

SOUTH AFRICA.

Newcastle, N. B. Soldier Killed en Route to the Cape.

To Get Full Benefit of Peace Terms. Rebels Must Surrender Before July 10th.

PRETORIA, June 10.—The Boer commandos that are arriving here bring reports of fresh and striking instances of fraternization between the Boers and the British troops.

Former Secretary Reitz, who was a member of the late Transvaal government, has brought in the only ambulance left in the north and a Cape cart loaded with documents, including a number of bank notes which were printed in the field and some old sovereigns which had been obtained by the process of "sweating."

The Boers generally hold unfavorable estimates of their foreign allies, except in the case of the Americans who fought with them, and these they declare to be crabby but great fighters.

PRETORIA, June 10.—A proclamation has been issued substituting a tax of ten per cent. net on the profits of mining operations for the five per cent. tax that was imposed by the late Volksraad.

OTTAWA, June 11.—A cable received by the Governor General today from the casualty department at Cape Town announced the death of Major Gortie of 4th C. M. R. Gortie was accidentally killed on board the troopship Winifredia while at sea on June 6th. He enlisted at Newcastle, N. B.

C. Redwell, 2nd C. M. R., is dangerously ill of enteric fever, at Pietermaritzburg. He enlisted at Medicine Hat, N. W. T.

M. Sole, 2nd C. M. R., is dangerously ill of enteric fever at Klerskorsdorp. He enlisted at Revelstoke.

CAPE TOWN, June 11.—An extraordinary issue of the Official Gazette, published today, fixes July 10 as the limit in which Boers or rebels who surrender will receive the benefit of the peace terms.

LONDON, June 12.—The war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, announced in the house of commons today that it was the intention of the government to appoint a small royal commission to institute a general inquiry into the South African war.

PRETORIA, June 11.—In all, 10,225 Boers have surrendered up to date. Many are youngsters of 11 years of age and upward.

LONDON, June 12.—The war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, announced in the house of commons today that it was the intention of the government to appoint a small royal commission to institute a general inquiry into the South African war.

DOUBLE STORM.

The Worst in Central Illinois Since 1843.

Twenty Locomotives Wrecked or Sprung in Sand and Mud—Other Damages.

PEORIA, Ill., June 11.—The double storm that struck Peoria at 10 o'clock last night and again at 2 o'clock this morning was the worst Central Illinois has experienced since 1843.

George Reardon, an employee of the electric company, was caught by a live wire and died instantly.

The Peoria and Pekin Union roundhouse was blown down soon after 10 o'clock. In it at the time were eight men, and all escaped with serious injury excepting an Iowa Central engineer, who received serious injuries to his back.

Thirteen locomotives owned by the Illinois Central, two by the Iowa Central, four by the Toledo, Peoria & Western, and five by the Big Four were almost totally destroyed.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific locomotives were blown down at 10 o'clock last night for Chicago ran into a washout just above the city.

The roof of the new warehouse built by the Chicago & North Western was blown off as was also that of the Clark distillery.

The roof of the Harned & Van Maur dry goods store was blown off and damage to the stock of $25,000 was occasioned by water.

Subsequently Colonel Lynch was arrested at the Bow street police station.

The prisoner, who was described on the charge sheet as a "journalist," said in the dock apparently unconcerned until the magistrate asked him if he had anything to say. In reply to the charge.

The Irish nationalist in the house of commons today heaped the ministers on the subject of the arrest of Col. Lynch. They wanted to know why the colonel had not the same right to surrender as other burghers.

The government leader, A. J. Balfour, replied tersely: "He is not a burgher."

John Redmond, the Irish leader, and J. G. Swift (nationalist) then turned to the secretary of state for home affairs, Mr. Ritchie, and asked him why he had not fulfilled his ministerial duty in informing the house of Col. Lynch's arrest on the charge of high treason.

M. Ritchie denied that it was his duty to inform the house, but when the Irish members appealed to the speaker, William Court-Gully, the latter upheld the nationalistic contention that the practice was to inform the house of commons of such an incident.

The speaker ruled further questions out of order and the subject dropped.

Leut. Col. John Phillip (nationalist) applied this afternoon for the release of Colonel Lynch on bail, but the magistrate said he had no power to grant the request.

POEM OF THANKSGIVING.

Verse of Sir Lewis Morris inspired by the Presence of a Dove in St. Paul's.

LONDON, June 10.—The Times publishes a poem by Sir Lewis Morris on Sunday's Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Cathedral as follows:

It was peace, blessed peace, once again, That those jubilant voices would hymn, For the ceasing of sorrow and pain The eyes of the people grew dim.

The deep organ pealed, by the sound Of the deep martial trumpet factious; The thousands were kneeling around King and noble, citizen, priest.

When, suddenly lifting my eyes To the glooms half discovered above, I marked with a start of surprise The white wings of a hovering dove.

Blest messenger, come to your home! It was peace, blessed peace, once again, As at Pentecost; come and remain.

The Times, in its description of the service in St. Paul's, says the attention of many was attracted by the presence of a beautiful dove in the transept, which must have seemed to all who saw it a happy omen of peace after the storm and stress of winter.

AMERICAN INVASION.

The Western Farmer is Moving North for Cheaper and Better Lands.

(Montreal Herald.) The Canadian West is going to be filled up with American farmers. Eighteen thousand of them went in last year. Twenty-five thousand more will be in by the close of this year, and as for the future, the volume of the inflow can only be guessed at.

