COUNTRY SOUNTST The Plan for Young Men.

Assuming you are 30 years of age, a policy of $10,000 will cost $297 each year for thirty years. At the end of twenty years your accumulated dividends are expected to pay the next ten premiums and yield you a cash return each year of $203 for ten years. At the end of that period you may withdraw in cash the last ten years' dividends estimated at $1,250, and thereafter receive an annual income for life (guaranteed) of $400. At your death the full $10,000 is payable. Make a calculation and see what a magnificent investment this is.

CATHOLIC CLUB CONCERT

Excellent Programme Rendered Last Night-The Spacious Rooms Crowded.

The postponed monthly concert of the Catholic Club was held last evening, when the spacious parlors were crowded. The programme presented was an excellent one, and the different artists taking part received much well-merited applause. Miss Sylvia Warren made herself a general favorite with her rendering of the "Creole Love Song." Her other numbers were also well received. The programme:

Song-A May Morning Miss Warren. Recitation-Jinks' Infernal Machine

Mr. Frank Murphy. Because I Love You..... Miss McManus (Toronto).

Duet-I Live and Love Thee .. Messrs, Ashplant and Lombardo. Song-Creole Love Song Miss Warren.

Trio-Thee Only Miss Mulligan, Messrs. O'Hagan and Miller.

The committee in charge of the concert are to be complimented on the success of their efforts. This is the second concert of the series, one of FAGGED OUT .- None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They live for. There, however, is a cureone box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering the composition of Parmelee's Collision Between Partisans and has for some time been in China on a special mission from the British As-Opponents of Rochefort.

Arrests Made.

The Court of Cassation Rent by Opposing Interests-The French Republic in for a Hard Time.

Paris, Jan. 9. - The Socialists' annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Blan-Chaise, led to riots between the rival partisans of M. Henri Rochefort, editor of the Intransigeant, and M. Jaures, editor of the Socialist Petite Republique. Many were injured, and the police made a number of arrests. The wreath intended for the tomb was trampled upon.

A DIVIDED COURT. Today's revelations of various kinds tend to show that the members of the court of cassation are themselves divided in two fully opposed camps of Dreyfussards and anti-Dreyfussards. M. Quesnay de Baurepaire's explanation of the causes for his resignation will probably lead to the fall of the cabinet, since he complains bitterly threatens to drive the Americans from of the way M. Lebret, the minister of justice, conducted the interview with him when he offered the minister a statement of the relations between M. Bard, of the criminal branch of the court of cassation, and Col. Picquart.

IN FOR A HARD TIME. The Paris correspondent of the Times says: Of all the scandals produced by the Dreyfus affairs, this of the resignation of M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire is certainly the greatest. What is beyond doubt is that the Nationalists, who have not had a single man whose name was imposing, or whose ability was dangerous, now appear to have found a chief, although his aim is still far from clear. With M. Quesnay de Beaure-paire leading the Nationalists and anti-Semites, M. Paul Deroulede lead-ing the League of Patriots, and M. Goldfroy Cavalgnac at the head of the Patrie Francaise, the republic, if it escapes, will have a hard time.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Graphic says: It really seems as if the Dreyfus affair can only move by earthquakes. Undoubtedly the action of M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire will precipitate a crisis, which may prove the gravest the Dreyfus affair has yet involved.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says: The action of M. Quesnay Beaurepaire in resigning is astounding. He throws up one of the easiest and most honorable posts, and the salary of $5.000 a year, which might have gone on indefinitely at a time of life when men cease to be fortunate if they plunge into new ventures. The Echo de Paris this morning publishes a statement by M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire for his resignation of the presidency of the civil section of the court of cassation. He virtually pro-tests against what he suggests is a conspiracy on the part of the court of cassation to exonerate Dreyfus. But he practically admits his partiality by declaring that his resignation was intended to avenge the army and its generals for the sufferings they have had to endure in silence.

WILLIAM'S VIEWS. London, Jan. 10 .- The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: "Emperor William, while conversing re-cently with the presidents of the reichstag, told them that the concentration of Russian troops on the German frontier had no political significance, but was merely the result of the efforts of the Russian minister of finance to prevent smuggling. Referring to Fashoda, the emperor expressed the opinion that Great Britain had rendered the dispute critical, because she wanted to discover just how far she could go against France without provoking Russia. Apparently, the Kaiser remarked, the result was satisfactory to Great Britain, making it clear that the Franco-Russian relations were much less intimate than some supposed. Anyway, Germany, as the Kaiser put it, could afford to be an impartial spectator of Anglo-French quarrels."

Discussing the czar's disarmament proposals, Emperor William said he appreciated the loftiness of the ideas and the nobility of the motives of the Russian emperor, but he did not expect them to yield practical results in this direction. Therefore, the increase in the German army was no less indispensable than before. CONFISCATED THE FIGARO.

Berlin, Jan. 10.-The Paris Figaro was confiscated by the police throughout Germany yesterday on account of a caricature which it contained, copied from Puck, representing King William of Germany in the guise of a "despised

Liverpool, Jan. 10.—The British steamer Kanawha, from Newport News, has arrived here and landed the captain and 15 of the crew of the British steamer Gallena (Capt. Franklin), from Philadelphia, on Dec. 16, for Moss and Christiana, which was abandoned in a sinking condition on Jan. 5. The remainder of the Gallena crew are on the British steamer Charing Cross, from New York, on Dec. 23, for Bris-

Thomas Cummings, the seaman who was arrested on Dec. 31 on board the American liner St. Paul, charged with shooting five coal trimmers and accidentally hitting another, was discharged on the ground that he had used his revolver in self-defense.

CPPOSED TO BOUNTIES London, Jan. 10 .- At a crowded meeting of the Anti-Sugar Bounty League, held in London last evening, a resolution was unanimously adopted, de-manding that the British Government should immediately conclude a convention with Germany, Austria, Holland feel as though there was nothing to and Beigium to abolish bounties and to guarantee producers security in the open British markets against state aided competition. Lieut.-Gen. John Wimburn Laurie, Conservative member of parliament for Pembroke boroughs, who represented Canada at the meeting, strongly edvocated counter-valling duties. He pointed out that Cure for Canada was also suffering from bounties given on French fish. BERESFORD HONORED.

The municipal council of Shanghai, the Chamber of commerce and the American and Chinese associations gave a farewell banquet last evening to Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, who sociated Chambers of Commerce to inquire as to the opportunities for further developing British trade in that country. Lord Beresford, in responding Many Injured and Numerous to a toast to his health, said that the cosmopolitan character of his hosts proved that his policy in China was unanimously approved by the representatives of the great nations having the largest trade interests in China.

FAILING. Dr. Clements, who for some time has been attached to the military service of the Ameer of Afghanistan, in the capacity of veterinary surgeon, has just arrived from Cabul, the Afghanistan qui, in the cemetery of Pere la capital. He says the ameer is in illhealth, and cannot be expected to live long.

CABLE NOTES.

The city papers of Rome announce that King Humbert has received a friendly letter from Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia, offering to do all in his power to maintain a durable peace.
The situation in the Philippines is rapidly approaching a climax. A second proclamation by Aguinaldo, bearing the same date as the one which immediately followed the proclamation of Major-Gen. Otis, based on President McKinley's instructions, has appeared on the streets, but it is alleged to have been recalled. Its terms are much more vehement than those used the islands The Spanish transport Notre Dame de Salut, which sailed from Havana on Dec. 19, for Barcelona, has arrived, with 1,100 repatriated soldiers on board. During the voyage 39 deaths occurred. The remainder of the troops were in a fearfully emaciated condition, and hardly able to stand.

King of the Tonga Islands Does Not Like Germany's Action.

