Vigorous Measures To Seek Conspirators Against Life of Mussolini Are Adopted

BOLOGNA, Italy, Nov. 1.—Benito Mussolini has escaped his sixth assassin in four years, and today, undaunted, the man whose slogan is "Live in danger" still maintains his stronghold on the government and his blackshirted followers. His last assailant was tracked on the spot.

The Fascist Premier had a close call from death last yesterday afternoon when departing from the stadium here. A slender-built youth with blonde hair pressed forward toward his automobile and fired point-blank at him with an automatic pistol. Fifty thousand persons had been in the stadium and many of them witnessed the attack. When the shot rang out the cheering for Mussolini ceased. Silence prevailed. The youth, probably 18 years old, discerning that his bullet had missed its mark, raised his pistol to fire again.

SEIZED BY BLACKSHIRTS. Quickly he was seized by infuriated blackshirts, who felled him to earth, stabbed him 14 times, choked and beat him, and then dragged the body through a screaming, milling sea of humanity. The youthful would-be murderer of the Premier is believed to have had accomplices. Immediately

Wolfville, N. S. Apples Take First Prizes

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—A cabaret given by Hon. J. A. Walker, Minister of Natural Resources, from the Agent-General of Nova Scotia in London, states that the exhibit of the Wolfville Fruit Company at the Imperial Fruit Show in London has been awarded four first prizes and two gold medals. The exhibit of the Wolfville Fruit Company consisted of four boxes each of Cox's orange pippins, golden russets, starks and kings.

No Opposition For Ralston In Yarmouth

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—That it is not the intention to oppose Hon. J. L. Ralston at the forthcoming by-election in Yarmouth-Sheburne, to endorse his appointment as Minister of National Defence, is the substance of a statement given out Saturday evening by Dr. H. K. Macdonald, president of the Nova Scotia Liberal-Conservative Association.

High Value Is Placed On Strathcona Estate

LONDON, Nov. 1.—According to the Sunday Express, it is believed that Baroness Strathcona left between £5,000,000 and £6,000,000. The estate, which has not yet been valued for probate, is believed to be the largest ever left by a woman. The state is expected to receive over £2,000,000 in death duties. Lady Strathcona's son, Hon. Donald Sterling Howard, who inherited the title and is now Lord Strathcona, will receive the bulk of the fortune.

Cantonese Denounce British Bombardment of Wanhien

HONG KONG, Nov. 1.—Following a special congress of the Kuomintang at Canton, a lengthy manifesto was issued denouncing the British bombardment of Wanhien. The manifesto states: "The British Imperialist forces."

The Kuomintang is the political party which dominates the government of the Canton regime. British gunboats shelled Wanhien early in September in retaliation for casualties sustained in a clash with Chinese forces to regain control of two British merchant ships seized by the Chinese.

UPSET IN DITCH

Passengers Thrown in Heap With Some Buried Under Heavy Machine

QUEBEC, P. Q., Nov. 1.—Two lives were lost and several persons were injured, when an automobile bus containing about 30 passengers went out of control on a hill near St. Laurent, Island of Orleans, yesterday, and overturned into a ditch. The dead are a Miss Blouin, 20 years of age, of St. Jean D'Orleans, and a two-year-old baby named Laverdiere, whose parents also reside at St. Jean D'Orleans.

DEATH CAUSED BY BLOW TO STOMACH

Houdini's Illness Brought on While in Montreal, Says Detroit Doctors

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A special despatch from Detroit to the Herald-Tribune says that Houdini's fatal illness was initiated in Montreal, where a student struck the magician in the stomach. Houdini had delivered a lecture and was being quizzed by interested students in his dressing room, the despatch says, when one young man, after commenting on the remarkable strength of the magician said: "You would hardly feel a blow in the stomach then, would you Mr. Houdini?"

TROTSKY PUZZLES SOVIET LEADERS

Strange Silence at Communist Gathering of Deposed Officers is Noted

MOSCOW, Nov. 1.—Former Premier Melnikov of the revolutionary government in Vladivostok and Alexander Shlipnikoff, former Bolshevik commissar of labor, who since 1920 have been leaders in the worker's opposition within the communist party, have followed the example of Trotsky and Zinoviev and signed a sweeping recantation, expressing penitence for the evils of their factional work.

ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF FOREIGN TROOPS

German Minister Says Entry Into League of Nations Alters Status

GOETTERLITZ, Germany, Nov. 1.—With Germany a member of the League of Nations, it is the contention of the Minister of Interior, Dr. Kuehn, that there is no room for military control commissions or armies of occupation in Germany.

VALERIAN SAILED ON SEALED ORDERS

C. G. M. Steamer Gives Further Details of Recent Naval Tragedy

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Further details concerning the loss of H. M. S. Valerian in the West Indian hurricane of October 22, were brought to light with the arrival here of the S. S. Canadian Fisher, which, herself, suffered some considerable damage in the cyclonic disturbance. It was stated by officers of the Canadian Fisher that no word was received from the stricken vessel since the countless messages which passed between the two ships on the morning of the warship's loss.

Four Kings at Royal Wedding

WHERE CROWN PRINCE AND HIS BRIDE WILL RESIDE WHEN Princess Astrid of Sweden and Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium are united in marriage in the "White Sea" Hall of the Swedish Royal Castle at Stockholm, rulers of four nations will be in attendance. They are: King Gustaf of Sweden, King Christian of Denmark, King Albert of the Belgians and King Haakon of Norway.

Stockholm Is Scene of Royal Marriage Thursday

Belgian and Swedish Ruling Families to be United Shortly

BRUSSELS, Nov. 1.—There is no religion of state in Belgium. The Belgian constitution recognizes all denominations, granting equal freedom. Thus, although Prince Leopold is a Roman Catholic and Princess Astrid a Protestant, the bride will not have to renounce her religion in present company. The Communist majority now declares that all opposition has been eliminated. It is noted, however, that neither Trotsky, Zinoviev, Cameneff, nor any other member of the Left Wing, has renounced his principles, or propagated them. This fact and their strange silence at the Communist party conference now in session at the Kremlin raises misgivings among the Communist leaders, as nobody knows what will be their next move.

PAYMENT MADE ON INTEREST COUPONS

Arrangements Completed by Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—The Halifax Chronicle carries the following this morning: "Provision has been made through the banks for the payment of interest coupons on the bonds of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, Limited, in default since July first."

'Quake Triplets Are Named 'Faith, Hope and Charity'

LENINKAKAN, Armenia, Nov. 1.—Seven new earthquake babies were born in the American tent hospital yesterday. Among them were triplets, which the nurses christened "Faith, Hope and Charity." Since the first earthquake a little more than a week ago, 79 babies have been born at Leninkakan, the very first of which the nurses named Grace Colledge Dubeniakan, in honor of the first lady of the United States.

PORTABLE MILLS INCREASE, SAYS CHIEF SCALER

Curtailment on North Shore for Season, Reports Murchie

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Competition From Pacific Coast and Baltic Countries Still Strong

FREDERICTON, Nov. 1.—The increase in the number of portable saw mills put in the New Brunswick woods for operation near the scene of logging, is an outstanding feature of the woods season which is now well opened. A. T. Murchie, chief scaler of the Department of Lands and Mines, has returned from a tour which included Chipman, Newcastle and Bathurst, and which gave a good idea of the extent of operations during this season.

LARGER MILL DISPLACED

The small portable mill has been forecasted for some years past is taking the place of the large stationary mill, the mill being taken to the timber north instead of the logs taken to the mill as in past years. Decrease in the size of the logs cut and increased distance for stream driving are given as the chief reason for the change. A short haul to a shipping point on a railway is an essential factor in the operation of the portable mill.

NORTHERN ESTIMATE

Operations in the northern counties to date have estimated a cut which is eighty to eighty-five per cent. of that of last season. The reduction is made on account of unfavorable market conditions, the competition of the Pacific coast product in the Atlantic states and of Baltic timber in Great Britain being still keenly felt.