It is found to increase from year to year, until all available land is taken, and there is a good deal of room yet in the Canadian West. Stories of the new movement in the centre of the North American continent come from many sources, but chiefly from Alberta and Manitoba, where the American settlers are coming from the other end of the continent.

The movement from the western states to Canada is just commencing to find this year a little slow in starting, but such a delay has been caused by the fact that the American farmers are waiting for a better market for their wheat.

The local government will illuminate the provincial buildings. Decorations and illuminations all over the city will be on a big scale.

TWO KILLED.

RICHMOND, Vt., June 12.—Two persons were instantly killed and about a dozen others seriously injured, two of them probably fatally, by the falling of an elevator in the venerable mill of C. C. Hanel & Son at Richmond.

Wilson and Harvey were in the bottom section of the elevator, and were instantly killed, while about a dozen others, most of whom were girls, were seriously injured, and it is thought at least two of the number will die, while many others had legs and arms broken.

Physicians from Richmond and neighboring towns were summoned, and at a late hour tonight were attending to the wants of the injured.

ROSS'S MILLIONS.

May Have Made a Bit in St. John Street Railway Bonds.

(Montreal Herald.) It is pretty well understood on the "street" that James Ross, one of the leading Canadian "captains of industry," has made more money during the past year than any other man in Canada.

Mr. Ross has just completed the sale of the Birmingham railway in England, and people in a position to read the newspaper transaction claim that Mr. Ross has made not less than $2,000,000 on the deal.

Friends say that $2,000,000 would not be so small an amount to credit Mr. Ross with as his gains for the year.

The public is already intimate with his connection with the Cape Breton enterprises in Dominion Street. It is estimated that Mr. Ross' holding has increased fully $4,000,000 in value, while it is claimed that he made at least $5,000,000 on the rise in Dominion Coal, when that stock was carried from 35 to 145 in one of the most exciting campaigns ever seen on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

The year's work, in fact, places Mr. Ross in the foremost ranks of Canada's richest men. Indeed, it is doubtful if his fortune now is exceeded by any save Lord Strathcona's.

If the figures given are not astray, and they cannot be very much so, Mr. Ross was a very successful man. The new York papers would promptly figure out that during the year he has made $1,000,000 a month, $4,000 a day, $113 an hour, $18.4 a minute, and 48 cents a second.

ST. ### WOODSTOCK.

A Novel and Interesting Extradition Case.

Will Be Heard This Week Before Mr. Justice Gregory.

United States Customs Authorities Trying to Get Possession of the Person of William Kelly of Debec, Who Swatted a Yankee Officer.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 3.—This week will see a most interesting trial in Woodstock. It is probably the first time in the history of the place that a hearing will take place before a judge, in the matter of a man charged with an extradition crime.

Toward the latter part of April word was received in Woodstock that William Kelly of Debec had been stopped on or about the boundary line, while going over with a load of potatoes, and had had a scrap with a U. S. customs official, and that he had been seriously wounded by a pistol shot. Dr. Hand was summoned to Woodstock to attend the injured man.

On the Sunday following the affair, Sheriff Hayward went down to Kelly's home in Debec and arrested him on a warrant issued by Police Magistrate Dibble, on the information of Martin Lawless, deputy sheriff of Aroostook county, Me., the warrant alleging that Kelly had assaulted one Frank W. Burns, with intent to do bodily harm, at a point on the Canadian side of the boundary line and also on the American side. On this warrant Kelly came, without any attempt at resistance, to Woodstock with the sheriff and was placed in jail. His head was tied up, although a bullet which had struck him in the neck had been successfully extracted. The bullet had escaped the large jugular vein within a hair's breadth.

At a hearing the next day the magistrate refused the application, by Frank B. Carvell, the prisoner's counsel, for bail, and adjourned the case. In the meantime the circuit court met here, Chief Justice Tuck presiding. An application was made to him for a warrant, under the provisions of the extradition act, and his symphony being satisfied with the depositions, issued a warrant for the apprehension of Kelly, the information in this instance alleging an assault with intent to kill. The magistrate subsequently dismissed the first charge against the prisoner. Kelly has remained in jail ever since. He has been given as much liberty as possibly could be allowed under the circumstances, although of course that has only consisted in his being permitted the freedom of the large corridor. His wounds healed quickly and in a very short while he was a physically well man.

Various rumors were afloat about the extradition of Frank W. Burns, the American customs official. The Houlton people reported him to be in a dying condition from the injuries he had received at the hands of Kelly. On the other hand, it was said that his injuries were not so serious as reported, and that his symphony being purposely making out his condition to be more serious than it really was.

At all events there was a good deal of delay in bringing on the case before the judge, who by the provisions of the act, is to hold the examination. The prisoner's counsel applied to Judge Gregory under the provisions of the habeas corpus act for and was granted an order calling on the jailor to show the way and wherefore of the prisoner's detention. A time was duly appointed for the hearing, the United States authorities being represented by A. B. Connell, K. C., and J. Chipman Hartley.

The first hearing was adjourned to the 29th of May when the judge dismissed the application for the discharge of the prisoner, and named the 12th of June as the day on which the hearing under the extradition act would take place. With respect to this hearing, Judge Gregory stated that he himself would be the judge, and that the hearing must be before a supreme or circuit court judge. It is provided that the judge shall receive the evidence of any witness tendered to show the truth of the charge, any evidence to show that the crime of which the fugitive is accused is an offence of a political character, or is for any other reason not an extradition crime, or that the proceedings are in fact being taken with a view to prosecute or punish him for an offence of a political character.

