BOOT MARKS FEATURE OF BERRY TRIAL

Another Witness Declares He Saw No Imprint of Body at Water's Edge.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE IN BERRY HOUSE

Evidence Offered to Show Prisoner Told Visitor to Behave.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, March 13.—Evidence in connection with the trial of Ezekiel Berry, accused of murdering his wife, Minnie Berry, at Forest Hill, Albert county, on December 12th last. Minnie Steeves, one of the nearest neighbors, who arrived at the Berry house on the morning of the tragedy shortly after George Primmer, told of his examination of the pool where Mrs. Berry is alleged to have been drowned. He saw no tracks in the snow leading from the Berry house in the direction of the pool.

No Tracks of Woman. The main point of his evidence was that he failed to find the boot tracks supposed to have been made by Mrs. Berry around the edge of the pool, although they had been pointed out to him by the other witnesses.

Followed His Wife. The accused had told him that Mrs. Berry had left the house some time after ten o'clock the night before, after he had gone to bed. When he heard her go out he got up and followed her tracks as far as the road and noticed that she had gone in the direction of the culvert (or pool), and then he returned to the house. The hearing was adjourned until Monday afternoon.

Two Killed in P. E. I. Accidents

One is Drowned When Bulk-head Breaks Above a Water Wheel.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 13.—William McKenzie, aged 35, employed in Everett Goff's mill at Woodville, near Cardigan, met his death as the result of an accident yesterday. Got and McKenzie were inside a tank 20 feet deep and the fast square, just above the water wheel. They were making repairs when bulk-head gave way before the pressure of water and loe in the dam. Goff had a miraculous escape, being driven through the trap door at the bottom. McKenzie was hurled against the side of the tank and drowned. His body was recovered an hour later. He leaves a widow and two young children.

Mr. Wigmore Made Grievous Mistake in Appointing Amherst Senator.

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM BEST FOR DOMINION

"Nothing Can be Done to Rectify Wrong Against New Brunswick."

"Mr. Wigmore has made a very grievous mistake; if he had consulted his political friends he would never have got into this position." Such is the view of Senator Thorne of this city, who arrived home on Saturday from his senatorial duties at Ottawa.

"Believing, as I do," he continued, "that party government is in the best interests of the general public of Canada, then one should not sacrifice our party's interests because of any feeling that exists over the appointment of Senator McDonald, of Nova Scotia to represent New Brunswick in the Senate. In other words believing in our party we should do nothing to play into the hands of our political enemies. The matter is entirely local and does not affect the great principles of the party supports in the Dominion of Canada."

"There is no action that I can see that either the people of New Brunswick or the Senate can take that will rectify the wrong that has been done."

"In the interests of the Government its supporters in New Brunswick should hold a convention at as early a date as possible in which there should be the expression of the views of Government supporters, re-organization of the party and election of all officers necessary in the province, before an election within a few months. Individual interests under the conditions that exist now should not be considered, but what is in the best interests of the party in New Brunswick and its principles in the whole of the Dominion."

Senator Thorne is a firm believer in the old two-party system of Canada. The best interests of all, he is satisfied, are not served by legislative bodies, either Federal or Provincial, in which there are groups or class parties. A return to the Conservative and Liberal camps as of old would give better results than the present situation with its various classes of membership he is confident.

EXPERT SOVIET LEADERS ENTER MEXICAN TASK

From There They Will Carry on Active Propaganda in America.

TRAINED FOR THEIR WORK IN RUSSIA

To Enter United States Later if They Think Plan Safe Then.

(Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger.) Washington, March 13.—Information has reached the United States government of the arrival in Mexico City of 100 expert Bolshevik propagandists. They are graduates of the notorious "Smolny Institute" at Moscow, established early during their reign by Lenin and Trotsky for the purpose of training professional Red agitators. Mexico City is only a stop-over en route to their real destination, which is the United States. They are to carry south of the Rio Grande until the policy of the Harding administration toward "radicalism" seems to them to be clearly defined.

May Enter States. If it develops that "free speech" can be indulged in without danger of arrest or deportation, the Smolny alumni are prepared to scatter themselves over the face of this country and plant Soviet seed where they think the prospects of an eventual harvest are best. All of them speak English and some of them can agitate in continental European languages, which they hope to find useful among newly arrived or only partly assimilated American citizens.

In records of the Department of Justice which were bequeathed to Harry B. Doughty, Attorney General, there are said to be no fewer than 325,000 names of confessed communists, radicals or semi-Bolsheviks resident in the United States.

What Will Harding Do? It is among that "discuss" of Red sentiment the Smolny graduates plan first to go to work, if they decide it is worth their while to invade the country. Barring general statements, such as "liberty within the law," President Harding has not specifically defined his position toward radicalism. Red sympathizers seem to be basing such hopes as they cherish on their supposition that the new administration intends breaking with "Wilson policies" all along the line. The Smolny group in Mexico seems to be waiting for something definite to turn up before starting north.

SENATE ONLY BODY ABLE TO STUDY QUALIFICATION OF SENATOR J. McDONALD

B. N. A. Act Leaves Entire Discussion of Right to Sit With That Body.

SENATOR DANIEL STATES HIS VIEWS

Can Act Only if Some One Brings Matter Before the Chamber.

"The Senate is the only body that can act in the matter of the appointment of Mr. J. A. McDonald, of Nova Scotia, to a seat in the Senate as a representative of New Brunswick." Such is the assertion of Senator Daniel, who is back at his residence here from his work at the capital.

"The British North America Act gives it the privilege of passing upon the qualification of its members. If any one is courageous enough to bring the matter up in the Senate it will have to be considered. But so far no one has taken that action in the matter. Every other policy in connection with the case is merely barking up the wrong tree."

Speaking of the general duties of the Upper House at Ottawa, Senator Daniel referred to the large number of divorce petitions entered from Ontario. He did not think, however, that marital relations in that province were any more strained than in the others. New Brunswick, for instance, when the great divorce population was taken into consideration.

