FIFTY-FIFTH AND SIXTY-FOURTH BATTALIONS ARE NOW FULLY FILLED

Recruiting More Satisfactory - Tonight's Big Meeting in King Square - Fine Report Brought From Fredericton - A Fighting Family - May be Change in Status of 64th - The 105th May be Located in St. John

The announcement made this morning that the ranks of the 64th Battalion have been filled, followed today with the further welcome word that recruiting for the 64th would no longer be necessary with the arrival of 100 men expected this afternoon in Sussex, it will have secured its complement. This is regarded as a most excellent showing, and proves that once the men of the night-time provinces when once the issue is put directly and properly before them are neither afraid nor unwilling to rally to the standard.

The question is now being freely discussed in military circles as to what effect the filling of the 64th will have on the stationing of that unit in this province. It is commended by a New Brunswick, Lieut. Col. Campbell, and in his list of officers are several from this province. The feeling is strong in Nova Scotia since its ranks have been filled almost entirely from that province that its command should be given to an officer from there, and the name of the second in command, Lieut. Col. Flowers is mentioned.

Russians Leaving Grodno and Right Bank of Niemen

Retiring Also Along Galicia Border But Fighting Strenuously - Allies Have Turkish Force Hemmed in at Dardanelles

London, Sept. 3.—The evacuation of Grodno is under way. Petrograd admits officially that Russian forces are being withdrawn from the right bank of the Niemen. The loss of the last of their strong fortresses, has been expected by the Russians, and the report that its evacuation is imminent caused no surprise here. It has been evident for some time that Grand Duke Nicholas had no intention of allowing a number of them sufficient to maintain a long defence, to be pinned up in any fortress which could be invested.

Along the Galicia border the Austro-German forces, which, but not without inflicting heavy losses on the Austro-German forces, have been shaken several times by vigorous counter attacks.

In the centre and the extreme north the Germans are making little progress. The Russians claim another local success near Vilna.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has captured Grodno.

TURKISH FORCE HEMMED IN Paris, Sept. 3.—An important part of the Turkish forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula has been surrounded by the allies and its surrender is imminent, says an Athens despatch to the Fourteen Agency.

A Way Out? London, Sept. 3.—The 'Times' naval correspondent, in an analysis of the Von Bernstorff note, arrives at the conclusion that it is an ambiguous document, the real value of which can only be measured when it is put into action.

He says that the note concludes with the proviso, which begs the whole question for him, he adds: "Manifestly a submarine can sight a merchantman before the latter sights the submarine, and if the ship fails to stop quickly enough for the German commander, he has the power of acting on the excuse that she attempted to escape."

FRANCE TO CARE FOR THE WOUNDED Paris, Sept. 3.—The government has determined to reserve for crippled soldiers a large number of places without regard to their political or religious beliefs, because all had served the country with equal courage, and had the right to equal recognition.

German Intrigue Paris, Sept. 3.—The decision of the French government, to hold up American mail for two days before forwarding it, was due to the discovery that Germany was communicating with persons in the United States through intermediaries in France.

Britisher Sunk London, Sept. 3.—The British steamer Roumania, 1,888 tons, has been sunk, presumably by a submarine. The crew was saved.

TONIGHT'S ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE RECRUITING RALLY

7:30—Bands leave starting points, St. Mary's at Haymarket square; Carleton Corner via ferry; City Corner at Scott's corner—all converging on King square. 8:00—Opening address by Mayor Frink. Both reverend gentlemen who will speak have volunteered for active service in the ranks.

NO CHANGE BUT DAYLIGHT AHEAD

City and Street Railway Company May Reach Agreement

CONFERENCE THIS MORNING Will Meet Again Tomorrow—Question at Issue is One of Expense—No More Rats Taken Up But No Effort Yet to Remove Existing Obstruction

After two and a half hours spent in conference this morning some hopes of an amicable settlement between the city and the street railway company were held, and another meeting will be held tomorrow morning and it is hoped that by that time both sides may reach a basis on which an agreement can be made.

In the meantime the concrete paving where the tracks formerly were, is slowly but surely being removed.

At the meeting this morning Mayor Frink presided and the city was represented also by Commissioners Potts and Wigmore, the common clerk, the road engineer and the city solicitor.

Taylor, vice-president of and solicitor for the St. John Railway Company, was present on behalf of the company. The meeting was called to order at eleven o'clock with closed doors, on account of the legal questions to be discussed, and continued until 1:30 o'clock.

At the close of the meeting Mayor Frink made a brief statement. He said, "As the city is involved legally in this matter there is not much that can be said at present. However, I may say that there are some things that can be said and we hope that by tomorrow there may be enough daylight shining through to enable us to see our way out."

Commissioner Potts offered to complete the work on the same terms as the work was done in Union and Sydney streets and leave the decision as to who should pay the bills to the courts, again, but Taylor did not seem willing to consent to this.

Worship said that the company did not disclaim their liability to the rails up to grade, but when asked why the difference between the company and the city would only say that it is a matter of expense.

As the city has contended that the recent court decision laid upon the company the obligation to place permanent foundations under all their rails, which would eventually cost the company something like $200,000, it is said to be possible that this prospect is the reason for the company's attitude.

When asked whether he intended to carry out the instructions contained in the injunction issued by Judge Grimmer requiring the city to remove the concrete and relay the rails, Commissioner Potts said that this would not be undertaken until the court has given a decision in the matter or a settlement has been reached.

Injunction Issued An injunction was secured from Judge Grimmer by the St. John Railway Company yesterday afternoon, restraining the city from further interference with the company's rails in Main street until after the trial of the action or further order. The order also instructs the city to remove the obstruction which has been placed in the rail section, and to relay the rails and track taken up by the city.