The act further states that if such evidence is produced as would accord to the law of Canada, justify his commitment for trial in case the crime had been committed in Canada, the judge shall issue his warrant for the commitment of the fugitive to the nearest convenient prison, there to remain surrendered to the foreign state or discharged according to law; otherwise the judge shall order him to be discharged.

If the fugitive is committed to prison he is not to be surrendered within 15 days, during which time he may apply for a writ of habeas corpus. The judge will transmit to the minister of justice a certificate of the commitment with a copy of all the evidence and with such a report on the case as he shall think fit. The minister of justice may refuse to make an order for surrender, and order the prisoner discharged, or he may order the prisoner, who has been committed for surrender, to be surrendered to an officer of the foreign state. As a matter of fact the judge's report almost invariably settles the matter.

Evidently two entirely different versions of the affair will be told, and there is not likely to be any direct testimony to support or deny the story of either of the principals. There is no doubt that Burns was "sprung" for smugglers, as it was his duty to do. He has long had a reputation as a terror to such "evil doers." One party, who started across the line before Kelly, felt right into the snare and gave up his team and his load. It is also pretty well known that Kelly had something of a name as a successful smuggler. Still, there are so many successful smugglers, male and female, along the boundary line, that it would hardly be fair to single him out. He had evidently got well over the boundary line and was between an eighth and a quarter of a mile on to Uncle Sam when Burns made his presence known. Kelly, it is alleged, says that he told Burns he would give up the potatoes, but wanted him to let his team off. Whether he got off the team and started in to put the officer out of business, or whether the officer dived off his pistol first, is yet to be found out. What is certain is that there was a lonely, desperate duel by the light of the moon, one man armed with small European, the other with a stake. Two pistol shots were fired, one, as has been said, hitting Kelly in the face, the other bullet being turned by a button. Burns was badly hampered, and Kelly got back to his home, team and potatoes.

A peculiar feature of the case is that the first report of the affair, which must have come from Burns, and which appeared as a newspaper despatch from Houlton, spoke of the murderous assault made by Kelly on Burns but said nothing of the pistol shots which were fired.

After the arrest much sympathy was expressed for Kelly, and unduly zealous advocates of his side argued that Kelly should never have been arrested, and that mob law would prevent his being taken across the boundary, that if he did get into the "seller" clutches of the U. S. authorities his fate would be awful, perhaps almost as terrible as the fate of Dreyfus. But time generally has a moderating effect, and should the judge decide that Kelly should be granted that his delivery will be affected without anything in the shape of a hostile demonstration. And should he be surrendered, it is further likely that he will get a fair trial across the line. Custom house officials are not the most popular of persons on either side of the line. It is no more popular in Houlton than in Woodstock to have too keen an eye in the official head. Little pleasure parties who go on buckboards to Houlton are welcomed by the Houlton tradesmen, who are not at all anxious that as an outcome of the Kelly case the distinct reciprocity treaty between Woodstock and Houlton should be determined. Again, should Kelly get clear there will be rejoicing in the county and particularly among his neighbors who follow him from the Richmond.

Kelly has a good farm in Debec, and has besides a wife and family of small children. It is not profitable to him to idle away his time in jail, but his neighbors are seeing that his cup is not neglected. They will be up in full force, too, at the hearing on Thursday morning. Evidently he himself looks for his freedom without having to go before a Maine jury. His neighbors also think he will never go over. It will be more important, however, to find out after the hearing what Mr. Justice Gregory may think of the matter.

The hearing before Judge Gregory will be held in the town hall, beginning at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. A. B. Connell, K. C., and T. C. Hartley will represent the "United States"; Frank B. Carvell will look after the prisoner's interests. It is expected that Burns himself will be present, and that both men will be face to face for the first time since the night of their serious duel.

CIVIC DELEGATION

Returned From Their Ottawa Trip Today Without Definite Promise of Assistance.

(Tuesday's Star.)

The members of the civic delegation with the exception of Mayor White and Ald. McCordick, returned today from their interview with the government at Ottawa. They appear to be fairly well satisfied with the result of their mission although no definite promise was made them that their request for a berth and other improvements for the west side traffic would be accorded to. A short interview was first held with Hon. Mr. Blair, who was present with the members of the delegation at a later conference with Sir Wilfred Laurier and Hon. Mr. Tarte. Mayor White opened the case for the west side traffic, and was followed by the other members of the delegation. After they had been heard the premier expressed the opinion that the matter ought to have been raised during the session of parliament. Hon. Mr. Blair explained that when the previous delegation was present he thought it inexpedient to push this matter because of the fact that increased assistance was sought for the dry dock scheme, which was believed to be of greater importance. However no increase was given to the promoters of the dry dock. Hon. Mr. Tarte, being called on to express his views by the premier, said that he had already arranged with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., to come to St. John, on the latter's return from the west and together inspect the port and see just what was necessary.

