PRICE THREE CENTS

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT ROYALLY WELCOMED

First Official Act is to Sign Order for Ministerial Bye-Elections to be Held Oct. 27th.

Quebec, Oct. 14—Quebec was ablaze with electric lights last night, and as the Duke of Connaught drove through the principal streets on his way to the railway station to take train for Ottawa, the Duke and Duchess were greeted by the greatest enthusiasm. Not since the tercentenary celebration has there been such a display, all the public buildings being aglow with lights. As Their Royal Highnesses passed down to the station, there were display of fireworks and crowds of people assembled all along the route to give the vice regal party a greeting. Hearty cheers rang out as the carriage containing Their Highnesses passed by.

The luncheon at the Chateau Frontenac in the afternoon was a brilliant affair. The dominion cabinet were all in attendance. This function was followed by a state dinner at Spencerwood and there was afterwards a reception at Spencerwood. All these functions were most brilliant affairs and attended by prominent people of the dominion.

His Royal Highness left for Ottawa last night by special train. The train was a magnificent one, being all new cars just turned out from the Angus shops, and bearing the monogram of the duke. Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, arrived in Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 14—Their Royal Highnesses were accorded a patriotic welcome in which practically the whole city participated. Thousands lined the profusely decorated streets. It is estimated over 50,000 people participated in the welcome. From the time the palatial special train pulled into the Union Station until Their Royal Highnesses were escorted to government house, the streets were packed. A crowd, estimated all the way from 20,000 to 30,000 jammed the spacious lawns in front of the Houses of Parliament. Besides the civic address of welcome, which was read by His Worship Mayor Hopewell, several were presented to His Royal Highnesses from national and fraternal societies in Ottawa.

On account of the appointment of a new provincial premier Hon. L. J. Tweedie of N. B., could not attend.

Within half an hour of attending the banquet in his honor on Parliament Hill on Saturday afternoon, the Duke of Connaught signed his first order-in-council at Rideau Hall, fixing the dates of the ministerial bye-elections. Nominations will be on October 27 and polling, if any, on November 3. The outlook is that all the ministers will be returned without opposition.

A CHINESE REPUBLIC IS PROCLAIMED

Serious Uprising in Central China Against The Manchu Dynasty Aims to Make Dr. Sun Yat Sen President

Hankow Province of Hu-Pei, China, Oct. 12—The revolution which has been hanging over China for months past, and of which the rising in the province of Sze-Chuen was only a small part, has begun in earnest. It is a concerted movement to take the Empire and declare a republic. The noted exiled revolutionist, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the party opposed to the Manchu dynasty, if the plans do not miscarry, is to be elected President of the New Republic. He was the delegate of the revolutionary party to the United States in 1910, and it is believed during that tour to have made arrangements for the financing of the movement.

The whole Assembly has seceded from the Imperial Government. The rebels are well organized and financially strong. They have confiscated the local treasuries and banks, and are issuing their own paper money, redeeming the Government notes with this, as the foreign banks are refusing Government notes.

The revolutionaries have captured Wu-Chang, the native section of Hsiao and Han-Yang, all adjoining cities in Hu-Pei Province. Chang Sha, capital of Hunan, is reported to have risen in revolt and Nanking, capital of the Province of Kiang-Su, is on the verge of a rising, several public buildings have been destroyed.

Thousands of soldiers have joined the mutiny in Hu-Pei. Many Manchus have been killed and the terrified people are fleeing from cities into the country, carrying their belongings. The prisons have been opened and the criminals liberated.

FOREIGNERS SAFE

There has been fighting in the streets, but the most stringent orders have been issued that the lives of foreigners and their property shall be respected.

London, Oct. 14—A special despatch received here from Shanghai says:

"A republic has been proclaimed at Wu Chang. A strong force of rebels has left Hankow with the object of engaging the imperial troops coming from the north, and a big battle is expected within a few days.

Chicago, Oct. 14—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is favored by the Chinese revolutionists for president of the republic they hope to establish, is in Chicago. He arrived here early this morning. He was found late at night at the headquarters of the Young China Society, where he had gone to attend a secret meeting to aid in raising funds for the revolution.

"I cannot discuss my plans or tell anything of my movements since I come to Chicago," he said. "Perhaps I can give out some information in two or three days."

London, Oct. 14—Altogether the outlook for the throne is extremely ominous. Except for the Manchu troops, whose numbers are insignificant, the loyalty of the army ever in Peking and Tientsin is doubtful, and especially when they hear of the revolutionists' successes.

HON. J. K. FLEMMING THE NEW PREMIER

Sworn in Thursday Night to Succeed Hon. J. D. Hazen—The New Cabinet.

The resignation of Hon. J. D. Hazen's cabinet was placed in the hands of Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie at 8.30 o'clock Thursday evening, and, following the advice of the late premier, Hon. J. K. Fleming was called upon to form a new government. The new premier was in conference with the lieutenant-governor at the Royal hotel and asked until Monday to submit the names of his ministers.

The new government is as follows:
Premier and Surveyor-General—Hon. J. K. Fleming.
Attorney General—Hon. W. C. H. Grimmer.

Provincial Secretary—Hon. H. F. McLeod.
Chief Commissioner of Public Works—Hon. John Morrissey.
Commissioner for Agriculture—Hon. D. V. Landry.
Ministers without portfolio—Hon. R. Maxwell and Hon. James A. Murray.

The late government was as follows:
Premier and attorney general—Hon. J. D. Hazen.
Provincial secretary, Hon. J. K.

Flemming.
Chief Commissioner of public works, Hon. John Morrissey.
Surveyor general, Hon. W. C. H. Grimmer.
Minister of agriculture, Hon. D. V. Landry.

Solicitor general, Hon. H. F. McLeod.
President of council and member without portfolio, Hon. Robert Maxwell.

Hon. J. Kidd Fleming, the new premier, was born in Carleton county in 1868, the youngest member of the late government with the exception of Hon. H. F. McLeod.

He first contested his native county in the provincial elections as a member of an opposition ticket in 1895, but was unsuccessful, as he was in 1899. The next year, however, he was elected in a by-election and has been one of the representatives of Carleton county in the legislature since that date. When he first entered the legislature he was the youngest member in that body. He has been a general merchant and a lumberman.

SUFFERERS FROM PILES!

ZAM-BUK HAS CURED THESE!

Friction on the hemorrhoid veins that are swollen, inflamed and gorged with blood, is what causes the terrible pain and stinging and smarting of piles. Zam-Buk applied at night will be found to give ease before morning. Thousands of persons have proved this. Why not be guided by the experience of others?

Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "I must thank you for the benefit I have received from Zam-Buk. Last summer I suffered greatly from piles. I started to use Zam-Buk and found it gave me relief, so I continued it, and after using three or four boxes I am pleased to say it has effected a complete cure."

Mr. G. A. Dufresne, 181-183 St. Joseph Street, St. Roch Quebec, P. Q., writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to everyone who suffers from piles."

Magistrate Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N. S., says: "I suffered long from itching piles, but Zam-Buk has now cured me."

