than last year.

The entries yesterday amounted to 298, being still four behind those of last year.

The firing for the Gzowski skirmishing and volley matches will commence to-day at 2 o'clock. This is the most interesting match of the series, as all competitors will be in uniform.

Mr. Mulock, the president, dined with the officers of the Fort last evening.

The council for '91 held a meeting yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mulock was re-elected president. Major Sam Hughes, 45th Batt., Lindsay, was elected vice-president for the third military district in place of Dr. McLaughlin, Port Hope. The remaining officers were re-elected. The council decided to recommend the re-introduction of sighting shots at all matches. It also recommended that the extra series matches be dropped and new matches at 200 and 500 yards be substituted in order to encourage the young shots.

The annual rifle matches of "A" Co., Royal Grenadiers, will take place Saturday on Garrison Common. The prize list this year will amount to about $500, or nearly $200 more than a year ago. This is probably the most valuable prize list of any single company in the Dominion, and much larger than many battalion lists. The company has several of the best shots in the Dominion, including Sgts. Mitchell and McVittie, Ptes., Davis, Butterworth and others, who have been at Wimbledon. Last year it won all the first prizes for both rifle shooting and drill.

AT BUSINESS ONCE AGAIN.

THE BOARD OF WORKS IS THROUGH HOLIDAYING.

The City Engineer Sends Down a Lengthy Report in Which a Large Number of Improvements Are Announced—Big Contracts on Pavements and Roadways—The Lucky Tenderers.

After a full month's recess the Board of Works resumed its regular sessions yesterday. Chairman Shaw was at the top of the table. There were also present: Ald. George Verral, Bell, Carlyle (St. And.), Irwin, Lucas, Lennox, Peter Macdonald, Small, Hewitt. Among the communications was one from the secretary of the Board of Trade asking the city to expropriate that portion of Yonge-street in the northeast corner of that thoroughfare and Front, immediately in front of the new building. Ald. Carlyle proposed that the request be assented to, but the cost be assessed back on the board. The matter was submitted to the Assessment Commissioner. In the matter of the widening of Centre-road the last-named official recommended that $1500 be offered in full of all demands to the owner of the property to be expropriated, and it was so ordered.

Ald. Irwin was full of righteous indignation when he rose to call the attention of the board to the fact that Mr. Duff, a superannuated custom house officer, with a pension of $1000 a year, was acting as stone inspector when there were poor men who wanted the job to put bread into their children's mouths. Ald. Lennox said that Mr. Duff was a Parkdale man and all right. He had a small income from the custom house but not a superannuation pension, as he had been dismissed. It is true he had a small house in the ward. The chairman expressed surprise that the engineer should appoint men well fixed when poor men were hungering for work. Ald. Irwin was delegated to interview the engineer in the matter.

In his report the engineer reiterated his former recommendation that sewers be constructed in a lane between St. Patrick and D'Arcy-streets and in Sherbourne-street between South-drive and Rachael-streets on sanitary grounds, and this in the face of the protests of the property-owners, who thought matters were all right. This clause was adopted. Ald. Hewitt waxed indignant because the engineer thought it best to delay the asphalting of Pembroke-street for this year, and he succeeded in getting a resolution through to the effect that Mr. Jennings try again.

In the matter of the supply of 15,000 Belgian setts, Ald. Carlyle thought that they could be got just as well at home and the money remain in the city. In order to facilitate work by day labor it was suggested that the four city lots adjacent to the dog pound be used as a stone yard. A C. P. R. siding could be extended into the new yard and thus save money in the handling of the supplies.

A single line of street car track was proposed for Dovercourt-road from Bloor to Union-streets, and the construction on Spencer-avenue of a cedar block road by day labor at a cost of $1500. A similar roadway was asked for Nanton-crescent at a cost of $1812. A Eureka pavement is to go down on the south side of Queen-street from Spadina-avenue to Esther-street at a cost of $3864. An Excelsior sidewalk received the engineer's approval on College-street, north side, from Spadina to Robert, to cost $3157. In connection with this improvement it was further proposed to widen the College-street roadway at this point a few feet, so as to connect the pavement with the kerbing of the new sidewalk. A Eureka sidewalk on the north side of Queen, Esther-street to Denison-avenue, cost $1150; a similar one on the south side of Queen, Esther to Bathurst, cost $4988; a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Spadina, Nassau to Clyde, cost $2376 (the roadway to be widened 20 feet at the same time); the construction of a scoria block and wooden block pavement on King-street, Dufferin to a distance of 8000 feet easterly, cost $34,906; a stone flag and wooden sidewalk on both sides of King-street from Dufferin-street to the easterly limit of the subway, cost $5504, to cost $6989. All these recommendations were adopted, as also the concluding potent clause:

In accordance with the resolution of your committee, and to expedite the work and at the same time incur no additional expense, I beg to recommend that the above work be carried on by day labor.

The second section of the report advocated sewers on sanitary grounds on Muir-street, Steiner-street, Garnett-avenue, Lappin-avenue, Herrick-street, Elm-street, Lisgar-street, Bellair-street, Armour-street Severn-street, North-drive and Bellevue-square. A wooden sidewalk was asked for Strachan-avenue at a cost of $1120. Massey-street is to be given a cedar block roadway at a cost of $4080.

These sewers were recommended to be constructed by day labor: Victoria-street, King to Adelaide; Bay, King to Queen; Elmsley-place, St. Joseph to north end; Howard, Sherbourne to Bleeker; Crescent-road, North-drive to South-drive; Sheridan-avenue, Banks to a point 350 feet north; Duchess, Ontario to the eastern limit of the sewer east of Sherbourne-street.

The last item in the lengthy report was the recommendation for the grading of Woodlawn-avenue to cost $2150. This section of the report passed in its entirety. These tenders were accepted:

ATTEMPTED INCENDIARISM.

The Richmond (Que.) Guardian Office Narrowly Escapes Destruction.

RICHMOND, Que., Aug. 27.—An audacious attempt to burn The Guardian newspaper building was made early this morning. Evidently it was fired about 2 o'clock, as the hands went to work at 3 and found the office filled with smoke. They soon extinguished the fire, but not until it had done about $100 damage to the floor and walls. Shavings saturated with coal oil were strewn about, but as the floor happened to be very damp it did not ignite quickly, and the opportune arrival of the workmen averted a conflagration.

Lost Barns and Crop.

BLENHEIM, Aug. 27.—While threshing to-day at the farm of Solomon Burk, jr., 3d con. Harwich, a spark from the engine set the barns on fire. They were completely consumed with contents comprising over 400 bushels of wheat, the season's hay and oats. Loss about $2000, insured for $800.

A Scarboro Farmer's Loss.

AGINCOURT, Aug. 27.—About noon to-day during a slight thunderstorm buildings on lot 25, second concession of Scarboro, owned by Alexander Secor, were struck by lightning and totally consumed. They contained the whole of this season's crop and also a valuable horse and a few implements, all of which were owned by Maitland Secor. The buildings were insured in the Western and the contents in the London Mutual.

THIS THEATRE IS A GEM.

The Grand Opera House Entirely Overhauled and Redecorated.