That practically finished the conference and the delegates left for Montreal where on Monday they were entertained by the chairman of the harbor commission. They, in company with the deputy city engineer and a number of the commissioners sailed around the harbor and saw what was being done there. They found that at the head of the basin made by the projecting sea wall, three berths were now being built, each one thousand feet in length, faced with concrete and filled with mud, brought down by government contractors from the dredging of the Leche Canal. A large work shop has been built near these berths and an elevator is in process of construction. Four dredges are now in operation in the Montreal harbor. The trip was continued six miles down the river and the return trip was made close to the wharves, the construction of which was explained by the deputy engineer.

The party was entertained at luncheon in St. James Club by Mr. McKay, the chairman of the harbor commission and among the speakers was the governor of St. Pierre.

In every town and village may be had, the

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS SUICIDE ON A BED OF FLOWERS IN PARIS.

PARIS, June 3.—A week ago a tall, dark, beautiful girl came to the Hotel Medici, in the Rue Monsieur-Prince, which is in the Latin quarter, and engaged a room. She gave her name as Madeleine Grant, her profession as that of a dairymaid. She came from Orleans, she said, and was seeking work in Paris. On Tuesday last another girl came to the hotel, named Angèle Grenier, also a dairymaid. She had come, she said, to live with Madeleine, whom she would never leave in this world. The same afternoon the two girls were seen carrying great bunches of flowers up to their room. Then they went out, and returned with two bundles, which they endeavored to conceal in their skirts as they passed the porter's lodge. The landlord of the hotel became suspicious. When by midday yesterday the girls had not appeared he mounted to their room, and receiving no answer to his knock, entered with a pass-key. On the bed lay two girls side by side. They had lighted a great pile of roses, myrtle, carnations, and lilies of the valley. Each held in one hand a bunch of myrtle, and with the other hand clasped that of her friend. Flowers plowed their heads, and flowers covered their bodies. An overpowering reek of charcoal filled the room. The two poor girls were stone dead. They did not leave a single word to explain the tragedy.

Thousands are in this dreadful condition, only half alive, unable to stand the strain of work and worry. There is no serious reason in trying to be comfortable when you are in this state, and that you are going to get better soon. Unless the system is cleansed of the impurities that poison the blood, you will never be better.

The best remedy is Ferrozene. It achieves marvellous results in chronic wasting diseases, nervous prostration, faulty nutrition, heart disease and stomach troubles.

Ferozene promotes healthy digestion which results in all foods being assimilated. Nutrition is vastly improved, the blood grows rich and the system is brought back to its normal state. The store of nerve energy and force increases daily by the use of Ferrozene. The process of waste is arrested, and in its place a rebuilding of the whole system takes place.

Diseased conditions cannot exist unless Ferrozene is used. It attacks disease at its very foundation, and by keeping the body well nourished and supplied with strong blood and a powerful nervous organization prevents and keeps away all manner of sickness.

There is no blood builder, nerve tonic and strength producer that can equal Ferrozene, and few people are so well that could derive great benefit from its use. It is valuable in Nervous Dizziness, Anaemia, Weakness, Impure Blood, Bronchitis, Neuralgia and Rheumatism. It is prepared in the form of a chocolate coated tablet and is both pleasant and convenient to use.

Ferozene produces that high standard of health so much desired by everyone. It brings back the rosy tint to the pale cheeks of the Anaemic girls and women. It puts grace and elasticity into the limp movements, gives lustre and brightness to the eyes, and symmetry and roundness to the form. It gives a man new strength and energy, with which to pursue his daily toil, and can be relied upon at all times to benefit and give perfect satisfaction.

You can't invest half a dollar to better advantage than in a box of Ferrozene. Your druggist has it, or it will be mailed to your address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Sold and recommended by A. Chipman Smith & Co.

The top of two large stone posts, at the entrance to Mrs. Bolton's grounds on Union street, have been made into attractive flower beds, but, notwithstanding all her efforts, the owner is unable to maintain their beauty, for passing children wantonly rob them of their bloom. He brought home with him a very speedy green pacer weighing twelve hundred; chestnut, five years old, weighing eleven hundred, sound, fearless and a fine family horse, and a bay mare, weighing nine hundred, that makes a very nice driver. FEARFUL TORNADO.

Death and Destruction Followed in Its Wake.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 11.—Death and destruction followed in the wake of the tornado last night, the worst that has ever visited Central Illinois. The property loss will be thousands of dollars. The growing crops, it is feared, suffered heavily. The saddest feature, however, was the death of three young women at a dance at the town hall of Merna, a small village ten miles east of here.

A large party of young men and women were at the dance when the tornado struck the building. Every young man held the doors to prevent anyone from emerging, fearing such might be injured or killed if outside.

About half, however, got out, and then the building collapsed, burying those inside in the wreck. Three were killed and 40 or 50 others more or less injured, some seriously. The dead are: Miss Lena Jahagan, Mrs. Edward Martin, Miss Anna Kelly, daughters of prominent farmers in the vicinity.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

PERCIA, Ill., June 11.—The property damage will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Every railroad entering the city is crippled. Telegraph communication was cut off and not resumed until 10 o'clock today. Telephone connections with the outside world are completely severed.

Factories throughout the city are completely crippled and almost every stockstack is down. The entire street railway system was put out of business for several hours, but at noon today operation was partially resumed.

The storm was most destructive at Kingston Mines, a small mining village four miles from Percia. The record of the storm there is appalling. An electrical storm swept over the village first, followed by the tornado.

The path of the storm was 300 feet wide, and it swept everything before it. Three lives were lost and several others will die from the injuries received. Sixteen persons were seriously injured. Sixteen houses were completely demolished, as was the Methodist church and the engine house, blacksmith shop and barn at Newburg, Ill. The total loss to property will exceed $200,000.

