Editorial Topics.

When we remarked in our June number on the fact that three of the Church RESIGNATION. Institutions of the province would at the beginning of this term be "under new management," we little thought that our own College was so soon to be included in this list.

On December 3rd, Dr. Welch announced that, "after much hesitation and acting on the advice of the Bishops and other members of the Corporation," he had decided to accept the rectorship of St. James' Cathedral. It is only because we feel that it is in the interests of the Church in general and of St James' in particular, that we can view this decision with anything but the strongest disapproval.

During his short term of office, the Provost has won the respect and esteem of every one from "don" to freshman and we can hardly yet realize what a loss his resignation will be to us.

Dr. Welch, before coming here, was rector of St. Bede's Church, Gateshead, in the Diocese of Durham, England.

In October, 1895, he was installed here as Vice-Chancellor of the University and Provost of Trinity College, and at the same time the degree of D.C.L. (honoris causa) was conferred on him. Since that time the Provost has often shewn that nothing is nearer to his heart than the interests of Trinity, and we feel sure that, though he has been called to another sphere of duty, he will not soon forget our beloved "Alma Mater."

It is our most sincere wish that he may meet with every success in his new work and that he may soon become as dear to the hearts of his congregation as he has to ours.

"College Spirit"—What is it? We

COLLEGE hear a great deal about it, especially SPIRIT. during the football season, but few stop to define its meaning. Each man thinks of it as being particularly concerned with that College institution in which he is chiefly interested. Sometimes he forgets that, though his may be an extremely important one, yet it is not the only College institution that exists. The result is that his "College spirit" and energies are chiefly expended in its behalf. The other institutions are overlooked or put aside as occupying a very inferior position and consequently considered unworthy of his interest and active support.

But while it must necessarily happen that, where several men are gathered together in the same building where different institutions exist, one is particularly interested in this and another in that association, yet surely "College spirit" is not bound up within the limits of any particular one. If it were, it could not be called "College spirit," but ought rather to be termed "party spirit." Such spirit is narrow and injurious, since, expended in the interests of one institution, it retards the growth of another.

"College spirit" must be that which moves a man to place his energies and financial support at the disposal of all College institutions, in order that they may be upheld and strengthened by his influence, so far as it goes, that which makes a man long to see his College first in every department, that which leads him to think that his University is the best and that therefore his energies ought to be spent in extending her influence; and surely if "College spirit" is anything, it will make a man be true to his "Alma Mater" and make him feel the obligation resting upon him of striving to prove himself an honour to her as well.

This may be called an ideal "College spirit," such as is not to be found in actual existence. Ideal or not, it is possible of attainment. Ideals are things to be striven after and surely the one spoken of here is worthy of our best efforts.

"College spirit" is, after all, what we ourselves make it. Let us but feel that the prosperity of our University to a very large extent depends upon the amount, quality and breadth of such "College spirit" as we possess, and we will strive to make it approach as near as possible to the ideal.

Whatever we do, let us get out of the way of thinking we have fulfilled our obligation to the different College institutions when we have done the least that is expected of us. All are important and demand our interest and personal support. Upon their joint success depends in a large measure the success of the College itself, a desire to promote which must lie at the root of all our "College spirit."

It is a trite observation that the wonders of one age are the commonplaces of the next. The locomotive and electric telegraph have become so familiar to us that we find it hard to believe that it is only a short time since they first appeared. It is difficult to realize the conditions of life at a time when these applications of science, so indispensable to us to-day, were absolutely unknown. In a similar manner the coming generations will doubtless look back upon the present age as one of comparative darkness. Knowledge grows daily from more to more; science moves on continually, and every year its applications are seriously affecting the conditions of our life. And, to a large extent, this is an accidental result. Few of the scientific men, whose labours have so profoundly changed the circumstances of our daily life, were directly inspired to perform their work by any thought of its practical application. Their search after truth has been due to a desire for knowledge rather than to a vision of the practical advantages which that knowledge would bring. An illustration of this is afforded by the two principal scientific achievements of the last five years—the discovery of the X rays, and the beginnings of a practical system of wireless telegraphy.

There is always a desire in the popular mind to associate each discovery with a single name. Scientifically, this is impossible. Science is neither Jew nor Greek, she knows no bounds of nationality or language, and workers in her domains are "a band of brothers" aiming at one common object—the advancement of natural knowledge. The progress made by one soon becomes common to all, and the ground thus gained serves as a basis for the advance of others, so that every considerable achievement is the work not of one man but of many. A number of individuals are continually pressing to the same end, and the labour of the pioneer is continued and brought to its conclusion by other followers in the scientific field.

Curiously enough, the two discoveries we have mentioned both arose from the work of one man, whose name is scarcely known to the general public. Hertz unfortunately died before he could complete his investigations in either direction, but in both he was a pioneer. To him and to Lenard we owe the first proof that certain rays could pass through solid bodies impervious to ordinary light; while the later work on the transmission of electricity without wires has arisen directly from the researches of Hertz alone.

But there is a further connection between the two. The transmission of electrical waves, equally with the transmission of the X rays, is due to disturbances set up in the ether, that mysterious substance which fills all space and permeates all bodies, whatsoever their nature, and no matter how solid they may appear to be. What, then, is this wonderful ether? The reader may smile when we tell him that it is a hypothetical substance, of the actual existence of which we have no direct evidence. In fact, in his British Association address of 1894, Lord Salisbury dwelt at length upon our ignorance of its properties, upon our uncertainty even that such a thing exists. Had he studied the work of Hertz, he would have seen that his pessimism was without justice, for these researches, together with the modern work on the lines indicated, have thrown much light on the nature of the ether, and we may reasonably hope in the immediate future for a considerable increase in our knowledge. This hypothesis of ether waves—one of the most fruitful known to science—was brought forward in the first place to explain the phenomena of light, and it has adapted itself in the most wonderful way to explain the facts of the transmission, not of light only, but of all kinds of energy.

