The Financial Horizon

The remarkable improvement shown by the stock markets in Canada and the United States during the past week is taken to indicate that the period of money stringency and general apprehension as to the financial situation has passed. The much better feeling in regard to the European war crisis is accepted as one of the chief factors in the turn of sentiment, but it is also believed that the financial strain on this continent had been much over-exaggerated. A Toronto broker who has recently passed thru sections of the United States discussed the matter with The Sunday World on Saturday, and stated that, from all he could glean, commercial conditions in the States were extremely satisfactory, and altho Wall street did not actually represent this, as a fact, he thought that on this occasion the big American financial centre did not depict the actual state of affairs thruout the republic. As far as he could learn, there was no money stringency in commercial circles, and this fact was even evident on the New York Stock Exchange itself, where loans were readily available at reasonable rates. The same man thought that the Canadian banks had adopted an ultra-conservative policy because of the European embroglio, and that when they came to a realization of conditions as they really are, there will be less money tightness in the Dominion.

How the Square Deal is to Be Worked Out & &

The World has from time to time published articles that have attracted a good deal of attention both in the United States and in England, dealing with the unworkability of the American constitution, and especially with the inability of the federal government to deal with questions that affect the entire community. The jurisdiction of the states seemed to be the only way of reaching these widespread evils: some states would deal with them, others refuse to, and as a consequence the trusts were able to defy for a time federal law and authority because any act of federal authority was held by the supreme court to be un-

But in the last few years a new and constitutional engine has been found which seems to be effective, and will be more so hereafter, for regulating of those who defy public opinion and public rights, and for regulating all other unwholesome acts of the great interests, for disciplining everybody who hitherto could not be reached by direct federal law. This new power that the federal government finds itself in possession of is control of interstate commerce and control of the postoffice. By means of the jurisdiction which the federal power has over railways, congress has been able to pass laws against the use of the railways in its jurisdiction (and that comprises all the great lines), and the postoffice for purposes that the federal authorities deem against the public interest. For instance, the dynamite outrages of the steel structural workers were reached by federal law, which has been upheld to be constitutional, declaring that railways cannot be used for the conveyance of dynamite for improper or criminal purposes, whether by a passenger in a grip-sack, or a shipper. The sentences that were passed in Indiana on those convicted of the outrages at Los Angeles were all made under this law, and not under the ordinary criminal code of a state.

Congress in all likelihood will deal with Wall street, and the wrong things it has done against the public for. many years, by threatening to deny the use of the mails to the members of the New York Stock Exchange, just as they have denied the use of the mails to those who use them for floating bogus stock propositions.

If Wall street does not seek federal incorporation, and thus come under the reasonable rules of the federal government, it will find itself denied the use of the mails by its members; and even if a great bankers' trust is created, as the public now fear, the use of the mails can be denied to the banks; and the great interests and trusts that control the necessities of life can be disciplined in the same way. This has proven to be a mighty, a powerful, far-reaching, and effective method of dealing with the new evils from which the general public now suffer, and it will grow in force and in the extent of its application as time goes on. This is the engine that President Wilson, following the example of his predecessors, and especially of Roosevelt, will in all likelihood use to discipline any interest, no matter how powerful, that does not give the public what Roosevelt called "the square deal."

WASHINGTON, March 28.—"It is ridiculous. There is not a word of truth in it so far as I have any knowledge," said Count Von Bernstorff to The World correspondent today when asked concerning the report printed that he is to retire because he differs with President Wilson on economic questions.

"In the first place," said the ambassador. "I have never talked to President Wilson on economic questions and have absolutely no difference with him along this line, or any other, so far as I am aware. In the second place, I never speculated in stocks in my life. My name must have been confused with that of Ambassador Leishman. There were rumors that he had speculated in stocks."

The ambassador said that if he had any intention of retiring he would not wait until after the kaiser's jubilee, and added:

"I have not received a single sugges-tion from my government that I am to be removed from Washington."

MIDWAY TORIES ARE ANNOYED

Adopt Resolution Reproving Imperial Parliament Expected Their Member for His Suggestion of Compromise on Naval Bill.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Midway Liberal-Conservative Association, ed increase of the German army will held last night at Dulmage's Hall, the be voted practically without opposifollowing resolution was adopted by the tion except from the Socialists, who

Resolved that the Midway Liberal-Conservative Association of the electoral riding of South York, desires to express its entire disapproval of the course pursued by their representative, Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., in the house of commons in urging the government to enter into, or make a compromise with the Liberal party in opposition as to the present policy of the government in regard to the naval aid bill now before the house, as formulated and submitted by the Right Honorable R. L. Borden.

And be it further resolved that any suggestion of a compromise of such a nature coming from Mr. Maclean as our representative is wholly antagonistic to the feelings and wishes of the members of this association, who are likewise his constituents, and who are all in entire accord and sympathy with the naval policy of the government. The determination of this association is no compromise, and no surrender.

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, and to Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P.

The meeting was presided over by President John Reid. The above resolution was presented at the monthly meeting of the Midway Association on Friday night. Various estimates of the number present are given, one member claiming twenty and another forty. The resolution was not unanimously endorsed and was produced without notice by Secretary F. Barber near the close of the meeting.

The resolution was brought to The World on Saturday morning at 1 a.m. by Mr. Barber, who, when requested, would not give the name of the mover and seconder.

not give the name of the mover and seconder.

It was stated on Saturday that W. H. Lucas of Little York agreed to second the resolution, but this was not definitely affirmed by Mr. Barber when seen by The World. Mr. Barber, however, took full responsibility for drafting the motion and moving the same. His incentive for doing so, he said, was because of a cartoon he saw in Thursday's Telegram. After the meeting he went to a friend in The Mail and Empire and had a couple of typewritten copies made, one of which he took to The World.

Lawyer J. A. Macdonald was one of those present at the meeting.

John Reid, president of the association, when spoken to yesterday, was not anxious to discuss the affair, but admitted that the first he saw of the resolution was when it was handed to him by the secretary during the meeting. He was not clear as to the mover and seconder, but stated that E. Gillespie, after agreeing to act as seconder, later declined the

Governor Cox Issues Proclamation as to Sending

Funds and Supplies to the Stricken People.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 29.—Governor Cox today issued the following proclamation as to the relief work:

"In order to simplify the situation growing out of requests coming from every direction with reference to funds and supplies, we suggest the following arrangement."

Vancouver early and reached Kamloops about sundown, and as the day was gloriously fine, we had an opportunity of enjoying the magnificent scenery of the Fraser to our hearts' content. Kamloops is 260 miles from Vancouver. It is one of the oldest towns in the province, and, before the treaty of 1846, was an American and not a Hudson Bay Company settlement. Seventy-six years ago the Americans ceded it to the British, and the British ceded Colville and a lot of of other settlements of theirs to the Americans. Folks in those days had queer notions of the value of Prince Rupert land and of the Oregon country. The Democrats elected Buchanan to the presidency because he pledegd himself to extend the Oregon boundary to 54 degrees 40 minutes north, and when the house of the provent of the Stricken People.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 29.—Governor Cox today issued the following proclamation as to the relief work:

"In order to simplify the situation growing out of requests coming from every direction with reference to funds and supplies, we suggest the following as the Columbia was then called. The prior claim, undoubtedly, on historic grounds, was the British,

great statesmen of the empire; but they had other things to worry about besides the frozen regions and trackless wastes, where the factors of the Hudson Bay Company hunted and trapped fur-bearing animals. And the Democrats of the United States knew just about as much as the fellows in London; and besides, they did not want any ISSUES BULLETIN much as the fellows in London; and, besides, they did not want any more territory where a nigger could live free and untrammeled. It is, inonly that the slave owners of the south did not want any more free-soil territory. Had the English commissioners diplomatically urged their claims, they could have made the Astoria a Hudson Bay Company city. But it is said the English treaty makers were entirely indifferent to the possession of the whole of the Oregon River, because its salmon would not jump at a fly! Such, often, is the wisdom and foresight of treaty makers and statesmen!

Imperial Highway of Commerce. I thought of all this as I sped up the Fraser Valley, thru its wondrous canyons and gazed on its glor-ious snow-capped mountains, resplendent in the noonday's brilliant sun, and thought of it, too, when I came fully to realize that this Canadian highway, which the Canadian Pacific has pre-empted for all time, is pre-eminently the peerless and imperial highway of commerce across the American centimerce across the American conti-nent. My old friend, Mr. E. V. Bogue, the great has run out more the mountains of more railroads across anybody else, tells route occupied by the best that can ever be built across the continent. The Grand Trunk, Pacific and the Canadian Northern have superior gradients and curvature, but the Canadian Pacific route between Winnipeg and the Pacific is 300 miles less than that of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and 200 miles less than that of the Canadian Northern. Moreover, it is only a brief time till the Canadian which passed over the vessel and exploded only a short distance away alarmed passengers on the Leyland liner Bohemian, which arrived today from Liverpool after towing the disabled British steamer Cayo Romana with a deafening report and blinding glare when apparently about 40 feet from the surface of the ocean. Passengers said that they had difficulty in hearing for about ten minutes afterwards. The look-out in the crow's nest said the meteor passed very near. When the explosion occurred the flash lighted all parts of the steamer. A Mighty Enterprise.

In five years Canadian Pacific, at its present rate of progress, should have under ownership or control 25,000 miles of railway, and should be earning $300,000,000 a year gross, and without taking into account the great fleet of a hundred ocean ships she will then own. And all this might have been otherwise but for those old southern cotton planters who chucked an empire to hold on to their slaves. But it is better thus. At least so thinks my friend Busted the deck alone and gazed on shore of the exception of the construction of the Canadian Pacific thru the mountains, and so also does another very capable railway builder, Angus McDonnell is unmistakably Irish, tho his name be Angus and tho he spent eight years of his suyoung life at Eaton. CINCINNATI MECCA FLOOD WATERS OF FLOOD REFUGEES

Southern City Under Water and River is Rapidly Rising.

CINCINNATI, O., March 29.-WID the Ohio River covering the en lower section of this city, and with refugees from the stricken up-state towns coming in by hundreds, Cincin has been pressed into service, remove the lower waters of the Wabash and White Rivers in Indiana swell the crest of the lower river.

