Two Huge Meetings to Bring Tour of Alberta Province to Fine Close.

WEST IS DEEPLY INTERESTED IN ISSUES

Speaker Suggests Educational Political Campaigns Should Not be Allowed to Lapse.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 11.—In the provincial capital, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder tonight addressed two meetings with a total attendance of 3,000 to 3,000 people and brought to an end their tour of Alberta, which was inaugurated at Lethbridge on Monday. Tomorrow morning the Premier and the Minister of Immigration leave for Saskatchewan, where they speak in the evening and on Saturday the Regina meeting concludes the present visit to Saskatchewan.

Welcomed by Huge Crowd.

Edmonton was reached at 4.30 p.m. and the Premier and Minister were cordially welcomed from the station crowd. The brief interval before the night meetings was taken up with a reception in honor of the Premier and Mrs. Meighen by the local Women's Organization, the reception at some deputations and an informal dinner.

Mr. Meighen and Mr. Calder each spoke at both meetings. The Premier speaking first said he had never seen the people of Western Canada so deeply interested in public questions.

No Election in Sight.

There was no election in sight, but meetings held by Mr. Meighen, Mr. King and Mr. Crerar had been very largely attended, and it was, he said, a very good thing for Canada that such was the case. He hoped the educational campaign would be carried on.

Mr. Calder reviewed, as in previous addresses, the war record of the Union Government, which, he said, had fulfilled its mandate to carry on the war to a successful finish.

Soldier's Statement.

The Premier was given a splendid reception. The work of soldiers' land settlement was reviewed briefly by Mr. Meighen by special request. He said: "We had to leave the trail, but after two years they saw, as a result, 'the biggest land settlement scheme in the civilized world with more practical results than secured by all other countries put together that attempted this work."

SUGAR LIKELY TO STAY AROUND THE FIFTEEN CENT MARK

But Rumors in Montreal Say it May Retail at Less Than Twelve Cents.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—There was no change in refiners' prices for sugar today, although it was freely predicted that the Dominion Sugar Company would be selling at 12 cents, less 8 per cent, or 11.04 net. A feature of interest tomorrow will be the appearance of a half page advertisement from the Acadia Sugar Refineries of Montreal and Halifax, warning consumers that the price of sugar to them on Friday, November 12, will be 16 cents, and that intervals after that date notification through the public that date will be given of what the price of sugar to the consumer who buys from grocers obtaining their supplies through this refinery should be.

TEN YEARS FOR SINN FEINER WHO SHOT AT POLICE

POILLU SLEEPS BENEATH ARC DE TRIOMPHE

All France Pays Its Grateful Tribute to Unidentified Hero of the Great War.

MILLERAND DELIVERS A NOBLE EULOGY

Marshals of France Walk Behind Gun Bearing Body of Soldier.

Paris, Nov. 11.—An unknown soldier, the symbol of France's victory in the war, was laid in his final resting place beneath the Arc de Triomphe today in an apotheosis of glory, accompanied by expressions of the gratitude of two millions of his countrymen and soldiers. Never in the history of France has a King or Emperor been afforded such honors as those rendered the unknown soldier. The body of Napoleon returned from St. Helena did not stir the French people to such a depth of emotion as did this obscure, nameless man.

France's Years All Over.

Not a cheer was heard, but not a tear was shed, the five-year war having long since dried up the wells of Paris' tears. The silence was respectfully oppressive. Today broke dull, with a heavy hanging like a pall over the silent city.

The most impressive ceremony was at the Pantheon where all the promises of political official and judicial Paris had assembled. Three marshals of France, all the generals present in the war, and the whole diplomatic corps, with the exception of the German Ambassador, listened to President Millerand's speech.

Addressing the unknown soldier's coffin, Premier Millerand alluded to the Canadian soldiers, saying: "Unknown soldier, nameless and triumphant representative of the gallant multitudes of patriots who died in our cold graves in the soil of Flanders, Champagne, Verdun and so many other battlefields, famous or unknown, young heroes who came to us from the other side of the Atlantic, the British Isles and distant dominions, from Italy, Belgium and Serbia, from all points of the earth, to offer your lives for the ideal which France once made a representative step in peace. You have fulfilled your destiny."

COURAGE OF ARMY SOURCE OF PRIDE PREMIER ASSERTS

Indomitable Spirit Shown in Entire War Recalled by Mr. Meighen.

Red Deer, Alta., Nov. 11.—At noon today the Premier of Canada, Hon. Arthur Meighen and his colleagues, Hon. J. A. Calder, observed with their fellow citizens of the dominion, the commemoration of armistice day. The Premier ordered the Calgary-Edmonton train to be halted at Red Deer and to a gathering of citizens on the station platform. Mr. Meighen spoke, as follows:

"Two years ago today, Nov. 11, 1918, we received the welcome news that the order had been given for hostilities to cease. In reflecting on the noble part played by the Canadian army in the Great War there is only one feeling which fills my breast, namely, one of gratitude mingled with pride at the courage and heroism, and their indomitable spirit during the entire war. The record is read and known of all men, and more extended reference can be made possible during the few minutes in which I have to address you. At this solemn hour I join in the heartfelt thanks of the people that victory was wrested from the grip of our foes, praying that every blessing and consolation may be vouchsafed to those whom the war has brought sadness and loss."

The measure passed without any noteworthy incident in a rather lame debate. TRAGIC SCENES AT WONDERFUL FUNERAL Borne to Grave Like a King Britain Honors Its Gallant Soldier Dead.

London, Nov. 11.—Great Britain today immovably honored her war heroes by according a field marshal's funeral to an unknown British warrior, who was buried in Westminster Abbey, and unveiling a permanent cenotaph in Whitehall to the "glorious dead."

Aside from members of the royal family, who initiated three queens—Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra and Queen Maude of Norway—the members of the British cabinet, and a few officials, including Hon. Sir George E. Foster, Hon. C. J. Doberty and Hon. N. W. Bowell, the only witnesses to either ceremony were persons who lost relatives in the great war.

As "Big Ben" the great clock in the tower of the parliament building began to strike the hour of 11, King George, facing the 14th century coffin of the unknown soldier, which was resting on a gun carriage, drew a card that released the Union Jack draped above the cenotaph, and after the last stroke of the hour, thousands of people, who provided Whitehall as far as one could see in either direction, remained absolutely silent, for two minutes.

This silence was broken by a choir softly beginning the hymn: "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past," which was followed by the Lord's Prayer, recited by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Buglers sounded "The Last Post" and, with its escort of troops and a band, the gun carriage then moved toward the abbey, with King George, as chief mourner, walking behind it.

Maple Leaf Wreath. Sir George Foster deposited a wreath of maple leaves at the foot of the monument on behalf of the Dominion of Canada. The Canadian party walked in the procession to the Abbey, with the members of the British cabinet.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—One Gun from Annapolis Royal.

Annapolis Royal, N. S., Nov. 11.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance today from historic Fort Anne of a German field gun, the unveiling of which was to have been the central feature of the local armistice day celebration.

Those responsible for today's programme, upon reaching the grounds this morning, were surprised to find that the piece had been taken away during the night. All efforts to recover it were unavailing, and one of two German machine guns also presented to Annapolis was substituted for the missing ordnance in its official programme.

TREACHERY OF IRISH MEANS LOSS OF ARMY

Plots With Germany in 1918 Show Real Character of Agitation So Premier Declares.

IRISH ARMY WOULD MEAN CONSCRIPTION

Navy for Ireland An Impossibility and Would Result in Her Own Destruction.

London, Nov. 11.—Former Premier Asquith in the House of Commons tonight appealed for advantage to be taken of the associations and emotions aroused by the anniversary of armistice day which could not be put to further use than an endeavor to find a basis for real settlement of Ireland's troubles. This was in connection with the third reading of the Home Rule Bill.

Mr. Lloyd George replying, contended that the present bill was a generous measure, but the Irish people were not in a temper to give it proper understanding and consideration. He declared that documents to be published at an early date, found in the possession of Sinn Fein leaders in 1918, proving they were involved in a German plot, would show the necessity of England retaining complete control of Irish harbors.

Cannot Have Army To give Ireland the power to raise a conscript army, he said would be a dangerous menace to Great Britain and he warned the laborites that with an army of that kind in Ireland under full powers of a Dominion Home Rule, conscription in England would become inevitable.

The premier contended that it was equally impossible to allow Ireland her own navy, which was quite needless for her national life and could only be used for the peril of Great Britain and her own destruction. He argued that it was fruitless to talk of granting fiscal autonomy to people still demanding a republic.

Recalls Great Irish

Expressing a fervent hope for the removal of misunderstanding, which would make the future so dark, the premier closed with a note of emotion: "It may be that it was an Irish soldier we honored today. Ireland has had a great and brilliant share in the empire. Some of her greatest and most gallant warriors helped to fight for the empire. Some of her greatest statesmen—the shining wisdom of Burke and the stern leadership of Wellington—all contributed to build the empire.

"All we ask is that Ireland should not in a moment of anger cast away most gallant warriors helped to fight for the empire. Some of her greatest statesmen—the shining wisdom of Burke and the stern leadership of Wellington—all contributed to build the empire.