The two-score or so of workmen and decorators who have had possession of the Grand Opera House the past few weeks are now putting on their finishing touches. When the theatre is thrown open for the season on Monday evening next it certainly will present an internal appearance that will far eclipse any previous retouchings that it has undergone. It is not going outside the mark to say that the patrons of the Grand will hardly recognize the time-honored old playhouse. Nearly everything about the place has been overhauled and rebunished.

In addition to the handsome design of the decorations many improvements have been made, the most noteworthy being in the rebuilding of the main entrance, the addition of another ladies' cloak room to the left of the inner lobby and also of a smoking-room. These latter improvements have been accomplished by the remodeling of the gallery entrance. The "gods" are now absolutely cut off from the other parts of the theatre. The very small flight of steps in the main entrance has been removed, and in entering the theatre from Adelaide-street the ascent to the doors is made easy by a sloping floor unbroken, as of old, by steps. This entrance has been beautifully papered and painted. In the centre aisle, too, leading down between the orchestra chairs, there are now no steps, but the way is over a gradual slope heavily carpeted, thus ensuring little or no noise from late comers.

The stage boxes have been elegantly refitted, redecorated and hung with costly curtains. They are now marvels of beauty and comfort. All the scenery has been repainted, the mechanical appointments enlarged and the equipment of the theatre improved in every conceivable way. The house will be lighted throughout by electricity, the plant being put in and maintained by the Toronto Incandescent Light Company (Edison's low tension system). With improved ventilating facilities this will ensure coolness throughout the room; overheated theatres are hard on the audience.

Manager O. B. Sheppard has made a complete study of the requirements of a first-class theatre, and the thousands of dollars that he hast just expended has certainly been put to the best advantage. But what would all this amount to without attractions to harmonize with the gilt and glitter of the walls and the elegant appointments on every hand? The attractions of a season are also highly important considerations with the manager of a first-class theatre. Well, here are some of Mr. Sheppard's bills of fare:

Jarbeau in "Starlight," on the opening night; Hallan and Hart, "Faust up to Date," Conreid Opera Company, "Little Tycoon," Rosina Vokes, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "The Wife," "Jed Prouty," The Hanlons, Rose Coghlan, Rhea, Joe Murphy, Juch Opera Company, Dan Sully, Lewis Morrison in "Faust," Minnie Palmer in "The Charity Ball," Wilson Barrett's "Good Old Times" Company, Cora Tanner, Marks' Vaudeville Company, Lester and Allen, Robert Mantell, Pearl of Pekin, Carleton Opera Company, London Gaiety Company (with Nellie Farran and Fred Leslie), Howard Atheneum Company, "Shenandoah," De Wolf Hopper in "Castles in the Air," Agnes Huntingdon Opera Company, Dixie, Sothern, Scanlan, Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels, the Kendals, Thomas Keene.

Now, in the name of the prophet, what is the matter with these attractions?

Jarbeau's Opening Night.

Vernona Jarbeau, who played a successful season at the Grand last year, will open for a week on Monday evening. The lady is supported by a strong company, and she will present her sparkling musical farce, "Starlight," in which Jarbeau particularly shines and glitters. "Her acting," says The Buffalo Express, "has the merit of freshness and originality, while her French vivacity adds to the brilliancy of her acting, singing and dancing. Her singing of 'Pi-out' and her imitation of Mme. Theo in 'Where Are You Going, My Pretty Maid?' are simply inimitable. The topical song 'That's Enough, Don't You Think?' was repeatedly encored. 'O Say, Will You Come Out and Play' was given with a fine simplicity that brought down the house. In the last act Miss Jarbeau appears in an elegant tight-fitting pale orange costume and gives a Spanish song and castanet dance, which was also well received."

The subscribers' lists, which are now at Messrs. Nordheimer's and Suckling's, are rapidly filling up, and it is doubtful if the subscribers will leave any seats after Sept. 8. Therefore it must be remembered that if you do not place your names on the subscribers' lists you must wait two days later and select your seats with the general public, as their plan opens on the 10th. A few more of the handsome brochures may be had free of charge by addressing Manager Greene at the Academy of Music.

Holidays Drawing to a Close.

We are reminded that the fall season is jumping rapidly into motion by the hum of business that is doing just now amongst the principal retailers opening new goods. Dineen on the corner of King and Yonge-streets yesterday blocked up the King-street side of their store with great large cases received from across the ocean. This shipment is from Christy & Co., London, and will be followed by others. The great American hat manufacturer (Dunlap) shows his new fall style on the last Saturday in August, and by that date every new shape will be shown in this city by Dineen as early as they are shown either in London, Paris or New York.

Irish's Balsamic Inhaling Extract.

Read what Rev. Hugh Johnston has to say about it: Allow me to say that I have used the Inhaler just before speaking, and have found it exceedingly soothing to the throat and bronchial tubes. I believe that public speakers will find the Balsamic Extract not only an excellent remedy for colds and catarrhal trouble, but also a fine tonic for the voice and a soother of the organs of speech after the effort of speaking. I am, very sincerely yours,

STABBED A FELLOW-CONVICT

ATTEMPTED MURDER IN THE KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

A Toronto Crook Named Longford Seeks Revenge Upon ex-Mail Clerk Hollingsworth of Ottawa—Two Wounds Inflicted With a Pair of Scissors—The Victim's Injuries Probably Fatal.

KINGSTON, Aug. 27.—Startling news reached Kingston this morning from the penitentiary. Coming on top of the recent sensation there it was a shock to the public. A convict early to-day attempted to murder in a brutal and deliberate manner a fellow prisoner. The victim's name is Hollingsworth. He was one of three (Hoyes, Catallier and Hollingsworth), post-office clerks doing mail service on the Canadian Pacific Railway between Prescott and Ottawa who last year were sentenced at Ottawa to five years in the penitentiary for robbing mails and registered letters. His would-be murderer is a Toronto man named Longford, sentenced to three years last year for larceny in Toronto.

Longford was employed in the tailor shop at the penitentiary, and had borne a good character while in prison. Hollingsworth was with the pipe gang learning the trade of making steam pipes and was counted a well-conducted man. It seems that for some time past Hollingsworth has been abusing Longford and accusing him of a filthy and unnatural crime. This aroused a spirit of vengeance in Longford, and when leaving the tailor shop last night he concealed a huge pair of scissors and succeeded in getting them to his cell.

This morning, as the prisoners were proceeding to breakfast along the long range, Longford stood at the door of his cell until Hollingsworth passed, when, rushing upon him, he stabbed him first in the shoulder and then in the abdomen, Hollingsworth fell, exclaiming:

"My God! he's killed me!"

He was at once taken to the prison infirmary, where the prison surgeon, Dr. Strange, attended him. The wound in the shoulder is a nasty one, but not so bad as the one in the stomach, which will probably prove fatal.

Longford surrendered quietly and was locked up pending Hollingsworth's recovery or death. An investigation will be held by the penitentiary authorities before handing him over to the civil power for trial for murder or attempted murder. There is no doubt entertained but that it was a deliberate attempt to kill.

[Longford was sent down with two others from Toronto for burglary. He hails from Duchess-street and is remembered by the police as being a tough character.]

BIG POLICEMEN IN THE ARENA.

The Tournament of the Queen City Force—Officer Childs Again Captures the Championship—Spots of Sport.

