Leader of Irish Republicans Will Meet Lloyd George For Discussion As To Basis For Peace—Truce in Ireland Went Into Effect At Noon Today—Military Lorries Disappear From Streets—Policemen Resume Duties Unarmed.

London, July 11.-Eamonn De Valera will come to London on Thursday of this week for his conference with Mr. Lloyd George to discuss the basis of a settlement of the Irish problem. Official announcement to this effect was issued this afternoon.

DE VALERA AGREES.

Dublin, July 11.—The truce in Ireland.

The Dublin Castle officials and others in this center, who hitherto have been unable to walk in the streets openly, are going about this forenoon under normal conditions. Officers who have been living in the confinement of the castle may now return to their own homes.

In consequence of the abolishment of the curfew, theatres, the moving picture houses, the street car companies and the railways made announcement that from tonight they would resume their normal hours.

Confidence was everywhere expressed here today that the Sinn Feiners would observe the truce order.

Amuse Officials At Local Postoffice.

D. J. McLean, assistant to Col. Chas. Fisher, postoffice inspector, enjoyed a hearty laugh this morning relative to the report in a local paper on Saturday that he had been appointed to the position of postoffice superintendent.

"I have not received one word of intimation," he declared emphatically. "When the inspector retires this week I will, of course, if no one is immediately appointed as his successor, be in charge temporarily, as I would be the senior. I have not yet, however, been notified that I am to be the successor, and Mr. Coolican, who was here from Ottawa last week, did not mention who would be appointed."

Ottawa, July 11.-By Canadian Press.-A model town for tubercular returned soldiers may be established on a 7,000-acre tract of land across the North Thompson R iver at Kamloops, B. C., as a result of the investigations of the sub-committee of the special parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment. The report of the sub-committee indicates the feasibility of the scheme, and the department of the interior and Thomas Adams, town planning adviser of Ottawa, are collaborating in an endeavore to have plans mapped out for presentation to the main committee on re-establishment at the next session of Parliment. The forecast of the plan indicates that both industrial and agricultural possibilities will be incorporated in the model town. It is planned to build homes for soldiers who require treatment to make their cures permanent. In these homes the men will be able to live with their families.

The land across the North Thompson River is now an Indian reservation, but it is understood that arrangements are under way whereby the Indians will be accommodated elsewhere, and on terms satisfactory to them. The reserve comprises 32,751 acres, and is valued in the vicinity of $1,000,000. The plan is being supported by members of Parliament, by the city of Kamloops, and by the Great War Veterans' Association, and by the hundreds of returned men who London, July 11.—The Sunday newspapers in their editorials join a chorus of hopefulness over the Irish peace possibilities, congratulating the negotilitors on the conclusion of the requisite initial step and trusting that statesmanship and a mutual attitude of forbearance and sacrifice may be relied upon to bridge the manifold difficulties ahead.

ALLIED POWERS TO ACCEPT HARDING'S INVITATION FOR DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Canada Will Take Important Part At Gathering-Will Be the Most Momentous Assembly in World's History—To Be Held Some Time in September or October.

London, July 11.—By Grattan O'Leary, Special Correspondent, Canadian Press.
—President Harding's invitation for a conference between the principal allied and associated powers on disarmament and Pacific problems was accept here as a decisive triumph for the conference of prime ministers. Put forward by the Dominion in a communication to the British Government as early as last February, and advocated in the empire conference by Premier Meighen, the result ough to be particularly gratifying to Canada, indeed, and it is universally admitted here that without the great impetus which the idea received from the dominion premiers, President Harding would not have been in a position in the same spirit in which it has been made."

The Daily Express declares: "It is a bright augury for the peace of the whole world that the president has now disspelled the fog of mystery which hung over the question of international disarmament. This country will gladly respond to the call."

The London Times says there can be "no doubt that President Harding's conference proposal will be gladly and promptly accepted by the British Government, with the full concurrence of the dominions, in the same spirit in which it has been made."

BRIGHT SUNSHINE FOLLOWS STORM-RACKED SABBATH; CITY RAPIDLY RECOVERS

Damage Caused by the Torrential Rain of Sunday Is Being Quickly Repaired—Cost of Repairs To Public Utilities Property Will Approximate $6,000—Estimates of Total Damage in City Range From $100,000 to $500,000.