The lower waters water water water whose depth ranges from between half a foot to ten feet. Suffering, however, has been at minimum, owing to warning sent out early that a stage of 70 feet probable would be reached before the water began to recede.

The city was practically cut off from traffic communication with Covington Ky., early last evening, when the approach to the suspension bridge beck covered with water at a depth prevents car or foot service. Reassuring word from the packers, commission men and general produc merchants came early today, when was estimated by experts that Cincinnati had enough food supplies to last at least ten days without incom-veniencing anyone.

Sixty city blocks in Newport and Covington are under water, and as all most all the manufacturing plants on that side of the Ohio are located in the owlands, thousands have been thrown out of employment.

In the six Kentucky cities across the Ohio River from here the authorities. today estimated there were 12.400 persons already homeless, and more than 3.500 houses are flooded. Newport. Covington and Dayton, Ky., immediately opposite Cincinnati, are most affected.

ersed the inundated streets of the flooded districts today, carrying relief to the hundreds marooned in the upper storeys of houses. Many of those marooned refused today to leave their houses, declaring that the worst was over and they wished to stay with their property. The military authorities allowed hundreds to return to their homes in the flooded area to make repairs and clean up their houses. The health authorities took charge of the cleaning-up process. Parties of searchers were organized today to penetrate the great drifts of debris extending along the floted river, as fast as the water goes down, in the search for bodies.

A looter was shot and killed early today on the west side. The shot is said to have been fired by a private of the Marysville Company. The looter's body dropped into the water, and was not recovered this morning. Many shots were fired at looters av state troops on guard during the carty morning hours.

SOUND HEALTHFUL SLEEP IS BROUGHT BY SANGUINOL BROUGHT BY SANGUINOL

What is Insomma? It is a state of nervous degeneracy that does not allow the nerves to rest. It is really your nerves that do not sleep. They are horribly awake throughout all the long night in which you toss and turn to coax sleep to your weary body. By constantly keeping your system from the sleep that nature demands to build up the worn tissues used up during the day, you soon find yourself in not only a condition of nervous exhaustion but in a condition where your entire physical being is affected and weakened and laid open to the most serious illnesses.

Stop this. Stop it today. Your nerves are crying out for proper food. Give it to them by using Sanguinol. This is a simple remedy containing the phosphates in a form that will feed back to the nervous system, the very elements of which it is composed, the very food that it craves.

Sanguinol also builds up and craves.

Sanguinoi also builds up and revitalizes the blood. But that is all. There is not an atom of alcohol or harmful drugs.

Get Sanguinoi today and know again the nappiness of sound, retreshing steep. RECRUIT PITCHERS FAIL TO IMPRESS MANAGER KELLEY Branan and Kubat Not Good Enough, and Will Not Be Carried By Leafs.

THE HOLLY CASE

Joe Kelley Thinks Well of the Holdout Shortstop---Need of Good Pitchers.

MACON, Ga., March 29 .- (Can. Press.) places left vacant by the departure of Mueller and Caspar must be filled. Better men than they must be secured. It will be a difficult matter, not to get the men, but to pay them adequate salaries and keep within the $6000 per month limit. Therein lies the problem with which Kelley has to deal. Good Prices For Right Men.

The Toronto club is not averse to paying substantial prices for men of the right calibre. It has always been a policy of Kelley's to await the arrival of the major league teams from the southern training camps before buying players. Those who have shown not enough to warrant their below carried are usually disposed of before the teams reach their home grounds preparatory to opening the reason. There is always a reasonable chance that men who have been brought home will be good enough for International League try-outs. But the difficulty is that the contracts of these men have to be assumed by the clubs which purchase their release. The ironbound salary l'mitations present an insurmountable obstacle.

Herhert the Rest Pressect

Herbert the Best Prospect.

Kelley is fortunate in having as good a pitching prospect as Herbert in his squad. The big boy, who was drafted from Ottawa is getting more attention from the manager than any of the manager than any or the control of the from the manager than any of the other twirlers, veteran or recruit. At every practice Kelley schools Herbert in fielding bunts, covering first base on balls hit in that neighborhood, correcting little faults in his delivery, etc. It is a safe prediction that Herbert will be brought back to Toronto for the opening of the season, and if he continues to show the form displayed in camp he will be carried.

Should he pan out as expected it will be possible to give him an increase in his salary over that paid in the Canadian League without encroaching on the limit. Such a development would partially solve Kelley's problem.

limit. Such a development would partially solve Kelley's problem.

No Chance for Branan or Kubat.

It is certain that Branan will not be taken north. Jimmy Lavender's protege is very raw. Frank Kubat, being a lefthander, has both Hearns and Lush to best out, and he is not equal to the task. Kubat is a husky lad with everything in the pitching repertoire to recommend him as a 'comer," but he is less experienced and lacks the finish of Herbert. Hearns is a very powerfully bull youngster with much speed.

Speed Not Improved.

The speed of the Leafs is not apt to be improved very much by anything that may be done in the way of securing new players. "Hub" Northen will be a capable substitute for Benny Myer. In everything but speed. Northen had eight stolen bases in 118 games, wherear Meyer stole 48 in 134 games, it should be borne in mind that Toronto led the league in stolen bases last season.

A Brainy Ball Player.

A Brainy Ball Player.

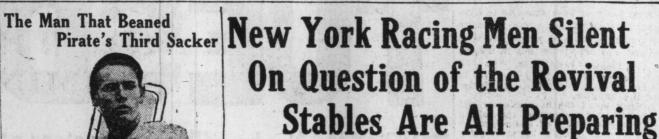

Eddie Holly did not show much speed last season, but he is a brainy base runner. Every pitcher and catcher in the league paid strict attention to Holly when he 'got' on." He knew when and how to start. The delayed steal was his specialty, and he stole 29 bases. His lack of speed in the fleid prevented him from covering much ground. Holly knows a lot of baseball and was the most aggressive player on the champion team. Should it finelly be decided to teplace him, a good all-round ball player will be required for the job.

"A good man for any ball club. A clever inside player, a fighter, and a quick thinker, but showing signs of many years in the game," was Kelley's estimate of Holly when discussing the shortetep position today.

BALL PLAYERS

The Cleveland Naps are still laughing and telling a story of some boxing bouts given for their entertainment at the training camp in Pensacola a few days A negro boy in one of the bouts was getting an unmerciful drubbing, but his seconds kept shouting the encouraging words that he had his rival beaten to a frazzle frazzle.

At the end of the fourth round he stag-at the end of the fourth round-he stag-gered to his corner and gasped feebly: "Has I sho' enough got him licked?"

"Yo" sho' has. He am helpless," he was assured by his seconds.
"If I's sho' enough got him licked I'm gonna quit while I's a winner."
And he did.

Fancy a bail player saying:

"I am getting old," said a bail player,
"and not only are the young players
spryer than I am, but they know baseball and can use their heads better."

There lived a manager once who drank

"I have had a poor winter." wrote the baseball player. "I am in poor shape now, and I don't think I shall be much use to

The ball player rolled out of bed the morning after his first hard day of practice. "Not a muscle stiff." he said. "I don't hurt anywhere."

Suits to Order

Our buyer has succeeded in securing a large quantity of mill-end overruns of Spring Suitings and Overcoatings from one of the largest English mills, and these have been placed on sale at a great reduction in price.

Suit Made to Order

Regularly worth $20 to $25

These mill-ends are the overruns of the very finest 1913 materials for Suits and Overcoats that have been produced in England. Many of them are exclusive suit lengths which cannot be duplicated. Because the makers overrun the quantity of cloth really required to fill orders, and are glad to sell these ends at big cuts in price, does not mean that the materials are in the least inferior to the regular run. They are, in fact, just as good in every way. But buying at such drastic price-cuts enables us to offer clothes-to-order at this sensationally low figure. No such price was ever before offered by any tailoring house in this or any other Canadian city for similar value. Coming at the height of the season, it is a great opportunity to the men to whom a saving of $10 is worth while. It enables such a man to be well dressed at very low cost.

Don't miss seeing these materials. You'll be surprised at the quality and the diversity of colors and designs.

The Business Men's Tenpin and Toronto Bowling Club Fivepin Leagues close their season Saturday night with The News practically returned winners in their league, a ltho a postponed game still remains to be rolled. In the T.B.C. Fivepin League the Millionaires just made it a nose finish for the winning of the second series after one of the greatest races ever rolled by any league, and with the Stanleys winners of the first series will roll off for the championship during the coming week.

In the Utilities League T. Haton Co. and The World are tied for the top, while Toronto Type are only one game down, and between the trio the winning of the second series still rests, while the balance of the league are still fighting for the best positions, and with only one more week to roll there should be some red-hot games between the top-notchers, especially before the flag finally falls.

In the Apple Fivepin League Bald-wins and Duchess are still tied for the top, with Russetts a good third, but with only another week to roll some double-headers will have to be pulled Chester Hoff, too, has shown in the control of the highest order. but the move involved plenty of risk. ful possibilities. Of right-handers The great Hal Chase had to be Chance has so many apparently good switched from first to second to make room for the Peerless Leader. Chase had not played the keystone for many years. First base play had become second nature to him. But he went to his new task with a right to his new task with a right rood will and appears to have regood will and appears to have remastered it. There is just one fault with Chase. He is a dashing blade reckless to a degree and is consereckless to a degree and is consequently inclined to take too great risks with his own person. He for-gets, sometimes, that the hazards of his new position are far greater than they are at first-base. Hal is so fast and shifty, however, that he can probe next to fatal to a less agile player. If he is fortunate enough to go thru the season without serious harm he is bound to prove as great a revel-ation at the midway as he has always been on the initial cushion.