"The influence of the armistice anniversary was clearly marked in all the speeches which showed a desire, as far as possible, to avoid controversy.

Later it was said at the Foreign Office that all the details of the programme for fixing German reparations had been settled. Something Definite May be Announced After Conference Concluding Today.

AMERICAN DELEGATES WORKING FOR PEACE

Leadership Likely to Decide Whether There Will be a General Strike Again.

ST. JOHN, N. S., Nov. 11.—There was progress made today in the coal strike as far as the conference of the members of the United Mine Workers was concerned. The executive committee of that organization, President Robert Baxter, Secretary J. B. MacLachlan and board member S. H. Bennett were here today to meet the members of the wage strike committee. It was due to train delays the latter did not arrive from Sydney until late in the afternoon. There was a preliminary meeting and the conference proper is postponed until tomorrow. Late tonight it was said that in all probability nothing would be announced until Friday afternoon, if even then.

International Officers

Attending the conference are several delegates from the International United Mine Workers. These are John Moore, legislative representative for the International at Washington; Samuel Pascoe, former editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, and William Houston, of Terre Haute, Ind., International organizer. All labor leaders were exceedingly non-committal regarding both the late conference at Toronto, and their visit to Indianapolis, where they went to confer with the International executive, the terms of the new agreement, and what they considered the outcome of the conference at Toronto will be.

New Scale Offered

President Baxter would say nothing. Mr. MacLachlan was a little more communicative. He said that the terms of the new agreement to be presented to the wage committee had been considerably reduced from the original demands of the United Mine Workers, and that the siding scale proposals had been thrown overboard. Mr. MacLachlan said that the new agreement would be accepted by the company, and in that respect they were at least on level ground. Mr. MacLachlan also said that the terms in some respects were better than before, but in others considerably worse. He said that the men would not accept the terms, but, however, depended on leadership, he admitted. The outlook is exceedingly uncertain. It is hoped that the delegates from the United States may have a beneficial influence.

Barely do we hear of a retired pugilist being mentioned in connection, and never of their prime.

Another Boxing Scandal Is Bared

Philadelphia, Run Down by Ontario Commission—Implicates Canadian Promoter

By W. H. BOCALP Sports Editor, Philadelphia. Philadelphia sportsman, run down by Secretary Fitzgerald of the Ontario Boxing Commission, turned on his accuser yesterday afternoon and, retaining to be the "great" made the matchmaker of a Toronto club the target. Last Friday night in the Queen City, Benny Valger, the French feather-weight, was to have boxed Frankie Burns, of San Francisco, now of Providence, R. I. The show was for the benefit of the World's War Veterans Association of Toronto. The match was the promoter's and matchmaker. He communicated with Smith to make the necessary arrangements with Burns, who was to receive $300 and expenses for his opponent, Valger's end was 25 per cent. of the gross receipts, less war taxes.

Smith forwarded Burns his transportation to Philadelphia. On Tuesday, Nov. 2, he received a wire from Burns as follows: "Suffering with infected toe; cannot box contract." Smith immediately communicated that fact by wire to Matchmaker Marsh, who replied: "Get capable substitute and come up at once." Smith contacted Billy Gannon, a Philadelphia southpaw, who was in Toronto to be met by Marsh, who, it is alleged, said, "We have an excellent Burns and will continue to do business." In order to strengthen his argument he took Smith and Gannon, who were photographed and the portrait was used in a Toronto paper headed "Frankie Burns and Nats Smith." The Philadelphia manager was told to keep his mouth shut or he would have to walk back home. Smith realized that it was a long walk to Philadelphia from the other side of the border.

The writer was drawn into the controversy by a wire from the Ontario Boxing Commission, and one from Marsh dated Toronto, Nov. 4. The latter read: "Nats Smith is here with Frankie Burns, of Frisco, to box Valger. How long has Burns been around Philadelphia, N.Y.?" The writer had investigated, the following was wired Marsh:

"Smith left Philadelphia with Billy Gannon, a southpaw, who is not a good match for Valger. The dispatch was sent to the Ontario Boxing Commission that Burns was a poor match for the Franchman, is the writer's judgment."

The bout was held. It attracted a $5,200 gate. Then men were driven from the ring in the fourth round and their share of the money was held pending an investigation. Secretary Fitzgerald arrived in Philadelphia Sunday. He sought the writer's assistance in probing the case. Smith and Gannon arrested house yesterday morning, having been given their transportation by the commission. Smith met Fitzgerald, and in the presence of the writer and Will Fitzgerald said he was determined not to be made the "goat" and recited his story in the presence of the writer in a straightforward manner. After he was through he looked Secretary Fitzgerald straight in the eye and said, "If you don't believe I am telling the truth I will go and make an affidavit with two men as witnesses." Fitzgerald said it was not necessary as he believed his story.

Smith's chief defense as being innocent party to the fraud, he says, "was that Marsh was the matchmaker and promoter. He assumed all the responsibility. He and I were hired and we had to obey orders. We knew that the commission was being deceived we could have demanded our money before going into the ring or there would have been no contract. At 7.45 on the night of the bout the commission handed me a check for $1,745 on the name of Frankie Burns. I then felt that we were fairly protected."

When questioned by Secretary Fitzgerald to whether Valger and Joe Jacobs, his manager, knew of the substitution, Smith absolved both from all blame.

Before leaving for Toronto Mr. Fitzgerald called on Director of Public Safety Cortelyou, who complimented him on such quick action in purging the sport of taint.

Calls Attention To All Competitors

Secretary of Ontario Board A. A. U. of C. All Must Register and Hold Amateur Card

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Secretary Trivett, of the Ontario board of the A. A. U. of C. in an announcement issued yesterday calls attention to the fact that, beginning with the first of the year, all competitors in amateur sport must register with the union and hold an amateur card in good standing.

This refers to all boys over eighteen years of age in open competition; but money is not under this, and playing in intermediate or senior company, it will be necessary for him to register. At the annual meeting of the A. A. U. of C. to be held in Winnipeg on the 10th and 11th of December next, the articles of alliance between the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League, the Intercollegiate A. A. U. and the A. A. U. of C. will be revised in order to cover the above ruling.

Of course, closed competition in either of the associations named would not carry with it the necessity of registration.

New York, Nov. 11.—Efforts are being made to have Joe Stochow, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, meet Steve O'Donnell, the French giant, in the wrestling tournament to be held here November 23. Stronger Lewis and Wladislaw Struzko have signed for a finish match.

POILU SLEEPS BENEATH ARC DE TRIOMPHE

All France Pays Its Grateful Tribute to Unidentified Hero of the Great War.

MILLERAND DELIVERS A NOBLE EULOGY

Marshals of France Walk Behind Gun Bearing Body of Soldier.

(Continued from page 1.) President Millerand ended his address with a tribute to Leon Gambetta, the famous French patriot, who in 1870 was the great organizer of the national defence; Gambetta, who after the Treaty of Versailles, availed the revenge of instant justice; Gambetta, whose enthusiasm, warmth of heart and whole aspiration of soul was on the morrow of disaster a song of hope and courage; Gambetta, the patriot, whom my illustrious predecessors called a part of the religion of France.

Following the President's oration, the procession took the march to the Arc De Triomphe. President Millerand walked bareheaded with Marshal Joffre, Foch and Pétain in full regalia, following behind a battered 165 gun of the model of 1916 bearing the body of the unknown poilu.

Ready to Fight Again

Glorious infuriated soldiers, painfully dragging their wounded bodies, with faces radiant with pride, opened the procession. "We captured 'Frenchiey' one soldier minus a leg said. 'I would go through it again if necessary.'"

Old poilus of the Marne Battle of 1914, wearing red trousers and a kepi, received subdued applause, while flowers were thrown from windows on the car bearing the heart of Gambetta.

The procession reached the Arc De Triomphe shortly after noon. The body of the poilu and the urn containing the heart of Gambetta were placed in the chapel of the Arc, and the procession broke up.

Walter Jeffords In Charge of Stables

New York, Nov. 11.—The racing establishments of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords will be in charge of Louis Feustel next season, succeeding Mike Daly, who died Monday in Baltimore.

Feustel, who is given much of the credit for the great showing of Man of War, and other horses owned by Samuel D. Riddle, will continue to look after the Riddle horse, his appointment making more of a family affair of the Riddle and Jeffords stables.

Mr. Jeffords is a niece of Mr. Riddle.

HATS OFF!

To Hilton Hayes. He is building a monument to hold his sporting loo.

To the business colleges who shut shop yesterday morning for Armistice day. They didn't have in, in a sense.

To the chap at the head of King, who untangled an awful mess yesterday when the two-minute pause was over. It was funny, too, but dangerous.

To the lady director who carried her notions that the orphan of a certain institution enjoy the story-telling hours in the Public Library. Let the kiddies grow up with the truth.

To the street superintendents—perhaps the director of such kind of coating over those rocky roads of Loyalist days on some of the east end streets. The roller made a pretty job of them.

To the New Brunswick Kennel Club, this city, for boasting dog culture in an enthusiastic manner. A dog is never a traitor, always a friend, so to improve his race, dog-gone his dead old hide!