There is no doubt that wireless telegraphy, now in its infancy, has before it a great future. The pioneer work of Hertz has been ably carried on by a number of investigators, among whom we may mention Dr. Oliver Lodge, and, more especially, Signor Marconi. The researches of the latter are familiar to nearly everyone. Beginning with short distances, Marconi gradually improved his apparatus and methods till in March 28th of this year he succeeded in sending messages from the South Foreland to Wimereux, near Boulogne, a distance of 32 miles, and even this distance has been since exceeded. In fact, the distance appears to depend upon the height of the wire by which the electric vibrations are sent out into space. Other features which we owe to Marconi are the "coherer," by which the etheric waves are trapped and made to tell their story, and the method by which the receiver and transmitter are, as it were, tuned to each other, so that they are not affected by other instruments. To this latter end Marconi is still pursuing his investigations, and when more complete success is achieved, we may expect to see the method used in future wars. It was tried with satisfactory results in the last naval manœuvres. For short distances, perhaps in time for long distances too, it should supersede the ordinary methods now in use. For light-houses and light-ships in their communication with the coast it will be invaluable, and already stations have been set up on many parts of the coast of England. But it would take long to tell of all the advantages which wireless telegraphy will give us—they must be present in the imagination of everyone.

Athletics.

THE STEEPLE CHASE.

The annual Steeple Chase was run on Wednesday, November 8th, over the same course as last year—i.e., start from west door of the College, northwest across Dovercourt and Rusholme Roads, north across Bloor street, northeast to Manchester avenue and then south down the ravine, finishing at the east end of the chapel. Nine men started with the following handicaps:—

Rolph .....	2m. 50s.
Lancefield .....	2m. 20s.
Bucke, Kidd .....	2m. 10s.
Strathy, Mockridge, Carman .....	1m. 50s.
Lucas .....	1m. 40s.
Spencer .....	Scratch.

The scratch man started at 3.10m. 40s. Lucas soon got the lead and kept it all the way, finishing at 3.36m. 39s. Spencer came in second at 3.37m. 1s., followed by Strathy at 3.37m. 30s. Mockridge was the next on hand exactly two minutes later, closely followed by Carman and Rolph.

Bucke, Kidd and Lancefield brought up the rear. The three prizemen are all old T.C.S. boys.

The following gentlemen kindly acted as officers:—

Starter.—Rev. W. H. White.

Timekeeper.—H. C. Simpson, Esq.

Judge at Finish.—A. H. Young, Esq.

The day was an ideal one for running, and though the course was rather heavy owing to the rain of the previous days, the time made was above the average of previous years.

Mr. Huntingford is as usual giving the first prize, and to him are due the hearty thanks and appreciation of the Athletic Association for his continued interest in this annual event. His prize this year is a set of handsome carvers, which will become the property of Lucas. Spencer deserves great credit for the splendid race he ran in spite of his heavy handicap. He has now run four times in the Steeple Chase, twice coming first, once second and once third.

TRINITY V. ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE.

Trinity defeated St. Michael's on the afternoon of Friday, November 10th by 10 to 1. St. Michael's won the toss and kicked down with the wind. During the first half, St. Michael's, by their heavy mass plays with long punts interspersed, seemed to be getting the best of the game, and they obtained a "rouge" on a long kick. In the second half Trinity began to get into the game. The Trinity halves, Strathy, Mockridge and Walker, made several good runs. Lucas played a splendid hard game at quarter; Burbidge, Code, Whittaker and Hewetson were always on the ball.

Trinity's first score was a try made by Code on a long kick by Strathy; it was not converted. Shortly afterwards Trotter went over the line for another try, which Lucas converted. A few minutes later the whistle blew and the score remained 10-1 in Trinity's favour.

For St. Michael's, Collins, Sheridan, Vissette and Crigan did far the best work. The teams:—

TRINITY.—Back.—Sawers; Halves.—Mockridge, Strathy, Walker; Quarter.—Lucas; Scrimmage.—Macdonald, Hewetson, Higginson; Wings.—Code, Richards, Whittaker, Burbidge, White, Lancefield, Trotter.

ST. MICHAEL'S.—Back.—Tickett; Halves.—Collins, Sheridan, Vissette; Quarter.—Crigan; Scrimmage.—Staley, Keys, Carter; Wings.—McAllister, Duggan, Carey, Bluett, Stormont, McGuire, Kelly.

SECOND YEAR V. FRESHMEN.

'01, 8; '02, 4.—The inter-year games began on Monday, November 6th, when the Second Year and Freshmen were given an opportunity to settle the little disagreements which inevitably arise between the two Years. The game was interesting at every stage, and especially when Kidd, after a forty-yard run, carried the ball behind the Second Year goal-posts. Lancefield and Sawers each got a touchdown for their year. The teams were:

SECOND YEAR.—Halves.—Sawers (Capt.), Tyner; Quarter.—Buck; Scrimmage.—Tomlinson, Hincks, Hovey; Wings.—Lancefield, Burbidge, Rolph, Scarlett, Dunning.

FRESHMEN.—Back.—Armour; Halves.—Mr. White, Mr. Simpson; Quarter.—Sait (Capt.); Scrimmage.—Rogers, Wade, Woodcock; Wings.—Kidd, Taylor, Denison, Govier.

DIVINITY V. FRESHMEN.

DIVINITY, 19; 02, 0.—On Tuesday, November 14th, the Freshmen team again "mistook life and died," and since Kidd forgot to score this time, the Freshmen were shut out. Mr. White, Turley and Walker conducted themselves worthily throughout the game. The teams were:—

DIVINITY.—Halves.—Walker, Johnson; Quarter.—Turley; Scrimmage.—Warren, Macdonald, Spencer; Wings.—Code (Capt.), Richards, Owen, Kerny, Higginson.

FRESHMEN.—Back.—Rolph; Halves.—Mr. White, Mr. Simpson; Quarter.—Sait (Capt.); Scrimmage.—Hincks, Wade, Woodcock; Wings.—Taylor, Kidd, Denison, Govier.

THIRD YEAR V. FRESHMEN.

'00, 23; '02, 0.—This match was played on Friday, November 24th. Nothing very remarkable occurred during the game, which was a pretty "easy thing" for the Third Year. Whittaker, Strathy and Mockridge were responsible for the "tries." The teams:

THIRD YEAR.—Halves.—Strathy, Nevitt; Quarter.—Lucas; Scrimmage.—Handsfield, Hincks; Wings.—Whittaker, Burbidge, Carman, Trotter.