When the injunction was served, the work on the rail section was stopped, but no steps were taken yesterday to remove the concrete pavement which has been laid in the space formerly occupied by the tracks.

Some Criticism Street railway officials say that they were never provided with a plan of the grade of Main street, and that to assent to the general principle that they must change their grade whenever asked for might result in their being compelled to do the work over again every year.

HOPE TO OUST P. E. I. PREMIER

Expectation of Conservative Defeat on September 16

HON. B. ROGERS LEADS LIBERALS

Former Governor Issues Manifesto - Many Things Seem to Point to Overtow of Government - No Seats by Acclamation

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Sept. 3.—For the provincial elections on September 16, the campaign is now in full swing. Each side has its full quota of candidates, thirty in all, in the field. There will be no elections by acclamation. It will be a fight to the finish and, judging from present indications, a finish of the Matheson administration.

Logically, the present government should win. They came into power on December 2, 1911, when the small Liberal majority was swept away in a by-election. In the general election of the following January they swept the country, gaining twenty-eight seats out of thirty.

It seems from a Liberal standpoint too good to be true that the Conservatives can be ousted after a single session of four years, but the signs of the times speak for themselves.

Taxation, the liquor problem, the road act, increased salaries, expenditure of money on farm products, municipal matters, increased debt, all mitigate against the government.

The Liberals have selected as their leader, Hon. Benjamin Rogers, ex-governor and former premier of the province. He succeeds Hon. John Richardson, who resigned to become a federal member of the House of Commons.

The Liberals have selected as their leader, Hon. Benjamin Rogers, ex-governor and former premier of the province. He succeeds Hon. John Richardson, who resigned to become a federal member of the House of Commons.

At the election the ballot vote replaces open voting. The change will benefit the Liberals, as the last year's election the official vote went almost to a man against them.

IMAGINES HIMSELF A DESERTER, PUTS AN END TO LIFE

French Lieutenant Had Been Investigating Cases and They Preyed on His Mind

Paris, Sept. 3.—The idea that a soldier of France should desert is a way at the time of his country's greatest need, so weighed upon the mind of Lt. Ponce, that he committed suicide last night under the hallucination that he himself was a deserter.

He was a clerk of the supreme court, and had been detailed to act as a representative of the ministry of justice, before the second court martial of Paris. In this capacity he was called upon to investigate many cases of desertion. The subject of his investigation upon him until he became deranged.

THEY ARE DOING WELL IN CAPITAL

Eleven Recruits at Meeting Last Night - The Heather is on Fire

At the great recruiting meeting in Fredericton last night, Bishop Richardson made a powerful address, and eleven recruits were secured. There will be a mass meeting this evening at City Hall, where the members of the board of trade, Retail Merchants' Association and Labor Unions are invited to attend.

One of the speakers will be Mr. McDade, who will discuss his plan of campaign as already outlined in the press. Premier Clarke discussed the plan with Mr. McDade last night, as did President Palmer of the board of trade. It is planned to have a great popular demonstration in Fredericton in fair week. The heather is on fire at the capital and great results are expected.

BRITAIN'S REGULATIONS AND AMERICAN COMMERCE

Washington, Sept. 3.—Instructions were sent to Ambassador Page at London yesterday, by the state department, to secure detailed information as to regulations in the enforcement of the British order-in-council against American commerce, which the British ambassador here has given informal assurance will be forthcoming.

The department wants to know just what character of shipments are now being sent to the United States, and to be allowed to come forward and through what channels application may be made to secure the release of American goods now held abroad. The ambassador was especially directed to discover if $3,000,000 has been subscribed by a group of Chinese merchants in this city and in the Orient, to finance a steamship line to ply between San Francisco and China, in competition with Japanese lines.

GREAT BATTLE WON BY BRITISH

New Turks Were Defeated on Gallipoli Peninsula

ENEMY CAUGHT IN TRAP

Swept Away by Hundreds - Officers in Khaki Save Day at One Point - Generals and Colonels Fight With Rifles and Bayonets

London, Sept. 3.—The following description of four days of the greatest battle yet fought on the Gallipoli Peninsula has been received here from Lt. Ashmead Bartlett, a noted correspondent with the British forces at the Dardanelles. It is dated August 19.

During the night of August 19 the New Zealanders were relieved by two other regiments. At dawn on the 10th the Turks, who were strongly reinforced, made a most desperate assault on our lines from Hill Q at Chankajik Bahr.

An entire division in successive lines hurled themselves on the two regiments, who, after a desperate resistance, were driven from the position by artillery fire, and the sheer weight of numbers, further down the line.

Following this success, the Turks charged over the crest and endeavored to gain the great gully south of Rhododendron ridge. They reckoned without our artillery and ships' guns.

The Turks were caught in a trap. The momentum of their charge down hill prevented them from retreating in time. They were swept away by hundreds in a terrific storm of high explosives, shrapnel and machine gun fire.

The Turks attacked in great strength all along the line from Danakajik Bahr, through Asma Dere and a farm north-east of Rhododendron ridge. At the front the Turks were met by our machine guns and the magnificent conduct of our officers saved the day. Generals and colonels fought with rifles and bayonets alongside the troops. Many commanding officers were killed, including General Baldwin.

FIVE MURDERERS ARE PUT TO DEATH - SING SING IN HOUR

Ostening, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Five murderers were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison today inside of six minutes.

The men in the order of their execution were Antonio Salernino of Munroe County, Paul Joseph of New York, Louis M. Roach of Palestine Boro, Thomas Tarpey and William Perry of New York.

CASE OVER PROPERTY ON KENNEBECAS ISLAND

An interesting case came up for trial this morning before Chief Justice McLeod in the Chancery Division. It is that of Charles A. McCormick and Ellen McCormick, wife of the defendant, William Leonard, against the estate of Charles Leonard. The dispute is over a tract of land containing about 100 acres, on Kennebecas Island.