Death Sentence of Lieut. Wark Commuted to Three Years Imprisonment.

Aukland, Jan. 10.-The king of the Tonga Islands, which Germany is reported to be seeking to annex, is appealing for protection to Great Britain, the United States and France.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED. London, Jan. 10.-The sentence of Lieut. Wark, of the Royal Artillery, who was condemned to death at Liverpool in December on the charge of murdering Mise Jane Yates by conspiring with her to procure an illegal operation on herself, which resulted fatally, and who was subsequently reprieved by the home secretary, has been reduced to three year's penal servicude. The case has excited the greatest interest throughout England, and it is generally believed that Lieut. Wark is entirely innocent of the charge on which he was convicted. Justice Phillimore, before whom the case was tried, practically held that the accused, knowing of Miss Yates' intention to perform the operation on herself, did not prevent her, and therefore was guilty of murder. Sixty thousand persons had signed a petition praying for Lieut. Wark's pardon, and the efforts to secure his release will be continued. SHOT AT THE MAYOR. Algiers, Jan. 10.-An attempt was made to kill M. Max Regis, ex-mayor of Algiers, early yesterday morning. His assailant fired two ineffective shots before he was overpowered and taken to TAHITIAN PRINCESS DEAD. The French mail boat Tropic Bird brings news from Tahiti of the death at Papeete of Princess Tetua Marama, hereditary pricess of the island. She was the daughter of the Princess Arliochan, whose authority extended over the Island of Morea and several districts in Tahiti. Princess Tetua was adopted by Queen Pomare, and when she grew up became a great power in the southern seas.

At an early age she married John Brandon, a Scotchman, by whom she had nine children. Brandon was the head of the greatest commercial house islands. After his death she married George Darsie, also a Scotchman. She was very popular, and all the southern islands are in mourning at her decease.

CONFIRMED FROM BERLIN. Berlin, Jan. 10 .- A dispatch received here from Shanghai states that the French minister to China has withdrawn his demand for an extension of the French concession at Shanghai.

MARINE NEWS

The British steamer Westminster, Captain Petrie, from London, on Dec. 24, for Philadelphia, has put back to Queensland, with her ballast tanks leaking and short of coal.

Nothing has been heard of the belated

American Line steamer St. Paul, now overdue from Southampton. The American liner New York will sail for England tomorrow in place of the overdue liner St. Paul.

Mother and Daughter Both Cured by Paine's Celery Compound.

The Marve'ous Medicine Is Known All (ver the World as the Creat Banisher of Rheumatism and Kidn y Lisease.

Who Use the Compound.

New Life, Strength and Long Years.

Wells & Richardson Co.: Dear Sirs,-I consider it my duty to write to you regarding the benefits derived by my daughter and myself from use of your Paine's Celery Compound. For years I was troubled with rheu-matism and nervousness. I was treat-ed by doctors, and tried medicine after medicine without any good results. Fortunately, a friend of mine advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and after using four bottles I found I was stronger and better than I had been for years. My daughter was cured of kidney disease after suffering for twelve years, by using a few bottles of the compound. I advise all suffering from rheumatism, nervousness and kidney troubles to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial. Yours sincerely, MRS. LOUIS LEFAVE, Between Great Slave Lake and Lesser Slave Lake.

Hundreds of Men Who Left Ontario Have Never Reached Their Destination.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.-George S. Lewis, a California hunter and trapper, has just returned from a long overland trip which he took last spring and summer through the unexplored country on Peace River and in Athabasca, the British Northwest Territory. He tells a singular story of large set-tlements of stranded Klondike prospec-tors that he met on his way, showing that hundreds of men who started for the northern Eldorado from the Pacific coast and Canada never reached their destination. Lewis says he started with a party of hunters and miners from Red River on April 20, and traversed 2,200 miles, returning to Fort Edmonton on Sept. 29. When they struck Peace River they met men hauling canoes up the river, wading up to their necks in the cold water. They were all headed for the Klondike, though they did not even have a map of the country to guide them. Crossing the river, they struck the old Fort St. John trail, which formerly belonged to the Hudson Bay Company, and found a camp where the Klondike party had wintered the previous season. Outfits were scattered all about. They struck a blazed trail at Hay Forks, on Nelson River. From that place to Great Slave Lake they found many traces of Klondikers. Of this part of his trip, Lewis says:

"We ran across a village of about 500 men. They had plenty of provisions, and had settled down for the winter. People from all parts of the country were in that camp, doctors, lawyers, druggists and persons of all trades and occupations. They had a meeting-house and had established a burying-ground, which already contained three graves. Over their temporary dwellings were all sorts of ridiculous signs. The entire party consisted of disappointed Klondikers. From that place on we found many dead horses, some human skeletons, caches of grub, abandoned outfits, until we came near Great Slave Lake, where we found another party of men, and from there to Lesser Slave Lake we met several large parties of campers. In all, we must have seen 2,300 men, many despondent, sick, injured or crippled; some with broken limbs, lingering between life and death. We found millions of acres, between two lakes, with grass so high that he could tie it in knots about the packs on our horses' backs."

The City of Churches Has a Supposed Poisoning Case.

Three Women in the Case Includinga Russian Countess.

New York, Jan. 10.-Brooklyn has an alleged poisoning case now. The victim is Mrs. Flore Lillian Van Schaack. She is lying ill today at the Hotel Brandon on Washington street, and she accuses the maid of a Russian countess with trying to kill her. This countess, she says, she intended to name as corespondent in a suit of divorce against her husband, Jack Van Schaack.

Two weeks ago, according to the story of her lawyer, Felix McCloskey, of Brooklyn, a maid of the Russian countess, whom she intends to mention in her divorce suit, came to her at the hotel. She told the young wife that she would furnish evidence on which she could obtain a divorce. The maid came back yesterday morning. She told Mrs. Van Schaack that she could not, after all, furnish the necessary evidence. While the girl was in her rooms, Mrs. Van Schaack was seized with a violent headache. The maid, she says, de-clared that she had something that would cure her. From a hand-bag Mrs. Van Schaack says the girl took a white powder. After dissolving it jn water, Mrs. Van Schaack drank it. The maid then left. Later Mrs. Van Schaack was seized with illness. She was put to bed and Dr. S. Kolton, of 186 Montague street called in.

The case was reported to Chief of Detectives Reynolds and an investigation was at once begun. Mrs. Van Schaack is a very beautiful woman. She was Miss Florence Palmer before her marriage to Jack Van Schaack, in 1888, and says she is an heir of Potter Palmer. She was educated in Paris and

ON A BRIDGE

To Span the Detroit River-Three Companies Will Work for Its Erection.

Detroit, Jan. 10 .- After much quibbling the railroads have come to an agreement regarding the proposed railroad bridge across the river, and the bill which was introduced in congress last month will have the united support of the Michigan Central, Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific lines.

A corporation including these interests has been formed for the building of a bridge to cost $3,000,000, but as yet no location has been determined upon.

"With pleasure I write to let you know the great benefit I have received from your medicines and self-treatment at home," writes Mrs. A. Flackus, of Dairy, Klamath Co., Oregon. "When you kindly Klamath Co., Oregon.

advised me to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery' for my trouble, I followed your advice and re-ceived great benefit. I am over fifty years of age, and for over a year I suffered with pains in stomach, headache, irregular periods, constipation and indigestion. I had no appetite at all, and could not sleep. So it went on for months, till one day all at once I got dizzy, my heart seemed to beat as fast as it could and I felt like fainting. My heart beat 120 or 125 times a minute. I went to the doctor; he gave me medicine, but it did no good. I thought I had to die. Every night when I went to bed I feared I would not be alive in the morning. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He prescribed his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' At first I thought the medi-cines did no good, but I kept on taking them as advised, and when I had taken five bot-tles I was so well that it seemed I did not need any more, but still I took the sixth bottle. I was then perfectly well. The headaches pains in stomaci perfectly well. The headaches, pains in stomach, heart trouble and all left me. I have had a good appetite ever since, and can sleep well and de all my work."

