ALLED SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN IN BALTIC RENEWED; FIERCE FIGHTING ON THE AUSTRO-ITALIAN FRONT

BATTLE RAGING FROM ALPS TO THE ADRIATIC

Heaviest Fighting of War on Italian Front Now in Progress.

RIVER ADRIATIC BLACK WITH BODIES OF DEAD

Austrians Bring their Biggest Guns from Germany and Archduke Frederick Arrives to Take Charge.

Geneva, May 18, via Paris.—Reports from Innsbruck indicate that the heaviest fighting of the war between Italians and Austrians during this year is in progress in the region of Rovereto and the Sugana Valley, while there is every evidence that the Austrians have begun a general offensive against the Italians from the Alps to the Adriatic. A large number of bodies of Austrian soldiers killed during the fighting are said to be floating down the river Adige.

The Austrians have brought several batteries of their heaviest guns from Germany and have installed them near Gorizia and Montebelluna, where the staff of Archduke Frederick has arrived.

The Austrians are also rushing troops from Innsbruck into the region of Trent.

Swiss troops on the frontier report that the Austrian positions on the Adamello range have recently been greatly strengthened and that the artillery duels are increasing in intensity.

Italians Capture Rich Booty.

Rome, via London, May 18.—The following official communication was issued today:

"In the Adamello zone we captured rich booty in arms, munitions and material which was abandoned by the enemy in the Toppete and Pargorizza passes, during the course of Wednesday, our Alpine troops extended the conquest to the crest north of Campagna, as far as the Matiarot zone, and the source of the Sarcar river.

"In the Ledro Valley, after intense artillery preparations throughout the night of the 16th, the enemy at dawn attacked our positions on the slopes of Monte Part, but was repulsed with serious losses.

"In the Lagarina Valley yesterday the enemy renewed, by means of numerous powerful batteries, his bombardment of our positions on Zegnetortia, after which he launched five violent attacks, each time being repulsed with sanguinary losses.

"In the zone between the Terrazzone Valley and the Upper Adige the enemy has continued an uninterrupted artillery fire against the positions of our main line of defense. We repulsed the customary feint attacks in the San Pedrino Valley, in the Marmolado zone, on the Pedia pass, on the Upper Adige and on Upper Cordevole.

"On the Isonzo front there has been moderate artillery activity. In the Montebelluna sector, by a brilliant counter-attack, our troops re-captured part of the trenches which remained in the enemy's hands after the action of the 15th."

Venezelos Stands His Ground.

Athens, May 18.—Former Premier Venezelos accepted entire responsibility today for articles which have appeared in his newspaper, The Herald, criticizing severely the general of the newspaper is being prosecuted for criminal libel.

M. Venezelos said he would make no statement to the examining magistrate, saying that if the prosecution were not dropped he would conduct his own defense. It is thought the case never will come to trial.

SUBMARINES OF ALLIES STRIKE HARD IN BALTIC

British and Russian Underseas Boats Renew Campaign to Prevent Supplies Reaching the Enemy from Scandinavian Countries—Several Ships with Cargoes of Ore for Germany Sent to Bottom in Past Few Days.

Stockholm, May 17.—(Via London, May 18).—The German steamer Hera was sunk this morning off Landsort, in the Baltic. The sinking of the Hera marks the first activity of British submarines in the Baltic this season. The Hera left Stockholm on Tuesday to take iron ore to Olofssund, carrying a cargo of 2,000 tons. Her captain was ordered on board the submarine with the ship's papers and made prisoner. Sufficient time was given the crew to leave the ship. Although the weather was rough all on board were saved.

The report of the submarine activity has stopped the movement of numerous German vessels with cargoes of iron ore now at Olofssund and other ports.

The Hera was a vessel of a gross tonnage of 4,705. She was owned in Hamburg, was 379 feet long and was built in 1912.

Sunk by Russian Submarine.

Stockholm, May 18.—According to the Dagens Nyheter, the German steamer Hera was torpedoed by a Russian submarine northwest of Landsort yesterday, after having received a warning.

Two Others Torpedoed.

London, May 18.—The sinking of two German steamships by a submarine, believed to be a Russian, is reported in a Reuter despatch from Stockholm. The steamships were the Kolga, Hamburg, for Stockholm, and the Blanca.

The steamships were torpedoed yesterday afternoon off the Swedish island of Landsort, in the Baltic. The Kolga was attacked at five p. m., and the Blanca at six p. m. The Kolga was shelled by the submarine for twenty minutes. Two members of the crew were slightly injured. The Blanca was then torpedoed and sunk. Thirteen of the crew were picked up by a Swedish steamer. Four others, including the captain and second mate, are missing.

Half an hour later the Blanca was shelled and then torpedoed. The attack occurred in the same vicinity as that of the Kolga. The captain was taken prisoner. Two members of the crew were injured slightly. They and the other members of the crew were picked up by the vessel which rescued the men from the Kolga.

The Kolga, 2,088 tons gross and 260 feet long, was built in 1903, and is owned in Lubeck.

The Blanca was owned in Hamburg. Her gross tonnage was 1,054. She was built in 1907 and was 226 feet long.

British Submarines in Baltic.

London, May 18.—A large number of British submarines are operating in the eastern and southern portions of the Baltic Sea, which is now ice free, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen.

It was one of these submarines which sank the German steamer Hera, the despatch adds.

Last fall British submarines, which made their way into the Baltic through the Skagerrack and Cattgat, carried on an energetic campaign against shipping between Scandinavian and German ports through Baltic waters.

In special they appear to have worked havoc with the ore trade between Scandinavia and Germany, sinking a number of ore vessels and, according to some reports, virtually paralyzing this traffic for weeks because of the presence of the hostile undersea craft.

Special despatches from Scandinavian sources to British newspapers in mid-October declared that German commercial traffic had virtually been cleared from the Baltic by the British submarine activity, one list printed containing the names of twenty German ships sunk during October. German accounts, however, denied that there was any such stoppage of traffic as was claimed in British sources, citing the movement of hundreds of ships from various Baltic ports during the period of submarine operations.

FRENCH CURTAIN OF FIRE HALTS HUN ATTACK

Thrust at Hill 304 and Avocourt Wood Breaks Down.

THIRTEEN AIR FIGHTS OVER BRITISH LINE.

Artillery Duelling at Angres and St. Eloi Only Activity on British Front Yesterday.

Paris, May 18, 10.30 p. m.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"North of the Aisne we dispersed an enemy detachment which attempted to reach one of our trenches to the south of Nouvron.

"On the left bank of the Meuse the enemy, after a slight bombardment, launched about 6 o'clock a strong attack on our positions in the Avocourt wood and on Hill 304. Our curtain of fire and the fire of our machine guns stopped the enemy, who appeared to have suffered serious losses.

"The artillery action continued very violently on the whole of the sector. There was an intermittent bombardment on the right bank of the river, more intense at Les Eperages.

"There is no important event to report on the rest of the front."

Belgian communication:

"Yesterday, toward the end of the evening, after a violent bombardment with trench mortars and heavy calibre guns a German detachment of 100 men, believed to have been accounted for as it was last seen descending vertically.

"During the afternoon, after a strong bombardment, the enemy gained a mine crater held by us on the Vinny ridge. Last night a strong hostile patrol, which tried to rush one of our posts near Weiltje, was driven back.

"Today, except for artillery activity at Angres and St. Eloi, there was no important incident to report."

On British Front.

London, May 18.—The British official statement on the campaign in France reads:

"Yesterday there was again considerable aerial work. Thirteen combats took place. One hostile machine is believed to have been accounted for as it was last seen descending vertically.

"During the afternoon, after a strong bombardment, the enemy gained a mine crater held by us on the Vinny ridge. Last night a strong hostile patrol, which tried to rush one of our posts near Weiltje, was driven back.

MAKING POOR HEADWAY IN THE TUBANTIA CASE

The Hague, via London, May 18.—The Dutch naval department tonight issued the following communication:

"The discussions of the Dutch torpedo expert Canters, in Berlin, regarding the sinking of the steamer Tubantia have not led to any conclusive result. After an examination of the pieces of metal found in the Tubantia's bow the German admiralty acknowledged that these formed part of a torpedo belonging to a German submarine. But the submarine commander has declared that this torpedo was not fired by the Tubantia March 16, but at a British warship March 6, missing its target. The government intends to press for a deeper inquiry."

Fert Down Tete Occupied by Allies.

Berlin, via wireless, May 18.—The Overseas News Agency today gave out the following:

"It is reported from Athens that the Greek government has delivered an emphatic protest to the ministers at Athens of the Entente Powers, Greece points out that the occupation of the fort is contrary to promises given."

NO FUSS OR CEREMONY FOR CLOSING OF PARLIAMENT

One of Most Memorable Sessions on Record Brought to End Yesterday—Practically Every Item on Sessional Programme Disposed of—Report of Pensions Committee Presented and Adopted—Recommends Increase for Men in Lower Ranks of Service.

PATRIOTIC FUND CHANGES

Important Findings of Special Committee Submitted to Meeting at Toronto Last Night and Accepted.

Ottawa, May 18.—Parliament prorogued at 4.30 this afternoon. It did so with little fuss or ceremony. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, as deputy governor-general, officiating in the absence of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, absent in Montreal. There was no last minute flurry in the senate, as has been the case at the close of the two preceding sessions, the upper chamber having finished its work last night. The commons had also disposed of practically every item on the sessional programme, which was fated to receive consideration, and put in its time until the hour of prorogation.

Both reports were accepted. That of the pensions committee and hearing a number of suggestions for economy in government printing from the committee which has considered that matter. Both reports were accepted. That of the pensions committee, which suggests an upward revision in the rates to be paid in the lower ranks, has not been embodied in legislation this session for the reason that it is desired to allow the pensions board, which the government will appoint shortly, to apply the test of practical experience first. The new scale can be brought into effect under the war measures act.

At the opening of the sitting Sir Robert Borden announced that the bill providing for the extension of the term of the present Canadian parliament until Oct. 1917, had been introduced in the British parliament on May 3. He also presented a report of the Canadian army dental services, remarking that Canada had been the second country in the world to add this useful branch to its organization.

Germany was the first.

Hon. J. D. Hazen then moved that the report of the special committee on pensions be approved. On the suggestion of Hon. Wm. Pugsley that no money could be appropriated by the house except on the recommendation of the committee, he changed the motion to read that the report be commended to the consideration of the government."