The plaintiff, Charles A. McCormick, is now in possession of the land, and the defendant, William Leonard, is claiming a life interest. The property originally belonged to Leonard's father, of both plaintiffs, and was by him conveyed to Ellen McCormick more than twenty years ago. Leonard occupied the property as a tenant of Ellen McCormick until 1910. In May of that year Ellen McCormick became quite ill and came to the city to live with her sister, Catherine, wife of the defendant, William Leonard. About that time, it is alleged by the plaintiffs, it was agreed that Miss McCormick should convey the property to Mrs. Leonard as her own. A deed was accordingly executed, but no valid consideration given.

Subsequently it was agreed between Miss McCormick and Charles McCormick that she would sell the property to him for $800, allowing $700 of the same to remain on mortgage. The property was conveyed to him by Mrs. Leonard, and he paid $100 and gave a mortgage to Mrs. Leonard for the balance. The plaintiff says that all this was done by Mrs. Leonard as trustee for her, and that interest and principal paid on account of the mortgage was always paid over to the plaintiff, Ellen McCormick.

In December last Mrs. Leonard died, leaving husband and two children. The defendant denies that the property was conveyed to Mrs. Leonard in trust and sets up that she held it as her own property, and consequently claims for himself an estate for life as tenant by the courtesy. The plaintiffs asked for a declaration and decree of title as claimed by them and for an injunction restraining the interference with the plaintiff's possession. The plaintiff, Ellen McCormick, was examined this morning, M. G. Teed, K.C., and Dr. R. Quigley, K.C., are appearing for the plaintiffs, and D. Mullin, K.C., and J. H. A. L. Fairweather for the defendants.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE

London, Sept. 3.—The sum of $3,000,000 has been subscribed by a group of Chinese merchants in this city and in the Orient, to finance a steamship line to ply between San Francisco and China, in competition with Japanese lines.

Bulgaria Believed To Be Stretching Out The Matter Of Negotiations

Serbia, Rumania and Greece in Accord Over Revision of Balkans Treaty But Think Bulgaria Asks Too Much

Rome, Sept. 3.—Revision of the treaty of Bucharest has been agreed to explicitly by Serbia, Rumania and Greece, according to reports received here, but it is said these countries are not willing to satisfy entirely Bulgaria's claims to territorial compensation for participating in the war.

Bulgaria's pretensions apparently are irreconcilable which her neighbors are willing to grant and the impression is gaining ground here that she is prolonging the negotiations with the aim of postponing the day when she must reach a decision.

The treaty of Bucharest, which ended the Balkan conflict, following the victory over Turkey, was signed August 10, 1913, between Bulgaria on the one hand, and Rumania, Greece and Montenegro on the other.

By the treaty the Roumano-Bulgarian frontier starts from the Danube above Turtukal and ends on the Black Sea, south of Ekranse. The Serbo-Bulgarian frontier starts from the Fanars mountains, continues along the old Turco-Bulgarian frontier and the watershed between the Varna and the Strama and ends at the mountain of Belaschica. The Greco-Bulgarian frontier starts on the crest of the Belaschica range, and ends at the mouth of the river Nestos, on the Aegean Sea.

BRITAIN PAYS FOR SEIZED COTTON CARGO

Washington, Sept. 3.—The British embassy yesterday remitted $284,000 to W. Gordon McCabe of Charleston, N. C. for American cotton taken from the steamships Carolina and Baltic by British authorities several months ago.

The payment represented a valuation of nine cents a pound, while the invoice value was more than ten cents. It was understood the difference would be paid later.

CONSIDERED QUESTION OF INCREASING PRICE OF CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS

Toronto, Sept. 3.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association yesterday a discussion on the subject of the selling price of newspapers to subscribers, introduced by W. B. Preston, the Montreal Expressor. He proposed the formation of a strong committee to consider the advisability of increasing the price of papers. If the price increase it would help lift the standard of Canadian journalism.

E. P. Slack of the Montreal Gazette, declared that it was no use for the country papers to try to compete with city papers. He contended, however, that if the small paper catered to the local needs the townspeople would buy it.

WILL BE NO STREET CAR STRIKE IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Sept. 3.—Agreeing on a compromise, which is to continue in effect until some months after the war, when it is expected conditions will have partially righted themselves, officials of the street railway union yesterday called off their threat to call out 3,000 men on strike in lines in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

The street railway men received a telegram from the international union headquarters in Detroit, advising against a strike and making it plain that no such action could be expected from that source.

SIR SAM GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—A great crowd gave General Sir Sam Hughes an enthusiastic welcome back to Ottawa today. Many members of the cabinet were at the station to meet him. In response to calls for a speech, he said "I bring a message of good will from the boys at the front to the Canadian people. The boys are doing their duty like men and often think of the land they left."

THE WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, Ills., Sept. 3.—Wheat fell 1-8 to 5-8 at 8-4 today, on general selling by local traders and commission houses. September opened at 97 1/2 to 8-8. December 98 3/8 to 9-4, and May 97 1/4 to 8-1 1/4. Favorable weather in the northwest was the chief depressing factor. The bulge abroad in sterling exchange seemed not to be widely enough known to have an effect as yet. The market was nervous and active, and all options rallied a little in the first hour when some of the strong houses bought September. Range of prices was narrow.

Is This The Royal Edward?

Berlin, Sept. 3.—"Telegrams from Sofia," says the Overseas News Agency, "state that off the entrance to the Dardanelles, a British transport struck a mine and sank with 320 officers, 1,250 soldiers and 300 members of the crew, all of them were drowned. Six hundred bodies were recovered."

