Four Firemen Burned to Death.

STOCKHOLM, May 31.—The new Palace of Industry which had been completed and was about to be formally opened in this city was destroyed by fire to-day. Four firemen lost their lives while endeavoring to subdue the conflagration and their bodies were cremated.

British Occupation of Egypt.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, May 31.—The question as to how far Egyptian occupation of the Soudan shall penetrate for the present, has been settled by the British commissioner, Sir Gerald Portal. Sir Gerald will cause to be abandoned the two furthest Toru forts and organize garrisons near Egypt.

Sir Charles Closes.

PARIS, May 31.—Sir Charles Russell concluded his argument in behalf of the British case before the Bering Sea tribunal of arbitration. He said this was the first occasion upon which a nation had claimed property in a free, swimming animal. The contention was untenable and its advancement was derogatory.

The Queen at Baimoral.

LONDON, May 31.—The Queen has been occupied since her arrival at Balmoral in visiting tenants and cottagers on the estate and in driving about the domain. The dry, warm weather has brought on the flowers and trees so much that everything on Deeside is at least a month more forward than usual. The roads are very dusty, and her Majesty has confined her excursions to the private drives, and the Danzig Shiel chalet in the recesses of Ballochbuie Forest has several times been visited for afternoon tea. The red deer in the royal forests are very numerous and in splendid condition this season, and there are large herds of roe deer in the Birkhall and Abergeldie woods.

Canadian Cattle Are Not Wanted at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, May 31.—The Glasgow importers of Canadian cattle have sent word by cable to the exporters to stop shipping, as the delays owing to the requirement by the Board of Agriculture that the cattle shall be slaughtered upon arrival are ruinous to the trade.

Three vessels loaded with cattle are now waiting for the disposal of their cargoes; others are coming, and prices have fallen £3 on each animal. In view of the fact that no evidence of disease in the cattle has been developed, the shippers have again requested the Board of Agriculture to raise the existing embargo. The board has refused to grant the request.

Mary or May?

LONDON, May 31.—The Princess Victoria Mary, to give her baptismal name, likes to be known by what the French call her nom de caresse of "May," the title by which she is always addressed by her family, and by which she has always been spoken of by the public. It appears, however, that the Queen does not like this shortening of her name, and it is possible, also, that she desires her own name shall not disappear from the intimate connection it has for considerably more than half a century enjoyed with the British throne. As soon, therefore, as the young princess is married, she will, in accordance with the Queen's desire, be known as Princess Victoria, Duchess of York.

Progress of the Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, May 31.—General Goldsworthy, Conservative, moved as an amendment to the Irish Home Rule Bill to abolish the office of viceroy for Ireland and to substitute a secretary of state in place of that official. Gen. Goldsworthy said he hoped to see members of the British royal family residing in Ireland, and was sure they would speedily win the affections of the Irish people.

Mr. Gladstone said he concurred in the hope, but nevertheless it was impossible to accept the proposed amendment.

Mr. Balfour said he had never been a strong advocate of the retention of a viceroy in Ireland, and would certainly support the amendment.

Gen. Goldsworthy's motion was rejected by a vote of 265 to 219.

Mr. Healy obtained leave to introduce a bill to repeal the act of William IV. relating to the display of flags and other emblems on licensed premises.

The Belgian Queen.

LONDON, May 31.—The Queen of the Belgians is probably one of the finest harpists now living. A few days ago on the occasion of her lady-in-waiting, Countess Marie De Limburg Stirum, becoming a nun, she acted as sponsor, and, after presenting the postulant at the altar, played a solo on the harp to the great delight of the sisters of the Holy Heart, who thronged the convent chapel. Queen Marie Henrietta is to receive the Golden Rose as soon as Leo XIII's special emissary arrives at Brussels. The marble hall of the palace has been converted into an oratory, but very few persons outside of the Ministers and the royal household are to witness the ceremony. Her predecessors during the present Pontificate are the Empress of Austria, the Queen of Spain, the Queen of Portugal and the Countess D'Eu of Brazil; all of them, curiously enough, being connected with her either by blood or marriage. The only English queens who have been objects of this honor were Queen Mary and the Consort of Charles I; but Henry VIII. enjoyed the unique distinction of receiving the Rose of Virtue three times, once from Julius II., once from Leo X. and once from Clement VII. Innocent VIII. sent it to James III. of Scotland.

The Duke's House.

LONDON, May 31.—The interior of the Duke of York's house has been entirely reconstructed since the death of the Duchess of Cambridge, who lived in it 38 years. On the ground floor is a suite of apartments looking out upon Cleveland Row, consisting of a dining-room, library and smoking-room. The dining-room is the most comfortable, and has a decidedly old-fashioned appearance. The fireplace is in a sort of alcove, with two recesses at either side of it. There is a high white wooden dado, with primrose paper. The smoking-room is in dark green. Above are two fine drawing-rooms connected by folding doors. The saloon has a blue carpet. The walls are divided in panels, which are filled with crimson silk on one side, and on the other with gold and crimson silk bracade. This room contains some rare French furniture, which belongs to the crown, and is lighted by electrolier of cut glass richly gilded, as well as by several brackets on the walls. The smaller drawing-room, which in the Duchess of Cambridge's time was known as the China room, is paneled with green silk brocade, and at one end there is a fine piece of tapestry. The boudoir has blue paper and hand-painted panels, with mirrors between each of the three windows. The drawback to this house is that all the rooms look out on Cleveland Row, a dreary street, and not a ray of sunlight ever penetrates to the windows. The principal bedroom, which adjoins the boudoir, is furnished and decorated in white and blue.

The Royal Wedding.

LONDON, May 31.—The Chapel Royal in St. James' Palace has been closed in order to be prepared for the royal wedding. The interior will be entirely dismantled, and the arrangements are to be, as much as possible, the same as they were when the Empress Frederick was married. It is probable that the Princess of Wales and her daughters will occupy the royal gallery during the ceremony. The floor of the chapel is to be entirely covered with crimson carpet, and the altar is to be draped with crimson velvet, above which the magnificent gold communion plate is to be placed. All the pews will be removed and the chapel filled with seats covered with scarlet cloth. The pillars are to be painted blue and ornamented with gold shields. The state chair will be placed close to the altar for the Queen, and her Majesty will be surrounded by the royal family and royal guests from abroad. It is hoped there will be room for about 450 persons in the chapel. A paragraph is going the round of the papers which states that at the royal wedding the daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, the sisters of the bridegroom, and Princess Victoria of Schieswig-Holstein will be among the bridesmaids. This is entirely wrong. The eight bridesmaids will all be daughters of peers.

Apollo's Statue Unearthed.

ATHENS, June 1.—Excavators at Delphia have unearthed a colossal marble statue of Apollo. The statue, which is of the best antique school, is in excellent condition except that the nose is broken.

Cholera in Asia.

LONDON, June 1.—Lloyd's sanitary inspector at Bagdad, Asiatic Turkey, announces the outbreak of cholera at some of the stations on the Tigris, and at Bussorah, a port on the Shat-El-Arab. In consequence of which river traffic has been suspended.

World's Fair—French Complaints.

LONDON, June 1.—The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post says: French exhibitors complain bitterly of the treatment received by them at the hands of the managers of the World's Fair in Chicago and of the customs and railway officials in the United States. They assert there has been much unnecessary delay in getting their exhibits through the customs house and in the matter of transportation to Chicago. They also complain of the intolerable dirt and general disorder around the exhibition grounds. The refusal of the fair managers to appoint an international jury on awards is also the subject of much adverse comment.

DROWNED IN A PAIL.

A Barton Lady Loses Her Babe by a Sad Accident.

HAMILTON, May 31.—The family of Mr. Morrow, school teacher, who live on the mountain, were yesterday afternoon thrown into great grief, owing to the drowning of a 10-months-old son. The little one (one of twins) was creeping about the house while the mother was ironing. He crept to the open door. On the doorstep stood a pail about half full of water. The baby put his hands out towards the water and losing his balance fell head foremost in.

The mother knew nothing of the occurrence until the little girl discovered the infant in the pail and gave the alarm. A doctor was summoned from the city and everything was done to restore animation, but without avail. The family live on the 5th concession of Barton township.

SENT HIS WIFE A-VISITING.

A Halifax Merchant Marries His Hired Girl.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 31.—Six years ago Eli Emino, a merchant of this city, wedded Miss Sason, of Caledonia, N. S. The couple lived in Halifax until shortly before last Christmas, when Mrs. Emino, at her husband's suggestion, went on a visit to her relatives in Ironwood, Mich. Emino neither wrote to his wife nor sent her any money, saying he was tired of her.

Friends came to Mrs. Emino's aid and sent her money with which to return. She arrived on Sunday, and has since discovered that her husband had, shortly after her departure, married their servant girl, and the marriage is recorded at the Provincial license office. Emino will be prosecuted for bigamy.

The Golden Stream Flows Eastward.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The steamers Teutonic and Fuerst Bismarck, which will sail for Europe to-morrow, will carry $3,000,000 in gold, and the total for the week is $4,500,000.

The Public Don't Object.

OTTAWA, June 1.—The war among the coal dealers continues, and the price of stove coal has now been cut by some to $5 a ton from the $6 50, which prevailed Monday. It is said to be an attempt by the larger dealers to force a combine, but the scheme will fail.

The Race on Epsom Downs—Isinglass (the Favorite) Wins the Derby—Other Sporting Events.

ATHLETICS.

A KNOCKOUT IN EARNEST.

