CAUTION ABOUT THE FLOWERS IN CITY SQUARES Referring to favorable comments which had been made about the flower beds in King square, Commissioner Prink said this morning that it was about this time last year that some misguided person had told some children that it was time to tear the flowers out of the ground. The commissioner said he did not want any repetition of such occurrence this year and any such action would be followed by prompt arrest and punishment. Under the Hammer

THE late F. W. Woolworth, of five and ten-cent store fame, left an estate of fifty million dollars. But his widow was obliged to sell his home in New York City to provide the ready money with which to pay Inheritance Taxes.

If, at the time of your death, your total worldly possessions have a value of $50,000 or more, your executors will be called upon to pay out—promptly and in spot cash—a very substantial sum of money to cover your Succession Duties (otherwise called Inheritance Taxes). In some cases the amount exempted from this tax is only $25,000, and the tendency is for such levies to become heavier as time goes on.

Not many estates are of such a nature that any considerable proportion of them could be turned into cash on short notice without serious losses resulting, particularly if business conditions or the state of the money market should be unfavorable at the time the money is needed.

If you had a business obligation of several thousands—or even hundreds—of dollars to meet some years hence, would you not commence now making provision for meeting it? Well, if you are even moderately well off, Succession Duties will constitute a first charge against your estate at your death. Have you made a provision for meeting that obligation?

An Imperial Life offers a most convenient method of providing for Succession Duties. Ask us to tell you all about it.

A wedding of much interest to St. John people took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence, Port Burnell, Ont., on Monday evening, July 4, when their daughter, Ada, became the wife of Charles V. Irvine, C. P. R. brakeman formerly of St. John but now of Toronto. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly gowned in white crepe-de-chene with lace and cap and carried a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Josephine Fulkerson, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, wore white satin with hat to match and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The groom was attended by Mr. Fulkerson. Mr. and Mrs. Irvine will reside in Toronto.

Dr. Copeland said that he was advised by telephone of the baby's condition and ordered alcohol as an antidote. They had none and the physician spent forty-five minutes in a quest that finally produced two ounces of corn whiskey. He hurried to the Bloch home and gave it to the child, whose intense

FIFTEEN LITTLE UKRAINIAN ORPHANS ARRIVE IN ST. JOHN

Members of Party of 109 Recently Landed From Europe—Many Offers to Adopt Received.

Fifteen little bright-eyed Ukrainian children arrived in St. John yesterday in charge of the Jewish nurse who had accompanied them on their journey from their home-land. They spent last night at the home of M. Budovitch in Douglas avenue and seemed thoroughly contented with their lot in their new country. Mr. Budovitch is the chairman of the Ukrainian orphans' committee for the maritime provinces and it will be his task to find homes for the children. The towns which already have expressed willingness to take some of the children are St. John, Halifax, Yarmouth, Woodstock, Sydney and Glace Bay. The children appear to be in excellent health and their ages vary from five to ten years. They speak Hebrew and Polish but as yet English is a mystery to them. They were in a party of 109 orphans which came over on board the Scandinavian and arrived at Quebec on Friday.

CREATION OF WOMAN.

According to Hindu legends the god Vulcan created the world. When he started on woman he found he had used up all available materials, but knew that the world would be nothing without women, so he took— The roundness of the moon. The graceful twist of the creeping plant. The slenderness of the willow. The velvet of the flowers. The lightness of the feather. The gentle gaze of the doe. The frolicsome reflection of the dancing sunbeam. The tears of the cloud. The inconsistency of the wind. The timidity of the hare. The vanity of the peacock. The hardness of the diamond. The chill of the snow. The cooling of the turtle dove. All these he combined to form this glorious being—woman.—Washington Times.

FIND MUSIC HELPS WORKERS' MORAL

Washington, Aug. 22—Music to improve the moral of workers whose duties take them well into the early hours of the morning has been tried in the Minneapolis Post Office and proved a success. E. A. Purdy, Postmaster at that place, today informed Postmaster General Hays.

The idea was tried, Mr. Purdy said, after he had made a psychological study of conditions under which his night force worked. He found that men working apart from the general noises of the day, as a rule, showed a low moral and were inclined to be morose and generally worried at being away from their families, which resulted in an absence of enthusiasm in their work.