Senator Todd of St. Stephen, is, however, "It made some excitement," was all he wished to say last evening on the McDonald incident.

EX-KAISER PUTS BLAME FOR WAR ON THE BRITISH

Claims He Wanted League of Nations Formed in 1905.

MOBILIZATION IN APRIL IS VIEW

Allied Nations Preparing All Summer of 1914 He Alleges.

The Hague, March 13.—In the book he has written for private distribution in an attempt to show that Great Britain was responsible for the war, former Emperor William of Germany throughout speaks always of himself in the third person. He paints William II. as a man who tried for thirty years to maintain peace in Europe, but says he "was fooled by the perfidious machinations of Great Britain, France and Russia."

As long ago as 1905, the former Kaiser says he had tried to found a league of nations.

The Mobilization. The former Emperor in the book deals with the mobilization of 1914. He says this began as early as April of that year with the mobilization of the British banks in order to get large stocks of gold.

Then the Kaiser continues: "June, beginning of preparations for mobilization in England. June 15, Russia's troops called to arms in April and May under the pretense that they were to serve in manoeuvres are being kept under arms for an outbreak of war. July 29, All the Belgian reserve officers have been called to arms."

Serbian Situation. Regarding the refusal of the suggestion by Russia to submit the Serbian incident to the Hague court of arbitration the former Emperor says: "The proposal of the Czar was not approved. Russia wanted in this way to gain time to prepare for war. On August 4, Sir Edward Grey, (then British foreign secretary) demands of Germany that Germany halt her offensive march of troops in Belgium or otherwise Great Britain will protect Belgium. This was the British declaration of war."

ST PIERRE TO TRY TO PROVE NOT ON SCENE

Defence Hints That Crown Forces Should Have Followed Other Cue.

QUESTION OF TIME IS FACTOR

Witnesses Give Evidence Declaring Prisoner Was Not in Vicinity of Crime.

Special to The Standard. Edmundston, N. B., March 13.—William St. Pierre, on trial charged with the murder of Minnie Stevens on the night of October 11 last, is now having his inquest in court and with an array of witnesses will attempt to prove an alibi to free himself from the charge.

The evidence for the Crown was closed at noon Saturday. Dr. Hebert was in the witness box during the whole of the forenoon session and was put through a grilling cross examination by Attorney LeBlanc.

Every effort was made by the defence to break down the story told by the friend of the accused regarding statements made by St. Pierre to him. For two hours and a half the battle of wits between counsel and witness went on.

Dr. Hebert's Movements. At the start of the cross examination Mr. LeBlanc asked the witness if he had anything to fear in connection with the murder of Minnie Stevens and got a negative reply. The movements of Dr. Hebert on the night of the murder were traced by the counsel for the defence. The witness said he went to the Star hall, where the dance was held, a little after 9 o'clock. He left shortly afterwards, returning the second time in the vicinity of 11 o'clock. He admitted to counsel that he changed his suit between visits to the dance hall. He also admitted having had a few drinks that night at the dance, but they did not in any way muddle his mind or affect his memory.

"Did you ever say to anyone over this matter, that you felt like throwing yourself in the river?" asked Mr. LeBlanc.

"I never made any such remark to any person," was the reply.

The evidence given by Dr. Hebert at the coroner's inquest into the tragedy had at the preliminary hearing was carefully checked up with his testimony of Friday by counsel for the defence.

Dr. Hebert's case in the afternoon. Max Cormier, associated with Mr. LeBlanc on the defence, made the opening of the day. He said his client was a victim of circumstances. The Crown, he said, had shown the movements of his client on the night of October 11th, up to about 8:30 o'clock. They have also shown he was back again on the street sometime after 9 o'clock and later at the Star dance hall. "It will be our purpose to show the witnesses," he said, "that every minute from 8 o'clock to the evening until he went to the dance." He said it would be shown that St. Pierre was never at any time on Main street when the crime is said to have occurred on the night of October 11th.

Allegation Against. The defence would also say that at 8:30 the time at which the screams of a girl in distress were heard, St. Pierre was far from the place of the tragedy on the street. He said he had been there. The counsel for the accused said it would be further shown that accused never had any blood on his clothes or person as was said by the Crown. "Dr. Hebert will be asked to admit, to explain certain statements attributed to St. Pierre. He intimated to the jury that evidence would be introduced to show that Mrs. Stevens, whose death the Crown should have followed up in the case that might have led to finding the real perpetrator of the crime." (Continued on page 2.)

SIX IRISH WILL PAY FOR MURDER

Efforts to Save the Men Fail and Executions Are Planned for This Morning.

Dublin, March 13.—The Lord Mayor was officially informed tonight that the government had decided that the law should take its course in the case of the six prisoners in Mount Joy. In consequence, the executions will be carried out tomorrow morning.

Protest Parade. There was a striking demonstration here today in protest against the execution. Anti-British banners bearing calumnious remarks concerning Great Britain and the administration of Premier Lloyd George which generally characterized Sinn Fein doings of this nature, were borne through the streets in a procession, arranged hastily by women overnight.

Reaching Mount Joy prison where the condemned men are incarcerated, the women lined up two deep along the prison wall and planted their banners opposite the gates. Then they knelt and recited the rosary after which they silently dispersed.

Standardization Was Decided Upon

English Papers Publish Letters on Advantages of Golf Ball Favored by Americans.

London, Feb. 21.—In the wake of recent newspaper discussions by English golfers on the wisdom of players using the United States standard golf ball, the press is now publishing contributed letters on the advisability of the ball favored as "standard" by American devotees of the game.

Standardization was decided upon at a meeting last year of the rules committees of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews with delegates from the United States and Western Golf Association. It was voted that, beginning May 1, 1921, a ball used in tournament play must not weigh more than 1.62 ounce, nor have a diameter of less than 1.62 inches.

