

STOMACH CANCER CAN BE CURED SAYS DR. MAYO

Important Announcement by Greatest American Operator at Medical Meeting.

Dr. Kelly Discusses Use of Radium as a Physical Agency.

[Canadian Press.] Minneapolis, Minn., June 18.—That cancer of the stomach is a curable disease was the declaration of Dr. William Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., at today's meeting of the Medical Association.

A favorable diagnosis is established by simple methods, he asserted. A history of gastric disturbance precedes cancer in a large number of not the majority of cases; operations for cancer of the stomach should begin as an exploration. Moderate involvement of the pancreas does not necessarily preclude operation. Palliative operations have a field of usefulness.

Dr. Mayo gave a review of statistics of signs and symptoms observed in a thousand patients operated on for cancer of the stomach.

Uses of Radium. Radium as a physical agency was discussed in a paper by Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Baltimore, Md., in his action, he said, is local and it is destined to be a potent aid in the treatment of gynecology. He asserted that radium will cure some cancers, and will especially eliminate many cases of local recurrence which are difficult to treat by many of the customary surgical methods.

His importance in the treatment of fibroid tumors is just beginning to be recognized. It checks hemorrhage and in some cases materially decreases the size of the growths. In pelvic inflammatory disease, its use is very useful, but this, he said, is a new field.

Papery on Trachoma. Lantern slides were used by Dr. J. A. Stucky, of Lexington, Ky., to illustrate a paper on trachoma among the mountaineers of Eastern Kentucky. The increase of this disease in 25 years among the Anglo-Saxons of these mountains led Dr. Stucky to make a trip of observation through five counties on mountainous terrain. He found the unmistakable evidence of the infectiousness and destructiveness of the disease. He gave the delegates what he considered a solution of the problem of eradicating the malady.

Trachoma among the Indians was discussed in a paper by Dr. W. J. Schereschewsky, of Washington, D. C. He asserted that 29 per cent of the United States Indians are suffering from trachoma. This disease was most prevalent among Indians of the boarding-schools and least among reservation Indians.

Needless Blindness. Six thousand needless cases of blindness occur throughout the country each year. This statement was made by Henry Copley Greene, agent of the conservation of eyesight of the Massachusetts commission for the blind. This condition, Mr. Greene said, was a challenge to the medical profession and called for the co-operation of oculists, social workers and lawmakers. Much of the needless blindness, he said, was due to lack of attention to sore eyes among babies.

BRITISH GOVT. SCANDAL ENDS IN LOVE FEAST

Statements of Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs Anxiously Awaited.

No Personal Charges Are To Be Made, Says George Cave.

[Canadian Press.] London, June 18.—The climax was reached today of the scandal connected with the Ministerial transactions in the Marconi shares at the time the British Government was negotiating contracts with the company.

Cabinet ministers, who had been impugned were today given a final opportunity of making a public explanation of the transactions which had caused the most acute party strife known in British politics for many years.

Every seat in the House of Commons and all the public galleries were filled in anticipation of the debate and the intense interest with which the statements of Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George and Attorney-General Sir Rufus Isaacs were awaited was shown in the obvious excitement which pervaded the assembly.

No Personal Charges. George Cave, a Unionist member, who on behalf of the Opposition, moved a vote of censure on the cabinet, regretting the transactions made by certain ministers in the shares of the American Marconi Company, and the lack of frankness displayed by them toward the House of Commons, cleared the air somewhat by disclaiming at the outset any intention of charging personal corruption against any one of the ministers concerned. He said:

"What I suggest is that two cabinet ministers and one former cabinet minister have committed breaches of certain rules and traditions of this House, and indeed, of all public life, without which public life would be impossible."

He explained "It is to place our names before the House a resolution that in the opinion of the House the conduct of these cabinet ministers is a breach of our best traditions, and that our rules have been infringed, and in future such a thing will never be allowed to occur with impunity."

Attorney-General Isaacs admitted that he had made an error of judgment. He said: "In the light of what has happened, I agree that the course Continued on Page Eleven."

ALL BRANCHES OF ARMS AT THE CAMP BUSY TRAINING

Mimic Warfare Arranged for When Taste of "Real Thing" Is Planned.

Grand Military Tattoo Being Planned for Some Night Next Week.

With the absence of an offering from Jupiter Pluvius so far the third day of camp at Carling's Heights opened this morning with the men in fine mottle and ready for a hard nine days' work.

"Everything is going swimmingly; in fact, I think this year's camp is the best I ever attended," said Colonel Macdonnell, when asked by an Advertiser reporter about the success of the camp this year.

Several regiments of infantry went for long hikes, being up before the breakfast early work had even thought of crawling from his hole, and all returned in time for dinner.

Musketry Practice. Other companies went to the rifle ranges, where target practice has been going on ever since the camp opened. The practice will take a great deal more time this year than usual, but none of the men will be required to put in extra time, as was rumored about the city. The rifles being used at the ranges this year are a stark new to the militia.

The sighting apparatus is entirely different from the old arms, and as a consequence the shooting so far has not been satisfactory. However, the men are rapidly becoming accustomed to them, and Col. Macdonnell expects that everything will be in perfect running order, and the shooting better by tomorrow.

Cavalry Exercises. Arrangements have been made for a three-day's trip by the Gray's Horse and the Hussars, and also a week in the vicinity of Thorndale and Hilderon.

The troopers will leave London on Monday morning, carrying provisions for one day, and will proceed to Thorndale, where they will remain for two days, and then set out for their respective points. They will bivouac for two days, and will fight a mimic war in the territory between those two places. They will return to camp on Wednesday night.

Arrangements have been nearly completed for the infantry manoeuvres which will take place on Friday morning. In the afternoon a concert will be given by all the bands in camp, and on Friday night an old-fashioned military tattoo will likely be put on. Major Gordon Hall has the arrangements in charge.

More Room Needed. Col. Hodgins, D. O. C., is well pleased with the camp, and also the grounds, but says it would be much better if there were more room.

Asked if London was more advantageous for a camp than Goderich, Col. Macdonnell said that in some ways it was, but that there were so many small market gardens and farms on which grain is planted in the immediate vicinity of London, that it is almost impossible to find places on which to conduct manoeuvres.

"Goderich has the advantage of having such places," continued Col. Macdonnell. "But outside of that, London has the advantage over Goderich." Inquiries at the camp as to whether there were any boys under age attending, as there are at Niagara, elicited a reply in the negative.

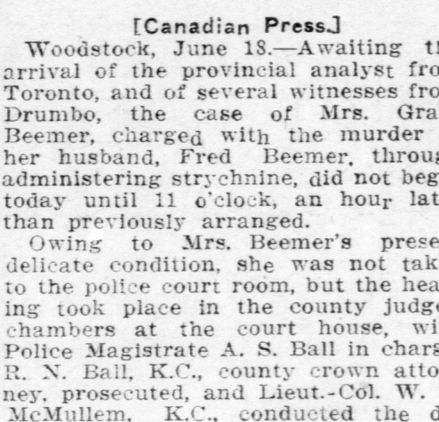

Early this morning 250 troopers of the Gray's Horse, under the command of Colonel Mayberry, of Ingersoll, and 250 troopers of the First Hussars, under the command of Colonel Gregory, of St. Catharines, left the grounds and proceeded to Chedoke farm, where they spent three hours at work.

