

NORTH DEVON
MAN DROWNED?

Allison Fraser's Bicycle Found on Bridge at Fredericton With Note to Search River.

Fredericton, N. B., July 24.—"Finder notify H. Logan, N. Devon. Search in river."

So read a note found in a tool bag hanging on a bicycle at the Fredericton end of the highway bridge across the St. John River.

The bicycle was that of Allison Fraser, aged twenty-five years, a returned soldier, who lived with his wife at North Devon, and who had not been seen since he left the Salvation Army here following service last night, in which he took part as a member of the band.

Fraser is a son-in-law of Herbert Logan. Cecil Brewer, son of H. T. Brewer, caretaker of the army, found the note.

Fraser belonged originally to Prince William and served overseas. During service he was wounded severely in one arm and also was gassed. He married Miss Sadie Logan about two years ago.

Recently he had been working at the New System Laundry in Devon and prior to that was employed at the sawmill of the Hawkins Lumber Company, Nashwaakias.

Recently Fraser has been in good health but formerly he was subject to attacks of faintness. His wife has been spending some time in Maugeville and he visited her there on Sunday, returning by bicycle.

Sergeant Hughes and Patrolman King, of the local police force, were able to follow tracks to near the water's edge directly under the highway bridge.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 24.—(10.30)—Selling by professional interests was resumed at the opening of today's market. Developments over the week-end in their relation to the coal and railroad strikes seemed to encourage an extension of the short account. Coolers and transportation were only moderately low, pressure being most marked among motors and their accessories. Keystone Fire lost 11.8 points and Chandler Motors was heavy. The independent steels added variously to Saturday's rally under lead of Gulf Steels and Crucible. U. S. Steel was heavy.

Noon Report.

New York, July 24 (noon)—Pierce Arrow common and preferred at declines of 1/4 and 2/8 points, respectively were carried to lowest prices for the movement during the morning. Studabaker and several of the popular equipments strengthened. Many of the independent steels advanced early.

Alcohol, International Paper and Montana Power featured the miscellaneous list at gains of one to almost three points. Rails were listless, some of the investment group falling off quotations in the first hour. Call money opened at four per cent.

SUGAR UP.

Montreal, July 24.—Principal refiners advanced the price of sugar from 87 to 87.50 a hundred over the week end, bringing the quotations of all the larger refineries to the same level.

HE IS GLOOMY OVER SHIPPING

Toronto, July 24.—Sir R. Burton Chadwick, M.P. for Barrow in Furness, head of Joseph Chadwick & Sons, ship owners of Liverpool, and director of Chadwick, Keir & Co., was in the city on Saturday. He had a poor opinion of public ownership of mercantile marine, whether in Canada or the United States, and declared it impossible for governments to operate ships successfully. There were hundreds of ships tied up on both sides of the Atlantic at the present time, he said, because no one had use for them, and it would be utterly folly for any government to undertake building more boats now.

Sir Burton ventured the prediction that half the idle merchant vessels in the various harbors of the states would have to be towed out to sea and sunk, otherwise they would simply rot at the wharves, for there was nothing for them to do.

Why do we Sell The Ostermoor?

The Ostermoor is not the cheapest mattress made, nor the most expensive, nor have we any liberty in quoting a special price to attract volume sales. The factory fixes the price at its lowest to get volume sales through every dealer.

The fact of the matter is the Ostermoor makes its headquarters here because its sale is unaffected by such personal considerations. It is in a class by itself and the fullest value is there to make it a natural business magnet, as well one might describe the most popular mattress in the world.

And the twenty year guarantee costs us nothing, for they last everlastingly. Ostermoors in steady use 30 and 40 years have kept their felted down fluffiness. In fine art ticking, single widths $23, double $25.

PRINTERS' STRIKE IN OLD COUNTRY

London, July 24.—(Canadian Press)—The strike of the printers in the provinces against the industrial court's ruling that their wages should be cut by twelve shillings and six pence a week, the last of which would be in January, 1923, spread during the week-end and now involves Coventry, Scarborough, Nottingham, Plymouth, Manchester and Hull.

The typographical association has issued a statement in reply to an accusation of breach of faith in not accepting the award of the industrial court. The association takes the ground that no agreement is valid unless approved by the signatories to the document. The association states that the signatories to the document agreeing to refer the dispute on the wage reduction question to the industrial court had this in mind when they signed the document.

THE ORIGIN OF JAZZ MUSIC

(New York Post)

Who started that jazz anyway? Some call it syncopated music. It's syncopated, all right, but music—never. It is about as far removed from the delicious syncopation of "Jazz" as Herbert as Mars from the earth—although that distance is much shorter just now. A possible solution is that a whole lot of musical notes began quarrelling one day and lined up for the battle of the keys. In the confusion they lost their commanders, were re-formed without regard of the new insignia by the inventors of the dance steps, and drafted into his service.

Another and possibly a better explanation is suggested by Herschel Brickell, who says that years ago in the south the negroes had a wild music dance which they called the jassbo and the jass "music" and dances of today are really the same. Another is that somebody strung a lot of notes together with no more idea of what was going to happen than the Vassar girl trying her hand as a cook, who mixed up things, put the mess in the oven, but didn't know whether it would come out a plumb-pudding or a boiled ham.

HARDING TO GOVERNORS OF COAL STATES

President Harding's telegram to the Governors of twenty-eight coal producing states as given out at the White House, reads as follows:

"The proposal of the Federal Government to the United Mine Workers and the various coal operators whose mines are under suspension to submit all questions in dispute to a national coal commission for arbitration has been accepted. The mine workers declined as a body. The majority of the bituminous operators pledged unqualified acceptance. The anthracite operators filed conditional acceptance. A minority of the bituminous operators accepted the principle of arbitration, but made specifications which could not be considered."

"I had proposed that the operators and mine workers in dispute should immediately resume coal production under the same scale and working conditions which prevailed at the time of the strike on last April 1; that every question in dispute should go to a national commission to be composed of three representatives of the mine workers, three representatives of the operators, and five representatives of the American people. It was proposed to make the commission the final authority on all disputes until next March, and meanwhile the commission was to inaugurate a searching inquiry into every phase of the coal industry, in order to recommend the way to maintained understanding between workers and employers, to promote steadily employment and assure a continuous and ample fuel supply."

"The failure to secure the acceptance of this proposal for a voluntary adjustment left me no other course but to invite the mine operators to return to their mines and resume activities."

"I trust you will find it consistent to second this invitation, if you have not already done so, with the invitation to all miners and operators to resume their work. This invitation should be accompanied by such assurance of maintained order and the protection of lawful endeavor as will give assurance to everybody concerned. I want to convey to you in this message the assurance of the prompt and full support of the Federal Government, whenever and wherever you find your own agencies of law and order inadequate to meet the situation."