Effect of Ruling. The effect of the ruling was to reduce the size of the small, heavy ball popular in England, but to reduce the weight slightly. It rendered what is known in the United States as the "39" eligible for competition but barred the 31-pennyweights ball used in England. English players had used nothing between the 29 and 31-pennyweights balls in their home play.

Allen Cup Games For Winnipeg

Application from Brandon for Injunction Was Dismissed by Mr. Justice Curran.

Winnipeg, Man., March 13.—Two Allen Cup games will be played in Winnipeg. Mr. Justice Curran Saturday morning dismissed an application from Brandon for an injunction restraining I. Sterling, president of the C. A. H. A. from allocating the games to this city.

The application set forth that it was desirable on the part of the Brandon hockey club to have a decision rendered by the executive of the C. A. H. A. as to when and where the games should be played. It was claimed that the time and place had been set by President Sterling, who was exceeding his authority in so doing.

Rules of the Canadian hockey association were quoted and discussed at great length. Mr. Justice Curran expressed the opinion that it would be unwise for the court to interfere in the matter. He considered that the plaintiff's failed to come within the law in the case as presented and it was held that they had no standing on which to apply to the premier association.

BOOT MARKS FEATURE OF BERRY TRIAL

Another Witness Declares He Saw No Imprint of Body at Water's Edge.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE IN BERRY HOUSE

Evidence Offered to Show Prisoner Told Visitor to Behave.

Elmore Stooover, who visited the scene of the tragedy on the morning of Mrs. Berry's death, and who is one of the nearest neighbors, was called by the prosecution. He said he was called to Berry's place on December 15th last and saw the body of Mrs. Berry lying on three chairs in the kitchen. "I noticed," he said, "that the lower part of the right ear was swollen and there was black below the ear. I noticed a little blood coming from the side of the jaw from a scratch."

Went to the Pool

I went down to the pool with George Stooover and the accused. I noticed hand-sled tracks, also moccasins and boot tracks in the snow. I don't think the hand-sled tracks went all the way down to the pool. I think they went back to the house. I didn't notice any boot tracks in the snow. It had been snowing and drifting some all night. In going to Berry's that morning I did not see any tracks. I don't remember that the accused said anything to me about the tracks.

Showed the Spot

I didn't walk around the pool, but Berry showed me where the body had been found on the northwest corner of the pool. At the point where he said the body was lying, the water would be from three to five inches deep. There was an old mill engine dumped on the roadside of the fence. We walked back to the house. Where the accused told me he had the body near the engine after taking her out of the pool, I noticed that the snow was packed a little and it appeared to be damp and a little colored.

No Tracks at Water

I did not notice any tracks at the pool where accused said he took the body out. I could not see boot tracks all the way down to the pool. The boot tracks looked as if the person was in a hurry or running. Could not see the boot tracks all the way down, as they had been somewhat obliterated by the moccasins tracks and hand-sled tracks. Where the boot tracks were noticeable was on the side of the road. They were visible enough to know that they were boot tracks, although they had drifted in somewhat. The hand-sled tracks did not extend to the culvert. It would be about twenty yards or twenty paces from the engine to the culvert. The boot tracks in that locality were visible, plainly going to the culvert. He noticed the boot tracks in any other direction. There were no return boot tracks.

What Accused Said

Accused told the witness he had gone to bed around ten o'clock on the previous night; he had heard his wife go from the house into the lean-to, heard her come back; heard her going out through both doors. He got up and tracked her to the road. Her tracks went easterly towards the culvert. He assisted in removing the remains. The body was very limp. There was no indication, he believed, of the muscles hardening or setting. He observed a little dampness, very little. There was a little dampness on the floor. Witness saw the pool mess-tread. The deepest part would be twenty-two inches. Witness further stated that Berry was a hard worker, and as far as he knew a good provider. Mrs. Berry was also a hard worker and certainly looked after her children.

Tells of Orders

Arthur Wilkins gave evidence to the effect that he was not personally acquainted with Minnie Berry. He was at the Berry home in December, previous to the death of Mrs. Berry, about three weeks. At that time, he said, some men were cutting wood in the yard. He went in the house, and after being in about a minute Mr. Berry came in, saying: "Young fellow, I want you to cut this out." That was all that was said. He went to the house to get some yarn which the wife of accused had spun for him. The accused was in the house when he came out. He got the yarn. He was taking this yarn to his sister's in Forest Glen to get it knit into a sweater. Berry made no statements to his wife that he heard while he (witness) was in the house. Witness stated he was never in Berry's house before. He was at the door once, when he left the yarn there. He lived three or four miles from Berry's. He took what he said in the way of a joke.

Got Sea Horse In Fish Trawl

Halifax, N. S., March 13.—A real home-grown "sea horse," weighing about 1,000 pounds, was taken in the trawl of the National Fish Company's steam trawler Venosta on one of her late trips to the "Bank." The sea horse was almost dead when taken aboard the Venosta and put up little fight, dying soon afterward.

The fishermen thought the monster had been carried out to sea on an ice field and had been worn out by his constant efforts in going from floe to floe. His tough hide was wrinkled and sagged, and like Kingling's bull seal, "Oh! but he was old."

The so-called "sea-horse," associated in the popular mind with Davy Jones' Locker and Mother Carey, is a relative of the common or garden variety of seal, whose handsome coat is so dear to the heart of Mrs. and Miss Canuk.

ST. PIERRE TO TRY TO PROVE NOT ON SCENE

Defence Hints That Crown Forces Should Have Followed Other Cue.

QUESTION OF TIME IS FACTOR

Witnesses Give Evidence Declaring Prisoner Was Not in Vicinity of Crime.

