Bridge Span Well On Its Way To Place

Operations Today Continued Successful—Progress More Rapid—Fewer Spectators

Quebec, Sept. 18.—Operations in connection with the placing of the central span of the Quebec bridge in its final position linking up the two cantilever arms were commenced this morning.

Yesterday's successful operations and the continuance of the ideal weather for the work gave the engineers hope that the bridge would be the span within fifty-eight feet of the floor of the bridge.

They expected to float the span eighty feet. Yesterday a raise of twenty-eight feet was made.

Owing to late start yesterday, the highest tide was missed and the span has 122 feet to travel, two feet more than expected.

The early hoists this morning showed that the engineers were able to make better time than yesterday. The average time taken yesterday to lift each link of the chain holding the span was sixteen minutes. The men took fifteen for the first link taken up this morning.

By ten o'clock this morning two more hoists of the span had been made, lifting it four more feet. All was proceeding nicely.

At half past ten the centre span had been raised thirty-six feet.

At a quarter after eleven the span was up forty-four feet. All was going well.

The unlucky thirteenth link of the chain lifting the span was successfully lowered this morning.

The latest word to The Times is that the span had then been hoisted fifty-two feet.

toed against by the bridge engineers who refused to label this particular link No. 13, but 13 A instead.

The superstition is a companion to the scare given to the single residents of Sillery where the span was constructed by Indians who professed bad luck because the birds would not rest on it.

Progress that the engineers styled as "eminently satisfactory" was made with the re-elevation of the span throughout this morning and afterwards by one o'clock practically one-third of the distance to be traversed to the floor of the bridge had been covered and the links were going steadily on their way.

To lift the span to the floor of the bridge will take seventy-six hoists and at half past one o'clock thirty-two of them had been negotiated.

The rush of spectators from Quebec yesterday was not repeated today.

More sprinkling of onlookers was noticed. Yesterday the Canadian Government Railway collected fares from 7,500 people on the north shore and at many more dodged the conductors.

A thrill was given onlookers this morning when the Canadian steamship "Quebec" passed under the north cantilever arm on her way from Montreal to Quebec.

Declaration of French Government's Policy

STatement by Painleve

No Lessening of Confidence to Be Read in Absence of Socialist Party Representative From the New Cabinet

Paris, Sept. 17. (Delayed)—Premier Painleve drafted a ministerial declaration this afternoon and will submit to his colleagues in the new cabinet tomorrow.

The declaration is relatively brief, merely putting in relief the basic principles which the government will be guided in its conduct of affairs.

In the first place, the declaration affirms the resolution of the government to pursue a vigorous "republican and social policy."

The French democracy, it contends, has shown itself worthy of the confidence its leaders have had in it and the absence of a representative of the socialist party in the present cabinet could not and must not be interpreted as involving in any way a diminution of that confidence.

While carrying out its declared policy, continues the declaration, the government will endeavor to give the country proper guarantees that justice will be strictly administered. In this respect it will not allow itself to be influenced by consideration of persons or by any question of social position or political conditions.

As regards the conduct of the war the declaration expresses the resolve of the government to impart to this phase of its duties a greater impetus every day.

It attaches the greatest importance to the intensification of the manufacture of materials for war purposes, and to close collaboration between the Allies and the pursuit of a more methodical diplomatic policy.

MILITARY SERVICE
ACT IN FORCE ABOUT
SEPT. 24, SAYS
GENERAL McLEAN

Brigadier-General H. H. McLean arrived home from Ottawa last evening. He reports that all the machinery in the working of the Military Service Act is running very smoothly and estimated that the act would be put in force about Sept. 24. Other than this, he had no information in regard to the workings of the act for this province.

In another matter, said the general, every member of the 26th will have a Highland uniform, as the balance of the uniforms are now on the water en route to Valcartier.

SHARP BREAK IN STOCKS

New York, Sept. 18.—(Wall Street, noon)—Attempts by bears to uncover weak spots and bring about a renewal of the German liquidation were responsible for a sharp break in prices. Some shares sold at the lowest on the current downward movement. Evidence of an over-sold condition subsequently caused short coverings, which pushed up prices one to three points from the lowest. Steel rallied from 105 to 105.84. The bond market was easier.

AUTOMOBILES AND NOISE

The chief of police has wisely decided to take action against chauffeurs who persist in tooting their horns at all hours of the night and day. That practice is a plague in Montreal. In the future chauffeurs may only sound their horns in case of emergency and the burden of proof will rest on them. In Chicago where there are innumerable more autos than here the noise of a horn is scarcely ever heard and accidents, in proportion, are less numerous than in Montreal. In Paris horns are not permitted, and a chauffeur who is promptly hauled before the courts if he poisons the air by a stream of noxious smoke. THE WAR NEWS

Quite unexpectedly the war news last night assumed a less cheerful tone. We are told that the reply of the Central Powers to the Pope's peace note will not advance the cause of peace, but is decidedly warlike.

The Russian situation was last night reported to be greatly improved. Not only had a considerable measure of discipline been restored in the armies, but some ground had been regained from the enemy.

There are rumors once more of a projected British and French drive on the western front, but that is pure speculation. Gen. Cadorna says the Italians are nearing victory over the Austrians, but the latter are still fighting with great obstinacy.

PRUSSIANISM IN CANADA The Montreal Financial Times is not a party paper. What it says, therefore, concerning the new franchise act is not the utterance of a partisan journal.

Discussing the purely partisan nature of the new law, the Financial Times says: "We who know Canada better than the Germans are of course perfectly well aware that the object of the war-time election act is not to prevent the return of a Liberal government, which is an entirely different thing."