The home of Thomas Murray was next in the storm's path, and besides literally wiping the little home from the face of the earth, the wind took the lives of Mrs. Murray and child, and left the father in a dying condition. Mr. and Mrs. McGee and wife were in their home, which was demolished. Their child was killed in its mother's arms, while she was fatally hurt, and the father will die.

The new mill at Pleasant Point, on the site of the burned Barnhill mill, will be ready for work next month.

$500,000,000 IN ADVERTISING.

How Would You Like to Help Spend It?

While it is true that over $500,000,000 are annually expended in this country for advertising purposes, it is equally true that the vast majority of the advertising men are few. This business vests a vast army of efficient men and women, and merchants and manufacturers say that it is almost impossible to get hold of them. Consequently, salaries are high. In every line of business advertising must be done, and outside help cannot be obtained. Therefore, the young clerk or other employe who studies advertising and learns its working principles is a much better chance of promotion, as he is better and soon finds himself enjoying a larger salary and working his way to the front.

Advertising men unite in saying that the business offers by far the most promising and profitable field for the youth of this country. Those who have a profession, or a business already chosen, or are preparing for it, on those who are already in business, should add to the other qualifications a knowledge of the advertising business. In these days success without advertising is an impossibility and those who learn to advertise rapidly capture the business and earn fame and fortune while others lag behind.

Mr. Charles Austin Bates, Vanderbilt building, New York, one of the best known American advertising men, and an acknowledged authority on the subject, is responsible for the statement that he has perfected a plan for teaching advertising which brings it within the reach of everybody and which cannot fail in achieving the largest measure of results in the shortest time and at the smallest possible expense. This plan is a promise to send free to all who write for it.

THE RIGHT WAY TO BLOW THE TRUMPET.

THE INTERNATIONAL KINDERGARTEN UNION CONVENTION.

In Boston this week drawing such large crowds that Trinity church was pressed into service as a meeting place, seems to have brought out considerable discussion, much humor and many women. "The address of President Eliot of Harvard University was highly instructive," said Charles Partridge of Boston at the Murray Hill yesterday. "He made a plea for the education that educates by 'showing how,' and illustrated his plea with a little story. A friend of his became deaf not long ago, and the president asked him what was the cause of his losing his nose. 'I was blowing my nose,'" the 'friend' proceeded, 'when suddenly I felt something snap in my ear, followed by aching and dullness. When the doctor came he said I had split the eardrum, and asked how I did it. I told him that I only blew my nose.'"

"Well, if you had opened your mouth when you blew your nose you would not now have a damaged eardrum," the doctor answered. "There was a man, President Eliot pointed out, who had lived seventy years, and had never been 'shown how' to blow his nose. This story made a deep impression on the convention, and it is safe to say that many a little kindergarten child will be told to open his little mouth when he has recourse to his handkerchief. The other chief contribution of the convention was the decision of his what was the cause of his losing his nose. 'I was blowing my nose,'" the 'friend' proceeded, 'when suddenly I felt something snap in my ear, followed by aching and dullness. When the doctor came he said I had split the eardrum, and asked how I did it. I told him that I only blew my nose.'"

GETS ELECTRICITY FROM AIR.

Invented, It Is Said, by Professor Clemente Figueras of Las Palmas, Canary Islands—The Inventor Says It Means a Tremendous Industrial Revolution.

LONDON, June 9.—Under date of June 8 the Las Palmas correspondent of the Daily Mail sends a remarkable account of a great scientific discovery.

The discoverer is Senor Clemente Figueras, engineer of woods and forests for the Canary Islands and for many years professor of physics at St. Augustin's College, Las Palmas, and long known as a scientific student.

He will not give the key to his invention but declares that the only extraordinary point about it is that it has taken so long to discover a simple scientific fact.

The people of the Canary Islands consider Prof. Figueras to be very able, and they firmly believe that his invention is genuine.

He is shortly coming to London with a perfected working apparatus. This invention consists of a generator, motor and sort of governor or regulator. The whole apparatus is so simple that a child can work it.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Miss Alice Cohn, writes from 474 Eleventh Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., as follows:

"Having had poor health for a great many months and now having it restored makes me feel very grateful to Peruna. I suffered a great deal during my monthly periods, had severe pains, and was generally depressed, but can truthfully say that a few bottles of Peruna has removed all pain and made a new woman of me." - MISS ALICE COHN.

A True Story by Well Known Spectators. (Truro News, 10th.) On Sunday afternoon while Dan Rae and Mrs. Rae of Truro, and Angus Dickie and Miss Annie Dickie of Lower Sackville, were standing on the shore of Cobequid Bay, some distance below the Board Landry Bridge, watching the intruding bore, and tide, which was unusually high that day. Their attention was attracted to an object coming up with the tide, which, as it came near to the shore, seemed to be like a huge snake. The head was about two feet long, and was supported on a neck about a foot in diameter. The head was raised a foot or more from the surface of the water, and was nearly black in color. The extreme length of the body could not be determined, but was judged from the size of the neck, fully 25 or 30 feet long. When this monster serpent glided noiselessly through the water, and was but a few yards distant from Mr. Rae and party, one of the ladies gave a little scream from fear. When hearing this, the serpent quickly plunged beneath the turbid waters and disappeared from view. Mr. Rae and the others with him are reliable persons, and vouch for the correctness of the story in every particular.