Mr. Hazen said that the committee, which was formed by members from both sides of the house, had dealt only with the question of pensions for men enlisted in the expeditionary force. The recommendation that the awarding of pensions be entrusted to a board of three men appointed for ten years was intended to take the subject out of the range of political intrigue or influence. For the same reason the committee had suggested that there should be no appeal from the decision of the board save that a dissatisfied applicant might have his case reviewed by the whole board. Pensions under the scheme proposed were not to be assigned, commuted or anticipated.

Whole Pension Scale Amended.

Mr. Hazen said that the whole scale of pensions had been amended, and a very suitable increase had been recommended for the lower ranks of the service, from privates to Lieutenants. Above the rank of Lieutenant the scale remained unchanged except that an additional $10 was provided for captains. It had been felt that the rate of pensions for men in the higher ranks was rather high, but it was also held that it would not be fair to those who had enlisted when the old scale was in force to make reductions. Mr. Hazen said there had been much discussion in the committee, as to whether or not a distinction should be made in the rates of pensions for unmarried and married men. The majority had held, however, that the single soldier had the right to marry on his return home, and should be provided for accordingly.

Mr. Hazen said it had been suggested that reservists of the armies of the allied countries, who returned to Europe, to take up arms and left families in Canada should receive from the dominion the difference between the fort is contrary to promises given."

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, May 18.—The Journal says: "An error, which the Journal regrets, was made in the introduction to the article yesterday on the Carvell-Von Briesen-Jerome matter. The phrase appeared that Mr. Carvell had 'unwittingly' or otherwise, placed valuable military information in the hands of empire enemies through his relation with the pro-German, William Travers Jerome."

The sentence which was actually sent out to the Journal composing room had an important difference. It read 'unwittingly' or otherwise, may have placed valuable military information, etc." The Journal has no knowledge that valuable military information "was given to Mr. Jerome by Mr. Carvell. The Journal's count against Mr. Carvell is that at a time of war for Britain and Canada he went to New York and engaged a pro-German agency to undertake detective business for him against the Canadian war department. A thing which would inevitably tend to place dangerous information in the hands of enemies."

French troops have occupied Fort Dowta Tete by force, and that the Greek government has delivered an emphatic protest to the ministers at Athens of the Entente Powers, Greece points out that the occupation of the fort is contrary to promises given."

GREAT BRITAIN BEARS BURDEN WITHOUT STRAIN

Austin Chamberlain Hints at Economic Agreement After War.

UNWISE TO BUILD ON GERMANY'S WEAKNESS

Delegates from Great Britain to Economic Conference at Paris will have Practically a Free Hand.

London, May 18 (6.50 p. m.)—An interesting discussion on finance after the war was raised in the House of Commons today by William A. S. Hewins, Unionist member for Hertford, a representative of the tariff interests. Mr. Hewins pointed to the tremendous growth of direct, as compared with indirect taxation, and warned the country against under-estimating Germany's economic strength. He urged that it was an imperative necessity for the government to state its attitude toward the economic conference in Paris, and take steps in the direction of trade preference within the Empire and a preferential arrangement with the allies.

A. Austin Chamberlain, secretary for India, in replying made a significant speech, which seemed to fore-shadow some kind of an economic agreement among the different parties in the House of Commons. Like Mr. Hewins, he warned the House that it would be unwise to count upon the rapid economic exhaustion of Germany, and declared that it would be much better for Great Britain to build up her own strength than on Germany's weakness.

Great Britain's tremendous financial resources, as compared with Germany's, were worth remarking, however, added Mr. Chamberlain, as the fact that Great Britain seemed to be bearing the burden without undue strain, as was proved by the success of tax-reform returns. The nation was using up its capital, however, for war purposes, while neutral countries, through large profits made at the expense of the belligerents, were accumulating resources to compete with this nation after the war. How far the opposing political parties could agree upon a common after-the-war policy was an interesting question.

"We have made an immense advance towards an agreement," he said, "and at a time like this I would not like to consider myself bound to the exact principles advocated before the war."

Mr. Chamberlain invited the House to bring fresh minds to the fresh problems arising, and to consider these without prejudice. He declared it would be a much greater thing to secure a comparatively imperfect system which would form the basis of a national and imperial policy to be developed afterwards. It would not be good for any sound system of tariff duties that there should be created a series of preposterous duties which were intended to be, and were in effect, absolutely prohibitive, he asserted.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he could make no statement about the Paris conference, except that Great Britain's representatives would go unbound by any rigid school of economic thought.

French Steamer Sunk.

London, May 18, 4.17 p. m.—Lloyd's announces that the French steamer Mira has been sunk. The announcement gives no details as to how her sinking happened.

The steamer Mira was a vessel of 3,050 tons gross, built at South Shields in 1895, and owned in Marseilles. She was last reported as having arrived at Penarth, Wales, on April 21, from Algiers.

YESTERDAY ENCAENIA DAY AT THE U.N.B.

Large Number of Visitors Present for Closing Day Ceremonies.

TWENTY-SIX IN GRADUATING CLASS

Rev. Dr. A. W. Meahan Alumni Orator—Dr. Thos. Walker and Prof. Uppvall Also Deliver Inspiring Addresses.

Fredericton, May 18.—At the encaenia of the University of New Brunswick held today twenty-six degrees, two honorary degrees and one higher degree were conferred, the recipients being as announced in yesterday's Standard. The procession formed in Dr. Cox's lecture room and proceeded to the library where Chancellor Jones called on Prof. Uppvall to deliver the address in praise for the founders. The medals and prizes were then presented as published in The Standard yesterday. Chancellor Jones announced that Bombardier Jan M. McLean, the winner of the prize donated by the electrical engineers of 1912 was out of the city and the prize would be forwarded to him later.

Alumni Oration.

The Alumni oration was delivered by Rev. A. W. Meahan, D. D., St. Andrew's who said, in part: "The question must have come home to you with repeated insistence, 'will those bright minds, the products of our highest standards of educational system, who have gone forth to do battle for the Empire, return to Canada from the European conflict, made or marred for a splendid Canadian citizenship?'"

For myself the answer to that question is more than a hope, greater than a speculation, and there is but one answer. From what we know of those who have gone out from university and college, from what we know of the ideals which actuated them in their going, from what we know of the lessons of the war which their trained minds cannot but assimilate and digest, we may with assurance reply, yes; they will return made and not marred for a better Canadian citizenship, and Canada will be greater because they have lived.

To quote a writer of the day: "One might well have supposed that they were independent of the help to the Austrian throne. We in Canada did not even know his name. But one day in the year 1914 he killed him, and Europe fell to pieces." Since that time our thoughts with difficulty dissociate themselves from the events which followed in such startling rapidity, till in August England declared war in defence of the neutral laws of nations, in protection of the weak against the strong. The Empire at war, Canada declared herself at war; and then we in this country were privileged to witness a spectacle such as the world has rarely seen. For a moment all industrial activity seemed to halt. There was only one business. The flower of Canadian youth and manly intelligence gave themselves in defence of such an appealing cause. In homes of affluence and intellectuality, in homes frugal and unpretentious, kindly family ties were severed at the call to arms. The workman's tools were left upon the bench, the student's books were closed upon the table.

After the War.

One day the world-war will be over. The last shot will be fired, the last trench vacated. Then out from the mud and noise of the shambles will come those glorious sons of Canada eager to return to the land they have so fittingly honored. Who can picture what that home-coming is to be, with victory to many a bereaved home so dearly won—perched upon their banners; but no doubt exists with us as to the security of that victory or the wonderfulness of that scene.

We have watched the progress of their arms, now what of their power for the general good in this young and growing country? What inspiration to nobility of character in the youth of succeeding generations of their fellows will they excite? Let us examine. Because they number in their ranks every avocation that falls to the lot of man, their return will act as a new leaven to purge out such social, political and religious decadence as may already in its youth have beset our land. They have had time to think and they have had something big to think about. The man in the trenches has been sobered in these tense times. He has left all behind him. The voice of the world is dead in his ears, in any one moment all may be over forever. He must think, and he must think aright, and the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." His civil life has only been interrupted, it has not been abandoned. As he lies in watchful waiting, as he marches from post to post, as he suffers in hospital wards, his thoughts must often turn, by comparison at least, to the life's work which is awaiting him at home. He beholds that work from new angles, strange and searching lights are reflected upon it. He has grown up suddenly. A noted divine has put him to the test when he says, "The war is teaching a lesson deeper than all things because it combines and contains them all. It is either God, and the Law of God with all the difficulties which that possession implies but with the absolute certainty of moral security and eternal hope, or else the deceipts of glibly conceited, the fading intoxication of ill-gotten wealth, the butterfly happiness of agnostic science; one or the other, but not both."

Birth of a New Democracy.

But we may not stop here in considering the effects of the war upon our intelligent Canadian youth. It has been already stated that a wonderful democracy had sprung into existence at the call to arms. Social cant and class distinctions have all gone down before the test of war. The old professional army has almost vanished. Even in the established army there has come a change in officers and men. The old stiffness has fallen away. The soldier of other days had the shortcomings and virtues of his class, today we find him very often socially and intellectually the peer of his officers. A transformation is taking place within the confines of the British Empire. We may be unable as yet to define it, but we feel that it is there. The Canadian at the front realizes for the first time a clear vision of himself as a living part in that Empire. It is a new experience, and like all new experiences it is compelling a readjustment of thought. Out there he is getting the broader view, the grand lessons in self-government which will fit him for the part he is soon to play in the duties of state control and policy. A healthy enthusiasm will be infused, for political catchwords of the past have lost all their meaning and are no longer powerful to mislead a generation of men strengthened by this great "Pentecost of Calamity."

As they have fought like brothers in a common cause, and for a country they deemed worth fighting for, so will the fraternity of the trenches be an earnest in the future of their efforts for the good and proper government of that country. I repeat, therefore, that from a religious, political and social point of view, those bright minds, the highest product of our educational system, must become nobleless oblige return to their beloved land to lay the foundation for a more splendid Canadian citizenship.

Decline of a Nation.

I have one admonition in conclusion. Germany is lauded now because she is rich and great and dominant, in conversation her own best men express to you a fear that the days of her decline have more than dawned, that the people's feet are already on the downward path, that Germany has gone past the zenith and follows the Roman Empire on the road to ruin. Why? Because her people have grown rich in a generation, have become arrogant and have begun to think that wealth and power have better meanings than the training of the young. When Germany was poor and menaced the leaders of her people said: "The salvation of our people, the salvation of our land, the salvation of our nation is through the training of the young." They devoted their means to that end and achieved results in part. Their educational leaders discern that they have neglected the formation of individual character on high standards, and they are now seeking to save Germany from its regeneration by bringing back into the schools the old idealism and the old purpose. We are just at the stage in Canada when we have the unparalleled opportunity to take the widest and noblest path of vocational education for all the young people. From thirteen to eighteen you can make a nation strong in intelligence, ability, good-will and character; or you can debate a nation into all kinds of sordid neglect of the best things in life. Let us choose the better path.

