

LOOKS LIKE WAR AGAIN IN EUROPE

Austria's Note to Servia Sends Thrill Throughout Continent.

Germany, it is Understood, is Behind Action Just Taken.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] BERLIN, July 24.—The grave possibilities connected with the strong Austrian note to Servia which took virtually the form of an ultimatum demanding the suppression of the pan-Serbian movement and the punishment of those concerned in the assassination of June 28 in Bosnia of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand are recognized in official circles here. It is realized in these quarters that further serious developments in Austro-Serbian relations are inevitable unless Servia complies with the Austrian demands.

It is believed in authoritative quarters that the Servians will yield unless assured of support from outside and for this reason official eyes here are turned to-day less to Belgrade than to St. Petersburg where the decision of the council of ministers is expected to settle the question of peace or war.

It was stated to-day that Germany had not been consulted regarding the Austrian note to Servia before its delivery but she thoroughly approved the steps taken and was prepared for all the consequences that might ensue from it.

It was pointed out that should Russia take part against Austria Germany was fully prepared to draw the sword on behalf of her ally in accordance with the terms of the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy. Comment in the German press to-day strongly supports Austria. Radiograms such as the Fagelblatt and the Frankfort Gazette, which are in close touch with the financial world and are usually strongly facic, find the terms of the Austrian note amply justified. Newspapers such as the Zeitung-Am-Mittag and The Vossische Zeitung which are sentimentally responsive to the popular feeling, also are pro-Austrian and evidently still feel the influence of the assassination of the archduke.

The Stock Market broke badly under the fear of general European complications. Solid band stocks like those of the Deutsche Bank broke

SON-IN-LAW WAS SHOT DOWN IN COLD BLOOD

Just Married and Came to Ask Blessing of Bride's Father.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., July 24.—In his cell in the county jail at New City where he was taken after he had shot and killed Eugene B. Newman his nineteen year old son-in-law, William V. Cleary, prominent in county politics and for fourteen years town clerk, refused to-day to discuss the murder or tell why he shot the young man.

Young Newman, son of one of the Rockland County Messengers, only married Cleary's eighteen year old daughter, Anna, Cleary on last Saturday in Weehawken, N.J., Pesterday the couple confided in their respective mothers and Newman was advised to tell Cleary and ask his forgiveness.

It was while on this mission that Newman was shot. He entered the town clerk's office, where Cleary was talking with other friends, Bernard Fox, a brewery agent; Patrolman Sheridan and Josiah Felter, county supervisor. Newman extended his hand and asked for Cleary's blessing. Cleary with hardly a word and before his friends could interfere, fired four bullets into the young man's body. Newman died instantly and Cleary shortly afterwards surrendered himself to the authorities.

Newman and Anna Cleary had been sweethearts from their first meeting six years ago. It was an established thing in the village that Newman was to marry Anna. His parents did not object and Cleary, himself never showed any bitter opposition to the match, although, it is said, he did not look upon it with favor.

ONE CENT PER ACRE HUERTA SOLD LANDS TO THE ROTHSCHILDS

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LOS ANGELES, Cal. July 24.—That the Rothschilds of Paris and London under the name of the Lower California Industrial Development Company purchased 100,000 acres of lower California lands from the Huerta government a month ago for 1 cent an acre and that Victoriano Huerta received $500,000 for allowing the sale, is charged by General Carranza in a message to his agents in the United States.

Adolfo Carrillo, Los Angeles agent for the Constitutionalists said to-day that Ysidro Fabela, a member of Carranza's provisional government notified him the alleged sale was registered in Mexico City under the name of Joaquin De Casaus, Paris attorney representing the Rothschild interests. Fabela declared the sum placed in the Mexican treasury for the 100,000 acres was only $1,000.

In addition Huerta is charged with having imposed upon the Lower California industrial development company the one condition that is imports no less than 50,000 Chinese laborers to be employed on the land at cotton raising.

General Carranza has assigned Ygnacio Bonillas a member of his cabinet to investigate the lower California land situation.

AIRSHIP "AMERICA" LIFTS 2700 POUNDS AND BREAKS ALL HER FORMER RECORDS

Start on Trans-Atlantic Flight Will be Made About August 15 at Point 33 Miles South of St. John's—New Craft is Meeting Every Expectation Up to Date and Owners Are Confident of Success.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, July 24.—A site thirty-three miles south of St. Johns N.F. has been selected as the starting place for the trans-Atlantic flight of the air boat, "America." Walter D. Walker who went to St. Johns three weeks ago to select a place for the departure of the America, returned yesterday. The site selected, he said was near Cape Boyle on a long sandy stretch of sandy beach and so sheltered as to provide ample protection against adverse winds.

Admiral Lord Curzon, who is in command of the expedition, is undergoing his trials, indicated that every obstacle had been overcome; that the air boat would be shipped to St. Johns from this city on August 23 and that Lieut. Porte, who is pilot of the fier, will start for the Azores about August 15.

The America flown by Glen H. Curtiss last night, arose from Lake Keuka with a useful load of more than 2,700 pounds. This is 200 pounds more than the weight of the estimated load required for the flight from Newfoundland to the Azores Islands, and is said to be 400 pounds in excess of the world's record load carried by the giant Russian biplane, built by Sikorsky.

The gross weight of the machine when loaded was figured as a hundred more than these tons. The load exceeded any of those previously carried by the America in her present form by about 1,000 pounds. The third motor just installed on the flying boat chiefly as a lifting device, fulfilled its purpose admirably.

MACHINISTS ON G. T. P. MAY STRIKE ANY MOMENT

Are Dissatisfied With Working Conditions, Though Not With Wages Now.

MOSTREAL, July 24.—According to local leaders of the machinists' union a strike of boiler-makers and mason trainees on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Fort William to Prince Rupert may develop at any moment. D. McCallum, organizer of the machinists' union, who is now in Montreal, says there are about eight hundred machinists and a large number of boiler-makers in the affected territory, but that in case of trouble, affiliated unions will join the strikers.

The machinists are said to be satisfied with the wages paid, following the recent award of the Conciliation Board, but are dissatisfied with working conditions no attempt to improve which, they say, has been made. The Grand Trunk Pacific officials here say they know nothing of any impending trouble.

CHANGE FOR AGREEMENT IS SLIGHT

Home Rule Conference Broke Up Today in Forty Minutes.

Liberal Papers Regard Outlook in a Gloomy Way.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, July 24.—The fact that the conference at Buckingham Palace between the leaders of the various political parties had been rendered abortive by its failure to agree in the area of Ulster to be excluded from the control of the Dublin Parliament was confirmed by Premier Asquith in the House of Commons to-day.

The Premier's statement on the subject of to-day's meeting of the conference was very brief. He said: "The possibility of finding an area to be excluded from the operation of the Irish home rule bill, was considered, but the conference, unable to agree in principle or in detail on such an area, brought its meeting to a close."

Premier Asquith added: "That is the report made, Mr. Speaker, by the chairman of the conference to the King."

Mr. Asquith then announced that the second reading of the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill would be taken on July 28.

The Premier was invited to inform the House as to the exact differences of opinion which had prevented the attainment of a settlement by the conference, and in reply, said: "I can make no statement on the subject at the present moment."

The House of Commons then adjourned.

LONDON, July 24.—The London morning papers all regard the chances of the home rule conference arriving at an agreement as very slender.

The Morning Post insists that its position is hopeless. The Mail and other papers assert that the government has submitted fresh proposals, including Sir Edward Grey's suggestion of home rule within home rule for Ulster, and a new suggestion by Speaker Lowther that Tyrone should be excluded for two years and then take a ballot on the question. But all of these modified proposals, John Redmond and Sir Edward Carson have proved completely irreconcilable.

The papers add that the conference will meet to-day to draw up a final report, which will leave no hope unless negotiations outside the conference should succeed.

TWO MILITANTS OF THE NOBILITY ARE ARRESTED

They Were Harassing the King and Demanded a Personal Interview.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, July 24.—Two suffragettes belonging to the British nobility, Lady Barclay and Hon. Miss Edith Fitzgerald, were arrested to-day at Buckingham Palace, where they made persistent attempts to present to King George a letter written to His Majesty by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader.

The latter demanded a personal interview with the King, and claimed that the suffragettes should be given the same right to an interview as certain militant men, namely Sir Edward Carson, Captain James Craig, John Dillon and John E. Redmond, who had, it was pointed out, been invited to Buckingham Palace by the King on his own initiative.

The two women arrived at the entrance to the palace this morning carrying a large scroll prettily draped with purple ribbon streamers. They stated that they had a petition to His Majesty. The attendant, however, turned later and announced their termination to remain until they were given an audience with the King. The police then took the two women in custody and conducted them to the nearest police station.

ABOUT READY NOW TO RAISE THE BRIDGE

---JOB LOOKS TICKLISH

The construction work at Lorne Bridge has now reached the point where the bridge is almost ready to be raised.

The contractor, Reuben Rogers of Guelph, who has charge of the bridge raising, expects to have everything in readiness by Tuesday morning next. The old abutments have been torn out and the excavation under the front of the bridge is now completed and ready for the concrete, on which the jacks will be placed, by which the bridge will be raised.

The inner wall is now completed on the north side of the bridge to within thirty feet of the bridge and the excavation for the wall under the front of the bridge and on which the bridge will rest when raised is all but completed.

The people in West Brantford have been worrying as to whether traffic will be stopped when the bridge is being raised, but there need be no fear of this, as the traffic will go on just the same. The contractors say there will be no interruption to traffic during Old Home Week.

Old Home Week

Executive Committee Held Meeting Last Night--Police Protection Discussed--Plans Are Working Out in Definite Shape.

A well attended meeting of the General Executive Committee of Old Home Week was held last night in the Secretary Blain's office, Temple Building. It was about the best attended meeting yet held and the reports presented by the chairman of the different committees showed that the business is now well in hand and the executive is now beginning to know just where they are at. Ald. George D. Watt, showed that the Finance Committee had so far met with pretty fair success, but donations are still needed, and these are expected from public spirited citizens.

Ald. Frank Calbeck and Mr. C. A. Waterous, in charge of the Industrial Exhibition, to be held at the Armouries, reported that while they had met with considerable opposition at first, now practically all the leading manufacturers were in line. No less than 77 manufacturers have agreed to the proposition and are working hard to make it a success. This makes a far larger percentage. This makes a far larger percentage. This makes a far larger percentage.

