G. Fred Fisher Chosen Mayoralty Candidate

Prominent Business Man on Strong Hydro Platform.

Enters Contest as Champion of Power at Cost and with Record That Gives Him Right to Confidence of the Taxpayers.

The selection of G. Fred Fisher as candidate for the position of mayor of the city in the coming civic contest, was decided at a meeting of the executive members of the United Organizations on Saturday evening, and was followed by announcement of the platform on which Mr. Fisher will carry on his campaign, and in which the citizens of St. John will receive the benefits of hydro at cost.

After the names of several prospective candidates had been eliminated the meeting considered the choice of two—those of Mr. Fisher and Roy A. Willet. A vote was taken in the selection of Mr. Fisher. Supporters of Mr. Willet then moved to make the vote unanimous and this action was happily received. A platform agreed upon by both Mr. Fisher and Mr. Willet was submitted to the meeting and accepted. Preliminary to Saturday evening's meeting, a committee of ten members of the United Organizations was appointed on October 9, to interview some 200 citizens with the object of ascertaining the names of suitable men who might stand as candidates for the office of mayor. The names of four prospective candidates were accordingly placed before the committee—R. T. Hayes, M. P. P.; J. MacMillan, Treasurer, of McNerney & Trueman; Mr. Willet and Mr. Fisher. Mr. Hayes informed the committee that he did not wish to contest the election and Mr. Trueman, for business reasons, was unable to run.

This left the selection between Mr. Fisher and Mr. Willet. At the opening of Saturday's meeting, Mr. Willet announced that he and Mr. Fisher had agreed upon a platform and in which the executive considered the proposed policy before proceeding with the choice of candidates.

The platform was read section by section and after a thorough discussion was adopted unanimously. Messrs. Fisher and Willet then withdrew and voting on the candidates was carried out resulting in the selection of Mr. Fisher, which selection was unanimous on motion of Mr. Willet's supporters.

Complete harmony marked the whole proceedings of the meeting and there was a general expression of undivided support for the new candidate after his selection had been announced. It was stressed by many members that the delivery of hydro to the people of St. John and its vicinity would urge the organizations on to victory in the coming contest and a pledge of support and active work in the interests of Mr. Fisher's election was given by all members of the executive present.

A Worthy Candidate. G. Fred Fisher, who will be the citizen candidate in the mayoralty election next month, is a man well versed in civic affairs in which he has had considerable experience. In 1916, after the adoption of the commission form of government, he stood for election and came out at the head of the poll. Appointed commissioner of public works, he served the city well for four years and was responsible for the adoption of a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the city streets. He was at one time a promoter of the citizens' league which had for its object a betterment of civic government.

Since his retirement from the city council he has taken a keen interest in civic matters and particularly that of the hydro distribution. He has made a thorough study of the problem and is confident, with all chance of private profit eliminated, St. John can enjoy the same benefits from the hydro as the country, in which he has been active in Ontario.

Speaking of civic affairs last evening, Mr. Fisher said: "I have taken a deep interest in the hydro-electric development and have followed its history from the first.

"The city of St. John must take the initiative in the present and deliver it to the people without profit to the distributors. The same success can attend the project here as has been attained in the Ontario cities and towns where the people are now able to secure power for industrial and general purposes at a rate far below that we have been paying here in St. John.

"The citizens are entitled to electricity at cost, and I am sure the people of St. John will, at the coming election, endorse this policy as thoroughly as they did in the election in April last.

Herbert Phillips, M. E. I. C., and Roy A. Willet, chairman of the United Organizations have announced their intention to actively support Mr. Fisher in his campaign. Mr. Willet said last night that Mr. Fisher had always been a strong supporter of the United Organizations and he had confidence that the hands of Mr. Fisher, the platform of the United Organizations would be carried out.

Hydro at cost, Mr. Willet said, was a real issue in the election, and those who are anxious to have this issue put into effect must rally to the use and make every vote count on October 18. The present mayor, who had refused to carry out the wishes of the people must receive a fitting answer from those people, whom he is supposed to represent, and in his place elect Mr. Fisher to stand resolutely for the citizens receiving the benefits of the Musquash development.

G. Fred Fisher's Platform

No. 1—(a) The completion and signing of the contract with the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission for Musquash Power. (b) The appointment of an independent Civic Hydro Electric Commission to construct a Civic Distribution System and operate same.

No. 2—Completion of Plans and Specifications for a Civic Distribution System.

No. 3—That an offer be made by the City to purchase the entire property of The New Brunswick Power Company, at the sum named by the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, March 2, 1920, $2,577,655.56. This sum to be the maximum, and the offer to remain open for ten days only.

No. 4—In the event of the offer not being accepted by the Power Company, in the time specified, the city to proceed immediately with the construction of its own distribution system.

BRITAIN SAYS NO TO U. S. RE LIQUOR LAW

FIND LIQUOR THAT LED TO MURDER

Regina, Sask., Oct. 15.—A load of liquor taken across the U. S. boundary on October 4, by Lee Dillage and Jim Lacoste, alleged murderers of Paul Matloff, a liquor agent, has been discovered in underground cellars, near Dillage's farm, according to information received from Portail, N. D. It is said that the liquor has been identified as that which Dillage purchased from Matloff at the Benoit station on the morning of October 4, when Matloff was robbed and murdered there. Dillage and Lacoste drove the truck load of liquor over the boundary, where it was seized and carried away by "high jackers" who left the two men stranded on the prairie.

Conservatives In Cabinet To Decide Their Course Today

London, Oct. 15.—The Conservative members of the government have been summoned to meet today to decide whether they shall continue their support of the coalition under the leadership of Premier Lloyd George. The meeting, which was called by Austen Chamberlain, lord privy seal and government leader in the House of Commons, will include not only the Conservatives in the cabinet, but also the under secretaries belonging to the party.

It is believed that Mr. Chamberlain will be backed by the Earl of Balfour, Lord Birkenhead and Sir Robert Horne in his adhesion to the premier, but the attitude of several of the others is regarded as more than doubtful.

It is said in well informed circles that there will be a demand from the majority that the Conservatives rank and file be consulted at a general party meeting before any decision is taken, and that if this is not done there will be many resignations from the ministry, enough according to some predictions to cause its fall.