DISASTROUS JOY RIDE An automobile, driven by Frank Kennedy of Halifax, while racing the incoming train from Sydney to Halifax, crashed into a team coming in the opposite direction and rolled down an eighteen-foot embankment.

to recover from. We invited the Doukhobors and Mennonites to come to Canada, knowing their views on military service and being at the time not at all out of sympathy with them; and we undertook to make them full members of this commonwealth.

And mind this, it is we who have changed our views, not they. Nor is this all, or the worst. We are forcing to every man who has joined the forces the right to vote down, with the assistance of his womenfolk, the families of two, three, four or more men who for whatever reason have not served under the colors in the present war and whose womenfolk are therefore not admitted to the suffrage.

There are many people not members of the Trades and Labor Congress who believe that conscription of wealth is long overdue in Canada, but it will never be conscripted by the Borden government, which is controlled by influences that are bitterly opposed to any interference with war-profits.

The same J. C. Watters who was so fiercely denounced by the Halifax Herald and the St. John Standard quite recently was highly honored by Sir Robert Borden in Ottawa yesterday. The medicine may not be palatable, but the Herald and Standard must take it. There is an election coming.

Indications Point To New
And Powerful Offensive

There is every indication that a new and powerful offensive by both British and French forces is about to be launched on the western front. London reports successful raiding at several points yesterday along with attacks by airmen while Berlin tells of gunfire of battle intensity in Flanders. The French report also tells of violent artillery battles on the Aisne.

General Cadorna has met Austrian counter-attacks successfully and is pressing on towards his goal.

The Turks are showing some activity in Palestine against the British forces there.

ANOTHER YEAR OF FIERCER FIGHTING

New York, Sept. 17.—A special despatch to the Evening Sun from Washington today says:

"Publication of Germany's reply to the Pope is awaited in Washington with only mild interest. From seemingly inspired press comments in Germany and Austria that have preceded, officials seem confident that it will not advance the cause of peace. As far as can be learned from these comments, it makes no attempt to discuss peace terms, though professing to fall in with the general views of the Vatican concerning the need for a lasting peace."

The impression grows stronger daily that there must be another year of war and the belief is held in many quarters that next year's fighting will surpass in fury anything that has yet occurred in the world conflict.

Both sides are preparing for this supreme test of strength with every ounce of reserve energy their war industries possess. Papers from behind the German lines tell of the piling up of munitions faster than the guns at the front can use it.

Under federal control munition workers are being prodded to their utmost with promises of big victories to come next spring. Actually, however, it is thought here that these immense stores of ammunition are being piled up, not so much for the launching of new offensives by Germany as to meet what German military experts look forward to as the strongest attacks which her enemies have yet put forth.

It is in realization of what the next year promises in a military way that the Allies are steadily expanding the scope of their preparations.

Conscription
Of Wealth Is Advocated

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The morning and afternoon sessions of the thirty-third annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of the Dominion of Canada, which opened here yesterday, were devoted principally to the cleaning up of some routine business and the formal welcome of the 284 delegates. In the afternoon there was an interchange of courtesies and addresses by Sir Robert Borden, President J. C. Watters, Local President John Cameron and other officials. The excitement at the morning session was furnished by the delegate from British Columbia, who somewhat strenuously objected to the Hon. W. T. Crothers, minister of labor, addressing the convention on the ground that it would be a "waste of time," and by President Watters, who received a great ovation and who seized the opportunity of reminding the press representatives that this oration was from the men who "were to have chopped my head off."

It is likely that in the neighborhood of seventy-five or eighty resolutions will be presented at the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress convention. A number of the resolutions will deal with the various war problems as affecting the organized labor question. Resolutions, as far as the Dominion of Canada is concerned, is that proposed by the Trans-Canada, Manitoba, and Labor Council, regarding conscription. The Council, regarding conscription, promises to be long and lively and the final decision will be the attitude of organized labor of Canada on this most important issue.

There have been many conflicting opinions expressed by the delegates individually and privately regarding this resolution. There seems to be a general feeling, however, that the resolution will be carried, although there will likely be several amendments proposed. The discussion on this resolution, which is officially numbered 15, will commence tomorrow if the resolution is taken in its respective order, as much other resolutions at today's session were taken.

STATEMENT OF EXECUTIVE

In connection with the above resolution, the executive council of the trades and labor congress of Canada have the following comment to make: "In 1916 the trades and labor congress of Canada, at the annual convention, held in Vancouver declared an unqualified opposition to conscription as a method of military enlistment. Last year, at Toronto the same resolution was re-affirmed in all its emphasis. While the congress cannot stultify itself to the degree of either withdrawing or contradicting this year, its firm and carefully-thought-out position on the question of conscription as embodied in the resolution of 1916 and 1917, still under our representative form of government, it is not deemed either right, patriotic or in the interests of the dominion or of the labor classes, to say or to do anything that might prevent the results that be from obtaining all the powers that be for the enforcement of such law."

INVESTIGATING NEW STRIKE AT FERNIE

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, is making inquiry into the causes of a new strike which has developed in some of the coal mines in the Fernie district. As understood by the minister the strike is due to the imposition of the new provincial poll tax and deduction from the pay of the miners for the patriotic fund, amounting to wages for one shift.

The death of Mrs. James Bain of Yarmouth occurred on Monday morning. She was fifty-four years old.

SENSATIONAL
IN WASHINGTON

Russia To Quit War and Sell Supplies To Germans?