There was no report from the parade committee as it does not meet to-night, when the date for the parade will be definitely settled. As is known, it was to have been held on Wednesday, but this had to be changed as the ball game is on that day as well, and that event will have a good big parade of its own.

Captain M. Colquhoun reported that the Ambulance Corps of the Dufferin Rifles had volunteered their services for the week to look after accidents cases, and an emergency tent hospital

MURDER CASE PROCEEDING AGAIN TODAY

Mysterious Letters in the Case Are Ordered Destroyed.

Former Wife of Ex-Premier Shows Shrewdness on Stand.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, July 24.—"Call Madame Gueydan," was the command of Judge Louis Albanel immediately the court opened to-day for the fifth day's hearing in the trial of Madame Henriette Caillaux for the wilful murder on March 16 of Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro.

Madame Gueydan, former wife of the prisoners husband, Joseph Caillaux, an ex-premier of France, had, however, not arrived and Pascal Ceccaldi the most intimate private and political friend of M. Caillaux, was called to the stand. The interest to-day centred around the two intimate letters referred to in yesterday's testimony and handed by Madame Gueydan to Maitre Labori to deal with as he chose. Great curiosity had been awakened to whether they would be read in court or communicated privately to the jurors. Maitre Labori before M. Ceccaldi began his testimony, said he would defer until the arrival of Madame Gueydan a communication he desired to make to the court.

M. Ceccaldi then addressed to the jury an impassioned defense of the Caillaux family. He described Madame Caillaux's efforts to restrain her husband from assuming political power as she was of opinion that his keeping out of the government was the only way in which they could expect to have peace in their life.

M. Caillaux seated in the crowded court among witnesses and journalists, followed attentively his friend's panegyric, nodding his head in approbation and occasionally casting a glance about the court room as though measuring the effect of the witness' words.

Madame Caillaux in the prisoner's enclosure, presented a sorrowful figure. In her eyes was a look of bewilderment and seeming terror. She did not speak to anyone, but she had had a long talk with her husband in the prison of the Conciergerie before the hearing began.

It was understood that former Premier Barthou was again to be confronted with M. Caillaux to-day. M. Ceccaldi amazed those in court by giving his testimony in the form of a speech in which he reviewed the political and newspaper attacks on the former premier. The auditors meanwhile kept up a continuous murmur of protest or approval. The protests caused M. Ceccaldi to shout: "If I defend M. Caillaux, it is because"

TOO MUCH NOISE

Clarence Street Residents Have Rest Disturbed by Engine Whistles.

Practically all the residents along Clarence street and in the neighborhood are complaining strongly about the blowing of whistles on Grand Trunk engines passing along Clarence, during the midnight hours.

Light engines pass along the line quite frequently during the night and according to several residents of that street, the whistles are blown not once, but four times at every crossing, the regulation country crossing signal. One gentleman who lives on Clarence street, said that he had to get out of bed and sit up for nearly two hours last night so great was the racket. Some of the engineers appear to have more common sense than others, and simply give one little toot at the crossings, or just ring the bell, but the great majority start to blow at one end of the line and continue to the other, four whistles at every crossing. One resident said the same nonsense had been cut out in Toronto and should be cut out here, as there appears to be no need of it.

SIR ROGER THERE

NORFOLK, Va., July 24.—The presence of Sir Roger Casement of Dublin, Ireland a leader of the Irish volunteers and W. Bourke Cockhan of New York, is guests of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, featured the convention of that body. Sir Roger does not believe there will be any home rule law at the present time and that the Liberal Government will have to go before the people on that issue on that of the new parliament act, which he describes as "clipping the wings of the House of Lords."

CHANGES IN SERVICE.

MONTREAL, July 24.—A London cable to The Daily Mail says: Arthur Nicholson, the present head of the permanent department is likely to succeed Sir Francis Bertie as ambassador at Paris, his place being taken by Sir Eyre Crowe, one of the assistant under secretaries of state. Sir Arthur Nicholson's tenure at Paris, however, is not likely to be lengthy, as the embassy there is earmarked for Lord Hardinge, at present Viceroy of India, who may be succeeded by Earl Kitchener.

St. Petersburg is Having a Time Over Street Railway Troubles.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Stern measures were taken by the authorities to-day to suppress the strike riots which have been in progress for several days in the streets of the capital during which a large number of casualties have occurred in the conflicts between the police and Cossacks on one side and the striking workmen on the other.

Considerable leniency was shown during the presence here of Raymond Poincare, President of the French Republic, but immediately after his departure for Stockholm last night, four regiments of cavalry of the guard and two regiments of cuirassiers, under the command of General Kasnakoff, arrived from Krasnoye-Selo to assist in suppressing the disorders. They brought with them a number of quick firing machine guns.

A squadron of the newly arrived cavalry at once came into contact with the strikers, charging and dispersing a crowd of them.

The authorities estimate the number of strikers at 135,000, but it is believed the total is greater.

The street car service which had been interrupted for 48 hours was restored to-day. This fact incensed the strikers, who hurled volleys of stones at the cars, and their drivers as they proceeded through the streets. Several demonstrations were attempted, but the rioters were quickly dispersed by Cossacks.

In the meanwhile the police fired a few shots at the windows of the private houses from which stones had been thrown down at them.

One significant feature of the strike is that the movement has been joined by many government employees.

Taylor estate entered suit to secure partition of award to Mr. Robert Davies in connection with Don Valley lands at Toronto.

WESTERN CROPS REPORT IS NOT SO FAVORABLE

Fourteen Bushels to the Acre is Prediction Made in Saskatchewan.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] REGINA, Sask., July 24.—"We cannot hope, taking the province as a whole, that the wheat yield in Saskatchewan will be more than 14 bushels to the acre" declared Hon. George Langley, minister of municipal affairs when questioned on the crop outlook. "The weather will still be a considerable factor as a break in the hot spell and a week or two of cool weather will considerably increase the yield."

There is every likelihood of an early harvest and the grain sample will probably be a good one. Oats and barley are light and it is possible that not more than one half an average crop of these grains will be harvested. Some compensation is likely to be realized however in the prices of coarser grain as the amount for export will undoubtedly be small. The need for harvesters from outside points will, I consider be very limited, the unemployed men in our towns and cities being probably quite as good harvesters as any that we could hope to get from the east and the government is busy itself moving farmers from districts where there is a crop failure to other districts where men will be required."

cause he is an honest man." Those in the court room soon began to be M. Ceccaldi's speech and the interruptions increased which brought from the witness the heated exclamation: "I have the right to talk here, because they seek to keep a woman in prison."

This occasioned a clamorous uproar and Judge Albnel who hitherto has been impassive pounded his desk to restore order. "I will continue my deposition," then said M. Ceccaldi, and proceeded with a criticism of former Premier Barthou's course in reading in the chamber of deputies the documents drawn up by Victor Babre in connection with the Rochette swindle.

When M. Ceccaldi had spoken for a hour former Premier Barthou was called to the stand and defended his action in making public the Victor Babre documents.

M. Caillaux also spoke briefly before Madame Gueydan appeared. Maitre Labori and Maitre Chenu then explained their ideas for and against the publication of the letters placed in Maitre Labori's charge by Madame Gueydan.

Maitre Chenu remarked that the letters did not concern the case, to which Maitre Labori retorted that he thought three of them did. Maitre Labori then returned the letters to Madame Gueydan and asked her what her wishes were in the matter, and she replied:

"I do not care what you do. Publish them all if you want to do so."

It was thereupon decided to place three of the letters among the papers in the case, but to read only one of them after the recess.

The question of the reading of the letters gave rise to another scene when the court reassembled. Judge Albnel, who had talked over the subject with the lawyers on both sides during the recess, recalled Mme. Gueydan to the stand, and Maitre Labori at once addressed her saying:

"These letters will not be read by me. Madame, do you wish them back?"

Mme. Gueydan: "No."

Maitre Labori: "Well, then, no one shall have them except myself. If you have heard of me being caught in a trap you are mistaken."

Maitre Labori appeared to regard Mme. Gueydan's seeming reluctance yesterday and her impulsive consent that he should have the letters as a device to place him in the position of either suppressing the letters or to reading them to the disadvantage of Madame Caillaux, he asked her again:

"Madame, do you wish to take back these letters?"

Madame Gueydan: "No, sir."

Maitre Chenu: "Give me the letters to read them up."

CHANCE FOR AGREEMENT

According to The Liverpool Daily Post, one of the leading Liberal Newspapers, it is frankly acknowledged today that the effort made by the conference at Buckingham Palace to reconcile the conflicting views of the Irish Nationalists and the Ulster Unionists must be abandoned. The newspaper adds that the report of this unhappy result of the conference of the leaders of the Liberal, Conservative, Irish Nationalist and Ulster Unionist parties will be published in the court circular this evening.

The Buckingham Palace conference met again to-day and held the shortest of its four sessions. The meeting was called for 11 o'clock. The chairman, the Right Hon. James Lowther, Premier Asquith and Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George, representing the Liberals, Andrew Bonar Law and the Marquis of Lansdowne of the regular Conservative opposition; Sir Edward Carson and Captain James Craig, Ulster Unionists; and John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, arrived at the palace at that hour, but the business of the session did not begin until half past eleven as John E. Redmond, through a misunderstanding, was half an hour late.

Discussion of the Ulster situation lasted only forty minutes and the members then left the palace. No statement of to-day's meeting but it was expected that Premier Asquith would make an announcement in the House of Commons in the course of to-day.

LONDON, July 24.—The feeling was general in the lobbies of the House of Commons that the Ulster conference had failed in its immediate purpose and that no definite agreement had been reached. Members awaited anxiously the announcement as to the actual situation to be made by Premier Asquith.

Except among the extreme Radicals and Labor members, who are opposed to a conference of any kind and think the matter should have been fought out on the floor of the House of Commons, it is felt in parliamentary circles that the meetings of the political leaders in Buckingham Palace have done much good. It was pointed out that they had shown how far the opposing parties were prepared to go and that this would assist the government in reframing its bill to amend the Irish Home Rule Bill.