FRESHMEN.—Halves.—W. H. White, H. C. Simpson; Quarter.—Sait; Scrimmage.—Wade, Woodcock; Wings.—Kidd, Rolph, Denison, Taylor.

THIRD YEAR V. SECOND YEAR.

'00, 15; '01, 10.—On Monday, November 27th, owing to the Third Year only being able to put nine men in the field, and as the Second Year refused to come to any suitable agreement, '00 had to play ten against '01's eleven men. This did not affect the ultimate result, but made the game more exciting than it would otherwise have been. Both teams played their best, the Second Year putting up a hard rough game. The teams:—

THIRD YEAR.—Halves.—Mockridge, Strathy (Capt.); Quarter.—Lucas; Scrimmage.—Handsfield, Hewetson, Denison; Wings.—Whittaker, Carman, Trotter.

SECOND YEAR.—Halves.—Tyner, Sawers (Capt.); Quarter.—Buck; Scrimmage.—Rolph, Tomlinson, Hovey; Wings.—Lancefield, Burbidge, Scarlett, Dunning.

TRINITY V. U.C.C.

We journeyed up to U.C.C. on Wednesday, November 15th, and played our annual game with the College boys.

The official score was 5-2 against us; but, as our opponents generously admitted, the correct score was 2-2. Boyd won the toss and elected to kick east with a strong wind. During the first half, the ball was in our territory most of the time and almost the entire work fell on the quarter and halves, all of whom played a splendid game. U.C.C. scored two rouges in this half, one of which the referee did not see and gave as a touch-down. This ended the scoring for the first half. In the second half Trinity got down to work and kept the ball almost entirely inside the U.C.C. twenty-five-yard line; we failed, however, to do more than score two rouges. The game was by far the most enjoyable we have played this year; both teams played a hard game and yet one entirely free from roughness of any sort. The U.C.C. halves during the whole game did brilliant work, and it was due to them, we think, that Trinity failed to score oftener in the second half. Britton and Martin played a star game on the wings.

The following were the teams:—

TRINITY.—Back.—Sawers; Halves.—Walker, Strathy, Mockridge; Quarter.—Lucas; Scrim.—Hewetson, Macdonald, Baldwin; Wings.—Code, Richards, W. H. White, Whittaker, Lancefield, Trotter, Burbidge.

U.C.C.—Back.—Beatty; Halves.—Waterous, Morrison, Reynolds; Quarter.—Boyd, (Capt.); Scrim.—Prowse, Brown, Davidson; Wings.—Pinch, Robertson, Caldwell, Bonnell, Sharpe, Britton, Martin.

After the game we adjourned to the dining-hall and partook of refreshments.

DIVINITY V. THIRD YEAR.

'00, 7; Divinity, 5—One of the most exciting year-games ever played here took place on Wednesday, December 6th, when '00 defeated Divinity by 7-5 in the final game for the Martin cup.

As the Third Year couldn't put a full team on the field and as the substitute allowed by Divinity was unable to play, the Third Year for the second time this season played with one man less than their opponents. At half-time the score was 5-4 in favour of Divinity; but in the second half the Third Year, having the wind in their favour, pulled the score up to 7-5, where it remained till the whistle blew. When time was called the ball was within a foot of the Third Year goal-line.

The most brilliant plays of the day were runs by Lucas and Johnson for their respective teams; the former scored a try. Mr. Martin, '96, was referee and Mr. Whiteum-pire. The teams:—

DIVINITY.—Halves.—Walker, Johnson; Quarter.—Turley; Scrim.—Warren, Macdonald, Spencer; Wings.—Code, (Capt.) Richards, Higginson, Owen, Kerney.

THIRD YEAR.—Halves.—Strathy, (Capt.), Mockridge; Quarter.—Lucas; Scrim.—Hincks, Hewetson, Handsfield; Wings.—Carman, Whittaker, Trotter, Nevitt.

It is greatly to be regretted that the Second Year defaulted to Divinity. Formerly even weak years have not thought of acting in this way, and it is an unheard of thing in the case of a team which was thought to have such a good show for the championship. Let us hope this action will not be made a precedent for future years.

'00 have now won the Inter-year Championship and are holders of the Martin cup for 1900.

Literary Institute.

THE second regular meeting of the Institute was held on Friday evening, October 13th. The First Vice-President, Mr. R. Turley, B.A., presided. A dozen new members were introduced, after which the programme was proceeded with. It may be mentioned that the programme on this occasion was a very good one, when we take into consideration the tender years of those taking part. The Freshmen promise to add very materially to the value of the Institute. Mr. Kidd read an essay, taking "England" as his subject. The reader, Mr. Taylor, gave a very amusing article on "How to pass Examinations." The debate "Resolved that the fear of punishment has a greater influence on human conduct than hope of reward" was supported by Messrs. R. V. Harris and Woodcock against Messrs. Sait and A. D. Armour. Both votes went in favour of the affirmative. Mr. G. B. Strathey's criticism was very much appreciated. Rev. J. R. H. Warren, B.A. withdrew his name from the candidates for the office of President, leaving this much coveted position in the hands of Mr. Geo. Code, B.A. The following periodicals were subscribed for the Common Room:—The Graphic, Life, N. Y. Churchman, Harper's Monthly, Scientific American, Scribner's, Review of Reviews, English Illustrated, Strand, Munsey, Guardian, Literary Digest, Nineteenth Century, Punch, Canadian Magazine, and Pearson's. The Rev. E. B. Young is kindly giving us the Church Times.

After the adjournment of the meeting Mr. D. T. Owen proceeded to auction off the various periodicals. Bidding was brisker than usual, and the proceeds of the sale show an increase over last year.