To little but mighty Baharath, New Brunswick. She's gone and built the third biggest rink in this land of rinks, Canada. 'T would be a joke now if it weren't for the fact that she was in that we were. St. John—I hear you calling me.

To the men behind the Courtenay Bay harbor works. They have practically scrapped the first big dredge that came here—too slow for so urgent a job. Now she's ashore in the old glass factory cove. Pity this progressive idea does not percolate in other branches of local activity.

BOUND FOR PRISON. Sheriff Foster, of Carleton County, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on his way to Dorchester with two prisoners, Harry Roddy and Geo. Jaffa, both of whom will serve sentences of two years for theft. The latter two men, who were recently sentenced by the Police Magistrate at Woodstock, spent the night in the local police station and left this morning for Dorchester in charge of the sheriff.

Co. at Ajax, a few miles from here, were blown up early this morning. State police and bloodhounds have been sent to the scene of the explosions.

MONS REMEMBERS CANADA. Brussels, Nov. 11.—United States, Italian and Serbian officers were present at the funeral services organized by the French Embassy here in memory of the heroes of the war. Tells Dyspeptics What To Avoid Indigestion, Sores Stomach, Heartburn On Stomach, E

Indigestion and practically all stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to the action of an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid" is an exceedingly dangerous condition and should be treated at once.

Either they can go on a diet of often disagreeable diet, avoid the stomach and lead to a condition of the stomach, or they can take a course of treatment to neutralize the effect of the acid and prevent the action of gas, sourness or fermentation by the use of Bismarck Magnesia and its action on the stomach, an element. But a teaspoon of powder a couple of five grains in a little water will neutralize the excess which may be present and help further formation. This is the whole cause of the trouble and used digests naturally and without need of potent pills called "diagonals."

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable drug store for a few cents and take it in the dissolved form is not a very good plan and eat what you eat, your next meal and see to eat.

NAMELESS HERO IN FRENCH SOIL EVEN IN ABBEY

Unknown Warrior Carried to Grave by V. C. Heroes as Kings and Queens Mourn.

TRAGIC SCENES AT WONDERFUL FUNERAL

Borne to Grave Like a King
Britain Honors Its Gallant
Soldier Dead.

During the brief service in the nave of the Abbey, the King stood at the foot of the grave, the members of the royal family ranging themselves on either side. Of all the witnesses that packed Whitehall or crowded the Abbey, a little band of approximately 100 women in the Abbey received the most reverent attention. They had been selected for the seats of honor because each had lost her husband and all her sons. Every woman in Great Britain who bore a name applied for a place got it, but less than half the other applications for seats were successful, owing to the lack of space.

The Bereaved Mothers.

After the one hundred had been seated, the next to be considered were those mothers who lost their only son, or all their sons, and then came women who lost their husbands only. They were given positions in accordance with the precedence they held during the war.

A girl who wrote she had lost nine brothers killed or missing, was given a ticket, as also was a 12 year old boy who wrote: "The man in the coffin might be my daddy."

In all, eight thousand tickets were issued. The body was brought to London in the same railway car used to transport the bodies of Lord Cavell, the nurse who was executed by the Germans, and Capt. Charles Fryatt, the British captain of a British merchant steamer who also met death before a German firing squad. It lay last night in a room especially set apart and fitted for it in Victoria station, and a guard of honor remained there until morning.

All V. C. Men.

The immediate guard which escorted the body on its trip through the crowded and silent streets from the station to Whitehall was composed of 100 men of all services who won the Victoria Cross.

The pall bearers were field marshals and admirals of the fleet, including Viscount Douglas Haig, Earl Beatty, admiral of the grand fleet, and Major General Sir Hugh Trenchard, commander of British air forces.

Battalions of guards, with their bands and a few others made up the balance of the escort. The cortege proceeded through Grosvenor Gardens, and Grosvenor Place to Hyde Park, and thence to Buckingham Palace, Pall Mall and Whitehall. As the procession started from the station a battery in Hyde Park fired a bold marshal's salute of 15 guns, and just as the coffin was lowered into the grave another battery of horse guards fired the same salute.

Soil From France.

The grave was filled with soil brought from the grave from which the body was exhumed in France and was covered by what is known as the "padre's flag," one of the most famous flags flying in the war. It was taken to France early in the struggle by a chaplain who used it scores of times at funerals on the field, and it has been much coveted by many regiments in which the chaplain has served for short periods.

Not in recent years has London seen such detailed police precautions. Extra strong barricades had been constructed at every approach to Whitehall and the Abbey, and every man that could be spared was on duty, or was held in reserve near Whitehall. Store windows even blocks away were broken or protected by steel shutters in order to prevent breakage by the crowd.

Long Lines Past.

After the ceremonies were completed the barricades were opened and when the witnesses had passed out, all who cared to be allowed to go into Whitehall, past the cenotaph and place wreaths on it. Long lines began to file past immediately, and it seemed the solemn march would continue for hours.

Representatives of the Dominion Great War Veterans' Association placed a wreath in tribute to the unknown hero. Another wreath, from the Canadian Last Post fund bore the legend: "Last We Forget."

SOVIETS ATTACK UKRAINA.

Violent encounters have occurred near Cholemsky, 135 miles north-west of Odessa, the reports say.

SHIPPING LEADERS URGE THAT BRIDGE LEVEL BE WATCHED

Suggest That There Should be at Least 90 Feet Clear for Vessels to Pass.

The Standard is asked to publish the following communication which has been sent to the City Council, St. John, N. B., November 10:—
His Worship the Mayor and Members of the Common Council, St. John, N. B.

Dear Sirs,—In the matter of the new bridge, now under construction, we the undersigned, who are very much interested in the use of the Reversible Falls, so called, beg leave to state our opinion regarding the height we feel it should be from the water at slack flood tide, when vessels are passing through the Falls.

In the first place we wish to call your attention to the fact that the trade for which the vessels used now in the coastwise business has changed greatly within the last few years. The class of vessels formerly used has become almost obsolete, larger ones having taken their place, consequently having much longer spars. As this new railway bridge will probably be a permanent fixture for a good many years, we feel that now is the time for it to be put high enough to compare favorably with the present new passenger bridge, or at least say ninety feet clear of the water at the greater class of vessels.

We would urge the putting up of the bridge at this time, as by doing so the approach to the passenger bridge can be made more easy by having a viaduct instead of a level crossing, this would also be cheaper than an overhead approach. We are under the impression that the C. P. R. would be reasonable and willing to spend some money to meet a reasonable demand, or to say the least, to remedy any obstruction to navigable waters to the detriment of those who are compelled to use them.

Another matter we would call your attention to is the new barge canal erected on the West Side of the Falls. This is a serious obstruction to navigation, inasmuch as it has changed the course of the current, and flung out the rocks in the channel, where it is it will be necessary to remove the Spit Rock.

We therefore trust that your honorable body will take such steps as you feel the emergency needs to have the bridge raised to a height safe to protect the waterway as above set out.

Yours very respectfully,

London, Nov. 11.—While a steamer carrying army stores was proceeding between Cork and Queenstown yesterday she was ordered to stop opposite Blackrock, Castle by men in boats, says a Central News despatch from Cork. Rifles, shot guns and ammunition which were concealed in a boat house near Blackrock Castle were also discovered, it is said.

TROUNCED GIRLS FOR MAKING NOISE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Sylvia Pankhurst's Employees Given a Whipping for Not Keeping Silent.

London, Nov. 11.—The girl employees in the offices of Sylvia Pankhurst's communist paper, The Worker's Dreadnought on Fleet street, were thrashed and the office upset just after 11 o'clock today by an angry crowd.

The leaders of the party who raided the offices alleged that during the two minutes of solemn silence in honor of the fallen dead, as provided for in the armistice day programme, some of the women in the office were singing, dancing and banging tin cans.

When the signal came at 11 o'clock for the silence throughout the city, all traffic on Fleet street was halted and the great crowds stopped and stood respectfully at attention.

Failed To Be Silent.

It is claimed that amidst this tribute there came from The Worker's Dreadnought offices a frightful racket and sounds of revelry.

The indignant crowd in the street waited until the two minutes had passed, and then a mob of men and women, said to have been led by workmen, invaded the Dreadnought offices.

Papers were strewn about the place, and then the men stood aside while the women invaders gave the girls in the offices a sound trouncing. This continued until the police arrived.

One of the girl employees later said that the members of the publication's force who did not believe in the tribute of silence continued dusting the office and made some noise, but did not think it could be heard on the street.

GERMAN CHICKENS COME HOME TO ROOST

Promise to Flensburg May Cause Serious Trouble—Answer is Larger Garrison

(Copyright, 1920 by Cross-Atlantic) Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—Promises lightly given by the German government, but never intended to be kept are apt to cause very serious disturbances at Flensburg on the Danish-German frontier. During the time of the plebiscite, when no means were left untried to keep the voters from voting for a reunion with Denmark, the German authorities at Berlin promised to workers of Flensburg, the majority of whom are Danish, to spend 100 millions thalers in case the town remained German.