Eva Cyr, 19 years of age, the first witness called by the defence said she had known the accused several years and lived just two houses below him on the same street, Church street. On the night of October 11th, she testified to having gone to a meeting of the Children's Society at the church, leaving her house in time to reach the church at 7.30. After meeting she returned to her home accompanied by a Miss Gagnon and Frank Courier. She and Miss Gagnon were met by Courier at the Convent gate.

They reached the Cyr home about 8.30, she said, and remained there some time. Some time after nine o'clock and before 9.30 they left the house, crossed the street to the sidewalk and went up Church Street. She said they met the accused coming down the hill going in the direction of the brick school house. She testified that accused passed on her left; she had a plain view of him and there were no blood marks on his face.

Other Evidence Given.

It will be recalled that the crown witnesses placed the screams near the river bank on Emerson Street at about 9.15 on the night of October 11th, that Charlie McGoon saw St. Pierre at the house where the pool of blood was found, at about 9.20 or 9.25 that night, and that it was about 9.20 when Mr. Picard and Mrs. Bellman met the accused coming from the direction of the brick school house, in which direction McGoon said he saw him going along the river path after having looked into the water at about the spot where the dead girl's body was found.

Visit The Scene.

The difference in time as to where they saw the accused, and that of the defendant's witnesses will be the scrapping point. The clock is to play an important part in the St. Pierre trial.

Court suspended at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in order that the jurors might be taken to the various streets brought into the case and to the bars and fences which have been frequently mentioned.

Doctor Claims Right

Fredericton, N. B., March 13.—Whether a physician practising in a country district where there are no vendors is authorized to sell liquor by the bottle to patients for whom he prescribes it, is the point involved in a prohibition act case here.

The defendant is Dr. W. T. Ryan, of Boiestown, who claimed he had the right to sell liquor to two witnesses who were called and swore they had purchased quart bottles of whiskey at $4.50 each from him. Decision has been reserved by Magistrate Lawlor at Newcastle.

Released From Jail For Sunday Arrest

Judge Barry Holds Prisoner's Arrest and Commitment on That Day Illegal.

Fredericton, N. B., March 13.—Mr. Justice Barry issued an order on Monday releasing George B. Moore, who was serving a sentence of six months in the York County jail for a second offence violation of the prohibition act. The grounds of the application were that the commitment issued following his conviction was served and the arrest made on Sunday. He had served almost two weeks.

Moore was charged with selling liquor last Christmas eve, a witness swearing he had paid him $9.50 for a Imperial quart of gin. After being arrested when the charge was laid he was released under $2,000 bail and after being convicted, was granted the request of counsel, a respite for several days to get his business matters fixed up before going to jail. After being given this respite he went to Ontario and Montreal to buy horses with his partner in a sales and livery stable business here, and although the police made several attempts to serve the commitment papers that had been issued he succeeded in evading them until Sunday, Feb. 20th, when he was arrested. He was at his livery stable when arrested. The grounds taken in the habeas corpus proceedings were that a commitment could not be legally served and the arrest made on Sunday.

CALL TO THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY

Periodically for months past we have been urging upon the Conservative party in this city and province to begin the work of organizing its working forces in readiness for the general election that must come in the not distant future. As far as we have been able to judge our exhortations in this regard have been of much effect as a voice crying in the wilderness. Nothing appears to have been done, and as likely as not, nothing will be done until the writ is signed, and there will be the usual hurry and scurry to get into working order, with the natural result that when polling day comes, the working forces are about twenty-five per cent. deficient.

The Standard does not pretend to have any particular influence with the Conservative party here. Senator Thorne has, and while the party has paid no heed whatever to the suggestions we have made from time to time, it will probably heed what he has to say. In another column will be found a resume of the Senator's ideas upon the present political situation, which it would be just as well for the party to take note of and act upon. His advice is to get busy with as little delay as possible. His suggestion that a general convention of the party in the province be called at an early date to consider the whole situation is, to say the least, a very wise one, and if the party leaders are not wholly lost to all sense of responsibility, they will take steps to act upon it. Conservative candidates in this province are not going to be elected by acclamation, and it would be as well for their supporters not to forget this fact.

THE MARITIME PROVINCES

The position in which the Maritime Provinces find themselves in regard to the remainder of Canada is providing serious food for thought among the people who reside in them. Apparently in the view of the authorities at Ottawa, Canada begins at Quebec and ends at the Rockies. But when anything is wanted for the betterment of that part of Canada, the Maritime Provinces have to provide their quota of the cost. Take the railway situation for instance. That portion of the government system which runs through these provinces pays, or very nearly pays—its way. At least 15,000 miles of railway has been built during the past few years in Ontario and the Western provinces, which is being operated for the benefit solely of those provinces, at a cost of a million dollars every year. This is no fault of the Maritimes, yet they have to shoulder their proportion of the burden, not understanding that they get no advantage whatever from these roads.

These roads are not even used to provide trade in the country. There is nothing being done to stimulate a home market for Canadian produce and goods. Every effort is directed towards finding markets outside the country. This is well enough in its way, but why not endeavor to encourage inter-provincial trade? If there is any trade to be done, as far as possible it is to be done across the border, rather than from one province to the other. Very little trade passes between the Maritime provinces and the remainder of the country, and nothing is being done to improve conditions. How is it to be expected that the provinces can progress as they ought to, if they are deliberately handicapped by succeeding governments?

SELF-DETERMINATION

A correspondent in The New York Times pertinently asks the National Council of the Friends of Irish Freedom, which is demanding that Great Britain and France surrender their American islands and territory as part payment of war indebtedness, how they make this request jibe with the principle of self-determination. He points out:

In accordance with this principle, which the Friends of Irish Freedom have always professed to uphold, could France and Great Britain surrender the territories in question and the inhabitants thereof without consulting them and at the demand of another government as compensation in whole or in part of a debt contracted by the French and British Governments acting in the name of the native people?