It is uncertain whether this refers to the sinking of the Royal Edward, or to the loss of another transport.

Leads The 1st C. M. R.—Prominent Young St. Croix Men Enlist—Maritime Province Notes

Spurgeon H. Keith, son of George M. Keith of Cornhill, N.B., who joined the 1st C.M.R. at Brandon, writes from Shorncliffe.

"Our colonel is from New Brunswick, Col. H. T. Stephenson. Some of them don't like him because he never says much, but I think he does a lot of thinking. I am glad I joined. We could buy our discharge for $15, but I don't believe you could hire one man to leave. One From St. John.

SHAW'S VIEWS ON COMPULSORY SERVICE

London, Sept. 3.—The Daily Sketch publishes the following letter, written by G. Bernard Shaw, to a fellow Socialist on the subject of compulsory service: "I don't think anybody is justified in asking anybody else to join the army. It is a serious question, which every man should decide for himself.

"It seems to me that all Socialists should advocate compulsory service, both civil and military, but compulsory soldiering is another matter. A soldier is a slave who has no rights of any kind. There is no reason why the work of the army should not be done by citizens with full civil rights."

UNITED STATES WILL MAKE NO MOVE FOR PEACE JUST YET

Washington, Sept. 3.—The United States will make no further efforts to bring about peace in Europe, until it has received word that its good offices will be welcomed by both sides in the conflict. This was stated authoritatively here today.

From the fact that the Vatican is in close touch with Austria the construction placed by officials on the Pope's message is that the Germanic powers would be willing to discuss peace at this time. It was said by those in close touch with the administration that similar word will have to be received from the most British side before the president will make any further move.

MISS ARNOLD HEARD

In Stone church school room yesterday afternoon Miss Jean Arnold, Canadian Field Comforts Commissioner, gave an interesting address on the importance of the work of the various Soldiers' Comfort Associations.

THE HEAD OF THAT BRANCH IN PARIS, DICTATED A BRIEF REPLY, SOMETHING LIKE THIS:

"Bottle-green coat, fawn-colored trousers, with top boots; silk hat, with coque side. Our prices are as follows, etc."

"I ALWAYS KNEW IT WAS EXPENSIVE TO GET MARRIED, BUT CAN'T YOU SUGGEST SOMETHING A LITTLE LESS ELABORATE?"

LIGHTER VEIN.

She was from Boston and he was not. He had spent a hair-raising evening discussing authors of whom he knew nothing, and their books, of which he knew less.

Presently the maiden asked archly: "Of course, you've read 'Romeo and Juliet'?"

He floundered helplessly for a moment and then, having a brilliant thought, blurted out happily: "I've—read 'Romeo'."

There is a man who used to be notoriously egotistic. Some of his acquaintances were one day speaking of him before an old lady who was not up in the slang expressions of the day.

"O, Mr. Smith," she cried, "I am so glad you are better, I heard last week that you had a swollen head!"

At a recent trial one of the witnesses was a great countryman, unused in the ways of the law, but quick, as it proved, to understand its principles.

"Mr. Kilkins, has not an effort been made to induce you to tell a different story?"

"A different story from what I told you, sir?"

"That is what I mean."

"Yes, sir; several persons have tried to get a different story from what I have told, but they couldn't."

"Now, sir, upon your oath I wish to know who those persons are?"

"Well, I guess you've tried 'bout as hard as any of 'em."

NEW WAR SONG PLEASES KING GEORGE IMMENSELY

"Michael O'Leary, V.C.," Supercedes "Tipperary" in Arousing Patriotism at Home and in Heavens Troops

The popular Irish song has become the popular tune to stir the patriotism of the people and is being sung at all recruiting camps as well as at all patriotic assemblages. It has succeeded in popularity "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" and is called "Michael O'Leary, V.C." King George was so pleased with it that when he was presented a copy by Sir Frederick Bridge, the author, he said: "It is splendid, and I will give it to my daughter to play over for me. It pleases me immensely."

The words of the song were composed by a well known Irish author, John McGrath, complimentary to Lance Corporal Michael O'Leary, of the First Irish Guards, perhaps the most lionized of all the winners of the Victoria Cross who have come back from the front "on short leave."

The story of the young Irish soldier's bravely has already been fully told; but it may be recalled that it was at Cuneilly on February 1, this year, when forming one of the storming party which advanced against the German barricades he dashed to the front and, single handed, killed five Germans who were holding the first barricade, after which he attacked a second barricade about sixty yards farther on, which he captured after killing three Germans and making prisoners of two more. He practically had captured the German position by himself, and prevented the rest of the attacking party from being fired upon.

The song opens with a line from the well-known Irish-American poem "The Fighting Race," and the first verse runs: "Kelly and Burke and Shea, Flanagan, Doolin and Geary, Very good men in their day— But nothing to Michael O'Leary! There was the black barricade, Germans all fixed with their rifles, Sheila and the grim cannonade; 'Tat,' says O'Leary, 'they're trifles.'"

Fall River, Sept. 2.—One man is dead and another in the City Hospital the result of a street fight here.

TIGHT SKIRTS TO SAVE GERMANY

Semi-Official Edict Puts Ban on Flowing Garments—Need the Cloth to Clothe The Soldiers

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Narrow skirts will be worn by the women of Germany until the war ends, if martial law succeeds in its attempt to dictate fashions.

The leading German dressmakers, in a patriotic desire to break away from the tyranny of Paris, went to the opposite extreme and decreed very wide skirts, mostly pleated, and also voluminous petticoats, for the autumn and winter.