LIVE STOCK.—The Calgary Sale a Great Success—Alberta a Grand Raising Country. The gathering of stockmen at Calgary from the 14th to the 17th of May for the live stock convention, show and sale, was the largest and most representative ever known in the West. Calgary is the centre of the great ranching country and it was not surprising that hundreds of able and prosperous ranchers, representing literally the cattle on a thousand hills, should assemble at the meetings which had for their object the fostering of interests in which every farmer and rancher of the plains of Alberta is concerned. It is recognized in the West, as well as in the East, that those who engage in any branch of agriculture or in pastoral pursuits, are entitled to rank high in the community, their occupations calling for as much skill and intelligence as any of what are termed the higher professions. The stockmen of the Territories came together to interchange views and experiences with regard to the care, breeding and improvement of stock, to receive instruction from men who have a life study of such matters, and to enjoy social intercourse one with another. That the addresses at the meetings should be well worthy of attention will be readily recognized when it is mentioned that among the speakers were C. W. Peterson, deputy minister of agriculture for the Territories; J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture for British Columbia; J. A. Turner, W. R. Stewart, R. B. Bennett, M. P.; A. E. Cross, ex-M. P.; and P. J. Nolan, besides a strong delegation from the East consisting of Prof. Day, Crossman and Grisdale, and Robert Miller and F. W. Hodson.

There was only a moderate number of entries for the stallion show, but everything shown was of excellent quality, and spoke volumes for Alberta as a horse raising country. Clydesdales, Shires, Hackneys, standard breeds and French coaches were the breeds represented, and all classes were judged by Robt. Miller of Stouffville, Ont. The show of cattle was very large, and the quality averaged high, although a number of the females were old and some not in calf, which detracted considerably from their value in the sale ring. The large majority of the animals exposed for sale were Shorthorns, with a few Herefords, Aberdeen Angus and Ayrshires, all of which were judged very satisfactorily by Prof. C. E. Day. The sale passed off exceedingly well, and the prices realized were considered very good, taking into consideration the fact that some of the animals were as young as one month and others as old as twelve years. Two hundred and twenty head were disposed of at an average price of $35.80, making the total receipts of the sale $76,177. The top price of the sale was $500, while six excellent yearling Shorthorns, contributed by one breeder, averaged $174 each. The following is a summary of the results of the sale:

MURDERER'S APPEAL DISMISSED.—OTTAWA, June 11.—In the supreme court today the appeal of the murderer of the Rev. J. J. O'Rourke was refused to appeal to that tribunal from the judgment of the court of appeal of Ontario in the case of Fred Lee Rice. Robt. Lett, counsel for Rice, based his claim on an amendment to an act passed today by the Ontario legislature in 1897. In the preamble of the act, however, it stated that its application only applied to civil and not to criminal cases. Rice is under sentence to be hanged on July 18th for the murder of a county constable in Toronto in June last. His only remaining hope is based on executive clemency.

A QUESTION OF LAND OWNERSHIP.—Evidence in the case of W. B. Mackay, Charles T. White and R. D. Robertson v. the dominion government was being taken yesterday before W. H. Trueman, to whom the matter was referred for that purpose. In 1888 the provincial government expropriated a right of way through the lands of J. H. White and J. E. White, and subsequently a description of the lands, and others to the north and south, was filed. It was agreed about the same time with the owners of the lands that they should give the railway free right of way through the lands of eighteen feet south of the boundary line agreed upon, and the plaintiffs claim they never knew the railway claimed the whole of their land until 1884. In support of their contention, the award made to Nelson Arnold, who the award was $20 for more valuable land, acre for acre, than Mr. Arnold's. Further, one of the commissioners signed a certificate that they never took any land north of the railway fence south of the boundary line. The railway built a fence on the line agreed upon, and the plaintiffs claim they never knew the railway claimed the whole of their land until 1884. A CORONATION ODE.

By Bilas Carman.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

There are joy-bells over England, there are flags on London towers;
There is a hunting in the channel, where the fleets go up and down;
There are bonfires in the night,
in the pages of the night;
There are bands that blare for splendor,
and guns that speak for might;
For another King in England is coming to the crown.
As it was in Saxon Britain, and through the Norman's sway,
And with the mighty Tudors, so it must be today.
For the English kings must hold
From Alfred, great of old,
From Seaking and Crusader and Elizabeth the Bold,
And even the resource Commoner whose strength is England's stay.
They will take him up to Westminster, and set him in his place;
And Church and Lords and Commons will stand before his throne,
And hear him make reply,
In the name of God Most High,
To his Faithful Defender, as it was in days gone by,
With the thousand years behind him and the story of his race.
They will give him orb and sceptre, the challenge, sword and staff;
And vest him with the purple to kneel before his Lord;
Then he will rise from prayer,
In the ancient minister there,
And hear the world's four corners proclaim the truth they bear, And cry, "God save King Edward," and bless the thrones that bear.

They will keep the old tradition that fills the world with hope and custom, and repeat the sounding name,
And give him a million crowns,
Will give him shout and song,
Where the trumpets and the banners and the blasons ring and throng,
When the bells make din by day and by night the rooks are singing.

There'll be men of little learning, and men of prying discern,
Of every caste and every creed, come up from all the earth,
To watch him kneel and kneel,
To speak of right divine—Plantagenet and Lancastrian and Stuart in his line—
And bless the blameless memory of her who gave him birth.