Declared "Not Unlikely"

Kerensky Government Said to Be in Throes of Struggle With Radicals Who Are For Peace or Pro-German

New York, Sept. 18.—A despatch to the Chicago Tribune from its Washington correspondent, reproduced this morning in the New York Tribune says: While officials were sounding today the praises of Kerensky for proving a republican form of government at Petrograd, there reached Washington the most disheartening intelligence since the United States became a belligerent.

Russia, according to an official report, is not unlikely to conclude a separate peace with Germany and quit the war, selling to Germany all military supplies as well as foodstuffs and raw materials.

The Petrograd government, though it has triumphed over the Korniloff insurrection, is now in the throes of an even mightier struggle, the outcome of which will be of vital consequence, not only to republican Russia but to the United States and the allies.

The Maximalists have triumphed over the constitutional Democrats and the conservative element of the council of workmen and soldiers' deputies in several tests of power in the last few days, and now threaten to dominate the entire government. These triumphant radicals are either pacifistic or pro-German and have long been advocating a separate peace with Germany.

Rotary Club
Entertained
No. 9 Battery

There was a jovial gathering of men in khaki and men from civil life in Bond's restaurant last evening, when the entire No. 9 Battery, including both officers and men, were the guests of the Rotary Club of St. John.

It was a gathering seldom seen in the city, a group of men in khaki and in uniform of rank and file sat side by side with commissioned officers and prominent members of the Rotary Club mingled with khaki clad individuals.

It was shortly after dark when the officers and men of No. 9 Battery fell in along the south side of King square and marched from there into Bond's restaurant, where they were met and greeted by His Worship Mayor Hayes on behalf of the Rotary Club.

The mayor extended a hearty welcome in a few remarks to No. 9, after which the men, officers and members of the Rotary Club sat down to an inviting repast.

President Ganter, of the Rotary Club, was in the chair. Major Wetmore, O. C. of the battery occupied the seat of honor.

After all had done justice to a tempting meal, the speaker spoke briefly, thanking the Rotary Club on behalf of the battery. He paid a glowing tribute to the men under his command, a particularly fine class of men. This meant both officers, N. C. O.'s and gunners.

Dr. Francis Walker, an officer of the unit, was called upon and entertained those present with an original and humorous monologue. Dr. Walker warmly commended for his clever composition and original execution of the piece.

Mr. Cockburn gave a splendid address on behalf of the gunners of the battery. His remarks were well received and well delivered.

Mr. Somerville, chaplain of the battery, also spoke briefly. He also touched on the fine class of men in this battery and said they were hard to beat.

For the Rotarians, Messrs. E. A. Schofield, R. E. Armstrong, T. H. Somerville and A. M. Belding were called upon unexpectedly by the chairman to say a few words. All concurred in the opinion that No. 9 was a splendid battery and would bring honor and glory to the province which they represented.

A feature of the evening was a series of recitations by the speakers, by courtesy of W. H. Thorne & Company, Limited.

NEW ROUTE TO WESTERN CANADA PROVING POPULAR

Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of
New Ontario and the Cobalt Mining District.

On your next trip to Western Canada why not travel over a new route, the wonderful land opened up in Northern Ontario by the Transcontinental Railway and gain a glimpse of Fenimore's and the Cobalt silver mining region?

You may use two famous trains on your journey without any added expense for railway fare as compared with any other route. The International Limited will carry you to Toronto, where the National starts on its westbound flight. The National uses the rails of the Grand Trunk to North Bay, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (Provincial Government line) to Cochrane, and the Canadian Government Railway to Winnipeg.

A pleasant daylight run to Toronto, a pleasant night run to Toronto, a pleasant run to the Queen City and the National is ready to carry you westward. The departure of the National from Toronto is at 10.45 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. North Bay is reached early next morning and you are then on your way to the most beautiful and fertile of the territories. The area of New Ontario is 380,000 square miles, fully four times the size of Old Ontario, and in addition to great square miles of good farming land, it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water power, fish and game.

The three railways have combined to make the passenger service over this new route the equal of that offered anywhere on the continent. The smooth, straight and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is assured.

NEWEST IN WOMEN'S HATS

Shapes and Trimmings That Are Now
In Vogue in Millinery

(New York Times) millinery Reports from the widest sources indicate that there is still a pronounced tendency toward soft effects in brim or crown, or both, for fall. Some stiff brims have yet soft crowns. There is also a strong tendency, according to the bulletin of the Millinery Association of America, toward the use of kalmesky fur for edges, around the bases or tops of crowns, or for use as full crowns. The leading colors are black, navy, purple, brown, taupe, beige and bordeaux. Velvet hats in American Beauty red and poppy red are worn in this city to some extent.

Only a fair business is reported on these colors, however. Among the popular shapes are large mousroom and sailor effects in black and brown plush, with soft, pleated crowns. The bulletin also gives in detail the purchases made, for September selling by one of the best-known millinery buyers in the city. They include velvet (piece goods) and panne velvet in purple, dark brown, dark gray, American Beauty red and French blue. Hatters' plush also has been bought in black and white, all of these goods being for workroom use.

Liberal purchases also have been made of ornaments, appliques and beaded effects, spangles and wood decorations. Wool in high colors was bought from the store's own art department for use in the workroom in making fancy applique work for hats.

The September purchases also included small flowers, mostly flat effects in high shades, old rose, pink, jack rose, yellow, and orchid—the shades that will go well with dark hats. Feathers, black, white, pheasant and chicken were ordered in black, blue, brown, and purple.

Ostrich for high-grade dress hats was bought in the form of military pompons, tiny French heads, clusters of tips both in medium and small bunches—and also plumes, both curled and flat.