The Hussars have the finest lot of horses this year that have ever been seen at the camp, and the men of the command are in the best of health. The only trouble is that space is at a premium on the camp grounds, and the horses have to be tethered to clove.

Colonel Abbott, of this city, in command of B. Squadron, said this morning that he had never seen such a fine-looking lot of horses in the camp. So far there has not been an accident amongst any of the troopers of the Hussars, but the Gray's Horse men have not been so fortunate.

FEARED POISON IN BEEMER DEATH

Doctor on Stand Says He Was Greatly Surprised to Find That His Patient, Who Was Almost Well, Had Died Very Suddenly.

[Canadian Press.] Woodstock, June 18.—Awaiting the arrival of the provincial analyst from Toronto, and of several witnesses from Drumbo, the case of Mrs. Grace Beemer, charged with the murder of her husband, Fred Beemer, through administering strychnine, did not begin today until 11 o'clock, an hour later than previously arranged.

Owing to Mrs. Beemer's present delicate condition, she was not taken to the police court room, but the hearing took place in the county judge's chambers at the court house, with Police Magistrate A. S. Ball in charge. R. N. Ball, K.C., county crown attorney, prosecuted, and Lieut.-Col. W. T. MacMillan, K.C., conducted the defence.

Mrs. Beemer, who is a rather attractive-looking woman of about 30, has eight children, who since her arrest have been in the care of the Children's Aid Society in this city. The oldest is at work on a farm, while the other seven are in the shelter.

Married at Sixteen. The woman married Fred Beemer, who was her father's brother, when she was 16 years old, he being many years her senior, and in their fourteen years of married life on their farm at Blenheim, near Drumbo, they apparently did not meet with a very large degree of happiness.

Dressed entirely in black, Mrs. Beemer was escorted into the courtroom at 11 o'clock by County Constable Hobson, and took a chair in front of the magistrate, not being put in the prisoner's dock.

Apart from the witnesses, there were few spectators. Dr. Woolner, of Ayr, was the first witness. He was called in, he said, to see Fred Beemer on the morning of Saturday, March 22. "Beemer was suffering from cramps in his legs, swelling and considerable thirst," he said. "He was lying on a couch in the hall, Mrs. Beemer, the children, and some of the neighbors were present."

Did Not Have Stroke. Mrs. Beemer told me she thought her husband had a stroke," said the doctor. "I examined him, and found he had not a stroke."

The doctor did not satisfy himself as to the cause of Beemer's condition. Mrs. Beemer told him Beemer had had some sausage when away from home, which did not agree with him. She said her husband took sick that morning, but had not been feeling well for some days.

"My first idea was that he might have ptomaine poisoning, and I treated him for that," said the witness. "I told Mrs. Beemer to give him salts later."

"Was there anything in the tablets you gave him to create spasms?" asked the crown attorney. "I was sure to relieve them," was the reply. "What did Beemer complain of principally?"

"Principally of spasmodic pains in his legs."

Had Severe Pains. He saw Beemer again the same night, his condition being little changed, and the pains being severe enough to make him cry out at times. Mrs. Beemer said she had given the salts as directed, and he ordered more. She told him she had given Beemer ipecac that morning to relieve his stomach. Sunday noon, when the doctor paid his third visit he found Beemer much better. He had pains, but not so severe. Monday night the doctor found Beemer's condition practically normal, and he had been up during the day.

The man was practically well, and I told him I would not need to return," said Dr. Woolner. "I was called again Continued on Page Eleven."

Soldier Drops Dead At Carling Heights

Private Hubbard, of the Permanent Force, a Victim of Heart Failure Caused by Excessive Heat —To Have Military Funeral.

After stepping from his bed in the Red Cross Hospital at Carling's Heights, where he had been confined since Tuesday afternoon, Private H. C. Hubbard, of the permanent force, B. C. R., dropped dead on the camp grounds shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

Private Hubbard complained Tuesday afternoon of feeling ill, and Tuesday afternoon was ordered to the field hospital for treatment. This morning he felt better, and was starting to walk to the barracks when he was overcome. Several members of the ambulance corps saw him fall, and ran to his assistance. First-aid methods were applied, and a physician hurriedly summoned, but all efforts to revive him failed, his death occurring a moment after he was picked up.

Coroner Called. Lieut.-Col. Dr. Belton was notified, and after learning the facts of the case, he gave orders that Coroner Dr. MacLaren be called. Dr. MacLaren arrived at the camp early this morning, and after examination decided that death was due to heart failure, induced by the extreme heat of the past few days, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

Private Hubbard's sudden death was a great surprise to the regulars, all of whom were acquainted with him, and with whom he was on the best of terms.

A Military Funeral. Col. Macdonnell, of the permanent staff, was notified, and after a consultation it was decided to hold a military funeral Friday afternoon.

Private Hubbard was in his 40th year, and has been connected with the permanent force for about two years. He came to this country from Woodstock, England, and his relatives will be notified.

FARMER'S PHONE SAVED $25,000 FROM BANDITS

Conductor Rushed to Nearby House When His Train Was Held Up.

Police Made Fast Trip and Robbers Got Away Without Booty.

[Canadian Press.] Springfield, Ill., June 17.—Two masked bandits held up the Illinois Central diamond special en route to Chicago from St. Louis, ten miles south of here early today, fought a pitched battle with a posse of deputy sheriffs and city policemen from Springfield, who came upon them while dynamiting the safe in the express car, and escaped, after themselves running the engine to a point near the city limits of Springfield. The train was brought to Springfield early today and an examination of the express car showed the bandits obtained nothing of value, the explosion of dynamite having failed to open the through safe, which contained $25,000.

Reporter Lined Up. In addition to fighting a pitched battle with the officers, the bandits captured a policeman and a newspaper reporter and lined them up beside the express car with the messenger, and curious passengers who came from the coaches of the train to ascertain the cause of the stop. No one was injured by the shots as far as known.

The engine and express car were cut off from the rest of the train by the train crew at the point of revolvers. Conductor McWilliams, on seeing the engine and express car pulling away from the train started to investigate. A little farther down the tracks towards the city he heard an explosion. He hastened to the house of a farmer and sent the warning to this city. Sheriff Meester and Chief of Police Underwood soon had officers securing the country.

Made Fast Run. A switch engine, in charge of General Superintendent Cliff, of Clinton, left this city about 2 o'clock, and on reaching 20th and Laurel streets came up to the engine and express car of the passenger train.

The switch engine returned to the city and the passenger engine was sent back for the train.

Engineer Sheller reported that following the battle between the robbers and posse the bandits took possession of his locomotive and ran it off, tossing him securely on his back.

Farmers telephoning played an important part in quickly notifying the authorities of the hold up. Reports of the explosion of dynamite, and repeated cries upon the safe in the express car, awakened the farmers for a distance of several miles.

