CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS. ONTARIO.

There is unanimity in one respect in the reports received regarding the lumber market. All agree that there is not the snap about the demand that was anticipated. It is admitted that prices have about reached their limit under present conditions, and consequently consumers are only buying for their immediate requirements, feeling that in the near future they may be able to purchase stock at lower prices. Besides, the demand from the building trade has been somewhat backward owing to the high cost of materials of all kinds and to rumors of probable strikes. In the leading cities of Ontario agreements have recently been entered into with the trades unions which will ensure no interruption to building operations from strikes this season, and it is possible that from now on the development in building may be on a more satisfactory scale. Pine, hemlock and hardwood lumber have all felt the effects of the above conditions, and the market is, if anything, weaker. In Ottawa the trade is surrounded by so many uncertainties that it is almost impossible to gauge the future course of the market.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

The present outlook is that the shipment of lumber from the St. Lawrence this season will be lighter than usual, owing to the destruction by the Ottawa fire of a large quantity of export lumber. The tendency of the export trade is towards higher prices, as the owners of the burned stock will no doubt seek to replace it by purchases from other sources. It is reported that holders of certain stocks immediately marked up their prices as the result of the fire. Local trade in Quebec and New Brunswick is not all that could be desired. In Montreal the erection of several proposed buildings has been deferred until next year, when it is thought lumber prices will be lower. The demand from the Eastern States has also fallen off.

UNITED STATES.

The lumber trade of the United States is quiet. At wholesale points some weakness has been shown, but at manufacturing centers the situation is said to be stronger. The east is still waiting for lower prices, and until dealers at distributing points are given some hope of being able to replenish their stock at reasonable prices, they do not feel disposed to sacrifice their present holdings.

This has brought about what might be termed a deadlock. Spruce and hemlock are selling at slightly lower figures, and it is probable that this will stimulate building operations in the eastern cities, as these comprise the chief building woods used in the east. Hardwood prices are being well maintained. Basswood seems to lead in demand, but new stock is expected to come on the market shortly. Shingle stocks in the eastern cities are low, and best 18 inch white pine sells at $4.

FOREIGN.

Reports from the British market do not speak very encouragingly of the outlook for the season's trade. The consumption has not improved as might be expected with the advent of spring, and it is feared that there will be considerable difficulty in keeping stocks from accumulating as the season advances. Some importers of wood goods are buying at the weekly auction sales owing to the high prices asked by shippers in exporting countries. There are, however, some favorable features to the market situation. The stocks of Canadian pine and spruce deals, etc., at the Surrey Commercial Docks at London are considerably less than one year ago. Of pine deals there were on April 30th of this year 323,999 pieces, and of spruce deals 162,706 pieces, against 369,357 and 355,305 pieces respectively one year ago. The stock of pine battens shows an increase of 40,000 pieces, but spruce battens are 120,000 pieces less than one year ago. It is also satisfactory to note that in no class of Canadian lumber has there been a decline in price during the past month; on the other hand, some varieties have advanced. At Glasgow second quality pine deals are about eight shillings per standard higher, selling at £19 18s 9d to £21 6s 3d for broad, and £16 10s for undersized. Fourth quality pine deals have advanced about four shillings, while red pine deals are firmer at £15 2s 6d to £16 10s per standard. In square and waney timber there has been some improvement, elm and ash selling about two shillings per cubic foot higher than one month ago. Quebec birch has also undergone an advance of about one shilling per cubic foot.

The following saw mills were recently destroyed by fire: The Peckham saw mill at Vandecar, Ont., loss $3,000; saw mill and sash and door factory of John McLaurin at Vankleek Hill, Ont., loss $6,000; Hunt's sawmill at Riverview, Ont.; saw mill at St. Joachim, Que., owned by the Quebec Seminary.

THE OTTAWA VALLEY.

(Correspondence of the CANADA LUMBERMAN.)

The recent disastrous fire and its bearing on the lumbering industry in the Capital are still the most absorbing subjects of interest in commercial circles. In some quarters the spread of the fire is attributed to the presence of the large areas of lumber in the manufacturing district of the Chaudiere, and near the residential section further south. Hence there is an agitation on foot to so arrange the fire area and fire by-law that the mill owners will have to secure piling ground outside the city. Others suggest that the lumber be permitted to remain within the city limits, but at a safe stated distance from fireproof structures. Mr. J. R. Booth, the leading lumberman interested, has entered a vigorous protest to the proposal for removal. Answering the argument that the lumber was in the greatest degree responsible for the fire, he claims that its rapid spread was made possible by the streets of shingle-roofed frame houses, with which the burned area was in a great part built up. Other cities have come through worse fires than Ottawa, he claims, and though lumber was a great factor therein, few charged it with being responsible for the conflagration. In English and American cities the lumber is piled somewhat the same as in Ottawa, but, being surrounded by fireproof structures, the danger is reduced to a minimum. Mr. Booth has a large following of business men and others, who recognize what his and other lumbering concerns have done to build up and support Hull and Ottawa. They believe accordingly that he should be encouraged rather than discouraged, which will be the case if he is compelled to pile at a greater distance than heretofore.