Contrary to the time-worn axiom, "There is always a calm efore a storm," Londoners are today experiencing a reversal with the proverbial calm, following the storm. The sun peeped out from behind the clouds early this morning, and threatened to repeat the tactics of last week, when electric fans and ice cream cones were kept working overtime.

BAROMETER RISING.

With a rising barometer, fair weather is predicted, which will cause timid ones to sigh' with relief, when they recall the havod wrought by Sunday's storm. The river Thames is receding steadily, having reached its flood peak Sunday night, when it threatened to inundate houses situated on low-lying flats adjoining the banks of north and south branches in various parts of the city.

* Water Receding.

While the water level dropped suddenly early this morning, it later slackened, and is now slowly returning to normal, with no further trouble expressions.

The creek running from the southern city limits over Tecumseh flats, and through the Smallman estate to the river, overflowed its banks, doing considerable damage to houses on Tecumseh avenue, Ridout street and Grand ened, and is now slowly returning to normal, with no further trouble expected from rampages on its part. Workmen are busily engaged throughout the city removing debris accumulated by the flood, and a normal state of affairs will be reached in a few days. The offices of the public utilities commission were besieged with appeals this morning from property owners of the city desirous of borrowing pumps with which to remove water from their cellars. However, as all available pumps are in use, these appeals proved in vain. In a few instances city firemen assisted in removing the troublesome fluid from underneath city homes.

The greatest damage incurred here was that to the London Free Press, when lightning struck the pressroom on Sunday morning. Complete repairs will not be accomplished for a few days, and in the meantime this publication will be run off on The Advertiser presses at the usual hours of publication.

Estimates of the damage caused in the city, business and residential rections, by the flooding of cellars by water and the weakening of house foundations, is variously estimated today at from $109.000 * for $250,0000, but the exact figures will probably never be known, as the real cost cannot be placed till much of the repair work is actually completed. Citizens Advised To Boil All Drinking Water For Next Two Days As a Precaution

That consumers of this city should boil drinking water before using it, during the next two days, is the advice of General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public util ities commission. This is necessary for public safety, owing to large a mounts of surface water washed into the storage ponds at Spring bank during heavy storms over the week-end. As a precautionary measure the drinking water for the city is being chlorinated, and this will continue to be done until all danger of contamination is over.

Manager Buchanan issues the following statement to the public, concerning drinking water. "On S unday the rain came down the hill-side in a regular cataract, and wa shed into the storage ponds, so that they contained a lot of surface water. While they contained a lot of mud and sand, I am of the op inion that their water content was not contaminated."

of Fatal July Flood

By a remarkable coincidence the memorable July flood which created devastation in London and vicinity 38 years ago, fell on the exact day of the month as Sunday's storm. Under date of July 10, 1883, the Dominion Annual Register, under the section entitled Journal of Remarkable Occurrences, says:

"Very heavy rains in the district above London, cause a sudden and unprecedented rise of the River Thames, and in a short time the suburbs of London West and Kensington are completely under water, and large portions of London are flooded. Immense damage is done."

"Houses, bridges, etc., are carried away in all directions, and so sudden is the rise of the waters that fourteen persons falled to escape. The names of the drowned are: Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Constance, three children of R. F. Lacey, three children of George Stratfold, stance, three children of Mr. Orr, infant daughter of Mr. Melin, a child of "The water subsided very quickly, but leaves a terrible accumulation of mud and fiith, the removal of which causes great trouble. Almost every house in the flooded district is more or less damaged, and hundreds have all their worldly possessions swept away. Subscriptions are taken up in iost of the leading cities, a relief committee formed, and the Ontario overnment contributes $5,000."

Boy Prevented Express From

Crashing Into Washout
Near Hale Street.

The presence of mind and speedy action of a boy about 12 years of age probably prevented the wrecking of Grand Trunk passenger train No. 5 last night.

Order the color in the clty restored by 8 o'clock last night, but despite heroic efforts on the part of the workers dozens of individual homes had to go without electric light last night, and the residents content themselves with such lamps or candles as they could beg, borrow or steal. The work of restoring these individual services will probably take two or three days.

Most of the damage done to the hydro service in the city was caused by falling trees and heavy limbs of trees, every circuit in the city being put out of business at one time during the height of the storm. The preliminary repair work on all these circuits had, however, been completed by nightfall.

Earlier in the night No. 16 passed over the spot known by railwaymen as "The Culvert," about half a mile east at Hale street. A moment afterwards the boy happened along and noticed that for about 300 yards the railway bed had fallen in.