The menace of the new all-German fashion did not escape the eyes of the government, which is taking steps to prevent the resultant squandering of cloth, particularly cotton material. As a first step all the papers are printing an inspired warning against wide skirts by a "highly placed personage," which is circulated by the semi-official Wolf Agency, and which reads:

"It is gratifying to note that our fashion is successfully striving to free itself from French and English leading strings and to pave its own way. Necessity makes us inventive and saving, and so we have been able to cheat the calculations of our enemies by being able to hold out to a victorious end with the necessities of life and warfare. Right has fashion in its new creations, subordinating itself to the highest thought? It took some time to accustom ourselves to the laughably tight gowns of our women and girls, and industry suffered by the fashion. But now, at the same moment when the leaders of the textile industry of the whole empire are consulting with the authorities over ways and means of stretching the stocks of textiles in order to supply the needs of the army and the population for the longest possible time by the wise limitation of consumption—at this moment German fashion, by advertisements and exhibitions, seeks to introduce wide and pleated skirts and underskirts larger than the prevailing mode by from 60 to 80 per cent.

"Can fashion so far transmute over us that when she goes to extremes we must thoughtlessly submit? There is still time to steer clear of the danger. The wholesale suit trade would do well, particularly so far as cotton goods are concerned, to come to the understanding with the government authorities before the government finds itself compelled, through a suitable warning, if necessary, by regulation, to see to it that its measures are not set at naught.

"Our women and girls will certainly not want to lay themselves open to the shame and just reproach of not having adjusted themselves to the demands and spirit of our earnest times. Since in peace times, from sheer whim, they made the most of their use of imaginatively of dress goods, so may they now consciously, and for the good of the Fatherland, continue so to do."

How far patriots will tighten and shorten skirts is still on the knees of the war gods.

BOHEMIANS IN U. S. DISCARD THE HYPHEN

Chicago, Sept. 2.—In a memorial of allegiance to the United States, sent to President Wilson and to the Austrian ambassador at Washington, the Bohemian National Alliance of Americans knocked out "the hyphen" by declaring that "there are no Bohemian-Americans. We owe allegiance to the United States only."

The memorial went to the Austrian representative as a protest against the movement to utilize former subjects of the Austro-Hungarian government in propaganda against export of munitions of war from the United States.

"We emphatically deny the assumption," says the memorial, "that the export of munitions of war violates any way the neutrality of the United States. We express our complete confidence in the government of this republic for its careful and correct attitude toward the one great neutral power, and we repudiate most emphatically the immoral and hypocritical campaign conducted against countries that defend violated Belgium."

P. E. ISLAND RHODES SCHOLAR HOME FROM SERBIA WITH WOUNDS

Roy Leitch Was Fighting With The Brave Serbs—Tells of Wonderful Rally Against Austrians

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sept. 2.—Roy Leitch, one of the Rhodes scholars from P. E. Island, has arrived from Serbia on a visit to Charlottetown, his native city, on sick leave. He has spent about a year in Serbia and was on the divisional staff of General Stepanovich in the second Serbian army during the war. He was the only Canadian in military service in that country. He took part in the battles of Lasarevatz and Suvobor.

Three days after their defeat at Coocha the Serbians made the most wonderful rally in military history. They abandoned Belgrade, their capital, the line of the Danube and all the rivers and concentrated all their forces on a new line. Then a new spirit came into the army. A supply of ammunition arrived at the psychological moment. Old King Peter left his sick bed and went to the trenches with his five sons. The Serbians fought as they never fought before. Although outnumbered three to one, they drove the Austrians before them and in three days smashed the enemy in the second battle at Suvobor.

Mr. Leitch has been in various parts of the country, generally around Belgrade. He has been in the first line of trenches on several occasions and has seen fighting at close range.

He declares that the Serbians saved the situation in the east as the Belgians did in the west. If they had not driven the Austrians out of the Balkan states would have gone to the aid of the Teutons and given them a million and a quarter of well trained war injured men.

Mr. Leitch has taken photographs and copious notes and will publish a book in the course of time. He was injured by his horse in the battle of Suvobor and he came home to undergo an operation. He will remain here about four months and then return to the front.

THE CANADIANS ON THE KENTISH DOWNS

Sturdy Sons of Dominion Win Praise in England

MORE ANGLO-SAXON THAN ARE THE ENGLISH

No Regiments in The British Army March Better and That is Saying a Great Deal—Engagement Rings For Many of The Girls

The London Daily Express, in a recent issue said—

"Yass—sure."

If you cross the South Downs in Kent at the present time, and ask the first soldier you meet if you are in the neighborhood of the Canadian camps, you will receive the reply, "Yass—sure," in the accent which seems to English ears to have had direct from "Chicago" but it is pure Canadian.

There are many thousands of Canadians camped on the Kentish Downs. A hundred years ago the Kentish yeomanry trained there to meet Napoleon's threat-these sons of the Maple Leaf, there is no doubting the breed from which they have sprung. They look, indeed, more Anglo-Saxon than the English, for they have the plowman bearing which must have marked the Anglo-Saxon invaders, but which centuries of settlement have tamed in the English. They are more like our forefathers than we are ourselves.

Marching As To War

Take your stand on some edge of the Downs a few miles from the camps and watch a brigade of the Canadians come over the hillside. They are marching as to war, battalion after battalion, each with its mule-train of ammunition, its supply wagons, its ambulances and a line of cooking stoves on wheels, bubbling as they go, with the smoke trailing from their chimneys. After them come the guns and the long line winds down the slope lane to the sea level and crawls away across the miles of marshland, towards the bivouac for the night. It is a ready for war brigade, made and hall-marked in Canada. But, as you stand near the little old church, where the head of the parish have been buried during a thousand years and as you watch these roving fighters swing by, the hearts of many of them beat to the sun and the breeze, and their grey-blue eyes bright with the joy of living, you begin to forget that they are all from Ontario, and that they are men who call themselves by that new name of Canadians.