U. N. B. ASKED TO GO TO MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—There is a fair possibility of the University of New Brunswick rigger fifteen, holders of the MacTier Cup, in the Eastern championship, defending their laurels in the final against McGill team here instead of at Fredericton, as originally planned. The new angle to the play-off developed Saturday following a meeting of several prominent sportsmen interested in the promotion of English rugby in Quebec and Ontario. Following this gathering H. D. Clarke, trustee of the MacTier Cup, telegraphed to Chancellor Jones, suggesting that for the good of the game in this district, and in the interests of the sport in general, that the U. N. B. team play here November 13, all expenses for the first to be guaranteed.

MaTier Cup Trustee Wants Game Boosted at Canadian Metropolis

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 1.—Chancellor Jones said this afternoon that he had written the MacTier Cup trustees, stating that in view of the University of New Brunswick team's many engagements it seemed impossible for the team to journey to Montreal this season, although the offer to have the team play there was much appreciated.

SAVANT FINDS KEY TO READ OLD TABLETS

King of Hittites Correspondence Is Now Made Clear

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Dr. Emil Forrer, a lecturer at Berlin University, is reported to have made a discovery of far-reaching importance in the so-called "correspondence" of the King of the Hittites, which has so long mystified scholars.

The inscribed clay tablets, on which the correspondence appears, are at the Berlin headquarters of the German Oriental Association which were discovered some years ago by the Orientalist, Dr. Hugo Winckler, who found them when excavating in Asia Minor.

Dr. Forrer spent the remainder of his life trying to read the script, but without success, and it was Dr. Forrer took over the task. It now seems that, after many years of laborious effort, the German savant has deciphered a manuscript, whose secrets have remained veiled for nearly 1,500 years.

UNDERSEA DEVICE GUARDS STEAMERS

U. S. Navy Complete Investigations Into Science of "Supersonics"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Increased safety of merchant ships from the menace of collisions and icebergs, and the protection of warships from submarines, will result from the Navy Department's researches in the science of "supersonics" or underwater communication, it was announced yesterday.

The development of an underwater sound apparatus has been of value not only because of progress in underwater signalling, but also because of increasing speed and accuracy in deep-sea sounding and charting, according to a department statement.

LABORER JAILED WHEN CHURCH IS ROBBED

VIENNA, Nov. 1.—Emmerich Wenger, a laborer, is in jail here charged with robbing a church.

Wenger entered the Breitenfeld church for evening worship and remained after the congregation had left. During the night he stuffed his pockets, especially enlarged for the booty, with such valuables as he could find about the place.

He had intended to leave with the first worshippers in the morning, as he had been locked in the church, but during the course of the night he fell asleep. When the sexton arrived to open the church he found the man sleeping on a bench. An investigation disclosed what had happened.

Calgary Paper Has Change of Owners

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 1.—The Calgary Albertan today carries a publishers' announcement stating that on Saturday a deal was made whereby control of that paper passed into the hands of George M. Bell, for many years president of the Regina Post and Leader, and Chas. E. Campbell, former publisher of the Vancouver Daily Star, and Vancouver Daily Star, and present publisher of the Edmonton Bulletin.

WALES' RIDING IS DISCUSSION THEME

People Anxious as Hunting Season Approaches—The Prince's Style

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Prince of Wales is "all set" for the hunting season and all England is worried. His intimate friends say that he undertakes too much. His prominent social position makes him feel that he ought to excel at everything he undertakes, and that he cannot hold back when others have a go at a fence or a hedge. He pits himself against most expert jockeys and steeplechase riders, men who have concentrated at this one sport.

Horsemens say the Prince rides horses too big for him. It is well known that he prefers large mounts. But experts point out that the Prince only tips the scale at a little over 125 pounds and that, with his slight weight through a hunting saddle, he cannot control the powerful horses he chooses.

RIDES BY BALANCE

The question of the Prince's seat in the saddle is one of the most hotly discussed problems now before the public. Some say he rides by balance more than by grip of the knees and that his seat is precarious over jumps, though a few think he is a well-balanced rider. Others insist that his jumping seat is excellent and that the trouble is that the horses fall down under him. This is the Prince's own contention.

STANDING IN NFLD.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 1.—The poll was declared this morning in the by-election held in the district of Burgess and Lapelle, the standing of the candidates was as follows: W. McK. Chambers, Government, 1,274; J. A. W. Macneily, Independent, 500; G. T. James, Opposition, 173. The election was made necessary by the appointment of the district representative W. C. McK. Chambers to the office of Minister of Public Works.

STORY UNAUTHORIZED.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—When asked to comment this morning on the article in the local paper Saturday, saying it was possible the Halifax Wanderers would play their second team in the first of a home and home series with University of New Brunswick here, Thanksgiving Day, G. V. Guy, president of the Wanderers, said that there was no authority for the report and there was nothing in it.

KEYES UNEARTH'S LETTER IN CODE

District Attorney Has More Evidence in McPherson Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 1.—The Call says yesterday a love letter in code and alleged by District Attorney Asa Keyes of Los Angeles to have been written by Almer Simple McPherson, evangelist, is the newest sensation in Keyes' attempt to break down the story told by the evangelist that she was kidnapped.

SENT TO ORMISTON

Keyes declared the letter was sent to Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator of Angelus Temple, but it never was delivered to Ormiston, who is a fugitive from justice, facing a charge of conspiracy to defraud Justice in the Municipal Court in Los Angeles.

WIRELESS TELEPHONES

ROME, Nov. 1.—Wireless telephones will be introduced on Italian trains according to an announcement of the Ministry of Communications. The first experiments will be made on the express trains running between Milan and Bologna, and Milan and Turin. It appears that the systems used in Germany will form the base of the Italian plant. The ordinary telegraph lines running by the side of the track receive the waves launched from the small antenna placed along the roof of the transmitting coach.

24-Hour Time Day Adopted In Sweden STOCKHOLM, Nov. 1.—Time tables of 24 hours instead of twice 12 will be issued by the Swedish railroads next day and a similar sub-division of the spring and other public department. The administration of the Swedish telegraphs and telephones has used the 24 hour scheme since 1909 and thus the public is already partly accustomed to saying 15 o'clock instead of three p.m. or 21 o'clock for nine p.m., exactly as they do in France.

How to adapt the dials of clocks and watches has not yet been decided, but it is likely that the afternoon hours will be printed in a different color inside the morning figures, as they now are on the clocks of the government telegraph bureau.

SIXTH ATTEMPT ON MUSSOLINI'S LIFE FOILED

Would-be Assassin Beaten to Death by Bologna Fascisti

Bologna, Italy, Oct. 31.—Premier Mussolini has escaped the bullet of another would-be assassin.

As the Premier, accompanied by prominent members of the Italian Government, was leaving the Congress for the Advancement of Science at 5.45 p. m. today, he was fired upon by a youth about 18 years old. A crowd which packed the Rue de l'Independence closed in on the boy and beat him to death before he could be arrested.

The bullet tore through the sash of the order of St. Maurice which Mussolini wore across his chest, ripped out a portion of his uniform and then passed through the sleeve of the coat of the Mayor of Bologna, who was seated at the Premier's side.

Mussolini's car did not stop and continued to the railway station where the Premier made a farewell address to the officers of the Bologna garrison. He was informed at the station that his would-be assassin had been killed.

Bologna was packed with black-shirted visitors from the surrounding country-side in honor of the Premier's visit, which was made in celebration of the fourth anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome, and also for the purpose of dedicating Bologna's immense concrete sports stadium, the "Littorale."

The Premier maintained the same calmness after the attack that he has exhibited after other attempts on his life. He went to examine the path taken through his uniform, and then inquired solicitously whether or not the mayor had been injured. He ordered the car to stop, and as the crowd closed in on the would-be assassin Mussolini urged them against reprisals. He proceeded to the station where he boarded a train for Lilo to join his family.