Now Flensburg is practically a ruined town. The entire surrounding district from which it derived its trade has become Danish and more than three-fourths of the workers are without employment, and without prospect of any. They have now formally informed the overnment that unless the promises given are kept they will not answer for the consequences adding that they have plenty of arms and ammunition to engage in a serious fight for their rights. The only reply received is that the German garrison in the town has been greatly strengthened with machine gun troops and armored cars.

Challenge To The Esperanto

F. R. Mayer of New York With Yacht Undeclared Wants 200 Mile Sea Race.

New York, Nov. 11.—F. R. Mayer, of New York, vice-commander of the Atlantic Yacht Club and owner of the schooner "Undeclared," has challenged the owners of the Gloucester fishing schooner Esperanto, for a two hundred mile deep sea contest next April.

The Esperanto was the winner of the recent international series with the Nova Scotia schooner Delawanna, in the races for the championship of the Atlantic fishing fleet.

To Make Arrangements

The challenge, Mr. Mayer said, has been accepted in principle and he will go to Boston soon to make arrangements for the race.

A time allowance probably will be necessary if the event is held, a suggestion of the difference in hull measurements and sail area in the two boats.

The Undeclared was formerly known as the Karva, and under the ownership of Robert H. Todd, of New York, won the Brewster's Race Cup, in 1911. She is a three masted yacht, schooner rig, of 190 feet in length, 33 foot beam and 17 foot draught, without auxiliary power.

A cup has been offered by Mr. Mayer as a trophy for the race.

Athletes Received Their Prizes

Maritime Aquatic Champions Presented With Medals, St. Peter's Team Get Trophy.

On behalf of the Commercial Club and because he himself, apart from all his officialism is a sporting enthusiast, Mayor Schofield last evening presented the winners of the Maritime Championships rowing events held on Thursday Bay September 28th, with their medals. He also handed over the Commercial Club trophy to the St. Peter's Baseball Club, winners of the Civic League. The presentations took place in Imperial Theatre between 8 and 8.30. Fully fifteen hundred people were present and accepted the awards in a grand gala to stay for the proceedings. The winners were accorded spirited receptions as they stepped upon the stage to receive their medals, etc.

Presentation of Prizes

It was a bit of a surprise to the picture-going folks when this sporting event was sprung. With his usual frank good-fellowship the Mayor told briefly what was about to happen. He said he felt that such presentations should be made as public as possible for some reason or another—hardly was their laurels about to be laid to rest when he saw the men who were their laurels handed over. He then called upon the winners of the senior four-oared event, the Renforth crew.

For some reason or another—hardly was their laurels handed over when he saw the men who were their laurels handed over. He then called upon the winners of the senior four-oared event, the Renforth crew.

Great Reception

His Worship really did not have to explain at any length who he was going to ask to step forward and lay claim to the senior single scull prize. When that "old sea dolphin"—he who performs as well on frozen water as on sea water—John Belyea, bashfully stepped out of the crowd and pointed to the house shook with applause. Hinton got his medal for trimming the good Yankee scull, Jerry Shea of Cambridge, who was given down to clean up. Of course Mr. Shea was not present to get the second award.

The Boy Scullers

His Worship almost forgot to call for the winner of the boy's single scull, Master Greaville McCavour and his deputy crew, but good friend, Anthony Belyea, in the near-overweight the Mayor apologized and escorted the striping boy to the footlights. When the applause subsided His Worship said: "It's only fourteen, ladies and gentlemen, but he's a comer; better still he's 'new now.' This elicited more plaudits. Master McCavour—who by the way rows a speedy boat steadily and strong out of proportion to his height and physical appearance—emiled, and paved the floor disconcertedly. He's a great favorite with the town already. And so is young Belyea, who boyishly accepted his prize and scampered off.

Trophy to St. Peter's

Then came the presentation of the big silver trophy, a massive work in artistic design mounted on ebony. The manager and captain of St. Peter's team stepped up and graciously accepted the award while the fans and general public gave them what they deserved, a hearty round of applause.

A Little Syndicate

His Worship then explained that he was organizing a little syndicate of true lovers of clean sport to buy a first-class four-oared shell to be utilized as a training boat for new rowing talent. He said he was certain there were plenty of champions still tucked away among the masses of people and what St. John should do was to pick them out, put them to a proper shell and develop them. Recent seasons had already demonstrated what could be done in creating new rowers and it is a brand new up-to-date shell were built at the expense of a few enthusiastic citizens it could be given over in turn to the creation of more crews. The rowing spirit was on St. John's again. All effort was made to keep it alive, to beget it and to breed a new line of champions who would wear back to the city's world-fame of years ago and keep it here where it belongs.

The Mayor then invited any citizen who wanted to take a little share in this commendable project to write, phone or call and he would give him (or her) all the details of his scheme. He said one citizen had already purchased the seasoned cedar for the "candle" in which the new champions would be rocked, so step right up gentlemen but don't crowd!

Mayor Schofield had at his right hand, Reg. Wright, manager of the

Fast Fighting At Montreal

Mike McTigue and Jack Bloomfield Go to Draw—McDonald Bout Stopped.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—The ten-round bout between the two middleweights, Mike McTigue, of Halifax, and Jack Bloomfield, of London, England, here tonight at the Mount Royal arena, resulted in a draw, in the opinion of both sporting editors of the two Montreal morning papers.

The Opinions

Louis Larive, of Le Canada, says that Bloomfield was scored in the first round and was only saved by the gong, but that he came back and had the edge on McTigue in the second. Thereafter the rounds were pretty even. McTigue scored the best blow, but Bloomfield was much the cleverer boxer and made McTigue miss him on many occasions. The latter was relying on a left hook, which he could never put over. At the end of the tenth round, Bloomfield showed no signs of having been knocked down in the first round. Both finished strong.

Received Injured Arm

William Morrison, of the Gazette, says: "Fighting eight rounds with an injured arm, Mike McTigue, who out-punched Jack Bloomfield in a previous meeting, fought a draw with Bloomfield in the feature bout of the National Sporting Club's entertainment at Mount Royal arena, tonight. The accident occurred in the closing moments of the second round, when McTigue swung a right hand blow at Bloomfield's head. The blow was stopped by Bloomfield's left, and the sudden contact shattered McTigue's elbow."

Preliminary Stopped

In the ten-round preliminary between Roddy McDonald, of Glace Bay, and J. McLaughlin, of Halifax, middleweights, the referee stopped the fight in the fourth round, awarding the decision to McDonald. The crowd wets the opinion that these fighters were not putting up their best efforts at first, and there was considerable booing. At this, McDonald waded into McLaughlin and cut his leg piece. The fight was easily McDonald's, who completely outmached the Halifax man.

The only score of the game was made toward the end of the second half when the captain of the St. John team R. Brennan, received the ball from out of the scrim and after a brilliant

READJUSTMENT OF PRICES.

One of the difficulties of the price readjustment period will soon be prominently before the public. It is that of procuring an evening up of reduction in the cost of services as well as of commodities. Wheat, for instance, has come down from about $3 to $2 a bushel, cotton from 40 cents to 20 cents a pound, hides and skins are almost given away, and reductions in manufactured products of from ten to thirty per cent. are fairly general.

THE RECOUNT.

As long as The Globe persists, whether from ignorance or by design, in misrepresenting matters in connection with the St. John County recount, it is useless to discuss it.

"R. B. Hanson, K. C. moved to 'have Mr. Justice Barry's order made a rule of Court. (This is a necessary proceeding before the 'matter could be taken up.) Chief Justice Hazen did not see the 'legal purpose of the motion, and 'questioned counsel as to where 'there was a wrong to be remedied. By the recent hold, as 'ordered, the appellant had been 'shown to have been elected by a 'majority than had been 'declared by the sheriff. 'After the Court and counsel had 'engaged in discussion of the 'matter, the motion was refused."

SOUND ADVICE.

Ottawa Journal: "The Government might well consider whether it is all 'more desirable to appoint extreme 'pro-British inspectors to enforce the liquor law than to select 'for the same job men whose sympathies are rather the other way. 'Follicles should never be partisan. 'If for no other reason than that their 'judgment is liable to be warped by 'their enthusiasm for a cause, and to 'place a revolver in the hands of a 'zealot is rather flying in the face of 'ordinary common sense precaution."

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE SOLDIERS.

Mr. J. Harry Flynn, of the G. A. U. V. proposes that returned men should congregate outside Massey Hall, Toronto, and prevent Premier Meighen speaking until he has promised to satisfy the demands that Mr. Flynn wishes to make on behalf of the men. What does the man want?

For the past three years there has been named an annual Parliamentary committee which goes into all soldier problems. This committee is composed of members of the Government, Liberals and Farmers. The committee every year has heard representatives of soldiers' organizations and has brought in recommendations. These recommendations have been unanimous and they have in every case been adopted by the Government.

The committee will meet again this evening session to hear from private members and to consider further reports. Last year this committee went at great length into the whole question of pensions and brought in a report of a greatly increased rate. This report was accepted by the Government, although it meant an annual increase in the pension bill of from five to ten millions.

As a result of this report, as adopted, in the case of a totally disabled private soldier, named, the rate of pension paid by Canada is $60, with a possible increase for helplessness amounting to $750 additional. The United Kingdom and New Zealand pay such a man $100; Australia and South Africa, $150; the United States, $200; France, $250; Italy, $300, and Germany, $315. The United States pension, in this case, is highest, but there is no helplessness allowance.