If you are not sure what ails you write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., stating your symptoms fully, and he will prescribe for you free of charge.

A. A. A. OF CANADA.

The executive of the A. A. A. of Canada have decided several important matters. The Argonaut Rowing Club of Toronto has been admitted to mem-bership, having complied with the bylaws in every respect. An application for membership from the Athenaeum Club of Toronto was not entertained, as the necessary copies of the bylaws of that club had not been furnished with application. Permission was granted the Argonaut Rowing Club to hold the annual championship boxing tournament of 1899 under the sanction of this association. The proposed reyised bylaws are now ready, and special meeting of the association to consider and vote on the same is to be held on Feb. 20, in Toronto. The record put on the 16-lb. shot, made by Geo.
R. Grace in Ottawa, on August 1, was not allowed to stand, as the necessary conditions had not been carried out. A KNOCK-OUT.

New York, Jan. 10.—Last night 6,000 people attended the Lenox Athletic Club's meeting to witness the boxing. Jimmy Clare, of Long Island City, and Bob Dwyer, a local fighter, fought in the preliminary bout of ten rounds. Dwyer got the decision. The star attraction of the evening was the bout between Oscar Gardiner, the "Omaha Kid," and Dave Sullivan, of Boston. They were matched to fight 25 rounds at catch weights. Gardiner had the best of the fight. In the seventeenth, and final, Gardiner, with a wild left swing, landed flush on the mouth, sending Sullivan to the floor, where the Irish lad lay flat on his back until counted out. He was carried to his corner, where he revived quickly, and was able to walk out of the ring in five minutes after he received the "knock-out" blow. Gardiner was announced the winner.

Leveling Up.

There are now three seats in the Senate of Canada without occupants. One of these was vacated by Sir Oliver Mowat when he became Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and the other two are those of the late Messrs. Macfarlane and Adams, of Nova Scotia, who died last week. They were Conservatives. When the present Administration came into power about two and a half years ago, the Liberal Senators could almost be counted on the fingers of one hand. Now in the House of 91 there are 19 Liberal senators, and when the three vacancies are filled there will be 22. The rapidity with which the membership changes is thus strikingly shown, and it may be further illustrated by the statement that in the ten years between 1886 and 1896, one-half of the senators having seats in the last named year were appointed.

At the present rate of evolution, it will take but a very few years to alter the complexion of the Senate. The fact that such a change is likely to be brought about before there is a change of government does not do eway with the necessity for a reform of the Senate. A Senate of the uselessness, or mischievousness, of the body as it existed from 1878 down to the present time will not be tolerated by the people.

The Globe says the pork-packing trade has become Toronto's greatest industry. But the Hamilton papers call Toronto Hogtown in an entirely different sense.

The publication of the Madagascar blue book shows that France is not only opposed to the open door policy, but to an open policy of any kind with Great Britain.

Victor Napoleon Bonaparte is bloviating about "the glorious name I am proud to bear-Napoleon." Prince Victor may well conjure with Napoleon's name. It is the only attribute of the first Napoleon that any of his descendants have inherited.

The Count De Castellane, Anna Gould's husband, has entered suit for libel against a paper that accused him of fighting a duel. The average French duel is such a ridiculous affair that it is no wonder the Count feels insulted.

The Toronto Board of Trade has petitioned the Government to divert the course of the Don River, because of the alluvial deposits in Toronto harbor. This is the chief defect of our own harbor at Port Stanley. The only permanent remedy is the diversion of Kettle Creek.

The traffic returns of eighteen principal English and Irish lines, for the current half-year exhibit an increase of £879,471, or 2.6 per cent., while on the Scotch lines, up to mid-December, there is a gain of £129,628, equal to 3.7 per cent. Times were never better in Britain and Ireland than now.

Mr. Mulock's critics are reduced to the extremity of attacking the quotation on the new Imperial postage stamp, "We hold a vaster empire than has been." They assume that Mr. Mulock is the author. The line is taken from Lewis Morris' "Song of Empire:

"We love not war, but only peace. Yet never shall our England's power decrease!

Whoever guides our helm of state, Let all men know it, England shall be great,

We hold a vaster empire than has been."

The resignation of a judge of the court of cassation at this critical juncture is one of the most discouraging features of the Dreyfus case. The court was the supreme hope of the Dreyfusards, but even that supposed canctuary of justice has been defiled. How long will the French nation allow itself to be disgraced in the eyes of the world? Its friends might despair of it, were it not that so many Frenchmen have shown their nobility by coming to the aid of the persecuted Dreyfus, and by defying the tyranny of the army. These men are the salt of the republic, and may yet save it from utter decay.

The late Bishop Sullivan was a Christian of the true type. At the bidding of duty he left the comforts of a city parish for the wilds of Algoma. He ministered to the diocese with a zeal that was apostolic, traveling incessantly from place to place through sparsely settled country districts, and often suffering severe hardships in the bitter winter months. He was virtually a martyr to his calling, as the irregular mode of life compelled by his devotion to his widely scattered congregations, sowed the seeds of disease in his once hardy constitution, and finally caused his death, after an interval spent in Europe in search of health. The Anglican communion is not alone in mourning one who put his faith and his creed into his life and

SCENE OF THE DISASTER.

West Dunellen is three miles from Boundbrook and about 30 miles from York city. At the spot where the disaster occurred there is a sharp curve in the Lehigh Valley tracks. and a deep cutting, but the accident was due in the first place to some terrible mistake in train orders, and in the second place to an accident that occurred at Boundbrook earlier in

This head-on collision on a doubletrack road was made possible by a freight, wreck which occurred at Boundbrook yesterday morning, when the axle of a freight car broke and nine cars were piled on top of each other. This completely blocked the eastbound track, and all through the Several passengers were badly hurt.

Train No. 20, which left Shamokin, Pa., at 7 a.m., was so heavy with human freight that it had to be broken into three sections. The first two arrived at Boundbrook, switched over to the other track, switched back to Newmarket, and reached New York in safety. The third section of this train was almost an hour late. THE FATAL MISTAKE.

Meanwhile there had been waiting at Newmarket a local train (No. 71), that plies regularly between New York Boundbrook, due in Boundbrook at 10:59 a.m. Owing to the traffic all going on one track, it was almost an hour late. Just before reaching West Dunellen, Engineer Ricks slowed his train down to stop for passengers. Martin Brennan, the signalman, threw up his arms and waved to them, as if to say there were no passengers, so the local put on steam and headed round the curve. It was going at about 25 miles an hour. There were only four passengers on this train. In the cab of the excursion train was James Pren-dergast, engineer, with his fireman, George Churcher. They saw the local as it started on the curve.

THE CRASH. With shricking whistles and brakes grinding sparks from the wheels, the excursion train bore down to what seemed certain destruction. The passengers, alarmed at the continued whistle, apened the windows, but before they had time to find out what was the matter, they were hurled headlong, knocked senseless and many were killed outright. The two engines—both crews had jumped—came together with an awful crash. The excursion train was probably gedne at about fifteen was probably going at about fifteen miles an hour. The local engine turned a complete somersault and came crashing down beside its demolished obstruction. But its career was not ended be-fore it had jammed the tender of the excursion train almost from one end to the other of the first car from Shamokin. The tender stopped a few seats from the rear door; the car, or what was left of it, rolled over, carrying with it the embedded tender, the fragments of a dozen bodies, and the imprisoned wounded.