Deep ponds of water were lying on both sides of the track. The boy at once ran as fast as he could to Hale street, where he met some sectionmen on the track to whom he reported the situation.

Passenger train No. 5 was all but due, and a great haste was made to flag it. The train was flagged just in time.

Railwaymen consider it a marvel that No. 11 passed to refer the land, however, been completed by nightfall.

Ald. Watkinson Declares People Are Much To Blame For Trouble.

But Staffs Are Employed Clearing Up After Flood.

Ald. F. R. Watkinson, who is acting mayor today, and incidentally was one of the many local victims of the deluge Sunday, blames the inadequate sewers of the city, and, indirectly, the citizens themselves, for much of the damage incurred throughout the city.

"We have been struggling for years to get a proper sewerage system," he declared to The Advertiser today, thut the people hove voted it down to get a proper sewerage system." he declared to The Advertiser today, but the people hove voted it down every time. We will try it again at the next election. It was not only the ratepayers of East London who were hard nit, but those of West London also." "The people have got it into their heads that we must have pavements, forgetting all about sewers. We have go to have a proper sewerage system before more pavements are laid. The water will soak through a gravel road if there is a sewer underneath, but not so with a pavement. I lost everything in my cellar Sunday. The flood from London Township came right into the buildings on Dundas street east."

Sewers Backed Up.

Regarding damages incurred by the McCormick Manufacturing Company on Sunday, Donald C. McNaughton, vicepresident, said to The Advertiser this afternoon: "Our damages are about the same as others out here, amounting to about $2,000 in our basement. We would have had no trouble at all if the sewer had acted. The water backed up into our stock. We are not running today because our motors are wet, and we cannot do anything until they dry."

Asked a remedy for the inadequate sewer Mr. McNaughton said: "The only AYLMER, July 10.—While returning from St. Thomas during the big storm early today, Charles Moore of Springfield sustained injuries which may result fatally when the auto in which he was riding with Kenneth Harris dashed into a deep washout on the Talbot road, about three miles from here. Moore was hurled from the car and carried down by the rushing waters several hundred yards. He was badly hurt and scarcely able to keep himself afloat, but finally caught hold of a fence and hung on until search was made by his companion and he was rescued and taken home, where it was found that his condition was critical. Prairie Provinces.

The population of the Prairie Provinces was taken in 1916, the returns being as follows: Manitoba, 553,860; Saskatchewan, 647,835; Alberta, 496,525.

The estimated increase in the population of these provinces during the last five years is as follows: Manitoba, 121,770–21.9 per cent increase; Alberta, 165,138—33.3 per cent increase; Alberta have been reports to the effect will quite hold her own with Quebec. According to this estimate, Ontario will quite hold her own with Quebec. There have been reports to the effect that she would not do so and the decrease in population in the rural portion of the province has seemed to confirm that impression.

Cities Increase.

On the other hand, there has been a notable increase in the urban population. In considering Ontario's increase it must be taken into account that there has been quite a gain in the French-speaking portion.

If the estimate is borne out, then the unit of representation in Parliament would be a little over 33,700. This would give Ontario 78 seats in the next House, and would mean a loss of 4; New Brunswick would have but 10, a loss of 2: Nova Scotia would have 14; Manitoba would have 18, a gain of 2; Saskatchewan 22, a gain of 6; Alberta 17, a gain of 5; British Columbia 19.

TWO DROWNED

The storm commenced shortly after 10 'clock last night, and for two hours raged with a severity never witnessed here before. Without hardly a moment's cessation the sky was brilliantly illuminated with vivid flashes of lightning during the entire storm, and deep thunder roared continuously. At midnight the downtown streets were several feet deep with water, and firemen and city employees worked up to their hips trying to keep the water mains open. Strange to state, however, only one or two cases of lightning striking were reported. Both were private residences, and very little damage resulted.

Ran into Washout.

It was not until after 2:30 this morning that the worst results of the storm became known in the city. At 3:15 a short freight train made up of seven cars, running from Hamilton to Guelph, to be made up for a through been undermined for a mile east of Speedwell Station on the Canadian Pacific, just opposite the Reformatory and two miles from Guelph. Two other drownings were added to the long list of fatalities in the Ottawa district, as a result of the intense heat wave which has made life well nigh unbearable in the city and has driven thousands of its citizens to the temporary relief to be found along the waterfront.

at an early hour, and the wreck is expected cleared by tonight.

Another Washout.