In any case, it is believed that today's meeting is likely to have a decisive effect upon the political future, although the possibility of some arrangement which will hold the party together for a time is not excluded from consideration.

Freedom of Two Cities

After leaving Manchester, Premier Lloyd George went to Salford where the freedom of the city was presented to him in a short speech of thanks. He said the first thing required was to re-establish the credit of the pound sterling. This old country existed before the world would be restored, and that was that the depleted wealth of the world should be built up.

Why He Went to Lancashire

"Great Britain today stands at the door of opportunity, the greatest since the days of the great land is yet to come. I have been treated by you as a man who has no use for. But, gentlemen, I can still go to the provinces, and have people who change their favorites as often as their fashions—every season's bouquets today and tomorrow man under these conditions, to get away from that jumpy hysterical atmosphere to a country where the people don't forget the service rendered. That is why I came to Lancashire."

THE BRITISH PRESS

All the morning papers through their editorial columns repeat their conviction that an election must come soon, but opinions differ as to the probable date. Some expect a definite announcement in respect within a day or two.

DE VALERA LETTERS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Dublin, Oct. 15.—The Daily Mail has issued an official white paper containing the capture correspondence of Eamon De Valera, former president of the Dail, and others.

The correspondence discloses that on Sept. 6, three days before the meeting of the Irish parliament, De Valera wrote Eamon De Valera, commander in chief of the Republican forces, approving the suggestion that the army should proclaim parliament as an illegal assembly.

The next day, the former president of the Dail wrote saying that he had changed his mind and urged the Republicans to absent themselves on the ground that the second Dail had not been elected.

On Sept. 12, De Valera wrote that if it was the policy of the party to leave the Dail, the obvious thing for the party members to do was to resign their positions as public representatives.

The next day in a letter he is quoted as writing: "I am afraid the task of the two such courses as the party and the army will be too much for any executive."

On Oct. 14 the correspondence discloses that De Valera urged that a statement should be prepared saying that the new Dail was not a legitimate successor of the old Eireann.

PHONE TAPPING LATEST PHASE

Listening in on Calls at Home of Slain Rector

Special Prosecutor to be Appointed to Take Charge of Inquiry—Woman Lawyer Said to Have Packet of Love Letters.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 15.—A charge that the telephone belonging to Mrs. Edward J. Conner Hall, whose husband was slain with Mrs. E. R. Mills, a choir singer in his church, had been tapped, was the latest development today in the investigation of the double murder. This charge was made by Sally Peters, who lives in the Hall household. She said that no important calls now were being made over it.

County and state investigators professed ignorance of any wire tapping. Supreme Court Justice Parker was expected to announce today a special prosecutor to take charge of the inquiry.

Private detectives declared yesterday that their investigations have convinced them that the murders resulted from jealousy. J. J. Braun, employed in the interest of Charlotte and James Mills, daughter and husband of the slain woman, said that Miss Florence Charlotte, a woman lawyer representing Charlotte, had a packet of letters showing by the results of the last trial that Mrs. Mills were in love.

Braun, expressed the belief that the love affair became known to some member of the congregation and that the pair were lured from their home by telephone calls known to have been received about 7.20 p. m. of the day of which they were killed. He advanced the theory that the rector and Mrs. Mills were confronted with each other, slain and then taken to the spot under the crab apple tree on the Phillips place where the bodies were found two days later.

END OF FAMINE REFLECTED IN RUSSIAN DANCES
Moscow, Sept. 12.—(A. P. by mail).—The opening of Russia's theatrical season has brought out examples of freak and impressionistic staging and exotic dancing in several theatres, but nevertheless the classic Russian ballet, the old style opera and the drama seem more popular than ever.

Both the strikingly new impressionistic presentations and the time-honored ballets, however, draw large crowds, and the opening performances in the theatres featuring these respective styles were sold out long before the curtains.

At the Nobles Club theatre, where Goleysky presented impressionistic dancing by a dozen or more youths and girls from the Kamerny ballet, cubist and spiral structures and ordinary planks, and ladders were used as scenery to represent palaces, mountains, pyramids, etc. The dancers, posturing weirdly to music by Bier, Strauss and Debussy, seemed to be cast drawings come to life.

When the curtain went up on the first performance of the ballet this year, it was evident that the dancers had enjoyed their first year of good feeding since the revolution. All were much plumper, and some carried on twenty pounds since last year, but her technique seemed better than ever.

Along with everything else, prices for theatre tickets have soared in Moscow since the close of last season. Formerly obtainable for the Russian equivalent of about twenty-five cents, parquet seats this year brought about two dollars at the box offices, and from five to fifteen dollars each from speculators.

MR. G. FRED FISHER FOR MAYOR

Read Mr. G. Fred Fisher's platform and read it carefully. It is short and sharp, and it is easy to read and to understand. It means business.

It does not mean shuffling, or delay, or bluffing, or negotiating, or doubtful trading. It means business.

It means cheap power. It means that Musquash power, developed by the people's money, will reach the people without delay, and without private profit, private humbugging, private exploitation.

Mr. Fisher knows where he is going, and he knows that the shortest distance between two points—between St. John and Musquash—is a straight line and not a crooked one. And it is Mr. Fisher's settled habit to run straight. He does not love the spotlight, and, to employ the vernacular, he is not much on the ballroom. In fact, if the Evening Times were picking out a ballroom artist, there are several more or less conspicuous not to say notorious citizens, who would have a wide preference over Mr. Fisher. And even that, it is worth thinking about in an hour when bluff and bluster are being passed over the counter so freely instead of good sound coin of the realm.

In adopting the Fisher-Willet platform the United Organizations did a wise thing and performed a public service, which, by the way, is by no means the first they have performed. The United Organizations have done a great deal of solid work in connection with hydro, and although they have been betrayed by some they trusted, they are neither discouraged nor defeated. Hard fighting has only made them more determined to give St. John cheap power to the people. They have no axe to grind. They are seeking no reward in this matter except the reward which comes to good citizenship. They have not thrust this platform upon the public. They are simply asking the public to read, understand and embrace the platform upon which Mr. Fisher and Mr. Willet agreed, and the success of this platform will mean one of the greatest triumphs in the history of this old and honorable city.