THE SLAUGHTER-PEN. It was in this first car of the excursion train that all the deaths and most of the casualties occurred. The other cars remained on the track.

From Dunellen, Boundbrook and other places doctors were quickly summoned. Relief and wreckage trains were quickly on hand, and as the dead were pulled out of the demolished car they were put in the rear cars of the ex cursion train and taken to Boundbrook. where a coroner's inquest was held. Twenty-one of the wounded were taken to Plainfield hospital, while the

AN UNFORTUNATE CHANGE. The loss of life inflicted upon the train would probably have been nothing like what it was had it not been for the fact that at Mauchchunk the baggage car of the excursion train was found to have a hot box, and was taken off, thus leaving the crowded day coach next to the engine.

SOMEONE BLUNDERED. Engineer Ricks, of the local, was found on the tracks so badly injured that little hope was entertained of his recovery. Despite the blood that flowed from his mouth, Rick gurgled: "Someone gave wrong orders. I know how it happened, but I can't speak now. In this connection, W. O. Spriggs, the superintendent of the eastern and Amboy division of the Lehigh Valley, said: The accident is evidently due to a blunder in orders." On this section of the Lehigh Valley the block system is not in use. The train dispatcher at Easton, who has charge of the territory, is said to have wired to the operator at South Plainfield to let No. 71, the local, come through, but later there came a message from Easton to hold all westbound traffic. It is alleged that the latter message was overlooked.

TERRIBLE SCENES.

Dr. Brakely, of Dunellen, was one of the first on the scene. He said: "We got into the overturned car and groped among the debris for the dead. Teeth, arms, brains and splintered wood and twisted iron were mixed up in an indescribable mass. The wounded, most of them suffering from broken legs, were all jammed together at the rear end. The dead we got out piecemeal. Among the ruins we found a baby in Carmel Pa., legs broken; Wm. Feely, thought it was dead, and laid it on the Pottsville, Pa., legs fractured; Mrs. bank beside the half-frozen other mansevere bruises; John Ballou, husband I was leaving I noticed signs of life. The baby was alive, and a careful examination showed it had only sustained a bruise on the head. We put it in the cars for Plainfield."

mel, was pinned in the debris of the front car for two hours. Despite the fact that he was seriously, if not fatally, injured, Mr. Walter directed the attention of the rescuers to other sufferers, and from this point of vantage superintended their efforts.

The occupants of the few houses near by did everything in their power to assist the wounded, the women tearing up sheets as bandages for the injured, and easing in countless ways their sufferings.

OTHER WRECKS.

Sidney, Neb., Jan. 10 .- At Sunol, fifteen miles east of here, the Union Pacific had a bad wreck. Train No. 3, fast passenger, double-header, from Omaha, ran into train No. 2. The engines were badly demolished, and train No. 3 was entirely destroyed, excepting the mail car and one sleeper. The com-posite car of No. 2 burned up. Engineer Bonner, of No. 2, was internally in-jured; Fireman Coleman was killed, jured: and Engineer Bell, of No. 3, scalded.

Interesting Breach of Promise Case Settled Out of Court.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Although the attendance was small when the assize court opened, the chamber of justice was filled to overflowing before evening. The docket. contains 22 cases, and considerable interest is being taken in many of them, especially those actions in which the street ralway is concerned. All the afternoon was taken up in hearing eveidence in the case of Mrs. Louisa Melmer, a widow, aged 58 years, who brought an action to recover $10,-000 damages from the London Street Railway Company for injuries received and when he appeared through the alleged negligence of employes of the company. The plaintiff claims that on Oct. 19, 1897, she was a passenger on an Oxford street car, coming south on Richmond street. When the car arrived at the north side of Dundas street it stopped and several passengers left. The plaintiff and another lady kept their seats until the car passed to the south side of Dundas, on Richmond street, and stopped at the regular stopping place. Mrs. Melmer stated that she and the other lady got up to quit the car, the latter going out of the end door, and plaintiff going out at the side door. The conductor, she claimed, helped the lady off the rear platform, and then, without noticing whether or not she had alighted safely, gave the motorman the signal (two bells), and the car started while she was in the act of getting off. Mrs. Melmer said this caused her to fall and break her hip joint. Besides this, she claims to have received other permanent bodily injuries, which have caused her to lose the use of her lower limbs, and crippled her for life. Mrs. Melmer moved with great difficulty on a pair of crutches in the court room, and had to be almost carried upstairs. This resulted, she claims, from the negligence of the men in charge of the car. She was carried in Richardson's office, on Richmond street, where medical aid was summoned, and was then removed to her home. Drs. Stutt, Wilson and Belton were examined on behalf of the plaintiff as to the injuries, and gave the one opinion-that her injuries were serious and permanent.

The defense put up a strong case of contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff. George Smith, the conductor, deposed that Mrs. Melmer made no effort to get out of the car, and had said nothing to him about getting out. After he assisted the lady off the rear platform the car was started and stopped again for a lady passenger to get on. The car stopped for about one minute and a half, when Mrs. Melmer got off. This evidence was corroborated to some extent by John A. Mackay, the motorman, and John Break, the assistant superintendent. Drs. Waugh and McCallum gave evidence on behalf of the company. Mr. Hellmuth (for the company) addressed the jury, and was followed by Mr. Stuart, who, in the course of his remarks, said that "perhaps it was because the men were not properly paid that they became negligent."

Mr. Hellmuth objected to this reflection, and the judge sustained the ob-

Mr. Stuart apologized to the court. The judge, in addressing the jury, remarked that this was a most unfortunate case. A woman past the prime of life had been very seriously injured in a very brief space of time. A person might have alighted from a car 50 times under the same circumstances, and not been thrown down. What the jury had to consider was whether or not the railway company were blamable. It was not a question of sympathy or of charity. However much they might sympathize with the plaintiff, or pity her, she could not recover unless the company was responsible. The jury to do justice and not administer charity with other people's money. The plaintiff asked for justice only. He reviewed the evidence of the conductor as against that of Mrs. Melmer, and remarked that some absent-minded people often sat until the cars started, and were then anxious to get off. An important question was: "Did the car stop a reasonable length of time?" this connection, he said to the jury: "How unreasonable some passengers are. We often see people after the oar has stopped to let them off turning back to recognize some of their friends." It was surprising, he said, what could be done in the course of a few seconds. The car, the defense claimed, had stopped a minute and a haif. By way of illustration of how much could be done in a few seconds. he pointed to the fact that men had frequently run 100 yards in ten seconds, and he (the judge) or any of the jury might do it easily in twenty seconds. Assuming, he said, that the car had stopped the time claimed, might Mrs. Melmer's injuries have been prevented by the conductor of that car? A conductor must be alert and keep his eyes open, but if his attention was properly drawn away, he was not responsible for not seeing the plaintiff going into a place of danger. The question of damages was in this case a difficult one. No money could compensate the plaintiff for the injures she had received, and if they concluded the defendants were responsible, the damages should be substantial. The jury left the box at 5:30, and not having agreed on a verdict at 6:45 they should they come to an agreement at a reasonable hour, to hand the sealed verdict to the sheriff. If no decision were reached at a specified time, they could disperse, but were charged not to discuss the case with any person.