Covered by Pistols. Fireman Peter S. Miller says he has no idea when the bandits boarded the train. The first he knew of their presence was when a masked robber slid over the tender with a revolver in each hand and, coating both engineer and fireman, said: "Stop her!"

Engineer Sheller obeyed the command. One bandit uncoupled the express car and gave the command to pull ahead, after going about a mile another order was given to stop. Miller is of the opinion that the dynamite was applied to the safe half a dozen times before the sheriff's posse arrived at the scene and engaged the bandits in a pitched battle.

Both men are troopers connected with the Gray's Horse and the first one to be injured was Trooper Waterland, of Woodstock, whose horse reared suddenly, and after throwing his mount fell on him. His back was badly sprained and after being attended to by Major Dr. Sutherland, of Princeton, he was removed to the hospital.

Trooper Franz, of Berlin, was the second to be injured. He was mounting to go out for drill when the horse reared and threw him. In falling his leg doubled under him, fracturing the bone. The fracture was reduced and at noon he was resting easily.

Three men are suffering from minor injuries received from horses, and the fourth is suffering from tonsillitis. He has been isolated and it is thought that none of the men will be affected.

FIERY STEEDS THROW RIDERS Two Men at Carling Heights Injured by Riding Accidents.

THREE MINOR INJURIES

There are at present seven men confined to the Red Cross hospital at Carling's Heights, two more being taken there this morning after meeting with accidents by being thrown from horses.

Both men are troopers connected with the Gray's Horse and the first one to be injured was Trooper Waterland, of Woodstock, whose horse reared suddenly, and after throwing his mount fell on him. His back was badly sprained and after being attended to by Major Dr. Sutherland, of Princeton, he was removed to the hospital.

TWO DIE WHEN AUTO UPSETS

Jealous Girl Who Took Poison Was Being Rushed to Hospital.

Sacramento, Cal., June 18.—Racing to a hospital to save a young woman who had swallowed poison with suicidal intent, an automobile owned by Guy E. Pearce, of this city, was wrecked. Pearce was instantly killed. Miss Vera Brennan, who had taken the poison, was fatally mangled, and Herbert Woodall, the chauffeur, probably will succumb to his injuries.

The party had been attending a ball at a suburban point. Miss Brennan, actuated by jealousy, attempted to end her life, and Pearce volunteered to hurry the unconscious young woman to a hospital here. While going at high speed the car struck soft earth at the side of the road and turned over three times. Pearce was a Sacramento businessman.

DISTRICT COMMANDING OFFICER TELLS ANGLICAN CONVENTION DEFENCE MEASURES NECESSARY

Anglican Convention Passes Resolution Expressing Loyalty and Desire For Peace, But Believes Universal End of Strike Is Still Far Off—Col. Hodgins Explains Military Training.

"That this synod desires to express the love and profound loyalty of our people to the throne and person of the sovereign, and our unalterable attachment to the British Empire. We rejoice in the peace that the Empire enjoys, and pledge ourselves as Christian men to do all in our power to promote peace and goodwill within and beyond the Empire, looking unto Him who maketh wars to cease in all the world to consummate his promises of universal peace."

"We realize, however, that this ideal is not yet attained, and as Christian citizens we recognize the duty of being ready to defend the heritage that God has given us and to maintain the freedom and unity which in our Empire we enjoy."

The above resolution presented by Rev. R. S. W. Howard, and seconded by Judge Ermatinger, voiced the sentiments of the Anglican Synod on the question of the peace movement. The resolution was passed without discussion, after Col. Hodgins, district officer commanding No. 1 military district, had delivered an able address, dealing with the aims and objects of military training. In passing the resolution, the members rose to their feet in a body and sang the National Anthem.

A National Insurance. Col. Hodgins' address was along a similar line to that given by him at the recent Methodist Conference. He reiterated the statement that he was not in favor of militarism in the modern sense of the term, but he considered a certain amount of military training and adequate preparations for defence as part of a great national insurance. He pointed out that it was not the military men of the country that make war. They were rather the victims of war for should war break out, many of them would be called upon to sacrifice all that life holds dear. It was the great financiers of a country, the politicians and heads over nations becoming involved in great disputes that made war.

Good Thing Morally. Military training, he held, was a good thing for the young man, both physically and morally. He admitted that in the past conditions in the camps in regard to drinking and swearing had not been all that might be desired, but these conditions are being rapidly overcome. As far as he knew, there was not a drop of liquor in the

WEATHER MAN IS PLAYING PRANKS ON FOREST CITY FOLK

Fifty-Seven Varieties Have Been Dished Up in the Course of Three Days.

A Drop of Forty Degrees From Monday's Maximum to Today's Figure.

Weather in "57 varieties" has been included in the bill-of-fare that records London's atmospheric attractions for the past few days. Monday the thermometer mercury threatened to go shooting out of the top of the glass. The fall this morning would seem to indicate that it was heading for the bottom just as rapidly. A drop of just 40 degrees from Monday's maximum to today's minimum has been recorded. The general feeling of the worthy bourgeois has been undergoing a corresponding change.

When the thermometer registered a temperature of 92 on Monday, cool drinks were the reigning sovereign of the drink emporiums. This morning when the thermometer stood at 52 it looked as if the ice cream magnates would have to install their old hot chocolate boilers to draw trade. Monday the suffering citizen's feelings against Old Sol were just about as hot as the old gentleman was himself. This morning the "warmness" was still there, but it was not directed toward Old Sol in the same manner as was two short days ago. Then Jap. Play was being heartily condemned because he was too much in evidence. Today he was being condemned just as heartily because he was not enough in evidence.

As the old campaigner remarked yesterday, "Life is a funny proposition after all, but the weather and the way the people regard it is about the funniest part of a funny life."

So far the rain that is supposed to be part of the annual military camp has held off for three days. Now the question is "How much longer will it stay away?" From the appearance of the sky at many times during the morning it won't be long.

Spoiled His Wake By Coming Home

Kearny, N. J., June 17.—Jas. Kieley is still suffering today from the shock of witnessing what his relatives and friends believed to be his own "wake."

When he returned to his home last night, after a few days' absence on a painting job, he found his sister, Mrs. Calhoun O'Brien, his two brothers and a score of neighbors sitting in the front parlor weeping over a coffin.

The mourners spied him as he stood on the threshold amazed at the scene, and his sister fainted at the shock of seeing him. The other mourners, when assured that he was not a ghost, explained after a while that he believed the newspapers had told of the death of James Kelly from sunstroke, in Newark.

When Mrs. O'Brien read the article she feared the victim was her brother, and that the paper had misspelled his name. She went to view the body, and the features were so nearly the double of those of her brother that she believed it to be his body, and ordered it removed to her home.

Mr. John O. Dromgole stated to the Advertiser today that he had not yet received any official information that he is to receive the appointment to a judgeship in Essex County as has been rumored.

"I have had no notification at all as yet," he said.

JUMPED HIS BAIL

Toronto Man Was Held by the Police For Blackmail.