As an experiment a phonograph was installed and records which it was thought would rectify the nerves and enliven the spirits of the employees were tried nightly. There were gratifying results, Mr. Purdy said. Although he was careful to explain that no "jazz" was played until the far end of the night, as he "did not want the men juggling and tossing about the letters, and parcels." Everybody was more alert, and at quitting time went home less tired, less worried, and more efficient night's work done. The Postmaster General approved the idea, and said that he would watch further experiments with interest.

Mr. Purdy, who was characterized by Mr. Hays as one of the best Postmasters in the country, is in Washington through a Democrat, is in Washington to give the department some of the ideas which have made the Minneapolis office one of the best and most successful in the country, Mr. Hays said.

BOOK FINED $10 FOR STEALING CAT

Book a Yellow and White Kitten from Neighboring Restaurant, Owner Testifies—Says He Didn't Keep It.

Port Chester, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Conrad of the theft of a yellow and white kitten from the doorstep of Charles A. Thompson's cafe at King and Adele streets, Joseph Figan, twenty-six years old, assistant chef at the Palace Restaurant, was fined $10 in the police court yesterday by Judge L. Coward.

Thompson testified that about 8:30 a. m. Sunday morning he saw Figan go toward the Palace Restaurant with the kitten in his hand. When he asked that he return it Figan said he had dropped it "in the alley." Figan did not know what had become of the kitten. When he made a subsequent visit to the kitchen of the restaurant he found a turkey and a rib roast in a big pan with the aid of a long fork, Mr. Thompson said, and that chef threatened to jab the kitten if he did not go away and stop crying him about the kitten. William Frost of Fox Island Road, works for Mr. Thompson, testified as sweeping off the sidewalk in front of Mr. Thompson's place when Figan came along the try to catch the kitten, which had run a little way up the sidewalk. To secure the kitten so that Figan could not get it, he testified, he beat on the sidewalk with a broom. The kitten ran in front of Thompson's place and was halted on the doorstep of the sidewalk. Frost said, and it was from that the chef paroled it. Frost made no denial of the charge of the cat, but said he moved it to a big pan with the aid of a long fork, Mr. Thompson said, and that chef threatened to jab the kitten if he did not go away and stop crying him about the kitten. MARRIED IN HASTE

Wife Got One Piece of Pie in Twenty-Four Hours.

(Toronto Telegram.)

The apparel worn by Mrs. Lily Green and her parents in the county police court this morning would hardly suggest that it was necessary that Mrs. Green should be in receipt of $4 per week charity relief from York Township, according to an official.

Mrs. Green charged her husband, Harry Green, a Russian Jew, with non-support.

Defendant admitted he had married the girl without her parents' consent. He had no money, and gave her a piece of pie once. I had no money to get anything else. I slapped her, said Green.

Major Burton—You are an unutterable scoundrel. You married this girl for lascivious purposes, knowing you could not keep her. Your wife is as big a fool as you are scoundrel. You will go to jail for six months.

"It is more a case of carelessness than intent. The department suggests a minimum fine and we do not ask for costs," said Inspector D. J. Cameron, of the dairy industry department, who charged the Sutton Dairy and Creamery Co. with selling butter which showed more than 16 per cent. water.

Major Burton imposed a fine of $10 without costs.

TO PUT STAGE UPON FOOTING OF STABILITY

Organization of Theatrical Interests Completed at N. Y. Conference—To Aid Legitimate Drama.

New York, Aug. 22.—Two hundred and fifty to 300 representatives of the legitimate stage in America and Canada practically completed an organization of all theatrical interests in the country last week, with a view of putting the whole theatre business on a more stable and better footing.

Men active in the movement say it is not looking for fights either with actors or labor; that it is most united and enthusiastic, and with the coming winter months is looking for good times. The last season has been a very dull one for every theatre from coast to coast, they say, and the new organization hopes to meet the expected new prosperity which is needed in the theatre as well as in business.

Will Be Nine Groups.

While nothing but the legitimate theatre was represented, it is intended that later vaudeville, burlesque and the motion picture people will come in, and that these sections of the stage business, which already have their own organizations, will ultimately be affiliated with the International. When that is completed, all the theatre interests of every kind will be organized for the first time in stage history. This is a movement of the greatest possible consequence and importance to the American and international theatre and drama.

The organization is to be controlled by a board of directors selected from each group, and it is expected there will ultimately be nine groups.

Among the seven objects for which, it was explained, the organization is called together are: To secure freedom from unjust and unlawful exactions; to co-operate for the common welfare and with employes for just treatment under prevailing or altered economic conditions; and to settle differences between its members and to promote a more enlarged friendly intercourse between them.