You see in them the old Anglo-Saxon fighters who conquered Britain and made England.

They bivouac on the chilly marshes for the night, sleeping on their waterproof sheets, and at half past five in the morning are astride again, for they are to fight the battle of Hastings anew, as invaders, with another brigade as the defending enemy. The defenders—men from Quebec, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and New Brunswick (a battalion of French-Canadians among them)—have bivouaced on the hillside and at daybreak line the trenches prepared for the defence.

Light on England

The light occupies most of the day, and ends when the invaders, bridging a canal, turn the defenders' flank and gain the country at their rear. Like all true fighters when the fighting does not immediately concern them, some of the defenders snore peacefully in the shade at noonday under the trees, awaiting the signal for action. Here and there one of them gazes over the countryside with eyes for the beauty of the view.

"Sure, I never thought England was like this," says a New Brunswicker. "I always imagined England was all built up; I didn't think there'd be fields and sheep and trees. I guess I'd like to have a good look round England when this war is over."

The real excitement of the day is that of the scouts, who crawl round corners, lie in wait for the enemy and escape capture by miracles. A scout comes in galloping, pulls up beside the officer who sent him out and reports. He wastes no time in saluting, but just shakes his head and says: "Nothin' doin'." There is no excess of ceremony, but the Canadian officers and men understand and respect each other's worth.

It is a fine sight to see these Canadian brigades march past on the Downs, for there are no regiments in the British army which march better—and that is saying a great deal. You can see that every man of them is proud that he is a Canadian and means to make every body proud of Canada.

"I think the real reason why that king chained Bibles in the churches," a Kentish sexton said, "was that he knew the Canadians would be coming."

"Well," replied a Canadian soldier, "I guess I'd like the chain, too."

Many of them will either take living souvenirs back to Canada, or they will come and settle in England when the war is over. All the girls for miles around have engagement rings.

WENT HIM ONE BETTER

The Master was Merciful Careless, but the Servant Was Stupid.

There was a man who was careless and unobservant. Once when he was going abroad he hastily pulled in his shoes and found the scarf about his legs, ready to hasten away, when, to his surprise, he found that one of his legs had suddenly become longer than the other.

He was both puzzled and frightened, for he said to himself: "What can be the matter? When I last walked my legs were the same length. How queer it is! I have met with no accident, nor has any body cut a piece from my foot palm. He felt his legs and then his feet to solve the mystery. At last he discovered the mistake to be in his shoes, for he had put on one shoe with a thick sole and one with a thin sole. "These shoes are odd ones, and not a pair," said he.

So he called loudly for his servant and ordered him quickly to change his boots. The servant went into the room to bring the master's boots, but after a little time came back with a puzzled expression on his face.

The master sternly demanded the boots for which he had sent him, but received for his answer: "Dear master it is very strange, but there is no use for me to change your boots, for when I examined the pair of boots in the room I found that they are just like the pair you have on, for one has a thick sole, the other a thin sole—St. Nicholas Magazine.

body cut a piece from my foot palm. He felt his legs and then his feet to solve the mystery. At last he discovered the mistake to be in his shoes, for he had put on one shoe with a thick sole and one with a thin sole. "These shoes are odd ones, and not a pair," said he.

So he called loudly for his servant and ordered him quickly to change his boots. The servant went into the room to bring the master's boots, but after a little time came back with a puzzled expression on his face.

The master sternly demanded the boots for which he had sent him, but received for his answer: "Dear master it is very strange, but there is no use for me to change your boots, for when I examined the pair of boots in the room I found that they are just like the pair you have on, for one has a thick sole, the other a thin sole—St. Nicholas Magazine.

Plea For United Action Makes Deep Impression on Chinese But Stirs Foreign Colony

Peking, China, July 21.—(By mail)—President Yuan Shi-Kai uttered at a recent cabinet meeting an impressive plea for united action in China which made a deep impression upon Chinese officials.

Our susceptibility in southern Manchuria has gradually gone into the hands of foreigners," said the president. "The foreign aggressor has come to their doors, but our people are still dallying in the midst of calamities."

President Yuan Shi-Kai is less than sixty years of age, and in the best of health, consequently his allusion to his old age is largely figurative.

Conquer a Weak Country.

"Sorrow comes into my heart whenever I review our present situation," were the opening words of the president's appeal to the cabinet.

"But when we think of the neglect of discipline by our soldiers, the irregularities in administrative affairs, the calamities of floods and drought throughout the provinces, the selfishness of some officials and the lack of public spirit among the people, we cannot help realizing the fact that we are enjoying ourselves while reposing on a bed of straw with a kindling fire beneath it."

After deploring what he regarded as the many shortcomings of China the president continued: "Some persons say that on account of 'vast country and population' the destruction of our country by an alien people is a matter of impossibility."

smaller than Japan. Some Japanese papers have stated of late that although China has changed the monarchy into a republic form of government, her internal affairs are just as deplorable now as in the late dynasty and that bribery and gambling among officials still prevail.

"The Dynasty Passed Away."

"During the Chino-Japanese war and the Boxer trouble our people were greatly stirred up and determined to 'sit on straw and taste the bitterness' to prepare themselves for future emergencies. But when the anxious time was over, they forgot everything. It is worth while to note that when the imperial government was gone, it was the dynasty that passed away and not the country."

President Yuan Shi-Kai concluded his appeal with this warning: "Now the situation of our country is comparable to a small boat wandering on a wild sea. It is not the time for us to pursue our pleasures and let things drift into the course of destruction. Above all do not forget the national disgrace of May 7. Take off your easy

Thinking of Suits That Will Be Worn

Among a group of well dressed men you see a diversity of style in suits and top coats almost as distinctive as the difference in facial form. This was the most popular style last season.