LONDON, May 31.—Sporting people are talking about a fight in earnest between Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, and Jim Hall. Mitchell and Hall quarreled last night at "Pony" Moore's resort. They tried to settle the quarrel with their fists, and Hall was knocked down and had his head cut. The police arrested Hall. Mitchell escaped.

It is understood that both men were under the influence of drink, and the dispute arose out of Hall's fight with Frank Slavin.

E. B. Bloss, of Harvard, covered 22 feet 4 inches in the broad jump in the Harvard athletic games Saturday. Bloss' performance is the best college record for a broad jump.

THE TURF.

THE GREAT ENGLISH RACE.

LONDON, May 31.—The great English racing event came off to-day at Epsom, and, unlike last year, when Sir Hugo won with the odds 40 to 1 against him in the betting, the winner this year was a favorite, the betting being 9 to 4 on Mr. McCalmont's bay colt Isinglass. On Mr. Rose's Ravensburg the betting was 25 to 1 against, and 20 to 1 against the Duke of Portland's Raeburn; 14 to 1 against Irish Wake; 17 to 1 against William; 20 to 1 against Dame President; 28 to 1 against Son of a Gun, and 100 to 1 against Royal Harry, Lord William, Quickly, Wise and Peppercorn.

The betting for places was 6 to 11 on Isinglass; 7 to 4 against Ravensbury; even money against Raeburn; 5 to 1 against William; 7 to 4 against Irish Wake, 4 to 1 against Dame President and Son of a Gun, and 10 to 1 against Royal Harry, Lord William, Quickly, Wise and Peppercorn.

Isinglass won by a length and a half and Ravensbury was two lengths ahead of Raeburn.

CHARADE WINS THE METROPOLITAN HANDICAP.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The meeting of the New York Jockey Club was inaugurated at Morris Park in a blaze of glory, and at least 20,000 persons were present when the event of the day, the Metropolitan handicap, was contested for. This race, which comes next in importance to the Brooklyn handicap and the Suburban, resulted in a hollow victory for W. R. Jones' Charade, who won by six lengths. His Highness beat Illume half a length for second place.

A sad accident marred what would have otherwise been a most enjoyable day. It occurred in the big handicap just as the horses were making the first turn to begin the ascent of the hill. Arturo, one of the horses sent to this country from England by Col. J. T. North, stumbled and fell at this point, breaking his neck and throwing Jockey Edwards, an English boy, to the ground. The horse was in the middle of the bunch when the accident occurred, and a cry of horror went up from the spectators, as they believed the boy had surely been trampled to death. The starters' wagon hurriedly drove to the scene, and found Edwards, though badly hurt, was still alive. He was driven to the club house, where it was found he had a broken leg and received a severe shaking up. He will recover unless he has sustained internal injuries. The race was worth about $20,000 to the winner, $2,000 to the second, and $1,000 to the third. Summary:

First race, ⅞ mile—Dr. Hasbrouck 1, Correction 2, Tormentor 3. Time, 1:00¼.

Second race, 1 mile—Ambulance 1, Long Beach 2, Hamilton 3. Time—1:41.

Third race, ⅞ mile—Senella 1, Sir Excess 2, Black Hawk 3. Time—1:02.

Fourth race, 1½ miles—Charade 1, His Highness 2, Illume 3. Time—1:52½.

Fifth race, ⅞ mile—Arab 1, Sir Catesby 2, Pat Malloy, Jun. 3. Time—1:28½.

Sixth race, ⅞ mile—Cataract 1, Anawanda 2, Oporto 3. Time—1:01.

RECORD BROKEN.

DENVER, Col., May 31.—At Overland Park this afternoon Mr. Barbour, of Denver, sent his 12-year-old horse Long Tim to break the six-mile world's record of 16:53 held by Gallatin and made in 1889. The distance was covered in 16:08, beating the record by 45 seconds.

TIPS.

THE WHEEL.

Says a correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star: "Eli Richard, a young physician of Rochelle, France, made the first machine after which our modern bicycle is patterned. He was a medical student in Paris in 1666, and became one of the great physicians of France. He died at the age of 61 at Rochelle in 1706, and there is a street in Rochelle named after him, and there is now a movement on foot to erect a bronze statue, not to Michaud, who it is claimed was the discoverer of the bicycle, but to the true discoverer, Dr. Eli Richard."

DIDN'T HAVE HIS CHECK,

So He Couldn't Get Shaved; But He Got a Policeman—Police Court Miscellany.

A man named Harris, a sewing machine agent, went into the Tecumseh House barber shop on Sunday to get a shave. A commercial traveler was in the chair. This traveler owned a little dog. The animal fawned on Mr. Harris. He, however, had his Sunday clothes on and did not reciprocate the kindness. Indeed, it was said, he hurt the animal's feelings, and in doing so he hurt those of the traveler also. Angry words ensued, in which the barber, George Burrows, sided with the traveler. Shortly afterwards the call "Next" was heard, and Mr. Harris stepped forward.

"Have you an order?" said the barber.

"An order for what?" asked Harris.

"Why, to get shaved, of course. You have to get one from the clerk before I can shave you."

And Mr. Harris started out for his order, getting the laugh as he did so, for he had lost his place.

"The barber's only guying you," said the clerk. "Go back; it's all right; an order isn't necessary."

Mr. Harris was mad now, and he went back with a vengeance.

"The clerk says an order ain't necessary, does he?" remarked Burrows. "Well, I guess I'm running this barber shop."

"And you won't shave me?"

"Not without an order."

"All right; I'll see about that," said Harris, as he departed.

When he returned, P. C. McDonald was with him, having note book and pencil in hand. The result was the advent of Burrows and his assistant, Emanuel Finch, in the Police Court this morning.

Mr. Love tried to make it appear that the accused was ignorant of the law; that the tonsorial artist entertained the idea that the shaving of hotel guests on Sunday was permissable. He also attempted to show that Harris was actuated by malice in the course pursued. The magistrate gave no credence to the first representation. As this was the first offense, however, he made the fine purely nominal—$2. Finch was dismissed.

Thomas Brenton charged with obstructing the sidewalk was still undecided as to whether he had committed a breach of the bylaw or not. The magistrate left over the case.

Edward McCarthy and Frank Hayes, two of the wandering fraternity, were arraigned. They could not give satisfactory accounts of themselves, and were sentenced for two months' imprisonment.

Albert Johnstone, charged with the larceny of an overcoat, was remanded.

Isaac Duncan allowed his horse to perfgrinate leisurely down the sidewalk recently. He was fined $1.

"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," observed the magistrate to Dennis Ragan, a tall, burly fellow. "Is that correct?"

"No, sir. Don't drink, thank God," was the fervent reply.

It appears that Mrs. Brown, the mother-in-law of the accused, has been the custodian of his son for some time. On Monday evening last Ragan attempted to get possession of the child, for the purpose, so he stated, of sending it to school. Mrs. Brown objected. He then, so she averred, forced an entrance to her house, conducting himself in a rather ungentlemanly manner. Ragan was finally bound over to keep the peace. A surety of $100 was demanded.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Annual Meeting of Baptist Woman's Mission Circles at Aylmer.

AYLMER, Ont., May 31.—The ninth annual meeting of Baptist Woman's Mission Circles met here this morning at 10 o'clock. After devotional exercises a hearty welcome was given the delegates by Mrs. Hambidge, responded to very ably by Mrs. Trickey, after which the president, Mrs. A. T. Sowerby, gave an excellent address.

The reports were very encouraging. Every circle, with two exceptions, have increased in their contributions, $828 having been raised by fourteen circles, an increase of over $100.

The papers on the different branches of the work were most beautifully given and full of consecrated missionary thought.

A discussion and question drawer were carried on ably, showing that all were appreciative students of mission work.

Addresses were given in the evening by Miss McLaurin, missionary-elect to India, and Rev. Mr. Gray. It was on the whole the most enthusiastic and largest meeting ever held in the association.

Earl Derby Wishes His Term Was Only Commencing.

OTTAWA, June 1.—In his address at the presentation of diplomas to the graduating trained nurses at the Lady Stanley Institute last evening, Lord Derby said that it would probably be his last public appearance in Canada. He added: "We are leaving the Dominion with feelings of such regret that our wish would be that this were rather the commencement than the close of our term in Canada, but matters being as they are we are obliged to depart, and I assure you in all candor that Lady Derby will look back upon her experience on this side of the Atlantic as the very happiest period of her life."

RIPE FOR RECIPROCITY.

Winnipeg Citizens Choose Delegates to Attend the St. Paul Convention.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—The adjourned meeting of citizens to consider the question of sending delegates to the St. Paul reciprocity convention in June, Mayor Taylor presiding, was well attended, showing the increasing interest which the people of this country are taking in the matters to be discussed at the convention. A resolution was unanimously carried as follows:

"That this meeting of citizens of Winnipeg, called to consider an invitation to send a delegation to the international reciprocity convention to be held in St. Paul, Minn., on the 5th and 6th of June, 1893, hereby expresses its most hearty sympathy with any movement tending to aid in bringing about greater freedom of commercial intercourse between the United States and Canada, and it reciprocates the friendly sentiments expressed in the telegraphic message received from the commercial associations of St. Paul."

Delegates were appointed, among them many leading citizens. The Jobbers' Union and other mercantile bodies are also sending representatives and a very interesting meeting is looked for.

KEEP UP WITH THE TIMES

And Put in Electric Conveniences—Where to Get Them—A "Long-Felt Want" Filled.