It is hard to understand how so many American papers could have taken the proposal seriously. Great Britain could not and would not think of such a scheme without the consent of those concerned. As a matter of fact there is a movement on foot at the present time to form a federation of the islands and to establish responsible government forming a new self-governing Dominion.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor St. John Standard,
 St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir—Recognizing the injustice that has been done New Brunswick in the appointment of an Amherst, Nova Scotia man as New Brunswick Senator, I would suggest, in order that good feeling may continue to prevail between the two provinces, that the Standard present the name of some party as well qualified to fill the position as our own "Timmy" McDonald, to succeed the late lamented Hon. A. B. Crosby, like our friend "Mac" I am not even waiting the burial of the deceased before putting my suggestion on file.

Yours, A Former New Brunswicker, now A NOVA SCOTIAN.
 Amherst, N. S., Mar. 11th, 1921.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Self-Determination.
 Ten counties in Idaho threaten to secede and establish a separate state. By this application of the "self-determination" theory about every resident in the state would be an office-holder.—Vancouver Province.

Hotel Profits.
 It is interesting to learn, in face of the predictions that prohibition of the open bar would spell the ruin of hotels everywhere in the province, that the King Edward hotel in Toronto has during the past year earned 28 per cent on its capital, these figures being arrived at after providing for all costs of operation, taxes, salaries, maintenance and all expenses except depreciation, repairs and any sum that may become payable under the income tax. The sum applicable to dividends represents 14 per cent on the investment.—Ottawa Citizen.

Entitled to Special Help.
 There may be some reason in saying that a veteran who has full use of all his limbs and faculties, just as he had before he went overseas, should resume the status of an ordinary citizen, but armless or legless veterans are permanently handicapped. Their disability entitles them to special help.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

A BIT OF VERSE

A SONG OF HOME.
 Here is my kingdom—here within these walls;
 Such narrow walls, and yet they bound me
 The whole wide world—north, south, east and west—
 The highest mountain top and farthest sea.

A little kingdom, bounded by four walls,
 And yet within its narrow space I see
 The tender eyes of him my heart calls king,
 A little child who waits beside my knee.

A lowly kingdom, yet 'tis set about
 With moat and wall and guarded battlement,
 By whose strong walls the warder, loveliest,
 Over my little kingdom of content.

What matters, then, the burden of the day?
 Dear heart, what matters anything to me
 If I can touch your hands at evening
 And hold a little child upon my knee?
 —Florence J. Hadley.

Boycott Head Is A Strange Hindu

Peculiarities of Gandhi Who Leads Activity Against British in India.

London, March 13.—Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, who holds such sway over a certain section of the Indian people and who has been head of the anti-government boycotts in an attempt to force home-rule in India, is 51 years of age with greying hair, thinning, thoughtful eyes and slim sloping hands, says a correspondent of the Daily Mail.

The writer continues: "His voice is low-pitched and monotonous, yet pleasing, whether in Gujarati or English."

"He is married and has four sons. Gandhi lives in Ahmedabad, the big mill center, where he has founded a settlement for the culture of truth in poverty and for handweaving, and primitive agriculture.

Not a Priest.

"Gandhi is not, as is commonly supposed, a Brahmin of the priestly caste. He belongs to a Kshatriya, or trading caste, family resident in Kathiawar. He descends from politicians. His political mind comes from his father, who was a Dewan, or chief minister, of the state of Porbander for 25 years.

"Gandhi's genius lies in making lost causes live. In his disarming sweetness of a saint he adds all the arts of the advocate. In South Africa, he matched even General Smuts. They sparred for years over Indian claims without quarrelling.

Diet Experimenters.

"Gandhi has a hobby, it is experimenting in diet. Eighteen months ago he had reduced his daily food to

It follows was going to start up a game of something, and we went around to look for Puda Simkins and he was sitting on his front steps with his hand up to his face and a sad expression on it, saying, O boy maybe I aint got a head of a sea snake, O boy.

France Will Help American Cemeteries

(Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger.)
 Washington, March 13.—France will assist in the beautification of the American military cemeteries at Belleau Wood and Romagne-Sous-Montfaucon as a tribute to the Americans who fell in the world war. The French foreign office also has notified the American Embassy that the French government will purchase and present to the United States the property upon which Marine Corps monument is to be placed at Belleau Wood, as a gift from the French republic to the soldiers of the United States.

"He never sees a debtor, never gives evidence against an enemy, always travels third-class, the some of discomfort in India, and always goes barefoot. He can sleep when he likes and he dispenses with sleep for long periods at will.

"India's humble masses, saturated with ancient philosophy, have long imagined a saviour who should unite earthly practice to divine precept. The key to Gandhi and Gandhianism is wrapped in his self-revealing sentence: 'Most religious men I have met are politicians in disguise; I, however, who wear the guise of a politician, am at heart a religious man.'

Wireless From South America To Paris

Buenos Aires, March 13.—Wireless telephone communication between Buenos Aires and Paris is a promise of the not distant future. The government has granted a concession to the General Wireless Telegraph Company of Paris to construct on the Argentine coast a powerful radio-telegraph and radio-telephone station to communicate with France and other European countries. The company, it is stated, expects to establish telephone connection with Paris by a system of continuous waves of 800 kilowatt power and over.

WAS SUFFERING FROM INDIGESTION

No Fear of Pains Now.

Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble, and many people suffer terribly after every meal they eat. The rising and souring of the food, pains in the stomach, heartburn, water break, belching of wind, vomiting shortly after eating, etc., are some of the symptoms.

There is no need for any person to be troubled with indigestion, dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble if they would only take Burdock Blood Bitters, which contains a combination of nature's roots, herbs, barks and berries; a combination that cannot be put in the stomach right.