Mr. William Kenty, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N. S., says: "I suffered terribly from piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments, but everything I tried failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying various remedies, when I heard of Zam-Buk, and thought as a last resource I would give this balm a trial. After a very short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and disease, eczema, ulcers, varicose veins, cuts, burns, bruises, chaps, cold sores, etc. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

TRAGIC DEATH OF CHATHAM MAN

Death came suddenly Saturday evening to John Connors, an aged resident of Chatham. While alone in his brother, Patrick Connors' house, he fell down stairs and so seriously injured himself that he died within a few minutes. His fall was heard by people in the adjoining section of the house, who rushed in and found him unconscious. Medical aid was summoned, but Mr. Connors passed away without regaining consciousness. He was seventy-four years old and unmarried. He is survived by one brother, Patrick

THE TURKO-ITALIAN WAR

Tripoli, Oct. 14—The landing of artillery, ammunition and stores, from Italian transports, is being effected. Large numbers of Arabs are voluntarily serving as porters. Yesterday thousands of rations were distributed among the famishing populace, many of whom kissed the hands of the Italian officers and called down upon them the blessings of Allah.

5 SLEEPING MEN PERISH

Toronto, Oct. 15—Five men, aged 37 to 60, were asphyxiated by an unknown gas in the Oriental Hotel last night. They were found dead in their beds at 11 o'clock.

212,854 NEW SETTLERS

During the first five months of the fiscal year immigrants arrived in Canada to the number of 212,854, an increase of 18 per cent. as compared with the same period last year. Of the arrivals 141,021 came via ocean ports and 71,833 from the United States. Last year during the same period the United States arrivals numbered 65,189 and those via ocean ports 115,159.

tea is the result of care and experience in blending—must be the combination of fine flavor, smooth strength and richness. Because all these elements are so generously included in Red Rose Tea it well merits the term "good tea."

RED ROSE TEA

Hon. J. D. Hazen For St John

Dr. Daniel has Resigned and Mr. Hazen will not Likely be Opposed

St. John, N. B., Oct. 17—In a letter addressed to the electors of the city and county of St. John Dr. J. W. Daniel resigns the seat for that constituency to which he was elected over James Lowell on Sept. 21st. It is almost certain that he will be appointed to the senate. Dr. Daniel's resignation makes a seat for the Hon. J. D. Hazen who was appointed Minister of Marine. The nomination for the election will be on Oct. 27th and election day on Nov. 3rd. It is regarded as certain that there will be no opposition to Mr. Hazen. Mr. Pugsley advises that the seat be allowed to go by acclamation.

THREE BULLETS INTO OWN BREAST

St. John, Oct. 16—Last Friday a party of hunters found the body of William Ryder, of White's Mountain King's Co., the body was taken to Havelock, where Coroner Lamb took charge of the case. A close examination of the body showed that it had no shirt on, and that there were three bullet wounds in it. A Snyder rifle was found with which the bullets had been fired, together with the man's shirt lying near the place. There were three bullet holes in the shirt corresponding to the wounds in the body. Both the bloody shirt and rifle were taken to Sussex, and handed to Chief of Police McLeod.

It appears that the case was a most ingenious one of suicide. The man had evidently shot himself three times, and when the last shot had burned his breast he had torn off his shirt and flung it from him before death ensued.

WITH THE HUNTERS

N. Rundleman and F. H. Hartung of Pittsburg, Pa., who were up the Northwest with Wallace Johnson, returned yesterday with two moose and two deer.

O. C. Hubbard of Eoston, Mass., and John Jarvis, guide, returned Sunday from Bald Mountain with a moose and a bear.

Messrs. J. Harold McMurray, of Fredericton and W. H. Hill, of Clarkburg, West Virginia, returned Monday from a successful hunting trip with guide W. Griffin, jr., at McKiel's Lake, on the Mananabi. Mr. McMurray shot a moose with antlers spreading 50 inches and was able to take his choice, as he saw thirty-eight moose before killing the one he selected. Mr. Hill was also successful and killed a moose with antlers spreading 54 inches. Mr. W. S. Fisher, St. John; Mr. L. Sturges, Chicago, and Mr. George S. Fisher have returned from a hunting trip near Bartioque. They brought back two moose and a very large caribou head with 33 points on it. Fred James and Albert Connell were the guides for the party.

At Black River, a few days ago Rev. Geo. Wood, Max Watling and Wallace Watling of Chatham, got two moose, in a day a half's hunt.

A. J. Cook, Thos. C. Young and Geo. E. Follonbee of Cleveland, Ohio, with guide John Connell, had a successful fishing trip at Bartioque last week.

PARLIAMENT MEETS NOVEMBER

Ottawa, Oct. 16—Parliament will meet on November 15. That was the decision arrived at by the cabinet in council this afternoon, and announced later by Premier Borden. The session will not be unduly prolonged, and after a brief adjournment at Christmas, prorogation will be sought by the end of January or the last week in January.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Land Regulations.

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties: Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre.

Duties: Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties: Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $500.

CAMPBELLTON CO. AMITTEE ISSUES STATEMENT

Copy of Auditor's Report.

The books of the Relief Committee have been returned from the Auditor-General who in his report says:—

In accordance with the appointment by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, I have made an audit of the accounts of your Finance Committee and beg to hand you herewith a certified statement of same.

RECEIPTS—The total amount of cash subscriptions was $184,233.24. The sale of cottages brought $7590.00. Miscellaneous receipts amounted to $435.25. The interest credited by the banks was $1182.13. So that the total cash received was $193,440.62, and the same was deposited in the banks doing business in Campbellton.

DISBURSEMENTS—The sum of $70,000.00, contributed by the Dominion Government was handed over to the corporation of the town of Campbellton, to be used solely for the purpose of paying the interest on the bonded debt of the town at the time of the fire. For general relief purposes the sum of $114,196.77 was expended so that the total disbursement amounted to $184,196.77, leaving a balance of $9243.85 unexpended. Pursuant to Provision of I. G. George V, Cap. 56, this amount ($9243.85) was handed to the Town of Campbellton to be used for the relief and support of the poor of the said town.

All orders for building materials, food and other supplies, as well as invoices corresponding with same and recommendations for payment have been examined by me. For all expenditure I have examined vouchers, receipted accounts and properly endorsed cheques.

The conclusion of the arduous duties which devolved upon the Committee is no doubt a great relief, and you have as your reward at least, the sense of a duty discharged to the best of your ability.

I am dear Sir,
Yours Obediently,
W. A. Loudoun,
Auditor General.

HISTORIC OBJECT ON VIEW AT CAMPBELLTON

A find of great historical value was made during the excavation for the new subway. An old cannon ball weighing about 8 pounds was dug out of the soil and is now on view at the White Drug Company's store. It is conjectured that this must have been one of the projectiles fired by the English fleet when they pursued the remnant of the French fleet up the Bay Chaleur and completed the conquest of Canada in the year 1700.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Kidgie Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—Mrs. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Middle Station, N. B.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good your advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—Mrs. FRANK COOPER, Box 448, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

AMERICANS CURED OF CONCEIT

The decisive defeat of reciprocity in Canada was mostly due, no doubt, to a general disapproval of the United States. We have Lynchings and Trusts; our political graft is not of the time-honored British pattern; we are extravagant, boastful, and frequently dine in our shirtsleeves. Our Lady of snows regards us, on the whole, with disfavor. When the Conservatives—aided by a few silly utterances—raised the cry that reciprocity would lead to divorce from J. Bull and marriage with Uncle Sam, the lady indignantly rejected our proposals.