Value of Self-reliance.

I would commend to you the value of self-reliance. The man who is self-reliant is weak, hesitating and doubtful in all he does. I would strongly urge upon you the cultivation of self-reliance.

I would beg of you to be loyal to your university; to remember with pleasure the days that you have spent within its walls, and to always look back with regret to the day that has severed the ties which have connected us during the last four years. When opportunity offers commend the U. N. B. to your juvenile friends. Press the claims of the small university. It brings about a closer intimacy between the teachers and the pupils, and enables the teachers to study the peculiarities of different members of his class. I beg of you to consider it your duty to join the Alumni and Alumni Association, and help them in the work they are doing now, and have been doing in years past, towards the building up and encouragement of the university, that you may be able to extend to others those advantages which have benefitted your own lives.

I am speaking to you as New Brunswickers, certainly as Canadians. Hold fast to your love of this your native country and strive for its good, labor for its uplifting, and believe what was said by the psalmist, is just as true now as the day it was written. "Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and he will do for thee, and he will prosper thee, and he will prosper thee, and he will prosper thee."

In Praise of Founders.

Prof. A. J. Uppvall made a brief, but interesting, address, in praise of the founders, saying in conclusion: "We praise the founders of this Pharos which for a hundred years has sent its bright beams across lands and seas. May its future be even more glorious. May it continue to send forth men whose motto shall be unselfish service in the interest of humanity; men who shall dare to be honest and to whom positions, rewards and material blessings shall be less ardently desired than the imperishable laurels of integrity and a clear conscience."

strongly urge upon you the cultivation of self-reliance. I would beg of you to be loyal to your university; to remember with pleasure the days that you have spent within its walls, and to always look back with regret to the day that has severed the ties which have connected us during the last four years. ### Privileges Extended.

It was sixty years ago last January since I matriculated at Kings College. I need not say how much the character and teaching of this school has expanded during that period. Sixty years ago, you could get here the foundation of a good liberal education. Now we are making in addition civil engineers, electricians, foresters, etc. This serves to show the trend of education in these times to be education for occupation. Time will not allow me to follow along this line; but I would commend to your consideration a quotation from an address of Dr. James Robertson, delivered to the Dominion Educational Association at Ottawa, in 1912, and prior to the present war.

"At this stage of our national growth if we men and women who are here, and who are represented here, become seized with the conviction that the education of the young people of Canada is the one thing that matters most, and if we ardently seek to make our own vision the common view of all people, then no one of us will have lived and labored in vain."

Decline of a Nation.

I have one admonition in conclusion. Germany is lauded now because she is rich and great and dominant, in conversation her own best men express to you a fear that the days of her decline have more than dawned, that the people's feet are already on the downward path, that Germany has gone past the zenith and follows the Roman Empire on the road to ruin. They devoted their means to that end and achieved results in part. Their educational leaders discern that they have neglected the formation of individual character on high standards, and they are now seeking to save Germany from its regeneration by bringing back into the schools the old idealism and the old purpose. We are just at the stage in Canada when we have the unparalleled opportunity to take the widest and noblest path of vocational education for all the young people. From thirteen to eighteen you can make a nation strong in intelligence, ability, good-will and character; or you can debate a nation into all kinds of sordid neglect of the best things in life. Let us choose the better path.

Value of Self-reliance.

I would commend to you the value of self-reliance. The man who is self-reliant is weak, hesitating and doubtful in all he does. I would strongly urge upon you the cultivation of self-reliance.

I am speaking to you as New Brunswickers, certainly as Canadians. Hold fast to your love of this your native country and strive for its good, labor for its uplifting, and believe what was said by the psalmist, is just as true now as the day it was written. "Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and he will do for thee, and he will prosper thee, and he will prosper thee, and he will prosper thee."

strongly urge upon you the cultivation of self-reliance. I would beg of you to be loyal to your university; to remember with pleasure the days that you have spent within its walls, and to always look back with regret to the day that has severed the ties which have connected us during the last four years. When opportunity offers commend the U. N. B. to your juvenile friends. Press the claims of the small university. It brings about a closer intimacy between the teachers and the pupils, and enables the teachers to study the peculiarities of different members of his class. I beg of you to consider it your duty to join the Alumni and Alumni Association, and help them in the work they are doing now, and have been doing in years past, towards the building up and encouragement of the university, that you may be able to extend to others those advantages which have benefitted your own lives.

Privileges Extended.

It was sixty years ago last January since I matriculated at Kings College. I need not say how much the character and teaching of this school has expanded during that period. Sixty years ago, you could get here the foundation of a good liberal education. Now we are making in addition civil engineers, electricians, foresters, etc. This serves to show the trend of education in these times to be education for occupation. Time will not allow me to follow along this line; but I would commend to your consideration a quotation from an address of Dr. James Robertson, delivered to the Dominion Educational Association at Ottawa, in 1912, and prior to the present war.

"At this stage of our national growth if we men and women who are here, and who are represented here, become seized with the conviction that the education of the young people of Canada is the one thing that matters most, and if we ardently seek to make our own vision the common view of all people, then no one of us will have lived and labored in vain."

Decline of a Nation.

I have one admonition in conclusion. Germany is lauded now because she is rich and great and dominant, in conversation her own best men express to you a fear that the days of her decline have more than dawned, that the people's feet are already on the downward path, that Germany has gone past the zenith and follows the Roman Empire on the road to ruin. Why? Because her people have grown rich in a generation, have become arrogant and have begun to think that wealth and power have better meanings than the training of the young. When Germany was poor and menaced the leaders of her people said: "The salvation of our people, the salvation of our land, the salvation of our nation is through the training of the young." They devoted their means to that end and achieved results in part. Their educational leaders discern that they have neglected the formation of individual character on high standards, and they are now seeking to save Germany from its regeneration by bringing back into the schools the old idealism and the old purpose. # TWO BRITISH AIRMEN KILLED

Machine Dived from Height of 1000 Feet—Both Victims had Done Good Work Since War Began.

London, May 18, 5.35 p. m.—Lieut. Selwin and Bateman, military aviators, were killed instantly today at Gosport, in Hampshire, near Portsmouth. The aeroplane in which they were flying dived from a height of 1,000 feet. The cause of the accident has not been determined. Both lieutenants were experienced aviators.

THREE SHOT IN STRIKE RIOT

One Man Shot Through Lungs During Trouble at Plant of Ansonia Manufacturing Co. at Ansonia, Conn.

Ansonia, Conn., May 18.—Three men were shot, one probably fatally, in a riot today at the plant of the Ansonia Manufacturing Company, on the west side, where between 150 and 200 men are on strike.

One man was shot through the lungs and was taken to a hospital in a serious condition. The wounds of the other two were less serious. The shots are said to have been fired by guards from inside the factory, after the strikers had begun hurling stones and other missiles at the building.

HOW KYTE STANDS.

Despite the fact that the Meredith-Duff Commission has not more than half completed its enquiry into the questions referred to it, the opposition newspapers have already decided that the charges as made by Mr. Kyte have been "proved to the hilt." Just to keep the record straight let us see where Mr. Kyte stands.

The official report of his speech in Parliament, as published by Hansard, deals with the matter of the division of profits by Yorkum and others as follows:

"I have here a summary of the amount that was actually divided between Yorkum, Lignanti and Allison. Then he goes on and states that the 'commission' actually divided between the gentlemen named totalled $475,000. Mr. Kyte declared the agreement was an executed document. The evidence has shown that it was never signed. Mr. Kyte claimed that many contracts were affected while the evidence shows that some of the contracts referred to by him never existed. Mr. Kyte claimed there had been an actual division of $475,000. The evidence shows that the total division in the charges made, was $28,507. Summed up four out of every five of Mr. Kyte's charges have been shown to be absolutely without foundation and in every case he grossly exaggerated.

It is not necessary to use much newspaper space to show any man who can read where the member for Richmond is likely to stand in the esteem of honest men after this enquiry has ended. Yet the opposition papers persist in stating that his "charges" have been "proved to the hilt." If the maker of the charges is satisfied with the measure of "vindication" he has secured, and if the Liberal party feel that his activity and that of his muck-raking chief was good political business the Conservatives have no cause for alarm. The country will attend to Mr. Kyte and his associates when the proper time arrives.

SIR WILFRID IS LATE.

The Times takes much comfort out of the announcement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is going into the province of Quebec to engage in a recruiting campaign. The Times is very easily satisfied, for Sir Wilfrid is late, very late.

There can be no denial of the fact that the Liberal leader, himself, a French-Canadian, wields a great influence over his compatriots in the province of Quebec. It also is useless to deny that the enlistment from Laurier's province has been a great disappointment. This being the case, and Sir Wilfrid's influence being admitted power, it is a wonder that the wearer of the "white plume" did not sooner realize the responsibility resting upon him. He should have gone down into his own province long ago, but instead he engaged himself with issues merely political and in some cases mischievous.

From the outset he attacked the Government's war measures. He voted for the war appropriation and followed that by fighting with all his might against the methods by which it was proposed to raise the money he had voted to spend. In other words, after cooperating with the Government in pledging certain support to the Empire he attempted to place difficulties in the way of actually procuring it. More recently he has been engaged with Carvell, Kyte & Co. in attempting to discredit the Government and, incidentally, Canada. Now he hopes to cover it all up with the announcement that he intends to go into Quebec on a recruiting tour, and that statement is sufficient to send the erratic Times into a spasm of agitation.

Sir Wilfrid's decision comes late. It is high time for him to go into Quebec and try to undo some of the mischief to which he himself has been an active contributor.

WATER SUPPLY AND SERVICE.

An interesting volume dealing with the "Water-works and Sewerage Systems of Canada" has just been issued by the Conservation Commission. In a way it tells a remarkable story of Canadian development. Among other things the volume shows that—

"In the year of Confederation there were only seven water-works plants in Canada; today there are 528. These have been built at a total cost of $123,725,833 and entail an annual maintenance charge of $4,558,539. The total daily consumption is 426,877,000 imperial gallons, which gives an average daily consumption per capita of 111 gallons, ranging from fifty gallons in Manitoba to 143 in New Brunswick."

"There are 206 plants supplied from springs or wells and 322 from lakes or streams. In seventy-two plants the water is filtered and in twenty-one plants it is treated with hypochlorite. The municipality-owned plants number 336. As to rates, where specified, it is shown that flat rates are used in 209 cases, meters in thirty, and both flat and meter in 141."