LEWIS VS. THE STREET RAILWAY. George Lewis, painter, of Oxford street, brought this action to recover $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been received through being forcibly and unlawfully ejected from a street car on Aug. 6 last, on Oxford street. Mr. J. A. Robinson, St. Thomas, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Hellmuth for the street railway company. The first witness was Col. D. W. Gossage, Dominion lands surveyor. He produced a detailed plan of the Oxford street line, where the alleged fraces is said to have taken place. Lewis' house is 177 feet from Wellington street, and 310 feet from Richmond street. George Lewis, the plaintiff, aged 46, swere that on Aug. 6, between 5 and 6 o'clook, he boarded an Oxford street car to go home. He asked was tickets, car to go home. He asked was tickets, and was given 25 cents worth, and tendered a $5 bill for payment. The car had gone about three blocks, when plaintiff asked for his change. Conductor Bennett said he had not change enough, but would give him an order to offered the conductor a 5 cent piece and his tickets back, but Bennett refused to take it. At the corner of Oxford and Richmond streets he was ordered off the car. He refused to go. The car started again, and Motorman Taylor and the conductor, so plaintiff said, came on to the rear platform and put him off the car. He fell on the hard road, broke his left shoulder-bone, and injured himself so that he had not done a day's work since. As to his earning abilities, witness said he learned his trade as a painter and grainer in England, serving seven years. He had and could earn from $10 to $15 per day. and mentioned one case where he had grained a church in Sarnia in a few days, when he made 512 York shallings expenses clear. His injuries prevented him from following his occupation. Both arms, he said, were needed in his work. Mr. Lewis said that after being thrown off the car he waited until it returned. To Mr. Hellmuth, Mr. Lewis admitted that he had, notwithstanding his large wage-earning abilities, been up on more than one occasion on judgment summonses for non-payment of debts. Mr. Lewis said he had a large family, judgment summonses he had not money to pay his debts. He admitted having tendered a $5 bill before, but had always been given credit when the conductor could not make the change. At the time he offered the tickets back and the 5 cents, he had torn off a ticket and placed it in the box. He would not say that he had asked for his change in "severest manner possible," cause the conductor was an insulting little rascal. He denied that he took the conductor by the throat and de manded his change, and stuck to his story that he had been in some canic way fired off the car." Lewis admitted having had a glass of beer that day.

Dr. McCallum said Lewis' injuries were likely to be permanent, and Geo Grisman, Adelaide street, was called to show that Lewis on the night in question was sober.

Mrs. Wm. Jefferies, a passenger on the car, corroborated Mr. Lewis' evidence about the controversy over the change, and to seeing him ejected from

TUESDAY MORNING.

When the assize court assembled at 9:30, the clerk, John Macbeth, read the verdict of the jury in the case of Mrs. Louisa Melmer vs. the London Street Railway. The jury awarded Mrs. Melmer $800, to be paid by the company, who have obtained a stay of proceedings for 30 days.

CHARPE VS. GRAVES.

This action, had it come to trial, would doubtless have created a sensation. It was an action brought by Josephine wharpe, a young lady of Tilonburg, against J. A. Graves, a prominent merchant of the same town, to recover $5,000 for compensation for aleged breach of promise. The fair plaintiff brought the action for $5,000 and settled it for a much less consideration. Mr. E. Meredith, Q.C., appeared for the plaintiff, Geo. C. Gibbons for the de-

LILLIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

How She Kept Trouble, Losstand Disappointment From a City Home.

-, the bright daughter of a farmer living some 80 miles from Toronto, was visiting her aunt in the Queen City during fair time.

nittle country gira 18th year, was a model in all that pertained to housework; she excelled in buttermaking, cooking, sewing, crocheting, and understood the art of making old things look like new - home dyeing with Diamond Dyes.

During the second week of Lillian's visit, her aunt intimated one day that she had made a careful selection of some clean but faded skirts and a suit of boy's clothing, which she thought were good enough for another season's wear if they could be properly re-col-

Lillian's aunt acknowledged that she had never before attempted home dying, but said she was encouraged by the statements made in some of the newspapers that --- Dyes would work wonders for her.

At once Lillian came to her rescue,

"Auntie, for goodness sake do not risk your good garments with these common dyes; they are quite useless. I tried a package some time ago in order to satisfy my curiosity, and they gave just such results as I expected-spoiled my material. When I use dyes I want pure dyestuffs, quite free from grease. Let me suggest the usa of the Diamond Dyes; they are safe and sure, and your colors will be just right. Send to the drug store for them, and I will assist you in your work."

The Diamond Dyes were procured, and part of an afternoon was spent by aunt and niece in making the old things look like new creations. All were delighted with the magnificent re-sults, and Lillian was particularly proud of the achievement of her friends, the Diamond Dyes. At the tea table that evening the aunt said: Lillian, your experience in dying certainly saved us from trouble, loss and disappointment."

A Substantial Gain.

"I was very weak and hardly able to walk. My blood was thin and I was as pale as death. Being told about Hood's Sarsaparilla I began taking it and in a few months I had gained 20 pounds in weight. I kept on with it until I was as well as ever." Arthur 121 Clarence Street. Mills. Dresden, Ont.

"Probably no single drug is employed in nervous diseases with effects so markedly beneficial as those of cod-liver oil."

These are the words of an eminent medical teacher.

Another says: "The hypophosphites are generally acknowledged as valuable nerve tonics."

Both these remedies are combined in Scott's Emulsion. Therefore, take it for nervousness, neuralgia, sciatica, insomnia and brain exhaustion.

An Old Man Frozen to Death on the Roadside in Brant County.

Ingersoll Boy Narrowly Escapes Drowning-White-Sweet Wedding at Tilsonburg-Seeing a Vision,

Diphtheria, which was almost epi-demic in Berlin of late, has dwindled down to three cases. Mr. Wellington Johnson, who was so badly burned a week ago Sunday night, at Springfield, died Saturday night. Mr. Moses De Lafrainer, of Stratford, fell on the slippery sidewalk at the Bank of Montreal corner there Saturday morning, and broke his left arm at the elbow. The break is a bad one, as the arm was fractured in the same place some time ago. The will of the late Margaret Woodbridge was filed for probate at Detroit recently. Mrs. Julia T. Hochgraff, of Detroit, get a lot on the Woodbridge farm; Mrs. Burzina Hay, of Arkona, Ont., three lots, and Mrs. Alice Jewell one. Stella W. Yeates and Leverett H.

Woodbridge are the residue legatees. The death occurred Monday morning, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. Bond, St. Thomas, of Mrs. Ann Eads, wife of Mr. John Eads, in the 81st year of her age. Deceased was stricken with paralysis four years ago and never regained her strength.

Jas. McFarlane, the well-known sheep breeder n the township of Stanley, Huron county, recently sold 91 of his best sheep to Mr. Wineland, of Avoca, Iowa, who took them west for breeding purposes. Mr. McFarlane is credited with making a thousand a year on his sheep. On Saturday morning Fred Robinson, son of Wm. Robinson, while playing on Partlo's pond, Ingersell, slipped in race, and only the presence of mind of his brother, who was with him, throwing him a hockey stick, he might have been drowned. He was finally rescued and fell asleep. Brant county has been an unlucky place for tramps lately. Inside of a month one has been shot and now another has been frozen to death. This man, as far as can be ascertained, is Albert Miller, residence anywhere between Simcoe and Hamilton, with a married daughter in Simcoe and his boyhood home in Binbrook, near the Ambitious City. He was over 65 years of age. He was found near a swamp by an officer frozen stiff. From the appearance of the ground the dead man had struggled to get up before he had sunk into his last long sleep. A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. H. Sweet, Tilsonburg, last week when his eldest daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Thomes Miner White, a son of D. W. White, of Courtland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Brethour, assisted by Rev. Mr. McGregor, M.A., in the presence of about 90 guests. The groom was supported by his brother, Charles White, and the bride by Miss Alberta Harris, of Dereham Center, Miss Pearl Sweet, the little sister of the bride, making a very pretty maid of honor.