The London Advertiser refers to Mackenzie King's as a "clear-out policy." Also-look-4. It cuts clear of everything.

HIGH COST OF LOSING A WAR

By MILTON BRONNER.

Germany is at a standstill awaiting definite knowledge of the indemnity the allies will exact. The amount has been discussed ever since the war ended, and may be decided upon at any time now. Whatever it is, there is no doubt but that it will make all other indemnities mere dwarfs in comparison. Possibly it will be a larger amount than all other indemnities paid by losers of all other wars.

Indemnities paid by losing nations during the past 100 years include, among others, the following: Treaty of Paris, Nov. 25, 1815—France to pay Great Britain, Austria, Prussia and Russia a joint indemnity of $133,537,500 within five years.

LOCAL PRICES ON DOWNWARD TREND DURING LAST WEEK

Fish and Fruits Are Dearer Owing to Scarcity of Stock and End of Season.

A decided weakness was noticeable in the market this week. Sugars, beans, pot barley, cornmeal, flour, eggs and butter, lemons, onions, bran, shorts and oats were all quoted at prices considerably lower than those of last week. The only advance in the market was in the price of fish, a number of varieties advancing three cents per pound.

In wholesale groceries standard sugar dropped fifty cents per hundred. It is now quoted at $14.10. Yellow sugar dropped fifty cents also, and is now selling at $13.

A reduction of twenty-five cents per hundred is now being quoted on white beans. They are selling for $7.50. Pot barley dropped from $5.40 to $5 a bag. Cornmeal in sacks also dropped forty cents and is quoted at $3.25. Manitoba flour dropped eighty cents to $14.45. Wholesale meats were firm at last week's prices.

Country produce of good quality was plentiful in the city market. Butter was lower than has been the case for some time. Sixty-five cents a pound was asked for the best quality. Strictly fresh eggs could be had for seventy-five cents a dozen.

In green groceries the cold weather has about finished the more perishable vegetables and fruits. These still being stocked are to be had at somewhat higher prices.

In wholesale fruits Messina lemons dropped fifty cents a crate; Canadian onions, twenty-five cents per cwt.; medium cod, mackerel and haddock were three cents and small five cents higher per pound. Oysters advanced twenty-five cents, and clams ten cents a quart.

In hay and feed, bran and shorts dropped $3 a ton. Oats went down five cents a bushel.

Wholesale oils and hides remained firm.

NEW YORK DOWN FROM THREE TO TEN POINTS AGAIN

Financial Need Stories Responsible for the Break in Long Listed Securities.

New York, Nov. 11.—Numerous speculative issues were subjected to further bearish aggressions in the stock market today, but recognized leaders of the railway and industrial classes offered a fair degree of resistance to professional pressure.

Selling of motors, shippings, equipments, sugars and several of the utilities at gross declines of three to at most ten points coincided with reports of financial needs and other conditions of an unfavorable nature, these mostly indicating additional slowing down of various industries.

The more vulnerable shares, including Willy's-Overland preferred, Pierce Arrow preferred, Atlantic Gulf, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, American Sugar and American Express, Oils and a few of the junior rail also yielded moderately with unadvised specialities, but Republic Steel was prominent for its net gain of 5 1/2 points.

Southern Pacific

Failure of the Southern Pacific director to announce the terms of the company's oil segregation plan gave rise to reports of a "pitch," but these met with prompt denial, in which the stock recorded part of its decline. Trading was light in comparison with recent active sessions, dealings falling away almost entirely. There was a sharp upward spurt in the final hour, based on the ease of call money, which fell from 3 to 7 per cent., the lowest rate in several weeks; but this was neutralized by another break for a few cents. Sales amounted to $80,000 shares.

The decline in international rates carried London quotations 4 1/2 cents under the recent high, while French, Italian, Spanish and Greek rates fell to discounts never before known in this market. South American and Canadian quotations also breaking. Bonds were comparatively dull and irregular, with no special feature in any particular division. Total sales, par value, aggregated $13,850,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SUGAR FAILS TO HOLD ITS EARLY TWO-POINT GAIN

Papers and Asbestos Were Stronger on Fairly Active Tradings at Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Throughout the day today on the local stock exchange a much better tone was shown, all the stocks being on the active side being marked up materially, except sugar, which after selling as high as 44 in early trading, fell off to 40 1/2, closing at 41, a net loss of 2 points.

The range of prices on the active list was narrow, the trend being mostly upward throughout the day. At the close, Abitibi netted one and one-half points; Brompton, a fraction; Breweries, 1 1/2 points; Spanish cement, 2 1/4, and the preferred 3 points. Other papers to show strength were Brompton which gained 2 points; Wayagamack, which gained 2 points; Price Bros., 5, and Howard Smith 3. Laurentide closed unchanged.

Asbestos Did Well.

In the balance of the list the best gains were made by Asbestos, which moved up four points to 88; textile, which added 2 1/2 to 114 1/2, and Shawinigan, Brazilian, Detroit and Smelters, all up a point each. In the banking group, Commerce, inactive for a week, advanced ten points to 187.

There was an encouraging lack of substantial losses the largest being confined to Howard Smith preferred, which lost 9 1/2 points at 92; Dominion Bridge, which lost 8 points at 75; Canada Car preferred down 2 1/4 to 80 1/4; and Canadian Cottons down four points to 76. Total sales, listed, 16,214; bonds, $47,600; rights, 726.

MONEY MARKET BADLY SMASHED

Canadian Dollars Are Two Cents Lower at 88.50 Rate Now.

New York, Nov. 11.—The foreign exchange market as expressed in terms of the United States dollar was again extremely nervous today. Canadian dollars dropped one per cent. from yesterday's close to 88.50, as against 90.25 a week ago. Today's quotation is the lowest point reached for some months.

Heavy offerings of grain and cotton bills caused sterling to fall to 3.35 1/4 for demand bill as against the previous quotation of 4.88 5/8. Today's low was 4 1/2 cents under the recent best, but considerably over the low record of last February when sterling fell to 3.13.

Foreign Exchange Low.

New minimum rates were made by French, Belgian, Italian and Spanish exchange and further demoralization was reported in all the central and South American markets. Exchange on the Scandinavian countries also was heavy, and in some instances dealers declined to quote prices of bills to several new Eastern European war-created nations. Private advices from London were to the effect that "no" immediate relief from existing exchange conditions in England and France is probable. The same advices attributed the weakness of French rates to heavy purchases of United States cotton.

Believe Present Government Incapable of Dealing With the Situation.

PRUSSIANS AND JEWS OBJECTS OF HATRED Want Prince Rupprecht on the Throne—Feel He Would Make a Wise and Just King

By VIGGO TOEPFER.
(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)
Berlin, Nov. 11.—All Bavaria is behind a royalist movement. In that state, according to General Heckerich, organizer of the new famous Order, and one of the most prominent figures in Germany today, who has just returned from Munich.

"The royalist movement in Bavaria is not a passing sentiment in the hearts of an impulsive people," he says. "It has behind it all Bavaria. Ever since the reign of terror of the communists in Bavaria, every Bavarian bourgeois and peasant looks upon it as his most sacred duty to prevent the return of the sanguinary Bolsheviks. Government incompetent.

"The people of Bavaria are fully aware of the absolute inability of the present Berlin government to combat the revolutionists and they are equally aware of the fact that Prussia can do nothing against a united Bavaria. The bourgeois of Munich do not ordinarily occupy themselves very much with politics, but since the dreadful excesses of the revolutionists last year they see little else but sheep.

"The most drastic edicts issued by the Chief of Police are received with acclamation when they are directed against the undesirable and it is of no use to deny that the Prussians are the objects of an intense hatred as are also all Jews. Herr Von Kahr is quoted to say: 'We shall have to carry out all the lies in Munich' and his minister of Justice has given a solemn promise that he will permit no Jews to enter or remain in government service.

Jews Bitterly Hated.
This hatred against the Jews is solely due to the fact that all the members of the recent Bolshevik government were Jews and so great is the animosity against those who allowed these criminals to escape punishment that the Socialist Hoffman dares not enter Munich and has had to resign as a member of the Bavarian parliament.

"Recently I was present at Munich in a ceremony in commemoration of the heroes who fell during the war and at that day it became clear how strong was the desire for the return of the dynasty of Wittensbach. The royal princes marched at the head of the immense procession to the cathedral. Respectfully the Prince showed his hand to a sign of their respect of the old field-marshal Prince Leopold of Bavaria, and after the service was over and absolutism had been given by the Archbishop of Munich the entire garrison as well as the population greeted with indecipherable enthusiasm the royal princes as well as von Ledendorff. The next day editorial of the extremist paper was published under the headline 'Before ascending the throne' and these words will prove a true prophecy, for the people have wiped out the memory of all republican incidents and are clamoring for Prince Rupprecht, who they know will be a just and democratic king, not by the grace of God, but by the grace of the making effort to

ENTRAP BERGDOLL
Orders Sent to Have Draft Dodger—Arrested While He is in Germany.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
Washington, Nov. 11.—American authorities with the Army of Occupation have been ordered to exercise all available means for effecting the capture of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, who escaped from his army guards while on the search for a store of hidden gold. Orders have gone forward, it was learned today, to Major General Henry T. Allen, instructing him to see if some method could be found for placing the visitor to Germany under arrest.
Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, refused absolutely to discuss the plans of the war department in regard to Bergdoll. He said that he believed that any chance that the Government might have for catching the military fugitive would be jeopardized by a discussion of the plan and that he would prefer to wait until after the capture to say anything about the case.