Electricity can do everything from starting the World's Fair to ringing a door bell. In the near future the business establishment that will not use it in some form will be as much behind the times as a tallow candle is to an electric light. In the household, too, it must also become an absolute necessity; it is the acme of modern convenience. As its adoption is now becoming so general, naturally the services of electrical experts will be in demand. It was this that induced Mr. W. H. Baker, the popular electrician of the Bell Telephone Company here, to sever an eleven years' connection with that institution and to embark in business for himself in this city. He has opened out at 214 Dundas street, over Edy Bros.', with a full supply of everything in the electric line, and is already making contracts in the city and vicinity.

"I have orders to equip a large number of stores, factories and private houses with electric bells," said Mr. Baker to a reporter who called on him the other day. "They are much more convenient than any other kind because you can place the bell wherever you wish it to ring. They are chean neat, and the batteries seldom require to be attended to. I think they will replace the automatic bells entirely. I am also putting in burglar alarms, hotel annunciators, etc.; have a thorough stock of electric supplies and make a specialty of repairing."

Mr. Baker will also handle telephones for private lines, storeroom and factories. He is the sole agent for the American watchmen's time detector—a wonderful invention. It is a perfect guarantee to a firm that a watchman is doing his duty, as it requires him to register at specified times during the night. If he is remiss the detector records it. Mr. Baker has already received instructions to equip several factories with the system.

Mr. Baker is well and favorably known in London, where he has resided all his life. As an electrician he has few equals; he is competent in all branches of the work. Those who want private telephones, electric bells, burglar and fire alarms, hotel annunciators or anything in that line, or those who wish repairing done will do well to call on him at 214 Dundas street or ring up telephone No. 1. His residence is at 454 Oxford street and residence telephone No. 246. All orders are promptly attended to. Mr. Baker will also attend to work in outside towns, and with his ability and the widening field of usefulness upon which he has entered, he will doubtless succeed admirably.

AGAINST DR. BRIGGS.

The Assembly Sustain the Appeal of the Prosecution.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—In Presbyterian Assembly, shortly before noon, when Kansas had been reached in the call of synods, the moderator arose and said: "Dr. Briggs is very weary of this proceeding and has asked that he be excused by the moderator from further attendance as a party. I cheerfully grant his request."

Dr. Briggs then left the church amid a buzz from the galleries. He looked tired and sad and seemed glad to get away.

The appeal of the prosecution from the verdict of the New York Presbytery acquitting Dr. Briggs was finally sustained by the General Assembly, the vote being as follows: Number of votes cast, 499; to sustain the appeal, 298; to sustain in part, 85; total to sustain, 383; not to sustain, 116.

After the result had been announced, Rev. J. T. Smith, of Baltimore, moved the appointment of a committee of fifteen commissioners, of which the Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D.D., of Philadelphia, shall be chairman, to bring in an explanatory minute. This was carried and the moderator was authorized to appoint the committee. He will announce the committee to-morrow. The assembly then adjourned.

PLAINFIELD, May 31.—The wife of a motor man, Henry Martin, of the Plainfield Electric Street Railway, gave birth two days ago to triplets, all girls. The mother is doing well and the babies are thriving and strong. The children are their parents' first born.

The World's Fair Scored Its Biggest Crowd Tuesday.

Probable Adjustment of the Award Difficulty.

The Duke of Veragua a Victim of "Red Tape."

CHICAGO, May 31.—The number of paid admissions at the World's Fair yesterday was 123,097, the largest since the opening.

The awards matter, it is thought, is about to be amicably adjusted. John Boyd Thacher, chairman of the committee on awards, has addressed a letter to the president of the foreign commissioners, in which he states he is now acting and will continue to act in conformity with the law of Congress providing for the one-man system. Mr. Thacher will, however, allow one, three, five, or any number of men to accompany this judge through the exhibit and give explanations and make recommendations and suggestions. The letter, it is understood, has favorably impressed the foreign exhibitors, and it is thought an understanding will be reached between the foreign exhibitors and the awards committee.

The Duke de Veragua, when he first came here, was presented with the freedom of the city by Mayor Harrison. In addition he was given a beautifully-engraved silver plate, the size of an ordinary visiting card, with the family seal engraved in colors in the upper right-hand corner. Upon the card was also engraved the following:

"This will admit Don Cristobal Colon de la Cerdo, Duke of Veragua, and whoever may accompany him, to the grounds and buildings of the World's Columbian Exposition at any time. Thos. W. Palmer, president; H. N. Higinbotham, president; Geo. R. Davis, director-general."

Two similarly engraved plates were given to the duke's daughter, Miss Colombus, and to his brother, the Marquis de Barboles.

The duke decided to go to the exposition the other day, accompanied by his brother, Marquis de Bartoles, and his daughter, Miss Colombus. They went to the Fifty-ninth street entrance and started to pass through the turnstile.

Gateman Gilbert stopped the duke and demanded his ticket. The duke began hunting for his card case. A reporter for a Chicago German newspaper, who was standing near, recognized the distinguished party and rushed up to the gate with: "That's Duke de Veragua. Let him in quick."

"I don't care who he is; he must have a ticket," answered the gateman.

After a two minutes' hunt the duke found his silver card and showed it to the guard, who bowed and stammered an apology.

"The rules demand that deadheads must place a card with their name on it in the box," said the guard.

After another hunt the duke produced one of his own cards and dropped it into the box. His brother produced his silver card and wrote his name on a card the gateman gave him.

Miss Columbus had left her silver card at home. The gateman would not allow her to pass the turnstile. The duke looked astonished and the German reporter was frantic.

The duke called attention to the clause on his silver card, "and whoever accompanies him." The gateman smiled and said another card would be satisfactory, but the duke had no more cards, his brother had none and the gentleman's supply had run out.

Then came another hunt for a blank card. The duke looked surprised, his daughter hung her head in mortification and the Marquis de Barboles appeared disgusted.

The Russian Commissioner-General, H. E. P. Gloukhovskoy, came up, took the situation in at a glance, and remarked emphatically: "It seems strange to make such a fuss for 50 cents. Finally a reporter procured a blank card, the duke wrote his name and passed in with his party.

EXPLORATIONS IN AFRICA.

Mr. F. S. Arnot Lectures to a Large Audience in Victoria Hall on His Experiences as an Explorer and Missionary.

It was a large audience which assembled in Victoria Hall last evening to hear Mr. F. S. Arnot, the returned African missionary and explorer, lecture on his travels and experiences in darkest Africa. Mr. Arnot is quite a fluent speaker and his address was interesting throughout, a large map being used for purposes of illustration.

The lecturer first referred to his troubles in the territory of Zambesi. Here the king had many objections to allowing him to proceed. He was, however, happy to remain, as it afforded him an excellent opportunity of learning the language and customs of the people. Ague was probably his greatest enemy. The lecturer referred to various little articles which the natives carried when starting on a long journey. They supposed that a piece of the skin of a slain enemy would protect them from the wrath of other foes. A portion of a hyena's brain was carried to make them wise and cunning and a piece of the tail to prevent attacks from lions and elephants. On all occasions the existence of a God was impressed on the natives. At one time the speaker compared a powerful king with God. At first the sovereign felt greatly flattered and interested, but subsequently his wrath became stirred up and as a result Mr. Arnot was imprisoned in his hut for two months. At last the king became very ill, and dreamed that the explorer had medicine which would cure him. He was willing to compromise and stop waging war, observe the Sabbath, and order his people to do so also. While imprisoned Mr. Arnot had as companions the king's son and nephew and another young man, all of whom afterwards became ministers. The king's heart hardened against Christianity.

The missionary, unable to proceed up the Zambesi, went west into the interior. The difficulties of travel were enormous and the expense great. The trade of Central Africa was in the hands of fanatical Mohammedans. They employed professional carriers, who each carried about 100 pounds and traveled from ten to twenty miles a day in the heat of a burning sun. Mr. Arnot escaped from the Zambesi territory when the king was away at war and succeeded in taking with him a number of deserters from the king's army. Every few days now countries were entered and different tribes of people met, the chiefs of whom were very jealous of persons traveling through their kingdoms. The explorer had to represent that he was a very unimportant man and attracted as little attention as possible. On one occasion he insulted a king who wanted to impose a very heavy fine. In each different country Mr. Arnot said he was urged to remain, but always managed to proceed on his explorations.

EAST END BAND CONCERTS

Will Be More Enjoyable with More Light.

Number Three Committee Discuss the Matter—Proposal to Amend the Fire Limit Regulations.

The street railway company are arranging for a series of band concerts in Queen's Park during the coming season. They intend not only giving them in the afternoon, but also in the evening. In order to make the latter a success several electric lights are needed in the Exhibition Palace. A communication from S. R. Break, secretary-treasurer of the company, was read at last evening's meeting of No. 3 committee in regard to the matter. He wished an early consideration as the next concert is to be given during the present week.

Ald. Fitzgerald thought it was absurd to think of holding concerts in the building during hot summer evenings. He considered that it would be more advisable to place the lights exclusively in the park.

All the members present held that the necessary illumination should, at all events, be provided. The cost would not be much, and the east end citizens would be greatly benefited.

The matter was finally left to the chairman and city engineer to report the probable cost at the next meeting.

Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald (chairman), Pritchett, Heaman, Stevely, Scarrow, Mayor Essery, Secretary Bell and Inspector Bell were present.

A report in regard to the amount already collected in licenses was read from Inspector Bell. The sum was stated at $1,276.

Inspector Bell objected to the present mode of collecting street car licenses. The $5 on each car falls due in different parts of the year. The company also would like a change in this particular. They would prefer to pay by the month until the expiry of the present year. Subsequently they would like to make one payment of the whole sum. The committee decided to make no change in the regulations.