Mr. H. H. Collins, Norton, N. B., writes: "I was with the overseas forces for four years and two months, and in October, 1915, I was unfortunately enough to be wounded and taken prisoner. I was a prisoner for two and a half years, and the food they gave us was not good at times, and after a few months I found I was suffering from indigestion. When I came home in July, 1919, was nearly a wreck. I was told to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and found great relief, and can now eat without fear of pains and sickness. I would recommend B. B. B. to all who suffer from indigestion."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has made a reputation second to none for relieving all stomach troubles. Manufactured only by The T. Millard Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Emma S. Fiske Memorial Fund

Proposed to Raise Fund to be Expended in Prizes to Pupils With High Marks in French.

In commemoration of Mrs. Fiske's unusual qualities of mind and heart, which still keep her a force and presence in the lives of those who knew her: in commemoration also of her many years' work as a teacher of the French language in St. John city and county, it is proposed to raise at once a fund of $500 to $1,000, to be known as The Emma S. Fiske Memorial Fund.

This fund is to be expended in prizes of $50 or more, to be awarded to that pupil graduating from the sixteenth grade of the St. John High Schools with the highest marks in French. The number of prizes will be regulated by the amount of money subscribed, but there will be at least one prize of $50 each year for the next ten years, beginning in June, 1921.

Business and professional people now recognize that a speaking knowledge of French, the language of science, art and commerce, is much needed by eastern Canadians.

The world also affirms that no one is fully educated without a good knowledge of French.

The St. John Board of School Trustees have agreed to appoint a committee and all examinations will take place in one room in charge of this committee.

These scholarships will be a very great advantage to hundreds of pupils in the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades of the public schools.

France is our ally, and the knowledge of the French language will tend to bind together more closely thousands of our fellow Canadians who speak it in the Province of Quebec and New Brunswick.

An appeal is being made to friends of the late Mrs. Fiske who taught the language for some twenty years in St. John, and to many French Canadians who are interested in the spread of the language, to support the establishment of the scholarship.

The following form the scholarship committee:—W. Frank Hatheway, chairman; Mrs. Frederick A. Foster, treasurer; Mrs. George Carvill, secretary; Mrs. John Seely, Mrs. Mary C. Grubb, Mrs. Silas Alward, Mrs. F. E. Holman, Mrs. W. F. Hatheway, Miss Muriel Ford, H. S. Bridges, M. A. Ph. D., Daniel Mullis, K. C.

A successful pantry sale and tea in aid of the High School scholarship and memorial fund was held Saturday afternoon in the Germain street Baptist Institute, under the auspices of the St. John High School Alumnae Association. The room was artistically decorated with the colors of the high school, and bouquets of red tulips and pussy-willows adorned the tables. There was a large patronage. Mrs. Bertram Smith was general convener, and was assisted by Miss Laura Myles and Miss Grace Campbell, in charge of the pantry table; Miss Jean Somerville, Miss Helen Murdoch and Miss Marion Thompson, in charge of the candy table; Mrs. W. OLD FASHIONED NAMES ARE POPULAR

Michael, is becoming hackneyed now; it is to this generation of babies what Glad and Gerald were in their father's day and what Peter was to boys now about ten years old, says a London Observer. Timothy and Simon are being introduced again, as well as Charles and Thomas, Donald, Hugh, Quentin, Angus and Archibald are also good names.

Though little girls are permitted dualities of their baptismal names more indulgently than their brothers, we find their christened names that do not invite shortening. There is a new and very wide appreciation for Mary, as well as for Ann and for the old Puritan names Clemency, Patience, Grace and Prudence. We find some delightful little babies answering to the names Hope, Felicity, Angela, Lavender, Bridget and Lettice, and others who might be French babies, for they bear such charming names as Yvonne, Celestia, Claudine, Modeste, Suzanne and Yvette.

Where there is a choice between an old name and its more recently favored equivalent, the old one triumphs. Thus Katharine prevails over Kathleen and Elizabeth over Betty.

An interesting talk on the Equinox was given recently before the Women's Canadian Club of Toronto by Rev. A. L. Fleming.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Arthur P. McKel took place from her late residence Metcalf St. yesterday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. J. C. B. Appel officiated and the choir of Douglas Avenue Christian Church rendered music. Interment was in Cedar Hill.

There was a large attendance at the funeral of R. Ro y Evans which took place yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from St. Mary's Church. Rev. R. Taylor McKim officiated. Floral tributes were numerous. The firemen and Knights of Pythias attended in a body to pay respect to one of their members. Interment was at Fernhill.

These scholarships will be a very great advantage to hundreds of pupils in the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades of the public schools.

France is our ally, and the knowledge of the French language will tend to bind together more closely thousands of our fellow Canadians who speak it in the Province of Quebec and New Brunswick.

A successful pantry sale and tea in aid of the High School scholarship and memorial fund was held Saturday afternoon in the Germain street Baptist Institute, under the auspices of the St. John High School Alumnae Association. The room was artistically decorated with the colors of the high school, and bouquets of red tulips and pussy-willows adorned the tables. There was a large patronage. Mrs. Bertram Smith was general convener, and was assisted by Miss Laura Myles and Miss Grace Campbell, in charge of the pantry table; Miss Jean Somerville, Miss Helen Murdoch and Miss Marion Thompson, in charge of the candy table; Mrs. W. LET'S TALK IT OVER

Several of the Western papers have contained most interesting accounts of the entertainment provided by soldier settlers' wives by the Soldier Settlement Board, assisted by Winthrop organizations. Arrangements were made for some three wives to attend the convention. Hospitality was provided for them; they were given drives and teas, and an excellent programme of lectures was arranged. "Heaven on earth" is the way one woman described her enjoyment at the outing. Another woman said she had been in Canada fifteen years and had never before had such a good time.

"Thinking of how much those women on farms out West who are so far from their friends, must have appreciated this visit, made me wonder if even in our own province there are not some people to whom a change would be beneficial and enjoyable. It might not be that there are so many who suffer from loneliness, but there may be many who suffer from monotony. There are people from the States who settle in our province and who, perhaps, by nature of the isolated position of their farms, never get to know the Cana-

The Cross In Modern Art

Fifth in Series of Sermons Preached by Rev. F. S. Dowling in St. Andrew's.