Of Chance there is no need of worry. He will play as great a game as he ever played in his life. That is saying a lot but it is not putting it too strongly. Chance's whole soul and ambition is to make 1913 his most fruitful year if for no other reason than revenge on C. W. Murphy. Junboat or anyone else. Willard's record is more impressive than Smith's, to my mind. The Gunboat is a very crude fighting machine, say what you will. Of skill and science he knows little; he has a mighty punch, that's true, but that is the most that can be said for him. Willard would, I believe, give Gunboat a great deal of trouble. Smith would have a hard job trying to land those overhand swings elongated Kansan. Willard, besides his advantage in height, has a natural defense against the slugging, swinging type of miller. Tory Journal Bumps "Lan"

> St. Catharines Standard Says It is thru With Member and Calls for Selection of Another Candidate

ST. CATHARINES, March 29 .-The recent vote on the viaduct and the events leading up to it have left the Conservative party in Lincoln without an organ, and E. A. Lancaster, M.P., without a newspaper supporter. Some days before the vote The Standard announced that it and the member had parted company, and the paper has since continued its attacks. The Standard says:

"The Standard took issue with E A. Lancaster not on the spur of the moment. No one knows that better than the great Conservative party of the County of Linceln. It, along with scores of the best adherents of the party, have borne with the bumptiousness of E. A. Lancaster, K.C., M. P., until patience has ceased to be a virtue. The very best evidence that The Standard's course is warmly endorsed by the leading Conservatives, is the fact that The Journal is rushing to Mr. Lancaster's defence and shedding tears over the "attack" made upon him.

"The Standard has little to add to what it had to say to E. A. Lancaster, K.C., M.P., the other day. The position it took it stands by! Every word, every sentence! It was not the outcome of hasty judgment, but as the result of weeks and months of careful consideration. When a member of parliament gets so arrogant that the recommendations of his duly elected executive are contemptuously set aside; when the ordinary members of his party are treated as so much dirt to be swept aside; when much dirt to be swept aside; when that member establishes an autocracy, and must be approached hatin-hand with servility and weakness, there can be but one end—neither the individual member of the party will stand for it, nor will the leaders of his party, nor will the paper that must fight his political battles. Too long has this paper been placed in the position of trying to explain and smooth over the explainable actions of the member for Lincoln. The fact that the editorial telephone has been almost worn out, and that congratulatory messages too many to number have been received, testifies that we have taken the only right course in his matter, and that with the best element of the Conservative party The Standard's course stands approved.

"The Standard has the supreme sat-sfaction of knowing that it is far from being alone at this juncture. For the sake of peace, in the hope that the member anight see where his bumptiousness was leading, this paper has refrained from mentioning, and been pleasure to have again passed it over, the duty had to be done and it was done. The Standard regrets the necessity, not the act.
"It was a duty that was the only possible thing to save the Conserva-tive party from ignominious defeat in he next election "The leaders of the party have seen for months past how things were going, have viewed with deep concern the defection of loyal men and true from the party, and have pondered deeply what course to pursue to pre-sent a united front when next the party should be called to conflict. The Conservzative party has scores of men in its ranks who could carry the ban-ner to victory. In these circumstances why go to certain defeat with a candidate on whom it is impossible for all to unite? The Standard's course is consistent and straight. The candidate is secondary to the success of the Conservative party. We know we are upholding the only course that spells victory at the polls, and that thinking men in the Conservative ranks came to this conclusion long before The Standard gave them pubbefore The Standard gave them pub "The present trend of events will make for the rehabilitation of the Conservative party of Lincoln."

Cabinet makers and woodworking machinists have decided on the scale of wages which will be demanded. A minimum of 35 cents and a nine-hour day is asked for the bench hands. while for more expert workmen in the mills 40 cents will be demanded. At present the bench hands are receiving from 25 to 37½ cents, and the majority of the machinists 35 cents.

Notices were sent of this demand to the employers, and answers are ex-pected shortly. There are about 500 men in the union who will be affected. The boxmakers are not included in this demand.

Oshawa Delegation Demand Removal of Police Magistrate Watson-Convention Adjourned.

WHITBY, March 29.—The recent ap-pointment of W. J. Watson as police nagistrate of Oshawa has divided the Conservatives of South Ontario into two factions.

The matter came to a head at the inuual meeting of the South Ontario Liberal-Conservative Association held here Friday when an attempt to nommate a candidate for the provincial house was made at the adjournment of the regular annual meeting. The excitement started when Mayor Willis of Whitby declared that it was in the best interests of the party that the nomination for the provincial legslature be left over until next year purn to meet at the call of the execu-

Dr. T. E. Kaiser explained to the convention how the friction between the two factions had arisen and giv ing the Oshawa side in the matter Altho the vote for Calder, the candi date for the legislature at the last elec tion, had fallen off in all sections of the riding with the possible exception of Port Perry, said Dr. Kaiser, Oshawa had following that election received a severe knock from the party. W. J. Watson had been appointed police magistrate of Oshawa in spite of the strong objections of the Oshawa local association—objections which had been sufficient to secure a petition signed by thousand electors asking his retire-

"If there is a man present who will say that the appointment of Watson as magistrate, was right and proper hold up your hand!" he shouted.

This led to scenes of the wildest dis-order in the middle of which Lou Parrish, the leader of the Port Perry dele-gation, declared that if Oshawa would name a candidate to take Calder's place they would back Oshawa up in

"If this convention unanimously endorses the request that Calder withdraw the appointment of Watson we will agree to an adjournment," said Kaiser, "and will agree to support any candidate that might be put up."

This met with cries of "No," but on a vote on the adjournment being taken the motion to adjourn was voted Many of the delegates had to leave to catch a train and it was decided to adjourn until April 11, when the fight will once more be resumed and this time in the town hall at Oshawa.

Failing in this, an attempt will he made to compel certain Canadian church dignitaries to come before the Canadian tribunals to explain certain alleged ordinances or acts, which, according to plaintiff's contentions, had the effect of changing the civil status of the now defunct college.

To Remodel Penitentiary.

OTTAWA, March 29.—That the Kingston Penitentiary will be remodeled this summer to accommodate given out by Inspector Hughes here today. Work will commence about the beginning of May.

All the building material will be furnished by the prison, and the necessary work will be done by convict. There are 519 prisoners in the penitentiary.

Real rinking in Toronto starts next week, when the Parkdale opens 't's doors to the young people of Toronto. All of the old favorites will be there, with many new features never before introduced in this city.

Parkdale is in a class by itself as a skating rink. Nowhere in America is there to be found a rink that can compare with the class of this place. The Parkdale Acamedy is copied after all over the States; other managers figure that this rink being the most successful, is worth following, and now all the first-class rinks in the States use Dustless Anti-Slip, but it was Parkdale that first introduced it. This preparation prevents slipping, keeps the rink nice and sanitary and makes skating worth while.

On Saturday night Parkdale is making arrangements to handle a record crowd; over 1260 pairs of skates will be in first-class shape. Extra music will be put on. The prices are to remain the same thruout the season. No skates will be reserved over the telephone for the opening night.

Thursday, April 10, is Parkdale

Mr. B. H. Barton of Philadalphia, Pa., will deliver a very interesting lec-ture on the subject, "The Judgment Day," under the subject, The Judgment Day," under the auspices of the In-ternational Bible Students' Associa-tion, in the Royal Alexandra Theatre Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Barton, in the press and on the public platform, declares that it over by a train while probably taking a short cut home from Wilmo via the railroad track.

The speaker is making use of many Scriptures which are said to be generally overlooked or ignored, and erally overlooked or ignored, and which throw a flood of light upon and create new interest in the subject. They show that, when rightly under-stood, God's arrangement of a great judgment day will commend itself to all right-minded people as being most Piles at Home

Help Out the Family Bank Account

People who do not care what they spend can pay six cents for a five-cent loaf of bread, if they are any better pleased with themselves or with the bread, for doing so. But are people who are willing to pay six cents any better judges of bread quality than those who prefer to pay five cents? As long as the bread they get suits people exactly why should they think paying more would make it taste better? Charity might induce some to pay six cents to help out a poor baker, rather than pay only five cents to a prosperous one. What other reason can there be? Bread for Bread, Loaf for Loaf, Pound for Pound, there has not been a baker since my Home-made Bread reached its perfection, twenty years ago, who could make bread as good as mine. Yet for business reasons they all want six cents a loaf for their bread, and throw out hints that because they have raised the price, any baker who does not "come up" when they say so, is not baking good bread. As the French would say, "It is to laugh." Just order one trial loaf of my Home-made Bread-you needn't listen to one single word anybody says, just taste and decide for yourself. If you have money to give as charity, pay your baker six cents a loaf. If you want the bread that has obtained 12,000 customers in quality, at equal prices with other bakers, heretofore, try Lawrence's Home-made Bread. If you consider money worth saving you can save it in bread. It will help out the family bank account.

Save One Cent a Loaf On all the Bread You Buy

"A Penny Saved is a Penny Earned," an old saying, but perfectly good at this very minute. By using Lawrence's Bread your savings run thuswise:-

1 loaf a day, you save..... $3.65 per year 2 loaves a day, you save..... $7.30 per year 3 loaves a day, you save $10.95 per year

4 loaves a day, you save..... $14.60 per year Seven dollars or ten dollars would buy something pretty nice for Christmas? Yes? You could never make money easier or get bread you liked better than by saving on the price and enjoying the quality of

One-and-a-Half Pounds 5 cents Twenty Tickets for One Dollar

You can order one single loaf if you like—just for a trial. We will deliver it as gladly and as courteously as if you ordered a dollar's worth. Suit yourself as to how much, or how often. All we ask is, "Test this bread question thoroughly for yourself. Decide from experience whether you are going to spend an unnecessary cent a loaf more for your bread or not."

SYDNEY. N. S. W., March 29.—The car just ended has been a momentu-rus one for Australia, and official figtres are now available, which show low we stand and the rate we are raveling at. Loan expenditure for 1912 for the phole of the commonwealth amounted b £16.325.177, equal to an average per head of population of £3 11s. 5d. The ratious states of the commonwealth we £273,000,000. The New South Wales share of this debt is £100,000,-100. About one-third of this £100,-100,000 was floated locally and the balince in London.