Ald. A. D. Stewart, Hamilton, Grand Director and General Poo-bah.
Judges—Inspector Breckenreid, P.C. J.J. Clark.
Secretary—Inspector William Stark.

The eighth annual games of the Police Amateur Athletic Association were held yesterday afternoon at the baseball grounds. To say the event was a success is putting it very mildly indeed. The seven preceding tournaments were put away in the shade. The crowd was the largest in the association's history, the contests were keener than ever, and the athletic ability displayed far surpassed that of former years.

The police orchestra made its second appearance in public and showed that its members are skilful and trained musicians. Choice selections were given at intervals.

The crowd was an orderly one, but towards the close showed unnecessary anxiety to encroach on the field.

The championship prize is a $20 medal. A first prize counted 3, a second 2, and a third 1. The points were taken thus:

P.C. W D. Childs....14
P.C. Richard Dodds....11
P.C. A. Allison....8
P.C. W. Nichol....7

The championship of the force was won by the last year's holder, P.C. W. D. Childs by three points over P.C. R. Dodds. The recruits asserted themseves nobly. W. Nichol, a Scotchman, broke all local police records with the hammer, winning with a throw of 95ft. 2in., making an exhibition throw of 96ft. 5in. Patterson won last year with 81ft. 5in. Loughead, who threw the weight 12ft. 3in. high last year, could not nearly come to his mark yesterday, and the winner was also slightly behind. Last year the running hop, step and jump was won by Guthrie with 38ft. 3in., being a foot and 2in. behind Allison's record of yesterday. The running long jump was won last year by Childs with 16ft. 3in., and yesterday the judges credited Guthrie with jumping 22ft. 4in., being only about 12in. behind Ford's record jump. But there is little doubt but that a mistake occurred and that Guthrie's jump was about 19ft. W. Guthrie, another recruit, won the half mile in splendid style.

Prof. Reid gave a clever exhibition of feats with the sword and bayonet. He performed the miraculous operation with the razor edge of a sword of chopping in two a potato placed on the bare throat of Dick Dodds.

Here are the results:

Putting the shot, 16 lbs., 8 entries—W. D. Childs 38ft. 10, 1; R. Dodds 37ft. 2½, 2; A. G. Ross 36ft. 4, 3.

Tug-of-war, 12 men a side—No. 1 station, Sergt. Hales Capt., and No. 2 station, Sergt. Gregory capt.; each won a pull. After a ten minutes' tug the third pull was declared a dead heat. No. 3 station, Acting Detective Porter, Capt., beat No. 4 Ins. Breckenreid, Capt., two straight pulls. The date for the finishes has not yet been fixed.

Darbies and Jimmies.

Many of the finest were a little too fine to get the caber over.

Rev. W. F. Wilson was on hand and not once was he told to move off the field.

When Prof. Reid was performing the clever feat of cutting the apple in two on the back of his assistant's neck, big Andy Irving said he'd sooner shave himself.

"How many yards will Your Worship give me in a hundred?" asked ex-Ald. Baxter of the Colonel, his superior. "Order in the court," was the retort. "Go match yourself with the other fat men."

Sol Blake, who makes a good showing in the several events in which he entered, contested yesterday strongly against the advice of his physician, being out of trim, but next year will make some of them hustle.

Enthusiastic friends lifted Anson on their shoulders, Arthur Taylor among them, after his victory in the fat men's race, but before he was carried far they fell to the ground under the enormous weight.

Inspector Stark did not contest in the officers' race, but sadly watched his late conqueror, Sergt. Hales, carry off the palm. But the detective chief had the honor of winning the same race for several consecutive years.

Billy Young, once the champion of the force, and Dick Dodds, too, are letting age and weight creep on them and have to give way to younger men. Los Childs' turn to take a tumble, although he has taken the championship, will come next year.

The two Longheads, Dave and George, are men to be looked at. In the high throwing, in which Dave made 12 ft. 3 in. last year, some dissatisfaction was expressed yesterday that his last throw was disallowed. After the event he put $100 in Anson's face for a throw any time after two weeks.

The running of Guthrie in the half mile was much admired. It being the only event in which he entered, and being fresh, he easily distanced Blake, the second man in the contest. But Blake isn't satisfied, he wants to meet either Guthrie or Los. Childs, a month after an agreement, from ¼ to 10 miles, for a respectable stake.

A CRIMINAL IN INTENT ONLY.

Henry Sailor Fails to Become a Bigamist—A Rossmore Romance.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 27.—The peaceful community of Rossmore is again disturbed by an element of discord. This quiet little hamlet over the bay seems to furnish its full quota of food for the gossips, and the last scandal will not soon be forgotten—at least by the unhappy widow whose betrothed was so suddenly snatched from her by wife No. 1.

Last spring a quiet-looking man, apparently about the age of 45, made his appearance at Rossmore and there became infatuated with a buxom, light-hearted widow by the name of Mrs. Mary Ann Taft. She had several children, but that did not make any difference, and Henry Sailor was soon a prospective groom so far as one could judge from appearances and the agreeable relations which seemed to exist. Everything went smoothly on for several months and the happy couple lived a blissful, happy existence, unmoved by the usual vicissitudes which beset mankind. Sailor was a steady-going laborer and was held in high esteem by his employers on the bridge. The happy day was set and the pair had only to think of the cup of joy which was so soon to be theirs.

Last week, on the day previous to that set for the wedding, an unexpected personage appeared on the scene, who soon put a damper on their ardor and forever dispelled the thought of a happier sphere. It will not be necessary to refer to the scene which followed the appearance of wife No. 1 at the door and the would-be bigamist was so taken by surprise that he nearly lost his breath. He made a speedy escape followed by the execrations of his neglected spouse, who has planted herself down and says she will not move. Sailor comes from North Hastings and it is believed is traveling under an assumed name. The good looking widow takes the matter coolly and does not seem surprised at the unexpected turn of the tide.

He was well-equipped both by nature and education for literature, devotional and general, but not so well-equipped for the pursuit of truth. The Big Hotel.

The location of the big hotel is out at last. It is to be down town, in King-street, north side, starting at the corner of Victoria-street, running west to Yonge and up Yonge halfway to Adelaide and then clear back to the new Victoria-street. At least so it was stated by several parties yesterday. The men at the back of it are George Cox, S. H. Janes and Robert Jaffray, who own the property in question. They are all in England, but will soon be back again in town. Preliminary plans have been drawn by an experienced architect.

Lake Simcoe As a Summer Resort.

The shores of Lake Simcoe promise to become the great summer resort of Toronto. Quite a number of the residents of this city have "all-the-year-round" houses there; while the number of summer cottages has been considerably extended. At De Grassi Point, near Lefroy Station, 12 or more cottages have been built within a year by well-known Torontonians. The air is high and dry and cool, and a wonderful change on Toronto though only 50 miles away.

The summer hotels on the lake have been doing well the past few weeks. At Big Bay Point, 12 miles above Barrie, the Robinson House has had a steady run of guests. The Robinson is kept by a bluff old Yorkshireman, who believes in and tries to make his house a home for families from the city at the reasonable rate of $1 a day, pleasure boats thrown in. The point is one of the most beautiful places on all the lake and has a regular boat service to Barrie. Those who want a quiet, well-conducted home for a long or short sojourn during the balance of the season ought to try the Robinson House at Big Bay Point.