It is upon Musquash power that cost is an easy one if only the electors will understand how simple and how clear the issue is, and if they will set their faces against all of the cheap and dishonest attempts to confuse the question and divert them from the sound policy to their own undoing and to the perishment of a limited circle of individuals who desire to reap richly where they have not sown.

THE WIDOWS AND THE ORPHANS

It has been said in St. John during the somewhat prolonged hydro campaign that one of the awkward and anxious issues in connection with the whole matter is the danger—the alleged danger—of doing a woeful injustice to the widows and the orphans who invested their money in those glittering securities issued on a famous occasion by the New Brunswick Power Company.

This is an interesting question, and it demands a little examination. If the people of St. John contemplated any considerable or extensive warfare upon the widows and the orphans it would be indeed a grievous fault, and probably enough, like Cæsar, they would have to settle rather grievously in the end. But let us see about it.

The class of securities which ordinary prudence selects for the widows and the orphans is very definitely defined by sound and very clearly recognized practice. The widows and the orphans, in seeking investments, do not rush in to Wall street, or any other market, clamoring for speculative securities. They or their advisers, or trustees, or sincere friends, purchase or advise the purchase of standard securities such as government bonds, as good as gold, and guaranteeing a reasonable return, beyond peradventure.

Also, bonds or investments of this character, in addition to providing an assured income, have the further virtue that they can be converted into cash at any moment, and that the widows and the orphans, if the wolf is at the door, or the coal bin or the wood pile is in distress, may sell a portion of their holdings at par or thereabouts, or may borrow against these securities on the best of par.

Now these are the facts that would not be disputed by the most wild-eyed advocate or the most plant tool of even the New Brunswick Power Company. And that is significant. So we arrive at a further important fact, that the citizens of St. John have not unloaded any of the New Brunswick

Power Company's securities upon the widows and orphans, and have not been a party to any such unloading, and would, indeed, feel regret and indignation if they really believed that the city's widows and orphans were in danger of suffering loss or hardship because they had been badly advised in matters of business, or, worse still, that somebody, or that several persons or interests, had taken advantage of those who are helpless and unaided in the field of investment. It is well, in the old phrase, that the palm should be borne by him who has won it. That was said to be the motto of Lord Nelson. It is equally true that responsibility in matters of this kind should be placed squarely upon the shoulders of those who did the thing, and not loosely and generally upon the shoulders of the people of St. John, whose only crime is that they want power at cost, and are determined to have it, even if the promoters and speculators lose a little hair and hide during the inevitable struggle. In other words, if there are wailing widows and orphans who bought any unsatisfactory securities—and Heaven forbid that such should really be the case—they will know where to look for redress. Don't forget that.

The 70,000 and more people who are impatiently awaiting very cheap power are not in the slightest degree responsible for the vagaries—to employ a term of politeness—of the New Brunswick Power Company, or any of its more or less renegade agents or allies.

The opening up of a new source of power at Musquash by public money—and mark well that it was by public money—gave the people of St. John an open road to freedom from the intolerable situation into which they were thrown, not by their own sins or those of others, but by the fact that monopoly had been pitted upon monopoly, and that the citizens who pay all the bills of all the public utility corporations had been publicly notified that they could keep on paying and be damned to them.

There are elements, as there are individuals, who still profess to believe that, by deception or by manipulation, or by other methods to which we will not at present give a name, they will be able to re-shackle the people of this city and of this county, and of Kings and Westmorland counties, and compel them for all time to pay tribute that is as unjust as it is indecent. If there is still as much red blood in the veins of the citizens as The Evening Times firmly believes there is, two things are going to happen presently. One of these is that the people are going to re-establish their freedom from the rawest monopoly, and the other is that certain individuals and certain elements who have long been looking for trouble are going to get a great deal more of it than they can comfortably carry.

They have provoked war, and they should have it in full measure. Today, as for a great many months past, they have been parading a huddled group of widows and orphans between them and the fire of the citizens. Those widows and orphans are purely imaginary, or, if a few of them do exist, they must not look to the people of St. John for relief but to those who issued certain classes of securities and represented them as pieces of paper such as the widow and the orphan might safely buy.

There is no use mincing words about this matter. The people of St. John are going to have cheap power from Musquash. They are willing to get it by fair and good-natured tactics, if such tactics will avail—but they are going to get it.

"BUNK!" The following poster was seen on the billboards this morning:

"As The Telegraph, Times and Globe have been publishing incorrect and misleading statements regarding the hydro situation, I consider it my duty to take this means of warning the public against believing the statements of these newspapers."

"At the public meeting in the Pythian Castle in April last, I recommended the purchasing of the New Brunswick Power Company's property by the city, and have not changed my position; and now that the first power generated at Musquash which St. John expected to get has been sold to Moncton and other places, the erection of a civic distribution system and a fight with the New Brunswick Power Company must surely lead to increased taxation."

"H. R. McCallan, Mayor."

This is about as perfect a specimen of "bunk" as the famous "Mayor" has yet produced; and that is saying a whole lot. It is not only "bunk," but "wonderful and useful bunk." It is an unwitting confession that the man is "rattled" because his house is falling about his ears.

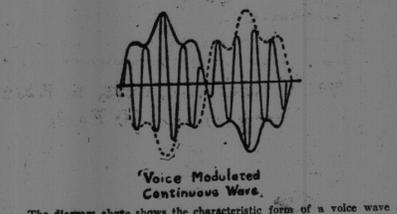

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis
Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 130.
MODULATION.

When we talk into the ordinary line telephone transmitter which is operated from a direct current source, the current which ordinarily flows through the transmitter circuit is varied to correspond to the voice produced sound waves, or in other words, the direct current is modulated by the reproduced sound waves as spoken into the transmitter. Were it not for this modulation in the line and apparatus the sound waves would be exactly reproduced but in line telephony there is always a certain amount of distortion.

In radio telephony instead of employing direct current as a carrier, currents which radiate waves into the ether carrying the modulations corresponding to the voice waves to the distant receiving station. In spite of the fact that the transmitting apparatus for radio telephony requires more delicate and complicated apparatus than is employed on the ordinary line telephone, by proper adjustment of the instruments and circuits it is possible to secure clearer reproduction than can be obtained over wires.

The diagram above shows the characteristic form of a voice wave and the effect produced on a constant amplitude continuous wave of radio frequency when the voice wave is super-imposed upon it by means of a proper modulating system.