Interesting information concerning the water-works systems in this province is contained in the volume. The comparative cost of plant, miles of distribution pipe service and daily consumption for the principal New Brunswick cities and towns is as follows:

City	Consumption Mileage of Per Day	Cost Distribution Gals.
Campbellton	127,000 13	250,000
Chatham	116,000 11 1/4	560,000
Fredericton	223,141 14 1/2	529,500
Moncton	337,338 31 1/4	1,500,000
Newcastle	100,000 7	100,000
St. John	2,216,990 83 1/2	10,000,000
St. Stephen	184,000 14 1/2	475,000
Woodstock	115,000 6	320,000

From the foregoing table it will be seen that St. John's water plant cost as much as practically all the others named and that our consumption of water is far in excess of their total. The conclusion reached by the report shows that New Brunswick leads all Canada in the per capita consumption of water. Possibly this may be accounted for by the assumption that in this province the maxim "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" finds more general acceptance than elsewhere in Canada or—and this is the more likely solution—there is greater carelessness here. St. John has never known a water shortage and the very excellent service, provided by the City Water Department under Commissioner R. W. Wigmore may have led to an undue prodigality in consumption. It is a matter worth more than passing thought.

WHAT THEY THINK OF CARVELL.
 Illuminating evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. F. B. Carvell is regarded in Ontario is found in a recent issue of the London Free Press. Under the caption "Has Liberalism No Protest," the Free Press pays its respects to the mouthy member for Carleton as follows:
 "It may be worth while of the people of Canada to take stock of the man to whom the Opposition appears to have entrusted the campaign designed to 'get' Major-General Hughes. This man is Mr. Frank Carvell, a Maritime Province lawyer, whose record is to some extent before the country.
 In 1901 Mr. Carvell was a leading spirit in the New Brunswick Hay Company. This company was organized to handle a contract for the supply of hay to the British Government through the Canadian Government for use in the South African campaign. It developed that enormous profits were made by the company, and that notwithstanding these high prices the buyers for the company were under penalty not to pay more than a certain fixed maximum to the farmers.
 In the month preceding the outbreak of the war with Germany, Mr. Carvell, now as a front bench Liberal, made an attack upon the Canadian militia, in the course of which he used this statement:
 'All you get in the militia of Canada is that you teach about 25 per cent. of the men in Canada how to get drunk.'
 A short time previously he passed this remark:
 'Well, sir, the militia is a different kind of organization from what it was when I belonged to it, if it helps anybody's morals, manners or religion.'
 About the same time Mr. Carvell said in the House:
 'The principal cause of the trouble with the minister and his top-heavy militia is the report of a general by the name of French, who came to this country some years ago, and, in my judgment, his visit was one of the greatest misfortunes that has befallen Canada.'
 Note the undignified reference to one extraordinary phase, proof that one of the most distinguished generals in the British army, Sir John French, who successfully held the Germans out of Calais in the most trying period of the whole great war. Also, what is to be thought of the presumption of the New Brunswick lawyer who placed his judgment beside that of Sir John upon matters of military defense?

 It is the same Mr. Carvell who today confesses he is in pursuit of Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, and that to accomplish this he has engaged United States lawyers and United States detectives!
 Has Liberalism lost its sense of dignity and justice that it suffers this thing to be done in its name?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to deliver an address in Toronto on the bilingual question. And Toronto will turn out to hear him, listen respectfully and then go away to vote against him and his candidates just as Toronto has always done. But if Sir Wilfrid desires to create some real excitement he should take Senator Choquette along with him. Then it would be an interesting session.

Mr. Carter has "passed the spade." After his first noisy announcement concerning that Albert county farm he stated that he was going into Albert county himself to "dig up" the dirt facts. Now he states that he has sublet the job to an "eminent Moncton gentleman." Evidently the digging was too difficult for the Grit organizer.

The Telegraph and Times continue to abuse the present Government, but have no reply to make to the record of scandal standing to the discredit of the men with whom they would replace the Clarke administration. The editors of the Telegraph and Times realize that it is a difficult matter to write on both sides of the political fence and carry conviction.

Mr. Carter announces his willingness to answer all The Standard's questions. But he is remarkably silent on the Pugsley overdraft, the Tweedie transaction and the Central Railway steal. These are matters the people really want to know about, and on which Mr. Carter could talk most interestingly—but he won't.

All indications point to a record breaking business through the port of St. John this summer. Another evidence that it pays to have a live representative in the Borden Government. Hon. Mr. Hazen has done well by St. John and the people of this constituency will not be slow to show their appreciation.

Hon. F. J. Sweeney at Dorchester on Wednesday said "The province wants and will insist on honest government." Mr. Sweeney should know. He was a member of the dishonest government which was so ingloriously kicked out in 1908 and is now begging for another chance at the treasury.

And now we have Mr. Sweeney's statement that the provincial opposition can get along without Mr. John Morrissey. After all the ex-Minister of Public Works has done for Mr. E. S. Carter Mr. Sweeney's assertion seems like rank insinuation.

Mr. E. S. Carter declares he was not a resident of the parish of Rothesay at the time of the Rothesay election fraud. Well, neither were the men whose names were fraudulently added to the list.

 Yet when we talk of war's abating,
 And name the price for them to pay,
 They have the curious nerve to say
 That, when they please, and not before,
 They'll do their own dictating.

How can you deal with minds so slow,
 With men who give no indication
 That we by any further shock
 Into their heads can hope to knock
 Enough intelligence to know
 That they're a beaten nation?

Oid that we cannot make it clear

 No sir, damzil, I sed.
 Its immaterial to me, sed pop. And he started to read the paper agen, and Sue started to yell, Im not a damzil, Im not a damzil, till pop had to give her 2 sents to go out and spend.

his appointments had an opportunity to collect $42,000,000 of "honest" graft, yet conscientiously spurned it.
 When the committee undertook to furnish munitions for the British war office as agents, the London department, in keeping with traditional red tape methods, refused to deal with them as agents, but insisted upon dealing with them as contractors. Virtually the war office said it would give the committee contracts for so much munitions and pay $32,000,000 for the goods. The London authorities appear to have thought this a smart move designed to prevent their being done by greedy Canadian contractors. As it turned out, the committee thus forced to be contractors found it could obtain the supplies for $350,000,000. As a matter of legality Sir Sam's committee could have charged the war office the price it had set, and pocketed the difference, or a round $42,000,000. But to its everlasting honor it refused to think of taking this legitimate or "honest" graft turning in the munitions at the actual cost.

But this self-abnegation does not appear to have saved the committee from their more selfish compatriots who are still indignant because the committee placed some of the orders in the United States, in some cases, unfortunately, falling victims to more mercenary minds on this side of the border. At that, the committee claims it was justified in placing the orders outside Canada if there was hope of better terms and more expeditious delivery. The fact that the delivery has been delayed is offset by the fact that even in England deliveries of munitions have been slower than expected.

ON WEDNESDAY EVENING
 During the course of the evening's entertainment at the concert and picnic held Wednesday night in the Orange Hall, Simonds street, an address of welcome was delivered by Miss E. McDermott, of which publication has been requested. It is as follows:
 "On behalf of the Young Ladies of the Cathedral Parish I wish to thank you for your attendance here this evening. When the young ladies, for whom I have the honor of speaking decided to hold some sort of an entertainment whereby they could raise funds for the Wounded Soldiers in Germany they were not unmindful of the fact that the generosity of the citizens was being taxed, and in many cases over-taxed by a seemingly never-ending source of patriotic appeals. Despite the burdens which have been heaped upon them, however, by this unprecedented war, the people particularly of this Loyalist City, have never been found wanting. This compliment I can pay you this evening and I want to reassure you that we are deeply grateful to you. As a result of your co-operation we will be enabled to

THIRTEEN EXTRA CASH PRIZES

$200.00 FREE!

The Travel Club Department of The Standard offer Two Hundred in cash to be divided into thirteen prizes to the members sending in the largest amount of subscriptions during the two weeks from May 15th to May 27th inclusive.

It does not matter what your present standing may be. Everyone has an equal chance to win one of these magnificent rewards.

DIVISION OF PRIZE LIST

Table listing prize amounts: First prize $50.00, Second prize $40.00, Third prize $30.00, Fourth prize $20.00, Fifth prize $10.00, Sixth prize $10.00, Seventh prize $10.00, Eighth prize $5.00, Ninth prize $5.00, Tenth prize $5.00, Eleventh prize $5.00, Twelfth prize $5.00, Thirteenth prize $5.00. Total $200.00.

CONDITIONS

The above prizes will be awarded in the order stated to members of the Travel Club sending in the largest amount of money from May 15th till Saturday, May 27th. No payment made Saturday, May 13th will be credited on this special offer. Payments will not be accepted in this offer either handed in or mailed, unless received at The Standard office by six o'clock, St. John time, on the afternoon of Saturday, May 27th. Receipts reaching St. John later than the hour mentioned above will positively not be considered.

This is the largest extra prize list to be offered during the campaign, and while it will take some little effort to win the larger ones on the list, yet their size makes the effort worth while. These cash prizes are extra prizes in every sense of the word, as they do not debit you from receiving the ten per cent. commission on all business done, should you fail to win one of the trips or college courses.

FREDERICTON TO HAVE TATTOO ON EMPIRE DAY

Military Entertainment so Successful Here to be Repeated in Capital.

The grand military tattoo, which brought joy to the many thousands who attended it, will be repeated on the 24th of May at Fredericton. The many brass and bugle bands which participated in the last tattoo, are arranging an exceptionally fine programme of music for Fredericton. The boys of the 140th Battalion are daily on the green asserting out the material for a fast baseball nine to take with them. They plan on playing a game with a team from one of the military units in New Brunswick in the afternoon of the gigantic fete day. As the 24th is a holiday and special rates on all railways, a monstrous turn out is expected.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION AT YARMOUTH

Yarmouth, N. S., May 18.—Almost every section of the county was represented at the Liberal Conservative convention here today at which the only two names put in nomination were Howard W. Corning, the present member, and J. Octave Deon of Pablico.

There was great enthusiasm when the president declared that no other names had been mentioned by any member of the large convention. Resolutions endorsing and supporting the work of Sir Robert L. Borden, C. E. Tanner and H. W. Corning, were passed unanimously with much applause. The two nominees in neat and telling speeches accepted the nominations. Margaret, the four year old daughter of Alex. Devean, has been seriously burned. She was left with two other children in a neighbor's home and held of the oil and matches. Shrieks soon called Mrs. Landry, a neighbor, who extinguished the flames but not until the right side of her face and her right arm had been badly burned. It is thought the little one will pull through.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use soaps and prepared shampoos that contain too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

PERSONAL

J. B. Dargett, secretary of agriculture for the province, arrived in the city yesterday and is registered at the Victoria.