No one on this side the border need lament the decision. The trade agreement considered by itself was of small importance, offering us comparatively little either of gain or loss. It was chiefly important because it broke the vicious circle by which high protection had been maintained. With farm products virtually on the free list, the agricultural vote could hardly be depended upon any longer to support protection for the Steel Trust. This important effect of reciprocity will be saved, we think, in spite of Canada's veto. Farmers must read all future arguments for high protection in view of the recorded fact that the alleged benefits of that system were denied to them, so far as that was within the power of this Government.

Otherwise, reciprocity would have been important by way of introducing freer, more cordial business relationships with Canada; but in this respect, also, some benefits are saved. There still lingered among us a foolish notion that everybody else must admire us because we admired ourselves and that American citizenship is a peerless boon for which all intelligent people must be openly or covertly athirst. Canada's refusal even to do business with us, less that lead to political association, ought to extinguish this lingering notion. Whoever, after this election, talks of annexation as though Canada were ready, to fall into our arms must be a surprising blockhead.—Saturday Evening Post, Philadelphia.

CAMPBELLTON METHODIST CHURCH OPENING

The opening and dedication of the Methodist church which is now about completed will take place according to present plans on Sunday October 22nd. Arrangements are being made for a Red Letter Day in the history of the church. Full announcement will be made regarding services in next week's issue.

How a House Stole $20 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Florida in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kroner bank-notes to line the nest.

The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the paper being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest covered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

This feat has been equaled by that of an enterprising mouse in Bornbirn, which abstracted a number of twenty-kroner notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and, tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the mouse, and found the nest under the eaves. He caught the mouse and returned them to the bank where they were placed together. The butcher recaptured the mouse's teeth.

Last Call.

Professor Leacock tells the following story about a young man who sometimes drank more whiskey than was good for him:

He had been making a night of it, but had forsaken his companions. He was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and got the crazy notion at three o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man. Accordingly, he found George's undertaking establishment, over which George had his sleeping apartments.

The intoxicated young man rang and rang George's bell, and at last awoke him. The undertaker put his head out of the third-story window, expecting to find that his funeral services were required immediately. Instead, he recognized his friend Frank.

"Well, Frank," he exclaimed crossly, "what do you want?"

"I just want to tell you, George," said Frank, "that you're the last man in the world I want to do business with."

Very Convenient.

An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built. A hot argument ensued in the midst of which one of the gentlemen arrived who lived in one of the jerry-built cottages, and the matter was referred to him.

"Well, sir," said he, "I can assure you they are the most convenient houses I ever abode in."

"But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient, say you?"

"Oh, had you who's till I explain. When first I can't to bid in Mr. Jerry's house, I had to rise 't the middle of the night an' open the door to let out the cat; but the cat can gang out an' come in too thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot of bother."

WOODLOT INSPECTION BY GOVERNMENT

Increasing difficulty is being found in obtaining an adequate supply of hardwood lumber for the industries of Canada. The hardwood tracts of the eastern provinces for a long time have not been able to meet the demand, and in 1910 60 per cent of the hardwood used in Canada was imported from the United States. The United States, although with a much larger supply of hardwood on hand is also seeing that the annual consumption far exceeds the annual growth and that the virgin supply is being rapidly reduced. By practical demonstration it has been proven that waste land if planted in young hardwoods, will prove a profitable investment at the end of twenty-five years or more, and will improve the productiveness of the surrounding farm land. In the eastern provinces of Canada and Ontario, particularly are large tracts of such lands, covered at present with an unproductive tree growth, which through being sandy, rocky or low lying, cannot be treated as agricultural lands. The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior is taking a practical interest in the farmer's woodlots of Ontario, in an effort to make otherwise useless land supply hardwood lumber to an eager market, with profitable returns to the wood land owners. Parties interested in this matter should correspond with the Department at Ottawa, which is already giving practical assistance on important tracts. Foresters will be supplied by the Department to look over tracts of timbered land, estimate the quantity of timber, advise as to what species to encourage or plant according to the locality and general conditions, and suggest a general working plan. Such scientific knowledge, the result of former investigations, will be of great benefit to private owners and should be sought after at once.

FALL CHANGE OF TIME ON INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY OCT 29th

The Fall and Winter change of time on the Intercolonial Railway takes place on Sunday October 29th at midnight, when the fast through train the Ocean Limited will be retired from the route until next summers rush of traffic warrants its operation. The through service between Montreal and St. John and Halifax will be performed as usual by the famous Maritime Express. For through travellers the Maritime is a most convenient train being equal in equipment to any of the finest through trains in America with respect to both sleeping and dining car service. In the latter the Maritime excels for splendid meals are served table d'hote at rates more reasonable than under the a la carte system prevailing on other lines. Via the Intercolonial is the only All Canadian Route between the Maritime provinces and Montreal.

Improvements in Campbellton

John E. Wilson, M. P. P., returned from a business trip to Campbellton on the ocean limited last evening. "Campbellton is a finer town than it ever was," he said to a reporter. A large number of fine new buildings have been put up this summer. It's an inspection to visit the town and feel the spirit of the people, who suffered such a calamity only a little while ago. Everybody is confident of the future of the town. The lumber mills are fairly busy, new industries are being projected, and there seem to be as many people living there now as before the fire.

A SCHEME WORTH TRYING
(Campbellton Graphic)

We are glad to give the following letter to our readers, at the same time expressing the hope that many more might be received in a similar strain.

St. Andrew's Manse, Campbellton, N. B.
Editor Campbellton GRAPHIC:
Dear Sir,—Allow me to express my hearty sympathy with your attitude in the temperance cause. I agree with you that the best way in which to honor the memory of the great and good soul who recently left us to "go up higher" is to do something for the cause he loved so well and served so loyally.

Please put my name on your list of members. I earnestly hope that all the temperance people of our town will make a determined effort to banish this evil from our midst. As you may know I am a firm believer in active effort. Banish the rumshop by all means, but put something good in its place. We are doing nothing in the way of providing entertainment for the strangers within our gates.

I would suggest Mr. Editor that you get the League busy working, with some definite end in view. For instance I feel certain that the directors of the Bank of New Brunswick would dispose of the old temporary building for a very reasonable sum, which could be removed to some site not needed for the present, and fitted up for club purposes. A supply of games, papers, periodicals, etc., could be provided and perhaps refreshments served at moderate rates. The building could be open each night from say seven till ten or eleven under the supervision of interested and sympathetic workers. An occasional musical evening, an illustrated lecture might be given, or amusement provided in other ways. Men go to saloons and drinking dens for the sake of company. Can we not provide them with some place where they would be perfectly at home and yet free from the temptation to drink or gamble. I think Mr. Editor that it is high time we tried to do something, for, shirk the burden as we may, and do, we still remain our brothers' keepers.

Hoping that others may discuss this suggestion.
Yours truly
THOS. P. DRUMM.

The Relief committee are issuing a neat little brochure, compiled for the purpose of giving an account of their stewardship. They deserve every credit for their handling of the finances sent in for the relief of the sufferers and if in the discharge of their onerous duties they did it any small way make a mistake it was an error of head not of heart.

The accounts have been passed by the Auditor-General, so their labours may now said to be completed, and thanks not criticism is due them for their work, which deserves the remark in the auditor's report.

"You have your reward, at least, the sense of a duty discharged to the best of your ability."