Modulation of the output of a continuous wave transmitter of the usual vacuum tube type may be accomplished in a number of different ways. One of the simplest and probably the latest efficient ways is by the insertion of a carbon microphone transmitter directly in the ground lead. This method has been employed in small power installations with some success especially in the old type of telephone transmitters.

A more common means of modulating the output of the oscillator tube is by employing another tube as a modulating tube to which is connected the microphone through a modulating transformer of the iron core type. In large installations in order to secure complete modulation of the output of the large tube used.

Another method of modulation makes use of a transformer connected in the antenna system, the iron core of which is kept saturated by a direct current source. When in operation the transformer has the effect of a varying resistance in the antenna circuit.

Much of the trouble in radio telephone transmitters is due to over modulation of the carrier or insufficient modulation. The magnetic modulator with the transformer in the antenna circuit is not very critical in operation and will modulate fairly large outputs.

When receiving radio concerts or speeches, the signals as emitted by the loud speaker, after passing through two or three stages of audio frequency amplification may be very much distorted in the receiving set itself, although the modulation of the transmitting station may be as nearly perfect as it is possible to obtain. This may be due to improper adjustment, or improper design of the apparatus.

THE ALTARS OF OCTOBER.

The Altars of October—lo! they stand On every wooded hill and lift their blaze— On every hill of those that nest at hand Drop passion-kindled leaves in forest

While further yet, unwrapped in curling haze, Are those whose flame, enwrapped in view, may stand— For wonder, song and praise, Thanksgiving for the varied stores That crown the year with mirth and fruitfulness.

The Altars of October! Flowers are there, As well as fruits—oh, dwindled, wistful blooms, That, though they are so small, are very fair!

They wreath the altar-horns, nor know Fate looms— The flames that cresty torch that soon consumes; October is a priest of cruel rites, For, as his torch he dips, he reads the Of all that serve his splendid days and nights, And scatters them—both worshippers and acolytes!

The Altars of October draw me, too; His wanton luxury I may not shun, But there I shall be found—a pagan true, To make my gifts and murmured orison— And if of precious things I shall spare none, Visions and voices may for me arise, Such as Ulisses from Elysium won, When he in Aea offered sacrifice, And the long dead and loved arose before his eyes!

—Edith M. Thomas in the New York Times.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Cheerled it. He—"They say that people who live together grow to look alike." She—"Then you absolutely must consider my refusal as final!"—New York Medley.

She Gets Along. A young married woman, full of idealism, met an older woman, who asked the young woman, "How's your husband?" "Pretty well, I think. He works so hard I see him about one hour a day."

"Oh, no poor thing! I sympathize." "Oh, no dear. It's all right. The hour soon goes."

Laying Down a Barrage. "Do you hear from your son at college?" "Early and often," said Mr. Grabcock. "I get so many requests for money by mail, telegraph and long distance telephone that I hesitate to 'listen in' with my radio outfit for fear I'll hear son's voice making another appeal."

Love's Logic. Maud—"Funny you should fall in love with a man ten years older than yourself." Ethel—"He isn't. We didn't begin to love till we knew each other, so of course we were exactly the same age."—New Haven Register.

AN IRISH PHILOSOPHER.

(New York Times.)

No one writes about Irish affairs with more insight and authority than George Russell. Far from the mere meagre of the lighters, he is able to unite with his intense love of Ireland a just view of her present plight and needs. More than once Mr. Russell has written of the frightful handicaps under which the Irish Free State is struggling into being. The civil war is, for one thing, hanging a perfect millstone of debt about the neck of Ireland. Claims for damages to the amount of nearly $50,000,000 have already been filed. Even if these were to be cut in half, as they doubtless should be, the total would make a staggering burden. Mr. Russell has also made it plain that he has little sympathy and less patience with the leaders of the insurgent movement in Ireland. He dryly remarks that they need a man to stand for their activities, implying, it would appear, that if they could all be placed on some desert rock in the sea they would soon kill each other. Mr. Russell—

It is Mr. Russell's habit of mind to look below the surface of current events in search of deeper causes and profounder changes than catch the casual eye. In a recent article of his, published in The Irish Homestead, he expresses his fear that the character of the Irish people has been altered, and the mold of the Irish mind has been broken up, through the events of the past seven years. He perceives, or thinks that he does, the disappearance of "the pleasant, easy-going folk who were running the country for a quarter of a century before the great war." They were, he is sure, finely patriotic, passionate, disputatious, and often quarrelsome, yet they could endure each other's arguments and were inclined to peaceful methods of settling public questions. Today all that is changed. The idea of physical force has become dominant. Signs of its use and familiarity with its exercise have become like germs infecting the blood of the Irish people with epidemic effect. Writes Mr. Russell—

"The children growing in Ireland, who began to be conscious of the world around them after 1914 and up to this year, have been touched but little or not at all by the sentiment created by the earlier movements. The boys of seven or eight years or up to fourteen or fifteen, in what educationalists know as the most impressionable period of their lives, have been listening to tales of the great war, of risings, insurrections, ambushes, imprisonments, burnings, raids, and the like, and have been imbued with a melo-dramatic, violence justifiable or blackguardly."

Such things, Mr. Russell is keenly aware, cannot fail to drag unhappy consequences after them. The whole has been a perniculous environment, a really dangerous hereditas. On top of it has been piled the misfortune of widespread suffering due to the men whom Mr. Russell still the least of the world's ills. It is a certain time that he was emerging. There can be no dissent from Mr. Russell when he says that the man who can pull Ireland out of the slough will have status erected to his memory in every Irish town and his glory will endure long in every Irish heart.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES.

(Toronto Telegram.)

To use a system of treating defective juvenile minds in the same manner as in the case of adults, is a view to curing potential criminals and moral perverts before the development of the juvenile mind. It is a certain time ago Dr. Hastings placed before the local Board of Health the outline of the treatment of children and a large proportion were described as mentally diseased by the psychiatrists.

By the timely treatment of these abnormal and subnormal minds a great deal of vice in the province may be prevented, said Dr. Hastings.

Dr. Hastings said that approximately two and one-half per cent. of the pupils in Toronto schools are mental defectives, and H. E. Mills said that the number of school children in the city is about 80,000.