Toronto, June 18.—John Maloney, who was arrested yesterday, charged with levying blackmail on a man by telling him that he could square the police for $100, failed to turn up in the police court this morning, and his bail of $1,000 cash was exonerated. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Both men are troopers connected with the Gray's Horse and the first one to be injured was Trooper Waterland, of Woodstock, whose horse reared suddenly, and after throwing his mount fell on him. SMALL BOY'S PRANK COST LIVES OF TWO RAILWAYMEN

Went Into Roundhouse and Started Big Mogul Through Buffalo Yards at Forty-Five Miles an Hour, Causing Fatal Collision.

[Canadian Press.] Buffalo, N. Y., June 18.—A small boy went into the New York Central Railroad roundhouse here last night and climbed into the cab of an engine. He pulled open the throttle, and as the engine started forward, he jumped. The locomotive ran wild through the yards at a speed of 45 miles an hour, and had covered three-quarters of a mile before it crashed head-on into a freight train running in the opposite direction. The two engines met with terrific force. Engineer Fred Ludeke was almost instantly killed, and the fireman, Wm. Froelich, was so badly hurt that he died a short time later. Both engines were badly damaged, and many cars were wrecked.

Shoe Workers Claim Voting Was Illegal Names Were Only Partially Given Out Prior to Election. [Canadian Press.] Montreal, June 17. — The delegation from Brockton to the convention of the International Boot and Shoe Workers' Union of America meeting here, having been protested against, evidence has been gathered and laid before the meeting of the credentials committee. The protest arose over an alleged violation of constitutional rules in the election of delegates to the Montreal convention from Brockton Local, No. 100. It appears that there eight seventeen candidates, of whom eight were chosen. Prior to the election it was decided to print sample ballots for purely educative purposes, owing to the large number of delegates in the town. It is claimed that similar lists containing the names of only 20 of the candidates were printed for distribution among the foreigners, who were thus led to neglect altogether the remaining five candidates. It was further claimed that the foreigners were assisted to vote in the illegal manner by the committee, through its chairman, Mr. Patrick A. Gillen, of Brookline, after hearing both sides of the case, reported in favor of the Brockton delegation. The matter will come up for final decision tomorrow.

LEAVE FOR LONDON Captain and Mrs. Riches Guests at Enjoyable Social. [Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 17. — Capt and Mrs. Riches have finished a very successful term in Ingersoll, having in charge the work of the local corps of the Salvation Army. They farewelled on Sunday and last evening a social was held in the citadel. The event was largely attended and most enjoyable to all in the gathering. The Baptist Young People held a very interesting meeting last night, which was in charge of Mr. Waters' class. The subject was "The Christian in a profitable manner and many helpful lessons drawn." WAS INSANE Mrs. Violet McKenna Asphyxiated Herself in London Flat. [Canadian Press.] London, June 17. — "Suicided while temporarily insane" was the verdict of the coroner's jury at Westminster on the body of Mrs. Violet McKenna Hudson, of Chicago, who was found dead from asphyxiation by gas in the kitchen of her flat near Victoria station on Sunday. The evidence indicated that she was in financial straits. She was some money on Saturday last in order to cable to the Great Northern Trust Company in Chicago for money. She left a will scribbled on an envelope, bequeathing a thousand "lbs" to an Oxford graduate named George Herbert. George Herbert testified that he saw Mrs. Hudson on Sunday morning and she seemed quite cheerful. ENGINEERS MEETING American Society Is in Session at Ottawa, With Large Attendance. [Canadian Press.] Ottawa, June 17. — About 200 delegates from New York and other centers are attending the forty-fifth annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which opened with a reception at the Chateau Laurier this morning at 10 o'clock. This is the third time the society has met in Canada, the former occasions being at Montreal in 1881 and Quebec in 1897. The society which has a membership of about 7,000 scattered all over the English-speaking world, but principally in the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom, was formed in 1852 with headquarters in New York, and ranks next in point of membership to the English society, the Canadian society coming third.

One True Medicinal Whiskey Beware of Imitations While substitution is not a part of modern merchandising, it is still practiced to a greater or less degree by a few merchants who haven't the courage to compete with their fellows along legitimate, fair, lines, or who do not care for their customer's health, but their own profits only. Substitutes Are Dangerous And any merchant who practices substitution is unworthy of the public's confidence. When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in prominent hospitals, when it has carried the blessings of health into as many thousands of homes of the sick as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. Be sure you get the genuine. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Made for Medicinal Purposes Only. It is free from injurious substances usually found in beverage whiskeys. It has given remarkable results in the prevention and relief of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions for over 50 years. INSIST ON GETTING DUFFY'S The genuine is sold in sealed bottles only. The "Old Chemist's Head" is on the label and over the cork is an engraved seal. Be certain the seal is unbroken. Sold by druggists, dealers and hotels, $1.25 a large bottle. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y. Fac-simile one-third regular size. Scandrett Bros., 175 Dundas street; P. J. Watt, 356 Richmond street; Edward Shea, 8-10 Dominion Savings Building; A. Higgin Bros., 112 Dundas street; E. B. Smith, 131 Dundas street. Local Distributors.

NEW POLICE CHIEF Sergeant Lannin, of Toronto, Takes Position at Stratford. [Special to The Advertiser.] Stratford, June 17. — The position of chief of police here, made vacant by the death of the late J. A. McCarthy in the Knox Church catastrophe, was filled this morning by the appointment of Sergeant William J. Lannin, of the Toronto police force. Out of a large sheet of applications, several of them very attractive, Sergt. Lannin was selected by the police commission as the man of the highest qualifications. The new chief is well known in this locality, and in entering the services of Stratford he is returning to his home county. He was born and reared on a farm in Mornington, brought up on a farm in Mornington, and soon spread to Mr. McCarthy's fine residence and another dwelling, and was reaching out toward the business blocks of the village when

WAS DESPONDENT Chatham Businessman, Worried Over Money Matters, Shot Himself. [Special to The Advertiser.] Chatham, June 17. — Frank Dell, until lately the district manager for the Gunn Langlois Company, committed suicide this afternoon. He became involved in financial difficulties recently that caused him to sever business connection with his firm, and he became despondent. He wandered down to the river near his residence this afternoon and shot himself. He also had a boat and shoe business in Chatham, in which he failed. He leaves a widow and one son, Harry. FIRE AT MERLIN [Special to The Advertiser.] Merlin, June 17. — A fire originated today in the rear of W. H. Trot's shoe shop, and soon spread to Mr. McCarthy's fine residence and another dwelling, and was reaching out toward the business blocks of the village when

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18.

A GOSPEL OF NEW ONTARIO.

Hon. W. H. Hearst made a pleasing impression at the Canadian Club luncheon. He had, like most speakers who visit the club, his own subject.
 Our visitors come clad in their subject, as it were, like turtle in its shell. Their subject is their house and home, from which they peer safely and serenely forth upon us.