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other for croup there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

EPIDEMICS AND THEIR PREVENTION

For years the province of New Brunswick has never been entirely free from the ravages of Smallpox. After each outbreak is supposed to be stamped out infection has been allowed to linger in some out of the way corner and suddenly the disease crops out again as virulent as ever.

It seems strange that Smallpox cannot be driven out of the country. The trouble must lie in the lax manner in which the Government and the Board of Health authorities deal with the matter.

It would seem prevention would be better than cure. If vaccination is, as is generally admitted, a good thing, why not make it absolutely compulsory upon every soul in the country? Why not have every child vaccinated within so many days after its birth and regularly re-vaccinated as often as medical experts deem necessary, with an effective penalty provided for all parents, guardians or officials who should neglect to perform their duties as the law would require?

What is the use of vaccinating everyone in a limited district during an outbreak and then neglecting this precaution until another outbreak occurs? What is the sense of requiring all school children to be vaccinated while, through non-enforcement of the compulsory education law, unvaccinated children who do not attend school are allowed to run around as freely as they please?

It is time the country grappled in earnest with such diseases as Smallpox and took really determined steps to destroy them. Many diseases can be wiped out of existence, and the effect of the others reduced to a minimum, by proper action on the part of the Government, backed, of course, by the intelligent co-operation of the majority of the people.

As we have pointed out before, our system of paying physicians, is exactly opposite to what it should be. We now pay the doctor, not for preventing disease but for curing it. When we are well we do not call in the doctor nor do we pay him. But when we are sick we send for him at once. The system is bad. It would be better to engage the doctor at a fixed salary to keep us well, giving the best salaries to those who kept their charges in the best health and allowed the least disease to break out.

THE PROGRESSIVE WEST.

The popular vote taken this month in California has resulted in a verdict of three to one in favor of incorporating into the State's Constitution the Initiative and Referendum and Recall; and, by a narrow majority, Women Suffrage was endorsed.

Women Suffrage was several years ago adopted by the sparsely settled Rocky Mountain States of Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado and Utah, and, this year, by Washington. But the adding of the populous and influential State of California to the adult suffrage column is the most notable victory yet for Women's rights in the U. S. A.

Direct Legislation by the Initiative and Referendum is a long step forward in Democracy. By the Referendum all measures passed by the Legislature are subject to a direct popular vote if called for by a certain percentage of the electors within a certain specified time. This is the rock upon which the late government of Canada split and went to pieces. Had they submitted the Navy and Reciprocity questions to the people as demanded by F. D. Monk and R. L. Borden they could, while satisfying the people on these two important questions, have postponed the day of their own defeat. By the Initiative, a bill drawn up by a certain number of the electors themselves, must be submitted to a Referendum, and, if carried, becomes law, just the same as if it had been prepared by the Legislature.

The Recall empowers a certain percentage of the electors to have a vote taken upon whether or not an official, who does not, in the opinion of the petitioners, keep his pledges or perform his duties satisfactorily, shall be required to private life. This will be a check upon the memory of officials and will keep them always sensitive to public opinion. Whether it will work out for good or evil remains to be seen.

One thing is certain, if the people of California will not now (in so far as federal laws allow them) control their own destiny it will be the fault of their ignorance and prejudices, not of their political machinery.

Six states of the Union now, with Finland and Norway in Europe, allow equal civil and political rights to men and women; while New Zealand and Australia, which do not permit women to sit in parliament, give them equal voting rights.

California's vote is a stern rebuke to President Taft, who lately vetoed Arizona's admission as a State because her proposed constitution provided for Recall of unpopular officials.

SOCIALISM FINDS MANY FRIENDS

Among Eminent Clergymen Attending the Ecumenical Methodist Conference.

(By Rev. Dr. Crews.)

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The subject of Socialism was before the Ecumenical Conference this morning, and its attitude was by no means antagonistic. A distinction was made between Socialism that is anti-Christian and that which is in harmony with the teaching of Jesus.

One delegate pointed out that anti-Christian Socialism which prevails may have arisen in protest against indifference of the church to the social welfare of the people. It was stated that many Socialists of the larger influence today are members of Christian churches.

Rev. Mr. Rattenbury of London, pleaded for sympathy with Socialism and other movements outside the church that look toward the betterment of the people.

GREATEST ON RECORD

N. B. Territorial Revenue Will This Year Exceed $500,000.

Fredericton, Oct. 12.—The official estimate of the Territorial revenue for 1911 is $520,000, the largest on record. In 1907, last year under late government, it was $311,550.49.

The substantial increase is accounted for largely in the improved collection of stampage under efficient and honest administration of crown lands by Hon. Mr. Grimmer, who assumed the office of Surveyor-General in 1908.

The total scale of 1907 showed collections on 149,513,000 superficial feet, last year it was 280,000,000 feet and this year the total will reach about 320,000,000 superficial feet. The receipts from game licenses this year are exceeding expectations, already amounting to over $25,000.

CATHOLICS TO REORGANIZE IN ENGLAND

An important reorganization of the Catholic church in England has been decided upon, and a papal bull will shortly be issued dividing England into three ecclesiastical provinces, with Archbishoprics at Liverpool, Birmingham and Westminster. Two new dioceses will also be formed, one out of a portion of Liverpool and the other out of the actual diocese of Northampton, with its see in Cambridge.

A TALK ON RHEUMATISM

Telling How to Cure This Painful Malady.

This article is for the man or woman who suffers from rheumatism who wants to be cured, not merely relieved—but actually cured. The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, aching joint, is a little relief. No lotion or liniment ever did or ever can make a cure. The rheumatic poison is rooted in the blood. Therefore rheumatism can only be cured when this poisonous acid is driven out of the blood. That's why rubbing and liniments and outward applications are no good they can't reach the cause in the blood. Any doctor will tell you this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood every time take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood which drives out the poisonous acid and cures rheumatism to stay cured. This is a solemn truth which has been proved in thousands of cases, and the following is a striking instance. Mrs. W. H. Elnor, Sarria, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they completely cured me of rheumatism after I had been almost an invalid for three years. I doctored with two skilled doctors and took electric treatment, but without benefit. On going to a third doctor he recommended mineral baths as the only thing that would help me. After taking this treatment for some time I felt that I was really growing worse instead of better, and I began to think there was no cure for me and that I was doomed to be a helpless sufferer. For some months I discontinued all treatment and then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I could notice a distinct improvement, and I continued taking the Pills for several months when the cure was complete. That is some two years ago, and I have ever since been perfectly free from the trouble. I would therefore advise anyone afflicted with rheumatism to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they certainly made a remarkable cure in my case."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

RYAN BAYLE

In St. Mary's church at nuptial mass at 9 o'clock, yesterday morning, Mr. Francis D. Ryan of Newcastle and Miss Annie Genevieve Bayle of Chaplin Island Road, were married by Rev. P. W. Dixon. The couple were attended by Edward Keating and Miss Agnes Ryan, sister of the groom.

WHALEN-DUNN

At nuptial Mass in St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, Rev. Joseph G. Cormier united in marriage, Mr. Maurice Whalen and Miss Annie Dunn both of Newcastle. Timothy McGinnis was best man and Miss Helen Herbert attended the bride.