Discussing the subject himself, Mr. Booth states that his present piling space is totally inadequate to contain the output of his mill, which is again running night and day. He will for various reasons be deprived of at least piling space for 30,000,000 feet, and to relieve the pressure he will have to have recourse to increased shipments by rail and water. Unless he is permitted to use the remaining ground at his disposal, the lumber king states, he will be compelled to shut down his mills, throwing 1800 men out of employment. It will take at least a year and large capital to fit up yards at the distance proposed by some, and in the meantime the mills would be idle, depriving hundreds, now without a home, of their employment for that time. The council is thus called upon to face a serious problem. Many maintain that the driving out of the lumber interests will not affect the city, as other industries giving steadier employment and paying higher wages will succeed the lumber mills. As pointed out by Mr. Booth, the experience of past years has proven the fallacy of this prophecy. Several mills have shut down and nothing in the industrial line has taken their places, while those industries wiped out by the fire were many of them dependent on the lumber mills.

Mr. Booth states that the fire will only affect the export trade temporarily, and only to the extent of the export lumber wiped out by fire. Owing to shortage of piling space, his shipments must be largely increased, and hence any pressing shortage in the English and American markets will in a degree be satisfied.

Gilmour & Hughson's mill, which escaped the fire, is running full time, and the W. C. Edward's mill is being operated night and day to satisfy the increased demand resulting from the fire and loss of lumber. The Hull Lumber Co., whose mill and yards were wiped out, is operating Mason's mill, Hintonburg, and making preparations to operate the Ritchie mill at Aylmer and Bronson & Weston mills as well. The combined cut of these three mills will satisfy the shortage caused by the destruction of the old one. These mills will be operated night and day.

It is not likely that the Hull Lumber Company will rebuild its mill before next spring, as it is almost impossible to get timbers to build the mill, fit up the yards, etc. These will be got out probably during the coming winter.

The lumbermen state that the fire will not seriously affect the English market for some time, as sufficient lumber can be got now to supply present demands. Nearly all the lumber destroyed was seasoned stuff intended for later shipments, and there will be a shortage felt in this all next season, as the supply cannot be procured as readily as that of the green stuff.

Prices remain firm on the Ottawa market, but as extensive building operations have not yet been entered upon, the wholesale prices have not suffered an advance, they may any day, however, as soon as the question of fire areas and fire by-laws are settled, and the class of structures required decided upon.

Sir Thos. Hughes, head of the well-known Liverpool lumber firm of Hughes & Son, was in Ottawa last week and visited the Booth mill. He states that the outlook for Canadian lumber interests in England is good, and he does not anticipate any marked advance on account of the shortage of export lumber caused by the fire.

OTTAWA, May 14, 1900.

GLASGOW MARKET REPORT.

Messrs. Edmiston & Mitchells, in their monthly timber circular of 30th April, review that market as follows:

The timber trade has continued fairly active during the month just closed, and while buying generally has only been indulged in to a very moderate extent, it is satisfactory to find that the sawmills are fully employed. Prices for all wood goods have now reached a point at which retailers do not feel justified in holding heavy stocks, consequently buying is of a somewhat hand-to-mouth character. For the above reasons, c.i.f. purchasers of Quebec goods are under-bought, and must come into the market soon.

Scotch shipbuilders launched during April 27 vessels aggregating 26,545 tons, as against 25 vessels of 40,886 tons in 1899. The first part of the month brought no new orders for ships, but during the latter part new work amounting to 30,000 tons has been booked. Including these new orders it is estimated that the amount of work under construction in the Scotch shipyards aggregates 168,000 tons, of which the Clyde claims 160,000 tons. The high cost of material and labour prohibits ship-owners from adding to their fleet to any large extent, although we hear of some good enquiries for further tonnage.

In house-building, while there is a marked falling-off, there continues to be quite a lot of good work being carried on, such as public buildings and better-class dwelling-houses. It is satisfactory to note that all the working-class houses so extensively built in and around Glasgow and other manufacturing centres recently are generally all occupied.

WANAY BOARDWOOD:—There have been a few orders placed during the month, one of 200 loads first-class Deckwood, 1400 cubic feet per page, at fully 2s. 9d. per cubic foot. In second-class boardwood there has been little doing, one or two small sales at 1s. 7d. to 1s. 9d. per cubic foot.

RED PINE:—We hear of no business doing. There is, however, an inquiry in the market for 250 loads, but the stock is more than ample.

OAK:—We have no sales to report during the month. Long ogs, 50 feet and up, are being enquired for, but there are very few on hand. The stock of ordinary 65 to 70 cubic feet average is large.