The Second Vice-President, Mr. D. T. Owen, occupied the chair on the evening of October 20th. A letter was read with regard to the organizing of the Inter-College Debating Union. After some discussion it was decided to send a representative to the first meeting, but not yet to come to a final decision as to our joining the Union. For the essay Rev. E. B. Young read an excellent paper, taking the form of a review on a new book entitled "Joubert"—being a selection from his Thoughts. Mr. J. J. Donaghy and Mr. Summerhayes were the readers on this occasion. The debate, which was to show "That Great Britain's action in the Transvaal is justifiable" was well handled by Messrs. J. Dunning and F. W. Rolph against Messrs. W. J. Brain, B.A. and E. M. Wright, B.A. Mr. Wright made an excellent speech, and the negative won on the merits of the debate, while the vote on the questions favoured the affirmative. Mr. Turley, B.A., as critic rendered some very valuable help to those taking part on the programme, for which he received a unanimous vote of thanks. A change was made in the constitution, on motion of Mr. A. C. Lancefield, to the effect that in future "the elections for First and Second Vice-President be taken on separate ballot." Mr. R. V. Harris, the second in his year, was then elected to fill the office of First Year Councillor on the Council.

The fourth meeting on October 27th was called to order by the President, Mr. Geo. Code, B.A. Mr. Scarlett was introduced, and the programme proceeded with. Mr. Burbidge read a selection from one of Rudyard Kipling's works. Mr. Sait as a substitute for Mr. W. H. M. Mockridge read "Timothy's Homecoming" from the "College Times." Mr. Hincks took for the subject of his essay "The Advantages of College life in Residence." The debate then followed on the subject "Resolved that the Educational System of Ontario is detrimental to the physical and mental development of our youth." Messrs. E. P. S. Spencer, B.A., and R. V. Harris supported the question with Messrs. A. B. Higginson, M.A., and J. B. Roger contra. The affirmative won on the merits of the debate. A hot discussion followed from the floor of the house, and the other vote was taken for the negative. Mr. F. H. Handsfield received a hearty vote of thanks for his services as critic. A report was given of the work of the Inter-College Debating Union; and it was decided if possible to enter. For this purpose Mr. E. P. S. Spencer, M.A. was appointed to represent Trinity in the Union.

The meeting of November 3rd was called to order by Mr. R. Turley, B.A. A letter was read from the Osgoode Legal and Literary Society requesting us to send two men to take part in their Annual Debate on Friday evening, November 17th. The invitation was accepted. Mr. Wade was introduced. Mr. A. S. B. Lucas read a selection from a work of Rudyard Kipling, and Mr. Woodcock, as a substitute for Mr. E. W. Richards, "The Charge of the Light Brigade." An essay by Mr. Hovey on "Patriotism," read by Mr. J. J. Donaghy, was highly appreciated. The debate on the question "Resolved that the Government should own the Canadian Railway, Telegraph, and Telephone Systems" was stoutly maintained by Messrs. T. Scarlett and A. C. Lancefield, while Messrs. L. A. Trotter and R. Carman upheld the opposite view. The affirmative won on both the merits of the debate and question. The representative to the Inter-College Debating Union then reported that Trinity was again in the field and had the "by" in the first series. Mr. J. Dunning acted as critic. The Provost, who was present, spoke a few words, expressing the pleasure it always gave him to be present at the meetings of the Institute. He also spoke of the advantages of being in the Debating Union. The meeting, which was a very orderly one, then adjourned.

The President, Mr. Code, B.A., occupied the chair on the evening of November 10th. After the reading of the minutes and the calling of roll, Mr. Govier was nominated for membership. The first reader on the programme, Mr. Mockridge, read from "Character" a selection on Popularity. Mr. Wade recited rather than read "How we hunted a mouse." The essay "On the Position of Edward Waller in English Literature" was by Mr. Gordon. The debate,—to show "that the adoption of Imperial Federation is inexpedient and inadvisable"—was a very good one. The question was upheld by Messrs. Turley, B.A. and Young, against Messrs. Warren, B.A., and Owen. The negative won on the merits of the debate. A number of the Faculty were present by special invitation; and in the discussion which followed the debate Mr. Simpson took a lively part. Professor Clark as critic was, needless to say, very much appreciated. After an excellent meeting we adjourned.

* * *

There was no meeting on November 17th. The attraction of the evening was the Osgoode Hall Debate and Dance. In the debate with the Legalists, Trinity was supported by Messrs. Warren, B.A., and Owen who deserve great credit for their excellent work which, by the way, carried the audience in their decision of the question.

* * *

The seventh regular meeting on November 24th was called to order by Mr. Turley, B.A. Mr. Birmingham was introduced and the programme proceeded with. Mr. Westman gave an essay which took the form of a biographical sketch of the Right Honourable Joseph Chamberlain. This was listened to with great attention. Mr. Denison read "On being hard up." In the debate Messrs. Birmingham and Armour upheld "That the moral and intellectual influence of the theatre is beneficial" against Messrs. Buck and Sawers. In reply to an invitation from Victoria University, Mr. Brain, B.A., was elected to represent us at their Annual Conversazione to be held on December 1st. Mr. Donaghy as critic praised the debaters for the preparation they had put on their work. He received a hearty vote of thanks, after which the meeting adjourned.

Miscellany.

THE DEBATE AT OSGOODE.

The Osgoode Legal and Literary Society held their forty-sixth open meeting on the evening of Friday, November 17th. The Convocation Hall, which was very tastefully decorated for the occasion, was filled to overflowing with those who had come to participate in the evening's enjoyment.

Before the debate began a short but very entertaining programme was given, in which Mr. T. A. Hunt, president of the society, and others, took part.

The subject of the debate was "Resolved that the adoption of Imperial Federation is inexpedient and inadvisable." On the affirmative were Messrs. J. A. Rowland and T. F. Battle, of Osgoode Hall, while Messrs. J. R. H. Warren and D. T. Owen, of Trinity, upheld the negative side of the question.

Mr. Rowland argued that the adoption of Imperial Federation was inexpedient and inadvisable on the ground that such a scheme was an ideal that could not be realized —that England's interest in her colonies was not strong enough, and intercolonial interests were not of sufficient importance to warrant such a federation, that federal sentiment was weak, that it would be impossible to arrange a proper trade basis between the different parts of the Empire, and that the adoption of Imperial Federation would mean the overthrow of the present constitution of Great Britain and the adoption of an entirely new one.

Mr. Battle, in an eloquent speech, upheld his leader's position, and pointed out the inexpediency of Imperial Federation from the standpoint of military defence.