BEANS "COMING BACK," RESTAURANT MEN SAY

Delegates to Stewards' Convention Report Growing Demand for "A Thousand and a Plate."

Pittsburgh, Aug. 22.—Prohibition has affected the restaurant business, and beans are "coming back," according to Harry Doherty of New York, national president of the International Stewards' Association, and other food purveyors meeting here last week in their twenty-first annual convention.

"You can't fool the cafe patron any more," said Doherty. "When he orders ham and eggs he wants ham and eggs. The 'a la' business is a dead issue. There was a time, when a few cocktails could legally precede a dinner, when the diner did not care what he ate, but not now. Dress ham and eggs up in a little 'Ham and Eggs a la Portugese' and the public is skeptical."

Reiterating the contention that prices would not drop in restaurants, Mr. Doherty said that caterers, where the masses were fed, would feel the lowering prices first when they did come.

Beans are "coming back," sweeping over the country like an advancing army, according to stewards, who say it has taken the World War Veterans three years to forget the taste of the standing diet in the fighting service, but the old craving for "a thousand on a plate" is coming back. The demand is growing stronger each day.

FRENCH WOMEN BLAMED AS SMOKING INCREASES

They and the War Are Held Responsible for Growing Use of Tobacco in France.

Paris, Aug. 22.—France is smoking nearly 9,000 tons of tobacco a year more than before the war. The biggest increase is in pipe tobacco, though the increase in the number of cigarettes consumed is about 2,000,000 kilograms.

The war is blamed for the increase and women are given a share of blame, if any is attached.

Even middle-class French women—among the most conservative and properly behaved in the world—seem to be fast succumbing to the smoking habit, in which English and American women have set the example. So far, however, their smoking is a very private affair in the seclusion of their own homes.

In restaurants and public places only American and English women smoke, and those French women who do not belong to any social world. No well-

TWO YACHTS TAKEN IN LIQUOR SEARCH

Cleveland, Aug. 22.—Two steam yachts, the Venice and the Tranquillo, confiscated by local authorities for alleged whiskey-running between Canada and this port, will be sold as soon as legal formalities can be arranged, so Federal prohibition agent Fred Counts announced last night upon his return after a secret mission in connection with the ships. The estimated value of the crafts was $40,000 each. Wm. L. Curry, master of the Venice, Ivey Burns, said to have been the Cleveland buyer of the liquor, and several members of the Venice crew, spent yesterday in jail in default of bail.

Bonds were fixed on Saturday by United States Commissioner Wentworth for prisoners taken in the Canadian yacht Venice. The men, who are charged with conspiracy to violate the federal liquor law, waived preliminary

A woman in Lincoln county, Mo., has a tame bird which she lets hop about the house at will since her cat is trained not to touch it. A few days ago the cat seized the bird and jumped on to a table with it. The owner thought the bird's days were over when she saw a strange cat in the room, and realized that her own faithful "pussy" had saved the bird's life.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

The Music Shop showed great possibilities from the start, but Kuhn was not satisfied. He felt more business could be had, and, with characteristic energy, he went after it with a club. "What people want is music," declared Eddie. "And since we sell it I thought we should give 'em what they want. With that idea in mind I inaugurated a plan that would give the public music from the time we open until we close. That's why you'll find something going on here every minute of the day."

Two professional piano players are engaged and singers render the vocal selections. During the intervals between singing and playing, various phonograph records are played and an electric amplifier reproduces all this music with startling clearness to the outside public. At any time one may find a crowd both in and outside the shop, showing that the majority of people possess an innate love for music.

When Weather Isn't Right, He Makes It. Chester Herold of the Phil Herold Store in San Jose, Cal., was anxious to move his large stock of outing shoes for both men and women. But the weather was cold and people simply didn't feel the mood for planning summer vacations. "For one thing, I found that most of us have a distinctive taste in music. But I saw that the average music store falls to the purchaser when needed. This started me to thinking that a store rendering services along these lines would prove successful. That's why I decided to take over the Music Shop—I wanted to test my theory."

erred with moss. Water trickled over the rocks down into a pool, bordered by gravel—as a lake shore usually is. A short piece of concealed rubber hose connected the falls at the top with the lake below, thus forming a continuous circuit, through which the water was forced by a tiny motor.