Sir Edward Carson and his followers during the conference had, it was understood, abandoned their demand for the clean-cut of the Province of Ulster from the control of the Dublin Parliament and were prepared to accept the exclusion of six counties. The Nationalists on the other hand agreed to leave the four northeastern counties of Ulster out of the control of Dublin and to allow the counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh to take a vote on the question whether they should be included or not. Neither party, however, would consent to go a step farther.

The suggestion of the Right Hon. James Lowther, chairman of the conference that Tyrone and Fermanagh should remain out temporarily proved unacceptable to either party. A leading Liberal said to-day: "There is no reason to assume that

HERE'S A POSER

The following is from the Kincaid Review: "The Grits charge that the liquor interests were responsible for the Government's recent triumph. If the Globe will look up the figures closely it may find that the government did better in places where there are no liquor interests than in places where there are. Liberals won in Ottawa, Russell, Prescott, the Brants, and Windsor, where liquor interests should be strong, and lost heavily in places where local option or the Scott Act hold sway. It is true, as the Globe says, that Conservatives themselves did not expect such a sweep, and it can think of no cause other than the effective work of the liquor interests. But how does it account for the result in temperance districts?"

THE GLOBE AND GAMEY.

The Toronto Globe has never liked Mr. R. R. Gamey, member for Manitoulin, in the Local Legislature. That is probably because he was instrumental in exposing an attempt to purchase his vote by the rottenest administration with which Ontario or any other Province has ever been cursed. Gamey's version of that matter is that after his election he was waited on by a notorious Grit heeler—a man named by more than one judge for political corruption—and told that the Government majority was so small that his vote was needed. Further, that he would receive so much cash to switch from the Conservative side and that if he didn't accept, evidence, trumped up, if necessary, would be adduced to unseat him. After consideration he decided to apparently accept until such time as the limit for protest would be passed, when he made up his mind that he would expose the whole miserable business.

However, the Toronto paper is not at present concerned with this unsavory episode but it charges—

1. That Gamey in connection with a mine of which he is President, drew on certain fishermen of his constituency, who secure Provincial licenses.

2. That in the same regard, he solicited stock among the liquor license holders of the Province, trading upon his position as an M.P.P.

That he used force or threats, or could do so, is not shown. In fact, in the list published by the Globe, there appears per example, the names of three Brantford license holders, of the nine hotels, and three shops existing here. If the others were called upon and declined to invest, nothing has happened to them or could happen, because of their refusal. The days have long since passed when in many instances under Liberal auspices a tavern keeper, no matter what his politics, had to contribute towards campaign funds or else have his head cut off. Not only that, but in this city for political reasons, one license was kept going for years beyond the number named by the City Council, so that turn and turn about, a man got three months to sell out, on the basis that if he hung on for the other nine months, he would be reinstated and some other victim be selected on a like basis. That was a condition of absolute terrorism if there ever was one.

However, all that apart. Liberal wrong doing does not excuse Conservative ditto, and any man who transgresses the amenities of public life should be called to account. The Globe keeps calling upon Sir James Whitney to act. In like manner during the awful days of the Ross regime it made the demand that "the barnacles" should be removed with "an iron hand." Not a barnacle was touched for the simple reason that they were even in command of the bridge and that self-same paper then turned round and recommended the government as a good one to keep in power.

This paper has every confidence in the judgment of Sir James in this as in other matters—a confidence which his overwhelming majority in the recent Ontario contest demonstrates to be general.

Matthew Allison, 249 Carlton street Toronto, was struck by a street car and died.

THE SESSIONAL INDEMNITY

The action of Mr. Lancaster, for many years a member of the Dominion House, who has announced his withdrawal from public life, because he cannot neglect his business for $2,500 a year, has aroused very general newspaper comment. Here are a couple of illustrations:—

Woodstock Sentinel Review:—"There are a good many people, not below the standard of the average member of parliament in ability, who manage to live in moderate comfort and with some satisfaction to themselves and the community on even less than $2,500 a year. But it may be said, and it cannot be denied, that there are special demands on the income of the member of parliament. Just because he is in a public position a good many people expect him to pay for it. First of all, he must pay to secure the position. The cost of an election is a serious matter to the man of limited means. It is quite probable that the mere thought of the bills of an election campaign is enough to keep many a man out of public life who is otherwise well qualified for the public service. Then as soon as a man begins to write the magic letters, M.P. or M.P.P., after his name, he is regarded as a legitimate prey for everyone in charge of a subscription list or in need of money."

Kingston Whig:—"Word comes from Ottawa that at the next session of parliament there may be an amendment to the Indemnity Act, and that to senators and commoners there may be an addition of $1,500 to the indemnity of each, making it $4,000 for the session."

The agitation and the assurance of an increase, follow the proclamation of Mr. Lancaster, M.P., that he must give up public life at the end of this term, being unable any longer to serve the people for $2,500. Mr. Lancaster is not the only one who feels that as parliament sits most of the year he cannot give it so much of his time, as he has little left for general expenses after meeting the outlays that are incidental to residence each year at the capital.

There will be objections to the proposal, and on the ground that the indemnity is not a salary, nor a compensation for the services of the member. It is an indemnity for the financial loss sustained by one's long absence from business. And the loss would not be so heavy if some members talked less. If the public business were treated expeditiously, like the business of the individual, the sessions would be much shorter, and the busy man would have more opportunity to attend to his personal affairs.

The higher the indemnity the greater the temptation it becomes to men who want to live by politics and in their scheming become a menace to the state."

The undoubted truth of the matter is that the man able to accept parliamentary honors in Canada, must, as a rule, have private means. Election expenses, including days of registration, are always large, and the member who doesn't whack up for everything in-sight in connection with his constituency, is very apt to fall by the wayside. It is easy to recall more than one promising man in Canada who has met with defeat because of his failure to do the Santa Claus act the year round, and of Premiers, the majority remain poor men—whom in other professions, could make many thousands of dollars per annum. Any man fit to go to parliament should have business ability and integrity, and if so, he can make far more than by spending six or seven months of the year at Ottawa.

STRIKE RIOTS IN ST. JOHN, N. B.

Cavalrymen Charge Through Mob, Using the Flats of Their Sabres.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 23.—Two people are in the hospital and scores of others are suffering from wounds and bruises as the result of a clash between a mob and a small force of Dragoons last night. The rioting which lasted from 8 to 11 o'clock, was an outcome of the street railway strike.

At 8.30 o'clock Mayor Frink read the Riot Act and half an hour later cavalrymen of the R. C. D. under Lieut. Stettin, charged through a mob of thousands of persons in Market Square, riding down rioters and striking them with the flats of their sabres, white stones and bottles flew.

Lieut. Stettin was cut about the head, and was removed to the hospital, not seriously hurt.

William Bennett, dredge worker, was shot in the thigh by Detective Lucas, who was defending himself from members of the mob. Lucas was badly cut on the head, and he and Bennett are in the hospital.

Windows of the power-house of the street railway were smashed and fixtures broken. The city lights went off at 11.30. The mob stoned the firemen of the power-house and drove the firemen from their work.

Street Cars Burned.

Two cars were overturned in Market Square by the mob, after two hours of continuous disorder and finally set on fire. The fire brigade put out the blaze at midnight.

This was the most serious disorder in this city in 40 years. The city was quiet at midnight. City troops will be out to-morrow. The trouble is mostly due to the hoodlums rather than to the strikers, though the introduction of strike-breakers precipitated many rows.

THE SOREHEAD

When Grouch goes home, at close of day, from sawing wood or shucking hay, he's in a frame of mind; he roasts the work he has to do, he roasts the housewife, good and true, and says things most unkind. He roasts the grub he has to eat, he roasts the milk for being sweet, the slaw for being sour; and when the meal is done he sits in gloomy state, and throws some fits, and growls hour after hour. The children hush their laughter glad, for if they worry poor old dad, he knows where there's a club; the wife goes she had never tread, and wishes she had never wed that Biliam Bunn, who, when the long day's work is done goes home in cheery mood; he chortles, and he cries, "Gee whiz! How good this nifty supper is," as he throws in the food. The children greet him with a yell; they love their daddy passing well, and he loves them some more; his wife's been waiting for a while to give him welcome, and her smile is wider than the door. The humble home where gladness dwells where kind eyes smile and laughter swells, is heaven, simmered down; but home is like the other place if on disgruntled father's face there hangs a chronic frown.

The Orient Railway and Turkish Tobacco Regie stocks fell 15 points. Russian Petroleum 16 points and Russian banks from 7 to 11 points. The weakness in Russian and Austrian Government bonds also indicated the seriousness of the situation.

Hood's Pills Cure Constipation, Biliousness, Liver Ills

IRISH CONFAB STILL GOES ON; ALL ARE EXPECTANT, THOUGH

Some Indications That a Settlement May Be Reached Among Leaders.

LONDON, July 24.—The outstanding fact in the Irish situation is that the home rule conference is still in being, the petitions of the whole Liberal and Unionist press of yesterday that the conference was on the eve of collapse having proved false.

After a protracted meeting to-day the conference adjourned until to-day. Meetings and discussions of the various party leaders proceeded in the lobbies of Parliament last night with unabated activity, and moderate men, like Lord Courtney, are working indefatigably in the direction of a compromise. Hopes and fears fluctuate from hour to hour.

Commons Makes Postponement

One favorable sign is found in the fact that further consideration in the House of Commons of the amending bill, which was postponed until Monday on account of the conference, has been still further postponed. This justifies the belief that the conference will extend into next week.

Another hopeful indication was a meeting of the Unionist leaders, which was attended by the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Earl of Selborne, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Halsbury, Earl Curzon of Kedleston and the Duke of Devonshire. Such a gathering of Unionist peers would hardly have assembled unless some weighty matter was to be discussed.

Trying to Please Both.

The Liberals, from Premier Asquith down, are working tooth and nail to find a solution of the vexed problem which will meet the views of the Unionist and Nationalists. Should the conference fail, they hope to reach the goal by other means.

Their most persuasive followers have been busy in the lobbies trying to induce the Irish protagonists to reconcile their differences. Baron Courtney, a life-long home ruler and an insistent advocate of peace at home and abroad, was busy all afternoon interviewing John Redmond and the other leading members of the Nationalist party in behalf of the Liberals. The Irishmen listened courteously and smilingly to the blandishments of the white-haired peer, but, outwardly at least, they declined to give way an inch.