CROCKER-CROCKER

A very interesting event took place at 8 p. m. October 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Crocker, Millerton, when their daughter, Miss Mabelle Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Randolph Crocker, son of the late David Crocker. Rev. Mr. Harrison performed the ceremony in the presence of only the near relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by her father. The couple were unattended. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Annie Crocker, sister of the bride. The bride was becomingly gowned in a dress of cawaba satin with pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony the party partook of a sumptuous wedding supper. The bride received a large number of very costly presents, mostly cut glass and silver, and a substantial cheque from the groom.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE MEET AT RICHIBUCTO

The twenty-fourth quarterly session of the Kent and Northumberland District Division of the Sons of Temperance met in the Temperance Hall, Richibucto, on the afternoon of Oct. 10th, Rev. R. H. Staver in the chair. Officers and delegates present were:

Harcourt No. 438—Rev. R. H. Staver, D. W. P.
Rexton No. 419—H. W. Ferguson, D. C., George Jardine, Rev. A. D. Archibald.

Caledonia No. 126, Douglstown—H. C. Stohart, D. W. A.
Richibucto No. 42—R. W. Beers, D. O. S.; Rev. F. W. M. Bacon, Newcastle, No. 45—W. C. Day, Chatham, No. 37—George Stohart, Miss Ethel Dower.

The D. W. P. reported progress within the bounds of the district. The majority of the Divisions had held their own during the quarter, and some had increased their membership. Local option was working well in the parish of Harcourt. Those who had attempted to violate the law had been justly dealt with. The attention of the District Division would be given principally to the local option campaign work now being carried on in the parish of Richibucto.

The membership of the District Division is as follows: Newcastle 42, Chatham 55, Burnt Church 27, Douglstown 43, Richibucto 74, Rexton 42, Harcourt 52, Grangeville 41; total 376.

The committee on the Good of the Order recommended a system of fraternal visitation. The following were appointed to establish such a system, viz Geo. Stohart, Chatham; Harold C. Stohart, Douglstown and Mrs. H. Ingram, Newcastle, for Northumberland; and R. W. Beer, Richibucto; H. M. Ferguson, Rexton, and R. H. Staver, Harcourt for Kent.

The next session of the District Division will be held at Harcourt on the last Friday in January. The meeting adjourned.

In the evening a public meeting was held. Addresses were given by Rev. R. H. Staver, D. W. P., Mr. George Stohart, Rev. F. W. M. Bacon, Mr. George Jardine, Rev. W. B. Robinson, Rev. Geo. Farquhar and Rev. A. D. Archibald.

Collection amounted to $6.88.

YORK COUNTY BOY PRAISES NORTH SHORE

(From Daily Mail) Mann's Mountain, Restigouche Co., N. B.

Mr. Editor—Much has been said of the beauty of the Restigouche River, so it was with curiosity and expectation that I left the cars at Metapedia P. Q. After a dreary wait of two hours at the station, I started across the Restigouche River, and I may say right here, that its lovely beauty went far beyond my greatest expectations.

Soon after my arrival, I visited "Catherine Cottage" which is built of logs. There are steps leading from the highway road down to this picturesque cottage; around the cottage runs a wide veranda, and from the veranda are steps leading down to waters edge. Tall trees bend over the cottage as though they were protecting it from the winds and storms.

From the veranda can be seen the broad sweep of that famed stream known as the "Restigouche." On either side rise tall mountains, crowned with autumn verdure. It is a beautiful sight to see the last rays of the sun lighting up the mountain tips, with a golden splendor. Nothing to disturb the quiet evening air but the cry of the gulls or the honk of the wild geese. And falling into a dreamy lassness methought of the times, when in the quiet dusk of evening the Red man's birch canoe, loaded with the spoils of the chase, glided down the placid stream to the wigwam, nestling close to the mountains. But ah me, the scene is changed. Instead of the wigwam, I see the white man's house close to the beach and here and there on the mountains are cottages of well to do farmers and the lights in their wigwams wink and blink like great shining stars.

But though the Restigouche has grand and awe striking scenery, yet I think it cannot compare with the Miramichi in its simple beauty.

The readers of this weeks paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SIXTH CONVENTION OF UNION OF NEW BRUNSWICK MUNICIPALITIES

Discusses Many Important Problems and Adopts Important Resolutions--Endorses Local Option for Municipalities in Taxation Matters--Three Year Term For County Councils.

With a large and representative attendance from the various parts of the province, the sessions of the sixth annual convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities were inaugurated on Wednesday afternoon Oct 11th, 1911, in the Newcastle Town Hall. The success which attended the opening also characterized the convention and many important matters added to the volume of business expediently transacted by the intelligent gentlemen, comprising the Union.

The Hon. John Morrissy, Chief Commissioner of Public Works who has been a familiar figure at past conventions officially opened the sixth meeting. Dr. Sterling, president of the Union was in the chair and he introduced Hon. Mr. Morrissy and invited him to a seat on the platform. He also congratulated Mr. J. W. McCready, the efficient Honorary-secretary on his election as president of the Canadian Municipal union and invited Mr. McCready to a seat on the platform. The congratulations to Mr. McCready were shared by every member present. In the course of a forceful address, the Hon. Mr. Morrissy referred to the previous opportunities afforded him to meet the gentlemen of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities. There were present many new faces and many old members. He was pleased to welcome all to the Union, to the town of Newcastle, Miramichi. The sun shone brighter in Miramichi and all we lack are industries. There should be a stimulus for the development of manufactures. There was over a half million dollars in the Savings Bank here some years ago and he presumed there was a large amount there now. Could we not secure some man, some angel to induce these persons to invest? It was necessary that industries should be started and there is sufficient home capital to carry the industries through successfully.

Mr. Morrissy dwelt upon the furniture factory matter and referred to the difficulty encountered in acquiring lacking to establish a factory. He would say that the operation of a furniture factory would pay any man from 15 per cent to 25 per cent. Instead of depreciating in value the earnings will vastly increase.

Good roads were essential in the development of our province and the Commissioner was a strong believer in the policy of a permanent roadway for the province. It would be incumbent to borrow $1,000,000, but the auto tax would be larger and in forty years there would be sufficient amount available from this source along to remit the bonds, allowing also for the interest. There would be no tax to the farmers directly or indirectly. Should we not go to work and build permanent roads, as well as guaranteeing the bonds of railways? The speaker in conclusion referred to the absence of Premier Hazen who had gone higher in the political arena. Mr. Hazen is a man who stands high in the opinion of the men of New Brunswick and we feel proud to see him go to the higher office at Ottawa.

Mayor Pedolin extended the welcome of the Town Council and citizens of Newcastle to the visiting delegates. He was pleased to notice the large attendance and anticipated profitable sessions for the Union.

Ald. Potts, replying for the delegates, expressed his pleasure at the large attendance. He appreciated the interesting remarks of Hon. Mr. Morrissy who showed such an active interest in the Union. He was impressed with Mayor Pedolin who was most congenial. The alderman from St. John also referred to the necessity of acquiring a larger number of industries. 'It would be advisable to impress the government with the necessity of having local and other capital see the advantages of New Brunswick. He had recently made a trip to the Eastern States where a Boosters Club is doing magnificent work.

Mayor Reilly followed with an address along similar lines. He felt that all appreciated the hospitality of the people of Miramichi. He felt that the policy to distribute well the meetings of the Union would serve to arouse interest in the work of the convention. He believed the union had worked great good since its inception.