The floor of the window as strewn with rocks and moss and, toward the back, quantities of madder-hair and other ferns had been transplanted and were growing with a life-like effect. Toward the front of the window where they could be overlooked—were displayed all sorts of outing shoes for men and women, from high, laced walking boots to canvas tennis shoes.

Manager E. C. Henwood of the Halse Drug Co. in Hasleton, Pa., has been able to win back a large percentage of the soda-water business that he found was not up to previous years through his plan of getting into personal touch with men and women he knew to have been regular customers, but whose faces he did not see as often as formerly at the tables and the fountain of the Halse establishment.

The seeking of a few more customers may seem hardly worth the attention of the manager, but Henwood declares that if a man spends seventeen cents a day on soda water he is bringing in $5 a month trade for drinks alone, not counting the calls for medicines and toilet articles that he will make if he has formed the habit of dropping in at the Halse Drug establishment.

Consequently, when Henwood saw by the returns from the cash registers that the soda trade was slipping he made it his business to inquire into the reason and did not hesitate to ask his acquaintances why they were no longer coming to him for service. Usually, when the manager asks a frank answer he gets it, and Henwood was told by many that the store did not seem to serve as good a drink as it did in other seasons. Henwood was smiling as much money for favors and ice cream as in the past, so he went into the formulae of the flavors, tested the ice cream and then went after the soda apparatus. He found that there was a leak in the pipes that supply the pasteurized carbonic acid tanks to the fountain and that the drinks did not have the "pep" that they should. This was the reason why business was slipping. Attention paid by mechanics to this defect, with promises to patronize that they would get their old-time "peppy" drinks was all that was necessary to win back the trade.

Henwood is a convert to asking

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with falling of my organs, pains around my heart and in bowels and down my legs, neuralgia in my face and head, and that terrible sinking feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the druggist to get the best remedy he had and he gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend this Vegetable Compound, and you can see these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. Girouch, Box 845, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from root and herbs, is unparalleled. ### Forge "Dull Times" Into Good Business

Lloyd George said recently that he was not afraid of dull times. He said: "I consider they have merit."

"They stimulate men's minds to greater activity. Real progress is never achieved when all business is prosperous. It takes the impetus of a dull period and of terrific competition to stimulate man's finer energies."

Business men are thinking harder about their sales costs today and putting the axe to all doubtful timber. Competition is far keener.

Through daily newspapers, published in 63 Canadian centres of population, retail merchants reach old customers and create new ones. Follow their lead to normalcy and lay advertising firms in moth balls to await the return of "easy money" days.

HALIFAX PARTY HERE FOR REGATTA

Already the air has acquired a considerable charge of the electricity of excitement and expectancy as anticipation of the big regatta at Renfrew tomorrow assumes an ever-increasing share of the public thought. The arrival of a party of eight members of the St. Mary's Amateur Athletic Society and Rowing Club by the Digby boat on Saturday evening provided the first outlet for the pent-up excitement when three hearty cheers and a "tiger" and even a "tiger's pup" went up for the visitors from Halifax from more than a hundred people who had gathered at the dock to welcome the Halifaxians to their sister city.

Business sessions were held on Saturday morning and afternoon and a public meeting in the evening. On Sunday conference services were held in both the Coburg street and Douglas Avenue churches, and C. E. Armstrong, of Montague, P. E. I., was the preacher in St. Matthew's church on Sunday night.

DANCING BENEFITS CARDIAC PATIENTS

Medical Director Tells How Heart Convalescents Thrive on It at the Burke Foundation—Mental Effect Good, Too.

(New York Times).
Dancing as part of the regular treatment of those convalescing from heart disease was prescribed two years ago by Dr. Frederic Brush, medical director of the Burke Foundation, the great institution for the care and treatment of convalescents at White Plains, to which many patients from New York City and other general hospitals are sent. The results of this treatment as shown by its effects upon thousands of patients has been amazing and doubtless will elicit a gasp of astonishment from the uninitiated layman as well as from the physician of the older school.

Dr. Brush says, however, that there has not been any bad results, but, on the contrary, the exercise has been of great benefit. Modern dancing (ball, contra and folk types) is a valuable form of physical exercise in the reconstructive stages of heart disease, he declares. It affords a high degree of needed mental therapy, and aids the patient notably toward social restoration. Experience indicates its safety. It gives an added and readily available test of the cardiac reserve and of progress.