BISHOP'S APPEAL
FOR AMBULANCES
FOR USE IN ITALY

New York, Sept. 17.—
Sir—David Bispham, the American baritone, whose son is now serving in the British army and whose daughter is the wife of an Italian officer, makes the following appeal on behalf of the "American Ambulance in Italy":

The poets of America have pledged themselves to raise a large amount of money for ambulances urgently needed for the Italian army.

In the name of the singers of America an earnest appeal is hereby made to all vocalists, native or foreign, as well as to instrumentalists and music lovers in general, to contribute at the earliest possible moment at least one million dollars to a similar fund to aid the wounded of the land of song, to whose art and artists our country owes an everlasting debt of gratitude.

Contributions of any amount will be thankfully received and acknowledged. Two thousand dollars cabled to Milan will place a motor ambulance at the front at once. Checks to the order of the "American Singers' Ambulance in Italy" may be sent either to me or to John M. Fulton, treasurer, at The Musicians' Club, 62 West 45th street, New York.

Trusting that you will assist this worthy cause by according it the publicity it deserves, I remain,
Yours faithfully,
DAVID BISHAM.

SECRETARY LANSHING'S TWO SISTERS ARE IN FRANCE

Leave for Front to Establish Stations for French Soldiers

Paris, Sept. 18.—Miss Katherine T. Lanasing and Miss Emma S. Lanasing, sisters of the American Secretary of State, who have arrived at Bordeaux with a party of American Red Cross workers, left for the front, where they intend to establish aid stations for French soldiers.

At a meeting of the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium Commission yesterday at River Glade, among those present were Lieutenant Governor Ganong, Hon. J. A. Murray, Hon. C. J. Osman, Hon. C. W. Robinson and Dr. A. F. McAvenny of St. John. The question of caring for returned soldiers was discussed but plans are not yet finished.

AN INVITATION TO WOMEN

Women are invited to visit the laboratory of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. at Lynn, Mass., and see for themselves what accuracy, skill and cleanliness this wonderful remedy for women's ailments is prepared. Over 250,000 pounds of roots and herbs are used annually in making this famous medicine. The great bins of herbs, the huge tanks filled with the medicine ready to be bottled, and the bottling room where it is put up and labelled for the market, cannot help but impress them with the reliability of this good, old-fashioned root and herb remedy, which for the past forty years has been so successful in the home treatment of female ills.

BUSINESS AND WAR NEWS OF DAY OVER STOCK BROKERS' WIRES

(J. M. Robinson & Sons, private wire telegram.)
New York, Sept. 18.—Chile Copper surplus for six months ended June 30, $5,877,748. Equal to $1.42 a share earned in six months on $95,000,000 capital stock of $25 par value.
Canadian Pacific 2nd week September decrease $37,000.
Conference of war revenue bill to report war profits tax schedule based on house exemption of 8 p.c. of capital in- vested instead of from 6 to 10 p.c. pro- vided in bill as passed by senate.
Mortuaries of soldiers and sailors at war talked in congress.
Germany's reply fails to satisfy Ar- gentine and break in relations may fol- low.

Milk Situation

That the Housewives' League will call a boycott against Kings county milk pro- ducers was the opinion expressed by Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, the president, at the conclusion of a long conference with rep- resentative producers held behind closed doors at the mayor's office yesterday afternoon. She also expressed the opin- ion that the producers should be pro- secuted for alleged conspiracy to raise the price of milk, and that a city by-law should be passed prohibiting the manu- facture of ice cream, and that the city should import a carload of condensed milk for the use of infants. It was also suggested that the city should be routed for St. John county milk producers, each dealer covering a certain section of the city.

SEIZE HIDDEN GOLD ON SHIP

Customs Officers Find $50,000 in Spanish Vessel's Stores
Guilford, Sept. 18.—Customs officials have removed from a Spanish steamer approximately $50,000 in gold coin se- creted in a large quantity of ship stores. The seizure was made by an advertisement from the vessel was scheduled to leave for a Spanish port. An investigation was ordered.

LITTLE BOY HAD DIARRHOEA

Only Blood Passed Bowels
Diarrhoea, dysentery and summer com- plexion are responsible for more deaths, especially of children, during the sum- mer months, than any other form of disease.
Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole sys- tem is weakened, and no other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration unless often collapsed.
Mrs. E. Stoddart, Lower Clark's Har- bor, N. S., writes: "When my little boy was a year and a half old he was taken awfully bad with diarrhoea. I had the doctor, but he got worse so that only blood passed his bowels. I tried every- thing, but he got no relief. One day while I was at work, I picked up a piece of paper, on it was an advertisement for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Straw- berry. After trying a bottle he began to get better, and the second one made a cure. I would not be without it in the house for my little ones. I am proud to say "Dr. Fowler's" saved my little boy's life."
Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Straw- berry has been on the market for over seventy-two years, and there are many imitations of this wonderful bore. Put up only by The T. Millburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GENERALLY IRREGULAR MOVEMENT IN WALL STREET THIS MORNING

New York, Sept. 18.—Wall street— Many of the active stocks moved within a narrow range in the early trading to- day. Bearish feeling was less evident in some shares which have been under heavy pressure recently, but in other quarters selling was prominent, and the general movement was irregular. Bethle- hem Steel, selling ex-rights of one per cent, was again depressed. United States Steel opened at fractional gains, but failed to maintain its advantage. Heaviness appeared in the public utilities. The marines, St. Paul, Mexican Petroleum and Distillers Securities were strong. A block of $400,000 liberty bonds sold at par.