Mayor Reilly dwelt upon the bonus of industries and was strongly opposed to giving inducements in this direction, a phase that he dealt with exhaustively in his scholarly paper read before the meeting on Wednesday evening.

President Sterling made an admirable report on the work of the Union. He could not too strongly urge on the delegates the import of the question of taxation. He thought the Educational Department should introduce instruction in the schools on taxation and other municipal problems. Dr. Sterling dealt with the action of the government in co-operating with the Union. He referred to the appointment of a Utilities Commission as the measure to prohibit the exportation of pulp wood. He paid a high tribute to our illustrious sovereign, George V, whose coronation had taken place this year. He spoke in appreciative terms of the good work done by the secretary, Mr. McCready and that official came in for many flattering remarks over his untiring service.

On motion of Ald. Wallace, seconded by Secretary Treasurer Bliss, of York, it was decided that a committee be appointed to deal with the matters in the president's address. The president named the members of the executive committee.

A highly creditable report was presented by the Honorary-Secretary, Mr. J. W. McCready. There is a balance of $176.04. Taxation, advertising of legislation and other matters were discussed by Mr. McCready in his report.

Ald. Potts and Mr. Bliss congratulated Mr. McCready on the completion of his report and Ald. Potts moved, seconded by Ald. Polley, that it be received and referred to the executive committee for consideration. Carried.

Ald. Potts reported the meetings of the Union of N. S. Municipalities at Halifax.

On motion of Ald. Wallace, seconded by Warden Rogers, the financial portion of Mr. McCready's report was referred to an audit committee. The president named Mayor Thomas and Mayor Pedolin for the committee.

County Secretary Kelley gave a strong endorsement of the views of the secretary, Mr. Bliss and others on the advertising of proposed legislation affecting Municipalities. He considered that all legislation relative to the Municipalities nature should be placed in the county secretaries hands at least thirty days before its introduction in the Legislature. There were many instances where the legislation is conflicting.

Mayor Thomas of Fredericton read a paper on A Provincial Reform School for the care of juvenile delinquents. He referred to the current as being particularly relevant to crime. He advocated the establishment of juvenile courts, the appointment of a probation officer and a place of detention, not a court. He urged reformatory institutions for the incorrigible.

Mr. Bliss said that the people were beginning to appreciate the import of the question. He congratulated Mayor Thomas on his excellent paper.

County-Secretary Kelley took a learned view of the situation and impressed his hearers of the importance of reform. He discussed the criminal problem in all its ramifications, related personal experiences with courts, and gave a vast amount of information on this important question.

Coun. Cochrane contributed interestingly to the discussion. He dwelt with the provincial reformatory and said that while the boys were well treated, the institution was in every respect a prison. County Secretary Kelley and himself had been appointed to investigate farms in Upper Canada and the United States with a view to establish a 'prison farm' along the same lines in St. John.

Ald. Wallace, Mayor Pedolin, Coun. M. G. Sidall, Ald. Potts and others discussed the matter. On motion of Mr. Sidall, seconded by Ald. Potts, the paper was referred to a special committee for consideration and President Sterling named Mayor Thomas, Secretary Kelley and Coun. Sidall.

A resolution introduced by Coun. Sidall and seconded by Coun. Farrell of Fredericton, asking the establishment of a Provincial Detective Bureau, was adopted after a prolonged discussion.

A resolution introduced by Coun. Sidall and seconded by Coun. Cochrane, advocating that the government take steps to provide a permanent roadway, was carried unanimously amid applause.

Warden Rogers, moved, seconded by Coun. Sidall, a vote of thanks to Chief Commissioner Morrissy, which was carried unanimously. The latter responded appropriately. Mr. Morrissy seemed especially pleased that action had been taken re. a permanent road way, in which project he is a great believer.

At the evening session Mayor Reilly read a most interesting paper on Provincial Industrial Development. He dwelt with the immense water power privileges which our country possessed and urged their proper development. He took up the Agricultural phase of the matter, the conservation of our natural products, the matter of new industries and other matters. He gave the convention adequate information to support his contentions. The paper showed careful study and was a credit to the writer.

Very valuable information was contributed by Ald. Potts, Coun. Sidall, Mayor Thomas, Secretary Kelley, Coun. Cochrane, Ald. Wallace, Ald. Potts, Dr. Sterling and others.

Coun. Hiltz moved, seconded by Coun. Polley, that the meeting express its appreciation of Mayor Reilly's work in the preparation of such an admirable paper. Carried.

Dr. Sterling in extending the vote of thanks, asked Mayor Reilly to prepare a paper on similar lines for the next convention.

ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Chief Hughes Arrested John R. McDonald and Mrs. Demeau at St. George, N. B.

Chief of Police Hughes left Tuesday morning for St. George N. B., to arrest a couple on a serious charge and arrived in Campbellton last evening having in charge John R. McDonald and Mrs. Ellen Demeau, middle aged persons, who are wanted on very serious charges. Mrs. Demeau's husband is living and, according to the warrants on which they are placed under arrest, McDonald is charged with stealing Mrs. Demeau's affection. The woman is also charged with giving to McDonald on August last a gold watch belonging to her husband.

They are said to have left Campbellton together, for St. George, where they were placed under arrest by Police Hughes. The couple will appear before Police Magistrate F. F. Matheson.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF H. STANLEIGH STORME

(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne.)

Just after midnight.

CHAPTER I.

It was half past twelve on the twenty-third of May.

The tall young man with the long dark coat, a coat that enveloped him completely, reached the corner at the same instant that the electric lights went out. They went out for the same reason that lights go out on all stormy nights—a reason that few men ever knew, and these few have forgotten.

The man stood there for an instant looking up and down the street.

He may have been waiting for a car. If he was, he was disappointed. In the distance the faint light of an electric gleamed through the moisture. It was receding, of course, as is the habit of street conveyances.

The young man breathed a sigh.

"A beastly night," he exclaimed all to himself in a pleasant, well-accustomed voice.

It didn't seem to worry him. He said it with the same easy nonchalance as though it were the finest of evenings.

"So much the better," he continued in the same happy frame of mind.

Nevertheless he drew his coat the closer about him and turned up the collar. Then, removing his opera hat, he shook the rain from it and replaced it upon his head.

But although the storm continued with unabated force, he did not seek shelter, but still stood upon the corner, glancing repeatedly up and down the cross streets, peering into the darkness to see what he could see, and thrusting his head forward and to one side, to hear what he could hear.

He stood thus for some four or five minutes—a long while to stand and look and listen. And he saw nothing and heard nothing.

Finally he thrust his hand into the depths of his long coat, and from the inside half pulled out a watch.

He did not look at it for two reasons, first because the rain would have ruined it; second, because it was too dark to see it. Instead, he pressed a small spring. It was a repeater, and it struck the hour.

"Quarter to one," he remarked softly to himself: "I'm just in time."

"That's a good watch," he continued, "one of the best, I'll wager, in the old man's stock, and a first-class stock he carries, too—or did, up to night before last."

He laughed noiselessly to himself, and then, with an upward glance at the corner building, he moved over towards it, as though seeking shelter from the storm.

It was a bank—one of the old-fashioned kind, with a high corner stoop covered by the conventional species of portico.

Another man would have ascended this stoop and taken his stand under the portico, which furnished ample protection from the wet. But not so this man.

Instead, with unheeded footsteps, he moved half way down the length of the bank on the side street and paused in front of a ground-floor window.