W.T. Jennings, City Engn'r.	City Surveyor Sankey.
Asst. City Solicitor Mowat.	Hugh Blain.
Ald. Gibbs.

The above-named gentlemen formed the quorum of the Joint Esplanade Committee which met yesterday afternoon to discuss two important questions. The first was the entrance of the Belt Line on to the Don improvement, and the second was the latest move by the C. P. R. in the matter of the city's property on the south side of the Esplanade. This letter from the City Engineer, under date Aug. 27, was produced:

Mr. Ald. Boustead: DEAR SIR,—With reference to the application of the Belt Line Railway Company for access to the Don improvement I am of opinion that the better way will be for the city to retain the land and construct the tracks required and charge the company an annual rental for the use thereof. This will entail an expenditure of some $20,000 for grading, temporary trestle work, lowering of the Eastern-avenue bridge, tracks, ballast, sidings, etc., and labor. Mr. Edgar, president of the company, is urgent in his request that the matter be dealt with at an early date, that his company may have access to the Don improvement as soon as possible.

If the above course is decided upon it is advisable that the required quantity of rails be secured before the season of navigation closes on the River St. Lawrence. W. T. JENNINGS.

P.S. The Solicitor informs me that the city can do the above work in connection with Don improvement and under the act and the Treasurer states that there are funds. W. T. J.

After considerable discussion, during which Mr. Jennings explained that the course he suggested would be the best, as it would avoid future complications, the committee decided to recommend it to council, at the same time instructing the City Solicitor to draw up a draft leasing agreement between the city and the Belt Line Co.

Assistant Solicitor Mowat was the central figure in the discussion on the C.P.R.'s matter. He explained that Mr. Wells, in his correspondence with Mr. Caswell, in asking for an arbitrator, had taken it for granted that the city was willing to accept the recourse to arbitration, and in one letter had offered to accept Judge Senkler as sole arbitrator. To this Mr. Caswell had returned a total denial, holding that none of the correspondence between the city and Mr. Wells could bear that construction. He asked for plans of the proposed expropriation, but they had not been forthcoming, and pending their arrival he had taken no further action in the matter.

"The situation," continued Mr. Mowat, "is simply this: The C.P.R. have determined to abandon Ottawa. They will ask no favor from the Government. But they have changed their policy without the least change in their object. They have simply placed themselves under the Railway Act, and hope to get in under its provisions. The Railway Act permits a railroad to expropriate any property for track purposes not more than 90 feet wide, and for station and delivery of goods land to the extent of 300 feet wide and 1950 long. The C.P.R. have adopted this and their notices of application embrace the land covering this area. In a nutshell, the C.P.R. has changed the battle ground from Ottawa to Toronto. I have no doubt that the next proceeding of the company will be to apply to a judge to appoint a sole arbitrator, and then we will show our hand. I do not think it advisable to give the reasons or position we will take when we meet the C.P.R. in the courts, but it must not be understood that the company or any other railway is bound to accept a substituted site for any one they may prefer themselves."

Ald. McDougall deprecated treating the company with harshness. It was self-evident that it had to get in somewhere and an amicable policy should be pursued. It was resolved to fight the company "tooth and nail" [whatever that means] and offer as a substitute site for station and yards land west of York-street.

The chairman explained that Lorne-street south of the Esplanade would be declared a public highway at the next meeting of council, and a wharf would be erected thereon immediately after the council had taken the necessary action.

WANTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

The Toronto Police Hunting for a Stratford Construction Foreman.

Yesterday instructions were sent out to the police to keep a look-out for one Robert Mortimer, Grand Trunk construction foreman in Stratford, who was wanted on a charge of manslaughter. It appears that a few days ago a gang of men under Mortimer were repairing the track near Stratford and on knocking off work for the night a quantity of debris was left on the rails which should have been removed. The consequence was that the next engine which came along was derailed and one of the train hands killed. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter against Mortimer, who is now a fugitive from justice.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—In the House today filibustering against the Lard Bill was continued. There was a scene occasioned by a remark made by Mr. Cannon (Rep., Ill.) which was interpreted by the House as vulgar; and in a personal controversy during its discussion Mr. Beckwith (Rep., N.J.) struck Mr. Wilson (Rep., Wash.). There was great excitement, the Democrats taking some enjoyment out of the scene. After quiet had been restored Mr. Cannon disclaimed the vulgar construction put upon his remarks. The House adopted a resolution directing the sergeant-at-arms to arrest absentees and revoking leaves of absence except those granted for illness.

In the Senate the Tariff Bill was taken up and some progress was made.

LET US DRUM THE GRAVEYARDERS OUT.

Thomas P. O'Gorman, editor of The Ottawa Free Press, one-time Ottawa correspondent of The Globe, a lay member of the Clan-na-Gael, a writer of more screeds about the "doom and smash of Confederation" than even The O'Farrer (now of The Globe), and one of the regular "resurrectionists" of the Grand Old Graveyard Party, is the author of an article in The September Arena, a Boston magazine, on the "Dominion's Original Sin." It is full of croaks, lies and disloyalty:

"The future of Canada is clouded by a number of serious political problems."

"The very foundation-stones of the Dominion seem to be crumbling."

"The Premier had made a vehement appeal to Parliament to refrain from raising the race and language issue lest the credit of the country should be ruined at home and abroad."

"The agitation over the ratification of the Jesuits' Act has brought into existence a number of forces which seem to be working for the disruption of the Confederation."

"The Dominion may have to deal with a popular uprising in Manitoba. If the act is not vetoed we may have to reckon with a secession movement in the province of Quebec."

"Caused the leaders of the Dominion to tremble for the stability of the Canadian Confederation."

"The abolition of the dual language system and separate schools can have only one result,—the disruption of the Confederation and possibly the annexation of several provinces to the American Republic."

"The Dominion is face to face with difficulties which her statesmen at present see no means of solving. The Premier boasts that he is the father of Confederation. He may yet follow her offspring to the grave."

The "Original Sin" of this Canadian Adam is that our "difficulties are directly traceable to the immoral and indefensible methods by which the political union of the British North American Provinces was brought about." [What about the immoral and indefensible methods of the O'Gormans and the O'Farrers and the Wimans to disrupt the political union of these provinces?]

The union was brought about by men acting "upon the alleged Jesuitical doctrine that 'the end justifies the means;'" that it was "a marriage procured by force, fraud or deceit."

"It is vain to hope that a sound and permanent system of government can be established by a conspiracy in this age of intelligence."

"The late Hon. George Brown, an able and honest man, but an enthusiast."

"The constitution......was a piece of political patchwork."

"Thus were the provinces forming the Dominion of Canada induced to enter a political union; and can any reasoning Christian who believes that good cannot come out of evil expect a union brought about by such means to prosper?"

And so the screed runs for 15 pages and more. There is only one way to answer this jaundiced graveyarder, this wild Irishmen bent on disrupting not only Canada but the Empire generally, and Ireland and England especially, and that is that he does not tell the truth.

The "foundation-stones" are not "crumbling" "The credit of the country" has not "been ruined at home and abroad."