"Your State Government and the Federal Government are jointly responsible for maintained conditions under which free men, willing to work, may work in safety. We are responsible for the production and the transportation of a fuel supply ample for the necessities of the American people and the public utilities which serve them, particularly in the railways engaged in interstate commerce. We must have ample coal to maintain industrial activity, we must have the coal necessary to the health, security and activity of the people. I recite to you these details because it is important to have it understood how far the Federal Government has gone in seeking a voluntary adjustment. Thus far there has been a complete failure of the workers to decline employment, or the right of the employers to hire as they elect."

"Our present duty is to guarantee security in the exercise of these rights, security in all lawful operations, and afford a safe opportunity for that production and the necessities of the American people."

"There has been no Government assumption of a part in the dispute between organized workers and organized employers. I do offer the only available agency which I know to effect a settlement, and these good offers have not availed."

"It becomes necessary, therefore, in the name of common welfare, to invite production in the fulfillment of that obligation which attaches to any American

INFANT MORTALITY NOTABLY REDUCED

What Child Welfare Campaign Has Done for Montreal—Great Deduction in Four Years.

(Montreal Gazette)

Infant mortality statistics for the first six months and a half of the current year, which were announced yesterday by Dr. Boucher, director of the city health department show a favorable record as compared with the record for the same period last year. This condition applies not only to infants but to children up to five years of age as well. Dr. Boucher remarked recently that the infant death rate this year was being kept down to a lower figure than usual, and the statistics he supplied yesterday bore out this contention. For example, for children up to one year of age, there were 365 fewer deaths this year, and last year for the period from January 1 to July 15. Dr. Boucher said he regarded this decrease as a very satisfactory feature of the statistics for 1922. The reduction was 1,720 deaths of children up to two years of age, and the same applied to children up to five years of age as well. The director of the health department supplied further information on infant mortality for the last four years, from which it appears that the percentage of infant mortality so far this year. Dr. Boucher described this encouraging result to the campaign being carried on by the health department for the preservation of the lives of children, and it was also due to the education of the public on this important matter of child welfare.

OUR ROADS IN GOOD CONDITION

Bangor Commercial Praises the Highways of New Brunswick.

(Bangor Commercial)

The highways throughout Maine, as well as in New Brunswick, are now in excellent condition, according to reports received by the Touring Bureau of the Maine Automobile Association. With the exception of certain unimportant secondary roads the damage resulting from the heavy travel, the ones used by tourists, have been repaired, and reports in circulation that the roads of the state were so badly washed by the downpour, that they will be unfit for travel throughout the entire summer are untrue.

The New Brunswick roads are in excellent condition, or at least the main arteries of travel, the ones used by tourists. The main highway between Bangor, Maine and Woodstock, N. B., is in good condition, but, strange to say, this important inlet of travel is not being maintained by the majority of the other roads in the Province. There is a fine new provincial highway between Woodstock and Fredericton along the west bank of the St. John River. This is now being built in one or two spots, but traffic is not interfered with. The main highway between Bangor, Maine and Woodstock, N. B., is also in good condition. There is a good road from Fredericton and Newcastle, via Doaktown and Blackville, a large river, and Matapedia, Miramichi Wood road between Newcastle and Bathurst, a distance of about fifty-five miles, and for the first time this year is in very passable condition.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whickers on the covers or pipes and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. This coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics.

(New York Post)

Who started that jazz anyway? Some call it syncopated music. It's syncopated, all right, but music—never. It is about as far removed from the delicious syncopation of "Jazz" as Herbert as Mars from the earth—although that distance is much shorter just now. A possible solution is that a whole lot of musical notes began quarrelling one day and lined up for the battle of the keys. In the confusion they lost their commanders, were re-formed without regard of the new insignia by the inventors of the dance steps, and drafted into his service.

Another and possibly a better explanation is suggested by Herschel Brickell, who says that years ago in the south the negroes had a wild music dance which they called the jassbo and the jass "music" and dances of today are really the same. Another is that somebody strung a lot of notes together with no more idea of what was going to happen than the Vassar girl trying her hand as a cook, who mixed up things, put the mess in the oven, but didn't know whether it would come out a plumb-pudding or a boiled ham.

HARDING TO GOVERNORS OF COAL STATES

President Harding's telegram to the Governors of twenty-eight coal producing states as given out at the White House, reads as follows:

"The proposal of the Federal Government to the United Mine Workers and the various coal operators whose mines are under suspension to submit all questions in dispute to a national coal commission for arbitration has been accepted. The mine workers declined as a body. The majority of the bituminous operators pledged unqualified acceptance. The anthracite operators filed conditional acceptance. A minority of the bituminous operators accepted the principle of arbitration, but made specifications which could not be considered."

"I had proposed that the operators and mine workers in dispute should immediately resume coal production under the same scale and working conditions which prevailed at the time of the strike on last April 1; that every question in dispute should go to a national commission to be composed of three representatives of the mine workers, three representatives of the operators, and five representatives of the American people. It was proposed to make the commission the final authority on all disputes until next March, and meanwhile the commission was to inaugurate a searching inquiry into every phase of the coal industry, in order to recommend the way to maintained understanding between workers and employers, to promote steadily employment and assure a continuous and ample fuel supply."

"The failure to secure the acceptance of this proposal for a voluntary adjustment left me no other course but to invite the mine operators to return to their mines and resume activities."

"I trust you will find it consistent to second this invitation, if you have not already done so, with the invitation to all miners and operators to resume their work. This invitation should be accompanied by such assurance of maintained order and the protection of lawful endeavor as will give assurance to everybody concerned. I want to convey to you in this message the assurance of the prompt and full support of the Federal Government, whenever and wherever you find your own agencies of law and order inadequate to meet the situation."

"Your State Government and the Federal Government are jointly responsible for maintained conditions under which free men, willing to work, may work in safety. We are responsible for the production and the transportation of a fuel supply ample for the necessities of the American people and the public utilities which serve them, particularly in the railways engaged in interstate commerce. We must have ample coal to maintain industrial activity, we must have the coal necessary to the health, security and activity of the people. I recite to you these details because it is important to have it understood how far the Federal Government has gone in seeking a voluntary adjustment. Thus far there has been a complete failure of the workers to decline employment, or the right of the employers to hire as they elect."

"Our present duty is to guarantee security in the exercise of these rights, security in all lawful operations, and afford a safe opportunity for that production and the necessities of the American people."

"There has been no Government assumption of a part in the dispute between organized workers and organized employers. I do offer the only available agency which I know to effect a settlement, and these good offers have not availed."

"It becomes necessary, therefore, in the name of common welfare, to invite production in the fulfillment of that obligation which attaches to any American

BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whickers on the covers or pipes and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. This coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics.