The total cost of the railways constructed in the commonwealth is 152 nillions and the revenue therefrom tomes to 18 millions. In the states hree inhabitants) have lodged sixty millions sterling, or about one-third of the total amount deposited in all the banks of the commonwealth. The output of the factories in the commonwealth exceeded 133 millions and for the first time in our history the value of manufactures exceeded the amount produced from the pastoral industry. The official figures are: Manufactures, £50,931,000; pastoral, £50,774,-00, and mining stands fourth with £23,480,000. There is one person in the common. wealth who pays land tax on over £1,-100.000 worth of unreprieved land. He is resident in the country. The second argest landowner has property worth between £800,000 and £900,000. He is an absentee and consequently pays a heavy fax for the privilege of living abroad.

1911, was, in the ordinary course of nature, appointed a wharfinger in December of the same year. The office may carry with it considerable pocial prestige but it does not seem to be an attractive proposition from in financial standpoint; drideed, the emoluments thereunto pertaining in the case of Captain Landry only amounted to $9.60 during his eight months of service.

Now the charge against the government, briefly stated, is that the captain, while enjoying this official position, was convicted by a jury of forgery, and sentenced to a year in jail. The marine and fisheries de-partment feeling that this official could not attend to his duties while incarcerated, worked Mr. Joseph A. Gillies, the defeated Conservative candidate in the district, to name some other government supporter to be warfinger in his stead. Mr. Gillies replied that Captain Landry would be able to resume his duties in a few days' time and it did so happen that Captain Landry was soon after liberated upon a ticket-of-leave and once more appeared on the wharf missed and it seems evident from the testimony presented to the house that his liberation was brought about by representations from a physician as to his impaired state of health and the unsanitary conditions of the jail. Indeed, the department of justice was unaware at the time that the prisonwas in the employ of the govern-

They take their politics very seriously down by the sea, but it is difficult to believe that the two parties would have gone thru the form of a long debate upon the Landry had they not been anxious to avoid touching any big or vital question now before parliament. They were marking time Thursday as they were on every other day this week, and round and round again we come to the question which everyone is asking and which no one seems to be able to answer: what does it all mean?

It is significant that no member of the opposition has interpellated government as to the rumored grant of money or guarantee of bonds the Canadian Northern Railway. The corridors have resounded with gossip upon the subject but it has been taboo in the chamber. The numor may be without foundation, and the prime minister is credited with having said as much but it is not the prime minister is credited with having said as much but it is not the prime minister is credited with having said as much but it is not the control of the ing said as much, but it is none the less curious that no question concerning it has appeared on the order paper or has been asked in the house. Neither has any inquisitive member of the opposition risen in his place to ask when the naval debate is to be resumed. Possibly next week will find the parliamentarians more alert and the government more inclined to a forward move.

M. S. Boehm and Company, Limited, have added a New Department to their Real Estate Exchange, which will interest a large number of buyers of subdivision properties.

A Re-Sales Department

Under Direct Expert Management

It is one thing to buy lots at their present low prices. It is another matter to re-sell these when you want to at a substantial profit.

Mr. M. S. Bothm, Vice-President and Managing Director of M. S. Boehm & Company, Limited, has noticed that when a salesman has sold a client lets in a subdivision he has been greatly neglected when es to the re-selling. Mr. Boehm, personally, last year TURNED OVER $250,000 IN RE-SALES ALONE FOR HIS CLIENTS, besides selling about $1,600,000 worth of lots in different estates when the properties were first put on the market.

This Re-sales Department will be under the personal direction of an experienced real estate man, whe, with a staff of competent salesmen, will give his entire time to clients' interests.

Anyone Who Has Lots to Sell Can List Them in our Re-Sales Department

If the price and terms are right we will find you a customer to take them off your hands at a prefit.

-Any of the properties that we have ourselves put on the market within the last month, or will be putting on in the near future, should be re-sold within a year at a good profit. Our Re-sales Department is at your service in all such cases. CALL AND CONSULT OUR RE-SALES DE-PARTMENT AND MAKE MONEY OUT OF YOUR INVESTMENTS.

Don't you like to see some lively, hustling, building activity going on around a spot where you have invested your money? Turn the proposition around-wouldn't you like to invest where you see lots of building activity and where you know there is a keenly interested public, taking hold and putting in, their money? Don't lose a minute in selecting a lot. Let us show you what is left in.

GLEBE MANOR

This is a fine, large, level property, with a magnificent view west toward Upper Canada College, and east across the Don Valley. Whether you buy at the Yonge Street end or at the Bayview end, where the new electric line is promised by the Canadian Northern Railway, you will be getting one of the livest, solidest land investments to be had in this whole hustling city. We have "made good" for our clients in every property. Some are re-selling at double and treble the prices we sold them for. If you don't know Glebe Manor, get information about it. Go and see it. We will motor you out if you make an appointment. Let us send you maps and booklets about the

The people of Toronto have a regular income, from the factories alone it is about $40,000,000 a year. There are approximately 780 manufacturing establishments in Toronto, and they give employment to 80,000 workers, or actual producers of tangible wealth. It would be difficult to find a city where the workers were so uniformly prost perous as in Toronto and where the property wealth of the the city was held by so many of the smaller people. That is one reason why tightness of money is to most people a thing incomprehensible.

The 130 foot limit isn't law yet.

Of the best that has been projected for this part of the city.

Montreal during the week closed its biggest deal, when Sir Max Aitken and James E. Wilder bought 350 acres between the rear of the mountain and James E. The Future of Street, While Very Rosy, Cannot be Measured-Monthly Tenancies Only Obtainable in Some Parts.

It is a remarkable fact, showing that owners of central Yonge street of more than a year cannot be se cured on Yonge street between Wil power ton ave, and Grosvenor street. That tof the statement should be qualified, bethere are three or four store which, because of peculiar circum-stances, can be secured for longer stances, can be secured for longerterms, but the average free owner is willing to take a small yearly or

If for no other reason excepting its railroads—railroads completed and in operation, railroads under construction, and railroads prosed-Canora's future as an portant railroad centre and dis-tributing point would be assured.

Canora is on the main line of the C. N. R., 303 miles west of Winnipeg, 201 miles east of Sas-katoon. Canora is the junction and terminus of the C. N. R. Ross-burn line and its main line— Canora is the northern terminus of the G. T. P. Regina-Melville line and its geographical position, can there be any question as to the future of Canora? We should say not! Camora will be the gateway to Hudson Bay; Canora will be a distributing point from which supplies will be shipped to that great country in the North that is fast becoming settled, and that must, on account of its wonder-ful wealth in natural resources rich farming lands, with the rail-roads planned for this north country and now actually in course of construction, become one of the most prosperous and most wonderful sections of Ca-nada.

That is not all. Canora is in the very heart of one of the rich-est agricultural districts on the North American continent. The Canora district is just beginning to be cultivated, and with enly about eight per cent. of the choice land under cultivation, there were grown, harvested and threshed over 1,600,000 bushels of grain last year. Within the next few years the Canora district should years the Canora district should produce (and undoubtedly will, for the country is fast settling—and it is only a question of settling and developing the land) over 20,000,000 bushels of grain annually. Just think what this means! Not many years ago the entire crop of Canada was less than 20,000,000 bushels per year. Summing up what the result Summing up what the result will be of railway development at Canora and development of the agricultural lands in the Canora district, there is but one conclusion, it will be a City—one of the most important cities in Western Canada.

Therefore, an investment in close-in Canora real estate is an investment that is absolutely safe and one that is almost certain to double and treble in value in a very short time.

High rents and high food costs, and all other necessities being so high in Toronto, the laboring man is forced out to the outskirts, where he finds no relief in the cost of living, but an increase in the cost of living, but an increase in the cost of transportation to and from employment. Why do laborers continue in this trying condition, when one half the money spent would buy you a home in a short time, where heat, light, living, and all food products are cheap, and plenty of labor within walking distance of your door? Information on relief from these hardships can be obtained by those really desirous, if they call or write to Desk R, 156 Bay street, Toronto.

A CHANCE TO GET RICH

Wealth beyond the dreams of avarice awaits the man who discovers a large deposit of iridium. What is iridium? See that wee bit of white metal on the point of your gold fountain pen? That's iridium. It gives your pen its smooth writing quality. Other uses in the scienific and technical arts demand it, such as contact points, pivots, and standard weights. An oxide of the metal-iridium black-is a valuable pigment used in chinaware decorating. But the principal consumption of iridium is in the hardening of platinum, of which so much is used in this country.

The annual world production of iridium is about 5.000 ounces Thus far, the share of this continent has been almost negligible. Silwer is worth from 59 to 60 cents an ounce. The Bank of England is buying gold at 77s. 9d. an ounce. Iridium is worth around $64 an ounce. Next meeting the opinions of the members of the locals will be levied an assessment addition will be given at the Trades and La-al to the regular strike allowance.

The scheme is certainly a big one. It is proposed that a limited stock company be incorporated under the name of the Union Label Store Co., Limited, and shares of $5 each be issued to the extent of $1,000,000 capital. The shares are not to be sold outside of the various unions. The promoters hope to open stores from the Atlantic to the Pacific with four What the unions will do with the

The worm grows much onger than the bowels where it is ocated, and semetimes a whole colony of them are found, enough to fill a quart of solid worm, and when put in t. It is the hardest task in the world to destroy this parasite without doing njury to the individual who may be so unfortunate as to have it, as the para-site clings to the bowels, freeing itself from the body of the worm, and reains there to breed another. It is an internal demon, and causes its victim to suffer all the symptoms of disease imaginable. The cleverest physicians are led to believe the patient is suffer-ing from some other disease, as nearly every person has different symptoms. Some have been treated for cancer of the bowels, consumption of the bowels, consumption of the lungs, chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration, melan-cholia hypochondria, hysteria, inflammation of bowels, appendicitis, and other complaints, when one or more of

It is surprising the number of people that have them. Thousands have them and are pri aware of the fact. The letters and itestimonials the Professor has in his possession are enough to convince us of this alarming fact. Some of the most prominent symptoms are ravenous appetite, dizzy spells, headaches, cramps in the bowels, a feeling of something moving in the bowels, also a feeling as though something was

The carpenters have decided to form a council similar to the United States councils. This body will be made the promoter of the scheme, brought from the old Ontario Provincial Conference, and will be called the Ontario Provincial Council.