Further investigation showed another washout on the Canadian Pacific tracks 200 yards east of where the wreck occurred, and just how the freight train passed this point, where the earth was washed completely away on one side of the track, is regarded as a miracle. When the wrecking train arrived it could not proceed past this point until the washout on the Canadian Pacific Rail-way tracks, and running parallel with them, is the Toronto Suburban Line, and although 50 feet distant, this track was also washed out for a distance of several feet. But the damage here was not so severe. The morning traffic on this line was delayed several hours while the track was being repaired. Owing to the fact that no Canadian Pacific Railway passenger trains run in or out of Guelph on Sunday, the work of the wrecking crew proceeded without delay, and it was stated to-day that regular traffic would be resumed in the morning.

The dry weather of the past two weeks has greatly enhanced the corn growth and a bumper crop is expected by the growers in Kent and in the eastern part of Essex County.

The rain of yesterday has turned the clay roads of the county into a sticky paste, making travel by motor a hazardous undertaking. This was greatly noticed at the weekly market yesterday morning where horse-drawn trucks predominated in the section where only motor trucks and automobiles are to be found.

Death of Thomas Mott.
Thomas Mott, a well-known farmer of Raleigh Township, and manager of the extensive farms of A. B. McCoig. M.P., died in St. Joseph's Hospital after a brief illness. He suffered from an abscess of the lung and was removed to the hospital two days ago to undergo an operation. Death came unexpectedly. He leaves a large family and also some relatives in England. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon on the McCoig farm to Maple Leaf Cemetery.

This statement was made today confidentially by an American federal official, whose duties keep him constantly on the river front. Scots pines were available for the construction of railway ties and other military works in France and Belgium. Appropriately enough, the most of these trees were cut down and sawn up by Canadians. Whole areas of standing timber were of necessity commandeered by the Government, and the proprietors were paid good sums for the product. In one instance an area in the Highlands had been denuded of its trees to furnish material during the Napoleonic wars, only a tree being left here and there for self-seeding purposes. The result was that this forest, the Forest of Glenmore, sprang up again more vigorous than ever, and was again cut down for the Great War, almost exactly a hundred years after its first demolition, the proprietor receiving for the timber about $180,000.

There is no reason why Canadian farmers should not put all their uncultivatable land into timber, and why they should not conserve their bush areas and turn them to the best advantage by removing dead and fallen trees, and otherwise putting to practical use what knowledge of forestry they have acquired. The Government is beginning to wake up in this direction, but much remains to be done before a real start can be made. One difficulty seems to be to arouse the farmers to the potential value of their bush acre age and to a live interest in the importance of forestry

A WELTER OF PARTIES.

Parties are in a vaporous state in Great Britain. It would take a clairvoyant to tell how things will shape up before the next election. Britons used to laugh at French politics, the multiplicity of parties and the rise and fall of ministries like mushrooms, but French however numerous, are at least defined. British parties at present are kaleidoscopic.

For example, the co-operative movement seems struggling to form itself into a political force. There was recently a co-operative congress, in which three factions contended whether a separate co-operative party should be formed, or complete fusion should be made with Labor, or merely an alliance with official Labor. No decision was reached, but the third plan came nearest to winning a majority, and as a number of co-operative societies have already been affiliating locally with Labor, it may be expected that the movement will in general be a support to the Labor party in the near future. In one election last year the so-called Labor candidate was really a co- in part: operative indorsed by Labor. It seems probable that the Labor party would be greatly benefitted in general character by a fusion with Co-operation, as the former is a producers' party, the latter a consumers' organization. Still, the way things now are, there may easily develop two parties, one of producers, and the other of consumers, not altogether in accord with each other. Labor itself is much divided into various

Among the Liberals no unity is perceived. Some are for Asquith, some with Lloyd George, and others again are hardly distinguishable from Laborites. As for the Conservatives, one wing is Free Trade, another Protectionist, and a growing strength is manifested by the so-called Anti-Waste party, ultra-Tories of peculiarly hard shell, determined to destroy whole tendency of Government subventions the education, agriculture, mining and to humanitarian objects. They may even attack the oldage pension system before they are through, or any of the various subsidies which have as their basis the taxation of those who have for the benefit of those who have not. It is clear that this ultra-Tory element has lately exercised great influence upon or within the Lloyd George Government, for the withdrawal of subsidies to agriculture and in the of the democratic education bill. Another small branch of Conservatism might be called the Idealists, including men like the Cecils, some of them a sort of "Tory democrats." The British woods are full of a variety of political animals. There are even Republicans like Wells, teasing the Royal Family.