The part the children have been planning for will prove a jolly day for the boys and girls of St. John.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JULY 24, 1922

The Evening Times and Star

THE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Will the city of St. John take advantage of the opportunity to get a vocational high school, which would also be in part a cultural school, relieving the present overcrowded buildings, and have the government pay 25 per cent of the cost of the structure, 50 per cent of the cost of equipment and 60 per cent of the salaries, or will it wait another year or two years and then be forced to build wholly at its own expense another cultural school, making no provision for the great numbers of children between twelve and seventeen years of age who are now out of school altogether?

It is really these children the vocational work would reach and keep in the schools. They are now on the outside with no chance to get in, since the curriculum does not meet their needs and ability and cannot do so. Moreover, if they demanded room in the present buildings it is not there for them—some twelve hundred of them. Is the school board to take no account of them? Is its duty performed when it takes care of the others and permits these to go without a proper education? Then there are the nearly four thousand pupils in school who are retarded because the curriculum does not meet their needs and ability. Are we to go on catering only to those who want a classical course? Are we to go on with 1,500 in the first grade, less than half that number in the seventh grade, and little over a dozen in the twelfth grade? Instead of keeping the children in school we are chasing them out, because we are insanely wedded to a system which meets the needs of the few and not of the many.

Will the parents of the children remain passive and rob their own children of their rights? Will the business men of St. John who want industrial expansion for the city refuse to interest themselves in having young people trained for industrial life? Are they content to have nearly four thousand retarded pupils in the schools and that twelve hundred on the outside, most of them idle?

Will the taxpayer turn down the opportunity to get a school for whose erection and upkeep the government grants such hitherto unheard of assistance? The duty of the vocational committee is clear. It cannot turn down this proposition, but it will be the more enthusiastic if public bodies come to its support. The Board of Trade, Commercial Club, Trades and Labor Council, Retail Merchants' Association, Rotary Club, Gyro Club and other organizations can do the city a great service. They should not let the opportunity pass. They want St. John to go forward. They should act, and act now.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS.

Irregular attendance at school was a subject of very interesting discussion at the recent meeting of the Educational Association of Nova Scotia, convened in Truro. Dr. Bingsy, superintendent of Glace Bay schools, said that the average school attendance in Nova Scotia was but 61.6 per cent of the enrollment. The harmful effect of this condition of affairs is obvious. It increases the average cost per pupil, injures the pupils affected, and is detrimental to the classes and the teacher's work. The frequently absent pupil either lags behind or retards the class. Dr. Bingsy also noted that after a certain grade the boys leave school, so that in Grade X the girls outnumber the boys two to one. Certain remedies were suggested by Dr. Bingsy, as follows:—

"First—A revision of the curriculum, with emphasis placed on technical education and half-time schools in co-operation with employers. The proposed change would involve considerable expense, and the speaker declared that the Federal authorities should be called upon to help.

"Second—The establishment of truant schools and schools for backward children, and a change in the truancy laws. Under the present arrangements he declared that too long a time elapses before a remedy can be applied, and that the percentage of attendance had not been materially increased since the law had been put in force. As a remedy for those cases in which boys were employed under age, he suggested that it be made compulsory for boys to get a certificate of age from the supervisor before they could be employed. He said that every large town should have its own truant school.

"Third—There should be provision made for those pupils whose parents were too poor to send them to school.

"Fourth—A tax on the parents for every day lost by their children, as suggested by the superintendent of education in 1920, would be effective in inducing parents to see to it that their children were in school. He suggested that it be collected quarterly."

Of course the real solution of the irregular attendance problem is a provincial law properly enforced, as suggested by Mr. N. Mark Mills to the New Brunswick Teachers' Institute. In no other way can the best results be attained. Aside from that Dr. Bingsy makes excellent suggestions regarding more attention to vocational training, schools for backward children and truant schools. Since schools must be provided they should meet the needs of the children, and all the children should be there to get the benefit. Otherwise the educational system is not complete and does not function as it should.

Dr. Catten of Acadia University drew the attention of the Association to the matter of mental tests, saying that nothing had been done in recent years that had been such an aid to education as the study of this question. He claimed that in twenty minutes he could by these mental tests grade a child more closely than the teacher who had had him for a year, or even the parent of the child. If he is right this is a remarkable gain to educational work, and recognition of mental tests should be accorded by all educational authorities. It would be a great gain to the cause of education if the information given to teachers in their conventions could be passed on by an educational campaign in the provinces to boards of trustees and parents. There would then be a greater general desire to endorse expenditures necessary to carry out a wise educational policy.

Referring to Premier MacKenzie King's visit to Washington the New York Evening Post says:—"Whatever the progress and outcome of a new Canadian treaty, the essential features of the old and serviceable Rush-Bagot treaty should be retained, as they doubtless will be. Drastic curtailment of armament should continue, even at risk of handicapping American efforts to reduce liquor smuggling across the border. No minor curtailment should be permitted to detract from the example of peace and amity which the two great nations of North America have given the world for a hundred years and more across a practically unarméd border."

The labor situation grows more serious. The American government is preparing to take emergency measures to ensure a supply of coal for public utilities. The railroad shopmen's strike continues. There is talk of a walk-out of Nova Scotia miners and a possible strike of railroad men. The city of Montreal is threatened with a strike of city employees, including the police. The threat of serious labor troubles at a time when business is beginning slowly to recover from the great depression cannot but arouse a general feeling of anxiety.

There are too many drunks in the St. John police court and there is too much open as well as secret drinking in the city, in violation of the law. It has become a public scandal. There is no fixed condition in regard to the consumption of liquor. Conditions either become better or worse. If they become worse those responsible for law enforcement must accept the responsibility and the ultimate consequence.

We are told that "the national Division of the Sons of Temperance will ask the governments of the United States, Canada, Mexico and France to adopt such legislation and take such steps as will effectively put an end to the smuggling of intoxicating liquors between St. Pierre, Mexico, the West Indies and Canada and the States." That would be neighborly legislation, and it ought to be adopted.

Montreal La Presse—"Our opinion has not changed in regard to the serious question of the police union. We do not consider such a union has the right to declare a strike. If a right like this were exercised by men who are charged with the duty of protecting life and property, it would be immoral. The sincere regard we have for the policemen prompts us to tell them this truth frankly and courageously and in their best interests."

The Irish Free State forces have captured Limerick and are making steady headway against the rebels. The worst feature of the struggle is the wanton destruction of property by the latter when they find they cannot hold their ground. They are today the real enemies of Ireland.

The agreement of the League of Nations regarding the Palestine and Syrian mandates removes a well-grounded fear of trouble in that part of the world. There are still difficulties to overcome, but these are of minor importance.

The movement to get a Health Centre in St. John is making headway. It deserves universal support. Could $1,000 be put to a better use? The sun is not every day lost by their children, as sug-

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

THE RADIO LIGHT HOUSE

One year ago, there were placed in commission three radio transmitting stations near the entrance to New York Harbor for the purpose of guiding ships into the harbor from the high seas during heavy fogs. The stations were of the usual commercial type employing quenched spark gaps and were adjusted to a wavelength of 1,600 meters. The United States Bureau of Lighthouses established the transmitters at Sea Girt Light Station on the New Jersey coast, on Fire Island Lightship, and on Ambrose Lightship at the entrance to the harbor.