This will bring all locals under the jurisdiction of the state council, and the power will be given the executive that in cass of assistance being ne-cessary in one section of the province the local unions in other sections will be levied an assessment addition-

Stone Versus Concrete.

When the announcement was made regarding the new Welland Canal it was stated that concrete would be used in its construction. It was hoped by members of the Bricklayers', Mason and Plasterers' Unions of Ontario that stone would be used in the construction of what will be one of Canada's most important water-

Meetings have been held by different branches of the union thruout the province, where resolutions have been passed favoring the use of stone, as there is a great abundance in the sec-tion thru which the canal will be lption thru which the canal will be located. Several thousand signatures have been attached to a petition. Not only have the workmen, who are vitally affected, but a large number of merchants and municipal officials thruout the Niagara Peninsula have signified their approval of the stand of the union, which brought this matter up, on the ground that if the canal were constructed of concrete, the workmen would be foreigners who live in such a way that the building of the canal would not benefit the merchants. On the other hand, if the canal is built of stone, Canadian workmen will be required to take the stone from the quarries, and do the actual work of construction.

John Sutherland, president of the International Union of Bricklayers', Masons and Plasterers has the following to say:

"Our principal reason for advocatlowing to say:

"Our principal reason for advocating the use of stone instead of concrete on the construction of the new Welland Canala de that concrete is in its experimental stage, while stone as a building material, particularly in the use of construction of waterways and canals, stands today as a monument and an illustration of its durament and an illustration of its durability. Several canalsw high were built 30 or 40 years ago and where stone has been used, are as sound today as when they were completed. On the other hand we have an illustration of defective construction in the Eric Canal where concrete was used, and the result has been that in the last 10 years there have been several bad collapses.

"Apparently the main issue be-

Prof. Mulveney speaking.

Well, how do people feel when they have Tape Worm?

Tape worm is bred from a parasite. This parasite is a creature male and female in one. It is of pear shape, having two, four and six suckers. It lays the eggs, which are only connected together with slime. They develop and several bad collapses.

"Apparently the main is use between the use of the two materials is the economic side, where the first cost has been taken into consideration and very little attention has been paid to the durability of the materials which is to be used. After the concrete mixture has been dumped into the forms to be left until it is hardened enough to be self-supporting, no man, I care not what his profession or calling may be, can tell how long it will hold together, or if the proper ingredients have been used in mixing.

The overlapping of stone or brickwork holds the structure to gether, and large openings can be made, and the brick or stone replaced without any damage whatever.

"Along the right-of-way of the canal there are large quarries of fine limestone, and it is estimated by firms who are willing to put in bids that the stone would cost about 38 per cent. The extra cost of supervision and reinforcing this difference would probably be brought down to 16 per cent."

> A feature in agreements between employer and employes which has not come into common use in this section of the country is a clause in the proposed agreement between the cabinet makers and woodworking machinists' unions and their employers. This clause calls for arbitration of a great many of the disputes which might arise, three men representing the employers and three the union and a sey-enth man to be chosen by mutual agreement. It also says that the decision of this board of arbitration be final.

It is to be expected that the adoption of this clause in agreements be-tween employers and unions will be general in the future.

Imperial Unity in Diversity

Without in any way impugning the sincerity of the advoeates of a more closely federated empire it may reasonably be doubted whether any plan of that nature is practicable or if. practicable would be advisable. Logical and symmetrical constitutions framed on theory and without regard either to existing facts or to constantly changing conditions have never been palatable to British peoples and are indeed contrary to deep rooted British instinct. The constitution of the United Kingdom, if that word can be applied to a system which has grown and developed out of immediate needs and without respect to obvious inconsistencies, depends fundamentally on the temper of a nation or rather four nations, trained for many generations to the habit of self-government. It cannot be transplanted to other peoples who lack British traditions for in such an environment the experiment must inevitably fail. Nor is it possible to change the parliamentary to the federal system without destroying that absolute supremacy of parliament which is the essence of the British system. Devolution not federation is the only method consistent with that ultimate supremacy and the whole trend of sentiment among the Imperial Dominions is towards greater not less autonomy.

The idea of a federated empire has many superficial attractions and cannot be set aside as finally impossible. So definite a judgment would be unwise for circumstances might arise of a character that would render federation necessary for general protection. That possibility cannot be excluded but the emergency has not arrived and may never arrive. And certainly nothing could be more injurious to the sentiment of imperial unity than any effort to drive it into channels cut not in accordance with the temper of the British self-governing peoples but arbitrarily. In an article on Imperial Co-operation contributed to the current number of the "British Review," Lieut. Colonel Alsager Pollock again points out that "it must needs be recognized that altho the British Empire is all one it nevertheless consists of practically autonomous parts, each of which gives willing allegiance to one crown, but recognizes no parliamentary government but its own. The King's ministers in each dominion of the empire are servants only of the King himself, owing no obedience whatever to the representatives of party political ascendency in the Homeland."

There is not the slightest reason to suppose that any one of the Dominions favors or would support a limitation of its rights of self-government, of its control of its taxation or its public services. Lieut.-Colonel Pollock six years ago point ed out that British imperial unity is possible only in the form of an alliance, just as if the contracting parties were in all respects absolutely sovereign states, negotiating for their mutual advantage and wholly regardless of any kind of sentimental ties. "Sentiment," he proceeds, "in our case supplies merely the original motive for seeking British rather than other allies; and if that sentiment is to remain unimpaired, not an atom of it must be permitted to influence the terms on which any state of the empire agrees to co-operate with the remainder. Not only so, but the obligations sought to be imposed upon all and sundry must be as few and simple as possible; nothing should be suggested for general acceptance that is not clearly essential to the principle that the object in view is to assure to the utmost the peace, security and prosperity of all, severally as well as collectively." Co-partnership not federation is the goal of the empire as it has developed. Co-operation for common ends and freedom in individual state concerns presents that unity in diversity which can alone hold the British Empire together.

A Good Soldier

By the death of Lord Wolseley another of the fast diminishing band of veteran soldiers who fought in the Crimean War has been removed. But Garnet Joseph Wolseley had seen service even before the Russian War for immediately on receiving his commission as ensign at the age of nineteen he served in the Second Burmese Campaign and there received the first of his numerous and severe wounds. Two years later he fought in the Crimea, was again wounded and later acted as assistant engineer in the trenches before Sebastopool. After only three years of service he was promoted to a captaincy and when he left the Crimea he had been twice mentioned in despatches and was the recipient of the earliest of the numerous medals that caused it to be said of him-"His breast is covered with medals as his body is covered with wounds."

After a long period of consolidation the latter half of the nineteenth century witnessed a remarkable expansion of the British Empire and the beginning of a great internal development with which Wolseley's name will be inseparably associated. One of the first of these important changes followed upon the Indian Mutiny where he again displayed remarkable gallantry and professional ability. Three months after his storming of the palace of Moti Mahal at Lucknow Wolsenext month the price will be lowered to 10 ley was gazetted major, at the age of twenty-five. Wolseley's lucky star brought him to Canada, followed by his appointment to command the Riel Expedition, ending with the capture of Louis Riel at Winnipeg. His capacity for organization was markedly displayed in this expedition and its success made him a K.C.M.G. and C.B. In 1873 he gained more laurels in Ashanti and in later years he fought in Natal, in the Transvaal and in Egypt at the beginning of the British occupation of the land of the Nile. Two year's later he led the relief expedition to Khartoum but on arrival found it in the Mahdi's hands and Gordon dead. That was the last of his active service in the field but in 1895 he succeeded the Duke of Cambridge as commander-in-chief, retiring six

Lord Wolesley will not be ranked among the greater British generals, but he was in every way typical of the British officer at his best. Of fine personal courage, of scrupulous integrity and thoroly conversant with his profession Wolseley was equal always to the responsibilities placed upon him. The the pupal five days, making the total time for British people are never slow to appreciate men of this stamp the development of a generation of young flies and the honors heaped upon him were well deserved. MERELY A MATTER OF TIME

A Calamity-Smitten Land

During the past week the papers have been full of stories of disaster by flood and tornado in the United States. The frightful loss of life at Omaha and many other points in the Western States, followed by the floods which did incalculable property damage in Ohio and Indiana, with the loss of several hundred lives, calls attention to the comparative immunity of Canada from such catastrophies. While we have our "blows" and our serious fires we are, relatively speaking, free from the dangers that visit so many of the inhabitants ago and the more recent cyclone in Regina, but at 3000 calories. very few lives were lost and the property dam-

Our friends in the States are in the habit and the 49th parallel as "God's Country." However favored that land may be, it is unfortunately true that many millions of the people of the republic are living constantly on the danger line. The river towns, nestling as they do between mountain ranges and the water level live in constant dread of the breaking of the levees and dams during the spring break-

Our hearts will go out to the thousands of people who have been driven from their homes by last week's floods, and to the other sufferers from these dreadful visitations and we will continue to be thankful that we are in a land singularly favored.

Swat 'Em Early

It isn't a bit too early to begin swatting the fly. Every fly killed now is equivalent to killing millions of them in summer. A mature fly of April may be the ancestor of over six billion flies by the first of September. The killing of all the winter flies would do away with the great work required in the summer.

Cleveland, Ohio, expects to be a flyless city this summer. The campaign has been in progress three months. Winter flies were paid next month the price will be lowered to 10 cents a thousand. Some good work was done gun late. Let us all make a start now by destroying the dangerous little insect that has been proved to be the carrier of disease. But better than all, remove the breeding places of

The favorite breeding place of the musca domestica, or ordinary house fly, is the horse stable, altho failing that, garbage cans, slops or any collection of fermenting vegetable matter will suffice. It seems to take the eggs longer to mature in some localities than others. A scientist experimenting in Massachusetts, reared a generation in fourteen days. The duration of the egg state was twenty-four hours, the larval state from five to seven days, and the pupal state about the same period. An experiment made last midsummer, indicated that the female lays at one, time about 120 eggs which hatch in eight hours. The larval period with these eggs lasted less than five days and

The greatest preventive measure for the development of the housefly is the avoidance of accumulations of stable refuse.