The present season's styles in men's suits show the perfecting of the artistic lines in the neat and semi-form-fitting coat, a style which has been developing for several seasons.

To make a coat for an athletic figure of average proportions is a comparatively easy task for a designer. His skill and class are shown when he can make clothes for men who call themselves hard to fit.

In Serbia mourning is so nearly universal that even black scarves are not to be had. The Baltic has the greatest wreck record of all the seas, averaging one a day.

Lustrous McKinney won the 2:11 class pace in straight heats; best time 2:07 1/2. The 2:30 class event was won by Audrey Grey in straight heats; best time 2:12 1/2.

Morgan tugged at each other for the possession of the rubber and finally the second was coaxed to let Morgan have it. He threw it among the fans so that the seconds of Lewis could not get it. When Bill LeClair ordered the men to start a second time they jumped at each other like angry lads. Going into a clinch they banged away at each other for several minutes. When they were separated they began to box in a cooler manner. Lewis was as speedy as ever and he was continually stalling Britton in the face with his left and often crossed the right to the jaw and neck. For four and a half rounds Lewis made Britton look bad. Many of Lewis' punches were with the open hand and so light that Britton did not appear to be phased by them. Britton countered several times with the left to the face and right to the body and stung hard. Near the end of the fifth round Britton caught Lewis a hard right punch to the wind and Lewis wilted a bit under it. During these rounds Britton did not seem to be able to fathom Lewis' style and some of his punches went wild or were blocked. In the sixth, however, Britton appeared to get a line on the Englishman and from then on did good work.

Although both fought at an unusually fast pace and took some hard punches there was no slowing down to any great extent. Britton seldom let a chance go by to send in stiff rights to the body when at close range and the punches hurt Lewis. It was the general opinion that in a 12-round bout Britton would have stopped the Englishman. Mike Crowley, National amateur champion lightweight made a fine showing in his professional debut in the second preliminary. He met Charley Sheppard of New York, easily outpointing him and earning the decision. Walter Butler of Revere met a tartar in Al Thomas of New York. Harry Willis of New Orleans and Sam McFee, colored sprints will appear in the feature bout at the club on next Tuesday night. Recently substituted for McIntyre. The McIntyre-Fleming bout, scheduled to take place in Houlton on Wednesday evening was called off as McIntyre failed to appear. George Trombly of Halifax substituted and made a good showing. IMPERIAL-"THE BROKEN COIN" The Adventures of Kitty Grey in the Kingdom of Grotzhoffen

ALTHOUGH "The Trey O' Hearts," "The Master Key" and "The Black Box" were immensely successful serials presented at the Imperial Theatre, even more successful things are practically assured for "The Broken Coin" which commences this week. It is truly amazing the popularity attained by this story already in the larger cities, particularly because Francis Ford and Grace Cunard, the favorite players in the "Lullie Love" series, once again assume the stellar roles. Week-end continued stories have been very popular in our theatre and it has been deemed advisable to continue them in spite of the fact that we are using the highly literary Vitaphone serial "The Goddess" each Monday and Tuesday. "The Broken Coin" has no scientific complications or deep confusing sub-plots, but is a clear understandable and very gripping narrative that will appeal to everybody, both old and young.

crossing the border, the American stables apparently are unwilling to come here when there is so much racing offered throughout New England, and so few horses in training and competing at the races. There is a fair showing of entries in some of the classes, but in others the patronage given the local management by the horsemen has been very disappointing. Some action will probably be taken to provide racing for exhibition week, as it is needed as an attraction for the fair. The Frederickton Park Association directors, however, feel that they have done their share pretty well, having put out two programmes with generous purses, and otherwise offered every possible inducement to the horsemen to come to Frederickton. It is understood that the management of the Chatham exhibition races have faced no better in regard to entries for their races. RING Lewis Gets Decision In a fast 12-round bout, in which there was a lot of wrangling and considerable excitement, Ted Lewis, English lightweight, was awarded the decision over Jack Britton of Chicago at the Atlas A. A. in Boston Tuesday. The decision rendered by Patsy Haley of New York, caused considerable difference of opinion. The men had agreed to weigh in at 126 pounds at 4 o'clock but Britton did not show up. Lewis weighed 124. When they got in the ring Britton looked to be nearly 10 pounds heavier than the English boxer. In all his bouts Lewis has worn a rubber protection over his teeth and he started to do so last night. The men had been boxing about half a minute when Britton discovered the rubber and stopped boxing and ordered the referee to make Lewis take it out of his mouth. Britton said that it prevented the jaw from being jarred by a punch. Lewis refused to comply with the orders of the referee and then followed a wrangle which lasted more than 15 minutes. The referee ruled that the rubber was not permitted. Finally Lewis pulled the rubber out of his mouth and started to give it to one of his seconds, when Morgan made a grab for it. The second and

THE LOAF OF BREAD

Two Sides of the Question of Price—Cent Likely to Stay on Till November, Says One

Exception has been taken by some of the city bakers to the suggestion made in the Times last night, following the different decreases in the cost of flour, and the apparently certain tendency of the wheat market to go lower, there should be a lopping off of the extra cent a loaf placed on bread since the outbreak of war. Speaking to a Times reporter a representative of the largest bakeries in the city said that he did not think the bakers could afford, in the interests of their business, to reduce the cost of bread to the consumer until November at least.

When the war broke out last fall he said, the bakers had resolved not to take advantage of the rising price of wheat to increase the cost of bread, though they might easily have done so, by excusing themselves on the ground that the price had jumped so high, for at that time it was thought by many that it would reach $10 a barrel. They continued to sell bread at the lower rate for some six months when, by virtue of having to make new contracts with the millers, they were forced to raise the cost of a loaf to nine cents. At the present time they were unable to take advantage of the falling market because of having had to contract for their supply with the millers some months ago before there were indications of a break in the price. Most of them had contracts for some weeks longer at rates which would not compare with the decreased quotations now, and they would be losing money if they sold at a reduced rate. The same baker quoted the cost of bread in Montreal, Toronto, and Winnipeg as even higher than it now is here.