William J. Hamilton arrived in the city yesterday from Iloilo, Philippine Islands and will probably make his home here.

THE POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday five drunks were fined the usual amount. Frank Williams of the 115th, for being absent from military duty without leave was remanded to jail. Private Charles Tardif for assaulting Private Thos. Malcolm was remanded.

The Late Fred. Menally.

The funeral of the late Fred. Menally took place at three o'clock yesterday afternoon from his home, St. John street, West St. John, and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. The funeral services at the home and grave were conducted by Rev. G. F. Scovill, of St. Jude's church. Interment was in Cedar Hill cemetery. The deceased had been a member of the West Side fire department and his comrades, with firemen from the East Side, marched in a body, headed by the brass band of the 140th Battalion. As the remains were being conveyed from the home to the hearse the band rendered "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The deceased had for a long time been connected with brass bands in the city, viz. the Artillery and Carleton bands, and was a member of the band organization when he became the band of the 140th Battalion. Among the floral tributes yesterday was a pillow from the firemen and a bouquet from the 104th Band, Bandmaster Long and the secretary of the 104th arrived from Sussex yesterday for the purpose of attending the funeral.

HOW PNEUMONIA STARTS AND HOW OFTEN PREVENTED.

You catch a little cold today, and by tomorrow it has reached the throat, next day the lungs are affected and all that is required, is "Catarrhzone" which kills colds in five minutes. In the first place Catarrhzone soothes the irritated membrane and relieves congestion, then it cuts out the phlegm and destroys the germs. It enables the blood to retain a natural supply of oxygen, lung-food, and vitality. In any cough, bronchitis or Catarrh it's guaranteed to positively cure. Beware of dangerous substitutes offered under misleading names for genuine Catarrhzone which is sold everywhere, large size containing two months' treatment costs $1.00, small size 50c, trial size 25c.

Two horrors crowded into one life—the product of poor digestion and a poisoned system. There is just one cure for this terrible condition—plenty of food—but mind you, food properly digested; that's the difficulty, to improve the digestive power of the stomach. Get rich nutritious blood, strengthen the system and drive out poisons—then comes vitality, endurance, power. Ferronone does all this and more, it makes sick people well, weak people strong, changes "nerves" and insomnia into robust health. Take Ferronone and health is yours, 50c. At all dealers.

How to Save Your Eyes

Try This Free Prescription.

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear those "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of those, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy? You work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one tablet in 1/2 glass of water and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but remarkably effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription. The Valmar Drug Co., of Toronto, will send you the prescription by mail, if your druggist cannot.

A prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its excellent ingredients are well known and it can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations that should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

"Wasson's Drug Store fills many Bon-Opto prescriptions and will gladly fill yours."

DAN BROUHERS HIT A BALL THAT WENT 1300 FEET

This Swat is Regarded as Longest Ever Made—Brouthers Batted Over 300 Mark for 15 Years.

"Let us put wreaths on the domes of the living," as some gifted author has suggested; but, while honoring the Cobbs and the Alexanders and the Johnsons and the Kaufes, let us not forget the heroes of the past. This seems to be an appropriate occasion, for this is the anniversary of the birth of two of the greatest men who ever wore the livery of his league servitude. We refer, ladies and gents, to the immortal Ross Barnes, and the incomparable Dan Brouthers. There may have been better second basemen than Barnes, and more exalted kings of sweat than Brouthers, but if so no lifetime fan can be convinced of it. Barnes was born in Rockford, Ill., in 1850, on the eighth of May, and on the same date eight years later Brouthers made his mundane debut at 87½ in Lake, N. Y. Roscoe Barnes was only a little shaver when baseball began to be played in his native town. In fact, the Forest City of Rockford were the oldest aggregation of baseball players in the west, and it was with this club that Barnes, Spalding, Anson and other great players of the early days got their start. In 1872 Ross joined the Boston club of the old National association and helped that team to win four straight pennants. He batted .404 in 1872, .453 in 1873, .353 in 1874 and .386 in 1875. When the National League was launched in 1876, Barnes went to Chicago with Al Spalding, Deacon Jim White and Cal McVey, these four deserters from the Boston club constituting the original "Big Four" of the diamond. Barnes led all his pennant-winning teammates in batting .402. Barnes was not only a great batsman, but he was easily the supreme second sacker of his time. According to the veterans, Ross was much of the same style of player as Johnny Evers when the Trojan was at his best with the Cubs. Barnes retired from the diamond in 1881 and was a broker, horseface and bookkeeper until his death a little more than a year ago.

Dan Brouthers, whose real front name was Dennis, got his baseball start at Wappinger's Falls, N. B., and made that town famous wherever the baseball language is spoken. In the late '70s he played with Troy, then in the National League, but he didn't become famous until 1881, when he joined the Buffalo Nationals. He was with Buffalo five seasons, and not only led all the first sackers of the league in fielding his position in 1882, but for two seasons led the league in batting. His batting averages for the five seasons were: .318, .367, .371, .325 and .358.

In 1886 Dan went to the Detroit Nationals, batting .370 that year, .419 in 1887 and .306 in 1888. The Detroit team then disbanded, and Dan joined the Bostonians, leading the league in batting in 1889 with an average of .373. In 1890 Brouthers went over to the Players' league, batting .345, but in 1891 the great swatter was back on the initial bag for Boston. He batted .349 that year. Dan then spent two seasons with Brooklyn, swatting .335 and .348.

THINK WELSH TOO SEVERELY PUNISHED.

New York, May 18.—The New York State A. C. today decided to recommend to the Wisconsin State A. C. that it lift the four months' suspension imposed upon Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion. Welsh was accused in Wisconsin of delaying a bout. The New York organization's decision was that the punishment appeared too severe.

ROSES WON FAST GAME IN ST. PETER'S LEAGUE

Four Hundred and Thirty-four People Paid One Cent Each to See Good Baseball

In spite of the weather taking a glide towards the North Pole, last night, a large number of baseball fans attended the second game of the St. Peter's Y. M. A. League, between the Shamrocks and Roses, in which the latter carried home the bacon, the score being 3-1. The game was clean, clever and fast from start to finish, and with the exception of one or two errors leaves little room for criticism. Hansen was on the firing line for the Roses, playing airtight ball and his batting average at last night's game would wobble around .385 at least. Score by innings: 0001000—1
Roses . . . . . 001200x—3
Shamrocks . . . . . 0001000—1
The line-up follows:
Roses. Pitcher. Hansen
1st Base. . . . . J. Harrington
2nd Base. . . . . Murphy
3rd Base. . . . . V. Perry
Short Stop. . . . . P. Howard
Left Field. . . . . F. Howard
Center Field. . . . . G. Garvin
Right Field. . . . . B. Butler
A Few Bright Spots.
There were 434 people in attendance and the collection amounted to $4.34. Looks fishy.
Billy Murphy's dive in the seventh was alone worth the total collection. Jimmy McMurtry, manager of the Shamrocks, is the original Hugh Jennings of the City League.
With one down and three on, in the fifth, Percy failed to connect.
And McMurtry really got a hit? No, he hit Butler.
Tiny McCarty, mascot for the Shamrocks, was heard to mutter something with "rotten" in it on his way out.
The Maples and Roses clash tonight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKET-BALL LEAGUE.

The games at the Y. M. C. A. in the Sunday School Basketball League were all well contested and a decided improvement over the first games played. Last night's play decided who would be in the finals in the two junior divisions and the senior B division. In the senior A division three games are yet to be played. The contesting teams in the finals in the junior division will be Trinity and St. David's. St. David's senior team will also be in the finals in the two junior divisions and the senior B division. The results of last night's play were as follows: Junior A, Trinity 8, St. Andrews 5; Junior B, St. David's 17, St. Paul's 11; Senior A, German street Baptist 23, Trinity 16; Senior B, St. David's 37, St. Andrews 15. In regard to the latter game it is only fair to say that the game was much closer than the score would indicate, and that St. Andrews had only four men on the floor.

All the RAILWAY SHARES TAKE THE LEAD

Wall St. Market Broad and Active, but Uncertain at Times.

C.P.R. SHARES ADVANCE OVER THREE POINTS

War Stocks and Other Industrials in the Background—Market Feverish at the Close.

New York, May 18.—High grade railway shares assumed leadership of today's broad and active market, which was not without its periods of uncertainty, despite a preponderance of substantial gains at the close. Reading issues led the movement from start to finish, the common and second preferred shares making new high records on their extreme gains of 7 and 3 3/4 points, respectively, to par and 1 1/2, while the first preferred advanced more moderately.

Dealings in Reading issues amounted to fully 160,000 shares, or almost one-fifth of the day's total operations. The movement excited much gossip and surmise, but no explanation was vouchsafed in official quarters.

Reading common has been foremost of the rally for several weeks, but not until recently did the preferred issues develop any activity. Wall Street believes developments of importance are impending and that a distribution of the company's valuable assets must follow in logical sequence.

Pronounced strength was displayed by other standard rails, especially Canadian Pacific, which advanced over three points, with 1 to 2 points for Lehigh Valley and other coolers, as well as New York Central, New Haven, St. Paul and the southern division.

War shares and other industrials and equipments were overshadowed by the prominence of rails and were subject to further profligate and ardent selling on recurrent peace rumors. General Electric, however, made a substantial addition to yesterday's rise, and Harvester was in renewed demand.

So-called whiskey stocks were active and strong for specific reasons. Distillers securities responding to the resumption of dividends at the rate of six per cent., while United States Industrial Alcohol was supported by further rumors of prospective benefits to stockholders.

U. S. Steel gave promise during the forenoon of regaining its old time leadership, advancing a point to 85, but soon losing most of its gain, only to come forward again in the feverish activity of the close. Total sales amounted to 760,000 shares.

More gold imports from Canada added to the steadiness of sterling and most other forms of foreign remittances hardened, with the exception of francs.

Bonds were firm, with total sales, per value, $4,775,000.

NEWS OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

We are always pleased to receive any news of Women's Societies, fashion notes, new or tried recipes, etc., which may be of interest to our readers and we will publish same when suitable. All communications for these columns to have name and address (not for publication), and to be addressed to the Editor, Women's Column, The St. John Standard, St. John.