United States President Will Discuss League of Nations Before Congress.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson's farewell address to the people of the United States, in his message to Congress next month will carry the charge that deliberate misrepresentation has been responsible for the apparent popular repudiation of the League. It was learned today.

FRANCE SEEKING TO ENLIST AID FOR UNIVERSITIES

Making An Effort to Secure Endowments from Wealthy for Centres of Learning.

By HENRY WILLIAM FRANCO.
(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)
Paris, Nov. 11.—Education is almost entirely a government function in France and hitherto the government has had no private aid in defraying the cost of maintaining universities and colleges. Now, however, for the first time, the Ministry of Public Instruction has appealed for endowments from the French universities. He has issued a circular which has been sent to all notaries in France calling upon them to use their influence with clients for whom they draw up wills in the interest of French universities.

Expect Wealthy to Help.
"It seemed to me," said M. Honnorat, the Minister of Public Instruction, to the Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service, Inc. "that many wealthy families who lost sons in the war would be glad to endow chairs in our universities to their memory. The budget of the Ministry of Public Instruction is heavily burdened and, while it never has been done before, there really is no reason why private fortunes should not contribute to the cost of education. Except for private aid the universities of America would never have become the marvels of installation as are Columbia, Harvard, Yale, Princeton and others. This they are enabled to work along lines of scientific progress entirely removed from the distress attendant upon insufficient funds. I know that American universities, even those I have mentioned, perhaps are still in need of further funds to keep up the high standard of their work but, after all, there is no financial problem for them to speak of.

Want Public Interest.
"I want to create in France a current of private interest in education which will assist intellectual effort and scientific development in France and which will result in popularizing the idea of founding a laboratory, a library, a museum or a scholarship. And there has been a splendid response. Only a few days ago I received a gift of 10,000,000 francs for the construction of a 'Cité des Etudiants' or students' home in the Parc Montsouris section of Paris. And I have a firm conviction that this is but a start."

WORKMEN RAID PLANTS.
London, Nov. 11.—Three thousand unemployed men, part of whom were armed, stormed the Lion Metal Works in Berlin yesterday, drove out the proprietors and engineers and extinguished the fires, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from the German capital. In the north side gas plant of Berlin, it is stated workmen drove out the industrial council and established a political Soviet.

INTERESTING AND VALUABLE FIND OF ENGLISH TAPESTRY

Eight Pieces Woven in 16th Century Discovered—Worth Nearly Half Million.

(By London Daily Mail and Cross-Atlantic.)
London, Nov. 11.—An interesting history attaches to eight pieces of early English tapestry catalogued for sale next month. The tapestries are the property of Mrs. Whitmore Jones of Chaseton House, Moreton-in-the-Marsh, Gloucestershire, and were recently found packed away in the bedroom occupied by the latter. It is said that they were thought to be lost.

An expert on tapestry said: "If the pieces are in good order and the binding is anything like as seen as the demand for good tapestry, they ought to fetch anything from $250,000 to $500,000."
They bear the date 1595, and are claimed to be the most important works from the Sheldon Looms (founded by William Sheldon in the middle of the sixteenth century) which have ever come into the market. The best known panels are the huge scene in the Victoria and Albert Museum, panels with figures and verdure being rare.

Four Offered For Sale.
A set of four is offered for sale. Each panel fills a scene from the life of Judah in the center surrounded by a scroll design, the ground work being covered with beautifully drawn and colored English flowers. Another panel has a central group of figures, and the inscriptions read: "When Paros gave the golden apple" and "Ovid, 9th Chap." Round this picture of the Judgment of Paris are floral designs. These five vary from seven to twelve feet square.

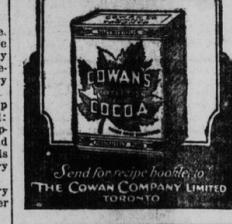

One small piece of Sheldon tapestry recently sold in London fetched over $10,000.

FOR WOMEN

AMUSEMENTS

Methodist Women's Missionary Society

Silver Anniversary Was Celebrated Yesterday—Interesting Addresses.

An address by a returned Missionary Mrs. M. A. Yeasay, was a feature of the Silver Anniversary of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society which was celebrated yesterday afternoon and evening in Queen's Square Church.

Afternoon Session

Mrs. John Gough president of the United Society was in the chair and with her on the platform was Mrs. C. F. Sanford. After prayer, led by Mrs. G. F. Dawson, leader of the Portland Street Church Auxiliary gave an exercise called "Missions in the New Testament," showing that the Gospel teaches missions as a central doctrine.

Mrs. S. Howard spoke on strange secretory work, referring to immigration problems and the duty of all to welcome strangers. Miss Henderson, Portland street church, said she thought fraternal clubs have more influence than church societies and that church members should show more cordiality.

Others Reporting

Others reporting were Mrs. Healey Carleton, Mrs. Hadden, Zion, Mrs. Seymour, Carmarthen street, Miss Drake, Kilmouth street, Mrs. Goodwin, Centenary.

Mrs. Sanford stated that at the General Board Meeting in Toronto the N. B. and P. E. I. Branches were highly praised for their good work in the stranger department.

Mrs. H. A. Goodwin's talk was entitled "Faithful and Wise, Who You" it dealt with proportionate and systematic growth.

Thirteen girls of the Carmarthen street Board gave a very pretty exercise called "Little Lights." They were in charge of Miss Stella Kelle, assisted by Miss Fox and received hearty thanks from the audience.

"P's and Q's" was an excellent paper read by Miss Margaret Evans. Mrs. T. F. Sanford's paper "Driftwood for Missionary Fires," touched upon the talents and possibilities not as yet utilized for the service of the Master.

At six o'clock supper was served by the ladies of Queen's Square Missionary Aid with their president, Mrs. C. A. Dickinson convenor. Pretty decorations of green ornamented the tables.

Evening Session

At the evening session devotional exercises were led by Rev. Nell McLaughlin after which a most interesting address on the urgency of work among new Canadians was delivered by Mrs. Yeasay. She told of the missions in Vancouver to the 4,000 Japanese and Chinese. The wisdom of teaching children by Kindergarten and Sunday Schools was pointed out. How foreigners are treated in a Christian country was shown by the illustration of one Japanese woman who was eight years in Canada before a kind word was spoken to her by a Canadian. Found by the missionaries, she is now a W. M. S. member and collected a good sum for the new gymnasium built in connection with the institutional church of Vancouver. This church with a native Japanese pastor has a good congregation of the Christian members. The Japanese and Chinese Miss Yeasay said are in the country to stay and must be

Short Skirt Is For The Little Woman

Dressmakers Have, it is Said, Gone to Middle Ages for Inspiration.

Paris has spoken, and the world is changed. We are to have new women. The stature and form of the sex must be transformed. The day of the "petite femme" is at an end, and we are to bow our diminished heads before the "belle dame." Thus romantically Paris reports its decision. We own to some difficulty in relating these fervent phrases to the facts. We speak not of dressmakers who Paris spoke, but here we are to speak what everybody knows. The age in which we live had no pat him on the head. Yet Paris declares that this epoch was really the apotheosis of "la petite femme." The syllogism runs thus: "The short skirt is the skirt for a little woman; we have had a period of short skirts, and therefore, as aforesaid, the little woman has been in power." Threatened skirts live long. Not once nor twice in our rough island story Paris has threatened to extend the skirts of civilization, and civilization has shown the dressmakers a clear path of heels. But we venture on no prophecy. Our little fashions have their day. The best of them cannot be relied on to endure. Now do we understand that every woman is at her best in the extreme skirt. The infinite variety of the sex forbids that any one costume should be ideal, or even rational. But it is with alarm we read that, in devising the new fashions, the dressmakers "have gone to the Middle Ages for their inspiration."

We feel that women would like to know, for example, whether they are to put their hair up, or wear it in two plaits, or crown it with a wiggle. We comment to the attention of Paris the sentence of the wardrobe of the Wife of Bath, whose shoes were moist and new, whose hose of scarlet red, whose hat as broad as a baker's, and who, "on a Sunday," wore upon her head a wimple which the poet swears weighed full ten pounds.—London Daily Telegraph.

Christmased and Canadianised beginning with the children. Miss Veasay closed by appealing to the young people especially to work in the church pointing out that there is no exemption in the service of the King. We must she said by showing forth the brotherhood of men teach the Fatherhood of God. From her fifteen years' experience in Japan, Miss Veasay found her work among Orientals in Canada most interesting.

"Not Exempt" an exercise by Clive members was splendidly given and taught a needed lesson in a striking way. Miss Muriel Turner sang very acceptably "Angels Ever Bright and Fair."