Mussolini had been given a tremendous ovation on his arrival here, accompanied by Luigi Federici, minister of the interior; Attilio Terrazio, under secretary of the interior; and Filippo Truati, leader of the Ultrarian party.

The stadium, which was dedicated by Mussolini has a seating capacity of 60,000 and is said to be the largest structure of its kind in the world.

For the third time this year, and the sixth time since his famous fascist march on Rome four years ago, this month an attempt against the life of Premier Mussolini has been reported.

Of all these, only one attempt, that of the Hon. Violet Gibson, a British woman, on April 7, 1926, resulted in a wound for the Premier. His answer to these attempts and those who fear for his safety was at first almost unconcerned, but after the most recent attack, that by Gino Lucetti, a young Italian, Mussolini demanded that other countries cease harboring plotters against the lives of Italian officials.

With the endorsement of the government had caused laws to be passed renewing capital punishment for those seeking to kill members of the Italian Royal Family or the government. The two first attempts against the Premier's life were reported in 1923 and 1924, but these were not admitted by statements from the Italian government.

WESTERN EUROPE IN STRETCH OF MUD

Rains Disrupt Continent For Days, Causing Damage in Some Sections

Canadian Press Despatch. Western Europe, from Holland to the Pyrenees, is a vast stretch of mud due to the rains which have fallen almost without let-up for several days. The ordinary affairs of life have been made unpleasant and in some regions serious damage has been done by the persistent downpour, particularly in Belgium, in the Vosges, where some of the rivers have overflowed their banks.

Communications have been considerably interfered with in the region surrounding Belfort, while Strasbourg during the last 24 hours has experienced the heaviest rainfall ever recorded there is a similar period.

The land from Paris to the Atlantic coast, according to travelers as well as newspaper men and government dispatchers, is one vast stretch of water and mud. In Switzerland it is raining in the lowlands and snowing in the mountains to an unusual extent for such an early date.

ARMENIA SEEKING LOAN TO REBUILD

ERIVAN, Armenia, Oct. 31.—A movement has been started here to interest the United States in the reconstruction of an industrial loan to finance the reconstruction of the region devastated by last week's earthquake. It is estimated that $50,000,000 worth of ruined property must be replaced.

Armenian officials say a loan of money is necessary for the reason that neither the Armenian government nor the Central government at Moscow is in a position to advance the funds. The loan would be administered by the League of Nations or the leading powers directly.

HELPING THE SICK AND AGED THROUGH THE WINTER

Nothing helps the aged and ailing through the winter like proper food. The properly fed cannot well be sick.

Today at 87 he is a marvel of youthful vigor, preparing for years of accomplishment and never sick; not even a cold since 1912. The cause is natural foods—living largely upon nuts, fruits, vegetables, Roman meal, alfalfa, and cod liver oil.

ANOTHER CAR IS SEIZED

Capture Makes 14th Made Around Amherst, N. S., by Customs Officers

AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 31.—The fourteenth smuggled car was added to the Customs collection on Saturday when the special investigators, Messrs. Knox and MacDougall, seized a Dodge sedan in Sackville owned by F. W. Cole. Mr. Cole, it is understood, purchased the car in Montreal and drove it through to Sackville. Like the other vehicles it had the Customs papers, but the documents were found to be fictitious. The two officers have left for Montreal, but expect to return to the provinces within the next ten days to resume their investigations.

Twice-a-Day

Remove the Film on Teeth to Which Many Serious Tooth and Gum Disorders Now are Traced

To Clear Clouded Teeth and Give Gums Coral Firmness, This Way is Widely Advised

MODERN dental advice now means largely to twice a day remove a viscous film that forms on teeth. Run your tongue across them and you will feel it; a slippery sort of coating.

Film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. That is why, according to leading dental opinion, teeth look dingy and "off color."

Film clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It invites and breeds the germs of decay. And that is why it is judged so grave a danger to the teeth by authorities.

Film is the basis of tartar. And tartar, with germs, is the chief cause of pyorrhea. That is why regular film removal is urged as probably first in correct gum protection.

Most dental authorities urgently advise thorough film removal at least twice each day. That is, every morning and every night.

For that purpose, obtain Pepsodent, the special film-removing dentifrice smoking, etc. That is why, according to leading dental opinion, teeth look dingy and "off color."

VOTE TUESDAY AWAITED IN U. S.

Republicans and Democrats Confident of Victory at Polls Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The warring armies of Republicanism and Democracy rested on their arms tonight awaiting the outcome at the polls next Tuesday of their many weeks of effort to capture control of the new Congress and a number of State governments.

The campaign, in which prohibition and corruption in electioneering were the chief fighting points in many sections, was closed with the customary last minute drives and charges and counter-charges.

So far as the Congressional fight is concerned, chief interest centers in the Senatorial contests in Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana also came into the spotlight late in the campaign because of charges that United States senators were involved in domination of Hoosier politics by leaders of the Ku Klux Klan.

HOLIDAY LIQUOR SCARCITY IN SIGHT

N. S. Dry Chief Declares Smugglers Actually on Run

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—Prospects of a real scarcity of rum liquor for the holiday trade, are in sight, Assistant Secretary Andrews, chief of the dry forces, believes.

The rum runners are actually on the run, General Andrews understands, thanks to the coastguard and the agreement he reached with Great Britain last summer.

Reports from Halifax indicate that the rum fleet has quit that base since the new agreement, providing for more direct exchange of information between the governments. General Andrews received a report today from Halifax stating that for the week ending Oct. 16, Halifax harbor had no rum ship for the first time in history.

The coastguard reports only four liquor ships, all under close watch, are now in the North Atlantic zone.

"Jim," as he is better known to his fellow fire fighters, has been one of the most popular members of the department.

Mr. Lemon, before his transfer to West Saint John, was doing duty in fire stations on the eastern side of the harbor.

John McLeod has been appointed in the place of Mr. Lemon.

Rev. John Unsworth Goes To P. E. Island

Rev. John Unsworth, rector of St. George's church, West Saint John, left on Saturday morning for Port Hill, P. E. I., on invitation of his friend, Rev. H. R. Coleman, to conduct a thanksgiving service in his church there on Sunday.

Mr. Unsworth will remain over at Port Hill during the week to give some lectures on the Yukon. The service in St. George's church yesterday morning was conducted by Rev. A. LeDrew Gardner and the service in the evening was conducted by Rev. W. H. Sampson.

Next Sunday the thanksgiving festival will be held in St. George's church.

BREWER CHURCH BLESSED

BREWER, Maine, Oct. 31.—Rev. John Gregory Murray, Bishop of Portland, said high mass and blessed the new St. Joseph's church dedicated here today. He was assisted by Rev. Thomas H. Moriarty, the pastor; Rev. Thomas J. Nelligan, of St. John's church, Bangor; Rev. John A. Driscoll, of South Brewer. The church serves new parish in Brewer proper, the communicants formerly attending St. John's church in Bangor, or St. Teresa's in South Brewer. The new church is a wooden structure at north Main and Holyoke streets with rectory property and, it is expected, it will eventually be replaced by a more permanent edifice.

Big Shipments Of Tubers From N.B. and P. E. I.

MONCTON, Oct. 31.—Heavy shipments of potatoes are at present moving from Prince Edward Island points to Montreal, United States and West Indies markets. This traffic has become greater within the past week or so and the C. N. R. have found it necessary to operate increased trains to handle the business. Today the P. E. Island car ferry operated all day and brought over 150 carloads to the mainland, consigned to the various markets.

Shipments from Shediac are also increasing daily and Saturday night 17 carloads of tubers were brought out on the evening train en route to Halifax for export.

Reports from Buctouche district are also to the effect that a good crop is being harvested there and a ready market is being found. The price paid in that vicinity on Saturday was $2.50 per barrel.

PROBE DEATH OF NORTON YOUTH

Leonard Begley Found Lying on Station Platform Saturday

NORTON, Oct. 31.—Coroner Dr. J. B. Gilchrist tomorrow will investigate the mysterious death of Leonard Begley, 19, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Begley, of this place, who was found injured on the platform of the railway station here at 6 a. m. Saturday and died in the afternoon without regaining consciousness.