But who will stand before him, with simple words and with a sword,
And a knowledge of the morrow, and tell him straight and true,
Not only by God's decree,
He comes into his place,
The sovereignty of office, the reverend pride of rank, the crown,
But by their will who choose him as their fathers used to do?

By the touch of love that kindles the blood
beneath the scales of hate,
By the loyalty that bears him because he is a man,
Who has learned the modest way
To serve and to obey,
Who never flinched from duty, nor faltered
in his place,
For the world is held together by the link of code and clan.

Stand up, sir, in your honor! They come from near and far,
Rajah and Chief, Councillor and Prince and Rasesadler,
From Canada and India
And the lands behind the wind, Whose purpose none may question nor their decorum slight,
To name you King of England for the gentlemen you are.

Premier and Peer and Senator, they come from far and near,
In killed words of earnestness, in fax and sweated gear,
In their proud seats,
The new-world cities,
From Melbourne and Toronto and the islands of the sea,
To render trust and tribute of all men hold most dear.

What people are these passing to the sound of pipe and drum;
By the color on the cheek,
By the accent when they speak,
They are foreign-born and alien, and their homes are far to seek;
But they all come to England, when England calls them home.

Add those who speak the English tongue
not in the English way, With the careful, mild and temper self-assured, whose sons are they?
By the larger, looser stride,
By the quicker, less stiff, gait,
By the quicker catch at laughter and the outlook keen-eyed,
They were bred beneath the tent-cloth of a wider, whiter day.

From the rough red tides of Fundy where the ships go far inland,
To Kamloops where the hills are set as at a council stand,
From the waving northern light
at the edge of the night, Where underneath the sparkling stars the bitter trail is bright,
To the inland seas that burnish where goodly orchards stand;

By prairie, swale and barren, by jungle and lagoon,
Where endless palm-trees rustle and the creamy breakers crown,
By canyon, ford and pass,
By desert and dry stream,
In nooks like stinging lashes, on seas like burning glass,
By every land and water beneath the great loam moon;

Our fathers died for England at the outposts of the world;
Our mothers toiled for England where the settler's hand was needed,
By pack, team and trail,
By portage, trek and rail,
They bore a plain, called honor in hearts
that did not quail, Till the twelve great hands of heaven saw their souls at sign united.

And little did they leave us of fame or land or gold;
Yet they gave us great possessions in a herse untold;
For they say, "Ye shall be clean,
Nor ever false nor mean,
For God and for your country and the honor of your Queen, Till ye meet the death that waits you with your righteous faith unrolled."
"We have fought the long, great battle of the liberty of man,
And only asked a godly death uncraven in the van;
And we have journeyed travel-worn
Through envy and through scorn,
But the faith that was within us we have substantly returned, and won,
For we saw the perfect structure behind the rough-hewn plan."
"We have toiled by land and river, we have labored on the sea;
If our blindness made us blunder, our courage made us free,
We suffered or we strove,
We delved and fought and strove,
But born to the ideals of order, law and love,
To our birthright we were loyal, and loyal shall ye be!"
O East they go and West they go, and never can they bide,
For the longer that is in them, and the whisper at their side!
They may establish hearth and home,
But the bones will march and roam,
As their fathers did before them, across the hills of doom,
Till strange lands greet them at the edges of the foam,
They have visions of a country that sorrow
never knew,
They have rumors of a region where the heart has naught to rue,
And they reach the fabric of West, Till they are charred, dim but certain, in the volume of the Breeze,
And forever they are dreamers who make the dream come true.

FROM THE GREAT LAKES TO THE ATLANTIC SEABOARD.

The Dominion Government is About to Conclude Permanent Traffic Arrangements with the Canada Atlantic.

(Halifax Chronicle, 7th.)

The Chronicle has received information from the high authority that an arrangement is contemplated, if not already being made, whereby the Intercolonial railway will secure an entry into the wheat territory of Ontario and be able to successfully compete with the C. P. R. and the G. T. R. in the export trade in business.
The scheme in short is this: In return for permanent and satisfactory traffic arrangements over the Canada Atlantic railway the government will guarantee the interest on the bonds of the former to enable that company to double their line from Coteau to Depot Harbor on Ferry Sound.
The Canada Atlantic system, which extends from Montreal to Georgian Bay, was recently held under option of purchase by Dr. Seward Webb of New York, but owing to the collapse of the Webb's business, Dr.
Webb was, it was stated, unable to complete the purchase and the option expired on June 1st.
When Dr. Webb secured his option on the Canada Atlantic several months ago considerable opposition developed in the Canadian West, the transfer of the road to an American company, and it is well known that many prominent members of parliament felt that the dominion had lost an opportunity to extend the I. C. R. further west.
It now transpires that since the expiration of the option the dominion cabinet has had the matter under consideration. The minister of railways, it is stated, favored the purchase of the road, but an alternative scheme, which it is claimed will be equally advantageous to the government, is likely to be adopted. That scheme is substantially as outlined in the foregoing statement. The Canada Atlantic is now more than self-sustaining, and the advocates of the scheme claim that in guaranteeing the bonds it is not probable that the government of the dominion would ever be called upon to pay any money on interest account, while at the same time they would secure by such arrangement as many facilities for the exchange of freight as they would secure by the purchase of the road outright.
If this arrangement is consummated, as there is good reason to believe it will be, the Intercolonial will practically have a direct line from the great lakes to the Atlantic seaboard and will be in a position to successfully compete with the dominion trades from the west to the ports of Halifax and St. John.
The Canada Atlantic or Both system, as it is known, is a splendid line of railway, and it has recently been stated that a line of grain carrying steamers will be put out to sea,
between Port Arthur and Depot Harbor, thus giving the Canada Atlantic connection with the wheat fields of the west. McKenzie and Mann were also recently reported to be negotiating for the purchase of the Canada Atlantic, but their deal did not materialize.