The physician tells about his experience in Hospital Social Service. Applied exercises in the reconstructive stages of heart disease have three main purposes, says Dr. Brush. To improve the general condition (nutritional, muscular and organic), increase the cardiac reserve and lessen the retrogressive and neurotic tendencies. Gradual re-entry into normal occupational and social living is the end sought.

It is of assured advantage, says the physician, to have the exercises pleasantly anticipated and enjoyed, and particularly valuable to have them simulate or merge into everyday physical and social activities. Good results of a road hike or short golf or coasting versus to-and-fro grade walking or soccer (a kick-about game) as compared with prescribed medicine-bottle therapy are soon apparent in practice.

Formal gymnastics, aided by inspiring courage and further exercise, in getting hold of the mild slacker or neurotic, and serve well in bad weather times, but in six years' observation of some 3,000 heart convalescents, says Dr. Brush, no regime has given such all-round satisfaction, safety and success as did the old farm regime where a total of nearly 400 cardiac boys and young men, were given essential freedom to play and work over the place (under reasonable regulation of rest).

Dancing may be called an inherent activity of all girls, of women up to fifty, and of most young and middle-aged men, says the physician, older persons are persistently happy in watching it; it is the most joyous of all play-exercises, and both physically and socially stimulant.

Convalescents with but a moderate degree of cardiac reserve may begin cautiously to dance, then go on to a considerable indulgence, with safety and benefit he asserts. The heart patients early led the way in this. Women were found to be dancing in their cottages, and boys exhibited various "big stunts."

The practice was checked, then carefully observed, encouraged and organized. The weaker and more difficult and soon two or three formal dances per week were given, open to patients of all diagnoses and ages. For two seasons past a dancing class for cardiacs under eighteen years has been conducted, under medical and nurse supervision, the instruction being given principally by stronger patients of this group.

Class attendance is compulsory as soon as the heart strength is considered adequate. The weaker are more difficult and are gradually inducted. Many cardiacs have given special fancy by diversion exercise in the reconstructive stages of heart disease, to begin to walk, coast, golf, dance, etc., as soon as you "feel able." Resident physicians' orders are occasionally given for more or less of none of these various exercises.

How Patients Are Affected.
For six months the dancing is out of doors. The spectators, too, are strongly affected for good. Dr. Brush asserts. One hardly recognizes these patients at such functions; they show color, animation, strength, good posture; pains and neurotic depressions have actually disappeared—and are less likely to return. "I can dance again!" is a valued expression by patients.

There have been about twenty collapses or partial faints among all the thousands of dancers (30,000 patients cared for). About half of these were in cardiacs and found to be mainly hysterical or neurotic. Some heart patients have complained of increased pain, etc., the day after, but no instance of decompensation has followed. (Decompensation means failure of the heart to overcome valvular disease.) The pulse rate rises moderately. Many patients express a feeling of benefit from the exercise.

The prohibition with which most patients come is largely the outcome of two misconceptions—that dancing is necessarily and always a strenuous and exhausting exercise, and that one set of rules may apply to all heart disease. As a fact, says the physician, short-period dancing as thus practiced (a shuffling, with little weight lifting) is one of the milder exertions. The physics of it need not be discussed here, and the doubting convalescent graduates self in with caution and safety.

The hour is often interspersed with other entertainment, and there is much more of the numbers. Further exercise ability and should not be deprived of one of life's best diversions, says the physician, and what is for the majority a valuable reconstructive activity. This emphasizes another of the too commonly prescribed negatives that are, through organized effort, being replaced by salutary positives.

"I have made considerable inquiry," says Dr. Brush, "among physicians of the broadest experience and have not learned of one instance of sudden death of a cardiac upon the dancing floor nor of heart failure being thought attributable to dancing (poveletic heart-break is understood as explained). Instances might be brought out, of course; yet this negative is significant in view of the recorded acute heart failures during various other recreation and exercises. I have, for example, personally known of decompressions from golf, tennis and the innocuous ping-pong. "The psychoneurotic element is increasingly understood to be important in heart disease, and these patients are advanced in recuperation by the dance's emotional and physical 'setting-up,' the suggestion of normality, the stimulus of dressing and appearing well, and the feeling of rising again out of prohibition and above social invalidism. Probably there is much to learn about the physiological workings of these nerve and mental factors in heart disease (stimulation of certain internal secretions reacting through the vagus [nerve] is commonly suggested)."