George C. Brown, the express agent here, found the lad unconscious with blood oozing from his mouth, ears and head. Dr. Gilchrist was summoned and ordered the youth removed from the store of W. A. Reynolds where he had been taken to the home of his parents where he died.

No witness of the manner in which the lad received his fatal injuries have so far come forward. One theory is that he attempted to board a freight train, missed his footing, and fell to the station platform. He was last seen before receiving his injuries at about 11 o'clock Friday night. He had been disporting himself with other boys about the village all Friday evening.

Special to The Telegraph-Journal. WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 31.—The great caravans of grain are rolling westward in increasing numbers over the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Car loadings by provinces were: Manitoba, 428; Saskatchewan, 770; and Alberta, 480. Reports from Vancouver today indicate that there are six ocean-going vessels in sight at that point with a grain-carrying capacity of 650,000 in sight at that port with a grain-carrying capacity of 650,000 bushels. NATIONALIZATION

NO. 66 of the resolutions adopted in London to be the basis of the British North America Act reads as follows:

"The communications with the North Western Territory and the Improvements required for the development of the trade of the Great West with the seaboard are regarded as subjects of the highest importance to the Confederation, and shall be prosecuted at the earliest possible period that the state of the finances will permit."

TANGIER

TWO hundred and forty-one years ago Charles Russell wrote from Cadix: "When the English, as well as all the world, believed they had a considerable and important place. The French, the Spaniards and the Hollanders desired it; one as to trade, the other from neighborhood."

Now Thomas Hibben, writing in the New York Times, says: "Tangier, romantic, picturesque Tangier, of turbulent history and changing ownership, is again a pawn watched by the covetous eyes of various European foreign offices."

Tangier has never been given full effect. Now Spain raised the question at the same time as she attempted to secure a permanent seat on the Council of the League of Nations. There the claim was apparently dropped.

This reversion to secret diplomacy is most unfortunate, and fraught with suspicion and possible misunderstanding.

HONOR WELL DESERVED

THE award of the Royal Humane Society to Major Albert A. Dodge, of West Saint John, for his gallant rescue of a woman from the harbor last year, is one that is well deserved.

Major Dodge has achieved an excellent record in the service of his country. He has been a member of the Active Militia since he was barely more than a youth and less than a year ago was rewarded for his service with the Meritorious Service Medal.

SPECIAL SERMON REFERENCES IN SAINT JOHN CHURCHES SUNDAY

BISHOP ROBINS OF ATHABASCA, HEARD IN CITY

At Trinity and Stone, Tells of Missionary Progress in His Diocese

85TH ANNIVERSARY IN CARLETON UNITED

Series of Talks on Religious Difficulties Begun at St. David's

The Rt. Rev. Edwin Frederick Robins, D.D., Bishop of Athabasca, was the special preacher in Trinity church yesterday morning and in St. John's (Stone) church last night and his addresses made a deep impression upon the large congregations present.

He told of the great progress being made in the missionary fields from which he comes and in the foreign mission fields throughout the world. In Trinity church Bishop Robins was introduced by the rector, Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, who conducted the service. The bishop spoke for his knowledge of the glory of God as the waters cover the earth and the thought conveyed in that text as a missionary bishop, he could say devoutly that he had seen already such measure of fulfillment of the prophecy that he could have no misgivings as to its ultimate accomplishment.

He spoke of his work in the mission fields of India 30 years ago and how in tremendous sacrifice a high caste Brahmin and a notable Mohammedan had been converted to Christianity, bringing to pass a greater harvest of souls and he reminded his hearers that at that very moment in India, Africa, China and Japan there were native preachers and native bishops who were maintaining the service of the church and preaching the gospel.

EXTENDS THANKS

As coming from one of the missionary dioceses of the church in Canada he extended thanks for the gifts of money, prayer, sympathy and work bestowed by the people of the older congregations in the more settled parts of the Dominion and undertook to give information concerning the work being carried on in his diocese in order that those who are assisting may find in knowledge of the facts, inspiration for still greater efforts. He had labored 17 years in the diocese of Athabasca, he stated, and in that time had witnessed the passing of the country from a primitive land inhabited chiefly by Indians to a thriving, growing and expanding agricultural country with wheat fields extending throughout the southern district. In his week-end survey of the diocese, he would sometimes travel 500 miles, visiting the scattered congregations holding their services in a church or school house or any place of assembling along the way. The automobile, he said, had greatly outdistanced a means of travel in that territory and the clergy had parishes measuring about 40 miles each way. The problem there was the increase of population and how to care for the spiritual welfare of the people who had come to new homes in that country. In May of this year he had ordained a young clergyman from a town from which he had heard the day before, saying that the new church that was talked of in June was almost completed. That church was 358 miles north of the most northerly railway station in the Dominion and for months that young man would never see another clergyman. Dr. Robins said he had been asked why churches were put in such remote places and he were there. He declared there would never be such a thing as the last great west for always further off there appeared new lands.

SPEAKS OF DIOCESE

In his diocese of from 200,000 to 250,000 square miles in extent there was vast forest land, much prize land and lakes teeming with fish while the westward lay the shadow of the Rocky Mountains with their snow-capped peaks. The congregations in the east which had inherited so much he thought could have little conception of the life in a missionary diocese, where each church was new, crude, cheap and utterly simple. They were mostly wooden shacks built by the members of the congregation after work day hours, he said, and he described how with devoted care those churches were erected. As fast as they could be built more churches were going up and he was obliged to face the fact that he had not sufficient funds to meet the salaries for his clergymen. But he declared that drawing back was impossible. "We will never turn back," he asserted. "While there is possibility of establishing a church further on, we will establish it" and in the light of God's past blessing upon the work he looked confidently ahead assured that the support for the work would be provided.

85th Anniversary

Large congregations attended the 85th anniversary services in Carleton United Church yesterday. Rev. Henry Mahon, of Douglas avenue Christian church, conducted the morning service. The subject of his address was "The Courage of a Great Conviction." Enoch Thompson gave a historical sketch of the church. Miss Mabel Sharp, organist of church, presided at the organ. The choir furnished an anthem. At the evening service a choir of 28 male voices led the singing and sang two anthems. The Dr. Baker quartette gave two selections. F. J. Punter and Arthur Long gave a duet. Solo by J. Stewart Smith. Albert Punter presided at the organ.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH FEAST SERMON TOPIC

References Made at Sunday Services in Saint John

The new Catholic Church feast of the Kingship of Christ was observed in Saint John yesterday, as through out the world. In the Cathedral His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc again referred to its significance. In December last he said, His Holiness Pope Pius had, in an encyclical letter proclaimed this feast. This had been done now because the time was opportune. It was the history of the church that she had instituted special feast days to meet the conditions prevailing, as instance in the Feast of Corpus Christi, strengthening the devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and the Feast of the Sacred Heart, established to meet false doctrines of the day.

In connection with the establishment of the Feast of the Kingship of Christ, His Lordship said, that all the Pope had pronounced it because people and society and nations seemed to have forgotten that there was a God. His Lordship spoke with deep earnestness for the admission of Christ as the ruler of the individual, the home, society and all nations. The October devotions will be concluded in the Cathedral on Tuesday evening. The Cathedral children again made their holy year jubilee visits yesterday afternoon. Rev. Roy M. McDonald, S. T. D., also spoke eloquently on the new feast, at other masses in the Cathedral. Today is the Feast of All Saints, a Catholic church holiday. Tomorrow will be All Souls' Day. The Cathedral masses were announced for 6, 7, 8, 10 and 9:15 o'clock and the latter a solemn high mass of requiem.

ST. JOHN BAPTIST CHURCH

At St. John the Baptist church yesterday the new feast of the "Kingship of Christ" was celebrated by high mass sung by Rev. Fr. Kinisley. The prayers were read in new red cassocks for the occasion. An eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Henchy, who asked for the recovery of the pastor, Rev. J. J. McDermott, who has been ill for several months, and who was unable to celebrate mass yesterday.