Ald. Stevely brought up the question of changing the fire limit bylaw. At present buildings erected have to be of brick, iron or stone material. For some time the city engineer has been enforcing the bylaw as meaning, in the second instance, "solid iron." Ald. Stevely thought this rather unjust. He maintained that if, for instance, a building were sheeted with galvanized iron—made fire-proof exteriorally—a person should be allowed to put up such a structure. Some residents who wanted to build could not afford a stone or brick structure. Was it not right that they should be permitted to construct a fireproof residence at a much less cost and equally durable and fine in appearance by using sheet iron?

A tendency was shown to make fun of Ald. Stevely's contention, but Mayor Essery maintained that this was a live question. It was finally decided that Ald. Stevely should consult with the city engineer in regard to the matter before the next meeting of the committee. The result of the deliberations will then be presented by the interested alderman.

After considerable discussion the tender of John Boyd to provide suits for the firemen at $17 50 was accepted. Patton Bros. will be allowed to provide the brigade with caps at $1 50 per piece.

The Mother Made No Complaint.

NEW YORK, May 31.—While a big warehouse truck was standing in front of 632 East Eleventh street last evening, several small boys got under it, and when the driver, James Heath, of 10 Clark street, Brooklyn, came out and started his team, not knowing the boys were there, the wheels passed over the body of 4-year-old Charles Keherle, of 636 East Eleventh street, killing him almost instantly. Heath was not arrested, the child's mother refusing to make a complaint.

—[BROWNING.

London, Thursday, June 1.

AN old proverb says: "Never trust a man till you know him." But that is the very state of acquaintanceship at which discretion compels a prudent person not to trust a man.

THOUGH in the past the Toronto Telegram has generally opposed the Ontario Government, it has now reached the conclusion that the Administration, "while not perfect, is probably as nearly straight as any government on earth."

THERE seems to be no doubt that the Geary anti-Chinese bill will be speedily set aside. Both political parties in the United States disclaim responsibility for its paternity. The fondling law is rarely permitted to reach maturity.

Two thousand and seventy immigrants were brought to New York by the North German steamship Weimar on her last voyage. One shudders to think of the fate of such cargoes if any disaster were to happen to a large ocean liner in midocean.

THE New York Recorder is certainly an enterprising newspaper. It boasts that one of its reporters interviewed the Infanta Eulalie after 1,600 newspapers had tried to get the visiting Princess to talk and had failed. The interview took place on a steamboat at sea. Her Royal Highness had only one alternative: to be interviewed or to jump overboard.

THE Berlin News strongly urges the town council of that place to put in force the provisions of the new law which enables the municipal authorities to enact that all young children shall be in the house at a reasonable hour at night. This is downright treachery to the leader of her Majesty's loyal Opposition. Why, in the Legislature Mr. Meredith ridiculed the idea of any such bylaw being passed. The curfew bell may, nevertheless, be used as a powerful aid to local authorities and parents. Keeping late hours is the bane of the young in many a municipality.

SYDNEY SMITH, the noted English churchman, wrote in 1809: "Toleration is a great good and a good to be imitated, let it come from whom it will. If a skeptic is tolerant, it only shows that he is not foolish in practice as well as erroneous in theory. If a religious man is tolerant, it evinces that he is religious from thought and inquiry, because he exhibits in his conduct one of the most beautiful and important consequences of a religious mind—an inviolable charity to all the honest varieties of human opinion." If a man is an honest, good citizen, that is all which should be required of him by his fellows; he ought surely to be permitted to worship his Creator as his conscience dictates.

C. B. JEWELL, of the Rock Island Railway, claims that he has discovered the secret of rain-making, and expresses his readiness to bring down torrents of rain under most adverse circumstances. Jewell is a practical electrician, and he asserts that by means of gases he can send a current of electricity into the clouds, which will produce rain and a terrific thunder storm. When the atmosphere is dry and the clouds are scattered, he sends a captive balloon charged with certain explosives into the nearest cloud, and invariably rain falls. Jewell declines to say what he uses, but the fact that the manager of the railway has faith in his discovery and is preparing to send him into the drought-stricken sections has convinced the people of Kansas that Jewell possesses the true secret. If he can do what he says, he could have made a little fortune in Europe during the last few months. There many millions of dollars worth of damage was done by drought, and a professional rain-maker would have been welcomed with warmer acclaim than the inventor of a new and destructive big gun. As a gentleman named Melbourne last year claimed that he could control the elements and failed at the critical test, most people will be prepared to reserve judgment on the newcomer till there is an authoritative statement on his prowess. At present, though it is alleged that he has caused a large scope of country around Good Land in Northwestern Kansas to be thoroughly drenched three times this year, while the whole western portion of the state has suffered from a prolonged drought since last August, it is noteworthy that the shrewd railway managers regard him as on trial.

A monument to the Union soldiers of Scottish birth in the late civil war will in a week or so be unveiled at Edinburgh. Last year the town council of Edinburgh graciously granted a plot of ground in the graveyard, situated in the heart of the city, for the monument, which is of polished red Peterhead granite, surmounted by a bronze life-size figure of Abraham Lincoln, near whom there is a negro who looks up at him and by whose side are the American and the Scotch battle flags, the floral emblems of the two countries, the shield of the United States and a Scotch war bonnet. The word "Emancipation" is the inscription in front of the figure of Lincoln.

THE TRADE OUTLOOK.

There is more interest in wholesale circles in the coming crop and the prices which are likely to rule than many imagine. The fact is that we are all dependent on the success of the Canadian farmer, lumberman and miner for our daily bread. If these three classes are prosperous—and the farmer must be, first of all, for he is in the majority—then are we all able to make a living.

It is not very reassuring to find that during the past week, in the great market that largely fixes prices, there has been a fall in the prices paid for three of our staple products—cattle, cheese and wheat. But such is the case. The market for live stock, it seems, has been glutted, especially at Glasgow, where the rule calling for the killing on landing of our stock has worked much to the detriment of Canadian dealers, who have lost heavily on consignments. There is hopefulness in the trade that some revival will soon take place, and that the embargo will be removed by midsummer. It is reassuring to find that no disease has been traced in any of the Canadian cattle killed at British ports.

In new cheese the price at Liverpool has receded during the week from 54s to 51s. Under such discouragement it is probably as well that the marketing of May cheese in Western Ontario has been light. It has been shorter than for several year past; but, as the impression is that the product of the season will exceed that of all previous years, it is to be hoped that the prices will improve.

Locally, a great deal of interest is centered on the opening, next week, of the new pork packing establishment in London. It is an important industry, and it is to be hoped that it will be fraught with benefit to the farmers as well as to the enterprising business men who have established it.

The decrease in the price of wheat, which had previously reached a phenomenally low rate, may be traced to two prime factors—(1) the large quantity of last year's crop yet unsold, and (2) the more favorable reports regarding the growing cereals. In England the cable informs us that the prospects have improved during the past week. The season has been abnormal, being phenomenally dry. Therefore it is difficult to give a forecast; but there will be a short crop. In Scotland and Ireland the season has been rather more favorable than in England, and in the former country the oat crop promises generally to be good. But in neither country is sufficient wheat or barley grown to seriously affect the estimate for England.

One item of information from Great Britain is of special importance to Canadians just now when the question of hay export is up. Our view is that it would be much better to feed the hay and export the live animals, thus securing a return of the soil-fattening properties to the farms, which really require renewal. But so long as hay export is indulged in, it is well to know that the coming crop of straw in England promises to be short because of the drought, and Canadian farmers are asked to believe that the export of hay to Great Britain, which last year was unprofitable, will this season pay. Under the circumstances, farmers will doubtless be disposed to put in more grain food and save hay for selling. There has recently been good demand for No. 1 Canadian in Boston, where really fancy lots have realized $21 per ton; but $20 may be considered a fair top figure. But for the duty of $4 a ton payable at the border, every available ton of Canadian hay now on hand could be sold at good rates in the large Eastern States consuming centers.

City seed merchants report that trade has been moving along quietly. Plenty of corn is going out for planting, ensilage and fodder purposes, and farmers are busy planting. Hungarian and millet are now sought after, and turnip seed is beginning to move, though it is noticeable that farmers are not sowing as much turnips or mangels as formerly. They use corn chiefly now, because the work of growing it calls for less labor. Ten years ago, a prominent London seedsman told the writer, he could sell hardly a carload of ensilage; now it is no unusual thing to sell a dozen loads.

The trade in wool is quiet, 17 cents being the ruling figure. Farmers are now engaged in washing and clipping, and it will be the middle of June before the spring clip is on the market. Until the last few days it has been too cold to permit of even the washing process.

In wholesale circles generally, trade is not as good as might be, and collections are difficult to make, owing to a scarcity of money throughout the country. The hardware trade has received word of an advance in the price of binder twine. Whether or not this will affect the market here remains to be seen. The production of twine at the Central Prison is likely to keep the ruling price low in any case. Trade in hardware in Manitoba and the Northwest has been so bad that a number of eastern manufacturers and jobbers seriously contemplate the withdrawal of their travelers. It is difficult to make sales and hard to make collections for sales made. In the wholesale grocery trade, the principal feature is the continued firmness in sugar. Drygoods men are not extremely happy over their summer prospects, but, like the rest of us, they are hopeful that times will improve as harvest approaches. There has been a fall in the price of various descriptions of cotton goods in the United States, but reductions of this nature will not move Canadian cotton manufacturers to follow suit so long as our tariff is kept at the present figure.