Messrs. J. R. H. Warren and D. T. Owen upheld the negative side of the question, and gave good reasons for the adoption of Imperial Federation. Mr. Owen's speech was particularly good and to the point. He pointed out that two courses only were open to the colonies, either federation or disintegration. One or the other must be faced, and everything pointed in the direction of the former course as the most expedient and advisable. Imperial Federation meant only the application of old remedies to new problems—England needed the colonies, but the colonies needed England more than she needed them, and in the welding of all together in one great union would there be found true satisfaction for that need.

Mr. Justice Moss, who occupied the chair, left the decision on the merits of the debate to the audience who decided in favour of the negative.

The members of S. Hilda's College showed their interest in the debate by being present in a body. Probably they realized what a help it is to those taking part in any discussion to have their friends and supporters on hand to back them up. At any rate their presence on this particular occasion was very much appreciated by those more immediately concerned in the debate.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN AND THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

We have received a letter from the Women's Department of the Canadian Commission for the Paris Exhibition. This department is under the direction of the National Council of Women of Canada. We publish the letter as the best means of giving the information therein contained.

Ottawa, Nov. 20, 1899.

SIR,—At the request of the National Council of Women of Canada I venture to ask you to draw the attention of your readers to the effort which is to be made to represent the life and work of the women of Canada in a suitable manner at the Paris International Exhibition of 1900.

Instead of arranging for a Women's Section, which but too often means disappointment and imperfect representation, the Dominion Government have decided to publish a handbook for distribution, which will give statistics and information regarding all departments of women's life and activities, and concerning the organizations with which they are connected, and which will also contain a series of interesting papers, giving a general survey of the position, education and work of women in the Dominion.

The preparation of this work has been intrusted by the Government to the National Council of Women of Canada, who have appointed a Committee of Arrangement, under the convenorship of Mrs. George Drummond, of Montreal.

The volume will be divided into sections on charities and reform, education, trades and industries, social work, professions and careers, art, literature, church work, Indian women and immigration, each of which will be undertaken by a sectional committee and convener.

In order to facilitate the work of these sections, a list of questions has been prepared and is being sent out by Miss T. F. Wilson, Corresponding Secretary of the National Council, to persons likely to have the requisite experience and ability for replying to inquiries bearing on the various departments I have named.

It will greatly aid the Council in its work if those possessing information which will be of interest for such a handbook will send their names and addresses (post free) to Miss T. F. Wilson, care of Auguste Dupuis, Esq., Paris Commission, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, before December 1st, and indicate the section regarding which they could furnish answers to our questions.

All help will be gratefully received, as it is the earnest desire of the National Council of Women to show itself really worthy of the confidence reposed in it by the Government to produce a volume containing as full, accurate and concise information as it is possible in the short time available for compilation.

It will also interest your readers to know that the Government intend to furnish an apartment especially as a rest room and Information office for the use of Canadian lady-visitors to the Exhibition.

I remain, yours faithfully,

ISHBEL ABERDEEN,

Editor-in-Chief of Canadian Women's Handbook.

THE T.U.A.A. DANCE.

The Athletic dance took place on the evening of Wednesday, November 22nd, and proved if anything a greater success than in former years.

Owing to there being no concert before the dance, people began to arrive at the early hour of 7.45 p.m., and by 8.30 there were 200 present, among whom, curiously enough and contrary to the general rule, the male sex predominated. The orchestra under Glionna struck up the first extra at a quarter to nine, and at 1.50 a.m. the programme was finished, leaving everybody apparently well satisfied with their evening's enjoyment. Supper was served from ten o'clock onwards down in "Hall." Mrs. Clark, Professor Huntingford and others also had supper in their rooms for their friends.

Great credit is due to the Athletic Executive, to whose untiring efforts the success of the dance is in a great measure due. It is estimated that the dance will prove a record-breaker from a financial standpoint also, but the exact receipts are not yet known, as there are still some of the returns to be made.

It is greatly to be regretted that there was not a larger turnout of undergraduates; when we are so few in numbers, we should all show up at every College function that takes place. There has been a great deal of talk lately about "The owl" and "going in a body." Let it not be all "talk," make it practical.

Among those present at the dance were: Miss Mowat, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Rigby, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Spragge, Mrs. Huntingford, the ladies of S. Hilda's, Miss Boulton, the Rev. the Dean, Revs. Messrs. Jones, Huntingford, White, Davidson, Commander Law, Messrs. Young, Parmenter, Duggan, Langton, Bell, Martin, Darling and many others.

THE CONVOCATION SERVICE.

The Convocation Service was held in the Chapel on the evening of October 24th, the sermon being preached by Dr. Body. The ex-Provost took his text from II. Timothy II. 1 and 2. He dwelt for some time on S. Paul's charge to S. Timothy, on the responsibility of teaching the truths of the faith to those who are to be the teachers in the future. To a great extent this had been the work of Trinity. "Nigh fifty years have fled since Trinity entered upon its great work of training up a succession of men qualified to serve God and their fellows in this fair Dominion of ours, whether in the special ministry of the Church or in the varied vocations of civil life; fifty years—a period long enough surely to test the capacity of any, whether of an individual or an institution.

The first enthusiasm of its inception, the buoyancy of its youth, all these have given place since to the matured strength of its settled certainties. Trinity has, indeed, entered so completely into the life and thought of the Church, that its regular beneficial operations are, as it were, completely taken for granted in our thoughts. It is difficult for us adequately to realize for ourselves the intensity of devotion, and the sacrifice shown by those who looked forward to those effects as blessings still hoped for. The fruit of fifty years of Trinity's actual workings are before our eyes."

THE ABSENT-MINDED BEGGAR

BY RUDYARD KIPLING.

When you've shouted "Rule Britannia," when you've sung
"God Save the Queen,"

When you've finished killing Kruger with your mouth,
Will you kindly drop a shilling in my little tambourine
For a gentleman in Khaki ordered south?

He's an absent-minded beggar and his weaknesses are great,
But we and Paul must take him as we find him.
He is out on active service, wiping something off a slate,
And he's left a lot o' little things behind him.

CHORUS.

Duke's son—cook's son—son of a hundred kings—
Fifty thousand horse and foot going to Table Bay.
Each of 'em doing his country's work (and who's to look after the things?)

Pass the hat for your credit's sake, and pay—pay—pay.