In St. Andrew's Church last night the minister, Rev. F. S. Dowling interpreted the message of Lord Madox Brown's painting "Christ washing Peter's Feet." This was the fifth in a series of "The Cross in Modern Art," and a large congregation was present.

Born Before His Age. Like Millet, his contemporary, this painter was in advance of his age and suffered discouragement to a considerable extent when he received a letter expressing appreciation of his marvelous poetic imagination and glorious coloring, and requesting to be received as a pupil. Brown prepared to receive the painter with an open arm, but feeling sure in his own mind that such a letter was a hoax. The writer was Rossetto, and for years these two men worked together.

Talented From Youth. Very early, even as a boy, Madox Brown showed artistic genius. At 16 he painted his first compositions and at 18 made his first exhibition "Job on the Ash Heap." Even this his early work indicated an independent point of view and was strenuous in execution.

Spurred By Royal Academy. Brown was born in Calais, France in 1821, the son of a retired British naval officer, he studied in Antwerp under Baron Wegger, a leading light of the Belgian school of art, in Paris, in Rome, and finally took up residence in London where he painted his most famous pictures, and where the Royal Academy ever treated him as a foreigner. Towards the close of his life, instinctively Brown felt the twelve panels in the city hall of Manchester representing historical scenes. He died before this was completed.

His Masterpiece. In conclusion the minister said the picture conveyed at least two great suggestions. One, that in every little act, in every helpful deed, in every little commonplace thing done in purity of motive, the glory of God is seen, and the other is that we do all need to be cleansed, our souls must be washed and made clean. There is One, and One only who can do that. He has opened for us a fountain where even the vilest sinner may be made clean and pure as the white, driven snow. Let Peter, we must, say shall we not reverently and gladly, submit, "If I wash you not you have no part with me."

Slenderness, Note Of Spring Fashions

Slenderness, note of spring fashions. The spring collection of Gisele is built in the characteristic straight-line style associated with this house, though a new line is conceded in the use of several skirt trunks out, circular and also in slight circular movement of the skirts themselves. In general, however, the models are still short, straight and simple, with sleeves short and necklines open.

Colored Beadwork. Lines of Douillet remain straight, but are slightly longer in interpretation, with the waistline low. There are likewise a large number of irregular hem treatments. The whole collection, both daytime and evening models, shows quantities of crystal and colored beadwork.

Paquin's opening showed little change, although the collection is slender, with the exception of a few tail coats, made with waistline open, and sleeves long.

The effect of slenderness is aided by the use of some skirts that are much longer, especially those for afternoon and evening use. Skirts are likewise of interest because of their trunk and flounce treatments, frequently cut circular.

For suits, the classic line is adhered to for one group, fullness introduced into the skirt by means of steamed necklines.

Short jackets. There are also fancy suits, whose short jackets are finished with a double ripple flounce. Six suits, in both tailcoats and crepes, form still a third series, the jackets cut with godets at the sides and front.

The coats by this creator are largely in beige and copper colored woollens, bloused slightly at the sides or back. There are some circular flounce tunics introduced in some models. Medium length caps are developed in silk crepe, while hatcote brocade is the medium for evening caps.

Molyneux, for day, afternoon and evening, has the majority of dresses built to hang straight from the shoulder, the only being girde treatment placed at a low waistline and interrupting the fall by a slight blousing, but in many of the dresses even this is suppressed. Many of the evening gowns are straight, not simply cut straight, but so slim as to follow the lines of the figure.

Gunman Held Up Chinaman

At Point of Revolver Hum Song, Union Street, Was Robbed of $98.80.
 A masked gunman with a handkerchief held over his eyes, coat pulled up around his neck, soft hat down over his eyes, and holding a business looking revolver as the proper angle—his whole make-up scenario—entered the little laundry of Hum Song, 218 Union street, at 11:50 Saturday night, and politely requested the industrious Celestial who was patiently working over the complicated ruffles of somebody's best Sunday bib and tucker, to hold up his hands. As the yegg did not hurry any vile epithets of being a rat-eater or chicken-thief at the Chinaman, the latter did not return by hurling his fist at him but complied with the request.

Robbed the Till
 The gunman then stepped over to the till and extracted $98.80 from the till and backing out of the door disappeared into the night. It was some time before the Mongolian recovered from the shock caused by the disappearance of his roll. For the thought of the tubs and tubs of soap suds, and the smelch pushing of the fat iron it represented, quite took the starch out of him. However, when he did recover, he informed the police of his loss, and at the department has a fairly good idea of the culprit, his arrest may soon follow.

Services At The Main St. Church

Large Congregations Heard Inspiring Sermons Yesterday by Rev. Bowley Green.
 Large congregations were present at both morning and evening services at the Main Street Baptist Church yesterday to hear the inspiring messages of Rev. Dr. Bowley Green of Montreal, who is assisting the pastor, Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, in the evangelistic campaign now being carried out there.

For the morning, Dr. Green had as his subject the relationship of the believer to Christ. He pointed out that Christ must become Saviour and then Lord and dwell more particularly on the latter part of the relationship. If the church was to accomplish the work in the world which Christ intended to do the individual members must come to a clearer realization of the Lordship of the Master and be willing to be led by Him in all things.

At the evening service the speaker drew a number of lessons from the story of Paul's experience with the Philippian jailer. Paul, led of God, had come into Europe to preach and was cast into prison. The jailer, a Roman soldier whose only idea was obedience to military orders and did not mind who was hurt in carrying them out, thrust Paul and Silas into the inner dungeon. The manifestation of God's power in releasing the prisoners reached his heart and changed his attitude, making a man out of what was formerly a mere machine, and caused him to come asking what he must do to be saved.