Perhaps the upshot of division and change may be that a clever manipulator like Lloyd George will be able to steer along for some time to come on top ns in accordance with its constitution, and of the welter. In some unfathomable way Bismarck used to manage the legion of German parties and

The world convention of Rotarians in Edinburgh has opened the eyes of the whole world to the growth and importance of the movement, to which a splendid tribute has just been paid by the history and expansion, the Times says, "The first Rotary Club was sixteen years ago in Chicago by Mr. Paul Harris, a lawyer of that city; today there are 800, of which 40 are now established in this country. The members of these clubs meet together once a week at luncheon, primarily to give and receive information on matters conencted with their various callings. Only one representative of any given trade or profession—one banker, for example, or one lawyer cr tailor-can be elected to each separate club. Their ruling principle or ideal is that service and not self should be the motive of all industrial activity. Arising out of this ideal of service, the ethical or spiritual inspiration of the whole movement, there is an active and practical freemasonry between the mem-bers, a real spirit of fellowship and cooperation which aims at placing business on a higher level than that which it too often occupies. Instead of being looked upon as a mere profit-making machine, it is regarded and used as a powerful instrument for rendering service to others. That is what the Rotarians set out to do, and, it is freely acknowledged, what they accomplish. The movement is much more widespread the United States and Canada than it is in this country. But the meeting in Edinburgh can hardly fail to result in the formation of new British clubs, as well as in the closer federation of those already existing in different parts of the world. Their spirit is so admirable that the movement is bound to spread. world-brotherhood of businessmen might well grow into a tree for the healing of the nations."

It is a credit to our city that Quebec embraced the principles of Rotary as early in its history as it did, and that by the generous support of its fellow-citizens the local club has been enabled to accomplish as much as it has in the way of service.

PULLBACKS.

There was a picture that hung over my bed when I was a little boy that was much to my liking. I like it still. (You know how when we are grown up our memory travels back to the books that mother read us, the songs we used to sing, the pictures in the nursery. There never could be again any books or songs or pictures quite so dear as those.)

Well, this picture was called "The Lion Comes." The story it told was this. A lion broke loose from a traveling circus. The people scattered in every direction. They tried to climb a solid high fence. One man who kept his wits beter than the rest built a pyramid of kegs, climbed to the apex of the pyramid, got his hands on the top of the fence and might have climbed over. But the others grabbed the tails of his coat, hoping to go over with him As a result he couldn't get over, and neither could they.

I think of that picture when I se

Consider This, Canadian Manufacturers

You can buy more advertising for less money in Daily Newspapers than you can buy in any other medium that enters the home.

And, after all is said and done, the place where most of you want your advertising to have its greatest effect is in the home. Isn't that so?

Remember, then, that the daily newspaper is the FUNDAMENTAL AD-VERTISING MEDIUM.

That is why so many manufacturers are cutting out the "frills of advertising" and confining their advertising efforts to daily newspapers.

BAY CITY, Mich., July 10 .- Hamilton nade it two out of three from Bay City and finished the first half of the split season in fourth position, winning tolay's game, 6 to 2. HAMS WIN IN TENTH.

BAY CITY, July 9.—Hamilton defeated Bay City in a great pitchers' duel between "Lefty" Gullman and Don Summers in ten innings Saturday, 2 to 1 in the series. Summers set a new league strike-out record, whifting eleven of the Hamilton batsmen. Only seven hits were collected off both pitchers, Summers allowing four and Gullman three. The Wolves handed the Hams their first run in the fith on two errors, a sacrifice and Purcell's single, and then came back to tie the count in the seventh, when Kelly drove the hall over the right field wall with no one on bases. Hamilton won in the tenth, when Summers weakened, Corcoran's single, a sacrifice and Laabs' single turning the trick.

Everybody can start again with a clean slate on Tuesday, except the Hamilton club, which, by all accounts, is "cleaned."

With London's commanding lead pared down to the zero hour again, and on top of that a long losing streak for the Whitechapel gang, every club on the circuit should be satisfied.

The split season has very few detractors, even in club is the only one affected adversely. In fact, there are a good many who claim that the split season is the fairest way of determining a championship team under any circumstances.