There were six windows on that side. He selected the third one, after examining it with care.

As was the case with all the others, this window was barred with iron bars. They also were old-fashioned, somewhat wide apart, and ran from top to bottom with no supporting plate between.

Having completed his investigation, the man in the long coat straightened up and stood with his back to the window, and once more looked about him.

It was a bad place to stand. The water from the roof poured down in a steady stream upon his head.

He never heeded it, however. After looking and listening for another instant, he merely wrapped a long scarf about his neck and drew his coat still more closely around him, and then again stooped down and—what?

No one knows! Turned up his trousers, perhaps.

If it were that, it took some time, and required considerable care.

Again he straightened up and again looked still. Not entirely, though, for he kept one heel tap-tap-tapping upon the flag basement.

And as he tapped a rasping, grating sound became perceptible, slight, but still distinct. It came from behind him.

Who, says he, speaks.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed, "what does that mean? These new automobile headlights have come to be. The man who has them does a place of business with the inventor of the typewriter and the sewing machine and the electric fan. They do the business of the man who has them. They have to write the fellow a testimonial and have it published—over my signature and under my portrait. I will, too, if ever I—if the worst comes to the worst. I've got the nerve to do it."

But he kept on tapping. Suddenly there was a sharp whirring sound and then a loud snap.

"Number one!" he exclaimed.

Again he stooped and made another adjustment. Having done this, he once more examined the window and the bars.

As he did so a small gleam of light played around the bottom of one of the long bars. It came from a tiny incandescent lamp held in the hollow of his palm.

This new inspection seemed highly satisfactory. Again he resumed his tap-tap-tapping.

After a time there was another snap and another snap.

"Number two," he remarked in a tone of delight.

Then he sprang aside.

"Great Scott!" he continued, "what's that?"

For he had indistinctly heard upon the heavy moist air the steady tramp, tramp of a man around the corner.

The man in the long coat hastily took from his pocket a small piece of putty, filled the hole with it, and then with a miniature pencil shaker dusted the putty with fine lead pencil scrapings—this to restore them a metallic appearance.

Then he blew away the dust with his hand and noiselessly disappeared.

The watchman—his it was because he came around the corner, tried the front door, then the back door, and turned into and up the side street.

All was well, the man in the long coat, glancing up and down, saw under his breath at the top and the bottom, shook his head and went on his way.

Two minutes later the man in the long coat was at the top of the street, the rasping sound being heard at the end of twenty minutes. He breathed a sigh of relief.

"Number four!" he was able finally to announce to himself.

He had cut two wires completely through, both at the top and at the bottom. He removed them quietly and laid them gently down upon the pavement.

The window was now an unobstructed one, consisting of two panes with a middle bar. It would have been a simple thing to force the catch, but this man knew better.

Holding his body as a shield against the framework, he flashed his light along each edge, and particularly along the middle. He then cut two small holes in the glass, and, inserting an instrument, cut a number of wires that ran around the sash.

"Blamed idiots!" he muttered to himself. "These people leave their wires in plain sight. This is a cinch."

Having cut the wires, the rest was easy.

He slipped the catch, raised the lower sash and entered. From the inside he carefully replaced the bars in their former position, wedged them tight with small steel disks, filled the spaces with putty and dusted them as before.

Then he inserted the circular disks of glass where they belonged, and dipping a brush in a small vial, he applied to the cut edges a thick, oozing, colorless fluid. A bottle of this was long afterwards discovered in his dwelling.

It was found to be Canadian Balsam, a fluid which, possessing the same degree of refraction as does glass itself, is capable of uniting two pieces of glass together so that the point of contact is well-nigh indistinguishable.

It is impossible to describe the deftness or skill with which the man worked—and he worked so that there were absolutely no traces of the job he left behind him.

He had just closed the window and fastened it when he was once more startled by a bright light which entered the room.

In an instant he realized that it had not yet lighted upon himself, and he threw himself face down upon the floor next to the wall. There he waited, without a sound, scarcely even breathing, until he heard the steady tramp, tramp of footsteps receding to the distance.

It was a policeman who had searched his light upon the window. And the policeman saw nothing—nothing except the regulation iron bars and a window pane with heavy drops of rain trickling and oozing down it.

The man in the long coat jumped to his feet.

"That was a narrow escape," he

Why don't some flours behave? Why don't they keep good?

Because they contain too much of the branny particles, too much of the inferior portions of the wheat—may be little pieces of the oily germ.

CHAPTER II.

Two A. M.

"Now for the vault," said the man in the long coat.

Once more he struck his repeater. It was exactly 2. The policeman, who was not regular, had just gone.

But it was time for the watchman again. He was compelled to wait a bit—for the outer door of the vault was illuminated by the rays of the electric lamp, and was visible from the small hole in the outer door of the bank.

After the tramp, tramp had died away, he stepped boldly into the full glare of this lamp, but whatever he did, he kept his back toward the outer door of the bank.

The light shone strongly upon him. He was no longer a man in a long coat and an opera hat. He had doffed both of them.

For the first time his figure and his features were distinctly visible. He was young, tall, broad shouldered. His face was handsome, but a bit too florid, perhaps. He wore a conventional, but very becoming, Van Dyke beard.

His appearance was, upon the whole, distinguished. He bore the stamp of the coin that would pass current anywhere.

His apparel was fruitless—he wore evening dress of the most approved cut and pattern; he was immaculate from head to foot.

He lit a cigarette and went to work. He wasted no time—he had none to spare.

He knelt down and grasped the handle of the combination lock. This, in keeping with every other thing about the bank, was also of a by-gone age. It was one that worked upon the letters of the alphabet.

Slowly turning the handle of this lock, the man placed his ear to the safe just outside the circle of letters and listened to the clink, clink of the pieces of metal falling into place.

To him their slight metallic clatter constituted just so much intelligible conversation. He talked to them soothingly and seemed to coax them into place.

"If it is, then," he mused to himself, as he heard the first piece fall unmistakably into its proper place, "S-T-A—a blame long-winded combination they've got, too," he complained.

Then he started to his feet.

"What's this?" he exclaimed.

But he kept turning on and on.

Suddenly, with firm grasp, he turned back the knob with a sharp click, then stepped to one side and swung open the door.

"Well, I'll be hanged!" he exclaimed, "the nerve of these people!"

He pulled, shut the door again, and the knob to throw it off once more, and then rapidly turning and stepping it to letter after letter until the slightest hesitation or difficulty, clicked it back once again, and a second time swung the big door open.

"By George, I was right! The nerve of them!"

For the letters to which he had turned, and which constituted the bank's combination for the safe, were the following sixteen letters of the alphabet:

H STANLEIGH STORME

"And this," he continued, with a genteel bow to the contents of the safe, "is what it is to be the best known man about town."

"Well," he finally admitted to himself, "it's their business, I suppose. They have the right to use a depositor's name or any other name as they please, though the one they've selected is a deuced long one. Not a bad idea, though."

"By the way," he went on, pulling down a book marked 'Ledger,' "while we're about it we'll figure up H. Stanleigh's balance in this bank—I'd forgotten almost that there was one here."

It was a few hundred dollars only. He replaced the book.

"Now for business," he resumed.

He forced every door and every drawer in the vault. In but one did he find what he was after.

This contained six bulky packages of bills. He laid them on the floor outside the vault, and then once more hastily inspected the interior.