The speaker made a deep impression on the congregations and at the close of the evening service many expressed a desire to accept Christ as Saviour and Lord.

Special music was rendered by the choir. The singing of "Jesus is standing in Pilate's Hall" by Mr. Sullivan at the evening service being particularly effective.

The meetings have been growing in number nightly and many will no doubt take advantage of the opportunity of hearing Dr. Green's services, which will be held each night except Saturday.

Found Roaming Through Woods

Charles Grey, With Very-Little Clothing, Located With Frozen Feet by Lumbermen.
 Early last evening a report was telephoned into the police headquarters that a man with very little clothing on and apparently insane was roaming through the woods on the Black River Road. Sergeant Detective Powers, accompanied by his aides, Detectives Hildescombe and Donahue immediately set out to investigate.

Found At a Camp
 On arriving at Fred Hasen's lumber camp, the unfortunate person was being administered to by the lumbermen. He gave his name as William Grey and said he was about forty-eight years of age, a Scotchman by birth and a former fireman on the Government steamer Aberdeen. He accounted for his whereabouts by saying he was looking for work.

When the man was found yesterday afternoon he was without hat, coat, boots or stockings and suffering intensely from frozen feet. The men took him to their camp, and Charles Boyce telephoned the news into the city.

Roaming Since Thursday
 In conversation with the city sleuths the man appeared quite rational, but as his condition warranted medical attention he was taken into the patrol and brought into city to the hospital. He told the officers that he had been in the woods since Thursday. He said he had a brother in Eastmount named Charles Grey.

The chief officer of the Aberdeen informed the Standard last night that a man answering to Grey's description and bearing that name had been employed a short time ago as a fireman on board ship, but was discharged for neglect of his duties. He said he had heard the man say that Grey was eccentric, and the general belief was that the man was a little off.

Action Brought By Johnson Lodge

Mrs. George O. Akerley Defendant in Case Under Absconding Debtors' Act.
 The judgment in an action brought by Johnson Lodge L. O. B. A. No. 19 against Mrs. George O. Akerley, Grand Prioresse of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Orange Order for British North America, has been postponed to March 27.

The action was brought under the Absconding Debtors Act by Johnson Lodge, who alleged that Mrs. Akerley had absconded with $1,900, the property of the lodge. Acting under their representatives, the sheriff seized furniture purporting to be her property.

Hearing of this action, Mrs. Akerley, who had been in Boston, returned home, and through her counsel, J. Starr Tait, took out a petition stating that she was not an absconding debtor as alleged, nor had she defrauded with any funds, the property of the lodge.

Saturday three affidavits were filed before Chief Justice McKeown in connection with the property brought to have been hers by George O. Akerley, Alexander Chisholm and Catherine Chisholm. The affidavits set out that the furniture seized was not the property of Mrs. Akerley, but theirs.

Two actions have now been involved, the lodge will be required to prove that the ownership of the furniture is not in the affidavits, and also that Mrs. Akerley has absconded with funds belonging to the lodge.

Some interesting developments are being looked forward to. The case was postponed Saturday, as the Chief Justice stated it was too important a matter to be taken up in the absence of a court stenographer. J. F. H. Hood represented Johnson Lodge.

Police Sergeant Horace McLeese of the St. John force, Joseph Cameron, and a clerk from Max Lamport's second hand store, gave evidence. The prosecution was conducted by Detective Donahue. The case was postponed for further hearing.

Early Morning Robber Arrested

Guy Northrup Was Found by the Police in Byron Brothers' Grocery, Stanley Street
 The tracking of glass aroused the suspicions of residents on Stanley street early Sunday morning and telephone message was sent into police headquarters. Inspector Caples and Callman Hunt set out to investigate. Nothing aroused their suspicion until they reached Byron Brothers grocery when they perceived a pane of glass broken in the basement window. The opening was a small one but of floor flat, it possessed of a suppleness that makes him one of the envied ones of the force. He wriggled through the hole and began to investigate. All seemed well until the discovery of his flashlight struck a keg in the cellar, and there was the culprit, not on the keg, but under it. The hopeless calamity of big feet was quite apparent, they gave the otherwise perfect camouflage away.

The midnight visitor was requested to cease hiding his light under a bushel, or rather the hole, and disclose his identity. He did so, and was recognized as Guy Northrup. He was searched and a considerable sum of money was found on his person which on later investigation proved to have been taken from the till up stairs. He was taken to the police station where a charge of breaking and entering, and stealing a sum of money, was entered against him.

The transmission line will be carried on steel towers, each 800 feet apart. They will be placed on concrete bases, for which the tenders have been called. The towers will be about fifty feet high.

John Beckwith Sent To Dorchester

Youth Stole Surgical Instruments from Dr. Addy—Gets Three Years.
 In the police court Saturday, John Beckwith, the boy whom the reform school couldn't reform, was sentenced to three years in the Dorchester penitentiary with hard labor for stealing surgical instruments, the property of Dr. G. A. B. Addy.

Beckwith served a number of terms in the Industrial School, from which he escaped several times. He was let off on suspended sentences on a number of occasions and given a chance to redeem himself, but to no avail. Only a few months ago he attacked another with a knife, and after a severe lecture was let go. The court gave him much consideration because of the fact that he was a juvenile; recently he entered into his seventeenth year, however, and having again placed himself under the ban of the law, must now suffer its penalty.

A case against William Cole, charged with using insulting and abusive language to John Bond, was stood over till Tuesday afternoon, after some evidence had been taken.

The horse case against S. Dunham was resumed, but again postponed for witnesses today.

A case against William Daley, charged with offenders with gambling in a place in Prince William street, was postponed until other witnesses can be summoned. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defence.

John Murphy, charged with being drunk and resisting arrest, pleaded guilty and was fined $8 or two months on the first charge, and $80 or ten months on the second.

Seven men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded.