The Carsonites apparently are just as adamant. They are standing out for the exclusion of the four Protestant counties and Tyrone. The Nationalists are ready to grant them the former, but will not budge with regard to Tyrone.

Will Benefit Either Way

The English Unionists are interested spectators of the fight. They believe that no matter how it terminates it must benefit them, at least to the extent of hastening a general election. They argue that whichever party in Ireland thinks it has received the worst deal will turn against the Liberals. If it is the Nationalists they will defeat the Government on the floor of the House; if the Carsonites, they will set up a provisional government and threaten civil war, before which, the Unionists believe, Premier Asquith will surrender.

The Liberals say that threats of civil war do not frighten them, and point to the incident of the Irish Guards cheering Redmond on Wednesday as evidence that the whole army will not refuse service against the Ulsterites should they attempt to take over the government of the province.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma Kept Her Locks Dark. Gussy Thick with a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. The old-time mixture of Sage Tea streaked and faded hair is grandmothers' treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. ## HIS EFFORT ALL BUT PROVED A SUCCESSFUL ONE

Tom Rolands, Well Known Young Man, Tried to Commit Suicide.

Thomas Rolands attempted to commit suicide at his home 163 Rawdon street yesterday afternoon by cutting his throat, but he was not successful in severing either the windpipe or the jugular vein and the probabilities are that he will live.

Rolands, who is a hefty fellow of 26 years of age, entered his parents' home somewhat under the influence of drink and seemed to be in a restless mood. Without saying anything to his mother who was in the kitchen he took a razor and went into the dining room. Hearing an unusual noise and then a fall Mrs. Rolands rushed through to find her son lying on the floor with an ugly gaping wound across his neck and a bloodstained razor in his hand. She at once obtained assistance and a doctor was sent for. Within a few minutes Dr. Gamble appeared and after a cursory examination he rendered first aid and despatched the man to the hospital where the wound was stitched up. It is not expected that the gash will prove fatal, because the razor was drawn up and not directly across the main veins of the neck, this fact has probably saved Rolands' life.

No motive for the crime has yet been put forward, the relatives simply stating that it was a fit of despondency for which they could not account. It is possible that family trouble may have caused him to commit the rash act for Thomas is one of the brothers of Harry who was connected with the recent assault case, which aroused great local interest.

It was at first thought that Rolands had little chance of life and Rev. Father Padden was called to attend to the spiritual needs of the would-be-suicide. No reason for his actions were given.

P. C. Cara, in charge of the patrol wagon was not required. With the departure of the hospital ambulance the morbidly interested crowd which had gathered dispersed.

Rolands is now progressing favorably at the general hospital. He will be charged at the police court with attempted suicide when he has sufficiently recovered.

MANAGER MOULE

Strongly Objects to the High License Fees For His Theatre.

Manager E. Moule, of the Brant and Apollo Theatres was a visitor at the city hall this morning paying the quarterly payment on his Theatre licenses which are now being paid by all the local theatre managers. Mr. Moule strongly objected to the heavy license fee demanded of his theatres and stated that he would likely bring the matter before the courts, and if the executive last night strongly objected to this. It was pointed out that the City Council had granted the Executive $500 and if $300 was paid out for police protection, it would only leave $200 for expenses. Mr. Moule said that he has sent two heavily signed petitions to the city council to have the by-law amended in this regard but they have simply shelved the matter.

Mr. Moule states that the fee on the Brant and Apollo is $300 per year each and $300 on the Gem whereas the Grand Opera House gets off with only $25 and with the privilege of showing motion pictures 72 days in the year if they want to. The matter has not ended so far as Mr. Moule is concerned.

will be erected in Victoria Park, where first aid can be administered. A long discussion took place as to the policing of the city during the Old Home Week. Chief Slemin had presented a plan to the executive, which called for seven or eight extra constables, with one or two special detectives, one a Canadian and the other an American, who would know the crooks from both sides of the line. For this the police commissioners asked for $300, and the members of the executive last night strongly objected to this. It was pointed out that the City Council had granted the Executive $500 and if $300 was paid out for police protection, it would only leave $200 for expenses. Mr. Moule said that he has sent two heavily signed petitions to the city council to have the by-law amended in this regard but they have simply shelved the matter.

TANGO TO BURGLARY IS YOUNG MAN'S FALL

Diamond Thief Caught in Toronto Makes Notable Confession to Police.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The tango and a "swell baby" were his downfall according to Joseph Stack, the eighteen-year-old jeweller's clerk, whom detectives chased six thousand miles in three months. They caught him Friday night in Toronto, and he was arraigned yesterday for stealing $4,000 in jewels from his employers. Stack was held for trial in $5,000 bail and committed to the Toms. One night last April, he said, there was a tango party in the Bronx, and he went to dance with his sweetheart, expecting to capture first prize. "She was some swell baby," he said "and I thought I had to put up a good front. I had a dress suit, but no jewellery. I took two diamond rings and a good watch from the store to wear that night.

"At the tango party a young man who knew me accused me of stealing the watch and rings. He said he would expose me if I did not come across with a gold watch for him the next day.

Local News

THE PROBS

TORONTO, July 24.—The inequal- ity of pressure now existing over the great lakes and middle states make the general conditions rather unsettled but at present the weather is fine and warm in all the provinces. Fairly heavy showers have occurred in On- tario.

Forecasts Light winds, fine and warm to-day and on Saturday.

Will Play for Cup. The July cup will be played for at the golf links to-morrow.

Band Practice The L. O. L. life and drum band paraded through the town down Sts. Light and on Saturday.

Wrong Address The address of the alleged disorderly house mentioned in yesterday's police court proceedings was not 174 Darling street but two doors east.

Repainting Fire Hall The firemen at the Central Fire Station are busy repainting the interior of the first floor at the hall. Tenders have been asked for the re- painting of the exterior of the hall.

Distributing Subscribers Lists. The Canadian Machine Telephone Company are to-day distributing their new subscribers list and they show an increased number of machine phone users.

Court of Revision Sits To-day. The Court of Revision is to-day held at the County burl, under the presidency of Judge Hardy. Four ap- peals against assessment in the town- ship come up for decision.

Certificates Away Late. City Clerk Leonard has received several complaints from the Govern- ment department, Toronto, regarding the lateness with which many of the Brantford clergymen file the marriage returns at the city hall. This morn- ing over half a dozen certificates were received of marriages performed as far back as last March and April. The law on this matter is that certificates must be filed with the city clerk not later than thirty days after the cere- mony has been performed and the Government promises that there will be trouble unless the local ministers comply with this regulation.

Motor Mishap. There was a slight collision on Chatham street, below Alfred Street crossing, when two cars, one owned by Mr. Glen Ellis, proceeding down- wards and the other owned by Mr. Gidney coming up, ran together with happily no serious results. It appears that in order to avoid a cyclist, Mr. Ellis swung to the left and so inter- cepted the car coming up, the street being narrow at this part it permitted no avoidance of this sort. Neither car was seriously damaged beyond some dis- placements and twisting of the lamps and fittings.

Band Concert To-night. The regimental band of the 25th. Brant Dragoons under the command of Lieut. J. Henry Pearce, Mus. Dec. will render the following program in Victoria Park this evening. Mr. Purton has accepted a very important position as first assist- ant in St. Paul's Cathedral, at Detroit. In addition to delivering his farewell sermon at night, it is more than prob- able that Rev. Mr. Purton will ad- dress closing remarks to the young men connected with the Y. M. C. To Identify if Possible The body of a man who was found dying in St. Catharines is being held over in order that his supposed wife may see the remains and determine whether the deceased is her husband or not. It is said that she left the city this morning to view the remains at St. Catharines. Confirmation of this, however, is not forthcoming, as it was impossible to find any trace of Mrs. W. H. Charlton this afternoon. She formerly lived upon Queen St. and removed to Charlotte street, but whence she has gone from there is not generally known.

With the City Police

The family feud which resulted in a free fight upon Mount Pleasant Road was amicably settled in the Chief Constable's office this morning when the parties concerned agreed to pay the costs of the court, which amounted to $46.75. There were many charges and counter charges in the case and no fewer than 18 cases and 24 names were enrolled, the charges being trespass, wounding, as- sault, disorderly conduct and abusive language.

Austin Bumbery, an Indian was found guilty upon a charge of steal- ing a wheel which he had obtained upon loan from Fred Gott. He had taken part of the wheel back to be repaired and Gott recognized it. The police were informed and recovered the rest of the bicycle at the home of Bumbery. It was badly damaged. Defendants story was that he had bought it for a dollar from a friend. He was ordered to pay ten dollars damage. Upon another charge, he pleaded guilty and was remanded un- til to-morrow.

Laro Keca when charged with the theft of a child's gown, valued at two dollars, swore that he found it upon a sidewalk and had given it to a friend's child. Witnesses testified that it had been taken from a line upon which it had been hanging after being washed. Defendant denied taking the gown from any line, and stuck to his original statement and the Mag- istrate dismissed the case upon pay- ment of the costs.

Herbert Logan got drunk yester- day and stole a bottle of whiskey from a local hotel. He pleaded no knowl- edge of the theft and witnesses testi- fied to the act. He was fined $10 for the theft and allowed to go upon a charge of being drunk.

William Kelly who was charged with being a frequenter of a disorder- ly house, was allowed to go back to his home in Woodstock. He claimed to have business at the house, but not with the woman charged with keeping a disorderly house. The pol- ice suspected he had brought his daughter to live with Mrs. Bingham. Hester Bingham, who was charged with keeping a bawdy house and ag- ainst whom John Bradley gave dam- aging evidence, yesterday was com- mitted for trial. She was perviously charged with a similar offence and never appeared to answer the charge, illness preventing her.

Conservatives Win the Seat

(By Special Wire to The Courier) TORONTO, July 24—Chief Jus- tice Sir William Meredith at Os- goode Hall to-day upheld the ap- peal of J. B. Martin against the decision of the County Judge, who in the East Lambton re- count rejected ballots on the ground that the counterfoils were not detached.

The result gives Dr. Martin, Conservative, a majority of four votes over the Liberal candidate, J. McCormick. On the Deputy returning officer's count Dr. Mar- tin was elected by a majority of three, but on the recount he was put in a minority of 27 as a result of the County Judge's rejecting ballots with counterfoils attached.