They say, further, that no matter how much of a variation, upwards or downwards, there is to the flour market, they are unable to gain by it, as they cannot continually change the price of bread, whereas the wholesaler is able to follow the turns of the market and benefit accordingly.

This is the argument of the bakers, or some of them at least. There are some persons, on the other hand, who claim to have a knowledge of the flour trade, and they say that there is no reason why the extra cent should not come off the cost of bread. They argue that when the flour market struck the up-hill grade last fall and climbed by rapid strides, the city bakers were for the most part well protected for they had large quantities in storage and also had contracts which would give them the benefit of the old quotations for some months, so that in selling bread to the trade at eight cents a loaf, while they did for six months after the war began, they were losing nothing, except the chance to take advantage of the advanced flour market.

It is further argued that the bakers get better prices from the millers than the wholesalers do, and that today they are buying, and have been for some time, at quotations which are as advantageous as those given with the recent decreases. The bakers say that this is not so, that they are paying more for their flour today than the prevailing stock quotations.

Regardless of whether the bakers are right or whether their critics are right, it is believed by those who watch the wheat market that before long flour must go lower—in fact there are dealers in the city who predict that next week will see a still further decrease. The increased acreage in the west is partly responsible, aided by a good crop, increasing harvest conditions, and the unloading of the old wheat.

BUSINESS BEST HERE

After having traveled from the Pacific coast to the eastern provinces, and having observed conditions here during the last three months, Herbert H. Blanchet of the Canada Metal Co., Limited, of Toronto, said today that business here was the best he had seen in all Canada. He has been coming to St. John for the last eighteen years on business, and has just covered territory embracing the three maritime provinces. Despite the war Mr. Blanchet says trade is in a satisfactory state here, and this is one of the best business trips he has ever had. He will return to Vancouver, V. C. tonight on the C. F. R.

DEMOLISHING THE SUSPENSION BRIDGE

Well to Have Boat Ready in Case of Accident

The work of demolishing the old Suspension Bridge is going along rapidly. Contractor McVey has about twenty men employed, including six or eight experienced bridge men, who do the more hazardous work. There is now quite an open space in the centre, and the floor on both ends is considerably raised, and this will be more noticeable as more woodwork is taken away.

Even when the new bridge was being constructed, the work did not appear more dangerous than in removal. As the crosspieces are loosened, a block and tackle is used to haul them up to the bridge, and from there everything is carried to the rear. Occasionally a deal or board drops to the water and the unusual splash gives the spectators a thrill.

The absence of a boat under the bridge in case of accident was pointed out today by one interested. Of course this could be used only in certain tides, but the precaution was deemed necessary during the building of the new bridge, and without any facilities for detaching it was deemed necessary to have a little chance now should he lose his grip or make a mistake from the old suspension.

On Wednesday evening friends from the city called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. McKel, Main street, near LeRue Road and gave them a surprise. A most enjoyable evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

Evening-Packer

A wedding of interest to many friends in St. John was solemnized on Sept. 1 at Tyngmouth, when Miss Lillian Parker, fourth daughter of Leonard Parker, became the bride of William Colin Ewing, son of W. A. Ewing, K.C. of this city. Rev. Ferdinand LeRoy, rector of Trinity church, St. Martins, officiated. Only relatives and immediate friends were present. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She was prettily dressed in white duchesse satin and real lace, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Robert Thompson.

The bride's traveling suit was of blue French serge with black velvet hat. Many handsome wedding remembrances were received. Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, who will reside in West St. John, have many friends who will extend them best wishes for future happiness.

Spring-Quadrant

A pretty nuptial event took place at 8.30 o'clock on last Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Theodora R. Orchard, 45 Albert street, when her daughter, Miss Lillian Haas, was united in marriage to Stephen Spiny, of the same address, department of the local police. Rev. Dr. Hutchinson officiated. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, furnished by Mrs. Roy Mitchell, cousin of the bride, the bride entered the parlor bearing on the arm of her cousin, James Theodore Shaw, who gave her in marriage. The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and friends of the young people.

The bride was attired in white paillette silk, with lace and crystal trimmings, and bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses and maiden-hair fern. Little Miss Maude MacLean made a very dainty flower girl, attired in white with pink trimmings.

The groom's present to the bride was a purse of money, and to the little flower girl a gold signet ring. A large number of beautiful and valuable presents, including money, silver, cut glass and china evidenced the popularity of the bride. After the ceremony a dainty repast was served.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Fred Spiny, of Masquash, mother of the groom; Miss Alice Orchard, of Boston; Miss Linda M. White, of The Narrows, Queens county, and Mrs. Fred Orchard, of Mill Cove, Queens county. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Spiny will reside at 48 Albert street.

Youngblood-Nason

Tracy Station, Sumbury County, Sept. 1—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of David F. Nason, 24 Willow avenue, when his daughter Ethel Linda was united in marriage to Walter Youngblood of Milo, Maine. Rev. James C. Delaney officiated.

The bride was charmingly attired in white crepe du chene and carried a dainty bouquet of lilac and the valley. She was attended by her youngest sister, Viva Lenora, as maid of honor, attired in white shot silk and carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. The bride received many fine presents among which were cut glass and silverware, showing the popularity in which the bride and groom are held among a large circle of friends at Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood will remain in the home of the bride's father at Tracy until September 20th after which they will reside at 35 Clinton street, Milo.