ELM:—There is fairly active demand, and the stock on hand is light. Sales are reported at 3s. to 3s. 3d. per cubic foot, according to size.

QUEBEC BIRCH:—There have been two small arrivals of Canadian Logs via Portland, which were sold on contract. The demand is only moderate, and sales are mostly of a retail nature. 14½-inch average has been sold at 15d. "ex store," and 16-inch at 20d.

N. B. BIRCH:—There has been one small import from St. John, which went into store. Values range from 1s. 5d. to 1s. 7d. for 15 to 16-inch average, but the demand is not active.

N. B. PLANKS:—A Halifax shipment of 300 standards was placed this month at 12½d. per foot "ex quay." There is a fair enquiry, particularly for 2½-inch.

ASH:—The stock on hand is practically exhausted, and early arrivals should meet with a ready sale at good prices. Nominal value of 15-inch is 2s. 3d. in ponds.

DEALS:—There have been no transactions of importance during the month. Deliveries from public yards are, however, satisfactory, and well up to the average. Prices are without change, and well maintained. Current values are as follows:—Broad First Pine Deals have been sold at £25 to £28 10s.; 11-inch, £23 to £25; ends and non-dimensions, £17 to £22. Second Pine Deals—11-inch and up, £17 to £21; non-dimensions £13 to £15. Third Pine Deals—11-inch and up, £11 10s. to £13; narrows, £8 5s. to £9 15s.; ends, £7 10s. to £8 10s. Fourth Pine Deals—11-inch and up, £8 10s. to £9; narrows, £7 10s. to £8. Red Pine Deals—9 to 11-inch by 3 and 4 inch, £12 10s. to £14 10s.; narrows, £10 to £12 10s. First Quality Pine Sidings—8 to 9 inch average, £17 5s. to £18 10s.; 10 to 11 inch average, £15 10s. to £21 10s.; 12 to 13 inch average, £22 to £24. Spruce Deals—7 and 8 inch by 3 inch, £7 15s. to £8 5s.; 9 to 11 inch by 3 inch, £8 15s. to £9 10s.

MARKET CONDITIONS IN AUSTRALIA.

The following particulars of the timber market at Melbourne, Aus., are furnished by the last monthly timber report of Fraser & Co.:

There is practically no alteration to report in the state of the market during the past few weeks, the demand generally continuing active, while values have remained in the improved condition which has in late months been notified. In some descriptions a tendency to procure better rates has been manifested, but with the exception of a few quantities in small parcels, sellers have not shown any inclination to seek for increased prices upon those which we quoted in our circular of the 12th ult. Should, however, the consumption improve, or even no decrease be experienced within the next few months, there is every probability of higher figures being required, for the c.i.f. quotations from abroad are still on the upward grade, and eventually, we think, it will be found necessary for buyers in this colony to respond in proportion to such increase in shipping costs as may be shown in the near future. It is in all the more important classes of timber consumed in this market that higher rates are now asked for at the ports of exportation, and as the difficulty of securing tonnage for early shipment still exists, we anticipate that an advance in prices generally will be shown at this end for supplies now on the water and for operations arranged which will come to hand in the course of the next six months.

SPRUCE AND BALTIC WHITE DEALS:—Imports: 48,076 feet super. Arrival: Invaluable, from San Francisco. Stocks are almost entirely in hands who require the same for their own manufacturing purposes. Values are consequently nominal, and of no guide to shippers.

ORONG PINE:—Imports: Nil. Importers and holders are firm, as stocks appear somewhat below the probable demand ere fresh arrivals can come upon the market. A fairly large line has changed hands at £7 10s. during the month, and although nothing of importance has been concluded at over this figure, no business will likely be done under £7 15s. per 1000 feet super. in the near future.

THE BARBADOS MARKET.

Of the lumber and shingle market at Barbados, West Indies, Messrs. Clairmonte, Mann & Company say:

With the exception of a small lot, which proceeded elsewhere, there have been no arrivals with white pine and spruce lumber during the fortnight, our yards are rather bare of both kinds. There is always a good demand for spruce during our reaping season, which extends up to June. Last sales were: White pine, $22.57 for first quality, and $16 for second quality; spruce, $21.00 for first quality.

Gaspe cedar shingles are in supply, and market very dull. There is a large lot in store unsold, principally small, for which $3.75 per M is asked, but much less would be accepted to make a sale. No late arrivals of laying shingles; last sales were made at $2.20 for cedar and $2.05 for spruce; cypress, we note the sale of 82 M ex Wm. F. Campbell from Wilmington, N.C., at $8.50 for 6-inch hearts, and $6.50 for 6-inch saps.

The city of Stratford, Ont., has let the contract for supply of lumber as follows: Pine plank, South River Lumber Co., $17.50 per M; tamarac, William Easson, Stratford, $14.50 per M; cedar, Simpson Bros., Warton, $14.40 per M.