"It seems to me the decision should be in favor of the ballots to which the counterfoils are at- tached," said his lordship. "If there is a doubt it should be re- solved in favor of giving effect to the intention of the electors."

No costs were allowed to either party in the appeal.

Edmund Bristol, K.C., M.P., W. H. Price, M.P.P., and F. W. Wilson, Petroler, appeared for the appellants and R. F. Towers, Sarnia for Mr. McCormick.

Labatt Trophy Goes to Toronto Rink - Bert Inglis Played in Tecumseh Semi-Finals.

Skip John R. Shaw's Queen City quartet won the Labatt Trophy from the London Bowling club yesterday afternoon when Shaw's men defeated the skip Jas. S. McDougall's London Rowing Club 24 to 17. The Tecumseh trophy however, was won by a London rink, Bert Heaman's Thistles, taking the measure of the Van Meek's Toronto Rushholmes, 12 to 5, in a well played game. The McNece trophy or consolation event has reached the final event and the trophy wound up at noon to-day.

How Soccer Teams Stand-A Comparison

The revised table is as above shown and it gives the Scots the lead by a single point. This table does not include the unfinished game between the Tutela and Scots teams. As it is shown that the Tutela Park boys are virtually the best placed for although they are a point behind the Scots they have two games in hand. Both the leading teams have played one game less than Paris who take third place with twelve points. The Duffs are virtually third best placed having four games in hand upon Paris, who only lead them by three points. The soldiers are well placed and it is within their power to exceed the Scots' record for nine games by a point. This would place them second only to Tutela, but as three games, although in hand, are not six points already earned, they cannot be named as virtual seconds. The only undefeated team is Tutela and they are not sure to retain that honor long for they have only seven minutes in which to wipe out a two-goal deficit. Scots and Duffs have each failed once and

Canadian League Notes

Race is No Surprise. Ottawa Journal: The Canadian League race is panning out pretty much as it was figured at first with the Senators and London making the running, and with Erie, St. Thomas and Beavers fighting for the first division places. Reising has the edge on Tuesday. McGroarty made arrangements with Cunningham to take all the throws at second, but failed to get there in time to get the big fellow's pegs. The result was they went to the outfield, and the sorrel top got the blame.

Canadian League

In Hamilton they have solved the problem of stopping London's climb and suggested that by stealing London's bats and kidnapping Heck and Birt... They have another suggestion, but it isn't to let the Brants take on all the games with London. It is too bad that London does not play in Hamilton again. A series with the Hams would about clinch the pennant at the rate they are going just now. No wonder Gilhooley feels a little peeved after seeing his former job at second being looked so badly after by Cunningham. Gilhooley looked good while at the second station here, but Cunningham is still suffering from his injured foot. Gilhooley's actions cannot be con-

Are Front Runners. Ottawa Journal: The trouble with the Ottawa twirlers is that they're 'front runners.' When they lose the lead they're just as likely to explode as not. That's why Shaw is after some twirlers with a few years' seasoning to steady them.

After Red Fisher. Hamilton Spectator: A certain number of fans, of the opinion that they were licensed to abuse and knock, because they had paid their admission to the ball park yesterday, undertook to abuse Catcher Red Fisher in disgraceful fashion. Red was called upon to take the blame for $1000 Beauty. Peterboro Review-Mitchell, the Senators' new short fielder, and Frank Smejkal work well together. The one thousand dollar beauty fields and hits the ball in fine style. He made a momentary tumble of Blount's grounder, the only semblance of an error on his part, but the local speed pilot had the ball beaten in any event.

Thirteen errors in two games. No wonder the Hams are in the cellar. Its pretty hard, however, to expect Jack White and Red Fisher to play teams that have nine men playing.

Toronto Beavers are going to step into second place one of these days. It will be an awful jolt to Ottawa fans to see their pets down in the third station.

A complete deadlock occurred at the home rule conference over the exclusion of Ulster.

OTTAWA OUTSCORES TORONTO BEAVERS IN OPENING GAME

OTTAWA, July 24.—Ottawa downed Toronto by 5 to 3 in the Canadian League game at Lansdowne Park yesterday afternoon. Shocker held things his own way until the seventh when singles by Snell and Ort and Hunt's triple netted two runs. After that he steadied down. The Ottawas hit Roberts freely with men on bases. Shaughnessy and Bullock were both in the grand stand owing to injuries, but their substitutes started both at bat and in the field. Rogers made a rush at a Toronto man, bat in hand, when some one called him a name in the seventh inning, but Umpire McPartlin dashed after him and pulled him away when trouble seemed certain. The score: Toronto . . . . .010000200-3 8 1. Ottawa . . . . .03002000X-5 11 0.

LONDON, July 27.—The London Baseball Club was due for a good sound-beating, and the duty to apply the trouncing fell to the lot of the Erie Yankees, who romped off with yesterday's game at Tecumseh, Park by the score of 8 to 3. However, there was a time during the early stages of the contest when the locals looked equal to make their string of victories seven straight, but this opportunity slipped away in the fifth inning, when Hammond side-stepped Snyder's smart relay to harness a double steal with two out. The ball went rolling to center field and Scott scored the run which tied the game and before Erie was through the game was a single run to the good. London pounced on Dorbeck for three runs in the second and third innings by lurching seven hits, but the visiting southpaw was invincible after that and only two more men reached the bases after this, due to an error and a hit in the ninth inning.

With one run to tie the score, London fell away short, but the visitors provided four more runs by pounding Hammond hard in the ninth, which put the game on ice beyond a doubt. Hammond, in the box for the locals was away off his usual form and, while the Yankees are credited with six stolen bases, the blame does not all rest upon Catcher Snyder's shoulder, as the big Ohio hurler failed to hold his men to the bases as he usually does. Dorbeck, on the other hand, pulled himself together just at the right time to stave off defeat and turn it into a victory with the able assistance of hitting by his team mates. The score: Erie . . . . .021 030 004 2 8 19. London . . . . .021 000 000-3 8 4.

FOOTBALL GAMES FOR SATURDAY

Tutela Will Meet Cockshuts—Line-Ups Are Given Out Today

There is no match of outstanding merit to be played on Saturday in the Brantford and Paris league but there is, nevertheless, some very interesting encounters. The league leaders take a rest and this may account for the lack of one really brilliant match.

Tutela travel to Mohawk to be the guests of Cockshuts whom they should defeat with a fair amount of ease, for the Cockshut boys are not the tower of strength that they previously have been.

The Duffs and Holmedale game should result in a close even contest with the balance in favor of the Duffs. Holmedale are not to be despised, however, for they were not unfrequently surly.

The Lions are due to win another match at this time at the expense of the Cowagers. Both teams are lowly placed and this should be a very interesting bout, the Lions obtaining the points.

The Wanderers are visitors at Paris where little hope can be entertained for their success. The Parisians are one of the best home teams in the league and few clubs extract any points up in the French citadel. All honor to the Wanderers if they manage to pull any away.

The line-ups of the various teams are as follows:

Duffs
In a league fixture with Holmedale kick off at 6 p. m.
Carey, Harbour, W. Halland, Williamson, Mercer (capt.), Biggs, Usher, Humphries, J. Holland, Pontier, Alexander. Reserves: J. Harris, Doekray, A.N. Oppir. Referee: Mr. Goatsley.
All players are requested to report at the armories at 5 p. m.

P. S. A.
To meet the S. O. E. on Tutela Park on Saturday. All players to be on the field at 5.30.
Joe Bee, Knowles, Richards, Nowell, Rogers (capt.), Myring, Leman, McLaren, Parr, Trebble, Maich. Reserves: Secord, Arthur and Hurst.

Echo Place Match
At Echo Place on Saturday the Starch Works will play Echo Place. This is the hummer of the season. Kick off at 6.30.

Tutela Line-up
Tutela versus Cockshuts at Mohawk Park on Saturday. Kick off at 6 p. m.
Gbal, H. Stanley; Backs: T. Mason,

W. Bowden, S. Hamilton, R. Vining, P. McLeod, C. Stone, J. Hingley, F. Burns, H. Collett, Fisher, Reserves: E. Roberts and F. Clark.

Wanderer's Line-up
The Wanderers and Paris will meet at Recreation Park on Saturday July 25 6 p.m. sharp.
The Wanderers will line up as follows—
Goal, Dudden; Back, Charlick and Johnson; Half backs Atkinson, Wallace and Little; forwards, Mears, Hutchings, Bonner Scott and J. Little. Reserves: A. Johnson and S. Weir.

Tiger Line-up
Holmedale v. Duffs on Agricultural Park, kick off at 6.15. The Tigers will turn out in the following order: Scanlon, Madgley, Hoyle, Capt. Hart, Owen Ellison, Webb, Giles, Solman, Coburn, Stewart. Reserves—Scanlon, F. Sevier, Cullen.

Cockshut Line-up
The Cockshut United will meet the Tutela team at Mohawk Park Saturday July 25th. This will be the best game of the season. The Cockshuts United will line up as follows: goal, Berry; backs, Stubbs and Richards; half backs, Maich, Clark, Robinson; forwards, Plant, Capt. G. Richerson, Chalton, Blower, Dixon. Reserves: S. Howell, Phew, Lookley, Dyson.

S. O. E. Line-up

CHICAGO HAS CHANCE TO WIN ALL THREE PENNANTS THIS SEASON

By Hugh S. Fullerton
Baseball fans in Chicago have a chance this year to see something really strange to the game—one town winning three major league pennants simultaneously.

Of course that chance is one in a thousand but it exists nevertheless. Every one of Chicago's three so-called major league clubs are "on the top or near it," as C. W. Murphy used to advertise about his Cubs. If every team, the Cubs, Sox and Federals can keep up the pace they have been going at since the start of the season, the Chicago club will have the unusual distinction of owning three pennants for the first time in the history of the game.

And the fun part about it is that a month ago the three teams in the Windy City were the jokes of their respective leagues. All of them were kept down in the second division by repeated losses and few of the fans had any hopes of seeing a real hot fight for a flag.

The Cubs couldn't get a look-in it seemed and the Sox at the top early in the season slumped so badly that even the famous loyalty of the Comiskey fans appeared to be on the wane. Joe Tinker couldn't get his Federals started. But now it is all different.