Last year, H. B. Duryea's Sweeper II. a son of Broomstick, won the Two Thousand, and August Belmont's Tracey, son of Rock Sand-Topiary, won the St. Leger. Tracey was foaled in America, but his sire and dam were imported from England, where Rock Sand won the Derby in 1903. this year's Derby Mr. Duyea has left in two of his original four nominations, Mickey Free II., and Boyne II., both sons of the Brooklyn Handicap, winner of 1903, Irish Lad. Mr. Belmont nominated no tess than six for this year's classic, but has withdrawn all but one, Vulcan, a son of Rock Sand. John E. Madden nominated eight sons of Ogden, sire of Louis Winan's Sir Martin, that fell in the memorable Derby of 1909 (Minoru's year), and they are all still eligible to start. However, none of the American three-yearolds of which anything is yet known to the English critics, seem likely come to the front at Epsom. H. P. out a license from the commission, the money to be paid in paying the expenses of the commission. "The commission is given power to prescribe rules, regulations and condi-tions under which livestock and agricultural competitions and contests of speed and endurance between horses shall be conducted in the state."

The act goes on to say that nothing it shall be construed as giving the commission power to license book-making or auction pools as prohibited by the law. Then follows a clause which reads: "It may, however, grant such privi-leges not inconsistent with other stat-experts any too well, as they are of the opinion he will not go the route. Highbridge ran as a two-year-old in the Randolph colors during the season of 1908. He did not win much fame on the flat. Mr. Fell at first thought of giving the mount to Wintees not inconsistent with other statutes as may be necessary for the successful maintenance of fairs."

There is nothing on the statute books to prohibit "pari-mutuel" betting. The commission could establish it on every race track in the state, thus reviving the racing game. Senator Rodgers, who introduced the bill, said it was done at the request of some men in his county interested in improving the county fairs.

CONFIDENCE vs. FEAR

The World's Largest Builders of Six-Cylinder Automobiles

Get Well Acquainted with the Automobile Dealer

Automobile satisfaction is largely a matter of dealer satisfaction. The best car it is possible to build becomes a disappointment to the owner if the dealer of whom it was bought does not do his part. Some cars, that otherwise would be unsatisfactory, are giving fairly good service just because the dealer is earnest in giving service.

The owners of HUDSON cars in this section will frankly tell you of their experience with us. Be sure the dealer you patronize will be interested in you as much after you have bought as he is to make the sale. Be sure you can have as much confidence in him as you must have in any other merchant with whom you trade.

He must be successful. He must be a good business man. If he offers you a car at a discount can you be sure he is not selling to your neighbor at a still lower price? If his prices are not fixed can you rely upon the character of the service he will give you, or even his own permanence in the line? Are those actions you find in successful businesses?

Buy a Six if you are paying more than $2,500

HUDSON cars are the product of 48 expert engineers. These men who collectively had had a hand in building more than 200,000 cars of 97 different makes, have combined their skill in the development of the two new HUDSONS. One is the "37"—a four-cylinder car at $2425, fully equipped; and the other the "54" described below.

By comparison with other cars you can see wherein these 48 experts, because of their wider experience and greater skill, have been able to secure more comfort, greater simplicity, greater beauty, and give greater value than in any other car, regardless of price. Howard E. Coffin, America's foremost engineer, heads this corps of specialists. With so many experts, all working to produce the "final car," they are not likely to have overlooked any essentials. They are not apt to have omitted anything that adds to either the beauty, comfort, service, luxury or satisfaction-giving qualities of the car.

Thousands of the new HUDSONS are now in actual service in the hands of owners in various sections of the world. Some of your neighbors own HUDSON cars. Ask them what they think of All this points to the reason, "Why a HUDSON."

Don't these things, coupled with the fact that our service is back of the new HUDSON cars and that we personally will see that it gives you the satisfaction you expect, furnish a reason why you should choose a HUDSON?

The "54" HUDSON supplies every demand made of any auta-mobile, in speed, get-away, safety, power, luxurious equipe tinctive appearance and comfort.

Its equipment, complete in every detail, includes the most famous system of electric self-cranking, electric lighting—dynamo type—and ignition device to be had, known as the Delco, patented. There is also an illuminated dash and extension lamp, mohair top, curtain, rain-vision windshield, speedometer, clock, demountable rims, 36x41/2-inch tires, 127-inch wheel base, etc.

You are thinking of becoming a motorcyclist, and here are a few hints as to the best way to set about the selection of a machine, and some suggestions that may help the beginner. The first thing to decide is the amount of money the prospective rider desires to spend. A new machine costs from $260 to $425 in Canada, and good second machines may be had from $150 to $200. In buying it is best to select a well-known make, and preto select a well-known make, and preferably one that has a long list of success and trials to its credit. "Dante's Daugh s" Here This Week

Gladys Sears Hoads a Time Burlesque Company at Star *

"Dante's Daughters," at the Star, will be the attraction for this week. This show will earn a reputaweek. This show will earn a reputation on the burlesque circuit for not failing to please and attract attention because of its good-looking, gingery girls, its comedians, good music, catchy, whistly songs, and every other attachment required to make it a leader among the best burlesque organizations. the best burlesque organizations on the road this season.

A still greater effort has been nade by the management, Mr. J. avene, and producer, to increase ts popularity, and add to its fame, as the particular show not to be nissed by those who enjoy girls, missed by those who enjoy girls, music, dancing, song, and fun.

Among the cast of extraordinary roportions will be found: Gladys ears, who is featured; it is also rell to mention that Miss Sears the composer of all her own ongs; J. Theo. George Primrose and Lew Dockstader With Strong Company Coming Next Week.

George Primrose and Lew Dock-stader, the veteran minstrels, are said to be respectively as nimble and as funny this season as in their palm-test days, only more so, and it is with no little anticipation that local thea-tregoers are looking forward to the coming of the reunited blackface-stars to the Alexandra Theatre for four to the Alexandra Theatre for four nights commencing Wednesday, April

There are no two men better known in minstrelsy than Primrose and Dockstander. This past season they got together again and they are said to have surrounded themselves with a minstrel organization far ahead of the troupe the stage has known in first part called "The Temple of Mirth and Melody." In this portion Mr. Primrose will demonstrate that he is still "America's most graceful he is still "America's hour the stars. lancer," as he glides about the stage singing "When I Waltz With You," and Mr. Dockstader will maintain his standing as a humorist with a story of his automobile experiences. Another feature of the first part is the singing of Raymond Wylle, whose wonderful soprano voice has caused him to become known as "the male Tetrazzini." "Happy Jack Lambert," the youngest comedian in the busi-ness, will be also seen and heard

Both Mr. Primrose and Mr. Dock-stader appear in the olio, the form-er accompanied by Johnny Foley and Johnny Murphy in a unique dancing act, and the latter is an uproariously funny impersonation of the Bull Moose chief, Theodore Roosevelt. The Musical Brown Brothers, a sextet of instrumentalists and pantomimic comedians, par excellence, and the four humorists also will be heard in this part of the show.

"Down Home" is the title of an elaborate four-scene after-piece in which practically all members contri-

American Big-Game Hunting.
The Pujo Money Trust Investigating Committee was appointed by congress to ascertain if there was a money trust. Well-informed students of American economics know that there is a something in the country which gives to the few the power to there is a something in the country which gives to the few the power to take from the many the fruits of their labors. During the past few years the people have demanded of their statesmen and governmental officials that they find out what the thing is by which the people are ruthlessly rebbed. At first the statesmen believed it was the corporations; but soon the corporations proved they were not the monster. Then they were user it was the trusts; but in their investigation they found that, bad as they were, the trusts were not the monster. Yet they did find that all trust deviltries appeared foundationed in the banks, trusts, and insurance companies of the System, the depositories of the people's savings. This, of course, was the monzy trust; but thay didn't know it.

It knew, must have known, that the monzy trust is a thing which extended to the power to the the monzy trust is a thing which extended to the system's hat was gleefully flung aloft to celebrate its victory.

The committee introduced a bill in congret to compel the controller to comply with its demand. The bill passed the house, and was killed in the senate. And everyone the light had all the system's hat the unbellied in the senate. And everyone the unit to comply with its demand. The bill passed the house, and was killed in the senate. The Ethereal Money Trust.

At the beginning of the Pujo Committee's activities, Wall Street and the money-trust heads that because the system lay back and haw-hawed at system at the little and the control of the currency, backed up by the attorney-general and President would it even look for a tangible ger to president, of each of the twen head, a physical tail, or a maw substance? The committee, leg l substance? The committee, bik d in finding a money trust,

Without these milliens there would be no monopoly, could be none; and the millions-came from the banks. They were the people's savings. Yet they were turned over to the coffee monopolists carry out their game of pillaging

"Does this prove a money trust?" asked the Pujo Committee, "No, no, no," yelled the system, "no, and again no. For there is no money trust, and no chartered money trust, no by-lawed money trust, no written-agreemented money trust."

But the coffee-trust monopolist was suavely bowed from the witnessstand, and the promoter of the new-est oil trust followed him. Again the system was threatened with apoplexy. What in the name of the patron saint of the jugglers of Hindustan had a new oil trust to do with the money-trust investigation? The committee answered: "Another the money And they proved it.

It took millions to prepare the oll trust stock for the stock exchange laundry. Where did the millions come from? Banks and trust com-panies, the depositories of the people's ment to come from? Banks and trust companies, the depositories of the people's savings. Who advanced it? The system. Why? Because the system bank officials were "in" on a largestice of the profits. Why? committee, "without the use of the people's deposits there could be no stock exchange thimble-rigging, no division of profits with the system bank controllers. Does this not prove a money trust?"

No, no, no, no; and again not for the money trust, the system, and the American people stands forth clear-cut and defined: Who are the good men who control the money frust?