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

Scribner's for June is remarkable chiefly for containing the end of Mrs. Burnett's "The One I Knew Best of All" and the beginning of Robert Grant's "Opinions of a Philosopher," a sequel to his "Reflections of a Married Man." The number contains an interesting account of "Life in a Logging Camp," a short story by T. R. Sullivan, poems by Edith M. Thomas, Annie Reeve Aldrich and H. C. Bunner, and two articles on subjects in natural history.

A curious experiment is to be tried in the public schools of Washington City. Supt. Powel and Dr. Harris of the Government Bureau of Education, wish to find by actual experiment whether there can be established any certain relation between the physical and mental development of children. They accordingly have perfected plans for taking the measurement of 20,000 school children of the United States Capital according to the Bertillon method. When the results of the measurements are tabulated, it is believed they will disclose whether there is any definite relation between the physical and mental developments of pupils, and if this relation is satisfactorily established, it will be used in guiding the teachers in their work.

The whisper of perfumed breezes and the song of foamy waters are prisoned in the wholesome pages of Outing for June. The contents are as follows: "Black Bass Fishing," by Francis J. A paper that will attract more than usual attention in the Forum for July is by Hon. Thomas M. Cooley, on "Grave Obstacles to Hawaiian Annexation." It is one of two papers on "Mr. Cleveland's Foreign Problems," the other being "China's View of Chinese Exclusion," by Rev. Gilbert Reed, of the Presbyterian North China missions. "The Great Pension Scandal" is discussed in two articles. The first is by Hon. J. De Witt Warner, and is entitled "Half a Million Dollars a Day for Pensions." In the second, under the title "The Decisive Breach in the Grand Army." Allen R. Foote considers the suspension of the Noah L. Farnham Post for expressing an opinion as to the pension laws. Other contents of great interest are: "Mr. Paderewski in America," by Henry T. Finck; "The Financial Excitement and Its Causes," by George Rutledge Gibson; "Office-Seekers and the President's Manifesto," by Louis Windmuller, and "Our Public School System: A Summary," by Dr. J. M. Rice. New York: The Forum Publishing Company.

A blue book has just been issued in London giving preliminary returns of the British army for 1892, with abstracts for the years 1873 to 1892. From this it appears that the average effective strength of the regular army last year was 213,540, composed as follows: Household cavalry, 1,318; cavalry of the line, 18,387; royal artillery, horse, 3,740; field, 14,308; mountain, 1,277; garrison, including corps of ordnance artificers, 16,536; royal engineers, 7,458; foot guards, 5,949; infantry of the line, 133,110; colonial corps, 4,387; army service corps, 3,492; ordnance store corps, 830, corps of armorers, 317; medical staff corps, 2,432. The average number of officers was 7,653, and of sergeants, 13,331. The troops were distributed thus: At home, 106,115; colonies and Egypt, 34,240; India, 73,185. The strength of the army in 1873 was 188,379. The effective strength of all arms increased from 203,163 on the first day of 1892 to 209,283 on Jan. 1 of this year. Of the recruits 2,450 were long-service men, while 2,108 joined for three years and 37,101 for seven years on the short-service system. Thirty-two thousand and ninety-four were raised in England, 3,567 in Scotland, and 3,860 in Ireland. Fifteen thousand five hundred and seventy-eight recruits were rejected by medical officers and 3,822 after attestation as unfit for service with the colors. A table of ages shows that 1,305 recruits were under 17. The majority were between 18 and 19. Those over 20 years of age composed less than a third of the whole number.

GOOD Food - - Digestion - Complexion

But 4 Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"It is with pleasure that I tell of the great benefit I derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. For 6 years I have been badly afflicted with breaking out with running sores during hot summer months. I have sometimes not been able to use my limbs for two months at a time. Being induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I got one bottle last spring, commenced using it; felt so much better, got two bottles more; took them during the summer, was able to do my housework, and —Norway is said to enjoy peasant proprietorship, but the general average of mortgages upon the land owned by peasants is about six-sevenths of its value. There is very little proprietorship left for the peasants.

SCINTILLATIONS.

—The law providing for a graduated tax on inheritances of from 1 to 5 per cent., according to the size of the estate—estates of $50,000 and under being exempt—has passed the Pennsylvania House of Representatives by more than a two-thirds vote.

—The Templar, Hamilton, says: "The grand old free trader and reformer, Richard Cobden, well declared that the temperance reform lies at the basis of all political and moral reforms. It should at once be made a permanent issue in Canadian politics."

—At a late meeting of the Nationalist association in Toronto, an interesting and thoughtful address on "Socialism and ethics" was delivered by Samuel M. Jones. He contended that socialism would not of itself bring mankind to a higher moral plane unless individuals were morally regenerated. Social reformers should lead consistent lives and see that they did not give their opponents an argument against their cause by the way their practice contradicted their principles.

—Some years ago the late Hon. John B. Finch, of prohibition fame, suggested the following party platform. The most of it is well adapted to Canadian politics to-day. He was able and statesmanlike, and a man of broad and comprehensive views: 1. Prohibit and destroy the liquor traffic. 2. Enforce the education of youth. 3. Curtail the power of corruption. 4. Destroy and prevent monopolies. 5. Equalize suffrage, without regard to sex. 6. Reduce taxation. 7. Improve the civil service. 8. Establish other needful reforms.

—The central committee of the Social Democratic party in Germany, meets daily to organize work of the next electoral campaign. The local committees have been so active in collecting money that the party now has an election fund of 625,000 marks deposited in the Bank of England. Reports from all parts of the empire justify the prediction that at the next general election the Social Democrats will poll 2,500,000 votes, or nearly 1,100,000 more than in 1890. Despite the differences between the old party and the independents, the central committee will not withhold money from constituencies in which independent candidates will run with good chances of success. The Socialists will enter the campaign alert, enthusiastic and better organized than are the members of the older parties.

—Down in Prince Edward county is one of the curiosities of nature, the sand hills of Lake Ontario—a white shifting sand covering hundreds of acres, from which snow may be dug out in the hottest days of summer. They stretch like a crescent along the shore, a distance of about two miles, and are higher and more massive than the noted sandbanks of Denmark and Java. For grandeur and beauty they excel all others in the world. To the south lies the boundless expanse of Lake Ontario, and along the shores beautiful curving beaches and bold headlands may be outlined a distance of twenty miles or more. To the north lies the west and east lakes, around them stretching for 30 miles golden fields and verdant woods, a landscape heightened in its luxuriance and beauty by the desolation at your feet. Beyond the green and gold rise the hills at Picton and the heights of Northumberland and Hastings over 30 miles away.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

"Fred," said a school teacher to a little boy who was behind in his classes, you are always behind; you should have more push." "How can I push," retorted Fred, "if I'm not behind."

The session opened with devotional exercises. The roll of the ministerial members of the Conference was called, and sixty of them unswered to their names. The president presented the report of the transfer committee as follows:

Rev. E. E. Scott has been transferred into Toronto Conference and Rev. J. G. Scott into Guelph Conference. Rev. Dr. Hannon and Rev. H. W. McTavish into the London Conference.

Rev. J. R. Gundy was appointed treasurer of the sustentation fund in place of the late Rev. G. Boyd.

The following committee on Conference relations was appointed: Revs. B. Clement, E. Middleton, J. Reynolds, S. J. Allin, W. Hayhurst, W. McDonagh, J. R. Gundy.

Charges having been preferred against the moral character of Revs. D. Ryan and T. H. Down, after a lengthy discussion, a committee of investigation was appointed in each case, with instructions to report to the Conference.

The case of Rev. A. J. Snyder, who had withdrawn irregularly from the work during the year, was taken up. Conference adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

Conference reassembled at 2 p.m. After devotional exercises the minutes of the morning session were read and confirmed.

Rev. T. B. Leith, who has also withdrawn during the year, was, after very lengthy and warm debate, on motion of the Conference, granted his letters of standing,

Rev. J. R. Gundy took exception to the action of the Conference in granting letters of standing to men who have withdrawn irregularly, and gave notice of an appeal.

Rev. E. E. Scott having been transferred to the Toronto Conference, a resolution expressing high esteem and affection for him and appreciation of his faithful and efficient services was presented to the Conference and adopted unanimously. Bro. Scott made a happy and feeling reply. He is followed by the best wishes of the Conference.

The committee appointed to investigate the case of Rev. D. Ryan presented their report, recommending that he be suspended from the ministry for nine months. The Conference sustained the recommendation.

In answer to the question: "Who are recommended to be received into full connexion and ordained?" none were reported from the districts.

Who are the probationers of three years? G. N. Hazen, J. A. Snell.

Who are probationers of two years? C. B. Keenleyside, B.A., J. A. Ayearst, S. McVitty, W. B. Creighton, B.A.

Who are the probationers of one year? C. Clark, L. W. Reid, Byron Snell, R. A. Miller, R. L. Wilson, J. Baird.

What candidates for the ministry are now received on trial? L. Bartlett, J. A. Jackson, G. A. Wilkinson, T. A. Patterson, A. J. Brown, W. R. Vance.

The Conference adjourned at 5:30 p.m., to meet in the Queen Street Church at 8 p.m.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

A Strike of the Chaudiere Mill Hands Threatened.

The discontent of the 2,500 mill hands at the Chaudiere, culminated in a big meeting to-night. The men want a ten-hour day. At present the mill day is eleven hours, and the bulk of the men get $1 25 to $1 60 a day. Several mill owners state they will not concede any reduction in hours.

John Burns, the London labor leader, began his summer series of Sunday lectures at Battersea Park recently. He is said to possess an almost old-fashioned courtesy of manner in private intercourse. His great hobby is skating.