CHURCH OF ASSUMPTION

Rev. Fr. Ramage was the celebrant of high mass at the Church of the Assumption yesterday. The sermon was in accordance with the feast of the new feast. It was announced that the parish Dramatic Club would present "The Sign of the Cross" next Friday evening.

ST. PETER'S

The new Catholic feast was celebrated with solemn high mass at St. Peter's yesterday morning, with Rev. Fr. Costello as celebrant, Rev. Fr. Coffin as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Woods as sub-deacon. An eloquent sermon on the feast was preached by the rector, Rev. Fr. Cloran. There was special music by the choir.

AT ST. ROSE'S

At St. Rose's church yesterday the pastor, Rev. Fr. M. T. Murphy was celebrant of high mass. The sermon at vespers in the evening, a very eloquent one, was preached by Rev. C. J. Theoharides, St. Joseph's church, Silver Falls. He took the new feast as his text.

The Kitty-Katy Letters

Confidential Communications Between Two Charming Girl Friends—One Married

DEAR KATY—

Our neighbors, the Lumpkins, have bought a new house, you know, and are going to furnish it new top to bottom. Mr. Lumpkin recently came into considerable money and felt like plunging themselves. They went to Boston and other places hunting for the furniture and furnishings they wanted. But they finally decided that they couldn't do better than buy everything right here in Saint John. That speaks pretty well for our Saint John stores, doesn't it?

Mr. Lumpkin knows Mr. Ellsworth, Senior, very well and has met Mr. Jack several times. He isn't sure that he thought he saw your intended on Queen Street in Fredericton. He was in an automobile and went so quickly that he can't be sure. I told him that you hadn't heard from your Jack and were worried about him. But Mr. Lumpkin shut up like a clam and I couldn't get another word out of him. Doesn't it seem mysterious, Katy?

Lovingly yours, KITT

NOTE—He shut up like a clam, did he? Why all the mystery? Where can Jack be? Don't miss tomorrow's letter. (Reply Tomorrow)

Teacher Honored by Sunday School Class

The presentation of a gift to Mrs. Douglas Clark, one of the teachers of St. Andrew's Kirk Sunday school whose marriage took place during the summer months, was a pleasing incident at the rally program in the Sunday school yesterday. The presentation was made by John Magee on behalf of the teachers and officers of the school. J. H. Murphy, superintendent, was chairman of the rally, and the program prepared by the United Church of Canada was carried out. Rev. F. M. Milligan gave an address on "Service" and in the program which followed numbers were given: Recitation, by Natalie Gow of the primary department; hymn, by the primary department; exercise by four boys, John Moore, Frank Dongan, Harry Wilson and Douglas Smith; scripture reading, by Martin Winchester. There was a large attendance and the rally program was carried out admirably.

URGES HIS FLOCK TO OBSERVE LAWS

Rev. A. L. Fleming Speaks on Prohibitory Law and Protestantism

In Saint John's Stone Church last evening the Rev. A. L. Fleming, pastor, preached an eloquent sermon from the text, "Ye are not under the law, but under grace"—Romans 6:14.

At the last meeting of the Anglican clergy of the Rural Deanery of Saint John, a resolution was passed calling upon the rectors to bring before the notice of their respective congregations this urgent duty of Christian people to keep the law, especially with respect to the prohibitory law, he said.

The speaker dwelt for some time on the subject and counselled his hearers to obey the law as it was constituted, even if they did not personally approve of it. The law, might not be good or it might not be bad, but at the same time it was a law and they should obey it.

Dorothy Dix

"Because You are Married, Mr. Man, Don't Stop Making Love to Your Wife; Rather Speed It Up," Says Dorothy Dix—"We Americans are Long on Divorce Because We are Short on Sentiment."

DOROTHY DIX

THE average American man who has a dissatisfied and discontented wife, who is nervous and fretful, and whose home life has generally gone lousy is honestly bewildered by the situation. He doesn't know what has gone wrong or wherein he has failed or what is the matter with the partner of his bosom.

"My heavens," he exclaims, throwing up his hands in despair, "I can't understand! Women! Haven't I given Mary a fine house and a limousine? Doesn't she have all the money she can spend? Doesn't she go and come as she pleases? Am I not as domestic as the house cat? What on earth does a woman want?"

I CAN answer his question for him. She wants romance. In particular, she wants sentiment, and if I could give another to husbands it would be this: another to husbands it would be this:

Cultivate sentiment. Educate yourself in sentiment as you have in books. Develop it as you have your business ability. Acquire efficiency in the use of sentiment as you have skill in your particular line of work.

OF COURSE this will sound like sheer idiocy to men. But, believe me, if they will try it it will do more than any other one thing on earth to settle all of their domestic problems, gain them cheerful and happy homes and make their wives eat out of their hands.

Of course, Mr. Man, you can get through domestic life without sentiment, just as you can long, hard journey over arid plains and desolate deserts. But why choose the dreary route, that will take all of your endurance and courage to stand, when you may make a pleasure trip by way of silvery streams and verdant meadows, where birds are singing and the green trees wave above you? We always take the easy way in other things, why choose the hard way in matrimony?

A GREAT many reasons have been advanced to account for the fact that American leads all civilized countries in the number of divorces. My own explanation for this sad state of affairs is that among Occidental men there are no others who pay so little attention to sentiment as American men. We are long on divorce because we are short on sentiment.

In European countries men glorify sentiment. American men despise it. A European man is proud of acquiring a reputation for being an exquisite lover-maker. An American man would rather be accused of sheep-stealing.

EUROPEAN men make a study of the little delicate attentions that women love, and they religiously observe sentimental anniversaries. An American man has his stenographer telephone to his florist or confederator to send the girl he admires flowers or candy. And the American woman who has a husband who remembers their wedding anniversary without having to be reminded of it possesses a freak that she could exhibit in a museum and that other wives would pay money to see.

THE American husband is a better husband, more faithful, more generous, more considerate, than the European, but he is not sentimental. And the moral of all of this is that a woman will stand a lot of bad treatment if it is sugar coated with sentiment. Now is this as absurd as it sounds. Most of us crave the luxuries rather than the necessities of life.

IT IS one of the misfortunes of the feminine temperament that a woman can stay a bride at heart for forty years, whereas a man's bridegroomness ends at the altar. He wants then to be done with love-making and to get out of the sentimental life he leads.

HE HAS caught his street car, and for him the chase is over and he desires to see a British surgeon, and read his paper in comfort. He never finds out that his wife still wants to be pursued and that she lives in a state of being perpetually green-eyed on a newspaper.

IT ALL seems so unnecessary to the man. Why tell a woman you love her after you have made tangible evidence of the fact by marrying her? Why swear eternal devotion in words when she can see for herself that you are working yourself to death to keep her soft and comfortable? Why waste two hours a day to buy her a present when she can take a check and go downtown and get herself exactly what she wants? Why pay her compliments when she ought to know that you think she is just about all right?

FALLACIOUS masculine reasoning! As well might you try to feed a bird that lives on dew as you try to feed a woman with a check. It is as absurd to attempt to make a woman happy with a love ticket express itself in nothing but grocery bills and a shopping ticket. In her heart a woman may not doubt her husband's love, but she despises on the dry husks of it that are all that are offered her to feed upon.

CAN you wonder that a woman who hungers and thirsts for tenderness, for appreciation, for flattery, for love that is warm and vital, grows bitter and hard when her husband never gives her any? Is she to be very much blamed if she takes the love that some other man offers her? We do not stand on the fine points of ethics when we are starving either in body or soul.

THEREFORE, I urge men to make a study of sentiment as first aid to success in matrimony. Because you are married do not cease to make love to your wife. Rather speed it up and put more pep in it. Notice what she wears. Take an interest in what she does. Remember her tastes. A ten-cent bunch of violets brought to a woman because they match her gown cuts more ice with her than 500 worth of American beauties sent bit or miss.