White Coal. "White Coal" was the title of another inspiring talk by Mrs. Sanford in which she illustrated that there are great gifts and talents latent in the 258,000 women in the Methodist denomination which are not being used for the service of God.

An executive meeting was held at seven o'clock. The meetings were all well attended and a great deal of interest shown in the addresses and exercises given. The Society looks forward to many more years of faithful earnest work.

The following officers were elected at the executive meeting: given and Mrs. Nell McLaughlin, president. Mrs. Jacob Hooley, vice-president. Mrs. Smiller, treasurer. Miss Blanche Myles, secretary.

Reflections of A Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND (Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

A man is never sure that he wants a life-long lease on a woman's heart until he discovers that some other man has an option on it.

Oh yes, a husband is more necessary now, than ever. In these days, when there is no such thing as a "genial landlord," a "devoted servant," a waiter who "overs around" one, or a shopkeeper who "fawns" upon you, nobody loves a woman, except the man who is legally bound to do so.

After the diversified menu of a man's bachelor days, it takes a clever and ingenious wife to serve him the same sentimental plat du jour, right along, with such a variety of garnishings that she can keep his romantic interest piqued.

No doubt, the real domestic trouble started in Eden, when Adam suggested that Eve make her old frocks over into a salad, and serve him a serpent stew for a change.

Of course, the "people's choice" is always good; but one shudders to think what chance either Cox or Harding would have had of election, if Douglas Fairbanks had decided to run for President, or Babe Ruth had gotten his eye on the White House.

The discovery of a brand new virtue in the man she loves, gives a woman a greater thrill of pride and ecstasy, than it would give her to discover a brand new serum or a brand new continent.

Love is NOT like the measles; because one attack of the measles makes you immune; but one attack of love merely makes a man more susceptible to the next one.

Aircrafts, like most airplanes, are built to hold just two; and when a third party steps in, they come down with an awful crash.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

What can be done with old books when you can't burn them and can't give them away? In the first place did it ever fall to your lot to try to dispose of a shelf of old books to make the contents of two cases go into one? I use the verb "try" advisedly for it is the task so complicated by the presence of members of the family who sit around and make objections.

You start on a soft leather-bound volume of Lucie, all raggy at the edges and say, "Well no one wants that," and a voice at once cries "Why Cousin Ethel gave me that Christmas and she might miss it from the shelf." So Lucie is reluctantly set up. Next comes a Kipling story and that goes on the shelf without argument from anyone. A brown covered book of sermons is just being thrown on one side to be cast out when mother pathetically remarks, "That was a present to me from the author. He was a very learned man," and feeling like a heartless brute, the prayer discourses are passed back in their old position. A Henty book surely has been outgrown and will be first the thing for a hospital gift, but Big Brother Tom says, "Leave that and I'll just look it over."

Then the question comes up of the disposal of the castaways. They are too bulky to burn in the furnace, the grocer's boy refuses contemptuously to accept a heavily bound book of history, cat tales, and the copy of "How to Know the Field of Flowers," remains awaiting a reader. The dump will be the final end and one ponders somewhat sadly on the fate of books so laboriously over by their authors, and once so prized by their owners.

Yet in these days of conservation of everything the homemaker rejoices at the thought of less to take care of and more space to move about in, and the few pages of regret for banished treasures are easily forgotten.

MARGUERITE. SHORTER'S QUESTION. S. W. Foss. Young Shortens his march to learn, Ah, though he's round and fat, He stubs to everything he sees.

The bones, the dog, the ox, They all are wonders of the world, And so he asks, "What's that?"

Young Shorten sits upon my knee In my knowledge banks; In my omniscient wisdom I think the fount of wisdom springs From just beneath my hat; He comes right to the fountain head And asks and asks, "What's that?"

We will are Shortens larger grown Who roams, with curious eye, And when we cease to say, "What's that?" Why then it's time to die. Life's baffling, endless mystery— We wonder much thereat; Before the riddle of the world, We only say, "What's that?"

The sages of the older world, The thinkers of today, All ask young Shorten's question in The same old curious way, "A million worlds whirl round their view, They stand in the immensities And only ask "What's that?"

The mighty serial goes on With wonders manifold, The story of the universe Will never all be told, And through the great, eternal years We'll wonder much thereat, Forever and forever ask, "What's that, what's that, what's that?"

The secret of success is constancy to purpose.—Disraeli. Satisfaction, even after one has dined well, is not so interesting and eager a feeling as hunger.—Sarah Orne Jewett.

We are building every day in a good or evil way, And the structure, as it grows, Will our truest self disclose. Much talent is often lost for want of a little courage.—George Eliot.

And this is life eternal, that they should know Thee, the only true God, and Him Whom Thou didst send, even Jesus Christ.—John 17:3. Then welcome each rebuff That turns earth's smoothness rough, Each sting that bids nor sit nor stand but go! Be our joy three-parts pain, Strive, and hold cheap the strain; Learn, nor account the pain; dare, never grudge the throes! —Browning.

If a good part of our brain is occupied with worrying, it deprives us of just so much thinking power with which to attend to business.—Annie Payson Cole.

Some of Rome's Art Treasures

Pleasing Lecture by Dr. Eliza Ritchie of Halifax Before St. John Art Club.

Something of the majesty of Rome and the glory of its many masterpieces of sculpture and painting was impressed on the minds of those who had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Eliza Ritchie, of Halifax, lecture on "Some of Rome's Art Treasures" before the St. John Art Club last evening.

The lecture was a splendid one, and the number of views shown of the works of Raphael, Michael Angelo, Titian and lesser artists, the incomparable collection of Grecian sculpture collected by the Pope, and the beauties of the architecture of Rome's many churches, as well as the ruins of the ancient city, helped much to impress upon the mind "the grandeur that was Rome."

The lecture was largely attended. J. Stewart Smith rendered a pleasing vocal solo, Miss Sinclair acting as accompanist.

W. F. Barrett presided, and at the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks was extended Dr. Ritchie by W. F. Hatheway, and seconded by Archbishop Crowl.

A publicity committee was appointed, consisting of Miss Lawlor, H. S. Culver, and W. F. Hatheway, with power to add to their number.

Refreshments were served by a committee of Miss Clara O. McGovern, Mrs. W. Frank Hatheway, convenors, Mrs. H. R. Patchell, Mrs. F. C. Beatey, Mrs. Amlund, Miss J. G. Sandler, Mrs. Harold Climo, Miss J. G. Sandler, Mrs. Bessie Holt, Miss Patricia, Mrs. Hatheway and Mrs. McTavish presided at the tea table.

Able Lecture On The Bible

Mrs. John Sealy Delivered Interesting Address Before Ladies' Assn. of N. H. S.

That the Bible is a living book, and that man have published it in many forms, is a fact which is well known to all. Mr. F. W. L. Sladen, a popular lecturer, in describing the wintering of bees in the cellar, the temperature for the cellar is given as about 45 degrees F. Some precautions as regards the spring management of bees are recorded in the bulletin.

Appreciative words of thanks were uttered by Mrs. George Matthews, who moved the vote of thanks, Miss Grace Leavitt, who seconded it, and the president, Mrs. William J. Shaw, who presented it to Mrs. Sealy.

FARMERS OF QUEBEC WOULD HAVE TARIFF MADE SLIGHTLY LOWER Suggest to Commission a Drop of About Nine Per Cent. in Rates.

Quebec, Nov. 11.—Urging a general reduction in the tariff on all goods required for the cultivation of the soil and for the support of the family, farmers of the Province of Quebec and their representatives were given a hearing by the Tariff Commission here this afternoon.

The entire afternoon sitting was devoted to hearing the representatives of the farming classes, and at five o'clock the commission was adjourned. Hon. Nantais Garnett, M.C.L., President of the Breeders' Association of the Province of Quebec, spoke for the farmers.

The average existing tariff of 21 per cent. on articles essential to agriculture is too great for the country's industries, Mr. Garnett declared. He urged an average tariff of 12 per cent.

Vamp Has Only Herself To Blame

Police Chief Says Immorally Dressed Women Invite Flirtations.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Short skirts plus lace stockings, low-necked waists plus drug store complexion equal a vamp.

This problem in moral mathematics was worked out here by Joseph M. Quigley, police chief, in discussing the cause and effect of the flirting vice.

The chief maintained that if there were no vamps there would be no masher, and that every woman who dressed immorally becomes automatically within the category of a vamp regardless of how high her morals may be.

If appearing in public in costumes which to say the least, should be reserved for the boudoir, they will be regarded by men as a walking invitation to start a flirtation, Quigley said.

"I do not believe that a modestly dressed woman has anything to fear anywhere. I never have been able to figure out why women and girls dress in a vulgar, unbecoming, and unattractive way they do. Assuredly most of them are entirely innocent of any wrong motive. But as long as they have the outward appearance of a flirtation they will be so commended."

"I am not trying to start any dress reform campaign. It's a woman's own business what she wears. And if she wants to make up like a vamp, that's her business, too. But she must take the responsibility for the undesirable attention she attracts."