During the foggy weather which often prevails at the harbor entrance, these three stations may be heard at intervals, the Ambrose Channel station transmitting groups of single dashes, Fire Island groups of two dashes and Sea Girt groups of three dashes. To avoid continuous interference between the signals themselves they are transmitted on different schedules and sent fairly rapidly, Sea Girt for example sending over forty groups of dashes each minute.

The equipment on the vessel which makes use of the signals from these radio lighthouses consists of a special form of loop receiver operated in conjunction with a magnetic compass so arranged that the direction of the source of the signal received from any one of the three stations may be readily noted. The system makes use of the directional properties of the loop receiver the bearing being taken when the coil is in the position of minimum signal, that is, at right angles to the line of direction of the signal.

The complete apparatus necessary on a vessel equipped for the use of this system can be installed at moderate cost and is a valuable aid to navigation. Any number of vessels so fitted can secure bearings from the radio light stations simultaneously.

The system here described is the reverse of that employed by the United States navy which maintains radio compass stations on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The navy method uses several shore stations fitted with loop receivers, each of which takes a bearing on the vessel desiring to know its location. The operator on the ship transmitting distinguishing signals for a minute or so enables the shore operators to adjust their equipment and determine the bearing from each station. The three or more bearings are telegraphed to the vessel from a central control station.

Either of the systems accomplishes the result of giving the navigator three bearings from fixed points, which are sufficient to enable him to plot his location on a chart.

The effective range of lighthouse transmitting stations depends principally on the sensitiveness of the receiving apparatus employed on the ship which is usually sufficiently sensitive to render the system operative at distances of from thirty to one hundred miles. RADIO AS A CAUSE FOR DIVORCE!

Radio as a cause for divorce presents a difficulty in connection with a science that has always been associated with technical investigations and has never been considered to enter into the field of domestic relations.

Proceedings recently instituted in the District of Columbia Supreme Court are based upon charges by the fair wife of a radio enthusiast that her husband instead of properly supporting the child and herself, devotes his money and time in purchasing quantities of radio equipment and books on the subject.

It is apparent therefore that too close attention to the art, providing it deprives a wife, both of the society of her husband and the necessary financial contributions to the support of herself and offspring, may result in a sort of domestic "static" which is considerably more serious in its effect than the interruptions of the summer thunderstorm. THE SEA AND THE HILLS.

(Kipling.)

Who hath desired the Sea?—the sight of salted waves unbroken— The heave and the halt and the hurl and the crash of the combing wind—hounded? The sleek-barrelled swell before storm, grey, motionless, enormous, and growing—

Stark calm on the lap of the line or the cross-eyed hurricane blowing— His Sea in no showing the same— His Sea and the same 'neath each showing—

His Sea as the slackers or thrills? So and no otherwise—so and no otherwise hillmen desire their Hills!

Who hath desired the Sea?—the immense and contemptuous surge? The shudders, the stumble, the swerve as the star-stabbing bowsprit emerges?—

The orderly clouds of the Trades, and the ridged, roaring sapphire thunder— Unheralded cliff-haunting flaves and the headless low vollying thunder—

His Sea in no wonder the same— His Sea and the same through each water! His Sea as she rages or stills? So and no otherwise—so and no otherwise hillmen desire their Hills.

Who hath desired the sea? Her menaces swift as her mercies. The in-ringing walls of the fog and the mist-winged breeze that disperses? The unstable mined berg going south and the moon breaking timely to bare declare it!

White water half-guessed overside and the moon breaking timely to bare declare it! His Sea as she serves him or kills? So and no otherwise—so and no otherwise hillmen desire their Hills.

Who hath desired the Sea? Her excellent loneliness, and her uttermost Than forecourts of kings, and her uttermost pits than the streets where men gather

Inland, among dust, under trees—inland where the slayer may find him Inland, out of reach of her arms, and the bosom whereon he must law him—

His Sea at the first that betrayed—at the last that shall never betray him— His Sea that his being fulfills? So and no otherwise—so and no otherwise hillmen desire their Hills.

New Dodge. Willis—"Didn't your wife hawl you out last night when she woke up when you came home?" Gillis—"No, I fooled her. TRIBUTE TO PARKIN. (Toronto Saturday Night) As Sir John William said of him at the memorial service held in St. James Cathedral, Toronto, on June 28th, the late Sir George Parkin had a wondrous capacity for making friendships and for interesting others in the movements dear to his heart. Though years he had made his home in England, few men had a wider acquaintance in Canada and at the time of his death he was New Brunswick's most distinguished son. The story of his services to education alone might make the theme of a lengthy article. He was one of the first men from this continent to win distinction in the social life of the world.

There he had as his associates men of great future eminence like H. H. Asquith and Alfred Milner and was Secretary of the Oxford Union when these gifted scholars were exhibiting a brilliance that is recorded in memoirs student from New Brunswick should in later years have been chosen as representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust. For just such ambitious students as he. To old boys of various New Brunswick seminaries and of Upper Canada College memories of their associations under his tutelage as principle are especially precious.

In other fields he led a very full life. As an exponent of imperial federation he was famous in many parts of the Empire; and as a journalist on the staff of the London "Times" he did a work of great importance in enlightening the people of the motherland as to the potentialities of Canada. His unflagging energy was amazing in a man of his years and he maintained a youthful freshness of outlook. During the war he was one of the sanest and most convincing exponents of the rightness of the Allied cause, who spoke in the United States; and since the war he has been one of the leaders in the movement to put the Church of England more directly in touch with the people. Despite his many other activities he found time to write a lengthy list of books, including a life of Sir John A. Macdonald that in its spirit of fairness and veracity is a fine expression of his temperament. His life as educationalist, author, lecturer, traveller and publicist was another proof of the adage that it is the busy men who find time to do things.

THE CANDID ADMIRAL. (Vancouver Sun) Rear-Admiral William S. Simms has been noted before for his candor. His extreme outspokenness has not only kept him in hot water on previous occasions but has won him official rebuke. Now he has done it again.

Speaking on modern warfare the admiral said: "If we are attacked we will use gas, and we won't care how, when or why."

The dignitaries who signed the Washington treaty can draw delightful agreements full of promise and hope. They said this, for instance:

"We declare our assent to such prohibition of other gases, having been justly condemned by the general opinion of the civilized world, and the signatory powers declare their assent to such prohibition, agree to be bound thereby as between themselves.

The signatories to this document know much about human nature and therefore is a better prophet. Knowing human nature will do more to end war than treaties and diplomacy.