Mr. Mc-Gillivray, of St. James' Presbyterian Church, city, to a Guelph pastorate. The matter will be discussed and dealt with at a meeting to be held in this city on Thursday, Jan. 26. Col. Mc-Crae was in attendance, representing the Guelph congregation.

> "THE CIRCUS GIRL." New York critics told her that she was welcome to remain as long as she liked. The merry, musical farce-comedy which is to be the attraction at the Grand on Thursday, is admittedly the most brilliant of the famous gaiety series, in scenes, costumes and picturesque groupings, and its success has been further added to by the fact that it has a more coherent and amusing story, and much more laughable situations than any of its predecessors. It is customary to say of many things that they do them better in France, but there can be no question but that in the comparatively new field of high-class musical farce-comedy the English hold the supremacy. No one man could possibly succeed in the construction of one of the kaleidoscopic affairs. In England the work is divided up among specialists, one furnishing beautiful and catchy music, another the lyrics, clever in both rhyme and metre; while still another aids with witty and unceasingly lively dialogue. The result is a brilliant success, like "The Circus Girl," which is the work of at least six of London's brainlest and most up-todate writers. CITY HALL NOTES.

The city fathers have some idea now of what is ahead of them, and they will get to work this week on the several committees. The hospital committee will meet Friday night, when a chairman will be selected. Either Ald. Wilkey or Ald. Jolly, it is said, would be pleased to accept the position. The sewer committee, which consists of the members of the board of works, together with Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, and ex-Ald. Carrothers, as members of the board of health, will meet Thursday night, and also choose a chairman.

Ald. Wilkey, speaking of Ald. Parnell's municipal reform motion, this morning, said he favored the idea of the election of aldermen by a general vote, but he believed the ward system should be retained in another sense. Each ward should be represented in the council by men interested in the ward. In the matter of election only he held the ward system should be abolished.

Consulting Engineer Chipman is in the city on business relating to the siphon section of the sewer system,

CASES SETTLED

Miss Dawson Gets $2,500 From the Company.

Mr. Sargent's Case Compromised at $600 - The Winter Assizes. TUESDAY MORNING.

The defense in the case of Lewis vs. the Street Railway was begun as soon as the verdict in the Melmer case had been rendered. The witnesses examined were: F. Taylor, motorman; M. G. Bennett; J. H. Arscott, 604 Oxford street, and Patrick White, Regent street. The defendants set up the plea that Lewis had assaulted the conductor at the corner of Oxford and Richmond streets; that plaintiff took hold of Conductor Bennett and threatened to strike him, and said he would not leave FERRY BUSINESS the car until he got his change, and that he would take "it" (meaning his change) out of the conductor. The motorman, seeing the assault, came to the L. E. and D. R. R. Enter Upon an Important Lease—Take Over the Shenango and the Docks at Port Dover three "fell" off the car.

After counsel had made lengthy appeals to the jury, Judge Meredith said: This long case had arisen out of the The Lake Erie and Detroit River right of a passenger to receive change plained because he had not received his change at once. As a matter of law, the judge knew of no right of a men to offer more than the absolute fare, and he had no right to demand the change. If a purchaser went to a merchant, and both stood on their rights, the purchaser would be compelled to tender the exact amount asked for the article, or the merchant could refuse to sell. If there had been a disturbance, as alleged by the defense, it was the right of the servants of the company to order plaintiff off the car. The judge referred to a remark made by Mr. Robinson, plaintiff's counsel, that the defendants, if a verdict were found against them, would not feel the loss, so great was their wealth. That, said the judge, was no way to appeal to either a judge or a jury. It was not a question of whether or not the company would feel the loss, but whether the verdict was right and true according to the evidence. The unforunates who happened to be shareholders, many of whom might be poorer than the plaintiff, were called upon to pay the Alfred Hill, this morning issued a writ against Mr. George White, for money into the corporation, feeling that $1,000, for malicious prosecution, and a Justice would be accorded them if they came before the courts as litigants He also referred to the fact of Lewis being a debtor in the courts, although he made such big wages.

Mr. Robinson raised an objection to the judge's charge re the right of passengers to demand change, and by pointing out that under a city bylaw the conductor of every car was called upon to make change at any time to the extent of $2.

The judge brought the jury back, and made the matter clear. He said he had referred to the matter in a general way. He pointed out that the company had agreed to conform to a bylaw which rendered it necessary for them to make change at all and any time to the extent of $2.

At this point one of the jurymen he could not make the change, had actrightly in taking the bill, and then refusing to give it back.

The judge replied that, strictly speaking, the conductor had not; and that a much better way would have been for the conductor to have refused to accept the bill and refused to carry the passenger until his fare was paid. The verdict will be received by the judge at six o'clock, if at that hour one has been agreed upon.

THE QUEEN OF THE SEASON

Vivien made a little moue, as if not over well pleased with the office as-gigned to her, and was about to ask how he thought she could bring herself to further his union with a stranger, who had been masquerading in the character of a lady's maid, and for purposes she was not willing to acknowledge. But she recollected how Sir Innis had counseled prudence, and repolved to say nothing till she had satisfied herself how far Marie might be trusted to second her in her earnest desire to convince Aymer of his folly.

A timid, pinched-up little female, who sighed and sniffed continually, answered the Earl's rap at the door, and seemed too much fascinated by his handsome face and courteous manner to notice his sister, who had followed him up the steps of the unpretending little house at which they found them-

"What can you mean?" demanded
Aymer, haughtily. "I am the Earl of Esselyn, and this is my sister, Lady Vivien St. Orme. We are here to request an interview with Mademoiselle Marie Delille, or, if she is not well enought to receive us, with the relative who resides with her."

Mrs. Blunden was profuse in her apologies. Her poor eyes had never been of much account, she declared; but they must be worse than ever to mistake a real gentleman for one of the police force in private clothes; but she was that flustered and—

"Kindly spare us any more apologies, and inform Mademoiselle Delille that we beg her to receive us," Aymer inter-

"When did your lodgers leave you? Yesterday—the day before? Please be particular to date," queried Vivien, who had contrived to silence her tortured brother.

"A week tomorrow, mem, and would have been sooner; but Sarah Jane, who isn't to be trusted—though I've given her beer money over and above her never revealed to me what she knew till that very morning. or its environs I must seek them. I shall start this very night." Vivien was about to dissuade him, but, on second thoughts, decided that it would be useless. She therefore contented herself with one remonstrance. "Is it fair to force yourself upon Marie after so many proofs that she is deing her utmost to avoid you?"

"Because she has been induced to doubt me. She does not know that her avoidance only strengthens my deter-avoidance only strengthens my determination to justify myslf in her eyes. Don't tease me with arguments, there's a dear girl. You are quite incapable of judging what a person feels in my position. You can be just as happy in Hatherfield's absence as if he were beside you, and you don't appear to imagine what I suffer whenever I think of Marie, ill in a strange land, at the mercy of a wretched servant girl, who plays the spy upon her, and reports all she hears to her equally detestable mistress. Ill and yet hunted from her refuge by threats of the police. It is too horrible to dwell upon, I shall go mad if I do no succeed in finding and reassuring

Seeing him in such an excited frame of mind, Vivien wisely refrained from anything that sounded like opposition, but soothed him with her affectionate sympathy, and scarcely lef him till, after a hasty meal, he departed to catch the evening train to Folkstone; then to baffle the curiosity of her stepmother, who could not discover what errand had kept the brother and sister absent, for so many hours, she dressed and went through the customary routine for the evening, smiling, dancing, firring, and wondering the while if ever a Queen of the Season felt as heavyhearted and weary of homage and flattery as she did.