Briger, Delotelle and Shay in a near mix amongst themselves at Flint doesn't sound like the London team. With a triangle like this it's hard to dope out what' happened, but it looks as if Delotelle had called Shay for his bad throw in the eleventh, and the Joe Briger was the first referee with Wetzel as alternate.

PRACTICAL ADVICE ON HOW TO DEVELOP GREAT ENERGY AND ENDURANCE

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is abvorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food to mee in contact with the oxygen carled by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and indurance. Without iron your blood parries no oxygen and without oxygen here is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any trength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. ST. THOMAS, July 10.—The annual services which were to be held today at Trinity Anglican Church were postponed indefinitely because of the condition of the roads in the rural districts and the water-covered streets in sections of London. A large representation from outside lodges had given assurance of their co-operation with the St. Thomas brethren, and were it not for the interference of the elements the assembly of the members would have been very large and the parade an impressive one. About 200 from three St. Thomas lodges, including many from the ladies' organizations, will go to London Tuesday, accompanied by the fife and drum bands. The country lodges will also send along a big delegation.

"In saying that I speak for the Empire as a whole."

The premier said China would be treated as an independent in the conference on Pacific affairs.

"The world has been looking to the United States for such a lead." Mr. Lloyd George declared in referring to President Harding's message. "I am confident that the House will esteem it as an act of far-seeing statesmanship, and will wholeheartedly wish it success. No effort will be lacking to make it so on the part of the British Empire, which shares to the full the liberal and progressive spirit inspiring it."

Colonel George Harvey, the United States ambassador, was in the gallery of the House to hear the prime minister's statement.

the House to hear the prime minister's statement.

The Anglo-Jap Treaty.

Mr. Lloyd George began his statement by referring to the Anglo-Japanese treaty. He said the Japanese Government took the view that no notice of denunciation of the treaty had been given, and that this view was also held by Lord Curzon, the foreign minister. The matter was referred to the lord chancellor, the premier declared, who, after a consultation with the law officers of the crown, held that no notice is had yet been given, and that the treaty therefore remained in force until denounced It was, however, Mr. Lloyd George said, the desire of both parties that the agreement be brought into complete harmony with the covenant of the league of nations.

"When I told the House last Thursday I hoped to be in a position to make a statement on the Pacific and Far Eastern question today," the premier declared, "I was waiting, as I expected replies to a conversation that had taken place between Lord Curzon and representatives of the governments of the United States and China, as a result of discussions in the imperial cabinet.

"I am very glad to be able to inform the House that the views of the Government of the United States, which reached me last night, are extremely satisfactory. The Chinese Government also replied favorably. We have not as yet had a formal reply from the Government of Japan, but we have good reason to hope it, will be in the same statement.

He is a veteran at the game, and will be a valuable man to any of the London teams. His removal has no doubt weakened the intermediates, and is especially regretted since the team has worked its way so far into the race with good chances of landing the championship.

It was stated to The Advertiser unofficially last night that D. J. McLeap of the postoffice inspector's office has been appointed to the new

Four more heads have fallen in connection with the superannuation move that is being carried out at Ottawa.

The latest to receive notice, it is stated,
are W. P. Burns, William Nicholls,
Charles Reid and Neil McNeil.

There is a good deal of resentment among members of the staff over what

CARPENTIER-DEMPSEY FIGHT IS DISGRACE

So Says Rev. A. E. M. Thomp- Was Crossing Dundas and son At Centennial Methodist Church.

Presbyterian congregation at the Centennial Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Taking as his theme, "Did Carpentier-Dempsey Struggle Represent the True Ideal of Life?" the pastor outlined the three ideals of life. First, he said, was the materialistic ideal when man is simply an animal and the brute was on the throne of his life. "The recent fight between there two puglists respesents this ideal," he asserted, "as man trains himself in the pink of condition for a decidedly bruttal purpose. The struggle was a disgrace to American life and if the pictures of this contest are to be allowed to be shown in Canada it will be certainly a disgrace to Canadian life, and on ot opposed," the speaker continued, "to any clean athletics, but I do maintain that the materialistic ideal is not the true ideal."

Touching on the intellectual ideal he instanced Voltaire as a man of brilliant ability but of vicious moral charcter and stated that mere intellectualism had no effect on moral life. In conclusion he presented a spiritual ideal as represented by Christ and appealed to his hearers to enthrone Him in their lives.

The Sunday services were the first under the united sceheme; the congression of King Street Presbyterian and the Centennial Methodist churches at tending.