Mr. Lawson then goes on to deal with the probe of the Pujo committee into the operations of the copper trust, and when the supreme heads of frenzied financialdom were summoned, there was to be a probably more than to any other, the right to dp his hands deep into battle royal. Here is Lawson's account of the inside story of the De-

Copper on the Stand. At the beginning of the money trust investigation. It was widely heralded that the test would come when the Pujo committee attempted to compel a public exposition of the baker's Steel, and in a score of like to compel a public exposition of the baker's Steel, and in a score of like the compel and the steel and the score of like the score of the baker's Steel and the score of like the score of the baker's steel and the score of like the score of the baker's steel and the score of like the score of the baker's steel and the score of like the score of the score of the baker's score of the score of the score of the baker's score of the score of the score of the baker's score of the when the Pujo committee attempted to compel a public exposition of the loans, with the borrowers' names and the collateral behind the loans, that were in the great system banks.

But them thru an examination that would show each and every loan, the behind it, and the borrower's nameunless the money-trust, the system controllers forthwith voluntarily presented the committee with such a list.

There was no bluff about this threat. The Pujo Committee meant business and the system knew it.

The Freeze-Out. It is probably within the exact truth to say that never has there been a more rapid and active adjustment of loans and collaterals in market than that which took place during those five days. Stocks and bonds were thrown over by the scores of millions Knowing something of the affair, I estimate that the net loss to the money trust and their follow ers by the adjustment which place amounted to between fifty and sixty million dollars.

I will hazard the guess that the list which was compiled of the loans and collaterals in the twenty-four banks, list aggregating close to a billion dollars, had been most scientifically winnowed of scores of millions of "securities" which, with their own-ers' names, would not make good reading for the American public. I will also hazard the guess that scores of nillions of manipulated stocks which had been lying in the vaults of the New York banks and trust companies made a hurried departure for the vaults of like institutions in Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and

The pronounced movement in skirt draperies, however, is the lifting eastern idea, and it gives a new figure line as well, as the effect is to heighten the andonien and depress the diaphragm, giving the bowlike curve now dominant in the fashionable figure.

Such a thing as a dart for fitting a skirt is practically unknown. If the material cannot be adjusted to the belt through the dropping down of a part of the fabric fullness, it is laid in irregular plaits or gathered, but quite without regard to any hitherto existing rule in skirt fitting. As for the bodice, quite as many new and extraordinary ideas prevail as in the skirt. The jackets of the day and coats of the day also come in for their share of eccentricity in cut. They defy all rules, having seams where seams are least expected to be and having no seam where beretofore one was seen.

In some of the newest bodices and coats the under arm seam no longer exists. The shaping, if any is done, is in the shoulder seam or through the application of a curving yoke which extends down to form the top of the sleeve. The basques of the coat, cut in most interesting new ways, are attached to the seamless body. In contradistinction to the kimono cut of the ordinary form, which has no shoulder seam nor under arm seam, likewise no armhole mam, the new bodice now has no under arm seam, but has an armhole and a shoulder seam; Another vital point in designs is the bulging or thick neck collar applied to so many of the bodices and coats. This is an effect taken wholly from the dress of the east; which, as will be readily recalled, is finished at the neck with a straight, curveless piece which rolls or bulges at will across the back of the neck, there being no attempt at fitting. This is just what is being attempted in the fashionable neck finish of the day.

Sleeves, generally speaking, will be long-that is, the fashionable effect for general street wear is the long sleeve. Separate waists as well as costumes of the simpler character will have full length sleeves, but there also will be very many of the more dressy gowns with long the present season's showings is the development toward beited cost and blouse effects, These should have representation among nevelty styles; and while the belted or blouse coat perhaps does not seem so desirable an article for spring as for autumn, there is so reason to expect there may be a leading up toward a general use of belted and o coats for the coming autumn.

The strong new feature in separate coats is the quite general adoption of three-quar ters and seven-cighthe lengths. The newest wraps are in this stylethose for dressy wear as well as those for simple wear. All of the new models hold to the oriental effect and the draped styles. Practically nothing that is dressy is out on straight lines. In developing the new wraps it is simply a question of using handsome models gracefully draped about the figure. Suggestions of the Russian form are found in wraps which are belted across the frent draped at the back. The most essential point in wraps is the choice of materials. Never has there been a greater use of handsome novelties for this purpose. These will add more variety to the showings. In the more practical motor wraps the forms continue statement "straight figure lines prevail" is an absolute contradiction of the real fact, because what natural figure loose and commodious, with large armholes and large peckets and a is really straight? On the contrary, it is the curving general air of comfort. Ratine and other rough surfaced weaves to figure, the natural and beautiful lines of the body, which wool are in high favor,

Another material that is being much taken up in Paris is the tradiatinction to the artificially diminished waist measurement with the Worsted rep, solid color and in two-tone effects. This drapery accords perfectly with the if it conveniently falls that way; but in some of the new draped forms the train goes off to the side, and dresses have been shown in Paris with the train in front just over the left foot. This, of course, is of necessity carried when the wearer moves, and Style innovations that appear each season are esting as fashion news, to be enjoyed and appreciated when seen adorning those to whom they are especially suited. That is the way with the new gowns and suits having draperies. stylish and will therefore be worn.

* * The new spring lines of coats are now attracting the most attention, and those already shown are 45 to 48 inches long. There are, it is true, many full length models, but the general opinion is that the shorter garments will be most desirable during the coming spring and summer. They are more snappy and smarter looking when short. Most of the models are on the general utility style and are made of serges, novelty worsteds, and ratines.

The tendency seems to be for the cutaway effects and modified blouse coats. The cutaway styles average about 27 inches long in the back, and somewhat shorter in the front. Some of the illustrated models show the open front effects, revealing the vests of contrasting materials. Passementerie ornaments, buttons, and huttonholes are used as trimming, which appear at the sides of the jacket.

the boat was, at best, making about half the speed at which the motor car had plunged along the country roads: an effect in part due to the spacious illusion of moonlit distances upon the water.

Staff, held his cap with one hand, drinking in the keen salt air with a feeling of strange exultation. Iff crept forward and tarried for a time talking to the boat builder.

The host shaved with the motor car had been at his hand.

"No," he said; "I see no boat." "We've beaten him, then!" Iff declared joyfully.

But they hadn't, nor were they long in finding it out. For presently the little island lay black, a ragged shadow against the blue-grey sky, upon the starboard beam; and Bascom passed the word aft to shut off the motor.

talking to the boat builder.

The boat shaved a nun-buoy outside Barmouth Point so closely that Staff could almost have touched it by stretching out his arm. Then she straightened out like a greyhound on a long course across the placid silver reaches to a goal as yet invisible.

Iff returned to the younger man's side.

"Twenty miles an hour, Bascom claims," he shouted. "At that rate we ought to be there in about fifteen minutes now."

Staff nodded, wondering what they yould find on Wreck Island, bitterly repenting the oversight which had resulted in Ismay's escape from his grasp.

If only he had not been so sure of his conquest of the little criminal . .! Now his mind crawled with apprehension bred of his knowledge of the man's amazing fund of resource. He who had outwitted Ismay would have earned the right to plume himself upon his struction, the loom of the mainland was seemingly very distant. The motor boat was nearing the centre of a deep indentation in the littoral. And suddenly it was as tho they did not move at all; as if all this noise and labor went for nothing;

"He hasn't beaten us out yet," Iff threw over his shoulder. "You keep back, now—like a good child— please. I've got a hunch this is my hour."

For a period of perhaps twenty seconds the man and the girl remained moveless, eyeing one another; she on the floor, pale, stunned and pitiful, for the instant bereft of every sense save that of terror; he in the doorway, alert, fully the master of his concentrated faculties, swayed by two emotions only—a malignant temper bred of the night's succession of reverses, capped by the drunkenness of his caretaker, and an equally malignant sense of triumph that he had returned in time to orush the girl's attempt to escape.

He threw the door wide open and

"So—" he began in a cutting voice.
But his movement had acted as jumped to her feet. He put forth a

Her skirts swept the lamp on the floor and overturned it with a splintering crash. Instinctively she sprang away—in the nick of time.

She caught a look of surprise and

At the same time the first floor windows of the hotel were illumined by an infernal glare.

All round her there was lurid light, setting everything in sharp relief. The face of the man who held her was suddenly revealed; and it was her father's.

She had left him inside the building, and now.

She was assailed with a terrifying fear that she had gone mad. In a frenzy she wrenched herself free; but only to be caught in other arms.

Successful transplanting of indoorgrown plants to the garden depends largely upon their proper treatment during the two weeks preceding the

By the process of hardening off, the plants are gradually acclimated to the effects of the sun and wind, so that they will stand transplanting to the open ground. Hardening off is usually accomplished by ventilating freely, and by reducing the amount of water applied to the plant bed. The plant bed or box should not become so dry that the plants will wilt or be seriously checked in their growth. After a few days it will be possible to leave the plants uncovered during the entire day, and on mild nights. By the time the plants are required for setting in the garden they should be thoroly acclimated to outdoor conditions, and can be transplanted with but few losses.

This part of the work should be done as soon as the plants are large enough to pull, and before they begin to "draw," or become spindling from crowding. When thining plants in the plant bed, it should be the aim to re-move the centres of the thick move the centres of the thick bunches, leaving the spaces as uni-form as possible. When thinning the rows of seedlings in the gar-den, the best plants should be al-lowed to remain, but due consider-ation should be given to the matter of proper spacing. Failure to thin plants properly will invariably re-sult in the production of an inferior crop.

It is necessary to transplant several of the garden crops, in order to secure strong plants that will mature within the limits of the growing season. Transplanting should be done as soon as the seedlings are large enough to handle, and again when enough to handle, and again when the plants begin to crowd one another. Aside from producing more uniform and hardy plants, the transplanting process has several other very marked influences. Certain crops which are grown for their straight roots, are often injured by having their roots bent or broken in the other hand. having their roots bent or broken in transplanting. On the other hand. such plants as celery, which at first have a straight root, and are first have a straight root, and are first have a straight root, and are grown for their tops, are greatly benefited by transplanting. In all cases transplanting has a tendency to increase the number of small roots, and these are the main dependence of the plant at the time it is set in the onen ground.