INTERESTING BUSINESS AND POLITICAL REPORT

The following interesting item was in the Saturday's issue of the Truro Citizen:
It has been announced this week that Lt.-Col. John Stanfield is retiring from politics and will not again carry the conservative standard for Colchester. There is a rumor that Frank Stanfield will soon retire from Stanfield's Limited and that a new woolen mill will be started on their own accord by the Stanfield Bros. Col. Stanfield has spent a week in Amer- ica, and will be returning to Canada and Woodfield Mills, and Frank Stanfield has just returned from upper Canada and spent this week with some of the big mill men of the United States. Just what is in the wind is hard to say as no announcement has as yet been made.
Our representative saw Colonel Stan- field before he left for America, but he had little success. He was noncommittal beyond the fact that he was taking up business again, that he was only a small partner in Stanfield's Limited and that if Frank Stanfield decided to go into another business he would doubtless go with him as they have always been so- ciated and most successfully together.

LONDON STOCK MARKET

London, Sept. 18.—The stock market was quite steady with few features to- day. Most of the business was in sugars, oil and shipping shares, at firm prices. Russian and gilt-edged securities were maintained and investors gave their at- tention to Chinese and Japanese bonds, but Argentine rails were depressed by strike news.
Money was offered, but the demand was poor. Discount rates were steady.

Not Wounded

A curious mistake seems to have been made in connection with the official re- port saying that Lieut. Douglas W. White, son of Dr. W. W. White, was killed in action and died on Sept. 10. The Tele- graph yesterday morning contained the news item telling of Lieut. White being officially reported wounded and gassed. The despatch from the adjutant-general at Ottawa came to the relatives of Lieut. White, stating that from information gathered at the record office in Lon- don Lieut. White was reported there as being neither wounded or gassed but was in No. 45 Stationary Hospital, France, under observation for diphtheria.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Physicians Recommend the Use of Magnesia.
Sufferers from indigestion or dyspepsia should remember that the presence of gas or wind in the stomach invariably in- dicates that the stomach is troubled by excessive acidity.

This acid causes the food to ferment and the fermenting food in turn gives rise to noxious gases which distend the stomach, hamper the normal functions of vital internal organs, cause acute head- aches, interfere with the action of the heart, and charge the blood stream with the deadly poisons, which in time must ruin the health. Physicians say that to quick- ly dispel a dangerous accumulation of wind in the stomach and to stop the food fermentation which creates the gas, the acid in the stomach must be neutralized and that for this purpose there is nothing quite so good as a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia taken in a little water immediately after meals. This instantly neutralizes the acid, thus stopping fer- mentation and the formation of gas, and enables the inflamed, distended stomach to proceed with its work under normal conditions. Bisulphated magnesia is ob- tainable in powder or tablet form from any druggist; but as there are many dif- ferent forms of magnesia it is important that the bisulphated which the physicians prescribe should be distinctly ascertained.

"Unwritten Law" Saves Officer In England

Details of a Husband's Summary Defence of His Wife's Honor and Acquittal By British Jury

A remarkable case is that of Lieutenant Douglas Malcolm, Royal Artillery, attached to the Headquarters Staff of the British army in France, who, at Old Bailey, London, on Sept. 11, after a trial of a few hours, was acquitted of the murder of Anton Baumberg, alias "Count Borch," believed to be a German agent, but mentioned in the London press merely as a "dacker."

Before the coroner's jury which gave the verdict of "justifiable homicide," the police court justice who held him for trial, and the jury at Old Bailey which set him free, Malcolm repeatedly declared that he had killed the count to save his honor.

The London press emphasized the fact that the case is the first in the history of English jurisprudence where the "unwritten law" has prevailed as a defence at a murder trial.

Yet, the defense made no attempt to introduce that plea and the prosecution repeatedly declared that it could not be admitted. The prosecution, however, did a remarkable thing. Its attorney at the examination said:

"All homicide is prima facie murder. This case contains every element of willful murder. But in this case it will be admitted by the prosecution, and contended by the defense, that if ever there did exist, or could exist, a motive which would be adequate for murder, that motive existed with the prisoner in this case."

There were other curious phases: The whole procedure occupied less time than was ever known before in a British murder case—the deed was done on Aug. 14; on Sept. 11 the perpetrator was a free man. There were stories of challenges to duels sent and ignored and revelations secretly made by Scotland Yard to the defendant in regard to the mysterious "count" which did not figure as evidence at either the examination or trial.

The Inquest At the inquest held by Mr. Byrne, deputy coroner for Paddington, it was shown that "Count de Borch," age 32, was found in his bed on the morning of Aug. 14 in a boarding house at 3 Portchester place, Hyde Park, with fatal shot wounds in his head and chest and that Lieutenant Malcolm was present.

Detective Sergeant Alfred Davies said that Lieutenant Malcolm, while waiting to go before the magistrate, said: "It is all over now. I went to give him a good thrashing with the whip. I gave him one before he is such a coward. I have done all I can to get him away from my wife, and her from him. He is a white slave trafficker, and a spy. Scotland Yard knows all about him. I have called there. You can imagine how I felt when I saw the coward who has been trying to get my wife to go away with him, and me out in France helpless to defend her honor. Can you wonder at what I did on the impulse of the moment when I saw the cur before me who was luring my wife to dishonor?"

The witness, continuing, said that Baumberg was a powerfully built man of 5 feet 11 1/2 inches, but was not in good condition, being "flabby" in appearance. Police Constable Stephens of Scotland Yard said that Lieutenant Malcolm said to him: "I want you to come to 3 Portchester Place. I have shot a man." The witness accompanied the lieutenant to that address, and there saw the body of a man lying on the bed bleeding from the head and chest, with the mouth wide open. The bedclothes were all disarranged. Lieutenant Malcolm said to him: "I suppose you had better have the revolver that I shot him with."