Tinker lashed his Feds in a streak of conquering enthusiasm and rapidly forged ahead to the top of the league; Hank O'Day seemed to get his pitchers going and his hitters began to do their part too with the result that the Cubs climbed so fast that John McGraw felt his hold on first place slipping. Whether or not the Cubs get farther along remains to be seen, but the leader of the Giants admits that they are the one bunch he must beat to win his fourth pennant in the National League.

The White Sox pitchers recovered their stride and in a phenomenal two weeks, in which the team won 13 of 15 games, put the South Siders right up in the light.

Back of the success of the Cubs is the smashing power of young Vic Saier's bat. The kid who only a few years ago stepped into Frank Chance's shoes at first base has shown himself to be a regular whale of a distance batter. More than once this season he has slashed out two homers in the same afternoon and his home base clouds are becoming so common that he is expected to produce a lengthy wallop every time he comes up.

When Hugh Jennings let Ray Demmitt, the young outfielder, go to the White Sox at the waiver price, he certainly never expected him to become the wallop that he developed into. Whenever there is a man on base young Demmitt can be relied upon to hit the ball and he usually hits safe. Ray Schalk, the little catcher while not up among the sluggers in the batting averages is one of the generous pinch hitters of the league.

Claude Hendrix is doing a whole lot of the heavy work for the Chicago Federals. Besides winning most of the games he pitches, the former Pirate hits and his bat has helped wonderfully. Walter Johnson is probably the only other pitcher who can do his share with the bat as can Hendrix.

Courtney M. Wilkinson, twenty-three years of age, son of Lady Wilkinson of Hawkhurst, Kent, England was drowned while bathing near Deer Island, Queen Victoria Park, Niagara Falls.

"Count Discount" is still cutting and slashing

"The Count" is a hero of many conflicts. He will graphically show you how he cuts and slashes in contest.

He will continue to do so until he has a clear field before him. That is until he has cleared this stock away to a minimum. And "Count Discount" is cutting still deeper this week. Further reductions is what we mean. Taking broken lines from better grades and putting them into the next lower priced lot. You see we never allow ourselves, if it can in any way be prevented, to advertise a single thing that we cannot deliver. In some of our lines the tremendous selling has driven out certain sizes from certain lines. Supposing you come in and ask for a size 36 from our $20 line, as advertised, and we didn't have it. That's bad business. We won't let it happen here. So what do we do? We are filling in from better goods at each price so as to make complete range of sizes in every line. That is giving you still greater values than ever in every line in the house; not only in suits and top coats but also in shirts, boys' wear and other things where lines have become broken—that is pretty much everything because the selling has been tremendous here this past week and the effect of "Count Discount's" onslaught on prices has been telling. Get these better values and greater savings before "Count Discount" is forced to retire for want of material to work on.

Will it be the Brantford team which will play Connie Mack's world champion Athletics on August 11 behind the dyke? In some quarters there has been an agitation for Brantford to be represented by a picked team, using, of course a Brantford battery for the occasion. There are other fans, however, who declare that a team made up of Canadian League stars would not be as good for the one game as the regular Brantford team, and from the record of all-star aggregations, there seems to be much in the argument.

The artist who endeavored to pick out an all-star team from the Canadian League just at present, would have a lively time, even starting off with a Brantford pitcher and catcher. When it comes to first base, an argument would start over Kading, Gygil or Bierbauer, all three being clean-up hitters. At second base the dope artist would be lost, although George Ort of Toronto would look as good as any one. At short stop, Whitcraft of London would get the call almost unanimously, and Mullin would earn it at third base. In the outfield there is no better ground coverer in the league than Tommy King, who could fit in well with Shaughnessy, Kent, Trout, Corns or Lamy. There might be others, but they will not be found a whole lot better than these fellows. One advantage to be secured from the aggregation as above named would be hitting ability. Some of the players mentioned would worry almost any pitcher, and Big Chief Bender would have to bring his usual repertoire along with him.

Whether an all-star team will be picked or not, depends to a great extent on the showing of the Brantford team next week, after Cosma, the new third baseman reports. The arrival of the new infielder will, it is expected, make a lot of difference to the team. Brantford has six games at home next week, and with a winning streak it wouldn't take longer than the week to get in the first division.

President E. G. Barrow, of the International League, who is on an official visit, said at Rochester that the time has come for retrenchment in all the leagues. "The sport is not on a firm foundation," he said, "as it costs more to operate than the public is willing to pay, and anyone can see that the sport will not last long that way. The International League must retrench in the matter of salaries and the big leagues, even the Federal, must do the same.

Johnson Is Not Safe; Gunboat Smith Is Near

(By Billy Birch.)
Now that Frank Moran, "hope of the white race" for fifteen or twenty minutes, has been relegated to the scrap heap, the subject of a first-class heavyweight who can make things interesting for Johnson in the ring as well as on paper appears to be the leading question in pugilistic circles. Who he is or where he is from is another question.

Few experts acquainted with Moran's ring experiences expected him to win, unless by chance he caught Johnson off guard or out of condition and got over a lucky punch. It was a dyed-in-the-wool cinch that Johnson did not have to be very good to trim this fellow, for he was considered the worst of the poor lot of heavyweights who came to the front during the "white hope" plague, a couple of years back, but "smart" management put him in front.

Losers End is tempting. When Dan McKerrick, the Pittsburg manager, first took hold of Moran he immediately conceived the idea of working up a contest with Johnson. Not that he expected to win, but the heavyweight title was worth taking a chance at, and the loser's end of the purse was a little more than Moran usually received for a winner's end. Besides, they had nothing to lose and everything to gain. Although Smith is credited with a 20-round verdict over Willard, later developments have gone a long way in proving that the match was close. In fact, it was so even that the referee would have made no mistake in calling it a draw. Since that time Jess has improved even more than the "battleship" and he is regaining some of the confidence he lost when he killed "Bull" Young.

One important feature of a Willard-Johnson mix-up would be the rules. If they were to fight clean breaks, then Johnson's advantage would be increased twofold, while in a straight battle Willard would be able to give Johnson a roughing up such as he be one "spot" where the negro could upset the "dope" regarding his nerve, never received before.

Musical turns feature at the Brant Theatre this week and rarely have purely musical turns been so heartily applauded as was the case last night. The music was not monotonous. It was spicy, excellently rendered, with splendid variety and to add to the attraction one of the cleverest juggling novelty acts of a long while was introduced by the clever trio, Leon and Adeline Sisters. The vein of comedy running through the turn is clean and irrepressible, while the deftness of the performers is astonishing. They took the house.

Lipton Has Little Chance

Not Given Square Deal—New American Editorially:—

Says the New York American editorially:— Sir Thomas Lipton who is England's best sportsman because he is an Irishman, has left England with his fourth Shamrock. Handicapped by notoriously unfair conditions, he is willing year after year to build challengers for the America's Cup and sail them across the ocean to race for it. The defenders meanwhile are tried and tuned on the millpond water and spared all the rack and strain of a transatlantic voyage.

No Sportsmanship
There is no fairness, no sportsmanship in this. There is nothing that saves the desire of the New York Yacht Club which holds the cup, to dictate the terms under which it is to be held. Yachting, while it is a sport for the rich, is still a sport. As the horse's beauty and courage will keep him the admiration of men long after all his work is done by automobiles, so the beauty and grace of the sailboat will keep it existence long after its utility is a thing alone of memory. And since, as a sport, yacht racing will always exist, it is to be hoped that some time the greatest of all international yacht races will be held under real sporting conditions, yacht meeting yacht on equal terms and making a real and beautiful test of superiority of design below and aloft, and superior handling by the crew.

KING STREET
A bowling rink composed of four members of the Customs department of the civil service, visited Sydenham Bowling Club green last evening and played a friendly game with Jim Osborne's rink. The government employees managed to pull out a win, after an exciting game. Following was the score:

Dr. Cook	Henry Hayley
Chester Hodges	John Ryan
Jim Osborne	Wilfred Scritton

The Sydenham Club members are in the midst of a Scotch double tournament. ## Johnson Is Not Safe; Gunboat Smith Is Near

(By Billy Birch.)
Now that Frank Moran, "hope of the white race" for fifteen or twenty minutes, has been relegated to the scrap heap, the subject of a first-class heavyweight who can make things interesting for Johnson in the ring as well as on paper appears to be the leading question in pugilistic circles. Who he is or where he is from is another question.

Few experts acquainted with Moran's ring experiences expected him to win, unless by chance he caught Johnson off guard or out of condition and got over a lucky punch. It was a dyed-in-the-wool punch that Johnson did not have to be very good to trim this fellow, for he was considered the worst of the poor lot of heavyweights who came to the front during the "white hope" plague, a couple of years back. He was beaten innumerable times, but "smart" management put him in front.

Losers End is Tempting.
When Dan McKetrick, the Pittsburg manager, first took hold of Moran he immediately conceived the idea of working up a contest with Johnson. Not that he expected to win, but the heavyweight title was worth taking a chance at, and the loser's end of the purse was a little more than Moran usually received for a "winner's end." Besides, he had nothing to lose and everything to win.

McKetrick's first act for working up publicity for a Johnson-Moran meeting was to send the white heavyweight to America to drum up local interest. He conceived the idea of introducing Moran as a graduate of the University of Pittsburg and an ex-football star. In reality he was only a hanger-on there and was tolerated because he was a friend of the chief trainer. Moran did odd jobs around the school, such as rubbing down tired athletes and once in a while was used in the scrub line-up against the "varsity eleven in practice."

Lost Verdict to Smith
Moran's success in the prize ring has been only mediocre, and his most serious set-back was at the hands of Gunboat Smith, who beat him to a standstill in twenty rounds. And the only exceptional thing that Moran showed in this contest was ability to take punishment.

The heavyweight situation now depends on Smith and Willard. Smith first because he has been better treated than his huskier rival, and there are many who think that the "gunner boy" would just about come as close as anyone in the game to-day to taking the "big black's" measure. He has it on Moran in every department except weight, and Smith's long reach and powerful blows would offset this advantage to some extent. He is a better and harder hitter than the Pittsburger, can box better, and knows more about the game.

In case Smith should fail, then there is Willard to rely upon, and if he should meet the "smoke" he will be the first man Johnson has fought in several years who will have something on him in weight, size and reach and Willard has all of this. The way Johnson wins most of his battles with a right uppercut, but it is hard to see where this blow will be effective against the Kansan.

