

"God Almighty first planted a Garden, and indeed it is the purest of human pleasures, it is the greatest refreshment to the spirits of man."—LORD BACON.

"I have had no pleasure at all in publick affairs; but on the contrary I am wholly sunk in My GARDENING, and the quiet of a private life, which, I thank God, agrees with me as well as the splendour of the World."—SIR W. TEMPLE.

"With us ther was a dowtaur of phisike,
In all this world ne was non him like,
To speke of phisike, and of surgurie."—CHAUCER.

Comprising: HOME FARMS, improvement of land, manures, portable railways, fencing, draining, roadmaking, embankments, improvement of waste lands, construction of farm buildings and laborers' cottages, water supply, woods and plantations, etc., etc.

71 Morton's (J. C.) Editor of the Agricultural Gazette, CYCLOPEDIA of AGRICULTURE, Practical and Scientific, in which the theory, the art and the business of farming in all their departments are thoroughly and practically treated, by upwards of 50 of the most eminent farmers, land agents and scientific men of the day, illustrated by above 1,000 engravings on wood and steel, of farm buildings, insects, plants, etc, 2 vols, super royal 8vo, cloth, of above 1,100 pp each, 2.75, Blackie & Son, 1855.

"It is a work of great merit and will be very valuable to the practical farmer. Every farmer who can afford it ought to have a copy of the work."—THOMAS BALMER, Esq., Land Commissioner for the Duke of Richmond, Gordon Castle.

"Each article is scientifically and practically treated, and nothing but careful research, combined with practical experience, could have produced such a valuable work."—JOHN BISSET, Esq., Manager for Lady Saltoun, Kinchyle.

"The work is fully up to the present day, there being ample details of the latest discoveries."—MR. GEORGE HORN, Farmer, Penton Barns, Drem, Haddingtonshire.

"This admirable cyclopaedia."—Mark Lane Express.

"I have no hesitation whatever in expressing my high opinion of the 'Cyclopedia of Agriculture.'"—M. M. MURBURN, Esq., Sowerby, Thirsk, Yorkshire.

"I do not remember to have seen, in any work of the kind, such a combination of valuable science and practical experience."—SAMUEL CRETHER, Esq., Oakham, Rutlandshire.

"The beautiful of a 'Cyclopedia of Agriculture.'"—Scottish Agricultural Journal.

72 Burn (R. Scott) OUTLINES of MODERN FARMING, 3rd edition, with numerous illustrations, very stout post 8vo, half bound, 1.00, London, 1874.

A USEFUL WORK, comprising soils, manures and crops, farming economy, stock, cattle, sheep, horses, the dairy, pigs, poultry, utilization of town sewage, irrigation and waste land.

74 Hoare (Clement) Practical Treatise on the Cultivation of the GRAPE VINE on Open Walls, 8vo, cloth, 35c, London, 1841.

Stephens (Henry) F.R.S.E., The BOOK of the FARM, detailing the LABORS of the FARMER, FARM-STEWARD, PLOUGHMAN, Shepherd, Hedger, CATTLEMAN, FIELD WORKER and DAIRY MAID; and forming a safe monitor for students in PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE, a new edition, illustrated with PORTRAITS of ANIMALS painted from life, engraved on steel by THOMAS LANDSEER and others, and with 600 ENGRAVINGS on WOOD by BRANSTON, representing the principal field operations, implements and animals treated of in the work, in 2 vols, royal 8vo, half bound, 2.25, pub. by W. Blackwood at THREE POUNDS. 75

"The best practical book I have ever met with."—Professor Johnston.

"We assure agricultural students that they will derive both pleasure and profit from a diligent perusal of this clear directory to rural labor. . . . We have thoroughly examined these volumes; but to give a full notice of their varied and valuable contents would occupy a larger space than we can conveniently devote to their discussion, we, therefore, in general terms, commend them to the careful study of every young man who wishes to become a good practical farmer."—Times.

"A work, the excellence of which is too well-known to need any remarks of ours."—Farmer's Magazine.

"Exhibiting in every page the combination of large experience, extensive observation and a cultivated mind. . . . One of the most unique and valuable works to be found within the range of agricultural literature."—Bell's Messenger.

"We know of no single agricultural work to be compared with this. . . . Nothing can be more disinterestedly earnest than our recommendation of the 'Book of the Farm.'"—Bell's Life.

"One of the completest works on agriculture of which our literature can boast."—Agricultural Gazette.

76 Vineyard (The) being a treatise, showing the nature and method of planting cultivating and dressing vines in foreign parts, with proper directions for raising and keeping vines in England to the greatest perfection, new experiences in grafting, budding or inoculating all sorts of fruit, particularly the peach, apricot, nectarine, plum, etc, by a gentleman on his travels, 8vo, calf, with an old bookplate, 75c, At the Lamb, 1727.

77 Speechly (W.) TREATISE on the CULTURE of the VINE, exhibiting new and advantageous methods of propagating, cultivating and training of that plant so as to render it abundantly fruitful, together with new hints on the formation of vineyards in every land, plates, 4to, a large paper copy, calf, 75c, York, for the author, 1790.

78 ——— Another edition, 8vo, calf, 50c, 1789.

An INTERESTING and VALUABLE LOT of BOOKS, containing HUNDREDS of ARTICLES and contributions by the most eminent men of science on a variety of questions more or less connected with this important subject, as the History of Meteorological Societies in England, the Climate of Fiji, Variations of Relative Humidity, Notes on Waterspouts, Entomological and Ornithological Reports, New Zealand Weather, Weather Prognostics, On the Force of Wind at Sea, Climate of the Delta of Egypt, Atlantic Weather Maps, and innumerable other contributions, accompanied with upwards of 100 folding maps, charts, and other illustrations. About twenty parts of the Meteorological Record also goes with this interesting lot.

ANATOMY, PHYSIOLOGY, SURGERY AND MEDICINE.

The MEDICAL LIBRARIES of the NEW WORLD are few and meagre, as compared with those of EUROPE, which are numerous and celebrated. The Profession in the United States are deeply indebted to DR. BILLINGS for his prolonged efforts towards the establishment at Washington of what is now perhaps the MOST COMPLETE MEDICAL LIBRARY in the WORLD, containing some 116,000 bound volumes, and nearly 200,000 pamphlets; the index comprising some twenty volumes, sixteen of which are completed. The first Medical Library in point of time, is that of the PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL, which was commenced as early as 1762, and has now some 15,000 volumes. That of the College of Physicians, at Philadelphia, was begun in 1788, and has been enriched from time to time by the munificence of Dr. S. Lewis. The institution now contains 49,000 volumes, and 28,000 pamphlets. The Library of the New York Hospital was founded in 1776, and contains upwards of 20,000 volumes.

The time has come when the DOCTORS of DIVINITY should unite with the DOCTORS of PHYSIC in the production of some specific for the purification of the moral senses of the inhabitants of the New World. otherwise there may be danger of the whole machine coming to grief by reason of dyspeptic dry rot produced through political corruption.