Detective Sergeant McLattie, who made a search of Baumberg's room, said that he found a loaded pistol in one of the drawers, correspondence, mostly from women, and three letters addressed to Baumberg from Lieutenant Malcolm. He also found several letters from Mrs. Malcolm to Baumberg. Mrs. Malcolm had acknowledged that she had written them. At the police station the witness charged Lieutenant Malcolm with the murder of Anton Baumberg, and he replied: "Very well, I did it for my honor."

On August 11 Lieut. Malcolm wrote to Baumberg as follows: "If I ever hear of your trying to see or even talk to my wife again, wherever I am I will get leave and hunt you out and give you such a thrashing that even your own mother would not know you, and I will thrash you until I have maimed you for life. This I swear before God, in whom I believe, and He is my witness."

On August 14 (the day on which Baumberg was shot), Lieut. Malcolm wrote to his wife: "My Very Own Darling Dorothy:—Dear God. It is time—everything points to it that this creature is the most unutterable blackguard ever lived. I shudder to think that he ever dared to speak to you. I simply can't stand it any longer. I am going to thrash him until he is unrecognizable. I may shoot him if I think he has got a gun. I expect he has, as he is too much of a coward to stand a thrashing. If the inevitable has to happen, of course, I may get it in the neck. You see I am quite cool. If that happens, oh, believe me, my own little darling, my beloved soul whom I love so absolutely, believe me, it is only for your sake, believe me, my own brave woman, noble, honorable and upright, with a beautiful soul, I believe in God. I said yesterday that I did not, but I do, I do. I thank God from the bottom of my heart that He has sent me over in time to save you from this devil incarnate. Your honor is saved, thank God. Oh, thank God. "Good-bye, which means God be with you. I love you. I shall go on loving you for eternity, for ever and ever. I know I shall meet you in the next world. If the worst happens, when you will come to me with open arms, and with those beautiful eyes shining, and say to me, 'Duggy, I forgive.' "Yours for ever and ever, oh, so lovingly, your own Duggy."

After the coroner's jury had brought in the verdict: "Justifiable homicide in self-defense," Lieut. Malcolm was instantly arrested and arraigned at Marylebone police court. The examination at the Marylebone police court took place before Mr. Bingley, R. D. Muir, instructed by F. W. Williamson, represented the director of public prosecutions, and H. D. Roomer, instructed by A. E. N. Ward, solicitor, defended the prisoner. Lieut.-Col. Lord Abthumney and Captain H. T. Hewett, assistant provost marshals, were present on behalf of the military authorities.

"The prisoner," said Mr. Muir, in his opening statement, "is charged with the willful murder of Anton Baumberg, and it will be my duty to ask you to consider material facts are simple. The prisoner was married to his wife some time in 1914, before the war, and in the present year he was serving with his regiment in France. His wife was at home, and the prisoner had made every provision for her which an indulgent husband of considerable means could make. "She seems to have formed a connection at some time or other with this man Baumberg. What their real relations were is immaterial. What is material is what the prisoner believed them to be. He believed his wife had been quite faithful to him, but was being pursued by Baumberg, who was endeavoring to persuade her to go away with him and abandon her husband. "Mr. Muir went on to tell of the lieutenant's unexpected return from France and his thrashing of Baumberg, whom he found with his wife at a Hampshire country house, and the unaccepted challenge.

"Baumberg," counsel continued, "seems about this time (soon after the assault), to have been in the possession of an automatic pistol. On August 12 prisoner paid a visit to Mr. Oliver, the secretary of the club (the Junior Conservative), to which Baumberg, in the false title of the Count de Borch, belonged. This visit was for the purpose of obtaining Baumberg's address, and in the course of conversation with Mr. Oliver statements were made which led them to go to Scotland Yard together where Lieutenant Malcolm acquired some knowledge of the character of the count—knowledge which was not calculated to lessen his anxiety on his wife's account. "Finally the prisoner expressed his intention of giving the man another thrashing, and he seems to have been contemplating fatal results to himself as the possible result of what he was about to do, because he made a will leaving his property to his wife's mother, Mrs. Taylor. "He put the will and a letter to his wife in his pocket and went in search of Baumberg. He carried with him an automatic pistol, a large service weapon, and a heavy hunting crop. What happened in Baumberg's room nobody alive except the prisoner could tell. Almost immediately after his admittance people in other parts of the house heard the sound of four or five shots and a minute or so later the prisoner himself came out of the house and told the first policeman he met what he had done. "I have shot a man," he said, and together he and the policeman went back to the house where Baumberg was lying dead across his bed within almost a hand-grasp of an open drawer where a loaded automatic pistol lay. When later he was called to the witness stand, and charged with murder, he said: 'Very well, charged me with what you like. I did it for my honor.' "That, in brief," went on Mr. Muir, "is the tale of the tragedy. There are three courses open to you," he said to the magistrate, "first, to commit the prisoner for trial for willful murder; secondly, to commit him on the minor charge of manslaughter; or, thirdly, to discharge him if, in your opinion, upon the evidence the homicide was justifiable. All homicide is prima facie murder. This case contains every element of willful murder in its primary sense, and I submit that willful murder was the thing determined upon before the prisoner ever entered Baumberg's room. "It has many times been stated, as to motive, that no motive can be adequate for murder. But in this case it will be admitted by the prosecution, and contended by the defense, that if ever there did exist or could exist a motive which would be adequate for murder, that motive existed with the prisoner in this case. He had a wife to whom he was devotedly attached, in whom he had complete confidence, and who, by reason of her husband's absence at the front, was left in England unprotected. She was being pursued by a man who could only be described as a scoundrel of the worst type to take advantage of a young woman in this situation. He believed that his wife was being, until then, unsuccessfully pursued by this man, and was on the brink of ruin, and that nothing but a separation from him would save her. "He had tried the expedient of thrashing him, unsuccessfully; he had challenged him to fight a duel, without reply; he had even suggested the expedient of buying him off with a man who carried a deadly weapon; he took with him also a heavy hunting crop; and when he entered the count's room he was apparently quite master of himself and his own emotions. "There was nothing in any statement made by the prisoner to show that any attempt at self-defense had been made by the count; indeed, all the prisoner's statements showed that the shooting was deliberately and intentionally done. Maybe, when he set his eyes upon this scoundrel, the effect upon him was so great that he could not wait to give him a thrashing, but shot him dead at once." Detective Sergeant Alfred Henry deposed that while the prisoner was waiting to go before the magistrate on Aug. 14, he remarked: "Oh, well, it is all over now. I went to give him a good thrashing with the whip. I gave him one before, but he is such a coward, I have done all I can to keep him away from my wife and her from him. He is a white slave trafficker and a spy. Scotland Yard knows all about him. I have called there. You can imagine how I felt when I saw the coward who was trying to get my wife to go away with him, and me out in France helpless to defend her honor. Can you wonder at what I did on the impulse of the moment when I saw the cur before me who was luring my wife to dishonor?"