Willard Has Improved.
Although Smith is credited with a 20-round verdict over Willard, later developments have gone a long way in proving that the match was close. In fact, it was so even that the referee would have made no mistake in calling it a draw. Since that time Jess has improved even more than the "battleship" and he is regaining some of the confidence he lost when he killed "Bull" Young.

The vein of comedy running through the turn is clean and impressive, while the deftness of the performers is astonishing. They took the house.

Rahn and Ketter, two smart actors, present a bright dual number, and they had yesterday to answer to a repeated encore.

The dexterity displayed by Rahn and Ketter in a clever cornet playing duo, awoke an echo in the audience and they too had to add to their number. The usual photo-plays completed a good bill. The fare this week is excellent.

Customs Rink Won.
A bowling rink composed of four members of the Customs department of the civil service, visited Sydenham Bowling Club green last evening and played a friendly game with Jim Osborne's rink. The government employees managed to pull out a win, after an exciting game. Following was the score:

Customs	Sydenham
A. Doughty	Robert Lyle
Dr. Cook	Henry Hawley
Chester Hodges	John Ryan
Jim Osborne	Wilfred Scruton
Skip, 13	Skip, 16

The Sydenham Club members are in the midst of a Scotch double tournament. Rich. Gowman and Dave McDonald defeated Jack English and Chester Hodges, and Harry Stone and Russell Gowman had rather an easy win over Harvey Markle and Mr. Matthews. The games are proceeding each evening and are creating considerable interest, being watched by good galleries.

Lipton Has Little Chance

Not Given Square Deal—New American Says That Conditions Make Lifting of America's Cup More Than Hard.

Says the New York American editorially:—
Sir Thomas Lipton who is England's best sportsman because he is an Irishman, has left England with his fourth Shamrock. Handicapped by notoriously unfair conditions, he is willing year after year to build challengers for the America's Cup and sail them across the ocean to race for it.

The defenders meanwhile are tried and tuned on the millpond water and spared all the rack and strain of a transatlantic voyage.

No Sportsmanship
There is no fairness, no sportsmanship in this. There is nothing in it save the desire of the New York Yacht Club which holds the cup, to dictate the terms under which it is to be held.

Yachting, while it is a sport for the rich, is still a sport. As the horse's beauty and courage will keep him the admiration of men long after all his work is done by automobiles, so the beauty and grace of the sailing boat will keep it existence long after its utility is a thing alone of memory.

And since, as a sport, yacht racing will always exist, it is to be hoped that some time the greatest of all international yacht races will be held under real sporting conditions, yacht meeting yacht on equal terms and making a real and beautiful test of superiority of design below and aloft, and superior handling by the crew.

Neither Lipton nor any other challenger has had a square deal since defenders were built as racing machines, unfit to endure the pounding of deep sea waves.

We trust that some day, if Sir Thomas continues to challenge, he will find defenders who will meet him half way, who will build boats as he must build his, and who will go into the contest solely animated by the desire to learn whether England or America can build, rig and sail the better boat.

CHAMBERLAIN AND TARIFF REFORM

Break From the Gladstone Party Was Not Sudden, as Many Supposed.

(From the London Observer.)
To this day it is often supposed that Mr. Chamberlain's adoption of Tariff Reform and Imperial Preference was the result of some sudden and violent impulse. Nothing could be further from the truth. When he challenged Free Trade orthodoxy and mailed his theses, as he used to say, upon the church-door of Wittenberg, he did what the thought and experience of years and the circumstances of an immediate emergency conspired to make him do.
We have seen that there was in reality nothing novel or abrupt in his overthrow of Mr. Gladstone's power, and it was the same with his revolt against a blind adhesion to Mr. Cobden's doctrines. Before the end of the 'Eighties Mr. Chamberlain had been led from the idea of maintaining the integrity of the United Kingdom to the supreme idea of doing something decisive in our time towards creating the unity of the British Dominions. He had seen in Egypt what we were making of the dependencies, and he had begun to realize in Canada what might be made of the Dominions. In 1890 he said to Colonel George T. Denison, of Toronto, that he would study the question of preferential trade. "If, after full consideration, I come to the conclusion that this policy will be in the interests of this country and of the Empire, I shall take it up and advocate it."

That was a remarkable statement enough, though made in the strictest privacy and confidence. It showed that Mr. Chamberlain had begun to look at these questions just as Chamberlain did, considering with a fresh mind what might be practically advantageous without regard to whether or not it was theoretically orthodox. When he became Colonial Secretary in 1895 he had two main ideas—to develop in the tropical dependencies "the neglected estates" of the Empire and to draw more closely together the Mother Country and the self-governing Dominions. In June, 1896, he already expressed in a long talk with Mr. Arnold-Forster all the main ideas which formed the foundation of his Tariff Reform policy in 1903. The following year Canada gave a preference to the Mother Country, increased it later to a valuable extent, and was penalized in consequence by Germany.

Britain, under a policy of rigid Cobdenism, was helpless either to defend her own interests or those of her Dominions. We had neither the powers of Imperial reciprocity nor of retaliation upon foreign powers, making the most provocative use of hostile tariffs to the political prejudice of the Empire as well as to our own commercial injury. Foreign nations, not content with denying us Free Trade, were seeking to resist by fiscal force, as it were, the voluntary decision of our self-governing Dominions to grant us freer trade under our own flag. To Mr. Chamberlain, this position of fiscal impotence was unendurable; and it confirmed his gathering conviction that passive adhesion to unconditional Cobdenism must be incompatible in the long run, not only with the closer union of the British Dominions, but with the maintenance of Empire on any terms. But though his thought moved upon these lines, let no man think that he acted precipitately.
He assured the present writer long ago that he made every effort, but in vain, to advance in the first case towards some form of partnership for defence. He found that no progress could be made in that direction. The rejection of every alternative left commercial preference the one promising line of approach towards closer union. For that all the Dominions, and Canada above all, were prepared, but for nothing else. It was shown to be the only way. Then and only then Mr. Chamberlain adopted it. After the rally of all the Britons to the flag in the South African War, it was impossible to his mind that statesmanship at home could be paralysed by a fiscal formula when even a slight modification of free imports upon our part might secure wider markets for our own people under the flag and establish the beginnings of a commercial partnership whence, as in the case of Germany, would surely follow the Union for Defence. In that faith he acted. For that faith he laid down office at the very height of his fame and fortune. The sequel is fresh in all memory. He gave life itself, and more than the giving of life, for an endeavor, the greatest, whatever its ultimate result, which any popular leader ever made in the world's history to reconcile democracy and Empire.

Cromer Past Master of Strategy
"The Living Sphinx of Egypt" such was the title once bestowed upon Lord Cromer, the great pro-consul and maker of modern Egypt, who at the moment of writing is reported to be lying seriously ill at his London residence.
Lord Cromer used quick and daring methods in dealing with Egyptian risings. At one time Cairo was almost openly disaffected and the British garrison was small. His lordship, however, caused it to be known that a regiment was on the way from India, but he was careful not to explain that it consisted of sick-leave and time-expired men and bandsmen.
All the able-bodied soldiers in garrison were ordered to parade all over the town in small parties and the natives did not take in the fact that they were a sort of stage army—the same men over and over again.
The last straw was when Lord Cromer coolly put on flannels and publicly played game after game of tennis.
This final piece of bravado nipped the threatened rising in the bud. Several times during his early days in Egypt Lord Cromer's life was in danger. An English visitor who resembled him was found stabbed to death, having been killed in mistake for the great proconsul; while on another occasion a dervish was found to have a knife concealed in a petition which he was about to present to his lordship.
And it was because he was always a man of deeds, not words, that Lord Cromer became known as the 'Sphinx of Egypt.' He made himself a power in Egypt which admitted of no rivalry and, although in 1893, when he was chosen agent and Consul-General, highly-placed Egyptians told him it would be impossible to do away with bribery and the buying and selling of justice in the land, the answer, "I am here to change all that."

Lord Cromer once went to the Khedive to demand the instant dismissal of a high official who was the Khedive's intimate friend. Enraged at the request, the Khedive refused to point-blank to dismiss him, "Well," Lord Cromer replied, quite coolly, "unless I have an order of dismissal in five minutes I will go and cable to England at once that I am coming home. That will mean your dereliction." And before Lord Cromer left the palace he had in his pocket the order he had demanded from the despotic Khedive.

PATIENT IN GENERAL HOSPITAL TAKES LEAP FROM BALCONY TO DEATH

Uxbridge Woman, With Nervous Disease, Seized With Suicidal Mania in Presence of Nurse.

TORONTO, July 24.—Jumping from the fifth floor balcony of the private patients' pavilion at the Toronto General Hospital last night, Mrs. Josephine Wren, of Uxbridge, a patient suffering from a nervous disease, was instantly killed when she struck the paved court below. The accident occurred about 8.30 o'clock while the patient was being prepared for bed, and her action was totally unexpected by the nurse, since there had been no trace of melancholia or a self-destructing mania in the patient's actions since her arrival at the hospital last Saturday.

such an extent that it was found necessary to put a special nurse upon the case. For the last three nights the nurse had been giving Mrs. Wren a hot bath about eight o'clock, followed by a hot drink, after which she would go to sleep and rest quietly. Last night the nurse had taken her patient into the bath room and given her the usual hot bath and then asked her if she would like a hot drink. On being told by Mrs. Wren that she would like some cocoa the nurse turned towards the pantry to prepare it, but she had not proceeded 15 feet from her patient, when another nurse suddenly cried, "O! look out," and the nurse turned around just in time to see her patient go over the balcony, and as she hurried to the railing saw the woman strike the court below.

Dr. A. K. Haywood, assistant superintendent of the hospital, was immediately called and reached the woman within a few minutes, but he found that death had been instantaneous. The chief coroner was then notified. Mrs. Wren was thirty-seven years of age. She is survived by a husband and three children.

WORLD'S GREATEST SHORT STORIES No. VI.

The Notorious Jumping Frog of Calaveras County.

By MARK TWAIN.