Mr. Hearst's shell is one of many beautiful colors. Northern Ontario is still to most of us an undiscovered, far-off country. Of it we are aware that the half has not been told, or if it has,
 the remoteness of the region prevents the good things from sinking into our minds. Consequently every new witness seems to bring a new message from the northern fairland. The variety and splendor of its riches cannot but attract attention of themselves.
 A few years ago people may still have talked skeptically of the geologist's enthusiasm over the northern minerals. Now the immensity of Ontario's underground heritage is patent. Mr. Hearst charged also on the timber and agricultural resources. When the prairie is taken up, and before, there will be still the wheat belt of Northern Ontario closer than Western Canada to the great consuming markets of the world.
 Add up a fertile soil, plenty of lumber, possibly the richest all-round mineral deposits of the world, and the amount of water power available, and it is hard to conceive a more favored country in the world. It is the heart of the Dominion. It demands the most thoughtful and active policy of a Government none too wide-awake except to its own party advantage.

AN HISTORIC LONDON BUILDING.

When the Government, away back 46 years ago, decided to locate the judicial capital of this section at the forks of the River Thames, before constructing the permanent court house
 they erected a two-story frame building on the southwest corner of Dundas and Ridout streets for the temporary use of the courts. A year or two later, when it had served its original purpose and the new court house had been completed, it was moved to the southern part of the square. It was a substantial building, even though it was built of wood, for timber was plentiful, and the framework of houses in those days was not of the light material that characterizes our modern structures. The old building was utilized for school purposes. Here the first grammar school of the district was opened, and here it was kept until the high school was built on Dufferin avenue. Here for many years presided the Rev. Benjamin Bayley over the studies of young Londoners. Here many of our prominent citizens, the Merediths and others, were prepared for the university. The old building has been put to many uses, and still stands as a storehouse for the water commissioners. Now, we understand, the county council wants the city to move it off
 the court house square, and the future
 of this venerable relic is uncertain.
 Possibly it will be destroyed.

It seems a pity that in a young and growing community there should be very little regard for the historic monuments that are so closely associated with pioneer life. Canadian towns have preserved very few of them. As the community grows older and richer, the relics of the past are swept aside, and little remains connected with the past. We think mainly of the present, somewhat of the future, but the past we bury out of sight. There will come a day with us, however, as it has come to many others, when we will realize more than we do now the work of the pioneers of Canada, and relics of their trials and their successes will have a value that they do not appear now to have. A sentimental value it may be, but none the less a high one. Then, when we want to gather them up, it will be too late.

This old building on the court house square, the oldest in the city, the scene of the earliest legal contests in London, where the pioneer judges held their court, and the first criminals were placed on trial, the building where many a citizen received his education, a building rich with the associations of the past, should not be swept out of existence by the utilitarian spirit of the age. It should be preserved as the last surviving landmark of the past.

Many a visitor to the city of Montreal has gone to the Chateau de Ramezay, the quaint old building where French seigneurs once held court, and governors of both the old regime and the new kept official state.
 It is now owned by the city, and maintained as an historical museum. Here are portraits, plans, books, manuscripts and records of the early political and social life of the city. Here are the implements of war used by the pioneer soldiers, and the no less important implements of peace used by the pioneer citizens, the rude equipment of the farmer, the tools of the mechanic, the utensils of the housekeeper. Here the curious can be amused and interested

 by a sight of the outgrown and obsolete machinery of pioneer days; here
 the student can learn history as he can never learn it from books alone.

Something like this, even if on a more humble scale, can be done for London and the pioneers of Southwestern Ontario. It could be done if the city would take over the old grammar school and use it as a museum.
 There are many collections in this city
 which could be obtained for nothing, or at a nominal price. The local Historical Society has for years been making an attempt at such a collection, but the society has little money and no permanent place to store what it collects. There is an opportunity here for someone. We doubt if the municipality would undertake it, because with our increasing expenditure and growing tax rate, there will be a strong objection to spending anything for a purpose like this. But we have spent public money for which we are receiving far less value. Perhaps if there are any of our wealthier citizens, especially of what we might term the "old families," who would start the movement, the city might find a few dollars to help it along. It will soon be too late.

DEALING WITH MILITANTS.

An interesting collection of opinions
 might be made among men and women as to what the British Government ought to do about the militants.
 An open referendum on such a question would bring forth even a more hopeless miscellany of judgment than one in Canada on the naval policy to be pursued.
 A good many proposals appear on this head in British newspapers. In the House of Commons an occasional suggestion is made by some impatient member, only to be met by an overwhelming objection from the Home Secretary, who has been giving thought to the subject himself, it then appears. In American newspapers advice is rather freely offered by sympathetic champions of the stronger sex, and in this country it is common enough to hear wiseacres tell of what the British Government ought to do or must do.

Shut them all up (their voices?), let them die, transport 'em, make them get married—but nobody offers hi self as a husband. Spank them, blow them out of a cannon, send 'em where the Young Turks did the dogs of Constantinople, put them on a desert island (a rather romantic idea of letting them waste their sweetness, etc.), burn them up with their chemicals, make the punishment fit the crime.

These are just a few of the suggestions floating about in conversation.
 Some affecting to commiserate the poor things as lunatics, would deal softly with them, like Sir Toby Belch
 with Malvolio: "How, now, my law-cock, or law-hen, what cheer? What woman, fie, to play at cherry-pit with Satan!" These would have them all kindly but firmly inclosed in palace buildings known as Hospitals for the Insane. The militants might object to such treatment, but they protest against everything and everybody almost, and other lunatics often prefer home to the pleasures and palaces of public detention.

Hardly anybody in ordinary male circles proposes to attack the cause
 rather than the symptoms of disease,
 the source of the lunacy rather than its acts. As soon as the British Government can make up its mind to en-franchise women, they won't go crazy
 any more for the vote.

A number of libraries in Great Britain have been bearing "Tom Jones." Whoever reads "Tom Jones" till he or she is told not to?

Isn't these motor-cyclists going to kill somebody or one another one of these days? Some of them, like some automobilists, seem to think they have the whole street to themselves.

It is sometimes remarked that English Roman Catholics as distinguished from Irish are opposed to the granting of home rule. And yet the Belfast faction says that home rule means home rule!

Two pages of the Toronto Globe are lapus, just completed in that city.

 pital are dominating institutions of the

 The Dominion Medical Council, sitting at Ottawa, is to have supervision of medical practice throughout Canada. Much will be gained by the profession and by the public in a uniform standard throughout all provinces as to qualifications and practice.
 American opinion on the Marconi case seems to vary between holding the two British ministers guilty of an "impropriety" (Springfield Republican), and acquitting them outright (Washington Times). What would they think of our Ontario investigation and Sir James Whitney and Mr.
 Hanna?

"The time is not ripe"—a favorite speech of the dyed-in-the-wool Tory.
 Time is always green to a Sir James Whitney, a raw setting to his own dried-apple toughness. After careful cogitation Mr. Borden also will give it as his opinion that "the time is not ripe" for Senate reform, see if he doesn't. And how about the civil service?

SPECIAL GOVERNMENT POLICE TO WATCH MOTOR-SCORCHERS

Also Those Who Extinguish Their Lights Will Get Into Trouble.