Dig the sweet pea bed deep. If you can spare the time to subsoil it, the labor will be well expended. Rake repeatedly, for fineness is a very important essential of the soil that is to produce flowering plants. To sow plant a single hill in each box.

Another method is to cut sods into places about two inches thick and six inches square, and place them root side upward, on the greenhouse being planted in the loamy soil held in place by the roots of the grass. When the weather becomes sufficiently warm, and it is desired to set the plants in the garden, the berry boxes or pleces of sod are placed on a flat tray and carried to the plante with roce or four inches deep. Renewing Hedges.

Spring is the time to cut down hedges wherever cause exists for such action. Very often from lack of judi-cious pruning when young, and later a nipping off of the ends of the shoots when of the same length, and the fresh shoots that follow are treated in the same way thruout the summer. The appearance of the new hedge by fall should be pleasing, for it should represent a solid foundation for a hedge that should be perfect.

The Crystal Gazers & By Nell Brinkley

Here are two Crystal Gazers—both reading what is to come. The Gypsy seeks to learn the future so that she can turn it to advantage in her dealings with men. The little God of Love seeks to know how long the many couples, who are now treating him with respect and consideration, will continue to do so. Love is the best little pal in the world, but he must have proper care and must be wanted in the hearts of lovers—otherwise he refuses to stay there. And his anxiety as he gazes into the crystal is to find out what couples are going to give him his due consideration. With them he will remain always and bring them all the

"Yes, and we'll get it," said Miss Lawler, as she chatted with The Sunday World about this, her pet project. "It will come, even the at present things are still very much in embryo; but you see we have a large clientele to look to. We have many friends. So many of the women of Ontario, kind supporters among the men, and we have such confi-dence in the board, that we feel they will treat us courteously by giving us a site, just as soon as we can

"The idea is not a new one," con-tinued Miss Lawler. "For many years the executive committee of the Alumnae Association have felt or club room purposes, and on St. Valentine's Day the parlors were opened, a pretty tea marking the event. These parlors became known to the graduates and undergraduates of University College as the Murray street tea-room; but the rendezvous was inadequate in size, even from the beginning. Another step in ad-

In the current University Month-ly, the report of the board of gov-ernors to the provincial government on the present needs of the univer-sity is published, and the report contains the following paragraph showing how pressing is the need for the residence, which the president of the alumnae has now so much in mind. "If the university," says the report, "is to do its best for its undergraduates, more residences must be erected, both for men and wo-men students. The three new residences for men have, so far, been a great success, but they can provide for only one hundred and fifty students, and the two houses for wo-men students, called Queen's Hall, hold at the most seventy. But, per-haps the women students of the faculty of education require residential life most of all. The great majority come as perfect strangers to the city for one year, and they often find a difficulty in securing good board and lodging at a reasonable charge. They are left too much to themselves, and are not long enough in the university to form such friendships as the other students do. Residence in a hostel, under the direction of an educated lady, would add not only to the pleasadd not only to the pleasure of their life, but to their personal refinement and could not fail in the future to benefit the children of the schools of the province." Here, then, is further proof of the wide. spread recognition of the necessity for the women who make up so large a part of the nearly four thousand now registered at the different branches of the university.

"Mrs. Massey Treble has been so good," said Miss Lawler, and one learned that Mrs. Massey's beautiful gift of the Household Science Building has its gymnasium and swimming pool open to other women students as well as those taking the household science course. If women students could be envious, what longing eyes must they not cast towards the magnificent Hart House in course of erection by the executors of the university. The probable cost of the university. The probable cost of the building is to reach the princely sum of $1,000,000 and nothing that could possibly tend to the social comfort and enjoyment of the men-students is to be omitted. Little Talks on Poetry

9—Verse Without Rhyme

Most persons who have not made a study of versification regard rhyme as the distinguishing mark of poetry. Yet there is much poetry which has no rhyme, and still more rhymed writing which is not poetry. The essential feature of poetry in regard to its form, is that it shall have a regular rhythm, or as we have frequently called it in teshe talks—a poem-tune. It must measure off hearted youth engaged to the rec-tor's daughter, Dot.

There is a very good reason why rhyme is not used here, and that same reason makes it incumbent on the poet to use this form of verse only with certain themes or certain treatments of a theme. To the sensitive ear, the chiming of the rayme is always apparent, and it is evi-

The Easter concert given by the choir of Walmer Road Baptist Church, under the direction of Mr. W. F. Pickard, was attended by a large audience, and was of a very high order of merit. The singing of the choir in Farmer's "Out Tallis" and Maunder's cantata "Qui Tollis" and Maunder's cantata
"Olivet to Calvary," was uniformly sweet and free from hardness of tone, the women's section being especially grateful to the ear. The intonation was moreover exceptionally true. The cantata was given with Mr. Ruthven McDonald, baritone, and Mr. Redferne Hollinshead, tenor, in the solo parts, both singers winning a special tri-umph. In the miscellaneous program Mr. Blankstein played a violin solo organ in the cantata.

Yeoman of the Guard At Alexandra Theatre

Local Talent Give Sullivan Opera in Aid of Daughters of Empire Preventorium

announces that its operatic club will give a week's performance of "The Yeoman of the Guard" at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, beginning Tuesday, April 15, with matinees on Thursday and Saturday. The cast is as follows: Elsie, Miss Jessica Reid; Phoebe, Miss Mabel Doherty; Dame Phoebe, Miss Mabel Doherty; Dame Carruthers, Mrs. Woodburn; Kate, Miss Marion Trebilcock; Colonel Fairfax, Mr. Arthur Baxter; Sergeant Merry, Mr. Don Linden; Jack Point, Mr. Stanley Adams; Wilfred, Mr. C. Packer; Lieutenant, Mr. Jack Kennedy; Leonard, Mr. John Lonie. Everything is being done to make the production a worthy one, costumes and scenery have been especially prepared for the occasion and the efficiency of the principals, and chorus prove that in the domain of light opera, Toronto compares favorably with other that in the domain of light opera, Toronto compares favorably with other large cities. The orchestra, under the conductorship of Mr. Alfred Bruce, is also composed of local musicians, and is of such musical calibre as to make it equal to the best professional organizations. "The Yeoman of the Guard" is in many respects the finest of all the operas. Saflivan considered it his best, and the libretto is the kind that only a genius like Gilbert could that only a genius like Gilbert could conceive. The production is given under the patronage of Sir John and Lady Gibson, and patronesses of the Preventorium, officers of the board officers of National Chapter LO.D.E. and the recents of all the charters. and the regents of all the chapters. This in itself is sufficient guarantee that the performances will be of the very highest standard, and that no expense will be spared in making the production complete in every way.

It is rarely that an English novelty finds its way into the programs of the Berlin Philharmonic. At a recent concert, however, Nikisch bravely introduced Holbrooke's "Queen Mab," and it is said that the attitude of the public was decidedly hostile, tho unjustly so, as the work revealed much that was both charming and interesting, and, with the skilful handling of Nikisch, its place on his program seemed fully justified. A Berlin criticism says: "Holbrooke has excellent ideas. They are not always strikingly original, as the shadow of Richard Strauss is occasionally projected, but his 'Queen'

The concert of the Madrigal Society in Foresters' Hall, on Thursday, April 3, will be the beginning of a kind of work hitherto comparatively neglected by all the larger choral societies in Toronto. It has been said that Toronto has a plethora of choral organizations. And if this means that there are too many societies striving after the same things the striving after the same things the has met with the greatest success, statement is probably true enough But there never can be over-development so long as each society is do-ing an individual line of work. The Madrigal Society does not expect to compete with existing organizations. It does expect to present short works for unaccompanied singing in the English, French and Dutch schools, such as have not been taken up at all seriously by any other body of singers. The program on April 3 will consist of unaccompanied madrigals, part-songs and motetts, and it is series of concerts devoted to this sort of music, for which, in a city musical as Toronto, there should be growing clientete. The choir consists of sixty voices under the baton of Francis Coombs. organist and choirmaster of St. Alban's Cathedral, and conductor of the Trinity College Glee Club. Mr. Coombs has made a special study of the madrigal style of vriting. Those who attend the concert may expect a program of strong indivídual merit and interest. Assisting the society will be Miss Margaret George, soprano, and the Canadian Academy String Quartet.

We have and are making this artistic presentation a constant study to the delight Mr. Boris Hambourg, the 'cellist, has of the thousands of our regular patrons. Are you one of he played in several cities with great success. He is booked for an extens ive British tour this summer, and Wagner's origin is obscure. He told his friends that he didn't know what he was originally intended for. "I only know that I heard one evening a symphony of Beethoven's; that I thereupon fell ill of a fever, and that when I recovered I was—a musician." "He was wild and disorerly and infected with profound mysicism. He was nervous and irritable, and seemed to take pleasure in rending in pieces men and things."

Stylish Cut Corsets

THE corset feature sought after by smart women is "style." It is difficult to attain but easily recognized when obtained. Wearers of can rely on style with every Corset that leaves our shop. The models are perfect; materials superior grade, and the making earefully supervised and efficient. We were the first to in troduce the now famous Tricot material and are in a position to tailor corsets in this fabric better than any House on the continent.

The popular styles in vogue are very low bust and long hips, medium height under arms and at back, giving the figure the desired support—more especially where there is a tendency to stoutness.

Our corsets reduce the proportions of the figure by effective distribution and are appreciated by both stout and slim alike.

GEORGE DAMEREL'S "WIDE-

George Damerel, last seen here in "The Merry Widow," and now appearing in the leading role in "The Heart Breakers," has found a mascot that has taken the place of an alarm clock, in getting him to trains and theatres on time. Nearly every battleship, many fire-houses and also baseball clubs own mascots of the animal family. Occasionally it is a goat, sometimes a monkey and once in a while a parrot, and very often a dog. Mr. Damerel's is of the latter genus—a combination of dachund, fox terrier, spaniel, etc., which is a mixture that cannot be beaten in the "mongrel world."

world."

Mr. Damerel discovered him, one cold winter's night, on the stage doorstep of the town that he was playing in that evening. He took him in and fed and warmed him. After the performance the dog attached himself to Mr. Damerel, and followed him to the hotel.