The last witness was Detective Sergeant McLattie, who said, when charged with the murder the prisoner said: "Very well, I did it for my honor." In a drawer in Baumberg's room the sergeant said he found the letter which the prisoner sent to the deceased challenging him to a duel, and also the letter in which he repeated the challenge, and a third one in which he threatened to thrash de Borch. Then came the trial by jury at Old Bailey before Justice McCarthy, at which most of the foregoing evidence was reproduced. In opening for the defense Attorney Simon declared: "We do not appeal to the 'unwritten law,' but only to justice. Lieutenant Malcolm acted the only course open to him to save not only his wife's honor but her body and soul from destruction at the hands of an infamous scoundrel." Justice McCarthy in summing up vigorously attacked the "unwritten law." "The 'unwritten law,' his honor declared, "opposes the elementary principles of British justice that the husband has no legal property in his wife's body; that she is mistress of her own destiny and if she chooses to give herself to another the husband is not entitled to punish the other man." In spite of this summing up the jury ordered the defendant acquitted.

REV. H. C. FRASER Says the Vancouver World: "Cook's Presbyterian church, Chilliwack (B. C.), was filled to the doors on Sunday last, when the Rev. H. C. Fraser, M.A., delivered his farewell address to the congregation, prior to his leaving for St. John (N. B.), where he will take over the charge of Knox Presbyterian. Mr. Fraser has been ministering to the congregation of Cook's for the past four years, during which time, through his straightforward, kind and genial disposition he won the hearts of all, and his departure is much regretted. He has, however, been called to a large field of activity in the important eastern city of St. John, and in that sphere he will have the good wishes of the people of the Garden City.

Y. W. C. A. DIRECTORS A meeting of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. was held in the conference room of the association yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John McAvity was in the chair and a large number were present. The president presented a very full report touching on the work of all the departments in connection with the home. Reports were also presented from the committee on house membership and on travelers' aid work. An expression of appreciation was given on the splendid work done by Mrs. P. B. Warren, and regret was expressed that she is leaving the city. Mrs. Plaglor was appointed convener of the membership committee in place of Mrs. Warren. The number of memberships in the association is 78.

Mrs. Lawrence gave a report of the travelers' aid for the month. The report showed that 240 claims were met and 151 persons were cared for within the walls of the home. Subscriptions to the aid of $60 were reported and the board directors express their thanks to 15 persons who contributed to the work of the home.

IDLE SHELL PLANTS TO BE CONVERTED

Imperial Munitions Board Makes Important Proposition Respecting Change; Orders to be Filled Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Many plants which have hitherto been engaged in the manufacture of 8 inch and 9.2 inch shells for the British government will be converted into plants suitable for producing six inch shells. A recent announcement by the Imperial Munitions Board was to the effect that the manufacture of certain types of projectiles which can be turned out in Great Britain in as large quantities as required would not be continued in Canada. It is also stated that certain other shells would be manufactured in reduced quantities and that still others would be manufactured in large quantities which would keep the factories running day and night. Plants that previously made the 9.2 and 8 inch sizes, of which there is a considerable number in Ontario and Quebec, have of late not been in operation. The Imperial Munitions Board has proposed that those plants be changed to make the six inch projectile. To firms which so convert their plants contracts for the smaller shells will be given.

These Men Will Help You Decide

Are you liable to be selected for service under the Military Service Act? The answer to this question is being made readily available for you. Remember that the first class to be called includes only men between the ages of 20 and 34, both inclusive, who are unmarried or widowers without children, those married after July 6, 1917, being deemed single for the purposes of the Act. Medical Boards are now being established throughout Canada. These Boards will examine, free of charge and obligation, all men who wish to be examined as to their physical fitness for military service. They will tell you in a very short time whether your physical condition absolves you from the call or makes you liable for selection. It is important that you obtain this information as soon as possible. A certificate of unfitness from a Medical Board will secure for you freedom from responsibility under the Military Service Act from any Exemption Tribunal. A certificate of fitness will not preclude an appeal for exemption on any ground. In order that you may be able to plan your future with certainty, visit a Medical Board as soon as possible and find out if you are liable to be selected. Your family and your employer are interested as well as yourself. Issued by The Military Service Council.