There is no danger of rebellion in Manitoba nor secession in Quebec.

There is a solution to all our troubles, and we are solving them more satisfactorily than are our neighbors theirs.

We are, notwithstanding O'Gorman's rot, establishing "a sound and permanent system of government." Every day it is getting easier, we are getting more homogeneous, growing more together, and we are possessed, of "hope."

But even this wailing graveyarder winds up, how do you think: "If the Canadian confederation is to continue it must, in the language of the revivalist, be born again." So that even he holds out some hope for this unhappy country, even as Burns told "Auld Nick" that he too might have a chance.

It is because we have Buntings and Mails, O'Farrers and Globes, O'Gormans and Free Presses (Ottawa), that political adventurers of the 'Ras Wiman stamp preach the "conquest of Canada." Why don't they all pack up their traps and go to the land of the brave and the home of the free? If this is such a poor benighted God-forsaken community possessed of "original sin," why don't they get out? Why live in a graveyard? Ah, why?

But they won't go—till they're drummed out.

THE PROFESSOR MERELY CHANGES HORSES.

Mr. Goldwin Smith calls in his Bystander with the September number. Were we not confident of reading him in some other periodical we should deplore the fact. But as long as the Professor has his health he will write, and what he writes need never go a-begging for a vehicle. So that the calling in of The Bystander only means a change in the mount. His intellectual activity seems to increase with his years, though he must now be well on to seventy. His clever ridicule of the Bellamy's "Looking Backward" in The Forum of this month shows him to have lost none of his vigor, while his short but comprehensive analyses of the characters and abilities of Cardinal Newman and John Ruskin in the closing Bystander are certainly among the best things that have been said of these men. There is one thing in the article on Ruskin that we are tempted to apply to himself. After speaking of Ruskin: "More than any other man he has taught us to love and study beauty"; "he was able to propagate his æsthetic religion by an incomparable gift of descriptive language, which has placed him high among English writers and on a level with the other two great masters of our tongue in his day, Macaulay and Carlyle;"—the Professor goes on to say that he [Ruskin] was "at last tempted to leave the domain of which he was monarch, and laying comparatively aside Art Criticism and the Philosophy of Beauty to assume the part of a Social and Economic Prophet." "He forgot that if intuition has a place in æsthetics, in politics and in economics it has none." Where we would be tempted to turn the Professor's words on himself is that when he enters Canadian practical politics "he has been tempted to leave the domain of which he is monarch." Nevertheless the Professor is billed to appear to-day at Niagara-on-the-Lake with that distinguished humbug, Erastus Wiman! What would Ruskin say if he heard and saw the two together? That they marred the beauty and jarred the æsthetic of mighty Niagara!

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 27.—Frank Davis, a wife-murderer, was hanged here yesterday. His head was half torn off and the wind pipe and carotid artery were severed and blood spurted all over the scaffold. The hangman explained that the unusual occurrence was caused by the victim having too long a neck.—Associated Press Despatch.

Persons who are to be hanged cannot be too careful about the length of their necks. In medio tutissimus ibis. In the case of a short, thick neck the victim generally is choked slowly to death, but the susceptible spectators are spared the horrible sight of blood and regale their sympathetic eyes with the spectacle of a man writhing in the delirious bliss of suffocation with a physician at his wrist timing the flight of life. But guilty Frank Davis' death was not half so terrible as that of his innocent wife slain without a moment's warning by the man who had sworn to love, cherish and protect her. The attention of the tender-hearted young lady of The Hamilton Herald is directed to the scene outlined by this despatch, wherein she may be able to find a pleasing contrast to the untimely decease of the late lamented Mr. Kemmler.

The Dominion Premier has taken the Chicago Inter-Ocean into his confidence, and that paper is thus enabled to scoop The Toronto Empire, The Montreal Gazette and The Hamilton Spectator with this news: "Sir John Macdonald has resolved to dissolve the Canadian Parliament at the earliest possible opportunity, feeling that reciprocity sentiment may get the best of him. Sir John has foresight." The World gives full credence to the concluding sentence of this announcement.

How happy is the thrifty man,
What peace attends his soul,
Who in the winter lays in ice
And in the summer coal!
—London Advertiser.

But if he hasn't got the "stuff"
There isn't room to doubt
He's in the winter frozen in—
In summer "frozen out."

A certain kind of matches may be made in heaven, but we swear that the matches that are now supplied the Canadian public are made in—well, never mind the locality. The lumber in them is poor, and the striking qualities are simply vile. That's about the Hull of it.

Willie Hodgson of 405 South 3d-street, Rockford, Ill., Cured of Stammering.

LINDSAY, Aug. 27.—Another marvelous cure of a bad case of stammering has just been effected by Mr. Church of Symphony Music Hall. After a treatment lasting less than five weeks Willie Hodgson, a bright lad of 12 years of age, returned to his home in Rockford, Ill., having as much freedom in the use of his vocal organs in reciting, reading and talking as if he never had been subject to stammering.

Mr. Church's remarkable success in this direction is looked upon as a grand achievement along the line of voice culture.

Canadians Cause Commotion in Chicago

[From Tuesday's Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

The regulars were out in force at the West Side track yesterday. The track was heavy and holding from the rains of Sunday night. It was a most peculiar day of racing, inasmuch as not only the bookmakers got the money of the talent, but the public reimbursed itself by the success of Flip Flap in the steeplechase for losses earlier sustained.

The steeplechase was one of the strongest affairs imaginable. There was Bob Thomas, a National favorite, who had been sold in the morning by Doherty & Hall to A. A. Gates, a Canadian; Evangeline, a staunch old mare, the property of A. E. Gates, brother of the aforesaid Canuck, and Flip Flap down as belonging to a racing stable, but said to be owned in full or in part by Phair, the jockey who rode Evangeline. So strongly did the big money come on Evangeline that the bookmakers from 8 to 5 cut their price to 6 to 5 at the post. Bob Thomas advanced from 4 to 5 to even, although it was generally understood that Johnson, the jockey, had $100 on his mount. The public had been backing Joe D at 10 to 1, also Flip Flap at the same figure, but when the talent got on Evangeline Flip Flap's price went to 15 to 1, and the $2 notes so showered in that after her win many of the bookies' men were paying off for half an hour, and it was said that every concern on the track quit loser on the race. It is well known that Flip Flap has in Canada beaten Evangeline more than once.

It is this kind of happenings which carries people to the race course to beard the lion in his den. After the horses finished Johnson, on Bob Thomas, sought to take away the whip of English, on Evangeline, even though both jockeys were still mounted. Johnson afterward showed fight, claiming that English interfered with him in the race, and an hour after the race, as the boys were leaving the course at the Madison-street gate, Johnson struck English a hard blow in the mouth. At this a white man stepped up and pummeled the colored man, who will be remembered as the jockey of the horse Coldstream at the exposition horse show last fall, until he was ready to call it a draw.

Salvator the King.