There are girls he married secret, asking no permission to,
For he knew he wouldn't get it if he did.
There is gas and coals and vittles, and the house rent falling due,
And it's more than rather likely there's a kid.

There are girls he walked with casual; they'll be sorry now he's gone,

For an absent-minded beggar they will find him;
But it ain't the time for sermons, with the winter coming on,
We must help the girl that Tommy's left behind him.

CHORUS.

Cook's son—Duke's son—son of a belted Earl;
Son of a Lambeth publican—it's all the same to-day!
Each of 'em doing his country's work (and who's to look after the girl),

Pass the hat for your credit's sake, and pay—pay—pay.

There are families by thousands far too proud to beg or speak.
And they'll put their sticks and bedding up the spout;
And they'll live on half o' nothing paid 'em punctual once a week,

'Cause the man that earned the wage is ordered out.
He's an absent-minded beggar, but he heard his country's call,
And his regiment didn't need to send to find him;
He chucked his job and joined it! So the job before us all
Is to help the home that Tommy left behind him.

CHORUS.

Duke's job—cook's job—gardener, baronet, groom,
Mews or palace or paper shop—there's someone gone away!
Each of 'em doing his country's work (and who's to look after the room?)

Pass the hat for your credit's sake, and pay—pay—pay.

Let us manage so as later we can look him in the face,
And tell him what he'd very much prefer—
That while he saved the Empire his employer saved his place,
And his mates—(that's you and me)—looked out for her.
He's an absent-minded beggar, and he may forget it all;
But we do not want his kiddies to remind him
That we sent 'em to the workhouse while their daddy hammered
Paul,

So we'll help the homes our Tommy's left behind him.

CHORUS.

Cook's home—Duke's home—home of a millionaire—
(Fifty thousand horse and foot going to Table Bay)—
Each of 'em doing his country's work (and what have you got to spare?)

Pass the hat for your credit's sake, and pay—pay—pay.

The Daily Mail, of London, England, of November 10th, had the following paragraph: "Trinity College School, a famous Canadian institution, founded on the model of the English Rugby, has an astonishing number of 'old boys' at the front, and more are going out with the Canadian contingent." There are known to be fourteen T.C.S. boys in the war.

We would like to draw the attention of our graduates and undergraduates to the pretty tobacco-jars, match boxes and ash-trays which are being exhibited in Goldstein & Co.'s window on Yonge street. Each article has on it a beautifully executed Trinity coat-of-arms. They are well worth looking at, and when once seen it is very difficult to restrain oneself from investing in a set.

We have just received a very neatly got-up pamphlet from Lindsay containing a list of lectures to be delivered there this year under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute; there is also included a picture of each lecturer and a short account of the life of each. The lecturers this year include Sir Chas. Tupper, Sir John Bourinot, J. H. N. Bourassa, Esq., and the Hon. David Mills. This is the third year that such a course has been given there, and the scheme is one that deserves every encouragement. It would be a splendid thing if a few more of our Collegiate Institutes would occasionally go a little outside of the monotonous regime laid down by the Educational Department, and if they would realize that they might make themselves beneficial in a larger sphere.

Theological and Missionary.

It is a matter of general sorrow that owing to illness, the Rev. J. S. Waller has been forced to delay his departure for Japan. Mr. and Mrs. Waller had purposed leaving for the east on November 28th, intending to be present here on the evening of the 27th, at the public Missionary Meeting planned for that date.

It was intended to make this meeting a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Waller, but at the last moment word was received that they would be unable to leave Canada for some time for reasons given above, and the meeting was postponed until next term.

We deeply sympathize with the Rev. J. S. Waller in his continued ill-health, and trust that before long he will be enabled to resume his important work in Japan.

Both meetings held in connection with our Society this term have been most interesting and well attended.

The first was of an instructive nature, and was held in Lecture room 2, on Thursday, November 16th. The subject "Christian Science" seemed, judging by the number out, to be one of general interest.

The Rev. Dr. Chown's kindness in coming here to address us was greatly appreciated by all.

Dr. Chown opened his lecture by quoting from Mrs. Eddy's book, and contrasting it with orthodox Christianity. He held that if matter was that which mortal mind sees, feels, hears, tastes and smells only in belief, the sense perceptions were engaged in a continual round of deception, and man was a bundle of living falsehoods. Mrs. Eddy did not believe in a personal God, but merely in a principle. He admitted many of the cures that Christian Scientists professed to have effected, but denied the cause, contending that they were the result of mental suggestion.

"When investigated," he said, "the creed will land its believers into chaos, which cannot be reasoned into truth, because it abrogates the laws of thought, which mental sanity imposes on all sound-thinking."

Rev. Dr. Chown's excellent address was followed by quite a long discussion in which the Reverends the Provost, Prof. Cayley, C. H. Shortt, Ingles, Plummer, and Heathcote took part. A very hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer was passed, moved by Rev. Prof. Clark and seconded by Rev. C. L. Ingles.

The second meeting was of a devotional nature and was held in the chapel on Monday evening, November 20th.

The Rev. W. H. Clarke gave an inspiring and helpful address from the first chapter of S. Paul's Epistle to the Philippians. This meeting was also well attended, and the thanks of the Society are due to Mr. Clarke for his thoughtful and interesting words.

The Mission Study Class has been discontinued for the term owing to the nearness of the Christmas examinations. This class has been well attended, and much interest has been shown in "Japan and its Regeneration." This subject will be continued next term at the usual time—every Thursday at 2.15 p.m.

THE supper, held in the Common Room on the night of Monday, November 20th, was a great success in every way. Good songs and recitations, good order and good cheer, all contributed to make our old-time supper all that could be wished for on all sides. We were pleased to see so many old Trinity men—grads and otherwise—present, and to know that they enjoyed themselves as they once used to do, when more closely connected with the college than at present.

The presence of Messrs. Wadsworth, Osler, McMurrich, Campbell, Canfield, Parmenter and Baldwin assures a downright good time, but when added to that all the College men turned in also with a right good will, it goes without saying that the supper of November 20th will long be remembered as one of the most enjoyable events of the term.

Rev. S. A. Lawrence was in College the other day. He looks well and strong after his long stay in Muskoka and returns to his parish with renewed health and strength.