THE MANITOBA ELECTION. (Ottawa Journal.) The expected has happened in Manitoba. Some few, taking their facts from their wishes, predicted a better showing for both the older parties, but most people with knowledge of conditions in the west, anticipated what has taken place. In one sense, the result is a good one. It gives one party sufficient of a following to carry on without the logging of the other groups by the Norris government.

Nor need the country have much fear of a Progressive administration. A Farmer government in Ontario, although it has done no particular good, has done no particular harm; nor have we discerned anything particularly radical in the Farmer government in Alberta. Under the circumstances, and knowing that farmers, despite the radical claims of their platforms, are really conservative at heart, Manitoba has no cause for alarm. This all the more so, seeing that both the Conservatives and Liberals have elected some strong men and will constitute a vigilant and constructive opposition.

There is one thing, however, which Manitoba teaches. It is that the Farmer movement is more deeprooted in the west than many of us were prepared to believe. For better or for worse, the movement is with us; and the sooner we face the facts the better it will be for all concerned.

Presbytery of St. John during the whole of his ministry. He was ordained by the St. John Presbytery in St. David's church on May 4, 1886, the late Rev. George Prince, D.D., conducting the ordination service, and was then assigned as ordained missionary to St. Martin's. Afterwards he was transferred to Hampton, Hammond River and Rothesay. He was next called to St. Paul's church, Fredericton, and after a pastorate of many years at Paul's church, he resigned on account of illness. He had filled charges in all sections of the province. He was a lovable man and his ministrations were duly appreciated in the several sections in which he served. He was a true pastor, an interesting and forcible teacher, a sound preacher and a warm friend. His removal will be felt keenly by many to whom he had endeared himself. For the last few years he had resided in St. John, leading a retired life. Occasionally, when sought for, he had aided in giving supply and for the last two years he had conducted an adult Bible class in St. David's Sunday school. The reverend gentleman was born in Brooklyn, Hamt county (N. S.). His only living brother, George S. MacDonald, of Boston, is now visiting his niece, Mrs. Samuel Kerr, 174 Duke street, having been called to St. John by the illness of Rev. Mr. MacDonald.

Benjamin Haslam.

Rev. P. J. Haslam, curate of St. Mary's church, was called to his home, Springfield, Prince Edward Island, on Friday, on account of the sudden death of his father, Benjamin Haslam. Mr. Haslam, who was aged seventy-seven years, leaves also his wife, two daughters and two other sons. The funeral took place on Saturday.

E. M. Shadbolt.

The death occurred on Saturday at Toronto, of E. Maitland Shadbolt, formerly manager of the Bank of Montreal in this city, who was retired nearly ten years ago on leaving here. Mr. Shadbolt was an Englishman and entered the service of the bank at an early age, serving in Montreal, Toronto, Chicago and Bradford, where he was manager before coming to St. John. He rapidly made friends here and took a deep interest in all public affairs. He was a loyal and devoted member of the Church of England and ever ready to give of his means to further the work of his church, while also assisting in the services. He was a trustee and lay reader of the Mission church of St. John Baptist to which he gave devoted assistance and whose congregation will bear of his death with much regret. Mr. Shadbolt leaves a wife, one son, Charles Shadbolt, and one daughter unmarried.

Anthony S. Cyr.

Anthony S. Cyr, formerly lineman in the St. John fire department, died in the St. John county hospital on Thursday. He is survived by his wife, his mother and a brother, all of St. Leonard's, Madawaska county. There will be a funeral service at Clayton's undertaking parlors this morning before the departure of the C. P. R. express, upon which the body will be taken to McAdam. The interment will be in St. Leonard's. The Fire Fighters Association No. 192 officials are in charge of the funeral arrangements in St. John.

Frederick L. Watters.

The death of Frederick L. Watters of Cleveland, Ohio, occurred recently at his home. He was formerly engaged in business in St. John.

Rev. John M. Love.

Rev. John Menzie Love, aged sixty-four, passed away at the Moncton City Hospital on Wednesday. He is survived by two sons and one daughter. One of the sons, is Cecil J. D. Love of St. John.

FINGER CUT PROVED FATAL TO A YOUNG GIRL
A cut on the finger, received when taking the top off a jar of preserves, resulted in the death of Miss Margaret Jean Milne, daughter of James Milne of the Toronto Waterworks Department. Miss Milne was born in Toronto and educated at Windsor and for the last two years had taught at schools at Barrow Bay and Kendal.

James Stratton of the Atlantic Squadron of the British Navy notified his mother, Mrs. Ericson of 16 Cannon street, this city, that owing to a transfer he will not be able to come home so soon as he had hoped for. His next trip will be to Cuba and thence to Liverpool, England.

J. D. O'Connell, the orphan's friend, has arrived from his home in Cuba and will remain in this province for the next two months. The date for the picnic here will be announced in a few days.

COLLEGE UNION IS NOT NEW PROJECT

A Glance Back at Foundation of Some of the Universities in the Maritime Provinces.

Halifax, N. S., July 24.—(By Canadian Press.)—Federation of maritime universities, now under consideration by these institutions and recently recommended by the Carnegie Foundation of New York, may be said to have been first broached with the founding of Dalhousie College at Halifax in 1818.

King's College was founded as an Anglican institution at Windsor, N. S., in 1789, and subscription to certain tenets of faith was a prerequisite for prospective students or instructors.

In 1818 the then lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, Lord Dalhousie, decided that there should be a seminary of higher learning in the province open to those who did not subscribe to the Anglican faith.

He accordingly founded Dalhousie College in Halifax, financing its beginning with about ten thousand pounds of the "Castine Fund." This was a sum of money collected as customs duties from the United States naval base of that name in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts during the seven months following its capture in August, 1814, by an expeditionary force out of Halifax.

Lord Dalhousie expressed the wish that King's College unite with the new institution and there began an agitation for the union of these colleges which has continued to the present day.

In 1838 Dalhousie began to function as a college. Two attempts at union with King's had been made in 1822-1824 and 1829-1836, but failed.

The opening, in 1838, of the institution which had been founded with the purpose of effecting college union, saw a setback to the movement. A contest was waged for a college appointment, and the defeat of one candidate caused the Baptist supporters of Dalhousie to separate themselves and found Acadia College at Wolfville, N. S.

Dalhousie closed in 1843 to "allow funds to accumulate." The following years saw the establishment of St. Francis Xavier College in 1855 at Antigonish, N. S., and of a Presbyterian Arts College in Truro, N. S., in 1860. The University of New Brunswick had been founded at Fredericton, N. B., in 1827.

In Nova Scotia in 1860 there began a growth of a new interest in both common and higher education. Leaders in the movement included: Hon. Joseph Howe, Doctor Tupper, afterwards Sir Charles; George Munroe Grant, later principal of Queen's University, Kingston, and Rev. Allan Pollock of the Church of Scotland. Dalhousie was reorganized by act of legislature in 1863 with the expressed object, at the time, of uniting the various church institutions of the province into one strong, well-endowed and non-denominational university. The act stated that nomination of a professor might be made by any body of Christians which should provide an income of $1,200 per annum for the support of any chair in the institution.