Salvator has shown that he is as good as anything we have ever seen; the question whether he is better is one which I will leave to the reader. We have had, and have now, a great many good racehorses, but very few really great. Salvator is a great horse in every sense of the word. He possesses, outside of being a great strider on any sort of track, the combination of being a sprinter as well as being a stayer, and, coupled with this, he possesses courage of the highest order. The whip and spur are only necessary in the smallest homeopathic doses to this great son of Prince Charlie and Salina. He seems to understand that he is to do his best, and that he has done it his jockey, trainer, owner and those of the public who have been fortunate enough to witness the Suburban, Tenny-Salvator match and the Champion Stakes will be only too glad to acknowledge.—Westchester in N.Y. LACROSSE WONDERS.

A St. Kitts' Man's Opinion of the Athletics—Should Play the Torontos.

Sporting Editor World: I have spent considerable time in St. Catharine's this summer, and have watched with much interest the play of the St. Catharines lacrosse team. I have also talked with various members of the club and their backers, and have formed a very high idea of their prowess. They can certainly run faster than the Toronto men, and could, I think, dodge all around them and throw the rubber much farther.

They have not such nice grounds to practice on as the Torontos, but that has not hindered them from getting the National game down to a point that is not far removed from perfection. I was in Toronto the week of the Cornwall-Toronto match and went up to see the Toronto boys practice, and I must say I was very much impressed with their style and did not feel so sure of the St. Catharines' boys' success. However, when Saturday last came I met a lot of St. Catharines' boys and we all went up to the grounds together to see Toronto get knocked into a cocked-hat. By the time I had arrived at the grounds my confidence in the St. Catharines' team had all revived, for I had sat open mouthed going up in the car listening to their talk about the play of their team. The first game fully convinced me of the weakness of the Toronto team, and although four of the other six games were a great surprise to me, still I heard our boys pick so many flaws in their play and heard so much about the way the St. Catharines' boys could handle the Torontos that I think if they could get on a game the Torontos would meet more than their match.

It seems to me a great pity that a team like the St. Catharines should be allowed to bloom all unseen; that there should be twelve players in a small town across the lake that could "do up" the team that kept 10,000 (?) people for two hours in open-mouthed wonder at their phenomenal playing. I write you, Mr. Editor, to ask you to use your efforts to bring forth this dark horse from across the lake. Personally, I have no doubt of the St. Catharines team's success, for, as I have said, I am assured by the members of their team that they can "do" the Torontos any day they want to have a match, and that there isn't any club in Ontario that can touch them.

A ST. CATHARINES MAN.
St. Kitts, Aug. 26.

IS LEROUX A PROFESSIONAL?

The T.L.C. Has Affidavits Saying He is—Cornwall's Predicament.

A committee meeting of the Toronto Lacrosse Club was held last evening. It was unanimously decided to give the St. Catharines twelve a game at Rosedale Saturday, September 6; the committee could not open the correspondence but expected to hear from that club on the question. The T. L. C. would also agree to give St. Catharines a return game in that place at a later date.

A communication was received from the Montreal Lacrosse Club anent the standing of Leroux of Cornwall, who is alleged to be of Indian extraction, and also that he has played for money. Montreal strongly advises that Toronto pushes the protests against Cornwall for playing Leroux. The T. L. C. will do all in their power legitimately to have the games in question declared void, In fact they have in their possession affidavits to the effect that Leroux has on different occasions received remuneration for his services as a lacrossist.

This matter will be ventilated at the next League Committee meeting; and should the protests be held good the Torontos will then have an equal, if not better, chance for the Canadian Lacrosse League Championship.

COLT CRICKETERS' LEAGUE.

St. James Drops Out Because East Toronto Won Their Protest.

A special committee meeting of the Colt Cricketers' League was held Thursday, with the president, Mr. A. B. Armstrong, in the chair.

East Toronto protested their last match with St. James, on the ground of the latter club having played a member who is not a colt according to the constitution of the league, and the fact being fully proven the match was forfeited to the East Torontos.

St. James thereupon withdrew from the league. The committeemen of the remaining clubs will hold a special meeting next week to consider the situation.

East Toronto now leads, having won three and lost one game.

MOVING FREIGHT.

Central Officials Cheerful—A Lack of Men in the Repair Shops.

ALBANY, Aug. 27.—The New York Central officials say the freight movement to-day out of the West Albany and Karner yards was a great improvement on that of yesterday. The Boston & Albany road to-day informed the Central people that they were delivering too many cars to it, and the road will be somewhat delayed in clearing up the yards at this unexpected development. The yard at Karner's from a personal inspection appears to be much more crowded that it was a week ago. There are several hundred loaded cars in the West Albany yards very much in need of repair and the freight in them will have to be transferred. This work would have been done much before now were it not for the fact that there are not enough men in the repair shops to do one-third of the necessary repairs. An engine ran off the track in the West Albany yard this afternoon as it was passing over the switch known as the "Chinese Puzzle" and badly damaged this intricate piece of work. It was three hours before the switch was again ready for use. About 300 men were at work in the shops to-day. About one-third of them are non-union men who went out with the K. of L. but have since returned. The rest are new men. The Pinkerton men at West Albany have been culled one-third. There are about 250 of these men there now.

HE OWNED THE KOH-I-NOOR.

In His Old Age Duleep Singh Renounces the Throne of His Fathers.

[From The New York Sun.]

Duleep Singh has been pardoned on the condition that he renounce his claims to Lahore. His family have for a long time been urging him to repent and to seek pardon for his past conduct.

When the princes of the Punjab were informed that a pardon had been granted they refused to concur unless they were subsidized.

Duleep Singh expects to have a part of his dominion returned to him. He will remain in Europe.

Duleep Singh when a little boy was the Maharajah of Lahore and the owner of the Koh-i-noor, or Mountain of Light, now the chief among the crown jewels of England. Duleep was not yet in his teens when the great Sikh dynasty, of which he was the last representative, fell before the arms of England, and the little boy lost his throne and his wonderful diamond. The third clause of the treaty of peace provided that "the gem called the Koh-i-noor shall be surrendered by the Maharajah of Lahore to the Queen of England."

It is doubtful if the English ever spent so much money on any other fallen foe as on the ex-Maharajah of Lahore. He was taken to England along with the Koh-i-noor and no English prince was ever more carefully reared and educated. As he grew to manhood Parliament voted him money to buy a magnificent estate and $125,000 a year to keep the wolf from the door. He became extremely lavish in his expenditures, supported a first-class shooting box and stable, on grand occasions outshone everybody in the splendor of his diamonds, and in fact became one of the most stunning young men in England. He was now and then a guest at the palace and was a favorite in aristocratic society.

"I should like," he said one day, "to place the Koh-i-noor in the Queen's hand now that I am a man. I was only a child when I surrendered it to her by the treaty, but now I am old enough to understand."

The very next day he was summoned to the palace. The jewel was placed in his hand, and for some time he toyed with it. Then the descendant of Eastern kings handed back the rich prize of many conquests and formally remarked that it gave him much pleasure to place the jewel in the band of his sovereign.

But not a great while after Duleep Singh ceased to hold the Queen in such high regard. He begged to inquire how many millions she was making out of his old country, the Punjab, while he was almost starving on the beggarly pittance of $125,000 a year. In fact $125,000 was a small sum of money when compared with the almost fabulous income of his predecessors on the throne of Lahore. He appealed to the Government to give him a larger allowance, but the request was refused. So Duleep Singh said if he couldn't have enough money to properly support his dignity he would not take a penny. He therefore betook himself and his gorgeous diamonds to foreign parts. His gems, like the Koh-i-noor, were derived from his fathers and were worth a goodly fortune.