Celebrate every anniversary, and if you can't remember the day you became engaged and the day you were married, mark them down on your calendar.

IF YOU do, great shall be your reward; for, while a wife may forgive her husband for not supporting her, she never forgives him for omitting the delicate little attentions, the little gifts that turn the water of life into wine and make his many hardships of matrimony worth while.

BELIEVE me, Mr. Man, you will find that nothing else will pay you such dividends on the time and effort expended as sentiment.

See-Sawing Along Broadway

SEE-SAWING up and down Broadway I came upon Stephen Graham, the eminent chronicler of London slide-lights, wearing as strange a trick hat as ever got by the immigration officers. And, like myself, he was snooping around the back doors of Manhattan. For, said he, the hunt of the wild and untamed speaker is quite the most glamorous and easy venture in the United States. Not that the liquor is to be tolerated, but there is a sense of high adventure in finding the secret knocks and passwords to different places. And a sense of mystery and brooding danger about them. Far more fascinating than drinking with one's fellows in an open "pub."

Another Englishman upon the great White Way. Frank Swinerton, who writes books about the working girls of England, but feels that the difference in the caste system makes the American girl worker impossible to do as a type. And Hugh Walpole, who has challenged Mucken to a verbal duel since now one and now another Britisher lands with each ship.

Saw "Coffee Dan," who made a couple of fortunes out in San Francisco, serving him and eggs to the early morning survivors of the night before. And many's the time in my youth that I tried to bounce one of his half-inch cups upon the floor only to find them unbreakable. In those days only sailors, reporters and visiting traveling men could be found clinging to the last hours of the night. However, prohibition cast its democratic spell over the head and when last I was upon the Pacific Coast it was to find flappers and society folk likewise clinging to the last hours of the night. Sic transit gloria, etc.

SAW the Talmudges—Constance and Norma—who are very much about the Broadway first nights. And I am reminded of a tale told concerning the first movie job of the clever and sophisticated Constance. It was on the Griffith lot, back when "Intolerance" was being made. There still is a possibility, however, that the handle, after performing a complete turn, may crash into the back of the arm.

Gowns Smack of Ye Olden Times; Hats, Shoes, Modern

By MME. LISBETH
QUAINT, old-fashioned lines are often used to fashion the gowns of midday, but when it comes to hats and shoes, strictly up-to-date modes prevail. No bonnet or feather laden hats for the modern woman. She prefers a sport type hat for almost all occasions. And when it comes to shoes—well, since the advent of the short skirt they have become so important that they often not only supplement the costume but are the most colorful part of it.

All of which is illustrated above. At the left (top) is the wide trimmed contrasting band in which Marion Davies posed. Below that is another felt, narrow of brim and worn with a wide trim—the antithesis you see, of the one above it.

Below the hats is a pair of the most colorful of the new shoes. They are oxford of rattlesnake skin. They are laced with silk cord which has large wooden beads on each end. With these shoes the wearer should carry an under-arm purse of rattlesnake skin to match.

In the wardrobe of the really smart woman every costume has its suitable shoes. Shoes dyed to match the color of the dress are becoming the rule rather than the exception with many women. The smart shops are showing shoes in the same shades as the prevailing style colors. Reptile is exceedingly popular, alligator, lizard and snake-skin being used to fashion the whole shoe or for trimming with leather.

The period gown has had a considerable vogue for some time and its charm promises it a continuance of this popularity. The model pictured at the right is made of white satin with gold cloth decorations. A wide band of gold forms the hem and medallions of gold cloth in graduated sizes trim the entire skirt. The full skirt is long and gathered at the waist, and the short, tight sleeves all to its quaint charm. Joan Crawford posed.

HEALTH SERVICE
A Danger of Motoring

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN.
EVER since motor cars became popular, and particularly in the period before self-starters, surgeons have seen a number of cases of what has become known in the slang of the profession as "back-fire" or "chauffeurs' fracture." This fracture usually affects one of the bones of the lower arm near the wrist. In cranking a car, back-fire may occur either on the downward swing or on the upward pull.

In a study of 42 cases of the fracture made by a British surgeon, he found that the likelihood of fracture is less with the back-fire on the upward pull.

DOUBLE DANGER.
The handle tears itself from the grasp and, in case of backfire on the upward pull, only wrenches the hand. There still is a possibility, however, that the handle, after performing a complete turn, may crash into the back of the arm.

"In some cases the fracture occurs without the handle leaving the hand. In these instances it is due to a sudden jerk on the bone by the muscles and tendons which are attached to it. The person whose arm is broken seldom realizes just how the accident happened.

A surgeon who sees a patient in this condition usually makes sure by the X-ray that the bone is broken. He then tries to bring the broken edges into contact in the normal position, and, having placed them in that position, holds them there by means of a splint in some instances with a plaster of Paris cast.

After the arm has been in a cast for a considerable period, the muscles will have lost their ability to move properly, and additional treatment is necessary to bring back the power of the arm. Massage is not undertaken until the healing has progressed far enough to prevent the likelihood of breaking the bone again by too much effort. It is customary to allow at least 18 days for proper healing before the massage attempts any motion. Motion by the person himself is seldom anticipated until after a somewhat longer period.

Give Your Children a Hot Breakfast!

Mother! Don't neglect your children's breakfast. It is the important meal of the day. Coming after the longest fast of the twenty-four hours, it must supply energy quickly. Health authorities recommend hot oats and milk because it is a balanced food, easily digested, that provides energy that "stands by" all morning.

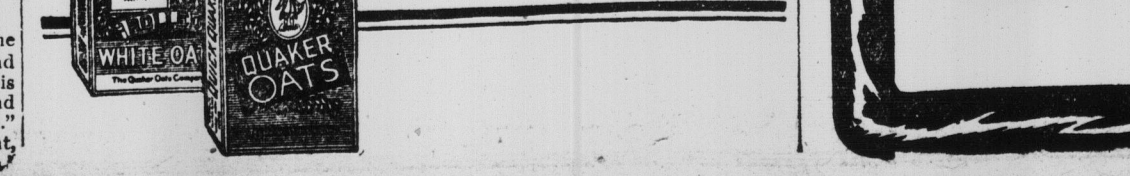

Give your children hot Quaker Oats and milk. Then see how much better they look, how much better they feel.

These appetizing oats furnish the essential food elements for energy and growth. Your children go to school warm and satisfied, ready for the morning's work.

Quaker Oats, the regular flake. Quick Quaker, the fine flake for quick-cooking. Buy which you prefer.

"HERE'S something queer," said the dentist, who had been drilling and pulling into a tooth. "You said this tooth had never been filled, but I find flakes of gold on the point of my drill." "I knew it!" moaned the patient. "You've struck my back collar button!"

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Angels, as they are represented in "The Sorrows of Satan." To the right is Lya de Putti, and (next above), Carol Dempster.

By GENE COHN.
Since it is not the practice in Moviemana to emblazon the names of cameramen on the electric signs, the name of Harry Fishbeck may not be familiar. Yet this Fishbeck, in spite of Adolph Menjou, Ricardo Cortez, Carol Dempster and Lya de Putti, completely walks away with "The Sorrows of Satan," the D. W. Griffith super-production for Paramount. The film's premiere, now being given on Broadway, is a triumph of the cameraman.

GRIFFITH'S TOUCH.
Just how much of this credit reflects on the direction of Griffith is easy to guess. Griffith is such an elastic fellow. He supplies so many brilliant touches and, on the other hand, such needless detail. He underdoes, so little and overdoes so much. He can be keen and yet so stilted. I still am at a loss to know how much he does with tongue in cheek.

Advertised as "Griffith's greatest film," the current picture combines some of the finest and some of the dullest stuff seen in any cinema. There are camera angles, diffusions, lightings, details, mellow tonings that have never been exceeded—not even by the much advertised Germans.

The first thing this picture needs is a ruthless slasher who will deal ruthlessly with interminable close-ups, asides and drawn-out duets and trios.