Y. W. P. A.

A largely attended meeting of the Young Women's Patriotic Association was held in the Royal Order of Moose rooms last evening. Miss Fairweather, the second vice-president, presided. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," played by Miss Beatrice Fenwick. After the minutes of the last meeting had been read by Miss Keefe, the secretary, Corporal Smith of the 1st Contingent, was introduced and gave a splendid account of the fighting at Ypres and Passchendaele. As it was a personal account it was most interesting and Corporal Smith proved an entertaining and humorous speaker. In a serious vein he paid a fine tribute to the bravery of the officers and men of the 1st Canadian Contingent. He told of men who could joke in the face of machine-gun fire that they might keep up the spirits of their men, men who could go without food or water for a long time and yet never falter or flinch for a moment when the time came to charge against the enemy. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Corporal Smith and the applause with which he was greeted showed appreciation of his services to his country. After the talk it was voted to give the proceeds of the ushering at the Imperial to Rev. E. B. Hooper's appeal for men in hospital. It was also voted to hold meetings every alternate Thursday through June, once a month in July and August and resume weekly meetings in September. Miss Eileen Keefe's resignation was accepted with regret and Miss Lillian Clark elected as secretary. Miss Keefe remains on the executive.

Soldiers' Wives' League.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Soldiers' Wives' League was held yesterday afternoon in the St. Andrew's church parlor. Mrs. George P. Smith, the president, was in the chair. After the minutes had been read the different convenors of the standing committees gave reports telling of many interesting and pathetic cases. It was decided to take charge of the canteen at the Soldiers' Club two days next week. The league was asked to attend the tea to be given next week to the wives of the officers of the 1st Battalion. This tea is to be held in the Knights of Columbus hall and the proceeds will be for the fund of the members of the S. W. L. are being made with pride the badge which is being in enamel surrounded by a wreath of maple leaves. This is the original badge which was designed and authorized when the society was formed at the time of the South African war.

An Excellent Concert.

There was a large attendance at the concert given by the Ladies' Orchestra, under the direction of Wm. C. Bowden, assisted by Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett and under the auspices of Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. The concert was held at Centenary Hall and was a most enjoyable musical treat. While all the numbers were good, the string quartet, "Berceuse," a variation on a Russian folk song, perhaps was the finest selection, although "Mock Morris" by Grainger was very fine. Mrs. Crockett sang delightfully and the pretty little number by Spross, "Will o' the Wisp" was enthusiastically received. "O, Dry Those Tears," with cello obbligato, was very beautiful also. All the members of the club deserve great praise for the high mark of music reached. It shows much time devoted to practice and devotion to music. Following is the programme:

Handel... Overture from "Samson" (Andante-pomposo, Allegro, Minuet) Orchestral Club.
Schutt Trio for violin, cello and piano Mrs. T. Gunn, Miss Dorothy Bayard, and Mr. Bowden.
Wolf-Ferrari... Intermzzo from "The Jewels of the Madonna" Orchestral Club.
del Riego... "O, Dry Those Tears" Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett.
Mrs. Gordon Dickie at the piano (Mr. Bowden cello obbligato).
Debussy (a) "Le Faune" (The Dancing Faun)
Tachereau... (b) Scene from the ballet, "Le Pavillon d'Armide" Orchestral Club.
d'Osten-Sacken... (a) "Berceuse" (Variation on a Russian Folk-song) Kopylov... (b) Quartette op. 15. (First Movement) String Quartette.
Mrs. H. N. Stetson, Miss May McArthur, Mr. Arthur Bowes, Mr. Bowden Saint-Saens, Prelude from "Le Deluge" Orchestral Club.
Goetz... (a) "Mélodie in the Wood" Clark... (b) "A Bowl of Roses" Spross... (c) "Will o' the Wisp" Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett.
Grainger... "Mock Morris" Orchestral Club.

The following are the members of the Ladies' Orchestral Club: Violins—Mrs. Gunn, Mrs. Stetson, Miss Barker, Miss Nyles, Miss Holder, Miss J. Lynch, Miss MacLaren, Miss Hallam, Miss Leslie Grant, Miss Caswell, Miss Napier.
Violas—Miss Kennedy, Miss McArthur.
Cello—Miss Lynch.
Organ—Miss G. Gandy.
Piano—Miss Dorothy Bayard.

Old Linen Day.

Large cases of linen for hospital supplies is the result of the old linen day held at the Dufferin sample rooms by the Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. Mrs. Louie Barker was head of the committee and assisting her were Mrs. Ryder, Mrs. Maurice White, Mrs. A. L. Fowler. The large donations of linen and cotton sent were sorted, cut into regulation size and packed to be sent to the Red Cross depot from whence they will go overseas. One case was sent to the Military Hospital on St. James' street. Even the room clippings were saved and will be used for patriotic purposes. The agent here for Featherston's chocolates made a fine donation of twenty-five pounds of sweets to be sent to the soldiers. Some of these will be given to the Military Hospital, and Convalescent Home here, while others will be sent direct to home and diets. Altogether the committee feel much pleased at the result of old linen day.

The vests made of old kid gloves for soldiers are displayed in a King street window. All are asked to help in furnishing material for these garments.

Letters Received by Uncle Dick From His Boys and Girls

Dear Uncle Dick:— I had a lovely auto trip last Sunday afternoon. We left here at half past one and went to Norton and got back home at half-past three. That makes a run of twenty-four miles. The roads were good. The grass was nice and green all along, and everybody had their strawberry patches all uncovered. When we were coming back at Apohaup a large flock of blackbirds flew ahead of the car and lit on a large pine tree near Jones Mill. We saw lots of little lambs and the sheep were all shorn. One farmer had a patch of oats down, and a big scarecrow up in the middle of it. Down in the meadow was a lot of black crows parading around. So I suppose that is the reason why the farmer put up the scare crow so they would not steal his seed grain. I will enclose the answer to the Jumble Word Contest.

Your niece,
Myrna Smith.

Won a Book Before.

Sussex, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:— I won a nice story book quite a while ago, but I have never tried any of the contents since, so I thought I would try the Jumbled Word Contest, and hope I will be successful.

Yours truly,
Mamie Lutz.

Dear Uncle Dick:—

I am trying this contest, hope I will get a prize, this is my first week at school. I like to go. I have to get some one to write this for me, as I can't write yet, with best wishes to Uncle Dick. Your nephew,
Arnold Sharp.

MEMBERSHIP BUTTONS.

Every member of the Children's Corner, who succeeds in getting four or more new members, is entitled to one of the new Uncle Dick buttons, which have been kindly donated to the Corner by the Conlon Studio. Besides this, to the kiddie who is able to get the most number of other kiddies to join the Corner up to and including June 30th, will be awarded a splendid camera, complete with one film.

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE

"Which one of the Ten Commandments did Adam break when he ate the apple?" asked the Sunday school teacher. "He didn't break any," replied one little fellow. "Why not?" "Cause there wasn't any then."

"TIZ" PUTS JOY IN SORE, ACHING FEET

"My, how 'Tiz' gladdens 'Tired, Swollen, Burning Feet—It's Glorious!"

"'Tiz' makes my feet smaller."

Ab! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, sore feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous emanations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 35-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 35 cents. Think of it.

Opera House.

"An Alien," the motion picture form of the play "The Sign of the Cross," in which George Beban starred for so long, was presented at the Opera House yesterday and I should say it is a very fine picture, in fact I heard somebody say, in the row behind me, "This is the best picture I've seen for ages."

The production is what might be called a "super-feature." In that it is nine reels long, has an exceptionally good story—in this case one of great human interest—is splendidly acted and produced with more than usual care. George Beban's work in Italian characterizations has won for him a unique position as an actor. In his gestures, his walk and the expression of his face he succeeds wonderfully in portraying the Italian laborer. His make-up is wonderful in that he seems to "step into the character." The work of two young actresses in the cast, Rosa, the daughter of Pietro Massena, played by Blanche Schow, and little Dorothy Griswold, by Thelma Salter, throughout, was especially good. Several of the actors had previously appeared on the speaking stage, Edward Gillespie as the detective, and Edith Jelicovic as the cashier of the flower shop, so those parts were quite familiar to them.

The picture is filled with incidents which have a delicate humor tinged with sadness. Especially appealing is the story of the night before Christmas, and Mr. Beban's skill in depicting the simple Italian's perplexity as to how to account for a stout Santa's ability to get down a narrow chimney is one of the bits that will be remembered with delight. The automobile accident is almost too well staged. Push cart hand is wonderfully shown with all its picturesque and dirt.

UNIQUE.

In The Haunted Manor, a Mutual Masterpiece de Luxe, at the Unique yesterday many fine views of Eastern life are given. This is an interesting picture for there is so much in it and such a variety of types of women. Zoe Trevor as played by Eva Sheppard, is an adventuress (which is the kind of role in which we last saw Miss Sheppard, in The Drifts I think it was), but after her love for a young American artist is awakened she becomes a self-devoted character and rises to heights of sacrifice. Then there is "Ethel," the very vivacious type but yet a schemer, played by Gertrude Robinson and "Celeste," the model, who is Olive Trevor, the pretty girl with the wealth of golden hair. Chase Fitzcarrin, the artist, is well acted by Earl O. Schenck. I liked The Haunted Manor very much.

LYRIC.

The Lyric had a variety of pictures for the week-end. The fine views of the Mutual Travellers' trip through America, a pretty Reliance film called Old Mother Gray, a good little picture of a mother and her family of little ones, and a comedy called "Corny House Crooks," with a novelty scene of a tight rope walk along a clothes line.

Vandeville at the Lyric is Bert and Vivian Lawrence in songs and dances. A schoolboy and girl duet is well done.

Carmen—Chaplin at the Imperial. "A laugh in every foot!" Certainly the large audience which witnessed the burlesque on Carmen laughed every few moments. It is Chaplinesque humor, truly, but it is such a burlesque on the real Carmen, even the same scenery as was used in the Gertrude Farrar production. These ridiculous antics in front of apparently the same rocks and walls as we watched the famous prima donna play the fascinating Carmen not so long ago. The duel in the inn was the best scene. I thought, especially where they have time for a few dance steps between rounds, and Dan Hooley's sword, to say nothing of his whole get up is undoubtedly ludicrous. Edna Purviance makes a very attractive Carmen. She is almost too good for a burlesque.

The Imperial also has a budget of war pictures as well as "Tables Turned." Tomorrow the Iron Claw and Chaplin.

Circumstances alter contracts in the motion picture business but it is sad that the President of the United States takes a hand in upsetting picture plans. Here is one case, however, in which the Lubin company must wait until Uncle Sam gets through with a star before producing a photoplay already contracted for. The star is one Villa who, some time ago, signed to appear in Lubin feature, the work on which was to have started last March. Since that time, however, Villa has been too busy dodging news cameramen to settle down in a selected location for any one company.