His departure moved the British to contemplation. They really did not know how much mischief the ex-Maharajah might stir up among the disaffected elements in India. He had hardly crossed over to France before the British offered him all he had asked to come back. But he would not stir a peg. He was the Sikh chief again, robbed of his rights, his people and his splendor by a brutal invader. From that position he has never swerved until now. Nearly every court on the continent has harbored him, and he has ever been ready to tell the story of his wrongs to all who would listen. For years he has periodically issued addresses to the Sikh people urging them to revolt, and promising to appear among them soon to restore the old regime. In the proclamation he issued two years ago to the Princes and people of India he signed himself:

"Sovereign of the Sikh nations and implacable foe of the British Government."

Some of his friends in India have always managed to have his proclamations mysteriously placarded on the billboards. Of late years, however, these effusions have been hardly more than objects of derision.

Last year he wrote a letter to Queen Victoria telling her it was high time she restored the Koh-i-noor to its rightful owner.

Of late years Duleep Singh has lived mostly in Russia. He attended the Paris Exposition last year and an English newspaper said he was looking rather seedy and "out of luck." As far as is known, he has had no means of support for many years except the gems he has occasionally sold. He is now getting old and it is certain that his old spirit is broken or he would never renounce a jot or tittle of his regal claims upon the Punjab for all the wealth and honor England could give him. For many years he had but to speak the word and a princely income would have flowed to him from British coffers. But he never spoke the word.

Duleep Singh has a son who is an officer in the British army, has been stationed in Canada and is known in New York society.

THE RAVAGES OF CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Bell Compares It With Leprosy and Makes Some Observations.

Dr. A. W. Bell, editor of The Sanitarian, in considering the recent case of leprosy in New York, says:

"It appears to have excited more energetic action by the Board of Health, and more attention by the public press, than ten thousand times as many cases of tubercular consumption, which constantly obtain there. Yet tubercular consumption is, to say the least, equally contagious, no less uniformly fatal, and quite as loathsome as leprosy. True, the Board of Health, a year ago, officially recognized the contagiousness of consumption, and published certain rules which ought to be observed for the prevention of its spread, but with that act the board's efforts seem to have ceased. Consumptives are everywhere to be found now, as they were before the rules were published in the highways and byways, freely expectorating round about; the straw, carpets and floors of the tramway cars and the decks of ferry and excursion boats are continually besmeared with the materies morbi of consumptives, more or less endangering the lives of passers-by without any evidence whatever of the least effort by the Board of Health to enforce its rules or even to call them to mind before the public. And this in the face of last year's report of mortality that there were 5179 deaths caused by consumption—more than one-thirteenth of the mortality from all causes. But from leprosy there was not one."

An Equine Epidemic.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 27.—A contagious disorder has prostrated a great many horses in this city within the past few days. The disease resembles the epizootic of some years ago and promises to be equally serious. The horses are taken down with high fever, sore throat and discharges from the eyes and nose. Horses are sick in many of the city livery stables.

JOHNSTOWN REMINISCENCES.

A Coming Sale of Relics—Statistics of the Dead—The Graves of the Unknown.

[Pittsburg letter to N.Y. Evening Post.]

The horrors of the Johnstown flood of a year ago last June are continually revived in the minds of the public. Now an exhibition of relics in this city opens up a flood of pathetic recollections. These relics are to be placed on sale within two weeks, and the money obtained will be used in erecting a monument, marked "To the Unknown Dead," at Johnstown.

The search for bodies has been abandoned, although 200 skeletons are supposed to be still in the sand. Travelers on the Pennsylvania railroad never fail to notice the sandy plain which extends for miles above the Johnstown of to-day. The flood made a clean sweep of the valley, and here and there may be seen the half-filled cellar ways. Not a vestige of the superstructures remains. Huge boulders are scattered over the barren plain, and occasionally one sees a rotting tree stump which floated for miles on the escaping waters of Lake Conemaugh. A brick manufactory, with one end caved in, stands undisturbed in the centre of the lake valley, just as it was found after the waters had receded. This waste never will give up all its dead.

As the train passes through the town one notices one-story frame dwellings of uniform shape scattered among the more imposing residences. They are the "Oklahomas," or western huts, erected by the Relief Commission. They made miserable places of shelter during the cold days of last winter.

One landmark is unlikely ever to disappear. It is the celebrated stone bridge over which the trains cross the Conemaugh. It is there that the immense dam composed of human bodies and wreckage was formed.

The flood relics which are to be sold at auction in Pittsburg include half a hundred watches in all styles and of all metals, manufactured in all countries, for Johnstown had a big foreign population, attracted by the iron works. A peculiar fact is that the time marked on all was 3 o'clock or but a few minutes after that hour. The works of some were clogged with mud, while others were only slightly injured. One recently started has kept correct time ever since. The list includes nearly 1000 relics of every description. The majority are thickly coated with mud. From the breast-pocket of an unknown dead man was taken a baby's yellow shoe, slightly worn, and a red woolen stocking. They were neatly wrapped in a small linen handkerchief, with defaced initials. There are three coils of dark-brown hair, wrapped in a piece of faded white paper, on which is written: "Maud Jordan's hair, given to her friend, Celia J. Rhodes, in May, 1887."

A few weeks ago a poor woman with her three little children came all the way from Austria, expecting to meet her husband at Johnstown. She was told that he had been lost in the flood.

J. Bernard Kremer of Lancaster, Pa., Secretary of the State Flood Relief Commission, places the number of dead at 2142. The Johnstown Tribune makes it fifty more. The list was made up by the following methods: A registration of the survivors, conducted under the auspices of the State Commission; a directory published by private enterprise; lists published by The Johnstown Tribune and Democrat; letters of inquiry from all parts of the world; morgue records, records of the cemeteries as furnished by clergymen and the authorities. A young man spent several months in sifting the material and comparing his lists with some 6200 or more sworn statements which had been made to the State commission.

A lovely spot is being made of the lot in the Grand View Cemetery which the commission purchased for the resting place of 750 unknown dead. Each grave has a marble marker, upon which is engraved the word "unknown."

CONVERTED TO JUDAISM.

To Win His Bride, Roland Gellatt Embraces the Ancient Faith.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—Roland Bernard Gellatt and Miss Ada Reefer were married last evening by Rabbi Berkowitz at the bride's home. Mr. Gellatt is a Gentile and Miss Reefer a Jewess. Miss Reefer's parents refused their consent to the union unless Mr. Gellatt should become a Jew. The prospective bridegroom sought the advice of Rabbi Berkowitz and declared his wish to embrace the Jewish faith. The Rabbi put him on eighteen months probation and decided to take him into the faith without the performance of all the ceremonial rites. This was done after an indorsement of his decision had been made by many of the American Rabbis. The marriage then followed. The event is almost unprecedented in the history of the Jewish church. Rabbi Berkowitz says it may mark the beginning of a new era in the history of the church.

FIVE YEARS FOR BIGAMY.

The Prisoner's First Wife Faints in the Court Room.