* * *

THE REVIEW is glad to hear that Mr. E. Murrell Wright, B.A., is improving wonderfully. The broken limb is mending rapidly, so rapidly in fact that Mr. Wright will be able to sit up in a few days.

It has been said by some wise man that "coming events cast their shadows before." If this be true the great number of "sported" oaks and an exceeding great demand for coal-oil may be classed as the shadows of certain examinations which are reported to be approaching. We would beg our readers to consider the shortness of this column as one of those shadows.

THE hunting season is over, and a couple of our professors who make this an annual outing have returned to resume lectures, full of health and venison. They speak highly of the invigorating influence of the Muskoka climate and would urge any student worn out with over-study to spend a few weeks there. There were plenty of deer and every member brought home all the law allows. We did not enquire, but we suppose they did the shooting themselves; Muskoka guides, we know, are first-class shots and it's nobody's business who shot the deer.

Early in the session a new committee was formed, viz. the Athletic Association. These gentlemen have proved themselves to be by no means silent partners but have been very diligent in looking after the sports in connection with the school. The gymnasium, which has been getting more and more out of repair each year, has been very much improved by them. They have put in a first-class punching-bag and a set of the very best boxing-gloves. These are fully appreciated by the boys, for there is no time in the day when some one is not making use of them. The punching-bag will be responsible for the growth of many a biceps and triceps, and scores of fellows will be led to glory in their strength. It has become the rule that between lectures there shall always be two antagonists in the ring, with a goodly crowd to view the scrap. No special rules seem to govern; those in force are unwritten but none the less binding. Before spring no doubt we may look for new challengers of Corbett or Sharkey. So far no nasal bones have suffered or orbits been colored nor has any one's solar plexus been reached.

A couple of weeks ago, the Primary Years went up for examinations on bones and brain. That ordeal over successfully, they turned their attention to the dissecting room with its array of "subs." There they spend several hours each day learning more surely that man is indeed fearfully and wonderfully made, most of them wishing, I ween, that he had been put together in a simpler manner. By this time they are on the most friendly terms with their "subs" and you see no longer that blanching of countenance as they button on their aprons and go to renew their acquaintance. They have passed the stage when they expressed themselves in the words of one of the '01 men who has since left the school: "Ba gosh I fear I weel be seek." Now instead you hear those of one table criticizing the "sub" on another table and eloquently dilating on the good qualities of their own. Familiarity breeds contempt here as elsewhere, and looking in on these men at their work one—especially if he belonged to the laity—would be led to think they had lost all human feeling; but we venture to say that there is not one of them to whom at sometime the question has not arisen, "Who was his father?" "Who was her mother?"

The dinner committee has settled finally on December 8th, as the date of the dinner. This event, the greatest in the whole year, is to come off in the Temple Cafe, and, it is not necessary to say, will be carried out in a most splendid manner. The Earl of Minto is to honour us with his presence. There will be many other men of distinction present on that occasion, so that no fears are held for the success of the affair; and those who come expecting "a feast of reason and a flow of soul" will not be disappointed. The banquet is something which no one should miss and we feel sure that every man will do his utmost to be there. Come and have a good time, and when we have passed out of the College and have grown old in the profession, we shall look back on such occasions and be able to live them over again and enjoy them to the full.

Then on the 13th we look forward to another night's enjoyment, for the Literary Society is going to hold its concert on that date. The committee is going to secure the best talent our city can provide and we may expect a crowded house. Every freshman is urged to bring his best girl or girls, for there is no limit set to the number. On that occasion the rules governing freshmen are void; it is a hallowe'en for him and he will not be brought to account, if he does carry a cane and bring a lady of his own.

* * *

For a few weeks a number of our boys have been writing on the council examinations, styled very well by some one the "pons asinorum" of medical students. We express a hearty wish that they may cross it successfully.

S. Hilda's Notes.

On Friday, November 24th, Miss Ross, secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, gave an informal address at S. Hilda's, in which she outlined the history of the movement, explaining its aims and giving some account of the missionary work already done by some of its members. The address was most interesting, and it is to be regretted that there was not a larger attendance to benefit by it.

On Friday, November 17th, a very enjoyable "At Home" was given by the Lady Principal at S. Hilda's, at which were present many of the best friends and benefactors of the college.

On Monday, November 20th, the second general meeting of the Literary Society for the year 1899-1900 was held in the common room at S. Hilda's. The programme consisted in a debate:—"Resolved that newspapers do more harm than good." The affirmative was supported by Miss Nourse, '01, and Miss Nevitt, '01, and the negative by Miss Powley, '99, and Miss Hart, '00. The decision was left to the meeting and was given in favour of the negative.

T. C. S. News.

On November 11th, our forces came into collision with those of U.C.C. who had invaded our territory. No sooner was the conflict fairly started than our citadel was closely invested by the advance guards of the enemy, and a heavy bombardment begun by the big guns in their rear. Frequent attempts were made to carry the position by storm, but the defence all along the line—and especially in the centre, where the throng was thickest—was so gallant, and our own big guns (of somewhat inferior calibre to the enemy's) replied with such precision that little damage was done. Indeed, notwithstanding the desperate nature of the attack, our commander found himself sufficiently free at times to venture on a retaliatory sortie. While engaging the centre in a fierce melee, in which neither side had any apparent advantage, his wings would elude the enemy's flanks and inflict a blow on the back division. By thus momentarily disconcerting the foe, he succeeded in diverting their attack and relieving the tension. Once, and once only, during this epoch of the engagement, did the enemy succeed in piercing our lines. At the same time, unfortunately, a ball penetrated right into the heart of our position; this inflicted some loss, though not as much as it might have done, had the practice been a little more accurate. When, about this time, an armistice was called, the casualties were found to be few—in fact, we had lost five and the enemy none.

On the resumption of hostilities it was at once evident that the enemy contemplated an attack in a very different quarter; moreover, the mode of their attack was changed. Instead of it being centred as before, the conflict now raged in turn in every part of the field, but more frequently near our entrenchment. A dropping fire on the part of the enemy seemed at times a little threatening, but none of our losses were due to it. In spite of all our efforts—and our men showed all the dogged persistency which has signalled so many of their past encounters against odds—a few more casualties occurred, and when the order "cease firing" sounded our total loss was computed to be twelve. The enemy lost none.