Although he has been in motion pictures for several years and has been photographed thousands of times daily with a motion picture camera, Lionel Barrymore recently sat for a regular photograph for the first time in five years at the Rolfe-Metro studio. He dislikes sitting for a photograph and says "there isn't any sense or excuse for a man to have a photograph taken."

Mr. Jones is a base ball fan. Mrs. Jones isn't. She prefers a symphony concert. Miss Mary Jones says symphonies make her sleepy and that a dancing party is the real thing. Grandpa Jones says dancers should do it in an asylum and that there hasn't been a good show since Harrison and Hart died. Grandma Jones wishes there was something like a Moody and Sankey meeting nowadays.

Willie Jones pushes his place away, steps on the cat and remarks that they are all loney and, that, as for him, he is going around to the moving pictures.

Chorus: "Wait a minute and we'll go with you."

Do You Know That?

10,000,000 people attend movie shows weekly!

Kitty Gordon's back was so white it had to be darkened to film it!

There are 75,000 miles of film manufactured every year in the U. S.!

Alice Brady has appeared in musical comedy, opera, drama and film!

Edison, inventor of movies, is making fewer pictures every year!

Gall Kane travelled four thousand miles making "The Other Sister!"

Willis was a film actor for five months—he does not collect royalty any more!

William A. Brady is the new director-general of World film pictures!

The New York Strand theatre cost over one million dollars to open!

Robert Warlock spends eighteen hours a day at the studio and theatre!

All the Family Picture Fans.

The author was pointing out the excellence of his scenario to the executive heads of the Lubin Company. "It will make the strongest kind of appeal to every married man in a community," he said.

"So far, all right," interrupted Siegmund Lubin. "But let us have scenes that also make the appeal to his wife, his children, and his sisters, cousins and aunts and the rest of the family. Has it occurred to you that one of the reasons for the popularity of the motion picture theatre is that it is a place where the whole family may get together for a general good time!"

SEASON'S DEVELOPMENT WORK AT GLEN FALLS WAS STARTED YESTERDAY

Development operations arranged for this summer at Glen Falls were started yesterday when work was begun on the extension and improvement of roads, which will be pushed rapidly to completion. It has also been decided to construct a new roadway to the Glen Falls ice house which was erected last season.

The fine modern drainage system is also being carried to completion, many of the original ditches having already been completely deepened. It is the intention of the Coldbrook Realty and Development Co., Ltd., to conduct similar operations on the new sixty-five acre section known as the Wilkes Farm.

From present indications, Glen Falls bids fair to be foremost among the most attractive show-places in the near-to-town sections; lawns are being put in shape and flower beds prepared for the summer season. Woodland rambles will be made still more picturesque by rustic bridges thrown across brooks and streamlets.

It is worthy of note that Glen Falls, while presenting an exceptionally favorable investment proposition as a result of its rapid development, and the excellent prospects of its industrial section, has been taken up entirely, in the residential portion, by those intending to locate there, as it is just as easy, and cheaper "in the long run" to buy a lot and build a home at Glen Falls than to pay rent in town continuously.

Among the modern conveniences enjoyed by Glen Falls people are electric lights, telephones, up-to-date water supply; speedy, regular car service, good schools at hand, and churches near-by.

Any information relative to lot purchase and building arrangements will be furnished cheerfully at the Glen Falls office, 45 Princess street, where those interested can also arrange a motor car visit to this picturesque near-to-town suburb.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Louis Smith, the North End centenarian, took place yesterday morning from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Jeffrey, 24 Somerset street, to Holy Trinity church where requiem high mass was celebrated by Very Rev. J. J. Walsh, V. G. Among the floral tributes was a large pillow of roses from the deceased's granddaughter, Mrs. Griott, Moncton. Six grandsons acted as pallbearers, and interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Hipwell took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, Dorchester street, to the Church of England cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. R. P. McKim.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Mary Veniot's funeral took place from her late residence, corner of Charlottetown and Watson streets, W. E., to the Church of the Assumption. Rev. J. J. O'Donovan conducted the burial service, and interment was made at Holy Cross cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. William Scott took place yesterday morning from her late residence, 80 Chapel street. Services were conducted by the Rev. R. T. McKim and interment was made in Fernhill.

The funeral of Mrs. William A. Sasse took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 178 Victoria street. Services were conducted by the Rev. R. T. McKim and interment was made in Fernhill.

DUTCH GOV'T WANTS FURTHER PROOF

Not Convinced that the Batavia V. on which American Lost Life was Sunk by Mine

London, May 18.—The Dutch authorities are not altogether satisfied that the steamer Batavia V. which was blown up in the North Sea with the loss of four lives, was sunk by a mine. They have ordered an examination of the ship by divers to establish the cause of the disaster. This will be comparatively a simple task, as the wrecked steamer lies in shallow water. All but three of the lifeboats were destroyed by the explosion. These three boats were launched.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S BURLESQUE ON FOUR "CARMEN" REELS

YESTERDAY'S CROWDS AT OUR THEATRE LAUGHED themselves silly over the spontaneous horseplay and subtle comedy of Charlie Chaplin and his well-trained assistant. If it were any other story but a classic like "Carmen" the fun might not have been so delicious and the laughs hardly so hearty, but to burlesque a grand opera libretto was a big order and a well executed one. Don't come today or tomorrow expecting to see a high-brow comedy, but on the other hand, a side-splitting travesty that will pull forty horse-power laughs out of one-cylinder dyspeptics.

DUTCH GOVT WANTS
FURTHER PROOF

Not Convinced that the Batavia V. on which American Lost Life was Sunk by Mine

London, May 18.—The Dutch authorities are not altogether satisfied that the steamer Batavia V., which was blown up in the North Sea with the loss of four lives, was sunk by a mine. They have ordered an examination of the ship by divers to establish the cause of the disaster. This will be comparatively a simple task, as the wrecked steamer lies in shallow water. All but three of the lifeboats were destroyed by the explosion. These three boats were launched.

SEASON'S DEVELOPMENT
WORK AT GLEN FALLS
WAS STARTED YESTERDAY

Development operations arranged for this summer at Glen Falls were started yesterday when work was begun on the extension and improvement of roads, which will be pushed rapidly to completion. It has also been decided to construct a new roadway to the Glen Falls ice house which was erected last season. The fine modern drainage system is also being carried to completion, many of the original ditches having already been considerably deepened. It is the intention of the Coldbrook Realty and Development Co., Ltd., to conduct similar operations on the new sixty-five acre section known as the Wilkes Farm.

Present indications, Glen Falls bids fair to be foremost among the most attractive show-places in the near-to-town sections, lawns are being put in shape and flower beds prepared for the summer season. Woodland rambles will be made still more picturesque by rustic bridges thrown across brooks and streamlets. It is worthy of note that Glen Falls, while presenting an exceptionally favorable investment proposition as a result of its rapid development and the excellent prospects of its industry, has been taken up entirely, in the residential portion, by those intending to locate there, as it is just as easy, and cheaper "in the long run" to buy a lot and build a home at Glen Falls than to pay rent in town continuously.

Among the modern conveniences enjoyed by Glen Falls people are electric lights, telephones, up-to-date water supply; speedy, regular car service, good schools at hand, and churches nearby. Any information relative to lot purchase and building arrangements will be furnished cheerfully at the Glen Falls offices, 45 Princess street, where those interested can also arrange a motor car visit to this picturesque near-to-town suburb.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Louis Smith, the North End centenarian, took place yesterday morning from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Jeffrey, 24 Somerset street, to Holy Trinity church where requiem high mass was celebrated by Very Rev. J. J. Walsh, V. G. Among the floral tributes was a large pillow of roses from the deceased's granddaughter, Mrs. Griest, Moncton. Six grandsons acted as pallbearers, and interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Hipwell took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, Dorchester street, to the Church of England cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. R. P. McKim.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Mary Veniot's funeral took place from her late residence, corner of Charlotte and Watson streets, W. E., to the Church of the Assumption, Rev. J. O'Donovan conducted the burial service, and interment was made at Holy Cross cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. William Scott took place yesterday morning from her late residence, 80 Chapel street. Services were conducted by the Rev. R. T. McKim and interment was made in Fernhill.

The funeral of Mrs. William A. Sages took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 178 Victoria street. Services were conducted by the Rev. R. T. McKim and interment was made in Fernhill.

SINKING OF THE
STR. ERETRIA
DUE TO MINE

Investigation Shows that British Ship Lost Last Week was Not Torpedoed.

Paris, May 18.—It has been definitely established that the British freight steamship Eretria, sunk on Friday last, went to the bottom as a result of striking a mine off the Isle d'Yeu, according to American Consul Patton at La Rochelle. The first report was that the Eretria, which had three American citizens on board, had been torpedoed, but Consul Patton says that, despite the early indications, the investigation by the maritime prefect of La Rochelle definitely established that the sinking of the Eretria was due to a mine.

Had Palpitation
OF THE HEART
ALSO WEAK AND DIZZY SPELLS.

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over you, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells, and if you should happen to wake up in the night with your heart palpitating, and that "all gone" sinking sensation, you feel as if you were surely going to die.

When you feel this way, you may be sure that both your heart and nerves are out of order, and what you require is a real good heart and nerve tonic, one that will build up and strengthen both the heart and nerve system.

For this purpose nothing can equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 20 cents per box, 5 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LOOKING INTO CASE
OF U.S. EX-MINISTER
ARRESTED IN IRELAND

London, May 18.—Timothy Halsey said in the House of Commons today that he understood that James M. Sullivan, former American minister to the Dominican Republic, had been kept in jail in Ireland for eight days without the lodging of any charge against him. Mr. Halsey asked Foreign Secretary Grey to "ascertain what explanation was offered by Gen. Maxwell (British commander-in-chief, in Ireland) for the vigorous treatment to which Mr. Sullivan was subjected."

MARRIAGES

If you want to cure that skin disease of yours, you can only do so by using an ointment so refined as to be capable of penetrating to the root of the disease. Zam-Buk is capable of doing this, whereas ordinary ointments remain on the surface skin.

Beated its wonderful power of penetration, Zam-Buk is such strong germicide that germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied.

Preps it for yourself. All druggists, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

ANOTHER ST. JOHN VESSEL FELT WEIGHT OF STORM

Schooner Elma Put Into Boston Yesterday in Distress—Left Here Last Saturday With the Ill-Fated Lucia Porter and Two Others.