Then, too, never was a director cursed with a more insane story. We are shown a variation of the old morality play—Everyman, torn by poverty and desire, has found love but cannot provide food or roof; he curses God, and in walks Satan, looking strangely Menjouish, but under photographic circumstances that are astoundingly fine.

SOME GOOD ACTING.

And, again, as predicted by Griffith, the work of Cortez shows much growth. He is made in this picture not to posture, but sincerely to act. It is the best work of his career, and bits of it are surprisingly fine. Menjou needs no further cheers.

Finally, there is Fishbeck, and his is the finest work of all. But for his photography, the combined efforts of all the others would be for naught.

FADS OF THE FAMOUS.
DON EMILIANO FIGUEROA.
Don Emiliano Figueroa, the President of the Republic of Chile, is never more formidable or pensive than when he is playing Ombre, an old Spanish card-game which requires even greater concentration than chess.

When national affairs perturb the President, he does not pace nervously up and down the floor, but summons two of his ministers and plays a concentrated game of Ombre, forgetting everything else for the moment.

"I can always think better after a good hard game of Ombre. It seems to quiet my nerves," he once explained.

The highest personal tribute that the President can pay anyone is to invite him to play Ombre at his home on a Friday night. This round of cards on Friday is one of the inviolable rites of St. Figueroa and is never interfered with unless the most urgent duties of state demand his attention.

AT the request of a Government Department and entirely without the knowledge of Bovril Limited, independent scientific experiments were carried out to ascertain the food value of Bovril.

Weddings

Redston-Sheppard. A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Sheppard, 135 City Road, on Saturday evening at eight o'clock when their daughter, Catherine Catherine Sheppard, became the bride of David H. Redston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redston, of Fredericton Junction. Rev. R. G. Fulton, of Centenary church, performed the marriage ceremony, which took place under an arch of autumn leaves, pine and rowan berries. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father and looked charming in a dress of midon georgette over satin with gold trimmings. Her shoes were stockings, black picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. As the bride entered the room Miss Beatrice Price played Mendelssohn's "Bacchante." Miss Mildred Reicker and Leonard L. Johnson witnessed the signing of the register. The bridal table was attractive with vases of white carnations and was centred with a beautiful white floral bell from which extended white ribbon streamers, which were white bows to the corners of the table. A buffet luncheon was served to about 60 invited guests, including relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Mrs. A. M. Reicker and Mrs. W. E. Barker poured. Assisting in serving were Miss Mildred Reicker, Miss Grace McKee, Miss Beulah Barson, Miss Florence Barker, Miss Edie Barker, Miss George Barker, Miss Winifred Woolley, Miss Ruth Linton, Miss Helen Copp and Miss Marlon Little, girl friends of the bride.

Among the many gifts of silver, cut glass and linen received were a beautiful silver basket from Hon. J. A. Murray and staff of Provincial Immigration Office, where the bride was employed; a handsome mahogany gate legged table from the firm of F. H. Thastarook & Company, Ltd., where the groom is a member of the office staff, and from the staff of the same company a beautiful bridge lamp; from the degree staff of Moulton Temple, Pythian Sisters, No. 13, a handsome silver flower basket; from the primary teachers of Centenary church Sunday school, a pretty silver sandwich tray; a lovely silver cake basket from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooper, of Montreal; and a very substantial check from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cheeseman, aunt and uncle of the bride. COVERS FOR 8 instead of 6 KNIVES, FORKS and SPOONS for a service of eight, with the double purpose

UTILITY TRAY $51.25

Eight of each in hollow handle dessert knives with stainless steel blades, dessert forks, dessert spoons, tea spoons, a sugar shell and a butter knife . . . in any of the famous 1847 Rogers Bros. patterns . . . including the Ambassador—Anniversary—Ancestral and the new Argosy . . .

THE stellar feature of the SHOW is the new PIECES of 8 set—a new and long-needed idea in silverware service.

Heretofore, the young housewife starting her silver service has usually been obliged to select her first set in units of "six each."

"But six is not enough!" many housewives maintain. "It doesn't provide a 'spare' or two for the unexpected guest. 'Eight of each' is what the average family needs!"

So here it is, the happy medium selection—eight hollow handle dessert knives with stainless steel blades, eight dessert forks, eight dessert spoons, eight tea spoons, a sugar shell and a butter knife. 34 pieces all told—the "just right" service for starting the family plate.

And the price! $50.00 for the set complete, in an attractive gift box. Or with the popular Utility Serving Tray, shown above, $51.25.

James Fay Speaks at Ludlow Street Baptist and Centenary

James Fay, student of Pine Hill College, and just 20 years of age, who was one of the 12 Canadian boys selected to attend the 19th international convention of the Y. M. C. A., held this summer at Helsinki, in Finland, yesterday told of his impressions of that gathering at special services held in the morning in Ludlow street Baptist church and in the evening in Centenary church. His simple, direct and impressive presentation of his address were a revelation to the congregations before which he spoke.

In Centenary church in the evening Rev. R. G. Fulton conducted the service and the choir led in special music, assisted by Leonard Roberts and Reginald R. Maxwell, vocal soloists, and Harrison Morgan as violin soloist. Mr. Fulton recalled having traveled on the same boat with the young speaker of the evening when he was en route to Helsinki. He was just a boy, he said.

The "boy" in question, however, overtopped Mr. Fulton in height, having six feet and one inch to his credit. "That All May be One," was the theme Mr. Fay spoke upon and he said that text inscribed above the pulpit of the church in Helsinki had been the keynote of the international meeting at which 1,500 delegates attended, representing more than 50 nationalities and speaking almost as many different languages. He told of the vast amount of organization which had led up to the conference and the year of study by thousands of the youths of all of those countries.

He pointed out that there were many problems to be overcome and that with all the planning of those in charge there might yet have been unforeseen difficulties in racial differences. The language difficulty made it impossible to hold a general session and the conference was carried on in groups, about 50 groups being formed with from 27 to 30 boys in each.

That was one notable fact. Another Mr. Fay spoke of as the presence of German delegates for the first time since the war and the presence of Catholics as well as Protestants. It was indeed a gathering of the Christians of the world to see if they could find a solution of world problems in the teachings of Christ.

HIS IMPRESSIONS.
Among his own most vivid impressions gleaned from the conference, he said, had been first that Christ was the dominant power in the world today. Every one gathered there recognized that in the teaching of Christ was the only solution of world problems. He recalled having heard the Indian and Ceylon delegates discuss how to present Christianity to the non-Christian and their final decision that it was only by living a Christian life that this could be effectively accomplished. Then he told of the inconsistencies in Western civilization where people profess to be Christians but in their governments and their institutions are far from what they confer. The need for world brotherhood had been his second great impression of the conference and that impression had been deepened after seeing the vast cemeteries where were buried 45,000 Germans, 50,000 French and 9,000 unknown dead and the British and Canadian cemeteries on the battlefields.

Another of the outstanding impressions of the conference of which Mr. Fay spoke, was that it had revealed that Christianity's task was not alone to fit people for the next world but to govern this world also and religion was a thing not to be separated from everyday life.

delight. God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life. His great love wherewith He loved us even when we were dead in sins, but should we not be also eager to read what the Bible says about our giving to God? Mutual giving is the hall mark of the highest relationship there is. There is a business relationship but is confessionally founded on profit. The society relationship is usually congenial, waiting on and working for one another, letters when absent, loving greetings when present. The highest relationship we can enter upon is with God. His relationship is made and formed and built and held together by love. Where there is love there will be gifts, gifts that will come spontaneously and gladly and willingly from the love that is deep and strong in the heart.

Of course there are imitations, for the great imitator is out with many a cheap imitation of the good things of God. Devotion ways of raising money by dragging it out of all sorts of people like the heat of the sun dries the water from the Dead Sea. Money gotten in that way can never be an offering to God. Indeed, there is so much disrespect in it that it savors of insult. The only offering acceptable to God is the gift which comes to Him from a heart filled with love.