It was frightfully examperating to the high-spirited Vivien to discover, through some good-natured friend, how Lady Esselyn was hinting to all her intimates that Hatherfield was getting tire of the caprices of his beautiful betrothed, and absenting himself on some trifling pretext. Vivien baffled the in-quisitive who sought to find in her countenance some trace of her disappointment, by her feigned laughter and untiring vivacity. She was the life of the fancy ball at which her detractors had gathered most closely around her, and her triumph was complete, as, turning, above the group of gentlemen who had enthroned her on the dais as Queen of Beauty, she eaw Sir Innis. For a moment her lips quivered and her heart sank as his grave eyes met hers. What had he learned? and how would be treat her, if his researches had but confirmed Lady Esselyn's cruel revelatione? But quickly recovering herself, she held out her hand, saying. You are just in time, cher ami to enroll yourself amongst my knights, and swear fealty. Your guerdon, remember, will be neither more nor less than my fair hand for one waltz and two quad-

To her relief, he smilingly bent his knee, and acted his part so well that the lookers-on began to tell themselves there was no dependence to be placed in Lady Esselyn's reports; there could never be a pair more devoted to each other than Sir Innis and the Lady Vi-

It was only the keen eyes of Vivien that detected how beneath the baronet's assumption of cheerful ease there were grave feelings at work, and she was not at all surprised to find him waiting for her when she descended to the breakfast-room on the following morning.

"Before we are interrupted, Vivien, in heaven's name answer she one ques-tion," he began as soon as she had greeted him, "Tell me truly on what errand you secretly quitted your hotel at Paris on a certain memorable night some years since? You had a definite purpose in so doing; you were to do whom? In heaven's name, answer me."

"You asked for a reply to one question, and I think you have asked three; but no matter," said Vivien, who was as nale as death. "You know already that I did leave the hotel, therefore it would be useless to deny it; but I will never tell you more—never! Think what you please of my refusal; but do not fancy you can induce me to rescind it."

Babies Tortured by the Flaming, Itch ing Eczema Find Comfort and Permanent Cure in Dr. Chase's Cintment Greater misery than that caused by the itching and burning sensations of eczema can scarcely be imagined. Young children are frequently sub-ject to this torturng disease, and are specially liable during the teething Mothers will read with interest the letter form Mrs. T. McKnight, of Kirkwall. Ont. She says: "I feel it my duty to let you know what Dr. Chase's Ointment has done in a very bad case of eczema on my baby. We had tried any number of cures without any permanent relief, but from the hour we commenced using Dr. Chase's Ointment there was great relief, and the improvement continued until there was a complete cure. We think it the greatest of family oint-

CURLING.

PRESIDENT'S SIDE ON TOP. The annual curling contest between sides captained by the presidents and vice-presidents of the Forest City Curling Club, took place at the Simcoe Street Rink last night. The ice was clean and the players enthusiastic. Mr. E. Masuret played one stone on each of the two last rinks. The president's side won by 48 to 34 points.

FOR THE DISTRICT CUP.

A meeting of the Ontario Curling Association was held at Toronto night. The new competition of the association, the district cup scheme, promises to maintain much interest in the game. It was suggested mainly Mr. Papineau was one of the foun-ders of the Ville Marie Bank, and its for such clubs that did not wish to enter the tankard competition, and the plan looks like a success to the executive. During the meeting the foilowing arrangements were completed: The western district cup will be competed for first at two centers, viz., Stratford and London. The clubs to compete in Stratford are Durham, Forest, Waterloo, Plattsville, Georgetown and Goderich. Those to play at London are, Ayr, Embro, Sarnia, Petrolia, Forest City and Clinton. The drawing will be made by the umpire between the teams which play on the ice, prepared to play on the hour and day appointed by the umpire, and further contests will also be appointed by the umpire. The eastern district cup will be competed for in a similar manner, the places selected being Orillia and Belleville. The clubs that will play at Orillia are: Meaford Fenelon Falls, Waubashene, Newmarket and Scarboro. These to play at Belleville are: Bowmanville, Keene, Campbellford, Lakefield and Napanee.

HOCKEY. AT STRATFORD.

The London Juniors were defeated at Stratford last night, in a game characterized by exceeding roughness. The Stratford point and cover-point were ruled off twice, and four London sticks were broken in the play. The London's were handicapped by Kerrigan breaking a skate at the outset. The score was 11 to 2 in favor of Stratford team.

The latter play a return match at the Jubilee Rink here on Thursday even-

AT GUELPH

The first O. H. A. match of the intermediate league was played at Guelph on Monday night between Guelph Nationals and the Waterloo team. A very snappy game was put up by both teams. At half time the score was 4 to 4, and at the finish, Nationals, 4; Waterloo, 5.

AT LISTOWEL. The result of the intermediate O. H. A. match at Listowel Monday between Harrison and Listowel was: Listowel, 14; Harrison, 4.

Permanent Cure of An Itching Eruption.

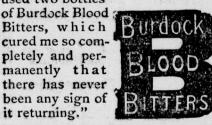

Burdock Blood bitters has long held the foremost position as a positive and permanent cure for rashes and eruptions of all descriptions.

It is wonderful the way it takes out the burning, smarting, itching and stinging when applied externally. It never fails to cure skin diseases-from the simplest to the severest. Eczema or Salt Rheum, Tetter, Psoriasis, Shingles, Scald Head, Ringworm, all yield to its beneficent action. The cure, too, is permanent, and the skin is left clear, soft and smooth as a babe's.

Miss Annie E. Rutter, Germania, Ont., writes as follows concerning

"About a year ago I had an eruption on my face which was of a very itching and burning nature and greatly inclined to spread. I used two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, which BUICOCK cured me so completely and permanently that there has never it returning."

-A very pleasant time was spent last night at Mrs. George Burdick's, 794 Queen's avenue, where a large number of friends were entertained. Music, games and enjoyments were indulged in and refreshments served. The friends all departed after spending a very merry evening. -The annual meeting of the "Fraternity of Musicians" was held Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. Roselle Pocock, at which Mr. St. John Hyttenrauch was elected president, Mr. W. A. Bleuthner vice-president, and Mr. W. Caven Barron secretary-treasurer. The club is composed of the leading musicians of the city, and meets monthly at the different houses of members. -The Ancient Order of Foresters' joint installation in the Duffield Hall this evening will no doubt be very important and interesting to Foresters in this city. At the close of the installa-tion a banquet will be held, when addresses will be delivered the high chief ranger, Major Snelgrove, of Cobourg; high sub-chief ranger, Bro. W. Baird, of Galt; Dr. Secord, of Brantford, and other members of the executive council of the order.

In both business and social circles Mr. Robinson has made himself popular during his stay here, and he will leave many warm friends. His associates evinced their regard for him by presenting him with a gold ring set with a valuable ruby. SCOTTISH BALL.

An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting of St. Andrew's Society was held last night, when it was decided to hold a Caledonian ball, such as was held annually a few years ago. This undertaking will undoubtedly be a grand success, as some 80 persons have already subscribed. A meeting will be held in the near future to fix the date, which will be announced in a few days. The officers and members are entering into the work with snap and vim, which promises to make this ball a recordbreaker.

PRESENTATION.

A very pleasant event recently took place at the Grove school house, the scholars of a handsome Bible to the teacher, Mr. J. A. Buchanan. The gift, with an address, was presented by Master Morris Percival, assisted by Master Walter Roberts, and it is needless to say that their teacher was very greatly surprised. Mr. Buchanan has successfully taught the Grove school for the past three years, and during that time he became very popular in the section. Now that he has left he will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends who sincerely wish him success in his future career.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

The water commissioners held their inaugural meeting for 1899 yesterday afternoon, with Messrs. Little and Jones, Mayor Wilson, Eecretary Elwood, and Superintendent Moore in attendance. The amendment reduces the rate over one-half of the original. The builders have been agitating the matter for some time, claiming that they were being charged excessively. BOYLE MEMORIAL PRESENTED.