THE SONG OF THE BUGLES.

To W. F. A. JR.

(Arthur Ketchum, in Atlantic's.)

"Crosses lighting the dusty square,
And the grass that is faintly showing,
Hinting of green of a later day—
Speak of peace-time, far away,
I hear the bugles blowing,
Searing heard and seen, I catch the note
Of far-off bugles blowing.
"Song of the bugles—brave and sweet
And of the measured pulse of marching feet,
That the roar of the town grows still to hear
Till the music blurs in a sudden cheer,
Song of the bugles as the flag goes by A scarlet flutter against the sky, (The April sky that seems to be tender with a memory)
Oh, the steady sway of the close-ranked men
And the bugle's song that rings again,
These are your own—O city, rise to meet them,
These are your own—O city, hold them fast!
These are your own, and the great sea waits
to greet them,
And down the way that leads to her your strong men march past.
"March past, march past! And what's to stop or stay them?
March past, march past and who's to say then nay?
There was no reverer that you could pray to hold them or delay them,
For the flag is on the April wind and all the bugles play,
Cheer! For high hope for your courage burning,
Cheer! For the quiet eyes and for the steady troop—Cheer! For all those who go! Cheer! For their safe returning,
Aye, and cheer your hearts out in a cheer to pledge your dead!"

Endless Amusement for the Long Winter Evenings.

Your address, along with a two-cent stamp to pay postage, and the statement of where you saw this advertisement, will bring you by return mail a copy of one of the most interesting little books that has appeared for many a month.
It contains, in concise form, a complete treatise on palmistry, fortune-telling by the teacup, dominoes and cards, and the true interpretation of dreams.
By a careful and thorough study of this little book you can acquire an accomplishment which enables you to entertain your friends in a most novel way, makes you much sought after at parties and social gatherings and applies in those around you the belief that you possess the mysterious and occult powers which are attributed to all who tell fortunes.
The Mystic Fortune-teller, Palmist and Dream Book is composed of 48 large pages, and besides the subjects mentioned above contains interesting valuable information regarding Dr.
Chase's famous Family Remedies, and statements from scores of people from all parts of Canada, who have been cured of serious and chronic diseases by their use.
It is truly remarkable how the fame of Dr. Chase's Remedies has spread abroad until the old countries of Europe as well as the far-off colonies of Africa and Australia are ordering these great medicines. It is only a few days ago that we received an order from Belgium for Dr. Chase's Ointment, and still more recently came a letter from France, the very home of the most famous and advanced medical men and scientific investigators.
The writer stated that it was in vain that he had searched for a treatment for kidney disease and backache that could be compared to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

HAMPTON.

Miss Hattie L. Barnes Given a Hearty Send-off.

Annual District Convention of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society—The U. S. and Canada Coal Company Pushing Work.

HAMPTON, Kings Co., June 10.—
This afternoon Miss Hattie L. Barnes left by C. P. R. train for Boston to assume the duties of nurse in Newton hospital, Mass. She had a hearty send-off by her many friends, who were leaving in their expressions of good wishes for her success, health and happiness. This young lady has been an active and energetic worker for every good work in the community. In the division of the Sons of Temperance, as well as in the "Church and Sunday School, her presence and cheerful service has brightened the proceedings while in every social enterprise her assistance has been most helpful. She was among the first promoters of a movement to secure the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of Kings' young hero, Patrick McCreary, who gave his life for the wounded men at Peareberg, and was interested in every entertainment given to awaken the patriotic spirit to that one. It was therefore no matter of surprise that when it was known that she was about to devote her young life to the alleviation of the sick and distressed, her friends and associates should rally around her and give expression to their feelings by presenting her with an address and a suitable token of their regard. Accordingly a goodly company, headed by the Cornet Band, went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah M.
Barnes, on London heights and through the Rev. C. D. Schofield, the pastor of the parish, presented her with the following address:

Hampton, N. B.: Having learned that you are about to leave our village, we, your friends and associates, desire to express our sincere regret at your departure from among us.
The active interest which you have always taken in everything tending towards the good of the community socially, and especially regarding the work of the church with which you have been so long and so faithfully connected, has placed you in such a position among us that your absence will be deeply felt.
Desiring that you will not forget your Hampton friends with whom you have passed so many pleasant days, we ask you to accept the accompaniment of our friendly and cheerful wishes for all future happiness and prosperity.
To this address were attached the signatures of eighty-nine residents in Halifax, and the same was connected with pleasant memories in future years.
The "token" consisted of a most delicate solid gold watch and chain in a handsome morocco case.
After the address and the recipient's reply, a pleasant social evening was spent, music, dancing, games and refreshments keeping the large company in the best of spirits until a late hour. The Cornet band, stationed on the lawn, played many lively airs at intervals, and the whole wound up with the national anthem and Auld Lang Syne.