Series Concluded
In Charlotte street Baptist church last evening Rev. James Dunlop, pastor, concluded a series of sermons on "Christian Certainties." The theme was "Christ Supreme." Christ was supreme for the intellect, he said. The thinker, philosopher and the scientist could not discard Christ, for every ray of truth that went to the profit of a reformer of philosophy was from Him. He was the Light that lighteth every man. He was Wisdom incarnate. Christ was supreme for conscience. He was life as well as light. He was the world's great exemplar, and He was the world's great teacher. He first taught truth and then He lived it, then imparted His spirit to others until these shared His wisdom, power and grace. He turned moral dwarfs into giants. Christ becomes supreme by faith. A doubt damns. Faith saves. Doubt makes a race of small men. Faith

ARCHDEACON
ACCEPTS CALL
TO P. Q. CHURCH

Rev. A. H. Crowfoot Announces Intention to St. Paul's Congregation

Rev. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, D. D., announced to his congregation in St. Paul's church yesterday morning that he had decided to accept the unanimous call to the Quebec Cathedral congregation and become rector of Quebec and dean of the cathedral, succeeding Very Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman, who has been elected Bishop of the diocese of Calgary.

Archdeacon Crowfoot will remain rector of St. Paul's in Saint John until after the New Year. The announcement that he is to vacate his charge here was received with very deep regret not only by his own congregation and the members of the Anglican communion, but by the citizens as a whole. He is one of the most prominent of the Anglican clergymen in Fredericton diocese and one of the most gifted of pulpit orators.

Archdeacon Crowfoot is a native of England and was born in Suffolk. He was educated at the widely known Marlborough School and at Emmanuel College at Cambridge. His training in theology was received at Wells Theological College. Archdeacon Crowfoot was ordained by the Bishop of Liverpool and his first charge was at All Saints' church, Wigan, where he was curate for five years before coming to New Brunswick. He has been in this diocese for the last 11 years. The first year and a half he was rector at Grand Falls church and then was called to Hampton.

SIX YEARS AT HAMPTON
He was rector at Hampton for six years and during that time was appointed as Archdeacon of Saint John, an honor bestowed upon him in 1916. He came to St. Paul's church in Saint John nine years ago. In each of the parishes where he has served the church work has prospered greatly. During his rectorship at St. Paul's many improvements have been made in the church property and many beautiful memorials of a splendid new organ, towards the purchase of which Archdeacon Crowfoot made a most substantial contribution.

As a preacher and a missionary, Archdeacon Crowfoot's reputation has spread far beyond the limits of the diocese and he has been called upon to conduct missions and retreats both in the diocese of Fredericton and in other parts of Canada. He is very interested and well versed student of church history and has given series of addresses on this subject, which have been very popular.

Archdeacon Crowfoot has been elected as presiding officer by several of the organizations in the city in which he has taken a special interest, among them the Saint John Art Club and the Church of England Institute, and he holds that office in both of these at the present time. He has been a very keenly interested member of the Natural History Society also. He is a member of St. George's Society and for several years was chaplain of the body.

IS DOCTOR OF DIVINITY
This year King's College, Halifax, selected Archdeacon Crowfoot as the recipient of the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. Archdeacon and Mrs. Crowfoot with their children have won a very special place in the warm regard of the people of Saint John and it was with very keen regret that the announcement of their coming departure was heard in the city yesterday. Mingled with the regret were expressions of warm congratulations in the Archdeacon's selection for a position of so great importance and responsibility.

Novel Request Comes to Director of Vancouver C. N. R. Station Recently
MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Up in far-off Alaska, where mail reaches lonely inhabitants only once a month, it is sometimes difficult to "keep track" of days, and here a new demand has been made on radio, according to a letter received by the director of radio for the Canadian National Railways from station CNR4 at Vancouver. The letter came to the Vancouver Station from a waterman at a fishing plant at Red Bluff Bay, Alaska, and his plaint is from a lonely group of people who desire to know during a broadcast not only the time and place but also the day of the week.

"There are three of us here at a lonely fishing plant," the letter states, "my wife, myself and one other man. We get mail only once a month, and one day is so much like another that it is very difficult to keep track of days and dates. Will you, therefore, during your winter programs, which we tune in for, announce the day of the week and the date, so that we can keep informed of the time?"
Needless to say, the request is being complied with.

COMPARE Carnation Milk with any other kind. Notice especially Carnation's creamy-delicate taste and color. Don't you suppose you would like this milk better as your regular milk—for all cooking and for use in place of cream?
Carnation is so good because it is just pure, fresh milk made doubly-rich by evaporation. Nothing but water is taken out. Nothing is added. You get all the wonderful flavor of the cream. You can use it as milk or as cream. You can keep it on hand—it keeps indefinitely in the can and for several days when opened. It reduces your milk bill and cuts your cream cost in three.
Order Carnation from your grocer.
CARAMEL TAPIOCA—½ cup tapioca, 2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups water, 1½ eggs, few grains salt, 1 cup light brown sugar, and 1 cup broken nut meats. Add tapioca, salt and sugar to hot diluted milk. Cook in a double boiler for twenty-five minutes, or until tapioca is transparent. Beat egg thoroughly and add slowly to tapioca, cooking for two minutes longer. Finally add the nuts. Chill and serve with whipped cream sauce. This serves eight.

The "Big Hit" of Radio Entertainment

FADA "HARMONATED" RECEPTION is taking Canada by storm. Every hearer is proclaiming it to be far in advance of any receiver on the market.
This evolution in radio engineering was brought about by farsighted FADA Radio scientists and engineers—the greatest minds in their profession.
These men saw the need of improved radio reception. They analyzed the weaknesses of radio receivers in general. They found there was no uniformity in the building of sets. Tubes, transformers, etc., were all made by different manufacturers with no attempt at standardization.
They accordingly set about constructing radio receivers by an entirely new method. Using a tube of known reliability as a basic unit they built and harmonized every separate part of the FADA receiver to this unit, completing the link of superior reception with the new FADA Cone Speaker (in the enclosed models the new "Harmonated" unit).
FADA "HARMONATED" RECEPTION was the result—the greatest advance in radio reception to date. FADA now brings you unbelievably improved reception—long distance and radio reproduction of a quality never heard before.
Phone the nearest authorized FADA dealer and arrange for a demonstration in your home tonight. Let your hearing be your guide, as thousands of satisfied Fada owners all over the world have done.

D'Annunzio Using Saint's Life For Drama

ROME, Nov. 1.—Gabriele D'Annunzio's self-imposed exile in his villa at Gardone Riviera has been partially explained by the announcement that he is working on a mystery play, with based on the life of St. Francis Assisi.

The examination made by the auditors showed that Glisson kept a duplicate set of card index entries of the thirteen accounts from which the money was taken.

Glisson took no one into his confidence in regard to his outside business affairs. He was trusted and respected. He was a church worker and regular attendant at Sunday school.

Glisson was an advocate of tithing—giving one-tenth of one's income to the church. He received a monthly salary of $800 from the bank.

Glisson's figures were within $5 of the calculations of the bank examiners.

Glisson lived with his wife and child in a $14,000 home. The bank letter carried on his automobile-finishing business from his home after banking hours.

JAPAN FACING PROBLEM OVER IMMIGRATION

Population Increases Enormously Within Last 30 Years

By MYLES W. VAUGHN (United Press Correspondent)

TOKYO, Nov. 1.—Japan will have a population of more than 100,000,000 within 30 years and the problem of feeding these people and providing them with profitable employment and room to live is the greatest question facing the empire.

The population now is increasing at the rate of more than 800,000 a year and threatens shortly to reach the million-a-year mark.

Other newspapers take an equally serious view of the situation, calling attention to the increasing shortage of food and the problem of finding rice for the thousands of hungry mouths added each day to the emperor's subjects.

Publicists generally believe the population problem will be one of the most serious that will face the new government, formation of which is expected momentarily. The present all-Kan-