The Presbyterians responded by closing their Arts College at Truro and supporting two chairs at Dalhousie, but withdrew this support with the death of the incumbents appointed in 1863. The Church of Scotland in Nova Scotia, without any institution of its own, endowed a chair. Previous to the reorganization of Dalhousie the arts department of Gorham College at Liverpool, N. S., supported by Congregationalists, transferred to Dalhousie "with a view to the furtherance of the establishment of a provincial university."

An attempt was made in 1877 to bring the colleges of the provinces into closer co-operation by the establishment of the University of Halifax, which was to have the power of granting degrees to the students of other colleges who passed its examinations. It ceased to exist in 1881, and another attempt to bring about maritime college union was made. A society formed of representatives of all the colleges was formed to bring about "consolidation," and a vigorous campaign was carried on. The board of governors and alumni of Dalhousie passed favorable resolutions. A spirited discussion by the alumni and board of regents of Mount Allison was followed by adverse votes. Acadia declined.

In 1884 and again in 1901-1902 plans of union were agreed upon by the governors of King's and Dalhousie, but on each occasion were rejected by the alumni association of King's. The 1901-1902 attempt followed a proposal made by King's to all maritime colleges that a union be effected. Dalhousie alone responded.

Two years ago friends of Dalhousie and King's met unofficially to discuss union of their colleges. No agreement was reached, however, and it was later decided to leave the question of Dalhousie-King's union over until the larger question of maritime union was decided. This question, with the tremendous increase of operation costs during the war years, and other considerations, had again become acute.

A few Minutes at Night Saves Hours on Wash Day

A few minutes at night—just the little time you need to put the clothes to soak in rich, soapy cleansing Rinso suds—

Saves you hours of rubbing, and wearing out the clothes and yourself on a metal washboard next day, because you just rinse the dirt away—the clothes are already washed by Rinso.

Do not pour the Rinso straight into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first—this is very important—Then it guarantees wonderful results.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE
Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or as long as convenient, then add more Rinso and work the machine. Rinse thoroughly and dry—you will have a clean, sweet, snow white wash.

TARRYTOWN BUT SELDOM SEES THE MODERN CROESUS
Stories of John D. Rockefeller, Who Recently Observed His 84th Birthday.

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 23.—(Canadian Press.)—An effort to interview John D. Rockefeller on the recent occasion of his 84th birthday anniversary—made, as usual, through a third party representing the household—brought the response "Impossible." As no reporters as yet have succeeded in storming the well-guarded gates of the Rockefeller home, the modern Croesus goes unrepresented.

Even to his fellow townsmen the little man, slight of frame, who appears in midsummer in leather waistcoat, overcoat and muffler, is very much of an enigma. Tarrytown points out to each visitor the home of John D. Rockefeller, urges the visitor to go up and see where Rockefeller lives, talks constantly about Rockefeller—but rarely sees him itself. Very seldom do Tarrytowners get inside the gates which guard the big home back of the hills. Once in awhile they see John D. come downtown and sit in his machine while a chauffeur goes into a bank or a store—but Tarrytown almost never talks to its richest citizen. He comes and goes—there is excitement while he is downtown, and discussion afterwards. And that is all of Tarrytown's claim on its most famous citizen. Sporadically, John D. Rockefeller gives ten cents pieces away to children. How did it start? Three stories are current.

Number one—Three boys, many years ago, walked up the hill, climbed the stone wall, went up to the porch and saw Mr. Rockefeller. They asked him for a dime apiece—and got it. Since then, it is said, the oil magnate has held his yearly party.

Number two—A boy was standing downtown when the Rockefeller machine drove up. A package dropped out. The boy picked it up and handed it to Mr. Rockefeller personally. The boy got a dime, and John D. Rockefeller got an inspiration which he has followed ever since.

Number three—A lad was lost. He wandered onto the Rockefeller mystery links. The oil king saw him. He took him into the house, gave him a dime and sent him home. And the 10 cent party sprang from that.

Whatever the cause, "Dime Day" has become to the youth of Tarrytown a day apart, ranking with Christmas and the Fourth of July.

Milk Always Sweet in Summer

SUMMER heat makes no difference to Carnation Milk. It's always sweet and fresh when you need it.

That's because it comes to you SEALED and STERILIZED. Fresh and rich the day it comes to us, part of the water is taken away by evaporation and it is put into new containers and sterilized. It keeps indefinitely in the cans—or for several days when opened.

Carnation Milk solves the milk problem. Winter or summer, it is always ready—never late. None is wasted. Use it as cream, or add water and use it as milk.

Carnation Milk adds wonderfully to every milk dish — new flavor and new nourishment. It makes tea and coffee famous and it whips. Order this convenient, economical milk now. Ask your grocer to send you several tall (16 oz.) cans, or a case of 48 cans.

At the same time write for the Carnation cook book. It is new — beautifully illustrated—and the many recipes are tested and delicious. Try this recipe.

CARNATION COOKED SALAD DRESSING.
1 teaspoonful salt, 1 tablespoonful sugar, 1½ tablespoonfuls flour, ¾ teaspoonful mustard, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful onion juice, ¼ cup mild vinegar, ½ cup Carnation Milk, ½ cup water. Mix dry ingredients, add beaten eggs, onion juice and milk diluted with the water. Add the vinegar slowly, cook in a double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, strain and cool. This recipe makes 1½ cups salad dressing.

MEET IN AUGUST

Conference of Premiers May Enlarge into a Supreme Council Meeting re Moratorium.

Paris, July 24—A conference between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Poincare of France to discuss a moratorium for Germany, has been arranged for the first part of August. It is expected it will assume the proportions of a meeting of the supreme council, as it is generally understood here that Belgium is sure to be represented and, if the Italian cabinet crisis is solved in time, that Italy also will have delegates present.

Realization that the reparations question has reached a decisive crisis is held responsible in French circles for Premier Poincare overcoming his oft expressed aversion for supreme councils and his decision to have the matter of a German moratorium discussed before the first supreme council he has agreed to attend since he was called to the premiership.

THEY HAVE WON HONORS.

(Fredericton Gleazer.)

Two New Brunswick teachers who have performed an important imperial service are now on their way back to their home in Fredericton. We refer to the Misses Clara and Bessie Bridges, who for the last twenty years have been engaged in connection with the public school system of South Africa. Following the so-called Boer War, they, with others, went to the Transvaal to establish a system of education. How well the party of Canadian and British teachers who were chosen for that important duty succeeded was graphically told by the chairman of the committee in charge of the school of which Miss Clara Bridges was principal in his eulogistic address at the conclusion of her period of service, when she was made a presentation by Mrs. Smuts, wife of General Smuts, the distinguished premier of South Africa, on behalf of the parents of the children of her school. Mr. Muller gave to Miss Bridges unstinted praise and ranks her

Ottawa, July 24.—T. J. Cumberland of Pincher Creek, Alberta, was elected president of the Dominion Postmasters' Association on Saturday, at the close of a two-day convention. It was decided to hold conventions biennially. Montreal was chosen for 1924.