Luther B. Willsie, printer and ex-Salvationist, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Denison yesterday to five years in Kingston Penitentiary. It was proven that the prisoner married Sadie Walker at Owen Sound Oct. 5, 1885, and that he deserted her a few months ago and came to Toronto. Five months since he met Miss Emma M. Mahon at the Agnes-street Methodist Church, and on Aug. 1 was married to her by Rev. J. P. Lewis.

Willsie called a number of witnesses in an endeavor to prove that Miss Mahon knew he was a married man, but the witnesses swore that they did not believe she was aware of the fact. Miss Mahon also testified that Willsie represented himself as a single man. The two wives were in court when sentence was pronounced and No. 1 fainted.

SLEEP WELL, DEAR BABY SLEEP,
THY LITTLE LIMBS REPOSE;
MAY HEAVEN BLESS AND KEEP MY BABE FROM OUTSIDE FOES.

This is the heart-felt prayer of many a fond mother, who gently lays her baby down to rest for the night. Would that all mothers in our land could say from the heart as well as from experience, "my baby sleeps well."

If this is not yet your experience, dear mother, the fault is your own. Your little one if not resting soundly at night is ailing from some cause, which you must discover.

Babies that suffer from constipated bowels, from colics, from teething, from diarrhea, from cholera infantum and weak digestion cannot rest peacefully or remain healthy.

Is your babe suffering from any of these troubles? If so, mother, the first and all-important point is to weigh well the question of dieting for your child. Evidently you have been using foods which have caused intestinal and gastric disorders and have not been easily assimilated. Your only wise and safe course is to use Lactated Food, which always allays intestinal irritation and weakness, assists impaired digestion and will, unless your child is troubled with some organic disease, bring it back to perfect health.

Lactated Food causes a new light to come into the eyes of your child, making it look happy and lively, and peaceful slumber and perfect rest every night will be the result.

Mothers, make your babes happy, then will you be happy yourselves, and life will prove a true pleasure.

Ferry Captains Fined.

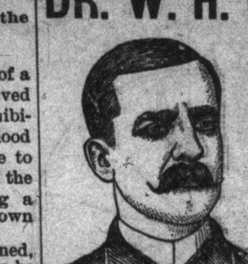

At the Police Court yesterday eight of the ferry captains were charged with running their boats faster than six miles per hour. It was agreed that one captain from each of the two companies should plead guilty and the charges against the others withdrawn. A fine of $10 without costs was thereupon inflicted.

Michael Riordan was committed for 30 days without the option of a fine for assaulting Eliza Foster. William Burkhardt, charged with assaulting his mother, was remanded until to-day, as was Robert Porter, accused of cutting Samuel Rupert in a York-street eating house with a knife. Tobias Switzer pleaded guilty to striking his wife over the head with an iron bar, but was remanded for a week. The charge against Adrian Elliott of being responsible for the injury occasioned to William Brown, who was knocked down by the cab on Aug. 12, was dismissed. William Cruse was committed for three days for releasing the brakes on a freight train standing on a siding near the Dundas-street bridges.

Rhode Island Lumbermen Propose to Build Mills in Quebec.

I., wealthy lumbermen, have just returned here after inspecting the crown timber lands of the Lake St. John country, newly opened by railway. A Knight of Labor Grievance.

Editor World: Aug. 22 Mr. Powderly addressed the great public in general and to organized labor in particular to come to the relief of the K. of L. I would suggest and strongly recommend that as Toronto contains some of the smartest men in the world, for getting up a carnival or Calithumpian picnic, and as some of Toronto's smartest men are members of District Assembly No. 125, or the star chamber in connection with it, and as brains are more valuable than money, that they send a deputation to Mr. Powderly and District Assembly No. 246 and instruct them in the secret of being on the bosses' or proprietors' side and on the workingman's side at the same time. You might say this is impossible, but it has been proved different, and there are shops in this city where members of the K. of L. have been weeded out the same as the New York Central, and some of the prominent members of No. 125 were kept on and are adepts in that line.

I have no doubt but that they could make peace between Mr. Webb and the strikers without the spending of a cent or the spilling of a drop of blood. I have the fullest sympathy with the sixty men and their families that were discharged from their positions, as I have been there myself, the difference being that I was not a member of the K. of L. but I had to sacrifice my position to make room for one that was a member. And when I wrote to District Assembly 125, through its secretary, asking if it was one of their principles for a prominent member of their order to work another man out of his situation and then take the job at less wages, the communication was never read to the assembly, but the secretary wrote me a private letter, on official paper. If it was 60 non-members that got discharged and 60 members of the K. of L. that got promoted in their positions I have no doubt but Mr. Webb would be the fair-haired boy. It makes no difference who gets discharged if a K. of L. gets the position; if there is no reason given they will quickly put it down as incompetent or something else, the same as Mr. Webb. JAS. HARNEY.

The Irish Potato Famine.

Editor World: In your issue of to-day you have an item that T. M. Healy, in reference to the proposed potato famine in Ireland, says in effect that tenants in view of the famine should not pay rent but let the landlords support them. A queer law surely, and one that is only applicable to some parts of Ireland, famine or no famine. He goes on to ask if Ireland is to be placed in the position of a mendicant again. That is where they have already placed her, and it is a far more becoming position, as it may be the result of misfortune, not crime, than the position she will occupy if they follow T. M. Healy's advice. I am sure if we had Mr. Healy in Toronto for a spell he would either pay his rent or get, and his being Irish would not help him any to get out of it. Healy proposes that if subscriptions are sent that any man who pays his rent gets nothing. I propose if any are sent (which I do not think likely, when people remember that their subscriptions to the last famine fund went to pay Peter's Pence) that any one who has refused to pay his rent except through absolute poverty to do so gets nothing. Let St. Peter return some of the pence he got during, I will not say good time, but during the last famine, and the only portion of the Irish who ever suffer will have plenty. IRISHMAN.

THE BROCK-AVENUE ACCIDENT.

A Motion to Quash the Verdict of the Jury.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, ex-Deputy Attorney-General, representing Superintendent Tait of the Ontario and Atlantic Division of the C.P.R., made application before Mr. Justice Street yesterday for leave to serve notice of motion to show cause why a writ of certiorari should not issue for the purpose of returning all papers in connection with the inquest on the late Patrick Dowling, one of the victims of the Brock-avenue accident, with a view to quash the verdict. His Lordship granted the application, which is returnable on Tuesday next.

Melinda-street to Be Fixed Up.

Ald. George Verral called attention in the Board of Works meeting yesterday to the disgraceful condition of the sidewalk on the south side of Melinda-street from Yonge-street to Jordan. Also the roadway between these two points was in a frightful state and required immediate attention.

The Chairman: "That is being attended to, and orders have been already issued to place this piece of street in good shape."

Rev. J. B. Huff, Florence, writes: "I have great pleasure in testifying to the good effects which I have experienced from the use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. For several years nearly all kinds of foods fermented on my stomach, so that after eating I had very distressing sensations, but from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetable Discovery I obtained relief."

A Wheelman Unhorsed.

A bicycler named Christopher Mutrie collided with a cab in King-street near Bay last evening and was thrown from his wheel. The carriage passed over his body and he was considerably bruised. He was assisted into Fawcett's drug store, where Dr. Cuthbertson examined his injuries and pronounced them not of a serious nature.