At Lynn, Mass., the workmen of the General Electric Company Monday night discussed the proposition of the company to give 58 hours' pay for 56 hours' work, but the meeting broke up in confusion.

Fully 4,000 men are said to have been discharged by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in the last few days. Supt. Cosgrove, at Mason City, Ia., says his orders are mandatory. The discharges mean a saving of $7,000 a day to the company.

D'ALTON M'CARTHY AT WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, May 31.—D'Alton McCarthy was given a warm reception here to-night in the opera house. The attendance exceeded 1,500 who enthusiastically applauded Mr. McCarthy's sentiments in reference to separate schools in the Northwest and tariff reform.

John G. Hall presided. Mr. McCarthy was presented with two addresses, one from a committee of citizens and on from a committee of women who styled themselves the Woodstock Literary and Educational Association, who presented the speaker of the evening with a handsome cane.

Addresses were delivered by S. Gillett, St. Thomas; J. M. Godfrey, Toronto, Rev. Mr. Straith, of Innerkip, and Rev. Dr. McMullen, of Woodstock.

A class of 30 children sang the McCarthy ode to the tune of "God Save the Queen," while they waved Union Jacks. It was one of the largest political gatherings in the history of the town.

69,000 Immigrants in a Month.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Seven steamships brought in 4,566 passengers on Monday, of whom over 3,000 were Italians, making the total number for the month exactly 60,000. At the present rate of increase Commissioner Senner expects to land at least 74,000 immigrants during June.

The brunette type is becoming more numerous in England and on the Continent generally. Mr. Gladstone, who observes most things, said some years ago that light-haired people were far less numerous than in his youth. This statement was borne out by the results of the statistical inquiry undertaken by Dr. Beddoe, who examined 726 women and found that 369 were brunettes and 357 blondes. Carrying this inquiry a step further, says the New Orleans Picayune, Dr. Beddoe learned that 78.5 per cent. of the brunettes had husbands, while only 68 per cent. of the blondes were married. From this it appears than in England a brunette has ten chances of being wedded to the nine chances of the blonde; and Dr. Beddoe went on to argue that "the English are becoming darker because the men persist in selecting the dark-haired women as wives." The same thing is happening in Germany, in France, in Switzerland, and elsewhere on the Continent.

PARASOLS! PARASOLS!

With parasols, as with almost every other article of feminine apparel, each season brings something new. To be sure, they are always for the purpose of shading fair features from the sun, but they change in color, size and shape.

We have the very latest. An immense variety to select from. Parasols and umbrellas enter largely into our trade, so much so that we pay special attention to this department. We are showing a choice line with:

Black Silk Flounces at.....$1 25
In Colors at..... 1 50

and a special lot, worth $1, will be sold at 65c. Ask to see this line. It contains the latest shades.

The new cover, and most fashionable, is shot silk, with stripe border. A large variety. The leading colors may be obtained from us, and we desire you to inspect them. In ladies' umbrellas we have a rarely handsome and durable line, with rustic handles, which will be disposed of at $1 50 each. Good value at this price.

We have still on our counters a number of spring and summer jackets. On these the prices have been considerably reduced. We desire to clear out the entire line for the reason that it will pay us better than to keep them over, even though the prices are very low.

TRADE IN SCOTLAND.

EDINBURGH, May 19.—John Swan & Sons' weekly report says: Supplies of fat cattle at all the principal markets have been heavy. Trade, especially in Glasgow, has not been quite so good. English buyers were not so numerous, and, this being holiday week, the home demand was also less, and an unsatisfactory finish was the result. There have been about 800 States cattle on offer, which have made less money. The Canadian season opens next week, when about 1,300 cattle fall to be marketed at Shieldhall for slaughter. Cows and bulls have been rather easier sold. Sheep have been shown in large numbers, trade, for which has been the turn worse, and, in some cases, quite 1s to 2s less money had to be taken. Lambs—Very plentiful, a large number being too soon drawn; best made full rates; secondary made unsatisfactory prices. Calves—A large and good show, and they sold slightly dearer. Pigs made previous rates. Owing to the dry weather in the earlier part of the week, store stock met an exceedingly slow trade, and while the best made nearly last week's prices, secondary were slow to sell, and part had to be left over. Milch cows scarcer and met a worse trade at 20s less. Best beef, 7s 9d to 8s; current, 7s 6d; secondary, 6s 6d to 6s 9d per stone; best mutton in wool, 8½d; secondary, 7½d to 8d; best mutton (clipped), 7½d per lb.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., May 31.—Cattle—A load of fat steers at $5 35 was all the business reported to-day.

Sheep and Lambs—13 cars on sale; market dull and 15c lower than Monday with sales mostly to butchers.

Hogs—15 cars on sale; a few selected lots sold to a local packer at $7 55 to $7 65, but good packing kinds generally brought $7 50.

—Some of the young lady operators in Toronto, are greatly agitated over a report to the effect that the Bell Telephone Company is going to compel its employes to wear a uniform of a certain type. Some of the "hello" divinities connected with "central" in this city say they would not object if the company bought the dresses.

—Mr. George M. Reid leaves to-day for Chicago, where he will remain for a couple of weeks. On his return to the city he contemplates departing on an extended business trip to the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Reid will be accompanied on the visit to the fair by his brother, Mr. Edward Reid. The latter intends locating in the Windy City for a month.

—Mr. Joseph McConnell, a resident of London township for 21 years, died to-day, aged 67. He came from the north of Ireland, and was a gardener in Michigan before settling here. He followed up that occupation here, and leaves his family—a wife and six children—in good circumstances. He was an active member of the London West Methodist Church.

—The Glasgow, Scotland, Weekly Mail of May 6 contains a thrilling story of privation and heroism. The ship Templemere, on which Capt. Thompson and his wife were passengers, was struck by an iceberg, and for five days they were afloat on the sea, suffering terrible hardships. Mrs. Thompson is a sister of Mr. Hugh Omond, of the Canadian Express Company, this city.

Judgment for the plaintiff (to be entered after the 5th day of June next) for $40 damages for the trespass sued for with full costs and for a perpetual injunction to restrain trespass. W. R. Riddell and Weir (Petrolea) for the plaintiff. W. R. Meredith, Q. C., for the defendant.

—The funeral of the late Henry Wilcox took place Tuesday from his late residence near Otwell to St. Thomas cemetery. Among the floral offerings were lilies from Mr. A. Rivard, of London, grandson; an anchor from his daughter, Mrs. Rogers, of Aylmer, besides numerous bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. Thomas Elliott, H. C. House, E. Fonger, John Close, W. Tisdale and J. Norton.

—Several young men from the north end of the city, who have been in the habit of loitering and playing ball at the corner of Dufferin avenue and William street and otherwise making themselves offensive to residents in the neighborhood, are cautioned that their names have been taken, and should they continue to assemble there they will be dealt with by the police.

—Messrs. John Hope, Bow Park, Brantford; Richard Gibson, Delaware, and J. C. Snell, Edmonton, judges of cattle, horses and sheep, are busily engaged preparing the final entries for the World's Fair. As far as can be ascertained at present, about 70 horses and 175 cattle will be exhibited from Ontario. They will probably not be in place till August. Canadian dairy cows are easily holding their own at the fair, and are leading in the final test.

—J. A. Yerington, son of H. M. Yerington, of Carson, Nevada, is commissioner in charge of Nevada's exhibit at the World's Fair. H. M. Yerington is a Canadian and left Port Stanley 30 years ago a poor man. He is now estimated to be worth $14,000,000, and is president of seventeen railroads and mining companies. The San Francisco Chronicle speaks highly of the energy displayed by J. A. Yerington in connection with the display made by the State.

Royal Wedding Present.

Mrs. (Mayor) Essery this morning received a letter from Lady Kirkpatrick, and as a result a public meeting of ladies will be held in the City Hall on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the object of which is to solicit and receive subscriptions of less than $5 to be devoted to the purchase by Canadian women of a present to be given Princess Mary of Teck on the occasion of her marriage to H. R. H. the Duke of York.

A Londoner Killed.

Friends in this city have just heard of the sad death of Mr. Fred Brennan, a young Londoner, who lately went to live in Chicago. Mr. Brennan was out of work here and went west. About a week ago he left Chicago for this city, and it is supposed boarded a freight car, as he could not afford to take a passenger train. What happened afterwards is not clearly defined, but a mangled body was found on the rails near Chicago, and from a peculiarity in the shape of a club foot it was recognized by his relatives there. The remains were interred in the Windy City. Mr. Brennan was well known as an entertainer to many London concert-goers.

Canadian Women Journalists.

The Chicago Record, in its report of the World's Fair press congress, says: "Probably the two papers of the day that surpassed all the others in point of literary quality were those of Miss Ethelwyn Wetherald, of London, Canada, and Miss Eva Brodlique, formerly a Parliamentary correspondent at Ottawa, Canada, on 'Canadian women in art, literature and journalism.' Miss Wetherald's paper dealt with art and literature. She acknowledged that Canadian women had not done much for either, but the explanation made it clear that the field of literature was not entirely neglected. Miss Brodlique spoke about Canadian women in journalism. Miss Wetherald, with Mrs. John Cameron, conducts Wives and Daughters. Miss Brodlique was for some years on the staff of the London ADVERTISER."

An Aged Resident Gone.