The proposal that Dr. Hastings has made is the colonization of mentally defective children. The degrees of mental deficiency would be classified as follows: (1) Mildly defective, (2) Moderately defective, (3) Severely defective.

By removing these subnormal cases from the ordinary school classes and giving them special attention, even taking them away from their parents to do so, Dr. Hastings believes that they could be reared to self-supporting maturity and saved from almost certain moral destruction.

CANADIANS EARN COMFORT

Viscount Bertie Considers Them a Hard-Working People.

Viscount and Lady Bertie, who recently arrived in Toronto after completing their western tour with the Montreal Board of Trade expressed themselves as much impressed with what they had seen.

"We had intended coming to Canada, anyway," said Viscount Bertie, "and had our passage booked before the invitation came." He saw little signs of unemployment on his tour and considers Canadians a hard-working people who deserve to live in comfort. He noted with satisfaction the excellent feeling between Canada and the U. S. throughout the west.

Canadian law cases to the Privy Council, he thought, regarding interfering cases, it would be an excellent thing, but not so with private cases. "I think Canada perfectly capable of looking after her own," he said.

Viscount Bertie of Thame was born in 1878 and is a son of the first Viscount and Lady Frodozova Cecilia, daughter of the Earl of Cowley. He was educated at Eton and Christ Church, Oxford, and Trinity Hall, Cambridge, and was called to the bar in 1902.

A KNOT-TYING MACHINE.
British Invention Ties From Fifty to Sixty Per Minute.
A machine which ties from fifty to sixty knots a minute for the class of work known in the brush-making industry as "man-work" has been put out in England. The workings of this machine are described in a trade bulletin from the other side.
A knot of the required size is taken from the feed box, holding the bulk, and passed into a gripper. The gripper being then carried on an intermittently rotatable table and the knot passed through a tank, where it is pitched. The knot is then carried to a device where a metal ring is put on, then passed to a fire compressor, which lightly compresses the ring into the correct position on the knot, then to a final compressor, where it is compressed to the correct size and shape. It is then thrown out on to a traveling hand ready for setting. The metal rings are automatically made from the machine from a metal strip and carried to the required position for applying to the knot.
All parts of the machine are said to be adapted to operating in properly lined relation to one another so as to effect in the correct sequence the various operations necessary to the formation of the finished knot.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Mary Kelly, forty-three, of New York, a patient in the state hospital for the insane here, was found dead in the woods near the hospital yesterday, with the top of her head blown off. She was reported missing from the hospital last night.

Joseph Graveline, a hunter, said he had found the body, but when arrested and questioned by District Attorney Inghram is said to have confessed that he had shot at what he thought was a partridge and discovered that he had killed a woman.
Such a bore. Life must become extremely dull for a woman who married a man to reform him, when she finds that she has succeeded.—Albany Journal.

G. W. V. A. MATTERS

Proceedings Relative to the Pension Charges.

Arrangements for Repatriation of Canadian Veterans Who Accepted Discharge in England—News of a Soldier Sought.

(By G. W. V. A. News Service)
Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The evidence on the G. W. V. A. charges against the Board of Pensions Commissioners, presentation of which was started on August 23 before the royal commission at Ottawa, was concluded on the evening of October 10. The G. W. V. A. has been given until October 25 to prepare written argument, based upon the evidence, in support of its charges. This will be placed in the hands of the royal commission and the board of pension commissioners simultaneously and the latter will have until November 4 to formulate a reply. The royal commission will re-convene on November 13, when the verbal argument of counsel will be heard. The findings of the commission will be given later.

The final eight days of the hearing were occupied in the presentation of individual cases by the G. W. V. A. illustrating points in their contentions that disabled veterans and their dependents had not received the consideration that parliament had intended. The only evidence put in by the pension board was in rebuttal of the allegations as they affected the individual cases.

Repatriation of Canadian Veterans. In compliance with the decision of parliament to offer further assistance in returning to Canada Canadian soldiers who accepted their discharges in England, a repatriation board has been established in Ottawa to decide upon the individual cases as they apply. The board is composed of one representative each from the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, the Department of National Defence and the Department of Immigration and Colonization. To expedite consideration of the cases decisions are to be called to the Canadian High Commissioner's office in London.

Those eligible for the provisions of the order-in-council include any ex-member of the C. E. F. who was discharged in the United Kingdom and has not since returned to Canada; widow, wife and children under eighteen years of age of any man who served in the Canadian Forces; widow, wife and children of men who served in the Imperial forces and who resided in Canada prior to August 4, 1914.

The money is to be advanced in the form of a loan and is to be supplemented by funds that the applicants may have in their possession. Third class passage will be provided to destination in Canada.

Applicants have to secure, in the first place, the approval of a representative of the Department of Immigration and Colonization in the United Kingdom. These officers are to co-operate with the Canadian High Commissioner's office and the London office of the D. S. C. R. in handling applications. The final date for applications has been set at April 30, 1923.

Who Knows Him? Information is sought concerning the present whereabouts of Hans Christian Madsen, former No. 2,042,542 of the Canadian engineers. Particulars should be forwarded to the information department, Dominion Command G. W. V. A., Citizen Building, Ottawa.

BURGLAR TORTURES

WOMAN WITH FIRE

Burns Her With Cigarette to Compel Her to Tell Where Money is Hidden.

New York, Oct. 16.—Detectives and uniformed patrolmen have been searching the woods around Jamaica for a man who broke into the home of Chauncey Shultz, a patrolman, at 2 Hutton street, near Flushing avenue, and tortured his wife by burning her with a cigarette when she would not tell him where her money was hidden.

Mrs. Shultz was lying down in her bedroom in the afternoon when she heard a sound near her bed and looked up to see a young man, cap pulled down over his ears, with a cigarette in the corner of his mouth, scowling down at her. As she opened her mouth to scream he clapped his hand over it, forcing her back on the bed.

"Shut up, now," he growled. "Tell me where the money is, or I'll kill you."

Mrs. Shultz, so frightened that she could hardly whisper, said that there was no money or valuables in the house. She had not been feeling well, and although the burglar was young and of slight physique, she was not strong enough to grapple with him.

"Quit your lying," he said. "Where's the money?"