There was nothing else worth while. Then he laughed a low, musical laugh.

"This is great business," he remarked, "for H. Stanleigh Storme. A depositor, by the mere use of his own name, which he happens to know how to spell, walks into his banker's vault and robs his banker—and himself."

"Still," he added, "I'll not lose even the few hundred, for the bank can stand this loss, and if they don't pay me my account, I'll—by George, I'll sue them! I'm just the man to do it, too. Great Scott!" he exclaimed.

"What's that?"

He had a faint idea that he had been a little bit noisy, and he groined it.

For outside of the vault he heard a heavy tread, a steady walk—the step of a man, but of an older man.

It was meant for him, that!

He hastily glanced up, picked up his packages, and slipped them into the folds of his coat, and then stepped through the shadow of the bank.

Then he looked back. The coast was temporarily, at least, clear.

"The front door!"

"I'll try the front door," he said, "if it's the best way to get out. I'll have four ways to get out, first."

He stepped to the door, took him some time to get it open, and the process was somewhat noisy—although the chances were that no one outside could hear him.

The bolt slid clumsily. His skeleton keys effected the rest. He unlocked the door, fastened it open, and stepped into the vestibule.

UNION OF N. B. MUNICIPALITIES

Ald. H. H. Stuart then read a paper on Municipal Taxation, after which he moved, seconded by Ald. T. W. Butler of Newcastle and Ald. F. L. Potts of St. John, the following resolution: "That this Union of New Brunswick Municipalities assembled in convention in the town of Newcastle request the Legislature to pass at its next session a bill providing that any County, City or Town in the Province of New Brunswick shall, upon a majority vote of its qualified ratepayers voting, have the power to reduce or abolish within its jurisdiction:

"Taxes on polls, improvements, personal property and income, or any one or more of these, and raise its revenue by means of a land tax with or without a poll tax and with or without a system of business licenses."

Ald. Stuart's paper and resolution were both warmly supported by Ald. Potts and Ald. Butler, and, in the afternoon, by Ald. F. W. Wallace of Sussex and others.

Ald. Potts said the paper was one of the ablest he had ever heard. He would strengthen Ald. Stuart's arguments, which he did in an earnest and powerful address, for a change in the system of taxation as indicated in the paper—the abolition of taxes on improvements, personal property and income and the reduction or abolition of the poll tax and the raising of municipal revenue by taxes on land values only.

Ald. Butler said that the tax problem was the great problem confronting our people. He endorsed Ald. Stuart's paper in toto, but something had been overlooked. That was the double tax, now charged by the present system, in case where one borrowed money to build a home. The borrower was taxed on his building and also was the lender, while if the lender had kept his money in a bank it would have escaped taxation. The present system of taxation was a penalty upon improvements. Every improvement brought extra taxes. We might work this matter out in our Municipal Councils if the Legislature would allow us to do so. In concluding a specially able argument in behalf of the rights of the people, Ald. Butler said that never a millionaire died who had more than enough to put some mud over his coffin and never a pauper but had enough to put the same quantity of mud over his. He thoroughly agreed with Ald. Stuart that we should get from the Legislature the right for municipalities to say for themselves how they shall tax themselves. If any municipality goes astray the combination of them will set it right.

Ald. Wallace agreed with the paper. Sussex was abundant. Land which was held for high price in Sussex was paying only the same taxes as ordinary farm land.

Councillor Siddall of Port Elgin, Town Clerk Reid of Campbellton and others spoke in favor of the resolution, which was also supported by Mayor Reilly of Moncton, who said that he had a mandate from Moncton Trades and Labor Council in its favor.

Secretary Tayo of Westmorland, Ald. Anderson of Sackville, Ald. Cassidy of Chatham, and Secretary Bliss of York Co. thought that the present system of municipal taxation could be made to work all right if the proper officers were appointed to enforce it.

On the vote being taken the resolution was adopted by a large majority. The second resolution that had been presented by Ald. Stuart and Potts to the Executive the night before, asking the Legislature for an act to empower any County, City or town, upon the majority vote of its ratepayers or a two-thirds vote of its council, to reduce or abolish within its jurisdiction income and property qualification, or either of them, for voters and candidates for the offices of County Councillor, Alderman and Mayor, had not been approved by the Executive and, upon a vote of the convention being taken, was not received for discussion.

The following resolution, moved by Mayor Reilly and seconded by Ald. Potts, was carried unanimously.

"Resolved that this union of N. B. Municipalities in annual convention assembled do hereby strongly recommend to and impress upon the provincial government the necessity of providing such amendment or amendments to the rules and regulations touching the introduction of bills to the Legislature as shall make it compulsory upon all applicants for legislation, especially so when such legislation seeks the right to use and control any public right, utility or water power, to file with the secretary or some other officer of each municipality affected a copy of the proposed bill at least ten days before its introduction into the House, and that the standing rules committee shall insist upon proof that a copy of such bill has been so filed before any such bill be introduced, and further resolved that the above be in addition to any notice of legislation now required."

The following, moved by Councillor Cochrane, seconded by Councillor Donovan, was, on division, adopted.

"Resolved that the government of N. B. be requested to amend Chapter 165 of the Consolidated Statutes of N. B., 1903, relating to municipalities and the special acts in amendment thereof, providing for the election of councillors for parishes in the various counties on the same day throughout the province and that the term of councillors be three years."

St. Stephen was chosen as the place for the next convention, the Union accepting the kind invitation of Coun. Polley, Ald. Hiltz, and Potters from that county.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—
Coun. Sidall, president.
Coun. Polley, vice-president.
Town Clerk McCready, Hon. Sec'y-treasurer.

The executive will comprise the retiring president, Dr. Sterling, Ald. Farrell, Fredericton; Coun. Cochran, St. Martins; Coun. Hiltz, St. Stephen; Town Clerk Murray, Sackville; Mayor Pedolin, Newcastle; Ald. Price, Moncton; Ald. Potts, St. John; Ald. Alexander, Campbellton; ex-Warden McMullin, York; Ald. Wallace, Sussex.

Vote of thanks were extended to the retiring president, Mayor and Town Council of Newcastle, Secretary McCready and the press.

Ald. Stuart's paper was on motion of Aldermen F. W. Wallace and J. R. Polley, ordered to be entered in the minutes. In the absence of Secretary McCready on Thursday, F. St. J. Bliss efficiently filled the duties of that office. Everything passed off pleasantly and the Union concluded one of its most profitable sessions with a supper on Thursday evening.

CALIFORNIA TO EXPERIMENT

Adopts Initiative and Referendum, The Recall and Woman Suffrage.

San Francisco, Oct. 12—

Woman suffrage has triumphed in California. Returns late today wiped out the majority previously recorded against the amendment, and since this turn the margin in favor of the amendment, has increased steadily. For suffrage,

119,086; against, 117,408. Majority for the amendment, 1,678.

These figures represent the returns from 2,717 precincts, out of a total of 3,121 in the State. Virtually all of the remaining precincts are in counties which have given suffrage majorities. So overwhelming was the vote in favor of the other important amendment, the initiative and referendum, and the recall, including the judiciary—that tabulation of the returns was suspended with nearly a third of the precincts remaining unreported. The final count taken showed the following results:

For the initiative and referendum,

138,181; against, 44,850.

For the recall, 143,572; against,

46,290.