BIG YACHT SUNK An American Port, Sept. 17.—News of the sinking of the yacht Union off the Canadian coast five days ago, as the result of explosions in her oil tanks, reached here tonight on the arrival by rail from a Canadian city of sixty-four members of the crew. There was no loss of life in the disaster, and only one man was injured. He is in a Canadian hospital suffering from burns. The Union, once the Vanadis, and one of the most beautiful of the American racing yachts, was owned until recently by C. K. G. Billings. WHY THE DIFFERENCE?
A St. John business man who was in Toronto a week ago yesterday enquired at the office of a prominent firm of coal dealers as to the price of coal and was told that he could have it carted in bags and delivered into cellar at $9.50 a ton. In Montreal it was $10.00 a ton, imported chiefly by rail. Who gets the extra $6 that is costing the St. John householder? There's something for the fuel controller to deal with.

JEWISH NEW YEAR
The Jewish New Year, which began, according to the custom of thousands of years, on sundown last Sunday, will end this evening at sundown. FORESTRY DRAFT DEPOT
Lieutenants Currie and Smart Have Made Success in Recruiting

Lieutenants G. Currie and James Smart, officers of the No. 5 Forestry Company, left behind on the sailing of the unit for overseas to recruit a draft for the unit, have met with a success in recruiting that the military officials have deemed it advisable to establish a forestry draft depot in Sussex. The authorization of this new unit went through a few days ago and information to this effect was received at the office of the New Brunswick command this morning.

This authorization will mean that when the lumbermen of this province have decided to don the uniform they will have a unit of their own with which to sign on.

Lieutenants Currie and Smart are both very efficient officers in their line and are making exceptionally good recruits. The depot will be at Sussex, it is understood, whether or not another depot is established in view of the Military Service Act which, it is said, will go into effect during the latter part of the month.

COURT CASE OVER A WILL

Matter of Unnamed Beneficiary of William McLean

Executor Directed to Pay Certain Sum to Person Whom He Did Not Wish to be In Want—Margaret Lemon Says She is the Person

The monthly sitting of the supreme court chancery division was held this morning with Chief Justice McLeod presiding.

The case of Margaret Lemon vs. Wm. Charlton and Elizabeth Charlton was fixed for trial on October 9. In this case a very interesting point is involved. The late William McLean in his will directed his executor, William Charlton, to pay a certain person, whom he would make known to him only, a certain sum which was also to be kept secret, payment to be made as soon after his death as convenient. He stated that he did not wish this person to be in want. The plaintiff says that she is the person. This the defendants deny, and further say that the legacy is bad in law being void for uncertainty. G. H. V. Belyea is the plaintiff's solicitor, and M. G. Teed, K. C. is solicitor for William Charlton, and L. P. D. Tilley, K.C., for Elizabeth Charlton.

In the case of the Town of Campbellton vs. Margaret Henderson, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., moved to have the buildings of the defendant removed, on the ground that they are not of the class of construction required by law within the district in which they are situated. The order was granted.

In the case of Elizabeth Bartsch vs. Jennie A. Ross et al an order was made for partition of a balance of about $500, being the net proceeds in a partition suit. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff.

DOUBLE WEDDING IN CHURCH OF ASSUMPTION

James Leo H. McGuire and Mary Loretta Morrissey; E. J. Morrissey and Katherine Genevieve Graham

At a pretty double wedding in the Church of the Assumption, Carleton, at eight o'clock this morning, Rev. J. J. O'Donovan united at nuptial mass Miss Mary Loretta Morrissey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey, 29 Albert street, West End, and James Leo McGuire of Montreal and also Katherine Genevieve Graham, daughter of Thomas Graham, of 160 Queen street, west, and Edward Joseph Morrissey, brother of the other bride.

The ceremonies were performed in the presence of friends and invited guests. Joseph McGuire and Thomas Morrissey, brothers of the groom, acted as best men and Miss Kathleen Morrissey and Miss Louise Graham, sisters of the brides, acted as bridesmaids. Both brides were given away by their fathers. Miss Morrissey wore a French grey gown of silk crepe faille with hat of grey velvet to match and a bouquet of pink and white roses. Her traveling suit was of Burgundy broadcloth with hat of gold velvet and she wore black fox fur; Miss Graham's gown was of sand colored Georgette crepe with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses. She wore a traveling suit of African brown with golden-brown hat.

There was a dainty wedding breakfast served in both houses immediately after the ceremony and in the afternoon a reception was held for the happy married couples at Mr. Morrissey's home. Many friends and relatives of the young people were present to congratulate them. Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey and Mr. and Mrs. McGuire will leave on the Montreal train tonight and will make their homes in Montreal.

GUNNER G. WATERS WOUNDED BUT APPARENTLY SLIGHTLY

Fairville Soldier Who Won Military Medal in Fighting at Hill 70

Yesterday to Mrs. William Watters, Sand Cove Road, Fairville, came word that her son, Gunner Gilbert Leslie Watters, had been admitted to No. 5 Field Ambulance Hospital on August 15 and discharged from hospital the same day, gunshot wound in left arm.

Gunner Watters is very well known in Fairville and his exploits have been eagerly read of by many friends who regret his mishap on this occasion, though judging by the telegram his wound is not serious.

At the attack on Hill 70 it will be remembered that Gunner Watters maintained communications on part of captured ground during the day under extreme difficulty and through time of danger. This he did though painfully wounded in the hand at eleven o'clock in the morning.

It was not until seven in the evening that he was relieved and his wound dressed, and for his valorous action he was awarded the Military Medal.

Prior to enlisting in the Siege Battery at St. John Gunner Watters had been employed with the Wilson Box Company.