When she again refused to tell him he threw back the bedclothes and then ripped her nightgown from top to bottom. Mrs. Shultz, terrified, covered the side of the bed away from him, and the burglar took his cigarette from his mouth and held it over her.

"Come across, now, or you'll be sorry," he said, holding her down with one hand while he pressed the cigarette close to her skin. Mrs. Shultz was by then incapable of anything but a frightened silence, and the burglar slowly pressed the glowing end of the cigarette against her, holding it while she twisted and tried to get away from the grip of his other hand. It burned a deep and scrawling red scar across her body.

"I'll tell you stop," Mrs. Shultz said, sobbing with pain and terror, seeking time to form a plan of escape. When the burglar drew back she told him that her money was in the dining room below, and that she would show him if he would let her go. He said he would find it himself, but before he would let her go he wanted to see her husband's neckties from a rack and tied her hands and feet with them, leaving her on the bed. Then with a warning not to move or make a sound he went downstairs.

As soon as he had left the room Mrs. Shultz hobbled to a small porch upstairs and called for help. Neighbors heard her and ran towards the house and the burglar dashed out the back door and escaped to the woods near by.

When the neighbors entered they found Mrs. Shultz, faint and leaning in pain against the balcony railing, clad only in her torn nightgown.

When the police were notified of the attack upon the wife of a comrade every available detective and patrolman was sent to the house. Deputy Chief Inspector Cahalane, Captain of Detectives Moriarty and Detective Patrick Kehoe took charge of the hunt and under their direction squads of men beat the woods in every direction and hunted for the burglar in the neighborhood streets.

A trace of the burglar, Mrs. Shultz was able to give only a general description of the man, so that they had little to guide them.

A knife with which the burglar had threatened Mrs. Shultz was found on the floor of the bedroom. It was about three inches long with a curved handle, and it will be examined for fingerprints.

The police say it is such an unusual shape that they have hope of tracing it. The man got $10 from Mrs. Shultz's pocket book which he found in the dining room, but overlooked several Liberty bonds and $38 in cash which was in a drawer in her bedroom.

Mrs. Shultz has just retired from the police force after twenty-five years in the department.

AWOKE IN DRUG STORE.

A strange story was told by a Fairville young man yesterday morning to Councillor John T. O'Brien. He said he had awoken suddenly early on Sunday morning and found himself in Glendon H. Allen's drug store in Fairville. He got out into the street and looked for a policeman but being unable to find one went to Councillor O'Brien's house and told his story. This is not the first time Mr. Allen's store has been broken into and the councillor said yesterday that he thought all liquor vendors should take extra precautions and have heavy shutters placed on their windows. A clerk who waited the store yesterday was unable to find anything missing except a few nut bars. It was said that the night policeman H. E. Hunt and H. C. Guter were elected to the executive as additional members. The association will hold a banquet at Loch Lomond this week.

The annual business meeting of the German street Baptist church Y. M. A. was held last night, and the election of officers took place. The following were elected: president, H. E. McLean; vice-president, Ralph Pales; secretary-treasurer, Stanley Mealey; corresponding secretary, Foster Duval; H. E. Hunt and H. C. Guter were elected to the executive as additional members. The association will hold a banquet at Loch Lomond this week.

CONSERVATISM ENTRENCHED IN JAPAN.

(Manchester Guardian)

Unfortunately, when all the Liberal sentiment in Japan has been converted into potent force there is still a long way to go. For there is no part among the Japanese governmental machine upon which the Liberal force can act. The Constitution which was put into operation in 1890 and has never been altered was so carefully drawn in the interests of the ruling clique that every avenue to democratic control of the government is barred. The suffrage is limited to about twenty-three per cent of the population and the instruments of the Monarchy are used to keep the government always as safe as the Diet but in the Emperor. The ministers are appointed and dismissed by the Emperor. Even if it were to lose its majority it would remain in control. For the Constitution lodges the powers of sovereignty not in the Diet but in the Emperor. The Diet is not responsible to the Emperor. It is the Emperor who appoints and dismisses the ministers. It is the Emperor who appoints and dismisses the judges. Even a vote against the budget cannot unseat them, because by a special provision the budget of the preceding year is automatically renewed in such a case. The ministers are not responsible to the Emperor. They are the servants of the Emperor, not the Emperor's servants. Since the Emperor is supreme in the land, since the death of the Emperor Meiji in 1912, however, the clique behind the throne has held absolute sway. They have made and unmade cabinets at will. They command the army and the navy. It was they who sent the Japanese troops into Chinese territory to attack Tsingtau. It was they who prevented the Twenty-one Demands from being made. It was they who followed them with the ultimatum which forced China's consent. It was they who started the press of Japan in its bitter attacks on England when it looked as if Germany would win in 1916. It was they who planned and executed the invasion of Siberia in 1918. It was they who planned and carried out the treacherous perpetration in that unhappy country of the instruments of the Mongolian, the Eastern Manchuria in 1920. It was they who backed the Russians in their depredations in Mongolia in 1921. And it was they who clung at the idea of the Washington Conference, which brought them to a halt in 1922.

WHAT OF INDIA?

Victoria Times.—The present crisis in India are not so intimately associated as one might suppose at first sight. For years to come India, with her teeming millions, uneducated masses saved from squalor and famine by British rule, will require careful handling. But the native mind at bottom knows what it owes to its guardian and will not throw him over.

TIMID HERO OUSTS CAVEMAN TYPE

Preferred 8 to 1, by 10,000 Women Writers in Scenario Contest.

The old-time cave man idea of a perfect lover has been supplanted by the modern version of "Mait" which aims fair lady" now in feminine favor along with bobbed hair. In the scenarios of 19,000 women submitted in a contest conducted by a Chicago newspaper the bashful hero outnumbered the bold and fearless one eight to one, according to James Shrook, director of the competition. "This was a revelation to the judges, who were famous authors, directors, actors, dramatists, and actors," he said. "They, with conventional literary opinions, believed women in real life worshipped the timid, obedient type of hero for a husband. "But the stories showed unmistakably that women, when given a choice between a timid and a bold hero, preferred the latter. In this contest, many of them writing under noms de plume, prefer the stammering, timid, obedient type of hero for a husband. "They were careful to draw the distinction between timid and a fool, Shrook said. "The great majority of heroes were retiring in manner and backward in approach but brave in words and, when aroused, brave in physical combat. "This was attributed by some of the judges to the fact that women prefer being worshipped to being mastered. Others were of the opinion that this showed women want husbands who would be too bashful to flirt with other women. Buy men don't desert their wives, they said. Still others declared this signified women desire a more mother and protect timorous men.