COST SCOTT $9

Windsor, Ont., July 24.—James Scott, forty-seven years old, appeared before Magistrate Gundy on Saturday as complainant against John Hall. He charged Hall with abusive language to him. The magistrate asked Scott if he had done anything to provoke the case words. "Nothing except to suggest to Hall that he go home and wash his wife's feet," Scott answered.

"Did he?" asked the court.

"No, Your Worship, so I went to Hall's house and washed Mrs. Hall's feet myself. She was in bed at the time."

"Yes, and he deserted his own wife and baby," spoke up Hall.

Scott admitted he had left his wife, but said that his "baby" tipped the scales at 167 pounds.

The magistrate dismissed the charge against Hall and assessed Scott $9 costs, holding that was reasonable enough for the privilege of having washed another man's wife's feet.

BUSY CAMPBELLTON.

(Chatham World)

There is no unemployment in Campbellton. Every mill and workshop is running with full crews, and several houses are under construction. The town has no electric railway as yet, but it has two lines of motor buses—one to Dalhousie and one to Matapedia—running on schedule time at low rates. They are well patronized. The bus from Matapedia, Saturday evening especially, arrives with as many passengers as can get into it. The fare is very small in comparison with the hire of a carriage or auto.

Men Noted and Approved This Change

It's more than likely that the feminine patrons of a certain drug store in Rochester, N. Y., which shall be nameless for reasons usually described as "obvious"—failed to make even a mental note of a change which recently went into effect here because the change affected only the location of the "men's specialty" counter. But the men noticed it—for exactly the reason the proprietor of the store figured that they would.

Formerly, the counter in question was well up in the front of the store, the idea being that men liked to come in, make their purchases and get out in a hurry. But now it's in the rear, right next to the "prescription house" and make a purchase of a toothbrush, a razor or some shaving cream while he's waiting for his order to be filled or while he's trying to present a legitimate excuse for his presence to some one he may happen to know in the store.

"You'd be surprised at the difference it makes," says the druggist who owns the store. "Many a man comes in the subject of his errand with what appears to be the utmost reluctance and he will welcome any pretext to edge his way back toward the prescription department. Then, too, while he's waiting for the bottle to be filled, or for some neighbor whom he may know, to make a purchase as a sort of announcement of his reason for being there. I've kept a careful check upon sales and I've found that the change in the location of the counter has added at least twenty-five per cent. to the business done, which is the reason that the men's specialty counter is going to remain where it is, at least for the time being."

Rents Too High, He Moved Store to Home.

Ten years ago E. R. Hixson faced the puzzle of high rents in Main street. His grocery store occupied a corner site down-town in Houghton, Mich. When he had to vacate to permit the erection of a fine new building he was offered store space in the completed structure. "But," as Hixson remarked, "I considered the rent prohibitive, so I bought a house and lot in East Houghton." Now East Houghton is off of Main street, all right. It is, in fact, the exclusive residential district of the town. A grocery store was about as welcome to the inhabitants as the itch would be. They had visions of a cluttered sidewalk, decaying vegetables, fly-speckled windows, the usual stage-setting of the small town grocery store of ten years ago.

The residents of this exclusive section of town were up in arms. They were so "het up" that they circulated a petition of property owners to boycott the grocer. But Hixson kept on calmly, imploringly clearing up the yard, planting flowers and making plans for his store. And now the people in the neighborhood look upon Hixson's as an indispensable beauty spot.

He has demonstrated that a store can be a financial success blocks away from Main street; that a grocery store may be as attractive as well as utilitarian, and that an immense amount of business can be done in small quarters.

The floor space in this model grocery is just 24 by 30 feet. But every square inch is utilized. Naturally advertised brands of canned, bottled and packaged groceries are sold.

"We do handle flour and sugar," smiled Hixson, "but we keep them in the background. We sell them as an accommodation for our customers. Most of our trade, however, buy flour, sugar and such merchandise from the downtown stores. We handle the staple package goods."

"Just about how much stock can you get in this small room?" he was asked.

"The usual stock in the store," he replied, "will run about $2,500. Of course, we have to restock every day. Our surplus is kept in the cellar of the house, and in the cellar of the store. When we have a $500 or $600 Saturday we have to fill up a good many gaps on the shelf Monday morning."

But these gaps are promptly filled. Except on Saturday night Hixson's store is always in the pink of condition.

There are four salesmen in the store, but they never get in each other's way, though the quarters are small. They have been so carefully drilled and trained for that.

For ten years Hixson has advertised in the same newspaper space every other day, and each year his trade has increased. He is doing an infinitely greater volume and more profitable business than he ever did in the most prosperous days of the store in Main street.

Sunday Sport in London. The expected rush to take advantage of the permission to have Sunday sports in London parks failed to materialize yesterday.

Tennis, bowling and boating, which is permitted in most of the parks, attracted a fair number of players and spectators, but net ball, quoits and badminton fell flat.

Cricket enthusiasts cluded from fifty-three of the fifty-nine parks, and also by the proviso which prohibits and competition matches in the parks. Footballers are better catered for, having eighteen parks at their disposal, but it is not their season now.

Westfield Tennis Games. Play the ladies doubles was run through on the Westfield tennis courts on Saturday afternoon and resulted in the championship of the club being won by Miss Janie Creighton and Miss L. Dykeman.

ROYALS AND FTON PIRATES EACH WIN

The Fredericton Pirates and the Royals divided the honors in two games on Saturday, the former winning the evening game by a score of 16 to 13, and the latter the afternoon game, by a score of 13 to 5. Both games, which were played on the Barracks Square diamond, were witnessed by a crowd of about 300 people. Nelson pitched for the Royals in the afternoon game while McInnis did the hurling for the visitors. In the evening game Diggs was on the mound for the local men with Hogan relieving him later in the game and Jacobson pitched for Fredericton.

SATURDAY'S WAS A GREAT GAME

Baseball fans throughout the city were given a real treat Saturday when the Quincy, Mass., All-Stars and St. Peter's met in two games. The afternoon contest went to the visitors, 2-9, and the evening was called at the end of the eighth inning with the score standing, 6-5. The afternoon game was conceded to have been one of the best played in this city in years and was replete with sensational fielding. It developed into a pitcher's battle between Greenhaugh, one of the leading semi-pro pitchers in the New England States, and Hansen, four hits were secured of both pitchers.