On the first of July special constables will be sent out by the Ontario Government to watch for motorists violating the law as to speeding and other particulars on country highways. Special attention is to be given this year to motorists travelling without proper lights. Since electric lighting systems have been installed in automobiles, many city motorists on reaching the city limits turn the switch and extinguish the lights, and then race over rural roads, safe in the knowledge that their numbers cannot be detected. Many narrow escapes have been reported from this practice.
Examining Chauffeurs.
 Mr. O. M. Hezlewood, president, and Secretary Robertson, of the Ontario Motor League, waited on Provincial Secretary Hanna yesterday at Toronto to ask that some arrangement be made under the recent amendments to the motor vehicles act respecting the examinations to be held for chauffeurs. At the present time there is no organization to carry on this work, and the understanding is that the examiners are to be appointed by the Government on the recommendation of the Ontario Motor League.
 Some trouble was reported from Ottawa regarding reciprocity in licenses between Ontario and Quebec, but Mr. Hanna promised to investigate this in the hope of removing the difficulty.
 While all police officers are supposed to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the new amendments, no instructions have been issued by the department with regard to watching motorists who make an unreasonable noise with whistles or horns. Inquiry at the department yesterday elicited the information that this matter would be taken up when the trouble became insistent, and meanwhile the police could act on their own judgment.

LONDON MINISTERS NOT FAVORABLE TO A DIVORCE COURT

Fear That It Would Tend to Loosen the Marriage Bonds. But Believe That a Change From Present System Is at Hand.

London ministers are opposed to any change in the method of obtaining divorces in the Dominion. They are, however, in favor of the impression that a change is imminent. Agitation for a Canadian divorce court to replace the present cumbersome method of having a special act of parliament for each divorce, has been growing. The necessity for some provision that would allow the poor man to obtain a divorce, not now obtainable under the present system because of the excessive cost, is being urged all over Canada by public officials and others, who are cognizant of conditions that need rectifying.
Divorces Should Be Cheaper.
 Chief of Police W. T. Williams and other officials in similar position in other cities, declare that there should be a cheaper divorce. They base their opinion on two cases, one involving a poor people of both sexes who should be granted a divorce, but who cannot obtain one because of financial limitations. Pastors of the city, however, disagree with this statement.
 Rev. H. A. Graham, pastor of the Centennial Methodist Church, declared in a statement to The Advertiser that in all his experience he had never known of two cases similar to those cited by Chief Williams in the latter's statement on the divorce question. The head of the local police department claimed that his division had been drawn to many cases where separation papers had not been sufficient to keep a man from molesting his wife, and that because of the high cost of attorneys and other expenses, compelled to remain bound in matrimony to persons from whom they were justly entitled to divorce.
 "I have made no study of the divorce question," said Mr. Graham, "and I have only my personal convictions in the matter. I am unalterably opposed to anything that would tend to give the impression that it is easy to loosen the marriage bonds."
Sees Change Coming.
 Rev. W. R. McIntosh, of the King Street Presbyterian Church, is one of the divines who recognizes the coming change in the order of divorce proceedings.
 "I believe the divorce court will have to come," said Mr. McIntosh today. "It is too obvious a situation to be left uncorrected to the Parliament. Everyone should have a fair and equal chance. This is a time of marital unrest. I am very much opposed to any thing that would tend to increase that unrest, but I think that the change will come."
 "It is quite true that there are those who have to suffer because of the present conditions," he continued, "but opening the divorce door any wider. It is better that some suffer unjustly than to create an atmosphere of unrest. We must guard against making divorce too easy to obtain."
 "I am opposed to anything that would open the gates of divorce any wider," was the statement of Rev. W. H. Harvey, of the Ascension Wesleyan district church. "We in Canada should not attempt to make any change that would loosen, or even give the suggestion of loosening the marriage vows."

COMPANY CLAIMS CITY OF VICTORIA IS SHY OF FUNDS

Sensation Is Promised as Result of Charges Made by a Lumber Firm. Council Advised That Financial Agents Were Unable to Raise $2,350,000.

[Canadian Press.]
 Victoria, B. C., June 18.—Out of the Sooke Lake waterworks scheme the contract for which was awarded to the Westholme Lumber Company by the city of Victoria on Dec. 22, 1911, a lawsuit has begun in the supreme court in Vancouver, in which sensational charges are made.
 The suit is entered on behalf of the lumber company against the city of Victoria. Its water commissioner, its mayor, consulting engineers and other officials. Recently the lumber company threw up the job, and the city is now trying to finish it.
 The plaintiffs allege the defendants made misrepresentations and defamed the company in and out of the newspapers with the object of forcing the contractors to abandon the work, while at the same time endeavoring to conceal the true facts, which were that the corporation of Victoria was financially embarrassed.
 Counsel for the city yesterday unsuccessfully attempted to have various points of the statement of claim struck out on the ground that the allegations were scandalous, unnecessary and embarrassing.
CHARGES MAY BE TRUE.
 [Canadian Press.]
 Victoria, June 18.—An intimation that the Dominion Securities Company, Victoria's financial agents, are unable to procure money for $2,350,000 city bonds underwritten several weeks ago is contained in a letter to the city council. The bonds were underwritten at a price netting the city slightly over 92. It was a foregone conclusion that the city would be a long time getting the money because less than 20 per cent of the issue was disposed of in London. Part of this was forwarded to the city treasurer, and further sums representing the proceeds of the sale, also came along, but the bulk of the money the agents found themselves unable to raise.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR PAYING INTEREST