IN compliance with the request of a friend of mine who wrote from the east, I called on good natured, garrulous old Simon Wheeler and inquired after my friend's friend, Leonidas W. Smiley. He wanted to do, and he wanted to append the result. I have a lurking suspicion that Leonidas W. Smiley is a myth; that my friend never knew such a personage, and that he only conjectured that if I asked old Wheeler about him it would remind him of his infamous Jim Smiley, and he would go to work and bore me to death with some exasperating reminiscence of him as long as he could. It is a design it succeeded, after that was the design it succeeded.

sneezing and blowing her nose, and always fetch up at the stand just about a neck ahead, as near as you could cipher it down. "And he had a little small bull pup that he look at him you'd think he wasn't worth a cent but to set around, look ornery and lay for a chance to steal something. But as soon as money was up on him he was a different dog. His underjaw'd begin to stick out like the o'r'castle of a steamboat, and his teeth would uncover and shine like the furnaces. And a dog might tackle him and bullyrag him and bite him and throw him over his shoulder two or three times, and Andrew Jackson, which was the name of the pup—Andrew Jackson would never let on but what he was satisfied and hadn't expected nothing else and the bets being doubled and doubled on the other side all the time till the money was all up, and then all of a sudden he would grab the other dog jest by the jint of his hind leg and freeze to it, not chew, you understand, but only just grip and hang on till they throwed up the sponge, if it was a year.

"Smiley always come out winner on that kind of business, and then the dog didn't have no hind legs, because they'd been sawed off in a circular saw, and when the thing had gone far enough, and the money was all up, and he come to make a snatch for his pet bolt, he seen in a minute how he'd been imposed on and how the other dog had him in the dook, so to speak, and he 'peared surprised, and then he looked sorter discouraged-like, and he didn't try no more to win the fight, and so he got strucked out bad. He give Smiley a look as much as to say his heart was broke, and it was his fault, for putting up a dog that hadn't no hind legs for him to take bolt of, which was his main dependence in a fight, and then he limped off a piece and laid down and died. It was a good pup, was that Andrew Jackson, and he would have a name for him in him and he had genius. I know it, because he had no opportunities to speak of, and it don't stand to reason that a dog could make such a fight as he could under them circumstances if he hadn't no talent. It always makes me feel sorry when I think of that last fight of his'n and the way it turned out.

"Well, this yer Smiley had rat taries and chicken coxas and tomcats and all them kind of things till you couldn't rest, and you couldn't fetch nothing for him to bet on but he'd match you. He ketches a frog one day and took him home and said he called to educate him, and so he never done nothing for three months but set in his back yard and learn that frog to jump. And you bet he did learn him too. He'd give him a little punch behind, and the next minute you'd see that frog whirling in the air like a doughnut—see him turn one sumdam way or maybe a couple, if he got a good start, and come down fatfooted and all right, like a cat. He got him up so in the matter of ketching flies and kep' him in practice so constant that he'd nail a fly every time as far as he could see him.

"Smiley said all a frog wanted was education and he could do most anything, and I believe him. Why, I've seen him set Dan'l Webster down here on this floor—Dan'l Webster was one of the frog—and sing out, 'Fies, Dan'l, fies!' And quicker'n you could wink he'd spring straight up and snake a fly off'n the counter there and flop down on the floor ag'in as solid as a gob of mud and fall to scratching the side of his head with his hind foot, as indifferent as if he hadn't no idea he'd been doing any more'n any frog might do. You never see a frog so modest and straightfor'ard as he was, for all he was so gifted. And when it come to fall and square jumping on a dead level he could get over more ground at one straddle than any animal of his breed you ever see. Jumping on a dead level was his strong suit, you understand, and when it come to that Smiley would ante up money on him as long as he had a red. Smiley was monstrous proud of his frog, and well he might be, for fellers that had traveled and been everywhere all said he laid over any frog they ever see.

"Well, Smiley kep' the beast in a little lattice box, and he used to fetch him down town sometimes and lay for a bet. One day a feller—a stranger in the camp he was—come across him with his box and says: "'What might it be that you've got in the box?'" "And Smiley said, sorter indifferent-like, 'It might be a parrot, or it might be a canary maybe, but it ain't—it's only just a frog.'"

"And the feller took it and looked at it careful and turned it around this way and that and says: 'E! n! So 'tis. Well, what's he good for?'" "Well," Smiley says, easy and careless, "he's good enough for one thing, I should judge. He can outjump any frog in Calaveras county."

"The feller took the box again and took another long, particular look and give it back to Smiley, and says very deliberate, 'Well, I don't see no pints about that frog that's any better'n any other frog.'" ing and thinking to himself, and then he got the frog out and pried his mouth open and took a teaspoon and filled him full of quail shot, filled him pretty near up to his chin and set him on the floor. Smiley he went to the swamp and slopped around in the mud for a long time, and finally he ketches a frog and fetched him in and give him to this feller and says: "'Now, if you're ready set him alongside of Dan'l, with his forepaws just even with Dan'l's, and I'll give the word.' Then he says, 'One—two—three—git!' And him and the feller touched up the frogs from behind and the new frog hopped 'st lively, but Dan'l give a heave and hysted up his shoulders so, like a Frenchman, but it wasn't no use, he couldn't budge. He was planted as solid as a church, and he couldn't no more stir than if he was anchored out. Smiley was a good deal surprised, and he was disgusted, too, but he didn't have no idea what the matter was, of course.

"The feller took the money and started away, and when he was going out at the door he sorter jerked his thumb over his shoulder so at Dan'l, and says again, very deliberate, 'Well, he says, 'I don't see no pints about that frog that's any better'n any other frog.'"

"Smiley he stood scratching his head and looking down at Dan'l a long time, and at last he says, 'I do wonder what in the nation that frog throw's off for! I wonder if there ain't some thing the matter with him! He 'pears to look mighty bazy somehow.' And he ketches Dan'l by the nap of the back and cets him and says, 'Why, blame my cats, if he don't weigh five pound!' and turned him upside down, and he belched out a double handful of shot. And then he see how it was, and he was the maddest man. He set the frog down and took out after the feller, but he never ketches him, and—"

(Here Simon Wheeler heard his name called from the front yard and got up to see what was wanted.) "Turning to me as he moved away, he said, 'Just set where you are, stranger, and rest easy. I ain't goin' to be gone a second.'"

"But, by your leave, I did not think that a continuation of the history of the enterprising vagabond, Jim Smiley, would be likely to afford me much information concerning the Rev. Leonidas W. Smiley, and so I started away. At the door I met the sociable Wheeler retelling, and he buttonholed me and recommended: "'Well, this yer Smiley had a yaller one-eyed cow that didn't have no tail, only just a short stump like a bannan-ner, and—"

However, lacking both time and inclination, I did not wait to hear about the afflicted cow, but took my leave.

"TAKE CARE OF YOUR HEALTH'S ADVICE RAILWAY MEN.

"The first and most important consideration in railroad operation is Safety." This message has been sent out to all officers and employees of the Grand Trunk Railway by Mr. Morley Donaldson, Vice-President General Manager of those lines. The Company in the development of its Safety First Work has also taken a novel means of impressing upon its army of workers the necessity of promoting safe conditions and practices. To engineers, firemen, and others in the Motive Power and Operating Departments a label has been issued with a request that it be attached to the inside of hats and caps.

This sticker says, "No Grand Trunk employee is expected to take unnecessary chances for the sake of saving time or for any other reason." It will serve as a reminder, easily carried, that "Safety First" methods of work are expected of all for the protection of the employee and passenger alike. Indeed every factor that tends towards safe operation is being insisted upon by the officers of the Grand Trunk System. In a bulletin just issued right methods of living are considered.

"In order to continue in promoting safety, it is every engineer's duty," this bulletin says, "to conserve the natural organs of the body. Normal mind is necessary to good service, and good health is necessary to the normal mind. Temperance in living, plenty of rest, plenty of sleep, and the required amount of exercise must be taken in order to be a continuing element of safety in the service. These laws of health being observed, the normal mind is retained and continued and the service benefitted accordingly."

"And then Smiley says: 'That's all right, that's all right. If you'll hold my box a minute I'll go and get you a frog.' And so the feller took the box and put up his $40 along with Smiley's and set down to wait. "So he sat there a good while think-

Chamberlain's Love Romance Now Revealed

New light is thrown on the late Joseph Chamberlain's engagement to Miss Endicott, whom he married in 1888, by a chapter in the volume, "With Chamberlain in the United States and Canada in 1878-88," published by Chatto & Windus, London.

The author is Sir Willoughby Maycock, who was assistant secretary of the mission which, headed by Mr. Chamberlain, represented Great Britain in the Canadian fishery dispute.

Chamberlain, who became immensely popular in New York and Washington society, was entertained much and also gave several banquets himself.

It was at a reception given at the British Legation that he first met Miss Endicott, being introduced to her by Miss West, daughter of the British minister, now Lady Sackville.

"It seemed to have been a case of 'love at first sight,' for Sir Willoughby tells how 'he (Chamberlain) was at once most favorably impressed with her, I well remember his telling me one evening when we were walking home from some party. Maycock was one of the first to whom Chamberlain confided his secret engagement, and he writes: 'He unlocked his despatch box, and showing me a large and pretty photograph of Miss Endicott announced his engagement to that lady, but said the marriage was not to take place until after the Presidential election in the autumn.'

This was in March, 1888. The engagement was kept secret because Miss Endicott was the daughter of a Cabinet minister in the Cleveland administration, and it was thought news of their coming union might, on that ground alone, cause the Irish vote to be given solidly to the Republican candidate.

Mr. Chamberlain shortly before sailing had finally broken with Mr. Gladstone. They were apprehensions that Mr. Chamberlain would be attacked by agents of the Clan-na-Gael, and four Pinkerton detectives shadowed him throughout his sojourn in America.

"Nothing pleased him more than to think that he had evaded their watchful eye," says the author, "but I do not think that he ever succeeded in doing so."

The author tells a charming little anecdote of the function at which Chamberlain met his future wife. "Two pretty Miss Tiffanys," he wrote, "who sailed on the same ship from Baltimore, asked me to indicate which was Mr. Chamberlain. When I pointed him out, one of them exclaimed, 'Why he's just lovely.'"

Of Mrs. Chamberlain, Sir Willoughby writes: "I regard her as the very salt of the earth," adding a quotation from an American newspaper of that period: "She is the embodiment of New England feminine culture."