Neither team had been able to secure a run until the first of the ninth when the visitors netted two. Two men were out and two strikes on Greenhaugh when he nosed a fast drop which carried along the left field foul line striking about six inches in fair territory and bouncing struck a pole supporting a wire fence in front of the bleachers and passed inside. This break of the game decided the issue as St. Peter's failed to tally in their last half. The box score and summary follow:

The evening game was a different brand of ball as both sides seemed tired from their supreme effort in the afternoon and many errors resulted. Errors were responsible for the majority of the runs as both King and Knight pitched well and kept their hits scattered. At the end of the eighth inning the umpires decided to call the game on account of darkness. The box score and summary follow:

TORONTO MEN USE POWDER AND PAINT
Beauty Parlors Also Giving Some Marcel Waves.

Did men powder, paint and rouge ten years ago? The answer is an emphatic "No." But today? The answer is just as emphatic "Yes." Men are now demanding everything from the stores which deal in cosmetics which we once thought sacred to women and the stage, so the Toronto Star says. Men now have their favorite powders, their particular hair oils, and their delicate perfumes.

Further some of Toronto "beauty parlors" are now specializing in giving men neat marcel waves, "that natural curl." We are now reverting in one respect at least to the Elizabethan age. In that area men wore lace cuffs and velvet clothes, silk stockings to the knee, and taken to Renforth in automobiles provided by H. O. Miller, W. Edgar Campbell and H. S. Wanamaker.

NAGLE-FLOOD.
A very pretty wedding of much interest took place this morning at 7 o'clock at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception when Miss Helen Margaret Flood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Flood, 128 Duke street, was united in marriage to Thomas Nagle, by Rev. Father Nugent, cousin of the bride. They were unattended. The bride was charmingly attired in a suit of navy blue, trimmed with steel beads, a hat of laffeta to match, trimmed with silver lace, and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses and carried a white prayer book. Mr. and Mrs. Nagle left immediately after the ceremony on the Boston train for a three weeks trip to New York, Atlantic City and other United States cities. Mr. Nagle is the head of the firm of Nagle and Wigmore, shipping agents, and the bride is a daughter of John Flood, a prominent contractor and builder in the city. The bride's gift from her father was a thousand dollars in bonds. Many friends wish them all happiness.

Matter Up at the City Council Meeting Today

Tenders for Exhibition Building Painting Show Wide Margin—North End Sewerage Extensions—Haymarket Sq. Work Bonds.

A new proposition regarding the laying of a larger pipe to the Nashwaak Pulp Paper Co. mill at Union Point was made to the common council in committee this morning by C. F. Sanford, mayor of the company. The new plan was that the company be allowed to lay a sixteen-inch line and a commission be appointed to ascertain if the present ten-inch pipe will deliver 4,000,000 gallons a day, as specified in an agreement between the city and the company; if not then the city will agree to pay the difference in cost between the 16-inch line and a line large enough, when working with the present ten-inch pipe, to give the mill 4,000,000 gallons. The council refused to accept any obligation whatever and the matter stands as it was. The mayor presided and all the commissioners were present.

Water Assessment.
Commissioner Wigmore presented a resolution fixing Oct. 12 as the last date for payment of water assessment and the discount rate at five per cent. on all accounts paid before that date. This was a month later than last year, the commissioner said, due to the fact that the closing date of the general assessment discount period was a month later.

The mayor announced that a delegation from the Nashwaak Pulp & Paper Co., which was to appear today regarding water supply, had decided not to present an argument at the present time. At this juncture, however, C. F. Sanford and H. E. Beedy, vice-president, representing the company, entered and asked to be heard.

Mr. Sanford said the mill required more water to increase its capacity. The company suggested that they be allowed to go ahead and lay a 16-inch line and when the 36-inch line was put into operation a commission be appointed by the city and company to test the 10-inch line to see if it would carry 4,000,000 gallons a day. If this was found impossible the company asked the city to pay the difference in cost between an 8-inch main and a pipe sufficient to carry 4,000,000 gallons a day.

He said the company engineer, Harry Ferguson, of New York, was of the opinion that the present main would not deliver 4,000,000 gallons. It was twenty years of age, he said.

The company proposed to spend half a million dollars in improvements and enlargement, half of which would be expended this year.

Commissioner Wigmore said that the company's engineer had practically admitted that the 10-inch pipe would carry the required amount of water.

Commissioner Frink said that the city contracted with the company to deliver a certain quantity after the 36-inch main was turned in and if the city did not fulfill the contract it would then be time to discuss the question.

The mayor said that until the time when it was shown that the 10-inch pipe could not deliver the amount contracted for, the city should not be obligated to any expense to give the pulp mill an increased pressure.

Commissioner Bullock said that, according to the agreement, the city was not compelled to supply any specific amount of water.

The mayor said that present legislation limited the council's action to a resolution and prohibited it signing a contract to supply a specified quantity of water.

Permission was given the company to file plans of the proposed 16-inch main without obligating the city to any thing. In the meantime, the mayor said, the matter of the proposed test would be considered.

North End Sewerage.
Commissioner Wigmore presented a plan of the proposed sewerage construction in the Newman brook area, taking care of Metcalf street extension, Cranston avenue, Lansdowne avenue and Wesley street. He said the estimated cost was $25,800. The committee decided to inspect the property personally this afternoon.

Commissioner Frink announced that the Stephen Construction Co. had furnished a construction bond for $23,000 for the Haymarket Square paving, but the maintenance bond had not yet arrived. He moved that the company be permitted to enter upon the work, but that no money be paid on the contract until the maintenance bond was produced and accepted. Carried.

Reporting on the matter of a communication from the estate of Irene Simonds, the Commissioner Thornton expressed the opinion that the city should purchase one lot in Portland street leased from the estate. The present rental was $36 a year. It was decided to purchase at $1,100.

Painting Tenders.
Tenders for painting the exhibition building were opened and referred to Commissioner Thornton. Tenders were due at 10:30. One received at 10:30 was not accepted. The tenders were as follows: W. D. McLennan, $495.50; James Huey, $418; Frank B. Matthews, $649.60; R. Milton, $675; J. T. McGowan, $180; A. Bergland, $285; J. E. Courteny, $200.

On recommendation of Commissioner Thornton it was decided to pay to Miss Maud Donahue, adopted daughter of James E. Dever, a fireman who died on July 6, his salary up to July 15 and one month's wages in addition. Mr. Thornton said that Mr. Dever had been in the city employ for between eleven and twelve years and gave faithful service.

An application for the New Brunswick Telephone Co. for permission to lay a pipe along the South Wharf to carry rental was granted, provided the work was completed in ten days.

The tender of the Dominion Coal Co. for the coal supply for the public works department at $7.50 a ton was ordered accepted on motion of Commissioner Frink.

On recommendation of Commissioner Wigmore tenders for gate valves were accepted as follows:—R. N. M. Robertson for one twenty-four-inch, $290; two sixteen-inch at $120 each. T. McAvity—Sons, six twelve-inch at $56.25 each; two ten-inch at $40.50 each; thirty eight-inch at $24.30 each; thirty six-inch at $14.63 each.