Wm. Edwards, who for over half a century has been a resident of North Dorchester, passed away on Tuesday. Mr. Edwards was an Englishman by birth. He first located at Long Point, Ont., on arriving in this country, where, for a number of years, he pursued the vocation of a farmer. In 1836 he purchased some property about a mile and a-half from Nilestown. Ever since his advent in that district he has been a respected and honored husbander of the soil. Mr. Edwards was always a staunch and ardent Reformer. He was, also, a deacon in the Baptist Church for 50 years. Two of Mr. Edwards' sons, John and Thomas, are now living in Michigan, while the third, Walter, still resides on the homestead. All his daughters are married. They are: Mrs. H. McConnell, East London; Mrs. James Minkler, Ingersoll; Mrs. D. Logan, Ridgetown; Mrs. Alex. McLean, East London, and Mrs. M. Tallack, Dorchester Station.

A Novel Event.

The missionary song service, "Open Doors," which is advertised for Saturday afternoon at the Victoria Hall, promises to be both pleasing and interesting. Although the center of the hall will be largely occupied by the children themselves, there will remain in the side aisles and galleries ample space for the large number who are interested in children's work for missions outside of the several parishes of the Church of England, whose mission branches the little singers represent, any and all of whom will be cordially welcomed. As the leaders of each band in turn take their places upon the platform a banner or scroll will be borne in front of them by their very smallest members to mark from which parish they hail. All voices will join in the several choruses, whilst the recitations, recording the gradual opening of door after door in the mission fields of the world, will be interspersed throughout. As the collection is to be considered as the children's special offering, they are hopefully reckoning upon the liberality of their friends enabling them to make it a good one.

$80,000 Wanted.

Very important proceedings are now in progress before the master in chancery at Toronto to decide who are the contributaries to the defunct Ontario Express and Transportation Company, of which Mr. Chadwick, formerly of this city, was general manager. Richard Harte, of Hamilton, applied for an order to wind up the company, which spent $100,000 in trying to get a start in the express business, and finally was unable to pay its hands and had to give up. The aggregate of the claims filed by creditors with Liquidator Stevens is $80,000, while the first list of stockholders comprises the names of 137 persons resident, as stated before, in various towns in Canada, and representing $400,000 subscribed stock. The list will be increased by 60 additional names. When the act of 1891 was passed, giving stockholders the option of surrendering their stock, a few availed themselves of the privilege. By a decision of the master rendered yesterday, however, even these are liable for the first call of 10 per cent., made previous to the passing of the act confirming the charter of the company, which only relieves those who surrendered their shares pursuant thereto from calls made after the passing of the act. The directors are being asked to contribute $18,000 each towards liquidating the indebtedness, some of the stockholders claiming that they were induced to subscribe stock on the representation that the company had secured facilities on the Grand Trunk, which was not the fact. The argument as to the liability of various persons has been postponed till June 9.

A Confidence Game.

Mrs. Beattie, a farmer's wife, from the 3rd line of Westminster, is bewailing the loss of a hand satchel containing a considerable sum of money. She had a supply of butter and eggs in town this morning and was sitting on one of the benches on the west side of the market house, along with other vendors in the same line. She had just been counting the money in the satchel and had set it down again on her left hand side. A grayish-haired man had been lounging on the next bench, and, shortly after this, he approached and asked the price of eggs. "Fourteen cents," answered Mrs. Beattie. "I have no basket," said the man, as he spread an old bandana handkerchief over the seat to the left of Mrs. Beattie, and incidentally covering the small satchel. A lady came up at this time and occupied Mrs. Beattie's attention for a minute. When she again turned her head the man was on his feet. "You can put the eggs in the handkerchief," he said, "and I will be back in a minute." The prospective egg buyer did not return, and in a few minutes Mrs. Beattie missed the money. She called the police and described the man as best she could. The police brought two men for identification, but they were the wrong parties. Mrs. Beattie is confident that she has seen the man before, and will know him again.

BAPTIST WOMEN WORKERS.

Meeting of the Middlesex and Lambton Societies—Londoners Take Part.

The Womens Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Middlesex and Lambton Association met with the circle in connection with the Sarnia township church, yesterday. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. (Rev.) Morgan gave a very hearty address of welcome to the delegates, to which the president, who occupied the chair, replied briefly. Reports from the circles of the association were read by the different secretaries showing an increase of interest, and contributions in some circles, and a slight falling off in others. Mrs. David Mills, of London South, gave a very appropriate solo. A letter from Miss Stovel, of Akidu, India, written for the association was read by Mrs. G. W. Stuart, of London. A resolution disapproving of the action of the decennial missionary conference in refusing to pass resolutions condemnatory of the opium, liquor and social evils carried on under the direct sanction of the Anglo-Indian Government was read. After some explanation and remarks by the president it was unanimously carried by a standing vote. Mrs. (Rev.) Morgan read an excellent paper on "The Grand Ligne Work." The officers for the ensuing year were indicated. Mrs. G. F. Robertson, of London, was reappointed president, and Mrs. Weld, of South London, director. The amount raised by the circles and bands for the year was about $1,200.

At the evening session, Mrs. Weld gave a bible reading on "Work." Miss Park, of Wyoming, followed with a very inspiring paper on "The Gospel to Every Creature." Mrs. (Rev.) Morgan gave a solo entitled "Just a Little" which was much appreciated. Miss Sinclair, of Sarnia, delivered a stirring address regarding "Our Responsibility." Rev. Mr. Walker, of South London, delivered a rousing address on the necessity of "living out" and "telling out" the joy of the saved soul. Rev. Mr. Morgan, pastor of the church, pronounced the benediction, bringing to a close, as some of the clergy remarked, the most successful meeting the women's societies have held in this association.

HIS REPENTANCE.

Yes, this unhappy secret, this great misfortune, however inexpedient it may be at present to describe what it really was, had nothing to do with Lady Oswald. Far from Dr. Davenal having caused her to inhale an extra dose of chloroform as an experiment, in the hope that it might prove fatal, and so enable him to drop at once into that very desirable legacy named in her will, he had not the faintest suspicion that he should inherit a shilling. When the news was conveyed to him he could not believe it to be true; did not believe it for some little time.

It was Mr. Wedderburn who carried it to him. When the lawyer's business was over at L[illegible] Oswald's he proceeded to Dr. Davenal and found the doctor at home, having just come in from attending the consultation. Mr. Wedderburn told him the news.

"It is, indeed," affirmed Mr. Wedderburn. "After her legacies are paid, you take everything—you are residuary legatee."

"You are joking," said the doctor. "What have I to do with the money? I have no right to it."

With some difficulty Dr. Davenal was convinced that he and he alone was named as the inheritor. It did not give him pleasure. Quite the contrary; he saw in it only a great deal of trouble and law business, which he much disliked at all times to engage in.

Richard Davenal was one of those thoroughly conscientious men—and there are few such in the world—who could not be content to enjoy money to which another has a better right. It was a creed of his—and I hope not altogether an obsolete one—that money so enjoyed could not bring pleasure in the spending, or good in the end. Lady Oswald had legitimate relations, who had looked for the money, who needed the money, needed it with a far deeper need than Dr. Davenal, and [illegible] possessed a claim for it, so far as relationship could give it them. And as the conviction slowly dawned on him that the news that he had been made the inheritor was true, so there arose another conviction, or rather a resolution, with it, that he should never accept the money, that it should go over to its legitimate owners, no matter what trouble it involved. A resolution from which he never swerved.

Never. Not even in that moment when a tempter's voice arose within him, whispering how well this legacy would serve to replace that great sum, the savings of years, which he had been obliged to part with only that very week. Partly to satisfy a debt, of which until then he had known nothing, had he parted with it; partly as hush money, to keep down the terrible secret whispered to him on that Sunday night. The thought certainly did arise—that it almost seemed that this money had been sent to him to replace it; but never for a moment did he allow it to obtain weight. It would have been simply impossible for Dr. Davenal to act against his conscience.

"I shall refuse the legacy," he remarked to Mr. Wedderburn. "I have no right to it."

"What did you say?" asked the lawyer, believing he did not properly catch the words.

"I shall not accept the money. It is none of mine. It ought to be none of mine. It must go to Lady Oswald's relatives."

"But it is yours, Dr. Davenal. It is bequeathed to you in the will."

"I don't care for the will. I should not care for ten wills if I had no right to the money they bequeathed me. I have no right to this, and I will not touch a farthing of it."

Mr. Wedderburn's surprise expended [illegible]lf in one long stare. In all his lawyerly [illegible]perience he had never heard of a resolu[illegible]er so savoring of chivalry. The legatees [illegible]d the pleasure of doing business with [illegible]e only too eager to grasp their good for[illegible]une, and if any little inconvenient pricks of conscience were so ill mannered as to arise, they were speedily dismissed by the very legal consideration—If I do take it I but obey the will.

"There never was such a thing heard of as the refusing of a fortune legally bequeathed," cried the lawyer.

"I dare say there has been, many a time. If not, this will be a precedent."

"You'll be so laughed at," persisted Mr. Wedderburn. "You'll be set down—I'm afraid people will set you down as a lunatic."

"Let them," said the doctor. "They shan't confine me as one without my own certificate. Mr. Wedderburn," he continued in a graver tone, "I am serious in this refusal. I feel that I have no right whatever to this money of Lady Oswald's. She paid me liberally for my services——"

"If you only knew how many thousands inherit money daily who have no right to it," interrupted Mr. Wedderburn.

"D[illegible] doubtless they do. I was going to observe that it was not so much my having no right to it that would cause me to decline as the fact that others have a better right. I——"

"But the will gives you a right," interposed the, lawyer, unable to get over his surprise.

"A legal right I am aware it does. But not a just one. No, I will not accept the legacy. I should wish the money to be appropriated just as though there had been no Dr. Davenal in existence. You say this will was made about six months ago. It must have superseded another will, I presume?"