RALLY OF THE CLARENCESES

To save the historic name of Clarence from being reduced into extinction by cheap conmen, a league of Clarencees is being formed by Clarence Massey of Cleveland, Ohio, who has written to hundreds of Clarencees in this city and Newark, asking them to join the cause. Since prohibition was taken away from them as a subject of comedy, vaudeville actors have specialized in degrading the honor they find in the name of Clarence, according to Massey, who proposes that a league of Clarencees be formed to deprive their players of the name of Clarence in the future. A fire hit which any mention of the name of Clarence is found to be.

NEW OCEAN DEPTH FINDER.

Characterized as a new depth finder, in an apparatus to determine the depth of water beneath a ship in uncharted seas or waters and considered an improvement over the sounding instrument devised by Sir William Thompson, afterward Lord Kelvin, as Sir William's was an improvement over the older lead-and-line system.

FIGHTING THE DRUG MENACE

Montreal Gazette.—Many folk nowadays, moving in the best social circles, fondly imagine that they are sharpening their intellectual faculties and improving their leisure by the nefarious aid of deleterious narcotics. Some rivalists urge that the human race is becoming more criminally inclined, but that as it may, there is little doubt that a goodly number of the old sancts of life have not the same force as the present generation as they originally possessed. The narcotic drug trade is the most serious and heinous offense in the eyes of the law, as well as of the community at large, that the arrest and conviction of those accused of drug peddling is most desirable and praiseworthy.

EMPIRE TRADE IN WALL STREET

London Writer Says Expansion Cannot at Once Make Up for Loss of European Markets—Advantage Later.

London, Oct. 6.—(Canadian Press by Mail)—An interesting article on the possibilities of Imperial trade appears in the current review of the London County Westminster and Parr's Bank, one of the largest banking institutions of the country. Concerning the expansion of trade within the British Empire, the article points out, it cannot at once compensate for the loss of European markets. Not only so, but as India, for example, depends largely on sales to Europe to provide the means of payment for her imports of British goods, a broken Europe would impair our trade with that great dependency. Again with regard to our needs of imported food and raw materials, the British Empire supplies only 85 per cent. of our grain and 27 per cent. of our cotton, whereas 92 per cent. and 64 per cent. of the commodities respectively come from the United States. At the same time the advantages which would be gained, should it be possible in time to obtain the greater part of our requirements within the empire, are brought into prominence when we consider the obstacles placed in the way of our exports to the United States by the high duties imposed under the new American tariff.

The article goes on to discuss what imperial developments can be effected which would afford relief to our industrial difficulties at home. With regard to our self governing dominions, it says, the first object of consideration is their capacity for consuming a far greater proportion of our exports than they do at the present moment. It may be argued that there is little room for any speedy improvement in this direction, as the whole tendency of these countries is to foster their own industries for the supply of their requirements. In actual fact Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Newfoundland and South Africa received between them 17.5 per cent. of the value of our exports for 1913, 13.4 per cent. in 1920 and 15.7 per cent. in 1921, and without in any way belittling the importance of these proportions, it is difficult to see how any marked increase can be effected in a short space of time. The best chance of so doing possibly lies in the encouragement of emigration. The writer thinks that great assistance will soon be rendered by the Empire Settlement Act, 1922, which, being elastic in its workings, will support any scheme of a nature to diminish the cost entailed or risk incurred by those wishing to leave this country for the dominions.

BANK REPORT ON CANADA'S CROPS IS CHEERY ONE

A synopsis of telegraphic crop reports received at the head office of the Bank of Montreal from its branches is issued under date of October 13.

Taken as a whole, it says, the present year is one of the best that Canada has ever experienced. The quantity and quality of the crops in the prairie provinces. The yield of wheat is estimated to be about 1,000,000,000 bushels, or more than 100,000,000 bushels larger than last year, and yields of other grains are proportionately greater. The average has been considerably exceeded in practically every class of agricultural produce. Heavy crops have also been garnered in Quebec and the maritime provinces. British Columbia suffered from drought in the early part of the season, an unusual condition which cut the yields to below average.

NATIONAL STEEL CORP. REPORT

(Montreal Gazette)

A total deficit of $306,373 was shown by the National Steel Corporation, Limited, of Hamilton, for the year ended on June 30 last. A net loss of $79,738 is shown before providing for depreciation on buildings, machinery and equipment, interest on mortgage bonds and borrowed money, and these items required a total of $226,640, leaving the total deficit of $306,373.

Comparative figures are not available, as the company operated only nine months under its reorganized condition in the previous fiscal year, when a net profit of $422,947 was reported. At the end of the first year the company had capital and surplus of $2,800,000, which is reduced by the deficit to $2,493,627.

During the last year approximately $80,000 was expended on plant and equipment, chief among the improvements being a new repair track with facilities for repairing car equipment on a large scale.

A further amount was received on the French claims, but conditions in Europe prevented a complete settlement. The 100,000 shares of capital stock are without nominal or par value, subject to realization of the French Republic and the Paris Lyons and Mediterranean Railway claims.

The working capital is $1,405,886, compared to $1,947,187 last year.

DECADE TO MAKE NEW WORLD MAP

U. S. Government Geological Survey Perfecting Part

Scale of Distances and Letters and Symbols to be Uniform, With the Same Color Scheme for Geographical Units.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The Government Geological Survey is slowly perfecting a new map of the country, to be a part of a new world map, based upon a simple system proposed by American representatives in 1908 and accepted at international conferences.

The globe is to be divided into 1,642 sections. Each section is designated by a letter and number combined from the locality mapped. Each sheet, covering one section, will cover six degrees of longitude and four degrees of latitude.

The main purpose of the international map, which will be drawn on the scale of one to one-millionth, is to furnish a complete and uniform drawing, obviating different scales of distances, and to enable map makers and readers of each country to understand the maps of every other nation, even though they do not understand any but their own tongues.

While the scale which is approximately sixteen miles to the inch, will allow of very inclusive work, many details of small towns and streams will be omitted.