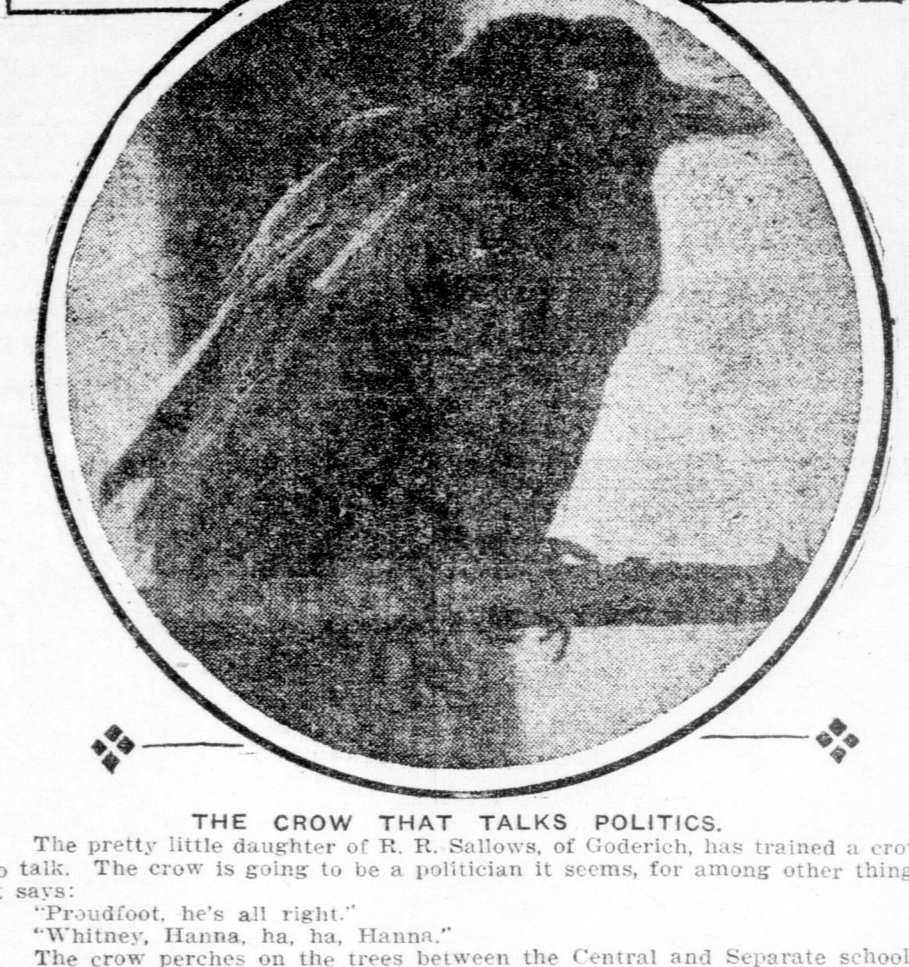

On Consolidated Debt Debentures at the Bank of Scotland.

The finance committee of the city council at a special meeting this morning decided that £3200,000 issue of debentures now being offered for sale will be made payable in New York at the office of the Guarantee Trust Company or at any branch of the Moulsons Bank.
 Arrangements were also made for the payment of interest due June 30 on the consolidated debt debentures at the Bank of Scotland, London, England.
 Mr. A. M. Hunt asked the committee to arrange for a first payment of $5,000 to John Hayman & Sons, Limited, for work on the new Aberdeen school. This amount will be paid about $25,000 in work and material has already been expended by the contractors on the new school building.
 The tenders for insurance on the incinerator were referred to the chairman and city treasurer.
 It was decided to effect a settlement with Mr. Howell, who was injured in a collision with the little red wagon of Fire Chief Aitken some time ago. The city will pay Mr. Howell $250 and each side will pay its own costs.

STEAMER IS ASHORE.

[Canadian Press.]
 Kingston, June 18.—Word was received today that the steamer Donnacona, of Inland Line, was ashore six miles this side of Long Point. The Donnacona is bound west with package freight from Montreal. The steamer Donnelly and the lighter Grantham have left to render aid.

DEBATE OVER CANON.

Previous to Col. Hodgins' address, the synod was occupied in a warm debate upon a notice of motion brought forward by the bishop. The motion was to amend a clause of one of the canons of the church which makes it necessary for a church member to contribute $2 annually to the support of the church before being allowed to become a member of the vestry. This amount is $5 in view of the material advance in the property of the country during the fifty years since the clause was framed. The amendment provoked a lot of discussion before it was allowed to pass its first reading. There were some among the clergymen who thought that to raise the amount to $5 would exclude many of the English immigrants who come to the country, and are undeniably poor when they first arrive. KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

The Beautiful and the Fashionable.

One often has not attractive homes, and that wonders who they find in the gaily-lighted streets, and in the temptingly-dressed shop windows, an attraction and a fascination that they cannot understand themselves, something costing no money, that satisfies their love of life and color and brightness, and that pleasantly fills up the night, and that might be dull and dreary and wretched. Poor little things! But to wander about the public streets at night, where girls subject themselves to familiarities from equally misguided young men, is to lose girlish shyness and modesty, to substitute boldness and a dangerous characteristic for a girl to begin her life upon. It is the beginning of hardness and insensibility, a sort of death to all finer feelings and instincts. If such fathers and mothers, how great is their responsibility! And surely some day that mother, who is a far more enlightened parent than these who allow young boys and girls to play and run about the streets at late hours of the night, with no restraining eye or hand upon them, can one wonder that those of how sorry and sympathetic one is even to think of it—that these girls are less enlightened class do likewise?

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

More Queries About Weddings. Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly tell me in your columns the proper dress for a lady and gentleman to wear to a wedding, when the bride is to be married at 7:30 p.m. The bride wearing white satin and the groom a dress suit.

2. How long before the ceremony should the guests arrive? 3. Who should provide for the carriages for the guests to go to the depot? A speedy reply will greatly oblige me. PEPPERED.

A—1. The lady should be groomed in full semi-evening toilet of silk, crepe de chine, voile, etc. If décolleté gown, no hat is worn, but the hair should be properly dressed with a bandeau or other ornament. If however, you wear a dress with high collar and sleeves, then it is correct to wear a hat. In either case long white kid gloves are correct. The gentleman's dress should be evening clothes, high silk hat, white vest, white bow tie, white gloves, and patent leather boots.

2. Any time within twenty minutes or half an hour before the ceremony. The bride's parents provide carriages for guests. Going to Schoolmate's Wedding. Dear Miss Grey: This is my first line to your valuable column, so please excuse all mistakes. I am invited to the wedding of one of my schoolmates.

1. How long before the ceremony should the guests have arrived? 2. On entering the church should the lady guests take the arm of the usher? 3. Should gray kid gloves and white ties be worn by the gentlemen? 4. Should the ladies wear hats, and would white ones be proper? 5. Now Miss Grey, please have patience for one more. Could tan shoes be worn by my sister, who is fourteen? Thanking you in advance, JACK.

A—1. They should arrive in plenty of time to permit seating of all guests, before the bridal party comes—say from twenty to within five minutes of the ceremony. 2. Yes. 3. If a day—wedding, gray kid gloves, and gray four-in-hand tie. If an evening ceremony, white bow tie and white gloves are correct. 4. Hats should be worn, and they may be white, black or of a color to match the dress. 5. If she has no black ones and it

THE IDEAL BRIDE.

Where is the maiden of mortal strain, That may match with the Baron of Triermain? She must be lovely, and constant, and kind, Holy and pure, and humble of mind, Blithe of cheer, and gentle of mood, Courteous and gracious and noble of blood— Lovely as the sun's first ray, When it breaks the clouds of an April day. Constant and true as the widow dove, Kind as the minstrel that sings of love, Pure as the fountain in rocky cave, Where never sunbeam kisses the waves, Humble as maiden that loves in vain, Holy as hermit's vesper strain; Gentle as breeze that but whispers and dies, Yet blithe as the light leaves that dance in its sighs; Courteous as monarch the morn he is crown'd, Generous as spring-dews that bless the glad ground; Noble her blood as the currents that meet, In the veins of the noblest Plantagenet, Such must her form be, her mood and her strain, That shall match with Sir Roland of Triermain. —Scott's "Bridal of Triermain."

Tea-Table Talk

Following is a plain-talk article copied from an English magazine, in which the writer discusses the clothing worn by young women and girls of today. I quote it fully, and trust it may carry with it a really telling message amongst readers of this column:

A Point of Morals. "What we must not forget is that there is a distinct point of morals in the question of how a girl dresses. When we see young girls as we saw them in larger numbers last summer than ever before, brazenly or innocently, displaying in their attire their physical rather than their innocent charms, the fault is not so much with the girls as with the mothers who permit them to buy and wear such clothes. The excuse that mothers cannot control the attire of their daughters is begging the question: a mother is a pretty poor failure when she has to confess such inability. When a girl is permitted to buy and wear the amazing hats that she wore last year, set on a head loaded down with feathers and rats, the blouse so thin and transparent as to be absolutely indecent, with sleeves so short and neck so low as to transgress the name of decency, and a skirt so light that the figure is displayed at every step, with stockings of the thinnest transparent silk, there is a question of morals involved that is tremendous.