Thus ended another memorable encounter between ancient and honourable foes; one in which little blood was shed, but in which the laws pertaining to fair and open warfare were scrupulously respected.

The football team, as finally constituted, is as follows: A. E. Piercy, back; R. T. Fuller, H. F. Labatt (capt.), F. T. Lucas, halves; L. M. Rathbun, quarter; G. T. Bousfield, A. H. Beckwith, C. F. Carnegie, scrimmage; E. F. Rathbun, J. W. G. Greey, inside wings; P. W. Plummer, W. H. B. Bevan, E. D. Shannon, centre wings; T. D. Garvey, K. A. Ramsay, outside wings.

The Oxford Cup was won on November 25th by the Upper Flat. The race was the best ever run, and the finish was exciting. Although the Lower Flat claimed the first two to arrive, they eventually lost by one point. Each Flat had five representatives.

A lecture with lantern views will be given on December 6th by Rev. Mr. Andrews, of St. Alban's Cathedral. The subject will be the engrossing one of South Africa.

Personal.

The Rev. T. G. A. Wright, B.A., '86, has left Millbank and taken charge of the parish of Thamesford, Ont.

L. McLaughlin has returned to his home on Bloor St. from Germany. We are extremely sorry to learn he has not improved in health.

On Sunday, December 17th, the Bishop of Montreal proposes holding an Ordination in Christ Church Cathedral, when Mr. M. D. Baldwin, M.A., '96, will be admitted to the Diaconate.

The Rev. J. Allan Ballard '94, formerly Curate of St. George's Church, Guelph, is meeting with marked success in his work at Grand Valley, of which place he was recently appointed Rector.

The following changes took place recently in the Diocese of Ottawa:—The Rev. A. H. Coleman, M.A., '69, has become Rector of Iroquois, and Rev. R. N. Jones, B.A., '81, Rector of Eganville.

In Perth, on All Saints Day, Mr. C. A. Heaven, M.A., '96, was ordained to the Diaconate by the Bishop of Ottawa. The Rev. C. E. S. Radcliffe preached the Ordination Sermon. Mr. Heaven is stationed at Balderson.

Much sympathy is expressed for the Rev. D. A. Madill, '97, who has been compelled through ill-health to go to California. His brother, Rev. A. S. Madill, has gone with him, but will soon return to his work at Caledon East. In the meantime Mr. Donaghy is in charge of the parish.

It is almost certain that the Rev. C. P. Anderson Rector of Grace Church, Oak Park, Ill., will become coadjutor to the Bishop of Chicago. After Mr. Anderson left Trinity he was ordained by the Archbishop of Ontario and appointed to the Missions of Cobden and Beachburg. In 1891 he left for his present charge in Chicago, where his work has been most successful, his congregation having doubled its numbers during his rectorship.

With reference to Rev. A. S. Madill's work we are pleased to note the opening of a new church at Campbell's Cross, in his parish, which took place on Sunday, October 22nd. During the day the Rev. G. F. Davidson, M.A., gave two addresses, one in the morning on "Reverence for the House of God and Zeal for God's Honour and the Extension of His Work," the other at the evening service on Acts xxvii. 28. The building of this church, which is of sufficient size to meet the requirements of the neighbourhood and is now practically free from debt, reflects great credit upon Mr. Madill and the loyal churchmen of his parish.

Book Reviews.

JOHN SELDEN AND HIS TABLE TALK, by Robert Waters, New York: Eaton and Maines, 1899.

John Selden lived in the reigns of Elizabeth, James the First, Charles the First and Cromwell (1584-1659). This famous lawyer had not only a long, wide and varied experience as scholar, writer and statesman, but filled creditably various political and other important offices during this eventful period. In 1640 he represented Oxford in Parliament. As a member of the famous Long Parliament, Selden, though favouring true reforms, acted rather as a wise guide and counsellor than as a partisan leader. He was ever inclined to moderation, and as often as not founded his own party by his wit and sense. Lord Clarendon, though generally opposed to Selden in politics, remained his life-long friend, and has paid a most generous tribute to his learning and character. Selden's great power lay in conversation. He had a remarkable gift for making hard things easy. To his friend, the Rev. Richard Milward, we owe the preservation of the table-talk by which Selden is chiefly remembered. Of the table-talk, Coleridge has said "There is more weighty bullion sense in this book than I ever found in the same number of pages of any uninspired writer." This estimate may be a little exaggerated, but certainly a perusal of these pages shows wit, humour and sense on every page. The topics range over a wide area. Owing to the character of the times in which he lived, theological subjects are much in evidence, but all kinds of subjects are dealt with. The present edition contains, besides the famous table-talk, a good account of Selden's life and times. We can promise several pleasant half-hours to those who take up these unpremeditated discourses of a most remarkable man. "This is indeed a rare fellow, my Lord!" and we heartily echo Coleridge's utterance: "O, to have been with Selden over his glass of wine, making every accident an outlet and a vehicle of wisdom!"

It will be seen from the above list that there are altogether at present in good standing 194 members of Convocation, of whom sixty-nine are Associate Members.

This represents a very considerable amount of help given to Trinity by graduates and other friends, but the membership might with a little effort be greatly increased and the Clerk of Convocation will be very glad to receive the names of any who would like to join or the names of any who might be persuaded to become members. It should be borne in mind that being a member of Convocation not only helps the University, but entitles one to certain voting privileges, of which it is hoped that an ever-increasing number of church people will avail themselves.

The terms of membership are as follows:—For Masters of Arts and graduates in Divinity, Law and Medicine, $5 per annum. For Bachelors of Arts of more than four years and less than seven years' standing, $5 per annum.

For Bachelors of Arts, during the first four years succeeding their graduation, $2 per annum.

Associate Members are Bachelors of Arts of seven years' standing, graduates in Music, and such other persons as shall have been approved of by the Executive Committee. They pay an annual fee of $5 (except in the case of Clergy, who are only required to pay $2) and enjoy the same privileges as full members so far as the proceedings of local Associations are concerned, but have not the right of voting at any meetings of Convocation.

They are entitled, however, to elect a representative to Corporation, for whom they vote each December.