Hypsometric Color Scheme.—To show heights and depths a scheme of hypsometric colors has been adopted. This will grade from a very light green for shallow waters to a deep blue for the deepest depths.

As many political boundaries will be shown as the density of the data in the United States will show state, county, reservation, land grant.

Delicate London Children Receive Careful Attention. Lessons in the open air, good and plentiful food, swimming, games and concerts are enjoyed by 800 boys from London elementary schools at the King's Canadian Camp School at Middlesex.

"The buildings were erected during the war by the Canadian Red Cross for hospital uses on land belonging to the King," continues the bulletin. "After the war the society presented the buildings to the King, who placed them at the disposal of the London County Council. The school buildings include dormitories, bathrooms, a dining room, an open-air classroom, a recreation room, a sick room and a concert hall. The grounds adjoin the famous Bushy Park."

JOHNSTON-BUCHANAN. A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage at 7 o'clock this morning, when Rev. C. R. Freeman united in marriage Miss Hilda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Buchanan, to Keith S. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Johnston, both of West St. John. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on a hunting trip near the Maine border, and on their return, will reside in West St. John. MRS. CATHERINE DONOHUE. Many friends here will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Catherine Donohue, widow of Patrick H. His funeral will take place on Wednesday at 3 o'clock from his late residence 77 Portland street. A wide circle of friends will regret to learn of his death and their sympathy will go out to the members of his family in their bereavement.

MATTERS BEFORE COMMON COUNCIL

An application from the Western Union Telegraph Co. for permission to remove three poles in Gilbert's Lane, near the C. N. R. crossing and replace them with four poles, was referred to Commissioner Frink at a committee meeting of the common council this morning. In the absence of the mayor Commissioner Frink presided and all the other commissioners were present. In the application from the Western Union it was pointed out that the additional pole was intended to shorten the span at that point to make safer the large number of wires which passed this point to the east. Commissioner Thornton spoke in connection with a quantity of hard wood which was cut by the city last winter at Musquash. He said that the mayor had promised to report on the matter and he thought, on account of the fuel situation, the present would be a good time to have the wood brought to the city. No action was taken.

SCOUTS GIVE FINE DEMONSTRATION

First Field Day Proves Big Success Although Attendance is Small—The Winners.

The Boy Scouts of the city, 800 or more of them, gathered together on St. Peter's grounds on Saturday afternoon and gave an excellent demonstration of their work. On account of a cold biting wind, the attendance was not as large as the contests deserved, but competition was keen and at least the participants enjoyed it to the full. This was the local Scouts' first field day and the next series is looked forward to with interest.

There were twelve events on the programme in which points were awarded for both speed and accuracy, and although some of the troops did not figure prominently in the speed events the events they made up for in the precision with which they carried out the various tests. Prizes, consisting of camp equipment, signalling paraphernalia and scouting books were awarded to ten troops scoring the highest number of points, as follows: First, 14th troop, Victoria street Baptist, 136 points.

Second, 17th troop, Trinity, 110 points. Third, 2nd troop, St. Paul's, 95 points. Fourth, 18th troop, Y. M. C. I., 70 points. Fifth, 7th troop, Stone church, 69 points. Tenth, 6th troop, Edith Avenue, 9 points.

The following is a summary of the various events. ST. JOHN MAN NOT LURED BY OFFER OF $120,000

An Old Friend in a New Suit—"The Spanish Prisoner" Appears Again, Seeking a Trusting Helper.

"Old soldiers never die." Our fathers—perhaps even our grandfathers—were years ago regaled with the story of the terrible plight of a wealthy Spanish gentleman who, languishing in the grimy dungeons of his native country, was unable to come to America to claim a vast fortune which awaited him and asked the assistance of some kind-hearted chap who was not unwilling to receive a big share of the fortune as a reward for his efforts.

The old trick has sprung up again. Only last week a prominent business man of the city received a letter from Barcelona, Spain, which had the earmarks of the ancient "Spanish prisoner" appeal. Perhaps the man of today is wiser in his generation, but at all events the recipient of the latest edition of the yarn smiled knowingly, but fell not.

In the olden days, however, the sympathetic addressee, in the hopes of golden gain, chanced an investment of sometimes considerable proportions, but the unflinching result was that something happened to the fortune and he was left to whistle for his share—in addition to the amount of money he had put up himself. The letter received last week was as follows:—

Barcelona, 22, 9, 1922. Dear Sir:—

Being imprisoned here bankruptcy I beseech you to help me to obtain a sum of $60,000 dollars I have in America being necessary to come here to raise the release of my baggage paying to the Registrar of the Court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteau containing a secret pocket where I have hidden two check payable to bearer four thousand. As reward I will give up to you the sum of $120,000. I cannot receive your answer in the prison but you can send a cablegram to a person of my confidence who will deliver it to me addressed as follows:—

Count aid. (Signed name of addressor.) Awaiting your answer to instruct you all my secret. Now I sing only. R. de S.

Confidence

It's a well known fact that the right clothes give a man more confidence. He is more likely to go places and associate with people when he is properly dressed than he otherwise would—his appearance gives him confidence in himself.

While it is admitted that clothes do not really make the man, still clothes have a lot to do with assisting his natural abilities and helping him climb the ladder of success.

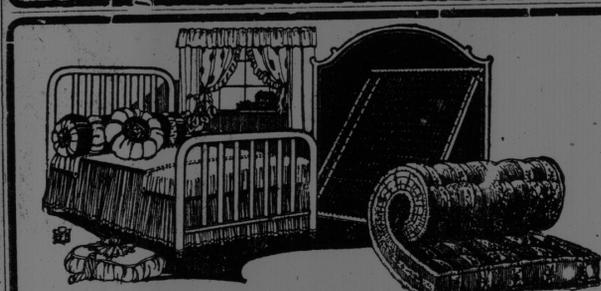

And yet it is not an expensive proposition to be properly dressed. It is simply a matter of showing sound judgment in selection; to select clothes that are of a becoming pattern, that have the right style, and that have the interior workmanship to back up their appearance.

Clothes that have proven satisfactory for the past thirty-four years, and are demanded today by more men than ever before, are surely worthy of your careful inspection; such are "Scovill Clothes." Come! Judge for yourself!