Social Evils and Dress. "There is no sense in our being shocked at the social evils that exist and threaten our young girlhood at every turn so long as we directly add to these evils, yes, bring many of them about by allowing this shamelessness in the dress of our daughters. It is well enough to deplore the vicious habits of men, but is this sort of dressing to see what the mothers or fathers or guardians of these girls are thinking about to allow this sort of dress to go on. It deliberately courts danger, and then when danger comes, and its deadly result is stamped on the girl for her lifetime, the parents are in tears, or they explode in anger. But why? They deliberately invited the danger in the girl's mode of dress. Why be surprised that the method succeeded? Rather let them and us be surprised when a girl escapes danger.

Clothes That Are Dangerous Signals. "It is nothing short of a crime to allow an unthinking young girl to wear clothes that, when she goes out into the world, are very signals of danger. But her mother does, or her father, or her brother or sister. Some older person is responsible for allowing the dangerous dress, and that same one will be directly responsible if danger comes to the girl, and she goes under. "Every mother of a young daughter is a tremendous factor in this question. She may think that she is only one woman, and as such, is powerless. But she is watched by some other mother; her girl is looked up to by some other mother's daughter, and so the circle widens from one to many, and an influence is set in motion that is impossible to control or recall."

WHEN AUTUMN COMES.

Bine will lead the fall color scheme. Most wanted shades are navy and Hague. Purple, shading from wistaria to dark, promises well. Ruby red has a strong position now. Russian green is especially wanted in rusted fabrics. Strawberry shades are well received for trimming purposes.

"WHEN WE WALK RIGHT AND CARRY OUR HEADS HIGH, IT IS A SURE SIGN THAT WE ARE DOING OUR SHARE OF THE WORLD'S WORK," DECLARES BILLIE BURKE.

[By Billie Burke.]

A friend of mine who knows my theory in regard to the relation of the physical to the mental and spiritual man sent me recently an article of Dr. Evans' where he said: "Man holds himself upright as the result of the call to higher things. His instinct would make him slouch and slump. The spirit in him calls on him to toe, to stand straight and square, to hold his head up and his chin in and to look straight to the front. The animal in him, the great instinct that has come down in his germ plasma through the ages, bids him to slouch. When the best of him is dominating, he stands four square. When he is worn by sickness or by age he stoops."

Darwin says: "He who gives way to violent gestures will increase his rage. He who does not control signs of fear will experience fear in a greater degree, and he who remains passive when overwhelmed with grief loses his best chance of recovering elasticity of mind." Mere physical exertion has great influence on the mind.

When we walk right and carry our heads high it is a sure sign that we are doing our share of the world's work that we are developing mentally.

I would never ask help of anyone who slouches. When strength, vitality, elasticity are gone, the gait is a shambling amble. The enfeebled person drags, slops along.

When a woman will understand that the upright carriage and posture have been the greatest developer of the human race, she will give the present fashion of stooping the go-by. She will begin to throw her shoulders back and her abdomen in, walk with her head up and be mental instead of vascular.

"The upright posture has made it possible for the human race to develop a thumb and a prehensile hand; to develop arms that work better when working singly; to develop a flat chest; to develop resistance to wind and storm; to bacteria; to artificial conditions of living, unapproached by any other animal; to develop a brain that puts man in a class by himself," says Dr. Evans.

CHAPTER VI.

Halmar was almost afraid to go to sleep Saturday night, because the Dustman had promised him, a night or two before, to tell him a story. So when the queer old man slipped into the darkened room Halmar fairly jumped in his little white bed for joy. "I am in a hurry," said the Dustman, bustling around. "Tomorrow will be Sunday, you remember. All the world must be in order, you know. I must soon go to the church tower and see whether the little fairies have taken care of the church bells. They must be very bright and silvery-looking. I must polish up the stars so they will shine very brightly tomorrow night, too." "Well, Mr. Dustman, hurry, please, and tell a story first," said little Halmar, turning over into a more comfortable position. "All right, little boy," answered the Dustman. "I am going to tell you about my brother, the OTHER DUSTMAN. I shall let you see him, too!" "He rides on a great horse. He wears a velvet cloak with spangles all over it. He carries a great sword, and sometimes his head is covered with a dark-looking helmet.

"Look out of the window, now. You can see him riding by. See all those folks in front of him on the horse and all those behind him!"

"That other Dustman's name is Death. He comes to see everyone in the world, once, during their lifetime. And after he has come the person he has visited goes away with him to another world to live forever.

"Some people are afraid of him. Some are not a bit afraid. He seems terrible. But as he has come the person he has visited very, very fast, so that people don't know where he is taking them until they have almost reached their destination.

"Listen to me, Halmar. There is one thing you must remember about that other Dustman. He always asks everyone what sort of a journal they have been keeping while on earth. He means, what kind of a life have they been living. If it has been a good journal, then the other Dustman puts the person, who is going to visit him, up in front of him. They began to look happy right away and he tells them a beautiful story.

"But if they have kept a bad journal he puts them up behind him on the big horse. He tells them a scary story that makes them sad and lonely."

Halmar's eyes were very wide open after he heard this strange tale. He was just going to ask the Dustman to tell him what these two stories were which the other Dustman told when he woke up very suddenly and saw him mother leaning over him telling him it was time to get up. He remembered, right away, about the good journal and the bad journal. So he got right up as his mother wished. (The End.)

TIRED MOTHERS NEED REST

Years ago I discovered it was a spiritual as well as a physical necessity to have intervals of rest throughout the day—rest even from the companionship of those I loved the most dearly, says Olive Hurd Bragdon in Mother's Magazine. My body so often became overtired from pressure of work that falls to the lot of every mother; my nerves sympathized as every good neighbor should, and my spirits ran at low ebb. But that ambitious brain—not always as wise a neighbor as my nerves—said: "Go on! Go on! There are a dozen other things to be done yet!" and I obeyed my poor foolish brain until my whole body and nerves became slaves to an imperious master. At last they revolted. They made my brain understand that its servants were not doing a good work, nor as much, under the whiplash of injustice, and it wisely changed its method. "Rest every little while," is now said. "You will work with new zest, and your children will catch your happy mood just as before they caught your weary fretfulness." Since then I made it a part of my religion to lie down on my back in a quiet room when I began to feel tired and to relax every muscle and close my eyes (and my mind if possible) to all outward things. It is a wonderful tonic! It never fails to give me a new spiritual uplift. My loved ones seem more lovely to me, my home more attractive, and I am always glad of life, and the blessed privilege of work. Until I began this practice I had never realized how closely related are our physical and our physical bodies are, or that tired-out muscles and nerves are poor neighbors for the spirit.