Word was received in the city last evening that the schooner Elma put into Boston yesterday in distress as a result of a two days' storm. The Elma's deckload of lumber was washed away; she was waterlogged; her pumps were out of commission; part of her stern rail was gone, and Captain Miller and his crew were almost exhausted. She will undergo repairs at Boston.

The schooner's agent in St. John's, A. W. Adams, and she loaded long lumber from cars at the Government railway pier. The cargo was shipped by Alexander Watson, 82 Prince William street. The Elma is a British schooner of 299 tons, and Captain Miller, her commander, is the principal owner.

She sailed from this port on Saturday last bound for Elizabethport, N. J., along with the schooners Arthur M. Gibson, Captain Longmire, bound for New York; James W. Parker, bound for a trans-Atlantic port; the Maoma, Captain Gayton, bound for New York; and the Lucia Porter, Captain Burke, bound to Vineyard Haven for orders.

With a fair wind for vessels bound to the windward, it was anticipated that they would have a good run. Everything went well until Tuesday, when the shipping experienced one of the worst storms of the season. The wind blew at a rate of about sixty miles an hour, and with a tremendous sea running the deeply laden lumber craft had a hard time to keep from disaster. The storm raged for two days, and it was while it was at its worst on Wednesday, that the Lucia Porter was driven ashore on King's Beach, Mass., near the Nahant life saving station; and in a short time was a wreck. There were some enquiries regarding the Maoma and the Gibson last night, but as these vessels have not been reported, it is believed they have weathered the storm and are safe.

SLAE OF MILL POUD BEFORE THE COUNCIL

Canada Nail Company Anxious to Buy—Question of Marsh Creek Diversion.

The committee meeting of the common council held yesterday at noon was very largely taken up with the hearing of the delegation from the Canada Nail Works in regard to their plan to sell the land on which their plant is located and on which they now hold a seven years' lease. The business of the company has grown to a marked degree and the present facilities are not sufficient to handle it. They had extensive improvements in view and wanted to be sure that they would not have to vacate the land in a short time. Commissioner Fisher thought that if the Carleton mill pond were not going to be used for dockage there could not be any objection to the city selling the land.

Commissioner Russell said that he had assurances that the government developments would be towards Partridge Island and would not interfere with the nail works.

Commissioner Wigmore felt that if they would come to the city with a definite proposal he would be inclined to support the sale.

Commissioner McLellan was always disposed to help any local concerns but they had to remember that possibly this land would be required for port developments in the future. If the city were sure that the Dominion government would take over the property on the West Side why then it would be all right to sell this piece of land, but until they were sure of that it would be better, in his opinion, to hold it, as it was the key to the situation there. The application was referred to Commissioner Russell to report on.

Commissioner McLellan recommended that Capt. W. R. Bennett be appointed to fill the vacancy on the Pilotage Board, caused by the death of Capt. Kennelly. Commissioners Wigmore and Russell were recommended as revisors for the coming year.

Commissioner McLellan moved that a day be set aside for the discussion of the Marsh Creek problem and said that if some action were not taken in order to get ready for next season, only be 500,000 bushels, but it can be increased at any time the requirements of the port demand it. It is expected that tenders for the erection of the elevator will be called for within a few weeks,—just as soon as the plans can be got ready,—and that it will be ready for next winter's business.

Around the City

Returned Soldiers to Organize.
Believing that there where there is unity there is strength, the returned soldiers in St. John, who have actually experienced service at the front, have decided to organize. The returned soldier problem is a big item and as the number is increasing every day some definite and proper action is necessary.

Arrested for Stealing.
Last night, shortly after nine o'clock, Police Constable Hogg arrested a boy on the charge of breaking into McLellan and Scott's foundry on the City Road, and stealing about 500 pounds of iron. The boy was locked up at headquarters and will be ready for the juvenile court this morning.

Cleaned Church Grounds.
Members of the St. James' church will find the grounds of the church in a most tidy condition when they attend the services on Sunday, as last night the troop of Boy Scouts connected with the church spent a busy time cleaning up and gardening. They are allowed to use the school room as their headquarters free, and it was thought a "good turn" of this nature would in some way repay for the kindness.

Exchequer Court.
The case of the King vs. Robert Carson and S. Ernest Vaughan was begun yesterday afternoon in the Exchequer Court before His Lordship Justice L. A. Audette. Three witnesses for the defense, G. G. Murdoch, Robert Carson and Robert Connolly, gave evidence as to the value of the land. The court sat until after six o'clock, and was adjourned to ten this morning. B. L. Genow appeared for the crown, and Attorney-General Baxter for the defendants.

Military Court at Perth.
A military court will be held at Perth today with Col. Fowler, Major Stetham and Capt. Evans presiding, to ascertain the cause of the recent outbreak at that place in which D. R. Green, a hotel keeper, had his place of business raided by a number of soldiers of the 140th Battalion, destroying property to the value of $500. It is claimed by the soldiers that Green refused to allow them to eat in his hotel and for that reason ill-feeling existed between the parties.

One Recruit.
At the meeting of the New Brunswick Recruiting Association, held in this city a few days ago, it was decided to extend the recruiting area of the different battalions now mobilizing to take in the entire province. This action is a timely one and especially for the local units. Yesterday one man only in this city had the courage of his convictions to attach his name to the Empire's honor roll. He has asked The Standard to withhold his name for the present.

Concert Realized $40.
A most successful and enjoyable concert was held in the Sunday school room of the Portland street Methodist church under the auspices of the boys' class conducted by Mrs. Dienstadt. The proceeds amounting to $40 will be donated to the Ardenborough Hospital Fund. This hospital is situated only a few miles from Verdun. Hon. J. E. Wilson donated the sum of $10 to the fund. At the conclusion of the programme His Worship Mayor Hayes extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Goulding of W. H. Thorne's for loaning the boys the phonograph.

Bar-tenders Union Meets.
The Bar-tenders Union held a special meeting last night in the Oddfellows Hall, Union street, for the purpose of deciding on suitable quarters for the coming season. After some deliberation it was decided to ascertain just what rooms in the city might be obtained. The president of the association, J. P. McAndrews, occupied the chair. The report of the treasurer, Edward Duffy, showed the organization to be in good standing. The daylight saving scheme met with the approval of the members. A meeting will be held on the first Wednesday in June in the rooms at the Oddfellows Hall to hear report on new quarters by the executive.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRADE FOR ST. JOHN DURING SUMMER

Grain and Lumber Steamers Coming—C. P. R. to Increase Facilities for Bringing Cargo here—Information Concerning New Grain Elevator.

The shipping season for the port of St. John for the winter of 1915-16 has just closed and from a statement given out it shows that this port exceeded any other port in Canada for justness during the months of December, January, February, March and April. The shipments handled here for the past five months almost doubled those at Halifax, St. John showing 47,160 tons, to 282,954 tons at Halifax, and 9610 tons in the port of Vancouver.

While the winter shipments were much larger than at any other Canadian port the prospects are that summer business will be greater than ever before.

Increased Facilities.
It is the intention of the C. P. R. to spend a large sum of money this year to increase facilities for bringing export traffic over their line to the port of St. John. The expenditure will include the extension of yard room at McAdam Junction and West St. John, the lengthening of the sidings all along the line, and other improvements that will add about twenty per cent. to the capacity of the C. P. R. for next season. This year the C. P. R. was crowded to its fullest capacity.

Transports For the Summer.
A number of transports will come to St. John during the summer season for grain and lumber. The new sheds which were erected last fall were fully justified, and proved an important part of the equipment and port facilities which proved generally so satisfactory.

The New Elevator.
It is learned that the new grain elevator will have machinery for 1,000,000 bushels. The storage capacity, in order to get ready for next season, will only be 500,000 bushels, but it can be increased at any time the requirements of the port demand it. It is expected that tenders for the erection of the elevator will be called for within a few weeks,—just as soon as the plans can be got ready,—and that it will be ready for next winter's business.

BOTH LOCAL BATTALIONS DOING WELL

Men of 115th and 140th Now Rounding Into Fine Shape—Col. Wedderburn's Men to Valcartier Soon?

The 115th.
Three recruits were added to the strength of the 115th yesterday. This battalion is slowly but gradually creeping up to full strength. As there is always a wastage in every unit due to the strenuous training necessary for the work overseas the battalion will be mobilized about 100 men over strength. Individual company marches were carried out yesterday by the different companies.

Owing to the heavy rainfall the green was devoid of major league aspirants yesterday, but couples here and there in close proximity to the barracks were juggling the "old pill". Today Lieut. W. L. Jarvis will have charge of the barracks, and Lt. C. L. Short will be the orderly officer for tomorrow.

This morning will be occupied by physical drills, musketry drill and field exercises. There will be a route march this afternoon. This battalion will probably be leaving St. John for Valcartier some time during the first week of June.

The 140th.
Evidently the 140th Battalion is not long for St. John, judging by the new line of instruction now being carried on. Route marches have discontinued for the present and bayonet fighting is receiving the sole attention of the men.

Lt. W. G. McGinley, who recently returned from Halifax after successfully completing a course in bayonet fighting, is daily instructing the men in the use of this weapon.

The officers are picking out the material from the battalion for the baseball team which is billed to clash in Fredericton with another strong nine on Empire Day.

There will be no route march today. Lt. Osgood will have charge today with Lt. Armstrong next for duty.

HE SAW BUT 36 HOURS ON FIRING LINES

Lieut. Russell Bell Had Hard Luck in His Venturings Against the Huns.

Having completed a seven year term in the Canadian Militia, and during that time treated to a standard of physical excellence unsurpassed by any individual in the Canadian army, Lt. J. Russell Bell enlisted in the 16th Battalion in order to be among the number to go overseas in the first contingent.

He anticipated a long and interesting career upon the continent, but after only thirty-six hours of active service he was carried from the trenches unconscious and since that time has been admitted to and discharged from no less than sixteen hospitals.

Lt. Bell may have been noticed among the many thousands seen upon the main streets of St. John. He is obliged to wear an artificial hand, having lost one hand and the calf of his leg in his short fight with the Germans. The lieutenant left last night for Toronto where he will join the 17th Battalion for overseas.

The Good Old Summer Time.
In a few days time the ladies will be donning their fine, fluff, summery garments and enjoying the warmth of the summer sun. If you wish to be attired in style with the others get some of those beautiful rice volles or biscuit shade volles which F. A. Dykeman & Co. are selling at the attractive price of 25 cts. to 35 cts. a yard for the double width materials. When their buyer was in New York a short time ago he picked up a large lot of these in semi-remnants, the lengths ranging from fifteen to twenty-five yards at a discount of 25 p. c. That is why these are selling at such a low price.