"It may be said that it superseded several," was the reply. "Lady Oswald was constantly making wills. She had made some half-dozen before this last one."

"And each one disposing of her property differently?" quickly asked the doctor.

"Yes; or nearly so. Twice she bequeathed it to her nephews, the Stephensons. Once it was left to Mr. Oswald Cray; once to charities; once to Sir Phillip Oswald. She has been exceedingly capricious."

"All the more reason why I should not take it now," warmly cried Dr. Davenal. "She must have left it to me in a moment of caprice; and, had she lived a few months longer, this will would have been revoked as the rest had been. Mr. Wedderburn, were I capable of acting upon it and taking the money I should lose all self-respect forever. I could not, as a responsible being, responsible to one who sees and judges all I do, be guilty of so crying an injustice."

Mr. Wedderburn suppressed a shrug of the shoulders. He could only look at it with a lawyer's eye and a lawyer's reasoning. Dr. Davenal resumed.

"What was the tenor of the will which this last one superseded? Do you recollect?"

"Perfectly. We hold the draft of it still. It was nearly as possible a counterpart of the present one, excepting as relates to your share in this, and the share of the brother Stephenson. In that last will they left your place. The furniture bequeathed them as, in this, and also the bulk of property."

"My name not being mentioned in it——"

"Yes it was. The diamond ring bequeathed to you now was bequeathed then. Nothing more."

"Then that's all right. Now, Mr. Wedderburn, listen to me. That diamond ring I will accept, with pleasure as a remembrance of my poor friend and patient; but I will accept nothing else. Will you be so kind as to destroy this last will, and let the other be acted upon? I am scaring you, I see. If that cannot legally be done, let the money come to me, but only in transit for the rightful owners, the Stephensons. Mr. Stephenson and his brother, will manage this for me. Being at law in details, you know what may and may not be done. All I beg of you is to effect this, carrying it out in the simplest manner, and in the shortest possible time."

Mr Wedderburn felt disgusted. He had no more cause to wish the money to go to Dr. Davenal than to the Stephensons and his brother, but it was altogether unusual a proceeding, would be so very unprofessional a transaction, that he regarded it as an innovation hardly to be [illegible]ated, a sort of scandal on all the regulated notions of the legal world, in which Mr. Wedderburn himself was little better than a machine.

"I cannot undertake it without you giving me instructions in writing, Dr. Davenal. I'd not stir a peg in it without."

"You shall have them in full."

"Well, sir, you know best; but the time may come when your children will not thank you for this. It will, Dr. Davenal, and nothing else."

"I hope my children will never question any act of mine. I am doing this for the best."

Nevertheless as Dr. Davenal spoke there was some pain in his face. The lawyer detected it, and thought he was coming round. He would not speak immediatly, but let the feeling work its way.

"It is a large sum to relinquish," the lawyer presently said; "to throw out of one's hand as if it were so much worthless sand."

"What is the sum?—what has she left?" asked Dr. Davenal, remembering that as yet he was ignorant of this point.

"I expect, when all the legacies and other expenses are paid, there will be a little over £6,000. There must have been double that. Lady Oswald lost a large sum a few years ago, quite as much as £6,000. She put it into some prosperous looking bubble, and it burst. Women should never dabble in business. They are safe to get their fingers burnt."

The Better I like it.

"Yes, I have used it for years, and the longer I use it the better I like it; in fact, I would use no other," said a bright, happy looking lady to her friend when riding on the street car along Dundas street the other day. They had seen the advertisement of Pure Gold Baking Powder on the boards as they passed along in the car. The reporter having to get off the car at this particular moment did not hear the end of the conversation.

"Praise be to him whose wondrous skill
Has conquered every human ill—
And now alone, as victor, stands
The 'Golden' compound of his hands."

So spake a man, with tribute crowned,
Of Dr. Pierce, the "world-renowned,"
Whose "Medical Discovery"
Had vanquished pain and set him free.

One can but speak in praise of a remedy so effectual and unfailing as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Acting promptly and thoroughly, it produces permanent cures. Consumption, in its early stages, scrofula, liver and kidney disorders, and all blood diseases are within the field of its unbounded success.

Untold Misery—What a Well-Known Commercial Traveler Suffered, and How He Was Cured.—Gentlemen,—About five years ago I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time traveling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of dyspepsia. (Signed.) T. S. McINTEE. 4

"LOYAL TO THE MOVEMENT."

The Cleveland Presbytery and the Christian Endeavor—A Misunderstanding Corrected.

Some time ago a dispatch was sent out from Cleveland and widely published to the effect that the Cleveland Presbytery had declared war on the Christian Endeavor movement. It turns out to be untrue. The Golden Rule, the Christian Endeavor organ, says:

The Cleveland Presbytery recently decided to band together its Christian Endeavorers in a presbyterial union, holding yearly conventions. The Cleveland papers misunderstood that action, and treated it as if it were a move to establish a sectarian young people's society. On motion of the originator of this new plan, Rev. R. A. George, at the last meeting of the Presbyterian Club, of Cleveland, the following resolutions were passed:

"Inasmuch as a misunderstanding has arisen in the public mind concerning the attitude of the Clevelaand Presbytery toward the Christian Endeavor movement;

"Therefore, we, the Presbyterian Club of the city of Cleveland, deem it due to ourselves and to the Christian Endeavor movement to say:

"1. That the press reports were a misrepresentation of the action of the Presbytery.

"2. That the Presbyterian Club of this city express their hearty indorsement of the Christian Endeavor movement, and declare that, as far as we understand the sentiments of the Presbytery, there was no thought of discarding Christian Endeavor for any independent organization.

"3. That as far as we know there has not been the least change in the attitude of our churches toward Christian Endeavor, and that there need be no fear that the Presbyterian Church of Cleveland will not be found in line, loyal to the movement and ready to do their best in making the convention of '94 a great success."

Succulent and Nourishing.

"What do you want?" she asked through a small opening in the doorway.

"I'm lookin' fur a square meal."

"Well, she replied, with a gesture toward the woodpile, "suppose you begin with a chop."

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Signed, JOHN D. COX.

PARKER'S DYE WORKS.

We are now in a better position than ever for DYEING, Cleaning and Finishing all kinds of LADIES' and GENTS' WEARING APPAREL, such as Suits, Dresses, Cloaks, Ostrich Plumes, Lace, Damask and Repp Curtains, etc., etc.

Many persons are not aware of the extent to which Dyeing and Renewing of Garments is practiced by the best families in our cities. Dresses which pass for new and stylish are frequently old ones fresh from the hands of the Dyer. With ladies' clothing the style is now such that by taking one dress and having it dyed to a bright fresh shade, with the addition of another color or material, an entirely new garment may be produced. Gentlemen's suits which have been cast aside on account of being soiled or faded, by having them cleaned or dyed may save the expense of buying new ones.

The Various Booths—Entertaining Features—Young Liberal Minstrels—A Scene of Splendor.

In faith and hope the world will disagree
But all mankind's concern is charity.

Independence of spirit has always been characteristic of London's women. When they undertake to accomplish an end, energy, executive ability and unerring perscience are the motive powers. A few weeks ago the ladies whose unselfish and devoted zeal have built up the Protestants Orphans' Home, undertook to inaugurate "Ye Olde Englyshe Fayre." After the lapse of such a short time the result of their labors is about to be viewed by the public. On Monday next the doors of the Princess rink will be thrown open. The view which will then meet the gaze of visitors it is unnecessary to anticipate by a description. Every one will undoubtedly be delighted.

The "honorable dames of high degree" who will officiate as "lady patronesses of ye revels" are: Mrs. Essery, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Beattie, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Cleghorn, Mrs. English, Mrs. W. W. Fitzgerald; Mrs. McDonough, Mrs. Lawrason, Mrs. E. Leonard, Mrs. Macbeth, Mrs. Carfrae, Mrs. S. Smith, Mrs. Labatt, Mrs. Bucke, Mrs. Hyman, and Mrs. Smith (Barracks). Not among the least "refreshing" of the various booths will be "The Travelers' Rest"—a quaint and neatly kept inn, where, on each day of the Fayre, a luncheon fit for the Lord Mayor of London will be served from 12 to 2 p.m., and a high tea from 5 to 7 p.m., by the prettiest maids and most gracious dames in all the land. Here the most epicurean appetites will receive ample ministration. Those whose smiling presence and winsome graces will help to regale the transient visitor are: Mesdames Robinson, Jas. Duffield, Wm. Duffield, J. Green, G. Hayes, E. W. Hyman, G. Meritt, H. Moore, A. Morphy, Powell, Fowler, Smart, Screaton, Edge, Struthers, A. Thompson, J. Weld, Shaw-Wood, Beltz, J. G. Then the old folks and strangers shall get on their wraps, and the young folks in costume shall walk through that most stately march of the good old English gentleman, Sir Roger de Coverley. By 11 o'clock the gates must be locked.

The Royal Crown Remedy

Secures the harmonious action of each of the organs. It establishes throughout the entire system functional harmony, and supplies the blood vessels with a pure and healthy current of new life. The skin, after a few days' use of the Crown Remedy, becomes clear and beautiful—pimples, blotches, black spots and skin eruptions are removed, sores and ulcers soon cured. Persons suffering from Scrofula, Eruptive Diseases of the Eyes, Mouth, Ears, Legs, Throat and Glands that have accumulated and spread, either from uncured diseases or mercury, or from the use of corrosive sublimate, may rely on a cure if the Royal Crown Remedy is continued a sufficient time to make its impression on the system. yw