WINTERING BEES. Large numbers of colonies of bees are lost in Canada every winter through lack of proper care and forethought. Serious losses are due to want of timely and intelligent preparation in many parts of Canada, is not so hard on the bees as might be imagined. In some respects, he says, wintering is easier here than in mid countries, like England or in the Southern States. This is because bees rest more completely during the winter in Canada. One of the most important things for good wintering is a populous colony, consisting mainly of young bees; another is an abundant supply of wholesome stores in the combs, and the third is an adequate protection from the cold.

This bulletin entitled "Wintering Bees in Canada" is available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. In describing the wintering of bees in the cellar, the temperature for the cellar is given as about 45 degrees F. Some precautions as regards the spring management of bees are recorded in the bulletin.

Spirit of Service Red Cross Film

Picture to Influence Audiences to Join Red Cross in Peace Work.

"The Spirit of Service" is the title of a one-reel motion picture, produced by the American Red Cross for the purpose of furthering interest in the coming roll call for the renewal of membership.

The picture is a mingling of allegory and realism and carries a strong appeal. The exterior for the allegory are of classic beauty and the entire production has been made with a fine sense of artistic values. The scenario was written by Hamish McLaurin and the effects in photography were achieved by E. Burton Steene. Teft Johnson directed, assisted by Arline Frederic as "Service" and Logan Paul as "Wisdom." The generosity of these artists and others who contributed their services has enabled the Red Cross to produce this picture at a nominal expense.

The story begins with the symbolic figures of War, Pestilence and Famine, which have been born into the world as a result of war. From this state of the world's chaos appears the "Spirit of Service," who is eager to relieve the distress, but is at a loss to know what agency for good is most in need of her efforts. She calls to her hand-maidens, Faith, Hope and Love, who advise her to seek counsel of Wisdom. Looking through Wisdom's telescope, all parts of the world are brought within her vision. She sees the work of relief accomplished by the American Red Cross and in that organization finds her opportunity for service.

The picture should have a strong influence in adding to the membership of the American Red Cross.

KONDONDERRY MEN ARE FREED BY ONE MOOSE

Bullets from Rifles Merely Annoyed the Big Beast Riled His Temper.

Kondonderry, Nov. 11.—Two miles of Diana, a bull moose that will pop and a friendly tree figure, suddenly in a sylvan drama enacted this vicinity yesterday. Bond A. Rogers, both of Polly Mountain, added to organize an expedition in the woods. Having mobilized all the auxiliary they set out visions of deer tracks from the shoulder and insect swarms urging them to the kill.

They sighted their quarry, a bull moose, looking as big as an elephant. According to all the rules of moose hunting, the victim should have been a fair specimen, he was one despairing bellow and passed away at last.

Like Young Cyclone. But the vitality of this moose was proof against such puny effort, as guns and lead. He tossed his head and came down on the hunters like a young cyclone; he was a speed contest with a moose, and a fight as big as an elephant.

The tree enters in here. The school of St. Hubert were prepared for a frontal attack (moose), and consequently withdrew, and the ground is covered with the tracks of a moose, and a fight as big as an elephant.

The moose stalk, around the tree, the pair made for the east tree and shined up. The moose roared his anger and started around bellowing and bellowing, no taunts would urge the hunters to shoot. They refused to accept a challenge and simply stayed in the bush, and the hunters descended.

Board of Trade Council Meeting

Marah Creek Drainage, Boys' Work and Municipal Building Among Reports.

Among the reports presented at the session of the Board of Trade Council, yesterday, was one from the secretary with respect to Boys' Work. A recommendation that a standing committee on Boys' Work to co-operate with other organizations similarly interested, was adopted and will be passed on the new Council to put into effect.

A report on the plans that are in the mind of the City Council with respect to the proposed municipal building on King Square was read and placed on file.

Marah Creek Drainage.

The committee on Marah Creek drainage, co-operating with the Great Marah Commission, reported that the joint committee favors the cutting together of engineers representing the C. N. Railway, the province and the city, to consider a proposition that had come from the railway with respect to the diversion of the creek and the providing of pondage along the line of the railway track. This conference will probably be held on Saturday. The joint committee also recommended to the Provincial Government that the vacancy on the Marah Commission board, caused by the death of Mr. Rafferty, be filled by the appointment of a representative from the City Council. The report was agreed to.

With regard to a number of suggestions which had come from Jamaica relative to the promotion of trade between that colony and Canada, the secretary was authorized to forward these suggestions to such governmental departments as were interested.

A committee was named to submit a recommendation to the Government on the matter of expansion of our seaborne commerce, with particular reference to the port of St. John.

Boards of Trade Act.

A copy of the amendment to the Boards of Trade Act was submitted and approved. Among other provisions of this Act is one that every Board of Trade in Canada, under penalty of $50 per day for every defaulting day, shall before the first day of June in each year forward to the Secretary of State a summary of particulars covering the board's officers and council members, as well as other matters with relation to the board's management.

Two membership applications were approved and passed on the board for final determination. The Council reiterated its resolution of 1914 with respect to alienation of labor front properties which might be needed for port development.

Notices of motion of come amendments to the by-laws of the board were presented.

A committee was named to consider the resolutions of the Jamaica Merchants' Exchange, with particular reference to matters of sugar. The views of the sugar refiners on the points that were raised were submitted to Council and passed on to the committee for their information and guidance.

The Council observed the order of the Governor-General by two minutes of silence at noon.

Hydro Electric Development In N. B.

At Meeting of Engineering Institute C. O. Foss Read Interesting Paper.

At a meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada, held last evening in the Old Post Office building, C. O. Foss, M. E. I. C., Chief Engineer N. B. Hydro-Electric Commission, read a paper on the progress of Hydro-Electric development in N. B.

An Explanation.

In beginning Mr. Foss explained the great value of Hydro-Electric power both in regards economy in cost, and flexibility in operation. This has long been appreciated by the observant and thinking class, but the heavy initial cost of development and the difficulty of obtaining such broad powers of expropriation by private companies, as are necessary to deal successfully with attempted hold-ups by human greed are such that private enterprise and private capital have been deterred from going into such development to any great extent in the Maritime Provinces.

The Province of Ontario was the first to fully appreciate the truth and to undertake the development on a large scale as a government measure.

Maritime Provinces Fortunate.

The Maritime Provinces are particularly fortunate in having District Engineer K. H. Smith sent here, who has hastened hydro-electric development in these provinces by some months. Nova Scotia has taken the lead in hydro development, but New Brunswick is following closely, and we shall have actual construction under way in a very short time. The most important development we are undertaking is that on the Musquash river. Mr. Foss then explained the features of construction, and the time of completion which will take not later than December 1st, 1921.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Foss stated that the projects both on the Musquash and Shogomoc rivers are entirely feasible in construction from both an engineering and economic standpoint, and the cost of power per kilowatt hour delivered is quite low and compares very favorably with other projects of similar hydraulic undertakings.

A condition of a family in Chapel street was investigated. There were a number of other cases in which the advice of the agent was sought. Seven children were taken out of the Home, one of them going to the Wiggins Male Orphanage, leaving twenty-one now within the walls.

Memorial Service At Trinity Church

Public Service of Intercession in Commemoration of Armistice Day.

In commemoration of the signing of the Armistice two years ago to the day, a public memorial service of intercession was held yesterday afternoon at 3.30 in Trinity Church. Mayor Schofield, the four City Commissioners were among the large number who were in attendance to do reverence to the deeds of our soldiers, living and dead, in their successful recent conflict in the interests of humanity. Impressive Address

The rector, Rev. Canon Armstrong, delivered a very impressive address, in the course of which he stated: "There are three things, it seems to me, that should mark this great anniversary, namely: praise, love and the high resolve. We shall never forget it because it came like the singing of angels and as if the voice of God had spoken after a period of over four years of the most bitter conflict and human suffering this world has ever seen. We remember how the people went wild with rejoicing, when the glad news came and how they went surging through the streets cheering and blowing trumpets. No one could blame them for giving vent to their feelings, after all we had gone through. Today we are here to thank God for the blessing of world peace; and when we pause to think of the awful and tremendous cost with which that peace was won, we are forced to bend our heads in silence in remembrance of it and reverence to those that will never come back. No human lips are equal to expressing what we owe to those brave men who laid down their lives in the great cause, but their glory shall shine resplendent with a radiance all their own. Not only those who are near and dear to us should we think of, but also the vast multitude who are unknown and gave their lives."

The Unknown Soldier.

Picture to yourselves, the solitary case of an unknown soldier, draped with a Union Jack, being buried with all the military honors that can be conferred, and the King and members of the Royal family and great men of the day in the funeral procession. The solemnity of the occasion is absolutely beyond words. They gave their lives, their usefulness alone high above all things, they followed one great ideal and they believed God would should resolve to give our lives for the service of God. The situation in Eastern and Central Europe is appalling. Millions of children are starving in that land as the result of the war. Records show that fifteen million men were slain in that district during the struggle, resulting in leaving millions of children starving and unprotected. Mr. Hoover, concerning whom we have heard so much in connection with the reconstruction of Europe, has stated that from three and a half to four million men, women and children were left starving. We should do all we can to alleviate such suffering. The National Anthem was then sung followed by the Benediction and the Recessional Hymn, and a most impressive service closed with an organ postlude, "Imperial March."