Mr. S. J. Latta, principal of the Colborne street school, has recovered from the illness which kept him confined to the house during the Christmas festivities in the school. On his recovery, he arranged for yesterday afternoon a gathering of the classes of 1898 and 1899, and a very pleasant time was spent. Mr. J. M. Logan, ex-chairman of the board of education, presided, and introduced the following programme: Instrumental duet, Misses Goodwin and Richards; recitation, Gertie Whittaker, song, Miss Nellie Burnip; recitation, Miss Lulu Ashplant; instrumental, Miss Bradford; Bed-Bugs-the housewife's song, Miss Lily Harding; violin selection, Mr. D. Murray; recitation, Miss Hattle Fox; instrumental, Miss house by Persiatic Bed-Bug Violin selection, Mr. D. Murray. A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the Boyle Memorial by School Trustee Evans to Miss Pearl It is a liquid --- much more | Escott, who stood at the head of the class, and fifth in the city, at the high school entrance examination.

HOBBINS HONORED

For Twenty-Four Years a Faithful Member of the Police Force-On Retiring His Comrades Present Him With a Clock.

Within the last quarter of a century time has worked many changes in the police force of the Forest City. Numerous varied events have transpired, some sad, some pleasant-for there are pleasant seasons even in the life of a policeman. Among those connected with the force are men who have grown gray in the service, and one of these is James Hobbins. For 24 long years Mr. Hobbins has faced the hardships and dangers of a peace officer. On Jan. 1 he retired from active duty, having already passed one year beyond the allotted span of life, and was placed on the pension list. He has a host of comrades. At 7:30 last evening, in the presence of the majority of his comrades. Chief Williams called Mr. Hobbins to the assembly room, where, on behalf of the force, he presented him with a handsome marble clock, surmounted by a bronze figure. In addressing Mr. Hobbins, the chief com-plimented him on the good record he had made in the past 24 years, as an obedient, honorable and efficient servant of the city. He regretted that good men grew old so quickly, for even the longest life was only too short. He hoped that Mr. Hobbins would live for many years to hear the tick of the clock, and that each succeeding hour his life might be happier.

Mr. Hobbins was taken completely by surprise. He thanked his comrades for the tangible token of their esteem, and the chief for his kind

A WINTER FAIRYLAND

Skaters in Costumes Grotesque and Beautiful-Successful Carnival by the Meteor Club.

The fourth annual carnival of the Meteor Bicycle Club was held at Westminster Rink last night, and attended by over 1,000 persons. The aborate and very pretty decoration. The ice was in good condition, and the during that period was 13 feet 6 inches, Musical Society Band furnished enlivening music.

It was a gay scene. A large number of people entered the competition for prizes, and many of the costumes were excellent. Mrs. J. C. Lockhart and Mr. Wm. Wedmore won the prizes for best fancy dress. The former was costumed to represent a "mussel shell" and the latter "Olden Times." The prize winners for the best comic characters were: Miss Minnie Thompson, "An Irish Milkmaid," and Mr. Wm. Ford, "An Irishman from Italy." The judges were Ald S. J. Southcott, Mr. Wm. Edgecombe and Mr. D. J. Cowan. The officers of the club are: President, Alex. Jones; vice-president, A. Waterman; treasurer, Wm. Allinson; secretary, J. Pendergast. Following were the members of the carnival committee: T. Jones (chairman), William

Wright, J. Pendergast, E. Humphrey and A. Jones. The affair was a pronounced financial success, but, unfortunately, the rink was too small to admit of any pleasure on the part of the skaters, and of the spectators, and many left early because of the lack of accommodation for on-lookers. In these respects the affair was a pronounced

LONDON'S NEW

Compressed - Air Motor Street Railway.

The aldermanic proposal to buy out the foreign syndicate at present operating the street railway led our reporter to call on Mr. R. A. Schreiber, the manufacturer of the famous "Spot" cigar, to ascertain his views on the matter. Mr. Schreiber's long connection with organized labor entitles his views to respect, as an expression of opinion of the masses. "Are you in favor of the city buying out the street car company, Mr. Schrei-

"No, I am not." "What solution do you propose of the street railway difficulty in order to have an up-to-date railway and a proper service?" "I believe the city of London should build a double-track belt line up King street to the exhibition grounds; thence north to the barracks; from there west to Carling's brewery; and from there down Talbot street to the market. This road would cost about $20,000 to build, and with a 3-cent fare, or ten tickets for 25c, would get the cream of the business, especially during Fair week.

Would the road be run by electri-"No; electricity is getting to be a little behind the times, and the people of the twentieth century will turn up their noses at it.'

"What motive power do you favor?" "The cars should be run by compressed air motors. The cost of the road would thus be lessened, as the expense of the trolley wires and poles would be saved.

"Who should build the road." "The road should be built and operated by the water commissioners, who could build it with as much ease as they now lay a mile of water-pipe, and the road could be run by the present staff, with a few more assistants." "Suppose the present company accept the 30 days' option in the bylaw, and build the road themselves?" "The 30 days' option does not apply to the corporation of the city of London. It expressly applies only to any other person, persons, or company.' London is neither a person nor a company, but a corporation, and can build a road any street in the city, in spite of the street car company. It could even build another railway on the streets now used the street car company, provided it was not an 'electric railway.'"

"Would you be willing to manage the new road for the city, Mr. Schreiber?"

"No, sir; I find my time fully occupled in supplying the public with the 'Spot' and 'Flor de Alva.'" "Good day, Mr. Schreiber."
"Good day, sir. Have a 'Spot' cigar before you go."

OUR WESTERN BOOM

The Calgary Ranching Business Increasing Enormously-Crow's Nest Pass Railway Traffic Growing-Two New Towns.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.-Mr. G. A. McHugh, The examination of City Clerk King- of Calgary, who has been in the ranching business in the Northwest since 1883, and who is now here, says that he saw the first cattle train leave the For this reason: Mr. Bartram yester- west, and has watched the growth of years he thinks the railways will not be able to handle the cattle from the west. The railway companies last year had hardly sufficient cars to handle the stock. The ranching business is developing so rapidly in the Calgary and Red Deer districts that Mr. Mc-Hugh thinks the business in a few years will reach enormous proportions. Mr. J. H. MacLeod, of MacLeod, superintendent of the C. P. R. Crow's Nest Branch, is here. In an interview, Mr. MacLeod said the Crow's Nest Railway is now in working order, and three passenger trains are sent over it each way every week. In addition to this there is a regular freight traffic, which is steadily increasing. The company intend having a daily service in the spring, and it is likely branches of the line will be built into the larger mines. The company expects to get the larger portion of its freight from the mines, and the spurs will be built when the mines are in good condition. Mr. MacLeod says two new towns on the Crow's Nest Railway have been called Sirdar and Kitchener.

A Great Poultry Show

The Ontario Poultry Association hold their 25th annual show in the Pavilion. at the Horticultural Gardens, Toronto, this week, from the 9th to the 13th inst. Special arrangements have been made for reduced return fares, and the exhibit promises to be one of widespread interest and importance. Messra. Pickhardt & Renfrew Company, Lim-ited, of Stouffville, have been officially chosen to disinfect the huge building with their well-known Persiatic Poultry Powder-a preparation that purifies the atmosphere of disease germs and gases, and becomes at once a disinfectant and insecticide. Such a high indorsement marks it a preparation of the first class, and farmers and fanciers would do well to investigate the makers' claims for it. It can be purchased at all dealers.