FAIR VALE CHURCH SERVICE.
Service at Fair Vale on Sunday afternoon was conducted by Rev. F. H. Bone of the Central Baptist church, and the address delivered was listened to with close attention by a congregation which completely filled the hall. Special music was furnished by the choir of the Central church and included anthems, solos by Miss Campbell and Charles Pidgeon and a duet by Messrs. Punter and Rye. The work of the choir was highly appreciated.

BOSTON TEAM TO PLAY ST. PETER'S

Arrangements have been completed to bring the fast baseball team from South Boston here next Saturday to meet St. Peter's in the afternoon and evening contests. The team is reputed to be exceptionally fast and including four of the leading players of Holy Cross University. They are under the management of J. L. Bigney.

A benefit game will be played Wednesday evening between St. Peter's and the Pirates, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Westfield Fire Relief Fund. Both teams will have their strongest line-ups and a good game is anticipated.

NEIGHBORLY SPIRIT
RELIEVES DISTRESS

For the second time this summer a fine community spirit has been manifested by the people at Public Landing, George Day, whose house was burned last week, causing the loss of almost everything, with only a small insurance, leaving him and his wife and six young children without a home, will soon be under his own roof again. The neighbors are giving assistance, and the foundation of a new house has been laid and a portion of the frame raised. Some ladies of the neighborhood were busy last week making clothing for the children. On Saturday night a benefit dance was held at the pavilion, and with the money raised and some more that was collected the ladies will get material to make up by their own hands to help in equipping the new home with things needed. Next Saturday night a picnic social will be held and the proceeds devoted to the same purpose. Summer residents are joining with the neighbors to relieve the distress of the family.

DAY IN COUNTRY

At Well Arranged Picnic Enjoy Sports and a General Good Time.

Members of Typographical Union No. 85, their families and friends greatly enjoyed an outing on Saturday afternoon at Crystal Beach. The party left here on the steamer Sissaboo in command of Captain Rowan and all had a thoroughly enjoyable time. A good programme of sports was carried through and all entered into the occasion with the holiday spirit. The committee in charge of the picnic was composed of Miss M. Long, Miss G. Parker, Mrs. H. Weir, E. L. Sage, F. W. Stanton, E. H. Toole, Quinn and H. McEachern. A baseball outfit was loaned by the Y. M. C. A. and a beamboard by the Y. M. C. SEVEN INCH VEIN
OF ALBERTITE

Important Discovery Within Two Miles of the Famous Old Mines.

Within less than two miles of the famous old Albertite mines in Albert county a vein of seven inches of pure Albertite has been located and indications point to a larger body of this coal so valuable in oil, in that locality. The place is East Albert Mines, Lower Hillsboro. Boring operations have been carried on for some time. A small vein had been found at the start, and the borings were made to learn if a thicker seam could be got at a greater depth. A seven-inch vein has been struck at a depth of 122 feet, sufficient to warrant the belief that a larger body is to be found underneath, especially as other small veins have been found last week of larger find. Albertite is extremely rich in oil running from 50 gallons to the ton, and in these days when oil is so valuable the value of a large bed of Albertite would be very great.

URBAN J. SWEENEY DIED THIS MORNING

Urban J. Sweeney, a well-known barrister of this city, died at 5:25 this morning at his residence, 57 St. David street, after an illness of four months. Mr. Sweeney became very ill in May last and for a time there was very little hope of his recovery, but he improved in health and was becoming quite well when he had a relapse and steadily declined until his death this morning.

After receiving a degree of Bachelor of Arts at St. Joseph's College, Moncton, in 1910, he was articled in this city. In 1912 he received the degree of B. C. L. from King's College and soon after conducted his first case. The following year he joined with Stanley B. Taylor in the real estate business and he had remained in this business up to the time of his death.

Mr. Sweeney was married only a little more than a year ago to Miss Dorothy Murray, who was a nurse in the General Public Hospital. Besides his wife he is survived by his mother, two brothers—Frank J. of St. Boniface, Man., and Leonard J. of this city, who is a traveler for the National Clothing Mfg. Co. Ltd.; and two sisters—Zita, who is nursing in Manchester, New Hampshire, and Bertella, at home.

Mr. Sweeney was connected with the Knights of Columbus and many friends in this organization as well as those throughout the city will be grieved to hear of his death.

In his early days of law study Mr. Sweeney was, for a while, a reporter on the staff of The Evening Times.
